INCREASED D. A. R. TRAFFIC.

Traffic over the D. A. R. has been very heavy of late. The yard at Kentville has been full of loaded cars waiting to get a right of way out. Three new engines have been purchased this fall.—Yarmouth Times.

The Financial Outlook.

In reasons for cheering up, the Toronto News gives the following, which ought to be passed along:—
"The present financial situation contains in itself the elements of its own cure. For months past banks and other leading institutions have been emphasizing in the ears of their patrons the scarcity of capital and the absolute need of a temporary curtailment of enterprise, and the husbanding of resources. This has led and is leading to a postponement of projected railway construction, building plans and business expansions, and to a slowing down in personal extravagance. The combined effect of all such diminution of expenditures will in time be seen in the accumulation of fresh reserves of capital wherewith to drive the great ball of earth around. It is impossible to say how long the brake must be applied ere the desired results are obtained, but to change the metaphor it is satisfactory to know that while the disease is at its worst the cure is already under way. Therefore, it is no time for the pessimist to hang about. There is still reason to cheer up."
It is desirable that the pessimistic observer of affairs be not left in possession of the field. The press from day to day gives evidence of a gradual check to the great "progress" in commerce and industry that has marked the past decade and it would be easy for ill-repute to be made of some confidence to some extent, if those who have a larger grasp of conditions failed to point out the elements which make for confidence. So far as Canada is concerned, there is no fear for the near future. The country must continue to advance in material prosperity.

Items of interest are—the election of officers, reports and discussions on law enforcement in this County. In the evening there will be a public meeting at which the leading temperance workers of the County will speak. This organization seeks to combine all temperance workers. So all societies and churches are expected to send delegates to attend. Let this be made a general rally.

Rev. E. E. Daley Delivers a Powerful Sermon on State.

Former Bridgetown Pastor, Now of Truro, Delivers a Sermon Widely Circulated by the Press of That Locality.

If you turn to a map in a timetable of one of the great railroads and look upon some great centre of population, such as New York or Chicago you will discover that there are lines of railroad running in every direction, east, west, north and south the highways of traffic run. The Christian pulpit is a centre from whence the gospel of Jesus Christ radiates into every province of human life. Go ye into all the world, said Jesus Christ, and preach the gospel, and that commandment reaches out not only to Greenland's icy mountains and India's coral strands, but into every province and state of humanity. That commandment lays down a straight road to the scepter of the King in the heart of the highest civilization and the spear of the savage in the wilds of Patagonia. Since the days of Jesus Christ, the Christian pulpit has been one of the most potent and practical forces in the transformation of society. Its hand has been felt not merely upon the church but upon the shop and the factory, and the school and the home and upon the legislatures where laws are made and policies of nations are shaped. There is no field of human activity into which the preacher of the gospel of Jesus Christ does not bring to thrust his plow for in every sphere of human action there is a theatre wherein men do good and evil; here in the area where they need to be encouraged to do the right and warned of the consequences of the wrong. The preacher of the gospel is not the successor of Aaron; he is not a priest; but he is the successor of Elijah and Isaiah, and of Daniel; these men who, directed by God, stood among their fellows as watchmen and sounded the note of warning or revealed the will of God in the various spheres of life. As it has been said the last half of the old testament is a fulfilment. It covers everything, politics, national manners, social customs. When Christian came his great founder started it on a career of conquest. He wrote upon everything. There was a theatre and an academy for his heralds a pulpit. The apostles preached. All the early ages preached. They preached an idea to supplant another. It was done. Then Christendom went to sleep in a hermitage. The pulpit disappeared. Luther came. He seized the pulpit. He spoke upon everything. He wrote upon everything. There was no question, public or private, that the pulpit did not deal with. This was the secret of its influence. It had a live man speaking to living men on live subjects. Some religious people affect to consider matters of state beneath their attention. They say they seek a better country. That is right. Every man ought to, and on his way to that better country he ought to do the best he can to make the country better through which he passes. It is impossible to love God and not love ones country, or indeed all countries. If the idea ever existed that religion is a thing of the temples, an adjunct of Sundays, merely a downy pillow for a dying bed, it has long since been exploded. Jesus Christ carried it out of the synagogues and the temples into the fishing boats and the seats of customs, and the highways and the byways and made man feel that God was a being who was no longer to be localised in Jerusalem or in the Mount of Sarnath, but that his presence and his power was to be recognized in every condition of life.

The state is a divine institution, and as such it needs to be carried on under the direction of God. Kipling, in his recession is correct as he says, "God of our fathers known of old, Lord of our life, Lord of our fate, whose awful hand we hold beneath whose upturned palm and well may we cry, Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet, lest we forget, lest we forget."

