ANNUAL MEETING Of the Board of Police Commissioners--The Report for the Year of Chief Slemm--An all Round Increase of Salaries is Requested and Also More Men.

ONE Police Commissioners The annual meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners was held in the Judge's Chambers yesterday afternoon. His Honor Judge Hardy presided, all of the members of the board being present. Chief's Report. The Chief's report comprised some twenty pages of foolscap, including detailed schedules. Here are some extracts: The following men resigned during the year: James F. Reid, Edward Goadley, W. J. Cotcher, Thomas Mattingly and Thomas Portland. There were appointed: John Blanchard, Harry Stanley, Thos. W. Burn, Jordan G. Pickell, John L. Cobden and H. M. Humphreys. P. C. Chapman was made Detective Sergeant and one man was taken on to make the full number. Thos. Portland who was the last to resign was appointed Chief Constable of Cochrane, Ont. He had been on the force for five years, during which time he rendered good service. I was sorry to lose him, but Cochrane's gain was our loss. Second Hand Junk Shops. There are nine second hand stores and one pawn shop in the city. The license fees amounting to $145. There was only one conviction for breach of this by-law during 1912. Pool Rooms, Etc. There are 6 licensed pool rooms in the city. They have been well conducted during the year, no breaches of the by-law having taken place. Hotels and Licensed Stores. There are nine licensed hotels in the city. They have observed the law strictly. There were no breaches of the act during 1912. There are three shop licenses, and they have also observed the law. The license inspector, Mr. R. J. Eacret has been indefatigable in his efforts to see the law observed, and results show he is a capable officer. He laid 22 charges against illegal selling against private parties during 1912. Bowling Alleys. There has been no breach of this by-law during the year, and the proprietor has observed the law strictly. There is one bowling alley in the city at present. Cigarette By-law. There has been no breach of this by-law during the year, although there were three charges of selling tobacco to minors under the act, 2 being convicted. A number of storekeepers appear to be of the impression that if a boy brings an order from an adult member of his family for tobacco he may be supplied with the same. This is strictly against the law as no boy under the age of 18 may be supplied with tobacco under any consideration. I know all storekeepers selling tobacco will co-operate with me in trying to abate the use of the same by boys of tender years.

Carters' By-law. During 1912 there were 63 carters' licenses, representing 121 tags and $344 in fees, also 3 liveries and 5 cartage and liveries. There were no convictions in 1912, against 0 in 1911. I hope the carters will be as prompt as they were in 1911 in getting out their licenses by 1st of May, thus saving the department extra work. Cab By-law. There are five licensed cabs and one motor taxi in the city. There were three convictions during 1912 under this by-law. The cab service at the railway stations is entirely inadequate to the size of the city. Owing to our being on the main line of the Grand Trunk railway a number of important trains come in during the night, and the travelling public are often put to inconvenience from the want of a cab during those hours. To encourage a better service I would recommend a revision of the cab tariff, and that a reasonable increase in the same be allowed. Doors Found Open. There were 300 doors found open during 1912. They seem to be increasing in number every year, thus leaving an opportunity for thieves to take advantage of such oversight. I trust that merchants and business people will take a little more care in securing their premises before leaving at night. Houses of Ill-fame. There are no established houses of ill-fame in the city, although there were three convictions against disorderly houses. Our aim is to suppress any appearance of such places. There is no "Red Light District" in Brantford, although some have suggested to me that I should allow such places. Experience has proved to me that these places are a source for thieves, crooks and hold-up men to come to such a city, and conceal themselves in order to commit depredations, and I wish to make it plain to those who might favor this that so long as the Criminal Code reads as follows, I will not permit such places to exist. Criminal Code, Sec. 238: "Every one is guilty of an indictable offence and liable to one year's imprisonment who keeps any disorderly house, that is to say, any common bawdy house, common gaming house or common betting house." The law is clearly defined in this respect, and that is sufficient for me. Gambling Resorts. There have been no convictions for gambling during 1912, and as far as I am aware there are no gambling resorts in the city. We make every effort to break up such places as come under our notice. The Lord's Day Act. During 1912 there were 5 convictions under this Act. In 1911 there were 7, and in 1910, 38. I am very glad to see that the Lord's Day is being better observed. The principal offenders previously were new comers to Canada who were ignorant at the time of our laws. Dog By-Laws. There were 13 convictions under this by-law for 1912. Vagrancy. We had 100 vagrants pass through our hands in 1912, 14 less than last year, the great majority being persons from outside points. Transient Lodgers. There were 115 transient lodgers who received accommodation in 1912 against 158 in 1911. Foreigners. It is estimated that we have 1,875 foreigners at present in the city, as per schedule C. A number of them go to other cities and towns for the winter. About 700 left Brantford in the fall for Windsor, St. Catharines and other places, intending to return in the Spring. I have again much pleasure in giving my annual commendation to the ladies and gentlemen of the Evangelical Union No. 47, Dalhousie street, who devote several evenings during the week and on Sunday to the teaching of foreigners the English language. This has had a very material effect in assisting the police to maintain law and order amongst those people, and Mr. Louis Stander, the foreign missionary, and his wife, who act as interpreters for us, have also assisted in this good work. We also appreciate very much the valuable assistance and kindness of Adjutant Nicholas R. Trickey, and the officers and members of the Salvation Army in the unsparing effort they have made to uplift the fallen of all nationalities. Public Playgrounds. We hope that the good work done by the Parks Commissioners and City Council in establishing playgrounds for boys may, in the near future, be extended to girls. (Continued on Page 3)

THE VERY LATEST DESPATCHES

Washington's Birthday is Celebrated in Washington--Victoria Hockey Club Swamps New Westminster--Death of a Leading Trap Shooter--An Aeroplane Hit by a Turkish Shell--Strikers Attack Two Employes in the States.

A BIG TIME (Courier Leased Wire). WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.--The national capital to-day is one great picture of waving flags in honor of Washington's birthday. A large number of patriotic celebrations are on the programme beginning with memorial services by the Knights of Columbus at the Catholic University, and the services conducted by the Sons of the Revolution and the Sons of the American Revolution this morning, followed by similar services by patriotic and state organizations throughout the day.

IS DEAD (Courier Leased Wire). OTTAWA, Feb. 22.--Isador N. Deslauriers, one of the founders of the St. Hubers Gun Club, and for many years one of Canada's leading trap shooters, died here last night of paralysis aged 82. He was also a prominent military man, having been for a great number of years steward of the Canadian rifle team to Biele. He has crossed the Atlantic more than fifty times with the Biele team and different Ministers of the Railways and Canals Department, where he was employed.

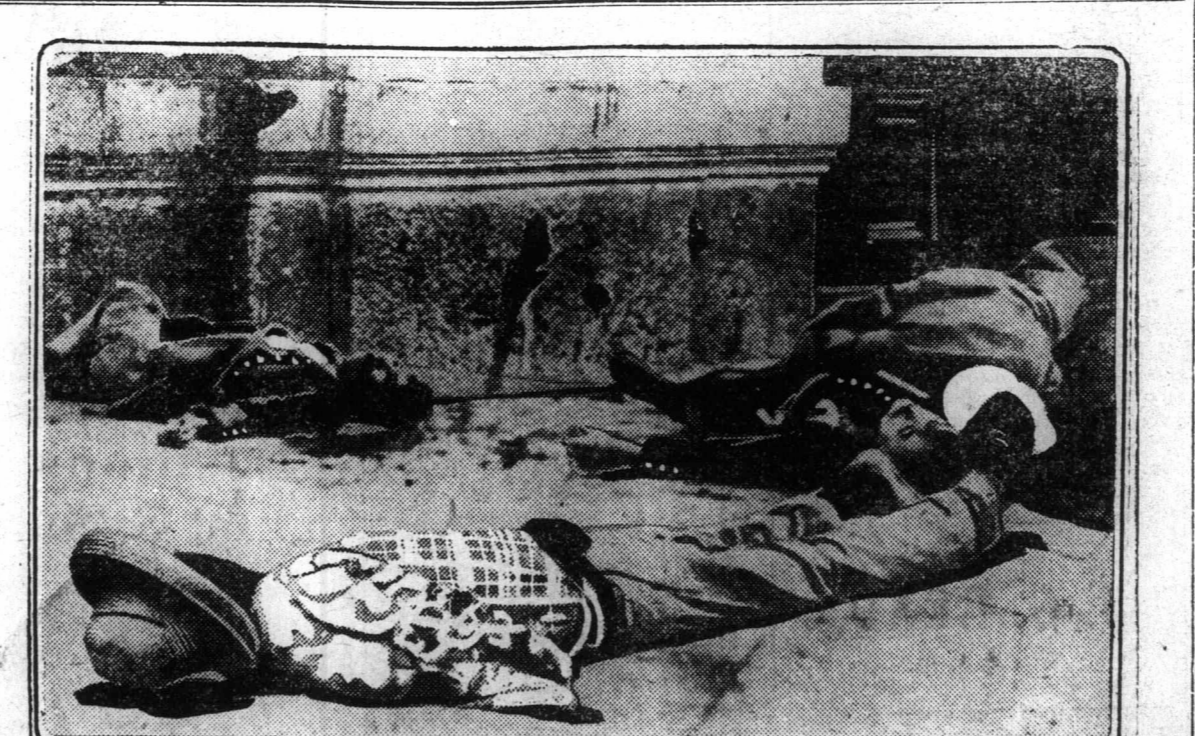

VICTORIA WON (Courier Leased Wire). VICTORIA, B.C., Feb. 22.--Victoria swamped New Westminster here last night, the final score being 8 to 1. This is the most decisive defeat met with by any team in the Pacific Coast League this season. The New Westminster team is now cleared out of the running for the championship. Last night's game was very one-sided, even more so than the last game between them. The Victoria team broke through the Westminster defence whenever they liked.

