The Shrewd Buyer

As a matter of economy will not always buy the cheapest goods. There is a greater saving effected in purchasing the better qualities even at a small additional cost, as the greater wear will more than compensate for the extra amount spent. It is more satisfactory to the seller also, and establishes a friendly feeling between merchant and customer. The policy of this store is to sell the better class of goods and to stand back of what we sell. If goods should prove unsatisfactory we should like to know it.

Men's strong Tweed Pants, light weight for summer. Just the thing for the working man $1.25

SIX MINERS WERE DROWNED

Had Been Drinking and Wanted Lobsters—Upset Boat at Traps.

North Sydney, June 4.—One of the worst tragedies in the history of Sydney Mines occurred there early yesterday morning when six men lost their lives by drowning off Cranberry Head.

The names of the men are Daniel McMullin, of Reserve Mines; Harry and Alexander Wilsonholme (brothers), John Fifoot, Frederick McNeil and Michael McNeil, the last five belonging to Sydney Mines.

Details of the accident are meagre but from what can be gathered from those who were with the men on Saturday night, it appears that after leaving a liquor saloon about 12.30 o'clock Sunday morning, the two Wilsonholmes, McNeil and McMullin, conspired to overhaul lobster traps off Cranberry, going out in a shell.

On reaching the traps, it is supposed all the men leaned over the same side of the boat to pull the trap in, with the result that the frail craft upset, throwing the six occupants into the water.

On the boat being righted by searchers who found the bodies, bloodstains were visible on the thwarts and bottom and the opinion prevails in some quarters that a quarrel preceded the tragedy.

The stuns, however are not at all unlikely to be those of fish which have recently been taken in the boat. Two of the bodies have been found. Three of the victims were married.

Halifax, June 4.—All the bodies of the victims of the Sydney Mines drowning accident have been recovered. One body has a broken nose, and another a head split open. The theory is that the men fought in the boat and upset it.

New Tailor made suits, received this week at McMurdo's. Price $15.00 they are the height of the fashion.

VALIENT SOLDIER DIED SUNDAY

Major Templeton Passed Away at His Chatham Home.

CRIMEAN VETERAN.

Fought at Alma and Inkerman and was Severely Wounded.

The death of Major Templeton took place at his home, Chatham, on Sunday after an illness of several months. The deceased gentleman was one of Miramichi's most noted soldiers and the news of his death will be heard with regret by all.

Major Alexander Sturthart Templeton, son of the late William Templeton, was born at Edinburgh, Scotland, about seventy-six years ago. As a member of the 49th Regiment of the British army he was with Lord Raglan at the battle of Alma, 1854, when the allies comprising British, French and Turkish soldiers administered a crushing defeat to the Russians. He was also engaged at the battle of Inkerman, when the Russians attacked the British camp.

In one of the many desperate skirmishes during that war, Major Templeton received a bullet wound in the forehead, which was feared would prove fatal, but a surgeon extracted the shattered bone and inserted a silver plate and the major recovered, the shot apparently leaving no ill effects.

At the close of the Crimean war he was given a medal by the Sultan of Turkey, and later he received long-service and good-conduct medals from the British government, and one from the Canadian government for good service in the Canadian militia.

He also served five years in the West Indies. About the time of the civil war Major Templeton was sent to New Brunswick by the British government to drill the militia and during the Fenian raid took a prominent part in the defence of the Dominion.

After many years of active service he settled in Chatham, where he was for eleven years superintendent of the Northumberland county almshouse.

The deceased was married twice and leaves a widow, a son, who lives in Boston, and a daughter in New York; and a brother private, John Templeton, who served twenty-one years in the British army, part of that time being spent in India.

NEW MILL WILL BE READY SOON

Flett Bros. New Mill at Nelson Nearly Ready For Work.

Mr. T. W. Flett, the bustling manager of Messrs. Flett Bros. Nelson has a large number of men employed at his new mill, which is to take the place of the one burned some time ago and it is expected that she will commence operations about June 15. Only part of the machinery will be installed this year, but when the mill is completed this firm will have one of the most up-to-date on the North Shore.

Many Herring Being Caught.

Thousands of Barrels Caught At Shippegan Last Week.

A despatch from Shippegan says that herring have been caught on the shores in abundance and very good catches were made about 5,000 barrels being stopped, and large quantities salted in bulk by lobster packers for bait, 300 bbls. were put into the freezer to be shipped, some packed in barrels for home consumption, and quantities utilized for fertilizing purposes. Lobsters have been very good the catches varying from 1000 to 1200. Collapsing boats came in this week for the first time this season with very good hauls, boats with crews of four men landing from 2000 to 3000 cod.

Fire insurance adjusters who are home from Woodstock report that the losses by the recent fire were all total with the exception of Smeagreen's drug store. There a large part of stock was saved, and the loss only amounted to about $1,000. —Globe.

RECORD SEASON FOR LUMBER.

Quantity Now in Miramichi Booms Nearly One Hundred Million.

RAFTING OPERATIONS

Many Men Now Hard at Work —River Completely Full of Logs.

Never in the history of Miramichi has the lumber outlook been so promising at present. It is expected that every stick cut last winter and what was hung up from last season will reach the booms, in fact the greater portion of it has reached the booms and rafting operations are well under way.

Already there are in the Southwest boom upwards of fifty million feet of lumber and it is estimated that between twenty and twenty-five million are yet to come.

On the Northwest the river is full of lumber and it is estimated that nearly twenty million feet are now in this boom and considerable more will come in this week.

This will make in round figures about one hundred million feet for this season, and it is quite possible that even this estimate may be exceeded when the rafting is completed.

The lumber cut for the northern country will be a record one this year and already there is at the booms at Campbellton as much lumber as came down during the whole of last season. This is not much more than half of the quantity that will be brought along when all the drives are in. At present the booms contain 75,000,000 feet of lumber and will be increased to a figure ranging between 125,000,000 and 150,000,000 before the lumbermen come in from the woods.

