Special Meeting Called To Investigate Printing Tenders

EGYPTIAN SOLDIERS CLASH WITH BRITISH BARRACKS STONED

Serious Trouble Looms in the Sudan Over Recent Revolt.

Britain Sends In More Troops As Serious Situation Develops.

Associated Press Despatch, London, Aug. 12.—The British Government has sent a battalion of troops to reinforce the British garrison in the Sudan as the result of a clash between Egyptian and British soldiers at Atbara, following disturbances, in which the Egyptian troops are said to have attacked the British with bricks and stones at their barracks.

According to British official despatches, the trouble started at Khartoum Saturday when military cadets, who paraded with rifles, refused to give up their arms upon returning to their school. The cadets were surrounded and arrested by British troops.

Yesterday the Egyptian railway battalion at Atbara made a demonstration, after which the Egyptian soldiers were confined to their barracks, from which they attempted to escape. When they attacked the British troops with bricks and other missiles the British soldiers fired upon them, causing nineteen casualties.

A minor demonstration at Port Sudan was dispersed without trouble. The disturbances in the Sudan are likely to have a disquieting political effect upon the forthcoming negotiations in London of Said Zogolou Pasha, the Egyptian premier, according to British officials. The officials assert there is no thought of the British government giving up its rights in the Sudan, and that demonstrations such as those reported will only make more difficult the establishment of the Sudan's status in relation to Egypt and Great Britain.

The youngsters were playing in the ditch beside the provincial highway, and it is thought crawled unscathed on the road, just as a car, bearing a Kentucky license, dashed upon them.

A Mr. Thompson, the driver of the car, stated that he did not see the youngsters until he was right on them. Both boys were terribly out about the head, and it is feared the injuries to the elder lad will prove fatal. The car passed over both youngsters. Thompson drove to Ingersoll and gave himself up to the police, and an investigation is in progress.

Tragedy Stalks Through Cheese Factory in Eastern Ontario Today.

Canadian Press Despatch, Brockville, Ont., Aug. 12.—Three persons were killed and three others injured, one probably fatally, at 6 o'clock this morning when a boiler exploded in the cheese factory at Bishop's Mills, a village in the Township of Augusta, 23 miles from here. Those who are dead are Samuel Watts, 25, the cheesemaker, belonging to Bishop's Mills; Dairy Instructor Murray of Oxford Mills; George Morrison, aged 12, Kenora, who had been visiting his grandfather, George Morrison in Bishop's Mills; Stewart Thompson, 24, helper in the factory, was so badly injured that he is not expected to recover; Eli Robinson and Joseph Thompson, who were delivering milk at the factory, were also slightly injured.

Five physicians from neighboring communities and a party of trained nurses were rushed to the scene and are attending the injured.

The village and its surrounding were badly shaken by the explosion, but assistance was early at hand. It was found that three victims of the disaster had been almost instantly killed. Young Thompson, the helper in the factory, is at the home of his parents here. His death is momentarily expected. F. M. Murray lived at Kenora, and is survived by his wife. Watts came from the vicinity of Athens, and was both the strongest of the factory and its cheesemaker.

The factory boarded its products at Kemptonville.

An investigation will likely be opened immediately. County Crown Attorney Brown having issued instructions for the holding of an inquest.

Harnett to supply him with the names of persons deemed "incapable of carefully and prudently" operating an automobile as preliminary to licensing the drivers of motor cars in New York State.

Mr. Harnett explained that such information would make it possible to conduct an investigation to weed out the reckless or physically unfit drivers, and to check every case before a driver's license is issued.

Sleuth To Guard Flowers At Park

Thefts at Springbank 'Arouse Officials.

A special plain clothesman has been retained by the public utilities commission, and is now on duty in Springbank Park to take care of the plants and flowers there. E. V. Buchanan, general manager of the commission, stated this morning that theft of plants and bushes had increased to such a serious extent in the last few weeks that this action was rendered necessary by the commissioners to protect London's garden park.

"A number of bushes and plants," he said, "have been removed lately from the park. It seems that they have been taken by motorists, as that would have been the easiest way to get them away without being seen. There is, of course, a possibility that they may have been removed at night. In any case we have out a special plain clothesman on the job in the park, and if we get the goods on anyone taking plants we intend to follow it up as strenuously as possible. This kind of vandalism is opposed to every interest of the city, and we will do everything in our power to stop it."

HONEY SUPPLY RUNNING LOW AS BEES TAKE LONG VACATION

Poor Quality of Clover Nectar Does Not Suit Insects' Taste.

HIVES DEPLETED

Many Canadian Homes Likely To Go Honeyless This Coming Winter.

The busy bee is not living up to his reputation this summer. In fact the bee has been decidedly lazy lately. But it is not his fault.

Three months ago, the bee, fresh from a winter's sojourn in a comfortably warm hive, came out into the open buzzing with activity. He had just finished a most delicious rest after having created a record honey market for Canada. He was determined to equal his record of last year, but circumstances have prevented him, and as a result the bee is acquiring the reputation of a sluggard.

The honey market in Western Ontario this summer is the worst in years. Farmers who sold honeycombs by the score on the local market last year have even wasted it this summer. Honey can't be bought now. There isn't any, and the farmers are cursing the bee's peculiar taste for clover.

The clover crop is poor, farmers say. The juice of the clover is not rich, and the bees simply refuse to make honey if he can't be fed with good clover.

But the farmers can't change the clover, so they blame the weather. Cold nights and lack of sunshine are responsible, they claim, and there is no remedy. Canadian homes must go honeyless this season.

Not for years has honey been so scarce in Western Ontario. Only twice within the past few weeks has honey appeared on the local market.

Nelson B. C. Aug. 12.—Political excitement prevails strongly in Nelson following receipt of wires by both Liberal and Conservative camps respecting the opening of the seat for Premier Oliver. Youth of the World Will Be Welcome To Stately New 'U' Buildings Sept. 22

University of Western Ontario Cares For Fourteen Counties.

ESTABLISHED 1874

Magnificent Structures Are Situated on Beauty Spot Near London.

The University of Western Ontario, the provincial center of higher education for fourteen counties of the southwestern peninsula, will throw open the doors of its magnificent new buildings to the youth of the world on Sept. 22. The two recently completed Gothic-styled stone buildings are beautifully situated on a hill beside the River Thames, just beyond the city limits, and represent the highest development in university equipment and appointments. Affiliated with the University of Western Ontario are the new Medical College and Institute of Public Health and several denominational institutions. Registrations are now being accepted, and the attendance will be the largest in the history of the university.

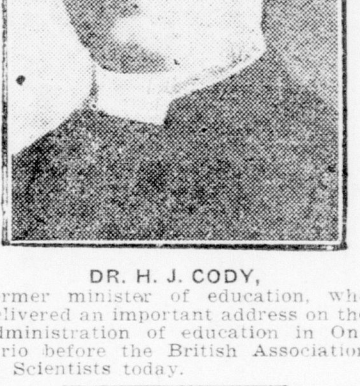

The University of Western Ontario was established in 1878. For more than forty years, it was known as "Western University." It was founded primarily to provide a liberal education for the students attending divinity courses at Huron College. During the years the university was under the direction of the Anglican Diocese of Huron many changes were made in the character of the instruction provided. There was a boys' school and a ladies' college, both of which attained a good reputation and lasted for some years. A law faculty was established, but was forced to cease operations on account of the change of educational policy by the Law Society. A faculty of music was organized, but did not survive. A medical faculty was formed by the leading physicians and surgeons of London. This faculty has made a great reputation for itself and is now one of the strongest departments of the university.

DETROITERS JOIN IN INGERSOLL FUN

Hundreds of Former Canadians Return to Town of Birth Today.

Special to The Advertiser by a Staff Reporter.

Ingersoll, Aug. 12.—All Ingersoll is taking a holiday with the Old Boys. There is a friendliness and geniality on the streets that warms the heart of even a stranger, and makes one regret another birthplace.

Today is Detroit Day, and the old home town is crowded with cars from over the border. They carry American licenses, but Canadian passengers, and demonstrate again the accuracy of the old saying, "blood is thicker than water."

Most conversations in Ingersoll these days begin with that most dangerous phrase in the English language, "Do you remember?" And they do remember! They remember when they used to skip school and go hop-scotch and duck-on-the-rock and quarrel about their dolls, and come home from school to get a big piece of bread and butter with brown sugar on it.

They have come a long way since those days and men and women to become boys and girls again, and now that the boys are here, the weather on the job. Please See Page 4, Column 1.

KING WILL SPEAK AT IRISH OUTING

Minister of Public Works Arranges To Attend Annual Picnic.

OTHER SPEAKERS

The last meeting of the Irish Benevolent Society before the picnic to be held at Port Stanley on Wednesday was held in the Tecumseh House last night. All details which were not finished at the meeting last night and a day of pleasure and entertainment is now assured.

The most important topic was the banquet. This will be held in the L. & P. S. Cafeteria in the evening, and three prominent men have been engaged to speak on the occasion. Most notable of these is the Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works, who will be in Woodstock that day and has made special arrangements to be in attendance at the banquet at Port Stanley in the evening. Father Dignan of Chatham and Rev. S. E. McKeown, M.C., of Ford City, will also speak. This banquet is not limited to members of the Irish Benevolent Society, as any one who wishes to attend may do so. Special entertainment has been engaged for the night.

The management of the Casino has given a donation for special dancing to be held there at 3:30 in the afternoon. This dancing will include fox-trots and waltzes. Mayor Weninger and President J. Greer have each given a gold medal as an added feature. A number of other valuable gifts and medals have also been donated by merchants of the city, and the prize list warrants a good number of entrants.

Parade In Morning

The parade of the association will be held in the morning at 9 o'clock, starting from the public utilities building. The route of march will be down Dundas street to Richmond and then to the L. & P. S. station. The band and several committee members will take the 9:20 train. They will get off the train at St. Thomas and will parade around the streets of that place for one hour. The band is scheduled to arrive in Port Stanley at 11:20, and a parade along the board walk to the Casino will be the first item on the program.

