AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS.

Are you sick, feeble, and complaining? Are you out of order, with your system deranged, and your feelings unconfortable? These symptoms are often the prelude to serious illness. Some it of sickness is creeping upon you, and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills, and cleanse out the disordered humers—purify the blood, and let the fluids move on unobstructed in health again. They slimulate the functions of the body into vigorous activity, purify the system from the obstructions which make Patience.

BY ANNIE E. HOWE

Softly, softly, flake by flake,

Falls the crystal snow;

Not a murmur does it make

Though its spotless robe is marred

Though its bed is damp and hard.

When the sunshine's rosy glow

Steals o'er nature's face.

It will fold the crystal snow,

Then, dissolved in shining mist,

By each radiant sunbeam kissed

To its native place.

O, if we would patient be

As the gentle snow,

Bearing with humility

Ills we meet below

Back 'twill go where scarce 'twas missed,

Though our pathway's dark and drear

Joylight dimmed by many a tear,

Yet we'd have this hope to cheer,

That, when chill, relentless death

Steals away our bloom;

Then, disrobed from cumbrous clay

Religious Intelligence.

Faded in the tomb;

To those realms of endless day

Angels us will bear away

As through life we go:

In its warm embrace.

As it drops below:

Yet there is a rich reward

Awaiting it, I know.

They sing of God's salvation His wisdom, and His love, Of mercies ever flowing, From the rich fount above. They sing th' eternal Father. The wonderful I AM: They sing the blessed Paraclete Their chorus is the Lamb.

I know not of what nation. Nor from what land they come All speak the tongue of Canaan, Their notes are all the same Clime, country, and condition Of earth have passed away For in the better country, All, all as one are they

New Onleans, 25th August, 1869.

Da. J. C. Ater: Sir, I cheefully comply with the request of your agent, and report to you some of the effects I have realized with your Sarvaparilla.

I have cured with it, in my practice, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found its effects truly wonderful in the cure of Veneral and Meccurial Disease. One of my patients had Syphilitic ulcers in his thout, which were consuming his palate and the top of his mouth. Your Sarvaparilla, steadily taken, cured him in five weeks. Another was attacked by accordary symptoms in his nose, and the ulceration had atten away a considerable part of it, so that I believe the disorder would soon reach his brain and kill leim. But it yielded to my administration of your Sarvaparilia: the ulcers healed, and he is well again, not of comes without some disfiguration to his face. A woman who had been treated for the same disorder by mercury was suffering from this poison in her boints. They had become so sonstive to the weather that on a duop day she suffered exerciating pain in her joints and hones. She, too, was cared entirely by your Sarvaparilla in a few weeks. I knew from its formula, which your agent gave me, that this Preparalten from your laboratory must be a givat remedy; consequently, these tall remarkable assets with it have not surprised me.

Fraternally yours.

This is a remedy so universally known to surpass sury other for the cure of throat and lung compaints, that it is useless here to publish the evidence of virtues. Its unrivalled excellence for coughs and color and its truly wonderful cures of pulmonary disease, mave made it known throughout the civilized nations of the curth. Few are the communities, or even families, maning them who have not some personal experience of its effects—some living trophy in their midst of its victory over the subtle and dangerous disorders of the throat and lungs. As all know the dreadful fatality of these disorders, and as they know, too, the effects of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them that it has now all the virtues that it did have when making the cures which have won so strongly upon the confidence of mankind.