King and Queen Hold the Second Court of the Season (Courier Leased Wire). LONDON, Feb. 22.--The second court of the season was held by the King and Queen at Buckingham Palace last evening, and was largely attended. The Queen wore a gown of pale tawny with blue brocade and with a design in gold and silver wreaths embroidered in silver. Her train was of gold and silver with Indian embroidery. It was noticeable how fashionable simple handiwork of flowers have become. Many women carried clusters of orchids, roses, lilies or carnations. There was a great display of jewels and many striking costumes.

Keeping Age in This Instance is a Matter of Bread and Butter (Courier Leased Wire). BERLIN, Feb. 22.--Actors and actresses in Germany have been placed in the awkward dilemma of being compelled to give their ages in the new imperial insurance act, and they petitioned the federal council through the German Stage Society, to release them from their predicament by amending the measure. The players pray the authorities to permit them to guard the dates of birth as a professional secret. They declare that it is not a mere question of vanity, but one of bread and butter, especially for the women, many of whom obtain engagements by reason of their talent being combined with a youthful appearance. If they are forced to state their ages many managers will look askance at them, they argue.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT ON BEHALF OF THE DUKE. Lt.-Col. Lowther, military secretary of H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught, has written Mr. W. F. Cockshutt, M.P., expressing the hearty thanks of His Royal Highness for the courtesies extended him in Brantford and also for the "capital account" of his visit in the Courier. He states that signed photographs of Their Royal Highnesses will be forwarded to Mayor Hartman and the Six Nations Chiefs.

IN MEXICO

There is Likely to be More Trouble--Acceptance of New Administration Not as General as Expected.

(Courier Leased Wire). MEXICO CITY, Feb. 22.--Acceptance of the new administration in Mexico is not so general as was at first thought. To the States of Coahuila, Sonora and Yucatan, which from the moment of the overthrow of Francisco Madero declared they were not in accord with the new conditions, must now be added part of the State of Oaxaca, where the Serano Indians have refused to recognize the government of provisional President Huerta. The governor of Oaxaca is so alarmed by the disturbed conditions in the state capital that he has asked for reinforcements from Mexico City. Between the federal capital and the Port of Vera Cruz, also, conditions are very uncertain. Bodies of federal troops have been sent to the cities of Jalapa and Orizaba, in the State of Vera Cruz, in order to maintain the balance of power. The Indians in the State of Oaxaca have gone on the warpath from personal motives. Felix Diaz is a native of that state, and the Indians declare that since he has not been made President of the republic, it is necessary to appoint a provision-

Major General Victoriano Huerta (on the left). He has been chosen provisional president of Mexico. On the right is General E. Z. Steever, commander of the U. S. Army Department of Texas, who will likely be in command of an American force that is sent into Mexico in case intervention is deemed necessary.

Woman Charged With Attempting to Murder Step Child (Courier Leased Wire). EDMONTON, Feb. 22.--Mary Mogush, who is charged with attempting to murder her 12-year-old stepson, Akin Mogush, at Bashaw, Jan. 10, was brought to Edmonton yesterday by Constable Clifford of the Royal N. W. Mounted Police. The woman has been committed for trial and the case will come up at the next assizes. Previous to the shooting, it is alleged, Mrs. Mogush repeatedly threatened the lives of her two stepchildren, of whom she was insanely jealous. In a fit of unreasoning anger she wilfully shot the boy, Akin, the bullet entering his forehead. She afterwards threatened Francis, the 9-year-old girl, with the same fate, but was prevented from committing the deed and placed in confinement. The boy's condition was at first critical but has since improved.

A Boycott Against Jews is Spreading in Russia Poland (Courier Leased Wire). VIENNA, Feb. 22.--According to reports received here from Warsaw, a boycott against the Jews on political grounds is spreading rapidly throughout Russian Poland. Of the 21,600 commercial houses and stores in Warsaw, 9,700 are in the hands of Jews. In the clothing trade, for instance, the Jews have 1,946 business places, while the Christians have 999. It is a remarkable circumstance that in the financial institutions of Russian Poland the Jews are in a decided minority. Of 661 banks only 120 are Jewish. In the country districts the boycott is forcing the Jews to leave their homes, the village authorities in several instances expelling them. Polish peasants are refusing to rent their houses to Jews.

Stonehenge is to Remain in the Old Country (Courier Leased Wire). LONDON, Feb. 22.--One of England's most famous archaeological relics is Stonehenge, included in the Amesbury estate, belonging to Sir Edmund Antrobus, which is to be sold shortly by private contract. It is a condition of the sale, however, that the historic ruins shall be preserved to the nation, this stipulation effectively disposing of the repeated rumors that American dollars were going to secure Stonehenge for the United States. Efforts are being made to induce the war department, which owns a large portion of Salisbury plain, to purchase that part of

NEW PUBLIC BUILDING. A rumor that the contract has been let for Brantford's new Public Building is not yet confirmed. The current talk is that a Brantford concern may be successful.

OBSTRUCTION TACTICS

At the annual meeting of the Liberal Association of Markham Mr. J. R. Campbell, a Grit stalwart, made the statement: "I do not believe that nine out of ten Liberals know the platform of their party."

The above is absolutely correct, and the one blind policy they are now pursuing is obstruction.

At a Grit caucus held in Ottawa on Friday it was determined to keep up the fight against the naval bill and to oppose any attempt to carry a closure measure.

Speaking yesterday at a meeting of South Grey Liberals, Mr. H. Guthrie, M.P., put matters a little more plainly when he said: "The Opposition will oppose the passing of the naval bill, and we can hold the fort until after March 31, when the Government's funds will run out, and they will be forced to agree to an election to secure further supply from Parliament."

These fatuous gentlemen still seem to think that the reverse which they suffered in September of 1911 was merely a fluke, and that in another speedy appeal they would again come out on top.

Nonsense. They don't stand for a solitary thing which leads to any such conclusion. They are still clinging to the Reciprocity corpse on the fool basis that it will still live.

Some have got in wrong on the Reciprocity question, and as Mr. Miller says, "Ten out of ten of their adherents do not know where they are supposed to be at."

If they succeeded in again disrupting public business and public convenience by another speedy appeal they would simply get a worse walloping than last time, for public sentiment is still against Reciprocity, is strongly on behalf of an immediate contribution to the British navy, and realizes that Borden and his associates, because of their clean and statesmanlike conduct, are men worth keeping in power for many years.

AS TO PHYSICAL HEALTH AND ACHIEVEMENT.

The Courier is in receipt of a pathetic letter from a correspondent who says in part: "Through no fault of my own, I am a hopeless cripple. Is it true the saying that for success there must be a sound mind and a sound body?"

Generally yes; altogether most emphatically no. Some of the world's greatest achievements have been done by men and women physically handicapped.

Julius Caesar was subject to epileptic fits. The great Napoleon was the victim of several seizures.

Joan of Arc was certainly the subject of hallucinations. Milton, the immortal author of Paradise Lost, was blind.

Byron was a cripple. Spencer, admitted to be one of the world's greatest thinkers, was so delicate that he could not in early life be sent to a regular school and he refrained from marrying because he did not wish to become a trouble to others.

Carlyle suffered from indigestion to a diabolical extent. George Elliott, the nom de plume of Miss Lewis, the greatest of all women writers, was constantly indisposed.

So was Georges Sandys, the deservedly famous French authoress. To continue the list would be to enumerate scores of others. Physical disadvantage with some people would seem to be a spur to achievement.

Look at Helen Keller, who though blind and deaf and dumb has made her mark in the world.

STANDARD BANK. The thirty-eighth report of the Standard Bank elsewhere in this issue, reflects with regard to this institution the general prosperity of the country.

NOTES AND COMMENTS. Why are certain Grit members so anxious that Miller should still keep his mouth shut?

The Grit members are still talking a wearying stream at Ottawa with regard to the naval bill. They are not advancing anything new, and their gabbling is simply costing the country a few thousands per day.

Brantford Liberals are making a big effort to show that they are still alive, but results are not very marked.

Mr. F. L. Congdon, K.C., of Dawson, former member for the Yukon, was the attraction last night, but the attendance was small.

marked improvement has resulted in the school attendance. The report shows that the pupils now number 3,700 against 2,518 last year, an increase of 1,182, and visits paid 1,047 against 677. It very often happens that several children in foreign families who have just come from their native land have reached the age of 12 or 13 years, thus leaving only one year's schooling under the act.

Carlyle suffered from indigestion to a diabolical extent. George Elliott, the nom de plume of Miss Lewis, the greatest of all women writers, was constantly indisposed.

So was Georges Sandys, the deservedly famous French authoress. To continue the list would be to enumerate scores of others. Physical disadvantage with some people would seem to be a spur to achievement.

Look at Helen Keller, who though blind and deaf and dumb has made her mark in the world.

Hard and soft corns both yield to Hollaways Corn Cure, which is entirely safe to use, and certain and satisfactory in its action.

have quelled the riot before damage was done to the building. Considerable damage was done to property, but fortunately no person was seriously injured.

Subsequently the Police Commissioners issued a notice in the public press requesting that any one who had complaints against the police department or any member thereof, lodge the same with them for investigation.

A meeting of the commissioners was held at an early date, but no complaints of any kind were received. Yours obedient servant, CHARLES SLEMIN, Chief Constable.

Schedule C. Showing amount received during 1912 and paid out for damages, witness fees, etc., and sums paid over to the city: Received, $5,889.10; Disbursed, $2,280.71; paid over, $3,608.39.

Schedule D. Showing lost and stolen property recovered by the police during the year and returned to owners, with owners' valuation of the same.

Month Lost Stolen. January $ 177 30 $ 84 50. February 212 07 131 51. March 201 60 194 55. April 650 20 384 00. May 337 15 110 05. June 1,561 80 104 60. July 888 50 151 50. August 1,010 90 318 00. September 720 70 45 00. October 1,193 00 57 00. November 1,233 12 203 00. December 979 25 176 60.

