CANADIANS GAINED VICTORY IN A FIFTEEN MINUTE FIGHT

First Fight on the Somme One of the Most Brilliant Actions of the War —Second Ontario Battalion Won Objective in 15 Minutes —Numerous Decorations Awarded.

By a Staff Reporter. Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 5.—The first fight of the Canadians on the Somme is going down to history as one of the gems of Canadian war performance. Only one battalion, the 2nd Ontario Battalion, was involved. The thousand men went over the parapet at 4 o'clock in the afternoon of a bright, sunny day. A moving picture camera took them as they jumped into No Man's Land to dash for the German salient trench four hundred yards out. The men disappeared into the smoke which the bombardment of their own heavy guns in the rear had hung over the German trench.

Just fifteen minutes the camera caught two hundred Germans with their hands up bursting out of the smoke into which the Canadians had disappeared. At the same time word came back that the job was done, that four hundred yards of jutting trench had been taken and was being secured. Losses Light. In that fifteen minutes the German casualties totaled six hundred, while in the attack and the twelve hours' resistance of counter-attacks the Canadian losses were but 250.

The character of the action may best be judged from the awards to individuals who distinguished themselves. British commanders are not liberal in the distribution of medals and crosses. Yet in that fifteen minutes of fighting the second battalion of the first Canadian division won twenty-eight medals and crosses, and one man won the Victoria Cross. The battalion was fresh from Ypres. As steadily as if on parade, with the interval between each man marked with mathematical precision, and with the easy swing of conquerors, the "Iron Second" cleared their parapet and swept toward the enemy. At that same moment the German parapet became lined with rifles, and above the shrieking of the shells and the deafening burst of shrapnel, across the vicious cracking sound of rifle fire.

Wave Swept On. The first wave swept on, the men fell on all sides. Thirty yards from that line of blazing hostile rifles they dropped into a shell hole and themselves opened fire to silence that against them. On the left a machine gun came into action, and from the front the German bombers threw one incessant stream of vicious explosives at the advancing line. Close behind the first wave came the second, which had moved into the jumping of trench almost immediately. Into the centre the enemy poured a steady fire into the Canadians, and here was one of the bravest of the most self-sacrificing incidents of the whole of Canada's war history. The situation for a moment was critical, a German machine gun was being mounted on the parapet, and its position was such as to command the whole line. Without a moment's hesitation Lieut. Pringle, a platoon commander of No. 3 company, dashed forward, running thru an inferno of bombs and bullets. He made straight for the gun. His body was found later lying across the muzzle of the gun with the crew dead all around it. On the right all went well. No. 3 company advanced steadily over the open in front of the Boche parapet. Major Chrysler and Lieut. Hetherington received the wounds which put them out of action, but the company charged brilliantly into the enemy trench, and proceeded to bomb toward the centre and right. This success assisted matters materially. Attacked from the flank and with their line of riflemen thinned out the enemy wavered. Leading his men in the attack, Major Williams was mortally wounded, but Lieut. Lyle, taking charge of No. 3 company, gathered his men and rushed forward. The fire was still intense. Major A. E. McLaughlin and Lieut. Bishop, while directing the fire of No. 1 company received wounds which were to prove fatal.

Killed 18 Germans. Ten yards from the enemy parapet Lieut. Stuart was killed, but the company led by Major L. J. McLaughlin recommenced the advance and the whole line swept forward. On the left flank of No. 1 company a section of British bombers entered the German trench and immediately started to bomb out the enemy, who were in great strength. Corporal Clark, assisted by two throwers, essayed the difficult task of mopping up the thickly clustered Boches, who offered a determined resistance. To the credit of this heroic non-commissioned officer are placed eighteen Germans, including two officers. Three times he recharged his automatic pistol before the last enemy was down. No. 1 company was now in the trench, driving the enemy to the left; Corporal Clark and his bombers were cutting the German retreat and pushing them back. Caught between two determined lines of grim fighting Canadians the Germans struggled for life, but bayonets and bombs vanquished them. Enemy Fled Headlong. The Germans clambered over their parapets and fled headlong across the open. The opportunity was not lost. The Lewis guns were brought up into action and the fleeing numbers of them were caught by our barrage. Others stopped uncertainly, then with hands up ran quickly back to their lost trench. Fifteen minutes from the zero time, Major Vanderwater, the officer in charge of the attack, was able to send to his commanding officer the report that the objective was gained and the work of consolidating being proceeded with. The objective was gained, the trench taken and parapet reversed, but the victory was only half won. The enemy's shelling and counter-attacks had to be awaited, and they were not long in coming. Throughout the long night he attacked continuously and his special objective was the left flank. The bombing post was wiped out several times, and German snipers, crawling into shell holes, were able in the bright moonlight to account for several of our sentries. The work of consolidating the left was interrupted continually, the men alternately using their rifles to ward off attacks and spades to dig in. Early in the morning, the left was joined up with the battalion on that flank and the victory made good. It was a minor operation. No one who took part in it exaggerates its purely local character, but in view of subsequent events it was one of the most important that had taken place on that front or in France. It is not too much to say that the success of the great advance made by the British and Canadians on the 11th and 15th September owed a great deal to the action of the second Canadians, and perhaps it was on this account that the generous praise was directed upon the battalion that had carried the attack to such a successful end.

Special Cable to The Toronto World. London, Dec. 5.—Continuing their successful advance north of Grunishite and Budimirtsa, east of the Cerna River, the Serbians, after capturing villages four miles beyond their former lines, have won another important success in the carrying of further strongly-fortified positions, in another line of defence drawn before Philip. Two German mortars were captured in this second success, won 24 hours after the advance began from Grunishite and Hill 1050, and the enemy, who attempted to make a stand, was repulsed northward. Serbian official communication issued at Salonica yesterday said: "Yesterday we developed our successes north of Grunishite and Budimirtsa and carried fresh strongly fortified positions. We captured two German mortars and repulsed the enemy northward. A great number of enemy dead were found on the conquered ground, including the commander of the 21st Regiment." It is interesting to note that the Berlin official communication of last night concerning the operations on the Macedonian front, said: "There has been an artillery duel." This afternoon's German official communication on the Macedonian front said: "East of the Cerna River, new engagements developed. Serbian advances near Rahovo and Monte on the Moglenica front failed." The French war office at Paris announced today that east of the Cerna River the Serbian forces, following up their success of Dec. 2, have reached the outskirts of Stravina. Counter-attacks of the enemy were all repulsed with sanguinary losses to him. Five cannon and three shell throwers have been captured by the Serbs. North of Paralovo, Franco-Serbian troops have made progress. The Serbians also reported today that they had taken by assault Stravina Village, capturing two howitzers, and the Bulgarians are retreating northward. The Village of Zovik, five miles north of Grunishite, was in flames, the Serbians reported.

NEW HOME RULE SCHEME IS PROPOSED BY CARSON

Ulster Will Be Included and Extension of Conscription to Ireland Will Be Insisted Upon.

