Mysterious Case of Dead Babe Found Month Ago Still Unsolved

INQUIRY ENLARGED

Neighbors Called Last Night to Testify—Police Will Carry on Investigations

Deeming it wise to pursue further the investigation into the circumstances surrounding the unknown babe whose body was found in a shed off Pinnacle Street a month ago, Coroner Boyce last night again enlarged the inquest for a week. Crown Attorney Carraw and the jury being favorable to this action.

Sergt. Detective Truisech has unveiled a number of facts which may or may not be significant in the present instance and will continue his inquiry.

Last evening neighbors were called to the stand. Mrs. Mary Grant who lives at No. 7 Doyle's Terrace and who collapsed at the previous session completed her testimony. She stated that she could throw no light on the subject.

Mrs. Harriet Ledgeworth swore she knew nothing nor had any suspicions. She had been called to the shed by Mrs. Mitchell and not till then had she known of the discovery.

Mr. Patrick Murphy, 305 Pinnacle St. was questioned about talk on conditions in that section but said he knew nothing that would lead to any important facts in the case.

Rosario Buret, 303 Pinnacle told of the allegation that a boy had said he knew a person who was interested in the case.

Mrs. Jessie Roseyear and Mr. Roseyear also gave evidence.

After this the jury, crown counsel and coroner talked over the question of the possibility of further light being thrown on the case and decided to adjourn.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—An army of 168,000 is provided for in the army appropriation bill reported by the House Appropriations Committee. The total is $311,027,189, which is $15,631,747 less than the Bill which failed first session providing for an army of 158,000.

AUTHORIZE ONTARIO LOAN.

TORONTO, APRIL 27.—The Ontario Legislature authorized the raising of a loan of $20,000,000. The provincial treasurer said the money would be spent, $1,400,000 for housing, $5,500,000 for roads up to October 31, 1921, and a further $6,000,000 for roads from October 31 to April 30, 1922. $1,000,000 for buildings and $6,000,000 for refunding treasury bills due on October 15.

When a Philadelphia woman called for jury duty, was told by the judge she might bear testimony "unfit for women's ears," she declared this would not move her from what she considered her duty.

NEWRY PANIC-STRICKEN AS BOMBS AND REVOLVERS PLAY UPON POLICE PARTY

BELFAST, April 7.—Seven members of a police party were wounded in an ambush at Newry, County Down, last night in which the attackers employed bombs and revolvers. The town was thrown into a state of panic as the result of mob explosions. Shortly afterward another police patrol intercepted and captured three members of the ambush party upon whom loaded revolvers and bombs were found.

The prisoners were taken to the military barracks.

Alleges "Dum-Dum" Bullets Used in Ireland.

LONDON, April 27.—It was alleged by Lord Parmoor in the House of Lords tonight that the auxiliary forces in Ireland were using dum-dum bullets. His Lordship called attention to the attack on the hotel at Castle Connell on Sunday evening, April 17, and moved that immediate steps should be taken to insure an impartial inquiry. He read a letter from his brother and sister-in-law, who were the only visitors at the hotel at the time.

They said that the landlord, an innocent, honorable and much-loved man, was shot before their eyes. They were held up by the most wicked attack that could be imagined, carried out by Black and Tans, about sixty in number. Over a thousand shots must have been fired, and the auxiliaries behaved like demented red Indians.

Lord Parmoor also said he received another letter from his brother saying he had picked up an unexploded bullet that had been reversed thus converting it into an expanding bullet of the most deadly character.

The Earl of Crawford, replying, said a public inquiry into the events at Castle Connell was already going on, and said Lord Parmoor's brother ought to give evidence.

"NOT A WORD"

"Not a word," said Mayor Hanna today when asked if there were any definite information regarding the date when the bay bridge will be free.

$130,000 MORE FROM CANTEENS

OTTAWA, April 27.—The Military Department announces that information has been received from the army council that pending the final settlement of the total amount of expeditionary force canteen profits, available for allocation among various interests concerned, it has been decided to make a further interim payment of one hundred and thirty thousand pounds sterling in respect of profits due to overseas military forces of Canada.

The sum of $7,500 which was procured by the city by legislation three years ago, will be used this summer to build a new bathing house at Horseshoe Island near the head of the North West Arm.

Repairs to cost about $1,000 are being made to the Industrial School building at Halifax, damaged by fire. David Patterson, 67 years old, of Five Islands, N.S., was found dead in the woods near Parraboo.

MOST CIVIC PROBLEMS CAN BE REMEDIED BY CITY MANAGER SCHEME

The following from "Saturday Night" on the city manager idea, headed "City Manager Idea Is Working Out," will be read with interest:

With the wretchedly wasteful administration which our cities are "enjoying," with the tax rates climbing until there seems but one thing to do, and that is move out into the country, the time has arrived when we must look for a better form of government than City Councils and Boards of Control are giving us.

Investigators who have delved deeply into the city manager plan, are convinced that most, if not all, of our present problems can be solved by this form of civic government. At the moment there are in the United States some one hundred and fifty cities and towns whose affairs are in the hands of managers, and in the great majority of cases nothing but good reports have been given as to the desirability of this form of administration. In the few where the change has not brought progress and efficiency, there has been a lack of the proper spirit. Politics have been allowed to intrude and the work of the managers interfered with.

Many interesting examples might be given of what has been accomplished under this system.

For instance, San Jose, California, was run in 1916 with less expenditure than by the old form of government in 1916, and that despite the higher costs. Sandusky, Ohio, was in 1919 able to reduce its debt, while the operating expenses were actually less than in 1914 when the old plan was in force. In Waltham, Mass., there has been great economy and efficiency under the system. Our own Westmount, Quebec, is a fine example of the city manager idea, for it is today one of the best, if not the best, managed municipalities in Canada; and no Westmounter would dream of reverting to the old plan. The outstanding feature of a modern budget, planning a year ahead in great detail. But best of all perhaps is the elimination of a lot of political "credit," who are ever an expensive liability for any city to carry. Playing politics is the curse of the present system.

Sooner or later we must awake to the necessity of a better civic administration. High taxes, particularly in our larger centres, have already become so serious a matter that both individuals and industries are planning to get out from under by moving to centres where expenses are less burdensome.

CARPENTERS ASK 65 TO 75 CENTS; BUILDERS REFUSE

Contractors Agree on 60-Cent-an-Hour Basis at Meeting Here

WORK IS SCARCE?

Reported Today that Carpenters Will Not All Consent to "Cut."

The building contractors of the city last evening decided that they could not pay the proposed scale of wages asked by the carpenters, namely, 65 to 75c per hour. Last year's figure was 60c.

The contractors favored the 60c scale, but could not see their way clear on the increase owing to the diminished amount of construction in view for the season. The carpenters' proposal was to have come into effect May 2nd.

The carpenters' original demands were for 65c to 75c per hour, a nine hour day, half holiday Saturday and every holiday, but they had modified this to 65 cents per hour, a nine hour day and four holidays per year.

It is said the carpenters will not consent to the 60 cent minimum but no united action has yet been taken.

DROP BUSINESS TO END SESSION BY NEXT FRIDAY

TORONTO, April 27.—When the Ontario Legislature meets this afternoon Premier Durney will make a full statement concerning the bills which the government is prepared to drop in order to ensure that the second session of the Fifteenth Ontario Legislature ends on Friday.

The last bill to be added to the elimination list is the mining tax act.

CANADIAN MADE BRITISH SPEAKER

LONDON, April 27.—John H. Whitley was today unanimously elected speaker of the House of Commons. He is a native of Halifax, N.S. and succeeds Rt. Hon. John Lothering, who recently resigned, and is coming to Canada.

A bill for 7 cents was the return received by a Dubuque, Ia., trapper who sent a shipment of furs, freight collect, to a St. Louis fur house. The freight bill amounted to 7 cents more than the furs sold for.

OTTAWA, April 27.—From its geographical position Ontario is now absolutely dependent upon the United States for its coal supply, said H. A. Harrington, the former fuel controller for Ontario, before the House Fuel Committee this morning.

The Province burns annually three million tons of anthracite and ten millions of bituminous coal. The United States supply would gradually decrease as the mines became exhausted and the population would increase.

The solution of the problem lay not in bringing Canadian coal from the east or west, but in the use of peat. He declared that the situation at present was most serious.

New Brunswick legislature is being asked to provide $675,000 for bridges this year.

Is Parlor Necessary in Workman's House?

LONDON, APRIL 27.—The question whether a parlor is a necessary part of a workman's house has caused heated argument among several of the local councils organized to promote building of such homes in the industrial centres of England.

Many women members of these councils argue that the workman's daughters need parlors to receive their callers during the courting period. Those opposed declare that the workman's "best room" is little more than a "receptacle for waxed flowers."

A 14-year-old boy at Wilmington, Del. who lost both arms in an accident, is showing marked ability as an artist, holding the pencil and brush between his teeth.

Aftermath of 10-Cent Episode

OF COURSE there is a sequel: there always is.

The teacher, of the school which shall still be nameless, who made the boys uncover feet in the process of hunting for the lost ten-cent piece, has recovered it.

It had reposed conspicuously on teacher's desk, you'll remember.

Then 'twas, as it were, missing. It was found not far away but inconspicuously reposing in a crack in the floor!

WHY NATIONAL DOES NOT PAY

Very Expensive Terminals Had to Be Built Since the War

BUSINESS UNPROFITABLE

Coal Bills and Wages Bills Added up Make Big Hole in Revenues.

OTTAWA, April 27.—Some of the reasons why the Canadian National Railways are not a paying proposition were detailed by A. J. Mitchell, Financial Controller of the system, in addressing the Special Committee of the House.

At the outset he referred to the fact that many terminal and other facilities were lacking when the roads were taken over during the war and since had been provided at very expensive rates.

Another thing was the inadequacy of equipment to handle the traffic, particular attention having been paid to this by the directors. The equipment came very high. Then a large part of the mileage in outlying districts was serving new countries which to start with didn't show returns. The business was unprofitable.

A third consideration was that there was a combination of railways not originally planned as one system. This increased both the operating mileage and the cost.

"You can understand," said the witness, "that the mileage of four different systems, constructed with different objects, require considerable time to eliminate unnecessary expenses.

Another factor is the deferred maintenance owing to the difficulty of getting labor and materials. Anything that could be delayed was put off, but has had to be done in the last few years."

Mr. Mitchell then took up the financial report. He alluded to the fact that the C.N.R. deficit in 1914 was $14,000,000, while that for 1920 was $26,000,000. The witness blamed the situation largely to increased wages and cost of fuel. In this connection he pointed out that prior to the McAdoo award C. N. R. wages totalled $48,265,883.

The original award increased this by over $8,000,000. This was followed by twenty-three qualifying supplementary awards which brought another increase of over $15,000,000 while from other sources the increases were $16,000,000.

"The original bank roll," he added, "was $43,000,000, now it is $81,000,000. Finally, there was an award of back pay which caused $4,000,000 to be handed out, without any suggestion of return. Then the coal bill went up $4,000,000 and also the cost of ties and other construction materials."

Mr. Kilpatrick was well and favorably known and his wholly unexpected death has caused a shock to the entire neighborhood.

HUGE POSTAL ROBBERIES.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Mail robbers in the United States got away with approximately $6,000,000 last year, of which some $3,000,000 has been recovered. Postmaster-General Hays said in discussing steps taken to remedy this "absolutely intolerable" condition.

Laddie Boy, President Hardings, pedigreed Afreds, will head an animal parade at Washington on May 11 under the auspices of the Humane Education Society.

It is understood he told the miners' delegates that the government had made a further offer to meet their position to the extent of contributing five hundred and ninety thousand pounds sterling, or more monthly, during the transitional period, so that reduction in wages would not exceed three shillings.

Manning Doherty is Told no One Wants to go Out on the Farm

TORONTO, April 28.—Several hundred unemployed men paraded to the parliament buildings here and placed their demands before the government. The deputation was received by Attorney-General Raney in the absence of Premier Drury.

Hon. Walter Rolfe, Hon. B. Bowman and Hon. Manning Doherty were present.

In outlining his request for some solution of the unemployed situation Thomas Dixon, leader of the deputation, frankly stated that he knew the government could not provide work.

Mr. Doherty pointed out that there was a dearth of farm labor but Mr. Dixon replied that their were no men with farming experience in the crowd.

The Fateful Years For Every Woman

How to Overcome Troubles That Afflict Women Only.

So far as a woman's health is concerned, probably the most fateful years in her life are those between 45 and 50. Many women enter this period under depressing conditions, through overstrain in household cares, or a neglected condition of the blood, and so they suffer heavily.

Among the commonest symptoms at this time are headaches, pains in the back and sides, fever, flushes, palpitation, dizziness and depression. It is well to know that these variations of health can be relieved by home treatment. What women stand in need of all their life, but never more so than in middle age, is rich, red blood.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are always useful, but especially will they help women at this time.

The second of the amendment was Mr. Hope McGinnis. "Boost our residents don't mean boost them out of town." Mr. McGinnis thought if Mr. L. E. Allen could do the work, he should be awarded the contract, even if his price were higher, because he was a local man.

Major-General Garnet B. Hughes, C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., and his young son, Sam Hughes, Jr., have sailed for Canada on a short visit to the former's father, Lieut.-General Sir Sam Hughes.

Last evening the young people of St. Andrew's Guild were the guests of the young people of Bridge St. Church and they report a thoroughly enjoyable evening, spent with their Methodist friends and co-workers. A short program was run off, consisting of orchestra selections, reading by Miss A. Ketcheson, solo, Miss Marjorie Bird, guitar selection, Mr. Marshall Sills. The balance of the evening was spent in games that were ably arranged and put up by Mrs. Chas. Hyde and her assistants.

The recent storm did very little damage to the gardens in and about Cayuga.

NO CONTRACT AWARDED;
AGAIN TO COMMITTEE;
NEW TENDERS OPPOSED

Recommendation of Sites, Buildings and Repairs Committee of Board of Education Giving Contract to Outside Firm for $8,000 More is Halted by Vote of Board—Details of the Meeting.

The contract for the erection of the new Coleman ward school was not awarded last evening by the Board of Education, but the recommendation of the Sites, Buildings and Repairs Committee to let it to the Carswell Company of Toronto for $131,800 was referred back for further consideration. The reference did not take place before Belleville contractors had been given a chance to explain their tenders.

Mr. H. W. Ackerman had favored calling for new tenders but the Board did not approve of this, on the advice of the architect, Mr. Beaumont Jarvis.

Trustee McCreary by His Guns "I for one am going to stand by my guns," was the attitude of Mr. W. R. McCreary. A week ago the only tender lower than the Carswell Co. was Mr. Manley. Mr. Allen's first tender for $133,000. He cut this to $123,000. The cut, he did not think, was warranted by lowering of the cost of materials and labor.

How $10,000 Reduction Occurred Mr. L. E. Allen, addressing the Board, stated that while he had been engaged in undertakings outside Belleville, he preferred to work in the city. He had been associated with the firm of William I. Bishop of Montreal, contractors. This firm had checked his figures. He explained the drop in prices in the past three weeks. There will be further drop in prices in the next few months.

The contracting situation is rotten in the country and he thought the price safe.

Mr. J. Allen representing the John Lewis Co., suggested that a local firm get the contract, as if an outsider got it, no local plumbing and heating firm would get a chance at the job.

Wasting Time "I don't purpose attending any more meetings of the Sites, Buildings and Repairs Committee," said Mr. McCreary. He did not care to waste his time, he declared and upheld the committee's action.

Mr. Reid thought saving $8,000 for the municipality was worth while.

Mr. T. Manley said: "I was low figure here on the first tender. I pay $11,900 a year taxes." He contended that Mr. Allen had given a second figure.

TRUE TO TYPE OVER THE GOLD

Rumors of Discoveries in Scotland Renewed Bring No Rush

COSTS TOO MUCH TO DIG
Precious Metal in Kildonan,
Lanark and Sutherlandshire
Doesn't Pay

GLASGOW, April 27.—Rumors of gold discoveries in Scotland are renewed, but so far there have been no rushes to spots where finds are reported.

That the precious metal is to be found in that country has from time to time been shown by discoveries in Kildonan, Sutherlandshire and Lanarkshire, but the quantity seldom has been equal in value to the cost of extracting it.

Gold thus far has been found in alluvial deposits but the miners believe that a gold-bearing reef exists somewhere in the country as pieces of quartz containing gold have been picked up at different times.

In past centuries, notably the fourteenth and fifteenth, gold was found in Lanarkshire sufficient to make crowns for monarchs, and bowls, sometimes empty, sometimes filled with coins minted from the same source were presented to foreign and friendly sovereigns.

There was a rush to Kildonan in the sixties of the last century and some hundreds of prospectors flooded the district.

