THE GUN PICNIC A BIG SUCCESS

When it was proposed to hold a big picnic in Hartland for the purpose of raising money to purchase a machine gun the most optimistic never dreamed of the success which resulted from the event of last Thursday. The several committee, however, went to to work with a will and the result of their labors has been one of the biggest days Hartland has had for many years, as well as the gathering in of sufficient shekels to buy the gun, with a good margin over to be applied to some other form of the patriotic movement.

There were over 1500 paid admissions to the grounds and the various schemes for separating a man from his money did a thriving business. The big swing with its horse power never stopped from early morning till late at night. The bowling alleys, shooting gallery, dolls, cane rack, lifting and punching machines, all had their devotees and helped to swell the stream of coin which now reposes in the bank waiting its final disposal.

But the "piece de resistance" was the long line of tables presided over by the women of Hartland and the outlying parishes.
Here was served up food fit for the gods, and from this source alone was gathered in the sum of $578.81.

The Women's Institute had a booth from which was auctioned all manner of things, both useful and ornamental. Adjoining was a flower stand presided over by young ladies whose duty it was to see that all were provided with bouquets—for a price.

The band was present in the afternoon and evening and rendered some choice music.

In the evening there was a very creditable display of fireworks which were much enjoyed.
Everybody was happy—even a couple of heavy showers failed to dampen the ardor of those intent on having a good time, and by the same token helping a good cause.

The lottery of two handsome cakes, which was in charge of Mrs. H. B. Boyer, brought in $17.50. By an error one of the cakes had been sold at the auction and had to be repurchased at an advance on the auction price in order that there would be no appearance of a shady transaction.

The financial statement of Secreas. M. L. Hayward, showing the results of the labors of the different committees, is given elsewhere.

In the afternoon F. B. Carvell, M. P., and Donald Munroe, M.
L. A., gave brief patriotic addresses and in the evening Lt. Brooks of the 55th Battalion made an eloquent and able appeal for recruits, with the result that six of Carleton county's young men came forward and signed the service roll for overseas duty. They were: Claude Estabrooks, Coldstream; Harold Hall, Ashland; Clifford Dickinson, Windsor; Edward B. Sewell, East Coldstream; Humphrey Bubar, Upper Brighton; Lee Dyer, Carlisle. These will join the regiment at Valcar-tier. Later in the evening some three or four others enlisted for home service.

The baseball match between Hartland and Florenceville was hotly contested despite the downpour of rain. Hartland was the winner, the score standing 5 to 3.

The tugs of war were very exciting, but on account of the condition of the ground after the rain the finals were not pulled off.

counties as being the banner county for oats and this year promises to excel any other in that crop.

Miss Maude Commins of this place left on Wednesday to attend school at Chatham.

The work on the new mill is progressing well, baring an accident in raising the smoke stack when by some means it fell in course of erecting. Fortunately no one was injured, but the smoke stack was damaged considerably.

Edward McSheffry has his new house well underway and will add much to the appearance of that part of the town.

NOT ENOUGH CHILDREN

ever receive the proper balance of food to sufficiently nourish both body and brain during the growing period when nature's demands are greater than in mature life. This is shown in so many pale faces, lean bodies, frequent colds, and lack of ambition.

For all such children we say with unmistakable earnestness: They need Scott's Emulsion, and need it now. It possesses in concentrated form the very food elements to enrich their blood. It changes weakness to strength; it makes them sturdy and strong and active.

DON'T MARKET YOUR POTATOES TOO EARLY

Throughout Carleton and Victoria counties rust has damaged the potato crop to a considerable extent. The cool weather, however, is having a good effect and the ravages from that cause will be largely abated.

The potato acreage is not nearly so large as last year, and fields that have been dug show that the yield is not that of last year, although it is a fair average. It is too early by several weeks to begin digging, and the more prosperous farmers will not dig for market until the middle of the month or later, unless bad cases of rot make it necessary to save what they can.

The prospect for a market is brighter than last year this time. The acreage has been decreased in all Canadian potato growing districts except the far west. Besides planting less, Ontario farmers are suffering a shortage in production of 40 to 50 per cent, due to wet weather and rot. They are now getting through digging and have every available market flooded with their stock, very little of which is in really marketable condition. It would be a dangerous experiment if local shippers tried to break in on the Montreal and Toronto market at this date. By no possible means could the tubers reach their destination in any better condition than those being pushed on the market by Ontario. City jobbers could quite reasonably form the idea that all New Brunswick stock was in as bad way as the Ontario production. Such would result from too early digging. If the potatoes are allowed to remain in the ground until they become hardy and firm, they will create a favorable impression and certainly bring a higher price than they will at the present time. A prominent shipper informs The Observer that the best price that could be offered now would be barely more than 70 cents, but he did not intend to offer either to purchase or sell any potatoes for two or three weeks. He felt reasonably sure that at that time he could offer 80 cents, while with the clearing out of the immature and rotting stock with which Ontario has glutted the markets the prospect of an immediate raise would seem good.

There is a fair chance of getting into the Cuban and West India markets when the weather becomes cooler, but Washington advices are altogether discouraging as to getting in on the American market. It seems that all Canada is now barred.

Time will show that the wisest farmers shall have deferred digging as long as the potatoes will permit. They will not be in a hurry to rush the market. To such farmers as are in urgent need of immediate funds, most dealers would likely prefer to advance cash rather than take stock just yet.