London, Wednesday, Dec. 6.—The Daily Chronicle today gives prominence to the following article: "Plans have been maturing for some time for a settlement of the Irish question in the event of a government coming into office in which Sir Edward Carson should be a prominent member. If the scheme carried thru it will be the most dramatic event in Irish history. Sir Edward Carson, who no doubt got the consent of his Ulster colleagues for the plan, proposes that a home rule parliament should be established for the whole of Ireland, and that Protestants should be represented on the basis of proportional representation. Ulster would be included for the period of three years after which there would be opportunity for a revision. Conscription in Ireland. "One condition of the acceptance of this scheme by the Nationalist party is that they agree to the extension of conscription to Ireland. It is estimated that conscription, if applied to Ireland on the same basis as now prevails in Great Britain, would bring an additional 150,000 men. A settlement of the Irish problem on these lines would, it is expected, have a soothing influence on the discontent in Ireland and reunite the Irish race throughout the world. Martial law would, of course, be abolished. "In view of a settlement of the Irish question on these lines it is probable that some members of the Nationalist party would join a government of which David Lloyd George was the premier. Sir Edward Carson would, of course, be a leading member of the government as a preliminary indispensable condition. Discussion of this subject in view of the possible reconstruction of the government or of Sir Edward Carson becoming a member of the cabinet, has been going on for some time between Mr. Lloyd George, the Irish leaders and Sir Edward Carson." MINISTER OF AGRICULTURE Get the Best Scientific Man Available, and Give Him a Free Hand. Said a prominent citizen of Ontario last night: Premier Hearst has a chance to do a big thing; pick out the best man we have as an authority on agriculture, farming and settlement. Professor Creelman of the Agricultural College at Guelph preferably before all others, and offer him the position of minister of agriculture in the Ontario Cabinet, with a free hand. Kaleidoscopic Changes in British Cabinet Crisis Follow Resignation of Lloyd George, Who Will Become Premier if Law Refuses to Form New Government--War Policy Will Be Speeded Up.

London, Dec. 5.—The government crisis found a solution tonight, which up to the hour of its announcement was considered the least probable of practical alternatives. Herbert H. Asquith resigned the premiership, which he has held thru eight stormy years of domestic and foreign history. The unionist leader, Andrew Bonar Law, was summoned to the palace immediately after Mr. Asquith had departed and the King offered him the prime minister's commission, which he had just accepted from Mr. Asquith's hands. No announcement regarding Mr. Bonar Law's decision has yet been made and there are some doubts whether he will accept the heavy responsibility. If he declines it is considered certain that the honor will fall to David Lloyd George. The continuation of the coalition cabinet, with some changes in its membership and the speeding up of the war management, will be the policy in either event.

When the crisis first arose it generally was understood that Lloyd George and those who supported him simply were demanding a smaller war council, of which Mr. Asquith would be a member. When it became known that it was proposed that Mr. Asquith should be excluded from the council, at best, simply act as ex-officio chairman without a voice in its proceedings, the seriousness of the situation became apparent, and the Liberals and members of the labor party hurriedly called meetings to express confidence in the premier and assured him of their support should he resist the demand. It also is understood that Mr. Asquith resented the outcry against Viscount Grey, secretary of state for foreign affairs, because of the late developments in Greece for which the government's critics are holding him responsible, and that the premier also refused to ask A. J. Balfour to resign as first lord of the admiralty.

Day of Extraordinary Excitement. The premier's decision to resign and advise the King to summon Andrew Bonar Law to form a cabinet was taken after a day of extraordinary political excitement and activity. There were constant comings and goings of the political leaders between Downing street and the various government departments. Mr. Asquith met several Unionist leaders in consultation, including Earl Curzon, Lord Robert Cecil and the Earl of Derby. Noticeable absentees from the conference were A. J. Balfour, who is ill; Andrew Bonar Law, J. Austen Chamberlain and Walter Hume Long. Later in the afternoon the premier met his supporters, including Viscount Grey, Lewis Harcourt, Edwin S. Montagu, the Marquis of Crewe, Reginald McKenna, Walter Runciman, Lord Buckmaster, H. Samuel, Lord Reading and Arthur Henderson. The meeting lasted for more than an hour and it is supposed that Mr. Asquith explained that he was faced by almost insuperable obstacles to the reconciliation of the conflicting interests and intended to tender his resignation. Almost immediately the premier drove to the palace and had an audience with the King. It is now remarked that when Mr. Asquith was asked in the house of commons yesterday if a food dictator had been appointed, he replied sharply: "I don't like a food dictator."

May be a General Election. There is much talk tonight of the possibilities of a general election. Mr. Bonar Law would first form a cabinet, if he takes office, as it is necessary that the government be carried on, and then appeal to the electors for a ratification of his administration. There is strong opposition, however, to any political campaign, which must necessarily divert the country's energies from the war work while it lasted, and the new government may decide to go ahead with the approval of the house of commons only, and not of the voters. The part David Lloyd George is playing in the crisis was demonstrated plainly today by the fact that he remained in his office while the premier conferred separately with the Liberal and Conservative members of the cabinet. Mr. Lloyd George's policy had supporters in both camps. His strongest Liberal friend, Lord Reading, carried messages between the premier's councils and Mr. Lloyd George's desk. It was significant to onlookers, also, that Mr. Bonar Law refrained from attending the Conservatives' meeting with Mr. Asquith, and Lord Curzon hastened to report to him at the colonial office immediately the conference was ended. Takes Politicians by Surprise. Mr. Asquith's retirement has taken the politicians so by surprise that they are not yet ready to predict the results. The possibility that Mr. Asquith will consent to remain in the cabinet with Mr. Bonar Law, taking the post of lord high chancellor, in which it has long been considered he might find a congenial berth, is discussed. Herbert Samuel's promotion from the home secretaryship to Reginald McKenna's position at the treasury is also predicted, while acceptance of the resignation of Viscount Grey and A. J. Balfour, which some of the papers backing Mr. Lloyd George are demanding, is less likely under Mr. Bonar Law's regime than if Mr. Lloyd George came into power. The labor party certainly will hold a more important part in any new cabinet than it has been filling in the old. The more sensational London papers have enjoyed three or four days of almost frenzied excitement, with demands and denunciations, often in language stronger than the dignity of British politics has permitted in the memory of the present generation. The crucial events in Rumania and

WAR SUMMARY

THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

DEVELOPING their successes on the eastern bank of the Cerna River in Macedonia, the Serbians have advanced considerably to the north of Grunishite and Budimirtsa and the Bulgarians are continuing to fall back before them. It is too early yet to measure adequately the full extent of this latest victory, but it has already brought an advance of five or six miles and it probably insures the fall of Philip, leaving the way clear for an advance on Nish. German guns, mortars and howitzers keep falling into the hands of the victorious Serbians as the advance progresses. Fierce counter-attacks, undertaken with a view to the checking of the Serbian forward march, were all crumpled up and dissipated by the strength of the Serbian fire. On the battlefields the Serbians are finding a great many dead. Their latest exploit is the piercing of the second line of the Bulgarian defences north of Grunishite and this feat will probably enable them to advance four or five miles more before encountering another fortified line to force.

Because the allies have advanced with more facility, with less frequent pauses, with more strikingly uniform success in Macedonia than in any other theatre of the war, it must not be supposed that the defences of the Bulgarians are weaker or have been less cared for than in any other theatre of the war, for they are not, and the foe has been fortifying himself undisturbed against the prospects of any allied advance from Salonica for almost a year. In this war, as in other wars, an advance is always possible, granted adequate preparation. In this theatre of the war adequate preparation postulates abundance of mountain guns, mules and ammunition; as in the western theatre of the war it postulates abundance of heavy guns with their accessories. The way in which the Serbians are climbing over hills, dragging their guns after them, and breaking thru the hostile lines, promises to bring them to Nish in short order, for the

As described by the various official communications, the Bulgarians and Germans were being kept at arm's length from Bucharest by their attempted advance from the south and a furious struggle is proceeding in this direction. THE UTILITY OF FURS.

Furs are in more popular demand this present season than in any previous year. They are not popular because they are a luxury, but because they are a dress necessity in cold weather and available as to price to the great majority of people. There is no extravagance in buying a Hudson Seal Coat, as it will wear well, if properly cared for, for up to six seasons, and the fur is always fashionable. Our Hudson seal furs are made of selected pelts and of a superior quality. W. & D. Dineen Company, Limited, 140 Yonge street, Toronto, and in Hamilton, 20-22 King street west.

Canada's Western Farmers Start A Great Economic Revolution

BY TOM KING.

