DUNCAN'S VERACITY IS QUESTIONED BY MEN IN HIS OWN DEPARTMENT; MANY PEOPLE HAD ACCESS TO PAPERS

Inspector Showed Farmers' Bank Papers to Telegram Reporter—All Witnesses Endeavor to Put Blame on Others and Show Much Bitterness—Whole Police Force May Be Subpoenaed.

When the police commissioners opened the investigation into the conduct of Inspector of Detectives Walter Duncan in the handling of the Farmers' Bank papers yesterday afternoon, many charges were made by other officers against the chief of the detective department.

Among other things it was stated that he has been blaming his men in the past for divulging information to the press when in reality he gave it out himself.

Other witnesses swore that Percy Haverson of The World had looked over the Farmers' Bank papers despite a strong denial from Mr. Haverson. M. K. Cowan, K.C., appeared for Inspector Duncan, while the commission consisted of Judge Winchester, Mayor Geary and Col. Denison.

The courtroom was well filled by police officials, detectives and newspapermen, who had all been subpoenaed as witnesses. Frank Hodgins, K.C., was also present.

Stewart Lyon of The Globe was the first witness. He was questioned by Col. Denison on the manner in which he had come to know that the papers of the Farmers' Bank case were accessible. Witnesses could not remember who had given this information. It was during a conversation in his office with someone that they dropped the remark that he could see the papers at the detective department. The evidence of Mr. Lyon taken at the royal commission investigation was then read.

Mr. Lyon was again taken over the incident in Inspector Duncan's office when he looked over the detective's shoulder and read the file of papers relating to the bank case. This was the particular file on which were the letters to Col. Matheson re a government deposit for the Farmers' Bank.

In answer to Col. Denison, Mr. Lyon stated that he had access to the papers by looking over Duncan's shoulder. The latter turned them over one by one and he had ample opportunity to see them. Copies of these letters, he said, were published in The Globe subsequently.

"You did not carry it all in your mind, surely?" inquired Col. Denison. "No; I just carried a synopsis." He had not copied these papers. "Did you publish the exact copy?" "No; I just published the synopsis of them on August 4."

Mr. Lyon here said that he thought anyway that the papers should be public property, inasmuch as they so greatly affected the public. He could not remember who had at first made him aware of the chance of inspecting them.

Major Geary pressed this point a little further. "Someone called at the office about a year ago," coached his witness, "and suggested that you could see the papers if you came up here. That is the clearest recollection you have about it?" "Yes."

Col. Denison thought that the person who told Mr. Lyon must have also had access to the files. This, then, made two. "No, no; I don't want it to appear that Mr. Duncan gave access to anyone else," corrected Mr. Lyon hastily. "But we want to find out if they had," rejoined the colonel.

M. K. Cowan, K.C., appearing for Inspector Duncan, here raised an objection over the use of the word "access." He thought that it was being applied incorrectly to the inspection of these files.

No detective or member of the police force had given him the tip, declared the Globe man. A detective had not been in his office for 20 years.

Mayor: "What you mean is that it was not a detective who came to your office?" "Yes."

Ax to Fall on Montreal Harbor Board

MONTREAL, Sept. 23.—(Special.)—There is a rumor current here since the Borden banquet that Messrs. Ballantyne and Geoffrion will soon be retired from the harbor commission, but that the president will remain.

Since the Conservatives gained power at Ottawa, persistent efforts have been made to have the members of the commission who are Liberals appointed by the late government dismissed from office. So high has been the feeling among party stalwarts, that a number of Conservative M.P.'s of the province some time ago headed a deputation at Ottawa to demand that the ax fall. On the other hand a large body of Montreal business men urged that the commissioners be retained, and hitherto the government has declined to interfere.

NEW POSTOFFICE PROMISED TORONTO

Hon. L. P. Pelletier, Postmaster-General, Says Plans Will Be Prepared at Once and Work on Handsome and Commodious Building Will Soon Start.

A new general postoffice for Toronto will be the permanent memorial of the great board of trade banquet to Hon. R. L. Borden in the arena last night, according to the announcement made by the postmaster-general, Hon. L. P. Pelletier. As Hon. George Foster said subsequently his friend knows exactly how to appeal to an audience, Mr. Pelletier's appeal was an unqualified success and aroused immense enthusiasm. He had two reasons, he said, to give him pleasure in taking part. He renewed his acquaintance with Toronto, and he had to perform a public duty. He had the advantage of going to "Hailan's Point" and at a demonstration there which he would not refer to, more particularly as a political matter, he saw the greatest number of fine looking and graceful ladies that he had ever seen gathered together. But he had also the departmental point of view and he was reminded that Toronto gave one-sixth or one-seventh of the whole revenue of the country. He had picked up his speech in the streets of Toronto, he said, in complimenting the fine commercial and public buildings and the university—an example to the world.

"But there is an eye-sore the kind of barn or drug store you have for a postoffice." This sally evoked cheers and laughter.

"How long will it stand?" asked a voice. "I'm going to deal with that now," was the reply. The city was giving such a large revenue, and would increase it by hundreds of thousands next year, it was due to Toronto to do something.

"I've been round that postoffice today, and I'm ashamed of it. In all the sunshine today there were 400 employees working there by artificial light." His friend Hon. Mr. White had been talking of his surplus revenue, he remarked.

"I'm going to tell him he must hand some back over to me." "You'll get it, Pelletier," replied the minister of finance.

"Are we going to do some more patching?" pursued Mr. Pelletier, amid a chorus of Noes following. If he had the people of Toronto and of Canada behind him, and he believed he had, he said "We will have the plans made and start it as soon as we can." The owners of property in Toronto, he added, might think their corner lots had advanced in value, but he appealed to the public spirit of the citizens to facilitate the matter.

