BRITISH FLEET SAID TO BE ON WAR FOOTING; READY IF GERMANS DON'T SIGN

London Papers Display Reports of Preparations, Including Use of The New Giant Dirigibles

This is the huge R-33 which may be used if Hens withhold peace treaty signature

London, June 19.—Morning newspapers feature British naval and other preparations in the event of Germany refusing to sign the treaty of peace and print under big headlines several unofficial reports which were current during the night. It is reported that the grand fleet has again been placed on a war footing and ready to sail for German waters at a moment's notice. It is also stated that the dirigible R-34 has been diverted from her trans-Atlantic trip, equipped with bombs and machine guns and has been sent on to the Baltic, with her commander, the R-33, steadily equipped left on Wednesday night for a cruise which will include the Kiel Canal.

A telegram from Copenhagen reports the arrival there of a dozen British cruisers, and several destroyers prepared to enforce the blockade. According to some reports, the R-34, which is now over the Baltic, is neither armed nor loaded with bombs, but is undergoing a final trial preparatory to her Atlantic voyage. The Daily Sketch says the R-34 was over Berlin at four o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Standard Germany refuses to sign, according to one officer, the flight of the R-34 will be hastened instead of retarded. The dirigible which are now engaged in a demonstrative flight over Germany will return to their bases tonight and remain there until the German declaration is announced.

"Bombs and machine guns were unnecessary in the present flight," said the officer. "Should they have to go eastward again, however, these things may be needed."

This appears to dispose of reports that the R-33 and R-34 were armed for their eastward cruises.

London, June 19.—The flight of the British dirigible R-34 to the United States is definitely postponed until Germany decides what she intends to do regarding the peace terms.

WEST END IMPROVEMENT LEAGUE-LIVE ORGANIZATION

Some Matters Deal With at Meeting Held Last Night

At a meeting of the West End Improvement League last evening the following ladies were added to the executive to assist in the supervision of the playgrounds: Mrs. A. J. Mulcahy, Mrs. Norman F. McLean, Miss E. Cochran and Mrs. J. H. Jenner. They were empowered to add two more women to their committee.

A discussion regarding the erection of bleachers showed that public opinion favored this and the following committee was appointed to look after the construction: Jerome Morris, Fritz Brittain, S. T. Walters, Charles Morris and R. H. Parsons.

Owing to a certain number of fans attending the games in the St. John Baseball League persisting in using insulting remarks to the players, the committee decided to instruct the police to put such offenders off the grounds.

The matter of water supply to West St. John was also taken up and was discussed at some length. Many present contended that the commissioners were not giving sufficient support to the proposed improved service and a resolution to this effect was drawn up and unanimously passed and will be forwarded to the members of the common council.

THE EAST END IMPROVEMENT LEAGUE HAS THIS FAR FAILED THROUGH LACK OF SUPPORT, AND THE DIFFERENCE OF SOME OF ITS MEMBERS. IT SHOULD BE RE-ORGANIZED AT ONCE.

Every man, young and old, who wants to see baseball played next week and all through the season, along with other sports, is urged to go to the grounds this evening at eight o'clock, daylight time, to plan a rush campaign and get into the game with the south and west end leagues, who want to send teams out there to play and give the grounds a boost. Those who want to put teams in an East End League should also attend. Especially should the Y. M. C. A., Y. M. C. I., and High School be represented, since they are organized and can give most valuable assistance.

THE FORT OPPOSITE KRONSTADT GAIN IN HANDS OF BOLSHIEVIK

London, June 18.—A Bolshevik wireless message claims the recapture by the Bolsheviks of the fort of Kronstadt, an Estonian communication, according to a Stockholm despatch, says that owing to the pressure of large enemy forces Kronstadt was evacuated after the guns and fortifications had been destroyed.

SIGN THE TREATY AND END AN AGONY FEELING NOW OF BERLIN PEOPLE

That is Situation as A. P. Correspondent Sees It

Delegates Reported to Have Prepared Memo Recommending That Cabinet Refuse—Head of Delegation Said to Have Threatened Resignation

Berlin, June 18.—(By the Associated Press)—"Sign the treaty and be through with the agony," is the gist of the comment of the people of Berlin today.

After the wrath provoked by the indictment contained in the covering letter of the Allied powers, the residents of Berlin seemed to have resigned themselves to the inevitable.

"Either the city will terrorize them without end," was the way one small merchant put it today.

Wellman, June 19.—(Associated Press)—The cabinet yesterday debated the peace terms. It was officially announced that no decision had been arrived at. The cabinet probably is awaiting the result of a conference of the south German premiers with the government.

The government yesterday received Premier Clemenceau's note apologizing for the stalling of members of the German peace delegation at Versailles.

Berlin, June 19.—(By the Associated Press)—The German peace delegation has drafted a memorandum recommending that the cabinet refuse to sign the peace treaty, according to a Wireless despatch to the Zeitung Am Mittag.

Count von Brockdorff-Rantzen, head of the delegation, and other members of the delegation unless this view is adopted.

Paris, June 19.—The supreme court yesterday decided that the renunciation of Alsace and Lorraine was a question for the competent authorities of each country to decide, but that each country must inform the others of what action it has taken.

London, June 18.—(By Canadian Associated Press Cable)—Commenting on the final terms to the Germans, the Daily Telegraph says—

"The original terms have stood an unexampled fire of criticism from every imaginable quarter and have survived it fairly well. They will be imposed upon Germany, and it is not possible to suppose that they will be modified to Germany's advantage, but substantially they remain as in their original form. Refusal to sign will be a disaster for Germany and a military triumph for the world."

The Chronicle's impression is that the Germans will sign, but it through internal political discussion they delay, our armies and fleets will quickly end such a delay.

The Mail expresses no final opinion. There seems to be a weakening on the part of the cabinet, and it is expected that Germany's naval, the Kaiser and other points, the Allies' reply seems firm.

The Graphic says that the Germans escape full financial responsibility despite the Lloyd George's promises during the last election, but it is satisfactory to note that the Allies are firm on bringing the Kaiser to trial which, if fairly conducted, will do more to prevent further wars than a dozen leagues of nations.

Dr. R. E. Long, who has been practicing dentistry in New Glasgow for several years, has removed to Fredericton and will locate here, having purchased the business of Dr. F. W. Barbour, who has been in Toronto with the greater part of the war. Dr. Long is a son of William Long of this city.

STRAWBERRIES IN ONTARIO TAKE RAPID SLUMP

Toronto, June 19.—Ontario's strawberry crop is large, and prices are dropping rapidly. At Tinsboro on Saturday prices for thirty cents a box, and by Monday evening had dropped to twenty cents, then district rates of last evening brought on the crop with unexpected rapidity, but not enough pickers to get the berries off the vines, and today berries were selling at fifteen cents, and by the end of the week present indications are that they will be twelve cents a box. The rapid decline in prices is creating a big demand for sugar. All other small berries preliminary a huge crop in this district.

SIX PRELIMINARIES TO THE BIG FIGHT

Toledo, June 19.—Fifty-four scheduled rounds of boxing will precede the 12-round heavy-weight championship contest between Jess Willard and Jack Dempsey.

There will be three bouts of eight rounds each and three of ten. The first match will start at ten o'clock in the evening.

Machine Guns Clatter In Fight as German Delegates Reach Weimar

Spartacan and Communist Prisoners Attack Castle Where Members of Government Were Quartered

Weimar, June 18.—(By the Associated Press)—A special train bringing Count von Brockdorff-Rantzen and his colleagues from Versailles reached Weimar and was run into a building a little after midnight. Government troops which were arriving to strengthen the city's protection, were marching through the dark streets to the quarters of the train which was known as Spartacan and Communist prisoners had attacked the castle where members of the government are quartered.

The casualties in the fighting were five Spartacans and one government guard, while twenty-eight Spartacans were captured. The men who attacked the castle had hidden a number of loaded rifles in the bushes surrounding it.

The situation was calm this morning, but at all the public buildings the guards were increased. The officials refused to give any information as to the attack.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hiramson, this morning, "I want to let you in on a little deal to make a dollar."

"What's that?" Hiram asked.

"If you want to sell me some stock in a new company, I'll buy it from you."

"Well, you're a profiteer," he said. "You ought to be in jail. You don't help anything to help produce the butter. You don't even churn. You don't help the farmer. You just help the fellow that has to buy butter for his family. You skin 'em both. You're a pirate—a parasite—"

"Hiram," said the reporter, "I'm not a profiteer. I'm a dealer. I'm a man who's got to live. I'm a man who's got to feed his family. I'm a man who's got to pay his rent. I'm a man who's got to buy his food. I'm a man who's got to buy his clothes. I'm a man who's got to buy his shoes. I'm a man who's got to buy his soap. I'm a man who's got to buy his toothbrush. I'm a man who's got to buy his comb. I'm a man who's got to buy his hairbrush. I'm a man who's got to buy his razor. I'm a man who's got to buy his shaving brush. I'm a man who's got to buy his soap. I'm a man who's got to buy his toothbrush. I'm a man who's got to buy his comb. I'm a man who's got to buy his hairbrush. I'm a man who's got to buy his razor. I'm a man who's got to buy his shaving brush."

"That's a blamed sight more'n a lot of 'em 'll do," quoth Hiram. "They'd better a widdle."

CHICAGO SAYS $25,000 BOLSHIEVIK MONEY WAS SENT FOR WORK IN CANADA

Developments in The Strike Situation

Conference in Winnipeg Today—Saskatoon Vote For General Strike if Winnipeg Prisoners Not Released

Chicago, June 19.—Bolshevism under the management of the "committee of five" is financially prosperous in Chicago. It was asserted yesterday in connection with the arrest of R. B. Russell in Winnipeg that Chicago radicals, finding themselves with more money than they needed for local propaganda, sent $25,000 through Russell and other sources to establish Soviet rule in the Dominion.

Phillip J. Barry, superintendent of investigation for the department of justice verified the information, stating the committee of radicals in charge had been sending money to Canada for several months. The funds were raised at meetings here for the purpose of converting Canada to Bolshevism.

"I am not at liberty to name the contributors or the amounts," said Mr. Barry, "but my agents have been working on the case and have detailed information." Mr. Barry indicated that although collecting funds to be used abroad for Bolshevism might constitute a federal violation, criminal activities would be unretarded.

Controlling Credit. Vancouver, B. C., June 19.—As Vancouver swung into the third week of its general strike called by the Trades and Labor Council the pitch of the workless dollarism man began to be felt among retail stores. At a meeting of the local merchants it was decided to curtail credit to all strikers and a further move was made toward alienating credit entirely. It is now the women and children who are feeling the brunt of the strike, according to statements made by the dealers, who declare that trade in women's and children's goods has dropped within the last week fully sixty per cent.