Ten years ago a scope of farmers met at Brandon, Manitoba, and organized what is now known as the "Grain Growers' Grain Company of Canada." A year later, at their second annual meeting, a very small room in Winnipeg was sufficient to accommodate all the shareholders. Today the company is one of the biggest grain companies in the world; it elevated ninety million bushels of wheat during the crop year ending Aug. 31, 1915; has just absorbed the Alberta Farmers' Co-operative Elevator Co., and will soon have something like thirty-five thousand shareholders, all of them customers, all of them boosters, and all of them eager to help in bringing about a great economic revolution. They may go into politics.

I remember when the Grain Growers' Grain Co. came to Ottawa for a parliamentary charter—I think about 1911. Some hoped that the farmers would do good; others feared they would do a great deal of harm; and probably the majority of those who thought anything about it believed the new company would be scuttled by the speculators on the grain exchange, or wrecked by the signals of its financial inexperience. Even as time went by, and good reports came from the company, men in the east remained skeptical. The old dream of farmers storing, elevating and shipping their own grain from the wheat fields of England, eliminating the middleman and the speculator, and getting for the producer every dollar that his grain was worth, over and above the bare cost of transportation, seemed impossible to realize. We pictured the banks, the grain companies, and the shipping trust, eating up Mr. Farmer in the same old way. More than anything else it was feared that the farmers themselves would not have the business acumen to manage affairs involving millions of dollars. For a long time the company's ability to conduct the affairs of the company, and that they would receive the loyal and united support of the grain growers everywhere in the west.

News of the coming merger, coupled with rumors as to the great profits made by the Farmers' Co-operative Companies in the past year, however, woke many from their lethargy, and unusual interest attended upon the Grain Growers' Grain Company. Yet, even in Winnipeg there was no real grip on the situation. The people knew that something more important than usual was about to transpire, but they did not appreciate its far-reaching significance. Somehow or other the idea seemed to prevail that by weird incantations, or sleight-of-hand methods, the farmers had achieved their wonderful financial success. I was told by local newspapermen that I would not be admitted to the shareholders' meeting.

But I found no difficulty in getting in. Mr. John Kennedy, one of the directors, and a leading farmer of the west, was pleased to learn that The World had sent a man out to Winnipeg for the annual meeting and told me to go right in and speak to the president, Mr. T. A. Creer, at the noon recess, and he promptly gave me a badge that admitted me to every meeting and a seat at the big banquet. The grain growers had nothing to hide and have nothing to be ashamed of. I certainly came away from that meeting deeply impressed.

The annual meeting was held in a big building belonging to the company, where its repository and showrooms are located. One floor had apparently been cleared of plows and harrows and other implements and fixed up for the gathering of the shareholders. Here they assembled at the appointed day and hour, probably to the number of six hundred. The great majority were men from the farms, but quite a number were women. There were all there to look after their interests and to find out just what their directors had been doing, and to speak their minds freely as occasion required.

They were by no means unanimous in favoring the merger, and perhaps a word or two about the merger may not be out of place. The Grain Growers' Grain Co. was the first in the field, and has members in all three prairie provinces. It was organized on a joint stock company basis, is not in form co-operative, and receives no assistance from any government. In Saskatchewan and Alberta co-operative elevator companies arose which were largely financed by the provincial governments. A year ago all three concerns felt that they ought, if possible, to come together, and form one company. Considerable negotiations ensued, and finally it was agreed that the Alberta Farmers' Co-operative Elevator Co. and the Grain Growers' Grain Co. of Canada should join forces and form "The United Grain Growers' Ltd.," with an authorized capital of $5,000,000. The Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Co. did not join the merger, but I think will do so in the near future. There is every reason why the farmers should unite. The combined companies would constitute the largest grain company in the world, would have 80,000 shareholders, and would be almost irresistible when brought together under one management.

But you may ask me to say what the grain growers by getting together have accomplished up to date, and what more do they expect to accomplish by a still closer union.

The Grain Growers' Grain Co. of Canada has leased, purchased and built a number of elevators. It has successfully organized and operated an export company. It has greatly increased the net earnings of the farmers, while at the same time doing a profitable business for itself as a corporation. A company just ten years old, which has $500,000 lying idle in the bank after paying a 10 per cent. dividend, and a $100,000 tax, is not doing so bad. When it takes in, as I believe it soon will, the Saskatchewan and Alberta companies, it will control a line of interior elevators from the foot of the mountains to the head of the lakes, and several big terminal elevators at Fort William and Port Arthur, as well. It is buying cheaply and selling at low prices to the farmers all kinds of farm implements and machinery, including automobiles, as well as many other commodities, such as lumber, wire, salt, apples, sewing machines, and so forth. It has acquired vast timber lands in British Columbia, and will soon be sawing lumber for sale to prairie farmers. It will probably own and operate flour mills in the near future, and even manufacture agricultural implements. The New company, when it gets all the Saskatchewan people in line, and sets well under way, proposes to lift the western farmers of the middleman, once and forever.

The big merger, and the bigger merger that is yet to come, will be free from every objection that can be urged against a monopoly. It will have no watered stock. It will not unduly enhance prices, but on the contrary will reduce them. It will aim to serve, not to exploit the public. No one can become rich by joining this association, for no one person can hold more than two thousand dollars of stock, and the authorized capital is $5,000,000. No group of men can seize the company and run it for their own advantage, because proxy voting is done away with. Groups of shareholders will elect delegates to the annual meeting, and the expenses of these delegates will be paid. Thus, the government of the concern will be in the most democratic hands, and no individual or set of individuals can speculate with its assets for their personal aggrandizement.

Already remarkable men have come to the front in these organizations who will no doubt continue to hold the confidence of the shareholders. T. A. Creer, president and general manager of the Grain Growers' Grain Co., has proved himself to be one of the ablest financiers and business men in Canada. Hon. Chas. Dunning, who recently resigned as general manager of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Co. to become provincial treasurer of Saskatchewan, is one of the five wires of the west, and Mr. Cecil Rice Jones, head of the Alberta Farmers' Co-operative Elevator Co., is reckoned one of the best business men in the country. All three have accomplished such wonderful results, that comment is superfluous. What their combined talents may produce in the future for uplifting the farmers of western Canada, no one can predict.

These companies, in a way, are commercial enterprises, but they aim to educate and serve the public. They are taking an active part in politics, not in the narrow sense of that term, and their wishes are all but supreme in the provincial governments of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta. No government in any one of these three provinces could live for an hour if the grain-growers determined upon its destruction.

In the federal field they intend to march in the middle of the road. They will not divide between the two parties, much less become an adjunct to either. Quite apart from their low tariff views they have a broad platform upon national issues to which every candidate must subscribe. Some of the old line party politicians are quite willing to get on that platform, and become independents. At the shareholders' meeting the other day Robert Cruise, Liberal M.P. for Dauphin, said to me:

W. F. Maclean ought to be here. These people like an independent man, and they are a mighty independent lot themselves.

Many in the east are inclined to look upon the grain growers as impracticable because they are demanding free trade. Of course, by free trade, they do not mean the immediate abolition of the custom house, but they do mean a radical reduction of the present tariff. Our people here should not make any mistake about the temper of the west at this point. Just now with prices high and money plentiful the west may be saying less than formerly, but it has not changed its mind. It is going to get a radical revision of the tariff downwards, or know the reason why. They own the "Grain Growers' Guide," a self-sustaining weekly magazine, ably edited by Mr. G. F. Chipman, and they may establish a paper in Ontario hereafter for the purpose of carrying on their educational propaganda. Rural credit, national currency, a national bank, which will give the government the leadership of the banking business, public ownership of public utilities, and a truly national policy on the nickel question are some of the reforms they are demanding, and as they are likely to hold the balance of power in the next house of commons, their demands are reasonably certain to meet with recognition, however reluctant, from the politicians everywhere.