Among the big cogwheels at Campbellton which are handling a record output are the Wm. Richards Co., the Malouin Lumber Co., Moores, and Shivers.

The break in the booms at Restigouche has turned out not to be at all serious, the amount of lumber which floated away from the Restigouche Boom, Co's enclosures was not above 150,000 feet and the expense of gathering the logs together is the only loss entailed. The break was caused by a heavy wind and tide setting directly on the booms.

BISHOP KINGDON HAD ANOTHER BAD TURN

His Condition This Morning was Critical, but There has Since Been a Slight Improvement

Federicton, N. B. June 4.—About two o'clock this morning His Lordship Bishop Kingdon had another acute attack of heart failure. His Lordship had rallied somewhat since, but his condition is realized to be most critical. Nobody except the physician and nurse were allowed to enter His Lordship's room to-day, and the doctor said that everything as to the Bishop's recovery depended greatly upon the patient being kept perfectly quiet and not having any excitement. On Saturday His Lordship was not allowed to move his position one way or another all day long. The Bishop's pulse is steadier this afternoon.

ROYAL WEDDING AT MADRID.

Midst the Boom of Cannon and the Ringing of Bells.

MADRID, May 31.—The city awoke to-day under a cloudless sky with dazzling sunshine, adding its glories to the bewildering maze of color in which the streets were enveloped.

THE WEDDING

CORTEGE STARTED from the royal palace at 9.30 a. m. amid the ringing of church bells, the firing of artillery salutes and the clamorous enthusiasm of the crowds massed along the route. Ahead rode trumpeters in crimson velvet suits of Philip II sounding the approach of the royal party, following them came the personnel of the royal household, the heralds mounted on steeds of the royal stud and caparisoned in Oriental style, each led by a cadet of the Royal riding academy and the equestrian and grooms from the Royal stables, leading the King's favorite horses with gold embroidered saddle cloths and colored plumes, accompanied by pages and riding masters and all the bewildering equipment of a luxurious court.

Next came a long line of gala coaches of the Spanish grandes each of distinctive color with panels richly painted, gilded and jewelled and by magnificent horses in silver harness, adorned by tall plumes matching the livery. Within rode the nobility of Spain the men with their breasts covered with orders and the women in wedding attire.

But the brilliance of this part of the cortege was far surpassed when the famous Royal gala coaches came into view each drawn by eight white superb horses with golden and silver harness and lofty and colored plumes. On reaching the Chamber of Deputies the cortege came in sight of the church of St. Jeronimo Real which was magnificently adorned for the ceremony. Over the entrance was suspended an immense canopy of red and yellow velvet embroidered with Spanish escutcheons and supported on gold tipped lances. Awaiting the bridal party stood lines of halberdiers and palace guards.

11 a. m.—The bridal party has entered the church and the marriage ceremony is in progress.

11.10 a. m.—The royal cortege is returning to the palace. The crowds are greeting Victoria as Queen of Spain.

12.30 p. m.—King Alfonso and his bride left the church at 12.30 p. m. The announcement of the wedding, by the firing of artillery salutes was wildly acclaimed by the people.

TERRIBLE TRAGEDY AT ROYAL WEDDING.

Bomb Thrown at King and Queen on Return From Wedding.

MADRID, May 31.—Public rejoicing over the marriage of King Alfonso and the Princess Victoria had a terrible dramatic sequel at 2.30 this afternoon as a bomb thrown from an upper window exploded with deadly effect near the coach occupied by the King and Queen. Providentially King Alfonso and Queen Victoria escaped because of an electric wire deflecting the bomb, but at least 16 persons, most of them being of the personal and military escort, and the other spectators, were killed.

The procession had just passed through Mayo street and was about to turn into the Esplanade leading to the palace when the explosion occurred, throwing the cortege into inextricable confusion. The royal coach was brought to a sudden stop, the officers and soldiers of the escort falling to the ground about the quarry and horses that had been killed. The screams of the terrified multitude mingled with the groans of the dying. It was immediately seen that the royal coach was intact except as it had been damaged by flying splinters. King Alfonso immediately alighted and assisted Queen Victoria out of the carriage. Then they entered another coach and were driven swiftly to the palace. All happened so quickly that people away from the immediate vicinity were not aware of the tragedy and continued to acclaim their sovereigns. Soon, however, there appeared the empty royal coach with two horses missing and others shattered with blood, several of them bleeding from wounds. The grooms and drivers looked deathly pale in their spangled uniforms. The appearance of the King and Queen in a coach brought out delirious exclamations as the fact was recognized that the sovereigns had escaped. Intense excitement prevailed on the streets, the mob invading the thoroughfares while the forces of guards sought to maintain order. The bodies were wrapped in blankets and removed on litters, while the wounded were carried to the hospital in ambulances. The bomb was thrown from a second story of a boarding house. The chamber from which the missile was hurled was taken May 22, by a man from Barcelona, giving the name of Moran, the police which forms the stimulus that moves the crowd but was captured.

Beware of Mercury.

A favorite method of administering this deleterious drug is in catarrhic pills. Beware of "quick-result" articles, they may do more harm than good. Drastic cathartics will weaken the strongest. With all people they are a positive menace to life. Merely to restore normal bowels action and gently stimulate the liver is all that the wise physician recommends. To keep the system pure and clean, nothing is so efficacious as the vegetable pills of Dr. Hamilton which are composed of such herbs as mandrake, butterbur and dandelion; they contain not an atom of any substance that could injure even an infant.