Vancouver, B. C., June 19.—Retail shopmen in Vancouver yesterday decided to remain at work until called out by their international. This decision was reached before the notice of the cancellation of the strike order was received from Montreal. In Vancouver, the shopmen voted to remain at work.

The World states that 230 mounted policemen from Siberia are on the steamer Mont Eagle, due here today, and that this force will remain in Vancouver, bringing the number of mounted policemen under the jurisdiction of the Vancouver district to 400.

Conference in Winnipeg. Winnipeg, June 19.—Representatives of the strike committee were in conference with the Trades and Labor Council yesterday afternoon, discussing the question of the strike order. The Trades and Labor Council is in favor of the strike order, but the strike committee is in favor of the strike order.

The suppression of industry under Bolshevism is supported by so much evidence that additional proof is hardly required, but in the Economic Supplement of the Review of the Foreign Press War Office, there is an extract from the 'L'evyette', one of the two daily papers whose publication has been permitted in Moscow and which is edited by leading Bolshevists. The statement, which deals with conditions last December, reads: 'With a very few exceptions the great mass of our employees are inert, apathetic and uninterested, incapable of any initiative and creative labor. Socialization and the requisition of the factories have led to absolute chaos in the timber and paper manufacturing industries. It is shown by a resolution carried in France which reads in part as follows: 'Since the middle of June no bread has been issued in the government. The workers have not the strength to go on starving. We protest against the policy of the central power which has brought the working classes in this government to the verge of death by starvation.'

SURVEY AT THE UNION DEPOT

Some Signs of Building of New Railway Station

It begins to look as though the promise made by D. B. Hanna of the C. N. R. on a visit to St. John a while ago might soon be reality—that the city is at last to have a new railway station. Work has been begun on the survey of the ground about the Union depot under the direction of Mr. Crowdsdale of the government surveys, Moncton.

Workers are engaged at present in re-surveying the walls of the interior but they have orders not to do any such work on the outer shed as the understanding is that it is soon to be torn down. When this has been done a temporary structure, known as a 'batter' covering, will be erected, but the belief is held in local railway circles that work will be begun this year on the erection of the new station.

While there has been objection to the building of a new station at the Mill street site it has been due largely to the pressure of traffic in such a confined area. It is said that the plans for the new station will provide for a non-interference with the street traffic so that the present blockades which have been a source of annoyance will be done away with.

OLD FRIENDS ON VISIT TO DETROIT

Hon. J. G. Forbes Home After Attending Presbyterian Assembly

Hon. J. G. Forbes has returned after a most interesting trip which included attendance at the Presbyterian general assembly in Hamilton, Ont., and visits to other Canadian cities and also to Detroit.

He was particularly struck by the rapid development of Detroit and the splendid view in which the streets are laid out and kept in order. Among the friends whom he met in Detroit were Mr. Cameron manager of the great Cadillac automobile works, who he remembered not so many years ago when the latter was serving his time as a blacksmith's apprentice in Durham, N. S. Mr. Adams, who he met there, is a Nova Scotian. Another old friend was Mr. Cameron, minister of the great Dominion Express wagon line in St. John.

While in Ottawa Judge Forbes conferred with the members of the Victorian Order of Nurses and made strong representations on behalf of the St. John.

He was much interested in the negotiations which were in progress for the nationalization of St. John harbor while he was at the capital. The amount which was to be paid to the city in compensation for the harbor was mentioned as $2,500,000 and he was inclined to think that this was more correct than the $2,000,000 now mentioned.

STEEDS-MESSER The marriage of Miss Alice Victoria Messer of Harvey, N. B., and Walter Steeds of MacAdam Junction took place on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Joseph Carson, 95 Portland street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. H. Ellis, minister of St. Matthew's Presbyterian church.

COUPE-WILLS The announcement of a wedding of this city to a great many friends in St. John was received today from Albany, N. Y., where on Saturday last, Miss Maude D. Willis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Willis of Rockland Road was married to F. Arthur Coupe, formerly of this city, who is in business in Albany. The ceremony was performed at 5 p. m. by Rev. Canon B. Armstrong of St. George's Cathedral. The bride was given away by her brother, Edwin Willis, who recently returned from overseas. Mr. and Mrs. Coupe will reside in Albany. They have the good wishes of a host of friends in St. John and vicinity.

RUDDOCK-ARTHUR An event of interest to their friends took place in the month street Methodist church on Wednesday, June 18, when Rev. G. P. Dawson united in marriage Miss Elizabeth Ruddock and Miss Elizabeth Ruddock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ruddock of St. John. The bride attended the church with her brother, Frederick, to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Sanda. She wore a costume of Belgian blue satin with Georgette trimmings, while making her way to the altar. She carried a bouquet of roses and lilies-of-the-valley. Miss Mary Christopher, niece of the bride, who acted as bridesmaid, carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Arthur Arthur, brother of the bride, acted as groomsmen. The bridegroom to the bride was a check, to the bridesmaid a cameo pin, and to the bridesmaid a check, to the bridesmaid a check, to the bridesmaid a check.

McKay-McLellan Lawrence McKay of Covered Bridge and Miss Viola McLellan of Stanley were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon at the York Hotel, Fredericton.

KIJI HARA For the first time in the history of Japan a man with a title is at the head of the government. Kiji Hara, the present premier, is a commoner, born in northern Japan, and educated in Tokyo on a scholarship founded by the feudal lord of his class. His title as a profession, but entered journalism, serving on the immediate journalistic ancestor the now well known Hoshi Shimbun. From journalism he entered diplomacy under the Marquis Inouye, then foreign minister, and was sent as ambassador to France. Returning to Japan he became director of the Commercial Bureau of the Foreign Office under Count Matsuda, and then in turn Minister in Korea, and vice-minister of foreign affairs in Japan, retiring temporarily to private life when Count Matsuda gave up the political work that had earned him the reputation of being the greatest eye on a scholarship founded by the returned to national politics in 1900 as minister of communications in the cabinet of Prince Ito, and from that point his rise has been steady. He was lately made premier, and so became the first commoner that has ever in Japan occupied so high a position.

DRUG BUSINESS BOUGHT; NORTH END FIRM EXTENDS

A business deal recently put through is that in which the Crockett-McMillan Drug Co. Ltd., of 683 Main street have purchased the drug store and stock of the late Frank E. Porter, 303 Union street where they are now establishing themselves. They will conduct this store as a branch of the North End business. The store is being re-stocked with chemicals of a high-grade quality, and an up-to-date line of sundries including perfumery, toilet soaps, sachet powders and a wide assortment of toilet articles.

Arthur McL, Steele who was with the late Mr. Porter for several years, has returned from overseas after service with No. 4 Siege Battery and has been re-engaged by the new company, which will be good news to his numerous friends, and Miss Gabriel, who was also associated with Mr. Porter in his store, is likewise being retained. Best wishes will be extended by their friends to Messrs. McMillan and Crockett in their enterprising endeavor.

June Brides AFTER INSPECTION OF K. C. ARMY HUTS

Official in City Today Speaks of Good Work Done and Plans for Future

Capt. P. C. Gleason Smith, of Montreal, special commissioner of the Knights of Columbus, returned to St. John today after a visit to the city last evening from Halifax after completing a tour of inspection of all the huts in Canada from coast to coast. On his way back to Montreal Captain Smith will visit the branch of the institution in Quebec.

Speaking of his work he said that the first huts were opened in December, 1918, and the complete string of huts in the dominion have been in operation for about five months. The month of May was the biggest month in the work of the Catholic Army Huts and a synopsis of the work done showed that more than 85,000 men have been served and 22,000 returned soldiers accommodated with beds during that period in the seventeen huts in Canada. These huts are in operation in Halifax, Toronto, Hamilton, London, Winnipeg, Brandon, Saskatoon, Regina, Vancouver and Victoria.

An employment bureau is attached to each hut and already more than 400 men have been placed in suitable positions. A total of 60,000 men have received hospitalities from the huts since its inception in December, 1918.

The organization intend sustaining activities until the last man has been returned to Canada when they will concentrate their attention on the men remaining in hospital. There seems to be a tendency towards slowing up, Capt. Smith said, but that was not over, but the re-organization of the K. C. Catholic Army Huts into comfort barracks will be retained so long as there are men under treatment in the Canadian hospitals.

To Lieut-Col. Clarence F. Smith, the administrator of the fund and controller of the organization in Canada, a great deal of the good work accomplished has been done in the past few months. He has been active in patriotic work in Montreal since the outbreak of war, being a commissioner of the Red Cross and active in the Patriotic Fund, giving his time free. The administration of the local branch has been under the care of Major George Keefe, commissioner; Dr. W. P. Broderick, state deputy of the Knights of Columbus; W. J. Mahoney, general secretary on the local committee; Henry Regan, G. K. chairman of the men's hospital committee; Mrs. A. C. Wilson, chairman of the ladies' entertainment committee, and Mrs. W. E. Scully, chairman of the food committee. A. E. O'Leary has filled the duties of secretary and has been assisted by James J. Power.

James J. Larkin who has been overseas director of the Knights of Columbus was active in the work of the huts in France, England, Scotland, Italy, Belgium, Ireland and occupied Germany. While in Italy Mr. Larkin was made Knight of St. Gregory by the Pope.

Mr. Larkin was granted an audience with Pope Benedict and His Holiness evinced a remarkable familiarity with the war activities of the K. of C. Mr. Larkin said, and spoke enthusiastically of his record of war service. Mr. Larkin said that the Pope, who received him in the throne room of the Vatican, sent his blessing to the American people and a special blessing to the Knights of Columbus.

WHEN THE GREENS OF THE FIELDS ARE SHOT WITH GOLD

When the greens of the fields are shot with gold, the golden harvest is a natural enough thought of anybody in Lisbon who knows the history of the city. De Macieiro Pinto, minister of marine, voiced it when he said the other day: 'Lisbon is the ideal terminus for such crossings, as the wide-shelved and well-sheltered harbor of the Tagus permits safe arrival and departure in any weather. The present flight to Lisbon is a natural one. Just what harbor disabilities we have to reckon with, and where it is necessary to build breakwaters to counteract them. The establishment of a regular air service would bring wealth and prosperity to Portugal. Harbor improvements are no small and inexpensive matter, and the ease with which the minister of marine speaks of them shows that Portugal is awake to the possibilities of the future and ready to go out to meet them.'

