

MEN OF CANADA AGAIN WIN; PUGSLEY SUPPORTS LAURIER

THE BRITISH SUCCESSFUL IN SOUCHEZ

Substantial Progress Made on Front of Mile and a Half.

FIVE ENEMY AIRPLANES BROUGHT DOWN

Twelve Hundred Shells Dropped on Stricken City of Rheims.

London, June 25.—The official report from British headquarters in France reads: "Our successful attack last night southwest of Lens was followed up during the day on both banks of the Souchez river. Substantial progress was made by our troops in this area on a front of about one and one-half miles. A raid attempted by the enemy last night southeast of Ypres was completely repulsed by our machine gun fire. There was heavy fighting in the air yesterday. Five German airplanes were brought down by our machines; five others were driven down out of control. Another hostile machine was shot down by our anti-aircraft guns. Five of our airplanes are missing."

Paris, June 25.—The following official statement on the military operations was issued tonight: "There was sustained activity by the two armies north of Lauffaux and in the Cerny, Cromme and Chevroux sectors. Twelve hundred shells were dropped upon Rheims. Belgian communication: Some of the villages behind our front were bombarded in the course of the day. During the day the German artillery violently shelled several of our batteries. The activity of the artillery was particularly intense in the southern part of the Belgian sector. "Army of the east: The artillery was active in the Monastir region. An enemy company was repulsed to the north of Pozar."

Rome, via London, June 25.—"The artillery firing yesterday was generally weak," says today's war office statement on the operations along the Austro-Italian front. "Minor encounters between reconnoitering parties took place. An enemy attack in the Bacher Valley was easily repulsed."

Berlin, June 25, via London.—The text of today's official statement reads: "Front of the German Crown Prince: The French twice attacked the lines recently won and held by us near Vauxaillon. Attacks were futile. The storming waves of the enemy, advancing over our ground, suffered heavy losses under our fire. "During the forenoon British attacks north of the Souchez river and east of the Lens-Arras road failed. The enemy renewed his attacks in the evening on both banks of the Souchez, but was driven off. "About the same time strong British forces attacked our positions near Hillisch, but were repulsed during nocturnal hand-to-hand fighting and by our fire."

VENIZELOS MAY REGAIN POWER IN HIS COUNTRY

Head of Saloniki Government May Be Again Premier of Greece.

Athens, June 25.—M. Jannart, diplomatic representative of the Allies in Greece, has been called on to act as arbitrator of the differences between the Zaimis ministry and the government of former Premier Venizelos at Saloniki. Whether the Zaimis cabinet will resign depends upon M. Jannart's decision. In case of its resignation it is probable the Venizelos party will assume power immediately in order to nip in the bud any reactionary movement.

WILLIAM GLENN TO GET HEARING ON THURSDAY

Carleton County Man Who Killed Harry Wiley Has Not Yet Obtained Counsel—May Plead Insanity.

Woodstock, June 25.—The preliminary hearing of the evidence in the Crown's case against William Glenn, the recluse of the parish of Aberdeen, who shot and killed Harry Wiley last Saturday morning, will be begun here, before Magistrate Holyoke next Thursday. The case was called today, but was put over to permit of the Crown bringing witnesses here which is about fifty-five miles from the scene of the tragedy. Glenn remains in the Woodstock jail and by advice of the officers has made no statement. He had not obtained the services of an attorney to tonight but it is probable that Thursday a lawyer will be in charge of his interests. Glenn has made a deep impression throughout the county and is regarded as one of those dark stains only accounted for by mental derangement. The general opinion is that Glenn will ultimately set up a plea of insanity.

Acted Strangely. It has been well known in the parishes of Aberdeen and Peel that the strange man who lived alone near the back settlement of Argyle has been acting strangely for a long time, although few supposed he was in such a mental state that he would commit murder. Wiley's brother, who was present when repairs were made to a board fence on the line between the Glenn and Wiley farms, says that there was no violent quarrel and that as the family and Glenn had little intercourse the fence dispute was taken little notice of. The family have received much sympathy from friends and neighbors, they having also lost a son in the war.

The trial of Glenn is not expected to be a lengthy one as there are no mysterious features which would contribute to throw doubt on the evidence. The prisoner will probably be placed under the surveillance of an alienist.

N. S. STONE CO. INTEREST OVERDUE

Wallace Standetone Quarries Handicapped by the Slack Building Trade.

The Wallace Standetone quarries bond interest coupons due June 1, presented at the office of trustees the Quebec Savings and Trust Company are over due. It is stated by an interested party that it was understood the company would avail itself of the ninety days clause in the deed of trust for meeting the obligation. The amount of bonds outstanding is $500,000 at six per cent, payable half yearly, December 1, and June 1, making the current payment overdue $24,000. The company owns quarries at Wallace, N. S. and in Manitoba. In the original prospectus over 14 per cent, on $1,000,000 common stock was estimated.

The slackness of the building trade is said to be the cause of company's financial disability.

CANADIANS FORCE OUT THE ENEMY

In Difficult Advance Towards Lens They Capture Trench Sections.

GERMANS ARE LOSING CONFIDENCE IN MEN

Boys from Dominion Won Spure in Tunnelling Operations.

Canadian Headquarters in France, via London, June 25.—(By Stewart Lyon, special correspondent of the Canadian Press).—In a difficult advance towards Lens, and amid a confused tangle of wrecked mines, partially destroyed miners houses, railway embankments and the flooded ground in the Souchez Valley, a valuable bit of the enemy's front line trench, extending over four hundred yards north of the river and east of the Bois De Rimont, was captured during the night by the Canadians and was firmly incorporated. The task set for the Canadians was to capture the enemy outposts to the southwest of Reservoir Hill.

Germans Open Fire. The attack on the outpost was evidently expected. The enemy scuttled, abandoning ground upon which machine gun fire was immediately turned by Germans located on the hill. This was speedily followed by heavy artillery fire, which continued during the night, was especially severe in the vicinity of the Lens electric station. The enemy's dugouts were searched, but found to be empty. "The enemy on this front appears no longer to have confidence in the ability of his infantry to oppose night attacks stoutly. Several raids last night in the region between Lens and La Bassee showed that the German trenches were so lightly held that little resistance could be offered to the raiders."

In one case British troops remained half an hour in the enemy's positions destroying defenses. In a recent cable on the part taken by the Canadians in the work preparatory to the capture of Messines Ridge mention should have been made of the work of the tunnelling companies, from the Dominion. During many weary months, while Canadians above ground in the Ypres salient bore with fortitude the constant fire from the enemy guns defending the ridge the Canadian miners, far underground, were driving mine shafts for the enemy's destruction.

After our troops went to the Somme the work was continued. It is not permitted to write in detail the work of the miners, but Canadians will learn with satisfaction that no part of the mining operations that made possible the blowing up of the German lines on Messines Ridge stand to the credit of Canada.

FLOOD DAMAGES CITY OF GARDINER

Dam Breaks and Buildings Are Swept Away—Loss $50,000.

Gardiner, Me., June 25.—Heavy damage has been done in the city of Gardiner by the breaking of a dam on the Cobscookcook stream. The rush of water swept away the machine shop of J. Frank Hodgins, the furniture factory of J. Frank Holt, the tailoring establishment of Fred Jones and the fish market of Scott Brothers. The dam which broke was built in 1825. No persons were injured. The financial loss is $50,000.

LONG FIGHT FOR EXTRADITION FAILS

Charles E. Thomas, Wanted for Robbing Massachusetts Bank, Had Hearing Here.

Inspector Ellis Waite of the Massachusetts district police is expected in the province for the third time in a day or two for the purpose of taking back Charles E. Thomas, formerly of Hillsboro, who is wanted on a charge of taking money from the Needham Co-operative Bank by forged paper. Thomas was arrested in Hillsboro March 18 last as a fugitive from justice, but when Inspector Waite attempted to take him he resisted extradition through the courts until the Supreme Court of the province decided that the defendant would have to return. The case had been heard in Moncton, St. John and Fredericton. He has been in the Dorchester jail part of the time.

FREDERICK M. MURCHIE, ST. STEPHEN, DEAD

Was Prominent and Highly Esteemed Resident and a Leading Member of Conservative Party.

St. Stephen, June 25.—At a late hour this evening Frederick M. Murchie, one of the most prominent, best known and most highly esteemed citizens of St. Stephen, entered into rest. He was 75 years of age and lived a very active and useful life, but was called upon in the last few months to suffer greatly from complications following the hardening of the arteries. In the hope of relieving his suffering, he submitted last week to the amputation of his left leg above the knee. For a few days his condition was encouraging, but a change came on Sunday and he passed peacefully away at the Chipman Memorial Hospital this evening, surrounded by the members of his family.

The deceased gentleman was born at Old Ridge but came to town and entered business while still a young man and ever since had been identified with the life of the town. He gave valuable services as a member of the town council for many years and was mayor of St. Stephen in 1889 and 1890 and again in 1900, 1901 and 1902. He was an unsuccessful candidate for member of the local house on a ticket in opposition to the Conservative government. He took an active interest in the affairs of Sussex Lodge, Y. and A. M., and had been the valued treasurer of that lodge for many years. He was also a member of the Chapter and Knights Templar. He had been a member of the board of trustees and of the quarterly official board of the Methodist church during twenty years and was a generous contributor to the funds of that church.

He had been president of the local agricultural society since its origin and had given generously of his time to its great work. He was successful in business and gave freely of his time and money to every local industry that at any time called for assistance.

He was an ardent and consistent supporter of the Conservative party. In his home life Mr. Murchie was a devoted husband and father.

He was twice married and is survived by his wife, two sons, Howard M. and Frederick E., and a daughter, Roberta, wife of Edgar G. Beer. A Theodore Murchie, the chief government sealer of the province, is a brother, and another brother, Sylvanus T., is a prominent manufacturer of Kansas, Wis. His genial and kindly presence will be missed in many circles and from all classes in town and country. Sincere sympathy is extended to the bereaved ones of the family circle.

MAN MAY HAVE BEEN DROWNED

Fredericton, June 25.—Robert Brooks, an Indian at the St. Mary's Reserve, is reported to be missing and it is thought that he may have been drowned. In company with another Indian he was in a canoe. Both men had been drinking.

PUGSLEY NOT FOR ADING SOLDIERS

St. John's Misrepresentative Makes Savage Attack on Conscription.

HON. MR. SEVIGNY DEFENDS PREMIER

Says His Life and Property Have Been Threatened Many Times.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, June 25.—The first French-Canadian member to vote in parliament his support of conscription was Hon. Albert Sevigny today. He made a strong and courageous defence of the government measure. His speech was eloquent and was marked by moderation and an absence of recrimination or partisanship, and in this he followed the high standard set by Messrs. Gauthier and Pardee early in the debate. It has taken much courage on the part of Mr. Sevigny to support conscription. Since his announcement that he would vote for the government measure, black-headed methods have been used against him, his life and property have been threatened and every influence brought to bear to make him change his attitude. However, he has stuck manfully to what he believed to be in the best interests of Canada. He emphasized in his speech yesterday that Canada was fighting, not for England, but for herself, and to preserve liberty for present and future generations of Canadians; he likewise emphasized that had it not been for the British navy Halifax, St. John and Quebec would have been bombarded. Canada captured, and Canadians placed under the heel of the German tyrant, suffering from the horrors that had befallen Belgium. To his mind there has never a more sacred cause than the present struggle, and Canadians should keep up to the end so that they should not be isolated or despised when the belief victory came. It was worth while to save honor.