Tonight I wish to speak of our individual relation to the state, and first let me remind you that the state is the citizen's creditor. It is true that we owe more than the state. We owe the world. There is unconditionally resting upon us all a universal indebtedness. There is resting upon the state an imperial indebtedness. We owe the empire. We have received from the mother land. There are first that we may well consider imperishable, that bind us to that little island across the sea. We have our heritage because Britons have thought and toiled and fought and labored and we have entered into their labors. Read Canadian history. It reveals British blood and brains devoted to the interests of this country. We owe the motherland not only for the country, but for many of the ideals that go to make this one of the best homelands that the sun shines on. We owe more than the Empire. We owe the world. In this day history reveals the solidity of the race. One people have swirled another. In our gardens as it has been said are the fruits of many climes. The pear and the peach that came from Asia, the lily and the tulip that came from the Levant, the carnation and the pink that came from Italy, the albatross that came from the tablelands of Mexico, the heliotrope from Peru, the fusilia from Chili. Flowers and plants from every quarter, and this is only a part of the fact that other nations have contributed in a thousand ways to make us what we are. The Italians and the French taught the world silk weaving. The Venetians showed men how to make glass. A German erected the first paper mill, which means so much to the pulp industry. A Dutchman began potteries. The Genoese taught the world to build ships, and so a story reveals that fact that nations are all indebted to each other. And yet while an imperial indebtedness and a world-wide indebtedness nevertheless we are as individuals all indebted to the state which we form a part. To see this we only have to think of the national Messings that are ours. We owe it to the state that we are members of a confederacy that reaches from shore to shore, from the waters of the great Atlantic to the shores of the mighty Pacific. That we are not provincials, but Canadians, the citizens of no mean country, a country that we may teach our children to be proud of. A country of broad areas, of mighty natural features of vast resources and with a future of undoubted far reaching dimensions, for we may take our stand midway between the Atlantic and the Pacific on the breast of the virgin prairie and in the clear atmosphere of the unclouded heavens we may see the march of the incoming millions who shall people this fair Canadian land. We owe the state this, that today the hands of the East are clasped with the hands of the West in the hands and bonds of national life. We owe it to the state that we have protection; that we are safe from the hands of the lawless; that we have freedom—that none can count us as chattels to be bought and sold; that we have the schools that the state places at our door; that we have the right to worship, none daring to molest or make us afraid; that we have the Christian Sabbath; a Sabbath that is safeguarded by wise weapon that comes down as still as snow flakes upon the sod but executes a few man's will as lightning does the will of God.

But we are more than the creditors of the state. It is well for us to realize that we are custodians of the state as well. The day has gone forever in which one man can shape the destiny of a people. The day of the divine right of kings is over. Despotism is for nations in their infancy. Today no man can say with safety, "I am the state." Today the reins of government are in the hands of the people. Our hands are on the helm of the ship of state, and we can give her a prosperous voyage or bring her to the rocks. As custodians of the state we need to see how important it is that we be possessed as a people of the requisite intelligence to discharge the duties of our high office. As custodians of the state we need intelligence. A man may be a very intelligent business man but he may not be an intelligent farmer or a man may be an intelligent physician but he may know absolutely nothing about law, a man may be a good seaman but he may be very ignorant of mechanics. No man undertakes a trade until he has learned it, and yet every one thinks himself qualified for the hardest of all trades, as Socrates called it that of government. We look upon the ocean today, we see magnificent ocean liners, floating palaces, large enough almost to carry the inhabitants of a small village, sometimes carrying thousands of times beyond vast treasure. Think you any body men under the sun would lead the direction of such leviathans of the deep into the hands of a man who knew nothing about navigating the mighty deep. No, the first requirement for such a position is that men might know the winds and the reefs, the charts and the charts, the winds and the waves. How serious a thing it is that the ballot should be in the hands of men who have no high ideals, who have no sense of responsibility, as custodians of the state we exercise our rights and cast a ballot. We owe it to the state that we grip the reins of our country, that we see the path we ought to take. As custodians of the state it is well for us to remember that the prosperity of the state is primarily upon the character of her citizens. It is something that is often forgotten. Politics are esteemed by many to be everything. They are hardly second ary. The great thing in the country is not the mines of the country, or the prairie of a country, or the forests of the country, or the climate of a country, but the great thing is the character of the people of the country, and that country is possessed of the largest wealth and the greatest material prosperity that has the largest number of upright citizens. If history has shown us anything it has revealed the fact that the prosperity of a country has been in proportion to its moral and religious life. It is righteousness that exalteth a nation. "The nation," says the Almighty through Isaiah, "that will not serve me shall perish." History seems to be little less than the story of the rise, the course, and the decline of nations. The past stands as a warning to the present, the wrecked ship stands as a warning to the navigator and points out the rocks and the shoals. The banqueting hall of Belshazzar was held in impenetrable walls and colossal gates, and no foe could capture Babylon. But revel and debauch in a single night rendered weak the mighty walls, and swung open the gates of the mighty city. The intellectual life of Athens, the firmness and simplicity of Sparta went down before the powerful individual corruption. Rome dazzled by her conquests and achievements went down before the power of internal luxury and vice. The French nobility of the days of Louis the fourteenth revelled in the selfish indulgence of power and wealth, and whirled in the awful days of the revolution. There have been times of the mightiest men of the state has been high moral and religious character in the people. True manhood is the safeguard of the people. As her men were the walls of Sparta so will her citizens be the walls of Canada, and so it is the duty of every citizen to seek to elevate the moral character of his people. This is after all what everything exists for, as Humboldt has said governments, religion, school books, are nothing but the scaffold to build the man, and when you have him you will have something that will give prosperity and permanence to the state, possessed as we are with the ballot for the proper use of which power we are responsible to God.