LISBON AS AN AERIAL PORT. The interest and delight of everybody in Lisbon in the success of the first trans-Atlantic flight looks further than the immediate achievement of a remarkable feat: it sees the city a future port for trans-Atlantic aerial traffic, with all that such a situation would mean to Portugal in national prosperity and prestige. That Lisbon is logically placed to become a great aerial port, and to restore with its fleets of aircraft something of the glory that faded with the passing of maritime pre-eminence that Portugal had gained in the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries, is a natural enough thought of anybody in Lisbon who knows the history of the city. De Macieiro Pinto, minister of marine, voiced it when he said the other day: 'Lisbon is the ideal terminus for such crossings, as the wide-shelved and well-sheltered harbor of the Tagus permits safe arrival and departure in any weather. The present flight to Lisbon is a natural one. Just what harbor disabilities we have to reckon with, and where it is necessary to build breakwaters to counteract them. The establishment of a regular air service would bring wealth and prosperity to Portugal. Harbor improvements are no small and inexpensive matter, and the ease with which the minister of marine speaks of them shows that Portugal is awake to the possibilities of the future and ready to go out to meet them.'

Then peace is won and the heart is unbound, Unbound from an ancient care, Then dreams unseem and songs without sound May thousand fold be found In the gold of the air, Gold everywhere.

Gold everywhere and a deepening shade, Shade of the dying sun, When these for the coming night are laid With its royal stars inlaid, There's no more to be done, Then peace is won.

Panthers Threaten Vancouver Island

Victoria Paper Calls on Government to Take Steps to Deal With Scourge

Once again it seems desirable to impress on the government the necessity of steps being taken without delay to deal with the panther scourge on Vancouver Island, says the Victoria Daily Colonist. Within the last three weeks there has been a considerable destruction of sheep. The Manley Brothers & Cobble Hill have lost seven head; in the Kokalah and Cowichan districts there have been other depredations. Mr. C. A. Holland has lost from twelve to fourteen head of sheep at his Melchoclan farm. On other farms the owners have had to stand guard with firearms in order to prevent depredations. It is gradually becoming apparent that those who are endeavoring to build up the industry will eventually find sheep breeding is too risky, unless the authorities once and for all take such action as will rid the island of the pest of panthers.

The reason the depredations continue is because the bounty offered for the destruction of panthers is too small. It should be $50, or more, per head. There are men on this island at present who possess trained dogs and who would be ready to take up the hunt if it was made worth while. Whatever is done should be carried out in a systematic way. The island should be divided into districts with one or more hunters allocated to each, and the government should see its way to pay these men a salary while they are engaged in the pursuit, as well as allowing them the bounty at the increased rate to which it should be raised. It may not be generally known that there are a number of farmers on the island who have bent their energies to sheep breeding; they are spending considerable sums to develop stock by importations from the east, and from the old country, but by its inaction in dealing with the panther scourge, the government is negating their efforts.

Those who are most closely in touch with the situation believe Vancouver Island could be swept clear of panthers within a very short time, and that only a small expense would be involved. It would be small indeed, compared with the benefits which would accrue to the sheep breeders. In the Courtenay district at present a large number of returned soldiers are engaged in preparing land for a community settlement, and no doubt many of them will wish to engage in sheep breeding. While they are awaiting the time when the land will be ready, there is no doubt some of these community settlers, not actually engaged in the clearing operations, would be glad to take part in panther hunting, provided it was made worth their while. We say to the government double the bounty, divide the island into districts, engage salaried hunters and set to work systematically to clear out these wild animals. It can be done in a brief period, and the performance of this duty will earn the gratitude of every farmer in the community. The government, in putting on a bounty, admitted the panther must be destroyed, but because the bounty is so small, private effort has failed. A new policy is required, and judging by the destruction taking place at the sheep farms, it cannot be put into force too quickly.

HOW IT BEGAN.
Customary figure as the boy scout has become in the United States, General Baden-Powell's visit added much to American knowledge of the movement. A good many newspaper readers were probably surprised to learn that it was his beginning to the Boer War and the siege of Mafeking, without which it may be questioned whether there would now be any boy scouts. In command at Mafeking, General Baden-Powell looked far beyond the siege, and saw that a great and useful organization of boys might be developed from the corps of boy messengers organized to serve the forces holding that hard-pressed town. That was the beginning of it, but the

THE MALEKULANS

The sending of a small naval force to Malekula Island, in the New Hebrides, for the protection of planters against the natives, brings some incidental information about a peculiar people with the undesirable fame of being the most backward inhabitants of any island in the South Pacific. Malekula Island has long been under the joint control of France and England, and at intervals some display of force has been necessary to maintain the islanders respect the local representatives of a more advanced civilization. For one thing, they are remarkably honest; the traveler who goes among them knows that however he may fare as regards personal safety, he is in no danger whatever of losing his personal property. And if he is careful not to irritate his hosts, he is likely to come away with a pleasant memory of the native village community, its discussions of community affairs in a kind of village forum, its dances, and its children's play-ground under the bay banyan tree. He learns also that many of the villages also act as a crack marksmen with bow and arrow, takes great satisfaction in belonging to it.

THERE IS DANGER IN TENDER GUMS

To preserve healthy teeth the ordinary tooth-paste is futile. You must first care for the gums, on which tooth health depends.

How many people think of this? Yet four out of five people over forty suffer from gum-disease, or Pyorrhoea (Riggs' Disease).

At first the gums become tender, though actual gum-shrinkage is imperceptible. But in time receding gums will surely loosen your teeth, and then only a dentist can save them. The tender, bleeding gums of Pyorrhoea also act as so many doorways for disease germs to enter the system—inflicting joints or tonsils—or causing other ailments.

Forhan's (For the Gums) prevents gum-shrinkage, gum-tenderness, gum-bleeding. So, automatically, Forhan's prevents tooth loosening. Brush your teeth with it. It scientifically cleans the teeth—keeps them white and clean.

If gum shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for treatment. 3c and 6c tubes. All Druggists. FORHAN'S, Ltd., 507 St. James St., Montreal.

THE VOICE ON THE BUDGET. The budget debate terminated last night, and the government majority is ample for all present purposes. It had been generally expected that this would be the result.

THE INCOME TAX. I would suggest that the rate of the income tax should be raised. If I had an income of $20,000 I would be very glad indeed under the existing financial conditions of the country to pay $5,000 or $6,000 to the state.

Canada Britain Great Income. $ 5,000 $ 120 $ 720.00 10,000 180 2,250.00 20,000 360 6,812.50 30,000 540 11,375.00 40,000 720 15,937.50 50,000 900 20,500.00 100,000 1,800 47,187.50

THE KINDERGARTENS. The formal closing of the free kindergartens affords the citizens an opportunity of which they should avail themselves to become acquainted with the character of the work done by these classes for little children who are not yet of school age.

THE TREE

(By Joyce Kilmer.)

I think that I shall never see / A poem lovely as a tree! / A tree whose hungry mouth is prest / Against the earth's sweet flowing breast!

LIGHTER VEIN

"That fellow boasts that he has never read a line of fiction."

"I'm figuring on my income tax," said the man with the gloomy face.

"I thought you figured that out months ago?"

"I did. That was the easy part. Now I'm figuring on how to get the money to pay it."

"The sample of soil you submit," announced the expert, "shows that your land is not suitable for raising crops of any kind."

"Thanks awfully," responded the owner, "in that case I'll sub-divide it for country villas."

Law Knows No Geography. A colored infantry organization was being mustered out and the company commander sent the home address of every man to the quartermaster, so that each could draw his travel pay to his home.

"Jackson, you gave your home address as Prince Frederick, Maryland, and the quartermaster says that there is no such place as Prince Frederick, Maryland."

"Don't you believe him, sub, they lie!"

"Well, they can't seem to find it." "Huh, can't find it? They didn't have to trouble finding it when they drafted me."

The St. John harbor commission plan has been approved by the government and the price is $2,000,000. It goes now to parliament, and later to the citizens of St. John for approval.

The harbor of St. John should be full of vessels loading lumber. Thus far efforts to get the tonnage have not succeeded. The trade is not being fairly treated by the British timber controller.

The Standard should give the names of the citizens who are eager to have the city assume the cost of permanent pavement, in disregard of the local improvement act.

It is now announced that the Prince of Wales will visit Canada in August. He will be given an enthusiastic reception by the Canadian people.

The Allies are in readiness if Germany rejects the peace treaty, but Germany is not likely to reject. She is helpless.

In the Fight With Eczema

You Can Depend on Dr. Chase's Ointment to Bring Relief and Cure.

The obstinacy of eczema is well known. The fact that Dr. Chase's Ointment has been able to cure in even the most severe cases is the best proof of the extraordinary healing powers of this standard ointment.

Cures such as are described in these letters give you some idea of what you may expect from this treatment.

Mrs. Frank Wagner, Midland, Ont., writes: "One of my boys had an attack of eczema, and although I tried different preparations for this trouble, as well as medicines from four doctors, we could not get satisfactory results."

"I might mention that Dr. Chase's Catarrh Powder has proven of great benefit to me. I had difficulty with a stoppage in my nose and head, but the Catarrh Powder relieved it, and I have not been bothered in this way since."

Mrs. P. H. Vesie, 19 William street, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I can highly recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment, having used it with splendid results, where all others failed. My little girl, aged 8-12 years, broke out in small yellow blisters, which turned into scabs. They came out in different places on her face, and although I tried a great many salves and ointments none of them did her any good. I got a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and after a few applications, I could see the effects of it. Whenever I saw a new spot appearing I would apply the ointment, and before the box was finished she was entirely cured of those horrid sores."

If you would like to try Dr. Chase's Ointment at our expense, send a two-cent stamp to pay postage, and we shall mail you a sample box free. Full size box 60 cents, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

The death of Theophilus Sharpe took place at his home in Waterborough, Queens Co., in the seventy-second year of his age. He leaves his wife, six children, two sisters and three brothers.

Dr. A. B. Norton Dead. New York, June 19.—Dr. Arthur Brigham Norton, widely known oculist and chief surgeon for thirty-five years at the New York Ophthalmological Hospital, died at his home here of heart disease following an attack of pneumonia. He was sixty-three years of age.

LIKELY LEAVE IT TO LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Paris, June 19.—(By the Associated Press)—The conference commission on harbors and waterways is endeavoring to arrange for the regulation of railways connecting Fiume and Trieste with Vienna, so that conditions will be satisfactory to Italy, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia. Some agreement is desirable before the Austrian treaty is completed, but the indications are that the matter will be deferred for decision by the League of Nations.

Meet the British half way in their effort to do trade with Canada," is the suggestion made by the Canadian Trade Commission to business men. There is a broad, expansive feeling of good will and fellowship at present which should not be allowed to become lukewarm.

RECENT WEDDINGS

Potter-Henderson. A host of friends of the bride and groom are deeply interested in a wedding which took place in Carlton Methodist church last evening when Miss Myrtle Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Wheeler Henderson, of Lancaster avenue, was united in marriage to Lloyd Halberton Potter, of Antipolis Royal, and now manager of a bank at Guysboro (N. S.).

Curry-Stewart. St. Mary's church was the scene of a quiet, but very pretty wedding yesterday morning at 8 o'clock, when the Rev. R. T. McKim united in marriage Miss Isabella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stewart, 75 Exmouth street, with Fred Curry, of Halifax. Both parties were unattended and only their immediate friends and relatives were present.