Requirements. Chief's Office—A desk for the chief's office and hardwood floor and rug.

Guard Room—Six new lockers in the guard room for the use of the men.

Courts—Linoleum is required inside the railing of the Court room in front of the Bench, and four oak benches for the court room.

Boys' Strong Room—I table, two chairs.

Women's Room—I table and two chairs.

Magistrate's Office—Gas stove, Dictating machine, typewriter and one cabinet for filing finger prints and photos; a moveable electric light.

Patrol Stable—One ventilator.

Repairs Required—Damages to station, the woodwork outside wants painting. It has not been painted since the building was put up over 20 years ago.

Complaints from citizens not ventilated in the police court.—There were 319 reports and complaints from citizens investigated by the police and settled satisfactorily to all concerned without publicity or notice to prevent crime and if possible to keep both men and boys out of the police court. This naturally causes a large reduction in police court cases.

Telephone Calls. There were 16,780 telephone calls from the city and outside places. The above calls are noted down as they come in, checking time and place, and have been used in evidence in court cases.

Short Report of the Work of the Department for 1912. There were all told 1068 cases tried in the police court in 1912. There were 1000 reports from citizens investigated by the police of which 533 were cleared up; during 1912 the drunks arrested living in the city numbered 321. There were also 208 drunks arrested who gave their home address as from outside places.

The sudden deaths in Brantford during 1912 numbered 15. There were nine inquests held by the coroner.

A petition from the policemen for an increase of salary of 25 cents per day, was also received. The members of the force claimed that owing to the increased cost of living, they were of the opinion that they were entitled to an increase of salary.

A deputation from the police force consisting of Policemen Botwick, Felker and Cadden appeared before the Commissioners and asked the board to have the request for an increase of pay granted.

A comparison of the wages paid to policemen in Toronto, Hamilton, London and Brantford is shown by the following schedule: The request for advance in salary will be considered at the next meeting of the Commissioners, which will be held next Thursday afternoon. The board was of the opinion that this matter should be looked into thoroughly and the matter gone into very carefully.

There was no motion made of any increase in the force.

Petitions. Three petitions for better police protection were received, one from ratepayers in the vicinity of the Murray street subway, bearing 42 signatures, one from Eagle Place signed by 86 ratepayers and one from the ratepayers of the Holmedale, largely signed.

A few accounts were passed and ordered to be paid.

The Commissioners then adjourned until next Thursday afternoon.

Sores Heal Quickly.—Have you a persistent sore that refuses to heal? Then, try Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil in the dressing. It will stop sloughing, carry away the proud flesh, draw out the pus and prepare a clean way for the new skin. It is the recognized healer among oils and myriads of people can certify that it is the best.

OCEAN DERELICTS.

Floating Perils That Drift With Winds and Currents.

A MENACE TO EVERY VESSEL.

These Vampires of the Sea, Some of Them Wholly Submerged, Are Dreaded by All Mariners—Methods of Locating and Destroying Them.

Today, according to Popular Electricity, there are about 2,000 derelicts in the waters of the world—floating perils that go where wind and currents bid them. Every sea is made hazardous by their presence. They have crashed into ocean liners and into junks of the China sea. To them all vessels are alike—something to be destroyed. They crash against them in the dead of night, when inky blackness hides their coming. Wrecks themselves, they seem to strive to drag all others to their own fate.

So they go drifting on the seven seas. More particularly they seem to swarm eagerly in the gulf stream. From Cape Hatteras reaching north to the Grand banks of Newfoundland is the "graveyard of the Atlantic." It is a rolling waste where many ships are buried. It is a place where derelicts borne by the sweep of the gulf stream and the countercurrent of the Labrador current dart about like angry sharks, eager to fasten their maws on the hull of some ship.

In the hydrographic office at some seaport the wireless is sounding. A message is coming through the void. It is a message of peril coming from a steamship. It warns that a derelict has been sighted squarely in the path of ocean travel. For days the men at the station have been waiting for word of this derelict. Its position on the chart that all hydrographic offices keep has not moved for a week. They have lost track of it. Its driftings are as a mystery. The station men have been unable to wire back over the seas warning captains of its whereabouts. Any moment they may hear that it has attacked and wrecked.

But now the derelict has come into the light. The Baltic has sighted it and sent a warning humming over the seas. Now the men at the station are quick to act. At a word from their chief they relay the message to the commander of the revenue cutter Seneca, lying by. The Seneca has been waiting for the message—waiting for the derelict's whereabouts to be revealed. And now, knowing them, it gets up steam and sails forth, a purger of the seas, on destruction bent.

Of derelicts there are two kinds—those that float observed and those that float unobserved. Most people imagine that wrecked ships are ultimately driven ashore and that vessels reported sinking at the time of abandonment go down soon after. That is not true. Abandoned ships breed vampires of the deep. For months they float. Water-logged, half sunken, pitched and torn by storm, they yet somehow seem to survive. They will live in gales that send the stanchest vessels to the bottom. Only time can destroy them—that is, unless electricity takes a hand.

Too heavy to rise to the surface and yet not water soaked enough to sink to the bottom and remain there, they crawl along just under the riding swells. Their abiding place is nowhere. From the untraveled tracks of the seas they may be carried by a storm directly in the path of navigation. Whether they go no word goes before them. They descend unobserved and quietly, grimly. Not until they have struck is their presence known. Then they take their toll. They destroy a ship, and from it another of their kind is made. It is their way of multiplying and spreading the breed. That is why it is so important that they be destroyed.

But now the Seneca has steamed into the province of the derelict. High in the mast the lookout is casting his eyes on all sides. If he is not alert the derelict may attack those on board the Seneca. Self preservation is strong in a vampire.

But now the tip of a submerged mass rises above a distant swell. Caught in a sudden pitch of the sea, the derelict has revealed itself. From the lookout's nest the cry sounds. The speed of the Seneca is reduced. It moves slowly toward its quarry. And now the work of harnessing electricity for the destruction it must do begins. From the magazines are brought mines charged with sixty pound burdens of gun-cotton. From the storehouses are brought insulated electric cables and a hand magnet. A small boat is lowered, and the mines are taken on board. Then the boat rides over the sea toward the derelict, a risky ride if the swells are running high.

And the next comes the work of placing the mines where they will create the greatest explosions. If the wreck was submerged the task is more difficult. More mines must be used. Ergonite care must be employed in their placing. Finally the explosive charges are connected by means of the insulated electric cables, and the wrecking party draws off to a safe distance. The man with the hand magnet provides the necessary current, the detonators of fulminate of mercury explode, the primers of dry gun-cotton are dealt a harsh blow, the explosion is sufficient to loosen all the heavy powers of the masses of wet gun-cotton, and then the derelict floats, its back broken, its sides flying through the air, a scraping and rending of planks, the sudden splash as they hit the water against the sound of a vampire dying.

IF CONSTIPATED OR BILIOUS—"CASCRETS."

NO BILIOUSNESS, HEADACHE, SICK, SOUR, STOMACH, COATED TONGUE OR CONSTIPATION.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours, and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery, indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, eating. A Cascaret to-night will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then to keep their stomach, liver and bowels regulated, and never know a miserable moment. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing too.

Money spent on keeping time pieces "on the job" is really a necessary expenditure.
Plenty of good watches aren't doing their best work, simply because they can't.

Many a fifty or hundred dollar watch is being slowly but surely ruined, because it needs a dollars worth of cleaning.
If this reminds you that your watch is in that shape, let it also remind you that our repair dept. can attend to your needs on short notice.

TORONTO, Feb. 21—In a closely contested game here last night St. Michael's beat Midland 5 to 2, in a senior O.H.A. semi-final game. The rink was packed to the rafters, and a thousand were turned away. About 8000 saw the game. The St. Michael's had a three goal lead from their game in Midland. In the first half St. Michael's had all the better of the play, and at half time led by 4 to 1. In the second half, however, Midland came to life and pressed, only the good work of Thompson in goal holding down their score. Jerry Laffamme, the star centre man of St. Michael's, received a nasty cut over the eye in the first half, and was forced to retire. He came back in the second half and did phenomenal work.

BASKETBALL

Two teams of business men went to Hamilton, where they played the business men of the Y.M.C.A. In the first game the locals were winners; in the second, however, they were not so fortunate. The score for the first game was 26—12 in favour of the locals. The line-up was: Dr. Linscott, E. Campbell, forwards; M. Roper, centre; Mr. Caspell and Rev. Llewellyn Brown, defence. This win was quite a surprise to the Hamilton men, as they won both games here.

The second team was composed of H. Hamilton, H. E. Rose, forwards; Thorburn, defence; Mr. Lockington, E. Raynor, centre. E. Campbell replaced Lockington at half-time. This game Hamilton won by a score of 29—13.

About twelve local men took in the trip. After the games the Brantford men were the guests of Hamilton at lunch.

SOFT BALL LEAGUE

An agitation is on foot among a number of baseball fans to form a soft ball league in the city for the summer. Soft ball in reality is nothing else than indoor baseball played outdoors. Those behind the scheme are very enthusiastic, and claim that a number of teams could easily be induced to organize and play in the city. The game is played on the different playgrounds in the evenings. A little later, when Old Sol gets a little stronger, a meeting of the soft ball fans will be called and the matter gone into thoroughly.

RUGBY FOOTBALL

Fred Eastman is authority for the statement that rugby football is to be a realization in Brantford this summer, and that the rough-and-tumble game is to flourish in the Telephone City. Fred says that there are a number of rugby players who have recently settled in the city and could be easily induced to turn out and get into harness again. He also says that a team could secure good backing, and financial backing, too. It is to be hoped that Fred is right, and that Brantford will soon be on the rugby football map.