The present gold rumors come chiefly from the Lowther Hills in Lanarkshire where for centuries lead mining has been the occupation of the villagers of Wanlockhead and Leadhills. In ancient times the district was known as "God's Treasure House" because considerable quantities of gold were discovered there.

For some months a wage dispute has made the miners idle and they have spent their time in the burns and hollows searching for gold, washing the soil in wooden troughs and occasionally finding gold in small quantities.

Minister to U. S. Will be Welcome Says N. Y. Editor

NEW YORK, April 27.—The Sun says editorially:

"The definite announcement recently made in the Canadian House of Commons by Hon. Arthur Meighen, the Premier, that his country would soon name a minister to the United States is gratifying proof of the cordial relations that exist between the two countries. The need of Canadian representative at Washington who could deal directly with this country on matters of importance has long been felt and Mr. Meighen's announcement shows that Great Britain feels that the Dominion is at last entitled to such representation.

"The procedure of the past has been to deal with all questions affecting this country and Canada through the British embassy at Washington, which, in turn, reported them to London, and London, after a formal examination, has forwarded them on to Ottawa for final adjudication, a method that often resulted in an exasperating loss of time when one considers the close proximity of Canada.

"All of these delays will be obviated by the appointment of a Canadian who understands the needs of the country that he represents and who will be in a position to expedite questions of negotiation and obtain speedy adjudications. The Canadian and American points of view are very similar in many respects and the two countries have much in common.

"The statement of Hon. N. W. Rowell, who was Canada's representative in the assembly of the League of Nations, that the appointment of a Canadian minister at Washington was in the best interests of Canada and the British Empire, is undeniably true. It will also cement even more closely a friendship that has been growing stronger between two countries that admire and respect the progress and achievements of both."

A Household Medicine.—They that are acquainted with the sterling properties of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil in the treatment of many ailments would not be without it in the house. It is truly a household medicine and as it is effective in dealing with many ordinary complaints it is an inexpensive medicine. So, keep it at hand, as the call for it may come most unexpectedly.

The death occurred at Nashwaak, N.B., of John T. Staples, aged 50 years, after an hour's illness.

Drank From Saucers In "Cross Roads" Style; Drama Makes Big Hit

A capacity house greeted the members of the Alert Bible Class who last evening gave the play entitled "The Ladies' Aid at Mohawk Cross Roads," in the Sunday school room of Holloway St. Church. Every seat was taken and many were standing.

The meeting of the Ladies' Aid at the home of Mrs. Green, of Mohawk Cross Roads is enlivened by the presence of two ladies from Boston, Mrs. Kindly and Mrs. De Lloy Fitz Hammond whose comparison of the way things are done in Boston and at the Cross Roads leaves no doubt in the minds of the ladies that to live in Boston puts one in a class all by oneself—an especially privileged class.

The hostess, at the close of the meeting, served tea, sandwiches and cake. The tea, in true Cross Roads style, was poured into the saucer before being drunk.

While all interpreted their parts splendidly, special mention must be made of Mrs. Sharpe as the hostess, and of the two Boston ladies, in real life, Mrs. (Rev.) Foster and Mrs. W. J. Yerex. Mrs. Horton, as Priscilla Sharpe, the village gossip, gave a splendid portrayal of that character. The difficult role of president, was ably filled by Mrs. Robson and if space permitted one might single out each member as having played her part especially well.

Before the play a program was given as follows: Selections by the orchestra, solo, Miss Walton, readings, Mr. Deck and Rev. A. H. Foster.

During the play costume songs and readings were given respectively by Mr. E. A. Ridley and Miss Rae Farrell.

To Miss Farrell fell the honor of coaching the play and in recognition of her services she was presented with a bouquet of roses at the close of the program.

The ladies taking part were: Mrs. Denyes, Mrs. Vanderwater, Mrs. Ridley, Mrs. Blakley, Mrs. Horton, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Lane, Mrs. Mastin, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. Dreyfus, Mrs. Hall, Miss Stocker, Mrs. Barnum, Mrs. Cross, Mrs. Carter, Mrs. Scriber, Mrs. Yancey, Mrs. Robson, Mrs. Poulter.

WELLINGTON.

At the Women's Institute Miss Howard gave a paper on "Living a Life is More Than Making a Living." She said the sustaining of life, which is incumbent upon each and every one of us, is not the all in all. Life cannot be only making a living, there is something else beyond that.

As instances of men and women who have really lived a life worth while, John Burroughs, who lived so that his life became a benediction, a help to others and Abraham, Lincoln and Lloyd George. They were the very stuff that life's made of, capable of meeting tempests as well as calms.

Jennie Lind was more than a singer; she cared for something more than gate receipts. Harriet Beecher Stowe conferred a favor upon all humanity through her spirituality, coupled with her intellectuality, her goodness of heart, her pity for the oppressed. These who really live are impressed with a certain individuality or personality. Living a life does not always imply living beside still waters.

The St. Andrew's Guild provided an excellent supper for the Masonic banquet last week.

The Murphy brothers launched their new motor boat, which is 20 feet long and it is going fine. They brought in a fine catch of white fish from Lake Ontario on Tuesday morning.

William Wilson, who was helping the electrician at Lakeside Factory fell about ten feet from a ladder as a wire broke. He was badly shaken and his nose was cut by his glasses.

Telephone men are still busy repairing damage done to poles and wires by the sleet and storm on the 16th and 17th.

A GLIMPSE AT THE WORLD OF SPORT

SIDELIGHTS ON SPORTS IN LONDON AND PARIS

LONDON, April 4 (By Mail).—Georgé Duncan, the British open golf champion, and Abe Mitchell, also a leading professional in England, will sail July 2 for an extended tour in the United States. It is said their itinerary is being arranged in New York and includes play in the United States open championship at the Chevy Chase course, Maryland, on July 18.
Besides winning the open championship last year with a score of 303, Duncan won the Daily Mail £580 tournament at 291. Mitchell took second in the latter competition with 298 and was runner-up in the open championship. Both competed in the 1920 French Open Championship, which was won by Walter Hagen, United States champion.

PARIS, April 2 (By Mail).—A second stadium is to be given to France by America when the American Committee for Devastated France presents to the city of Soissons a similar sports ground to Pershing Stadium presented to Paris by the American army.
During the war the American Red Cross acquired a large plot of ground in which to carry on its work, and soon after the armistice this property, much damaged due to trenches having been dug across it several times and also to a large number of shell holes, was presented to the municipality of Soissons by the Red Cross. The American Committee for Devastated France now has come to the rescue and will pay the cost of leveling the ground and erecting a stadium.

LONDON, April 4 (By Mail).—F. M. B. Fisher, a well-known English tennis player, has refused nomination for the British Isles Davis Cup team on the ground that the whole management of lawn tennis in Great Britain is "Cliqueism run mad," and that there could be no real recovery in the International position of Great Britain until young players are recognized and selection goes by merit.

This statement has called forth a retort from a lawn tennis expert who, writing in The Evening Standard, says that no one could fail to realize that where choice had to be made from players who were amateurs and not professionals, ability or inability to represent their country may be controlled by circumstances other than standard of excellence in exposition of the game. Business calls prevented at least one fine player of the younger school from figuring last year in international engagements.

PARIS, April 2 (By Mail).—There was the usual morning crowd around the Enghegn Race Track, a few mornings ago, watching the early workouts when M. J. Hennessy's trainer, Batchelor, drove up to see some of his charges over the sticks. It had been raining steadily for two days and the track was soft and sloppy.

One of the best performers of the Batchelor string was being pointed for a race at Auteuil the next Sunday and Batchelor, little impressed by his workout, so informed Jockey Mitchell when he returned after sending the star two kilometers in the sloppy going.

"Why, I've an eighteen-year-old nag here in these shafts that can trim yours," he told Mitchell. The jockey thought the Boss was joking and said so.
"I'll bet you a good luncheon at Larne's that this old horse comes home ahead of you in three kilometers this morning," went on Batchelor. "Easy money," replied Mitchell. "You're on."
Batchelor asked a colored apprentice to ride the hack horse and Mitchell said to the colored boy as they were sent off, "I'll meet you coming back."

The old horse never let the saddle of the youngster get past his nose. Mitchell let out a notch or two but the old horse hung on, the youngster winning by half a length "all out." Mitchell was puzzled when he reached the paddock and asked, "Is that the devil?" pointing to the old horse.
"No," replied Batchelor, "that's Luttrear III; you've probably heard of him. He won the Grand National 19 years ago. I've had him in training lately."

It seems that Ruth was given a signal to sacrifice, but instead he walloped the ball into the stands and three runs resulted, enough to win the game. For disobeying the signals Ruth was fined $200 and the owner of the Club upheld Manager Huggins and declared that Ruth must pay.

THE SCHOOL CONTRACT

THE Board of Education last night considered the part of wisdom to delay the award of the contract for the new Coleman Ward School.

The facts in connection with the tenders have now been made public. A local firm, as it happened, is the lowest tenderer by approximately $8,000.

WITHOUT PREJUDICE THE need for a moderate-sized and more perfectly appointed hall where concerts of rank and importance, such as the one last evening given by the Presto Musical Club can be held, was never more vividly brought to public attention than on the occasion referred to.

The acoustic properties of the City Hall auditorium so far as musical requirements are concerned, are nil. An audience composed of the remaining best talent in the city and of music lovers who are not necessarily performers found themselves straining at odd moments to follow vocal selections which they knew in their hearts were being sung with taste and perfect diction, yet which, owing to the unfortunate lack of sounding board, "or something," went awry.

WONDERS OF THE HUMAN HEART. FROM Geneva comes the story of a man's heart which ceased to beat for fourteen hours and then resumed operations to the surprise of the mourners preparing for its owner's funeral. That good man had suffered from heart disease for years, and now his doctor says he may live a long time. The rest seems to have done his heart good.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS In the spring the average man's fancy turns to thoughts of loafing. The neighbor's chickens are heartily in favor of open gardens openly arrived at.

SIDELIGHTS ON COMING FASHIONS ARE joined to blouses of contrasting silk, the big length-sleeve of the cloth, lined with the silk of the bodice.

dynamic energy of the heart resides in the right and left ventricles. When these ventricles contract, the right ventricle sends its supply of impure blood to be purified by the oxygen in the lungs, and the less ventricle forces its supply of purified blood to circulate in the body.

Mr. Holmes estimates that the hard-worked heart pumps 270 cubic inches of blood every minute, or more than 225,000 cubic feet of blood per year. "Were the heart a water pump instead of a blood pump it would expel, inasmuch as a cubic foot of water weighs about 62 1/2 lbs., approximately 7,000 tons of water during the course of one year."

Again relying on Mr. Holmes' testimony, if we were to collect in a cubical reservoir the blood a single heart pumps in a year, that reservoir would have to be about 61 feet in each of its dimensions. Anyone who is statistically inclined may now calculate how much energy the heart was spared that took its fourteen hours' rest.

A CURIOUS CASE.

A CURIOUS case has arisen in a town in Illinois. Some time ago somebody entered the residence of a Mrs. Yost and carried off certain quantities of food, including sugar, raisins and potatoes. The local police having failed to discover the culprit, as police sometimes do, Mrs. Yost took down her ouija board and consulted the "spirits." The "spirits" put the blame on a certain Mrs. Walters, and Mrs. Yost did not hesitate to spread the information. It was told in strict confidence, of course, as such things always are told; but, anyway, it got out, and Mrs. Walters, to protect her good name, brought an action of $10,000 damages against Mrs. Yost for circulating slanderous stories. At the trial, Mrs. Yost made the plea that she had merely reported what the "spirits" had said through the agency of ouija. The judge ruled in favor of Mrs. Yost. He laid down the law that if Mrs. Yost made the statements as of her own knowledge and belief they were slanderous; but if she merely quoted the message delivered to her by ouija there was no slander. The verdict was for the defendant.

It is a world of change we are living in. Not so many years ago a woman who had consulted the "spirits" by means of ouija or any other medium would have been in danger of condemnation as a witch. Now the ouija board is allowed to stand as a protection of a person, accused of slander. Such an interpretation of the law, if generally accepted, would add to the miseries of life. In our own country a member of parliament speaking in the house, is protected from the consequences of his defamatory words by special privileges; but the privilege is not very generally abused. If similar protection were conferred by the use of ouija, nobody would be safe. Everybody would be free to slander everybody else by simply taking the precaution of having ouija spell out the slander before repeating it. And that would be a simple matter, for ouija would have no difficulty in spelling out whatever was wanted.

Linen Industry in Canada

Dominion Linens, Ltd., Mangling and Ironing Department, showing Callanders, Hydraulic Mangles, Folding and Measuring Machines. Total floor space about half acre.

The linen industry was initiated in Canada in 1902 by Mr. William Berry, now Vice-President of the Dominion Linens Limited, Guelph, Ontario. Previous to this time, however, there had been several attempts at linen manufacture, and mills established in different parts of Canada, but all had resulted in failure. From the earliest period of human history till almost the close of the eighteenth century, linen manufacture was one of the most extensive and widely disseminated of the domestic industries of European countries. It was most largely developed in Russia, Austria, Germany, Holland, Belgium, Northern France, certain parts of England, the North of Ireland and throughout Scotland. In the latter part of the eighteenth century the invention of cotton spinning machinery gave the linen weaving industry a fatal blow. Domestic spinning and weaving began to shrink and with it hand loom weaving.

When the manufacture of linen in Canada was successfully started, the idea was to purchase yarns from the Continental and Irish spinning mills, who were being supplied with Russian flax, at a price much below that for which flax could be grown in Canada. As most of the linen manufacturers in Ireland were weavers only, buying their yarns from spinners, it was thought quite possible and feasible that the same method could be employed with success in Canada, and prior to the war, the linen business depended entirely on these imported yarns to keep their plants in operation.

With the complete collapse of Russia in 1918, it became evident that if the linen business was to be continued in Canada, it would be necessary to establish a spinning plant here, to spin the Canadian grown flax, which with the improved methods of cultivation, were proven equal to or better than the Russian flax, on which the industry had relied previous to the war. A modern flax spinning plant, which would complete the chain of linen manufacture and make the business a purely Canadian one has been installed at Guelph and is now in full running order. This plant has been equipped with the latest modern dry and wet spinning systems. To secure the highest quality of linen yarns, workers were brought from Belgium, via the C.P.R., who were experienced in water retting flax, similar to the finest Flemish and Belgian flax which are used for producing the highest grade linens.

SECRET OF PERENNIAL YOUTH

Oldest Living Actress Discloses It—First Choose Ancestry—Hard Work Finest of All Tonics

"I have passed the third anniversary of my coming of age, that is all. I will not admit any more. Why should I when I feel as alive and well as I did when I was twenty-one?"

What is her secret for perennial youth and joyous spirits? "The first essential," says this young old lady, "is to be careful in picking your ancestry. I chose long-lived New England stock. I have always worked hard—still do, in fact—it is the finest of all health tonics, but I have never done what the actresses of today do—play after the theatre, go to parties and dances, and the like. I always went straight home, took a bowl of bread and milk, and then to bed."

"I believe in plenty of open-air recreation, riding, swimming, walking, anything to be out beneath the sky. Our modern women will never be long-lived or really young spirited. How can they be? They persistently abuse the body designed by the Almighty by wearing scarcely any clothes and walking in high-heeled shoes. Women today have little modesty and few manners. I tell them so when I meet them."

THESE are several dresses of serge, boasting a novel trimming, several effects in flat bouffants, that are twisted around in spirals and bordered in contrast color, such as navy outlined with red, or maroon with yellow.

There is also a great deal of colored silk lace, especially in maroon, copper, blond and navy. Georgeette in the Evening In the evening dresses light shades of Georgeette show soft, billowy draperies, and embroideries in self-color effects are preferred. One particularly effective embroidered treatment a mauve frock has skirt panels covered with conventional colors of wistaria in looped effect of heavy mauve floss.

STRAIGHT LINE Cloth Dresses The serge dresses are built on straight lines, long waisted, often without any belt, the skirt being gathered to the bodice. On a few models there is a narrow belt, starting from the sides and tied a little on one side. Trimming is mostly placed on the skirt, consisting of embroidery in modern designs, in silk or wool, or even in beads.

A similarly striking offering is the treatment of a black taffeta dress with a little paleot edged with a narrow ruche. This is accompanied by gloves made of the same black taffeta and trimmed with a matching piece of ruche.

"A REASONABLE SUGGESTION"

Because of Mr. Carvell's hostile attitude towards the public ownership of railways, the Ottawa Journal suggests that he should retire from the chairmanship of the Dominion Railroad Board. The suggestion is a reasonable one. It is not right that Mr. Carvell should use the chair of the chief member of the national railroad board as a rostrum for the purpose of discrediting the railway policy to which this country is committed and cannot very well get away from.—Hamilton Herald.