Whiting-McFrederick. A very pretty wedding took place in Cochrane, New Ontario, on May 27, when Miss Gertrude McFrederick, of St. John, was united in marriage to G. F. Whiting, of Nova Scotia.

Bates-Wright. Southampton, June 10.—Yesterday morning Amos Bates, of Bates Settlement, and Mrs. Blanche Wright, widow of A. A. Wright, of this place, motored to Temperance Vale where they were married by Rev. B. T. Bell (Baptist). They left immediately by the C. P. R. for St. John where they spent their honeymoon.

Bedgen-Babbitt. A quiet wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in Germain street Baptist church, when Rev. F. F. Poole united in marriage Ethel Dorothy, youngest daughter of Mrs. G. E. Babbitt, West Side, and John Bridgman, of Sheffield. The bride was unattended and looked charming in a resplendent colored travelling suit, with vest of sapphire blue and hat to match, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. After the ceremony the wedding party proceeded to Bond's restaurant where luncheon was served. Mr. and Mrs. Bridgman left on the Montreal train for their honeymoon, and on their return will reside at Sheffield.

Thomas-Jones. At 8 o'clock on Tuesday evening, at the home of the officiating clergyman, Rev. H. A. Goodwin, Arthur Thomas, of Belleisle, Kings county, was united in marriage to Mrs. Clara Jones, of the same place. Both parties were unattended. The happy couple will take up their residence at Belleisle.

White-McKenna. Fredericton, June 18.—Miss Elizabeth McKenna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. McKenna, of Fredericton, was united in marriage this evening to Benjamin White, of Mayville. The groom recently returned from overseas. Rev. Canon Cowie performed the ceremony at Christ Church parish church.

McWilliam-Stewart. Moncton, June 18.—A pretty wedding was celebrated at 12:30 today at the residence of Aid, and Mrs. John Stewart, Cameron street, when their second daughter, Frances I., became the bride of William A. McWilliams, assistant city clerk. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Hammond Johnston, pastor of Wesley Memorial Church, in the presence of a large number of invited guests. The house was prettily decorated. The happy pair left on the C.P.R. for Boston, New York and other American cities.

McKay-McLean. Fredericton, N. B., June 18.—Lawrence Mackay, of Covered Bridge, and Miss Viola McLean, of Stanley, were united in marriage this afternoon at 3:30 at One York Hotel. Rev. E. J. Barras performed the ceremony. R. A. Pringle, of Williamsburg, was groomsmen, and Miss Howard, of Sussex, were married this morning at the Church of St. Vincent de Paul, Oromocto, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Father Harrington, of Petersville, who formerly was curate of St. Dunstan's church in this city. The bride formerly was a teacher at Sussex, where the groom is in business.

Fraser-Clark. A wedding of much interest to many friends in this city, took place in Bear River, Nova Scotia, on Wednesday evening, June 11, when Miss Annie Louise Clarke, youngest daughter of W. G. Clarke, was married to Frank W. Fraser, of Norwich, Connecticut.

Davidson-Cookite. In the Presbyterian church, Southampton, N. B., on June 11, Miss Florence Cronkite became the bride of Guy Davidson, of Rosville, N. B. Rev. Mr. Litchton officiated. After an auto trip through Maine Mr. and Mrs. Davidson will reside in Rosville.

McWilliams-Stewart. Wm. A. McWilliams, assistant city clerk of Moncton, was yesterday united in marriage to Miss Frances I. Stewart, daughter of Aid and Mrs. J. B. Stewart. Rev. H. Johnston officiated. A wedding trip to Boston and New York will follow. Among the out-of-town guests were W. A. Simonds, Misses Manojre and Dorothy Simonds, Mr. and Mrs. J. Alwyn Tait, and W. L. Bradley, St. John.

Mrs. James Stewart died in Kilburn on Friday morning, June 18, after a short illness of a few hours. She leaves her aged mother, a husband, one daughter, one sister and one brother.

Notice To Advertisers

It is important that advertisers in The Evening Times take notice that, under the prevailing conditions due to change of time on the railroad, this newspaper is obliged to issue one hour earlier than usual, in order to make mail connections and, consequently, begin work an hour earlier in the day, therefore the business office will be open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., (old time) and advertisers are requested to have their copy in the office one hour earlier than usual. This to ensure prompt service and changes.

LOCAL NEWS

IS ANXIOUS ABOUT SON
Mrs. Ella Tibbets, of Brighton, Digby county, N. S., is anxious to learn the whereabouts of her son, Fred Tibbets, who returned from England on June 6. Private Tibbets wrote his mother that he was visiting friends in St. John, but would leave for home on June 11, but he has not been heard from since. A line from any one who may know where he is would be appreciated by Mrs. Tibbets.

PRIZES DAY AT ROTHESAY

Closing Exercises at School This Afternoon

THE YEAR REVIEWED

Head Master Recalls Record of Boys in War — Need of More Room in School — The Names of the Prize Winners

The prizegiving took place on the Rothersey college grounds this afternoon immediately after the finish of the sports. His Lordship Bishop Richardson presided and first called upon the head master for his report.

The head master, the Rev. Dr. Hibbard, expressed the pleasure which was felt by all on account of the presence of so many former pupils of the school, but none of them had taken in the war. The total enrollment had been just over 200 and of these twenty-three had given their lives in the service of their country. Five had received the D. S. O., ten the M. C., one the D. C. M., and one the M. M.

In speaking of the events of the school year just closing, Dr. Hibbard referred to the influenza epidemic which had wrought such havoc among educational institutions generally. He felt that in Rothersey they had been particularly fortunate. When the epidemic was at its height the school had escaped altogether, no doubt owing to the strict quarantine which they had enforced. After the Christmas vacation there had been altogether about twenty cases in the school, but none of them had been of a very serious nature.

All the places in the school had been filled and it had been necessary to refuse a good many applicants for entrance owing to lack of accommodation for long additional accommodation might be provided, so that instead of having room for only about twenty-five boys as at present, they would be able to have more than 100. He closed by thanking the members of the staff and the boys for their loyal co-operation throughout the year.

TO COMMEMORATE SERVICE HELD HERE CENTURY AND HALF AGO

First Religious Service in English in St. John District

Site Identified as Area Owed Partly by J. S. Gregory and Partly by Maritime Nail Works

A century and a half ago the first religious service conducted in English in the district where St. John now stands—and for that matter the first in what now is the province of New Brunswick—was held in the open air at Fort Point. The date was July 2, 1768, and now, 180 years later, the event is to be commemorated by another service held in the open air on the same day of the year.

As the location of the first service was in what is now the parish of St. Luke's, Rev. R. M. B. G. Macleod, of that parish, is taking the lead in the arrangements for the anniversary service. The place where the first service was held and where its memory will be recalled by the observance on the evening of the coming July 2, has been identified as an area now owned partly by J. S. Gregory and partly by the Maritime Nail Works.

Permission for its use has been secured; a platform will be erected for those taking a leading part and the service will be conducted under the canopy of the blue sky which formed the only roof for the first worshippers.

The service will be a short one of reading, prayer, with an address by Rev. Mr. McKim. Invitations are being sent to the lieutenant-governor and premier of the province, the mayor and commissioners of the city and other prominent citizens. In addition to the rector there will be at least one other speaker and arrangements for the second address have not been completed. Music will be furnished by the choir of St. Luke's church, which will be augmented for the occasion by other singers.

A graphic description of the first service is given in one of Dr. W. O. Raymond's books on the early history of the province. The clergyman on that occasion was Rev. Thomas Wood, a missionary of the British Society for the Propagation of the Gospel. Mr. Wood was a native of the town of New Brunswick, New Jersey, who had gone to England in 1749 to be ordained by the Bishop of London. He entered the service of the S. P. G. and was sent to Nova Scotia in 1768. His first visit to this part of his field occurred in 1769, when he arrived in St. John on July 1. On the following day, which was Sunday, he conducted service for the English-speaking settlers in the morning and it is this service which is to be commemorated within the next fortnight.

The versatility of the missionary and his thorough equipment for his work were demonstrated by the fact that he conducted a service for the Indians in the afternoon and for the French residents in the evening in each case using the language of his congregation.

THE SOUTH END LEAGUE TO OPEN THIS EVENING

When the Pirates and Franks line up on the South End playgrounds this evening at a quarter past seven and Tom Jones puts all his muscle back of the first ball across the plate, the league series for the season will open with a bang.

The South End Improvement League has at last got the grounds in good condition, both larger and better than last year. It has meant time and effort for a few, but they feel themselves repaid by the results of their work. There is still much to do to make other sports than baseball possible, but the hardest is over.

SPOKE AT ROTARY CLUB

Lieut. C. C. Thompson, M.C., passed through the city at noon today from New York on his return to his home in P. E. Island. While in Boston he was a guest at a gathering of the Rotary Club and was called upon to relate some of his experiences on the other side. He did so in a speech which was very well received. Mr. Thompson was formerly with the 26th battalion.

BEER AND WINE ADVOCATES ARE FACING DEFEAT

American Senate 58 to 11 Against Exempting These Drinks

THE FIRST TEST VOTE

New Tack Taken in House by Those Who Favor Lighter Beverages and Ballots Will be Cast on Next Saturday

Washington, June 18—Certain defeat for the efforts to save congress exempt beer and wine from operation of the war-time prohibition law was seen in an overwhelming vote of 58 to 11 in the senate yesterday against an exemption proposal.

By that margin the senate tabled a motion of Senator Phelan, Democrat of California, to add a rider to the agricultural appropriation bill for application of the war-time prohibition law to distilled spirits at once.

The senate thus represented in the first test vote in this congress was taken generally to sound the death knell for measures designed to permit use of beer and wines under the war-time legislation.

A new tack was taken in the house, however, by advocates of suspension of the war-time prohibition laws provision insofar as they affect beer and wines. The house judiciary committee received and agreed to vote next Saturday on an amendment by Representative Grand, Democrat of Ohio, to prohibition enforcement legislation which would authorize the president to suspend the war-time ban on beer and wines.

Rejection of the amendment by the committee generally was predicted. The committee also decided to recommend enforcement of prohibition by the internal revenue commissioner and not by a special prohibition commissioner.

CHIEF SECRETARY ON HOME RULE

MacPherson Says He is in Favor of it, With Ireland Remaining in Empire

Dublin, June 18—(By the Associated Press)—James Ian MacPherson, chief secretary of Ireland, in an interview yesterday said he still was an unrepentant home ruler but that under the plan of home rule which he contemplated Ireland would remain within the British Empire.

He said he was convinced the British people never would agree to the establishment of an independent republic in Ireland. He expressed the belief that the Sinn Fein movement was on the wane, having failed to accomplish any of its pledges, while its policy of abstention from membership in parliament led to neglect of Irish interests at Westminster.

