RANSPORT WORKERS' UNDECIDED AS TO JOINING IN STRIKE

Miners, Owners and Govt. Are Determined; Indications Point To 'Fight To a Finish'

Delegates to the National Transport Workers' Conference Debate Question of Joining Sympathetic Walkout, But No Decision Is Reached—Labor Men Reported To Be in Bad Humor—Recommendations From the Executive Body of Transport Men's Union Will Be Made to a Big Assembly On Wednesday.

London, April 5.—Sir Robert Horne, the new chancellor of the exchequer, speaking in the House of Commons concerning the stoppage of coal mining, painted a gloomy picture of the results of the strike, declaring a stoppage of coal production at this time was far more serious than would ordinarily be the case. Nothing, the chancellor asserted, would be more pernicious for industry as a whole than to begin the granting of subsidies and further burden the already overburdened taxpayers. He voiced a plea for the opening of negotiations for a peaceful settlement without involving subsidies.

John R. Clines, chairman of the parliamentary labor party, who followed the chancellor, spoke in a conciliatory tone. He appealed to the Government to mediate. The Government's action in giving up control of the coal mines, Mr. Clines asserted, was responsible for the rupture of the negotiations between the owners and the miners. He argued that it would have been better for the Government to retain control of the industry for two or three months.

London, April 5.—For three hours this morning the 400 delegates of the National Transport Workers' Federation, assembled here to consider the attitude of the organization toward the strike of the British miners, debated the strike question without reaching a decision. The conferees adjourned until 10:30 a.m. Wednesday. During the session the transport workers' delegates heard the viewpoints of their leaders presented, together with those of other prominent labor men, including John R. Clines, chairman of the Parliamentary Labor party.

The executive body will probably have recommendations to offer as to the transport men's attitude at tomorrow's plenary session of the delegate body.

Attitudes Unchanged.

Meanwhile there has been no deviation from the uncompromising "fight to the finish" attitude which apparently has been taken by the three parties to the controversy—the miners, the owners and the government. From representatives of each there have been declarations of a willingness to make any reasonable concessions in order to avert a general industrial tie-up, but no one thus far has volunteered to take the first step toward a resumption of negotiations. While representatives of the press were strictly excluded from this morning's meeting of the transport men's delegates, it was noticeable that John R. Clines, chairman of the Parliamentary Labor party, and other speakers similarly regarded as moderate, failed to evoke the same measure of applause and enthusiasm accorded to other speakers known to have leanings toward direct action.

The delegates at today's conference were unmistakably in bad humor, and apparently there was little to warrant hopes of an amicable outcome of to-

MAKE NEW HIGH SCHOOL A GREAT WAR MEMORIAL

No. 3 Committee Asks Permission To Call For Tenders.

PLANS UNALTERED

Trustee Smith Hopes a Pipe Organ May Be Donated To School.

Permission to call for tenders for building the new central high school will be asked at the board of education meeting this afternoon by No. 3 committee. The plans, with some slight changes, were approved at a special meeting of the committee this morning.

The committee will recommend that the name of the school be, "The Great War Memorial High School." If their recommendation is accepted, the name will be displayed in a suitable manner across the front of the building. There was some debate amongst the members of the committee as to whether this was the most suitable name for the building. Trustee Smith suggested that it be merely "Memorial High Schol." Other trustees thought this would not indicate its purpose as clearly as the longer title, particularly as there is already a memorial school in the city, and there may be others.

To carry out the memorial idea, the names of all former students who served in the great war will be engraved on tablets, which will be erected in the entrance of the building.

Trustee Smith favored increasing the auditorium accommodation. Architect Carrothers declared that it would be difficult to do this without breaking the fire regulations or making radical changes in the design of the building. It was decided to leave the auditorium at the size originally planned, which will accommodate 750 persons.

Trustee Smith urged that school concerts and other entertainments could be held there, and that consequently these could be held more frequently than when they have to rent accommodation as at present. He thought it probable that some citizen might endow the school with a pipe organ.

Another suggestion to economize was that the stone facing at the rear of the building be omitted. The saving effected would be so slight that it was decided to retain it, as it will add materially to the appearance of the structure.

CADET CAMP TO BE HELD AT CARLING HEIGHTS DURING JULY

Training Camp for Active Militia Will Be a Month Earlier.

Gen. H. A. Panet, general officer commanding Military District No. 1, announced today there will be a summer camp for all Collegiate Institute, high and public school cadets of this district held in London some time during July, immediately after the summer examinations. He could not state definitely the week it would be held, but assured The Advertiser that either the first or second week in July, when about 1,600 boys will be under canvas on Carling Heights for a week during which they will receive much the same instruction as will be given the militia in the summer camps. Gen. Panet also stated that the militia camp will be held during June.

INSTRUCTION FOR INCOME TAX PAYERS IS PROVIDED BY DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS

Interesting Explanation of How To Fill Out Required Documents—First Article Deals With Incomes of $5,000 and Over.

Data of much interest and value to the income tax payer is contained in Part 1 of the following article, issued by the local income tax office. It embodies a calculation on individual incomes exceeding $5,000, and Part 2 is a calculation of the tax on corporations. Form T1, which is referred to in the course of this article, is that for the use of individuals other than farmers and ranchers, and form T1a is that for the use of farmers and ranchers only.

The following is the manner of filling up the forms for individual incomes over $5,000:

In the latter case, the company pays no tax, the dividends are, therefore, not free from the normal tax in the hands of the shareholders. It will be seen that in many small companies the dividends are liable for the normal tax.

DORCHESTER FARMER SUES RAILWAYS FOR DEATH OF CATTLE IN TRANSIT

W. H. Falls of Dorchester, through his solicitor, T. W. Scandrett, has issued a writ in the county court against the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and the Michigan Central Railway Company for $428 damages. He claims that he loaded a car of cattle at Belmont on the C. P. R., at St. Thomas, transfer to the M. C. R. was made, and the cattle taken to Buffalo. Mr. Falls claims that owing to the negligence of the defendants, three of the animals died, and the others were in such a condition that they were sold at lower prices than intended.

COMMUNISTS SPREAD BOMBS IN ALL SECTIONS OF BERLIN

Berlin, April 5.—Mysterious parcels containing explosives have been discovered during the past 24 hours by the police in various sections of Berlin. Some of them were found in private residences, on doorsteps, in hallways and along the tracks of the elevated railroads. Each of the packages was found to be supplied with a fuse which was ready to be lighted. Police officials declare that the German Communists had planned a reign of terror here during the recent disorders in Central Germany. Their purpose, it is declared, was to "frighten the bourgeois classes and encourage timid comrades to join in the revolt." Belief is expressed that Max Hoelz, known as the "German Robinhood" supplied local Communists with quantities of explosives from Central German coal mining districts and assertion has been made that he personally drew up a plan to spread terror throughout Berlin.

Precautions taken by Government authorities, however, prevented the Communists from carrying out their part of the plan, and it is supposed that they have been getting rid of the explosives intrusted to them.

LENINE URGES MISSIONS TO SPREAD TERROR

Bolshevik Premier Would Have Revolution Cover the World.

London, April 5.—An undated document purporting to contain secret, detailed instructions from Nikolai Lenine, the Russian Bolshevik premier, ordering soviet trade missions abroad to stir up revolution is published today by the London Times.

Soviet delegates are there instructed by the communication to stay at the best hotels and spare no expense; also to make efforts to "buy" the press. Special attention is called to the importance of arming workers to serve as a nucleus for fighting units. The Daily Telegraph also publishes the instructions. The newspaper says they were issued to the soviet trade delegation in Constantinople. The London Times, however, represents the plan of Lenine as being world-wide.

Government Unable To Longer Hide G.T.R. Negotiations; Will Disclose Facts In House Today

Multitude of Questions Has Been Asked Concerning Railway Situation in Last Few Days, But Answers by Government Ministers Have Always Been Extremely Guarded—Suggestion of Halifax Member To Appoint Standing Committee On Government-Owned Utilities Will Be Accepted by Meighen Administration.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, April 5.—It is anticipated that the Government will this afternoon take the House into its confidence with regard to the negotiations now proceeding between it and the Grand Trunk Railway Company. The resolution of Hon. C. K. McLean, M. P. for Halifax, calling for the appointment of a select standing committee on Government-owned utilities is expected to be the chief order of business and members will take advantage of the opportunity afforded to air their views on the railway situation generally. The importance which the whole p[illegible]m is assuming may be gauged from the multitude of questions which in the past week or so, have been asked regarding it, before the orders of the day are called. Realizing that the question is one "of urgent public importance," Mr. Speaker has not sought at any time to curb the questioners. The Government, however, has been extremely guarded in its answers especially in connection with the negotiations which are proceeding with the Grand Trunk which asks for an extension of time for the arbitration award and appeals for money in the meantime to meet its obligations.

Premier To Speak.

The Government is going to accept the suggestion of Mr. MacLean and appoint the committee, so far so good, but the House and the country is also impatient that some informative statement should be given as to the Grand Trunk situation. And it is expected that such a statement will be forthcoming this afternoon and that Premier Meighen will take advantage of the opportunity to declare just how matters stand. The Government and the company have been engaged in a game of fence for some days past. The Grand Trunk wants extension of time and a grant of money. The Government says it won't give either until it is in possession of the road. The Grand Trunk hints darkly at liquidation. The Government points out that with liquidation the shareholders will lose all they have. It may be that the Government has the best of the fight. At the recent caucus there was a fairly heavy body of opinion among Government supporters in favor of allowing the whole business to go in the air.

Alarmed at Obligations.

Parliament is somewhat appalled at the obligations already incurred through the National Railways and views with something approaching horror, the assuming of further obligations in connection with the Grand Trunk. On the other hand the National Railways will not be complete without the Ontario lines of the Grand Trunk and handy ingress to the United States. In addition the results of liquidation are not to be regarded lightly.

NEGROES FORM ORGANIZATION TO FIGHT WHITE K.K.K.

Sheriff Harston said he did not regard the letters seriously.

PUNISH MEN WHO POSE AS FARM LABORERS TO SECURE FREE PASSAGE

Local Employer of Farm Labor Says Practice Is "Too Common."

SUGGESTS $500 TAX

Repayment of Passage Money At Least Is Demanded.

As shown by the debate in the Ontario Legislature on Monday, one of the most difficult aspects of the farm labor problem is that of the tendency of immigrants from the old country to leave the farms and get back to the cities very soon after their arrival. A. W. Gray, of Leeds, pointed out that whereas most immigrants were required to have $250 in cash in their possession when landing in Canada, persons coming out to work on farms are not under this obligation. The member for Leeds suggested that a remedy for these immigrants drifting back to the towns might be found by imposing the condition that he must have in his position the sum of $500 before he is allowed to leave the farm.

In conversation with an employer of farm labor today, The Advertiser was told that the practice of coming out to this country on the pretence of doing farm work, and then jumping the job on the first opportunity, is far too common. "There is no doubt," he said, "that a good many of these men pose as farm hands to those who bring them out from the old country, in order to get their passages paid, and to avoid the necessity of putting up the required sum of $250. I think that it would be a good thing if a condition was made that a man who came out as a farm laborer under false pretences should render himself liable to punishment by fine or otherwise, or that at least he should be required to refund his passage money before being permitted to leave his job on the farm. It would also be well if an understanding were come to whereby the man would be compelled to work a stated period on the farm under certain penalties before being allowed to go to the city to engage in other work."

GERMANY, "TURNED DOWN" BY U. S., IS EXPECTED TO APPEAL AGAIN TO ALLIES

Great Brita[illegible], France and Italy Will Not Refuse to Consider Any Serious Proposal Regarding Methods of Reparations Payments, But Will Decline To Discuss Any Suggestion From German Officials as to Reductions From Total.