Threats On Life. Referring to the threats upon his life Mr. Sevigny treated them lightly, and said he was quite willing to run the risk of danger to his life when he thought of what the soldiers in the trenches were daily risking.

He read to the House a letter he had received from Sir Hugh John Macdonald, son of the late Conservative chief, congratulating him on his stand. Mr. Macdonald said he had always taken a deep interest in his fellow French-Canadian citizens. It would be very strange if this were not the case, as during his father's long political career he never had a more intimate acquaintance with so intimate as Sir George Etienne Cartier.

Pugsley With Laurier. Two English-speaking Liberals came to the assistance of Sir Wilfrid Laurier yesterday and their utterances were vociferously applauded. Hon. Wm. Pugsley announced that he would oppose conscription to the very end. He would vote for the referendum, and if the referendum was defeated he would vote against the bill, both at its second and third readings. On the other hand Mr. William M. German, of Welland, although in favor of a referendum, declared that if it was beaten he would support the bill. Mr. German was the first Ontario Liberal to support his chieflain even to this extent.

Mr. Pugsley introduced the most partisanship into the debate. He held out warnings as to what would happen not only in Quebec but elsewhere if conscription were enforced. It was simply crafty incitement to rebellion, he said, and that had been done in New Brunswick when an unpopular school law was enforced. Three men had been killed, he announced with a grimace in his voice. Mr. Pugsley spoke more savagely against conscription than any English-speaking member who has yet addressed the House.

German With Laurier. Ottawa, June 25.—(Canadian Press)—Mr. W. E. German, the Liberal member for Welland, followed, and opened with a strong plea for a dispassionate non-partisan discussion. It was not a party issue but a question of how best

THE BRITISH AND HUN COMMISSION IN CONFERENCE

Question of Handling War Prisoners of Both Belligerents to Be Considered.

The Hague, June 25.—A British commission, headed by Lord Newton, has arrived here to discuss with German delegates, headed by General Friedrich, the question of war prisoners of both countries. The prisoners' camps, reprisals and matters connected with the exchange of interned prisoners over military age and disabled prisoners will be considered. The Netherlands government will be represented by Baron Von Vredenbrich.

CONSCRIPTION ENDORSED BY 9TH BAPTISTS

Minister of Justice Petitioned to Replace Scott Act by Prohibition.

Petitcodiac, June 25.—The United Baptists of the Ninth District, in annual session here, June 22, 23, 24, unanimously passed a resolution favoring compulsory military service as provided in the bill recently introduced by Sir Robert Borden and now under discussion.

The resolution reads as follows: "In view of the titanic struggle now raging between Great Britain and her Allies on the one hand and the forces of the German empire on the other hand and in view of the further fact that the call for men, money and material is becoming ever more urgent, we the United Baptists of Westmorland District, in district meeting assembled, resolve: 1.—That we recognize the righteousness of the cause for which our Empire unsheathed the sword and for which we as Baptists have given liberally of our best blood.

2.—That we endorse the effort now being made by the government of Canada to enact a law to compel her available men of military age to enter the mighty conflict to fight for our principles which form the basis of our free institutions. 3.—We urge upon our representatives in parliament the wisdom and necessity of supporting the bill now before the house with such amendments thereto as shall call for conscription of the wealth of the country as well as the man power of the country to the end that so far as possible the burden may be equally distributed.

The district also passed resolutions favoring the provincial prohibition law recommending that the Canada Temperance act be repealed in those counties where it is in force at present. The Minister of Justice is petitioned to bring the prohibition act into force in Scott Act counties without the necessity of an election.

Argentine Boat Sunk. Buenos Ayres, June 25.—The Argentine steamer Toro has been torpedoed off Gibraltar, according to information received by the government.

The captain and crew of the steamer are Argentinians. The Toro was bound for Goona with a cargo of Argentine products. The foreign minister has sent a message to the legation at Madrid to institute an inquiry into the matter.

A STEAMER SINKS HUN SUBMARINE

British Vessel Sends U-Boat to Bottom and Is Uninjured.

FIFTY ON ANOTHER VESSEL MISSING

American Destroyer Reports Sinking of British Merchantman.

An Atlantic Port, June 25.—Officers of a British steamer which arrived here today, reported having sunk an attacking German submarine. The British vessel sent a shell into the U-boat's magazine, causing an explosion which parted the undersea boat midships. Each end sank separately. The British steamer was uninjured. The submarine was five miles distant and rammed away after having attacked the steamer nearly 400 miles off the coast of Ireland.

Fifty Missing. Base of the American Fleet in British Waters, June 25.—One of the American destroyers in the patrol flotilla reported that she was unable to find any trace of the 50 members of the crew of a British merchantman which was being attacked by a submarine when the American craft snatched the Britisher's wireless call from the air "Submarine shelling us," the first message the destroyer picked up. The position showed the Britisher was ninety miles away, which meant a run of five hours through high seas for the destroyer.

The American craft was just getting under full speed when her wireless sounded the second and final message. It read: "Abandoning ship." Only floating wreckage greeted the American bluejackets when they reached the scene, but they patrolled the vicinity for two days in the hope of finding some survivors. Owing to the high seas it seems doubtful if any of the sunken vessel's crew were rescued by passing ships.

Argentine Boat Sunk. Buenos Ayres, June 25.—The Argentine steamer Toro has been torpedoed off Gibraltar, according to information received by the government. The captain and crew of the steamer are Argentinians. The Toro was bound for Goona with a cargo of Argentine products. The foreign minister has sent a message to the legation at Madrid to institute an inquiry into the matter.

GOVERNMENT TO STAND OR FALL BY COMPULSION

LIBERAL MEMBER FOR ST.

HYACINTHE WITHDRAWS A STATEMENT IN COMMONS

Sir Edward Kemp, Minister of Militia, Tells House It Is Better for Government to Go Down to Defeat Than Desert Boys at the Front—May Be Morning Sessions.

Ottawa, June 25.—(Leased wire)—Mr. L. J. Gauthier, Liberal, St. Hyacinthe, in the Commons this afternoon withdrew the remark which he made on Thursday and which the speaker declared to be "not in keeping with the spirit of proper decorum in debate." The remark which Mr. Gauthier made was as follows: "His amendment (Mr. Barrette's) being a negative one, would have been ruled out of order if it had not been introduced with the consent of the government." Mr. Gauthier said today that there was no intention in his mind to reflect upon the speaker; his statement was directed against the government.

Sir Robert Borden moved that on and after tomorrow the house should meet each day at eleven o'clock in the morning. He said he made the motion in view of the length of the debate on compulsory military service.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier objected to the motion, declaring that nobody was complaining of the length of the speeches and asked that it be delayed until the bill had been disposed of. The premier said he was not speaking in a critical way and his object was to afford a greater opportunity for speaking on this question. He agreed with Sir Wilfrid that the debate had been useful, but he could not let the motion stand until the debate was over.

Debate Resumed.
Sir Edward Kemp in resuming the debate on the conscription bill declared that compulsory military service was the only method now practicable to remove the inequalities and injustices of voluntary recruiting, and to secure the needed reinforcements for the front. The fathers and mothers and sisters of Canada, he said, who were now represented at the front, demanded that an equal sacrifice should be made by others. It was not right that one family should suffer while another went free. Sir Edward requested that the coalition proposals had fallen through, and he added that not one of Sir Robert Borden's colleagues had objected at all to the premier's attempt to secure ministers from the opposition side of the house. On the constitutional issue as to whether or not the militia act actually gave the government power to send troops outside Canada in case of emergency, the minister of militia quoted one new authority in support of the government's contention.

Quotes Authority.
He referred to a judgment given since the outbreak of the war by Sir François Lemieux, chief justice of Quebec, in connection with an appeal for the release of a certain private on the ground that the government had no authority to send an enlisted man out of Canada. The judgment declared that the government of Canada had the constitutional right to enlist men for overseas service without seeking further legislation.

The referendum amendment, Sir Edward dismissed with the statement:

and insure him a pleasant voyage, be sure to remember to put in his bag a package of MOTHER'S MILK SEASIDE REMEDY that the soldiers' votes would not be given a fair chance against the slacker vote and the alien enemy vote. As evidence of the need of conscription, the minister of militia quoted the recruiting figures for May. Out of a total of 4,467 recruits for the month, 1,842 went to the railway construction and forestry battalions, 955 to artillery and 1,268 to infantry while the balance went to various other units. The great need, he said, was for infantry.

Pugsley Curious.
Hon. Dr. Pugsley wanted to know why the government could not transfer men to any unit where they were needed. Thus deficiencies in infantry might be made up.
The minister said that legally the government had the right to assign recruits to any service, but the men enlisted in good faith in one branch and the government believed that as long as the voluntary system was in force, faith should be kept with these men.
Touching on the Quebec situation, the minister of militia declared that all the methods which had been tried in other provinces had also been tried in Quebec. But in the other provinces, the whole population—clergy, apartment, professional men, politicians, all co-operated. Sir Edward left with the house the question as to whether that condition existed also in Quebec.

14,100 Enlisted.
He referred to the return submitted some days ago, showing that the total number of French-Canadians from all parts of Canada who had gone overseas, included Acadians, was 14,100. This figure, he declared, was carefully estimated and was "approximately correct." Further details would be given when the bill was considered in committee. The recruiting campaign of Col. Blondin and Gen. Lessard for a French-Canadian battalion, netted only 221 soldiers, and of these only ninety-two had enlisted from the province of Quebec. The rest were transferred from other units. As to the charge, made by Hon. Lemieux, that a blunder had been made in appointing a Protestant clergyman to supervise recruiting in the province, Sir Edward said that the clergyman in question, Major the Rev. C. F. Williams, had been appointed to supervise recruiting among the English-speaking people of Montreal. Unsuccessful attempts had been made to enlist the co-operation of the Roman Catholic clergy.

Hughes' Statement Refuted.
The minister declared that there had never been any attempt to harden enlistment as charged by Sir Sam Hughes. As to the home defence force campaign, he said that was a "last chance" effort, instituted in response to demands from various parts of the country and because the Imperial authorities had suggested that all overseas troops available in Canada should be immediately sent across the Atlantic, while the nights were comparatively long and submarine operations thereby retarded. However, now that the United States has entered the war there was no necessity for a home defence force.
In conclusion, the minister declared that the government might or might not go down to defeat because of having introduced a conscription bill, but better defeat a hundred times than fail to keep faith with the men at the front.

PUGSLEY NOT FOR HIDING SOLDIERS

to serve king and country. His idea was that Canada should spend her last dollar and send her last son in this fight for freedom, the only question being how most effectively to secure that last man and last dollar.
The House had the power to pass this bill, but Mr. German considered that it had no right to pass it without the approval of the people. (Opposition applause.)
"I would like to see a bill that would bring about compulsory service," he said, "but I want a bill that will be effective and that will have the endorsement of the people behind it, and until it has the endorsement of the people you might as well not have it at all." (Opposition applause.)