DECOY BILL AS TRAP FOR CLERK

Ivan Baird, Found With Marked Bill in Possession, Denies His Guilt.

A marked four dollar bill brought about the arrest of Ivan Baird, aged 23, of 143 Shuter street, in Eaton's store, where he is employed, yesterday.

Baird is a salesman in the hat department and has been suspected for some time of not making returns for sales he made. Yesterday he sold a hat for $4 and send a "deduct" slip for this amount to the cashier's department. By this means it was presented that the hat had been returned and the money was to be given back to the dissatisfied buyer. In reality, according to the police, the hat was not returned and Baird pocketed the money. A decoy bill was found in his possession, but he denied all knowledge of the "game."

Donald Brian a Favorite. Judging by the continuous applause accorded Donald Brian, the star of "The Siren" company at the Princess Theatre during the opening performance of the musical comedy last night, this clever young Canadian artist is a pronounced favorite in this city.

RACE DAY HATS Your new hat at the races should be a Dinsen design—something sold exclusively by Dinsen in Canada, such as a Dunlap or Heath, for which the company is sole Canadian agent, or a Christy, Melville or Stetson. Dinsen's show rooms at 140 Yonge street are worth a visit if you are at all interested in new hats.

GENERAL STRIKE FOR 6 WEEKS IN BELGIUM

Socialists, to Show Determination to Get Universal Suffrage, Will Paralyze Public Services and Industries—Half-Million Workers Prepared to Lose $10,000,000.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 23.—(Can. Press.)—A great general strike is projected by the socialists of Belgium in support of a universal suffrage amendment to the constitution. Hostilities against the government which has resolutely set its face against the desired legislation, will begin in November. Half a million workers. It is calculated, will be involved in the strike, which, it is proposed, shall last six weeks at a cost to their funds estimated at ten millions of dollars.

The railways, the postal and telephone services, mines, docks, arsenals, factories and workshops of all kinds are to be involved in what its promoters contend will be a bloodless campaign. Women seem as earnest as the men in the propaganda, which reaches throughout Belgium. Promises of substantial financial support have been received, the committee officials aver, from the U. S., France, England, Germany, Sweden and elsewhere, and arrangements have been completed, according to the same authority, to send forty thousand children to temporary homes in the north of France on the declaration of the strike.

Decks Cleared for Action. The thoroughness of the socialist leaders who are engineering this movement is in evidence on all sides. All extra work in the mines has been strictly avoided so that there shall be no accumulation of coal stocks against the evil day. Similar action has been taken in factories and workers are limiting the output strictly to the quantities necessary to meet requirements from day to day. Any attempt to depart from this rule is prevented by the workmen.

In the homes of the workers the strictest economies are being observed so that funds may be available when the weekly wages cease to come in and the men and women are saving up their money as for their annual holiday.

In spite of the announced desire of the committee that the peace shall be in no way disturbed during the strike, such vast numbers of revolvers have found their way into the hands of workmen that the government has issued special instructions to burgomasters, police and gendarmes to round up all arms.

RAILWAY BUYS IN N. ROSEDALE?

J. Waldron Has Sold at High Figure Land Close to New Government House, Possibly for Bridge Landings

Representatives of unknown interests, who are almost certain to be the Canadian Northern Railway, have just completed a purchase at $5,000 through Winyard, Cooh & Co., for J. Waldron's property on Ashley avenue in North Rosedale, at the point where the C. P. R. viaduct crosses over the old belt line ravine. The property was apparently purchased for bridge approaches, landings and right of way for the C. N. R.'s line to North Toronto. Although the land may have been bought by subdividing interests. The high price rather precludes the latter.

The vendor is J. Waldron, the well known bandmaster of the Royal Grenadiers. The present purchase of the island, en bloc, is in connection with important developments about to take place, he says, in that locality.

CANADA'S IMPERIAL ATTITUDE EXPOUNDED BY PRIME MINISTER NAVAL ANNOUNCEMENT DELAYED

Seven Thousand Ardent Auditors Including Three Thousand Women at Arena Heard Right Hon. R. L. Borden, Members of His Cabinet and Other Speakers Tell of Canada and Its Place in the Empire—Sir James Whitney and N. W. Rowell Paid Tributes to Mr. Borden's Ability in Dealing With Defence Problems—G. T. Somers Presented Address of Welcome From Toronto Board of Trade.

Enthusiasm and more enthusiasm on the patriotic and truly Canadian and British side of citizenship had full rein in the magnificent new arena last night when Premier Borden was tendered a most brilliant reception and banquet by the Board of Trade. Fifteen hundred guests added to the ordinary seating capacity of the arena constituted an audience which may easily have exceeded 7000. It had but one fault, a fault of most very large audiences, that the interest of many slackens early, and from 9.30 there was a steady stream of departures, and for the next hour or so the lofty tiers gradually turned from black to orange as the ladies and their escorts left and the chief guests sat, stretched across the southern side, and except in the case of one or two speakers, it was easy to hear what was said. The proceedings were prompt, and G. T. Somers, president of the Board of Trade, who was in the chair, was admirable in the position, and his address struck a pleasant note. Around him were grouped as distinguished as the gathering as Toronto has assembled from her commercial and political ranks, and the seats behind were filled with ladies representing the social dignity of the city.