Rev. E. E. Daley Delivers a Powerful Sermon on State.

Now if it is true, and true it is as history has revealed it, then the institutions that are laboring for the moral and religious life of the people are among the true bulwarks of the state. The words of Andrew Jackson as he lay on his death bed were wise words. Pointing to the old family bible he said "that book is the rock on which our republic rests." Said that commercial magazine, the Wall street journal in an editorial recently "What America needs more than railway extension and western irrigation and a low tariff and a merchant marine and a large navy, is the revival of piety. The kind mother and father used to have that counted it good business to stop work for family prayers, and to attend the midweek prayer meeting. That says the editor, is the thing that we need now to clean this country of the filth of graft and of greed petty and big and the worst of fine houses and lands. And he was right, for there is nothing that will protect a country from these present day evils as the strengthening of the stakes and lengthening of the cords of religion. What is true of the near by republic is true of Canada. Her safety is in her churches, in her Sabbath schools, in her Sunday schools, in her Sabbath schools, for these are the promoters of the spirit that can alone make any country great. If you wish to discharge your duty to your country, to build it up, to make it strong, then stand by, and for these institutions that are pouring red blood into the national veins, for as Wendell Phillips once said, "Though you build your capital as granite and pile it high as the Rocky mountains, if it is founded on or mixed up in iniquity the pulse of a girl in time will beat it down." Let every man count himself a defiler, a custodian of his country's interests, and let him know that since he occupies this position he is responsible for the way he uses the power that the Almighty has placed in his hand. Said a great American War Secretary, "I believe that the government is founded by God, and for my part, I will stand before Him in judgment." So should we all of us, feel about the strife. There cannot be anything greater done for this country than to keep it in connection with God, and such as do, are the true statesmen and the real patriots. But one other thought we have thought of the citizen as a debtor and a custodian. Let us think of him as a cancer. He can be such many are. You may find them among the professional politicians. You may meet them among the henchmen. They are the people whose aim is to feed off the state without giving it an adequate return. The man who counts votes as so much coin with which he may purchase what he wants. The type was well illustrated by a man who said to another, "Tom, you are a fool I don't care for the people, I don't care for the party, I only care for my self." There are such national blood-suckers. There are not a few of them. There is a tremendous temptation to day as you listen to men advocating their parties to think, "Well what are you after now? It may be a mean thought I try not to have it but to such a degree has the spoil system permeated our national life that one can hardly resist it. Men of this stamp are found in both camps. There is as far as I can see no difference. Such men are national cancers, public enemies. The citizen is a cancer in the state who corrupts his fellow men, while he means the man, he demoralizes himself. He furnishes him with an opportunity to sin as certainly as the saloon keeper. Such a man salves his conscience with the idea the end is good. The others do it. I'll fight fire with fire. That is they go into partnership with the devil for the sake of the dividends. Such men have sometimes the brass to say that they cannot see any harm in helping a man to break the laws of his country and become a criminal. The man that talks that way had better be ashamed of it lest people think him on the same plane as the Fiji Islander, lest people begin to enquire where he was brought up and whether he has moral strength "as a grain of mustard seed. Then the man who is bought in a cancer in the life of his country. Some people say what is the harm. That man has no opinion. They seem to see that if he has an opinion that he ought not trade it for the dollar, but they say he has no opinion. Then why should he be paid to lie. Every time a man puts a vote in the ballot box he declares that he has an opinion. What would you think of the man who goes into a courthouse and for a five dollar bill or for a hundred dollar bill, says that he knows that A or B is an innocent man when he does not know it, that he is a guilty man or a bad man when he does not know it, when a man who has a vote and yet has no opinion says that a certain party is bad when he does not know it, that man is in plain English, simply lying. The man who has no opinion has no right to vote. The venal vote has become a serious evil in our day. A few years ago a man who stood high in the public life of the Dominion said in speaking of a certain county that when he entered public life there were hardly seven men in the county that could be bought. Now he said there were hardly seven that cannot. What does this condition mean? It means that it is a menace to the clean lives of our public men. They must have money. If men give it why do they give? In nine cases out of ten in some way they may be reelected when the day comes that they can be. That means danger, it means graft. The venal ballot is a disease at the heart of the country. There is no point in the national life more sacred. There is no place so full of death if its sacredness be ignored. There is another man who is a national cancer refer to the rabid partisan. You find them in both parties. He is the man who will vote the regular ticket, if Belcher be the nominee. The franchise in the hands of such a man is like a jewel in a sewer. The proper place for the voters of any country to occupy is that which is near the fence where they can jump either way. Men sometimes think it to be made to feel that they can only depend upon the indifference of their fellows as their path is clean and not le and good. Then there is another man who may be said to be a cancer in the state. It is the man who is a squire therein. The man who treats the whole state life with indifference. He is apt to be found among men of good position, the so-called best citizen. They regard, oftentimes, the ballot as an insignificant thing and state that in the state of Massachusetts responsibilities are despised. I have read there are one hundred and fifty thousand dumb votes, Jacob Riis tells us that when the Tammany frigate was on the city of New York, that when crossing the ferry he happened to mention the fact that it was election day. One man said I did not know it was election day. Another said they didn't send any carriage for me. A third said I have more important business to attend to. Tammany, he said, was hauling its voters by the heels all day and came into power, and he said we swore at them for three years, but he said, we swore at the wrong men. It wasn't these men, it was the man who was too busy, who didn't know, who had no carriage sent for him, and he said further, the man who will not turn aside to vote is only one stage removed from the criminal and ought to be drummed out of good citizenship to the tune of the rogues march. And yet that is one of the great troubles in civic and national life. It has been the curse of the great American cities and its influence can be felt