Hon. Mr. Seigny.
Hon. Mr. Seigny followed. He began by taking up the argument that the government had no manna from heaven to introduce conscription. When war broke out not a single member of parliament had received a mandate that gave him the right to pledge Canada's help to the end but every member had done so and the people had not reproached them for it.
Proceeding Mr. Seigny dealt with his personal position. He mentioned the people who threaten against his life dismissing them with the observation that even so he was not in as much danger as men in the trenches. Mr. Seigny pointed out that in December, 1916, before he entered the cabinet Sir Robert Borden had definitely refused to state, in speaking to a labor deputation, that he would not under any circumstances introduce conscription. In the by-election in Dorchester he had consistently told his electors that Canada was in the war to stay and that it was the duty of the government and the people to support the men at the front. His opponents had attempted to use the national flag to bring about his resignation, but he had told them that if conscription should be adopted it would be submitted to cash houses and decided by the representatives of the people. The fact that he had been elected by a larger majority than in 1911, compared with the vote, was conclusive evidence.

HAD INDIGESTION

Could Keep Nothing on Stomach.
Indigestion is one of the worst forms of stomach trouble. The stomach becomes upset and you have a raw, debilitated feeling in it. After a meal you feel that you must get rid of that nasty, bilious, burning sensation; what soiling and rising of the food which is so unpleasant and in many cases very painful.
It is not necessary for you to be troubled with indigestion when Burdock Blood Bitters will so easily obtain. This old and well-known remedy, which is a combination of Nature's best roots, herbs, and berries will cure indigestion and all stomach troubles.
Mr. Lazare Savoy, Pokemouche, N. B., writes: "About two years ago I was troubled with indigestion that had I could keep nothing on my stomach. I was sorely disappointed in everything I tried to relieve me. At last a friend advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I took four bottles and can now eat anything that I put in front of me."
That grand old medicine, B. B. B., has been on the market for the past forty years, and we claim, without any fear of contradiction, that it is the best cure for all stomach troubles. Manufactured by The T. Millroy Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

A BEFOGGED ISSUE

denace that the people supported the war policy of the government.
Not To Resign.
"Today the government, conscious of its duty, perfectly informed of the seriousness of the situation, in the face of Russia demoralized, in the face of appeals from our soldiers who have written the finest pages of our history with English and French blood, from Canada, asks the nine provinces of the English provinces, among Liberals, Ontario and the Maritime Provinces: "Why should the province of Quebec now cease to be represented in this continent. If my colleague, Blondin, and I would abandon the government what other French-Canadians would consent to succeed us? and tell me if we, with the expression of opinion in the English provinces, among Liberals as well as Conservatives would not see an alliance being formed which would exclude the French-Canadians?" To try the broad-minded man who occupies the position of Prime Minister does not refuse us representation in the cabinet, but if we refuse it ourselves, could we reproach him if he invited those of English origin to take our place?"
"When we think of the sacrifices which the world has been making during the past three years, we in Canada thank God who has spared us up to the present. For my part, I do not want to complain of my isolation in performing my duty. I have before me a man of seventy-six years of age, who is ending his career by seeing the two races more divided than ever. History will tell what he could have done but did not try to do."
Mr. Seigny regretted the fact that the other provinces made little effort to understand the French-Canadian people of Quebec, but he admitted that Quebec had fallen behind in effective measures to stimulate recruiting.
"The time has come to speak frankly," he said, "and I do not hesitate to Workman Injured.

Shortly before the time to quit work yesterday afternoon Farris Gabbles, employed at Farris on the waterworks construction, was severely injured by a fall of pipe. The accident was caused by the fall of a water pipe, which struck the unfortunate man across the back. He was brought to the city to Douglas Avenue in a wagon and from there removed to the hospital in the ambulance. Inquiries at the hospital a few hours after the man's admittance elicited the information that he was suffering intense pain which was not broken, and high hope is entertained for his complete recovery. The injured man was born in Assyria but came to this country some time ago. Since his arrival here he has been employed in construction work of this sort. He resides on Brussels street at No. 259. He is unmarried and has attained the age of twenty-one.

A Narrow Escape.

Had not the driver received a warning about from one of the employes at work assisting in making repairs in a man-hole on Mill street, last night, it is likely that the horse and the occupants of the carriage would have retreated serious injuries. Two man-holes were uncovered on Mill street, opposite the C.P.R. freight sheds. A lantern was placed near the one at which the man was not working at the time and it was not raised to any elevation, but was placed on the ground. The driver of the carriage did not notice the lantern and drove within a few inches of the hole, when he pulled his horse up just in time to save the animal from putting his foot in the hole. There were several words between the driver and his employes as to why the lantern was not raised so it could be seen.

AUSTRIANS DESERT TO RUSSIANS

Bohemian Regiments in Sympathy with Russia Had No Use for Austria.
Copenhagen, June 25.—The disclosures of the retiring Austrian minister of defence, F. Von George, before a Reichsrath committee that three Bohemian regiments had during the war gone over to the enemy in a body, and his statement that Czech prisoners of war had volunteered for service against Austria-Hungary in considerable numbers, constituted only a part of the anti-Austrian demonstrations of Bohemian troops, who through long continued conflicts with the Germans for dominance in Bohemia have felt in a way more closely allied with the Russians than with the Teuton-directed Austria.

Benton, N. B., June 25.—Many people suffer the rheumatism, swollen kidneys and do so because of trouble in their blood. The writer suffered excruciating pain back and in vain his physician prescribed the highest priced medicines. He had no other medicines but he desired relief.
Mr. Otis' brother was suffering among other things, swollen kidneys. He had heard his customers talk how they were cured of rheumatism by their use. He had seen the splendid results with this letter.
Mr. E. C. Otis, Benton County, N. B., writes: "I had long known how much benefit has done me from my kidneys which were so bad I could not sleep without getting on and then would almost faint in my back. I consulted about it, and he gave me a bottle of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which I took for some time. I had taken five boxes, and I had had no trouble since, and I am never troubled with rheumatism. Last summer I was in Philadelphia. I used three boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and I am certainly recommending them to all I know."

DON'T HOPE TO "MAKE BRICK WITHOUT STRAWS," IF YOU WANT EASY MONEY ARM YOURSELF

Fox the Fugitive Gives Parting Shots and Takes to the Trails of New Brunswick; Somewhere in the Province; Where Is He?

Evidently the Fugitive is a Little Timid About the Chances He Has with the Sleuths of Albert and Westmorland Counties.

(Written Exclusively for The Standard by Fox the Fugitive)

Under the shade of "the old apple tree," where the life of the village drones along in its hum-drum way The Standard's Fugitive is lying low waiting for the "call of the countryside"—"somewhere in N. B."

Without a word of warning I am "off" on this whirlwind race, laying my trails just where they might be least expected.

The "sleuthettes," that large army in the New Brunswick towns and hamlets who are always alert to grab easy money must now get their wits in working order.

Today's problem is—Where is Fox? What town has he made first? When will he come our way?

Since I hurried defiance in The Standard Monday I know of spots on the map where watch-towers are being erected.

The country atmosphere is thickening with mystery.

The postmistress in the largest and the smallest of New Brunswick towns where the busy of industry emphasizes the busy occupations in rural life are putting the cash receipts of their offices nightly under their pillows.

The villagers are putting bars across their windows.

And the lovely night watchmen who patrol their main streets have armed themselves with electric flash lights which are turned into every dark corner and nook as they pass by.

The Sheriff's are enlisting the best talent in their towns into posse-constabularies to search for Fox.

The farmers for the first time in the history of the province are putting padlocks on their doors and turning loose their dogs the last thing before they retire.

There's a fugitive at large somewhere in New Brunswick and safety first have become household words.

Several thousands of bills scattered widely advertising the coming of Fox are plainly being carried around and largely consulted. Not only are the towns well picketed but every farm house on the R. F. D.'s has become a "watch tower."

That the readers of The Standard have become familiar with my methods in my fugitive fights published in many successive issues, only during the chase in the city but describing my adventures in years past and the manner of inciting interest in my exploits when I was approaching St. John.

I have a "dear friend" in one of the towns that lay in my course who I fear will brush aside all claims to friendship in his eagerness to make a real detective coup by landing a real fugitive.

Not that Edson E. Peck, the best known sleuth in Albert county has "never" landed fugitives? Doubtless he has dragged many a malefactor wanted for a serious crime from the brush along the Petitcodiac river.

Like my friend Chief Rideout of Moncton, he has well earned the reputation for getting what he goes after.

For team work this would make a strong combination. Since Hillsborough is not so far away from Moncton you may well believe that the trails through Albert and Westmorland counties will be dangerous lines of travel for Fox the fugitive.

Now Ed. Peck may not be able to recall the friendship we have struck up, while the big chief is not all puzzled, I am told, in making deductions to lead to Fox's apprehension.

Hillsborough is not such a large town as to afford good cover, but by sailing into port I may be able to surprise my friend and get away with it; for he never will suspect that I am to take to the water trails up Shepody Bay.

I might show up at Hillsborough with a good "Billy Sunday" lay-out. Simply look up George Prescott and he would give me great support.

George was telling me of several good stunts that Billy Sunday could work into his campaigns. So by enlisting my friend George we would have a number of exclusive features to pull off. I don't know that Hillsborough needs any awakening along that line. But I am confident if George and I could work it right we could get any number of trail-hitters. Landlord Ward is another good scout when it comes to "making good" where there is any money. The writer was not around the quarry when they go after it.

If you want the news of the day you've got to read a newspaper, so get The Standard and kill two birds with one stone.

attention to the fact that they had in 1915 sold to the St. John County Hospital a kitchen range for $1,400 installed. That on January 21 a fire had occurred, and this had started under one of the ovens of the range. At the enquiry held, evidence had been given by Herbert W. Flowers, a traveling salesman for the company, but this had not been entirely satisfactory.

Under date of February 2 he received from the company a letter thanking him for the opportunity to submit evidence and stating that Mr. Gurney, who sold the range, was out of the city and they would submit a statement as soon as possible.

Under date of February 10, the county secretary again wrote the company, pointing out that he did not think they realized the full import of his first letter, and in this he stated that it was his intention, if the committee found that there had been gross negligence in the installation to take action under the criminal code against the responsible parties.

On February 12 the company replied that they realized the import of the letters and would take the matter up at once with Mr. Gurney.

On February 20 a further communication from the company stated that the architect had taken him up with Mr. Gurney who said: He remembered the transaction thoroughly, and to the best of his remembrance the question of a concrete hearth had been discussed with some one, in fact he did not think he could have sold the range unless it was discussed.

The architect had taken him up to see the chairman of the building committee and he thinks the matter was mentioned to him though not positive.

"We might state that we do not consider the hearth on which the range sets as part of the building and in our hotel catalogue we show how such a hearth should be built."

"We were given the order for this contract but it was arranged that Messrs. Emerson and Fisher should do the installation. The writer was not in this office when this contract was let. He was in the Winnipeg office, in

NOVA SCOTIA CROPS FAR AHEAD OF THOSE IN NEW BRUNSWICK

Maurice E. Dickinson and Party Return from Motor Tour of Parts of the Two Provinces.

The crops in the western section of Nova Scotia are several weeks ahead of those in this part of New Brunswick, according to Mr. and Mrs. Maurice E. Dickinson and D. U. Hogan, who returned last evening on the Empress from a three days motor tour of part of this province and the bay section of Nova Scotia.

The neighboring province had plenty of rain late in May and early in June, but the farmers seem to have had better luck than many of those in this province.

The apple districts are very beautiful at this season and Mr. Dickinson and party were rather surprised to notice that many fruit growers with large orchards had planted acres of beans between the trees. Evidently there will be no lack of the baked article in the Blue Nose country next fall and winter. A big apple yield is indicated in the beautiful Annapolis valley.