London, April 5.—Although the British Government has not received in full from the British representatives in Berlin the note sent by the United States secretary of state to Berlin on the German reparations question, the official British opinion is, it was learned today, that Germany failed dismally in her attempt at a new method of solving the reparations problem—that of approaching the United States for assistance. British officials gather from the press reports that Secretary Hughes' note indicates a refusal by the United States to be a party to any German attempt to escape responsibility for the war and reparations payments. It is believed here that Germany's next move will be a direct approach to the allies. As to this, it is said in official quarters, no German proposal will be dismissed without serious consideration by Great Britain, France and Italy.

The German move, however, it is declared, must be a proposal regarding the method of reparations payments and not embodying proposals for a reduction from the total sum decided on by the Paris conference of the allies.

FRENCH ARE SATISFIED.

Paris, April 5.—Most of the Paris newspapers express great satisfaction with the reply of the United States, the only writer not taking this view being "Pertinax," political editor of the Echo de Paris, who found Secretary Hughes' remark regarding new German proposals to the allies to be "not very opportune."

L'Homme Libre said "America's reply was peremptory and decisive. America's word brings us great consolation in the most difficult hour of our history."

QUEBEC LIQUOR DEALERS WANT TIME EXTENDED TO DISPOSE OF STOCKS

Montreal, April 5.—Under the new Quebec liquor law to come into operation May 1, the matter of the old bar or counter is left to the discretion of the Quebec liquor commission. Information gleaned is to the effect that the commission has no intention of restoring the bar.

Wholesale liquor merchants in conference yesterday decided to send a delegation to Premier Taschereau appealing for a delay in which to get rid of their stocks. The law says that all authorized vendors and licenses shall make a statement on April 30 of all stocks remaining in their possession and shall place them under the control and in the possession of the liquor commission, on [illegible] of seizure of stocks.

Covington, Ga., April 5.—John S. Williams, Jasper County farmer, charged in the confession of his negro farm boss, Clyde Manning, with having caused the murder of eleven of his negro farm hands to prevent evidence against him for alleged peonage, faced trial in circuit court here today on a charge of murder of one of the slain negroes. An augmented force of sixteen deputies was mobilized to preserve order in the court room.

$110,000 INSURANCE WILL BE PLACED ON THE CITY SCHOOLS

Special Committee Recommends Distribution Among Canadian and British Firms.

Three committees of the board of education met yesterday to prepare their reports for the regular monthly meeting of the board, which takes place this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The first of these was the meeting of the special sub-committee appointed to revise the insurance on the city schools. The press were not present at this meeting, which took place at 3:30 p.m., but it was stated afterwards that the committee will recommend insurance amounting to $110,000 be placed on the city schools. The insurance will be distributed amongst the various companies doing business in fire assurance, and will, according to the recommendation of the committee, be confined to Canadian and British companies.

At 4:30 o'clock, No. 1 committee went into session. Considerable discussion took place relative to the duties of the public school dentists, Drs. E. W. Fuller and Roy Moore. It was explained that Dr. Fuller spends half a day each day in visiting the schools, and that he turns over the needy cases, that is, the children whose parents cannot afford to pay for the necessary work being done to their little ones' teeth, to Dr. Moore for the necessary treatment, the work being done at the Aberdeen School.

Would Cost $1,500.

Inspector Greer, reporting on the petition of the Ealing Mother's Club, that manual training and household science classes be arranged for in the Ealing Public School, which was referred to the committee by the board, estimated that the cost of installing such classes would be about $1,600. The committee laid the matter over to a later meeting, and will report progress to the board.

Trustees Dice and Smith were appointed to the salaries committee. A large number of accounts were approved and will be recommended to the board for payment.

At night the industrial advisory committee met in the boardroom at the Technical School. In the absence of the chairman, Trustee Thomas Rowe, Trustee Edwin Smith was appointed chairman.

Principal H. B. Beal reported that the attendance at the day classes during the month of March averaged 174, with an enrollment of 183. At the night classes the average attendance was 278, with an enrollment of 634.

During the month, he stated, a check for $10,983.90, the first installment of the Government's annual grant, was received.

Students' Exhibitions.

The students' annual exhibition, from March 18 to 23, had been a decided success, and the general standard of the work exhibited had been higher than in previous years. The principal and secretary of the board were instructed to write to the McClary Manufacturing Company, thanking them for the donation of an electric stove, valued at $175, as a prize in the household science department. This prize has become an annual event.

It was decided to install a back-pressure valve to prevent the backing up of sewage into the school building during heavy storms, at a cost of $150 to $200. Thermostatic control of the radiator in the domestic science room was also authorized.

Considerable discussion took place as to the advisability of putting in a new lawn on the Dundas street frontage, but it was finally decided that as considerable exception would be taken to the expenditure, the citizens not being acquainted with the need of it, it would be well to make another year's try of fertilizer and grass seed. Mr. Beal explained that the present lawn had been built up with the material excavated, and there is practically no subsoil, so that constant watering is necessary to induce grass to grow on it. It was decided to purchase some shrubs to be placed along the front of the building.

Communications Read.

The secretary read three communications, the first being a letter of appreciation addressed to the board by the teachers, expressing their thanks for the recent increase in salaries.

A letter signed by 30 members of the wood-carving class, complaining that the lighting of the class-room is poor, was read. The committee visited the room, and were of the opinion that the light was quite adequate, but the principal was empowered to ask the objectors for any constructive suggestion that they may have for the improvement of the lighting. Messrs. A. E. Silverwood and Chairman Rowe were named representatives of the Technical School on the special teachers' salaries committee.

Authority was given to the chairman and principal to make the necessary arrangements for the securing of soft and hard coal for the school.

COUNCIL APPROVES MAYOR'S ACTION ON GAS COMPANY'S BILL

Heated Discussion Precedes Unanimous Vote Sustaining Mayor Little.

OPPOSE HIGHER RATE

Aldermen Appoint Committee of Three To Go To Toronto.

After one of the most acrimonious discussions in the history of the city council, a unanimous motion sustaining the action of Mayor Little in regard to the gas bill before the private bills committee last Thursday was passed by the council last night. A motion to oppose the action of the Legislature committee in approving a rate of $1.25 for the gas was adopted.

It was discussion of this which led to a sharp debate between Ald. Cameron Wilson and G. A. Wenige on one side and Mayor Little and Ald. Bridge on the other.

A motion to grant a building permit for the erection of an undertaking establishment on Queen's avenue, between Waterloo and Colborne streets, was sent to No. 2 committee, only Ald. W. A. Wilson voting in favor of its immediate adoption. This was done with the expectation that a private deal would be made in the meantime between the undertaker and the citizens objecting to the establishment.

Going To Toronto.

Aldermen W. A. Wilson, P. J. Watt and John Bridge were authorized to go to Toronto today to oppose the McCrea bill.

Retrenchment on a large program of public works for this year was indicated by the referring back to committee a number of paving and other local improvement bylaws.

Bylaws to create three residential districts and to regulate restaurants were refused readings.

Unanimous approval was given to a recommendation of No. 1 committee authorizing the city solicitor to commence legal proceedings against the London Street Railway Company to secure payment for its share of Rectory street paving.

The greater part of the discussion of the evening centred around the gas question. Speaking to the motion, which he and Ald. Watkinson had introduced, opposing the passing of the gas bill by the private bills committee, Ald. Wenige asked what had become of the resolution opposing the measure which was passed by the city council. This, he understood, had been handed to the mayor. He wanted to know why it had not reached the private bills committee.

Wasn't Insinuation?

Mayor Little asked permission to speak on a question of privilege, and called Ald. Harley to the chair. He then asked if Ald. Wenige was aware that he was making an insinuation that the mayor had been handed the resolution, and had not forwarded it.

"No. I did not intend that. I was merely asking what became of the resolution," Ald. Wenige replied.

Ald. Bridge then joined in the discussion, asking if Ald. Wilson had been correctly reported in the press when he inferred that Ald. Bridge had had some connection with the action of the private bills committee. Ald. Wilson said the remarks were not exactly what he had said and that he would apologize for some of them. He believed Ald. Bridge deserved credit for the work he had done in opposition to the McCrea bill, but he should bear in mind that a man is known by the company he keeps. K. K. Homuth, chairman of the special committee appointed by the Legislature to settle the gas question, gave assurance that no action would be taken without notifying the London City Council. To his knowledge no such notification was given, although the special committee made its report. He understood that Mayor Little was in the Legislature buildings Wednesday, and that Ald. Bridge had been there also. He did not know their purpose for being there, but judged it was in connection with the McCrea bill.

Ald. Bridge interrupted at this point to ask what Ald. Wilson meant by the company he (Ald. Bridge) kept.

Dragging Red Herring.

"Maybe some good, some bad," replied Ald. Wilson. "You're dragging a red herring across the trail.

"I will apologize if I am wrong, but I want to know what was done at Toronto. There may have been nothing in the fact that the mayor and Ald. Bridge were there. Maybe they can explain it without difficulty. If so, I am prepared to accept their word."

Ald. Harley asked if the clerk had received notification that the special committee was reporting to the private bills committee. The clerk replied in the negative.

"Then no one was authorized to speak to the bill in any way," Ald. Harley remarked.

Ald. Bridge said his presence in Toronto was related only to opposition to the McCrea bill. He had talked with Sir Adam Beck, whom, he claimed, was opposed to the action of the gas committee, but he had had no further conference with members of the Legislature.

Town Planning Bill.

Mayor Little refused to recognize either Ald. Wilson or Ald. Wenige, but said he would make a report at the request of the council. "I was at the Legislature last Thursday, but not until 20 minutes after the private bills committee had dealt with the gas question," he stated. "I didn't know the matter was to come up. I was there at the request of Secretary Gordon Philip of the Chamber of Commerce to watch a town planning bill from Ottawa, in which he was interested. Ald. Wilson has insinuated that I was waiting for the gas bill to pass."

Ald. Wilson claimed he was complimented by the mayor's refusal to recognize him, but maintained that the mayor had had the council's resolution of protest in his pocket, had seen members of the private bills committee, including Homuth and Brackin, and yet no protest was made, and the bill was "railroaded through" next morning.

More Herring Charges.

"There is a clear-cut issue here, but it is being evaded and red herrings are being thrown across the trail. I am willing to apologize for any of my statements which are proved untrue," he said.

"I take it Ald. Wilson has apologized to me," Ald. John Bridge remarked.

"In my judgment it has not been shown that the mayor knew this bill was up when he was in Toronto," Ald. Harley commented.

"The aldermen who inquired about this affair got a full explanation," asserted Mayor Little. "But Ald. Wilson rushed into print and said nothing to me except to 'compliment' me on winning the 'second round of the battle,' whatever he meant by that. As I heard it from one person, it was remarked that the mayor had 'sold' the city."

Ald. Wilson denied any remark of that nature. "But," he maintained, "this issue has been evaded. I am sorry the mayor will not recognize me, because I like him. He is lined up on the other side of the question. When there are two sides it means that one of them must be licked. I've been licked a good many times, and I have sat down and taken it."

At this point a vote was taken on the motion to oppose the action of the private bills committee. Eight aldermen favored it.

Willing to Explain.

Ald. Watkinson and Ald. Bridge then asked the mayor to explain affairs at Toronto last Thursday. The mayor replied that he had been willing to do this all along. No one more than he regretted the quarreling and bickering, and he was sorry for anything he might have done to further it, but he had a sense of honor, and he felt this had not been recognized by Ald. Wilson and Wenige.