MARKHAM Township Council Grants Two Thousand to Red Cross

The Markham Township Council at its meeting held yesterday in the Village of Unionville, voted to levy a rate on the township sufficiently large to return a net amount of $2000 for the British Red Cross. The money will be borrowed from a local bank, and the rate spread over next year. This was supplemented by a cheque from Rev. Mr. Rae, of Unionville, for $1000. Some progress was made toward a settlement of the claim preferred by William Goodyear, treasurer of Markham Township, whose engine went through a bridge over the Rouge River in the latter part of September. Mr. Goodyear was present at yesterday's meeting and an offer was made, but so far has not been accepted.

MOUNT DENNIS Second Anniversary of Church is Celebrated

The second anniversary of the Mount Dennis Presbyterian Church, held last night, was very successful, more than 300 people being in attendance. The chair was occupied by Rev. Dr. McKeerrell, pastor of Victoria Church, and the concert was largely given by the choir of that church. Some of those who contributed were: Miss Gerlie Dean and Leonora Hipwell, in a piano duet; Miss Dorothy McDermott, in a recitation; Mrs. J. H. Taylor, treasurer; T. Bages and Miss D. Clarke also contributed. A clever two-act sketch, given by Miss Ruby Grant, Vera Fiches, Edith and Mabel Marshall, Joan Campbell, Mary McCullough, Joan Kay, Gladys McMillen, Dorothy Howett and Elva Lillie took part.

ATHENS IS QUIET AFTER CONFLICT

Royalists Call Clash "Attempted Insurrection by Rowdies."

ASPECT NOW NORMAL

Government Boasts Rebellion Has Been Checked With Great Rapidity.

Washington, Dec. 5.—A foreign office despatch received tonight from Athens by the Greek legation here says normal conditions have been restored in the capital. It describes the fighting between the Venizelists and royalists incident to the clash between Greek and allied troops Saturday as an attempted insurrection by rowdies who were quickly suppressed.

A paraphrase of the despatch given out by the legation follows: "As you have already been informed, rowdies attempted Saturday to take advantage of the deplorable encounters which occurred between the detachments of the allies and the Greek troops to create a sudden insurrection. They killed and injured several civilians and military men.

Quiet Restored.

The government took immediately the necessary steps and order was completely re-established. The capital now has its normal aspect. I am informed, however, that several press cables have described the repression of the rowdies in the most whimsical manner.

No rebellion has been checked with more rapidity. If any excesses have been committed, they must be imputed to the madness of the moment and to the exasperation due to seeing pain-bringing, which cost blood of the army, and to a sedition which had been promoted against civilians and military men and which had been prepared long ago and kept quiet.

Nevertheless the royal government will not fail to make an effort to show its severity against any person accused of having committed criminal acts.

A report from Minister Droppers at Athens reaching the state department today said there was much excitement in the Greek capital, but gave few particulars about the situation. It was the first time the minister had been heard from in weeks.

BRINGS DOWN TWENTY FOES.

Paris, Dec. 5.—It was announced by the French war office today that yesterday, Flight Sub-Lieut. Nungesser brought down in succession two German aeroplanes on the Somme front. These two successes raise the number of machines brought down by this officer to twenty.

EARLS COURT

Business Men's Association Discuss Police Protection

Several important matters affecting the Earls Court district will be discussed at the next meeting of the Earls Court Business Men's Association, amongst the most important being the Avenue road car shelter, cluster lights for St. Clair avenue, and Dufferin street corner, and more police protection. All local matters have been allowed to stand over until after the case of the citizens' express and night campaign has been disposed of at the sitting of the Dominion Railway Board at the city hall on Tuesday night," said Secretary C. H. Ralph, "many members of our committee being actively engaged for some time past in working up the case for the citizens."

effects of a retreat are cumulative and the farther back the foe is driven the faster will become the rate of his retrograde.

Neither the Germans nor the Bulgarians tell the truth about their setbacks in Macedonia. The German official communication last night concerning the Macedonian front said only that there had been artillery duels, and the one issued yesterday said that east of the Cerna River new engagements developed. Serbian advances near Rahovo, and Monte, on the Moglenca front, failed, it added by way of elaboration.

Concerning the situation in Rumania, a study of the official claims of the Germans and Russians establishes the fact that south of Bucharest the Germans, Bulgarians and Turks are being generally held and that the Russian troops have now extended their front as far as the Danube, for Berlin says the German people have been mightily disappointed owing to the repulsed Russian attacks. While matters thus continue so comparatively satisfactory south of the Rumanian capital, with the allies still having a chance of smashing the enemy, the position north of Bucharest is not nearly so good, for the enemy is advancing on Ploechti to the northeast, and from Titu Junction to the southwards to attack Bucharest from the north. In order to save the situation, Russian aid will have to arrive quickly before Ploechti. It is probable that already an assembly of the defence of Bucharest in the north unless it is intended to spare the city a bombardment and therefore to evacuate it and retire to a front further east.

The German official communications read yesterday to the casual reader as if the Teuton armies had taken 12,500 prisoners the day before, but more careful scrutiny showed that the foe really claimed that he took 2000 north of Bucharest by his 9th army, and that he took 2500 men by his Danube army. German official versions of prisoners taken are usually grossly exaggerated. For instance, the Germans claimed that they took three million prisoners in the campaign against Russia last year. The other day they issued what purported to be an official return of the prisoners of war in their power and this return gave the number as little more than half the original number given out to the credulous German public. As the German people have been mightily disappointed owing to the duration of the war and its exceeding all previous predictions of officialdom and kaiserdom, it is deemed necessary by the war chiefs to give out flamboyant reports of the number of prisoners and magnitude of victories, and it is also necessary to lie exceedingly. In the case of Rumania the Teutons have won already a political success, and the only way for the allies to do is to drive them out of Rumania as speedily as possible, as soon as the preparations of the Russian are adequate, and the Rumanian troops have had to retreat a considerable distance in the north and they are certain to be discouraged, so speedy help, direct and indirect, is needed more than ever. Their first army requires to be reorganized.

In England the political crisis is apparently to be settled by the formation of a new coalition government under A. Bonar Law as prime minister. Mr. Asquith has resigned. Owing to the disorganized state of the voters' lists caused by the heavy enrolment in the army and by the great movements of voters from their former residence to munitions factories, it is improbable that an election will be held. Hints are also given of a solution of the Irish problem by an agreement between Sir Edward Carson and John Redmond. Everything points to the creation of a ministry bound to make more vigorous prosecution of the war. Military opinion has no doubt that the war can be won on the western front. The allies, when the weather permits infantry fighting, can advance with more losses than the number of Germans they take prisoners. The persons who favor a defensive in the west and an offensive at vasty greater expense in the east are followers of the Winston Churchill school. His notion was given a trial at the Dardanelles and it fell thru, partly because the government refused to make it a principal theatre of the war.

The war on the western front remains practically at a standstill. The Germans launched a small attack against the French in Vaux Village and they were speedily repulsed. Moderate artillery activity marks the condition at various sections of the front.

Asquith's Career

Herbert Henry Asquith became premier of Great Britain in 1908, succeeding Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman.

Mr. Asquith at once began a policy of reform—parliamentary, social and constitutional—of a radical nature, aided by David Lloyd George, with whom today he apparently is at odds.

Shortly after the outbreak of the war the Liberal cabinet of Asquith began to be assailed by its political enemies, mainly on the conduct of the war and particularly with regard to the naval branch of the British forces. So bitter was this campaign that on May 26, 1915, a coalition cabinet was formed, with Asquith, however, retaining the portfolio of prime minister. The present political crisis in Great Britain apparently had its origin in a similar situation, especially on account of the government's postponement of consideration of the British air board's demands for fuller powers to meet the situation created by German raids on England, the recent change in the command of the British fleet by which Vice-Admiral Sir David Beatty was made head of the fleet, and especially Mr. Lloyd George's demand for a smaller war council, which should have powers to act independently of the cabinet.