Mr. Dickinson encountered some bad stretch of road, due to heavy rains, but in parts of both provinces the motoring is good. The party found the weather decidedly warm in Moncton and other places.

charge there, so all these statements are hearsay to him, and he has given them to you as he got them.

"We made a layout of the kitchen, that is to say where the goods were to be placed, but of course did not make any recommendations, or show any details of the hearth, that being as I said before in our estimation part of the building."

"He further said they had sold a large number of kitchen ranges but had never installed a hearth as part of the range, it was always a part of the building."

On June 18 Mr. Kelley sent a wire advising that the enquiry would be resumed on June 25 and suggesting that Mr. Gurney be present.

Under date of June 20 he received a reply that as Mr. Gurney was a member of the Imperial Munitions Board it would be impossible for him to attend the hearing.

"MAKE YOUR DOLLAR FIGHT AT THE FRONT"

ISSUED BY THE DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE, OTTAWA.

Help Canada Maintain Her Financial Freedom!

Do Your Share towards Financing the War with Canadian Savings Rather than with Outside Capital.

THE problem of meeting the enormous cost of this war is two-fold. Not only must Canada get the money—most of it, of course, as loans—but she must get as much of it as possible here in Canada.

We can carry the war-debt if the bulk of the interest goes to Canadians, and so is used again in the country's development. But it will be a serious matter for us if a large proportion of the interest has to be sent outside the Dominion.

For the sake of our own and our children's future this drain on our resources must be avoided! Canada's financial freedom can and must be maintained! An average saving of 15 cents a day, invested by each man, woman and child in Canada in War Savings Certificates, would enable us to carry the whole cost of the war. To approach this average, hard work, thrift, self-denial and sacrifice are required of every citizen.

For each $21.50 you lend the Government now, you will receive $25.00 in three years—or you can get your money back at any time. Certificates are issued in denominations of $25, $50 and $100, and may be purchased at any Bank or Money Order Post Office.

Could Not Lift Stick of Wood

Would Almost Paint From Severe Pain in Back—Doctors Could Not Get the Kidneys Set Right.

Benton, N. B., June 25—A great many people suffer the results of diseased kidneys and do not understand the cause of trouble or the way to obtain cure. The writer of this letter suffered excruciating pains in the back and in vain his physician tried to cure him. For some reason other his medicines did not have the desired effect.

Mr. Oils' brother was a merchant selling, among other medicines, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and he heard his customers telling about how they were cured of kidney derangements by their use. This led to Mr. Oils' putting them to the test, with the splendid results reported in this letter.

Mr. E. C. Oils, Benton, Carleton County, N. B., writes: "I am glad to let you know how much your medicine has done for me. I suffered from my kidneys which at one time were so bad I could not lift a stick of wood without setting on my knees, and then would almost faint from the pain in my back. I consulted a doctor about it, and he gave me some medicine, but it did not help me. My brother, who is a merchant, and carries all your medicines, advised me to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I got one box, and they helped me, so I got another one, and kept on until I had taken five boxes, which cured me. I have had no trouble with my back since, and an never without Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in the house. Last summer I also suffered from piles. I used three boxes of your Ointment, and it cured them. I can certainly recommend Dr. Chase's Pills and Ointment."

THE COUNTY HOSPITAL FIRE INVESTIGATION

Report of Municipal Council Committee Will Be Submitted to Council at July Meeting—Questino of Concrete Hearth for Range an Important Item.

The committee appointed by the Municipal Council to investigate the cause of the fire in the St. John County Hospital, on the night of January 21st last, met yesterday afternoon in the office of the county secretary to consider the evidence submitted at the enquiry held in the Court House and make up their finding. In addition to the evidence already taken, some correspondence with the Gurney Massey people was taken up and after fully considering it the committee prepared their report which will be submitted to the Municipal Council at the July meeting.

Those present at the meeting were Warden McEllan, Councillors Hayes, Fisher and Boland, and County Sec. J. King Kelley.

The county secretary submitted the following correspondence with the Gurney-Massey people.

Enemies of Tea

If tea is left open near oranges, soap, spices, matches, etc., the tea will take on the flavor of any of these articles.

In fact, tea absorbs odors as readily as does butter. This is because it becomes so dry and brittle in passing through the firing or drying oven that it becomes very sensitive to the moisture and odors in the air.

When loose in the chest or bin or bag it quickly loses flavor and strength. Tastes flat, weak, old; dear at any price.

This is why Red Rose is never sold in bulk—but always in sealed packages. The armour that keeps out dust and odors and keeps in the flavor and strength.

The price printed on the package protects you against overcharge. It is the lowest price for which a tea of Red Rose quality can be sold—a price which allows the grocer only a fair profit.

You will enjoy the distinctive flavor and rich strength of Red Rose Tea. Try a package.

Sold Only in Sealed Packages

UNWISE SPEECHES.

While the general tone of the conscription debate in the House of Commons was admittedly high, yet last week did not pass without its regrettable incidents, and its discordant notes, that indicated only too plainly the depth of cleavage in the Liberal party on the question of conscription.

Quebec Liberals were responsible for both the incidents referred to, and as the culpable parties are numbered among the leaders of the French-Canadian people in point of ability, culture and influence, their action is all the more reprehensible.

Particularly is this the case with Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, former post-master-general in the Laurier cabinet, a man of high education and outstanding influence with the French wing of his party. Mr. Lemieux attempted to explain the meagre returns from recruiting in Quebec by saying that the Government had not employed the proper methods and introduced the race and religion cry to give effect to his argument. The city of Montreal he characterized as the largest French-Catholic community in the world with the exception of Paris and Lyons, France. In that city, he claimed, the chief recruiting officer was a Methodist clergyman, and it was not a surprise that he was unable to secure results. "What sort of results," asked Mr. Lemieux, "could the Government expect to get in the city of Toronto if it named a member of the Jesuit order as chief recruiting officer?"

The argument of the member for Rouville is unfortunate and ill-grounded. It is true a Methodist clergyman was chief recruiting officer in Montreal, but scores of French-Canadian recruiting officers were engaged in that district and their efforts did not prove successful, so it is the wildest sort of folly to attempt to explain the lack of recruiting result in that district by the contention that the chief recruiting officer worshipped at a different shrine from the majority of those to whom he made his appeal. This country should be too big, too broad for the successful advancement of arguments of that sort. Mr. Lemieux's effort was unworthy of a man of his standing, of the party he represents and of the cause of the French-Canadian he effects to espouse. It is not the first time, however, that the ex-postmaster-general has seen fit to give expression to unwise and trouble-breeding statements in public. At an alleged recruiting meeting in Maison-neuve, in company with Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Mr. Lemieux unburdened himself of sentiments which, by their most charitable characterization, were decidedly unwise and calculated to promote discord. His effort in the House of Commons on Tuesday is merely on a party with that at Maisonneuve. He is not a patriot nor, despite his ability and influence, can he be regarded as a representative Canadian. Rather is he a typical Quebec Liberal politician, whose vision is bounded by the confines of the province of his birth.

On Thursday night the second firebrand was heard from. L. P. Gauthier, Liberal member for St. Hyacinthe, and one of the foremost members of the French wing of the Laurier party, passionately predicted civil war if the conscription bill was imposed on the province of Quebec. The Standard published Mr. Gauthier's remarks on Friday morning last, but the portion of his speech in which he threatened strife and announced his intention, in such an event, of supporting the trouble makers, is worthy of reproduction if only to give the people of New Brunswick an idea of the views harbored by one of Quebec's leading public men. Mr. Gauthier said:

"THIS IS THE MOST SOLEMN HOUR OF MY LIFE, IT MAY BE THE LAST OPPORTUNITY THAT I WILL HAVE TO ADDRESS THE HOUSE OF COMMONS OF MY COUNTRY. I SAY TO THE GOVERNMENT IF YOU PRESS THE PASSAGE OF THIS MEASURE, MY PEOPLE, DECLARING THAT THE GOVERNMENT HAS NO MANDATE, WILL USE THE VERY BILL ITSELF TO FIGHT IT OUT. WE ACKNOWLEDGE THAT IN THIS FIGHT THERE WILL BE SUFFERING. THERE WILL BE PAIN. WE MAY HAVE TO GO TO THE DIRECT CONSEQUENCES. IF YOU IMPOSE UPON MY PEOPLE THIS LEGISLATION, THEY WILL BE WILLING TO GO TO THE LIMIT, AND I TELL YOU, SIR, THAT I BELIEVE THEY WILL BE RIGHT, AND I WILL DO AS THEY WILL DO."

In what other country in the world would such a threat be tolerated, coming as it did from a public man, a man returned to the Parliament of his country by the votes of a majority of the electors in his constituency, and that constituency one of the most important and most prosperous in the province of Quebec? Yet Mr. Gauthier hurled his threat across the floors of the Commons and was widely applauded for his action by his Quebec associates, applause in which Sir Wilfrid did not join although the Liberal leader did not repudiate the sentiment expressed.

There has been no disposition on the part of the people of this country to regard seriously the ravings of the Marcella, the Lavergnes, the Bourassa or the other spell-binders of Montreal and Quebec. It is right that such statements should not be treated with concern for it is but fair to say that they do not represent the feelings of the great mass of the French-Canadian people. But when men of the standing of Messrs. Lemieux and Gauthier dare to sow seeds of racial and religious discord in the very halls of Parliament, and are not repudiated by the leader of their party, a leader who has fathered a resolution purposed to withhold assistance and support from our soldiers at the front—it is high time that Canada should give these Quebec firebrands to understand that their course is regarded with stern disapproval.

Canada is in this war to a finish and all necessary measures to achieve certain victory will be taken without regard to the views of the Lauriers, the Lemieuxs or the Gauthiers. Such men represent but a very limited portion of Canadian opinion. If indeed they stand for anything more than the element of Quebec agitators. It is unwise that such speeches should be made in Parliament, or entered upon the Hansard of the country to be spread far and wide from Sydney to Vancouver. It would be doubly unwise; yes, deplorable, if those who made them were to attract to themselves and their principles any measure of public support. Of the latter possibility however there is very little danger.

POLITICS IN SASKATCHEWAN.

The electors of Saskatchewan will vote during this week for a new legislature for that province. As the issues are purely local the result, whatever it may be, can have but little significance outside of the province affected. Of the candidates in nomination it is interesting to observe that there are sixty-seven farmers and but eleven lawyers, rather a reversal of form, for gentlemen of the legal profession have usually held first place in the public life of the country. Like its sister province of Alberta, Saskatchewan, since its creation as a separate province, has known government by one party only. Its first premier was Hon. Walter Scott, and when it became evident that his star was waning, the party called Hon. W. M. Martin, who to that time, had represented Regina in the House of Commons.

Mr. Martin took office last year, and at once was brought face to face with an embarrassing situation. Grafting had been charged against members of the legislature, officials and others, and, in some cases, the charges had been proven to the hilt. Mr. Martin took action to see that some of the evildoers received lessons which should prove of value to them, but those most culpable escaped, and to date have not been penalized for their misdeeds.

There has been much laxity in the administration even under the new premier. Provincial enterprises have suffered by reason of inferior work, and public money has been frittered away to party favorites and heeled. Naturally opposition critics are making the most of the campaign material thus provided. The administration of the schools, particularly for the foreign born is also being attacked with some effect, it being stated that in one school district where there are 1,200 Rutenian scholars no provision is made for giving the children instruction in the English language. This certainly is not as it should be for the duty of every government in Canada, and particularly the governments of the western provinces where the foreign population is a large and important factor, is to see that the "stranger within our gates" is given an opportunity, by education and environment, to become a first rate Canadian citizen.