At 5 o'clock there will be a softball game between the Jersey Creams and S. & L. Thistles. The game will be played on the ground adjoining the L. & P. S. terminal. Rain insurance has been procured by the officials of the association to guard against any loss from rain. The insurance is in effect between the hours of 1 and 4.

The dancing on Invererie Heights will start promptly at 4 o'clock, and all contestants must be there at the time or otherwise they will not be allowed to compete.

SEMI-CENTENNIAL COMMEMORATED

Wreath Placed On Memorial To Graham Bell at Brantford.

Canadian Press Despatch. Brantford, Aug. 11. — Brantford, with ceremony, this morning placed in service the new Lorne bridge, constructed at a cost of $335,000, with His Honor Colonel Harry Cockshutt, lieutenant-governor of Ontario, formally cutting the ribbon which signified that the bridge was open for traffic as part of Ontario's highway system.

The ceremony was preceded by the placing of a wreath by the Graham Bell Chapter, I.O.D.E., on the Bell memorial, in commemoration of Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, the semi-centennial of which was also celebrated in "The Telephone City" today. Mrs. Ross Beckett, regent, placed the wreath upon the memorial which is declared to be incomparable on the North American continent, in its breadth of design and artistry.

Following this ceremony the gathering assembled at Lorne bridge to which the lieutenant-governor was escorted by a squadron of the 10th Brant Dragoons, under Lieut. Reginald Houding. Mayor Billo placed a wreath on the bridge in memory of the two Brantford citizens who gave their lives during its construction, and the lieutenant-governor then cut the ribbon. The first street car to cross the new bridge carried officials.

This evening a series of tableaux were presented showing graphically the growth of human communication from the smudge smoke signals of the Indians to the telephone. Massed bands provided a musical program and fireworks of an exceptional nature closed the busy day. The receipts go to the Brant war memorial fund.

EXPECT NEWFOUNDLAND WILL PASS LIQUOR BILL

Canadian Press Despatch. St. John's, Nfld., Aug. 11.—On Friday and Saturday the views of citizens were heard by the committee, both houses on the proposed measure regarding the sale of alcoholic liquors. The government has decided, however, to introduce a party measure and it is anticipated the bill will be passed. Its purpose is the repeal of the prohibition act. It will permit the sale of wines and beer in hotels and the purchase of alcoholic liquors by individuals to the extent of a bottle a day. Districts will be enabled to say whether or not they desire distributing centers. These will be limited to one to each 5,000 of the population.

REFUSAL OF LOWEST BID FORCED BY UNION RULE

Aldermen Ask For Thorough Investigation of City Relief Department.

INSPECTOR STAYS

Finance Committee Decides To Allow McCallum To Stay in Office.

The lowest tender submitted last night to the finance committee for printing the grocery orders, used by the relief inspector, was not accepted on the ground that the firm tendering the lowest price was not paying union wages and was therefore not capable of complying with the city bylaw which makes this a requirement in all contracts.

The figures presented by the relief inspector who had called for tenders were, the Hayden Press, $9.85, and The A. A. Langford, $7.50 per book of 100 orders. While the Hayden Press was not given the contract, it was refused to the Langford company. Aldermen McKay, Anderson and Douglass voted against it.

The committee refused to give sanction to a motion made by the mayor to relieve Relief Inspector McCallum of his duties on the ground of disloyalty to the public. The mayor stated that he would have recourse today to the only alternative left if the committee did not support his motion. Aldermen Anderson, Douglass and McKay asked for an investigation of the relief department of the city as had been suggested for some time.

Firm In Belief

An amendment to the mayor's motion made by Alderman McKay that the matter be left over till the investigation is held at the mayor's convenience, was carried. The mayor was firm in his contention that his motion was in pursuance of a proper course in behalf of the city on account of certain actions of the relief inspector. Mr. McCallum stated that a reference by him to a man along the board walk to the Casino made under a misunderstanding, and a confusion of two similar names.

Alderman McKay asked for more time in which to hold the investigation, believing that the city would benefit more in this way than by the dismissal of the inspector.

When the mayor asked the committee for the necessary power to reopen the question of the letting of the printing tenders of the voters' lists to the Hayden Press, the committee believed that the city would benefit more in this way than by the dismissal of the inspector.

Ask Chaparons

A motion of the mayor to take some action to prevent all girls under 18 years of age from attending a public dance hall without their parents or rightful escorts resulted in the city clerk being instructed to write to the attorney-general and see what powers the council has in this respect. There was universal agreement with the idea suggested.

Alderman McKay and Anderson were appointed a committee to see what could be done to supply Thomas Blanchard with a stall in the market house, from which he could sell fish. He complained that the competitor of the city fish store had injured his business, and asked the committee to abolish the store.

Fireworks were given as the close of the evening, according to the announcer. The speech of President Coolidge will be given through the same station on Thursday evening of this week.

Great Problem Confronting Agriculturists Is Not One of Bumper Crops

INCREASE YIELD, BUT NOT COSTS

R. A. Fisher of England Gives Pointers at Scientific Convention in Toronto.

IS SIXTH DAY
British Association of Scientists Faces Another Very Heavy Program Today.

Associated Press Despatch.
Toronto, Aug. 12.—The great problem which today confronts agriculturists is not one of bumper crops, but of adaptation, and the main object of agricultural research is to enable the practical farmer to increase his yield without increasing his costs. These were the conclusions formulated this afternoon by R. A. Fisher of England, at the Agricultural Experimental Station in England, in presenting his paper to the agriculturists on "Incidence of Rain-fall in Relation to the Crop."
Problem of determining the actual effects of weather upon the crops is one of extreme complexity, according to Prof. Fisher. The crop is subjected to a long sequence of very variable weather conditions, and the meteorological measurement is inadequate to record an average weather must comprise at least rainfall temperature, maximum, minimum and dew point, together with some measure of sunshine intensity. In consequence of the immense numbers of varieties needed to specify the weather history of a given day, it has been found to obtain formulae from past records. Such formulae would be practically useless because even data wholly unrelated to the weather would equally easily be so expressed.

To Increase Yields.
"The main object of agricultural research," said Prof. Fisher, "is to enable the practical farmer to increase his yields without increasing his costs. It is, in fact, not a problem of bumper crop production, but of adaptation to the weather of the weather of most districts is the greatest obstacle in the way of an accurate adaptation of farming methods to the local conditions. An exact knowledge of the effects of weather upon the yields for any crop would pave the way for practical insurance against weather damage by farmers to an extent which would equalize the farmers' net returns and so give a level of average income comparable to that now enjoyed by thousands of families and the existing facilities for life insurance."

In the second place, he continued, "a knowledge of the differential response to weather and differential maturational conditions—and the differences are great—will enable the farmer to adapt his manual treatment to the climatic and seasonal conditions which he has to contend with. It will, in fact, enable him to mitigate the losses of a bad season or to exploit the advantages of a good one."
"Finally, weather studies are intimately related to the improvement of varieties. The problem before a stock breeder is to obtain varieties suitable to different climatic regions."

FACES HEAVY PROGRAM.
Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Aug. 12.—The sixth day of the annual meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science found the members faced with another very heavy program. The various sections had their meetings in attendance because of the fact that a number of the members who are experts in certain sciences were attracted by the subjects which were down for discussion before the International Mathematical Congress, which opened at Convocation Hall yesterday. But the papers presented by almost forty speakers in the early part of the day were none the less interesting and were followed with much attention by their brother scientists.

Professor C. V. Raman of the University of Calcutta, India, started a discussion in the section of mathematics on the scattering of light, which was followed by a paper on the relation between the dispersion of light and terrestrial magnetic disturbance by Rev. A. L. Corlie of England. Later in the day, Sir Ernest Rutherford delivered a paper on the disintegration of the atom of interest to the physicists. If the attendance is a criterion, was the discussion on the relation between the dispersion of light and terrestrial magnetic disturbance by Rev. A. L. Corlie of England. Later in the day, Sir Ernest Rutherford delivered a paper on the disintegration of the atom of interest to the physicists. If the attendance is a criterion, was the discussion on the relation between the dispersion of light and terrestrial magnetic disturbance by Rev. A. L. Corlie of England.

Further contributions to the chemistry section were delivered by Dr. P. J. Maloney and Dr. D. M. Findlay. Factors controlling the normal output of sugar from the liver were treated by Dr. J. H. Burn, and the action of blood sugar during continuous intravenous injection of glucose was the concern of Dr. E. C. Albritton.

Some of the racial characteristics emerging from America's study of her immigrants held the first attention of the anthropologists as discussed by Dr. J. Laughlin, while, in the agricultural section the postponed papers by R. A. Fisher and Dr. G. P. McCluskey were presented.

Dr. H. J. Cody, former minister of education for Ontario, delivered an address to the educationists on the administration of education in Ontario, and Professor G. M. Welr told of an education experiment in rural Ontario. Both the botanists followed a wide review of the history of the University of Toronto by its president, Sir Robert Falconer, who also pointed to the future of government House, where the members of the association and the mathematical congress were received by His Honor, Lieutenant-Governor Cockshutt.

VISITING PYTHIANS FETED IN LONDON

Touring Lodge Members Are Royally Welcomed by Mayor and Local Brethren.

Forty-seven visiting Cleveland Pythians, members of the Pythian Pilgrims Club, toured the city this morning after being officially welcomed to London last evening by Mayor George Wenige.

The Ohio party arrived here last night in automobiles after having visited several other cities in this district. They were met at Hyde Park by a committee of the local lodges of the Knights of Pythias.

A program of songs and speeches was followed out, in which both the visitors and Londoners took part.

The Cleveland Pythians left this morning for Toronto, where they will be visitors for two days.

The party left the Tecumseh House at 9 o'clock and proceeded north on Richmond street. They went out to Broughdale, from where the university buildings can be seen, and all there went in the motorcade. The wonderful sight the buildings made, and were complimentary on the manner in which they were constructed and where they are erected.

