

THE WORLD'S HOME MAGAZINE FOR WOMEN

Edited by LAURA E. McCULLY, B.A.

About Co-Education.

In the current number of The Canadian Courier, an editorial paragraph is devoted to a talk about co-education, in the course of which the editor points out what he considers to be the defects of our present system, and adds that most of the professors at the university disapprove of co-education.

When women were first admitted to the university, did the professors approve? What was the experience of one of our prominent women doctors among the first to attend medical school? Was she welcome? And how does the present state of law and order compare with the days when men came to their lectures with pipes in their mouths and bedroom slippers on their feet?

The professors owe to the good conduct and adherence to law and order of the women students the fact that they came out of recent disturbances with the men students as well as they did, and without any more loss of dignity.

It does not consort with ideal justice that the members of the university staff should express themselves so unrestrainedly on the subject of sequestering women students in a necessarily inferior college of their own.

In the question of co-education it is better to be frank. Undoubtedly the statements made by some of the men in a recent controversy are far from between the men and women students, to the effect that "some girls regarded the college as a matrimonial bureau," "college widows," "comparatively scarce among their ranks. Speaking of ulterior aims, what about the young men who come to college wholly and solely for sport?"

Quite apart from other considerations, the financial aspect of the case almost settles the question in favor of the start. In citing the case of Bryn Mawr, Vassar and others, the editor of the Courier forgets to mention the difference between the cost of living at one of those colleges and at Toronto University. As is very well known, people who can afford to educate a daughter at a great American separate college, while thousands of the "great plain people" are able yearly to educate one of the family, girl or boy, to a co-educational state university.

Now the question is just this: Do we want the higher education confined to women of the upper class and its satellites, idle women who don't have to teach, whose degrees are simply a title after the name to be exchanged at the earliest possible date for a title in front of their names? Or do we want the education of the studied manner, and serves the final purpose of "finishing" a lady? Father should the higher education of the woman who has to work for a living in any case, and who means to put to use, ultimately, of course to public benefit, the training given her.

Canada has not enough millionaires to raise and support separate colleges for women without unduly burdening superfluous taxing of the already overburdened taxpayer. Let us be very thankful for this fact, and let us hope that many evils may be avoided when great fortunes are not too readily accumulated.

As for the sentiment about women's education necessarily differing from men's, the need of cooking schools and so forth, let us only say that the woman who has looked on for one girl who earnestly pursues scientific cooking, not teachable at home, in a public institution there is a woman who has a dozen who should be at home, are taking an excuse to idle and have a gay time of it, and who are not in any occupation if required to perform them under less spite and spite conditions than their own homes. The place is a home, and the housekeeping is done at home. If domestic science is to be made a part of a university curriculum, at least let it be taught in a domestic science building with the regular literary courses, a subject of amusement to the cynical, and of secret vanity to the one who prefers to learn how to wash dishes at home. Not that domestic science has not its place, but its place does not seem to be in crowded college halls. Our love for our alma mater would not be so full of veneration if we did not have a strong fame with the odor of fried potatoes or pate de foie gras.

A great deal too much effort has been expended in the past in the effort to make man and woman as different as possible in form, mind and conscience. It led to the technical correctness, usually to the high French heel, that shatterer of nerves, and, in point of manners, to a simpering affectation as odious as piffle. In thought, woman was trained to be so frivolous as constantly to burden with her weakness man, who had made her so. But the subject is too well known to need further comment. It is the expression of a low ideal, and the outcome of a lapsed civilization to constantly attempt to differentiate between the two sexes, where natural differences do not exist. As far as literary, scientific and physical training is concerned, it seems to me that men and women, with but few exceptions, can be taught together, not only with economy to the people, but with the best possible results.

Royal Alexandra Theatre Almost Ready for Opening

Finishing Touches Being Put on Toronto's Newest and Most Up-to-Date Playhouse—Absolutely Fireproof, With Perfect Arrangements for Heating and Ventilating.

The Royal Alexandra was on view yesterday. It was "varnishing day" or a private view prior to the opening on the 26th. "We have had 10 work," said the architect as I looked at the handsome marquis wrought iron and glass cover over the sidewalk.

The wide entrance, the great breadth of the building and the position of the playhouse itself indicated that the site had been well chosen, as the Belt Line and King-street cars rattled past every few minutes. Evidently the city can be reached from here and the surroundings—well there's nothing that can cause a block in the neighborhood—will be a pleasure to escape through the roof, whilst fresh air is coming in from below under the auditorium.

The Plenum system is so arranged by large boilers in the basement that the air is forced thru a series of coils in the ceiling hall, the panels of telescopic tubes in the shape of a fan.