HEADQUARTERS OF HARMONY

Somebody once observed that the one good thing that could be said about war was that it improved the public's knowledge of geography. The Citizens' Liberty League has possibly the same idea about the referendum. Four thousands of people are asking where Verner is.

On April 18th, 1921, Verner started to thunder down the annals of history as the first place where everybody agreed on anything. It went wet, 254 votes to 0. It does not impair this record of unanimity that the rest of Ontario disagreed with Verner. Right or wrong on the prohibition issue, Verner showed a record which must be the envy of every other community.

In fact, map-sellers and railroad officials report an unprecedented demand for information about the Nipissing district. At their request these instructions are given to prospective settlers: Take the west-bound C.P.R. train from North Bay. After an hour or so, get off. If you find yourself at Cache Bay, walk on. If you are at Warren, walk back. The place where every heart beats as one is just half way between the two.—Toronto Telegram.

PASSING OF THE PIONEERS

(From The Oshawa Reformer.)

Every few days one reads with regret, and often with a sense of personal loss, of those who came in the early days to the town, or to some of the townships round about and contributed through their lives to the making of the town or city, and the townships among the finest in the county or Province. Of these there appears often but a brief biographical note, giving little beyond a bare outline of a life bravely and worthily lived. It seems a pity that there should not be made and preserved in every community, at least a worthy sketch of such lives, in recognition of the contribution they made in their day to the general welfare of the community. Such a record would in the course of time furnish valuable materials for historical sketches. They would be a incentive to the next generation to do as well or better than the previous one. They would develop civic consciousness and civic pride. They would help set a standard that no one would care to fall short of, and many would try to surpass. The rising generation would emulate the virtues and achievements of those who went before and blazed the way, and made it easier for those who came after to go further and do better, even than they had been able to do.

When one thinks of the hardships of the earlier days and how bravely and cheerfully the first and even the earlier settlers faced their tasks, and how heroically they stayed with it, one feels ashamed to grouch and whine when one has to deny one's self this, or that, and even sometimes to be content with a horse when one's father or grandfather was thankful for—sometimes indeed proud of—a good yoke of oxen. There were compensations even in the earlier years. There were fewer diversions and attractions. More time was spent socially. Fewer books were read, but they were more carefully read. There were fewer religious services, but they were on the whole more highly prized. Clothing was plainer and coarser, but it wore longer, and one didn't feel quite so embarrassed if he wasn't able to buy a new suit or hat every year. It seems a pity—a shame, that the stories of pioneer life should not be written, before all the pioneers have passed, with all the wealth of literary material they have stored in their memories of the past.

WHAT WILL THE DOCTORS DO?

(From The Kingston Whig.)

As a result of the referendum vote the doctors of Ontario will, when the vote is made effective, become the only persons authorized to give orders for liquor. Under the law, as it now stands, the bulk of the liquor consumed in the province is imported direct from outside points by private citizens, and only a small proportion is issued on doctors' prescriptions. As soon as importation ceases, however, the only source of supply will be the government dispensaries, which sell only on an order signed by a doctor.

This change will undoubtedly place the members of the medical profession in an unenviable position. Even now practically every doctor has experiences with people who drop into their offices on a quest for liquor. What will happen when every other source of supply is cut off can easily be imagined, and it is quite within the bounds of probability that the doctors will devise some methods of self-protection.

This is no idle supposition, for in some parts of Ontario it is already being done. On Tuesday evening, the evening following the referendum vote, the medical men of Sarnia made an announcement that, as a result of the vote they would in future refuse prescriptions to all persons other than those sick in bed, and that in future all prescription seekers would be shown the door. The medical men who have taken this position state that they have done so because with importation stopped they do not feel they should have to assume the responsibility of issuing liquor orders.

The idea is spreading in the western part of the province at least, and it is quite possible that a province-wide movement may be started amongst the doctors who are in sympathy with the attitude taken by those in Sarnia. There is a certain amount of justice in the statement that they should not be called upon to assume the task of being responsible for the distribution of liquor for medicinal purposes, especially as the medical profession is divided in opinion regarding its value in this way, so it will be interesting to watch the development of this move on the part of the doctors.

PAY DEBT OF BRITAIN TO STATES

Germany Makes This Proposal "According to Her Ability."

PARIS IS RESTLESS
French Eager to Step Into Germany Despite What She Pays Now

Paris, April 26.—Premier Briard today told the Chamber of Deputies:
"If on may first satisfactory proposals with acceptable guarantees are not made by the German Government, the Rhur will be occupied."
BERLIN, April 26.—Germany, in the event of the United States and the Allies so desire, is willing to, according to the extent of her ability and capacity, to assume the allied obligations to the United States, says a clause in her counter proposals, it was definitely learned here today.

With this exception the counter proposals forwarded to Washington, including the offer of two hundred billion gold marks, are virtually as forecast in yesterday's associated press despatches from here.
The note to the Washington government embodying the German proposals was made public here this afternoon.
The text of the clause regarding the amount Germany is ready to pay reads:
"Germany declares herself ready to engage to pay for reparation, a total of fifty billion marks gold, at their present value. Germany is equally ready to pay this amount in annuities adapted to her productive capacity up to the total of two hundred billion marks gold."
Germany declares that the present proposals are only capable of being carried out if the system of penalties now in force is discontinued forthwith; that she is tired of all unproductive outlaws now imposed on her, and that she is given freedom of trade.

Paris, April 26.—Possibility of applying penalties to Germany immediately after May 1, despite whatever propositions Germany may make regarding reparations in general, is being seriously considered according to a well informed French circular today.
Such action would be because of a German refusal to transfer one billion gold marks to Rhineland, or hand over an equivalent of that sum, as demanded by the Reparations Commission.
It is semi-officially stated that the French feel unable longer to allow infractions of the treaty to remain without penalty.

Give G. T. R. 3 Weeks To Transfer the Road

OTTAWA, April 26.—After a brief discussion the Government Bill, giving the Grand Trunk Railway Company until May 16 to enter into an agreement with the Government for the transfer of the control of the system to the Dominion and for the reviv of the arbitration to fix the value of Grand Trunk preferred and common stock, was passed in the Commons early today. It had been rumored that the debate upon the motion for third reading might be protracted and might involve discussion of the proposal made by Lord Shaughnessy, chairman of the directorate of the Canadian Pacific Railway, for the solution of the country's railway problem. As a matter of fact, the debate lasted only five minutes.

Police Settled Mix-up in Bottles

A mix-up in milk bottles brought three milk route boys to police court Monday, accused of theft of bottles belonging to a rival firm. Some citizens put out bottles with no attention as to whether they belong to the dealer or another. It is said that some milk vendors take bottles not belonging to them. The cases in court were withdrawn on payments of costs.

Nicholas Laptzewick went into a restaurant last night ate a meal and it is alleged, the proprietor told Laptzewick landed in the foils at this morning Magistrate Mason gave him orders to shake the dust of Belleville from his feet. The same advice was freely given Thos. Brown, William Brennan, and Edward Spillain, who were picked upon a vagrancy charge.

Vocational Training Needs Here Justify Day Classes, Expert Says High School Called Best Location

That the need for vocational training in Belleville is such as to justify the establishment of a day vocational school, that it should form part of a composite school designed to care for all phases of secondary education, and that the present site of the High School with whatever adjacent ground it may be found possible to add to it, is the most suitable location for either an independent vocational school or of a second school.

Adolescent Attendance.—The technical experts found the adolescent attendance in Belleville as follows: 12-year group, 213; 13-year, 187; 14-year, 160; 15-year, 114; 16-year 86; 17-year, 57; 17-year plus 38, a total of 825.
The adolescents, 14 to 18 years, not attending school in Belleville, number 788 this estimate being on an actuarial basis. Approximately 20.2% of those 14 years of age are not attending school, 43.1% of those 15 years old, 56.3% of those 16 years old, 70.9% of those 17 years old.

Forty-four establishments were visited here. The 2749 employees engaged in these were classified in groups representing 72 different kinds of work. Grouping is as follows: Railway group, 568, woodwork, 81, metal and related work, 818, electrical work, 95, office work and retail stores, 211, managerial group, 91. There are 695 in the retail, financial and general business group; professional services 133; financial 46; miscellaneous 349; general service, 57; skilled trades 138; retail business 255.

Employment Situation.—The great mass of the people of Belleville are engaged in technical, industrial, commercial and home-making activities. The types of work in point of members and the provision of accommodation in a vocational school appear in this order—home-making, metal and railway work, office practice, merchandizing and salesmanship, building and related trades and electrical work.
The miscellaneous and relatively unskilled jobs at which the boys and girls 14 and 15 years old are working and the comparative absence of this group from apprenticeship jobs or helping jobs, tending to training and promotion leads to the conclusion that these years are not being made to mean as much to the life of the boys and girls and through them to the community as they should. In almost every case the executives of the industrial establishments and public utilities stated that they preferred not to have boys or girls under 16 years of age except for messenger purposes.
Unskilled and semi-skilled labor is needed to some extent by all the industrial and commercial establishments. In some industries it forms the largest group of employees. Admission to employment in many occupations is through a preliminary service in the unskilled and semi-skilled work. The road to skill may or may not be open to the group.
The technical experts urge that every opportunity be given sound training in citizenship, in home, in home-making, in physical development, and in healthy ways of occupying their leisure hours.

Bishop Brewing Remains Optimistic

The development of the times was the theme of a brilliant address by Bishop Brewing of Toronto, at Emmanuel Reformed Church. His subject was "The Romance of Growing Up." and he dealt with nations, contrasting the present century with the early years of the nineteenth. This was the coming age of the twentieth he said. The nineteenth opening with wars and revolution, with Napoleon a dominating figure. The present century he considered as more likely to be peaceful and hopeful than the last. The strife and turmoil in Russia and in Ireland he looked on growing pains, agonizing, but showing sign of life and indicating emergence into a happier state of things. The bishop held out brightest hopes for Canada in the present century.
The address was listened to by a large assembly. The Rev. G. Marshall, rector, of the church, occupied the chair.

Sometimes It's A Tough World

In a certain school, which shall be nameless there was a bit of melodrama yesterday which is not likely to be forgotten by the principal actors for some days.
It was penny bank day. A ten-cent piece which had reposed conspicuously on teacher's desk was suddenly reported "missing."
Developments followed quickly.
All the girls were searched and so were the boys.
Then the boys were subjected to further indignity.
They were made to take off their boots.
But they didn't find "that there" ten cents.
No.

TOOK OWN LIFE; NURSE DISCOVERS BODY OF PATIENT

BROCKVILLE, April 26.—While temporarily insane as the result of illness, Maynard L. McElin, aged forty and until Saturday last local manager for the Bell Telephone Co. at Smith's Falls, took his own life by hanging, in his residence, in that town, last evening.
McElin suffered from an attack of influenza recently, and has been in poor health. Doctors, however, assured him that he would be himself again at the end of six months. He entered the service of the company at Cornwall, 14 years ago. His wife and four children survive. He was a nervous wreck as the result of his sickness, being in charge of a nurse, who made the discovery of the body in the attic. He left a note saying that he was afraid that he would harm to his wife and children. An inquest was called unnecessary.

GERMAN LAWYERS IN LONDON AGAIN FIRST SINCE 1914

EVIDENCE OF PRISONERS May Badly Treated While in Germany Testify Against Officials

LONDON, April 25.—German lawyers were present this morning for the first time since 1914, in Bow Street Court, when British soldiers who were prisoners of war gave testimony against German army officers, accused of cruelty and atrocity. The evidence given will be used in the trial of German war criminals at Leipzig, under the Versailles Treaty provisions.
The men examined here this morning were unable to go to Leipzig.
The British Government counsel stated that the German government had accepted the charges against the accused officers, and was acting in the role of prosecutor.
Nearly a Riot
A riot was narrowly averted outside Bow Street court today at the luncheon adjournment of the inquiry into the accusation of cruelty and atrocity against Germany army officers.
A great crowd of former service men had assembled and several rushed toward the German counsel for the accused, Herr Schroeder and his friends. A constable succeeded in rescuing the Germans and escorted them to a hotel, a crowd following the party.

Further Celebration of 102nd Birthday

Last night at the Oddfellows' Temple the 102nd anniversary of the I.O.O.F. was further celebrated by a large number of the members of Belleville and Misses Logges and Christina Lodge, of the Daughters of Rebekah. Past Grand Chaplain Bro. Rev. A. L. Geen, officiated as chairman and after a few introductory remarks called upon P. G. M. Bro. L. B. Cooper to address the meeting.
Bro. Cooper briefly welcomed the members and said the large gathering showed the great respect the members of Belleville have for P. G. M. Bro. Rev. W. Cox, of Toronto, who was to address them. The President of the I.O.O.F. Limited (Bro. J. Duckworth) then spoke on behalf of the Oddfellows' Temple of Belleville and assured all of its good financial standing. Bro. Geen then introduced the speaker of the evening, Bro. Rev. W. Cox, who kept his audience interested in his speech on the various Oddfellows Homes under the jurisdiction of the Sovereign Grand Lodge. Lantern views were shown of the Homes in the United States also one in Western Australia.
Many members present were surprised at the splendid work which is being done in the Province in the way of caring for the aged and educating the orphan which are two of the principles which Oddfellowship stands for.
Sister E. Ormond, P. N. G., moved and Sister L. Cole, N. G., seconded a vote of thanks to P. G. M. Bro. Cox for his splendid instructive address which was carried by hearty and continued clapping of hands.
Bro. Cox briefly replied, P. G. P. Bro. R. H. Ketcheson and P. G. Bro. G. W. Kerr gave short addresses and the National Anthem brought the first part of the meeting to a close. The second part was provided by the Rebekahs and enjoyed by all, namely, refreshments.
Judging from the large attendance at both the Sunday service and last night's meeting, Bro. Cox can rest assured that he has a great fond for the respect and affection of the Belleville members.
A collection on behalf of the wife and family of a member, who has been sick for some time was taken and amounted to $33 which shows again that Belleville Oddfellowship and Rebekahs practice the teachings of the order.

MAKE VETERANS CIVIC SERVANTS

Law Stretched to Breaking Point to Give Preference, Says Foran

20,000 MEN IN SERVICE
Canada Has $1,000,000 in Canteen Profits, Pension Body Told

OTTAWA, April 26.—William Foran, Secretary of the Civil Service Commission, was called by the special committee on Pensions and Re-establishment. He stated that returned men were given every possible advantage in regard to vacancies. The commission had thousands of applications from returned men, only a comparatively small number of whom would actually find employment in the service. In every vacancy returned soldiers were given first chance.

In promotions returned men were not given preference. This was rather a burning question within the service. As far as possible Mr. Foran favored making promotions from within the service. The G.W.V.A. asked for preference to be given returned men in regard to promotions.

Question of Policy
Mr. Foran said this was a matter for the committee to decide. A question of policy was involved.

The witness was not sure that in regard to promotions returned men were being penalized because of their absence overseas.

To Mr. MacNeil, the witness stated that the departments decided who were to be released. In all cases returned men who had passed the examination were last to be discharged from temporary employment. The commission had nothing to do with removals and would not be consulted unless complaint arose. Efficiency, however, would have some bearing. The law was stretched to the breaking point in favor of returned men.

In many cases, said Mr. Foran, the Civil Service Commission was blamed, when the fault lay with the department involved.

Launch New System
The commission merely dealt with introducing returned men into the service, but had no control afterwards. Employment bureaus had proved very useful in connection with filling temporary positions outside of Ottawa. It was planned to have an eligible list in the hands of the employment bureaus, and in that way appointments would be made with less delay than at present. This system was now being worked from Manitoba to the coast.

The witness stated that, only in an exceptional position there was not a returned man qualified. High and low positions in the service went to returned men alike.

Mr. Foran stated that there were 29,000 returned men now in the service, of which 8,000 had been made permanent. Of the 1,017 civil servants taken in as permanent under the "blanketing in" order in Council, 236 were returned soldiers, 731 female employees, and only 50 male civilians.

Renewed Efforts
LONDON, April 26.—Renewed efforts to find a basis for the settlement of the dispute between the coal miners and the owners, were made when representatives of the owners and the executive officers of the Miners' Federation met here in joint conference with representatives of the Government.

The owners submitted a detailed statement of their proposals, and it is understood the possibilities of a temporary settlement were under discussion. The owners, it was stated, were prepared to advocate a temporary agreement, for a period of three months, after which a permanent settlement would become operative, this embracing a standard wage and a standard profit.

The temporary agreement would be in the nature of a compromise between the national wage basis desired by the miners and the district basis desired by the owners.