He declared that he was in Toronto to protest against the McCrea bill. With a deputation from the Hydro Association he went to see Premier Drury. While waiting for the premier he had managed to see K. K. Homuth, chairman of the special committee dealing with the bill. Mr. Homuth stated that no further deputations in regard to it would be heard. The mayor stayed over until the following day to watch the progress of the Ottawa town-planning bill, but did not reach the Parliament Buildings until 11 o'clock. Dr. Stevenson informed him that the committee had dealt with the gas bill. He could not say if the resolution of protest was presented, but he had given it to Mr. Homuth and Dr. Stevenson also had a copy.

Not Entirely Wrong.

Ald. Wilson said he was prepared to accept the mayor's statements with one or two reservations. "Mr. Homuth distinctly stated we would be given another chance to appear before the committee," he said. "Considering that, it would seem he acted in a manner that was manifestely unfair, particularly in view of the council's resolution, which was handed to him. The morning following his conversation with the the mayor the bill was railroaded through. It would appear that I was somewhat justified in my remarks, and something lingers in my mind that tells me I wasn't entirely wrong. The facts justified an investigation, and that was all that was wanted. I accept his statement without reservation."

"This is the first chance I have had to give an explanation, or at least a report to the council," Mayor Little replied. "I don't think it was particularly honorable to take this action. I have not done anything since I was in the council that would warrant any member or citizen doubting my honor as Ald. Wilson has done. His manifesto, the first time we visited the committee, put me in the light of being crooked or putting over something."

Reiterates Claim.

Ald. Ashton reiterated his claim that the members of the council knew they were voting for a final settlement of the matter, and not a basis of agreement, some weeks ago, but that they were turning over. He would have taken the same action as the mayor under the circumstances. He thought it was time to stop playing politics.

He moved a vote of confidence in the mayor. This was seconded by Ald. Cameron Wilson and unanimously carried.

Ald. Watt gave notice of motion to have No. 2 committee of the council investigate the advisability of returning to the contract system of garbage collection.

Congratulations, Grocers!

Again we are pleased to extend congratulations to our fellow merchants. The grocers, who have for years fought for shorter hours, and finally took the stand independently to close their shops at 7 p.m. on Saturday nights, are worthy of more than congratulations. They are deserving of hearty support and co-operation in this important step, the success of which is entirely in the hands of the buying public, by seeing that your supplies are purchased before that hour. We congratulate you, and trust that this move will mark another epoch in the early closing campaign.

BIRD NOTES

(Contributed by Mellwraith Ornithological Club.

The birds that come here in the spring may be roughly divided into two classes, those that remain here to nest and those that pass on to more northern breeding grounds. Many species pass entirely beyond our borders, whilst others pass on in goodly numbers, but at the same time leave many representatives behind. London is situated at the northern limit of the breeding range of some birds, at the southern limit of others, and about midway between for a great many.

It is pretty generally conceded that the first birds of any species to reach a locality (of kinds that ordinarily nest there) are the ones that are going to remain for the summer, while those that come along later on are bound for more northern places. This fact has been strongly brought to our minds the last few days by the large increase of certain species, more particularly bluebirds, cowbirds and meadow larks. The first arrivals of these were reported about a month ago, and what might be looked upon as the summer population were pretty generally settled in their favorite fields and woods. On April 1 bluebirds were very much in evidence; on April 3 the air was full of meadow larks, but the feature of the trip on the afternoon of Saturday, April 2, was a flock of fully 1,000 cowbirds near Komoka. There were none of the other varieties of blackbirds in the flock, as is often the case earlier in the spring, or in the fall. As they lit in a field we longed for one of the nets the old pigeon trappers used that we might have taken captive the entire flock so their nefarious work might have been ended ere it began. The number of useful sparrows and warblers that will be sacrificed to their parisitic habits is indeed hard to estimate.

The only new arrival to report is the Hermit Thursh on the afternoon of April 3, nearly two weeks ahead of time.

EXECUTIVE MEETING NOT REGULATION SIZE

G. W. V. A. Refuses To Make Public Proceedings of Meeting.

Although only six members of the executive committee of the Great War Veterans appeared at the meeting on Monday evening, and the constitution calls for seven, the meeting was held. Secretary J. W. Cunliffe was instructed to give out nothing for publication. It is thought the meeting was called to consider the results of the investigation into conditions which are alleged to be existing in Westminster Hospital. Mr. Cunliffe would not even intimate what was discussed.

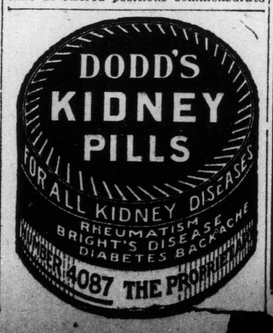

G. A. U. V. REAFFIRMS $2,000 BONUS STAND

Jointly With Naval Veterans Makes Recommendation To D. S. C. R.

OTTAWA, April 4. — (By Canadian Press.)—Reaffirmation of the principle of a $2,000 bonus for Canadian veterans of the war is contained in the recommendations of the Grand Army of United Veterans' and Naval Veterans' Association to the parliamentary committee on soldiers' civil re-establishment, which will be dealt with by the committee tomorrow morning. The recommendation sets forth that this amount should be paid through soldiers' organizations and the funds secured through a reconstruction bond issue on Victory loan lines. War indemnities, it is stated, should also be earmarked for this purpose.

Other recommendations made by the G. A. U. V. include free medical treatment for five years; government employment for disabled men; adequate compensation for deserted wives; compensation for parents who lost sons on service; a re-establishment committee with power to grant loans in each military district.

An important resolution is one asking that unemployed veterans be placed on army pay and allowances until such time as offered positions commensurate with their physical conditions and business abilities. Owing to the dearth of apprentices in the various trades the G. A. U. V. suggests that all minors, up to 21 years of age, be given an opportunity to become apprentices at prevailing wages, the Government to contribute to make this a living wage.

BUILDING ACTIVITY IN CITY CONTINUES ITS UPWARD TREND

First Five Days of April Has Record of 24 Permits.

Building was never so active in London as at the present time, at least so far as small contracts are concerned. Comparatively few large enterprises have been started yet, but building figures are well in the lead of the record attained by this time last year. It is expected that many larger buildings will be commenced within a short time now that the warmer weather seems to have arrived to stay. There is every prospect of the year being a record one from the building standpoint, according to Building Inspector Arthur M. Piper.

No less than twenty-four permits have been issued in the five days of this month which have elapsed. This represents an amount of building totalling $17,125. It still has a considerable distance to go to equal the record of $211,510 in April, 1920.

Principal permits today were: J. R. Morrison, 1-story porch and remodel building for apartments, 474 Princess avenue, $3,000; Dr. Schaef, 2-story brick veneer addition 1225 Dundas street, $2,000.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY DISCUSSES SPRING FLOWERS

Interesting Addresses By M. W. Althouse and R. A. Finn.

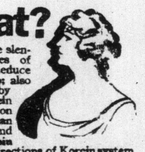

"Spring Flowers in the Garden" was the subject of a fine address given by M. W. Althouse to a large gathering of members of the Horticultural Society in Hyman Hall on Monday evening. Mr. Althouse dealt chiefly with the flowers that are beginning to show signs of life at present, among these being the early phlox, tulips and hyacinths. He urged all those who have not specialized in these flowers to do so. He referred to the fact that many of the wild flowers are being gradually exterminated and asked that members of the society do their best to preserve them. President W. E. Saunders exhibited several fine specimens of early flowers.

R. A. Finn, district agricultural representative, spoke on "Best Fertilizers for the City Gardens." He advised if barnyard manure was unobtainable, to use leaves that had been collected in the fall. If neither of these could be had the only alternative left was commercial fertilizer. This is a more concentrated food than manure and leaves. He explained briefly the best kinds of fertilizers that can be used for orchards, shrubs, lawns, vegetable gardens and flowers.

ALLEGED GERMAN SPY ARRESTED IN LONDON MAY BE DEPORTED

James Val. Morton Wanted by U. S. Authorities for Alleged Bigamy.

EX-MEMBER OF 33RD

Believed Implicated in Trouble of Regiment While in Training.

James Val-Morton, an alleged former German spy, arrested on a farm on the fourth concession of London Township at the request of the district attorney and the British consul in Cleveland, is waiting in the Middlesex county jail here for officers from Cleveland to take him to that city, where he is wanted on charges of bigamy and embezzlement. Val-Morton has not intimated that he will fight extradition, and so far as could be learned here last night it is likely that he will return voluntarily when the American officers come for him. He had been employed for about three weeks on a farm only a few miles from London. He told the detectives that he had been a bond salesman in Cleveland, but no particulars whatever have been received by the local police as to the nature of the alleged embezzlement nor any details of the charge of bigamy for which it is understood he is also wanted.

Enlisted in 1915.

His war history is better known. He enlisted in 1915 at Windsor, after coming from Pittsburg. Sent to London from Windsor, he was drafted into the 33rd Battalion, and was at once made a drill sergeant. Asked by one of the local detectives why he did not seek further promotion in the army, he replied, it is stated by the police, that the non-commissioned rank suited his purpose better by bringing him into touch with both privates and officers.

When Val-Morton returned from the war in 1919 he took out naturalization papers in the United States, and the opinion of Crown Attorney McKillop is that he is an American citizen, whatever bearing that may have upon the case should he decide to fight extradition.

Always on Alert.

He served in the Canadian army under the name of James Morton. He is now 33 years old. His employers on the farm where he was arrested state he had aroused their suspicions by appearing to be always on guard and alert, and at times nervous, despite his fine physical appearance. He is tall and well built, and this, coupled with his splendid knowledge of drill as a supposed raw recruit, won him his appointment as drill sergeant in the army here. He has been drawing a pension from the Canadian pensions department regularly.

Consul Makes Charges.

So far as is known here, there are no prosecutions proposed for his alleged duplicity in his army career, although the telegram from the British consul intimates that his record as actually in the employ of the German Government when he enlisted in the Canadian army has been uncovered.

Val-Morton took his arrest philosophically, and made no trouble for the officers. Letters in his possession from women contain only the christian names, and police here do not know whether they are from one of his supposed wives or not.

Upon arriving in London a month ago he spent two days at a local hotel before he was sent out to a farm job by the Ontario employment bureau.

Still in Army Clothes.

Val-Morton was also know under the alias of John V. Baril. When in the Canadian army his regimental number was 491,703. He is said to be drawing a pension from the Canadian Government.

When arrested at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon the prisoner was attired in his army clothes, even wearing the three stripes denoting he was a sergeant on his arm. He did not offer any resistance when Detective-Sergeant Robert Egelton, Detective Thomas Bolton and Detective Down placed him under arrest. The proprietors of the farm on which he was employed say that he wore the uniform at all times.

67-69 King St.

John Steward, 468 Hill street, this city, employed at the local G. T. R. freight sheds, suffered a painful injury on Monday afternoon, when a heavy steel plate fell on his right foot severely crushing his big toe. He was given first aid and medical treatment. Mr. Steward will be confined to his home for some days. Owing to the fact that there was no medical chest in the sheds or in the freight offices the work of those who sought to administer first aid was greatly hampered. The two clerks who bound the wounds were forced to use unsterilized factory cotton and a pocket handkerchief.

ONLY A PALTRY $2.—Thieves broke into the G. T. R. station at Hyde Park during Monday night. Their efforts were rewarded by less than two dollars, which was found in the till. Nothing else was disturbed. Entrance was gained when the thieves smashed the lock on the door.

EVEN THE PLATFORM YIELDED. —Considerable excitement and not a few watery mouths prevailed for many minutes at the G. T. R. station early this morning, when a Canadian Express Company's truck, bearing 110 cases of whiskey, upset. Every case on the truck tumbled to the platform, but only four of the 1,320 bottles were broken. With the aid of cups and all available tins much of the trickling liquor was salvaged. The load proved too heavy for the platform, and two of the planks gave way, throwing the truck on its side.