I have no doubt, in Canada. The late Dr. Dale, one of the eminent preachers of England, said in the United States the rogues do public work in order to make money and the honest men neglect it in order to save money and judged by the standard of morality there is not much choice between the two. When Jacques Cartier landed on the shores of this country he set up a cross, significant action indicative of the countries need. Christ's cross is Canada's greatest need, the surest guarantee of her present and future prosperity. The Dominion of Jesus in our Dominion is national prosperity. There is no policy that promises so much for our great land as the policy of making Jesus, Lord That can only be done by the individual citizen individually accept Christ. Under his banner we shall conquer and so I urge on Him on you as the highest qualification for citizenship in time and eternity, for if the maple leaf be twined around the cross that mighty symbol of righteousness and sacrifice, our country will be able to be truly great, permanently prosperous, and to the glory of God.

A sticking cough from any cause is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so harmless and safe, that Dr. Shoop tells brothers every where to give it without hesitation, even to very young babies. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung-healing mountainous shrub, furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a resinous plant extract that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the Doctor uses, "The Sacred Herb." Always demand Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. For sale by W. A. Warren, Bridgetown, and Bear River Drug Store.

ANNAPOLIS RURAL DEANERY.

At a meeting of the Annapolis Rural Deanery held at Middleton on Tuesday and Wednesday of last week, the Rev. E. Underwood was elected Secretary to the Deanery in succession to the Rev. H. How, rector of Annapolis Royal, who has been appointed Rural Dean. Quite a lot of business was transacted at the meeting amongst it being the division of the D. M. B. assessment between the eight parishes comprising the Rural Deanery. The assessment has been raised almost fifty per cent. It is hoped that every parish in that and other Deaneries will make the necessary effort that the much needed forward movement throughout the Diocese may be taken up with vigor. On Wednesday morning at the 8 o'clock service, a very impressive sermon "ad clerum," was preached by the Rev. John Reeks, rector of Round Hill. The next meeting will be held at Bridgetown on Tuesday and Wednesday, March 17th. and 18th, 1908.

A flock of wild geese passed over on Tuesday last. This together with the snow that fell on Sunday is a gentle reminder that winter is in the air. There is about six inches of snow on a level and the sleighing is very good.