TORONTO POLICE BATTLE CROWDS

Disperse Unemployed Army in Front of City Hall With Clubs

LEADERS ARE HELD
Stood Four Hours of Taunts From "Reds" Then Cleaned up Mob.

TORONTO, April 26.—Late Monday afternoon, police here stationed on the city hall steps charged the unemployed mob and dispersed them inside of five minutes. The police used their batons freely and many arrests were effected. For four hours the cordon of police, drawn up at the bottom of the steps, had stood there, listening to the continuous chanting of the crowd and to orators who counselled direct action to gain their ends.

Behind them on the steps were inspectors from several of the divisions, detectives and a number of plainclothesmen. The crowd had been advised by their speakers to camp on the steps all day and if need be all night to wait for an answer to their request from the mayor.

Apparently hopeless of the mob dispersing, Deputy Chief Geddes sent down plainclothesmen Seaton and Black followed by two others to bring up four of the leaders who were addressing the crowd from the stone pedestal. The crowd recognized the police and jeered them, and started to rush them. Deputy Chief Geddes advised the crowd to disperse, but they paid no heed and rushed and howled.

Charge is Signalled.
Geddes waved to the police a signal to charge, and drawing their batons they were soon in the thick of the fray, using fists and batons. At the same time the mounted men charged from the side. The mob broke and fled and the police followed. The steps were cleared in a trice. The mounted police followed the paraders down Bay street and great numbers took refuge in restaurants and nearby stores.

One man, who carried a banner, was taken by the police. His coat sleeves were ripped from the shoulder down. The arrest was made by Inspector Nat Guthrie.

Three men took a somersault, head over heels down the city hall steps as the crowd swept them off their feet.

"I am going home to get a gun," shouted one demonstrator just as the rush commenced.

He was nabbed by a policeman and taken in.

"That flag is no good," exclaimed one referring to the Union Jack, and he was gathered in on the spot.

The banner bearing the inscription "Unemployed Army" reposes today in the city detective office.

W. M. S. of Frankford Honor Retiring President With Life Certificate

CAKE WITH 40 CANDLES
Mrs. G. Simmons, of Honan, China, Addressed the Meeting

Frankford.—The Frankford W.M.S. on April 20th held a very successful "at home" in the church in recognition of the 40th anniversary. A beautiful three-storey cake, trimmed in red and green with 40 candles, which, when lit, made a very beautiful scene; also one of the notable things on the program for the evening was an address by Mrs. G. Simmons, late from Honan, China. This with songs by Mission Band and Circle, remembrances of by-gone days by a member, brought to a close a very enjoyable evening. The only charter member, Mrs. G. W. Potter, was also present on the platform. Also the presentation of a Life Certificate to their retiring President, Mrs. Mary Benedict.

Address and Presentation
Dear Mrs. Benedict,—

It has been said that the relations of all living end in separation. We regret deeply to learn that your through removal from us will be unable to continue to be President of our W.M.S., which position you have most faithfully, efficiently and devotedly filled for years. We have every reason to believe that your interest in missions is most sincere and ever increasing. Bishop Huntington well says, "Every impulse and stroke of missionary power on earth is from the heart of Christ. He sows and there is a harvest. He touches nations and there arises a brotherhood, not only civilized by His light, but sanctified by His love. The Isles of the ocean wait for Him. He spreads His net and gathers of every kind; and, lo, the burden of the sea is not only fishes but fishermen, men and women, and come again. If there are activity, free giving, ready going, a full treasury, able men, who say 'Here am I, send me,' it is because through all His personal spirit work, there is no other possible spirit work; there is no other possible spring for that enthusiasm." We believe, Mrs. Benedict, that your interest in work for missions has been inspired by and directed by God. On behalf of the W.M.S. of Frankford we would ask you to accept this Life Membership Certificate in the W.M.S. as a token of our very high appreciation of the service you have rendered. You will be missed greatly, not only in the W.M.S., but also in the Sunday school and general church work. Our best wishes and earnest prayers are for God's choicest blessing to accompany you wherever your lot may be cast.

Signed on behalf of the W.M.S. on the occasion of its fortieth anniversary.

Mrs. C. M. Hendricks, Vice-Pres.
Mrs. S. W. Meyers, Cor. Sec.

Mrs. Benedict made a very fitting reply, thanking the W.M.S. ladies for their kindness and appreciation of her services for the past six years. She leaves to make her home in Edmonton, Alberta, in the very near future. At the close a luncheon was served and the birthday cake cut and passed.

Wants Equal Consideration
Kingston.—Principal Taylor when he read that Western University, London, Ont., was to be generously treated by the Ontario Government by getting $300,000 for new buildings, decided on speedy action to see that Queen's should be given a greater measure of relief and the recommendations of the commission on university finances were fully complied with. If Western University gets nearly all its requirements then Queen's is entitled to equal consideration.

Save Potatoes by Sprouting
"By sprouting" potatoes, it is possible to add eighty-eight bushels per acre to the yield, this result being obtained with Irish Cobbler last year. Sprouting is a common practice in Ireland, and consists of medium sized tubers selected before they have sprouted to any extent in the cellar, and either placed in shallow boxes or trays, preferably with the seed end up, or spread shallow on the floor of a room where there is a bright light. Either method will give almost equally good results.

Five bandits tried to rob Abraham Goldberg in his cafe at New York. He apologized to the police because three of them got away. The other two may possibly recover but never will be the same.

CATTLE MARKETS

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.
TORONTO, April 26.—Live stock receipts at the Union Yard yesterday were: Cattle, 4,664; calves, 523; hogs, 2,841; and sheep, 11,262.

Cattle values generally suffered a decline of about 50 cents per hundred at the Union Stockyards and occurred to 75 cents per head from the 25th to the 26th. The market was generally quiet, with a few scattered offers at a considerable reduction. The heavy heavy run was the only apparent reason for the drop in prices, although the lower values across the border are having a reflection here. The export trade, particularly in the United States, there was no demand locally for export, and it is unlikely any improvement will be apparent until prices are nearer par.

One good load averaging 1,000 pounds for $9.50. Cows failed to show much of a feature being steady to steady than any other class of cattle.

BUFFALO LIVE STOCK.
BUFFALO, April 26.—Cattle, 189 cars; market 50c lower; prime shipping steers, $8.50 to $8.75; best shipping steers, $8.25 to $8.50; Canadian city and hand steers, $7.75 to $8; light native yearlings, $6.75 to $7; best to good heifers, $7.50 to $8; western heifers, $7.50 to $8; best fat cows, $7 to $7.50; medium to good fat cows, $6.50 to $7; fat cows, $5.50 to $6.25; canners, $2.50 to $3.25; heavy butts, $3 to $3.50; butcher fat butts, $2.50 to $3; medium feeders, $4 to $4.50; stockers, $3.50 to $4; best mixed feeders, $3 to $3.50; mixed feeders and pigs, $3.50 to $4.50.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.
CHICAGO, April 26.—Cattle, 25,000; beef steers mostly 25c to 40c cheaper, top yearlings, $9; bulk beef steers, $7.50 to $8.25; butchers, sheepshead and bulls, 25c lower; bulk fat cows and heifers, $5.75 to $7; bulk butts, $5.25 to $6; calves, steady; pig veal, $10 to $12.50; stockers and feeders, weak to 25c lower.

Hogs, 55,000; active, 25c to 40c lower than Saturday's average, closing active and hold-over around $10.00, practically all hogs over 250 lbs., $9.25 to $9.50; fat hogs, 25c to 40c higher.

Daylight Saving in U.S.
NEW YORK, April 26.—Daylight saving went into effect here at one o'clock Sunday morning when all clocks save those in the Grand Central and Pennsylvania Railroad terminals under the moved ahead one hour. The daylight saving plan will remain in operation until September 25. All railroads have altered their local and computing train schedules to conform with the plan. Express trains will still operate under the eastern time schedule.

Massachusetts, the only New England state to adopt daylight saving time by legislative enactment, set her clocks ahead one hour at 2 o'clock Sunday morning, not to reset them until the last Sunday in September. New England railroads are to run on standard time.

Lindsay Crawford Suppressed.
VANCOUVER, B.C., April 26.—Mayor R. H. Gale has issued a proclamation prohibiting for the time being meetings addressed by Lindsay Crawford, who speaks here Friday night under the auspices of the Irish Self-Determination League.

A large crowd gathered outside Dominion Hall, where the meeting was held, and two brass bands attempted to drown the speaker's voice. The general peace and welfare of the community is in serious danger of disruption," Mayor Gale said, "and cannot be maintained if similar gatherings are permitted in the present excited state of public feeling."

Alleged Forger Caught.
BRANTFORD, April 26.—Fred Jones was arrested in the Bank of Hamilton Saturday morning by Detective Boylan. He was attempting to pass a check on the Merchants Casualty Company for $20. Reports from Hamilton and Toronto allege that Jones has already passed bogus checks for fairly large denominations in those places.

Obituary

After three weeks' illness, Maud Adelaide Cunningham, beloved wife of Mr. William J. Philip, passed away on Tuesday afternoon at the family residence, 45 Herchimer street. Her sickness she bore with patience and resignation.

Born in Belleville and a daughter of the late Daniel Cunningham and of Mrs. Cunningham, of this city, she had lived here all her life. She was a faithful member of Victoria Avenue Baptist Church. She was possessed of a cheerful and lovable disposition, and has many friends who deeply regret her early death. Besides her mother, and husband, she leaves four young children and five sisters. To the bereaved the entire sympathy of the community will go out in their great loss.

CONFERENCE ON EVANGELISM
The conference on evangelism at the Victoria Avenue Baptist church which opened last evening was attended by a representative gathering. Two fine addresses were delivered by Rev. C. G. Smith and Rev. J. R. Webb. The conference is continued this afternoon and this evening.

Some Freak Hens Near Kingston.
A customer called at Ralph's store, North Augusta, recently to do some trading, and when a sack of salt was being placed in the rear of the rig out flew a black hen from under the seat where she had been beating her way to town. In the passage from home to town she had laid an egg. The hen likes the town so well that she is still there and may be seen with G. A. Love's flock, perfectly contented. Fred Colbourne of the same place has a hen which took a fancy to lay her eggs in an old discarded robin's nest. She laid two eggs in it and tried the third one, but the nest was too small and the egg came to grief.

REMARKABLE WAR MEMORIAL
From The Toronto Globe.
Perhaps the most wonderful memorial of the war was unveiled the other day in the Parkhurst Prison for convicts in the Isle of Wight. It is a brass tablet placed in the chancel of the prison chapel to the memory of ex-convicts who took part in the war, and it was subscribed for by the convicts themselves. These ex-convicts were liberated during the war to fight for their country. The tablet bears this inscription:

"To the glory of God and in memory of those who went out from imprisonment in this place and gave their lives for their country on the Field of Honor in the Great War, 1914-1918. These are they which came out of great tribulation." Erected by their fellow-prisoners."

The ceremony of unveiling was performed by General Seeley in the presence of about 700 convicts. One ex-convict won the V.C., and afterwards died of wounds. A convict accompanied on the organ the hearty singing of the National Anthem, and the eyes of many of the men in that strange audience were filled with tears as buglers sounded the "Last Post." Another convict laid a laurel wreath below the tablet.

The memorial was the result of the spontaneous wish and sole effort of the convicts themselves, and so keen were some to send home for substantial sums toward it that the Governor had to limit the subscriptions. Among the subscribers was a German who fought against us in the war.

An official return shows that over 250 ex-convicts were killed in the war. In addition to the man who won the V.C., two won the D.C.M. and three the Military Medal.

Officers know well that many men who were bad in civilian life became excellent soldiers, and often changed men. Discipline, the new start, healthy comradeship and the sense of responsibility created a self-respect which led to a transformation of personality.

Of the men who returned not a few have disproved the wretched theory "once a jail-bird always a jail-bird," and have at the same time demonstrated to those who have eyes to see that environment has a great deal to do both with crime and virtue.

Halifax has a new Baptist Temple. The large store of Hetherington Brothers was burned at Codys, N.B., causing a loss of several thousand dollars.

Delway-by-the-Sea, Tracadie, the former summer residence of the late Alexander Macdonald of New York, the Standard Oil magnate, has been purchased by Mr. William J. O'Leary of Montreal, the eminent electrician and inventor, and a brother of Bishop O'Leary of Charlottetown.

SEEK TO CLOSE FISHING GROUND

Nine Hundred and Sixty-One Acres of Marsh Land up in Court

SPORTSMEN INTERESTED
Legal Battle to Keep Sawgum Fishing Grounds Open to the Public

Hon. Mr. Justice Logie at the Supreme Court Sittings in Picton on the 19th and 20th heard evidence in a case of considerable interest to those who have been accustomed to fish and hunt at Sawgum.

Many witnesses were called and the evidence showed that there is a marsh or floating bog with a stream of water running through it extending from Sawgum Island in the Bay of Quinte westward several miles north of Huff's Island. This has been used by people from Belleville, Prince Edward County and elsewhere to fish, hunt and trap in, for sport and for commercial purposes.

Boats of various kinds navigate upon it and some years ago Fred Duesberry took up several loads of brick with a sail boat. In 1878 John Osborne got a patent of this territory being 961 acres which includes the water channel, and two years ago the late W. J. Barber got a quit claim of it from a man said to be the same John Osborne.

The Barber estate now seeks to exclude persons from this territory and brought an action against John Reeves and Wm. Andrews for trapping muskrats, to test their rights. The question of the validity of the patent and the quit claim deed were brought in question and it is also claimed by defendants that rights to fish and hunt have been acquired by long usage. After hearing evidence the trial judge directed the counsel for the parties to put in written arguments. Mr. Wright and W. S. Herrington, K. C., for plaintiffs; W. C. Mikal, K. C., for defendants.

Marchmont Home Gets Grant of $500

Mr. Denys had the co-operation of Mr. W. H. Ireland, M.P.P. for West Hastings and carried with him a letter from the Belleville Chamber of Commerce when he made application for the grant. The assistance will be greatly appreciated by the Marchmont Home authorities.

MAJ. A. P. MILLER SUCCEEDS LT.-COL. CRAIG

Kingston.—It is understood that the 4th Canadian Permanent Machine Gun Corps will shortly have a new commanding officer, in the person of Major A. P. Miller, M.C., formerly of the 21st Battalion. Lt. Col. W. H. Craig, at present commanding officer of the brigade, will, it is understood, shortly retire and will be succeeded by Major Miller. The latter officer took a prominent part in most of the battles in which the 21st Battalion was engaged, and is a most thorough and capable officer. The headquarters of the machine gunners have been established at Peterboro, and the companies have been flourishing since re-organization.

TWO PAIRS OF NEWLY WEDS EACH GIVEN SET OF DISHES; UNIQUE EVENT AT FOXBORO

A host of friends assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Kelly, Foxboro, on Thursday evening to extend congratulations to two of their children, who recently joined the ranks of married folk. Under the guidance of Rev. N.-D. Patterson an impromptu program was given, after which Miss Bell read the following address to the happy couple:

To Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bartlett, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kelly.—We, your friends from Foxboro and Halloway districts, have come here tonight to extend to you our warmest congratulations upon the attainment of your new found happiness. As Shakespeare said:

There is a tide in the affairs of men
 Which taken at the flood leads on to fortune.

and we firmly believe that the step you have taken marks one of the happiest moments in the life of man or woman, for

The voice that breathed o'er Eden
 That earliest wedding day,
 The primal marriage blessing,
 It hath not passed away;

and to you we trust the joys of realization may be a thousand fold greater than those of the days of anticipation.

Among your friends assembled here are some who have long experienced the joys of domestic bliss; others who are about to; still others who hope to; and those of us who may remain confirmed celibates, but each, and all of us, on this felicitous occasion cordially join in harmonious unanimity in wishing you happy ones the old wish that

Where'er you 'bide in the world

... see wide,
 We wish you a nook in the sunny-side,
 W! muckle o' love, and little o' care,
 A wee bit purse an' siller to spare;
 Your ain fire sids when day is spent
 In a wee bit hoosie, w! hearts content.

We cannot make our departure this evening without attempting in a tangible way to give expression to the thought of our hearts which our lips fail to express, and we ask you, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bartlett, to accept this gift, (a dinner set of dishes); and you, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kelly, this gift, (a dinner set of dishes), as tokens of the high esteem in which you are regarded by your many admiring friends. We trust that you young people may be spared many years together, and that each day as you partake of the necessities of life you may enjoy the use of these ninety-seven vessels. Moreover, we are glad to know that you are going to remain with us in the community; and that we shall enjoy your friendship for many years.

Signed on behalf of the friends and neighbors,
 Miss Margaret Bell
 Morris Rose
 Robert White.

