"Why had he not known before discovered? Why had he made the terrible mistake of supposing her a woman without a heart? Why had he not known before that he loved her so much?"

These questions he asked himself; and then-did he love her so much? Did he? Was he questioning that? If he had not loved her, why had he expected happiness come to him. He had been very sure of his love only an hour before, and that had been the reason for his going to her, of all

?^^^^^ An Old, Family Cough Remedy, Home-Made

Easily Prepared - Costs Very ******

By making this old-time cough syrup at home you not only save about $2, as compared with the ready-made kind, but you will also have a much more prompt and positive remedy in every way. It overcomes the usual coughs, throat and chest colds in 24 hours—relieves every whooping cough quickly—and is excellent, too, for bronchitis, bronchial asthma, hoarseness and spasmodic croup.

Get from any drug store 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), pour it into a 16-ounce bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Full directions with Pinex. Keeps perfectly and tastes good.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. It quickly loosens the dry, hoarse or painful cough, and also heals the inflamed membranes. It also has a remarkable effect in overcoming the persistent loose cough by stopping the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes. The effect of pine on the membranes is known by almost every one. Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, combined with guaiacol and other natural healing pine elements.

There are many worthless imitations of this famous mixture. To avoid dis-

The seizure of Milo may be to form a naval base solely for the Saloniki campaign for which it is equally favorable. The contour of the island is that of a thick broken ring.

The calling of the Greek Parliamen and the proclamation of martial law may be an effort of King Constantine to line-up the Greek Parliament with landed forces at Phaleron and Piraeus.

Irama, brimful of thrills, romances hair-breadth escapes, sprinkled with love and comedy. The plot is deep States Customs and Secret Service Amy Cartwright steals her sister Ethel's jewels with the result that an inurance company is defrauded. Tayor, the Customs detective, secures a lue and has a warrant for the arest of Amy. Ethel's pleadings of her sister's innocence are of no avail. Eventually the wicked revenue man nakes a proposition to Ethel to the efect that the matter will be let slide provided she (Ethel) enters the Secret Service and aids in capturing Denby, who is looked upon as a smuggling hero and who is supposed to have smuggled a two hundred thousand dollar necklace. Amid many thrilling scenes the necklace is produced by Denby, who is in love with Ethel, Taylor, who holds a position of trust in the secret service accepts a $30,000 bribe, an equivalent to 10 years salary, for him to say nothing about the matter. Then it is discovered that the supposed Denby is R. J. the famous and powerful head of the secret service. Thus the whole plot is exposed and the crook, black mailer and grafter is caught, after carrying on for two years, the necklace smuggling case being only "rigged" to capture Taylor. The principal characters were cleverly portrayed. Messrs. Thomas Brower and Albert Patterson, as Taylor and Denby, were a decided sucess. Maisie Cecil, the self-sacrificing Ethel Cartwright, was again up to expectations. Marion Allen, as Amy, made a great impression. Lillian

Dean and Billy Webb, as the Harringon, at whose house at Long Island the cene took place, were quite at home The comedy was well supplied by Harden Klark, Denby's partner. His lover Auralia Clark, as Nora Routledge, gave a splendid delineation. Frank irban made an imitable Customs Inspector. The other members of the Company also gave clever impersonations of their roles. The play will be

DANCES WITH A PURPOSE.

No mention has been made, I think, the published accounts of the wonderful work that is being done in fitting out our crippled soldiers and sailors with artificial limbs of an interesting device that is adopted to help the maimed men over the transition period. It is well known that men who have lost a limb suffer from a variety of nervous complaints, which frequently take the form of extreme depression and disheartenment. In spite of the provision of most ingenious artificial limbs, in the perfection of which very great strides have been made since the war, they cannot be convinced that they will ever be fit for anything again. I am told that at one well-known institution near London the plan is adopted of having dances periodically, at which all the dancers are men who have been fitted with artificial legs and arms. The patients who have not got to the stage of being fitted with limbs are invited to look on, and it is said that they derive a wonderful amount of enjoyment from this. dancers have not the use of their own limbs. The limbs that are now being supplied under the well-known fund over which the Queen presides are made of aluminium and fitted with ball-bearings and are in every way miracle of ingenuity.

COLLINS-MYRICK.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated Monday, January 10th, 1916, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Myrick, Cape Race, when their eldest daughter, Daisy, was married to Mr. James J. Collins, of the Marconi Co. The bride was tastefully attired in ivory satin and Virginia lace, trimnued with seed pearls. The Rev. Fr. Renouf, of Trepassey, officiated. Miss Dot Myrick, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and Mr. Michael Jackman, cousin of the bride, acted as best man. The groom's present to the bride was a cheque, to the bridesmaid, a peridot and pearl brooch and to the best man, a pair of gold cuff links. After the ceremony the many friends of the happy couple sat down to a sumptuous repast, followed by a dance which was kept up until the 'sma' wee hours. The bride was the recipient of many handsome and use-

Ship Building.

During the present winter season there is much activity in ship-building along the South West Coast and a couple of new schooners for the bank fishery will be launched shortly. These along with a couple of Gloucester and Lunenburg bankers recently purchased will increase the Newfoundland banking fleet for 1916.

Marshall secured the first fall in 1 minute and 10 seconds, and after a bit of hard work secured his second fall with a cradle and scissors hold in 8 minutes and 6 seconds. Mr. Stan Cullen acted as referee.

AFFORD TO CHANCES?" TAKE

A little cold may not seem a dan t will be better-but can you afford it will be better—but can you afford to take chances? Just as the little insignificant acorn grows if let alone, to the mighty giant oak, that cough if not stopped may grow to a very serious illness. When a cough starts there's no telling where it will end. there's no telling where it will end You know no doubt, of cases right among people you have known where serious complications and fatal illesses have had their start from a neglected cough or cold.

A cold is more than inconvenient it is dangerous—so the big thing is to find a reliable remedy—one that will give you quick, satisfactory relief.

There are many treatments that are recommended for a cough or cold but "STAFFORD'S PHORATONE COUGH be the safest, surest and most satis factory way to cure a cold, gripp