From the buildings they came back to Talbot street and down to Dundas. They then went to the city hall to see the county court house, and all were of the opinion that it was a good place to view from the outside, but not the inside to look from the inside to the out.

A trip through the streets of London South was made. The owners of the city were a source of wonder to the men, and all declared that they had never seen a prettier section in any city they had visited.

The party came back to Richmond and Dundas again, and the trip to Toronto is now in full swing. Clusters of white tents on the banks of winding rivers, or the shores of expansive lakes are common sights at this time of the year throughout Western Ontario.

Ideally situated on the banks of the Avon River not a great distance from Stratford, Avon Camp stands out as one of the most delightful retreats in this district. It is conducted by the Knights of Columbus of Stratford in conjunction with the Rotary Club of that city, and is under the direction of Brother Silvin, of the London staff of the Christian Brothers.

Camp officials are delighted with the attendance, while the esprit de corps in camping is surprising, to even the veteran campers. A strict schedule has, of necessity, been inaugurated, but so many novelties interest the boys that the idea of restriction, naturally repellent to the mind of the growing boy, has been wholly eliminated.

Physical training, games, a leisure period and swimming are other high spots of the morning. Soon after dinner a softball game starts the afternoon program, after which come swimming events again. From 4:30 to 6:00 is free time, during which the boys may play games, read, write letters, fish, hike or rest.

Another sport is a clamor call for a while, and at 8:00 the camp fire burns bright. Then 9:30. Lights out. Good night. Go to sleep.

NOTED LONDON GEOLOGIST MAKES RARE COLLECTION

Remnants of Upper Devonian Period Found by Dr. S. Woolverton.

INDIAN RELICS
Is Greatly Interested in Museum Planned For Western University.

Fossils of coral, wood and shells of the Upper Devonian period are some of the finds recently made by Dr. S. Woolverton, noted London geologist, who has returned from Kettle Point, Township of Bosanquet, on the south shore of Lake Huron.

The specimens shows the bark of the tree in process of changing to coal. The inner part of the tree is filled with silica and resembles pieces of petrified wood from the forests of Arizona, which form part of Dr. Woolverton's collection.

The Kettle Point shales are not bituminous, the geologist says, but they will burn readily, as proven by the fire which burned in them for three months last summer. Tradition says that the whole of Kettle Point was lost that way when Indians set it on fire and failed to put out the fires.

Once a Salt Water Sea.
Many of the specimens prove to be corals and shells do not belong to fresh water.

The shales contain numerous concretions of iron, iron pyrites, and still greater concretions of iron, which are spherical bodies commonly called kettles. These are the concretions of clay, iron and crystallized limestone.

Dr. Woolverton points out that Kettle Point derives its name from the kettle-like holes left when the concretions came out of the University of Western Ontario.

Old War Implements.
They comprise minerals, fossils, Indian relics, corals, shells and corals from all parts of the world. There are also old war implements and pioneer tools.

In the collection is a strange case of natural growths of woods. It was brought to London by the late Jonas Williams, who was employed at McMillan's for many years. Dr. Woolverton considers this one of his most unique curios.

Dr. Woolverton is greatly interested in the museum that will occupy the new buildings of the University of Western Ontario. He said that such an exhibit, both for those studying at the university and those who would visit the buildings, would be a great asset to Western. He is strongly in favor of London having a museum, and wishes that he will continue gathering specimens for the time when London will have its own permanent exhibition.

TRAIN COACH SLEEP OF SHORT DURATION
Magistrate, Just Back From Vacation, Frees Pair of Unfortunates.

George McMillan, 19, from Scotland, and Fred Brooks, 22, of Thamesville, didn't have any particular place to sleep last night, so they finally climbed into a C. N. R. passenger coach and composed their bones to rest. They didn't rest long, however, as railway constables soon wakened them and took them to police station. They were discharged by Magistrate Graydon this morning.

McMillan stated he had come from Scotland two weeks ago, and had been working in the bush. He arrived in London from Hamilton on Saturday and was given a bed by a man on Clarence street, who left the city yesterday.

Brooks said he left Thamesville early yesterday morning and went to Stratford looking for work. He came back to London last night and was going to take the early train to Thamesville today.

"Did you have a ticket?" asked the court. "No, I was going to ask the conductor for a ride," replied Brooks.

OPERATION IS DELAYED ON AYLMER GIRL'S HAND
Gwen Wootton, 2-year-old daughter of George Wootton of Aylmer, who had her hand severely mangled in a washing machine at her home yesterday and who was rushed to Victoria Hospital following the accident, was allowed to go home by the hospital officials after it was found that no more could be done for her injuries at the present time.

All the tendons in her hand were torn and every bone was broken. Dr. P. W. McNicoll, of Aylmer, reports this morning that the little girl is progressing as favorably as can be expected. Dr. Arthur B. Rankin, who was called to the hospital immediately the girl was brought there, says that an operation will be performed in the near future on the girl's hand. This will be necessary if the child is to have the use of her hand in later years, as all the tendons will have to be sewed together and the bones will have to be set, and this can only be done by an operation.

DIDN'T EXPECT CAR TO STOP MOTORIST TELLS COURT
R. Roy Stuart admitted passing a standing street car at Stanley and Horn streets on the afternoon of Aug. 10, but he said he didn't expect the car to stop, and that he was looking for it to pass, but the possibility of it being put into effect in the near future is slight.

WILLIAM CONNOLLY, conductor on the L. S. R., and Motorman Osborne both gave evidence that Stuart had passed the street car, while Osborne stated he had shouted to Stuart to stop.

ALLEGED THIEVES PLEAD NOT GUILTY

Fred Hartsell and Earl McCormick Remanded in Chicken Case.

WRITE CONFESSIONS

Despite the fact that High Constable Wharton has signed confessions from Fred Hartsell and Earl McCormick that they were implicated in half a dozen chicken thefts in the county of Middlesex...

They were remanded till August 19 at 11 a.m. by the court and in the meantime, the high constable will make investigations as to the thefts.

Detective Boydan of the Bradford police department, arrived in London this morning to take Hartsell to Bradford where he is wanted on a charge of wife desertion...

The men were charged with stealing 28 chickens valued at $57 from the farm of James Parker, on the night of August 7.

Mr. Judd stated that bail would have to be substantial, as there were several other charges against the men of a similar nature.

On Still Charge.

Hartsell was convicted a year ago last winter of running a still in East London and escaped from the Ontario Reformatory only to give himself up to the authorities here.

Earl McCormick, the youngest of the trio, had been on suspended sentence after being convicted of stealing a bicycle. He was in police court about a month ago.

Hartsell is being taken on a "Cook's tour" of the county this afternoon by officers and will point out where he and his companions "pinched" the fowl.

Frank Lowe, aged 30, and Earl McCormick, 17, were the first to be apprehended. They were located in a house at 117 Clarence street.

After long questioning the pair are alleged to have advanced information which led to the arrest of Fred Hartsell at a rooming house on Hamilton.

Hartsell confessed to being implicated in the wholesale theft of fowls throughout the county, and stated that 84 chickens had been brought to the city Saturday at 4:30 a.m. and that they had been sold to a Jew.

Five Weeks' Trade.

The thieves, stated Hartsell, have been carried on successfully for about five weeks, and the hauls had easily been disposed of in the city.

"The best of it is not to be taken to the city, for last night they are alleged to have stolen a quantity of honey from a bee farm on the St. Marys road just off the provincial highway.

The provincial authorities have been working on the case for over three weeks, and complaints and information advanced by the Ontario and London and vicinity led to the apprehension of the three.

High Constable Wharton, License Inspector Bolton, and Detectives Bolton and Down made the arrests.

DETROITERS JOINING IN INGERSOLL REUNION

Thoroughly interesting program of sports and speeches have been arranged, but if the truth were known the real reason for the reunion probably takes place in silent recollections, and among the little groups one sees everywhere, quietly enjoying reminiscences of earlier activities and of other friends who have gone.

It is a great experience—a curious medley of gladness and regret, a turning back of the calendar and a peering ahead into comparisons.

Special to The Advertiser.

Ingersoll, Aug. 11.—The home-comers are in possession of the town. The old boys and girls are imbued with the spirit that this is "their town."

They planned for a good time, just as the home folks had planned that they should have it, and the hilarity is being continued without interruption or restraint. It is estimated that several thousand of the home-comers are here. They have been arriving all day, and far greater crowds are expected Tuesday and Wednesday.

This was "Windsor Day" and there was a large representation from the Border City, who were accompanied by the Hussars' band of London. Hamilton also was represented by a large contingent and made a splendid showing. A big parade was an excellent morning feature, in which there were many decorated automobiles and bicycles, and the Hussars and Ingersoll pipe bands.

The attendance at Victoria Park in the afternoon was large, and the program one of exceptional interest. In a football game the players of this town defeated the Quarters, Beachville, by a score of 15 to 2.

Mayor English extended a very warm welcome to the old boys and girls, and brief addresses were delivered by members of the council and a few of the visitors.

The opening day was concluded with a splendid program at Victoria Park this evening. Tomorrow will be "Detroit Day," and a large representation from the American city is expected.

THOUSANDS ATTEND FUNERAL OF LATE BISHOP DOWLING

Highest Dignitaries of Roman Catholic Church in Hamilton Today.

PREACHES SERMON

Rev. J. E. Burke of Toronto Officiates at Last Rites of Distinguished Divine.

Canadian Press Despatch. Hamilton, Aug. 12.—Thousands of the clergy and some of the highest dignitaries of the Roman Catholic Church met today to pay tribute when Right Rev. Thomas Joseph Dowling for over thirty years bishop of Hamilton, was borne to his last resting place in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, in pursuance with his wish that he lie among those with whom he had labored, rather than in the cathedral vault.

At 8:30 this morning there was a solemn requiem mass, attended by the religious sisters of the diocese, with several hundred guests. The celebrant was the Bishop of Peterboro, assisted by Rev. J. F. Archbishop Neil McNeil, Toronto. He was assisted by Right Rev. Mgr. Kelly, Dundas; Very Rev. Dean Halm, Hanover; Very Rev. Dean Donovan, Dunnville; Very Rev. Dean Cassidy, Hamilton, and Very Rev. Dean Gohy, Preston. The requiem music was sung by the Jesuit novitiate choir of Guelph, and the Knights of Columbus choir.