The air strikes against mushroom caps and spreads over the building. The arrangement only recently introduced in theatres—indeed, very few houses have it at present.

The cooling apparatus is perfect and the house can be heated in any temperature, and in case of fire—well, there is a great fireproof curtain of reinforced steel and asbestos threads—and all the structure is steel and concrete, from floor to ceiling. The sprinkler system is used thruout, i.e.—water pipes filled with caps that burst when heated, causing a spray to be sent over, and the huge amount over the stage is arranged with fusible flanges, so that if a fire breaks out the skylight will fall in and pull the flames away from the auditorium thru the roof of the stage.

Then the drop curtain came down—a diamond piece of tapestry of crinkled gold came to view. A Louis seize design, with a central mask beneath an oval of musical instruments. This curtain was especially made in New York by a French family. The whole family worked at it for months. I hear, and have produced something for the crest of the highest wave of pleasure of a Toronto audience, a restful scene to break their applause upon after the opera.

Stage Appointments.

The stage is 38 by 76 feet, one of the widest ever, but large property rooms on the sides. There is an immense entrance for the scenery and properties, large enough for a motor car to enter. The steel "grid iron" is 76 feet from the stage level, and the numerous ropes suspended may color the scene in any shade, each of a great ship being overhauled in dock.

The dressing-rooms number 25, with two large chorus-rooms, all with steel and concrete floors and approached by stone stairs. The stars—men and women—have a private entrance to a large bathroom and rooms for the engineers. Economy of space has been regarded, too, and an ingenious idea, with regard to the stairs leading to the balconies. Two staircases lead to each, one inside the other. It is confusing at first to realize this, but it is a capital arrangement—avoids crush, helps the officials, prevents any mistakes.

Before leaving the theatre I went to the promenade foyer in front of the box at the back of the first circle or balcony. Here, above the entrance hall, is a room 25 feet by 47, with long French windows, surrounded by Nile green brocade curtains from Leveque, Paris, to match the beautiful shade of green on the walls. Four Grecian pillars are surmounted by mouldings of Italian design, and the ceiling is of English blue color which softens with the light of the electric sunburst. The seats here are ratican with French colored stripes, simple and effective, and the room forms a delightful spot to chat between the acts and discuss the merits of the play and the players.

One hundred men, off and on, have worked day and night for 12 months, and the $400,000 has been well spent by the men who built it.

A Sight in Itself.

The owners have conferred a great benefit on the public, for the Royal Alexandra live long like the Queen whose name it bears, for Canada's newest and greatest playhouse is worthy of its name and will take its place not only as one of the finest theatres in the empire, but one of the best-designed houses in the world. Good luck to it and the young architect who has done so well.

As we were saying good-bye and thanking Lawrence Soiman, the manager, and the architect for their courtesy and kindness, a handle near the entrance was turned.

"What's that for?" I asked.

"That shows number of the carriage by a red light over the entrance. The coachmen will know when they are wanted. People will not have to wait outside in the cold."

Everything has been carefully thought out for the comfort of those who go to the Royal Alexandra—and the first production. The management is in the hands of Shubert's of New York. It is hoped the governor-general is to be home to open the theatre on Aug. 26, when "The Top of the World" is to be produced—a musical entertainment.

Boys at the Beach.

The state of Scarborough Beach opens early in the morning only on special occasions, such as public holidays and the two weeks of exhibition, but yesterday an exception was made in honor of the newsboys' picnic. Five hundred boys went to the park in special cars and put in four or five hours of solid enjoyment between the rush hours of the sale of the morning and evening papers.

The boxes, surmounted by the words tragedy and comedy, are built to hold six persons, and are hung with deep red velvet, the walls being covered with soft champagne colored silk stamped with the true lovers knot and flowers.

Above the proscenium is a painting by B. F. Challenger, and all who see the discovery of Adonis by Aphrodite will agree that he had met great success. The picture is rich in color and stands out from the mouldings (themselves works of art), showing the museum painter's deservings well of this country and of all those who visit the theatre.

"I would like to learn something about yourself," I said to Mr. Lyle who was quietly explaining his work.

"Well, I went to Paris when I was 19 and studied at the Ecole des Beaux Arts. I worked hard for years and then went over to London and New York to gain experience, where I designed several ballrooms. This is my first big work.

The Toronto World CHILDREN'S HUMANE LEAGUE

The children are all invited to write to this page on any subject of interest to them. The letters will be published, and a prize souvenir pin will be awarded each week to the best letter printed during the week. This is quite separate from our fortnightly competition for the best letter from the little Leaguers. The subject for the competition closing August 31 is a "Vacation Letter," and may deal with anything the children have to say on their summer outings. It must be only two hundred words in length, plainly signed with name and address, and written on one side only of the paper. The prize is an enamel pin, with the letters "T. W. H. L."