START RELAYING TIES—The maintenance of way work on the C. P. R. has been started. A gang of men were engaged this morning replacing worn ties before the local C. P. R. station. have been employed to carry on the Approximately two hundred extra men work in various parts of the London division.

WHISKEY BEING SHIPPED.—For the first time in many months whiskey is being shipped out of Walkerville to points east. Several hundred cases arrived in this city today for transfer. Two carloads of liquor arrives in this city every night from Montreal, chiefly for points west.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR INCOME TAX PAYERS

and two of your returns and submit them to the inspector of taxation at London or the assistant inspectors at Walkerville or Stratford for calculation.

The same method of calculation obtains whether for farmers or others. This part refers to both Form T1 and Form T1a.

For incomes above $5,000 three taxes apply:

First—The normal tax. For the part of the income below $6,000 the same rate of 4 per cent as is levied on small incomes is used. For the part of the income over $6,000 the rate is 8 per cent.

Second—The surtax. On the part of the income between $5,000 and $6,000 a surtax of 1 per cent is levied in addition to the normal tax. On the part of the income between $6,000 and $8,000 a surtax of 2 per cent is levied. On each successive $2,000 an additional 1 per cent is levied until the rate of 65 per cent is reached on incomes over $1,000,000.

Third—The 5 per cent additional tax. On all incomes of $5,000 and over an additional 5 per cent is added to the sum of the normal and surtax.

ALLOWANCES.

No allowance is made from the surtax and the additional tax for dividends, or children. The only deductions are from the normal tax. If the income is large enough to be charged 8 per cent normal tax, the taxpayer is allowed 8 per cent on Canadian dividends and 8 per cent on $200 for each dependent child. But where the taxpayer is charged only 4 per cent normal tax only 4 per cent is allowed. (See illustrations below).

OIL STOVE EXPLODED.—Explosion of a coal oil stove at the home of A. L. Fletcher, grocer, 903 Richmond street, gave the fire department a run shortly after 11 o'clock this morning. The services of the firemen were, however, not required, the stove having been carried outside and the burning oil extinguished before any harm was done.

NO APPOINTMENT MADE YET.—No word has yet been received at local headquarters of the Salvation Army as to who will fill the position of ensign in London No. 2 Command. Provincial headquarters will make the appointment. The vacancy was caused through the resignation of Ensign and Mrs. H. Ashby, because of Mr. Ashby's poor health.

GOODS NOT UP TO SAMPLE.—First of the cases to be heard at the non-jury session of the county court which opened at the court house at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon is that of the Savoie Hat Company vs. Louis Griesman. The plaintiffs are suing for $282 for goods alleged to have been sold and delivered. The defendant claims that order was not up to sample. Judge Talbot Macbeth is presiding at the court.

SUING TWO MILLING COMPANIES.—Ald. John Bridge, through his solicitors, McKillop and Douglas, has issued a writ in the supreme court against two flour mills. From the Empire Flour Mills, Ltd., St. Thomas, he is claiming $5,750 damages for failure of the defendant company to perform a contract to pay him profits upon the purchase and sale by him of 10,000 bags of flour. He claims the purchase was made on April 17, 1920. On the same grounds Mr. Bridge is claiming $10,500 from the Canadian Cereal & Flour Mills, Ltd. His claim is that he made two purchases for this defendant, one of 15,000 bags in April, 1920, and one of 15,000 bags in May, 1920.

Reid, pastor of the church. This will be the first appearance of Mr. Spracklin in a London pulpit since his famous trial. Although he will speak on temperance in relation to the Canada temperance act referendum, Mr. Spracklin is not being brought here by the local temperance organization nor will he speak under its auspices. His visit to this city is the outcome of an invitation extended to him by the members of the Hale Street Church. Mr. Spracklin is speaking tonight in Strathroy.

Obituary

MRS. ELLEN MacDONALD DIES.

Mrs. Ellen MacDonald, an old resident of London, died at her home, 625 Lorne avenue, on Monday in her 87th year. Mrs. MacDonald was in perfect health, despite her advanced age, up until a week ago, when she suffered a stroke.

Four daughters survive her: Mrs. Nellie Norton of this city; Mrs. T. H. Perkins of Aylmer; Mrs. Margaret Derville of this city, and Mrs. Charles L. Lucas of Middlemiss, and two sons, John of Caradoc, and Edward of Middlemiss. Nathan Griffith of this city, is a nephew. The funeral will be held on Wednesday from her home at 2:30. Interment will be made in Brick Street Cemetery.

DEATH OF MRS. AMY McEWAN.

Mrs. Amy McEwan died late Monday night at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. F. Arscott, 127 Ann street. Mrs. McEwan had resided in this city for the past 15 years, coming here from Ailsa Craig. She had only been seriously ill for a week. She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Frank Arscott and Mrs. William Dear of this city, and Mrs. Louis Kauffman of Traverse City, and four sons, Anderw and John in Saskatchewan: Murray of Clinton, and Gordon of Detroit.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday afternoon to Woodland Cemetery. Rev. T. S. Roy will conduct the services.

"LEFT TURN" CAUSE OF CONFUSION.—The left turn at the corner of Dundas and Richmond street has created much confusion and congestion there since the silent policeman has been installed. Action may be taken through the city council to have the objectionable turn eliminated, it was learned today.

PRIVATE SETTLEMENT POSSIBLE. —Negotiations for a private settlement of the controversy arising over the attempt to open an undertaking establishment on Queen's avenue between Waterloo and Colborne streets were under way today, but no actual settlement has been reached late this afternoon. Ald. W. A. Wilson declared at the council last night that no bona fide offer to buy the property had been made. Residents of the street admitted today that this was correct, although they said definite proposals had been made. They made a bona fide offer today, and this is being discussed by both parties.

QUICK ACTION, STEADY NERVE STOP RUNAWAYS

Two Railwaymen Avert Accident by Prompt Work.

Presence of mind on the part of S. Rennie, teamster in the employ of the Shedden Forwarding Company of this city and the bravery of W. Thom, a clerk at the G. T. R. sheds, stopped the career of an exciting runaway this morning. A team of horses attached to a light wagon loaded with heavy machinery became frightened in some manner while standing unattended by the G. T. R. freight sheds. Swinging sharply around they plunged down the roadway.

S. Rennie, who had almost finished unloading his heavy wagon at the west end of the shed, when he saw the runaways coming, speaking sharply to his horses, turned them into the pathway of the runaway team. Taken by surprise the frightened horses were momentarily checked and before they could get underway again William Thom, who was working in the shed office, jumped through a window and brought them to a standstill. Nothing but the neckyoke, attached to the frightened team, was broken.

UNDERTAKING PARLOR PROBLEM IS REFERRED TO NO. 2 COMMITTEE

No Bona Fide Offer Made For Property, Says A. L. Oatman.

A. L. Oatman today emphatically denied that any bona fide offer has been made for his property on Queen's avenue, on which he intends to build an undertaking establishment in connection with his home.

"A suggestion was made that I accept a thousand dollars and just have my home there while I conducted my business elsewhere," he said. "That is, however, impossible. I must live near my business to conduct it properly.

"No satisfactory terms on which to make a direct purchase have been suggested, and so far as a bona fide offer is concerned there has been absolutely no mention of one."

It is still doubtful if Mr. Oatman will be granted permission to open the establishment in that location. The council last night turned down a resolution to grant him a building permit immediately and referred the matter to No. 2 committee for further consideration.

ARENA PROPOSITION IS HANGING FIRE

Western Fair Board Awaits Return of Committee's Chairman.

Owing to the fact that its chairman, George McCormick, is out of town, there will be no meeting of the special committee of the Western Fair Board before the monthly meeting of the board on Thursday net, according to A. M. Hunt, secretary. The special committee was appointed to deal with the proposed stock arena and other questions, but through the inability of its members to get together nothing has been accomplished.

Because the committee has no recommendation to lay before the members of the board the proposition to build a combined hockey and stock arena will receive a serious setback unless the matter is discussed in a general way at the meeting on Thursday, when it is quite probable that the hockey arena committee will have some proposition to lay before the board.

UNEMPLOYED AGAIN VISIT THE CITY HALL

Sixty Given Work Today; 200 Still Wanting Employment.

Unemployment came into the foreground once more today when a large deputation of men appeared at the city hall to interview Mayor Little. They arrived too late, however, as the mayor had already been to his office and had gone.

The deputation then went to the city engineer's office to see if they could secure employment. Officials there were unable to do anything for them as all employment work is handled through the city bureau. About sixty men were given work through that agency this morning, the deputation stated, but nearly two hundred were still unemployed, they claimed.

PROVINCIAL SECRETARY OF S. A. C. INSPECTING THE LOCAL OFFICES

Work of Child Welfare Department Is Also Under Review.

Assistant Secretary H. L. Robertson of the provincial soldiers' aid commission is in the city inspecting the work of the local branch. It was stated by a member of the local executive that he will deal mostly with the employment service of the commission. A recent ruling of the Legislature to the effect that all employment agencies, except those of Government authorization, must be discontinued. This affected the local S. A. C. employment service.

It is now proposed by the Dominion S. A. C. to approach the Ontario Government to ask permission to place their men, who are in charge of S. A. C. employment departments, in the Government establishments. It is claimed that these men are better qualified to handle the returned men. What the outcome of Mr. Robertson's visit to the city will be remains to be seen.

Mr. Rebertson will also investigate the local work of the child welfare department. So far this year this work in London has almost doubled over the same period last year, and it is proposed to increase the staff of the welfare department.

WANT NEW PUBLIC SCHOOL IN WESTMINSTER

Residents from four different school sections in Westminster Township appeared before the Westminster Township Council at the county buildings, today, asking that another public school be erected, the site to be on the corner of the 7th Concession and Wellington road. This would mean the creation of another school section, and in order to create it parts of school section 10, 11, 13, and 14 woul dhave to be taken. If the township council does not wish to deal with the matter it can turn it down, but the petitioners can go to the county council and that body can appoint arbitrators.

A bylaw for making a new school section cannot be made later than June and must not be finally passed upon until December 25, according to law. This gives anyone who is opposed to such a plan, a chance to raise their objections.

DEPUTATIONS MUST CONFORM TO USUAL RULE OF PROCEDURE

Council Business Delayed If Petitioners Attend Its Regular Sittings.

TO COMMITTEES FIRST

Fairer Hearing Accorded to Desires of Citizens by This Method.

The city council is standing firmly by its rule of procedure which requires deputations to come before the committee directly interested in their problem instead of addressing the council as a whole. Deputations on various subjects were refused a hearing last night and informed that they would have to lay their cases before the proper committees next week.

The rule was adopted several years ago after it was found that large deputations were seriously interfering with council business. Usually committee reports, bylaws and other matters give the aldermen plenty to do without bringing in other matters. When extraneous matters are introduced it often means that more important matters are slighted.

It is also argued that the deputations receive a fairer hearing before the committees. The atmosphere is less formal, and the members of the deputation and the committee can discuss the matter in detail. The recommendation of the committee is passed on at the next meeting, so that all the aldermen have an opportunity to express an opinion on it if they so desire.

PUSSY WAS NOT A WELCOMED GUEST

During the course of a week, George Tustin removes many stray cats suffering from mange and other diseases from the streets, but this morning a citizen called him up, and in a frantic manner asked him to call at her home immediately to take away a mangey cat. Mr. Tustin made a hurried trip to the stated address, and not only removed the cat but six perfect little kittens. The cat had picked upon the nicest house in the block, entered through a window to the bedroom reserved for guests and made a comfortable place for herself and kittens on the bed.