Mr. Asquith in parliament Monday admitted that there was trouble in his cabinet and that he had asked King George to permit a reconstruction of it. Just how it was proposed to change the ministry was not stated, but the prime minister said that he desired to make it perfectly plain that whatever method of reconstruction was effected it would involve no departure from the policy already announced and pursued by the government since the beginning of the war.

The Daily News' parliamentary correspondent expresses the belief that it will be impossible to form another coalition government. He says Sir Edward Carson and Mr. Lloyd George would both serve under Lord Law's Premiership, but that it is understood that Liberal ministers who belonged to the expiring coalition ministry would not serve without Mr. Asquith. The correspondent adds that the position of the Liberals has not yet been defined, but that they would be definitely hostile to a ministry of which Mr. Lloyd George was the premier. The correspondent says he believes the rank and file of the Liberals are willing for a time to support Mr. Bonar Law.

Laborites Support Asquith. The assertion today that the Labor party was standing by Premier Asquith was confirmed by George Wardle, chairman of the Labor party in the house of commons, who said: "The party is prepared to see the speeding up of the war, and also is prepared to accept a smaller war council, but I do not think it should be arrived at by the means adopted. We recognize the driving force of Mr. Lloyd George, but feel that in a crisis of this kind a proposal to overthrow the premier is not a proper policy or one to be supported."

ASQUITH MAY RETURN

Parliamentary Situation Threatens to Recall Premier to Power.

London, Dec. 6.—Altho Sir Edward Carson is universally mentioned as a member of the next administration, one of his friends is quoted as saying that Sir Edward's position is one of detachment from the crisis, and that he has not been approached with a view to joining the war council. One thing only was certain, namely, that Sir Edward would not take office under Mr. Asquith. According to The Times Sir Edward Carson, since he resigned his post as attorney-general in the coalition government, has made a great name for himself and gained the respect of many members who previously were his bitter opponents. Summing up the outlook, The Times says everything is in the air at present, and there is no telling what will happen. "The suggestion was made here and there Tuesday night that Mr. Asquith was not done with politics, and that the parliamentary situation might compel his return to power," adds The Times.

The 6,000 Are Coming A Steady Stream of New Customers Who Want to Help Keep Down the Price of Bread

Let those who read reflect. Is there a man or woman in Toronto who does not realize that when George Lawrence reduced the price of bread from nine cents to eight cents, that he did so at a great risk of loss? Is there any one who patronizes any baker, who does not realize that their chance to get bread at 8 cents a loaf came from Mr. Lawrence and not from the good-will of any other baker? Does any person feel satisfied to take advantage of the Lawrence Bakery's courage, without giving the Lawrence Bakery credit, and also giving the Lawrence Bakery his or her orders? Reflect upon the fact that to make 8-cent bread a possibility for any prolonged period, the Lawrence Bakery must have a very large volume of business, and then reflect whether you are doing right if you are not sending Geo. Lawrence your order. If you favor the cause of Keeping Down the Price of Bread, be strong-minded enough to let your order follow where your approval leads. George Lawrence needs 6,000 more customers to make his REDUCTION OF THE PRICE OF BREAD A SUCCESS.

JUVENILE COURT MUST COST MORE

Commissioner Boyd Tells Ad Club Court Cannot Run on Appropriation.

CAN'T KEEP OFFICERS

If the Rising Cost of Living Forces Them Out, He Will Despair.

"The court can't operate on $15,000 and be effective," said Commissioner Boyd of the juvenile court in addressing the Ad Club at luncheon in the St. Charles Hotel yesterday.

War has increased the troubles of the court, said the commissioner. When the controlling hand of the father is away many boys between the ages of 12 and 15 get quite out of their mothers' control.

The commissioner appealed for the co-operation of the public thru the club to make known the needs of the court and the greatness of the work that it was doing.

ENTHUSIASM AROUSED BY NEW SOMME FILMS

A Remarkable Record of the King's Recent Visit to His Troops in the Advance.

Newspaper comment in all the English periodicals regarding the latest war motion picture, entitled "The King Visits His Armies in the Great Advance," is unanimous in declaring that the film is second in importance only to the Somme Battle picture, and should arouse as much interest and enthusiasm as that noted production.

As was the case in the Somme film, the operator who photographed King George during his ten days' tour of France was Lieut. G. H. Malines, official camera man, acting under the instructions of the British topical committee.

Malines has been publicly praised in speech and print in creating something that will give future generations some idea of the unprecedented events that are occurring in the world today. The motion picture world, it is declared, owes much to men of this character, who time after time willingly risk their lives that we may get as complete a pictorial record of the war as possible.

CHARGES POLICE ABUSE.

On Trial as Receiver of Stolen Property and is Remanded a Week. His eyes swollen and his face showing signs of abuse, Louis Zosky appeared in the police court yesterday to answer a charge of receiving a quantity of leather goods, stolen from W. J. Egan.

In answer to the magistrate's query as to how he had come to be in such a bruised condition, Zosky claimed that the police had pounded him to make him tell the truth. In turn, the police assert that Zosky fell on the steps of the police station. He was remanded for a week.

DIES SUDDENLY.

Elderly Lady Expires While Walking Down Town.

While out for a walk with her daughter Sadie, in Yonge Street Arcade yesterday morning, Mrs. Ann Clendenning, 61 Princess street, dropped dead. At first she thought her mother had fainted and obtained restoratives at a drug store. But she failed to revive. The body was removed to the morgue, but as heart failure is believed to be the cause of death it is not likely there will be an inquest. The late Mrs. Clendenning was 65 years of age.

A YEAR FOR BIGAMY.

In the police court yesterday, James Ernest Davis was convicted of bigamy and sentenced to one year in prison. Davis left his wife and four children in Ireland five years ago, and three years later entered into a form of marriage with a Miss Maud Hunt.

OFFERS NO HOPE OF AMENDMENT

Premier Hearst Says Temperance Act Has Done More Good Than Harm.

LABOR DELEGATION

Resolution Condemns Act and Asks for Beer and Wine Licenses.

Premier Hearst does not think the Ontario Temperance Act is class legislation. He thinks the benefits derived from it more than counter-balance the evils arising from it, and he holds out no hope of amendment in the shape of beer and wine licenses. He expressed these views to a delegation of organized labor men, which waited on the cabinet yesterday to attract its attention to the resolutions passed by the Trades and Labor Congress, held in this city recently.

T. A. Stevenson, secretary of the Toronto Trades and Labor Council, presented the resolution. He said the government had received no mandate from the people for the act. As a result of it many hotels had been closed, thousands of men had been thrown out of employment, hotel property had been depreciated in value. Drinking had been moved from the bars to the homes. Hard spirits had taken the place of beer and wine. The wealthy were not affected. The working man was deprived of his beer. Ontario was not ready for the act. He suggested a beer and wine amendment, and a separate ballot after the war on the same subject.

Premier's Reply.

The premier replied that he doubted if the facts warranted the conclusion of the resolution. The evidence he had received had been more than counter-balance the "evils and sufferings" that flowed from it. He should not be dealing fairly with you if I held out any hope today of an amendment to the act as asked for in your resolution," he said.

"I do not think it is class legislation," the premier told Thomas Black, a delegate, who asked him as to the facts not supporting the resolution. "I do not think that it is any more class legislation than any other legislation that enables a man who has money to purchase luxuries which other men cannot get," said he.

Legislation Desired.

The premier's government's careful consideration to the resolutions submitted by the delegation, which included a system of rural credits, license of ironing in charge of boilers, eight-hour days from the head of the shaft for miners, safety cages in mines, 200 feet and more deep, hygienic improvement in factories, abolition of the practice of manufacturing clothing in homes.