The chief secretary said he saw distinct signs of a revival of constitutional nationalism. He did not believe the republican policy was merely put forward as tactics to cover smaller demands and that the Sinn Fein leaders certainly were genuine in their demands for a republic notwithstanding the practical impossibility of this.

The real difficulties of establishing home rule in Ireland, Mr. MacPherson argued, lay among the Irish themselves. He admitted that he did not anticipate any immediate proposals for a settlement of the home rule question, although he was anxious to see the question amicably arranged.

PAPERS SAY FRENCH STRIKE SETTLED BUT MINERS SAY NO

Paris, June 18—The miners' strike has been settled to the satisfaction of both sides and work will be resumed today in the coal mines of Northern France, according to the newspapers last evening. The trouble, they said, was settled as the result of a decision reached by M. Colliard, minister of labor, and Louis Loucheur, minister of munitions, who agreed to arbitrate the questions at issue.

The strike committee however, issued a statement after conferring with Leon Jouhaux, secretary of the Federation of Labor, that the strike was still in force and would continue until the miners are given the eight hour day calculated from the descent of the first and the exit of the last workers from mines. The strike committee characterizes arbitration by the ministers as an "eleventh hour maneuver which threatens to turn against the government."

The statement adds that "the struggle may be a long one, but the miners are resolved to resist to the bitter end."

LAST STAGES OF BUDGET DEBATE

Many Speakers Heard Before Early Morning Division

HANDING IN THE VOTE

Sir Thomas White Delivers Second Speech—Declares That Present is No Time to Tear the Tariff to Pieces

Ottawa, June 18—The debate on the budget concluded at 2:30 o'clock this morning, and the speaker put the question. The vote on the amendment was taken first and fourteen Unionists voted for it. They were as follows: Messrs. Crean, Clark, Maharg, Knox, Davis, Levi Thompson, Reid, MacKenzie, Johnston, Douglas, Buchanan, J. C. Campbell, Fielding, Pardee and MacNeill.

The voting stood for the amendment, 701 against, 121; a government majority of 61.

A vote was then taken on the main motion. Messrs. Knox and Douglas, who voted for the amendment, then voted in favor of the budget. No liberals voted for it.

R. W. Cockshutt, the Brantford conservative protectionist, voted against the budget, as also the following Unionists: Crean, Clark, MacNeill, Thompson, Johnston, Reid, Campbell, Davis, Fielding, Pardee and Buchanan. The voting stood for the budget, 1201 against, 701, or a government majority of 50. The last figures were announced at 3:15 a. m.

Ottawa, June 18—A feature of the budget debate which will be brought to a close by a division on the tariff amendment during the early morning hours was a second speech by Sir Thomas White, minister of finance, who took advantage of his privilege to speak on the amendment.

Sir Thomas entered upon a somewhat extensive review of the financial position of the country and declared that the present was no time to tear the tariff to pieces. He questioned the sincerity of some of the opposition members in supporting the amendment, which he described as containing more "chaff than wheat."

Mr. Euler, Liberal member for North Waterloo, was opposed to both the budget and the amendment and announced his intention of voting against both.

A. B. McColg, of Kent, in supporting the McMaster amendment, urged the nationalization of cold storage warehouses in Canada as a means of reducing the cost of living.

Supporters of the budget heard up to midnight included: H. C. Wright, Battleford; J. H. Burnham, Peterborough; R. H. Butts, Cape Breton South; R. C. Henderson, Macdonald, Manitoba; and A. Loggie, Northumberland.

Members who indicated that they would support the amendment included: Mr. Reid, of MacKenzie; S. W. Jacobs, Montreal; Albert Knox, Prince Albert; F. L. Davis, Nepean; and J. A. Maharg, Maple Creek.

H. O. Wright, Battleford, continuing the budget debate, said that the Conservative, it might be argued that he could consistently support the measure of reduction on the tariff proposed in the proposals of the government.

At the conclusion of Mr. Wright's speech, the speaker asked if the house was ready for the question. He was about to put the question when W. D. Euler, North Waterloo, arrived in time to save the debate from collapse. Mr. Euler stated that he was opposed to the budget and entirely in sympathy with a large part of the amendment, although it went a little further than he would wish to go.

Mr. Euler said free trade is a fine thing, but we must deal with conditions as they are. He considered that free trade at the present time was absolutely impossible. The tariff as at present constituted, however, seemed to be a hotch potch, hit or miss contrivance. But he would not care to advocate any drastic change. He intended to vote both against the amendment and against the budget. "I trust," he said, "that my action will not be interpreted as expressing support of the government. It is not intended in that way."

Opposed to Both. Mr. Reid, of MacKenzie, said he was opposed both to the amendment and to the budget. He thought that it would have been just as easy for the Minister of Finance, when he was making his tariff reduction of two and a half per cent. to raise to five per cent. and his five per cent. reduction to ten per cent. This would have been acceptable to the west.

While the president of the privy council was making his speech in the house in defense of the Dominion Textile Company, said Mr. Reid, a committee upstairs was discovering that the stock of this company had been greatly watered, that the company had made excessive profits and that it had packed away a comfortable nest egg of a million dollars, which did not appear on its balance sheet or any other papers. He expressed the view that no income tax could be collected on this sum. Another company, it had been discovered, was making a tidy profit of seventy-two per cent. By what reason, he asked, were companies such as this protected.

As far as the tariff on agricultural implements went Mr. Reid advocated its complete removal. Canadian farm implements, he said, were as good as could be obtained, but the Canadian farmer should not be penalized because these implements were manufactured by Canada. The Canadian manufacturer was able to compete in outside markets. Why could he not do it at home? He should come into open competition with American manufacturers.

Mr. Reid regretted that the government had not brought down a budget which would members could accept in full. On principle, he was compelled to vote against it. He would therefore vote for the amendment because the rules of the house would not permit a sub-amendment.

Says Union Impossible. When the debate was resumed at the afternoon sitting the expectation was that the division would be taken tonight. Mr. Burnham sharply criticized the position taken on the budget tariff by the Liberal members of the government. Mr. Carvell's attitude that he would reserve the right to criticize, was in common English parlance, Mr. Burnham said, one of hostility to the budget.

Mr. Calder was flat-footedly against the budget. Mr. Burnham added that he had sent them in order to show that other higher positions. He considered union as absolutely impossible and a Unionist an impracticable, now that the war was over.

Mr. Burnham declared himself to be a moderate protectionist, adding that he was not in favor of the subsidies he gave to steamships and her laws concerning patents and other matters, England, was the world's highly protected country in the world.

Mr. McColg thought that the agricultural department had not been as active in production as it should have been.

Mr. Reid Regretted That Government Had Not Brought Down a Budget Which Would Members Could Accept in Full

Mr. Reid regretted that the government had not brought down a budget which would members could accept in full. On principle, he was compelled to vote against it. He would therefore vote for the amendment because the rules of the house would not permit a sub-amendment.

Says Union Impossible. When the debate was resumed at the afternoon sitting the expectation was that the division would be taken tonight. Mr. Burnham sharply criticized the position taken on the budget tariff by the Liberal members of the government. Mr. Carvell's attitude that he would reserve the right to criticize, was in common English parlance, Mr. Burnham said, one of hostility to the budget.

Mr. Calder was flat-footedly against the budget. Mr. Burnham added that he had sent them in order to show that other higher positions. He considered union as absolutely impossible and a Unionist an impracticable, now that the war was over.

Mr. Burnham declared himself to be a moderate protectionist, adding that he was not in favor of the subsidies he gave to steamships and her laws concerning patents and other matters, England, was the world's highly protected country in the world.

Mr. McColg thought that the agricultural department had not been as active in production as it should have been.

Greater Production. Greater production, said Mr. McColg, was necessary if the high cost of living was to be reduced. He declared that the production of livestock, especially hogs, was suffering because farmers did not feel that the government would protect them against the packers. He stated that he was a strong believer in the nationalization of cold storage houses in Canada. With regard to packing houses, creameries, etc., he would have a careful eye kept on them in order to see that they did not extract unreasonable profits from the consumers.

Financially Strong. Sir Thomas White, following Mr. McColg, emphasized the fact that the increase in Canada's national debt was due entirely to the war.

He declared that of all nations which had been in the war since the beginning, Canada's financial position was the best. The national debt of the dominion at the end of the present year would be about two billion dollars. A conservative estimate of the debt of Great Britain would be about thirty-five billion. The debt of France was tremendous, and even the United States, which had been only in the war for a year and a half was now about twenty-five billion. The per capita debt of Canada amounted to about $250. In New Zealand it was $300 per head. In Australia it was over $500.

The member for Kent (Mr. McColg) had taken the stand that the government tariff at present constituted a share of the profits from industries which had derived benefit from the war. The minister of finance, however, declared that the total profits of the industries were $79,000,000 had been made under the business profits tax. This tax was higher than in any other country in the world, and he believed that Canada was the only country which was continuing it throughout the present year.

Most Successful Loan. Sir Thomas continued that at the time the first war loan was placed on the market in Canada, Anglo-French bonds bearing five per cent. interest were selling in New York at 98 and were on a seven and eight per cent. basis. Of all of the belligerents, the last Canadian victory loan was by far the greatest success. An amount of $200,000,000 was raised, equivalent in the United States to fifteen billion dollars. Had the campaign been organized in Canada along the lines of voluntary assistance, as was done in the United States, proportionately the same amount would have been raised in Canada as was actually raised in the United States.

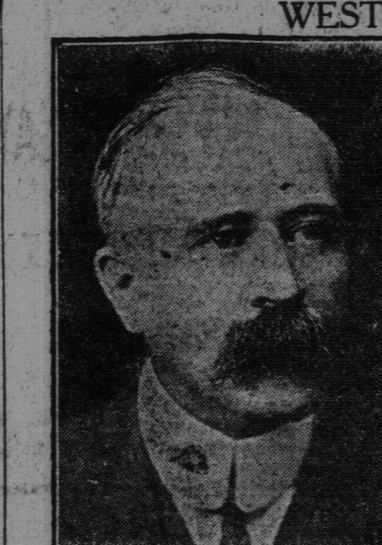

There was criticism of the income tax. But it should be remembered that in some provinces, as in British Columbia, there was a triple income tax. At the present time the Canadian income tax was on about the same basis as that of the United States. There were many present time the Canadian income tax of this tax.

On Living Cost. Sir Thomas attributed the high cost of living to diminished production and increased consumption due to the war. If there are combines, he said, we should take such action as is necessary but, despite any action that can be taken by the government, groups of men will make money and if it is made honestly, it is a good thing for the country. Proper steps are taken to get people to come to Canada, and we produce, work and save we can look forward to a future with confidence. Coming to Mr.