A meeting of the Sons of England football club will be held on Monday, Feb. 24th, in the Borden Club rooms, Dalhousie street, at 8 o'clock. All members, players and all English interested in football are requested to attend.

Queer Egyptian Burial Customs.

The Egyptians have many curious customs in connection with the burial of their dead and the healing of the sick. At every Moslem funeral, for instance, there are hired mourners, varying in number according to the wealth of the deceased. These funerals are always headed by old blind men, carrying long staves in their hands and wailing loudly. They are followed by the relatives and friends of the deceased, and then comes the coffin. This is succeeded by two or three of the native flat carts common to Cairo, filled with women mourners. Mourning, in fact, is a profession among the women. Every day you see groups of them squatting on the ground outside the hospital at Cairo, waiting to be hired for a funeral.—Wide World Magazine.

Unique Signs in France.

Frederick Q. Penfield was walking along a New Jersey road while his chauffeur fixed a broken tire. He noticed a danger sign at the roadside. "In France," he said, "at the entrance to their towns they have signs that are characteristically French, and seem to me delightful in spirit. Over the road as you enter the town limits is an arch on which is printed the name of the town, the number of the road—for all the roads are numbered in France—and the name of the department in which the town lies. Below these are the larger letters, 'Attention aux enfants' (Be careful about the children). And then as you leave the town you see the back side of a similar sign, which says, 'Merci' (Thanks).—New York Post.

SEND NAME AND ADDRESS TODAY—YOU CAN HAVE IT FREE AND BE STRONG AND VIGOROUS.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, lack of vigor, weakened manhood, fading memory and lame back, brought on by excesses, unmanly drains, or the follies of youth, that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his manly power and virility, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men, and I am convinced it is the surest-acting combination for the cure of deficient manhood and vigor failure ever put together.

I think I owe it to my fellow-man to send them a copy in confidence, so that any man anywhere who is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop dragging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what I believe is the quickest-acting, restorative, rebuilding, SPOT-TOUCHING remedy ever devised, and so cure himself at home quietly and quickly. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, 3782 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid recipe in a plain ordinary envelope free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $3.00 to $5.00 for merely writing out a prescription like this—but I send it entirely free.

Housework Drudgery!

Housework is drudgery for the weak woman. She brushes, dusts and scrubs, or is on her feet all day attending to the many details of the household, her back aching, her temples throbbing, nerves quivering under the stress of pain, possibly dizzy feelings. Sometimes rest in bed is not refreshing, because the poor tired nerves do not permit of refreshing sleep. The real need of weak, nervous women is satisfied by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and as Mrs. Briggs and others testify:

It Makes Weak Women Strong and Sick Women Well.

This "Prescription" removes the cause of women's weakness, heals inflammation and ulceration. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite and induces restful sleep.

Dr. Pierce is perfectly willing to let every one know what his "Favorite Prescription" contains, a complete list of ingredients on the bottle-wrapper. Do not let any druggist persuade you that his unknown composition is "just as good" in order that he may make a bigger profit.

Mrs. BRAZILL, Burges, of 529 N. Washington St., Delphos, Ohio, writes: "Having taken your 'Favorite Prescription' for a bad case of intestinal disease and constipation, my woman's life, for which I was almost unable to do anything, I think I am safe in saying that there are no remedies in the world like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Purifying Lotion Tablets.' I am now enjoying the best of health, and thank Dr. Pierce for his wonderful medicines which have done me a world of good."

The report of the affairs of the Bank at the close of its Thirty-eighth year, ending the 31st January, 1913, reflects a substantial growth in all branches and indicates that its funds have been employed at remunerative rates during the year.

The net profits, after making provision for Bad and Doubtful Debts, Rebate of Interest on Unmatured Bills under discount, Exchange Cost of Management, etc., amount to $62,079.70, being at the rate of .68 per cent. on the average paid up Capital for the year. This amount, added to the balance brought forward from last year, together with Premium on New Stock, makes the sum of $52,738.37, which has been appropriated as follows:

Four quarterly dividends at the rate of 13% per annum.	$82,052.17
Transferred to Officers' Pension Fund	12,500.00

	$952,738.37

You will be asked to approve of By-laws increasing the amount set apart for the remuneration of Directors and the annual contribution to the Officers' Pension Fund.

It is with the deepest regret that your Directors have to report the death during the year of Mr. Frederick Wyld, for thirty years a Director, and occupying the position of Vice-President since 1902. Mr. G. P. Scholfield was elected to the vacancy on the Board and Mr. W. Francis, K.C. succeeded to the Vice-Presidency.

Branches and sub-branches of the Bank were opened during the year at Sarnia, Arthur, and Udonia, in Ontario; City Branches at West Toronto, Bloor Street and Ossington Avenue, and Broadway Ave.; Prussia, Sask., and Vancouver, B. C. A branch will also be opened about the first of March next at Edmonton, Alberta.

Adequate and most desirably located new premises have been secured recently at Winnipeg and Vancouver.

The usual thorough inspection of the Head Office and Branches has been made during the year and the staff have discharged their duties faithfully and efficiently.

W. F. COWAN,
President.

Lady Marjorie's Love

"No, nor a mother, either, which is more to the purpose," Barrington muttered half aloud, as he drifted die amused look which the conversation with Mrs. Tring seldom failed to produce in him. Poor little soul—poor little thing. She frets after her father still, of course—she must do when he has not been much more than two months in his grave—it is only natural. He looked at the housekeeper. "She is too much alone," he said in his brisk, decisive way—"that is partly what it is I think. What has she to do but mope, poor child, spending hours as she does by herself I can't tell you, Mrs. Tring, and well I don't like the idea of her fretting and being miserable any better than you do. Don't you think it would be a good thing if she went away from the Castle for a while. If it were suggested to the Countess—"

"Oh, dear no, Mr. Barrington—she, dear no, sir. Why that's the very thing, poor dear, that is breaking her heart."

"Oh! What is it?" Barrington demanded bluntly.

"Leaving the Castle, or rather knowing that she has got to leave it." The housekeeper's kind eyes were wet and she took out her handkerchief. "Ah, Mr. Barrington, if I was to talk for a week I could not make you understand what that means to her. She loves every stick and stone of it, and so proud of it she is. As for me, I'm grieved for my lord if ever a loving heart grieved yet, and it was a blow to her to lose all the thousands and thousands of fortune that she had always looked to have. That's the very thing, poor dear, that is breaking her heart."

"Who neglects her?" he demanded crisply. "The writer of this do you mean?"

"Of course I do, sir. Never once has he been down to see her for so much as an hour since the day that my lord was buried, if you will believe me, and she is engaged to him this twelvemonth."

"Lady Marjorie is not engaged?"

"The tone made the words a sharp assertion."

"But indeed she is, sir; I'm sure I ought to know. Why, but for my lord's death and all the other dreadful misfortunes we should have had the wedding before many months had gone by."

"Alas!" The whistle he gave was long drawn out, peculiar sounding; he put down the letter, walked to and fro, and resumed his former position. "Who is he? What is his name?" he demanded with his former abruptness.

"Bligh, sir—Mr. Loftus Bligh. Or," adding, Mrs. Tring, correcting herself, "the Honorable Loftus Bligh, by rights. He is the third son of Viscount Rydersdale, but he has been an invalid and pretty well confined to his room for about five years now. And a fine sharp temper and tongue he has, as well as he was about as well as I remember. An angel from heaven would have been put to it to please him, Mr. Barrington, the last time he was here."

"Barrington did not answer beyond a short nod; it seemed that he was not interested in the intricacies of the Viscount's temper or otherwise. He looked down, frowning; his habitual bright look was lost in gloom."

"Bligh? Loftus Bligh?" he repeated slowly, rolling the name over and over. "Bligh—old Rydersdale's son? I have heard of him, surely—I must have heard of him. The name is familiar somehow. Bligh? I say, Mrs. Tring, do you happen to know what he is?"

"What he is, sir?" Mrs. Tring, not understanding, echoed the question doubtfully.

"Yes, what profession? What does he do for a living, you know? Third son's name, not much as a rule."

"Mrs. Tring feeling that her own knowledge of the subject far surpassed her questioner's, indulged in an amused laugh that was not without its sarcastic ring, for she was immensely resenting this neglect of her young lady, and Mr. Bligh in consequence had fallen in her favor."

"Mr. Bligh does not belong to any profession, Mr. Barrington, and never has done that I know of," she said. "He has an income from his mother's side of the family I have heard."

"Much?" asked Barrington tersely.

"It can't be sir, from what I have heard—that is," he added the housekeeper, qualifying her statement, "not for a gentleman."

23 THE PROSPECT

THEY DON'T HESITATE TO TELL OF MOST WONDERFUL CURES

Letters in almost every mail bring true testimony of cures by "Fruit-a-tives", the great fruit medicine.

Reasons why the writers are anxious for all to hear their messages,—these stories are a matter of public interest and benefit.

It is astonishing the number of letters the proprietors of "Fruit-a-tives" receive every day, each praising this wonderful fruit medicine, and telling in simple language what it has done in cases of Chronic Constipation and Kidney Trouble.

Frequent mails bring testimonials from people—good, reliable and honest people amongst whom are not a few in prominent positions. It might be thought that such persons would not care for the publicity of having their testimonials reproduced. But no, they want their glad testimony to circle the globe if possible.

They have been great sufferers, but they have been cured by "Fruit-a-tives". The writers give their names and addresses, and frequently forward photographs to be published with the testimonials. "Fruit-a-tives" testimonials are not written for worldly reward. The recompense is in the good these testimonials will bring to others, who may be suffering from Bladder Troubles, Severe Headaches or Impure Blood.

Whether you have read "Fruit-a-tives" testimonials or not, don't miss one of them from this day forward.