GOVERNMENT UNABLE

of view is published in the morning papers here. It follows: "The time within which the award of the arbitration board now sitting in Montreal to decide upon the value of the stock of the company which is to be acquired by the Federal Government expires April 9. The agreement between the company and the Government and the legislation confirming the agreement, provide that an award shall be made, and contemplates, the Grand Trunk claims, such an extension of time as may be reasonably necessary for that purpose.

The company's case is about completed. It is understood that the Government is endeavoring to impose as a condition for the extension of the time the immediate handing over of possession of the road to the Government.

"It is pointed out that the agreement provides that the control of the road shall remain with the directors of the Grand Trunk until the final award has been made, and the new guaranteed stock issued in accordance with the award.

Directors Lack Authority.

"The company appears to have taken the position, in view of the specific provisions of the agreement, that the directors have no authority to hand over possession of the road until the terms of the agreement have been complied with, and that it is willing in all respects to carry out the agreement made between the shareholders, the company and the Government and approved by Parliament.

"In the opinion of counsel, in case the arbitration should be closed April 9 the Dominion Government would remain liable for all time for all the interest on the whole outstanding debenture and guaranteed stock of the company.

"In consideration of the agreement, it was stated, the Dominion of Canada gave its unconditional guarantee of the outstanding debenture and guaranteed stocks. This guarantee, it is claimed, would stand, even if the time was not extended.

"A statement was published yesterday that the company was asking the Government to provide $90,000,000 to meet its requirements. It was stated that the greater part of this was required to take care of temporary financing done by the company immediately before and during the war, and was in no sense a loss arising from the company's operation. This financing would ordinarily be taken care of by a security issue, the money being required in lieu of a refunding of advances."

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. "Suicide By Inches"

Thousands of people commit suicide by inches!

If you took minute daily doses of some poisonous drug, no particular effect might be noticed until accumulation of the poison made its action evident.

Yet how many realize that poisonous substances are formed constantly during digestion and the preparation of the food waste for elimination.

If the bowels act regularly and thoroughly, these poisons are eliminated. But if constipation exists, there results stagnation of intestinal waste, germs multiply; and poisons are formed and carried by the blood to every cell of the body.

The victim of self poisoning commits suicide by inches. Pills, castor oil, laxative waters and salts only force and irritate the bowels, and make constipation a habit.

Nujol works on an entirely new principle.

Instead of forcing or irritating the system, it simply softens the food waste. This enables the many tiny muscles in the walls of the intestines, contracting and expanding in their normal way, to squeeze the food waste along so that it passes naturally out of the system.

Nujol thus prevents constipation because it helps Nature maintain easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world.

Nujol is sold by all druggists in sealed bottles only, bearing Nujol Trade Mark. Write Nujol, 22 St. Francois Xavier Street, Montreal, P.Q., for booklet "Thirty Feet of Danger."

REBELS KILLED 243 IN YEAR; WOUNDED 3,810

Startling Figures Given in Regard To Sinn Fein Outrages.

LONDON, April 4.—Startling figures of outrages attributed to the Sinn Fein during the year ending March 31, were given by Dennis Henry, attorney-general for Ireland, in the House of Commons today in reply to a question. The figures showed a steady increase in the number of killings and woundings of police and military forces, quarter by quarter.

In the last quarter of the year there were 2,246 outrages. Eighty-eight policemen were killed, and 156 wounded, while 44 soldiers were killed and 54 wounded. The total outrages for the whole year number 10,894. The police killed totalled 243, and the wounded 3,810. The soldiers killed numbered 90, and the wounded 202.

NO INDEMNITY WILL BE PAID RIOT VICTIMS

Govt. Denies Any Responsibility For Troubles in Quebec.

ACRIMONIOUS DEBATE

J. A. Sexsmith Introduces a Resolution Favoring Proportional Representation.

OTTAWA, April 4.—By Canadian Press.—The House today discussed topics as widely apart as proportional representation, the "humiliation" of a Canadian hospital in Montenegro, and indemnities to vicvtims of the so-called Quebec riots of 1918. It was private members' day and the attendance was scanty. For the whole afternoon, practically, the Quebec riots held the stage. Quebec members claimed that the Government should assume responsibility for payment of an indemnity, and the minister of justice summed up the ministerial attitude by declaring that he could find no question of any legal responsibility on the part of the Government.

The debate was not unmarked by bitterness. "Why," demanded H. C. Hocken (Toronto West), "should those who contributed liberally to the winning of the war be called upon to indemnify those who played the part of rebels?"

There were cries of sharp dissent from Liberal benches. "Spoken in a characteristically Toronto fashion," heatedly declared Hon. Charles Murphy.

Lost on Division.

There was more debate, and the resolution calling for payment of an indemnity was declared lost on division.

The Montenegro incident was brought up by Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux. It touched on the treatment accorded by Serbian authorities to the Canadian hospital mission in Montenegro, headed by Dr. F. W. E. Burnham of Winnipeg. The House was at one on the necessity of obtaining respect for Canadian nationals in foreign countries. Hon. Mr. Lemieux urged that no Canadian Red Cross funds should be apportioned to Serbia until an apology has been made. "I am not a swashbuckling imperialist," exclaimed Col. C. W. Peck, V.C., "but the time has come to let the world know that the rights of Canadian citizens must be respected."

Has No Objection.

The prime minister was not convinced that documentary evidence in the case would warrant specific interference. But the Government had no objection to the production of correspondence. However, if the need for redress were shown, then would be the time to act.

It was well into the evening when the House reached proportional representation. J. A. Sexsmith, Peterboro East, had a resolution favoring "some system of proprtional representation" and providing for the appointment of a special committee to inquire into the different systems of proportional representation "with a view to recommend one of these for adoption." Mr. Sexsmith quoted many instances and authorities to show the value of proportional representation. The present method had resulted in Orange Toronto being set against Catholic Quebec, in the gathering of votes by the glad hand system.

Support Proposal.

Hon. T. A. Crerar, leader of the National Progressives, and Levi Thomson (Qu'Appelle), the Progressives' chief whip, both supported proportional representation. Hon. J. A. Calder, minister of immigration, had an amendment. He moved inclusion of the "single transferable vote" as well as proportional representation within the scope of the proposed committee's activities, and that the committee should inquire into the desirability of one or the other being adopted.

Modifies Amendment.

On a suggestion from F. L. Davis (Neepawa), Mr. Calder modified his amendment to make it read: "The single transferable or preferential vote." The amendment was adopted; the amended resolution carried, and the following were appointed as a special committee: W. J. Blair (Battle River), John A. Calder, Edmund Proulx (Prescott), J. A. Currie (Simcoe North), A. L. Davidson (Digby-Annapolis), J. J. Denis (Joliette), John Harold (Brant), R. J. Manion (Fort William), A. R. McMaster (Brome), J. P. Molloy (Provencher), F. F. Pardee (Lambton West), J. A. Sexsmith (Peterboro West), T. E. Simpson (Algoma), J. R. Sinclair (Antigonish), Levi Thompson (Qu'Appelle), and H. P. Whidden (Brandon).

To Amend Act.

A bill to amend the railway act to bring boats, operating on inland waters, under the control of the railway commission, was introduced by J. E. Armstrong (East Lambton) when the House opened this afternoon. Mr. Armstrong described his bill as a "hardy annual." The bill was given first reading.

T. W. Caldwell (Victoria and Carleton) introduced a bill to amend the fertilizer act of 1909. This bill was not, he said, intended to make any important changes in the present act. Its intention was to compel manufacturers of fertilizers to have on each package a statement of the contents of the package. The bill had the support of a majority of the ferilizer manufacturers in Canada. A few manufacturers only were guilty of malpractice. The bill was given first reading.

Assist Deportation.

Ernest Lapointe (Quebec East) secured first reading of a bill to amend the immigration act with respect to the deportation of undesirable persons.

The bill was practically the same as the Government bill thrown out by the Senate in committee last session, and provides against the deportation of British subjects from Canada without trial by the ordinary courts.

Hon. H. S. Beland (Beauce) quoted Premier Meighen as having stated in Montreal that the Government, having taken over the Grand Trunk Railway, would give it a fair trial, and that if the Government did not make a success of it, someone else might. Dr. Beland asked if this foreshadowed handing over the National Railways to private ownership.

Premier Meighen—The answer to the question is "No."

D. D. McKenzie (Cape Breton) asked if it was correct that the Grand Trunk had defaulted on certain bonds. The whole financial situation of the Grand Trunk, he added, appeared to be very much in the air.

Has No Information.

The prime minister replied that the Government had no information that the default had taken place. Interest on certain bonds was due. In respect of these and in respect of others related thereto, correspondence between the Government and the Grand Trunk was now proceeding. Full details would be given to Parliament later.

George Parent (Quebec West) moved a resolution advocating the payment of an indemnity to "the innocent victims who, during the so-called Quebec riots of 1918, have either been killed or wounded by the soldiers of his majesty."

Mr. Parent said he brought the matter up last session, but the Government had taken no action. Apparently the Government was inclined to treat the matter lightly. He read a number of letters from persons who were injured in the riots, and who claimed reparation for the injury done them.

Hard to Determine.

Mr. Parent admitted that responsibility in the various cases had been difficult to determine. It was his sincere and honest opinion that every citizen would "chip in" and pay a little good Canadian money to indemnify those innocent Canadian victims who have suffered.

E. Lapointe (Quebec East) was heartily in accord with the resolution.

A similar view was expressed by P. F. Casgrain (Charlevoix-Montmorency), who referred particularly to the case of one Tremblay, a technical school student, who had been wounded. His wound had not been mortal, but because he had not been given medical attention immediately he suffered intensely and died the next day. The man had taken no direct part in the rioting.

Nothing Was Done.

Hon. H. S. Beland (Beauce) hoped and expected that after the matter of riots was brought up last session the Government would have investigated it, but nothing had been done. The peace treaty aimed at relieving sufferers to some extent. The Quebec riots were a matter, however, from which the people of Canada were the only ones who could be called upon to indemnify the sufferers. Had the unfortunate outbreak occurred in another province he would have been just as ready to ask compensation for the sufferers.

Major C. P. Power (Quebec South) said some of the soldiers sent to Quebec at the time of the riots were raw recruits who had not handled rifles until ten minutes before they were sent on the streets. The newspapers of the country had published inflammatory reports with regard to the so-called riots, and these young recruits from outside points were probably affected. Surely the person or persons responsible for sending such men to Quebec should be willing to shoulder the blame.

Hocken Opposed.

H. C. Hocken (Toronto West) said that what Mr. Parent was asking was a pension for men who were on the streets of Quebec when they had been warned by Gen. Lessard to keep off. Men who refused to be warned had no right to come to Parliament asking for an indemnity. How could soldiers distinguish between these men and rioters? The people of Canada, outside of the Province of Quebec, had contributed liberally to the winning of the war in men and money, but they should not be called upon to indemnify those who played the part of rebels at a time when the country needed loyal citizens. He felt that if an indemnity were granted to these people, the action of the Government in so doing would be resented by the G. W. V. A. and by loyal citizens who had contributed their all to the war.

Murphy Comes Back.

Hon. Charles Murphy criticized "the characteristically Toronto fashion" in which Mr. Hocken misrepresented Mr. Parent's statements.

The minister of justice said that after considerable investigation into this matter he could find no question of any legal responsibility. He had been considerably interested in the suggested analogy drawn between the expropriation of a man's property and the taking of a man's life by the Government. There was, however, no legal basis for such an analogy. The only claim in this case must be on sympathetic grounds. The victims, innocent as they might have been, had no legal claim on the Government for any degree of compensation. The crown was not responsible for the wrongdoing of its individual employees. Quebec had not been the only city to make such a claim. Calgary also had had similar troubles during the war, and complaints had been made of soldiers breaking into shops, and so on.

No Ground For It.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux said there was certainly ground for a compassionate allowance, on the part of the Government, and gave precedents.