The campaign which ends this week has been sharp and brief and those best able to forecast the result express the opinion that the Conservative opposition will make substantial gains, even though the government may not be defeated.

TAXING THE WEALTH.

Liberal parliamentarians and Liberal newspapers probably regard it as effective politics to demand that before the Government decides to compel the man-power of this country to engage in military service some measure should be adopted to provide for taking more largely from the accumulated wealth of Canada for participation in this war. In such a connection the term "conscription of wealth" has been used, more probably for the reason that it has an attractive sound to the man who has no wealth to give, than because it at all represents what the necessity of the country demands or what our administrators will undertake to do. "Conscription of wealth," in the popular conception of that term, at once conjures up a vision of the rich man being forced to disgorge the surplus he has accumulated from years of thrift and enterprise, but it is not wise for the public to take that view, as, assuredly, it is not the correct one.

In the first place, what is meant by accumulated wealth? Lands, buildings, stocks in trade, stocks, bonds, mortgages and surplus cash. To conscript these, means, in the popular view, to take them in total, and it requires but a minute's consideration to conclude how ridiculous and unfair such a proceeding would be. This country must have capital for its development just as much as labor, or natural resources, for without the one the value of the other speedily deteriorates. One is dependent upon the other, and to rob one of the other would be to adversely affect all. Consequently, conscription of wealth, inasmuch as that may be held to mean taking all of it, is not desirable.

What way then is open to the Government to secure the money it requires from those who have it, and at the same time cause the least dislocation of profits, a measure the Government has already arranged for and which will abundantly reach the desired end. There is now in effect an excess profit tax, with the provision that the amount to be levied next year will be heavier than this. Let us take a few concrete examples to show how this tax has worked out already and the amounts to be realized from it next year. The Imperial Oil Company paid this year $734,000. Next year their share will be $924,000; the Ford Automobile Company of Canada paid $697,000 and next year will pay $1,782,000; Canadian Express Company paid $689,000 and will pay $1,337,000; Ogilvie Flour Milling Company paid $280,000 and next year will pay $54,000. From these companies alone the country will get in profit taxes next year the sum of $2,183,000, more than present payments, and the list could be indefinitely extended, showing the same result in every case.

Thus it can be seen that while the Government particularly desires men to fill the ranks of the Canadian armies it does not intend that wealth shall escape. And in justice to the wealthy men of Canada it should be said that they have shown no disposition to avoid bearing their full share of the burdens of war. Of course there are exceptions, some within local knowledge. These in the main but suffice to prove the rule.

It is right that there should be equal distribution of service upon all classes and it is this that the Government is endeavoring to provide. The measure now before Parliament aims to secure the services of the slackers of military age and fitness and they will be called upon to serve in the capacity for which they are best suited. But the wealthy man, unable to go to the front, will not escape, despite the clamoring of a section of the Liberal press that he is favored by those in authority. He will be called upon to do his share and the Government will see to it that the duty is absolutely fulfilled.

A North Shore editor is having serious trouble. Chatham needs looking after if the following from the World of that town is correct: "The editor bought a drinking cup, at six o'clock Friday evening, and hung it up beside the fowling spring at The World building. Before eight o'clock the same evening the cord had been cut and the cup carried away. What cattle in human form there are in town! The dogma that God is the father of all men should be revised."

William G. German, Liberal M. P. for Welland, who was so generously applauded by the opposition in the House of Commons last evening is the same Grit spirit who was unseated for illegal acts committed in the general election of 1891. He finally got to the House of Commons in 1909.

Riding in the Train
 The most comfortable part of a train is the seats, but the most important part is the locomotive. It cood go all rite without any seats, but if it tried to go without any locomotive, nothing wood happen.

The conductor is also a very important part of a train. He carries a punching thing, and every time he feels like it he comes around and punches another hole in your ticket. Wen the ticket gets so full of holes its no good any more, the conductor keeps it. The conductor also calls out the names of the difrent stations, making them sound as if he wasent sure wat they reely was himself

Trains can go so fast that wen youre looking out the window at sumthing, before you get throo looking at it youre looking at sumthing else. If 2 trains going that fast shoold happen to bump into each other, a persin wood be lucky not to be in either of them. If a deff cow starts to walk across the tracks in front of a train on a dark nite, whoever owns it may never find out wat became of it.

Another very important part of a train is the engineer. The engineer sets in the locomotive and steers in a bloo shirt, not being so hard, on account of the tracks showing him imackly ware to go. Engineers haff to wash their faces every day wen they go home, on account of all the smoke.

One of the easiest things to do in a train wen youre coming home from some place at nite is to go to sleep.

arrangements in respect to tourist travel in the province. C. B. Allan, secretary of the association, stated afterwards that he expected that the tourist business would be good this summer and he thought that the outlook was very promising. Mr. Allan has sent out large quantities of booklets, descriptive of the beauties of the province, to the tourist bureaus and ticket agents in the New England states. These booklets are well gotten up, and point out graphically the splendid opportunities that New Brunswick offers to the tourist in the way of scenery, excellent fishing, and good hotel accommodations. The association is now at work on revising and bringing up to date a directory of the province, listing hotels, boarding houses, as well as other facilities for the traveller. Though the association has been in its new quarters for a few days only they have received visits from quite a few tourists, as well as a number of local inquiries.

PAIN? NOT A BIT! LIFT YOUR CORNS OR CALLUSES OFF

No humbug! Apply few drops then just lift them away with fingers.

This new drug is an ether compound discovered by a Cincinnati chemist. It is called freezone, and can now be obtained in tiny bottles as here shown at very little cost from any drug store. Just ask for freezone. Apply a drop or two directly upon a tender corn or callous and instantly the soreness disappears. Shortly you will find the corn or callous so loose that you can lift it off, root and all, with the fingers.

Not a twinge of pain, soreness or irritation, not even the slightest smarting, either when applying freezone or afterwards.

This drug doesn't eat up the corn or callous, but shrivels them so they loosen and come right out. It is no humbug! It works like a charm. For a few cents you can get rid of every hard corn, soft corn or corn between the toes, as well as painful callouses on bottom of your feet. It never disappoints and never burns, bites or inflames. Genuine freezone is sold only in these small bottles packed in a little sealed wood case, bearing a yellow wrapper. Beware of imitations.

HOUSE FIRE CASE RESUMED

Number of Witnesses Examined Yesterday—County Policeman Says Shoes on Horse Driven by Hughes and O'Brien on Night of Fire Have Been Changed.

In the case of Joseph O'Brien and John J. Hughes, arrested on suspicion of burning W. J. Crawford's summer cottage at Loch Lomond, the greater part of yesterday was taken up in the police court hearing evidence.

Mrs. Esther McAleer, Coldbrook, testified of the defendants being out on the road on the night of the fire. They were at her place between 10.45 and 10.50 o'clock that night.

David McCrissin said that on the evening of June 16th he refused to hire a horse to Hughes.

James A. Covenay, who is employed in Frank Donnelly's stable, told the court that O'Brien and Hughes had a mare named Kitty from the stable on the night of the fire and returned to the stable about 11.30 o'clock.

Afternoon Session.

"Have the shoes on Kitty, the mare which was used on the Friday night by John Hughes and Joseph O'Brien been changed since the Sunday following the fire at Crawford's," was the most important matter brought out at the trial yesterday afternoon.

County Policeman J. Saunders was recalled to the stand by F. R. Taylor for the prosecution, and swore that he had paid a visit to Donnelly's stable on Coburg street, yesterday at noon, and on examination he discovered that the mares did not have on the same shoes as were on his feet on Sunday. This evidence was the cause of considerable comment by the magistrate. He said that if the section in the criminal code was large enough, and broad enough to cover the matter, the guilty parties would be given the full penalty.

Frank Donnelly was sent for by the magistrate and upon his arrival at court, the witness Saunders stepped down from the box and the magistrate asked Donnelly a few questions. He, the magistrate, wanted to know if the shoes on the horse had been changed since the night of the fire. To this question the witness replied that they had not been changed to his knowledge. In answer to the question "have they been changed by your order?" the witness replied that they had not. "Did you pay for having them changed?" asked the magistrate. The witness replied that he had not. The magistrate then informed the witness that he would expect to find out if the shoes had been changed, by whom, under whose instructions as well as all matters pertaining to the horse in question. Whether it had been hired to any person since the time of the incident and to whom was it hired? "You will be asked to give sworn testimony on this matter," concluded the magistrate.

From the evidence gleaned at the preliminary hearing in the case of the King vs. John Hughes and Joseph O'Brien, the question of committal or acquittal rests on the evidence made at Crawford's property on Friday night. For fully an hour the only witness yesterday afternoon, Mr. Saunders, was sharply cross questioned by the counsel for the defendants, J. A. Sinclair and E. J. Henneberry, in connection with the question of shoes.

First it was plate shoes, then it was cork shoes. Then again it was cork shoes worn to plate shoes. Finally it was stated by the witness that the horse had on cork shoes and they had been so worn down they resembled plate shoes. The witness stated that he visited the barn in which the horse was stabled at noon (Monday) and he found only pieces of shoes on the horse. He said that there were no corks on the left shoe, and only a little on right shoe. The right shoe consisted of two pieces and there was no cork. "Not the same shoes as the mares today, as there were when I examined her," said the witness. "The shoes that the mare had on when I examined her on Sunday would make the same impression as was made at Lydon's and at Crawford's," replied the witness to a question by the prosecuting counsel.

A piece of a rubber tire was also exhibited to the court to which the witness swore was the same as that on the carriage, which he claimed was at Crawford's on Friday night week.

Cross-examined by J. A. Sinclair, the witness stated that he did not measure the tire on the carriage at the stable. He said that with the exception of the left hand hind wheel the tires were not very much worn. In answer to Mr. Sinclair, the witness stated that there was only one size rubber tires used on carriages, with the exception of cushion tires. "And you'll swear that there is only one size tire for carriages," emphasized Mr. Sinclair. To this the witness replied in the affirmative.

The shoes worn by the mare caused considerable discussion in which all interested took part. The witness claimed that the shoes worn by the mare were unusually narrow. Mr. Sinclair remarked that there were a thousand horses in St. John that wear the same size shoe.

The counsel for the defendants asked the court why it was the prosecution had not produced the man who wore the first at the fire on Friday night. He also wanted to know why they had not called the man who shod the mare on Thursday morning prior to the fire. Mr. Taylor said that he would be only too pleased to produce the witnesses requested if he had their names. The names of Kenneth J. McRae and Beverley Stevens were given to the prosecuting counsel who were among the first at the fire. He stated he would have them on hand this morning when the case is to be resumed.

FRUIT COMMISSIONER ON COMING HARVEST

Donald Johnston, on Way to Convention — Nova Scotia to Have Largest Harvest — Good Average Crop in New Brunswick.

Donald Johnston, Dominion fruit commissioner, was in the city yesterday on his way to attend a convention of the apple growers of Nova Scotia, to be held at Kentville, N. S., today.

Speaking to a Standard representative, Mr. Johnston said the prospects at the present time were that Nova Scotia would have one of the biggest apple crops ever harvested in that province. British Columbia would have a twenty-five per cent. larger crop than last year, New Brunswick would have a good average crop, Quebec would have about half a crop, and Ontario would not have more than an fifteen per cent. average crop. Eastern Ontario would have a fair crop, but in the rest of the province the crop was practically a failure.