I wish to become a member of The Toronto World Humane League.

MR. BORDEN'S PLATFORM.

Mr. Borden's platform has only one big plank, and that is public ownership. But he qualifies this declaration by limiting it to telegraphs and telephones and then only "after due investigation," and it must be "without prejudice to capital already invested in these enterprises."

A WORD TO THE DELEGATES.

The words of welcome addressed by the mayor and other citizens to the National Association of Life Underwriters may be accepted generally as the expression of Canadian goodwill to their neighbors and interest in their welfare.

Mr. Brown left Ubiqua soon afterwards and he is unable to explain this peculiar incident, but it may be accounted for by the fact that intoxicating liquors are not allowed to be sold in Ubiqua.

On the whole, this custom might with advantage be grafted upon our present practice of treating. The saloons might carry other lines, so that a man who really does not want a drink and yet is compelled by the tyranny of the treating practice to "take something," might spare his head and his stomach without losing his social standing, by calling for a washable tie or a pair of cuffs.

This idea can be developed indefinitely and always to a sensible conclusion. For example, if a poor man encountered a rich friend, who was hospitable to the point of champagne at five dollars a bottle, he might dine the bottle of wine and accept in lieu thereof a ready-made suit of clothes.

Some people advocate "taking the money" when asked to take a drink. This is impracticable. The man who took the money would have to give it back when his turn came to treat, and the exchange would go on indefinitely. We would have to stay up all night.

No, to "treat," you must buy a man something whether he wants it or not. But would it not be humane to grant him his option between bread and beer? If he really does not want a gin rickey, why not permit him to take a pair of cuffs, or a month's subscription to The Toronto World?

ROOM FOR TWO. There is one plank in the platform of the Conservative party, as announced by Mr. R. L. Borden, which will bear revision. It reads as follows: "The reorganization of the present railway commission as a public utilities commission, with wider jurisdiction and more extended jurisdiction, so as to establish thorough and effective control over all corporations owning or operating public utilities or invested with franchises of a national character."

It never gets damp or lumpy. Each crystal dry, full of salt-life. That's why particular people use WINDSOR SALT.

ROOSEVELT RESOLUTE

Those who imagined that President Roosevelt could be flurried into reversing his determination to fulfil the first duty pertaining to his high office reckoned without their host. A weaker man, less resolute and far-seeing, might have succumbed to the pressure placed upon him to say or do something that would ease the situation—the implication, of course, being that he should leave wealthy lawbreakers at liberty to continue the methods and practices which have brought them within reach of the arm of justice.

His policy carries no menace to any legitimate interest—indeed it restores the conditions necessary for the protection of the honest and law-abiding trader and investor. Not President Roosevelt nor the state governors and legislatures are responsible for the unrest and disquietude which mark financial circles to-day. As well say that the sanitary expert is the author of the disease whose cause he undertakes to remove by compelling observance of the laws of health.

Those who wish to smash reform legislation on both sides of the line. But forewarned is forearmed. Meantime the word is—Gentlemen of the convention: Hands off!

WHAT WILL YOU HAVE?

Brown of Calaveras came back the other day with a weird story about the customs of Ubiqua. It appears that upon the day of his arrival, when he was walking down the main street, he met Colonel Starbottle, formerly of Sacramento, and an old acquaintance. After the first greetings the colonel said:

"I was just about to buy a collar, come along with me." They entered a large fine furnishing store and to Brown's surprise the colonel ordered two collars and insisted upon presenting one of them to him.

"Now," said the colonel, "you gentlemen are just in time; the change is not made yet; you must have a collar all round on me."

Then, to Brown's surprise, every man in turn bought a collar for the rest except one, when someone said he would take a handkerchief, and the party decided to make it "handkerchiefs all round."

Mr. Brown left Ubiqua soon afterwards and he is unable to explain this peculiar incident, but it may be accounted for by the fact that intoxicating liquors are not allowed to be sold in Ubiqua.

Political Intelligence

To the man who is studying Canadian politics, to the elector who intends to use his vote in the coming election to the best advantage of the country, the opinion of the country and of the press on R. L. Borden's opening campaign speech will be of interest. The World proposes to present such opinions as fast as they come forward. Let us start with The Globe. In its editorial it says:

What will chiefly attract attention in Mr. Borden's speech are its omissions. With the exception of the nationalization of the telephone and telegraph systems there is not a hint on policy, except in passing, anywhere. At one time there was every appearance that the leader of the opposition was prepared to go as far as the public ownership and operation of railways. It is difficult to catch a whisper of so bold a program now, indeed, his proposals are scanned it will be seen that they consist almost altogether of mere developments of Liberal policy.