With these were also suggested protection of workmen from dust, disinfection of workmen in hospitals, safety of theatrical employes, prevention of the use of Asiatic labor, the detriments of soldiers on their return, payment of first aid fees by compensation board, closing of barber shops on legal holidays, that polls be held on holidays or election days be made public holidays, pensions for widowed mothers and removal of wall paper before redecoration.

Superintendent at Work.

Premier Hearst, who replied to these recommendations, said that many of them were already under the consideration of Dr. Riddell, superintendent of the Trades and Labor Council, whose report on suggested legislation was awaited with interest by the government.

Members of the cabinet present were: Hon. Dr. Pyne, Hon. L. B. Lusk, Hon. T. W. McGarry and Hon. Finlay G. Macdunnachie. Dr. Riddell also was present.

The deputation from the Ontario Congress of the Trades and Labor Council, which consisted of the chairman, Ald. H. H. Ford, of Hamilton, and William Ledge of Ottawa and John Sutherland, Toronto.

There were also present, representing various branches of organized labor: Thos. Stevenson, secretary Toronto Trades and Labor Council; John Kennedy, Alexander Murray, Thos. Crawford, Arthur O'Leary, James McCaffery, R. W. Banks, Thos. Moor, A. O'Dell, Alfred Cheesman, Frank Horgan, Thos. Black, John Corcoran and Fred Bancroft.

RETURNS FROM ABROAD AND DENIES HIS DEATH

Physician Who Once Practiced Here Returns to Prove His Statement.

For the past ten years officially reported dead, Dr. John Crombie Burt, who, a score of years ago, was one of the best-known physicians and surgeons in the City of Toronto, has reappeared at his old home. To advise his friends that his "death was a gross exaggeration," Dr. Burt recently inserted the following advertisement in a newspaper:

Dr. John Crombie Burt, who, several years ago lived on Dovercourt road, reported dead, is still living. Present address is 10 Asquith avenue; not now in medical practice. Information of personal benefit gladly received.

Dr. Burt left Toronto ten years ago. Since then he has visited the Canadian and American west, China, Japan and Australia, and the principal cities of Europe. Now he has returned to Toronto to settle down, locate his wife, and to discover what has become of his medical degree and diplomas, which have been missing for many years. Until a few days ago he was recorded as dead on the register of the College of Physicians and Surgeons.

TELLS HOW TUBERCULAR CASES ARE LOCATED

Miss Eunice Dyke, Public Health Nurse, Speaks Before Samaritan Club.

Miss Eunice Dyke, of the public health nurse, was the speaker at the monthly meeting of the Samaritan Club, held yesterday afternoon in the Gage Institute. She told of the methods adopted in locating and following up tuberculous cases for which there are 41 clinics in Toronto in connection with the different hospitals. There are also on an average, 400 cases in the city institutions.

Had Chronic Indigestion Thought She Would Die

After Years of Suffering Attributes Cure to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Eating too much or using foods that do not agree are the usual causes of indigestion. Trouble usually begins not in the stomach, but in the liver, since it devolves on this organ to filter the excess waste matter from the system. Now, since Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are the greatest of liver regulators, it naturally follows that they are unexcelled as a cure for chronic indigestion.

With the liver, kidneys and bowels active, the poisonous waste matter is quickly removed from the system and there is nothing to interfere with the natural and healthful working of the organs of digestion. In this way only can lasting cure be effected.

Mrs. Rebecca Elliott, Magnetawan, Ont., writes: "I feel it my duty to write you in regard to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I had gastritis of the stomach for three years, and could get nothing to stop it until I tried Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I would have an attack of this trouble with my stomach every three or four weeks, and was so bad at times that my friends thought I would surely die. Thanks to these pills, I have not had an attack for six months, and believe that the cure is thorough. My husband has had very satisfactory experience with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. He was much run down, and very pale and weak. I persuaded him to use the Nerve Food, and after having taken five boxes he looks and feels real well."

It is such experiences as these that have made a place for Dr. Chase's medicines in the great majority of homes. They do not fail, even in the most complicated cases. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 5 for $2.50. All dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Munitions or Lives?

There is a splendid way in which YOU can help to save Canadian soldiers' lives.

Miss Dyke dwelt on the importance of knowing the home of the patient, and endeavoring to elevate it in every way, especially to the mind of the child. Miss Stewart reported on the activities of the club for the month, and attention was drawn to the Christmas baskets for which supplies were invited. Last year 63 baskets were distributed to tubercular homes which covered over 200 children. It was announced that the piano stationed near the platform was the gift of a benefactor to the club.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, DEC. 6.

If Germany Should Win?

No one can read the news from England these days, and the sensational announcement of this morning without being awakened to the dread that has been stirring in many hearts during the past two years, the dread that all might not be as well as our patriotic hopes would suggest, that the hour for the British Empire might have come as for so many others in the past, that Germany with her strength, her determination, her efficiency, her unscrupulous and apparently indomitable will was achieving the victory which we had lightly been taking for granted.

There is no disloyalty in facing the facts. There is no reason in preparing for the worst. Without knowledge of the facts, without preparation for the worst, victory is impossible. King George himself told us this month ago. Mr. Lloyd George told us last year that if we did not put forth every effort we could not win. We are not putting forth every effort, and we are not sure that we are not losing. Hundreds, if not thousands of our citizens go about our streets, and they appear to be indifferent whether Germany wins or not. It would be well for those who adopt this careless attitude to become acquainted with what will happen if Germany wins.

Canada is the only prize that Germany would desire to wrest from Britain. Germany knows that possession of the mineral wealth of the world means world-rulership. Germany took the provinces of Alsace and Lorraine on account of their coal and iron. Silesia was taken for the same reason. The announcement is now made by Germany that Belgium is indispensable to Germany. This is an account of her coal and iron. The northern departments of France are valuable for the same reason. It is for her mineral wealth rather than her prestige lands that Germany casts longing eyes on Canada. If Germany wins Canada becomes a German colony. There will be no more bilingual disputes. German will be the one official language. There will be no dispute about militarism in the schools. Everybody will do military service. When Germany felt ready to conquer the United States we would march at the Kaiser's orders to settle Uncle Sam. For if Britain and her present allies are defeated the United States has nothing wherewith to support any argument against the subjection of the Stars and Stripes to the Kaiser's eagles.

We may deplore what has happened in Belgium, but if we protested we should be served as Belgium has been served. There is nothing that has happened in Europe that would not happen to us if German arms should triumph in Europe in this campaign. The man who could go to the front and stay at home, the woman who could influence a man to go to the front and keep him back will be responsible for the fall of the British Empire if Germany should win.

A Dickens Charity

Many people may be surprised to hear that Charles Dickens is still the most widely read and most popular novelist, and that he is still the best seller. Yet such is the case, and his influence among English-speaking readers is practically unrivaled. Even in the German trenches he is found to be a favorite with the dwellers in the dug-outs, who doubtless surrender the more readily to a nation that produced such a kindly nature and so humane a heart.

Toronto has shown a fine appreciation of Dickens in many ways, but in none more markedly than by the great success of the Dickens Fellowship, the local branch of which had at one time the most numerous fellowship in the world. The September number of The Dickensian, the organ of the Fellowship, which is edited by that sterling Dickens authority, B. W. Matz, contained an article on the Fellowship in Canada by Mr. F. M. Bell-Smith, the present president of the Toronto branch. It was the late Mr. E.S. Williamson who was responsible for the great success of the movement here. He imported the true Dickens spirit into its proceedings, and the note of active and practical charity which distinguished the Fellowship maintained the warmest interests of the members.