Angles For Fish Catches a Bear

Hungry Cub Swallows Bait, Hook and Fish.

Owosso, Mich., Aug. 12.—Eugene Robertson, local barber, has arrived home from Presque Isle County with the prize fishing story of the year.

Robertson declares that while he was fishing in a stream on the farm of Fred G. Kortman, in that county, he caught a fish and, as he was pulling the fish in, a half-grown bear leaped into the water and swallowed the fish, which had drawn the line under the water.

As Robertson drew on the line, he pulled the bear's nose under water and drowned it.

The bear's fish was recovered and the bear skinned, he says. Robertson refers any doubts of his story to Kortman for confirmation.

ILLNESS OF SANSONE IS KEPT A SECRET

Young Man, Committed For Trial on Assault Charge, Eating Well, Though.

Silvatore Sansone, committed for trial by Magistrate Gladman last week on a charge of indecent assault, is receiving medical treatment from Dr. W. J. Tillman. It became known this afternoon.

Dr. Tillman refused to disclose the nature of the illness, but stated that his patient was eating well.

"We understand that Sansone injured himself when he was getting down a fence on Oxford street to escape detectives," The Advertiser told Dr. Tillman.

"No, that is not the case," replied the physician. "I would not be at liberty to discuss the matter with you without the permission of the young man."

Dr. James D. Wilson, jail physician, has been attending Sansone since his arrest over a week ago.

INDIAN BOYS FIND DEAD MAN IN BUSH

Lifeless Body of Unknown Foreigner Found in Harwich Township.

Special to The Advertiser.

Chatham, Ont., Aug. 12.—Three Indian boys rambling in McGavin's bush, Harwich Township, last night discovered the lifeless body of an unknown foreigner hanging by the neck from a young tree. He had tied the end of his suspenders to the tree, the other around his neck, and threw himself forward. The body, when discovered, was in a kneeling posture, with the knees barely touching the ground.

The boys who made the discovery were Forest Dodge, 12; Stanley Dodge, 10 and Harold Thompson, 14. They notified their parents, who telephoned provincial police.

A number of Belgians and Hollanders were to view the remains today in the hope of establishing identification.

Provincial Officer Lows is in possession of a notebook containing a number of addresses, by which he hopes to establish identity if he is not recognized locally.

Two of the addresses are Paul Morim, 2099 Chalmers avenue, Detroit, Mich., and Arthur De Groot, St. Catharines. A passenger rail ticket receipt would indicate that the man recently travelled from Windsor to Chatham. The wallet contained numerous German and Russian bills, in addition to $20 in Canadian currency.

NEW UNIVERSITY WILL BE OPENED SEPT. 26

fourteen counties of Essex, Kent, Essex, Norfolk, Lambton, Middlesex, Oxford, Brant, Huron, Bruce, Perth, Wellington, Grey and Waterloo as its special constituency. The city of London and the provincial government appoint the board of governors, while the counties, cities and secondary schools of Western Ontario appoint or elect the members of the senate.

The lieutenant-governor of the province is the official visitor of the university.

Two years before the war of 1914-1918 the Institute of Public Health was equipped by the Ontario government and turned over to the university to operate. It was erected in aid of medical education and particularly for instruction and practical work in public health. In addition to the instructional work, the institute laboratories make examinations for all the municipalities of the fourteen counties of Western Ontario, analyze chemical and bacteriological examinations of water, milk, sewage, food products, etc., check epidemics of contagious and infectious diseases, conduct clinical diagnostic work for physicians and hospitals, in brief, serving one hundred and seventy or more municipalities.

It has annually represented the population of nearly one million people. In the year 1922-23 a total of fourteen thousand, two hundred and twenty such analyses were made. The director of the institute is appointed subject to the approval of the lieutenant-governor-in-council.

Medical Building Opened.

In the fall of 1921 the new medical building was opened. This building and the institute are opposite sides of the street and in close proximity to Victoria Hospital, and to the Hospital for Sick Children. London has seven large hospitals, and is the clinical center for Western Ontario. This is one of the reasons for the success of the faculty of medicine. The new Medical School building is one of the best of its size on the continent. It has sixty thousand square feet of floor space and all of its equipment is modern. Owing to the close co-operation between the medical faculty and the faculty of Medicine, students attending the university have the privilege of attending lectures and clinics conducted by the leading physicians and surgeons of the city.

The new buildings for the College of Arts, just recently completed, are located in a two hundred and fifty acre tract of the north branch of the Thames River, just outside of the city limits. It is one of the most beautiful university sites in Canada. The buildings, powerhouse and bridge are constructed of concrete and steel faced with gray sandstone. The type of architecture is collegiate gothic. It is simple, chaste and beautiful. It is the admiration and praise of all who see the buildings and is highly commended by the older they grow the more beautiful they will become. Visitors from all parts of the continent testify to the wonderful setting, the utility and economy of design, the and the fascinating quality of their exterior lines and interior decorations.

With the exception of physics, zoology, botany and geology. Each department has the maximum number of students and research laboratories. Two amphitheatres for lectures and demonstrations, a museum for specimens and a cafeteria for professors and students are provided in this building.

The grounds of the university are already a beautiful park. Spaces are being prepared for playing and athletic fields, tennis courts and walks about the grounds and the trees are being planted in the nursery, while clumps of shrubs and

JAIL WILL BRING REDUCTION IN BILL

Expect Irish Debate To Be Prolonged, With Much Opposition.

Associated Press Despatch.

Dublin, Aug. 12.—With the resumption today of the Dail Eireann, the Free State Government is expected to introduce a bill dealing with the Irish boundary commission similar to the legislation being sponsored in the House of Commons by the British Government. The bill makes no attempt to fetter the commission by limiting its authority in the matter of boundary changes.

There has been no such breach of the treaty as to justify this course. If the bill is passed its second reading, like that of the British bill, will not be moved until the end of September.

It was taken by the opposition will be that, as the article of the Anglo-Irish treaty dealing with the boundary between Northern and Southern Ireland has not been fulfilled, the remainder of the treaty is void and the Free State, accordingly, is free to make over its constitution without restriction to which the treaty bound it, including the oath of loyalty to Great Britain. The government, on the other hand, holds that there has been no such breach of the treaty as to justify this course. If the bill is passed its second reading, like that of the British bill, will not be moved until the end of September.

Daylight Star Is Seen Near Regina

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, Aug. 12.—The "daylight star" which has been observed by residents of Regina and vicinity is probably the planet Venus, according to astronomers at the Dominion observatory here today.

Venus is the morning star at present and can be seen during the day if the atmosphere is clear and the observer knows where to locate it.

On Aug. 7th it was very bright. An early riser, who locates the planet before or about sunrise, can follow it in the brightness of the morning if atmospheric conditions are favorable. It is stated.

Associated Press Despatch. Nome, Alaska, Aug. 12.—Knude Rasmussen, leader of an expedition studying Eskimos, who, according to a telegram received here, has reached Kotzebue, 150 miles north of Nome, will proceed to Northeast Asia to study Siberian Eskimos, if enough of the summer is left for that task, it was believed here today.

That was the last item on the program of the enterprise, officially known as the fifth Thule expedition of Denmark, when it went to the Canadian Arctic from Greenland a year ago last spring.

Until a telegram received here from Rasmussen asking the postmaster at Nome to forward his mail to Kotzebue on Kotzebue Sound, an arm of the Arctic Ocean, no word had been received from him since May, 1923.

Young people of No. 2 Corps of the Salvation Army, called at the home of Mrs. Campbell on Emery street last night for a presentation ceremony. The presentation was made to Miss Vanderheiden and to Harry Ward, another army member, who is also going to Florida.

SMITH HAS SOLUTION TO TRAFFIC PROBLEM

Thinks One-Way Rule on King Street Would Satisfy Fire Chief.

That traffic on King street on Saturday night should be confined to one way only was the suggestion made last night by Alderman Smith. He thought that to make all traffic on King street, between Talbot street and Clarence street, on Saturday night west would tend to meet the complaint of the fire chief, that King street is so crowded with traffic that his trucks cannot get out on Saturdays.

The motion was not carried in committee, and it was suggested that the traffic committee might find some solution of the difficulty.

COMPLETE INSURANCE DATA ASKED BY MAYOR

Committee Hesitates To Spend More Money

Alderman Edwin Smith told the finance committee last night that any spare money the city had, and which might be used for the benefit of returned men should go to the local branch of the G. W. V. A. An appeal was before the committee last night, but it was not carried. The city has no spare money just now, and had to refuse the tempting suggestion offer of an advertising man to advertise the Western Fair in some of the eastern daily papers.

The plans are already prepared for dormitories for both men and women, and for a gymnasium containing shower baths and swimming pools. It is hoped that in due course the university will have separate library building and a convocation hall. The assembly hall will not accommodate the crowds of people who attend the annual convocation exercises. In the future it will be necessary to hold these exercises in the largest building in London.

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, Aug. 11.—The average yield per acre of fall wheat in Canada is estimated to be 25.1 bushels on a harvested area of 765,679 acres, or a total of 19,245,000 bushels, as compared with 19,315,000 bushels from 815,706 acres last year. The majority of fall wheat is in Ontario, where the crop will average 26.9 bushels per acre, as against 23.1 bushels last year. In Alberta on a small acreage the average has dropped from 28 bushels to 10 bushels to the acre.

In the three Prairie Provinces there is a drop in the average of all wheat. At the end of July it appeared that there would be a total wheat harvest of about 259,032,000 bushels from a sown area of 21,516,797 acres. In 1923 the figures were 422,260,000 bushels from 21,665,276 acres. Yields of grain other than wheat are estimated by the bureau of statistics as follows: Oats—378,995,000 bushels, compared with 563,997,500 bushels last year. Barley—71,204,000 bushels, compared with 71,204,000 bushels last year. Rye—12,358,500 bushels this year, as compared with 23,231,800 last year. Flax—8,626,400 bushels this year, 7,192,700 last year. The potato yield is estimated at 49,132,000 hundredweights, as against 55,497,000 last year; of turnips, etc., at 35,269,000 hundredweights, compared with 38,118,500 last year.