Those who have fowl are putting the finishing touches on them for Christmas. Mrs. Winchester, wife of the general squire, has a fine stock of turkeys; so has Mrs. J. S. Potter. All the birds are showing their keeping in good shape, and will be fat as butter by Christmas.

George Adams killed a spring pig which when dressed tipped the scales at 316 pounds. Mr. Adams says this knocks the spots off the one Uncle James Webster did so much crowing over last fall, and he bets dollars to doughnuts there is nothing in the County can beat it.

The metallic shunting has arrived for the Temperance Hall, and the work of putting it on will be started immediately. The stage will be enlarged somewhat, and when all the improvements have been made, Smith's Cove will have a mall in keeping with the beauty of the place. The Monitor-Sentinel advocated this work as early as last winter, and feels gratified in announcing that its agitation has resulted satisfactorily.

Squire Winchester says that a man answering the description of Elderkin, who broke out of Digby jail where he was confined awaiting trial, was on a charge of burglary at Yarmouth, called at his house the day after Elderkin broke jail. It was in the evening about 7 o'clock. He asked the squire for apples. The squire took him down cellar and filled his pockets. In reply to a question regarding his name, the stranger said it was Crabbe. The squire is now convinced that his tigger was Elderkin, and is oiling his musket so that he will not be caught napping again.

BEAVER FLOUR
A PERFECT BLEND OF MANITOBA AND
ONTARIO WHEAT

Manitoba wheat contains more food value than any other. It makes the most wholesome, most nutritious Bread and Biscuits. But it contains so much Gluten (Nourishment) that the dough won't rise properly, and the bread is both heavy and gray.

Ontario wheat does not give as nutritious bread as Manitoba wheat. But what it lacks in food properties, it equals by its tasty lightness of its Biscuits, Cake and Pastry. For Pastry, alone, Ontario flour is better than any other flour made of a single variety of wheat.

That is the reason, too, why Manitoba wheat flour does not yield good pastry.

But there is no need to go to the expense of buying two flours.

Beaver Flour

is both a bread flour and a pastry flour. It is a blend of Ontario Fall Wheat (Manitoba Spring Wheat). It contains just the right proportion of each to make the most nutritious Bread—the whitest Bread—and the lightest, most delicious Pastry of all kinds.

Beaver Flour also yields MORE Bread, etc., to the barrel, than any other.

No matter what other flour you are using, you are not getting the best results because you are not using the best flour.

Order a trial sack of Beaver Flour. The first baking will prove its quality.

Stanfield's Underwear
(Chapter I)

The Wool

A Talk by the Maker to the Wearer.

Stanfield's Underwear is made of the best wool that grows on the best wool-bearing sheep in the world—the long, silky-fibred Nova Scotia wool.

The founder of the Stanfield mills did more than anyone else to develop the wool industry throughout the Maritime Provinces. For half a century, the farmers of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island have saved their best wool for the Stanfields—first for C. E. Stanfield—and now for his sons, John and Frank, the President and Treasurer of Stanfields Limited.

The wear of a garment depends on the quality of wool from which it is made. Underwear may be PURE WOOL, and ALL WOOL—and still shrink, ravel and wear out in a single season. Because the underwear is not made of good wool in the first place.

There are seven grades of wool in the fleece when clipped from Nova Scotia sheep. Only the first three grades of this best wool are used in making Stanfield's Unshrinkable Underwear for men and women.

There are no weak spots in the fibre to break in the garments.

There can be no unraveling, because every stitch is locked.

Garments can't shrink, because of our perfected process of treating the wool BEFORE garments are woven, thus insuring absolutely Unshrinkable Underwear.

In all sizes from 22 to 70 inch chest measure. In three winter weights—RED label for light weight—BLUE label for medium weight—BLACK label for heavy weight.

Your dealer probably has all sizes and weights in stock. If not, he can easily get whatever you wish.

FROM THE SUNNY SOUTH.

To THE MONITOR-SENTINEL.

I have been thinking of dear old Bear River to-day, and wonder if you have space for a few poor lines which I cannot resist the temptation to write.

I got a letter from home to-day and it stated how cold it has been down there and I thought of you shivering there and we here basking in the warm sunshine of the sunny south, where one can look around and see the beautiful, tall, long leaf pines, oaks, willows, and the holly with its pretty red berries, and then at the shrubs, so tropical looking, and the honey-suckle vines and the pretty yellow jasmine, and roses and violets all in bloom. And as the spicy odor of the pines mingles with the fragrance of the roses and honey-suckle, I think of the dear old homeland and can almost taste that delicious new cider and the spicy mince pies, and really I don't know which is the best place after all. But this is a beautiful place, the climate so mild, never really below forty in temperature on an average the whole winter long; never any snow, and the warm sun and the beautiful moonlight nights, so light it seems like day, all these delights go to make up one grand joy of living in the sunny south land.