It fell to Sir James Whitney to open the speech-making, which he did in proposing Mr. Borden's health. Sir James moved off like a stately three-decker and fired double-shotted salutes to the glory and honor and persistence of the empire. It might be said that the navy was in the air last night, the it ought to be in the water, and everybody talked about it except Mr. Pelletier, who got down on solid ground with the promise of a new general postoffice for Toronto. Sir James aroused much applause by his references to the navy, to the royal welcome accorded Mr. Borden in Britain, and his loyal expressions about the "grand old mother of nations." He mentioned the previous great Canadians—Howe, Macdonald, Casgrain, Laurier, who had gone on missions for Canada to Britain, but it was given to none of them to sit in the part in the empire as Mr. Borden had heard.

MR. BORDEN SPOKE FOR 45 MINUTES. It was 9.10 when Mr. Borden arose and he spoke for 45 minutes. Mr. Borden lacks the clutch and grip of the popular orator, but he speaks with a ponderous impressiveness, in spite of a colorless voice, which suggests the state-inflicted, ironed-monsters of the navy, whose greatest virtue is in what they do not need to say. Mr. Borden looked very well, and somewhat more bronzed than usual. The reception he had met in England would always live in his memory, but the deep-voiced, whole-hearted Canadian welcome, he said, was in truth the best of all. Like all the speeches there was a tendency to range in superlatives, but the occasion was a notable one and warranted unusual emphasis. Of the navy he said the people of the old land were as firmly convinced as he and his audience were that the security of the empire depended on the sure path across the seas—the sure path across every ocean where British dominions lie. He could make no announcement till the governor-general called parliament together.

LIBERALS AND CONSERVATIVES HAND IN HAND. He recalled the fact that Liberal and Conservative alike, led by George Brown and John A. Macdonald, had joined hand in hand in the great task of federating Canada, and had made it possible. He hoped that the national sentiment there would be no Nova Scotia or British Columbia, no Ontario or Quebec, but one Canada. He spoke of agriculture and the need of good roads, when it cost more to bring the farmer's produce over ten miles than by rail for 500. He referred to Hon. Adam Beck's hydro-electric scheme and hoped they would be able to heat as well as light houses in future, and to bring the conveniences of city life to the farm. And he hoped the clamor of the market place would not quell the gentler promptings of life, and that the touch of idealism might not be buffeted aside in the fierce rush for material things.

MANY FEATURES OF PROGRESSIVE LEGISLATION. Hon. N. W. Rowell had a hearty reception, but in the course of 15 minutes gripped his audience and elicited a good deal more enthusiasm than when he began. He ingratiated himself by his humorous allusions and suggested the swift cruiser in his alert manner. He proposed the toast of parliament and mentioned many features of progressive legislation which stood to its credit. Referring to the responsibility of Canada in support of the navy, he said that "the words of the prime minister encouraged him to think this able, rich, young country will not be behind in doing its share."

Hon. W. T. White told how in Montreal at a meeting after Mr. Borden had chosen him to be minister of finance, an interrupter asked: "Where did he get you?" "He got me in Toronto," was Mr. White's reply. He hoped to pay not only current expenses, but also expenses properly chargeable to capital, and also a substantial sum for the reduction of debt. Mr. White thought there was no problem greater than transportation, and with the great inland waterways, half across the continent, and the opening of the Panama Canal, they must be beforehand in meeting port and harbor requirements. Mr. White might take rank among the speakers as a torpedo destroyer.

SWAPPED BANQUET FOR POSTOFFICE. Hon. A. E. Kemp also acknowledged the toast, and J. E. Atkinson, in a model speech three minutes long, swapped the Board of Trade banquet for a postoffice. Hon. George Foster, with his usual dreadnought resource, sailed in at the close of the program and wound up the evening with a brilliant little ten-minute's speech. Mr. Pelletier had not told them of the nights when he had slept with him, of the days he had walked with him, and his tongue that he had wagged for the necessity of keeping the trade routes open up into concrete form.

The mistake very much the feeling of Canada and the empire if you do not see that thing done." The proceedings terminated shortly after 11, when Mr. Borden proposed the toast of the Board of Trade and Mr. Somers, and the National Anthem was sung.

Those seated at the head table were: Hon. Sir Lyman M. Jones, Hon. Robt. Jaffray, Hon. W. J. Hanna, Hon. J. J. Poy, Hon. J. O. Reaume, Hon. W. H. Hearst, Hon. J. S. Hendrie, J. S. Williams, W. F. Cookshutt, M.P., Col. G. T. Denison, D. R. Wilkie, Hugh Blair, W. R. Brock, W.D.McPherson, M.L.A., J. J. Englehart, J. Henry Peters, Dr. G. Stressemann, Dr. H. Hammann, J. D. Allan, J. F. Ellis, Dr. A. H. U. Colquhoun, W. J. Gage, John J. B. O'Brien, H. T. Reason, R. Home Smith, Eric N. Armour, L. H. Clarke, Murray Brown, Henry Brock, Ladies and Gentlemen—Mr. Borden, Ladies and Gentlemen—I recognize it, I can assure you, as a peculiar honor which has fallen to my lot, that I should be called upon to act as chairman at this magnificent gathering, drawn together to do honor to the first citizen of our great Dominion.

And to you, sir, may I say that the board of trade of the City of Toronto rejoices in the opportunity of welcoming you to this fair city upon your return from a most memorable visit to the capital of our empire, to express to you, sir, our profound sense of the prudence, sobriety and dignity which you have manifested in important negotiations with the home government, and to declare our convictions that from these negotiations will flow results of high value to Canada and of immense significance in the evolutions of the imperial relation.

We welcome you the more heartily because you come from the eastern provinces, where from confederation and beyond we have had a noble contribution of orators, scholars and statesmen, and because we remember that two of your predecessors in the high office of prime minister of Canada were also born and reared in the old province where responsible government in North America was first established, and where was effected the first practical demonstration of alliance and co-operation between a self-governing democracy and an ancient monarchy.