He charged that agents provocateurs had been employed by the department of justice.

Hon. Mr. Doherty—The men were employed, but that they were employed as agents provocateurs is quite another statement.

In 1837 and 1838, said Mr. Lemieux, the people of Toronto were not slow in demanding an indemnity for the Loyalists, but it was many years later before the families of the rebels were given assistance. There had been some protests against this, especially from the "Hockens" of the day," who had destroyed the Parliament Buildings in Montreal.

Here Speaker Rhodes called Mr. Lemieux to order.

"Let us say the Orange Sentinels of the day," Mr. Lemieux amended. In memory of the dead in Flanders' fields, he concluded the song of hate from the people of Toronto should not prevail. Soldiers fought overseas that a song of love should replace a song of hate.

The resolution was declared lost on division.

THUGS ABDUCTED HAMILTON GIRL

HAMILTON, April 4.—Returning to her home on Niagara street in East Hamilton late Saturday night, Miss Elsie Babcock was attacked by two foreigners. She was abducted to a secluded house near the waterfront and held prisoner for nearly an hour, during which attempts were made to assault her. The thugs endeavored to force liquor upon her and offered money, but the girl fought desperately. Her captors becoming frightened escorted the girl to within a block of her home, where the frightened victim screamed and attracted her brother. Though the police were notified at once they failed to get any trace of the men. The authorities state it to be the worst case of abduction reported in Hamilton in years.

A HOMEMADE GREY HAIR REMEDY

You Can Make a Better Grey Hair Remedy Than You Can Buy.

Grey, streaked or faded hair is not only unbecoming, but unnecessary.

Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will darken grey hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water, add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Orlex Compound and ¼ ounce of glycerine.

These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost, or the druggist will put it up for you. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a grey-haired person look twenty years younger. It is easy to use, does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off.

Paying Farm Hands $60 a Month in West

SASKATOON, April 4.—Wages for farm hands in the Saskatoon district are now $60 a month, a $10 increase on the price that has been advocated by the provincial employment officer. The office has already placed a considerable number of men on the increased wage. Some communities have pledged themselves to pay a maximum of $60, on the ground that the farmers cannot afford to pay more, but it looks as if the element of competition will increase the scale, bringing it even higher than at present. Most applicants for jobs are English-speaking, the majority with experience. Wages are 25 per cent lower than last year, and the number of applicants and the demand for help is smaller.

"You Are Looking 'All In"

"YES, and that is just how I feel."

"What seems to be the matter?"

"Why, I had tonsilitis, and my whole system seemed to be poisoned and run down. So much so that I do not seem to gain strength."

"Will you let me be your doctor and do as I tell you?"

"I will do anything to get strong and well. I have been sitting here too long already."

"Well, you send to the drug store for six boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and take one pill after each meal and at bedtime. Believe me, it will not be long until you feel the benefit of this treatment and find yourself gaining in health and vigor."

"How do you know?"

"I know from personal experience. After I had the 'flu' I was left just like you are now—all run down; could not sleep; the little food I ate did not seem to do me any good, and I was getting pretty blue."

"Yes."

"Well, my wife had been using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and insisting on me giving it a trial. You know the rest, for I was soon about again, as hale and hearty as ever. I have told lots of people about this Nerve Food, and never knew it to fail yet."

"You are to be the doctor in this case, so I will follow your advice."

Why You Should Buy a Brunswick

The Brunswick was the first and is still the only phonograph BUILT to play all makes of records, as the maker intended they should be played. This is accomplished by the invention of the "Double Ultona," which is a reproducer that combines the necessary features of the rpproducers used for different records—all in one—including proper point, balance, diaphragm and weight. A simple turn of the Ultona, without change or delay, converts the Brunswick from one system to another. It is a marvelous achievement.

Then, the acoustic qualities embodied in the Brunswick all-wood oval horn (which is the only all-wood oval phonograph horn) brings out all the delicate vibrations of tone that give music its real quality.

And the powerful Brunswick 4-spring motor that runs 27 minutes without winding, insures even running, less bother and much greater durability, so when you buy a Brunswick it is bought for all time. Finally, the Brunswick cabinets are masterpieces of perfection. In design, workmanship and finish they are superb, for the Brunswick Company has generations of experience behind them in woodworking craftsmanship, and unlimited timber resources for the selection of perfect woods.

It is this combination of qualities and features that have made the Brunswick the "Final Phonograph," all phonographs in one.

We Are London Headquarters For Brunswick Records

"Artistic Companions of the Brunswick Phonograph." Come in and hear them. They are played on any make of phonograph.

BIGGS DEMANDS A WIDE OPEN INVESTIGATION

Minister Will Probably Appear Before the Committee Tomorrow.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TORONTO, April 4.—Formal cabinet assent has been given to Hon. F. C. Biggs' appearance before the public accounts committee of the Legislature on Wednesday morning. The minister of public works has reiterated before the premier his demand made in the first instance before committee that there be wide-open investigation.

Besides Hon. Mr. Biggs, deputy minister of highways, W. A. McLean, will testify at the Wednesday morning hearing, also Chief Engineer Hogarth of the department.

BRANTFORD COUNCIL APPROVES LICENSING OF MILK VENDORS

Will Not Enforce Measure Providing For Testing of Herds.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

BRANTFORD, April 4.—The perennial milk question came up at the city council this evening, when the council approved of the licensing of milk vendors, but refused to enforce self-recording thermometers in local pasteurizing plants, thus preventing the enforcement of government testing of district herds. The council authorized the purchase of an asphalt plant, it being the policy to have the city do all pavement construction here. Much concrete pavement has been laid by the city, but now asphalt work will also be carried on.

The committee inquiring into assessment matters was unable to come to an agreement on the best system to adopt, and was discharged. The province would do all in its power to expedite work on the provincial highway, but that weather conditions were adverse was the word received from Hon. F. C. Biggs.

Fire tonight destroyed the home of Bert Meates, Brock street, and burned the roof off the frame house next door.

With bands out, the Dufferin Rifles held their initial spring parade this evening, Col. M. A. Colquhoun, D.S.O., C.M.G., commanding. The regiment is not up to pre-war strength, but made a good showing.

WILL ASK DRURY TO DEFER ACTION ON M'CREA BILL

Galt Council Wants Views of Municipalities To Be Heard.

GALT, April 4.—In a letter to the council tonight Manager W. M. Kirkwood, of the G. R. R., stated that since the Standard Paving Company would be ready to do grading on Water street within a few days, the company would discontinue the switching service to manufacturers on the west side on Wednesday evening.

The resignation of Archie Hutchinson, for many years superintendent of Mountview Cemetery, was received. No reason for the action was given, and no member of the council had any previous intimation that it was coming. The cemetery committee will endeavor to retain his services.

The board of works reported that it had purchased two motor trucks, a stone crusher and equipment, and an electric motor, for the new civic quarry.

On recommendation of the committee the commission passed a resolution requesting Premier Drury to defer action on the McCrea bill until the municipalities are given an opportunity to appear before the railway committee to state their cases.

FARM HANDS' WAGES LOWER IN ALBERTA

Schedule Will Run From $40 To $50 Per Month This Season.

CALGARY, April 4.—(By Canadian Press).—Wages of farm hands in Alberta this year will be only about half what they were last year, according to several farmers and farming organizations. Hon. Duncan Marshall, provincial minister of agriculture, who was in Calgary this morning, when this question was put to him, replied emphatically that farmers could not possibly pay more than $40 to $50 a month, with board, for their help, in view of the prospect of wheat this year going back to pre-war basis.

Generally speaking, it is the intention of farmers, if they cannot secure help at about the figure mentioned, that they will only seed such land as they can handle.

INSPECTOR ORDERS MUSIC STOPPED

BRANTFORD, April 4. — Because authority has not yet been given by the board of education, musical education in Brantford's public schools has been discontinued. A member of the board told the Home and School Association that the musical teaching might be gone ahead with, and Harry Hill was secured at the expense of the association to instruct pupils at King Edward School. This morning the school inspector issued orders that the instruction was to be stopped.

Victoria Lodge, I. O. O. F., Hamilton, sent a degree team to Brantford tonight, and the initiatory degree was conferred on a number of candidates at Gore Lodge here.

REDUCTINO CAUSES STRIKE.

BOSTON, April 4.—A strike in the printing trades was begun today because of a reduction of wages. Approximately 100 book and job printing establishments and from 1,500 to 2,500 persons are involved.

BODY OF FARMER LONG MISSING FOUND IN RIVER

Mystery Surrounds the Fate of William Milne of Avonbank.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

ST. MARYS, April 4.—After having been missing since the night of the big storm three weeks ago the body of William J. Milne was found in the Thames River this afternoon. It was discovered by searchers with grappling irons and lay in ten feet of water near a bank at the foot of the farm of C. J. Rea. Mr. Milne's watch had stopped at 10:30.

The case has aroused the whole countryside, and a widespread search failed to reveal the slightest clue until yesterday, when a cap found in the river led to the belief that he might be there. When found this afternoon by Douglas Martin, for whom Mr. Milne had often worked, the coat was pulled up over his head. Mr. Milne was wearing heavy rubber boots, and these apparently had kept the body from rising.

Complete Mystery.

There were no marks of violence on the body, and nothing in any way to indicate that Milne was the victim of foul play. The body was found almost three miles from his home. How he came to get in the river will probably never be known. He left his home on the night of the storm to make a call, and one story is that he may have been struck by lightning and fallen into the river. There are no marks on the body to indicate that this was the case.

Mr. Milne was 40 years old, and had lived in Canada 17 years. Both he and Mrs. Milne, to whom he was married five years ago, are natives of Aberdeen, Scotland. Besides his wife he leaves a four-year-old son, Franklin, and a two-year-old daughter, Bessie.

Coroner Rankin of Stratford will conduct an inquest.

KILLED BY FALL.

SARNIA, April 4.—The body of Geo. P. Marshall was found in the hold of the barge Burns today in the River St. Clair by members of the crew. Marshall had been dead for some hours. For the past few nights Marshall, who was out of employment, has been bunking aboard the boat, and it is believed that he fell through the open hatch some time during the week-end. His skull was fractured. Coroner Falk took charge of the remains, and is trying to locate relatives of the dead man. Mr. Falk learned that Marshall had formerly been employed at Marysville as an electrician. He had a card on his person to the effect that in case of accident, Manuel Marshall, 1519 Ellsworth street, Philadelphia, was to be notified. A telegram was sent to that address, but it has been returned with the statement that no such person lives at the address given. Efforts to locate Manuel Marshall at other addresses were also unavailing.

WAS TAKEN SERIOUSLY.

WINDSOR, April 4.—T. P. Pinckard, president of the Windsor Gas Company, is not attaching a great deal of importance to the proposed development of the Sarnia gas field, as it might affect the local situation. A promoter of the Sarnia company stated that 70,000,000 feet might be supplied to Windsor annually. "That amount was only 4 per cent of the total amount of gas distributed locally last year," stated Mr. Pinckard. "It will be a great surprise to me if 70,000,000 feet of gas can be procured in that part of the province, but if such proves to be the case it would be worth developing. Gas from those fields could be supplied to Sarnia, which would relieve to some extent the situation here."

APPOINTED NEW BOARD.

INGERSOLL, April 4.—At a meeting of the council tonight H. E. Robinson of the Ingersoll Telephone Company asked the members to adopt an amendment to the agreement which will permit the taking over of the Bell Telephone system. The matter was referred to the council for consideration as a committee, and will be reported on in a week.

A resolution was passed expressing approval of the natural gas conservation act of the Provincial Legislature, and urging the Government to have it become law as soon as possible. A copy of the resolution will be sent to Premier Drury.