By their certain action on the Liver Dr. Hamilton's Pills cause bile to be secreted which forms the stimulus that moves the bowels; this is nature's own method and the best one. M. R. Hamly, of French River, Ont., writes as follows: "I was inclined to believe articles and frequently was too ill to work. Most remedies purged and weakened my bowels, but Dr. Hamilton's Pills gently stimulated my liver, and by strengthening the stomach made a perfect cure. My health has been splendid since I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills from your druggist or storekeeper, 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1.00. By mail from N. C. ### A Labrador Settler Eaten by His Dogs.

Halifax, N. S., June 1.—William McKay, formerly of Halifax, now assistant manager of a lumber company in Labrador, is home on a vacation. Mr. McKay says that on his way home, while at Indian Harbor, Straits of Belleisle, he heard of a tragedy which had occurred there just previous to his arrival, when a man named Robt. Crumby had been killed and eaten by the dogs he was driving.

Crumby lived in a region several miles from firewood supplies, and he was on his way for a load, with a sled drawn by nine dogs. When out of sight of the village he had left, and about twenty minutes in advance of another dog team that was following, his dogs turned on him and tore him to pieces.

When the other team came up Crumby was dead. The pack were devouring him. So intent and fierce were the canines, Mr. McKay says, that two of them, before they would cease tearing at the human flesh had their heads stricken off with axes. Subsequently the dogs were all shot. The pack of dogs was known to be bad, and it was not customary for one man to go with them alone. Crumby on this occasion, however, did so, and the poor fellow perished. He was about 35 years old and unmarried.

Mr. McKay says that this kind of thing is quite frequent. Some time before John Kane, his wife and granddaughter, started for Nain, a Moravian settlement north of Gillispolis, but they were never heard of again and the supposition is that they got lost and were devoured by wolves or dogs.

THE SUDDEN DEATH OF CHARLES PALMER.

Chatham, May 31.—A sudden death, occurred at Tabusintac Saturday, Charles Palmer, a farmer, after attending to his usual morning duties at the barn entered the house in apparently his usual state of health, pulled off his boots and then cried to his wife, "I'm dying," she with her daughter, Jessie immediately ran to his assistance but before anything could be done for him, he expired. The deceased was a native of Prince Edward Island, from which at an early age he came to Tabusintac.

BRITISH OPINION SUPPORTS INVITATION TO THE KING

A Royal Visit to This Colony Would be of Great Historic Importance.

In an editorial article, the London Daily Telegraph strongly favors King Edward's acceptance of the invitation to visit Canada. The Daily Telegraph thinks the British public has not awakened to a full appreciation of the extraordinary interest of such an event, which would be likely to involve a visit to Washington and perhaps to New York.

The newspaper recognizes that possibly there are state reasons in the way of such a visit, but urges that "Canada is a living link between the American Republic and the British Empire, and that if it can be accomplished it would not be merely historic but memorable past all example in the record of Royal progresses."

THE INSURANCE INQUIRY.

The insurance inquiry is progressing rapidly, but whether it is as thorough as it is rapid will probably never be determined until the danger is made manifest by the leak. Mr. Ralston of the National Life was so modest as to be ashamed of the small salary he was getting as manager of his company. But such has not been the case with some of the larger companies. The National Life is still in short pants and at present he should be content with a little. Colonel W. C. McDonald, secretary and actuary of the Confederation Life Association gave a list of salaries paid. Col. Macdonald's rising from $2,500 in 1891 to $6,000 in 1905 was a very liberal increase for a poor man. A fixed sum for directors fees was appropriated and charged at intervals. In 1891 it was about $4000 but at the present time about $7,000. J. K. Macdonald got $15,000. He could live high on that amount, but it is somewhat short of the amount Mr. McCurdy received.

But concerning the whole inquiry, there is one thing of paramount importance and that is that it be thorough and exhaustive. There is no desirable secondary or incidental object of any kind that is worth gaining at the least expense of thoroughness. Of implicit objects many suggest themselves to the mind. It would be a matter of great satisfaction if the market value of securities could be saved from the impairing effects of the inquiry. It would be a very great detriment to the company but more especially to the policy holders if the assets of the insurance companies should be depreciated because of the sale at falling prices of bonds or stocks or other securities that should not have been invested in at all by the director. No one would wish to see a financial or other corporation put to any serious disadvantage by the throwing on the market of large blocks of securities that they have accumulated with sufficient warrant. On the other hand undeserved withdrawal of confidence from the insurance companies would be harmful. For the insured to let their policies lapse or the uninsured to refuse to be insured because there is an apparent or perhaps only an apparent tremor of weakness in insurance business would be very unfortunate indeed, but this should not allow the investigating committee for one instant to relax their energy in probing to the very foundation of the facts concerning the management and control of these great financial corporations. For the people who are affected are many. The insurance companies come in contact with the public generally and effect them individually. The commission, therefore is expected to get the truth and the public is entitled to the whole truth. It is not, however, necessary to add exaggerating circumstances to the inquiry to make it sufficiently searching. In so far as the desired incidental objects referred to can be promoted consistently with the main object the commission should have regard to them. It will be to their interests of everybody interested if the commission effect their object without loss of time. There should be no unnecessary delay or interruption. The commission is not a court where there are technicalities to baffle efforts to bring out facts. Neither is it a place where opposing counsel can shape the direction of the trial, the tribunal merely ruling on points of disputed law and procedure and settling the final balance between the cases which the contending lawyers have presented. The commission should keep the matter in hand, employ every short cut that goes to the heart of the question and get down the cold facts without loss of time. The grand object is to get the matter thoroughly sifted out and the next is to get it done in the shortest possible time, that reform may be engrafted and suspicions settled.

MICHAEL DAVIT.

As Michael Davit lay dying in Dublin, in London the Chief Secretary for Ireland was introducing a measure for the provision of some thirty thousand cottages for Irish laborers at a cost of $820 each. He has been spared to witness what has been for him a life long struggle and for this purpose and aid of which he organized and kept aloft the famous Land League.