You will gladly add your testimony no doubt when you have been cured by taking "Fruit-a-tives". Sold at 50c. a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, trial size 25c. If you don't get them right at hand they will be sent post paid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh), that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Spring Humors are due to the impure, impoverished, devalitized condition of the blood brought about by the unhealthful modes of living during the winter, too close confinement, too little outdoor air and exercise, too heavy diet. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures them.

Most Satisfactory—"We have used Hood's Sarsaparilla for years as a spring medicine, and have always found it very beneficial. We have tried different remedies but find Hood's the most satisfactory." Miss Dorothea McDonald, 10 Buckingham Ave., Montreal, Que.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Thompson who have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Hall, Echo Place, leave for their home in Winnipeg on Monday.

That we have a very much alive branch of the Daughters of the Empire in this city, was evinced on Monday last, by the large attendance at the annual meeting which was held in the Board Rooms of the Public Library. The Regent, officers and Councillors represent a strong body of workers and 1913 should see great results.

Wallace, Miss Emily Bunnell, Miss Doris Hardy, Miss Muriel Bennett, Miss Marion Watts, Miss Evelyn Bucke, Miss Ada Bart, Miss Miller (Napanea), Miss Winifred Watts and

On April 8th, in New York, a Shakespearean fete will be held by the various chapters of the Daughters of the Empire, of that city, for the benefit of the fund for the home for aged British men and women. The pageant will be held during Royal Commission Week and Earl Grey, former Governor-General of Canada, and Members of the Peace Commission are to be guests of honor. The two latest additions are the Prince of Wales Chapter in Chicago and the Sir Francis Drake of Balboa, in the Canal Zone.—Toronto Saturday Night.

On April 8th, in New York, a Shakespearean fete will be held by the various chapters of the Daughters of the Empire, of that city, for the benefit of the fund for the home for aged British men and women.

The pageant will be held during Royal Commission Week and Earl Grey, former Governor-General of Canada, and Members of the Peace Commission are to be guests of honor. Mr. Ben Greer is to have charge of the tableaux. There are 24 chapters of this order in the United States. The two latest additions are the Prince of Wales Chapter in Chicago and the Sir Francis Drake of Balboa, in the Canal Zone.—Toronto Saturday Night.

Invitations to the annual re-union and at home of the Women's Hospital Aid, which takes place in the Conservatory of Music Hall, Nelson street, on Thursday afternoon, Feb. 27th, have been sent out this week and a large attendance is hoped for by the president, officers and those having the matter in hand. Some names may have been inadvertently overlooked but everyone interested is welcome—the more the merrier. In addition to light refreshments, which will be served by the W. H. A., an impromptu musical programme has been kindly arranged by Mrs. Andrews and the pupils of the Conservatory, which will doubtless add much to the enjoyment of the affair. As this year, in addition to the board of Directors, invitations have been extended to the medical fraternity also the clergymen of the city, a representative gathering is looked for.

A programme of Peggy Weblin's play, "Westward Ho!" now at the Gaiety Theatre, Manchester, England, has been received from Mr. E. L. Cocksbutt, who took tea with the Authoress lately in London and had a delightful time talking over Brantford news.

Mrs. R. E. Kelsey, widow of the late lawyer, Kelsey, of Corunna, Mich., who has been visiting Miss Whiting and other friends in and out of the city, has left for her native home in the far East. She expects to attend the inauguration, March 4th, in Washington, D.C. ere she returns to her home in Michigan.

As the Ladies' Captain of the Brantford Golf and Country Club will be out of the city on the 10th and 20th of February, the annual meeting has been postponed until Friday, the 28th at 3 o'clock sharp, in the Board Room of the Public Library, George street, for the election of officers, etc. The attention of each member is called to the little slips sent out by the secretary earlier in the week; fill them out and return them as soon as possible as the names sent in will be the only ones balloted upon at Friday's meeting. Wilkes; second vice-president, Mrs. Lloyd Harris; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Forsythe; captain, Miss Lily Gibson; executive, Mrs. Gould. Mrs. R. H. Reville, Mrs. W. F. Paterson, Mrs. Browning, Mrs. Turnbull, Mrs. Fitton and Miss Van Norman.

CORRESPONDENCE COLUMN.

A. E.—Don't apologize for writing me. I am only too glad to be of service to my readers in any way that I can. I think I saw just the material you are looking for in one of the local shops only a few days ago and it is not at all expensive. I would advise you to send for samples or if you prefer, send me a stamped and addressed envelope and I will tell you just where to look for it.

L'ENVOI

By Martha Haskell Clarke. (With apologies to Rudyard Kipling: When Earth's last kettle is spotted, and the dishcloth twisted and dried, When the oldest grave-spot is faded, and the youngest that germ has died, We shall rest, and, faith, we shall need it; lie down for an hour or two, With never a shrill alarm clock to set us to work anew.

And those who were neat shall be happy, they shall sit on a cushioned chair, Each weary and separate Marjorie so drummed about with care; They shall have rest leisure to draw from, with never a store man's call, And feet shall have done from aching, and never be tired at all.

With never a cater to gossip, and never a neighbor to blame, And no one need scold on penites or care for her housewife's fame; But each future and ever in a separate star alone, Shall do all the things she has longed to, in time that is All Her Own.—Modern Priscilla for January.

Miss Alys Von L Meyer, daughter of the U. S. Secretary of the navy, whose engagement to Lieut. Raymond Rodgers of the United States navy has been announced.

Music and Drama

One of the most notable and incidentally delightful features of the newest edition of the Pollard Juvenile Opera Company, which is booked for a local engagement, at the Grand on Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 26th and 27th, is the perfection reached by the young folks in the matter of voice culture. Each voice has been carefully trained to operatic requirements by the special Pollard system, and each and every one of the performers in the company, is now a trained vocalist whose voice contains melody, range, precision and technique. The juvenile singers may be judged on merit alone and in competition with older singers, they hold their own to a marvellous degree. This is directly the result of proper and efficient training while the voice was young. The Pollards this season are singers in every sense of the word, as well as dancers, comedians and artists. The repertoire presented contains some severe tests, but the youngsters are equal to the task. Wednesday, "The Mikado," Thursday, "The Toy Maker."

REMOVAL

Mr. T. B. W. Henderson, Merchant Tailor, has removed from 57 Colborne St. to his new premises No. 306 Colborne St., 4 doors east of Clarence St. and we are now receiving orders for our new Spring goods. Do not forget to give us a call. Tel. Bell, 1536.

Comet Oil Company, Limited

The company is engaged in Merchandising Coal Oil, a commodity which pays a gross profit of fully 100 per cent. for its distribution.

The business has been established about seven years, in which term a trade of over nine thousand steady customers has been built up.

Without the advantage of this additional capital, the earnings of the business for the past year were sufficient to pay 30 per cent. upon the entire capitalization of the company.

Personally I feel satisfied that the business is an exceptionally good one, and that an investment in its shares will net a substantial revenue to those interested.

The shares are being marketed at $10.00 par, payable $5.00 per share with order, and balance at allotment.

Applications to have shares reserved may be made by letter or telegram, subject to prospectus, a copy of which will be mailed to all interested.

Subscription books will remain open for six days only, and shares will be allotted in the same order as the applications are received, and all over or late subscriptions will be returned to subscribers.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

Care With Which England's Standards Are Preserved.

Every twenty years government officials compare the current weights and measures with the standards, which are sealed up in the safe of the House of Commons. There are only two standards, the pound weight and the yard measure. The standard pound is of platinum, which despite its weight is no larger than a cubic inch, and small as it is, the metal of which it is composed is worth £40. The standard rod is a bar of bronze thirty-eight inches long, on which a yard has been marked off in thirty-six divisions of an inch. The greatest possible care is taken of these two important articles.

When a comparison is being made they are handled with tongs. The pound weight is weighed in the most delicate of chemical balances, and the yard is measured with a micrometer. When they are done with the pound it is wrapped in a special soft paper and laid in a silver gilt case, which is placed in a bronze case, this being put in a wooden box, afterwards screwing the lid and sealed. The yard measure is placed on eight rollers in a mahogany case, which is carefully sealed. Both cases are then put into a leaden casket, which is sealed by soldering. The packing is not yet finished, however, for the lead case is placed in a strong oak box. When this is screwed down it is placed in the hole in the wall. The wall is built up by a mason, and the standards can only be obtained by demolishing it once more.—London Globe.

A HANDICAP IN GOLF.

It Was a Rather Mean Advantage, but It Won the Game.

An unusual golf handicap was played on one of the local links recently, the proponent of the same winning hands down. One of the rules of golf is that one must not talk to a player when he is about to make a drive, nor must others discuss any subject in his hearing. It might take his mind off the game for just an instant, and that might prove fatal.

In Kansas City lives a crack but extremely nervous golf enthusiast. He had been in the habit of beating a fat and phlegmatic friend until the latter tired of it.

"I'll tell you what I'll do," the friend said one day. "I will play you eighteen holes if you will give me a handicap."

"Done," said the nervous player. "Name the handicap."

"Three times during the game, and not more than three, I am to be permitted to stand behind you and say 'Boo' while you are preparing to drive."

Every time it was the nervous man's play his fat friend walked up and just stood behind him. Never once during the game did the fat man say "Boo" or anything else. But the anticipation of the expected "Boo" was fairly nerve-shaking, and the nervous man's hands down.—Kansas City Journal.

Harness—One set of heavy double harness; 1 set of buggy harness.

Food—2 tons of lucerne hay; a quantity of corn stalks; 75 bu. of oats; a quantity of straw and manure; 50 bu. of corn on ear.

Implement—One Peter Hamilton binder, good as new; 1 Peter Hamilton mower, spring tooth cultivator; 1 wagon; 1 hay rack and stock rack combined; Adams' portable saw; 1 1/2 ton 477 plow; 1 corn cultivator; 1 good top buggy; 1 horse-drawn mower; 1 good horse-drawn sprayer; 1 quantity of seed; 1 extension table; 1 fall leaf table; 1 adze; 1 wood heater; 2 new screen doors; 1 pair of iron gates; 1 pair of iron gates; over that amount, 8 months' credit on finishing up of cash on credit.

