Leyalty of the Liberals.

LONDON, June 9 .- Sir Charles Dilke, at liberal club this evening, referring to the events of the last 24 hours, said there was one event so gratifying that it was hardly one event so gratifying that it was hardly possible to mention it without emotion, namely-the extraordinary reception the liberals in the house of commons gave their great leader this afternoon when he (Mr. Gladstone) made the announcement that all expected he would make. [Cheers.] Etiquette forbade him to add anything to Mr. Gladstone's statement, but the liberal movements of resistance to oppression overywhere have no deeper foundation than the passionate declamation of a few busy-bedles. The fools who are misled by this seet of twaddle must know little of human nature. One thousand "agitators" could not under present circumstances incite a rebellion in Toronto—simply because they would have nothing to work upon, because the people de not foel that overpowering sense of wrong which can alone urge them to such a desperate step. time he retired, and turned over affairs to some man young enough to give and take blows without pleading accound shildhood as a defence. Secretly, that is the opinion, too, of many very close to him, officially and politically, for of late he has become petulant, overbearing, fickle, and yet despotio to an almost unbearable degree. But there is a glamour about the, "grand old man" to the English public which veils all these considerations, and it is quite as likely as not that tenderness for his aged sensibilities will, after all, out-weigh the existing radical resolve to make a stand for intelligent action in the matter of Ireland.

No better example of the popularity and attractiveness of Toronto can be found than the fact that no many conventions are held within its limits every summer. Nearly all the important national and international bodies have, or intend to, hold one of their annual gatherings in the city. We have unlimited and first class hotel accommoda-tion, plenty of buildings of beauty, a noble bay, pleasure crafts of all kinds, handsome drives and an baspitable and enterprising city full of people. It is to be hoped our health authorities will bear in mind the old adage about an ounce of prevention. The Metropolitan roller skating rink corner of Queen and Shaw streets, was orowded last night by an enthusiantio audience to witness the polo match between the Toronto and Bufalo clubs. The excitement was intense, and the playing remarkably good. In team play the Torontos undoubtedly excelled their op-ponents, aid won three straight games in 15, 10 and 20 minutes respectively. After the match the teams adjourned to supper at Sam Staneland*, and spent a very enjoyable social hour. To-morrow might, Friday and Saturday afternoon and even-ing Professor Franks, the great stilt skater, will give exhibitions of his remark-able a bility. whom expressed themselves strongly of the opinion that the cattle market, provided it be properly renovated, should remain where it is. Speeches were made to this effect by Mr. Ingham, Mr. Aikens to this effect by Mr. Ingham, Mr. Alkens and Mr. Flanagan. Ald. Frankland said that there were thirty or forty people in the immediate neighborhood who had made large purchases of land, simply on account of the proximity of the cattle market and that if the market were removed it would mean bankruptcy to a good many of these people. The neglect of the city council was alleged as the cause of the dirty state of the market. Mr. Hunnisett and Mr. Chesman, beth retail bu'chers, said that the reason so many retail butchers had been persuaded to sign the petition to have the market removed was that it had been represented to them that if no removal wasmadeit would be impossible to have a public abstitoir. They said that the present market place was well fitted for an abstoil on account of the trunk sever which ran through it. The meeting displayed great enthusiasm and unanimity. After a vote of thanks to the chairman, the meeting adjourned with God Save the Queen.