Away back in the years of Famine in Ireland a few discussing ones had seen that continuous protest against the conditions under which the people cultivated the land in Ireland could be made to supply the motive power for the large political movement but not until Davitt's coming had there appeared a man capable of harnessing that power which was going to waste. Davitt did that when he organized the Land League away back in the Seventies. The sum of hopeless misery of the Irish peasants, the ever present fear of being obliged to choose between rack-rent and evictions from the homes of their fathers, was transmitted by Davitt's Land League into a force that palsied all government in Great Britain, carried two Home Rule Bills and a succession of Land Acts and is now expending itself in the transference of ownership of land in Ireland to the people who live upon that land.

Now that the smoke of many battles has blown away the redress of the Irish Land grievance stands out as the greatest work of the British Parliament and the greatest reform accomplished in any country in the last quarter of the nineteenth century. Michael Davitt will go down to history as the prophet and in a very great measure the instrument of that reform.

CANADA'S FOREIGN TRADE.

That the Foreign trade of Canada continues to exhibit a sound growth merits comment inasmuch as it is an insurance of commercial and industrial progress. On April 30th the total trade for the ten months of the current year had reached the enormous sum of $435,742,955 being an increase of very nearly $69,000,000 over that of the corresponding period of last year. The exports of agricultural products, animals and other products, products of the forests, fisheries and mines as well as manufactures are largely increased in volume and amount. Such a showing is pregnant with promises for the future and cannot fail to have an excellent effect upon the whole country, as it indicates not only increased productions but keeps within the country large sums of money which would otherwise go elsewhere. When to the export is added the large amount required for home consumption and which is increasing from year to year the utmost confidence in the ability of the producers of the Dominion should prevail. The indications of continued activity in commerce, manufactures and agriculture are highly encouraging pointing to the fulfilment of Canada's evident destiny as an important storehouse for the needs of the countries of the world.

THE ROYAL MARRIAGE.

The development of cordial international relations between Great Britain and Spain should be the result of the marriage of Princess Ena to King Alfonso. These relations had become somewhat strained during the Spanish-American war and this natural outcome of an auspicious dynastic alliance will be welcomed in all parts of the British Empire. The four latin nations in the south of Europe have been gradually drawing themselves into a closer alliance with each other and the same has been the case of the three Scandinavian nations in the north. King Edward who is a persona grata to all of them, will be more than ever a bond of union, and is thus in his own person a material guarantee for the peace of Europe.

STIFF SENTENCES

Not many persons in New Brunswick or in Canada for that matter, have suffered because of train robbers. With many other crimes the country is much more familiar. But train robbing in Canada produces a shock throughout the country. Everywhere one hears hearty approval of the punishment meted out—life imprisonment for two of the robbers, twenty-five years for the third.

The approval is both natural and warranted. But while the train robbers deserve all the punishment they are to receive, do we punish other offenses in proportion—homicide in its various degrees, horsebreaking, embezzlement, forgery, felonious assault attempts at murder? "There will not be much more train robbing on this side of the boundary" is doubtless a common remark today. Very true. But if stiff sentences, such as the laws provide, will deter men from robbing trains, will not such sentences prevent the commoner crimes? We may believe it; but the record does not indicate it. Justice was swift, sure, impressive, in this case. Delay was minimized. The public mind was still full of the exploit when the court set in judgment. The country applauds and with reason. But why do we not give less picturesque criminals some of the same strong medicine with as little delay?—Ex.

GOOD WORK.

In the House of Commons a few days ago Mr. Lemieux, Solicitor General, in reply to an enquiry, said eight hundred and ninety-one prisoners had been liberated from Canadian penitentiaries on ticket of leave since the law went into operation seven years ago, and only seventy-eight had to be taken back. This is a splendid tribute to the efficacy of the system which has been employed. Year after year the work of the parole officer is being enlarged. In 1899-93 seventy-two convicts were paroled in 1900-01 the number was one hundred and seventy-five. It increased to two hundred and seventy-eight in 1902-3. In 1903-5 the number was one hundred and eighty-nine, and in the last fiscal year it was two hundred and twenty-two. All these were not from penitentiaries; many were from "jails and reformatories." It is noteworthy that who's seven per cent. of the paroled convicts were re-committed, because they did not comply with the conditions of their release, only two per cent. were sent to prison for committing crime while on parole. This is a small number, all things considered. No doubt, the number is small because the efforts of the parole officer do not cease with obtaining the release of the man who is considered likely to become a good citizen. Before the convict leaves the prison employment has been arranged for him, and he starts off with an opportunity to retrieve himself. Mr. Archibald, the Dominion parole officer, pointing out that it costs $254 a year to support each convict in the penitentiary, shows that by the release on ticket of leave of two hundred and twenty-two men in the last fiscal year a large amount of money was saved to the state, while at the same time the men became producers and supported themselves and their families. Altogether, it can be fairly claimed the parole system has been a success in every way—in its inception and the manner it is carried out, and in its benefit to the convict and to the country.—Globe.

Victoria Day was well observed here. A number of picnics took place, nearly every place of interest having a party of pleasure seekers. All of the stores and offices were closed.

Mr. A. Gallant entertained at her home a number of young people very pleasantly on the evening of the 24th. Dancing was the chief amusement.

The local newspaper, as a rule spends endless time, space and energy in booming the town, and yet some of the merchants and business men seem to begrudge it a little patronage, beat down prices and in many cases give their work to outside firms. There is no local enterprise which should be so willingly or substantially supported as a local paper, however humble. It is not so big as a city paper, and the keen bargainer who wants to get a reduced rate never fails to point out that he gets more paper for his money in the city daily, but the little local sheet fills a place which the city daily never does nor ever can. It is not a rare thing to hear some narrow-minded individual sneer in derision at the local paper and point out its defects. Well it has defects and plenty of them no doubt, but as a rule it represents the community pretty accurately in this respect as in others.