ONTARIO CROP SITUATION.

Despatch. Toronto, Aug. 11.—Midsummer pastures were never better, says the report of the Ontario department of agriculture, issued today. Beef cattle are thriving and dairy cows are giving a comparatively heavy flow of milk. An increased interest in fall wheat is being shown this year, the report continues, and the acreage sown this year is likely to be larger than ever. Some oats have been harvested in the more western counties, but the heavy rains, while they have helped pastures, roots, etc., greatly have been responsible for a cut in wheat and corn yields. The hay crop this year will be heavy, but not up to the quality of last year, as much of it will be without the first-class curing it got last season. Corn is tasseling, and promising much better than early in the season. Small fruit groves in the province have not had a good season so far, states the report, owing to the very low prices realized this year. A woolen mill in the Temiskaming district is expected to be completed.

RECORD MANITOBA HARVEST.

Canadian Press Despatch. Winnipeg, Aug. 11.—Western Manitoba this year will harvest its largest crop since 1915, in the opinion of Premier Bracken, who is shortly to be travelling 1,000 miles through part of the province in the past five days. There were two possible dangers, he said, in the south and early frosts in the north. Rye harvesting in many districts is well under way, and some barley has been cut. The wheat crop, he said, later will be very heavy, but in some districts late.

Association For Improving Position of Canadian Negro Is Born At Meeting In City

First Move of Its Kind in Canada Finds Enthusiastic Backing.

OFFICERS ELECTED

Representatives of City and of Local Organization Promise Support.

HON. F. B. CARVELL, former Liberal member of Parliament, minister of public works in the Union Government, and later head of the Railway Commission, who died suddenly on Saturday while taking a walk on his farm at Woodstock, N.B.

The colored people of Canada must not permit themselves to stagnate under the protection of the British flag. They must use the afforded protection as an inspiration to great efforts to better their condition. They must feel the pride of race that other nations feel and struggle to attainments that justify the pride. The effort must be made through organization.

Such were the chief points brought out at Ulster Hall last night, when the colored people of London brought out being the Canadian National Association of Colored People. The association is the first of its kind in Canada. Last night's meeting saw representatives of the city, the Kiwanians, Kiwanians and other organizations unite with the colored citizens of London to start the movement to advance the status of the negro in Canada.

Sees No Progress. The Negro of Canada is a loyal, law-abiding citizen, peaceful, and with a pure and good name, said J. F. Jenkins, editor of the "Dawn of Tomorrow," in his opening remarks.

With all this and the fact that the colored men and women, employed in Canada, they had not made progress. They have fallen short of the progress made by those of other races. The speaker pointed out that it was discouraging to notice the small number of children who went through the education system. There was a reason for it. Specific instances were quoted to show that although they had proven in tests that they were equal to white children, they were not permitted to take the same positions. In some cases, white brothers only the menial positions. Local cases were quoted which involved girl stenographers and a draughtsman.

It was shown that in the States an effort had been made to give any position to colored men and women with them since. They intended to take her to Buffalo, Edward Lawson of Buffalo, John Carr of Chicago and William Stove of Toronto are charged with vagrancy, and John Kings of Buffalo, the fourth man of the party, is charged with being illegally in possession of a revolver. The girl has not since been found.

Mayor Speaks. Byron Fountain, chairman, called upon His Worship Mayor Wenig.

The mayor said that the colored people should make every effort to help themselves, to strengthen their cause by working out their own salvation as far as possible. He called upon them to show their natural talents and cultivated abilities to prove that they could overcome the natural and artificial barriers. The mayor expressed himself as being behind any movement for the benefit of the community, and hoped that they would meet with the increasing feeling of brotherhood apparent in the Dominion.

The constitution was read and adopted. The question of affiliation was brought up. It was decided that the young Canadian organization proceed under its own power for the present, the constitution being so worded that an affiliation with a similar organization in the States could be made necessary if found advisable.

Officers for the coming year are: St. Adam Beck, honorary president; J. W. Montgomery, president; Toronto; Byron Fountain, 1st vice-president; Rev. E. M. Wood, 2nd vice-president; Paul Lewis, 3rd vice-president; J. F. Jenkins, secretary-treasurer.

Lauds Accomplishments. David Ross then spoke on the colored situation in the States and in both America and Africa. He had confidence in the colored race, for he had seen them accomplish great things in a short time in Africa. He drew a picture of the days of slavery, and added that the white race had a great sin for which to atone.

Rev. Deak spoke of the color line in Canada. He felt that it did exist but that it could be overcome by operation and united effort. He pleaded with the colored people to retain their confidence in themselves.

The Rev. Stewart, the Rev. Wood and the Rev. Deak sang hymns. Th.B. Lexington, Vir., outlined the hopes that would be realized by the united effort of the Canadian negroes. Entertainment and refreshments were on the evening's program. Madam Hunter sang a solo, accompanied by Mrs. Fred Kelly. A trio, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Jenkins and Fred Ball, sang "Sweet and Low," bringing out the rich harmony with which the singers are gifted. Mrs. P. Brown was accompanist.

East Must Wait Until Next Year To Secure Coal

Canadian Press Despatch. Edmonton, Aug. 11.—Coal shipments from Alberta to Ontario on the experimental basis proposed under a vote of federal government assistance will not be undertaken this year, after all. For lack of time in which to make the necessary arrangements, the scheme will now have to wait over until another season. That is the decision reached as an outcome of a conference here by Premier Greenfield and Hon. Charles Stewart, and Sir Henry Thornton, when the whole situation was taken under review.

KU KLUX KLAN HIT BY JOHN W. DAVIS

Declares Opposition to Any Challenge of Religious Freedom.

PRESENTS PLATFORM

Associated Press Despatch. Goff Plaza, Clarkburg, W. Va., Aug. 11.—John W. Davis opened his campaign for the presidency of the United States tonight in a veritable torrent of people who had journeyed from many cities to witness the formal ceremonies to notify the candidate of his selection as the standard-bearer of the Democratic party. Undaunted by the weather, Mr. Davis stood up on the speaker's platform, while a friend held an umbrella above his head, and launched a bitter attack upon the Republican party, declaring it had shaken public confidence "to its very foundation." The crowd listened to Mr. Davis denounce the Republicans for having "exhibited a deeper and more widespread corruption than any that this generation of Americans has been called upon to witness."

Mr. Davis, with vigor and force, presented the program to which he pledged himself if given the mandate of the American people. He promised as the chief features of this program, an honest, impartial and just government; tax and tariff revision; farm aid; co-operation of all of the nation's natural resources, and strict enforcement of the prohibition as well as the other laws.

Returning to the subject of religious freedom, which was the basis of a sharp fight in the New York convention that named him the party candidate, Mr. Davis did not mention the Ku Klux Klan by name, but was emphatic in his declaration of opposition to any challenge, organized or unorganized, under whatever name or in whatever character it might appear of the constitutional guarantees of religious freedom.

INSPECTOR YOUNG BACKS AMENDMENT

Report On City Plumbing Is Adopted by Board of Health.

ALTER APPLICATION

Plumbing Inspector Young's report which was adopted last night by the board of health included the recommendation to amend the plumbing by-law so that sinks may be provided for laundry purposes under the same conditions as laundry tubs are installed without separate venting, and also to allow the use of black or galvanized drainage fittings in connection with wrought iron pipe. This is a concession gained by the plumbing inspector from F. A. Dalvin, provincial sanitary inspector.

Mr. Young also recommended striking out the clause on the application form which lately in London caused a good deal of trouble when a citizen refused to sign the application form. Mr. Young says:

"I called on Mr. Meadows, chief plumbing inspector of Toronto, to inquire of some of their experiences in the administration of their by-law. I was informed that only once in all his experience had a citizen refused to sign the application form on the same grounds as a local citizen had refused to sign ours, but when the inspector explained to the magistrate that it mattered not who supplied the material and that the intent of the clause on the application form was struck out with red ink and the citizen signed it."

The monthly report of the medical officer of health showed that there are at present 2,877 cases of measles in the city. There were fourteen new cases in July. This is the largest number the city has had for many years. There are 329 cases of chicken-pox, and 259 cases of scarlet fever.

Forger Styled Brainsy Criminal

Surety Official Warns Businessmen Against Check Artist. Canadian Press Despatch. Brockville, Aug. 11.—The professional forger and check raiser was characterized as the most intellectual and highest class of all criminals by Fred N. Withey, vice-president of the National Surety Company, New York, speaking before the Rotary Club to-day. "They deal with the biggest businessmen of the country and get away with it because they are the smoothest of all crooks doing business at the present time," he said. He warned businessmen about giving checks, particularly of small denominations to strangers.

Peter Rabbit Finds That Mrs. Boomer Was Telling the Truth

By THORNTON W. BURGESS. Curiosity is a persistent thing. When it is satisfied it ends, but when it is not satisfied it grows. Peter Rabbit tried to make himself believe that he didn't care whether or not he found out if it was true that Mrs. Whip-poor-will had no nest.

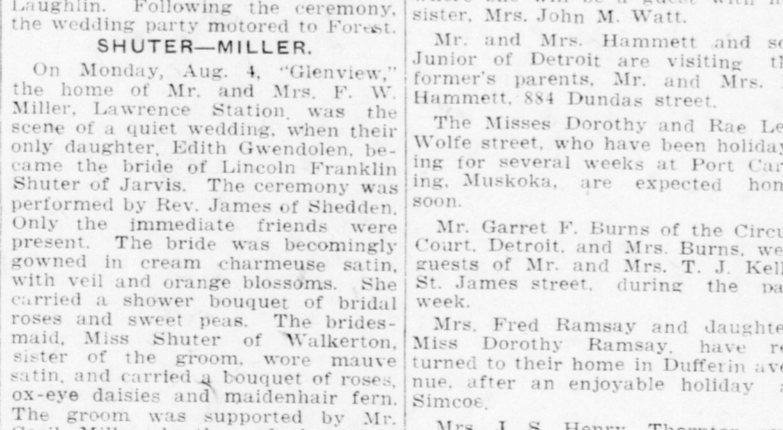

Not once had Peter thought so much as a glimpse of Mrs. Whip-poor-will. It was hard to believe that she could be anywhere about there. But he had a feeling that she was. Whip-poor-will had as much as said so. When Peter starts out to try to do a thing he does dislike to admit that he cannot find it. It didn't move, Peter, he didn't find her nest, and he didn't find her eggs.