Can Only Move Grain Crop By Pouring It Over Border

From of Western Growers Says Movement Will Be Organized in Two Weeks Later Than Last Year—Thru Railway Rates to U.S. the Remedy.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 23.—(Can. Press.)—Under the caption "A Grain Block Unavoidable," The Grain Growers' Guide will say tomorrow: "All signs point to a congestion in the movement of grain this fall far worse than that of last fall and winter."

During the two weeks ended September 21 there were only 1298 cars of grain shipped westward from the United States, as against 4482 for the same period last year.

With these facts in hand it is imperative that every effort be put forth to meet these most exceptional conditions. The railways will not be able to handle the grain that is offered there.

TUESDAY MORNING, SEPT. 24, 1912

ROOSEVELT FORGING AHEAD.

Mr. Samuel G. Blythe, in The Saturday Evening Post, sizes up the presidential situation as it appears to him after a long tour thru the Western States. He is an acute observer with a cynical strain of humor not easily deceived by passing manifestations of popular caprice, and in the early days of the Taft-Roosevelt contest, was inclined to poke fun at the reports of the Roosevelt strength, which came to Washington from the corn and cattle districts west of the Allegheny Mountains. Now he confesses that the serious, almost religious, earnestness of the western sentiment in favor of Theodore Roosevelt has eliminated Mr. Taft as a serious candidate and threatens Governor Wilson with the loss of every state west of the Mississippi River. Coupling this with the current reports respecting the reception accorded to Col. Roosevelt on his recent tour, The World has no hesitation in saying that today Roosevelt is the favorite in the presidential race, and that the indications all point to his triumphant election.

Any one familiar with conditions in the United States will appreciate that the great political revolution now at its height in the prairie west will be found to be no less irresistible in the three great states of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, which are in spirit and in sentiment thoroughly western. The recent constitution, adopted by the State of Ohio, entitles that once conservative stronghold to be now regarded as the most radical state in the union. It has declared for the Roosevelt ideas by an enormous majority, as it declared for Roosevelt against Taft, at the presidential primaries.

That Illinois will vote for Roosevelt is practically certain; even were we to concede Indiana to Mr. Wilson, Col. Roosevelt could still easily secure a majority in the electoral college, without even calling upon the handful of Taft electors who may be counted upon to prefer him to Wilson. But the fight east of the Mississippi has scarcely begun. Colonel Roosevelt has yet to make his personal appeal to the voters in New England, New York and the Ohio River States. He is stronger even than the cause he represents, and as the contest narrows to a duel between him and Wilson he can be counted upon to muster almost the full Republican strength, which carried him to victory in 1904.

The people of the United States are sick and tired of the old political parties with their mimic wars, controlled as they both are by the same interests and indifferent as they both have been to the social and industrial evils which are sapping the vitality of the nation. They are less interested in Jefferson and Lincoln and more interested in Lloyd George and Henry George—they want a party with a future, not a party with a past. They believe that things are badly in need of a shaking up in the United States, and they believe that Teddy Roosevelt is the man who can do the job.

ULSTER IN BRITISH POLITICS.

Sir Edward Carson, like a second Saul, is yet breathing out threatenings and slaughter against his fellow-countrymen of the home rule persuasion. As the bill upon which he pours the venom of his wrath cannot possibly become law for at least two years, the flame of racial and religious antipathy which is being so fervently fanned can only be regarded as fomented for the purpose of intimidating the Liberal Government and party. That it may influence some members of the cabinet and of parliament and a section of the rank and file through Great Britain is possible—indeed Mr. Winston Churchill's tentative approval of sectional legislatures has been accepted as an indication that he is disposed to question the prudence of his own course pursued by Sir Edward Carson at this early stage in the parliamentary battle for home rule. Their hesitation is not surprising when it is reported that large sales of firearms are being made, not only by Unionists, but in the Nationalist districts. What ever the strength of Protestant Ulster's case against home rule the anticipatory proclamation of its intention to offer armed resistance to a law passed in accordance with constitutional authority, conferred by the verdict of the people at successive general elections, is a course whose approval by responsible statesmen would establish a precedent of sinister import for the future of parliamentary government.

Of more present political interest than the local disorders in Ulster is the trend of the relationship between the Liberal and Labor parties. Altho the government is on paper independent of the Labor vote in the house of commons, the withdrawal of its support in any critical division might entail the resignation of the ministry. Mr. T. P. O'Connor has committed himself to the opinion that the loss of Middleham marks the end of the difference and that the resumption of the session will find the Labor members in loyal cooperation with the government. The wish, in his case, may be father to the thought, but it is clear from the remarks made by Mr. William Redmond, on his arrival in New York, as the Nationalist envoy to the U. S. Irishmen, that he anticipated a parliamentary struggle where every vote will be needed to force the home rule bill through the house of commons. It can only be done by an unprecedented use of the guillotine, not only for that measure, but for the Welsh Disestablishment and Electoral Reform bills, since the expressed intention of the government is to place all three on an equal footing as regards escape from the veto of the house of lords. If the cabinet weathers the storm, Mr. Asquith will have accomplished an even more difficult feat than that set by Mr. Lloyd George's budget and its suspension by the peers.

APPRENTICE FARMERS

South Australian conditions have been found so satisfactory by recent British immigrants that many of them have nominated friends and relatives for assisted passages. This privilege has been found to operate as an efficient agent in the encouragement of land settlement and in the provision of an environment that recreates the home life of the mother country. A despatch to The Christian Science Monitor of Boston, Mass., gives the latest statistics regarding the fruit products of South Australia, "The Garden State of the Commonwealth." The area devoted to apple culture has been steadily increasing and now comprises 23,314 acres. In addition, large crops of pears, apricots, cherries, plums, oranges, lemons, peaches and nectarines are raised besides berries, almonds and olives. The enumeration discloses the kind of climate South Australia possesses.