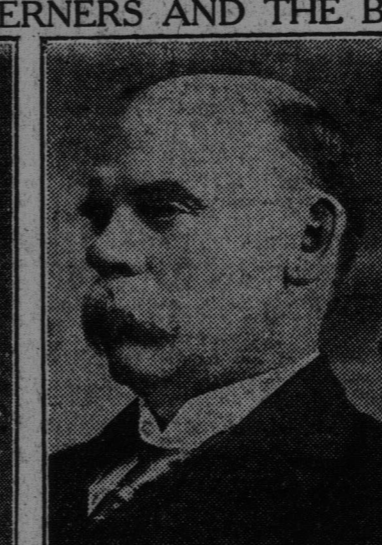

McMaster's amendment, Sir Thomas said he did not believe there were in the house twenty men who would consider it wise to tear the tariff to pieces.

If the amendment were carried, he said, custom collections which would be reduced by $17,000,000 by the proposed changes would be reduced by another $83,000,000. A vote for the amendment would be a vote in favor of having the revenue of the country drop to $50,000,000 less than current expenditures.

MORE BOMB WORK IN THE STATES IS THE EXPECTATION

Chief Flynn Gives This as His Belief. Half Million Fund Sought. Attorney-General Asks for That Sum for Use in Hunting Down Radicals—Report of Day Set for Another Attempt to Destroy Government.

Washington, June 18—The menace of bomb outrages still hangs over the country, in the belief of officials of the department of justice.

William J. Flynn, chief of the department's bureau of investigation, said yesterday that he believed there were "more bombs to come," but said it was impossible to say when the next attempt to create a reign of terror by explosions might be made.

Supplementing Mr. Flynn's statement, the department last night made public testimony of Attorney-General Palmer before the house appropriation committee, asking for a special fund of $500,000 to carry on the hunt for radicals.

The attorney-general told the committee, as the testimony revealed, that government officials had been advised of a day set for another attempt by radicals to "destroy the government at one fell swoop."

Mr. Flynn said he knew of no plot planned for Independence Day and emphasized that every precaution was being taken by police throughout the United States. He expressed the belief that eventually those involved in the recent outrages would be brought to justice.

"We know the source from which the bomb operators have come," Mr. Flynn said. "The agitation is purely domestic and has no foreign connection, although there may be some foreigners active in it. It will take some time to clean up the cases, but we are making progress."

ADMITS ROBBING TWO TRAINS AND THIRTEEN BANKS

Cool Statement by Young Canadian Arrested in Brooklyn

HELD ON MURDER CHARGE

Says He Was Compelled to Shoot When Bank Clerks "Would Not Obey Orders"—Now Wants Speedy Execution

New York, June 18—Two train robberies and thirteen bank hold-ups were the criminal record admitted yesterday by Gordon Fawcett Hamby, alias J. B. Allan, awaiting trial here for the murder of two men when he robbed the Brooklyn Savings Bank. Seated in his cell he told the remarkable story of his crimes in an impersonal and dispassionate tone, closing it with a declaration that he had no further interest in life except to be executed as speedily as possible.

According to Hamby he was born in Alberta, Canada, twenty-six years ago. He said he found holding up banks an easy way of making a living and operated mainly through the central portion of the United States.

"I am wanted in Chicago, San Francisco and several other places," he said, "but the only time I was compelled to shoot during a bank job was here in Brooklyn. Really I did not want to shoot them. I had to as the clerks would not obey my orders."

Hamby complained about the necessity of going through a trial. He professed admiration for the methods of justice in Mexico where "they just put you against a wall and shoot you without any fuss. 'I don't want a trial. I know I am guilty and that is all there is to it."

"There is one particular reason why I do not want to take the stand and that is because I may be asked too many questions which I do not care to answer,"

SENATE AND HOUSE AT WASHINGTON VOTE TO END DAYLIGHT SAVING THIS YEAR

Washington, June 18—Doom of the daylight saving, inaugurated as a war measure, was pronounced yesterday by Congress, both senate and house, voting by overwhelming votes measures to terminate operation of the law when the period of summer time ends next October 26.

Members of both senate and house, in advocating repeal of the law enacted on March 19, 1918, said they were guided largely by wishes of farmers and laboring men who opposed the advanced working hours during the spring and summer season. Opponents of the repeal bills declared the extra hour of daylight was a boon to city dwellers and asserted that others easily could adjust their affairs to conform to the advanced clock schedule.

DR. CHOWN ON LABOR UNREST

Spirited Address to the Methodist Conference
 —A Time for Steady Heads—The Position of the Church—A Word to Those Who Believe All Profit is Theft.

(Special Correspondence of The Telegraph)

Sackville, June 18.—Rev. Dr. Chown, general superintendent of the Methodist Church of Canada, delivered an interesting address to the New Brunswick and P. E. Island Conference on Monday. He said in part:

I want to speak to you very frankly, but calmly and carefully, as to the spirit in which we should approach conditions arising out of industrial unrest in Canada. These conditions affect the very foundations of Christian civilization and challenge intelligent consideration by the Church of Christ.

We cannot as a church be indifferent. We would not be human if we were not stabbed wide awake by the sharp conflict now raging, particularly in the western part of our country, but exposing to danger the whole land.

Firstly, let us be studios, and place ourselves on record after much deliberation upon the actual facts of the case. The future will be greatly imperilled, if at this critical juncture, great questions are fought out between ignorant desire for change, and ignorant opposition to change.

Therefore, let every man amongst us be swift to hear, slow to speak, and slow to wrath. We should be particularly slow to speak without defining the precise meaning we attach to economic terms, which recently have come into vogue. For instance, "Collective Bargaining" may be used in at least three different senses. It may refer to the making of an agreement between all the employees of a certain establishment or to making an agreement with the craft unions representing different branches of labor and the employers interested; or again it may involve all the men engaged in a sympathetic strike.

Some of our people believe in the first method of settling troubles, and our General Conference probably had this in view in its advisement, when it recommended the policy of the British Government Commission, vesting the government of every industry in a joint board of employers and workers. This method is likely to relieve the anxieties of the capitalist and the employer quite as much as it will add to the comfort and well being of the workman. Others may add to this, acceptance of the scheme of bargaining with the representatives of craft unions as such. Both of these methods have outstanding value. I trust, however, that none of us believe in the sympathetic strike as at present conducted, for under the camouflage of the beautiful word sympathy, so far as many of its supporters are concerned, there is in reality a purpose to consolidate a force, which as such, is not amenable to conciliation, and which does not aim at any constitutional settlement. The sympathetic strike is to be judged not by the purposes of the strikers simply. In many cases they are actuated by the highest Christian motives. In some cases they are coerced into striking. It must be judged also by its effect upon the community, of calculated starvation, public disorder, and probable death. It is encouraged by some men in Canada who believe that all profit is theft on the part of the employer, and of course is not justified, but that theft itself is justifiable on the part of the employed.

It surely ought not to be necessary to say that there is no affinity or likeness whatever between these sentiments and the expressed policy of the General Conference. When it declared that the "unyielding ethics of Jesus demand nothing less than the transference of the whole economic life from a basis of competition and profits, to one of co-operation and service" it can have reference only to the dominant method and prevailing motive which should govern the conduct of business. By whatever name the advance of the selling over the buying price may be called, and whatever motive trade may be carried on, it is evident there must be some increase, such as we usually call profit, if any business is to survive.

Wisdom Needed.

Greater care still is needed to speak with wisdom upon the political aspects of the new situation. Even if one has decided that the present political system falls at the crucial point of representing the people, it would be premature to commit himself to any of the laissez-faire forms, which Bolshevism or Soviet government has assumed, without much more intimate knowledge than we have of their nature, and without further trial of their practical results. The doctrines of force and the tenets of immorality alleged to be associated with these new devices, cannot in any case be accepted by Christian men.

As to what referring to the industrial programme outlined by the last general conference, we should be slow to create the impression that it is mandatory. Our people are entitled to perfect liberty of conscience in their social as well as their theological creed. What the general conference endorsed is an ideal towards which we should work, and which the majority believe to be founded upon the principles taught in the New Testament; but it was conceived in the spirit of Christian liberty, and not of arbitrary law. It carries with it the same kind and degree of moral obligation as prohibition did when it was first accepted as the ideal of the church, and it will likely have a similar development in the conscience of our people. The principle of brotherhood will remain with us through the years, but its application will change according to the changing circumstances and needs of the hour.

The brethren who were present at the general conference will remember that the term "revolution" was objected to when used to express the effect of the provisions of the report on the church, the war and patriotism; and by common consent the word "reconstruction" was inserted in its place—the purpose of the general conference being apparently, to reject the suggestion of violence, and to substitute the idea of an orderly advance, one position after another being taken and consolidated; and the whole process leading up to a social reconstruction such as the times may demand.

A condition of considerable unrest has already arisen in our church, from the tacit assumption on the part of some that, notwithstanding we have achieved a great deal of liberty in the formation of theological opinion, we now have had thrust upon us as a people, a mandatory social system. This is not so. The general conference made no law in this respect. It commended its judgment to the judgment of the people for their respectful consideration, but not in any sense as a test of church membership or of theological orthodoxy; and every man, rich or poor, capitalist or proletarian, has, as always, a right to feel at home in our church, providing as in Wesley's day, he has a desire to escape from the wrath to come, and to be saved from his economic as well as his other sins. "Keep Steady."

Again let me exhort you to keep steady. Do not quake before popular upheavals. In the long run humanity will come out right. The Governor of the universe takes the long look. Men are better on both sides than they seem. The spirit of justice is omnipotent and will work out its way to victory. In patience possess ye your souls, for through the dark clouds of this calamity, the Lord draweth nigh. As Dr. Neeles used to say in old Victoria College: "By action and counteraction we strike out the truth, our antagonist being our helper." Confess your faults one to the other, and pray for one another, that ye yourselves may be cured. Christianity has gone through the fire before, and the fire appears to be needed once more. Let us settle it in our minds once for all, that in this new age, the issue is drawn everywhere between the spirit of autocracy and the spirit of democracy, but not all autocrats are rich, nor democrats poor. The reverse is often the case. Yet speaking generally we may say that by the stronger assertion of democracy, the world as it was before the war, has been carried away as if by a deluge, and nothing can ever be the same as it was. The world has struck its tents and is once more on the march.

We must weigh our intellectual anchor and swing out into the middle stream of this new renaissance, to discern clearly what God, through it, would teach us. We shall not move wisely in comparing what is with what has been, but with what ought to be.

AIR WAVES.