CURING FISH AT CARAQUET

Scottish Method of Curing Herring Being Taught 'The Fishermen.

An attempt is being made in Caraquez this year to introduce the Scotch method of curing herring. For this purpose the government has procured the services of Mr. John Cowie, the experienced and well known herring curer and fisherman of Scotland. Through the instrumentality of Mr. O. Turgoon, Gloucester's representative at Ottawa, Mr. Cowie has been ordered to the Baie de Chaleur, where he has spent the spring and will spend the summer giving lessons to the fishermen in catching, curing and packing herring. Mr. Cowie has brought with him an assistant and six young girls who it seems are adepts in the art of curing and packing. In Scotland it is said, the men catch the herring while the packing and curing is left wholly in the hands of the women. Mr. Cowie has been established in Caraquez over three weeks, and is very well satisfied with his work, so far. He has caught and packed a number of barrels of spring herring, and is thus in a position to judge of its value and worth. This herring which the North Shore fishermen thought fit for fertilizing purposes only, Mr. Cowie, and he is a competent judge, pronounces good, marketable fish, not inferior to that caught in Scotland and sold for $17 to $20 per barrel in the German and Russian markets.

To ensure the success of this experiment the government purpose to have the fish properly tested in the markets of Europe, and a report of its sale drawn up and published. Its success will mean to the parish of Caraquez alone a revenue of $10,000 to $15,000 yearly.

Resolved: That we thus unite with the members of the community at large in the expression of our sorrow at the loss of an upright and honorable man, a genial friend and a useful citizen.

Resolved: That we deeply sympathize with the bereaved family of our departed friend and brother; and further

Resolved:—That the Vestry Clerk be authorized to enter these resolutions in the minutes of this meeting, publish them in The Canadian Churchman and local newspapers, and to forward a copy to the widow and family of Mr. Burchill.

CHATHAM NEWS.

Chatham, June 4.—A. H. Barker, of Toronto, secretary of Presbyterian Volunteer Union for foreign missions, addressed a meeting in St. John's church Thursday evening and afterwards organized a mission study class. Mr. Barker will speak on the same subject at meetings in Millerton, Derby and Chelmsford this week.

At a meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening a report from the directors was submitted. It was decided that the necessary repairs on the meeting room would be made at once. A large number of membership tickets were sold.

The Miramichi Lumber Company's saw mill was closed here Friday and Saturday on account of the absence of Ald. Morris, who was called to St. John by the illness of his mother, Mrs. Michael Morris.

A meeting of the Y. M. C. A., to which all men were invited, was held in the old St. John's church Sunday afternoon. The building was crowded, there being about 150 present. Rev. J. Morris MacLean presided, and in a few words opened the meeting, emphasizing the fact that the united energy of the members was essential to the success of the association. The meeting was most enthusiastic. No collection was taken and the Sunday afternoon meetings will be free for all men. There are already about seventy members.

Capt. Ritchie of Provincial R. Q., St. John, Capt. Glen, of Newcastle, and Capt. McWilliam of Kent Co., assisted by Miss Grace Wright of Newcastle, are holding a series of Salvation army meetings in Kent County. Capt. McWilliam is a native of that county, and Mrs. Wright is quite well known to Kent having traveled here with E. L. Anderson and others—Review.

KINGMAN TANNERY BURNED ON THURSDAY

Building Which at One Time Received Much Attention at Last Destroyed.

On Thursday morning the old Kingman tannery, a building at Kingman, Me., which some years ago was prominent in United States court affairs, as well as in the newspapers of New Brunswick and Maine, was burned to the ground. How the fire started has not yet been learned. The building was a large one of four or five stories, and as it burned, the whole country side for miles around was lighted up with a lurid glare, while the roar of the flames could be heard long distances from the spot where the tannery stood. The Kingman tannery was built in the seventies by a firm of Shaw Brothers, who prepared to do business on a large scale. The prospect of so successful an industry as the Kingman tannery gave promise of being led to quite an increase in the population of the village. New houses sprang up, and it seemed as if the growth and continued prosperity of Kingman was assured. But the Shaw's failed to conduct their business on profit making lines, and were succeeded by a company formed by a man named Clark. This company soon found itself facing trouble, because it was claimed the process of liquid hemlock tanning which was being used at the tannery had been patented by some of the Millers, of Derby, N. B., who thus had the sole right to make use of it. The matter went to the courts and a bitter fight took place. After dragging on for several years the case was won by the Millers. The tannery was not long in operation after this decision was given. Since then it has served merely as a monument to past days, and whatever of prosperity has come to Kingman has been due to other causes than the tannery.—Globe.

TO ADVERTISE THE NORTH SHORE

The Advocate and Events Will Issue an Illustrated Edition
This Summer.

The publishers of the Advocate and Campbellton Events have decided to issue another illustrated edition after the style of the one issued in 1902. The cover will be printed in three or more colors and the interior pages will be well illustrated. It has been decided to combine both the tourist, sporting and industrial features of this section of the country and articles on the resources of the North Shore will be included.

The publishers hope to have the encouragement and support of all the towns in this territory as all will be asked to supply material for its pages and will be dealt with impartially as this is to be a grand North Shore number.

The edition will comprise 10,000 copies and will be of exceptional value as an advertising medium and all interested in the advancement of trade or the introduction of new industries are asked to assist the undertaking. A large amount of work and expense is entailed in the production of such a work, but a great amount of good will result from its publication. Advertisers desiring space should apply at an early date as already considerable space has been let.

STOP, WOMAN!

AND CONSIDER
THE ALL-
IMPORTANT FACT

That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private life to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers a great many years.

Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for many years under her direction, and since her decease, she has been advising sick women free of charge.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probable examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice.