One afternoon a tall, handsome man of splendid presence and with a grave, courteous face entered my office and modestly announced himself as Robert E. Lee. When I told the president he directed me to bring the distinguished visitor in at once. Their meeting was cordial, but apparently their recollections brought feelings of sadness to both men. The president, with his usual consideration, presented me to General Lee, who knew my family and who greeted me kindly. I expressed my pleasure at meeting him and then retired to my room. I felt that at such a time no one should intrude. The visit was merely one of courtesy and did not last long. I believe that it was the only time after the war that the two great generals met."

ROUMANIA'S QUEEN AN ANTI-SUFFRAGIST. LONDON DAY BY DAY

SHOOTING ENDED, LON- DON IS DISCUSSING THE SEASON'S PROSPECTS.

[Special Despatch.]
LONDON, Saturday.
As London is now beginning to fill up at the close of the country house and shooting season, the question is being asked: "What are the prospects of the coming London season?" To a great extent it, of course, depends upon two rival and disconnected attractions—the winter sports in Switzerland and the Covent Garden opera programme. Some surprise has been expressed that so few entertainments have as yet been announced for February. Last year it was an unusually gay period. None at all have yet been fixed by any of the Anglo-American hostesses, who are always the most active.

The Duchess of Marlborough is back at Sunderland House. Although she never gives any great balls, she is likely to give a few dinners and dances. Lady Nuffield is not expected to do anything till she gives the usual big ball at her beautiful house in Knightsbridge in May.

Even at the usually busy centre, the Society of American Women in London is very little going on. "The fact is," says Mrs. W. H. White, "the American women here in London are not expected to do anything till she gives the usual big ball at her beautiful house in Knightsbridge in May."

PUBLIC LIFE NOT FOR WOMEN, SAYS ROUMANIA'S QUEEN

PRINCE NICHOLAS

After Serving as Nurse at the Front She Writes That a Woman Should Not Enter Public Life.

The principalty of Roumania dates from the constitution of July 1, 1859, when a prince of the house of Hohenzollern became its ruler. He was recognized by all the great Powers in October of the same year. In March, 1881, it became a kingdom, when Prince Ferdinand was declared self-proclaimed King Charles I, who was subsequently proclaimed King Charles I, who was subsequently proclaimed King Charles I.

PRINCESS ELIZABETH PHOTOS FROM THE SPHERE

one of the most beautiful princesses in Europe. Many well remember when in 1893 she became a bride. Prince Ferdinand and Princess Marie have five children—Charles, born in 1893; Elizabeth, in 1894; Marie, in 1899; Nicholas, in 1903, and the Princess Ileana, in 1908.

PRINCESS MARIE AND PRINCE NICHOLAS

The population of Roumania is about 6,000,000, and the country can bring into the field when on a war footing some 200,000 men. It was at the suggestion of Napoleon III. that Prince Charles of Hohenzollern, who at the time was only a Prussian lieutenant, although his father acted at one time as Prussian Prime Minister, accepted the princely diadem of Roumania offered to him after one of the numerous revolts that had occurred in that country. Prince Bismarck advised Charles to accept the throne.

KING AND QUEEN OF ROUMANIA.

between Russia and Turkey, Roumania took part with Russia against the Turks. This ultimately led to the throwing off of the Turkish yoke in 1878. The Rev. H. N. Hitchcock in the book, "The Living Rulers of Mankind" tells many interesting stories concerning the Queen of Roumania and about her beautiful home at Castle Pelesch, in the forests of the Tannus Mountains, a district which folk are legends still obtain. Queen Elizabeth took part as a Red Cross nurse in the Turkish war. On the return of her husband in triumph as the hero of Eflava she wrote this to her mother:—"Thank God! Charles is here. I can retire back gradually into my shell, return to my birds, my books, and my papers. I consider it an anomaly and a misfortune for a woman to be obliged to enter public life."

LURE OF THE ALPS IS HARDER TO RESIST EACH WINTER.

LONDON, Saturday.
THE Alps in winter have become a popular craze, and justly so, says a writer in the Sphere. Those who are healthy, wealthy and wise do well to forsake the murky winter darkness and hie them up into the daylight on the great white roof of the world. Nowadays in mid-winter Grindelwald becomes a veritable Mayfair in the mountains, and the same may be said of most popular centres; but the huge snow swathed Alpine monarchs tower far overhead a world apart from that of man, maid and matron, and the mountaineers who prefer a Jungfrau of the mountain variety can rest assured that in winter the crowds are centred, his solitudes are his own.

Many would prefer the unexploited Zermatt valley for their winter wanderings; personally I prefer the Chamonix district by reason of its easier approach and better accommodations. There is an ideal spot "far from gay cities and the ways of men," away up on the snowy slopes above Argentiere. Le Planet is unsurpassed for its ski-ing opportunities, and all around are magnificent mountain expeditions of varying length and difficulties, with Mont Blanc the ultima thule of all. Practically all the great Alpine giants have been climbed in winter, but once the great white mountain is enshrouded in his wintry mantle he offers a desperately dangerous welcome to all mortals. The knowledge of his inaccessibility but adds to the majesty and mystery of the gleaming alabaster world of frozen gullies upland on "walls impregnable of beaming ice."

However, with care and prudence many of the vassal peaks may be scaled, and the great glaciers, now apparently harmlessly hidden in a smooth, spotless covering, afford a natural highway into the lofty sanctuaries of the snows. Yet there is a simple, harmless look in these great white highways which have led many to their doom. Expert summer Alpinists appreciate the danger of these snow-covered glaciers where great crevasses are so deceptively hidden. In mid-winter innocent tourists, many of whom know nothing of the Alps in summer, wander fancy free over the death traps. Small wonder that it is such times as these that the bulk of their victims.

After the tremendous Alpine winter snowfalls, sometimes 30 feet or 30 feet in depth, the average ski-runner or mountaineer is prone to assume that the glacier crevasses are safely covered. Four or five days after a downfall this assumption may be correct in certain situations. For instance, wind-driven snow usually settles firmly, but during the exceptional low temperatures often prevailing and in sheltered places the snow is so dry and powdery that its snowing properties are very slight. Contrary to popular opinion, the big crevasses are not filled up, but simply covered with a deceptively level surface, wind-carved and beautiful to look upon, but, alas, too often a whited sepulchre. The modern tendency to discard the rope in winter glacial expeditions should be rigorously avoided.

Midwinter weather is usually settled, but it is settled very bad or settled very good—and these treacherous sudden changes, the terror of the summer Alpinist who pushes further afield under doubtful conditions, are seldom troublesome. In the dry winter air a good snowfall is useful and valuable companion—in July its warning may be neglected, but never in February. Of course foul weather has caused many catastrophes. Puffy man is but as a reed shaken in the wind when the winter storm wind flings himself athwart the white trackless wastes. The cool calculation and presence of mind may be well in their way, but absence of body is best of all; at the slightest sign of doubtful weather turn back resolutely, even though the summit may be comparatively close at hand.

Another Sphere writer says:—"The latest disease which ought to occupy the attention of the medical man and scientists of Europe is the winter sports mania."

"No one is immune. Is it caused by a microbe? Is it epidemic? Infectious or contagious?"

I only know that ever since my first winter visit to the Alps, each year when the frosts and fogs begin and leaves fall, night after night I dream of the mountains—of snow, ice and blue sky, and sunshine all hot as in our traditional midsummer. Hotter than during the past alleged summer, and most of all that wonderful dry air, exhilarating and intoxicating as champagne, making all the troubles and trials of everyday life sink into insignificance.

"The vicissitudes of the journey out are responsible for many promising mountaineerships which speedily ripen into friendship, occasionally—very occasionally—into platonic, but more frequently ending in the light hearted and harmless flirtations which go on side by side with the winter sports in these mountain places."

"In the Alps Mrs. Grundy is mercifully forgotten. It is a rare unconventional girl, and almost the only chaperone are young married friends or sisters or elder brothers, those few mothers and aunts who do so being left to play bridge in the hotels, or to watch the skating or curling on the rink while their charges go off on their sliding expeditions."

Sometimes, however, in the intoxicating Alps air and the general atmosphere of frivolity sedate women of very definite age renew their youth, like the flowers that bloom in the spring, and take to dancing with their daughters or grandsons, behind one, gray-haired and wearing a pink and blue dress and an abbreviated skirt. Her feet, encased in muffled boots, are stuck well out before her as she descends very slowly down the middle of an entirely safe track, braking with her hands all the way, while behind her goes the wave of the fashion which has just passed her. "But she is dead to the world," "Guard!" and "Coming on you!" and the shouts of the guides and the snowbank beside the track.

DISCUSS COMPELLING MARRIAGE PROPOSALS TO BE IN WRITING.

[Special Despatch.]
LONDON, Saturday.
WHERE it made compulsory for men to propose in writing instead of making an offer of marriage in a moment of excitement or emotion there would be far fewer unhappy marriages in the world.

This is the opinion of a well known writer and social reformer discussing the reform scheme proposed by Mr. Frune, the Massachusetts legislator, that men should be compelled to propose in writing and so put an end to breach of promise cases, for written evidence would admit of no dispute.

"There need be no cold-bloodedness in such a formal proposal," he added. "The proposal must be put in words by the man, and should be a secret, sacred document, and would be a pledge between the two, just like a ring."

Mr. Hamilton, of the Divorce Law Reform Union, agreed to a certain extent with Mr. Frune's views. "We welcome anything which appears likely to stop un-

TRAINING HORSES FOR THE PROCESSION AT OPENING OF PARLIAMENT.