The latest policy of its government has in contemplation the introduction of British boys for the purpose of training them as farmers. On their arrival the lads will be indentured for three years with selected farmers, under close supervision, and initiated into the various departments of farm work. The state will act as guardian, retaining part of the lads' wages and handing over the amount, with accumulations, on their attaining the age of twenty-one years or earlier at discretion. In this way, it is anticipated, the state wards will at the close of their apprenticeship receive from $350 to $500 and be enabled to become share farmers and ultimately land owners.

Park Commissioner Chambers has been doing very well, but he must let the Riverdale Zoo stay where it is.

The Mail and Empire is a faithful pupil of Sir Edward Carson, M.P., the assassination of John Redmond, M.P., should be rewarded by the erection of a statue to the successful assassin, it suggests. As Mr. Asquith once said, "We are getting on."

"A LEADER OF THE BAR."

Toronto Telegram: A few Toronto papers and aldermen will never be happy until they have filled the office of corporation counsel with a lawyer distinguished for indifference or hostility to the hydro-electric movement.

Sympathy with the hydro-electric movement is not the main guarantee of usefulness in the office of corporation counsel. Toronto's commitments to the hydro-electric undertaking are so tremendous, the city's interests in the future of that venture are so vast, that past enmity to public rights and past hostility to public ownership cannot be accepted as a guarantee of future usefulness to these great causes.

A sense of humor, a brightness of mind, an integrity of purpose would probably enable M. K. Cowan, K.C. to rise "over stepping stones" to the "higher things" required of a corporation counsel. Mahlon K. Cowan is of such size that he could fight for municipal rights on behalf of the City of Toronto, as ably as he fought against municipal rights on behalf of the Grand Trunk Railway, that he could unlearn, in the service of Toronto, those lessons of hatred to progress and public rights and public ownership that he learned at the feet of Laurier.

STILL PICKING TOADSTOOLS

Ohio bar that the corporations could retain. He is to-day Mayor of Cleveland, and busy carrying on the work that Tom Johnson began. He has tried fidelity to progressive ideals, of proved sympathy with municipal rights, is more likely to develop the abilities of a LEADER OF THE BAR than a master of technical law or any other LEADER OF THE BAR is to develop the larger qualities that, even so, a lawyer, made H. L. Drayton, the greatest corporation counsel that ever served a Canadian municipality.

HUNTING WITHIN CITY LIMITS.

Editor World: I notice that Mayor Geary intends to introduce a bill making it an offence to shoot on any waters within the city limits. It is true that under the present arrangement many so-called hunters go into our marshes and use guns and rifles without any knowledge, and without discrimination, but it does not seem fair to those citizens who have a reasonable knowledge of firearms, and are careful in their use, to prevent them from being able to enjoy a few hours' outing occasionally during the fall season by reason of the fact that a lot of hoodlums are out using their guns to shoot up anything in sight.

There are many citizens who, altho fond of shooting, are unable to take the time off to go to some remote point for a few weeks or a few days' hunting, and while there is not enough hunting around the waters of Toronto to make it attractive to an outsider, our home people can often spend a few hours in the forest or on the river with their guns without making themselves a menace to anybody's safety.

POSSESSION OF EDWORTH LEAGUE COMMON IS WANTED

Exhibition Directors Will Appoint a Committee to Interview the Government With a View to Getting Garrison Property—Eastern Entrance to Grounds Also Discussed.

At the meeting of the board of directors of the Canadian National Exhibition yesterday afternoon, the executive were instructed to appoint a committee to act in conjunction with a committee of the city council to secure from the government possession of enough of the garrison common to provide for the necessary improvements in the agricultural department.

The resignation of H. R. Frankland from the board of directors was accepted. The city council was requested to again take up the question of an eastern entrance for the street railway. It was decided to send a complete report of the proposed contest to the Duke of Connaught, Lord Strathcona, Earl Grey, Dr. Hanson, and the ministers of militia and defence in Ottawa, Newfoundland, Australia and Canada.

PROBLEMS NOT SOLVED BY WAR

Armor-Plate Patriots Scored by Rev. Dr. Macdonald at Knox Post-Graduate Conference.

Scathing denunciation of war and vivid word pictures of the horrors of battlefields were among the features of a powerful address by Dr. J. A. Macdonald at the opening meeting of the post-graduate conference in Convocation Hall, Knox College, last night. His subject was "The Responsibility of the Church for God Will Among the Nations," and in handling it Dr. Macdonald drew much applause from the audience that packed the hall.

Dr. Macdonald was introduced by Principal Gardner of Knox College. He said in part:

"The churches of Great Britain, the United States and Canada and Germany have done their duty, the present international situation would not be the disagreeable it is at present. Let there be no mistake as to the authority of the church in the realm of international relations. To gain peace the church must do more than pray and sing hymns. It can impress the nations that no war ever settled controversies between them."

Dr. Macdonald then instanced the Boer war and the American civil war, declaring that the questions that brought about the former were not finally settled until the formation of the South African parliament and that until the present time, many of the questions that caused the civil war remain to vex the people of the United States. He referred to the United States whose interests war redounds and attacked lobbyists of manufacturers of war material. Speaking of these manufacturers and their legislative agents in the parliaments of the great nations, he said:

"Sinecure Power at Ottawa. It is one of the most sinister and dangerous elements in the big navy program of all countries. It is an open secret that at Ottawa some men represent private interests who go there to do their own constituents. The speaker declared that this was also true of legislators in England and the United States. He ridiculed the so-called 'loyalty' of shipbuilders and manufacturers of naval and military stores, for, he declared: 'It is simply a question of money with these patriots. They will sell their wares to the nation that will buy them. They will build a great battleship for their own country and at the same time draw plans for a mightier battleship for a possible enemy of their native land.'"