Then early one morning Peter happened to wander off a little to one side of the Lone Little Path. There in a little place where the ground was carpeted with brown leaves he sat down. Almost at once he was startled by a bird flying almost in his face. He didn't see her until her wings actually brushed his whiskers.

"Oh, don't move, Peter!" Then you babies? he exclaimed. "Where are your babies? Where are they?" "You are almost sitting on them!" cried the anxious little mother. "Oh, Peter, don't move! They are right behind you!" Peter turned his head and looked down on the ground behind him. Right close to his funny little, short white tail on the brown leaves were two tiny baby birds. They were almost the color of those brown leaves. The wonder was that when Peter sat down he did not sit down on them. Had he done so it would have been a bad end of them. There was no nest. There wasn't even the hint of a nest. Very carefully Peter moved away. Then he turned to stare at those little birds. Mrs. Whip-poor-will hurried to them to make sure that they were unhurt. "How did they get out of their nest?" Peter asked.

"They didn't get out of a nest?" retorted Mrs. Whip-poor-will. "They were hatched right here where you see them." Then Peter knew that Mrs. Boomer the Nighthawk had told him truly that there were two birds who do not build nests.

The next story: "The Old Pasture Entertains."

He didn't see her until her wings actually brushed his whiskers.

The poisons of many venomous snakes are now being used in medicine. Both the cobra and the rattlesnake are kept in numbers in captivity, so that their poison may be extracted for the manufacture of a serum for the cure of snake-bite.

Vote or Be Punished. Should Canadian citizens be compelled to vote? The Union of Canadian Municipalities thinks so, and in assembly at Windsor has passed a resolution to that effect.

An increasing apathy on the part of the public toward all elections can scarcely be denied, but the wisdom of the compulsory vote is less easily accepted.

At the present time the citizen who votes does so from sense of duty combined with interest in the result. His or her choice is made with some degree of thought and with some responsibility.

To herd all persons to the polling booth and to make them vote on questions in which they have no sincere interest would be quite as likely to arouse perversity as to develop sense of duty.

A small poll is a misfortune of our quality of citizenship. But the will of a voluntary and intelligent minority seems both safer and wiser than the grab-bag choice of an indifferent and irritated majority voting under compulsion.

Hon. Frank Carvell.

In the passing of Hon. Frank B. Carvell death has snatched a fine figure from Canadian public life. For fifteen years the late Mr. Carvell's name has been associated with big events in the politics of this country, and his unexpected death removes another virile link in the chain that connected modern political thought with the achievements and traditions of Laurier Liberalism.

The loss of Hon. Mr. Carvell to New Brunswick, in whose interests he fought and for whose well-being he labored through years of representation at Ottawa, will be substantial. A friend and intimate of Sir Wilfred Laurier in the closing and most productive years of the late leader's life, Mr. Carvell reflected much that was lovable and worthy in the great chiefdom whom he followed, until a difference in political conviction caused a parting of the ways.

It was only after carefully weighing the issues at stake that Mr. Carvell, in 1917, decided to accept the invitation of Sir Robert Borden to join the Union government as minister of public works. Previous to this he had attained national distinction through his instigation of an inquiry into Premier Fleming's governmental record in New Brunswick. The investigation unearthed a scandal which necessitated Premier Fleming's resignation and paved the way for a cleaning up of corrupt practices in the public life of provincial politicians.

It was freely acknowledged that Mr. Carvell could have become prime minister of his home province, but he preferred the wider field of federal politics. In 1904 he was elected to the Dominion Parliament by Carleton County, a seat which he was to hold without interruption for fifteen years.

Mr. Carvell had personality plus and a facility of expression that made him a powerful opponent in public debate. Training in law developed in him the keen, incisive qualities of speech which make orators. He was never seen to better advantage as when he was tearing the arguments of his adversaries to shreds, an art which, when supported by strong conviction, came naturally to him.

"Fighting Frank" is what Mr. Carvell's admirers called him. The name was descriptive of a forceful, rugged character that combined rare political acumen with executive ability. As chairman of the board of railway commissioners for Canada he fulfilled his duties intelligently and well, and a successor of his calibre will be hard to find.

That Printing Tender.

The finance committee of the city council has rejected Mayor Wenige's effort to conduct an investigation into the letting of the tender for printing the voters' lists. The attitude of Aldermen McKay, Anderson and Douglass, who opposed the mayor, was that the council has already made its decision and that the matter is therefore beyond the committee's jurisdiction.

While this point of view is technically correct, it is unfortunate that the affair must remain in its present unsatisfactory condition. The letting of tenders is a delicate business. It is the spending of public money, and any flavor of patronage or of mismanagement breeds increasing distrust.

In this case there appears to have been only a misunderstanding, but it has given rise to a charge of irregularity from Aldermen Greer and Towe which should be cleared by a complete explanation.

The tender for printing the lists was let by the council last week to a local firm. The city clerk, not being a printer and knowing nothing of the technical phraseology of the trade, asked one of the city printers to draw up a schedule on which tenders could be submitted. This was done, and two tenders were received, one of them being from the man who had drawn up the schedule. When the tenders were opened it was found that they were calculated on different interpretation of this schedule as to the size of the printed page.

In spite of this, however, the city council let the tender to the firm which made the lowest tender (being told by the chairman of the finance committee that this tender was actually the lowest in practice), which happened to be that of the man drawing up the schedule.

Now the second firm expresses dissatisfaction, claiming that it tendered a price in reality lower than its competitor, and that it complied with every other regulation asked by the council.

There appears to be justice in the complaint, and it is to be hoped that it may result in more businesslike handling of future tenders.

Elixirs and Wars.

Last Saturday British scientists listened to an address from Prof. E. Smith of Birmingham, in which he predicted the disintegration of Canada into separate countries. At the same time, Rear-Admiral W. L. Rogers, of the United States, told an audience of Americans that his country would launch a war of aggression against Canada before the end of this century for the purpose of securing territory to accommodate the anticipated increase in United States population.

And while these two speakers outlined their startling theories, another celebrity, Prof. Julian Huxley of Oxford, was telling members of the Ontario College of Education that the time was coming when the perpetuation of life would be an established fact. Already, he said, science has given the flat worm eternal life. So why not human beings?

All three statements created a profound impression in scientific circles. Canada, Prof. Smith claims, is split up into communities, whose interests are so foreign to the interests of neighboring communities that the time will arrive when each community, or province, will segregate itself and establish separate boundaries, separate habits, and a separate government. Canada will then be subdivided into distinct nationalities, just as Europe is today.

About the time this transformation takes place, "American hordes" will invade these different countries, exterminate some of them, and purloin their territories "to take care of overpopulation in America." This, according to Rear-Admiral Rogers.

Both Prof. Smith and the rear-admiral believe these horrible exigencies will come to pass within 75 years. But Prof. Huxley thinks the elixir of life, which has already proven successful in the case of the flat worm, will be equally effective with human beings "within a short period." If this be true, America's population will double long before the end of the 20th century, and, assuming the Rogers hypothesis correct, within the lifetime of people now on earth.

The whole thing is a bit intricate, but it suggests some extraordinary possibilities. If American armies invade Ontario, will Quebec, a separate country, come to Ontario's assistance? What will the republic of British Columbia do if the kingdom of Alberta is invaded? Will the Bluenoses of the Maritimes ally themselves with the American hordes?

Unless Prof. Huxley's elixir can be used on members of the human race, it is not likely that the other two theories will ever graduate out of the good joke class. The average citizen is not worried over what is likely to happen to his progeny 100 years from now. It is interesting to speculate, however, on the effect, perpetuation of human life would have. With ten times the present population on earth, life would be very miserable. According to H. G. Wells, savagery and animalism would supplant civilization. In the eternal quest for food, cannibalism would be introduced, and men would keep on extirpating each other, until the products of the soil would be sufficient for all to live.

These conclusions seem as logical as any. They at least justify Wells' belief that an elixir of life, if discovered, would, in reality, produce more misery than happiness.

An analysis of the German death rate during the war shows that men between 20 and 25 years of age suffered most heavily. Between 1913 and 1915 the mortality between those ages jumped from 4.4 per thousand to 66.9. During the two following years it decreased, but rose in 1918 to 88.8. For women between 20 and 25 years of age the death rate increase did not start until 1917, when the scarcity of food, coal and other supplies was reaching a climax.

It now develops that Loeb is "childish and not subject to restraint." The murder of young Franks was merely a boyish prank which should not be judged too sternly. What a travesty or intelligence! The dignity of British justice was never built upon so flimsy a foundation. The burlesque in Chicago is a demonstration of cheap faking which should make Americans do some thinking about the dishonesty of their attitude toward law and justice. Cleverness is an unsafe substitute for integrity.

WHO WON THE WAR?

Half a dozen patriotic sailors argued meekly and more on the age-old, idiotic question of who won the war. Said the Englishman, "It's certain that our grand old navy made Germany ring down the curtain through Great Britain's great blockade."

Jean, the Frenchman, cried, "Assistance Of much worth you British gave. But without our French resistance, you would all be in your grave." Said the Yank, "I'm slow on boasting, But the experts all agree. That the Yanks supplied the roasting That brought final victory."

At these words Italian Tony Smashed the Yanks on the nose, Smothered him in macaroni. While the Frenchman bit his toes. In two seconds all were lying Prone and wounded on the floor. And the question's still a question, Who (please tell us) won the war?