The Big Eight Club had representatives present asking for a donation and for the free use of the park for the sports planned for May 24. The Citizens' Band asked for a grant of $500 for ten concerts to be given throughout the season.

A parks committee was appointed, comprising W. Sutherland, William English and J. E. Ferguson.

The clerk was instructed to write the license commissioners in reference to a request that fines be turned over from cases heard from outside districts. The mayor is not inclined to do this, as he holds that it is not right for the local force to spend its efforts in securing arrests and convictions and then not have the proceeds of the fines.

CITY MAY BUY STREET RAILWAY

Vote in Detroit On Traction Question Is Close.

DETROIT, April 4.—Passage of a constitutional amendment providing for a bond issue of $30,000,000 for a state soldiers' bonus, and re-election of all Republican minor state officers, was indicated by returns late tonight from the state-wide election today. The bonus proposal was leading in what were considered representative reports by about three to one, and Republican candidates for office were leading Democrats by about the same ratio.

In Detroit a rather close vote was indicated by reutrns on two traction questions. A proposal that municipal and privately owned lines be jointly operated under supervivsion of the city council, with a 6 per cent return to owners of the private system, was running slightly behind in early reports. The early returned favored a proposal that a number of private lines be purchased and made a part of the municipal lines.

NOT PLANNING DRIVE FOR MORE BLUE LAWS

CHICAGO, April 4.—Plans of the Women's Christian Temperance Union for a membership drive have caused erroneous reports that the organization planned a big campaign in support of "blue" Sundays, according to Mrs. Margaret Munns, national treasurer. Mrs. Munns states that the organization is planning nothing more than its usual work in support of the observance of the Sabbath, and is not planning a special drive in support of blue laws. A recent statement to the effect that the organization would seek to bring about very stringent Sunday restrictions, it was explained at headquarters here, was misconstrued as a statement of the union's policy, but it was merely the expression of the personal opinion of one of the officials.

Stewed Raisins.

Cover Sun-Maid Raisins with cold water and add a slice of lemon or orange to each half pound. Place on fire; bring to a boil and allow to simmer for one hour. Sugar may be added, but is not necessary, as Sun-Maid Seeded Raisins contain 75 per cent natural fruit sugar. Serve with or without cream.

Raisin Rice Pudding

½ cup Sun-Maid Seeded Raisins
1-3 cup rice
3 cups milk
2 eggs
½ cup sugar
1 cup water
¼ teaspoon nutmeg (may omit)

Wash rice and place in double boiler with 1 cup water. Cook until water is absorbed. Add 2 cups milk, cook until rice is tender. To the remaining 1 cup milk add the sugar, spice and well-beaten eggs, combine with rice and raisins, pour into pudding dish, set in pan of hot water and bake until custard is set.

Raisin Pie

2 cups Sun-Maid Seeded Raisins
2 cups cold water
4 tablespoons corn starch
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind

Cover raisins with one cup water and bring slowly to boiling point. Mix corn starch, salt and sugar with remaining cup water and add to boiling raisins, stirring constantly. Allow to boil ten minutes. Add lemon juice and rind and pour into pastry-lined pie pan. Cover with pastry. Put into very hot oven, decreasing the heat after ten minutes of baking. Bake until brown.

Raisin Salad

THE NATIONAL CATHOLIC UNION.

The dispute between the Minister of Labor, Hon. Gideon Robertson, and the National Catholic Unions of Quebec bids fair to become an issue of considerable importance in that province. The dispute had its origin in the demand by the National Catholic Unions that they be given representation in the approaching conference which is to take place in Ottawa between representatives of the employers and employees in the building trades. In declining to entertain this demand the Minister of Labor said some rather pointed things about the very evident religious character of the Quebec unions, and asked what would be the position if like unions were organized, say, among the Methodists in Ontario. There were some rather heated remarks during the interview, and Mr. Ernest Lapointe has given notice in the Commons that he intends to go after the minister at the first opportunity afforded him. The matter is further complicated by the fact that the Montreal Gazette, usually a staunch advocate of the Government, has attacked Senator Robertson's attitude in the strongest terms.

The Minister of Labor has replied to the Gazette's attack in a three-column statement appearing in the issue of March 31, and in the same issue appears a column and a half of editorial rejoinder that is no less pointed.

"Briefly stated," says the Minister of Labor, "every workman has, and should have, equal rights and voice in the industrial field. Neither religious nor political affiliations should be a recommendation or a bar to securing employment." He then points out that the National Catholic Union is limited in its membership to Roman Catholics, and that the constitution of one typical union contains the following interesting clause:

"Recognizing that the church alone has the right, and is qualified to say where, in the so-called labor questions, is the true and false, the just and unjust, the good and the bad, what is permissible and what is not, the Catholic Union of Printers and Bookbinding Workers will comply entirely and conscientiously, in the pursuit of its object, with the teaching and instructions of the religious authority."

Commenting on this and like clauses, the Minister of Labor says: "The foregoing shows that the purpose is church control of an organization of industrial workers. No resolution can pass or be adopted without the chaplain's consent . . . No Protestant and no Catholic connected with any other organization of workers is eligible for membership. Why? Obviously because they cannot be satisfactorily controlled by the church authorities."

The minister adds that, "having cut themselves off from intercourse with all other labor bodies, knowing the impossibility of securing any recognition or co-operation from them, the National Catholic Union now demands that the Department of Labor force their unwelcome presence upon this conference, the only possible effect of which would be to destroy its usefulness." This is plain speaking from the Minister of Labor, and, presumably, from the Government.

ENGLAND'S GREAT STRIKE.

Nearly 2,000,000 British coal miners are on strike, and with the exception of half a dozen small pits, production of coal has ceased. The reason of the walk-out is that the Government has turned the mines back to private ownership. Until ten days ago the Government practically operated the mines, setting the figures for wages and prices the consumer should pay. The amount to be exported and the amount to be used for home consumption was set by the Government, and where a mine was unable to produce save at a loss—because of the wage schedule—the Government supplied the necessary financial assistance.

The way of the coal miner, or perhaps it would be more accurate, the miners' leaders, has been unfair and exasperating. They remanded and secured Government regulation and then kept up the bitter attacks that had preceded Government control. Now they are just as furiously hostile to the Government for turning control back to the owners. It is easy to explain this attitude. The miners' leaders realize that so long as the present wage schedule prevails, many mines cannot operate, now that the Government is no longer at hand to supply the deficits. The demand of the miners that the Government continue this ruinous policy has been rejected by Lloyd George, who advises them to make some new and economical arrangement with the owners. The immediate situation is that the Government has invoked an act by which it takes control of the consumption of fuel during the emergency. This naturally has angered the miners, who have threatened sabotage. In fact, already a number of pits are reported destroyed by flooding. If this should spread to the coal mines of the United Kingdom generally it would have a devastating effect on British trade and commerce, demoralizing business of all kinds, and bringing suffering to millions.

A few days ago the British premier warned the country against the conspiracies of labor extremists, who, he declares, were planning a revolution. Is the coal strike the first move of these destructionists? It certainly savors of the direct action that Smillie and his friends have been threatening to employ. Nothing could be more revolutionary than an attempt to force the Government into accepting the miners' demands than their threat to destroy the coal pits.

It is well that a man of Lloyd George's firmness and courage is guiding affairs. The vast majority of the people of the United Kingdom is with him in this black crisis. He has refused to be coerced by a radical element that would throw the country into anarchy in order to advance their impossible plans.

RAILWAY MUDDLE THICKENS.

The Minister of Railways has thrown himself pretty well upon the mercy of Parliament in the matter of the greatest of all Canadian problems. He has himself made but few suggestions as to its solution, but he has declared that the question is too big to be made a political football of, and he has asked for suggestions from Parliament. He will no doubt receive many. In the meantime a new problem has been presented in the default reported from Montreal in connection with Grand Trunk bonds in London. During the past week or so the Grand Trunk situation has been receiving much of the attention of the Government, and promises to add to the difficulties of an already tangled problem. The date set for the granting of the award fixing the price of the stocks which the Government must acquire in order to come into complete possession of the Grand Trunk System is April 9. The Grand Trunk is asking for an extension of the time. The responsibility for the delay is with the company, which apparently was not ready with its information, and there is a fairly strong body of opinion in Government ranks in favor of acquisition on the date set, and against any extension. If an extension is granted, the Government will be compelled to meet obligations for funding, etc., which it is not inclined to do under the present joint board of management, and before it has become possessor of the system.

There are, however, strong influences urging an extension, and there is a strong possibility of a compromise of some kind or another being reached. Interest default on the funded debt of the company, which is now reported, is said to be for but a small amount. Nevertheless, if not paid by someone, its non-payment will be the first step toward the liquidation of the system. This the Government cannot afford to contemplate, for the very same reasons as were advanced in the first place for choosing as an alternative the acquisition of the road.

Apart from other considerations liquidation would bring about something of a cataclysm. It would have the effect, for instance, of putting the Governments of the four Western Provinces up against the payment of bonds guaranteed on behalf of the Grand Trunk Pacific. And it would practically render of noneffect the arbitration award now pending. If the interest now in default is not paid, the whole business at once goes in the air.

EVERYTHING

THE REALIST.

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, the famous educationist, said at a dinner in Brooklyn:

"People talk a lot of nonsense about telling character by the walk, by the handwriting and so on. Now, there's one way you can really tell character, and that is by putting moral questions to school children.

"I remember a schoolboy who answered one of these moral questions back in 1880, in such a manner as to become a realistic novelist. Well, that boy is a realistic novelist, and a good one, today.

"The moral question put to his mates and him was this:

"'If a boy sold a pair of broken skates, and he knew they were broken, while the buyer did not, what would you think of the transaction?'

"To this question the realistic novelist in embryo wrote out the following reply:

"'The boy was unfair, he was a cheat and a thief, and would run away happy and buy some cigarettes or maybe a box of mixtures.'"

SUCCESS.

[Seattle Post-Intelligencer.]

We gather the gold and store it,
And the whisper is heard, "Success,"
But tell me, ye cold white sleepers,
Is that achievement the best?

We struggle for power and win it,
But lo! like a fleeting breath,
It is lost in the realms of silence,
Whose ruler and king is death.

The glory is most in the doing,
And not in the trophy that is won;
The house that is built in the shadows
May shine in the rays of the sun.

Perhaps in the ultimate judgment
The effort alone will avail;
Carry on, weary, exhausted pilgrim—
The faint-hearted only will fail.

THE EASIER WAY.

"Charity begins at home," said Dr. Wilbur P. Crafts of the International Reform Bureau of Washington, "but no truth is so disregarded as this one.

"Two beggar women met on the street the other day.

"'Fine coat you've got there. Where did you land it?' said the first beggar woman.

"'Old Mrs. Gobbsa Golde gave it to me,' said the second beggar woman.

"'Is that so? I've begged at Mrs. Gobbsa Golde's a hundred times, and she never gave me a cent. How did you work her?'

"'Well, you see, said the second beggar woman, stroking her new coat complacently, 'I didn't tell her I was begging for myself. I pretended I was begging for the heathen.'"

SPRING IN TOWN.

[William Cullen Bryant.]

The country ever has a lagging spring,
Waiting for May to call its violets forth,
And June roses—showers and sunshine bring,
Slowly the deepening verdure o'er the earth;
To put their foliage out, the woods are slack,
And one by one the singing-birds come back.

Within the city's bounds the time of flowers
Comes earlier. Let a mild and sunny day,
Such as full often, for a few bright hours,
Breathes through the sky of March the airs
Shine but our roofs and chase the wintry gloom—
And lo! our borders glow with sudden bloom.

For the sidewalks of Broadway are then
Gorgeous as are a rivulet's banks in June,
For the sidewalks of Broadway are then
That overhung with blossoms, through its glen,
Slides soft away beneath the sunny noon,
And they who search the untrodden wood for flowers
Meet in its depths no lovelier ones than ours.