The probabilities at the present time were that the apple crop in this year would have to be disposed of at home or in the United States as the British government had placed apples on the list of imports which were forbidden and were not likely to remove the embargo.

The small fruit crop in Ontario would be about the average this year, although the wet spring had caused a falling of the plum blossoms. If the spring had not been so wet there would have been a bumper crop of plums. Peaches would be about an average crop.

He had just made a trip through Ontario and found general crops well advanced and the prospects for good harvests excellent.

Mr. Johnston will spend about a week in the Annapolis Valley visiting the different apple centres before returning to Ottawa.

NEWS AND COMMENT OF THE FINANCIAL WORLD

MARKET IS PUZZLE TO EVERYONE

Trading Decidedly Mixed—Moderate Business Halt in West—Gold Shipments.

New York, June 25.—Trading was of such a mixed and professional character during the greater part of today's session as to defy analysis. Notable exceptions prevailed in the division, however, United States Steel being under constant pressure, though closing at only a slight loss. Bethlehem Steel, new stock, also fell behind after having registered a one-point gain.

At their best, equipments, which dominated the list, were higher by two to four points, and the steel group advanced one to two points. Notable exceptions prevailed in this division, however, United States Steel being under constant pressure, though closing at only a slight loss.

Shipments, the motors, sugars, Industrial Alcohol, malted preferred and Distillers securities reacted one to four points and petroleum was depressed on the weakness of Sinclair Oil, which raised six points on semi-official announcement of an approaching new stock issue.

Rails gave the list a solid foundation which was otherwise lacking. Pacific, coals and numerous minor shares scored gains of one to two and a half points on the broadest movement of many days. Buying of transportation issued seemed to have its basis on the belief of early and favorable action respecting freight rates by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Final prices, resulting mainly from short covering, served to effect a material readjustment of values. Total sales amounted to $35,000 shares.

More Gold Imports.

The movement of British gold to this market was augmented by an additional consignment of $14,600,000, making a total of $87,531,000 in little more than a week, francs and lire were more steady, but rubles wavered.

Reports from the middle west showed large gains in traffic, but a moderate halt in business, pending settlement of food prices. Bonds were irregular, but the liberty issue was more active than at any previous time since the date of trading, regular lots selling at par and a few other lots scoring a premium.

United States and Panama issues rose 1/4 to 1/2 per cent. on call.

LONDON MARKET STEADY.

Special to The Standard.
London, June 25.—The money market was fairly well supplied with funds today and discount rates were steady. Russian and Italian exchange rates showed a better tendency. The investment section of the stock market maintained a good tone with more support for Russian issues. American securities were higher and closed quiet. Consols for money were quoted at 5 1/4.

GOOD BUYING OF SOME COPPERS REPORTED

Railroad Stocks Being Accumulated on Larger Scale than for Years—Money Question Still Live One.

(McDOUGALL & COWANS.)
New York, June 25.—Wall Street Journal—"The firmness of undertone and improved stock market technical position gives confidence of the things to be expected from it."

A conservatively optimistic attitude is justified by existing conditions. The great success of the liberty loan is a continuing factor of bullish confidence. The equipment issues have a brilliant future as copper experts that the largest copper metal orders will come from the Allied governments and that they will pay approximately the high market prices for same whatever may be decided upon for the U. S. Good buying is reported in coppers not likely to be adversely affected by strikes.

Accumulation of the rails has been going on recently on a scale larger than witnessed in several years according to some brokers who have in the past been associated with railroad operations. They are better disposed toward the eastern trunk lines than other rails. Commission houses in large number seem to be in favor of selling active industrial stocks on the cause of a fear that money flurries will tend to bring selling movements in this class during the next few days.

SCOTIA STEEL PFD. DECLINES 9 POINTS

Montreal Market Lifeless and Narrow—Canadian Third War Loan up Quarter.

Montreal, June 25.—Even specialty movements were lacking in Canadian stocks today. The market dragged listlessly throughout the day with the volume of trading smallest of any day of the month and the undertone inclining to heaviness. Small offerings in the absence of any important demand forced prices down fairly sharply in many directions. Canada Steamship common, one of stronger features in recent markets, sold off one to 4 1/2 under sales of 175 shares and closed only slightly better at 43 1/2 bid. Cement under the same volume of sales declined 1/4 to 61 1/4. A one-lot transaction in Brazilian Tractor was marked at 38 1/4, a decline of 1/4, a fair criterion of the narrowness of the market.

Nova Scotia Steel preferred, which has been sagging for some time, sold at 155, a net decline of nine from the last bid sale some months ago. Canadian Car common was one of steadier stocks, as well as the most active, although transactions footed up to only 205 shares. On that turnover the price held unchanged at 32. Detroit United also held its ground at 109 and Steel of Canada after selling 1/4 higher at 58 1/2, finished the day unchanged at 58 1/2 bid.

Bond dealings were light with the only feature a slight better tone for the third war loan, which sold at 93 1/2 or 3/4 up.

FLOUR, SUGAR, EGGS AND BUTTER EASIER

Sugar Market, However, is Firm Despite Decline—Cheese Holds Steady.

Toronto, June 25.—The following comment on the market situation as regards foodstuffs appears in the Canadian Grocer:

Wheat market during the week flour was in a weaker position. Demand for this commodity is light in the face of fluctuating market prices. Ontario mills are shipping flour into the United States and this is keeping them fairly busy. Demand for millfeeds is lighter on account of the excellent grass pasture for stock at present. Sugar declined 15c per hundred. Local demand is still very light. Reports of the sinking market for sugar in ten days by submarines has put a measure of firmness in the market by reason of the fact that supplies have been decreased by that much. The rainy season has now set in on the island of Cuba and production of raw sugar will diminish from this time forward.

Butter and eggs were in easier market, in the latter commodity considerable declines being recorded, due to the unexpected increase in production. Cheese held steady at recent prices, but there was a disposition on the part of dealers to pay slightly more for the factories for their output. Demand for poultry is light and prices are firm and spring chickens have been easier in consequence.

Epidemic is Checked. Secretary Burns of the local Board of Health announced yesterday that the epidemic of smallpox that broke out in Bangor, Maine, several days ago has been checked. By working in conjunction with the Maine State Board of Health, the local and provincial boards were able to stop the epidemic from spreading into the province. One of the preventative means adopted was the vaccination of soldiers coming into New Brunswick from the border state.

WHY THE HOLLINGER SUSPENDED DIVIDENDS

Cost of Labor Big Factor—Financial Position Comfortable.

Special to The Standard.
Montreal, June 25.—The Hollinger Consolidated statements for the four weeks ended June 20 will be taken to reflect labor conditions referred to in the directors' announcement of the suspension of dividend payments. The mill ran only six days five per cent. of the possible running time, treating 35,377 ore against 42,849 in the April period and 47,822 tons in the March period. At the average value of ore was only $7.49 against $9.20 the preceding period and the total working costs rose fairly sharply to $4.85 a ton. The volume of trading increased as the day advanced and reached a respectable total.

Money rates were firm at six per cent. Some bankers do not expect to see a higher rate in the near future. The street was encouraged by some indications from Washington that the senate committee was favorably impressed with the statement of the investment bankers' association for lowering the excess profits tax. This plan is to take the returns on capital in each industry for 1911, 1912 and 1913 as the basis and to apply a graduated tax on profits in excess of that basis. The rates for taxing the excess are still blank.

NOTHING IN "WEATHER" THEORY.
Tire Expert Says Air Pressure Should Not Be Reduced in Warm Weather.

With the return of the summer months come the days that are costly to thousands of motorists. Due to the belief that precipitation and hot weather on automobile tires. It is surprising how many motorists still believe that in hot weather the air in a tire should be pumped to the danger point. Why this wrong impression should have gained such circulation is difficult to explain. There is nothing in the "hot weather" theory.

It is true, of course, that on a hot day, the air in a tire expands somewhat, but so slightly as to be negligible in its effect. Internal tire heat does not result from the temperature of the outside air, but from the constant bending of the tire as it rolls along the street. Whether in winter or summer, tires generate the same degree of heat. In winter the effect is not so equal as in summer, because of the more rapid movement of the air in and without the tire.

The practice of running tires at less than recommended pressure in warm weather to overcome expansion tendencies, instead of saving tires and money, has cost the motorists of the continent many millions of dollars. The motorist who pumps his tires to a dangerously high pressure appears to be a pathetically frail structure to many car owners—so the advent of a hot day is a signal to them to reduce air pressure. But tires are not so fragile as some car owners imagine. They are built to withstand four and five times recommended pressures. Recently a boy attempted to inflate a set of tires on his father's car with an air hose, and had actually put 400 pounds air pressure on one tire, before discovered.

When tires are run underinflated in hot weather to combat air expansion, there is increased bending or flexing of the sides of the tires, which, incidentally, creates more heat, which is just the condition to avoid. Soon the strength of the cotton fibres is broken down and the motorist is treated to the unwelcome sound of the blowout. Whatever expansion occurs in a tire while running, is lost again after the car has stood for a short time and if air has been removed from the tires in the meantime, they are then subject to all the dangers of underinflation.

Hundreds of tests have proved that no tire is in danger of blowing out because of hot weather expansion of air, when tires are inflated to recommended pressures. Motorists should refuse to be misled by the "hot weather" theory—there is nothing in it worth mentioning.

The Police Court.
In the police court yesterday one drunk was remanded. In the case of Harold Robertson, reported for allowing three trucks to stand in front of his store on the 11th last, from 1.30 to 3.30 p.m., Sgt. Smith testified to seeing the cars there at 2.10 o'clock and the case was further adjourned.

UNITED STATES STEEL LOSES GROUND IN P. M.

Other Steel Stocks and Most of Equipment Shares Hold Strength—Money Firm at 6.

(McDOUGALL & COWANS.)
New York, June 25.—U. S. Steel lost some ground in the afternoon, but the other steels and most of the equipment issues held their positions, some of them increasing their gains in the last hour. The rails likewise held firm close to the day's higher levels. The volume of trading increased as the day advanced and reached a respectable total.

Money rates were firm at six per cent. Some bankers do not expect to see a higher rate in the near future. The street was encouraged by some indications from Washington that the senate committee was favorably impressed with the statement of the investment bankers' association for lowering the excess profits tax. This plan is to take the returns on capital in each industry for 1911, 1912 and 1913 as the basis and to apply a graduated tax on profits in excess of that basis. The rates for taxing the excess are still blank.

NOTHING IN "WEATHER" THEORY.
Tire Expert Says Air Pressure Should Not Be Reduced in Warm Weather.

With the return of the summer months come the days that are costly to thousands of motorists. Due to the belief that precipitation and hot weather on automobile tires. It is surprising how many motorists still believe that in hot weather the air in a tire should be pumped to the danger point. Why this wrong impression should have gained such circulation is difficult to explain. There is nothing in the "hot weather" theory.

It is true, of course, that on a hot day, the air in a tire expands somewhat, but so slightly as to be negligible in its effect. Internal tire heat does not result from the temperature of the outside air, but from the constant bending of the tire as it rolls along the street. Whether in winter or summer, tires generate the same degree of heat. In winter the effect is not so equal as in summer, because of the more rapid movement of the air in and without the tire.