The Disconnection of Sleep

The art of going to sleep is the art of disconnection.

Being awake is being alive to our surroundings and susceptible to them. Whenever these surroundings are of such a nature as to require our attention we cannot sleep. When we can leave our environment and become lost in vagaries, then only can we acquire sleepfulness. Sleep is a bath of the soul which it needs every so often and without which the nerves become frayed. Probably there is no other question of going to sleep. Those who can drop to sleep at any moment, as was said of Napoleon, are rare indeed. Most of us need conducive surroundings.

Surroundings which are conducive are those which enable us to leave them and wander off into the field of dreams.

It will be found by most people that surroundings become negligible only when they are customary, when we have become so habituated to them that they no longer require our attention.

There are some who can sleep amid the noise of the city because those noises are usual and everything takes place as expected. They cannot go to sleep apart from these noises because they have become insensible and part of their sub-consciousness, and are necessary to forgetfulness. There are others who cannot sleep except under conditions of quiet such as are found in the country or far away from bustling tram cars or buses.

As many people will be found in the one class as in the other. The ability to go to sleep depends upon one's ability to disconnect himself from what is actually taking place around him. Many have been awakened by the sudden stopping of the clock. The cause is that they have accustomed themselves to the ticking of the timepiece and its silence, being unusual, recalls their attention to it. Thus it will be found that they can sleep with the clock ticking by them but cannot sleep without it.

Thus it will be seen that the sudden cessation of noise acts as quickly to call us awake as the sudden beginning of noise and it all depends on that to which we have accustomed ourselves. Whatever else sleep is it seems to be the vanishing of the mind into the distance, and one cannot merge into dreamland unless the present has retreated and he is enabled thus to let it go.

The question of going to sleep is an important one. Those in the full tide of health will probably require no assistance, while those afflicted with nervousness need every hint that they can get.

A sound sleep leaves us refreshed and equipped for the day, but a sleepless night is wearing to the nerves.

How I Lost Gertrude, My Pet Giraffe. By Dr. Walter E. Traprock. The newspaper notice that a baby giraffe was expected at the zoo of our neighboring city cannot fail to remind me of my Gertrude.

She was the loveliest creature I have ever seen. I brought her with me in 1902 from a South African trip made for the museum. By kindness I had trained her so that she would allow me to shn up her neck when we were in the bush. From this elevation I could get a splendid view of the surrounding country.

It was after I had gotten her back to my private collection that my troubles began. Some of my neighbors complained that Gertrude used to look in their second-story windows. Therefore I had to lock her in a compound which housed, also, an old porcupine named Gelett. Between the two sprang up a bitter feud. Doubtless Gelett resented the way Gertrude looked down on him.

One day Gelett took up a strategic position in a cherry tree in which Gertrude was fond of browsing. I was just in time to see him drop down her neck as she reached her gnawing mouth towards a branch. He instantly crawled past her larynx and wedged himself just south of the glottis. Gertrude's coughing spasms were tremendous, but, try as she would, she could not dislodge Gelett.

Once she had him almost up to the exit, but he suddenly shot out his quills and dug in. Nothing could save Gertrude. She turned blue in the face and expired.

Gelett was executed the next day. I had to decapitate Gertrude to get him. Who says that animals are not possessed of human emotions?

CANADIAN PACIFIC—THE HARVESTERS' SHORTEST ROUTE TO THE WEST.

Due to the fact that the Canadian Pacific is the shortest route to the West, the greater number of harvesters last year travelled via Canadian Pacific. The company will maintain the usual high standard of comfort and service in the year with cars for the exclusive use of ladies, children and their escorts, while lunch counter cars in which hot meals refreshments, etc. may be obtained at most reasonable rates will also be attached to all trains.

Because the Canadian Pacific is the shortest route to Western Canada and due to the efforts of the company to have the harvesters spread over as much territory as possible in a minimum space of time, it is expected from the numerous inquiries received that a number of extra trains will be necessary this year to transport the harvesters to the west. Canadian Pacific agents throughout Ontario have been fully instructed in the various matters pertaining to harvesters and will gladly furnish full information regarding the departure of trains.

On Aug. 22, at 12:01 a.m. (midnight Aug. 21), the first special train will leave Toronto, followed by one at 10:00 a.m. and others as required. It is confidently expected that harvesters will again travel Canadian Pacific, the majority of harvesters from Ontario last year having done so, as the harvesters are thus to be among the first from Ontario in the harvest fields.—Advt.

These three, depending upon what happens in today's scramble, may mean the end of the season for the club. Neitzke, who has already landed in the coveted spot, is expected to pitch the first game tomorrow, Thursday and Friday will mean a nice spot for the team which takes striking distance of the flying pack.

The number of the Londoners frustrated Waynebe from hanging up his 13th straight win in his Mint League farewell, looks like lucky number for the locals. So the fact that they come home on the 13th to start a series on the hot across the river, which may mean the title of the second series, listens like a good omen.

The Hams have been doing such a tremendous hitting, but it's been against only average pitching such as several pitchers from the Michigan team. Not only has it been against average pitching, but it's been behind actually poor pitching on the part of the Londoners. The hurling department is where the Hams have shown weakness all season, and no amount of hitting will counteract persistently weak pitching.

Hams Over Heads.

One player commenting upon the Hams, last week, said: "I'd hate to pitch against them until their pitchers get away from their own rubber. You'll see that they will falter. Not only that, but the bats are hitting away over their heads right now. But what difference do the pitching mounds make? I don't think all the same," the player was asked.

"There's every difference. Pitchers get used to the pitching of the home lot pitching box. They are home for 70 games, and these games are divided among the seven teams. It makes a lot of difference." In baseball, especially professional, home games as contrasted with games away are not considered particularly favorable to the teams playing their own cities. The Londoners, however, the hardened professionals, having the home fans with them helps, but for the first part of the season at least, Hamilton may do much better on the road than at home.

Using Up Pitchers.

The Hams as contrasted with badly enough at Bay City, which bears out to some extent the criticism made by the Londoners. The Londoners, however, are not considered particularly favorable to the teams playing their own cities. The Londoners, however, the hardened professionals, having the home fans with them helps, but for the first part of the season at least, Hamilton may do much better on the road than at home.

On the Side Lines

With C. S. G.

BENNY LEONARD INCORPORATED.

There are plenty of experts who believe that Benny Leonard will hold two titles, temporarily at least, when after his meeting with Walker, Leonard is only lightweight champion of the world of the scales. He's really a welter and much cleverer, more experienced, and more wily than Walker. When he fouled Jack Britton, it must have been deliberate, as Leonard is cool above all things. He didn't want the welter title at that time or he wouldn't have hit old Jack Britton as he was rising from taking a count.

Recall for a moment the bout between Benny Leonard and Richie Mitchell at the Madison Square Garden. In this bout Leonard was eager, for business reasons, to knock Mitchell out in a round, and Benny became careless. He neglected to duck and was dropped with a punch to the point of the jaw, a true knockout punch. In the corner Mr. William Gibson, Benny's manager, went chalky-white and his jaw dropped to his chest with an audible thud. "Benny!" screamed Mr. Gibson. Leonard's eyes had a film on them for a second. Then they became bright and heady again. Raising his head Leonard turned his face to the corner where his manager was in great mental pain and winked one eye reassuringly. Then Benjamin took the count of "nine" very deliberately and, rising to his feet, later knocked Mitchell out.

EXTENUATING CIRCUMSTANCES.

The fact that Art Fletcher bears the cross of managing the Philadelphia Nationals may be judged as a mitigating factor in his attack upon Umpire Pfrman.

OBSTACLE GOLF LOOMS.

Further developments in the game of golf may be expected in London. General Manager Buchanan of the public utilities thinks that it is quite possible that a miniature course, with putting greens and combining the trick hazards of obstacle golf may be built at one of the public playgrounds next year.

A MINT MIRACLE.

Jack Beatty may not win the second half series, but he has the unique record of being up there in the fight with practically the same team as he started out the season with. Tice and Baker are the exceptions and pretty weighty ones, too, but considering that both these players are filling positions that it seemed obvious from the first would have to be plugged up, it means that Beatty's training camp judgment was right to the line.

Dates of Playoffs For Ontario Softball Association Titles Are Announced

AMATEUR CARDS NECESSARY FOR ALL PLAYERS IN FINALS

Softball Body Stresses Need of Declaring League Winners by Sept. 1.

CHOOSE OWN DATES

Stratford Champions To Play London in First Round.

The dates for play-offs for the Ontario Amateur Softball Association titles have been announced. All league winners must be declared and notified of the office of the secretary, F. Jeffries, Stratford.

The O. A. S. A. has notified clubs involved in the play-offs that they are to elect their own officials and choose their own dates where agreement is possible. If necessary, the association will name officials for the game.

The executive also calls attention to the fact that in the semi-final and final games all players participating must have amateur cards. This is a fact that has been overlooked by several London teams, players on which would be unable to set amateur cards.

The declaring of league winners by September 1 is particularly stressed. Last year the play-offs ran well into the cold weather, and not only was the weather too cold for the games, but motoring by road was almost impossible, and interest was lessened because of conflicting with rugby. It is hoped to get all the play-offs over by the end of September.

The dates for the intermediate series play-offs are as follows: First Round. League play. Woodstock vs. London. Stratford vs. Niagara Falls. St. Catharines vs. Paris. Galt vs. Hamilton.

Second Round. Woodstock vs. Niagara Falls. St. Catharines vs. Hamilton. Stratford vs. Paris. Galt vs. Woodstock.

Winners of the intermediate series play-offs must be declared by September 15. The third round is to be completed by September 16. Finals are due by October 1.

Special to The Advertiser. Flint, Aug. 11.—The American League White Sox of the American League scored an easy victory over Flint in an exhibition game here this afternoon, 7 to 1.

The major leaguers got off to a three-run lead in the first inning, and never were in danger of losing the contest. Blankenship started on the mound for Chicago, and pitched for two hours and four minutes, allowing the White Sox to score four runs in the same number of innings. Dobbs, who relieved him, was even more effective, being touched for two runs in five innings.

