n more or less observed in both the United ites and Canada, but this is the first year has had the solemn sanction and seal of the law. Beginning with Monday last Labor Day becomes a general and legalized holiday throughout the dominion. Hitherto many employers of labor have voluntarily given their employees a holiday upon some day toward the close of summer or early autumn, which has usually been spent in making some public demonstration or display of the pro-ducts of labor. The custom has proved itself so worthy of approval that in several coun-tries, notably in the U. S. and Canada, it has led to legislative action, so that all em-ployers must now grant the privilege of a holiday to those in their employ. The move is certainly an excellent one. The prosper-ity of a country depends so vitally upon the workshop, and the like, that anything which tends to elevate and diguify labor is surely deserving of the greatest encourage-ment. We trust, therefore, that Labor Day will become a recognized institution with us, as it has for some years been with the peoper of most of our cities: and we would respect. tion or display of of most of our cities: and we would respectfully suggest that if the Oddfellow's excurion is to become an annual event, that it Burglars Again in the Valley. A special despatch to the Halifax Herald on Sunday says that the gang of safe crack-ers who have been doing the valley struck Wolfville last Friday night. They broke ito the effect that they will exercise more economy in the future. The heads of the other departments have hitherto spent money freely without giving much thought as to where it came from, while upon the treasurer devolved the disagreeable duty of providing it. The imposition of the taxes rendered necessary in providing this money made the treasurer extremely unpopular, made the treasurer extremely unpopular, while the spending of it quite freely by his colleagues gave them a large measure of credit colleagues gave them a large measure of creating and popularity. Becoming rather tired of this one-sided state of things he tendered his resignation, which has now, it would appear, been withdrawn. If the resignation has the effect of leading to a more economical expen-diture of the local revenue, by his colleagues, it will not have been made without some gain. As he is an efficient and honest offi-cial his further continuance in office is in the public interest. With careful and economi-t to discord its finances our peer and threat specialist, successfully per-formed the delicate operation of removing a cataract from the eye of Mrs. Easson, of Weymouth, on Wednesday last. The anf-firer was taken to Middleton by her attend-ing physician, Dr. Hallett, who was present when the operation was performed. The afficied woman has reached the age of 84 years and has been totally blind in the eye operated upon for upwards of six years, and it must have been a great source of gratifi-cation to her as well as Dr. A. when some forty hours afterwards she could quite plainand popularity. Becoming rather tired of cal handling of its finances Quebec can yet be saved from bankruptcy. But the pro-vince cannot stand much more of such reck. vince cannot stand much more of such reckless extravagance as has characterized it of

FRIGHTFUL FOREST FIRES. Nearly Fifteen Hundred Lives Lost. TWELVE TOWNS HAVE BEEN WIPED OUT O EXISTENCE. Awful destruction has been wrought by forest fires in the states of Minnesota, Michi-gan and Wisconsin. Hundreds of lives have been lost, millions of dollars of property des-troyed, and several towns wiped entirely very destruction. Among the latter are the

been lost, millions of dollars of property des-troyed, and several towns wiped entirely out of existence. Among the latter are the towns Hinckley, Baronette, Granite Lake, Bashaw, Pokegama and others. Trains of the Great Northern were sent to the relief of the burning districts and passed through great perils in conveying passessengers to places of safety. The scenes at the front, where the work trains were engaged in rebuilding the burned bridges and tracks were described as appalling. One crew reported that they saw flames sweeping down on a house close to the track. The place was enveloped in fire before the people could escape. The workmen were powerless to render assistance although they were so close they could hear the people screaming as they were being cremated. Mrs. Lawrence, a passenger from Hinckley, on the St. Paul and Duluth Rail-way, says the first evidence of fire was almost suffocating. One mile north of Hinckley about fifty people rushed toward the train, screaming frantically. The engineer, seeing their danger if they remained, stopped the train and let them aboard. Mrs. Lawrence, describing the scene, said: "At the first rush of the flames towards the cars, the window panes went out with a crash, and the train began slowly to return towards Skunk lake. Peo-ple screamed, and men jumped through the car windows. The panic was horrible. Every fear-crazed person was for himself and did not care how he got out of the rush-ing avalanche of flames. My dress caught fire, but I extinguished the flames. I saw two Chinamen paralyzed by fear. They made no efforts to get away and simply hid their heads under the seats and burned to death. I stood it as long as I could, then rushed out of the car, jumped over one or death. I stood it as long as I could, they rushed out of the ear, jumped over one or two persons lying on the ground injured. Some people jumped into Skunk lake. I simply ran along the ties, the fire had burn-ed away. After running until my strength gave out, I fell down between the rails and expected every minute my dress would be gave out, I fell down between the 'rails and expected every minute my dress would be burned from my body. I put out the flamcs on my dress half a dozen times, and had to hold my hands over my baby's face to keep it from suffocation." Mrs. Lawrence was picked up in the middle of the track, about two miles north of Hinckley, by a relief party from Duluth, which made the trip on a hand-car.

PEOPLE SAVED THEIR LIVES BY STANDING IN

PROPILE SAVED THEIR LIVES BY STANDING IN THE RIVER UP TO THEIR NECKS. West Superior, Wis., September 3.—The latest reports from scenes of forest fires in Northwestern Wisconsin and Eastern Minne-sota augment rather than decrease the num-ber of fatalities and amount of property loss. The following towns are known to be 'en-tiredy wined out hardly a single huilding

The following towns are known to be en-tirely wiped out, hardly a single building standing: Shell Lake, Wis.; Baronetto, Wis.; Bashaw, Wis.; Hinckley, Minn.; Miller, Minn.; Rutledge, Minn.; Sturgeon Lake, Minn.; Moose Lake, Partridge, Sand-stone. The aggregate populations of all these towns is about 4,500 or 5,000. Two hundred and forty-seven bodies have been recovered so far—200 at Hinckley, 47 at Sandstone, and one at Baronetto. Most of ndstone, and one at Baronetto. Most o the bodies are so badly burned they cannot be recognized. Injured list includes every one in locality of the fire. A construction train went out on the Eastern Minnesota road at 5 o'clock yesterday morning, but road at 5 octock yesterday monthly, our was able to get only as far as Sandstone, a small station ten miles below this city. There they were stopped by the burning of the Kettle River bridge, one of the largest structures on the line. Only the centre pier