[Special Despatch.]
LONDON, Saturday.
AT the riding school at Buckingham Palace they are preparing daily for the state opening of Parliament in March. Young and spirited horses, which will be ridden by equestrians and others in the procession to Westminster, are being put through their paces in a thorough fashion. They are first led and then ridden round the school, attended by a crowd of youths who wave flags, shout at intervals with all the vigor of their lungs, throw crumms, blow whistles and generally make pandemonium.

When the horses calmly face the crowd and disregard the uproar, they are considered safe to encounter the sights and sounds along the procession route.

Every court functionary is a skilled horseman, and it is not out of consideration for the riders that the drastic training is applied. The idea is that any timid-

AMERICANS ARE SEEKING HOUSES IN SUBURBS OF LONDON.

[Special Despatch.]
LONDON, Saturday.
SOMETIMES it is jocularly remarked that it takes an American only two hours to thoroughly "do" London; but it has been left to Americans to rediscover the beauties of Richmond Hill and its neighborhood, which Londoners disregarded. It has struck many visitors from the United States that London, notwithstanding its fogs and other weather vagaries, is really a passable place to settle down in, and as their fancy runs to places within easy reach of town, the suburbs are being ransacked for large unfurnished houses with grounds for American applicants.

"We are experiencing a very brisk demand by Americans for houses in open situations within the twelve mile radius," said a representative of Messrs. Harrods to a correspondent. "Some hundreds have settled in or near London during the last year. Richmond, Wimbledon, Putney Hill and the surrounding neighborhood have proved by far the most popular districts and they are becoming quite the centre of an American colony.

"Roehampton residences are eagerly sought, the attractions of this area appealing strongly to our American friends. Not only is the surrounding country notably beautiful, but there is polo at Roehampton, Ranelagh and Hurlingham, excellent golf at Coombe, Raynes Park, Wimbledon Park, Miteham Common and on the Mid-Surrey course at Richmond. One of the most beautiful stretches of river is 'at the door,' where houseboat life can be enjoyed. The house that can be bought for from $25,000 to $35,000 freight is the one that is in most demand.

"Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan has a house at Putney, and Mr. Vanderbilt at 'By Caesar's Camp,' Wimbledon. Mr. Charles Urban has just bought 'Buckley Park Lodge' and has spent $20,000 on its renovation. Parkside, Wimbledon, and Wimbledon Park are in particular favor with Americans. Hempstead and Highbury are next in popularity."

"Large sums of money are being spent by American tenants in bringing their houses up to date in luxurious fashion. They have a great partiality for parquet flooring, oak panelling and beadwork, much of which is being put into these houses. Steam heating is generally installed, and garages to hold three or more automobiles are usual adjuncts."

NOT ENOUGH ENTOMOLOGISTS TO SUPPLY THE DEMAND.

[Special Despatch.]
LONDON, Saturday.
THERE should be no difficulty in solving the problem what to do with one's sons if they have a love and natural aptitude for the study of insects—in fact, they are what their little brothers and sisters call "bug hunters." The world is calling for them as economic entomologists to fight the pests which attack the cotton, apple, potato, rice and other crops and do millions and millions of damage every year.

At the Imperial College of Science and Technology in South Kensington they have opened a special entomological department for the training of these youths, and a suitable man soon finds himself snapped up by some government or other. In fact there are not enough of the right sort of men to go round.

The Colonial Office offers from $1,500 to $2,000 a year to start with. The India Office offers $1,500 to begin, rising to $2,000 in the course of the first three years, and thereafter a rise of $350 a year; and there are pensions attached to the posts.

Professor Maxwell-Lefroy, the head of the department, has just had an application from the United States government in the Philippines asking for an assistant entomologist, aged about twenty-one, commencing pay from $1,200 to $1,400 a year. But applications come from all parts of the world. The other day the South Africa Company asked the college to find them an entomologist, starting at $1,500. In the short time since the department started students have secured appointments in Assam, Nyassa, Rhodesia, Barbados, Southern Nigeria, and other places.

Professor Maxwell-Lefroy, however, deprecates English indifference to such matters. "We are altogether behind the United States," he said to an interviewer. "Unless our government is up and doing something about it, I fear, will be over here long and then we betide potato growers and potato merchants."

PRINCE OF WALES BECOMING A GOOD BAGPIPE PLAYER.

[Special Despatch.]
LONDON, Saturday.
THE PRINCE OF WALES has determined to add to his other accomplishments that of a bagpipe player, and his tutor is the well known Pipe Major W. Ross, of the Second Scots Guards. He expressed a wish recently to learn to play properly on the Scottish national instrument, and took his first lesson about a month ago, though the fact was kept very secret until it was seen whether the royal pupil would make anything of it. But the Prince is making his progress. Young as he is, he has the reputation of never allowing himself to be beaten at anything he sets his mind upon.

The Pipe Major is quite proud of his pupil, who has already made remarkable progress with what is admitted to be the most difficult of all musical instruments. The Pipe Major goes to Oxford twice a week to give the Prince his lessons, which last about an hour. He practices assiduously, it is stated, and in order to make better progress has supplied himself with gramophone records made by Pipe Major Ross, that he may gauge his progress when his instructor is not with him.

One result of the Prince's new hobby is that several other undergraduates are attempting to learn bagpipes and practicing lessons are formed between Pipe Major Ross' visits to Oxford. The Prince's partiality to the pipes is probably due to the fact that he is skilled in dancing, reels and other Scotch dances. Oxford residents are, however, somewhat perturbed. They foresee the most awful possibilities in a band of student pipers and drummers.

BOY OF SEVENTEEN MAKES PRIVATE WIRELESS STATION.

[Special Despatch.]
LONDON, Saturday.
A remarkable piece of work has been achieved at Nottingham by a boy named René Hodges, who has only just turned seventeen. In the garden of his father's house, at Carlton, a few miles from the city, young Hodges has created a wireless telegraphy station, with everything complete, where he daily receives messages from coast stations all over England, and from Paris and Germany as well. Every instrument and every part of the apparatus he made himself with patient labor.

It is nearly two years ago that René Hodges, who is interested in mechanics, read several articles in a boy's paper on how to make induction coils. Having assimilated the details, he set to work and eventually fitted up a complete electrical bell system in his home. Works on wireless telegraphy followed, and young Hodges became filled with a burning desire and determination to experiment for himself with the latest marvel of the world.

"I began," he said, telling his own story, "by rigging up a model telephone wire from one end of the garden to the other, and had the good luck to be successful with it. The instruments for wireless were my first difficulty. I could not afford to buy, and so had to make them myself. I had to give up half holidays and work late at night and in the early mornings. Then came the question of poles. They gave me considerable trouble, but a friendly carpenter helped me by supplying the wood."

"Meanwhile I am never likely to forget my first message. It came on a Sunday morning. I had been working away at the instruments since early in the morning, when suddenly I heard a curious rustling noise. My senses bristled all over. I listened with strained ears, and then all of a sudden I heard the message. It was the time signal from the Eiffel Tower in Paris."

"I often pick up ships' messages now, though, as a rule, their code is too queer

MEN BARELY DEFEAT THE WOMEN AT RIFLE SHOOTING.

[Special Despatch.]
LONDON, Saturday.
THE team of riflewomen who challenged a team of picked male shots at a shooting competition at the Imperial Rifle Club, Cork street, Ploccadilly, gave them a bad fright. It was an exciting contest all through, and ended in a win for the men by only five points, the total scores being:—Men, 781; women, 776.

The team of women, captained by Miss Eva Penton, showed excellent marksmanship, and Lord Chylesmore, chairman of the Council of the National Rifle Association, acted as umpire, but the sportsmanship displayed on each side was good, the umpire never being called upon to decide a challenged shot. To begin with, the first three scores made were 99 out of a possible 100. For the women, Mrs. C. J. Woodrow, of the Salisbury Ladies' Rifle Club, made one of the 99, but her record was beaten by Miss Flora Stubbs, of the Worthing Miniature Rifle Club, who obtained 100 points, the only highest possible score made in the match.

For the men, Mr. Ernest A. Robinson (captain), and Mr. A. C. Rickaby, a well known international shot, each scored 99. Other cracks who opposed the women were Mr. E. C. Brown, another international shot; Sergeant W. Sturt, champion of the Southampton Rifle Club; Constable H.

PEOPLE'S PULPIT.

Sermon by CHARLES T. RUSSELL, Pastor Brooklyn Tabernacle.

Jacksonville, Fla., Feb. 16.—The Opera House was crowded to-day to hear Pastor Russell. He spoke twice. We report one of his discourses from the text, "The angels which kept not their first estate, but left their own habitation. He hath reserved in habitation restraints under the thick darkness for a judgment of the Great Day." (Jude 6.) He said:

Last Sunday we discussed the fall of the angels, and saw that they succumbed to the heaven of sin, which was first introduced by Satan's pride and rebellion, and was continued and increased by man's disobedience and fall from Divine favor. Some might be inclined to say, Why preach about the angels and their fall? Why not rather confine our consideration to man? The answer is that man's fall had to do with the fall of the angels, as we have seen; and that since then the fallen angels have had much to do with man's further perversion mentally, morally, physically. St. Paul was not in error when he declared, "We wrestle not with flesh and blood (merely), but with principalities and powers—wicked spirits in high positions."—Ephesians 6:12.

I am aware that many amongst the millions who read my sermons in the newspapers will be inclined to laugh at what may be designated my superstitious belief in spirit beings. "In close propinquity with humanity—a continual power for evil, seductive and ensnaring, God and Truth opposing. I have no practical knowledge of Spiritism, because, obedient to the Divine command, I would avoid everything occult. My knowledge of Spiritism comes mainly through the Bible, but is well supported by the testimony of many whom I have rescued from the thrall of Spiritism—a considerable number of these mediums."

We should either take the Bible account as a whole, or should reject it as a whole. It is my constant effort to bring my own thoughts and words into full alignment with the Divine instructions of the Bible. I believe any other attitude to be dangerous in the extreme.