The practice of running tires at less than recommended pressure in warm weather to overcome expansion tendencies, instead of saving tires and money, has cost the motorists of the continent many millions of dollars. The motorist who pumps his tires to a dangerously high pressure appears to be a pathetically frail structure to many car owners—so the advent of a hot day is a signal to them to reduce air pressure. But tires are not so fragile as some car owners imagine. They are built to withstand four and five times recommended pressures. Recently a boy attempted to inflate a set of tires on his father's car with an air hose, and had actually put 400 pounds air pressure on one tire, before discovered.

When tires are run underinflated in hot weather to combat air expansion, there is increased bending or flexing of the sides of the tires, which, incidentally, creates more heat, which is just the condition to avoid. Soon the strength of the cotton fibres is broken down and the motorist is treated to the unwelcome sound of the blowout. Whatever expansion occurs in a tire while running, is lost again after the car has stood for a short time and if air has been removed from the tires in the meantime, they are then subject to all the dangers of underinflation.

Hundreds of tests have proved that no tire is in danger of blowing out because of hot weather expansion of air, when tires are inflated to recommended pressures. Motorists should refuse to be misled by the "hot weather" theory—there is nothing in it worth mentioning.

The Police Court.
In the police court yesterday one drunk was remanded. In the case of Harold Robertson, reported for allowing three trucks to stand in front of his store on the 11th last, from 1.30 to 3.30 p.m., Sgt. Smith testified to seeing the cars there at 2.10 o'clock and the case was further adjourned.

"PATRONAGE OF HOME PRODUCTS WILL ELIMINATE THE 'IT'."
 If it is right and proper to encourage manufacturing in this city nothing should be permitted to retard the growth of the firms now operating here. On the other hand every assistance should be given such firms in their endeavor to increase their output, every encouragement offered them in their efforts to broaden their markets.
 The head of one of our largest manufacturing concerns remarked a few days ago: "If I had the entire trade of this city in my line, I could double the size of my plant and employ twice as many people."
 Think what this would mean. Keep well in mind the fact that our manufacturing firms deserve our loyal patronage. It is primarily a matter of self-protection, of "saving first" if you please, for us to favor home products, for on the prosperity of our factories depend to a great extent our individual prosperity.
 Our factories share with us in paying our taxes, paying our streets and supporting our schools, churches and charitable institutions. They spend THEIR profits here. They employ labor—these workmen in turn spending their earnings here.
 If the dollars that are sent away for goods that are inferior to the HOME PRODUCTS BRAND could be kept here it would mean a far greater degree of prosperity for the concerns now operating. New factories would spring up, work would be given to thousands of people and our city as a whole would enjoy an unprecedented era of good times.
 Let your HOME earned dollars be HOME spent dollars.

SINN FEVERS ARE FIRED ON IN CORK CITY
 One Rioter Killed and Thirty Injured in Disgraceful Outbreak.
 Cork, June 25—Machine guns were used on the Sinn Feiners in the disturbances here yesterday morning. They were brought into action after the police with clubs had failed to restore order. The soldiers cordoned various points while the police chased the rioters to side streets. After having been much stoned, the police ordered that guns be fired on the disturbers. One rioter was killed, another severely wounded, while a dozen were treated in hospitals for bayonet and other wounds. The riot was eventually quelled without the troops coming into action.

Thirty Injured.
 London, June 25—The number of persons injured more or less seriously in the rioting in Cork last night is given as about thirty in a Central News despatch from that city. One police inspector was injured seriously and several policemen had narrow escapes. When machine guns were trained on the crowd most of the rioters disappeared.

Will Make Inquiries.
 A short time ago there appeared in one of the St. John papers a report that one of the Vancouver delegates to a conference at Ottawa had made a government official had said that conditions surrounding the shipment of grain through eastern ports last winter had been very unsatisfactory, and unless there was some prospect of an improvement, Vancouver would be the port of shipment of prairie grain this coming winter. The secretary of the Board of Trade wrote the Minister of Trade and Commerce, and asked if these conditions alleged to exist applied to St. John, and yesterday received a reply from the minister to the effect that he had not heard of these conditions, but would make inquiries into the matter.

Alkali in Shampoos Bad For The Hair
 If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is which is pure and gentle, and is better than anything else you can use. One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff, and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

MARRIED.

Gulfoil-Parlee.

At half past six o'clock yesterday morning, in St. Peter's church, Rev. Father Costello, C.S.B., united in marriage William J. Gulfoil and Elizabeth Sarah Parlee, both of this city. The bride was attended by Miss Carrie Donest, and the groom was supported by his brother George. Mr. Gulfoil is a son of John E. Gulfoil of Chapel street, and has been a valued employee of the Brunswick Power Company for ten or eleven years. The bride received valuable gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Gulfoil will reside in the North End and have the good wishes of many friends.

FANJOY-ALLEN.

Bagdad, June 25—A wedding of interest was solemnized at the residence of Mr. Edward Patterson of Waterborough when the Rev. H. E. Bennett, (Anglican) united in marriage Miss Grace E. Allen, of Lower Hainsville, York Co., and Mr. George F. Fanjoy of Bagdad. Mr. Adrian Myles gave the bride away. The bride looked charming in a brown corduroy suit with hat to match. The bride and groom will take up their residence in Bagdad.

SWETNAM-MITCHELL.

The marriage of Miss Alice Mitchell daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Mitchell to Mr. Bertram W. Swetnam of Amherst, N. S., took place on Monday evening, June 18th. Rev. G. S. Gardner performed the ceremony. The bride wore a travelling costume of navy blue taffeta silk and hat to match with a corsage bouquet of lilies of the valley and maiden hair fern. After a trip up the St. John river and through the Annapolis Valley Mr. and Mrs. Swetnam will reside in Amherst, N.S.

CANN-MEALEY.

The marriage of Miss Ada Mealey, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Mealey of New Glasgow, N. S., to Mr. Harrison J. Cann of the same town, took place at the home of the bride, East River Road, on Wednesday, Rev. A. J. Archibald performed the ceremony. About 40 relatives and intimate friends of the bride and groom were present. The bride, who was given away by her father, was gowned in ivory taffeta silk and wore the conventional veil and orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The little flower girl, Rose Blackadar, was daintily dressed in white frock and carried a basket of sweet peas. Miss Esther Mealey, sister of the bride, rendered Mendelssohn's wedding march. While congratulations were being showered upon the happy couple Miss Margaret Enman sang very sweetly "Until," after which a dainty luncheon was served. The presents were numerous and costly; the groom's gift to the bride being a pearl pendant and from the employees of the Canada Tool and Specialty Co., of which the groom is foreman, two large leather chairs, and from the office staff a silver tea service.

Mr. and Mrs. Cann left on the afternoon express for New York and other American cities.

IT'S ABSOLUTELY TRUE.

Whether you like figures or not, you should be interested in knowing that it costs William Fox just 114.3 miles of 31 bills to produce "A Daughter of the Gods," his $1,000,000 spectacle, with Annette Kellermann.

A dollar bill is 7 1/4 inches long, and experts have computed that it requires 7,329 of them to extend one mile. So Mr. Fox spent enough "dollar bills" to reach from New York to Albany, with enough left over to build a small size apartment house.

IMPERIAL.

"The Poor Little Rich Girl." Plenty of little girls, rich, poor and "middling," went to the Imperial on Monday attended by grandmothers, mothers, aunts, or on their own account to see Mary Pickford in "The Poor Little Rich Girl." It has been a promise that I should take one small girl and I have been asked many times "When is the 'Poor Little Rich Girl' coming?" When it came it was no disappointment. It is indeed an artistic triumph in motion pictures and was "great" to quote a small spectator.

To those who saw Miss Pickford in a "Romance of the Red Woods," her interpretation of the very childish role of the little girl whose parents had too much money will be particularly wonderful as the two characters show her versatility.

This is an ideal play for children to see and carries with it a very strong lesson for parents and friends of little ones.

There is plenty to entertain and amuse elders. The mischief that dances in Gwendolyn's eyes is alone worth seeing as reproduced on the screen. And then the mischief even this guarded and select child manages to do—the escapades with earth and water. "I love mud," she announces when she hears the doctor's prescription of country air and mud-pies. We smile as we remember her joy of battle in the mud-slinging conservatory fight.

The visit of the little snob, Susie May, is both pathetic and funny. It was such a disappointment to have such a visitor when she had looked for many fun.

The staff of servants is a fine example of types and we would like to have known just how severe was the punishment meted out to the nurse and butler for their wickedness. The drugging of the child offers an opportunity for the childish delirium and in a unique way is shown how fact and fancy are mixed up in the dream of fever.

The picture is a most unusual one and there is never a dull moment in Miss Pickford's part from the little ten-year girl. She gives a wonderful performance and if from no other standpoint the Artcraft production of Eleanor Gates' story must be accounted a success. But all will enjoy the picture except the few who have lost all love for children and must have problem plays with suggestive plots. Let us be thankful that there are crowds of healthy people left in the theatre-going world. These I advise "see The Poor Little Rich Girl."

Others in the cast are Mr. Wellensley and Miss Taverne as the parents, Miss Fairbanks as Jane, and Emile LaCroix, Marcia Harris, Charles Craig, Frank Andrews, Herbert Prior and George Gernon.

"Peace on the Border" is the name of the twelfth episode of the Pathé serial at the Unique Theatre. "This is a great story," said the man two seats away from me. "I've never missed a number." We are shown the army which Patria has in training, and we see later in the story why an army is needed on the border. Morjias gets a Mexican outlaw to carry off Bud Morgan's sister to give information as to the plans of Patria Channing. The raid by the Mexicans is almost too realistic but it is photographed in the splendid way in which this whole serial has been done. You can see the horror of the raid and admire the plucky fight put up by the Morgan sister who gives several knockout blows. Another bit of punch (Oh that was not meant but I'll let it stay as long as I did not do it on purpose) is the attempted escape of Mary Morgan when she jumps from her horse and hangs to a tree. After she is re-captured two Mexicans drag her off between two horses, the riders holding the girl by the arms.

Wonderful glimpses are given of scenery all about the border and we think that there will be something doing in the next chapter when Patria gets her first line of defence to work in earnest.

The visit of Hon. Arthur James Balfour to Ottawa, his arrival at Parliament Buildings with that of Sir Robt. Borden and other notables, was shown in a Canadian Pathé News, at the Unique in addition to the usual weekly one. Fine views of a Japanese warship used now as a training ship in "The Golden Gate" at San Francisco, were also shown with the training of an officer at West Point and portraits of generals and officers much in the public eye at present. This was a good weekly.

KITTY GORDON INJURED. In one of the scenes in "The Beloved Adventurers" Kitty Gordon was severely hurt by the premature explosion of a stick of dynamite. Fortunately the accident caused no permanent injury and did not mar her beauty.

Directors are such sticklers for correct atmosphere that Heskiah Bush, one insists on serving animal crackers in stories of the jungle.

When an actor enters films, that is gripping! When the villain shoots and kills. "That is gripping!" When the heroine rides a steed. And your heart begins to bleed for the girl in time of need. That's soul-stirring!

OUR OWN MOVIE SERMON. It is not bogus, my brethren, ah, no! It is lip-stick! Lip-stick, beloved has probably tempted more movie stars to fall than any other evil. Lip-stick has been tried and never found wanting. Generous use of it has been known to spoil what otherwise would be a pleasing film production. It is a delusion. When Harold Robb, the honest young yeoman of the guards, comes out in tights, a cape and lipstick, the entire effect is spoiled. He looks as if he had been dabbling in the jam pot. And when Hyacinthe Moss, the movie queen, looks pensive with her mouth all ensnared up with raspberry tart, the entire plan of the production has been marred. Avoid the lip-stick. Thus endeth the second chapter!