Restoration of the public lands to the Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan is a good vote-catcher in those provinces, but it opens up the whole range of our national policy. The central idea of our settlement and immigration policy has its special appeal to the settler. Has the time come to abandon that principle? Do the people of Alberta and Saskatchewan want that the time has come? When that time arrives it would be a logical procedure to hand over to the provinces the public lands. So long as they are being given free to settlers what advantage could it be to the Dominion to do so? It is a source of expense without any counterbalancing revenue. That the public lands will eventually revert to the provinces is a question that is questioned, but so long as they form part of a great settlement and immigration policy, they should be managed by the central authority.

Mr. Borden's treatment of the matter of the intercolonial railway generally, and of the public ownership and private corporations, must be characterized by that degree of prudence and justice and also that degree of progressiveness which must be considered, at the present time, to be the best solution of the problem. Mr. Borden would at the earliest possible moment deliver the intercolonial railway to the public, and he would make the success of such new management what the future steps might wisely be made in the same direction, of the public operation of public utilities.

Lord Roberts' Advocacy of Cadet Corps Not Received With Enthusiasm by Authorities.

(By Our Military Correspondent.) "I guess this car goes to Long Beach," said an American blue jacket, chewing tobacco and carrying a long telescope over his shoulder. He was one of a crowd of uniformed men who waited for the last street car to the ranges.

Amidst us to see something of the Ontario Rifle Association, and hear how things were going for the Palma trophy from the Maple Leaf point of view, I accompanied these riflemen. There were Grenadiers and Light Horse and Highlanders, too, making their way along the Port Credit road—and they all looked fit and well.

The 30th annual prize meeting of the O. R. A. was in full swing at 9 a.m., and men were eager to get a place at the firing point before the morning came on. The officials had everything in hand and a bit to spare.

And practically on time every event commenced. The organization seemed perfect—and the camp was really just out round the wooden huts or rattle bungalows.

The railways—Grand Trunk and C. P. R.—had apparently done a good deal towards helping the competitors out for a man from Edmonton told me he had already paid for his ticket from the west. That was at 11 a.m. after ten shots at the "extra series."

He obtained one fare for his ticket trip, upon applying to the station agent and presenting a certificate signed by the secretary of the O. R. A.

The street railway officials also issued cheap tickets, and competitors avoided the usual crowd on the ground about 11.30, so that the O. R. A. had offered every inducement to the militia to come and stay a night or two—even if they were not members of the 30th meeting opened with a full list of competitors, from all parts of the Dominion.

It was pleasing to see as Australian or two about watching a well-known shot from Ottawa put on bullseyes with a Ross rifle.

"This is straight from the factory at Quebec," said a man, after making a possible and three bulls at 500 with No. 3 pattern. "It proves that the Ross rifle is worth something—and I have put on eight consecutive bulls at 200 yards."

I examined the rifle, which was the latest pattern, No. 3, and seemed far more solid than many issued for inspection a year or so ago.

The vernier and backsight was simplicity itself and the man who used it fired without the V.

I.O.F. OF CENTRAL ONTARIO ADDRESS SUPREME CHIEF

Recognize in Hon. Mr. Stephenson a Worthy Successor to the Departed Oronhyatekha.

MIDLAND, Aug. 21.—At the opening session of the High Court of Central Ontario of the Independent Order of Foresters, yesterday, the following address was presented to the Hon. Elliott G. Stephenson, supreme chief ranger of the High Court of Central Ontario.

The Hon. Elliott G. Stephenson, Supreme Chief Ranger, Independent Order of Foresters:

Dear Supreme Chief and Brother—We rejoice at having you present with us at the annual communication of the High Court of Central Ontario, the home court of our beloved order.

We extend to you a most hearty fraternal welcome on this, your first visit. "Your worth is warranted for your welcome."

As a citizen, a brother Forester, and the first executive officer of the safest and best fraternal society, we recognize you as a man of knowledge in you those qualities of head and heart that command our confidence and affection.

In you we recognize a worthy successor of the great Oronhyatekha, for a quarter of a century the master builder of the Independent Forestry, and whose loss you, perhaps, even more than any of us, deplore.

Among your claims on our respect and gratitude is your friendship for our departed leader, and your splendid co-operation with him, in his noble and just efforts to increase the membership and thereby extend the blessing of our noble order.

We are glad of this opportunity to meet you personally, and trust that your visit may be as pleasant to you as it is gratifying to us.

Rest assured of our devotion to the "principles and aims" of Independent Forestry, and count fully on our continued efforts to increase the membership and thereby extend the blessing of our noble order.

Accept our best wishes for the prosperity, health and happiness of yourself and family. And, in closing, permit us to hope that for a quarter of a century, we may hail you, too, as our beloved chief.