The address being read, then followed "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows" sung with great vim, after which Mr. Bartlett and Mr. Kelly made suitable replies. After enjoying abundance of eats and games the party left feeling that they had cheered the hearts of the young folk.

... Today All is Changed
 Today all this is changed. Russia is no longer subject to external aggression and free to try to work out her own salvation. The long quarrel between the Italians and Jugoslavs has been appeased by the Treaty of Rapallo. Stabilizing alliances have been concluded between Jugoslavia, Czechoslovakia and Rumania, between Rumania and Poland and between France and Belgium. The Russo-German plot to crush Poland failed definitely on the banks of the Vistula last August and the danger of a militant alliance between Russia and Germany was, at least momentarily, averted.

Turn to Reconstruction
 Everywhere problems of internal reconstruction are taking precedence over dreams of immediate vengeance and aggression.

All the clauses of the Versailles and St. Germain treaties except those dealing with reparations, the punishment of war criminals and German disarmament have been successfully executed.

All the prescribed plebiscites have been held without great disorders and Europe's new boundaries are now an accomplished fact.

The so-called new states, the imminent dissolution of which was widely predicted a year ago, are giving every evidence of real vitality.

Danger from famine and epidemics seemingly has been averted. The death rate is falling and the birth rate is rising. Even Austria is in a far better condition than was believed possible a few months ago.

The League of Nations has been organized and is at work successfully, especially in the regions allotted to its administration. Socially both radicalism and reaction have tried to overthrow the new order and both have been defeated. The Kapp revolt in Germany and the Hapsburg tentative coup in Hungary have failed as signally as have various communist outbreaks.

Social Conditions Better
 Throughout Europe social conditions are improving continually. Even the present industrial crisis, though causing a certain amount of suffering, is probably a blessing in disguise. Under its influence the supply has once more begun to exceed the demand and the cost of living has begun to fall.

Travel is becoming easier and communication by mail and wire is gradually improving.

In the Near East France and Italy have reached a peace agreement with the Turkish Nationalists and as soon as the Greeks make sure of their inability to enforce the Treaty of Sevres single-handed the situation there is most certain to improve rapidly.

In brief, as said before, the one great immediate obstacle to the return of relatively peaceful relations is the question of German reparations. For this reason, if for no other, the French are determined to settle it without more ado and as moderate measures seem to have failed they are almost unanimously disposed to try force of arms.

Anything, it is felt, is better than the persistence of the present uncertainty.

The time is ripe for action and the French are confident that if their plan proves successful the whole world will breath a sigh of relief.

MAKE STRIDES TOWARD PEACE

Europe is Rapidly Clearing the Deck for Better and Normal Times

BIG WORRIES GONE
 German Reparations and Disarmament are Biggest Remaining Problems.

PARIS, April 25.—The approach of the fatal day, May 1, and the certainty of another crisis between Germany and the Allies tends to obscure in many peoples' eyes the real facts about present conditions in Europe.

The truth is that, despite the gloomy predictions of malcontented and pessimistic and opposing parties, immense strides have been made within twelve months toward the liquidation of the war and the establishment of genuine peace.

Only a year ago Poland and Russia were at war. Italy and Jugoslavia were on the verge of war, the Allies were fighting, the Turks in Asia Minor, the peoples of Central and Eastern Europe were a prey to hunger and disease and the demand exceeding the supply in nearly all lines of production. There were sore and trouble spots all over Europe, discontent and strife and anything seemed possible.

Today All is Changed
 Today all this is changed. Russia is no longer subject to external aggression and free to try to work out her own salvation. The long quarrel between the Italians and Jugoslavs has been appeased by the Treaty of Rapallo. ## KIRKLAND LAKE BECOMES ACTIVE

Operations Are Expected to Open Up on Extensive Scale

SURPLUS OF LABOR
 Situation Shows a Marked Change From the Conditions of Several Recent Years

COBALT—The outlook is that the Kirkland Lake Proprietary Co. will start operations about the end of this month. Recently the head of the company paid a visit to the property and later the decision to start work was made.

The holdings of this company, 600 acres in all, are situated in the heart of the Kirkland area, its chief holding being the Tough-Oakes, the first producer of the camp. The Burnside, another excellent property, the Sylvanite, and another holding adjoining, make up the total. The same company also controls the Aladdin-Cobalt, formerly the old Chambers-Plantard.

The controlling interests in this merger are residents of England. After the visit to the property they announced the rejection of an offer to sell the Sylvanite. They also announced that there is sufficient cash on hand to bring the property to a dividend paying basis. All the differences between the Canadian and English shareholders have been cleared up. The company's statement refers briefly to the rich silver being mined at its Cobalt property.

The properties of the company in Kirkland Lake have been closed down since the summer of 1919 the miners of Kirkland Lake went on strike. It was some time later that the proposed merger was pushed ahead and practically all the intervening time has been spent in completing it.

The English interests. In this connection it has often been said that English mining interests were displeased with the treatment they have received in Northern Ontario mines. The facts seem to be that the English interests are too slow to act. One big kick about the Tough-Oakes-Burnside deal is that these two excellent properties both well equipped for mining were allowed to stand idle so long. And undoubtedly the same will be said of the Porcupine V.N.T. now. There is a big English interest in V. N. T. They are quite willing to wait for better conditions even though this excellent mine has already been closed four years. However, there are heavy holdings of this stock in Northern Ontario and the change in conditions have been so marked of late that the northerner cannot see any excuse for further delay. The call up here is for action. It is notable that these two companies are the only ones heavily held in England and both of them are standing idle. With these facts in mind it is needless to say that the decision to allow the V. N. T. to stay idle for another indefinite period was a displeasing one to many, and this displeasure was reflected on the stock market when the stock dropped to 14, the previous low during the past couple of years having been 16 1/2.

A Surplus of Men
 There is now a surplus of men at the Porcupine camp. It is estimated 1,000 experienced miners will be available from the curtailment at Sandbury and in the silver mines, so that the mines are able to hand pick their men. This will make for efficient operations and should help to cut costs.

Funeral Today
 The funeral of the late Robert Arthur Buckle, who was found dead in bed on Saturday morning was held this afternoon. At St. Thomas' Church the Ven. Archbishop Beasly conducted an impressive service, after which the remains were taken to Belleville cemetery for interment.

The mother and brother of deceased who reside in Toronto, were in the city for the obsequies.

Tracing the Life of Little "Joe"

In the opinion of Rev. Dr. Cleaver had Joseph been living today his name would immediately become just plain "Joe"—so that is what he calls that famous young man in his story sermons of the "Farmer's Boy" who became the first man in Israel. Yesterday morning Dr. Cleaver conducted a service at the home of the late Mr. Joseph Jacob, his husband was hurt, too, and the motor car wrecked. Under today's consent, judgment at Osgoode Dr. Robertson receives $2,500, including $1,500 for the auto, and the three children get the remaining $1,000. The total paid by C.P.R. is $3,500.

At the close of the inquest before Coroner Yeomans on April 8th, the jury stated that they were "of the opinion that the crossing" (Gibson's) in question is an extremely dangerous one for the public travel," and recommended an overhead crossing.

 TORONTO, April 25.—"I feel it my duty to remain as rector of this church and to decline the Archbishopric of Melbourne, and I have this morning cabled to Australia." This announcement by the Rev. Dr. H. J. Cody in St. Paul's Church yesterday, shattered all convention and a storm of applause burst forth. Then the congregation spontaneously rose as one and sang "Praise God from Whom all Blessings Flow." It was an extraordinary demonstration of regard, tribute of a character accorded to few men in their lifetime. Dr. Cody was deeply touched. This is unprecedented, he said, but pardonable in view of all the circumstances.

Keep all fruit stones, cooked or uncooked, dry them slowly in the oven, put in a large jar, and in winter throw a handful on the fire of an evening. They will crack for a moment, send up a bright flame and fill the room with a delicious odor.

An excellent way to press muslin waists is to sprinkle your ironing sheet and pin it tightly over the ironing board and press the waist on this. The steam which arises will be sufficient to take out every crease. This is fine for new waists.

Baking dishes that have become buried in the oven and plates and platters that have become blackened with the food scorched upon them should not go through the tedious process of scraping. Simply put a little water and ashes in the dish and let it become warm and the burnt and discolored portions may be easily cleaned without injuring the dish.

Robert Arthur Buckle Succumbs Early This Morning, Police Told

AWAKE AT MIDNIGHT Wife Finds Him Apparently Dead and Calls Help—Jury is Empanelled

Robert Arthur Buckle, was found dead in bed at his home on Pinnacle Street near the Armouries at three o'clock this morning. Coroner Dr. W. W. Boyce opened an inquest this afternoon at one o'clock at Tickell's morgue in order to determine the cause of death. Mr. Buckle retired early last night and awakened Mrs. Buckle with a scream about one o'clock as if he were in pain. However, he became quiet and appeared to go asleep. At three o'clock she noticed that he was cold and she hurried to a neighbor's for help. Neighbors went to investigate and they found the man apparently dead. Dr. Blaislee was called and on seeing him, pronounced him dead. As the cause of death was not apparent, the inquest was ordered. R. A. Buckle was born 37 years ago in Leeds, England. He had been for some years steward on the Gooderham yacht, "Oriole III," and this past winter he had been engaged in decorating. He had been married for eight years. There is no family. Fisher, foreman; Isaac Cavender, T. D. Ruston, P. Gill, Fred Smith, Harry Day, C. W. Carter and J. L. R. Gorman. Evidence was given by Mrs. Van-nort, 145 Front Street, Captain Strachan and Sergeant of Police Boyd. The 1921 assessment of Belleville is 24 15-16 per cent. higher than that of last year. The heaviest increase is in income assessment, but the property values have been shoved up considerably. With a cautious council like the 1921 ten this should keep the tax rate down. It is a known fact that council is going to pare current expenditures wherever possible. Some "kicking" is already heard. Clever Play Seen at The Tabernacle

That the people of Belleville appreciate and will patronize home talent was evidenced last night, when the Tabernacle church Sunday School room was filled to overflowing, and some had to be turned away, to witness the play entitled "The Country Schoolman," which was presented there under the auspices of the ladies of the church. The play opens with the Snackleby family at their evening meal, which consisted of Ma, Pa, and Maria Jane Snackleby, and were discussing the arrival of the new school teacher who was to make their home with them, and Ma Snackleby was drilling Pa, who didn't have "no manners or etiket," in how he should act when the high-toned city girl should come and not sneeze his tea and reach all over the table for things he wanted, and be real nice like his good wife, till Pa gets tired with his advice and goes out to do his chores, and as Ma said his chores was sitting around hoping that some day his son, Ikey, would come home from college and help with the hard work. On the whole the play was one of the best that has been seen in this city in a long time and the Tabernacle ladies and players in the cast are to be congratulated on the choice of both plays and play.

Lord Haldane, however, is reported to have talked with Prof. John MacNeill in Mount Joy prison. Information from Republican sources is to the effect that the attitude of the Dail Eireann remains unchanged. FRESH AIR INDOORS

What busy mothers find that outdoor exercise for the children is impossible, the following plan may help them; After breakfast dress the children too small to go to school, in their outdoor clothing, while the mother, too, dresses herself warmly; then open every window and the door to the porch. The children can play indoors or out on the porch, and the mother can wash the dishes, make beds, sweep and dust. Fresh air coming in while she does her work is nearly as good for her as a walk.

PROJECT TO OPEN UP LAURENTIANS

Endeavor Will be Made to Attract Americans to Northern Camps

STATE ROAD PLANNED Erect Fine Hotel and Natural Advantages Outside the Adirondacks

MONTREAL, April 28.—A project is on foot to exploit the Laurentian mountains, to an extent hitherto unattempted, for the benefit of sportsmen and by this means to attract to Canada many of the rich Americans who, until this time, have gone to the Adirondacks and elsewhere for the camping, hunting, fishing, etc., obtainable there. The whole subject has yet to be gone into in detail but the general outline "has already been drawn up and considerable progress made in the early stages of the scheme. It is understood that the organization will be composed largely of Canadian interests, that a considerable amount of financial support is already assured and that the originator of the plan is Fred Beauvis, the well-known French-Canadian guide. At present, apart from a few somewhat limited camps, there is no big club with any substantial accommodation or facilities in the Laurentians similar to those existing among the mountains across the border and it is proposed to establish such an institution in the St. Maurice district, north of La Tuque. The proprietorship would be vested in a limited company, the premises would be erected with a view to accommodating a large number of guests and every facility for sport such as is obtainable in other camping centres, with possible additions, would be afforded. It cannot be disregarded in this connection that one considerable advantage that the Canadian location

SCOTIAN COAL FOR MONTREAL

Dominion Coal Manager Claims Manufacturers Will Save Millions

LOWER PRICES

MONTREAL, Apr. 28.—The million or more tons of coal which the Dominion Coal Company, Limited, proposes to ship to Montreal this year should save local manufacturers about $4,000,000 to $5,000,000 over what was paid last year, says Alex. Dick, general sales manager of the company, since prices now will run from $8.50 to $9.50, while last year they were from $12.50 to $14.50. But he did not think there would be any other reduction in prices, or anything like a coal price war, since wages at the mines are still high, and the wage agreement with the men does not expire until the end of the year. Already contracts had been made with a number of manufacturers, and he expected no difficulty in disposing of at least 1,000,000 tons. The pre-war consumption of Dominion coal in this district was 1,800,000 tons, but manufacturing conditions were not likely to be so good this season. One reason for returning to this market was that extensions had been made at the collieries, increasing the production, while the foreign export trade had fallen considerably. Italy had been a big buyer, but was not in the market now, while some other countries there had three months' stocks, bought at last year's high prices, to get rid of before they would come in again. The company had still a few shipments to send to England on contracts made last August, but there was no other business in sight. Talking of possible business with the United Kingdom, due to the miners' strike, Mr. Dick, who had just returned from New York, said that there had been enquiries, but no orders. The feeling on this side was one of some doubt, as to accepting contracts for delivery while the strike is on, since there is the possibility of "railways" joining in, and ships then would be tied up, with no chance of making delivery, and since Europe wants no coal now, with no other possible market. Dominion coal will be very acceptable to Montreal manufacturers, they say, and they are glad to hear that it is coming back on the market again. Last year there was considerable outcry that it was being exported, and none came here, and it

IRISH MODERATES GIVE UP TRYING

Organization in South Formed to Aid in Home Rule Dissolve

LORD DECIES WILLING Husband of New York Girl Will Stand for Southern Parliament

DUBLIN, April 28.—The moderate organizations formed in Southern Ireland to put forth candidates for the Southern Ireland Parliament and to work out the Home Rule Act have been dissolved. Members of the Dominion League will not intervene unless the British Government promises that parliamentary elections will be treated as furnishing a constituent assembly, charged with the task of discovering a solution of the Irish problem. Lord Decies, representative peer of Ireland and member of the House of Lords, is said to intend to offer himself for election to the South Irish Parliament, from North Kildare. BORN. JACKMAN.—In Rawdon on April 18, 1921, to Mr. and Mrs. Percy Jackman, a son. O'CONNOR.—At Belleville General Hospital on April 21, 1921, to Mr. and Mrs. J. J. O'Connor, 64 St. Charles Street, a daughter.

WEATHER SETS FIRMER PRICES

Attendance of Vendors on Local Market Reduced by Heavy Showers. Trading on McAnany street was at a low ebb this morning. Untoward weather reduced the market attendance to a minimum. Prices strengthened a little after the two weeks of decline. Eggs sold regularly at 30c. and wholesaled at 27 and 28c. Butter was up to 60c per pound. Good fat poultry sold at $1.65 per bird. Potatoes on the market sold at 75c but in some produce shops they were offering at 50c. Apples were quoted at $1.00 per bushel. Oats are lower at 55c, wheat $1.30 barley 90c, buckwheat 90c to $1.00. Hides prices are still dragging bottom—beef hides, 3 and 3c, seasons, 50c each, veals, 5c; horsehides, $1.50. Meat prices follow—beef (hind), 16c; veal (carcase) 16c; pork 18c, lamb 30c, mutton 20c. A firmer price is evident in hay. Baled brings $25, to $27, and loose $27.00 per ton. Maple Syrup was scarce today. HOME-MADE SOAP Have a five-pound pailful of strained and melted grease just warm. Put 1 1/2 quarts of cold water into a porcelain kettle, add a handful of borax and a one-pound can of potash; after it is dissolved (it will take about an hour), add one cupful of ammonia and turn in warm grease slowly, stirring all the time. When well stirred in, add one-half ounce of sassafras, if you wish. Continue to stir mixture until it is like thick honey. Line boxes with grease-proof paper, and when the soap is quite thick pour into the boxes. After it has hardened cut into cakes. Before putting into boxes add two tablespoons of granulated sugar dissolved in cold water. This will make it lather. Age improves the soap. J. Alexander, of Madoc, was allowed out of bail of $1,000 on a charge of assaulting Thos. Carwell. That mousquetaire gloves are to continue their vogue next fall.