JUST READ THIS! "Columns are devoted to the beautiful gowns worn by the feminine star of the photoplay, and of the great amount of money spent on her clothes," says Tom Santschi, "but where does the poor male come in? Man's attire can't show its costliness in fancy embellishments, but if the truth were known, many a male actor has a small fortune represented in his wardrobe, and in some cases it is his only fortune at that. For instance, the average film fan would never suspect that in one production 'Beware of Strangers' I wore ten different outfits, suits, shoes, etc., and in 'Caleb Conover' I made very nearly as many changes, while for the production in which I will soon start work I have made my tailor glad by ordering six new suits all at one fell swoop. Which is a brand new idea, that of the mere man giving clothes talks, and at that Santschi has not achieved his greatest successes in what are known as "dress-up" parts.

COMMISSIONERS DECIDE TO TAKE SPECIAL ACTION

Commissioner of Safety Given Authority to Expend Whatever Sum Necessary in Harris Case—Other Matters Dealt With.

At yesterday's committee meeting of the common council the Commissioner of Public Safety was authorized to expend whatever sums might be necessary in bringing to justice the person or persons who are responsible for the death of Robert Harris.

The Mayor presided and Commissioners Wigmore, McLellan and Fisher were present. It was decided to have a band concert on King Square on the afternoon of July 2, if a band could be procured, and attention was drawn to the request that citizens fly their flags on Dominion day.

The petition of the Hivery stable keepers for permission to raise the cab rates was laid over until Thursday, as was the revision of license rates.

The Mayor reported that he had not been able to get much information regarding coal, and it was suggested that the city open a wood yard, but no action was taken.

Commissioner Fisher brought up the matter of the Clarendon street retaining walls and presented requests from property owners for openings in the walls.

Commissioner McLellan drew attention to the death of Robert Harris and asked for authority to make such expenditures as he might deem necessary to bring the party or parties responsible to justice.

Commissioner Wigmore referred to the death of little Ronald Totten whose body was found in the water near the St. John Hotel company.

It was decided to hold the regular meeting of the council today at 11:30 A.M. instead of the usual time, 3 P.M.

INCREASING ACTIVITY ON THE WESTERN FRONT

British Undertake Several Successful Enterprises at Several Points—French Repulse Surprise Attacks.

London, June 25.—Increasing activity on the western front is reported in today's official announcement, which records various successful raids by the British. The statement follows: "Successful enterprises were undertaken by us last night at several points on our front. Parties of our troops raided the enemy's trenches in the neighborhood of Epehy, Bullecourt, Roux, Loos and Hooge, killing many Germans and taking several prisoners.

In a raid east of Vermelles we captured fifteen prisoners and two trench mortars. Our party remained more than two hours in the enemy's trenches, blew up his magazines and inflicted heavy casualties on his garrison.

Paris, June 25.—Sharp artillery fighting was in progress continuously during the night near Froidmont Farm and Chevroux, says today's official statement. The statement follows: "Unusually active artillery fighting continued during the night in the sector between Royers and Froidmont Farms and also near Hurbetise and east of Chevroux. Two surprise attacks against our trenches, east of Chevroux cost the enemy losses without any other result. German attacks on our small posts in the Woëvre and in the region of St. Mihiel were checked completely.

Where else the night passed quietly.

PROCLAMATION

His Honor the Lieutenant Governor directs the publication of the following for general information: Whereas, the 1st of July is the semi-centennial of the confederation of the Province of New Brunswick and the Sabbath schools of all denominations should incorporate into their exercises the recognition of the facts and lessons embodied in our national birth and fifty years of progress, and have requested that all clergymen and Sabbath school superintendents give to the celebration their hearty and intelligent cooperation.

And, whereas, the said committee have recommended that, "As the day falls on Sunday, it seems to be particularly fitting that the churches and the Sabbath schools of all denominations should incorporate into their exercises the recognition of the facts and lessons embodied in our national birth and fifty years of progress, and have requested that all clergymen and Sabbath school superintendents give to the celebration their hearty and intelligent cooperation."

And, whereas, Monday the 2nd day of July, has been fixed by proclamation for the celebration of Dominion Day, and the committee have recommended that the celebration on that day be as general as possible, without expensive and elaborate display, as befits war time, and carry out on the broadest social and democratic lines, a plain sincere people's demonstration, a tribute to the founders of our Dominion and the institutions and ideals of our common country.

We do most earnestly request that the cities and municipalities of the Province, clubs and patriotic associations, co-operate in the same manner generally in commemorating the day and the occasion, along the lines suggested in the report.

In view of the terrible war in which we are engaged the occasion should be one for serious thought and full recognition of the grave dangers to which Canada and the Empire are exposed, and the obligations that rest upon us all as citizens. We especially request that the clergymen of all denominations throughout the Province, Sunday School superintendents and teachers, in the religious services of Sunday, the 1st of July, do honor to the memory of the noble and brave men who have made the supreme sacrifice for their country, as well as to those who are still facing danger and death upon the battlefield, and that the religious exercises of the day be characterized with a spirit of loyalty, unselfish service, and earnest prayer for the success of the sacred cause for which we are fighting.

And further request that on Monday, the 2nd of July, all municipal and city officers co-operate with the various patriotic localities, and that all citizens by display of flags and suitable decorations at their homes and places of business, give hearty support and countenance to this movement. Sunday School superintendents and teachers, in the religious services of Sunday, the 1st of July, do honor to the memory of the noble and brave men who have made the supreme sacrifice for their country, as well as to those who are still facing danger and death upon the battlefield, and that the religious exercises of the day be characterized with a spirit of loyalty, unselfish service, and earnest prayer for the success of the sacred cause for which we are fighting.

WERE MEN WORKING IN ALLEY RESPONSIBLE FOR DEATH OF ROBERT HARRIS? YESTERDAY

Two Men Seen in Dark Alley Before the Assault—Injured Man Said "The Plumbers," When Taken Home—Intimidating Remarks Credited to Striker Everitt Carlin.

The second session of the Harris inquest was held in the Court House yesterday July 23rd at eight o'clock. The father and brother testified that the deceased had mentioned the plumbers, and a sister told of being present when threats had been made by some of the strikers to her brother.

As Mrs. Harris, mother of the dead young man, was not able to be present the inquest was adjourned until Tuesday July 24th at eight o'clock. This afternoon at 5 o'clock the jury will meet at the corner of Cranston Avenue and Rockland Road to view the place where Harris was found.

Harry T. Lunn. Harry T. Lunn was the first witness. He said he was a plumber and on the night of June 23rd was working with Harris at Mrs. Clark's in Carleton. He saw the deceased last between 10 and 11 o'clock on that night. Harris left the street car at the foot of Rockland road to go home, and witness went on to the foot of Union street.

Alphonsus Harris, brother-of the deceased gave evidence that he was present when his brother brought home. The deceased said, "the plumbers," and witness took him to mean that the plumbers had assaulted him. The witness thought this was just his brother's opinion and that was all that had been said to him by the deceased about the accident.

Robert Harris Sr. Robert Harris the father of the deceased was the last witness called and said he was in bed when his son was brought home. When he got to the hall his son was bleeding all over his face. He told witness he had been struck on the head by the plumbers and that he heard footsteps of two men at Haley's alley, but did not pay any attention. He said that after he was struck he was dazed, and did not know what happened.

Margaret Coholan. Margaret Coholan of Somerset street was then called and stated that on the night of 14th of June she was going home from the Gem theatre, and was accompanied by Mr. Wood. In the alley alongside the Haley house she saw two men standing. They were standing close to the house. One of them had on a suit and a peaked cap, the other had on a dark overcoat, and she did not notice what kind of a hat he had on. One had his hands over his eyes and was standing though he wore a hat, the other one was facing her. She would be about five feet away from them when she passed. The night was foggy and dark. She could not tell whether they had anything in their hands. She was startled when she saw them, and remarked to her friend something about two sneaks. She did not meet any other persons. She pointed out the place on a photo where she saw the men. The men did not speak as she passed them. John Wilson was asked to stand up and the witness said he was not one of the men she saw in the alley.

John M. Wilson. John M. Wilson, who was the first witness on Saturday was recalled, and asked to point out on a photo, and blue print, the spot where he found Harris. He said Harris did not have a kit bag with him.

Charles Wood. Charles Wood testified he was on Rockland road on the night of June 14th about 10.45 o'clock and saw two men in an alley alongside the Haley house. He did not take any particular notice of them. He thought one would be about the same height as himself. One of them was leaning against the house as though he were sick. He did not see any other person. He did not notice whether any of the houses had a light in or not.

RECRUITING IN THE CITY

Only Three Men Sign the Roll—Lieut.-Col. McAvity Called to Boston—General McLean Goes to Ottawa to Attend Parliament.

There was a general falling off in the matter of recruiting throughout the city yesterday. Both recruiting offices reported "business dull." Although the Klitties are not carrying on an active campaign in the city, and the Machine Gun Draft have departed, it does not appear to help swell the ranks of the other units still in the recruiting arena.

Lieut.-Col. McAvity to Boston. Lieut.-Col. J. L. McAvity accompanied by Staff Sergeant Beverly Appleby left last night on the Express for Boston. They will be away for about a week. It is understood that while in Boston Lieut.-Col. McAvity will act as an advisory capacity to the adjutant-general of Massachusetts, General E. Leroy Sweetser.

General McLean to Ottawa. Brigadier-General E. H. McLean left last night for Ottawa to take his seat in parliament. General McLean is the federal representative for Queens and Sunbury counties. It is also likely that he will speak on the conscription bill, now before the house for the second reading. General McLean is a firm believer in conscription as the only way to fill the depleted ranks of the Canadian forces overseas, and although a Liberal he will lend his support to the conscription bill as introduced by the premier.

Arrived Last Night. Eight stalwart sons of the province arrived last night on the Boston train from Fredericton for the Canadian Engineers. These men were recruited by Sergt. Eddington in Fredericton within the last week. Four of the party will go overseas with the signallers, and the other four in the ranks of the engineers.

A Trip Down the Bay. "Providing the day is at all fine, the boys of No. 9 Siege Battery will take a trip down the bay as far as New River. They will take with them their full complement of last, to last them for three days, during which time they will spend in training. This is the first time in the history of artillery training that the members of any battery quartered on the island have taken this trip, and for this reason it is unique in military training in the province.

Some time ago Major J. S. Frost, O. C., 62nd Regt. was authorized to organize a draft depot for the purpose of providing reinforcing drafts for overseas service. On the organization of the 62nd Regt. C. D. F. this work was taken over by them, but when the scheme was dropped last Friday, he was instructed to carry on the work. Preliminary arrangements have been completed and he is now prepared to enlist men for this unit. The first draft will consist of 50 men. These will be stationed at West St. John and will receive training while the unit is being reconstituted. They will be sent to England under the command of Lieut. W. H. Brooks, who has had experience in the trenches with the 26th Battalion C. E. F. was wounded and returned to Canada. On the completion of the first draft a second one will be raised and forwarded to the front. The men who enlist in these drafts will be sent as reinforcements to a N. B. Battalion now at the front. They will be among their friends who have gone before and share in the honors that have already been won by them. Applications to enlist may be made at any recruiting office in the province, or to either of the above named officers.