In rising to reply to the Supreme Chief Ranger received great enthusiasm, the whole High Court rising and cheering again and again, gratefully acknowledging the warmth of his welcome.

Our several committees are gratefully acknowledging the warmth of his welcome. Bro. Stephenson said they were present to discuss frankly and freely all questions of great moment to them all.

Speaking of the investigations of the royal commission he said: "I am glad to see that more than that much as much time was given to the I.O.F. as any insurance company. All our securities, correspondence, records, etc., were carefully scrutinized."

What was favorable to us was passed by; what would be criticized and corrected, along brought into the light. Credit seemed to be claimed in the report of the commission by the insurance department, or suggested by the changes in the management and curtailment of the expenditure of the I.O.F. He wished it to be understood that long before the insurance commission was heard of, it had been decided, mainly on his initiative, to reduce the expenditure of the I.O.F. to a minimum.

This may suggest to the Supreme Court the advisability of revising the rates obtaining prior to 1888, as to bring these into harmony with those then adopted for all new members. An actuary and staff were now employed collecting data on which to draw safe conclusions.

He would suggest to the High Court that in co-operation with the three other High Courts of Ontario, the many actuary who would see that the interests of the members in Ontario were being safeguarded, who better action might be taken. Above all things they wanted the strength and permanency of the I.O.F. assured beyond any doubt, and the benefits of the order be yet more widely extended.

Happy to Meet. He was glad of this early opportunity of meeting with them. He gave them his confidence, in return he wanted theirs; there was nothing to conceal, only by cordial earnest co-operation could the great work before them be successfully carried on.

Address, and amidst ringing cheers he left to be present at the meeting of the High Court of Eastern Ontario, which was meeting at the same time in the Supreme Secretary, and Bro. W. M. Hunter, Supreme Secretary, were both present since their first appearance since their appointment to their important offices, both were presented with addresses to which they made suitable replies.

The wisdom of saving money must be apparent to any person who gives the subject any thought.

A little money saved enables you to take advantage of opportunities for making more money, to buy a lot, to make the first payment on a home, to start in business for yourself. The opportunities come to the man with Capital. Saving the small sums is the creation of Capital.

There is but one certain, safe way to accumulate money, and that is to save it. Thus, and thus alone, can the foundation of wealth be firmly laid. Those who earn and spend are many. Those who earn and save are the few. Let few who gain competence and place themselves in a position to grasp life's opportunities, by spending less than they earn and saving the surplus.

Wall St. Operations Are Narrowed Down—Domestic Securities Are Bought by Investors.

World Office, Wednesday Evening, Aug. 21. Trading at the Toronto market today was somewhat concentrated, the only aggressive buying being that of Sao Paulo. Most of the transactions in this issue were at the instigation of the supporting pool, but the short interest showed sufficient nervousness to cause a covering movement, and the advance was consequently well sustained. The weak spot on the market was Twin City. This issue was forced to 85 at New York, but the price was maintained until a point of advance here. The support to purely local issues was decidedly better today. There were numerous small investment orders in the market at current quotations, but none of these were filled. This was the case in Canadian General Electric and Toronto & Rail. Nova Scotia Steel was bought in a small way by investors. The low price paid for bank deposits and the attractive prices of securities is causing a gradual investment of surplus funds, but difficulty is experienced in filling broken lots of the good securities at present levels.

Stocks of Hill road show a depreciation in market value over past year of over half billion dollars.

New York Central, including earnings and equities, is earning from 13 to 15 per cent. on stock.

Regular meeting of finance committee of U. S. Steel Corporation held Tuesday, indicated some change in the steel situation.

Probable that August will show falling off in new orders and perhaps net earnings.

L. and N. shows 10.75 per cent. on stock, as against 10.58 per cent. last year.

Banks lost $947,000 thru operations since Friday.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed today in the U. S. district court at Chicago against C. H. Hazen & Co., wholesale grocers, at No. 117 Hudson-street, New York. Estimated liabilities $260,000.

New York: Metal market; further heaviness developed today; copper was steady but unchanged, while lead was off 10 points. Spelter lost five points and tin was off 1-2 cent in spot and nearby deliveries.

Annual report of American Locomotive Co. for year ended June 30 last week will be made about Sept. 1. It will show the results of operations with those for year ended June 30, 1936, during which 17.7 per cent. was earned on common stock. A 7-10 per cent. stock dividend was available for dividends on the common after all deductions.

Holder of 100,000 shares of St. Louis and San Francisco second preferred stock and majority of first preferred have signified approval of new financing scheme involving increase in capital stock from $100,000,000 to $200,000,000, an increase in bonded indebtedness.