The death of Mr. Williamson thirteen months ago has offered a new incentive to activity with the resolve to perpetuate his memory by the endowment of a cot in his name in the Hospital for Sick Children. A bazaar in aid of this charity will be held tomorrow, and the book of the bazaar is a Dickens item which collectors will be glad to possess. Mr. Frank Yeigh is responsible for some editorial notes, and Miss M. Pennell writes of the origin of the local Fellowship. There is a most interesting article, among many others, about the late Mr. Williamson's collection of Dickensiana by his son.

The Fellowship has already endowed two cots in the Home for Incurable Children, and with the memory of Tiny Tim in mind has always been associated with charities connected with children. Those who love Dickens, and those who may be unfortunate enough not yet to have become acquainted with him should hasten to the bazaar tomorrow where the booths are named after Dickens characters and the attendants will represent in costume many of the creations of the great novelist.

Leather Shortage

There are many signs and tokens of the pressure of war, and among the most none stands out more prominently than the scarcity of shoe leather. It can readily be understood that the unprecedented demand for boots and shoes by the millions of fighting men in Europe would be sufficient to cause a dearth of material by itself. There is also the fact of the falling off in production due in a great measure to the preoccupation of the same millions in other duties than the raising of flocks and herds. There is, besides, the wholly unprecedented consumption of leather in other necessities of war than shoes, and the supply in all these lines is far below the demand.

A suggestion that a return to clogs would be wise has not met with any enthusiasm. Another that rubber-soles has met with more acceptance. A very good composite fabric has recently been perfected by one of the big American rubber companies and immediate relief in the matter of boots may come from it.

Substitutes for leather do not seem to find favor, but it will not be a question of sentiment but of necessity before long, and even "gutti" shoes may yet be sought after. Cloth tops and canvas shoes will, no doubt, grow in favor as prices continue to soar. Perhaps we may come to the healthful practice of wearing sandals if the war continue for another summer or two.

Judge Calls for Policeman To Have Lawyer Removed

During the evidence of George Coates in the non-jury assize court before Chief Justice Mulock yesterday afternoon, Frank Arnold, K.C., appearing for Coates raised objection to his lordship asking his client certain questions. His lordship would not be interrupted and called for an officer to remove the lawyer from court. The policeman did not come, and after the chief justice had concluded examining Coates he allowed the objection raised by the counsel. Coates is being sued by his sister, Mrs. Van Zant for possession of property at 4 Mulberry street. The property, declares Coates, was left him by his mother and the deed in dispute was granted to the plaintiff. The case will be continued today.

JUSTIFIES INCREASE IN PRICE OF BREAD

Controller Cameron's Report Does Not Place Blame on Bakers.

ADVISES HOME BAKING

Finds Against Establishing of Municipal Bread Plant.

Controller Cameron's report, as presented by the committee to council, justifies the recent increase in bread prices. But the advice of the committee is against any municipal bakery undertaking, and suggests that the housewife do her own baking. The report says in part:

"The bread question appeals possibly to more people than any other owing to the fact that bread is absolutely indispensable and so universal as to be used as the principal article of food."

"Butter and eggs have increased just as much as bread, and we learn that milk has increased nearly 30 per cent. Therefore, we have come to the conclusion that bread is a very small part of the general problem of the high cost of living, as nearly all foodstuffs have gone up just as much, if not more, than bread. This is a problem which is not merely of local significance, but is Dominion-wide in its scope."

"In our opinion the bread business should not be singled out as a target, but should be investigated along with all other food commodities in which prices at the present time are deemed to be excessive. We might offer as our opinion that in order to cut the price of bread it would not be advisable to establish a municipal bread plant, but, on the other hand, we would suggest that the only way whereby the housewife can make a saving in the price of bread is for her to do her own baking. And if done economically when the fire is going for other purposes, she can, without counting the cost of labor, save from 6 to 7 cents on a large loaf of three pounds."

CITY HALL NOTES

Ald. McBride is again out battling for jobs for returned soldiers. Yesterday he approached the mayor with regard to an arrangement whereby returned soldiers will be taken on as street car men in preference to the foreigners who are being imported.

Now that Nurses Dyke and Forsythe have received increases in salary every other woman in the department is said to be demanding a like increase. Two approached Mayor Church yesterday and pointed out that their work was just as responsible as that of the two granted increases.

Toronto's municipal legislators compare favorably to the federal statesmen in the number of sons and members serving at the front. Ottawa is represented by 50 soldiers out of a membership of 221, while council is represented by 6 soldiers out of a membership of 25. Controller Thompson is in khaki, while Aldermen Ball, Graham, Ramsden, Rydning and Wagstaffe have sons at the front.

Potato dealers, it is said, will be the first to come under municipal investigation in conformity with council's declaration to investigate the high cost of living. The affair is now in the hands of the crown, from whom City

Clerk Littlejohn is awaiting instructions.

Harry Winberg, the mayoralty candidate, is said to be giving serious consideration to letting the mayor's chair go to Mayor Church by acclamation and running for the board of control. He believes it would be patriotic in that it would save Toronto some thousands of dollars election expenses.

The bureau of municipal research is preparing its annual campaign to arouse interest in the municipal elections. Allowing for 33.1-35 per cent. of duplication, only three persons in seven voted for mayor last year. Two in seven for the controllers, four in nineteen for aldermen and four in fifteen for the board of education.

PRESS CLUB MEMBERS HAVE ENJOYABLE TIME
Large Attendance at Dinner When Novel Subject is Discussed.

Great interest was manifested by the members of the Toronto Press Club in the meeting held last evening in the St. Charles hotel. A question was before the meeting which permitted of considerable discussion. After a debate in which the younger men pitted themselves against the counsel of some of the older, it was found that a hoax was discovered in time to prevent the putting of a motion.

There was a large attendance and the evening was most agreeable and successful. President Geo. H. K. Mitford occupied the chair.

A PLEA FOR SERBIANS WHO ARE SUFFERING
A Home-Loving People Who Are in Many Ways Like to Canadians.

The movement to assist the Serbian people in the tragic distress which have come to this small nation is one that appeals to special appeal to a country such as Canada. Both countries are vitally interested in agriculture and the successful development of rural life. With an area less than that of one of our smaller provinces, such as Nova Scotia, Serbia has a population of nearly three million people. This mountainous inland country nearly half its area was unproductive, and yet, owing to its community system, the passionate love of its people for the soil and its intensive agriculture, Serbia possessed a greater number of sheep than in the whole of Canada, and relative to its population a greater number of both sheep and swine than any other country in Europe. Corn was its principal crop and formed the chief diet of the country people. It exported a large amount of wheat, live stock and fruit.

We, who in this war are devoted to the cause of small nationalities, must peculiarly feel an appeal for the relief of the Serbians. Nobody can forget the insolent ultimatum which if accepted in their entirety, would have meant the extinction of national honor and national life. No more tragic picture has been presented to the world than the retreat of the civil population of Serbia over the mountains in the wake of their army, women and children by the thousand perishing by the way. Today France is supporting thousands of the Serbian children, notwithstanding that she has between one and two million orphans of her own. Hundreds more are in England being cared for and educated.

LIEUT.-COL. PAGNUELO BEFORE COURT-MARTIAL
Charged With Giving False Evidence, Issuing False Certificates and Assisting Desertion.

Montreal, Dec. 5.—Lieut.-Col. T. Pagnuelo, who had been given command of an overseas regiment, was brought before a court-martial today, presided over by General Lessard, charged with giving false evidence before a military court at Valcartier, with issuing false certificates re payments to his men and also with having assisted men to desert, addressing the men as follows:

"Fellows, the authorities are dismissing the officers and everybody is going home. The authorities have done this without consulting us, and I am afraid it is revenge because we are French-Canadians. As for you men, they are going to ship you to Bermuda to give you a little bit of miser. Now, boys, military law forbids me to speak any clearer, but if you are clever enough you will read between the lines and will know what to do. I will give you all passes to go where you like, and you may take it for granted that the money subscribed to the regimental fund will not be spent to look for those who do not come back. I repeat it again, you are condemned to go to Bermuda, where it is very hot. You understand, do you? I won't say any more; do as you like and don't be afraid." or words to the effect.