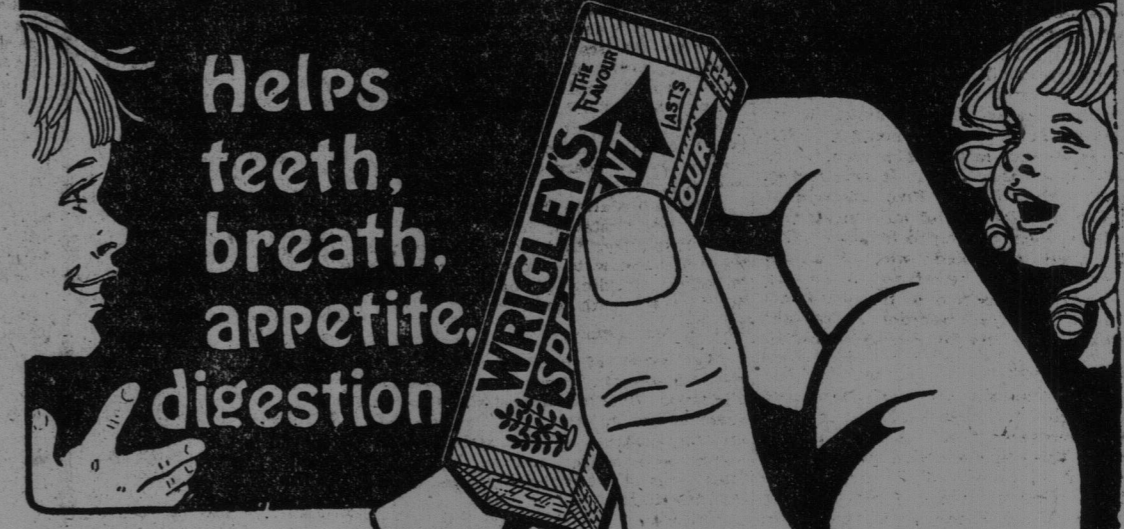

That aircraft actually navigate a kind of invisible sea is revealed by a series of motion pictures, the first of their kind ever taken, that show the air in motion against the wings of an aeroplane. Three miles of film were used in making the photographs, and they reveal the plane, instead of being continuously upheld by the air, travelling from crest to crest of a series of waves; in more technical words, the element of refraction which produces the lifting power of an aeroplane is not constant, but is exerted in intermittent moving air waves, not unlike the waves of the ocean. These air waves have their period of formation, followed

MEMORIAL FOR ROTHESAY BOYS Will Take The Form of A Chapel FORMER STUDENTS DINE

Plan to Honor Those Who Fell Gets Good Start With $3,000 Subscribed—Returned Officers Present

The Old Boys of Rothesay Collegiate School attended a banquet in Bond's restaurant last evening at 7 o'clock. About seventy-five, including several returned soldiers, were present, and a most enjoyable evening was spent. The subject of a proposed memorial for the boys of the school who gave their lives in the great war was discussed, and following a suggestion by Dr. Hibbard, principal of the school, a resolution was adopted that the memorial take the form of a chapel. In consequence of this motion the sum of more than $3,000 was raised by subscription at the banquet alone. J. M. Robinson, president of the Old Boys' Association, was in the chair.

An excellent supper was served. The toast to the King was proposed and drunk, and the national anthem was sung. At the request of the president all the members then stood as a silent tribute to their brother members who had sacrificed their lives at the front. A few popular songs and choruses were sung by the gathering, Major Lou Barker acting as accompanist.

His Lordship the Bishop of Fredericton proposed the toast to the school. He said that they were all proud of Rothesay school and especially in view of the record during the last few years. He was proud to look around the gathering and see so many men who had returned from overseas, where they had upheld the honor of Rothesay school during the war. His lordship said that there is one thing that the school has done it has been to turn out men. When you meet a Rothesay boy you meet a man, he added. The school was also turning out sportsmen, and a fine class of citizens.

His lordship pointed out that the needs of Rothesay school are great. New equipment and larger quarters are needed to meet the ever increasing applications for admission. The time is now coming when the school must either go ahead or backwards in comparison with the other schools, also some sort of worthy memorial should be erected in honor of the former members of the school who had laid down their lives in the war.

Dr. Hibbard, head master, replied to the toast to the school. He said that whatever else the war had done it had brought a closer association between the past and present of the school. During the four years of the war he was continually receiving letters from the Old Boys of the school who had gone overseas with the forces, and all of these that were not too personal a nature he posted up in the school so that the students might read them. Also at Christmas he said that he received many Christmas cards from England and France, and these also he posted up. And when the news came of honors bestowed on old members of the school it was received with greater joy and acclamation than any school success at the time.

Dr. Hibbard said that he was aware of the keen interest that all of the Old Boys took in the school and of how much they were doing for it, and he said that he thought that if the Old Boys' Association was more thoroughly organized, it might do even more for the school than it is doing at present.

was not much in favor of the idea that is prevalent in some places of erecting a building that is very much needed and calling it a memorial, but he thought that it rather ought to be erected as a memorial first, and it might be also of some useful purpose. He did not know of any more suitable memorial that could be erected at Rothesay than a chapel. If the chapel were erected he said that it could be constructed so that the lower floor would serve as a dining room, and that this would leave the south residence free, which would give the school accommodation for more than 100 students.

Returned Officers Speak. Lieut.-Colonel Harrison replied to the toast to the returned soldiers. He said that the Rothesay Collegiate was one of the most military schools that there was in existence, and that it was consequently no wonder that so many of the Rothesay boys were found at the front. When he attended the school they used to drill with poles, then rifles were fashioned out of wood, and finally old muskets were procured. He spoke of the men who had answered the great call and would return no more and also spoke of the erection of a suitable memorial for these men.

Major Barker and Captain J. H. A. L. Fairweather, both returned officers, also responded to the toast to the returned soldiers, and spoke along the same lines as Lieut.-Colonel Harrison, emphasizing the need of a memorial for those who gave up their lives.

The matter of erecting a suitable chapel was then considered and a committee was appointed with Dr. Hibbard as chairman to take steps for the collection of the necessary money. Dr. Taylor started the ball rolling with a donation of $500, and the gifts of large sums of money from the other members came so quickly that in a very short

FEDERAL ORDERS END WITH WAR

Senate Amends Dominion Prohibition Bill—Extension for Year After Peace is Eliminated

Ottawa, June 18—That orders-in-council prohibiting the importation, manufacture and transportation of intoxicating liquors shall terminate with the signing of peace, was declared by the senate this afternoon.

A bill from the commons, enacting as statute law, the orders-in-council of the government, proclaimed under the war measures act, was taken up by the senate in committee of the whole.

The amendment carried by thirty-four to twenty-four after a number of speeches, chiefly dealing with the constitutional point raised on second reading, that by section 121 of the B. N. A. act, inter-provincial trade could not be interfered with.

As a preliminary to taking up the bill, Sir James Loughheed read an opinion from the department of justice given on the constitutional aspect of the question at the time one of the orders-in-council was made. This opinion observed that "section 121 applies only to articles of the growth, product or manufacture of any one of the provinces as such intoxicating liquor as is of this description. I am of the opinion that this section does not limit the power of prohibition possessed by the dominion, because the object of it is to declare immunity from taxation, rather than to affect the power which the dominion otherwise has to prohibit exportation from one province to another of articles which parliament may declare ought not, for the peace, order and good government of Canada, to be admitted in the latter province."

In this case, it is stated, enough incriminating documents were seized in the Labor Temple raid to expose a Bolshevik conspiracy to embroil the whole of Canada.

Further Letters on Subject From Mr. Robertson and D. Arnold Fox

To the Editor of the Times-Star—

Sir—My letter on the above subject in your issue of Tuesday seems to have started something, since three correspondents this evening found it worthy of reply.

I was very glad indeed to read Frank Waddington's letter, recognizing in him one of the best informed men in the city on the subject of music. I would like to say to him, however, that I certainly was familiar with theopournt of operatic airs played by his band last Monday evening, and pleased was I to hear it, and only wished that there might have been more. And furthermore, I am somewhat conversant with Wagnerian music, after several years residence in New York, where I seldom missed a performance of "The Nibelung Ring" or "Parsifal" or "Tristan and Isolde," than which there surely is nothing more magnificent. Now that the war is over may we hear some of these marvelous compositions. Indeed Mr. Waddington, I have heard many times, entire programmes of classical music, for instance, by the Boston Symphony Orchestra, but I am well aware that that would not go here. As another correspondent tonight says "we don't understand such compositions." That is just the point that I strove to make, and that is what I meant when I said that "the Bands should be educators." I fear "A Music Lover" is a misnomer for the person who so signs his letter, as apparently his standard is not very high. The pity is that this advocate of the so-called music of the proletariat, should have no opportunity to be educated to what is real music, so that he might learn to love it. "A Returned Bandman" has the right idea. For great music we must pay a great price, which of course the city is not prepared to do.

In conclusion we all must understand the amount of time and the many rehearsals that the bandsmen give to their work, but I for one would enjoy rather more of the "high-brow" than we have been getting, and while I know of many who feel as I do still, alas, I fear we are in the minority, at least in this part of the world.

Very truly,
MORTIMER ROBERTSON,
44 King Square,
June 18, 1919.

To the Editor of the Times-Star—

Sir—I was interested to see Mr. Robertson's letter re Band Music in Monday's Times and while I feel that he was rather severe in his strictures and omitted to give any credit to the bands for the manner of performance which has steadily improved, yet I certainly think that his remarks are timely and the complaint of the triviality of some of the programmes is more or less well founded.

The matter, however, is not improved by his exaggeration of that which he deprecates and while he and many of us may wish to hear more frequent performances of the great (or near great) masters, yet I think that we should give our bands due credit for meritorious tonal renderings of the music performed, without making invidious distinctions, and as I mistake not, their repertoire contains overtures such as Semiramide, Poet and Peasant, Zampa, etc., and many excellent marches ("Crawley" I have not heard of.)

Two facts should be borne in mind in considering this matter. First that our bands have been laboring under disadvantages during the last few years, owing to many of their best players being absent overseas, and here surely it would be in place to mention that New Brunswick and St. John in particular should remember with pride the splendid bands, such as the 104th, 118th and others composed of St. John men for the most part, which went overseas and earned for themselves resounding credit to their native province, comparing favorably from all reports, with many of the army bands over there.

Secondly, and this is a point which I think Mr. Robertson has overlooked—that the instrumentation of many of the masters (and "near" masters) including many of the composers whom he mentions is somewhat elaborate and calls for the use of instruments which the bands may not carry. It might certainly be possible to adapt some of this music for instrumental limitations of local bands but much of the composer's original effect would be lost owing to the appropriate tone color not being there. But I should certainly think that such a composer as, say, Grunod (whom Mr. Robertson mentions) might have frequent representation on our programmes. To mention only four operas of his composition, viz., "Queen of Sheba," "Lopoe and Juliet," "Faust" and "Virella," these contain a veritable library of brilliant and melodious band music (including, of course, the ballet music of each opera. We must also remember, as Mr. Robertson is aware, that music—indeed any art—in St. John is a plant of tender growth and we should not run the risk of "quenching" the "smoking flag" or breaking the bruised reed. Probably our bandmasters, considering the average taste and believing in the doctrine of the greatest good for the greatest number, arrange their programmes accordingly.