It is understood that the gross earnings of the New York Central System in July were of record-breaking proportions; they gave a decided lift in the average percentage of increase for the total line since Jan. 1, as compared with a year ago. The first week in August did not make as favorable comparison with other previous weeks, but the week following, it is stated, saw a decided revival in traffic.

Muller, Schall & Co. will ship $100,000 gold by to-morrow's steamer, in addition to the $200,000 which was announced yesterday had been arranged for. This makes a total of $1,100,000 which the firm will export this week.

Joseph says: In the present market condition there is much reason for encouragement. Notwithstanding political interference, the situation is infinitely better than appears on the surface. Stocks are ridiculously cheap, and Lawson's advice, "Buy, buy, buy," should meet with response, but be prudent. August Belmont says: "Talk of reorganization of Interborough is untrue," and adds that there is probability of the passing of dividends, Buy Metropolitan. Specialties: Buy Hill issues, get long of Morgan stocks.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—We would not be surprised since the administration talk has about exhausted itself, that professionals are covering on the theory that the worst talk is over to see a continuation of short coverings. When the shorts are paid off, the market, large, shall have been eliminated.

The support to purely local issues was decidedly better today. There were numerous small investment orders in the market at current quotations, but none of these were filled. This was the case in Canadian General Electric and Toronto & Rail. Nova Scotia Steel was bought in a small way by investors. The low price paid for bank deposits and the attractive prices of securities is causing a gradual investment of surplus funds, but difficulty is experienced in filling broken lots of the good securities at present levels.

Stocks of Hill road show a depreciation in market value over past year of over half billion dollars.

New York Central, including earnings and equities, is earning from 13 to 15 per cent. on stock.

Regular meeting of finance committee of U. S. Steel Corporation held Tuesday, indicated some change in the steel situation.

Probable that August will show falling off in new orders and perhaps net earnings.

L. and N. shows 10.75 per cent. on stock, as against 10.58 per cent. last year.

Banks lost $947,000 thru operations since Friday.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed today in the U. S. district court at Chicago against C. H. Hazen & Co., wholesale grocers, at No. 117 Hudson-street, New York. Estimated liabilities $260,000.

New York: Metal market; further heaviness developed today; copper was steady but unchanged, while lead was off 10 points. Spelter lost five points and tin was off 1-2 cent in spot and nearby deliveries.

Annual report of American Locomotive Co. for year ended June 30 last week will be made about Sept. 1. It will show the results of operations with those for year ended June 30, 1936, during which 17.7 per cent. was earned on common stock. A 7-10 per cent. stock dividend was available for dividends on the common after all deductions.

Holder of 100,000 shares of St. Louis and San Francisco second preferred stock and majority of first preferred have signified approval of new financing scheme involving increase in capital stock from $100,000,000 to $200,000,000, an increase in bonded indebtedness.

It is understood that the gross earnings of the New York Central System in July were of record-breaking proportions; they gave a decided lift in the average percentage of increase for the total line since Jan. 1, as compared with a year ago. The first week in August did not make as favorable comparison with other previous weeks, but the week following, it is stated, saw a decided revival in traffic.

Muller, Schall & Co. will ship $100,000 gold by to-morrow's steamer, in addition to the $200,000 which was announced yesterday had been arranged for. This makes a total of $1,100,000 which the firm will export this week.

Joseph says: In the present market condition there is much reason for encouragement. Notwithstanding political interference, the situation is infinitely better than appears on the surface. Stocks are ridiculously cheap, and Lawson's advice, "Buy, buy, buy," should meet with response, but be prudent. August Belmont says: "Talk of reorganization of Interborough is untrue," and adds that there is probability of the passing of dividends, Buy Metropolitan. Specialties: Buy Hill issues, get long of Morgan stocks.

Wednesday Evening, Aug. 21. Trading at the Toronto market today was somewhat concentrated, the only aggressive buying being that of Sao Paulo. Most of the transactions in this issue were at the instigation of the supporting pool, but the short interest showed sufficient nervousness to cause a covering movement, and the advance was consequently well sustained. The weak spot on the market was Twin City. This issue was forced to 85 at New York, but the price was maintained until a point of advance here. The support to purely local issues was decidedly better today. There were numerous small investment orders in the market at current quotations, but none of these were filled. This was the case in Canadian General Electric and Toronto & Rail. Nova Scotia Steel was bought in a small way by investors. ### The Sterling Bank of Canada

Head Office, 50 Yonge St., Toronto.

F. W. BROUGHALL, General Manager.

Most important problems which could affect the security list yesterday remain unaltered, irrespective of those topics more recently under consideration and made the subject of yesterday's speeches from the administration and we see nothing to justify a too strong adherence to either side of the market at this writing.