Bereaved Colonel Declares He Will Fight Until the End

Kingston, Ont., Dec. 5.—"I will stand at the front until the war ends or as long as my health and strength will permit," says Col. A. E. Ross, M.L.A., in a letter received here this afternoon in which he told of having just received word of the death of his wife which took place recently at Allandale, Ont.

TONGUE OF VELVET HAS LOST EFFECT

War Situation Calls for Plain Speaking to Men, Says Bishop Sweeney.

KITH AND KIN MEETING Speakers Declare Manhood Must Be Brought to Realization of Duty.

With a splendid array of speakers, but a rather small audience, the Toronto branch of the Associated Kin of Canadian Expeditionary Forces, was launched last night at Massey Hall. Among those on the platform were: Hon. Justice Riddell, chairman; the Bishop of Toronto, Rev. Dr. Chown, Gordon, Wright of London, Noel Marshall, John M. Godfrey, Rev. L. L. Gaggie, Prof. Mavor, Rev. Dr. Chambers, H. Cassels, K.C., Capt. W. C. Innis, C. W. Kerr, Rev. A. J. Vining, J. D. Levey, Esq., and Mrs. A. E. Huessis and Mrs. H. Parsons.

Hon. Justice Riddell explained the purpose of the association, which was open to the kith and kin of men or nursing sisters with the forces. It was not political or for fundraising, but to assist in the auxiliary to the organizations already existing among the objects of its members are the following: Personal active and continuous effort to secure recruits, keep informed as to the conditions under which the men are enlisted, equipped and trained, to encourage efficiency, to correct as far as possible abuses, to assist returned men and their families, and to meet the needs of the man's family, and at noon each day to pray for their kin at the front and the success of the allied cause.

The seriousness of the present situation called for plain speaking rather than the velvet tongue, said Bishop Sweeney. He asked if the audience was going to allow those who had gone out to fight and lay down their lives for the country to go without supporters. Instead of asking for men, they must be thronging forward in numbers to help win the war. Everyone who had a tryout at the front, he said, was his best to maintain the stream of recruits from Canada, a country that had promised 500,000 men.

Rev. Dr. Chown said that the best must be given or Canada would be out of joint with the nation's history. He said that the individual responsibility of all in the matter of recruiting. Women had an influence that was worth a great deal in the matter. After two and a quarter years of war it should not have been necessary to call such a meeting, he thought. Everyone that had sent someone should have seen that those who had gone were well equipped.

PROMPT ENROLMENT OF CANADIANS URGED

Prominent Western Man Suggests Machinery for Effecting Registration.

CONSCRIPTION LATER Suggestion Made That System Used in General Election Be Followed.

Special to The Toronto World. Winnipeg, Dec. 5.—A. M. Nanton, president of the patriotic war fund committee and a distinguished citizen of Winnipeg, in an address today expressed his views on the question of conscription. Mr. Nanton believes that an immediate enrolment should be made of all male Canadians between the ages of 16 and 60. The method he suggested is that the same system and agencies be employed as in a general election. The special feature of his plan is that the classification in all cases should be done locally by and not in Ottawa. He believes that a million cards thrown into Ottawa would produce a conscription from which order would never be evolved.

He further suggested that after the classification is completed every Canadian should be in possession of a badge which would indicate his standing. Mr. Nanton's plan would divide all Canadian men into five classes. The first consists of those too old or too young; the second, those who have already been turned down by the military authorities; the third, those who cannot be spared from the civil life of the country; the fourth class would consist of the available men who can be spared.

TO AVERT SCHISM ON CHURCH UNION

Important Resolution to Be Discussed by Toronto Presbytery. APPLICATION FAILS Worshippers at Cross Street Church, Weston, Ask for Congregation. At the afternoon session yesterday, Rev. James Ballantyne, D.D., professor at Knox College, gave notice that he would move at the next meeting of the Toronto Presbytery, to be held 9th January next: "That in the judgment of the Presbytery of Toronto it is desirable that the next general assembly reaffirm the decision to unite with the Methodist and Congregational Churches, and again instruct its union committee, in conjunction with other committees of assembly, to carry forward the policy of co-operation in the work under the oversight. But that in view of the sharp difference of opinion throughout the church on the subject of church union, the probability of a disruption should the resolutions of last assembly be fully carried into effect, and the disastrous results which must follow schism, it is also desirable that the assembly take steps to avert such a schism, either by discontinuing for the present all preparations for union except such as are included in the first part of this resolution, or in such other way as may commend itself to the assembly."

Application Fails. For the third time the petition of those worshipping at the Cross Street Church, Weston, to have the Presbytery organize a congregation there was not granted. An appeal will now be made to the general assembly against action of the Presbytery. Originally the Presbyterian Church was located at Cross Street, Weston. In time the Sabbath school was opened in the east end of the town and the old congregation entered no protest. By a vote of the congregation the people decided to worship in the new church, which is the present Westminster Church. The older people at Cross Street felt aggrieved and continued to worship there. The congregation in Westminster Church was the one recognized by the Presbytery, and a call has been made by this church to the Rev. Forbes Robertson. The Cross Street people, about sixty strong, have as their pastor the Rev. W. McKay, and are said to have been quite willing to unite, provided Mr. McKay was allowed to become pastor of the united churches. This is impossible in view of the call to Rev. Forbes Robertson. SUCCESSFUL CAMPAIGN. Chatham, Dec. 5.—A campaign to raise funds for the Belgian relief fund was successfully conducted in the city and county today. Members of the local committees who conducted the canvass report that the response to the appeal has been a generous one. No indication as to the amount realized has been made. COUNCIL NOT NECESSARY. Canadian Associated Press Cable. London, Dec. 5.—Sir George Perley's notice to the English press concerning appointments, called last night, adds: "Reorganization has rendered unnecessary continuance of the acting overseas sub-militia council."

TRADING FALLS OFF ON STOCK EXCHANGE

Unfavorable Monetary Conditions Influence Market at New York.

PRICES FLUCTUATE

Munitions Respond to Reports of New War Contracts.

New York, Dec. 5.—Monetary conditions in their relation to the stock market were again a factor of primary importance today, superseding for a time by the interest which attached to the president's message to congress.

Call loans did not rise above 10 per cent. and fell as low as six, but money was not especially free until most pressing needs had been met.

Another significant feature resulting from the local money market was the pronounced falling off in trading transactions.

ONLY A FEW ISSUES ATTRACT ATTENTION

Speculative Interest is Gradually Dwindling and the Toronto Market is Less Active.

Trading on the Toronto stock exchange still very much one-sided. Any speculative interest converges in only a few of the listed stocks and the rest of the list is practically dead.

PROFIT-TAKING IN SPECULATIVE ISSUES

Regarded as Healthy Sign—Big Mining Market Continues.

There was another big market at the Standard Stock Exchange yesterday, when 354,000 shares changed hands.

The market continued very broad, with business well distributed throughout both the gold and silver stocks.

Another significant feature resulting from the local money market was the pronounced falling off in trading transactions.

Traded States Steel moved within a 2-point radius, closing at 126, a net gain of 1 1/2 points.

When Existing Vacancies Are Filled, Liberals Will Be in Minority by One.

Ottawa, Dec. 5.—After a Liberal ascendency of fifteen years, the political pendulum has swung the other way, and the Conservatives now have a prospective majority of one.

SIX LABOR BATTALIONS

London, Dec. 5.—Six Canadian labor battalions are being organized to work on the roads in rear of the lines in France.