Then again to drive out in the country in the afternoon near sunset and look across the cotton fields so white with cotton, we are the dorkies picking cotton and hear them singing the old plantation songs as they hurry to get through their day's work, all happy though weary with the day's labor. It is a pretty sight to the lover of nature. The beautiful sunsets here I think even rival those of dear old Nova Scotia. Just to watch the sun go down behind those beautiful tall pines is a sight one will not soon forget.

There are many things I would like to speak of that would be new to a great many at home, but I am afraid I shall take up too much space in your paper. I want, however, to speak of the south in general; it is a very prosperous, beautiful country (God's country, they call it). Fruits grow here in abundance, peaches, pears, figs, grapes and apples. But the apples are very poor. I think the southern people would open their eyes wide if they could take one trip up the Valley in apple time in Nova Scotia. But really one can get everything here one could possibly wish for. We are open to all the markets of the north and the south also England, and the southern people still hold to the old sentiment that England and English hold the best in the world. But I think also that the southern people would do well to learn some of the activities of the Canadians, for a rule, the southern people like plenty of rest and don't like to push things along as the Canadians do. It is mostly the northern people that are the ambitious ones out here.

One lady from Minnesota has a very nice vegetable garden, the year round, and is of some value at work. A native asked her one day, if she intended to work all the winter in the garden, raising vegetables. She answered, "Yes, I intend to put one crop in after another, don't you?" "Oh," he said, "one crop is all we can manage for it's a heap of trouble." You all will get mighty tired I reckon."

And so a great many do not grasp their opportunities, but where you find in a southerner a sense of business, he is a live one.

Aiken, South Carolina.

291 Heats in 2.30.

Or Better on Maritime Provinces Tracks in 1907.

The turf season in the Maritime Provinces ranks as one of the most successful in years, not only from a racing but a breeder's standpoint. The list compiled by the Recorder shows 36 horses either owned in the Province or those from abroad racing on Maritime Provinces tracks have entered the 2.30 list, and eight of these the 2.20 list. No less than 291 heats were trotted or paced in 2.30 or better, 78 of which were in 2.30 or faster. The best records in the Province this season were as follows:—

TROTTING.
Fastest—Bettill Boy 2.19 1/2 b. g. by Potential 2.18 1/2
Fastest mare—Daisy DeWitt b. m. by Red Lake 2.20 1/2
Fastest new performer—Otto Oaks blk. g. by Fair Oaks 2.21
Fastest stallion—Dr. Ferron br. h. by Ferron 2.22 1/2

PACING.
Fastest—Terrace Queen 2.06 1/2 b. m. by Valoux 2.12 1/2
Fastest gelding—Northern Spy m. g. by Vaasar 2.15 1/2
Fastest new performer—Miss Letha g. m. by Diapine 2.15 1/2
Fastest Stallion—Basilto br. s. by Distinct's Wilkes 2.18 1/2

The fastest miles of the year were by Terrace Queen, owned by C. F. DeWitt, Bridgetown, at Chatham, when she paced in 2.15, 2.12, 2.12. Strange to say, it was the only race she won this season. Simmasse, owned by R. H. Edwards and F. Boutillier, Halifax, has beaten her in their first meeting at Springhill, and won from her at Chatham at Fredericton and Halifax, lowering the track record at the former place. The free-for-alls, however, were the most disappointing events of the racing season. There were but seven during the year, and six of these were won by Simmasse. Her total $1325 winnings were the largest amount won by any horse on the Maritime Provinces tracks.

The gains gelding, Northern Spy, which raced in the New Brunswick circuit, was the fastest gelding on the provincial turf with his mile in 2.15 1/2 at Fredericton. The fastest gelding owned in the Provinces was Burling, by Ontario, owned by A. B. Kitchener, Fredericton, which reduced his record at Chatham to 2.16 1/2. The sensational performer of the year was the green mare Miss Letha, owned by W. K. Allen, Fredericton. Starting without a record, she won seven out of nine races (being beaten only by Northern Spy), winning $1200 in prizes and obtaining a record of 2.16 1/2.

J. C. Larder, Sydney, owned the fastest stallion of the year, Basilto, with his record of 2.19 1/2 in both his fourth and fifth heats in the Sydney race in August.