When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health so many women, you cannot well say, without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me."

Resting a Model.

Many artists have the reputation of being inexorable in their demands upon the model's strength. A characteristic example appears in an anecdote of the late Adolphe Menzel, the German painter, who at one time was engaged on a work of mural decoration and kept a man posed in an exceedingly fatiguing position on a scaffold for two hours. The great painter worked away, heedless of his model's discomfort. Finally the victim called down, "Herr Professor, how about the recess?"

"Certainly, my dear sir. Come down right away, and you shall have your recess."

As the model was descending from the scaffolding his limbs assumed a position which was one for which the artist had long been looking.

"Stop!" Menzel thundered. "Hold! Ah, fine! Keep that while I make a little sketch of it!"

The artist drew vigorously for half an hour, at the end of which he called out imperatively: "There, that will do for now. Get up on the scaffold again. We have had our recess."

The Town's Crooked Dividing Line.

"There is a reason for most everything," said a Cumberland county man when he was asked how in the world they came to have such a crooked line between two towns in his county. "There's a reason for this crooked line. You see, some of our towns established in pioneer times, when land was abundant and people were few, had a big territory, which was afterward sliced off to make new towns. It was so in the case you mention, and when the cut off was made people along the line of division were of different minds as to which town they wanted to be in. So the legislature drew a straight line between the two parts and then provided that persons dwelling on lands adjoining either side of this line might be in one town or the other, as they should decide within ninety days after passing the act. Some went one way and some the other, and the line was all skewed up to accommodate them."

Boarding Houses, Take Note.

In view of the part that electricity plays in our modern life it is amusing to recall that when Benjamin Franklin evolved the lightning conductor he was called to account by certain individuals for sacrilege in "attempting to divert the Almighty's lightning."

Restaurant proprietors and boarding house keepers have apparently overlooked a valuable hint which Dr. Franklin afforded them, as follows: He took an ancient rooster and killed it by a powerful shock from one of his Leyden jars. When subsequently the bird was served at his table "its flesh was found to be as tender as that of a young partridge," or so he declares. This is one of the discoveries which should make the name of Franklin forever honored.

The Sultan's Kiosk.

In every city of the Ottoman empire there is a kiosk set apart for the sultan, who never even sees it. These palatial abodes are built of rare marbles and finished in fine woods, enameled in silver and gold, with mirrors and lustres from Vienna, mosaics from Florence and Rome, and are nominally guarded by major domos, who live there in royal ease and luxury unparalleled. Hundreds of millions of francs are thus squandered, while not a sou is spent in making roads, fertilizing valleys or constructing ports.

Golden Nose.

Tycho Brahe, the famous Danish mathematician, was known as the "Wizard of the Golden Nose." While at the university he lost his nose in a duel and replaced it with a nasal organ of gold, held in place by cement and a pair of spectacles. This addition to his countenance gave him a very peculiar appearance and caused him to be much feared by the common people, who attributed to him many supernatural powers, largely on account of his remarkable nose.

Tasmanian Girls.

For many years Tasmania has been known as the "Circassia of the colonies," a tribute to the exceptional loveliness of its young women. There have been Tasmanian peeresses, but the pretty Tasmanian girls are mostly in demand as barmaids for Sydney and Melbourne. Some years ago it was elicited in evidence at an official inquiry in Melbourne that Tasmanian barmaids command double the ordinary wages for this kind of work.

Two Goat Islands.

Here is an extraordinary coincidence: The island lying between the American fall and the Canadian fall at Niagara is called Goat Island. What is now called Livingstone Island at the Victoria falls in Africa is called Kempongo by the natives, and this signifies "goat island."

Patents in France.

The French government makes no official examination of the device for which a patent is asked and requires no models.

Lizards Like Music.

Lizards, it is well known, are attracted by the notes of music, and the negroes in the island of Madeira, when catching them for food, accompany the chase by whistling some tune, which invariably has the effect of drawing great numbers toward them.

The Tyrian Era.

The "Tyrian era," which prevailed extensively in Syria for many ages, began Oct. 19, B. C. 125. It commemorated the independence of Tyre from the yoke of the Syrian kings.

The Throne of Thunder.

Mungo Mami Lobe, the throne, or place of thunder, as the natives call it, the peak of Kamerun, as the whites call it, is the highest point on the western side of the African continent. The first view the voyager gets of it who, coming from the northward, has been coasting for weeks along low shores and up the stagnant rivers, fringed with mangrove swamp, is a thing no man can ever forget. Suddenly, right up out of the sea, the great mountain rises to its 13,700 feet, while close at hand, to westward, towers the lovely island mass of Fernando Po to its 10,190 feet, and great as is its first charm every time you see it it becomes greater, although it is never the same. Five times I have been in the beautiful bay at its foot and have never seen it twice alike. Sometimes it is wreathed with indigo black tornado clouds, sometimes crested with snow, sometimes standing out hard and clear, as though made of metal, and sometimes softly gorgeous, with green, gold, purple and pink vapors tinted by the sunset—London Mail.

A Frying Reform.

A Presbyterian clergyman of New York with two popular daughters has discovered a new way to end the visits of their beaux at a seamy hour—a plan which might appeal to lay families as well. For a number of years it has been a custom of this good man to hold evening worship after supper, always concluding the prayer with a short discourse. Things went very well until the daughters began to receive the attentions of young men and begged off or stole away to make their evening toilets. Then the minister changed the devotional hour until 10 in the evening. This reform created an upheaval, but the father insisted, and at the stroke of 10 the visiting young men are now left one alternative—either to leave or join with the family in prayer—and it has proved a severe test of their devotion for the daughters when those not prayerfully inclined stick it out, sermon and all.

The Good Fellow.

The treasurer of a church temperance society told of a temperance meeting a dramatic story.