The fallen angels the Bible styles demons—rendered in our Common Version, devils. We charge these demons and not our forefathers, with having perverted the true Message of the Gospel. This thought is substantiated by the Apostle, who refers to their insidious teachings as the "doctrines of demons." By every means they seek to put darkness for light and light for darkness. In the doctrines of the Dark Ages, now discredited, these demons blasphemed God by teaching that He had prepared a torture chamber and was overseeing the everlasting torture of nearly all humanity—all except the very Elect—at the hands of fire-proof devils with pitchforks.

Thus the human mind was turned against the Almighty in deed. For humanity learned to think of Satan and his associates as in some far-off place. Now, as greater illumination comes, and humanity gradually ascertains that the theory of a "great torture place beyond the bounds of time and space was a hoax, these demons would lead such seekers in an opposite direction, and convince them that as there is no such torture chamber, neither are there any demons.

But the Bible all the while has been telling us that these evil spirits are near us, in our atmosphere; and that they have power over us in proportion as we yield our wills to their suggestions and our minds to sin. So far from telling of Satan's being far off, the Apostle declares that he goes about through the earth, seeking whom he may devour; and that his host of fallen angels are a present power for evil throughout the world. Similarly, Jesus tells us to pray, "Deliver us from the Evil One." He says that Satan was "a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the Truth."—John 8:44.

St. Peter tells us that the fallen angels at the time of the Deluge were cast down to Tartarus. This word tartarus is used only once in the Bible, and is mistranslated hell. It is generally conceded to refer to the earth's atmosphere, though it may be used in a figurative way, such as we use the word limbo, a prison, a place or condition of restraint.

We are not to confound the Bible story of the fall of the angels and their restraint in chains of darkness with the symbolical figure of Revelation, where Satan and his angels are cast out of heaven. The Revelation picture is purely symbolical, as all admit. It does not refer to literal Heaven at all, but in a figurative way describes matters which happened on earth—matters which found their fulfillment centuries ago, at the time the Roman Empire was overthrowing, and Papacy set itself up, claiming earthly and Heavenly power and authority as the Kingdom of Messiah, operating through the popes as Messiah's viceregent.

At some length, Pastor Russell showed that the very name Satan signifies opponent of God, and that this name is well deserved, because he who was formerly known as Lucifer has arrayed himself against God and in opposition to every feature of the Divine Plan. The Almighty could have destroyed Satan at any time, but He has permitted him for the past six thousand years to go on in his course, in order to demonstrate the evil character of sin, and to give opportunity, on the contrary, of demonstrating the beauty of holiness. Eventually, when the lesson shall have been taught to angels and to men, Satan and all who love sin will be utterly destroyed in the Second Death.—Revelation 21:8.

IS SPIRITISM ONLY DEMONISM?

Are Mediums Deceived as Well as Their Followers According to the Bible?

Note the persistence of Satan, said Pastor Russell, and his affronted. God distinctly told Adam and Eve that disobedience would bring upon them the penalty of death. Satan contradicted the Almighty point-blank, declaring, "Ye shall not surely die." And when our race found the truth of God's statement borne in upon them by death, Satan still sought to pervert the Word of God and the minds of men by telling humanity that they do not die really but in appearance only; that in reality a dead man is much more alive than a living one.

This absurdity has been repeated to our race century after century, until to-day mankind, as a whole, believe Satan's lie and entirely discredit the Word of God. The way back to God and to sanity of reasoning is the repudiation of Satan's falsehood and the acceptance of God's Truth. The dead know not anything. Their spirits will seek more and more to dishonor and they perceive it not of them.—Ecclesiastes 9:5; Job 14:21.

Satan's original lie is the basis of all the superstitions of religion. If mankind believed God—that the dead are dead, and that their only hope of a future life is based on the resurrection—it would clear the world of a thousand superstitions. How could the dead suffer tortures in a Protestant hell or in a Catholic purgatory, if the dead know not anything, as the Bible declares? If the Truth prevailed, where would come in prayers and masses for the dead? And where would come in the belief of spiritists and others that they have communications with their dead friends—if, as the Bible says, "The dead know not anything?"

On the basis of human credulity—the supposition that the dead become more alive when they appear to die—the demons have advanced their deceptions, and sought to enthrall humanity. Invisible to men, yet fully informed respecting all human affairs, they can readily personate the dead. The fallen angels, since the Deluge, deprived of the power to materialize, use as channels of communication such individuals as they can deceive into being their servants—mediums. Many of these are noble characters, and many of them the reverse; but vicious or ignorant or good, the demons use such as they can control, none being too debased for their service.

Working on the credulity of their dupes, they use the lips or the pencil of the medium to describe the dead one, who is supposed to be very anxious to communicate with the living. And the description generally fits well to the dupe's least knowledge of the person—age, sex, clothing, all. So deluded do people become that they fail to remember that the children of two or ten years would ten years later, if alive, be twelve or twenty years of age, and proportionately larger, and certainly not content to wear in a spirit land the same clothing they wore when last seen by the dupe. The demons' power to discuss matters known only to the dupe and the deceased carries conviction.

And all the workings of all the denominations, that the dead are not dead, are helping on with the deception. The venerable minister, deceived by the doctrines of the Dark Ages, tells his hearers at the funeral that their deceased friend is hovering over them; and that if he could speak, he would say, "Weep not for me." He then announces that they are under spirit control, and that the departed one can speak through them. Is it any wonder that the deception is so powerful one with many? The antidote for all the doctrines of demons is the Message of the Word of God:

- (1) That the dead are really dead; (2) That Christ died our behalf; (3) That at His Second Coming and Kingdom, "there shall be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and of the unjust."—Acts 24:15.

Let those who deny that there are invisible evil spirits explain what Jesus meant when He gave His disciples power over all manner of disease, and over unclean spirits. Let them explain what the Apostles meant when they returned with joy, saying, "Lord, even the demons are subject unto us in Thy name." It is for them to explain, too, what really took place at Gadara, where the Scriptures declare Jesus cast a legion of these evil spirits out of one man. That legion, permitted to go into the swine, were sufficient in number to craze the entire herd.

Let us also have an explanation of what St. Paul meant when he turned to rebuke the young woman who had the power of divination, and commanded the evil spirits to come out of her. (Acts 16:16-18.) Let them explain why her soothsaying prognostications were at an end, when once the evil spirit was gone forth. Let us also remember that there is no suggestion anywhere in the Bible that these evil spirits were ever human beings in any sense of the word, or at any time. Let us all remember that these are the same evil spirits dealt with at the time of the Deluge. Immediately after the Flood, they began their attack upon humanity, their attack upon the Truth, their endeavor to make humanity believe the lie—that the dead are not dead. To whatever extent they succeeded in deceiving humanity they prepared mankind proportionately to be their dupes. The goal of their ambition is possession, and everything else is necessary.

Spirit mediums recognize the demon character of the spirits communicating through them; and they dread them and warn each other against the danger of allowing their wills to come completely under spirit influence, knowing that surely the result will be possession, demonization. And this in our day is called insanity, although many physicians realize the difference, and candidly say that one-half the cases in an insane asylum are due to functional disorder. The majority are cases of possession by evil spirits.

These are the four steps along which those who do not put themselves under the guidance of the Lord are in danger of being led by the demons. And every step of the way should be fought with a determination of the will, if the "wiles of the Adversary" would be escaped. The vacant, unoccupied, mind is the more open to suggestions of the demons. The proper use of the will, therefore, have a protection in their activity. But if suggestions, or imaginations, have been entertained, the second step may soon follow—dissidence. The mind will be diverted from the lines of thought—study, prayer, or what not. The power of suggestion humanity that they do not interfere with proper thinking and reasoning.

This leads on to the third step—impression. Some are naturally more impressionable than are others, they are easily wrought upon by suggestions, from the evil spirits with so little difficulty that they do not realize the source of the impression, but rather are proud of it as a power of their own. Really it is the outside power impressing them, and more bringing them under occult influence.

Many to-day laugh at the stories of witchcraft handed down from the past. Quite probably some excited as witches may have been good people, misunderstood by their neighbors. This does not, however, alter the fact that witches, wizards and necromancers are not mere myths. The Bible tells us of them as realities, and explains the demon power operating through them.

In olden times, the Divine Law forbade any witch, wizard or necromancer (one claiming to have communications from the dead) to live in the land of Israel, or to practice their black arts. (Deuteronomy 18:9-14.) Through the Prophet the Lord asked the people why they should yield themselves up to those who peep and mutter, and claim to have communication with the dead (for wisdom, knowledge, guidance, etc.), and not unto the living God? "Should not a people seek unto their God?"—Isaiah 8:19, 20.

We all remember the story of the Witch of Endor, and how King Saul, when he could not find any communication with the Lord, sought communication with Samuel the Prophet, who was dead. Saul was told that he should seek unto those who peep and mutter, and claim to have communication with the dead (for wisdom, knowledge, guidance, etc.), and not unto the living God? "Should not a people seek unto their God?"—Isaiah 8:19, 20.

The lesson to God's people is full loyalty to God, strict attention to His inspired Words through the Prophets and the Apostles. These are the only sure protection against the wiles of the Adversary. How glad we are that the lessons to angels and to men, built upon God's permission of a reign of sin and death for the past six thousand years, will soon be finished! How glad we are to know of a surety that the end will justify the permission of all the evil which has come to pass! How glad we are to know that eventually all the blinded ones will be enlightened and that eventually all the wilfully evil shall be destroyed, and that without remedy!

Nothing Unusual. Lord Cromer when ruler of Egypt made himself hateful to all sorts of rascals in that country, but he worked wonders of reform there and left it in more contented frame of mind than it had ever known previous to his arrival. While Lord Salisbury was British Premier a member of the Ministry complained that Lord Cromer had told him to go to the devil. "Dear me," said Salisbury, "he tells me that every time he comes to London."