Estill Boy, the champion trotter, owned by J. R. Cowan, Springhill, still maintained his position. He had to meet speedy pacers on every occasion, but his one heat in 2.18 1/2, which he won at Moncton, was the fastest of the season.

Daisy DeWitt, owned by R. A. Corbett, Halifax, which has been retired from the turf for a season, returned for one race at Halifax, and finished her plans as the fastest trotting mare, which she held in 1905, and still further lowered her record to 2.20 1/2.

The fastest green trotter of the season was the Springhill gelding Otto Oaks, owned by G. McKnight, Springhill. His mile race at Halifax was 2.21. Dr. Ferron, handled by C. Henry, Chatham, had the fastest mile for the season among the trotting stallions, 2.22 1/2.

In these days, with so many pacers, it is pleasing to note that one of the greatest turf performers, and the biggest money winner of the season was a green trotter—the grey mare Marguerite, 2.22 1/2, owned by Gallagher, Woodstock. She won nine races in the Provinces, lost but two heats, and won $1275 in money, but she also won a race just across the border, in Maine, bringing her winnings to $1375, the largest amount won by any Provincial horse during the season.

One of the largest winners of the year was Peachesina, 2.18 1/2 by Betterton, owned by J. B. Mitchell, Halifax. She started in nine races, winning five, was twice second, twice third, and won $1177.50 in purses, and did not have to lower her record.

The exact amounts won by horses are not always available, but are given as published: Among the horses winning over $500 were: Lady Ringo, 2.14 1/2, $1,000; Laura Merrill, 2.17 1/2, $820; Burling, 2.16 1/2, $650; Dr. Band 2.15 1/2, $625; Northern Spy, 2.15 1/2, $550; Major Wilkes, 2.18 1/2, $545; Dr. Ferron, 2.22 1/2, $530; Buchanan, 2.25, $510; Miss Kadams, 2.18 1/2, $505. Don A., 2.18 1/2, won $850 on provincial tracks, and increased this amount on Main tracks.—Recorder.

It Pays.

It pays to wear a smiling face. And laugh our troubles down. For all our little trials await. Beneath the magic of a smile. Our doubts will fade away. As melts the frost in early spring. Beneath the sunny ray. It pays to make a worthy cause. By helping it, our own. To give the current of our lives A true and noble tone. It pays to comfort heavy hearts Oppressed with full despair. And leave in sorrow darkened lives A gleam of brightness there. It pays to give a helping hand To eager, earnest youth; To note, with all their waywardness, Their courage and their truth. To strive with sympathy and love, Their confidence to win. It pays to open wide the heart— And let the sunshine in. —WAIF.

A Cows Age is Important.

According to a bulletin issued by the Wisconsin Dairy Station, a cow is at her best during her fifth and sixth years, up to which time the production of milk and butter fat by cows in normal condition increases each year. The length of time a cow will maintain her maximum production depends on her constitutional strength and the care with which she is managed.

A good dairy cow should not show any marked falling off until after ten years of age. Many excellent records have been made older than this. The quality of milk produced by heifers is somewhat better than that of the older cows, for a decrease has been noted of one to two tenths of one percent in the average fat content of each year until the cows have reached the full age. This is caused by the increase in weight of the cows with advancing age. At any rate, there seems to be a parallelism between the two sets of figures for the same cows. Young animals use a portion of their food for the formation of body tissue, and it is to be expected, therefore, that heifers will require a larger proportion of nutrients for the production of milk and butter than do older cows.

After a certain age has been reached—on the average, seven years—the food required for the production of milk or butter fat increases, both as regards dry matter and digestible components of the food. A good milking cow of exceptional strength, kept under favorable conditions, whose digestive system has not been impaired by overfeeding or crowding, for high results, should continue to be a profitable producer till her twelfth year, although the economy of her production is apt to be somewhat reduced before this age is reached.

Many a fractious or balky horse has been cured by a little kindness. Speak to such a one gently and soothingly, and if frightened reassuringly. When he has driven you well, give him a kindly pat, a hearty word, and an apple to eat, or a bit of sugar, and notice how almost human is his pride and gratification. Remember that this is a love and fealty which can never be bought. You cannot tempt him with goods or any material reward. The value of these he cannot know, but he will give you loyal love, and that in no stinted measure.

The professor in charge of a Princeton class room had been annoyed by the tardy entrance of a student. He pointedly ceased talking until the man took his seat.

After lecture the student apologized.

"Professor," said he, "my watch was 15 minutes out of the way. It was bothered and my good deal lately, but after this I shall put no more faith in it."

"I'm not faith you want in it," replied the professor. "It's works."