I fear that if a programme consisting of the music of Richard Strauss, Puccini and Caecili Salas (to mention only three others of Mr. Robertson's composers) were to be performed in King Square the crowds would melt like the proverbial snow in summer and Mr. Robertson would find his position akin to that of the poet as described in the first stanza of Gray's "Elegy." What I would like to see would be a compromise, the programme being divided into two parts—one purely popular and the other devoted to music of a classical or more recondite character. This plan is followed at the promenade concerts at Queen's Hall, London, and elsewhere and works admirably. Everybody is satisfied and the "goose hangs high."

I am glad that Mr. Robertson has opened the question as it does need ventilating and I am sure that our bandmasters and bands are enterprising and musically enough to enlarge the scope of their repertoires, but I feel that while asking them to do this we should at the same time recognize their meritorious work and give them credit for their activities in the past, especially in the valuable work undertaken in the past year or two by the City Cornet Band in forming a juvenile band and instructing its members in the rudiments of music and sight reading. Apologizing for, I fear, the lengthy intrusion on your valuable space, I am, dear sir,

Faithfully yours,
D. ARNOLD FOX.

Sidelights On Sport

The West Side Improvement League is certainly proving to be a live organization and is placing Carleton on the sporting map. Their decision to erect bleachers at the ball grounds will be hailed with delight by hundreds of fans, and their plans to form aquatic clubs and hold a series of races and to promote interest in tennis will be good news for many.

The game in the St. John baseball league this evening between St. Peter's and Carleton is creating considerable interest as both teams are tied for first place. Each team will present its strongest line-up.

Features of the major league are the jump Cleveland has made in the American league race, the victory of St. Louis over the Giants and the vanquishing of teams in the first division by those of the second. Cleveland is now tied with Chicago for first place, but as they are playing well the Yankees they will have a hard time getting out in front unless they can show superior pitching and hitting than the New York club, which has been going strong for several weeks.

Thornahlen lost his first game of the season yesterday; his record to date stands six wins to one loss. Cicotte also lost. He has to date won twelve games and lost two and is still out in front of the American league twirlers.

Although the Red Sox played error-free ball yesterday and the St. Louis nine had four errors, the former team was again defeated. The champions are not a hitting the ball harder, or win, although they are playing a great defensive game.

In the International League Baltimore crossed their lead over Toronto by winning another double-header. Baltimore got away to a great start this spring as they finished in the south and had an opportunity to work out with major league teams, but the Toronto club trained at home and were hampered by rain and cold weather and no opportunity to play strong clubs. They will without doubt make a good showing this year with "Mooney" Gibson at the helm and will make up for the present slump.

President McCaffery of the Toronto Leafs has arranged to have the Chicago Cubs and Washington play in Toronto on August 11. Alexander and Johnson, two famous pitchers, will be pitted against each other and the result will be awaited with interest.

The interest word is that Jess Willard and Jack Dempsey will have a voice in the selection of a referee for their go in Toledo on July 4. For a championship heavyweight bout it is a joke and appears to be boosted by paid writers. However, so long as the public are willing to fall for so called championship bouts of this kind they will be staged by the promoters. Nearly half a million dollars will be paid to watch two big men fight a dozen rounds. It is doubtful if Dempsey could get Willard away in that time, for he could stall his way through and a victory by points in a championship bout is a poor one in the eyes of the fans.

WILLARD UNDER 250 WHEN HE ENTERS RING

Some 2,500 Saw Him in Work Out Yesterday — Dempsey to Resume Cleve Work

Toledo, June 18.—Jess Willard announced tonight that he expected to weigh between 245 and 248 pounds for his heavyweight championship contest with Jack Dempsey here on July 4 and because of the satisfactory progress he has made in reducing his weight has decided to eliminate long runs over roads from his daily training grind.

Lighter work than has been the rule for several days prevailed in the champion's work-out this afternoon. Willard cut down his boxing to eight rounds after his strenuous work-out yesterday when he boxed eleven rounds and wound up with four more of shadow boxing. The champion's perfect form was witnessed by 2,500 persons comprising the largest week day crowd in the tented enclosure. Between 400 and 500 women were sprinkled through the gathering.

Willard faced Jack Hepler for the first two rounds and Jack Heinen stepped the third with the champion. Joe Chip, a middleweight, boxed the fourth and fifth rounds. Heinen the sixth and Walter Monahan the seventh and eighth. Heinen was dropped in the sixth round with a left-hand hook to the chin and was bleeding at the nose when he left the ring.

Dempsey also had a light day, but Manager Kearns announced that the challenger would resume boxing on Sunday. The champion's perfect form was witnessed by 2,500 persons comprising the largest week day crowd in the tented enclosure. Between 400 and 500 women were sprinkled through the gathering.

Will Erect Bleachers. The West Side Improvement League at a meeting last evening decided to start immediately the erection of a set of bleachers on the Queen square diamond. The use of the tennis courts on the grounds of the Carleton Methodist church have been secured by the league for the benefit of the young ladies of the west side and work of improvement will be commenced at once. It was decided to procure four bleachers as soon as possible and go ahead with the plans for aquatic sports. A score board donated by T. H. Estabrooks is to be erected at once.

Canadas Beaten in International. The first international soccer game of the season was played on Saturday between teams representing Scotland and Canada, the former winning by 5 to 1. The score would indicate that the game was a one-sided affair, but this was not the case, for had the losers availed themselves of their opportunities the margin would not have been so large. They showed fairly good form in midfield, but were weak on the attack.

Misake to Meet Gibbons. These two crack fighters of the west, Billy Misake, heavyweight, and Tom Gibbons, both of St. Paul, are going to battle in a ten-round bout at an open air boxing show to be held at the Nicolet Baseball Park at Minneapolis, Minn., tonight. Fight Promoter Mike Collins clinching the match after he had offered the fighters a purse of $7,000 of which the victor, according to the newspaper critics out there, will receive $4,200 and the loser $2,800. This will be their third meeting and a big crowd will surely witness the scrap, as the fighters are very popular with the fans in Minnesota.

WANT BALL GAME. Frederick Gleason—The Gleason is in receipt of a letter from the manager of a baseball team in St. John, known as the Wolves, asking if it would be possible to arrange games with some team here for July 1st. The team desiring the game, claims to be the leader of the North End League in St. John, and the manager is very anxious to hear from some of the local team managers to make arrangements for a game for the holiday. As there is no senior team at present in the city, it is possible that some of the teams in the intermediate league may be willing to take up the challenge, or the Marystown club may wish to negotiate.

AGITATORS AND HIGH PRICES SCORED AT C.M.A. BANQUET

G. B. Nicholson, M.P., for East Algoma, Thinks Consumers Are Charged Too Much for Distribution; Disturbers Must be Canadianized or Be Deported; W. C. Good Speaks for Farmers

(Toronto Globe.) Declaring that both the manufacturers and organized labor were to blame for existing unrest in the country, George B. Nicholson, M.P. for East Algoma, and chairman of the high cost of living committee of the house of commons, told members of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at a banquet at the King Edward Hotel last night some plain truths, as he saw them, in connection with the present unrest in Canada.

On the tariff question he said: "There isn't any reason why there should not be the most harmonious feelings existing between farmers and manufacturers. It is a vital question with the manufacturers that the farmers should be prosperous."

W. C. Good of the United Farmers of Ontario was another speaker who was listened to with much interest by the manufacturers. He discussed at length the situation existing at present, and declared that the manufacturers must be prepared to work out some system of co-operation in their several industries, also that they must come to view with less hostility a radical change in the whole system of federal taxation.

Canada, George B. Nicholson, Unionist M.P. for Algoma East, said, must meet the heavy financial burdens imposed upon her, do as any individual would, take stock of her resources, and make up her mind how to develop them to meet the obligations she has undertaken.

He agreed with Mr. Harris that the time came long ago when Canadians should have said that people who were not willing to become Canadians should not be allowed to enter; also that those who are here and are not willing to subscribe to our institutions should not be permitted to stay here.

Dealing with the second cause, that of economic pressure, Mr. Nicholson gave it as his opinion that the less control the government exercises over the normal things of earth the better it would be for the country.

Referring to the nervousness existent at present, Mr. Nicholson said that great patience was necessary. It was manifest that conditions could not continue as at present, because it was impossible to produce anything in competition with the world and have the class war such as there is in Canada today.

Canada cannot establish a different basis than other countries and compete with other countries," he declared. "Our workmen have the right to the best standard workmen can possibly get, but if they get on a pedestal above the other workmen of the world then the things they are making cannot compete with the rest of the world. There must be an effort to bring about a reasonable world standard."

Rebels in Winnipeg. Mr. Nicholson referred to the paralysis in Winnipeg as an illustration of what the rest of the country should steer clear of. "The Winnipeg strike is not a strike at all in the accepted sense of the term," he said. "It is rebellion against constituted authority so far as the state is concerned, and a rebellion against constituted authority in organized labor itself."

However, the speaker declared, there is a place for organized labor, and many of the employers in Canada are, to a large degree, responsible for placing the club in the hands of those agitators that they have been able to use, because many employers in Canada have refused to recognize labor, properly constituted, and because they have refused to allow the workers to get together.

Mr. Nicholson came out strongly in favor of labor having the right to organize; also in favor of collective bargaining. The Winnipeg strike struck at the foundation on which collective bargaining rests to be successful. It rests on two principles, the first being the recognition that employers may organize, and the second, is the inevitability of a contract.

INDUSTRIAL DEMOCRACY COMING SAYS MR. GOOD. At the outset Mr. Good said that it was necessary that we should forget the division of farmers, manufacturers or artisans and look at matters from the standpoint of common humanity. Land, labor and capital were three factors recognizable in all production, and it was obvious that the best results could only be obtained by harmonious co-operation between these various factors.

BEAVERBROOK IS ASKED TO SPEAK

J. W. V. A. Plans Mass Meeting in Campaign to Swell Its Membership - Canvass of City to be Made.

The committee which was formed at the last general meeting of the G. W. V. A. for the purpose of inaugurating a membership campaign to swell the ranks of the association, held a meeting last evening in the G. W. V. rooms.

The committee consists of ten members with the newly appointed president of the local branch, Major N. B. McLeod, as honorary chairman. Major C. H. McLean is chairman of the committee and the other members are as follows: J. Dryden, W. H. Harrison, J. K. Scammell, R. J. Harrington, W. Brindley, T. J. Morrison, P. X. Jennings, J. B. Dever, and R. McInerney.

It was apparently the intention of the party to seize President Ebert, Premier Scheidemann and Gustav Noske, the minister of defense, but they were foiled through their premature shots revealing the attack to the troops within the building.