Stay-at-Home to Blame

"It is the stay-at-home element that is the most insidious upon the nations preserving their 'honor' by going to war on slight pretext. War adds bitterness and hate, and it is the duty of the church to prevent it. The nations of civilization on the motives of those who advocate it. And we are coming to the time when the nations must conserve their resources for the benefit of humanity, instead of wasting them in legalized murder."

He referred to the enormous financial losses entailed by keeping up huge military establishments. Dr. Macdonald said that England will this year spend $300,000,000, while the United States spends seventy per cent of its total revenue on past war debts and in preparation for the next war.

The conference will assemble at 10 o'clock this morning, when the subject will be "The Apocalypse Element in the Teaching of the Church." The closing session will be Friday afternoon.

CHARGED WITH SHOPLIFTING

Miss Lilly Camalder aged 24, of 109 William street, was arrested by Detective William Deane yesterday afternoon in connection with a charge of shoplifting. A piece of dress goods worth $10.00 was found in her possession, which, it is alleged, she lifted from a counter. The police have been watching her for some time.

KEPT MONEY GIVEN ON WAGON

Hider Nelson, colored, from Davidsville, Kentucky, will not visit the world any more this fall. He was arrested yesterday by Detective Murphy on a charge of stealing $5 from a wagon on a certain horse last September. The bet was held back by him.

SOCIETY AT THE ARENA

The Borden banquet at the new arena last night was a magnificent spectacle. The huge building was artistically decorated in a color scheme of green, pumpkin yellow and golden brown, in rose colored panels and background for the decorations of flags and bunting, and the tables arranged with crimson gladioli.

Mrs. Borden looked very well in a gown of pale blue embroidered brocade, with diamond ornaments and black aigrette in her hair. She gracefully received a bouquet of golden chrysanthemums, presented by Miss Annie Somers, who was wearing a pale blue rock ribbon to match in her hat and corsage bouquet of roses and violets.

The ladies on the reception committee and in the state boxes were: Lady Whitney, in rose colored tulle and cream lace with pearl ornaments; Mrs. Miss Norah Whitney wore pale blue satin, veiled with painted net; Mrs. G. St. Denis wore pale blue, embroidered chiffon, draped with gold net, touches of pale pink and a bouquet of pink roses and pearl ornaments; Mrs. A. G. Gooderham was wearing a black wrap to match; her guest, Miss O'Connor, being in palest pink over white satin; Mrs. Falconer, in black satin and jet, with a blue scarf; Mrs. John G. Kent was in deep blue chiffon veiled with black diamonds, and a bouquet of pink carnations; Mrs. W. P. Gundy wore pale green and lavender; Mrs. J. S. Willson was in natty blue satin with real lace and diamonds; Mrs. Sterling Eyerson, Mrs. Kistland.

EARLSCOURT RESIDENTS COMPLAIN THAT NARROW HOUSES SPOIL DISTRICT

Claim is Made That Speculators Put Too Many Buildings On a Limited Frontage—Glen Stewart Park Site Discussed and Another Site Offered—Mayor to Act as Corporation Counsel on Thursday.

Protesting that their district is being destroyed by real estate speculators who are erecting narrow houses which should be condemned from both a sanitary and a fire point of view, residents of the Earls Court district have complained to a number of members of the city council. They asked that some steps be taken to stop the ruthless exploitation of land in that section of the city. The ratepayers urge that the city should make a minimum frontage of any lot upon which a house may be built.

Ald. Wanless yesterday produced a letter written to him by Joseph Woodliffe, 197 Bloor avenue, who cited an instance where narrow houses were built upon a lot of 38 feet frontage. This, he claimed, was a violation of the bylaw that stipulates that no building shall be erected on a lot less than 38 feet wide. He urged that the city take immediate steps to curb such operations.

No Jurisdiction.

The medical health department has been asked for allowing such conditions to exist, but it stated that no jurisdiction in the matter. The city architect's department has also been asked for jurisdiction, but the acting head of the department, however, stated yesterday that if such a house had the necessary yard area required in the bylaw the building permits would have to be granted.

Because a builder wanted to erect a house with a narrow frontage was no reason why a permit should be refused if the various requirements were complied with. In Earls Court, he pointed out, the houses are deep and narrow, hence a narrow frontage would not be an adequate yard area to a building.

Park Sites.

At the meeting of the parks committee yesterday afternoon it was decided to defer any action with reference to acquiring the Glen-Stewart property for park purposes until the next meeting two weeks hence. Senator Cox, the owner, offers the city the property for $800,000, but the valuation made by the assessment department is $500,000. According to Senator Cox the land would yield $1,000,000 if fully developed, and so the building lot is a bargain.

The committee, however, decided to continue their negotiations before making a definite recommendation. The Glen-Stewart property is bounded by Kingston road and Gerrard street immediately east of Woodbine avenue is being considered by the committee. The property is about 20 acres in extent, is owned by W. N. McEachern, the real estate agent, who offers to sell it to the city for $100,000. The municipal approval of the location, but the price did not appeal to them.

Exhibition Track

Ald. McBride urged that some action be taken in reference to the Exhibition track which, he said, was in bad shape and would require $10,000 to be back in proper condition. According to the complainant, this was a gross exaggeration, since the track could be repaired for $200. The alderman claimed that the motor cycles had caused most of the damage, but action was also taken to this. It was finally decided to instruct Mr. Chambers to report upon the matter.