Alban W. Estabrooks

One of the best known residents in this section passed away on Friday in the death of Alban W. Estabrooks of Coldstream, at which place he was born 73 years ago. He had been in failing health for some time and his death was not unexpected. His wife, who was Louisa J. Everett, died a number of years ago, and of his children there are living Enoch, Ralph and Mrs. S. S. Page of Coldstream. The late S. N. Estabrooks was a brother and Mrs. A. H. Hayward of Florenceville was a sister.

For many years Mr. Estabrooks carried on a general store and kept the post office at Coldstream, and was also a justice of peace. He became very well known throughout a wide territory.

He was prominent in the affairs of the local Baptist church and he gave the Liberal party his life-long support.

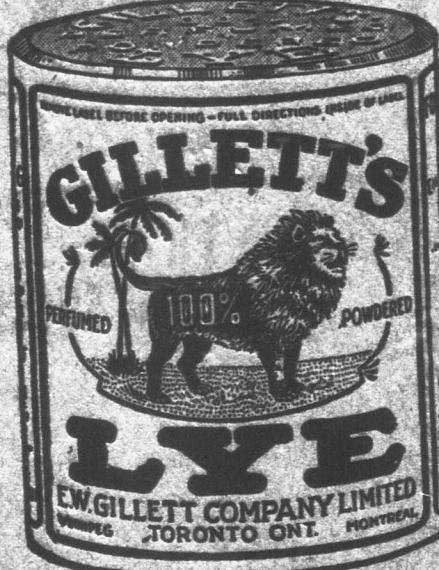

The funeral was held on Sunday, the sermon being preached by Rev. I. L. VanWart. A large gathering of friends met to pay last respects.

Political Developments

When Premier Returns

Ottawa, Aug. 28.—There is much speculation around the capital regarding the developments which will follow the return of Premier Borden. It is believed in some circles that a general election will be planned before conditions for the party become worse, the alternatives being an extension of the life of the present parliament until after the war of the coalition government.

GILLETT'S LYE EATS DIRT

It is expected that the return of the minister of militia will be followed by the authorization of an increase in the number of troops under arms from 150,000 to 200,000.

'Twas No Picnic For Them

A group of young people from some distance back in the country came to the picnic but weren't having a very good time. The girls were neatly dressed with modest taste, yet they seemingly felt out of place. One was heard to remark: "I ain't going back on that ground again. Them girls stare at you so scornfully it makes us think we ain't got no right to be there." The young lady's escort, who was a husky farmer youth and nobody's fool, championed the girl's contention and remarked on his own behalf: "No, and I ain't goin' there to blow no more o' my money. They'll call you a piker if you don't spend and a fool if you do. Let's go home." They went, still looking a little green, but they were no fools.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Cataract.
Cataract is a disease of the eye that most people regard with horror. To them it is irremediable blindness. As the disease progresses and the vision decreases they become alarmed and are quite positive they are going blind for life. The trouble is they do not know the nature of the disease. What they should know is that the disease is such that there will be a progressive loss of sight until a certain stage is reached, after which it will be possible by a delicate, but not especially dangerous, operation to restore the sight. In only a very small percentage of cases does the eye become blind. In the great majority of cases a high degree of useful sight is obtained, and in some a condition approaching normal vision results. In fact, cataract is one of the most favorable eye diseases which cause loss of sight, and a patient whose failing sight cannot be remedied by glasses should halt this diagnosis with relief instead of horror. Persons suffering from cataract should pay no attention to quack doctors and "cataract cures." Glasses will do no good, while lotions may do great harm. They should early consult a reputable oculist and should put their case into his hands. They should not by any means delay treatment as the success of the operation depends much on this point.

Rifles of the Armies.

Each army now fighting in Europe uses a rifle different from that used by each of the others. The Russians have the longest rifle, the French the longest bayonet, while the Austrians use the heaviest bullet. The rifles with the largest calibers are those of the French and the Austrians. The German rifle attains the greatest muzzle velocity. The British have the shortest rifle, but with the bayonet added the weapon is longer than the rifle and bayonet of the Belgians and Austrians.

Life Unbearable from Indigestion Health Restored by "Fruit-a-tives"

MELIE C. GAUDREAU

Rochester P.Q., Jan. 14th, 1915.

"I suffered for many years with terrible Indigestion and Constipation. I became thin and miserable. I had frequent dizzy spells and became so run down that I never thought I would get well again.

A neighbor advised me to try 'Fruit-a-tives'. I did so and to the surprise of my doctor, I began to improve and he advised me to go on with 'Fruit-a-tives'. I continued this medicine and all my Indigestion and Constipation was relieved. I consider that I owe my life to 'Fruit-a-tives' and I want to say to those who suffer from Indigestion, Constipation or Headaches, try 'Fruit-a-tives'. Give this lovely fruit medicine a fair chance and you will get well the same as I did."

Knights Decorate Grave

Sunday afternoon the members of Brighton Lodge, Knights of Pythias, drove to Simonds, where they performed the ceremony of decorating the grave of their departed brother, Donald W. Foster. Considering the weather, the attendance was good and the impressive service was witnessed by a considerable gathering of local people. This annual ceremony of the Pythian brotherhood emphasizes one of the features of the order, viz. that a brother is "gone, but not forgotten."