To John A. Diersen, who lives on Sherman Island, Calif., belongs the credit for one of the cleverest achievements ever seen in this section. Diersen is a chicken fancier, and has about 300 fowls in his charge.

He also loves the music of the bugle, and for many years blew calls in the German army. He conceived the notion that it would be a great feat to teach the chickens to come to supper when a bugle was blown.

He started to teach them, and, after months of hard work, finally managed to get them trained so that they knew the "fall in" from the "retreat."

Now whenever visitors call on Diersen he gives an illustration of 300 hens marching behind thoroughbred roosters while he blows the bugle.—Philadelphia North American.

NOVA SCOTIA BOY TURKEY'S NEW PASHA.

(Canadian Men and Women.)

Commander Ranford D. Bucknam of the Turkish navy, who has just been promoted to the rank of rear admiral in that service, with the title of Pasha as a Canadian. Dr. Morgan states that the new Pasha was born in Hantsport, in Nova Scotia, in 1809, his parents being Ezra Taylor and Isabella Roscoe Bucknam. For a time he was superintendent of the American Steel Barge Company's works at Panama, and later was placed in charge of Cramp's shipyards at Philadelphia. Being appointed trial commander of the United States steamship Maine, he was deemed worthy of being given the command of the Imperial Ottoman steamship Meffidja, and of conveying her from Philadelphia to Turkey. This service brought him under the notice of the Sultan of Turkey, who was so much impressed with his professional capabilities, as to make him his naval adviser as well as his personal A. D. C. The dates of these appointments was April 19th, 1904. At a later period Captain Bucknam was decorated by the Sultan with the order of Osman Iah and the distinguished service medal. Admiral Bucknam resides at Constantinople, but he remains a member of several clubs in New York and Philadelphia. He married, January, 1904, Miss Rose Thayer, of Philadelphia.

There is a little anecdote in this story, as the Hantsport Advance has discovered, for it says:— That Ranford C. Bucknam has been promoted by the Sultan of Turkey to Rear Admiral, with the title of Pasha, is no doubt true, but that he was born in Hantsport is not. The Admiral is a native of Halle Harbor, Kings County, where his father and mother, Ezra Taylor Bucknam and Isabella Roscoe Bucknam, were also born. His mother was a daughter of William A. Roscoe. His father was a seafaring man and was lost at sea, leaving his widow with four young children, the Admiral being next to the oldest in age. He did not move to the United States with his parents. His grandfather, John Bucknam, Esq., was a shipbuilder and was no doubt a native of Halle Harbor, where he built his vessels. In middle life John Bucknam and wife (who was a Miss Palmer, of Grand Pre, moved away west to Duluth and took with them their two eldest grand-children, one of whom was the coming Admiral, and it was on the Great Lakes that the young man became prominent. At Duluth (not Panama) was where the barges or ships were built called "whalebacks," one of which he took to England. It is not thought that he went to sea in sailing vessels. To a lady in town, we are indebted for the above. She well remembers trotting the Admiral on her knee, when he was a little tot, and to whom she is quite closely related.

Obituary.

MRS. ELIZA ARMSTRONG. At Karsdale on the 5th, of November, there passed away, Mrs. Eliza Armstrong, after a prolonged illness. Mrs. Armstrong had been living with her brother, E. R. Conners, for the last few years, where she was carefully and lovingly attended, both Mr. and Mrs. Conners doing all in their power to smooth the last remaining years of life. Mrs. Armstrong was early married to Mr. Whitman Armstrong of Stony Beach, who predeceased her some twenty five years. Since that time she has been living at Karsdale, where she had many strong admirers for her many kind acts. Nothing gave her more pleasure than to help relieve those in sickness and in trouble. Her sister Adelia Conners came from Lynn, Mass., to be with her in her last illness, and all that could be done through medical skill and kind and loving friends was done to soothe her in her last illness. Mrs. Armstrong was a consistent member of the Methodist Church, and the happiest moments of her life were spent trying to follow the meek and lowly Nazarine, and she went out with the full assurance by faith of an entrance through the Pearly Gates into the New Jerusalem. The evidence of how much she was appreciated was shown by the beautiful display of beautiful wreaths and cut flowers upon the casket. Our sincere sympathy goes out to the beloved brother and sister, and host of friends who are left to mourn. Com.

MUSCULAR PAINS CURED.

"During the summer of 1903 I was troubled with muscular pains in the instep of my foot," says Mr. S. Peck, of Toronto, Ont. "At times it was so painful I could hardly walk. Chamberlain's Pain Balm was recommended to me, so I tried it and was completely cured by one small bottle. I have since recommended it to several of my friends, all of whom speak highly of it."
