The favorable symptoms of the day continued throughout the hours of evening, which hitherto have seemed mest critical, and this fact is thought by the attending to the seemed mest critical.

NOT LOST HEART YET. The president when asked shortly after 8 o'clock how he felt, replied briskly but with a faint smile, "You keep heart; I have not yet lost mine." His wound has begun to adhere, and at present there is no serious inflammation visible. It is thought that there are some chances in force of the that there are some chances in favor of the that there are some chances in favor of the president's ultimate recovery. Mrs. Garfield wrote yesterday morning a congratulatory letter to Mrs. Blaine, expressing much relief and hope at the decided improvement in her husband's condition.

MR. GARFIELD'S PHYSICIANS.

Their Disagreements and Jealousies—Speculating on the Chances of Recovery. The bickerings of the physicians are very unseemly. Their jealousies break out almost within the hearing of the patient, and some can hardly refrain from laying violent hands upon each other. It will be seen that in the opinion of the most skilful many days must elapse, even under the most favorable circumstances, before the president can be considered out of danger.

Dr. Baxter, chief medical purveyor of the army, and who claims to be the president's family physician, was not allowed by Dr. Bliss to see the patient. A scene occurred, during which Bliss made uncomplimentary remarks, and was called a liar by Baxter. Bliss's son seized Baxter threateningly by the coat, and Baxter left the white house. Bliss then addressed a letter to the surgeon-Bliss then addressed a letter to the surgeon-general of the navy, the surgeon-general of the marine hospital and other prominent physicians, stating that they need not at-tend at the white house any more. danger. If it cannot be extracted it must either work its way out to the surface by suppuration or into the intestinas, and thus be carried off through the anus. Dr. Hamilton did not favor the idea of incision of the abdomen. He said if an incision had been made immediately it could have been done more safely, but now since there is inflammation it would be absolutely fatal.

THE MODE OF TREATMENT.

The surgeons in charge have sent a message to Drs. Agnew and Hamilton in which they say: "Since 8 o'clock last night the president has taken an ounce and a half of chicken broth every two hours, and has retained it all. The wound was again dressed antiseptically this morning. Altogether but half a grain of morphine has seen administered during the last twenty-four hours, and it has been found quite sufficient. An unofficial bulletin issued at 11 o'clock last night says: The condition of the president throughout the day has been such as to give great encouragement to his physicians. The nourishment which he has taken at intervals has been assimilated perfectly, withdrew, and after threatening the community got $400 from them as a part of the money he had put in when joining. He returned to Chicago and studied law with his brother-in-law, George Scoville (Mrs. Scoville was a Guiteau). He made some progress at the profession, and after a while set up for himself. But by this time he was known to not a few as an unprincipled secondard, and one who was constantly enlarging the number of those whom he swindled and duped. He never paid board or hotel bills. He undertook to collect claims, but never handed over any of the proceeds to unfortunate clients. When he had dupes he was flush; he often appeared in the streets on the coldest day in a linen duster. He was a constant terror to all his relatives. His wife was divorced from him in New York on the ground of improper conduct and treatment. She married again, and now resides in Leadville. HIS RELIGIOUS MANIA.

He had a constant itch for notoriety, and was ambitious to be considered a theologian subjects. He fancied he had invented a new religious system, and he expounded it at considerable length in a volume entitled "The Truth, a Companion to the Bible," in which he signs himself "Lawyer, Theologian, and Lecturer." He also lectured upon the "Second Advent of Christ." About newspaper offices he was a recognized pest. He threatened the New York Herald with a $100,000 libel suit for exposing his swindlings in that city.

WHAT ONKLING SAYS.

The Herald reports Conkling as saying that the assault on the president is an astounding assault upon the nation. The shot fired by the madman is a shot at all of us. No language can ever state the enormity of the deed. There is, however, no occasion for public apprehension or excitement. The constitution points out just what shall be done in just on the death of the president, instantly succeeds, and the government goes on as if no change had occurred. In this case the vice-president is an upright, brave, able man, abundantly qualified for the great trust providence may have in store for him. In his hands no harm will come to the public interests. AN ENCYCLICAL LETTER.

The Pope Deals With Recent Attempts on the Lives of Sovereigns.

ROME, July 5.—The pope has issued an encyclical letter dated June 29th, dealing with recent attempts on the lives of sovereigns, in which he declares that the precepts of Christ are eminently fitted to comprise both those who obey and those who command, and to produce between the two sections of the community that st unity of purpose which engenders public all tranquillity.

wy York, with and to blossom like the rose by any such process as playing lawn tennis upon them or imbibing "moonshine" whiskey, as it is asserted some of the bad subjects do. The correspondent goes on: "We saw a good sample of the young men, who, as good sample of the young not have got the sample of the young not probably drawn by the fascination of Mr. Hughes' tongue and the attraction of joining a thoroughly English colony, have gome out there with no very definite purpose. None of them was doing anything except smoking or lounging around, gazing istelessly about. Mr. Hughes admitted without reluctance that there were twenty or thirty young fellows who were giving a very great deal of trouble, and whose backs he would be very glad to see. As it is now managed, the colony is a gigantic and very lamentable mistake. * It is certain that while the place is turned into a bear garden for fast young fellows to play off their pranks in, it will be no fit home for sober and industrious farmers and their families."

THE ROSSIN HOUSE s the largest, coolest in summer, unequalled in cleanliness, best ventilated, best furnished, and the best managed Hotel in Western Canada. It is the most central first-class Hotel in Toronto, situated on the corner of King and York streets.

This Hotel is the most desirable for the merchant, the lawyer, the business man, and the pleasure tourist, as street cars pass the doors to all parts of the city every five minutes, and all the fashionable dry goods stores are located on King street. Besides its superiority in point of location, it is the only intelligible for the magnificent parlors and bed rooms, detached and en suite, lofty ceilings and imposing corridors.

NSURANCE COMPANY has been making provision for all who hold INSURANCE COMPANY has been making provision for all who hold its promises to pay. If a business man holds a large amount of a Bank's promises to pay, he likes to feel assured, not merely that the Bank has good kopes of earning, in future, enough to meet its notes as they are likely to be presented, but that it actually has the money on hand, or most of it, to meet all claims, even if an unusually sudden call should be made.

all claims, even if an unusually sudden call should be made.

Such sudden call has happened to many banks, at various times, and the weak ones have gone under; such sudden calls happened to American Fire Companies, at the Chicago and Boston conflagrations, and to Canadian Fire Companies at the St. John and Quebec fires, and found many companies unprepared to honour their cheap promises. An unusual call may fall, at any time, upon the Life Insurance Companies of this continent, such as has, at different times visited portions of Europe. So slight an influence as the Epizootic, which visited Canada and the Northern States in 1873, ran the mortality of several life companies up 25 per cent., for one or two years, and caused many to drop their policies. Three large companies paid nearly a million dollars in that one year, in excess of the average of previous and subsequent years.

The P. F.'S.

This is the day set apart by Col. Denison to render decision in the case of those who attended, the alleged hard glove contest in McBride's hall some time ago.

Another lot of handsome new goods or spring suitings has just been opened by J. M. Maloney & Son, merchant tailors, 89 Bay street. Their stock is now one of the latter by a score of 9 to 8.