BANKING SERVICE FOR ALL

AS the majority of the first directors of the Bank of Montreal, formed in 1817, were Scotchmen or bore Scotch names it was but natural that they should seek in Canada "to extend and to perpetuate for the farmer and the merchant the benefits and stimulus of a system the worth of which Scotland's prosperity could abundantly prove." One of the outstanding features of the system was the maintenance of numerous branches by banks of large capital. The Bank of Montreal, in adopting this feature from the outset, laid the foundations of a service by which branches have been established throughout the entire Dominion. At each of these branches the full service of the complete organization is available. Through this service the Bank of Montreal offers to all classes of the community, from the smallest savings depositor to the largest commercial organization, good and adequate banking facilities. Each customer whether his account be large or small is welcome as a client of the institution.

WHY NOT REPLANT TREES?

BELLEVILLE is noted for the beauty of shaded streets, and rightly so. But even a tree crop has to be regrown in time, for the ravages of decay and storm tell on the sturdiest of tree growths. The recent storm has emphasized this fact in an unmistakable manner, for many trees were destroyed or seriously injured by it.

On every street in town are to be found vacant spots, where once beautiful shade trees stood, and yearly additions are being made to these blank places in the town's beauty. These trees stood on public property and even though originally planted by the owners of adjoining land, they still were the property of the town. It has been suggested that the city might well undertake a system of replanting that would take cognizance of all trees on the street destroyed each year, and without delay replace them by saplings. This year the work would be somewhat extensive but the annual outlay would be small by having the work performed by the municipality, uniformity and permanency would be assured. Fine streets are the best advertisement a city can have, and so far as shade trees are concerned, the task is simple and at the same time inexpensive. Time and Providence perforce carry the greater share of the burden.

A HEALTH CAMPAIGN

THE work of the Red Cross did not end with the war. War or no war there is always important and necessary work to be done in the interests of public health. The Red Cross proposes to keep on with the work. A world-wide crusade for good health is to be organized. In Ontario the week beginning May 22 has been set apart for enrollment as many members as possible of the Red Cross, and creating a widespread interest in public and personal hygiene. It is a notable work, and one that should make a universal appeal.

READING THROUGH EARS

ONE of the most fascinating and important inventions lately put forth is the optophone. By means of sounds produced through its extremely delicate mechanism, so London papers report, a blind person can read ordinary print. One of these instruments has recently been shown at the exhibition of scientific apparatus at South Kensington, London. Another of the instruments is being experimented with at St. Dunstan's Hostel, London, where Sir Arthur Pearson, himself a victim of blindness, carries on his work of building up malmed and blinded soldiers of the war.

The optophone is the invention of Dr. Fournier D'Albe. As a commercial venture it is being perfected by Dr. Barr, who, while admitting that it is at present naturally a very expensive scientific apparatus, hopes to lower its market price in the near future. A blind girl, who has been learning only a short time and who can already read at the rate of seven words a minute, has been giving demonstrations at the London College of Science to a number of incredulous investigators, and it is reliably stated that a speed of twenty-five words a minute has been attained by one expert.

The practised optophone listener recognizes words much in the same way as the telegraph operator recognizes the dots and dashes of the Morse alphabet from the clicks of his sounder.

The advantage of the optophone over the raised alphabet hitherto in use in schools for the blind is that the optophone can be used for reading any ordinary printed matter. Thereby it can release the blind from restriction to specially prepared books. Whether it can ever give the blind the same speed as the seeing reader, and whether it can enable them to read faster than by the Braille touch system remains to be determined.

Preston Athletic Association will ask the city council to adopt daylight saving from June to September.

EXTREMIST POLICIES ALWAYS FAIL

EXTREMIST leadership and its attempt to force its political policies on the British nation have dealt labor and particularly the coal miners a severe blow. The "Triple Alliance" has been badly weakened, if not broken through rash threats of "direct action." The miners have suffered a loss from which many of them will not recover. As the situation now stands, as a result of insistence on the national pool, the miners are likely to be idle for a week or more after strike pay has been exhausted, and the loss will amount to millions of dollars. In consequence of the flooding of mines there will be little work for tens of thousands of the miners for a considerable time after the strike is settled, while some of the pits will never be re-opened.

The lesson should surely impress itself on British labor, for it is not the first. The strike last year, recklessly precipitated by fanatical leaders, was a dismal failure. Extremist policies have failed consistently. It has been sufficiently demonstrated that they cannot succeed. The price British labor has paid to learn this must surely have some effect in bringing it to its senses.

OLD ENOUGH TO KNOW

SAMUEL GOMPERS has an enviable reputation as one of the most level-headed of the world's labor leaders. Whether he will add to his reputation or detract from it by marrying again at the age of 72 is a matter in regard to which there may be some room for dispute; but he is old enough to settle the matter for himself, and it may be urged without prejudice to other arguments that if there is a time when a man needs a wife, it is around about the seventies. In earlier years a wife may be a luxury, but in a man's old age a wife is a necessity.

FRIENDSHIP

Gift of friendship—As the years—Handclasp—coming from the soul. Warm and true appeals to me. As the years so quickly roll. Gift of friendship! As the years! Passing—bears us swiftly on. When life with its trials, fears, Tends to cast our spirits down, Handclasp then of friendship brave. Coming from a staunch true soul. To our hearts new courage gave. Precious as the years do roll. Not the world's wealth or riches, Nor all wealth or gold can do, Can begin to compensate us For a brother's handclasp true. For the want of true heart friendship. If that cherriness we lack, We should give our brother travel.

A GOOD BORROWER

The province of Ontario, per its Treasurer, Hon. Peter Smith, is again advertising the issue of a loan of six millions of dollars, alternative bids being asked for on issues of either ten year bonds, six months treasury bills or one year treasury bills. It is assumed that perhaps the Government has not yet finished installing $200 mahogany beds, $4 chairs, Chesterfields and other furniture appropriate to the salon atmosphere of the bedrooms of statesmen who in the good old days were more used to hickory or clear pine. It seems the Ontario Government is becoming a chronic borrower, much to the delight of the bond dealers, and of those investors who know a good thing when they see it.—Saturday Night.

PAY FOR ALDERMEN

At a stormy session of Belleville Council held on Monday night the members, or, at least a majority of them, voted in favor of a salary of $3 for every council and committee meeting attended. A by-law will be brought in to have the remuneration effective from January 1st last. The Bay of Quinte city aldermen have either a high opinion of themselves, or place a high value on their time, or their duties are such that they find very little time to devote to their own private business.—Lindsay Post.

TOBACCO NEXT?

(From The Peterborough Examiner.) Some people, resentful as the result of the referendum, profess to believe that the next step will be a campaign to do away with the sale and use of tobacco. The danger of such an effort proving successful is not serious enough to be worried about. There are ultra reformers, of course, who would dearly love to be able to deprive Canadians of the pleasure they derive from worshiping at the shrine of my Lady Nicotina, just as there were fanatics who when Canada's army was suffering the hardships and dangers of the Great War, wanted to take away from the soldiers the solace they were able to obtain from cigarettes. But keen as these zealots would be to launch an anti-tobacco campaign, they realize that fighting the liquor traffic and fighting tobacco are two separate and quite distinct propositions. Even the renowned Pussycat Johnston finds pleasure in a cigar and many prominent members of the Referendum Committee can see nothing wrong in a quiet puff at a pipe. But the women vote might turn Canada into a smokeless nation, someone remarks. Not much danger. No married woman who has known what it is to have her husband forced to go a few hours without tobacco is going to take chances of having such an experience made permanent. The time for storing tobacco away for a possible anti-smoke regime has not yet arrived.

GLASS HOUSE AT WASHINGTON

(Vancouver Province.) Mr. Charles Hughes, Secretary of State, received some time in March a letter from Lord Curzon, addressed to Mr. Colby, who was Secretary in the Wilson administration. This letter dealt with the claim of Mr. Colby that the United States should have an equal chance with Great Britain to procure and develop oil resources of Mesopotamia. The foreign minister replies that no exclusive rights to oil in Mesopotamia were asserted by the British, except in certain districts where rights were granted before the war to British interests. Lord Curzon observed that these concessions would stand on the same basis as the rights which the Standard Oil Company had acquired in Palestine.

Having so explained the Mesopotamia policy, Lord Curzon reminded Mr. Colby that only last year an act of the Philippine Legislature reserved mineral resources of that country to citizens of the United States and the Philippines, and that the United States Government had taken action to prevent British interests from exploiting mineral resources in Haiti and Costa Rica.

Mr. Hughes will doubtless continue the correspondence, but it seems to be possible for United States explorers to seek oil in Mesopotamia.

A Changed Riviera

(Ottawa Journal.) The disappearance of the Toronto World, which has been absorbed by the Toronto Mail and Empire, after being in the hands of a receiver for a year, is the latest of a considerable number of Canadian newspaper fatalities in the past decade or so. In that period, something like twenty Canadian dailies have fallen by the wayside, including such metropolitan papers as the Toronto News, the Winnipeg Telegram, the Montreal Daily Mail, the Montreal Evening News, the Vancouver News-Advertiser, the Hamilton Times, the Ottawa Free Press. Somewhat earlier in fate were the Toronto Empire, the Montreal Witness, La Minerve, Montreal, the Montreal Post, Le Temps, Ottawa. Among the lesser dailies that have recently gone were the Brockville Times, the Brantford Courier, the Woodstock Review, the St. Thomas Journal, the Saskatoon Phoenix. It is quite a little list. Many of these newspapers were well-managed and forcible journals. Some had ill-luck, some had started with too little capital, some were not conservative enough in building up reserves, some were unexpectedly hit by the sudden great rise in costs due to the war. And, truth to say, all newspapers in Canada were sold too cheaply until the rise in costs forced up the rates of subscriptions. The business is on a fairer basis now, and on the whole the newspaper industry is in a stronger position in Canada than it has ever been hitherto. The Toronto World just missed turning the corner, and no further casualties of much consequence are likely among Canadian dailies.

A WORLD-WIDE CAMPAIGN

CANADA is sufficiently in touch with American affairs to realize the depth and boldness of the anti-British campaign unceasingly carried on in that country. That the conspiracy against the British Empire is not localized, but is world-wide, was established at a meeting in the House of Commons at London recently, with the Duke of Northumberland presiding.

In a startling review of the world situation, the chairman declared that India and Ireland had been selected by a widespread school of anti-British disturbers as the vulnerable points in the Imperial chain. Offensive campaigns in these two countries were being directed, according to proof already held, from headquarters in New York City.

In a startling review of the world situation, the chairman declared that India and Ireland had been selected by a widespread school of anti-British disturbers as the vulnerable points in the Imperial chain.

Since the collapse of Germany it was declared the anti-British world tide had drawn its material backing from Russia, United States and other sources.

The main address was delivered by Sir Michael O'Dwyer, famous as a British Governor in India. Sir Michael told how India was being stirred up to revolt constantly from outside sources, and he reminded his auditors of disclosures in the United States during the war showing co-operation between Germans and Indian nationalists; also that during the war the Sinn Fein and Indian rebels had the same headquarters in New York.

The United States was declared to be a fertile source of revolutionary funds, obtained from uninformed people, who were carefully kept in ignorance of the British side of every incident. The result was that more tears were shed over murderers than over their British victims.

SELECTION NOT EXCLUSION

WRITING in Current Opinion, New York, for April, under the title of "Comparing the Canadian and American Melting Pots," Agnes C. Laut finds this difference: that the immigration policy of Canada is to care for her immigrant, while the United States merely frames a catalogue of "don'ts" and anyone who can get past Ellis Island is free to get assimilated in any manner he may choose.

Water has been struck in two drillings at Broughdale, which will give London an additional 600,000 gallons a day.

until placed. At point of destination, Patriotic Associations, Red Cross, Women's Farm Institutes, church organizations, etc., receive and care for the newcomer. Such a system is selective, not elective, and it is not exclusion.

In this connection Miss Laut refers to the Soldier Settlement scheme, which "promises to become Canada's great future policy of colonization—of spiking the drifter down to his own grub stake, of transforming the immigrant into a colonist, and the colonist into a permanent citizen, with such an investment in his new home as will always keep him financially a vested right-owner of his own labor. Give a man ownership in the nation, and he will never become a revolutionary; for the revolutionary is always a floater."

The loaning of $80,000,000 to 25,000 settlers represents, says Miss Laut, a potential labor production in wheat, in beef, in butter, in small fruits, of $1,000 per man. The nation can't lose the capital investment, for it comes back in 25-year instalments with 5 per cent, and is secured by a first mortgage and clear title.

The Soldier Settlement idea was born of sheer necessity, observes Miss Laut, and now Canada is feeling her next step forward. The difficulty is not to get immigrants; it is to steer them to the right place. Canada is wondering when all the soldiers who wish land have been steered to land, whether the main lines of the Soldier Settlement scheme would not encourage a broader land policy to care for all bona-fide settlers. Wouldn't the investment pay? Is any loss as irrevocable as the loss of a totally wasted life?

THAT BOY OF ROGERS

That boy of Rogers, Lord spare me from raising such a one as he! If ever mischief was hollid down into a freckled, red-haired clown, And turned loose on two spindling shanks.

There wa'n't no question that he'd be inside a penitentiary. Afore he was a man full grown; He could conspire more tricks alone Than any boy I ever see'd.

The biggest scamp, we all agreed, Was that boy of Rogers. He went to school, then went out west.

I low we thought it was the best Thing that had happened yet. When he made up his mind to git; For us he couldn't go too fer, And we all said, "Good riddance sit."

G. W. V. A. Dance Is Called Huge Success

There were two very happy results of the G. W. V. A. St. Julien Day dance at Bennett's Academy last night.

(1.) Everyone had a good time and said so.

(2.) They made a nice bit of money to add to the Memorial Home Fund.

The dancing floor was crowded but not over-crowded; the music was good and the floor perfect. Also, when time to eat came along, there was more than enough for every one. The programme included a quartette of moon dances and No. 3 was called a social circle, (whereby one changed one's partner about every 45 seconds.) There was also an elimination dance, couples leaving the floor when their "number" was called. These special numbers proved a hit and of course there were some "extra extras."

The patronesses were—Mrs. E. D. Finkle, Mrs. C. F. Wallbridge, Mrs. R. D. Panton, Mrs. E. D. O'Flynn, Mrs. Garn. E. Dobbs, Mrs. A. P. Allen, Mrs. E. A. Geen, Mrs. F. W. D. Wiggins, Mrs. E. H. Liddle, Mrs. D. J. Cook, Mrs. H. A. Singer, Mrs. (W.) Wilson, Mrs. C. R. Baker, and Mrs. (Dr.) Cronk.

The stewards were—G. A. Irvine, L. G. Madden, F. W. D. Wiggins, J. H. Bateman, F. R. Rayfield, J. C. Horle, H. Anderson, E. C. Roberts, A. G. Bowyer.

G. T. B. DIRECTORS ACCEPT PREMIER MEIGHEN'S PLAN

LONDON, April 23—A cable was sent yesterday after the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk counsel at Montreal, to be forwarded to Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, the Canadian Premier.

The cable says: "The Board of Directors of the Grand Trunk Railway has considered the Bill introduced in the Canadian Parliament by Premier Meighen on April 19, the text of which was received today by cable."

"The Board is of the opinion that, provided an agreement satisfactory in form can be arranged, assuring enough time to bring the arbitration proceedings to a final award, the plan outlined in the Bill mentioned above, forms an acceptable solution of the present difficult position, and that it is in the interests of all parties to endeavor to carry it into effect."

WEE DEOCH AN' DORIS SAVED LIVES OF FIVE

HOW three drops of whiskey saved a dollar and a quarter's worth of chicken yesterday, was told The Ontario this morning by a North Park Street resident. He has five early birds about three weeks old and yesterday they were caught in the rain and ready to hand in their checks. But the bird fancier would not let them drop away so easily, so he carefully put a drop of whiskey in a spoon, filling it up with buttermilk. He gave the five little bunch of fluff a drink around until the contents of the spoon was gone. Then the birds were put in a box. An hour later the same dose was given, the quinine and later the wee deoch an' doris was repeated. After this, well they didn't go to roost but they stood up like well chickens and walked into some food the owner placed before them.

BOYS AND GIRLS HERE SHOW HOW TO "SAVE"

The school boys and girls of Belleville saved money during the months of January and February of this year, according to the Penny Bank report just issued. The average monthly deposit by each pupil was 61 cents, which is well above the average of 53 for all Canada. The highest deposit was in Guelph, $1.10 and the lowest, Blenheim, Hanover. The record of the local schools follows—Queen Mary 43c, Queen Alexandra, 57c, Queen Victoria 89c. During January, 1921, the local deposits totalled $484.15 and in February, $622.33. The deposits a year ago were $511.09 and $345.77.