"A woman entered the barroom," he said, "and advanced quietly to her husband, who sat drinking with three other men. She placed a covered dish on the table and said:

"'Thinkin' y'd be too busy to come home to supper, Jack, I've fetched it to you here.'"

"And she departed. He invited his friends to share the meal with him. Then he removed the cover from the dish.

"The dish was empty. It contained a slip of paper that said:

"'I hope you will enjoy your supper. It is the same as your wife and children have at home.'"

Coffee-Tea.

Coffee-tea is the common beverage of the natives of Java and Sumatra. When required for infusion the coffee leaves are gathered fresh from the trees and are dried in a pan over a slow fire until they are light brown. They are then put into a teapot, boiling water is poured over them, and the infusion is drunk with milk and sugar. It seems the general opinion that coffee should come in contact with metal as little as possible. The Viennese people prefer a glass bottle to a canister for storing, and Brazilians use earthenware in preference to a metal pot for making.

Antelopes Choose the Open.

The antelope lives always in open country, unlike members of the deer family, which invariably prefer a thick, dense forest. They cannot be driven into a thicket or thicket of brush, but will literally turn about and run over a pursuer, if necessary, rather than be forced into cover. If they are ever obliged to pass by or through such places for food and water, they take a great deal of time to do so, as if they were determined to see everything that could be seen en route.—H. H. Cross in Century.

The Great Lakes.

Lake Superior is the deepest of the great lakes, showing by soundings 1,008 feet in at least one place. Michigan stands second, with 100 feet less. Huron and Ontario are about 750 in the deepest parts, while Lake Erie is but 204. Vast areas of Lake Erie will not show a depth exceeding 80 feet. The bottom of Lake Michigan is 400 feet above sea level.

An Odd Verdict.

A jury in Lindsey, Lincolnshire, England, after being out some time on a case of alleged false pretences, returned to court and said, "We can't bring him in guilty and don't like to say he is not guilty." They were sent back and in fifteen minutes reached this verdict, "We find him guilty, but not with intent." The prisoner was discharged.

Blackmail.

"Mamma," said five-year-old Margie, "I'll make a bargain with you."

"What kind of a bargain, dear?" asked her mother.

"If you'll give me a penny every day to buy candy with," replied the small diplomat, "I'll not tell any one you have false teeth."

The Due to Be Pleased.

"No," said Peckham, "we never have boiled ham at our house any more."

"Why," replied Newitt, "I thought you were very fond of it."

"So I am, but my wife's pet dog won't eat it at all."

Bread baking is merely putting flour in appetizing form.

Flour making is merely putting the nutritious part of wheat in shape for bread making.

giving the effect of an oil painting or whole as cut fish, with the real thing to

FIRE SWEEPS OVER
WOODSTOCK TOWN

Large Amount of Property Destroyed Wednesday Morning.

WOODSTOCK, N. B., May 30.— Woodstock has again been visited by a serious fire, covering just the same area almost as was badly swept four years ago. This time the fire has done its work even more thoroughly.
Then the frames of the buildings were left standing, this morning the fire swept everything practically clean
from the corner of Main and Connell streets to the building occupied by the Sheagreen Drug Company and Wilson & Company's photo saloon, which while raked by fire and water, and the top burned off partially, stand.

It was about three o'clock when one of the night watchmen discovered the fire. The flames were issuing from a point between the Wilson
shop in the Payson building, above
the grocery store of Holyoke & Brown.
It had made such headway that it was impossible to get upstairs and by the time the alarm was rung in it was almost impossible for the firemen to have any effect. The flames swept up along the buildings and it was soon seen that the best that could be done was to attempt to save the stock in the stores. This was rendered the more difficult, as the smoke permeated the whole district so densely that it was next to impossible to work with any advantage. In most cases that which was saved was little, the losses
being very heavy.

I doubt if he will take it.

ASSASSINATION
ATTEMPTED

Russian Governor General Had Narrow Escape.

BORJOM, Transcaucasia, May 30.
—An attempt was made on the life of Gen. Alikhanoff, Governor General of Kutis, last night, as he was about to take a train for Tiflis. The general arrived at the station surrounded by an escort of Cossacks, when two bombs were thrown at him and exploded in the midst of the party, seriously wounding Alikhanoff, a member of his staff, and several Cossacks. The remainder of the Cossacks immediately formed up and fired into the crowd killing many persons. In addition the Cossacks burned to the ground the buildings in the vicinity into which the people had fled.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 30.—
Gen. Alikhanoff, the "pacifier" of Kutis province, is the most hated man in the Caucasus. For several months last fall the government was completely in the hands of the revolutionists, they being in full possession of the railroad
from the Black Sea to Sarum tunnel,
which they had blown up in January.
Alikhanoff dispatched a column of Cossacks, who crossed the mountains, and with fire and sword laid waste the fertile Rion Valley.
The general announced that at the first town reached he proposed to make the people's grandchildren remember his name. His vengeance was horrible.
Hundreds of the inhabitants were slaughtered by the soldiers and others were executed. Many of the men were driven into the mountains and the women were given to the Cossacks.
Fifty villages were wiped out. The atrocities committed attracted the attention of the whole country and were the subject of bitter complaints.

Keep Minard's Liniment in the house.

Spanking as a Punishment.

Judge O'Connor, of Utica, New York, has adopted an original mode of punishment for juvenile offenders. He had been in the habit of dismissing boys who were brought up before him in the hope that the parents of the culprits would use the parental discipline as an incentive to reform. But Judge O'Connor found that once free from court the boys generally managed to escape punishment. He grew tired of this, and a few days ago when seven lads were brought before him for stealing, he decided to do the spanking himself. The judge took a flat legal file, made of hardwood, and in the old fashioned way spanked each of the seven boys.
They all cried, and when the operation was ended, were sent away with a warning that they would get harder next time.
The mothers of the boys stood around watching the proceedings. Six of them applauded, but the seventh prayed whisperly while the yell of the boy ascended.