Mayor Will Act.

At the meeting of the Dominion Railway Commission in Toronto on Thursday, Sept. 20, Mayor Geary will act as corporation counsel. Among the large number of important cases to be heard is the city's application for better railway facilities for delivering coal. The floor street subway question will also be disposed of at the next sitting.

New Lavatory.

On the south side of Bloor street, immediately west of St. Enoch's avenue was the site of the proposed new public lavatory recommended by Commissioner Chisholm at the meeting of the property committee yesterday afternoon. The committee, however, rather favored the site at the corner of Dundas street and Lansdowne avenue, and hence decided to delay making a recommendation until further investigations had been made.

It was decided to send Rev. Dr. Findlay, superintendent of the Industrial Farm, to the Canadian Conference of Charities and Correction, to meet at the cattle market office building at the corner of Dundas street and Weston road. This lavatory, however, has not been provided for in the estimates. The same alderman requested that the Keesle street office be kept open in connection with the water rates and for receiving complaints.

Lavatory at Junction.

The committee passed Ald. Ryding's motion that the property commission be asked to report upon the advisability and cost of placing a public lavatory at the corner of Roxton avenue and Weston road. This lavatory, however, has not been provided for in the estimates. The same alderman requested that the Keesle street office be kept open in connection with the water rates and for receiving complaints.

Keen Competition.

Gunn's Limited, made a formal application for the rental of a space 100 feet by 100 feet at the southwest corner of the St. Lawrence Market. The St. Lawrence Market, The Harris-Abattoirs have also made applications for space in the market.

Storm Damages Intake.

As a result of the storm on Saturday the work of laying the new iron pipe got a bad setback, and it is estimated that work will be spent in repairing the damage. The Luella, the boat which was engaged for the work, sank beside Durand dock. The waves washed over her side and filled with water. Two large lengths of pipe were driven ashore and another 100 feet of pipe was abandoned. The storm also destroyed a considerable portion of the sidewalk along the waterfront, and the encroachment of the large waves tore up some of the electric light poles.

indirect, made a "reasonable deduction" and wrote the story.

Mr. Cowan stated that the leak in the department was suspected to be Mackie and Clark. He thought they were charged with giving out the information through the window separating the private from the main office. Altho he could not divulge the name, he said, he emphatically denied that it was a police officer. He promised to tell the colonel privately who it was.

Sergeant Tripp of the electrical department narrated how his department was charged with giving out the information to the press. On one occasion they had been up before Judge Winchester. All the officers in this department had denied it.

Duncan Himself

The sergeant then decided to find out where the leak was. After that they listened on the lines. The leak was discovered. It was Inspector Duncan himself. Frequently they heard him giving out information to the press that they were charged with telling. Four years ago the sergeant kept a record, but later threw it away, as they were not blamed for the leak any more.

"What is the general impression of the veracity of Inspector Duncan?" "Call the force," suggested Mr. Cowan.

"We will, but we'll get his answer now." "Is it not stretching it to ask a man for his impression? Is it not stretching it to ask a boy 22 years old for his opinion?" sarcastically asked Mr. Cowan.

"He was quite a bright boy," was the mayor's remark.

Sergeant Mackie next was sworn. He often saw Haverson around the detective office was that they did not believe Duncan.

Sergeant Mackie.

Mr. Cowan took the witness back to the time when he was in the detective office. He attempted to show that Mackie was transferred to Judge Winchester because he had not done his Confidence.

Detective Tipton testified that Percy Haverson had come into the back room among the other detectives and stated that he would willingly perform his duty for a friend. Tipton had often been turned out of Duncan's office to make room for Haverson, but he had often been alone in Duncan's office. Tipton did not consider Duncan reliable.

"I have no confidence in his veracity," he stated.

Mr. Cowan: "You were turned out for other reporters?"

"Yes." "And he left them in his office?" "Not that I know of."

The whole police force had predicted that Duncan's friendship with Haverson would result in the present investigation.

Haverson would often come up to Tipton and say: "Has that fellow been arrested yet?" The detective would ask him who he meant, and the reporter would reply: "Oh! Walter told me all about it."

The hearing was then adjourned until 1 o'clock this afternoon at the city hall.

BUNTY RETURNS TO ALEXANDRA

Refreshing Comedy Presented by Original Company to Capacity Audience.

That Bunty, the clever Scots laird, who pulls the strings of his father's household, straightens out his difficulties and acts generally as the good angel of all her friends, has lost none of her early attraction, was proved, if proof were needed, by the large audience in the Royal Alexandra last night.

The original success of Bunty Pulls the Strings was due to the personality of the characters. The comedy has no plot to speak of—it is just a series of episodes as might well happen in common life.

Comparisons are odious and there is no necessity to distinguish between one set of players and another. The comedy is as heartily staged, and the audience kept in constant good humor, were lavish in their appreciation.

Shea's Keeps Up The Fast Pace. This Week's Bill is Splendid, With the Bell Family of Mexico Starring.

Shea's has a good bill this week. The pace set at the beginning of the evening being kept up and the crowd of houses at both afternoon and evening performances are well satisfied.

Andrew P. Kelly, "Casey, the Lion," came back with his thick Irish brogue and humorous anecdotes. He also introduced a Scotch turn, which is good.

Williams, Thompson and Copeland present "The Burglar's Union," which is a satire on how the honest store man does business. It is funny.

Good Impression. John Williams and Harvey Brooks, the singing and talking comedians now playing with the Oriental Burlesquers at the Star Theatre, were well received.

Good Burlesque At the Gayety. "Clark's Runaway Girls" is a Fine Show, With Exceptionally Good Scenery.