HOPING THIS YEAR'S HORSES IN CLASSICS ARE BETTER LOT

LONDON, April 23. (By Canadian Press.)—The flat racing season normally enters into its more serious business next week with the opening of the Newmarket first Spring meeting. Newmarket justly earns its title as "headquarters of the turf," and except at such meetings as Royal Ascot and Goodwood, the class of horse seen on the heath is generally superior to that found in other courses.

During the war when racing was abandoned almost everywhere else, it was maintained at Newmarket, but owing to the threatened coal strike of last October, the Newmarket Houghton meeting was cancelled. The labor crisis of the past fortnight again threatened sport at headquarters. Meetings at Newbury and other points were freely abandoned, as was also the opening meeting of the season at turf headquarters, known as the Newmarket Craven meeting, when the Craven stakes for three-year-olds often throws considerable light on Derby prospects.

Fears of Cancellation. At that time labor conditions were so threatening that it was feared that the important Epsom Spring meeting of this current week must also be abandoned which meant that the two big handicaps, the Metropolitan and the City and Suburban could not be decided. They will be run, however.

Outstanding among the many important fixtures are the two "classic" races, the two thousand and one thousand guineas, both run over the Rowley mile, so called after King Charles II, who was very fond of this course. The two thousand, for entire three-year-old colts and fillies, is run on Wednesday, and the thousand, confined to three-year-old fillies only, on Friday.

These two races give the first real light on three-year-old form and generally speaking, the winner of the two thousand starts favorite for the Derby, run at Epsom on June 1, over a mile and a half. This is the third of the five "classic" races, the fourth being the Oaks, confined to fillies and run on June 3, and the age. Mrs. Cryster was a native of Belleville and had spent most of her life here, having been born in the house where she died. Surviving are one son, C. W. Cryster of Belleville, two daughters, Miss J. M. Cryster, Port Arthur and Mrs. G. W. Jeakins, Belleville. Mrs. Cryster was a Methodist in religion.

For Over a Century.

All the five "classic" races have been run continuously for well over a hundred years, the first to be instituted being the St. Leger, called after the famous Col. St. Leger, who founded it in 1776. Three years later the Oaks was first run at Epsom and the Derby the following year. The Two Thousand Guineas, now worth about $25,000 to the winner, was started in 1809 and the One Thousand in the year before the battle of Waterloo, 1814.

The mythical "triple crown," consists in the treble win of the Two Thousand, the Derby and the St. Leger, and a horse succeeding in pulling this off has an assured place in turf history. First to achieve this distinction was West Australian in 1863, and it was not repeated until in the two consecutive years of 1865 and 1866 by Gladfateur and Lord Lyon respectively. The next occasion was in 1886 by Ormonde, generally regarded as the greatest race horse in history. Common pulley it off in 1891 and Ishgllass in 1893. St. Frusquin and Persimmon Thursday night.

BLAME LEACOCK FOR WET SPEECH

Prohibitionists Claim he Has Done Harm to McGill University

Dr. A. S. Grant Says he Injured Great School Not Dry Cause

MONTREAL, April 23—The action of Professor Stephen Leacock in speaking against Prohibition before the Liberty League at Toronto on April 3, has been severely criticized in Montreal and elsewhere. Writing to Mrs. John Scott, President of Montreal Northern District, Women's Christian Temperance Union, Dr. A. S. Grant, Secretary of the Prohibition Referendum Committee in Toronto says: "Professor Leacock has done more harm to the McGill University than to the Prohibition cause."

Mrs. Scott said that Professor Leacock's action had been to her knowledge severely criticized by all classes of women in Montreal, even those who were not prohibitionists, on the ground that while Professor Leacock had a right to his own opinion as a private individual, as a professor in a university where young people were being trained he should have remembered that these young people should be safe-guarded from temptation and the temptation of taking liquor was a very strong one. It would be interesting to know," said Mrs. Scott, "if Professor Leacock received remuneration for his speech and if so how much."

The Rev. A. E. Reynolds, B. D. Pastor of Fairmount Avenue Methodist Church, at a meeting of Fairmount Women's Christian Temperance Union, held in the Lecture Hall, St. Giles Church yesterday afternoon, also referred to Professor Leacock's action. "We are all," he said "deeply interested in McGill University and desire to further its prosperity, but the sentiments expressed by Professor Leacock on the liquor question will prevent the going of many of our best families going to McGill University."

At London Meeting. Kingston—Dr. W. T. Connell, Kingston, is in London, attending a general session of the Western Ontario Academy of Medicine. He will read a paper on "Sub-Acute Bacterial Endocarditis." This gathering marks the first public function to be held in the new Western University medical school in London.

Case For Humane Society. Pictou—A very flagrant case of cruelty was recently unearthed by the Inspector of the Humane Society in the county, where a man had literally starved a team of horses to such an extent that one died and the other was so emaciated when found that it could scarcely lift its head from the ground. The horse was humanely destroyed to stop its suffering and the perpetrator brought before the Police Magistrate who imposed a severe fine or a term in goal. It is time such people who ill-treat dumb animals were taught that the day is past when such will be tolerated.

Making Theatrical History. Brockville—For the first time in theatrical history, an all-Canadian theatrical organization is to face the fire of New York criticism. The Dumbells, who are known throughout the Dominion, will open at the North Bay theatre on May 8th, for a New York season. The experiment will be watched with keen interest by all who know the work of this remarkably talented body of entertainers and the verdict of New York will be awaited with keen anticipation. The promoters of the New York venture are confident of success. Capt. Plunkett is ready to match his men against any similar body in the United States, and Mr. G. C. Garrett, the business manager of the Dumbells, is confident that they will convince New York. In any event, they are going to try, and in the North Bay theatre they have a delightful little house in which to spread their wings for a trial flight. The good wishes of all their friends will be with them in their new venture.

Senator and Mrs. H. W. Laird, Regina, Sask., announce the engagement of their daughter, Calla Allison, to Beath D. Morden, son of Rev. and Mrs. D. N. Morden, of St. James Square Presbyterian church, Toronto, and formerly of Bethel church, Kingston. The marriage will take place on April 27th.

One hundred and fifty new four-roomed houses will be built in Timmins this summer.

MINTOS' HOME, MADE WELCOME

PIPES HEAD PROCESSION. Tenants and People of Magnificent Estate Pay Honor to New Mistress

HAWICK, April 8.—(By mail)—Thursday was a red-letter day in the annals of Minto, on the occasion of the home-coming of Lord and Lady Minto from Canada, where they were married on January 19.

Arriving at Hawick with the 5.16 p.m. train from the south, they were met at the station by Mr. Cameron Douglas, the estate factor and travelled by motor to Minto, via Denholm. At the West Lodge a large company of tenants, workers and school children had assembled and on the approach of the car Lord and Lady Minto were greeted with a most enthusiastic round of cheering.

A triumphal arch of laurel leaves had been erected at the West Lodge gate with the words "Welcome Home" artfully displayed upon it.

Ropes were attached to the motor car, which was then drawn by those assembled to Minto House, the procession being headed by Pipers Macdonald and Bapte, playing "Captain Campbell's Welcome to Red Castle," and "Lochiel's Welcome to Glasgow." The day was an uncommonly fine one and the afternoon's sunshine cast a charm over the beautiful grounds, rendering the occasion most memorable and pleasing.

On arrival in front of the house Mr. Douglas, estate factor, said a few words of welcome. It was a very happy day for all of them to welcome home Lord and Lady Minto. People went to wonder why Lord Minto went so much to Canada and wondered if it was because of farming interest, but when they heard of the engagement they knew that it was and were very pleased. They thought he had taken a most sensible course in bringing back to Scotland what he liked best in Canada. Canada had always been very much connected with Scotland.

He thought it was a very nice thing indeed that Lord Minto should have brought a Canadian bride home with him. "It would cement their friendship, and do a great deal to keep up the connection which they had with Canada. If ever they came across a dozen Canadians together and said, "Hello Mac!" eleven of them would turn round and say "what do you want?" He hoped that the sun shining that day would be a good augury of happiness and long life to both Lord and Lady Minto.

Sang Maple Leaf. Lord Minto said he thanked them from the bottom of his heart for the wonderful reception they had given him, and he expressed the great happiness which the occasion gave him.

A choir of school children, under the leadership of Mr. Alexander Harvey, schoolmaster, sang "The Maple Leaf."

Miss Margaret Wilson, the little granddaughter of Mr. William Wilson, the oldest worker on the estate, gracefully presented Lady Minto with a beautiful bouquet of flowers.

Later in the evening the workers on the estate were entertained to a dance in the village hall.

It is understood that the tenants workers, and estate tradesmen in Hawick are to present Lord and Lady Minto with a handsome new iron gate for the West Lodge on the occasion of the home-coming.

Gas Stove Exploded. Brockville—Mrs. H. B. White, 1333 King street east, had a narrow escape from serious injury when a gas stove exploded in her kitchen. Mrs. White was preparing to cook a roast of meat and upon opening the door of the stove, which is of the double oven type, accumulated gas, supposedly from a leak, exploded and threw her several feet across the room. The force of the explosion broke windows in the kitchen, badly damaged the stove and knocked down some dishes in the dining room, but fortunately Mrs. White escaped unharmed, other than the effects of the shock.

EXTRACTS FROM EXAMINATION PAPERS. "Formerly bears and wolves roamed all over the country, but now they are found only in theological gardens."

"The adversaries were placed at equal distance from each other."

"He screamed in silent rage!"

BISHOP BREWING ON VISIT HERE

Confirms Class at Emmanuel Church and Sees Newly Arrived English Boys

WARNING TO ALL MEN. "Sometimes Second Death Precedes the First" and he Explains Reference

At Emmanuel Reformed Episcopal Church on Sunday evening Rev. Bishop Willard Brewing, of Toronto, confirmed a class of nine, who had been instructed by the Rev. George Marshall, rector. The church was filled with worshippers and an address appropriate to the occasion was delivered by the Bishop.

The progress of Emmanuel church under the leadership of Rev. Mr. Marshall and Mrs. Marshall was commented upon by Bishop Brewing. He also welcomed a number of boys who had arrived at the week end from England and taken up their residence at the Marchmont Home.

"We want to welcome them and wish them Godspeed in this great country," said the preacher. "There is not another land under the sun, with its great resources and open spaces where a boy can grow up."

"He that overcometh shall not be hurt of the second death," was the Bishop's text, and quoted the promises made to the churches. The little church at Smyrna knew what the first death meant. We are run down by death, but they went to meet death in the form of persecution. It is a tremendous thing for a person to give up the living, breathing, vibrant life for a mystic hope and a promise. Just six years ago thousands of boys surrendered willingly their future for a spiritual conviction, a mystic something. Through their persecutions the early Christians knew something of the awfulness of the second death. The Bishop illustrated in by analogy to imprisonment and the chains that imprison the soul afterwards. But Paul is not chafed by the second death "Some men think they can stagger, swagger, blaspheming and lust to the gate of heaven and roll back the doors of eternal life. This cannot be, it would upset the moral universe. Sometimes the second death precedes the first."

"There is but one way of escape—the overcoming life," said the Bishop in closing.

The Holy Communion service followed confirmation. Bishop Brewing inviting Christians of all denominations to partake.

TIGER TIRE FACTORY HERE MUST INCREASE ITS OUTPUT TO KEEP PACE WITH ORDERS

Tube manufacture is much more simple. The sheets of gum rubber are placed on rolls and cut, wrapped in fabric and placed in a vulcanizer where they are subjected to a temperature of 280 degrees and 45 pounds of steam.

Discovery of Process. Vulcanization is the basis of the entire rubber industry today. The process was unknown a hundred years ago and the manufacture of rubber goods in the old days was very discouraging.

The company is manufacturing all sizes of tires, the small Eagle and the Tiger and the Tiger Special, besides red and grey tubes. These articles are considered the equal of the best rubber products in the country.

Shipping Department. There is even a machine for wrapping tires in the shipping room. This saves a great amount of time and can be operated by any one.

GLEN ROSS. A cold wave washed over us on Sunday, coating us first with ice and then with snow. But the roads were kept so warm on Monday it soon disappeared.

Melchior Staaf, of Lancaster, Pa., celebrated his 100th birthday by playing baseball with his grandsons and great-grandsons.

Water rushed in in tons and we hit the bottom of the sea with a bump, the water started to rush into our compartment so the captain said: "Close all water tight doors and we know that 35 of our ship mates were drowning or drowned and we could do nothing to help them."

"The next morning Captain Goodheart from K 14, who was aboard us at the time, and our captain, who was Captain Hubert, tossed up between them who should be blown up through the conning tower to direct those up above how to save us.

WEDDING BELLS

4TH LINE THURLOW

This street is receiving the attention it so long has needed in that the county has placed a gang of men grading and ditching.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hubbel, of Sidway Down Hall, spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Yateman.

Quite an exciting time prevailed on Tuesday afternoon about five o'clock when Mr. Palmer's driving sled and pig pen were burned. Fortunately the wind was in such a quarter as to make it possible to save the house and barn, though Mr. Owen Roblin's barn had a narrow escape being afire once on the roof.

Telephone service proved very successful in calling out help.

We extend hearty congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. James Bronson (nee Minetta Fairman) who were united in holy bonds of matrimony at six o'clock Tuesday evening at the Methodist parsonage, Caniffon, by Rev. Mr. McMillan.

Mr. L. B. Falkner, of Foxboro, spent a few days last week in this neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Holden are to be congratulated on the arrival of a fine baby girl on the 17th.

An car-load of pleasure seekers from the east took a leap off the bridge into Marsh creek Sunday evening. The car, it is said, turned turtle and the occupants got a wetting.

During the past year this Society has raised over $300 for Missions and packed a bale of goods valued at $100.

Mr. Will Sparrow is busy preparing to build an addition to his barn. Work on the land received a setback by the recent steel storm and meadows have been badly destroyed by frosts. Conditions point to a hay crop far below average.

The Kilties Band of Belleville, the famous organization that girdled the globe, happened to visit Calcutta and the name of Belleville was indelibly impressed upon Dr. Hastings by this incident.

The missionary last evening gave an illustrated lecture on the progress of missions in India. His study of the customs and religions of the Indian Empire was interesting and instructive. Rev. George Marshall occupied the chair.

ORGANIZE PIPE BAND HERE SCOTS HELD FINE CONCERT TO AID NEW ORGANIZATION

Camp Rob Roy, Sons of Scotland, put on a high class and successful Scottish entertainment last evening in the I.O.O.F. Temple in aid of the new Scottish pipe band, which is in process of formation. Nearly two hundred enjoyed the song and story. Rev. A. S. Kerr, chief of the camp, occupied the chair and put through a delightful programme. He delivered a short address of welcome to the guests. The Bridge Street symphony orchestra won golden opinions with their numbers. Pipe Major Albert Johnston rendered several bag pipe numbers with all the art of the skilled piper.

The members of the orchestra are: W. C. Sills, leader and Bass Viol. Flano, Mrs. Fowle; Mandolin, Mr. Holton; Clarinet Ralph Hutchison; Cornet, Mr. Groves; Hawaiian guitar, Marshall Sills; Saxophone, Ed. Cousins; Violins, Miss Anderson, Bruce Sills, Mrs. Reid, Dick Arnot, Gerald Watts, Miss Nora Fairman, Mr. Everett Stevens, Mr. Hillis Fowle.

The proceedings wound up with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne." Camp Rob Roy has a number of good pipers, and the new band will find no difficulty in getting material. Formerly pipe bands were greatly in demand here. Last evening's proceeds will go quite a long way toward furnishing the band with instruments.

PRISONED ON OCEAN FLOOR THREE DAYS AFTER SUBMARINE HAD COME TO GRIEF; SURVIVOR NOW REVEALS WHAT HAPPENED

"Captain Hubert managed to get through and no one knows how he did it, as soon as he got to the top he told them where to fix a pipe so as to get some air to us as we were only breathing the foul air that was in the boat after we had been down 48 hours.

"The divers managed to get a small pipe fixed on to us and one of the E class of submarines pumped air into us, then they passed some borvil down as we had no food or water aboard. After they had let down a few bottles, one jammed so they had to take the pipe away and clear it. We were just at our last gasp when they managed to get it fixed again, after being down for three days. They got two mud dredges and fixed their chains around our hydroplanes and got three feet clear of the water. The divers then cut a hole in her with acetylene burners, pumped one port out, cut another hole in the lower compartment and hauled us up one at a time. I myself do not remember more until I woke up in one of the hotels near by."