Ask for Minard's and take no other

But argued the young man, you know that two can live on what it costs to support one.

That settles your case, growled her father. Nobody fool enough to accept that statement could earn a living for one.

Are you feeling very ill? asked the physician. Let me see your tongue please.

It's no use doctor, replied the patient no tongue can tell how bad I feel.

That millionaire baby up in Fifth

No, dough, dough!

LORD'S DAY ACT
AMENDMENTS.

Work of Necessity.—Clauses Regarding This Point Considerably Broadened.

The result of the meetings which have taken place between the Minister of Justice and Mr. R. U. Mc-Pherson, counsel for the Sabbath Observance Association, will be the submission of a series of amendments for consideration of the special committee who have the Lord's Day bill in charge. The most important amendments relate to transportation Trains or steamers carrying freight which have begun their journey on a week day will be allowed to proceed unmolested. Express matter can also be transported, and where it consists of perishable fruit the necessary icing of cars can be done in order to keep it in good condition. The feeding of or caring for live stock in transit and on arrival will also be considered a work of necessity on Sunday. When snowstorms occur on Sunday railway companies will be at liberty to clear their lines in order to insure continuous operation. Shunting and other necessary yard work will be permitted before 6 in the morning and after 9 at night. Where an ocean liner has been delayed by storms in reaching port and Sunday labor is vital in order to reach the English market on her return trip within schedule time no obstacle will be placed in the way. These proposed concessions with respect to transportation, to which the representatives of Sunday observance have consented, are very liberal and practically meet all the objections which have been urged by the railway, steamship and express companies.

It is likely that the committee will eliminate the section in the bill making certain exceptions in the case of the Province of Quebec, and instead provide that anything now permitted by the Provincial statutes shall not be interfered with. The bill as originally drafted permitted "urgent repairs" in case of manufacturing industries. The committee will be asked to omit the word "urgent."
Repairs in case of emergency will then be permissible. It is also suggested that repairs to furnaces be permitted in a manufactory where cessation of operation would result in serious injury. Publication of Sunday newspapers and their importation from the United States will be prohibited.
Work on Sunday night in the interests of newspapers appearing on Monday morning will not be interfered with.

Tank Collapses on Roof of Adams

& Co. Building—Deluge of Wat- er With Broken Glass Injured

Many Clerks and Patrons.

New York, May 29.—By the collapse of a tank on the roof of the Adams & Co's dry goods store in Sixth Avenue, followed by a panic among customers and clerks, nearly a score of persons, mostly women, were more or less seriously injured this afternoon.

The store was crowded with customers when the tank, owing to the giving way of supports, toppled over on a dome skylight covering a central court, precipitating 10,000 gallons of water and a shower of broken glass on the main floor. A number of clerks and customers were cut by fragments of glass and other debris, and a panic ensued in which hundreds of women fought in frenzied efforts to reach the street. In the rush many were knocked down and trampled on,
and scores had their clothing torn and lost pocket books, hats and parcels.
No one, however, was so seriously injured as to require removal to a hospital.

WHAT
Fruit-a-tives

OR "FRUIT LIVER TABLETS" ARE

Fruit-a-tives are the marvels of modern medicine. They have accomplished more actual cures—done more good to more people—than any other medicine ever introduced in Canada for the time they have been on sale.

Fruit-a-tives are fruit juices. They are nature's cure for

—CONSTIPATION
—BILIOUSNESS
—BAD STOMACH
—DYSPEPSIA
—HEADACHES
—IMPURE BLOOD
—SKIN DISEASES
—KIDNEY TROUBLE
—RHEUMATISM
—IRRITATED HEART

Fruit-a-tives are the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes. These juices are concentrated—and by a secret process, the juices are combined in a peculiar manner. This new combination is much more active medicinally than fruit juices—yet so perfect is the union that Fruit-a-tives act on the system as if they were in truth a natural fruit, medicinally stronger than any other known fruit.

To this combination of fruit juices,
tonics and internal antiseptics are added,
and the whole made into tablets.
These are Fruit-a-tives—sold everywhere for 50c a box or 6 boxes for $2.50.

Relations of Mother Country and Colonies.

Winston Churchill Thinks the Colonial Conference Will do Good.

London, Eng., June 1.—At the Australian banquet, Winston Churchill said he was looking forward to the colonial conference as occasion when all should express that strong growing feeling of sympathy with the agreement that prevails between the mother country and the colonies.

I needn't tell you that the conference will be free and unfettered and will have only one object from its inception to its separation, and that is to extend and develop everything that makes for the larger unity of the empire and to eliminate everything which might cause division or dissatisfaction.

It has been suggested that the conference must necessarily in some respects be barren, but it is not so as there are a dozen questions relating to law, strategy, trade communication, education and science, any one of which is well worth the collective intelligence of the representatives of the empire. One thing which we hope will receive some discussion, is the question of what we will call "intercolonial preference."

He suggested that the colonies should identify themselves with any English political party. Sir Wilfred Laurier had said that if the component parts of the empire did not come closer together, they would drift further apart, but they were coming closer together and the Liberal party was in earnest in its desire to maintain friendly relations with the colonies.

The practice of throwing paper about the streets is not only an untidy one, but a dangerous one as well. Horses are often frightened by flying paper, and to see it littered about the roadways is not a very inviting spectacle. The habit of depositing paper where one pleases is reprehensible, and should be checked.

Who caught the first salmon? It is said there is some doubt about the matter this year. Mr. Wm. Sproul, proprietor of the Royal, went to Flatlands, on the 24th and brought home a salmon with him which he claimed was the first of the season. It has been said that the salmon was taken in Flatlands by the wiley hotel man in the morning but this he stoutly denies.—Events