Clark's Runaway Girls lived up to their reputation last night at the Gayety Theatre, and a really first-class burlesque show was tendered.

Dr. Martel's Female Pills. Nineteen Years the Standard. Presenting today a new and improved formula of proven worth.

Clever Dancing At the Princess

Donald Brian Pleased Capacity Audience in "The Siren," a Musical Comedy.

Pretty girls in stunning gowns, well balanced choruses, elaborate scenery, clever dancing and catchy songs would have assured success for the initial production of "The Siren," at the Princess last night.

The story of "The Siren" turns upon the effort of the Vienna chief of police to obtain evidence against the Marquis de Ravine, establishing his authorship of some satirical verses directed against the emperor.

The title role of "The Siren," the ingenious maiden from the rural district, was rendered by Miss Julia Sanderson, who sang and danced herself into the favor of the audience.

"The Wallflower," and "I Always Come Back to You," were among the musical numbers which apparently pleased the most, but the music throughout was good.

"The Fortune Hunter" A Splendid Comedy

Good Company and Big Production, the Attraction at the Grand All This Week.

Nat Duncan had succeeded with the strictest of education in spending a large fortune. Moreover, he had lost with it all desire for work.

It was a matter of time before the "Fortune Hunter" would advance, descend upon a quiet village, startle the inhabitants and attract the girls.

Williams, Thompson and Copeland present "The Burglar's Union," which is a satire on how the honest store man does business. It is funny.

SNOW, RAIN, PRECIPITATED WHEAT PRICES LOWER

But Expected Drop in Receipts is Lost Sight of in Great Increase in Supplies - Corn Market Closes Heavy.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Increasing stocks of wheat provide too much of a burden for the market for prices. The market for the cereals closed weak, shade to 1/2 cent lower. Corn finished 1/2 to 3/4 cent out of 1/2 to 3/4 cent, and provisions varying from 1/2 cent to 1/4 cent lower.

Traders took due notice of the fact that within the last few days nearly a million bushels had been added to the amount of wheat in store at Chicago. In this connection attention was also given to the increase in the U. S. visible supply, 1,000,000 bushels, as against 7,000,000 bushels for the corresponding time a year ago.

Receipts of wheat at northwest points were as follows: Week Year. Duluth 1112 1286 111. Minneapolis 185 184 18.5. Chicago 188 189 18.

Visible Details. Wheat, 1,000,000 bushels last week, 1,000,000; 1st year, 1,150,000. Corn this week, 1,000,000; 1st year, 1,000,000.

ST. LAWRENCE MARKET. Receipts of farm produce were 30 loads of hay, twenty loads of hay sold at $15 to $17 per ton.

Wheat, new, bushel $1.00 to $1.10. Wheat, good, bushel $0.94 to $1.01. Rye, bushel $0.65 to $0.70.

Hay and straw. Hay, mixed, per ton $15.00 to $17.00. Straw, bundled, ton $15.00 to $16.00.

Poultry, Retail. Turkeys, dressed, lb $0.30 to $0.35. Spring chickens, lb $0.18 to $0.22.

Butter, farmers' dairy, 40 lbs to $0.22. Butter, retail, lb $0.20 to $0.22. Eggs, per dozen $1.25 to $1.30.

Meats. Beef forequarters, cwt $8.00 to $9.00. Beef, hindquarters, cwt $12.00 to $14.00. Pork, choice sides, cwt $10.00 to $11.00.

MATTER OF TASTE SAVS PLAY CENSOR

Policeman Bloodworth's View of Burlesque Shows - Rev. R. St. Clair's Trial Continues, and Witnesses for the Defence Give Their Opinions of Plays at Star Theatre.

The trial of Rev. R. St. Clair was continued yesterday before Judge Denton. A big representation of clergymen was on hand to help Mr. St. Clair in his defence.

At the morning session Constable Thomson testified as to his opinion of the plays at the Star Theatre during his censorship.

Rev. Donald Macgregor, associate secretary of social service and evangelism in the Presbyterian Church, stated that he was at the performance in question, and that also he went with a virgin mind, he did not come away with one.

Had Done Right. At the afternoon session Rev. J. Bennett Anderson, treasurer of the Anglican Diocese, and also a member of the Moral and Social Reform Society, stated that on bringing the matter before the rural deanery the opinion was that Mr. St. Clair had done right in his action, and that it would be impossible to describe the play in question more mildly.

In answer to Crown Attorney Greer's question witness could not say what good the public would derive from the publication of this pamphlet three months after the play had left Toronto.

Rev. Mr. Anderson declared that there had been at least one point he did not like in a play he had visited after publication of the pamphlet.

Archibald Lynn had visited the "Darlings of Paris" show, but on Mr. Raney showing him certain sections of Mr. St. Clair's pamphlet, he had a member seeing them as they were there reproduced.

Mr. Bloodworth told of acting as theatre censor for the police for the past three years. He did not think he had within his term of office ever heard or seen any act or dialogue which he thought indecent or obscene.

A Matter of Taste. He did not think he had within his term of office ever heard or seen any act or dialogue which he thought indecent or obscene.

GOOD TRAINSERVICE APPRECIATED. The citizens of Toronto have evidently appreciated the North Toronto-Ottawa-Montreal service, as the business is constantly increasing.

The Quintessence of Correct Style

All men would look alike if it were not that we have learned to appreciate the fine lines and artistic proportions in Men's Clothing. When a Suit or Coat possesses those lines and proportions, we say that its "style is correct." What is correct for one figure may be altogether wrong on another, so to be correct your clothing must fit your personality, must meet your individual preferences and peculiarities. Simpson's Clothes are made for every variety of men. You will find your tastes gratified to a nicety somewhere among our wonderful new stocks.