A. O. Brown & Co. to J. Lorne Campbell.

While the market was very nervous and irregular to-day, there was but little genuine liquidation and no pressure of stocks at any time. There were lower London quotations and subsequent selling in this market for London account of perhaps 20,000 shares. J. P. Morgan declined to express any views on his arrival, but it is expected that he will grant an interest to depend very much on the views he may express.

EXPLANATION OF THE SQUEEZE.

World Office, Wednesday Evening, Aug. 21.

The July statement of the Canadian chartered banks is conclusive evidence of the restrictions which these institutions have put upon the country's credit. Commercial loans during the month were reduced over $5,000,000, and call loans in Canada were further squeezed to the extent of over another $1,000,000. The money drawn in by these curtailments was placed out at New York, where it forms a most readily available reserve. Under the strain, as now officially announced, it is almost a wonder that the Canadian securities did not suffer a greater reduction. The comparative steadiness of the stock markets goes to show that securities are in the hands of those who can care for them under almost any stress. The Toronto Exchange to-day was quietly firm, the only weak spot being Twin City, which, for some reason, was depressed at New York to 85. The pool in Sao Paulo was again energetic, and took all offerings at a further advance. The local market, as a whole, was firm and without the slightest evidence of nervousness. Small investment orders at stated figures were unfillable to-day.

EXHIBITS FROM ALBERTA FOR COMING BIG FAIR

Aspiring Aeronauts Ambitious to Accompany Knabenshue in His Air-Ship Trips.

One of the most interesting exhibits on the exhibition grounds will be that made by the Alberta Government. It will consist of cereals grown in the province, and also of minerals found in the province. There will also be a number of interesting photographic views. The Alberta Government is co-operating with the Government of Saskatchewan as to the advisability of erecting a permanent territorial building on the exhibition grounds at present the Alberta exhibit will find lodgment in the railway exhibits building.

The Hon. Rudolph Lemieux, postmaster-general, will attend the exhibition on Labor Day.

So numerous are the horse entries that great difficulty is being found in providing stabling. Some 80 horses will have to be accommodated outside the grounds.

A number of applications have been received for permission to ride in Capt. Knabenshue's air ship.

An interesting exhibit in the cat show will be two cats that were rescued in the arms of their owner from the San Francisco ferry. One is jet black and the other is blue. They are valued at $1500.

Everything is hustling up at the exhibition grounds and it begins to look very decidedly like a fair. Exhibits are constantly arriving, and there are at present close upon something like 2000 men engaged in various ways. The manufacturers' building is three parts full of exhibits already, and the same can be said of the process building, the annex and machinery hall, much of the heavier goods being in place. Naturally the public are denied admission to the buildings as every floor is covered with material to be used in placing the exhibits.

Only three more days remain for the purchase of six for $1 tickets, and if the same are not procured on or before Saturday the opportunity will be lost, as no more will be issued.

The entry of cats is nearly three times as large as last year, having run up from 80 to 225. American entries are cats from all the leading catteries in the United States, as well as from Manitoba and many different places in Ontario.

The plan for reserved seats and boxes opens at Webster's ticket office at 9 o'clock, and to emigrate, will be obtainable until 5 p.m. every day.

It is expected that Lord Strathcona will accompany Earl Grey to the opening and that Earl Strathcona will be a later visitor.

COBALT Market For Cobalt Stocks Shows Emergent Strength --- COBALT

CHICAGO PIT EXCITED GRAIN FUTURES ACTIVE

Wheat Options Rally Over Three Cents a Bushel—Other Grains Are Higher.

World Office, Wednesday Evening, Aug. 21.
Liverpool wheat futures closed to-day 1/4 to 1/2 higher, and corn futures 1/4 to 1/2 higher than yesterday.

At Chicago, September wheat closed 1/2 higher, September corn 1/4, and September oats 1/4 higher than yesterday.

Chicago car lots of wheat to-day, 108; corn, 22; oats, 22.

Chicago car lots to-day: Wheat, 185; corn, 20; oats, 15. Estimated for to-morrow: Wheat, 177; corn, 171; oats, 25.

Northwest cars to-day, 251; week ago, 387; year ago, 325.

London, Aug. 21.—Mark Lane Miller Market—Wheat—Foreign strong at an advance of 1/4; English strong at an advance of 1/4. Corn—American and Danubian firm and rather dearer. Flour—American firm and rather dearer. English firm.

CEREALS PROMISE TO BE HIGH.