SAYS ONTARIO RIVALS MEXICO PLAYING PONIES

Liquor Traffic and Racing in Full Blast Here to Detriment of People

SERMON AT TABERNACLE

Vast Sums Squandered at Race Meets Would Pay Unemployment Claims 4 Years

Yesterday morning at the Tabernacle Methodist Church, Rev. W. E. Millson, Field Secretary of the Dept. of Social Service and Evangelism of the Methodist Church of Canada, gave a report of the work and presented the claims for further activity. Basing his remarks upon Rom. 12, 4, 5, he pointed out how the individual and local church is a collective part of the whole denomination and inter-related with all other branches of Christian organizations, and thus much was accomplished. Just as missionary and educational endeavors are important, so also is that of the practical application of righteous principles in every day service of the state. Brief reference was made to the recent referendum.

The Methodist Church in Canada had declared for prohibition of alcohol for beverage purposes as far back in its history as the year 1822, and the commitments of the church were now being carried into action under authorized officials. Much attention has been given the past year to evangelistic effort.

Rev. Millson is an avowed fighter against the race track gambling institution. During the war the Dominion Government also put a ban on this. The year after the armistice was signed the restrictions were removed. Last year in Ontario (which he claimed by the way, was now next worst to Mexico in this respect) there was spent according to the sworn audited statements for taxation purposes of six racing associations doing business for fourteen days in the year the enormous sum of $42,000,000, enough to pay unemployment claims just now for four years hence. Police court records and broken-up homes show the train of the misery resulting.

"What have you done by way of impressing your local federal member to stand firm against allowing legal sanction to this evil?" was the pointed question of the speaker. In glowing terms and thrilling incidents other lines of social reform were pictured, such as work among mentally deficient persons, delinquent children and outcasts from society. The Methodist Church has a large part in this noble work. When children are whipped at six years of age for NOT stealing, it is a serious stain on our national home life. The denominational homes at Timon, N.S., and Edmonton, Alta., are accomplishing wonderful reforms. A girl redeemed and nurtured to respectability again in one of these homes, recently asked to have her wedding solemnized amidst such influential surroundings as the only home she had known to teach her true life.

Most sympathetic and hearty support was given to Rev. Millson's appeal. Two years ago he spoke on this work in the same church. Many will remember his stirring addresses and songs in the Tabernacle Church the past winter during special meetings.

NEW VENTURES IN OIL FIELDS

More Big Names Are Coming Into Prominence Almost Daily

DRILLERS GET BUSY

But Actual Activities Are Being Held up to Some Extent by the Regulations

EDMONTON—More big names are coming almost daily into prominence now in connection with the northern oil developments. It is increasingly evident that the search for oil in the Mackenzie River country is to be largely carried on by companies and syndicates, and several new enterprises of this kind are being added to the list, with the likelihood that some of them at least will begin work this coming season.

The Anglo-French Co., an Old Country concern of which J. B. Tyrrell is the Canadian representative, has recently sent one of its directors here to look over the ground and is expected to invest in Northern Alberta and Mackenzie oil leases when his report to the head office is acted upon.

The Anglo-Canadian company is a new syndicate now asking for incorporation and a Dominion charter. It has some English capital behind it, but is largely Canadian in its personnel and capitalization and is likely to be one of the most active in the field.

A $5,000,000 company in which a half-interest is held in the United States is said to be under formation, with plans for entering the Mackenzie oil field, but the alien clause in the new oil regulations may delay its plans unless some way of getting around the point can be found. This provision against Americans holding stock in Canadian petroleum enterprises is one of the features of the situation, by the way, that is causing considerable uncertainty here. A change in the regulations is thought to be probable.

The British American Oil Co., which recently took over the Winnipeg Oil Co., is among the most recent names mentioned in connection with the Northern oil fields. The Mackenzie district is one of ten locations at which the company has properties, and if the summer's operations there by other companies are successful the British American will later do some drilling for itself.

Some ten or twelve drilling rigs will likely be taken into the Great Slave Lake and Fort Norman fields this summer. Several of these are already at the head of navigation awaiting the first steamer trip north. Navigation on the Athabasca River will open a bout the middle of May, but it will be the first of July before Great Slave Lake can be crossed.

LOWEST TENDER SHOULD SUCCEED SAYS MR. JARVIS

Well Known Belleville Man, Writes His Views on Building

AN OBLIGATION

Contractor Expects Lowest Offer to Get Work or Would not Waste His Time

The following letter to the Editor of The Ontario by Mr. Beaumont Jarvis will be read with interest: Architect, Owner and Builder—Editor Ontario—

It seems to be agreed among lawyers that no controversies, as a rule, are tried before court with so little satisfaction to the litigants and their counsel as building cases. The lawyer usually finds them so technical as to require on his part quite disproportionate to their importance, while the parties to the controversy often suffer, or think they suffer, as much through what they regard as their counsel's inability to understand building matters as through what their counsel, with more reason, considers their own inexcusable ignorance and neglect of the legal principles relating to their business.

There is an old proverb, that "he who undertakes to be his own lawyer has a fool for his client"; and if one, who essays to be his own architect usually purchases at a very high price a very imperfect knowledge of some portion of the art of building, the man who imagines that by reading a few law books he will be enabled to set the better of his less instructed fellow-citizens is likely to have his illusions removed still more suddenly and unceremoniously.

Nevertheless, as by knowing something of the art of construction persons of intelligence are led to greater respect for those who devote their lives to the study and practice of that art, and by understanding their counsels better, derive greater benefit from their services, so may a layman by knowing something of the legal rights and responsibilities that belong to his position, be enabled to avoid the misunderstanding which lie at the bottom of nearly all business disputes, at the same time that he is forewarned against the errors by which he will incur the penalties of neglect of duty, and fortified, if necessary, in his endeavors to resist intentional fraud, or to enforce just claims.

Among all the business relations which men enter into, there are none, perhaps, more complex than those which are involved in the construction of a building, by the co-operation of a multitude of contractors, journeymen, and dealers in materials, under the supervision of an architect, for the owner of the land on which the building is erected, who is also the employer of the architect; and it speaks more for the honesty and good faith with which such operations are carried on than for the prudence of the persons who engage in them that there are hardly any two classes of men whose legal status, in regard to other people is so undefined as that of architects and builders.

Contractors tendering on works of importance require skill and ability, and which entails considerable time and expense.

The contractors tendering expect that the lowest acceptable tender will be awarded the contract, otherwise they would not spend their time and money in so doing.

There is a moral obligation which should be more fully understood by the public at large, that engineers and contractors engaged in construction when they tender on some building give to the owner a certain technical service free of charge and the very fact of their doing so, should bind that owner to award the business to the lowest tender, provided always, that his credentials and recent works have given satisfaction to the owners; and that he is satisfied that the firm can carry out the construction to a successful issue.

Keen for Business

In these days when the volume of business is not offering, the man in the constructive industry are keen for business and are taking work at very narrow margins, and in some cases it is the contractor who is willing to take the biggest gamble with his capital account, who is successful in submitting the lowest tender. This is where the architect or engineer in charge of the work must guide the owner to a proper decision.

U. S. BUILDING PACIFIC PLANE

Huge Flier Will Go Winging Across Ocean This Summer

HAS HIGH SPEED

Giant Craft Has Been Under Construction for Over a Year

A New York despatch says: The United States navy, first to make a trans-Atlantic flight, will send a giant seaplane winging across the Pacific late this summer or early next spring.

The tri-plane, which will be known as the "Giant Boat" has been under design and construction for more than a year. The wings and "hull" are being made at the naval aircraft factory, Philadelphia. The motors and nacelles, or bodies, are being turned out by the Gallaudet Aircraft Corporation, at East Greenwich, Conn. The propellers are being built in Baltimore, by the American Propeller Company.

The time of the flight will depend upon when the craft is completed, and upon the results of the exhaustive tests to which the "Giant Boat" will be subjected. It is planned to begin assembling the plane in June or July.

The tentative route is: San Diego, Cal., to Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands, 2,100 miles; Honolulu to Wake Island, 1,800 miles; Wake to Guam, 1,100 miles; Guam to Manila, Philippine Islands, 1,200 miles. This is a total of 6,200 miles.

Whether the plane would continue to the Asian mainland has not yet been determined.

18-Foot Propellers

The general public had its first opportunity to marvel at the size of the great seaplane when one of its huge, 18-foot, three-bladed propellers arrived in New York. The propeller was brought here from Baltimore, en route to East Greenwich, where it will receive its initial test at the Gallaudet works.

Arriving at an East River pier, the propeller was to be transferred by motor truck to a New England coastal steamer for shipment to East Greenwich.

The "Giant Boat" will have a wing spread of 167 feet and will have three propellers, each driven by three 400-horsepower Liberty Motors, developing a total of 3,600 horsepower. The most radical departure from previous seaplane construction will be the arrangement of the motors and propellers. Each of the three nacelles will contain the Gallaudet drive, making possible the connection of three motors with each propeller. Any motor may be disengaged without interfering with the operation of the propeller.

The motors will be placed in an enclosed area, giving the mechanics opportunity to make any repairs without danger or inconvenience. The nacelles are torpedo-shaped bodies and the propeller in each is situated behind their middle, and aft of effect of propulsive wind friction to a minimum.

A trial seaplane, driven by a single motor under the new type of construction, recently made the phenomenal speed of 132.3 miles an hour. The plane, clocked 7,700 feet in ten minutes.

The "Giant Boat" probably will be able to make 110 miles an hour. It will have a lifting capacity of 30,000 pounds and a cruising radius of 3,000 miles without fuel replenishment. The crew probably will consist of at least 12 men.

SUICIDE'S NOTE DECLARES GUILT

Says "I Blew up Wall Street" and Names of Men Who Helped

NEW YORK, April 25.—Two sharp developments marked the search for the perpetrators of the Wall Street bomb explosion last September.

In Scranton, Pa., Tigo Legi was positively identified as a man seen talking to the driver of the death wagon shortly before the tragedy, by Thomas J. Smith, of Brooklyn, employed in the legal department of an insurance company in Manhattan.

The other incident that dashed an earlier theory was the suicide of Adolph La Sar, 87 years old, in his furnished room in Brooklyn, in an incognito diary mentioning half a dozen names of men in New York and Chicago was written: "They furnished the wagon load of T.N.T. with which I blew up Wall Street."

New York police commissioners says he needs a thousand men and $100,000 to enforce the liquor law.

Assumption by Germans of Allied Debt to U. S. Is Not in Proposal

BERLIN, April 25.—Payment by Germany of two hundred billion gold marks for reparations, is roughly the proposal submitted by Germany for transmission to the Allies, according to sources close to the government.

Payments will be spread over a period from thirty to forty-two years or less, according to Germany's economic recovery.

Economic pledges in the way of goods and participation in German industries are offered as guarantees. It is added, The proposals it was learned today refrain from proposing the assumption by Germany of the allied debts to the United States.

The German government is refraining from making public today its note to the United States on the reparations in order to give President Harding, it is explained, opportunities to consider and make enquiries concerning it, if he desires before forwarding it to the allies.

Will Support France

London, April 25.—Lloyd George stated in the Commons this afternoon that if the new German reparations proposals which had not yet been received proved unsatisfactory, Great Britain would support France at next Saturday's allied conference in her proposals for the occupation of the Westphalian coal fields.

The Allies under the decision reached in January in Paris demanded that Germany pay 225 billion gold marks, spread over forty-two years. An export duty of 12 per cent would also be levied on German exports.

MORE FILMS FROM BRITAIN ON WAY TO SCREENS HERE

LONDON, April 16. (By Mail)—The Anglo-Canadian Picture Plays Limited, who control the issue of British films in Canada at the present time, have booked a number of interesting plays for release during the coming four or five weeks. The British section of the Gaumont's have issued "Branded," and "Walls of Prejudice," with Josephine Earle and Dallas Anderson in the leading parts. Josephine Earle, all members of H. M. overseas forces will be collected, played in "The Lilac Domino," in which Mr. Anderson also claimed an important part, during the war, at the Empire in Leicester Square. Mr. Anderson was well known in Canada a few years ago as Mand Adams' leading man. Miss Earle recently married Captain Glenn, of the staff of the Canadian Air Force at Ottawa.

The Anglo-Canadian Company has also shipped "Her Penalty," with Pauline Peters, Olive Brooke and Stewart Rome in the lead. This film is particularly interesting, as it is the work of Elner Bruna, a Swedish producer who is making a name for himself in British screen circles. "Kissing Cup's Race," was despatched last week. Violet Hopson plays the star role in this film and Joe Plant, once a famous English fockey, has an important part to play.

The Master Film and the Broad-west Company have produced two pretty human interest plays lately, both of which will shortly be despatched to Canada. Hubert Carter plays the lead in "Scalliwag," and "In Full Cry" features Stewart Rome, the latter being a low-life comedy containing some striking photographic effects.

"John Forest Finds Himself," is a charming Devonshire Film just produced by the Hopworth people, with Henry Edwards and Chryssie White in the lead. "Mrs. Errick's Reputation," by the same company, is rather different, being a social drama, featuring Alma Taylor, James Carey and Gerald Ames. The same artists play in "The Lunatic at Large," which will go to Canada in a month's time or more.

I. O. O. F. HELD CHURCH PARADE

Hundred and Second Anniversary of Founding of Order Celebrated

MANY VISITORS HERE

Band and Uniforms (With Swords) Make Fine Sight Sunday Afternoon

The one hundred and second anniversary of the foundation of the I. O. O. F. was celebrated in Belleville on Sunday afternoon by a church parade in which members of the order from Picton, Trenton, Stirling and other centres participated. The Arthur L. I. band preceded the procession from Front street to Christ Church where the Daughters of Rebekah were assembled. The turnout was a very large one.

Rev. Walter Cox, past grand master of the I. O. O. F., was the preacher. Assisting him were Rev. Rural Dean Swaine, Rev. A. L. Geen, and Rev. Mr. Burke of Pary Sound. During the service the choir sang "Conquering Kings."

"This greatest of all fraternities (the I. O. O. F.)," said the past grand master, "is on the front in point of beneficence, it is the most catholic order in the world and its membership is the largest of all orders."

He spoke of co-partnership with God in service. The trouble with the world today is that many men look at church work, society work, labor as so much drudgery. Labor looks at work in that way, so does capital and they will work in co-operation. But Paul expresses the opposite view—work is co-partnership with God. Paul had as hard a turn as anybody but his heroic spirit sent him cheerfully through prison and through shipwreck for the Master's sake. He gloried in hardship and stored up assets in heaven although he never could give up his trade or tent making for a living.

The good and the evil of life is not in its external condition but in our own interpretation of it.

The question is one of motive. This world is ours to enjoy and to work into something better. God made the universe but man is left to finish it. The swamps are to be made parks, the iron ore is to be made into locomotives and watch springs, the stone ledge is become a temple, water to drive steamships and trains, and sand to be turned into lenses. This business of industrial enterprise is the junior partner's work. It is service to men. The Good Samaritan tried to save body and soul and is a type of what men should be.

Souls are the real value of the universe. They are ours, not only to possess but to save others.

The past grand master drew a picture of what the I. O. O. F. should be at the close of the second century with a membership of five millions.

Arthur Meighen, Prime Minister of Canada.

ELECTRICITY'S SECRET FOUND

Sir Ernest Rutherford Revises Common Theory That it is Fluid

ATOMIC BY NATURE

Alpha Particles Whiz Through Space at Ten Thousand Miles a Second

LONDON (By mail).—Sir Ernest Rutherford who, twenty years ago, was a professor at McGill University, Montreal, made a remarkable statement at the Royal Institution recently, on the subject of electricity.

"The fundamental basis of electricity, which has puzzled the world since the time of Leyden, has been definitely established," he said. "Electricity is not fluid—it is not even 'juice,' it is atomic, and on that fact alone was it possible to raise the huge edifices of the universe."

"Alpha" particles, of which electricity is the bulk result, are very urgent little creatures, according to his lecture. They whiz through space at something over 10,000 miles per second. Sometimes collisions occur. But instead of causing a terrific upheaval in infinity the weaker "Alphas" accept the rebound without the slightest rancor, turn completely round, and head off in the wake of the stronger "Alphas."

He demonstrated his theory by placing a dozen magnets attached to a water bath. As the magnets were added one by one they repelled each other, until finally they formed a complete circle with the strongest "Alpha" entrenched in the centre. Then by applying electric currents of varying voltages to the bath the works were made to advance and retreat like a bevy of exceptionally well trained ballet girls.

Commenting on this address, Lord Clifford, of Chudleigh, the eminent scientist present, said: "Electricity has been measured by atoms for some years, but this is the first time I have ever heard of electricity being described as atomic by nature.