A large crowd turned out to see Morehart, former Vehic, perform for Evere. He had a good day by cracking out two of his team hits. Chicago, c.f., B. H. P. O. A. E. Archibald, 1st, 1 2 3 0 0 0. Collins, 2d, 1 1 1 3 0 0.

WIN STREAK BROKEN. Carl Mays, after winning nine straight, was bumped at the Polo Grounds yesterday, when New York Beat the Reds 4 to 2.

The Tees have had little luck in double-headers at home, but they grabbed several pairs of games away from home. They will play the Aces today. Today would be a nice day to win two games.

Effert's return to the team will add still more punch. The team just as it left home was hitting well, up as a team. Tice was having little luck although he was hitting the ball hard.

If London and Hamilton should be left home by the Flint next year, which appears likely, the two will make the fighting nucleus of a new loop.

Sunday's game at Detroit was held up for 15 minutes while Lee Fohl demanded that the path between third and home be stopped. It was finally fixed up Sunday, but Detroit writers point out that if any advantage accrued to any team through this delay, it was to opposing teams, as Detroit did not have a hunting attack in any of its home games.

Somebody wrote to Wally Pipp and asked him if first base wasn't the easiest position to play. Wally wrote back: "Certainly. Every day that base should be made to pay his way into the grounds."

Johnny Noonan, former Hamilton pitcher, has been released by the Hotel Haute Club, of the Three-Eye League.

Pitcher Carl Adams has been sold to the Buffalo club of the International League. He has been ordered to report to Manager Whitse on August 30, when the Bisons return to their home lot to tackle the Newark Bears.

From Muskegon comes the report that it has been practically decided by the club-owners and President Halligan to drop Hamilton and Montreal, the Ontario-Vermont League, but lost his job.

His son Joe is making a big hit with the Bristol fans, judging by the glowing reports received by The Herald from that town.

BARTLEY MADDEN WEATHERS FIERCE ATTACKS OF RENAULT

Heavyweight Trial Horse Loses Again, But Not by Knockout.

DEFEAT DECISIVE. Irishman Remains Upright Despite Terrific Punishment Throughout Mix.

Associated Press Despatch. New York, Aug. 11.—Jack Renault, Canadian heavyweight, gave Bartley Madden a scientific boxing lesson in a fifteen-round match at the Queensboro A. C. in Long Island City tonight.

Madden's weight was 150, while his opponent weighed 201 pounds. Both looked like professional slugs.

In the first round Renault took the aggressiveness, starting right in to put over a finishing blow on Madden.

New York Irishman, who boasts he has never been knocked off his feet, covered up, content to punch Renault, but left jab removed the tape over his left eye at the right eye.

Renault started to box his opponent in the second round. He was powerful left and crossing steadily with his right.

SEVEN AUTO MISHAPS OCCUR IN 48 HOURS, NEAR CHATHAM

Special to The Advertiser.
Chatham, Aug. 11.—A chapter of motor accidents happened in this vicinity during the past 48 hours. No fatalities or serious injuries have been reported, but no less than seven accidents occurred.
A party of motorists numbering five had a narrow escape when their closed car turned over into a ditch near Wheatley. Miss Mary O'Flaherty suffered a fainting spell while driving her car and the vehicle jumped a ditch and was stopped by a wire fence. John Jones, a truck driver, narrowly escaped injury when his truck toppled into the ditch on the gravel road. A party of Chathamites in a touring car jumped a ditch near Charing Cross and ran through a fence and out into a farmer's field. Two cars crashed at the corner of School and Queen streets. A Chatham man struck a calf on the Longwoods road, causing damage to the machine and also the calf, and a sedan owned by James E. Gray collided on King street with a car driven by Wilbert Willis. In each case the machines were damaged.

IRISH HOLD OUTING AT PORT TOMORROW

Benevolent Society Has Arranged Forty-Eighth Annual Picnic.
SPLENDID PRIZES
President John A. Greer Will Preside at Big Banquet in Evening.
The stage is set at Port Stanley for the 48th annual picnic of the Irish Benevolent Society of London. Irishmen and their thousands of friends will be there from all parts of the district, and with fine weather it is hoped to break all attendance records at the Port.
The program is the best ever put on by the Irish Benevolent Society. There will be Irish music galore and wholesome Irish fun for everybody.
Chairman Harry Ranahan announces that the I. B. S. is giving a handsome silver cup for the winner of the hundred-yards dash for amateurs. When it is won twice it will be the property of the winner. Some swift speed artists are expected to compete for this handsome trophy.
The softball game between the Thistles and the Jersey Creams is sure to attract great interest. It will be played on the diamond on the L. & P. S. Beach.
Then there will be splendid cash prizes for all sorts of races and events, and there will be amusement for young and old. The dancing program is unique. Dancing for the prize waltz will begin in the Casino, at the foot of William street, on the board walk at 3 o'clock.
The baby show is scheduled for Invererie Heights at 2:30, and Chairman Aitken states that the prizes are the best he has ever seen at an Irish picnic. The champion baby of the day will be eligible for the $500 Northern Life sweepstakes championship on Labor Day.
Chairman Ed. Ryan of the music committee will have the G. W. V. A. Band march from the corner of Dundas and Wellington streets at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. Later the band will leave for St. Thomas, marching through the streets of that city and before noon it will go to Port Stanley and give a concert on the board walk. All members of the I. B. S. are urged to assemble at the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets before 9 o'clock and march behind the band to the L. & P. S. depot.
Irish pictures will be shown at the L. & P. S. movies at night, and the orchestra will play Irish music at the show and also in the cafeteria.
At night a banquet will be held in the cafeteria, when Ald. John A. Greer, president of the I. B. S., will preside, and there will be some notable addresses by prominent men. Mr. Denis Mason is quite ill in St. Joseph's Hospital, and a special invitation has been sent him to be with the Irishmen in spirit on Wednesday. Mr. Mason is one of the honorary past presidents of the society.

SMITH FALLS YOUNG MAN DROWNED IN RIDEAU RIVER

He was accompanied by his parents, who were powerless to save him when he became entangled in a very thickly weeded section, and deep in that part.

EMPLOYMENT PROBLEM SERIOUS, SAYS SCIENTIST

Professor Commons Declares Vivid Experiences Have Brought Out Importance.
Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Aug. 11.—Unemployment insurance has its limits, according to the viewpoint of John R. Commons of the University of Wisconsin, speaking before the economic section of the British Scientific Association today.
Professor Commons felt that the recent and vivid experience of unemployment has directed many of the leaders of labor and business to the importance, either of smoothing out the curve of employment, or of smoothing out the curve of daily wages. These two problems, though different, are related, he said.
As an illustration of the extent to which the wage scale needs to be smoothed out, the speaker referred to the fact that in the summer of 1919 he found clothing manufacturers in New York paying as high as $125 a week for off-pressers when the union wage was $50 a week, and the pre-war scale was $25. In the same summer in one machinery establishment, money wages per hour increased three-fold, but the product per worker decreased two-thirds.

MISSING CITY BOY AGAIN DISAPPEARS

Lad, Giving Name of Carl Beal, Believed To Be Stanley Clark.
Special to The Advertiser.
Sarnia, Aug. 11.—The twelve-year-old boy giving his name as Carl Beal and 152 Clarence street, London, as his address, who was placed in shelter here on Saturday while inquiries were made, fled from the home where he had been placed on Sunday and had not been located up to this evening. The London police were notified of the circumstances by wire, and after making inquiries reported back that they could find no trace of a boy named Beal being missing, but that Stanley Clark, aged 12, 134 Wilson avenue, had been missing since August 6. They gave his description as short and fat, tanned with the sun, and wearing khaki pants and cream blouse. The description tallied with that of the boy detained.

COOL DAYS FORECASTED THROUGHOUT DOMINION

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Aug. 11.—Cool weather is in prospect for Toronto, and in fact for most of the Dominion in the next few days, according to forecasts by the Dominion weather bureau.
The coldest observatory station in the Dominion last night was Doucet, in Quebec, on the G. T. P. line, where there were two degrees of frost.
A few scattered showers are predicted for this evening, and tomorrow is likely to be fair and rather cool.

WOMAN'S HEALTH RESTORED

She Claims Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did It After Everything Else Failed
Milwaukee, Wis.—"I feel that I ought to let you know about my case. I was ailing and could barely do my housework and washing I was so run-down. Just from having one child. I took a lot of medicines and had doctors. Then I gave them all up and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I feel wonderfully good now. I do every thing that comes along, and we all take your medicine as a tonic when we don't feel just so. I am thankful for what the Vegetable Compound has done for my health and for my family."
Mrs. MARY SAEBECK, 944 28th St., Milwaukee, Wisconsin.
Letters like these testify to the value of the Vegetable Compound. These women speak from the fullness of their hearts. They describe as correctly as they can their conditions: First, those symptoms that affected them most conspicuously; and later the disappearance of those symptoms. They are sincere expressions of gratitude. For nearly fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been so praised by women.

The BREATH of the AVENUE
Color Schemes For the Early Fall

Fashion's color plans for fall are taking tentative form. A few fall clothes in new fall colors are coming every day into New York stores. Avenue windows and avenue displays register color notes. And the fashion show of the N. G. R. A. features three new colors—shutter green, burnt russet and Venetian fuchsia.

Shutter green is a dark, wintry-looking green which will make many effective fall coats and ensembles. It is sometimes called Cossack green, Lebanon green, or "Epinard," after the French word for spinach and after the famous French horse race, too!

A new note this season is the combination of dark green with touches of a lighter shade, slightly darker than almond.

Burnt russet is a rich reddish brown, which appears many times in sport and street costumes, made of soft, suede-finish fabrics.

There's a wide range of the purple tones for hats, accessories and trimmings—lavender, fuchsia and purple. Venetian fuchsia is the new color for evening wear—"as old as the era of the Italian Renaissance and as new, perhaps, as tomorrow's sumac."