Grain prices went kiting in the Chicago market yesterday, wheat, corn and oats all appreciating at a rapid pace. The cause of the movement was due to a news despatch from the Canadian and American northwest, which said frost from one to six degrees had been experienced during the night. At the local grain exchange, members who were not interested in holding the price of cereals down were distinctly optimistic regarding the future of Canadian grain prices. Edward Hannah, in conversation with The World, remarked: "I am firmly of the belief that the Ontario farmers will not let go any of their grains this year except at good high prices. It is all nonsense to be talking of 82 cents for wheat. Our firm cannot get any offerings at that figure, and we have not had any wheat yet offered to us at any price. The Ontario farmers are all pretty well fixed, and I think you will find they will want a good high price for their stuff this year before they are willing to sell it. With oats and all kinds of feed as high as they are, with a good deal higher prices in perspective, it is not to be expected that cereals of all kinds will not command a high figure."

BUYING VERY SMALL BUT OFFERINGS ARE LIGHT

Nipissing Advances at New York and Enquiry for Other Issues Finds Small Offerings.

World Office, Wednesday Evening, Aug. 21.
There was an exceedingly small amount of buying orders in the mining market to-day, but the business indicated that there was more anxiety to buy than to sell. The strength of Nipissing at New York caused nervousness among local shorts and the endeavor to cover indicated that there was really little real stock offered. Buyers were considerably more keen to-day than they have been for some time. The technical position of the market was the only influence of the day and this to traders was clearly to the advantage of purchasers.

CONVOCAION HALL ACOUSTICS

Architect Says That the Criticism is From Amateurs.
Criticism as to the acoustic properties of the new convocation hall have been forthcoming from many of the insurance men who are attending the annual underwriters' convention. In one instance a man used to public speaking had to leave the platform and talk from the centre of the floor. Frank Darling, of Darling & Pearson, the architects for the building, told The World that the complaints were nonsense.

ON THE LAST DAY OF AUGUST

We withdraw the privilege of 25 per cent. of actual selling prices the end of this month, and restore the prices on our Newly Made-Up Furs to normal value again.

This is the only opportunity the year will offer to buy Furs at three-quarters of their actual value. We cannot afford to carry this midsummer Fur Sale a day past Saturday, Aug. 31st. During the next six months Furs are in constant demand, and we are under no necessity to offer special inducements to encourage our patrons to anticipate their winter needs.

House of Commons Reject Lords' Changes to Tenants' Bill.

LONDON, Aug. 21.—With the Irish Nationalists wide awake and nearly everybody else asleep, after a night-long session, the house of commons at 3.30 this morning commenced the consideration of the house of lords' amendment to the evicted tenants' bill.

Practically all the changes introduced in the bill by the upper house were rejected, and at 7.45 a.m. the weary legislators went home after appointing a committee to confer with the lords and attempt to arrange the differences.

The commissioners, after a secret conference, announced that they would not recognize any power except the court.

Horse and Outfit Taken From Shed—Harvest is Well Under Way—Junction News.

TORONTO JUNCTION, Aug. 21.—Miss Gladys Wagner, daughter of J. C. Wagner, 125 Edwin-avenue, had a narrow escape from being burned to death yesterday. While lighting the gas, she let the burning match drop on the floor, and it came in contact with her skirts, which in an instant were in flames. Her sister heard her screaming, and rushing for a pail of water, threw it over her and soon had the blaze extinguished, but before her skirt and underclothes were burned. Strange to relate, she did not receive any injuries.

There has been trouble between the council and George S. Aarons, their engineer, on the contract of C. W. Dill & Co. for the paving of Dundas-street between Humberside-avenue and Victoria-street, where an asphalt roadway with concrete sidewalks and gutters is being laid.

NEGLECTED OPPORTUNITY AND JUDGE IS SEVERE

Donald Burgoyne Sentenced to Five Years for Theft After Being Given a Chance.

Judge Morgan can be severe when he feels it is necessary.

On July 31, Donald Burgoyne appeared before him on a charge of theft of a suit of clothes and a ring from a fellow lodger. Burgoyne, who is 19 years of age, was allowed to go on suspended sentence on a promise to reform.

On Aug. 12, before Magistrate Denison, Burgoyne was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary for forgery. Yesterday he was brought before Judge Morgan on the old charge and was sentenced to five years; the two sentences to run concurrently.

He cried bitterly in pleading for leniency, but the judge said:

"You had a record behind you that was not very satisfactory; but in consideration of your young wife and child and mother, and hoping that a heavy sentence hanging over your head might act as a deterrent, I allowed you to go, warning you that any further breach of the criminal law would bring you before me for heavy punishment. Unfortunately for you the threat of punishment has had no effect."

"I have got to keep my word. I promised that if you were brought before me an example would have to be made. I must protect people from themselves, and I must protect the public."

"I must put your mother and wife behind me now, and make of you an example to the other."