GLUTTONY UNLIMITED.

Senator Hiram Johnson was condemning the profiteer.

"Profiteering," he said, "still keeps up. It will keep up, too, till laws are made to crush it. Profiteer gluttony, you see, has no limit.

"If only the profiteer, like little Willie, had to stop when he had enough! Little Willie went to a holiday party and gorged himself beyond believing. As he pushed back his plate regretfully, his hostess said:

"'Willie, dear, won't you have another piece of mince pie?'

"The boy smiled a brave smile.

"'Maybe,' he said, "if I stood up I could manage it.'

"But a moment later he put the pie from him.

"'Thank you,' he said, 'but it's no use. I can chew, but I can't swallow.'"

THE LONG HILL.

[Sara Teasdale.]

I must have passed the crest a while ago
And now I am going down—
Strange to have crossed the crest and not to know,
But the brambles were always catching the hem of my gown.

All the morning I thought how proud I should be
To stand there straight as a queen
Wrapped in the wind and the sun with the world under me—
But the air was dull, there was little I could have seen.

It was nearly level along the beaten track
And the brambles caught in my gown—
But its no use now to think of turning back,
The rest of the way will be all going down.

COLLEGE SPIRIT.

Scott Fitzgerald, the youthful author whose recent novel of college life has made him famous, said at a luncheon in New York:

"College spirit is always the same. It is exemplified in the dialogue of the two juniors.

"'What shall we do tonight?' said the first junior.

"'I'll toss up a coin for it,' the second junior answered.

"'If it's heads we'll go to the movies; if it's tails we'll go to Palais de danse, and if it stands on edge we'll study.'"

WHAT IS BEHIND.

[Charlotte Becker.]

What is behind this quiet street,
This moon, this field of golden wheat,
These figures, passing to and fro,
This wind, that sighs in whispers low,
This swallow, flying far and fleet?

And, back of every muffled beat
Of hearts that endlessly repeat
Longings for things no mortals know—
What is behind?

Bird songs with melody replete
And odors blown from gardens sweet,
And love, that man and beast bestow
In selfless sacrifices, show
That each day, all unguessed, we greet
What is behind?

GIVING HIM AWAY.

[Boston Transcript.]

Edith—Do you know when Jack went to put the engagement ring on my finger he really didn't know which finger it should go on?

Maud—Well, he must have a very poor memory.

OTHERS' VIEWS

CARVELL SEES LIGHT.

[Winnipeg Tribune.]

It has at last dawned upon Hon. Frank B. Carvell, chairman of the board of railway commissioners, that an increase in Pullman rates may not correspondingly increase revenue through people declining to travel. But he says "freight must move," therefore from an increase in freight rates you get an increase in revenue.

It is not true. Freight may stay at home just as well as people. Take a copper mine shipping 1,000 tons a day at an ultimate net return of 50 cents a ton. Add 50 cents a ton to the freight on that ore, and all the supplies coming the other way stay at home also, as well as the freight paid for out of the wage fund.

Take a coal mine competing at 50 cents net profit for 1,000 tons a day in a market fed by a different railway system for the rest of its supply, or upon water haulage or wood substitution. Raise the freight 50 cents and another 1,000 tons stay at home.

These adjustments add to the overhead on freight that can still stand the rates. Up go the rates again. Finally the railroad is reduced to a right of way and two streaks of rust, with a lawyer a thousand miles away raising the rates again.

On the whole, it is a hopeful sign to see Mr. Carvell becoming peevish. That he can admit that there is such a principle as "more than the traffic can bear" is a sign of grace. He will secure plenty of direct evidence very shortly not only that there is such a principle but that it applies to express traffic and freight traffic as well as passengers, unless the whole railway situation in Canada is dealt with from a different angle from that in which the railway commission seems inclined to treat it.

PATRONAGE AND THE CENSUS.

[Regina Leader.]

Sir George Foster's admission that, contrary to its professions, the Government has not abolished the patronage system, throws considerable light upon its motives in hanging on to office in spite of the verdict of the recent by-elections and the advice of the clearer-sighted among its friends. The dispensing of some 24,000 jobs in connection with the taking of the census may be expected to have its value in an election held soon afterwards.

Sir George Foster endeavored to hide behind the unwillingness of the civil service commission to undertake so large a number of temporary appointments, but the desire of the Government to make full use of the opportunity afforded by the commission's reluctance is shown by the failure to seek or to adopt any other fair and non-partizan methods of patronage method could have been avoided.

The census enumerators could have been appointed on recommendation of the sitting members or through the instrumentality of municipal officials. Had there been the least wish to avoid the exercise of the system which the Borden Government took so much credit for abolishing, the thing could have been done.

For Mr. Crerar and his friends the incident has a particular significance. Mr. Crerar himself was a member of the Government which pledged itself to abolish patronage and he, at least, believed that it had been done. Perhaps this instance of the absence of any real connection between the Meighen and Borden governments will convince him of the error of pretending that there is any vestige of the coalition left in the present Government.

FRANCE'S NEW FORTS WILL BE IN VALLEYS

Defilade To Be Gained Through Hills.

PARIS, April 4.—French military chiefs have just made a notable decision after studying the war records of the fortifications which have been relied upon since 1870 to protect the chief cities. The old-time fortifications always were constructed on the tops of hills at suitable distances from the cities themselves, but in the future they will be confined to valleys, preferably near cities, but protected from enemy fire by intervening ridges as well as a highly-developed air force upon which France, or at least the influential majority of her military chiefs, are now laying much stress as being the most modern protective factor.

Just where the protective forts encircling Paris are to be located has not yet been decided, but experts are studying maps and hope to settle the question before summer arrives, which would make it possible to reconstruct the armor-clad gun emplacements before the winter months. It is expected that this work will be completed by the same forces which are now engaged in wrecking the now useless barriers of sand and rock which formed the Paris municipal limits.

The Alsace-Lorraine frontier fortress line will be located at least 25 miles behind the actual frontiers, and will lie in the Vosges foothills, which form the last natural protective line before reaching the Verdun-Rheims line, which taxed the kaiser's artillery to the utmost during the entire war.

GIRL ENIGMA DELUDES SAVANTS IN MUNICH

Supposed Asiatic Princess Could Speak German.

VIENNA, April 4.—For about three months the most learned professors, physicians and other savants of Munich had been building up beautiful theories about a strange girl who was found in the street dressed in Oriental clothing. Apparently she was unable to speak any language which could be understood even by the most highly educated of the professors. So they went after that language which she did speak and examined it syllable by syllable until after many consultations they discovered that hers was the language of a mysterious tribe in Central Asia. By a method of reasoning no less astute they also discovered that she was the daughter of a chief and therefore a princess.

Taking this discovery as a basis, they evolved the theory that she had been smuggled to Bavaria from Constantinople by allied officers and deserted. So they found a home for her and tried to teach her a language they could understand better without so much research work. Although they did not seem to have much luck, they kept at it until finally their efforts were cut short by the disappearance of the girl.

No one having seen the actual escape, the doctors and professors worked out the theory that she had been kidnapped by mysterious Asiatic emissaries. The only trouble with this theory was that it was good enough to arouse the imagination of the police, who promptly traced the feminine enigma to the house of a man who had induced her to live with him after he had discovered that she could speak German as well as he did.

The man was a friend of a woman in a neighboring village for whom the "mysterious" girl formerly had worked as a servant.

EVERETT'S DREAM ENDS.

Chicago, April 4.—The dream of Everett A. Harding of relationship to the chief executive of the United States was shattered yesterday. He spent the day in the Woodstock, Ills., jail in default of $5,000 bail and charged with impersonating a government official. The agents learned that months before the Republican National convention last year Young Harding injected himself into the presidential primary campaign in behalf of "cousin Warren" representing himself on several occasions as Senator Harding's campaign manager.

HEARING ON MURDER CHARGE.

Corunna, Mich., April 4.—Forrest Higgins was to be given a preliminary hearing today on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Lucy Whittum, his 19-year-old sweetheart, whose body was found beside a railway track last Thursday. Prosecutor Matthews announced no change in his plans has been made as a result of a statement made by Higgins yesterday, in which the accused man declared Miss Whittum took her life when told their elopement would have to be postponed.

DOUGHTY'S SENTENCE DEFERRED.

Toronto, April 4.—Sentence in the case of John Doughty, convicted of theft of $105,000 in bonds from the missing Ambrose J. Small, theatrical magnate, was again deferred by Judge Denton today to permit an appeal to be made to the appellate court in the case. The judge granted this, but refused the application of Doughty's counsel for a reserved case on the evidence.

IN FASHION'S JEWEL BOX

(By Dorothy Dignam.)

Have you a charmed life? Do taxicabs veer to the right and conveniently miss you? Do rich uncles die and leave you money? If not, perhaps you need a charm, and you'll want one surely when you see the cunning things! There are little elephants in glass and tiny pigs for pork packers; black enamel owls with eyes of gleaming wisdom and chip diamonds; and pussy cats with emeralds in their heads. Your favorite dog is also in this collection of charming pets, and tiny camels for the anti-drys are made of platinum with many jewels.

Wear your charm on an extra chain with your vanity or dorine, on your bangle bracelet, around your neck on the narrowest of gold or silver ribbons, or drop it in your mesh bag for good luck.

Rare perfumes are now coming from France in jeweled boxes—which adds to their import duty, their retail price and hence to their luxury and desirability. Most French pefumes you buy are precious enough to keep in a jeweled box, anyway. But the French have a fetching little way of doing it. Violet essence they encase in silverwood set with amethysts. The perfume of Oriental flowers they send to us in an Oriental box of gold and many flashing rubies. As these boxes are richly satin lined, too, any one of them would serve handsomely as a jewel or trinket case.

Not so costly, but quite as interesting is something new I saw for bridge prizes! A certain wood pulp is cut into various designs and enameled black. On this are set tiny multi-colored enamel buds, for all the world like ribbon roses, perfectly done. You can get a short hatpin with guard ends (this has a decoration of colored dots instead of roses). There are full-length hatpins with a sweeping black hat, rose trimmed and a pretty girl's face underneath it—all carved from this new substance. And you can buy the smartest pendants on the avenue—pastel roses rising on a bit of black trellis, the whole medallion about an inch and a half square. They are worn on a black ribbon.

LIEUT.-GOVERNOR TO LAY CORNERSTONE OF CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

Ceremony Will Probably Take Place May 11—Campaign For Funds in Fall.

The laying of the corner-stone of the new Children's Hospital was the subject of chief importance at meetings of the Municipal Chapter, I. O. D. E., and Children's Hospital Committee, held in Cronyn Hall yesterday afternoon. This ceremony will probably take place on Wednesday, May 11, the stone being laid by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, Mrs. Lionel Clarke and Miss Clarke. Arrangements were made at yesterday's meeting to present the guest of honor with a silver trowel, the presentation to be arranged for by Mrs. Forristal and Mrs. Dawson. The Municipal Chapter, I. O. D. E., has undertaken to entertain Mrs. Lionel Clarke and Miss Clarke at luncheon on the day they are in the city, Mrs. E. H. Johnston and Mrs. Gordon Hunt to be joint conveners of this luncheon. The inscription to be put on the stone has been left in the hands of Col. William Gartshore, Mrs. Arthur Smith and Mrs. F. J. Greenaway.

"County Fair."

Plans were also made for the big "County Fair" which the hospital committee is holding in the armories on some Saturday in May in aid of the Children's Hospital. This fair will probably be held on May 14, the Saturday directly succeeding the laying of the cornerstone, Mrs. W. H. Robinson, Mrs. E. H. Young and Mrs. Robert Tagg form the committee to make arrangements for the "County Fair."

Col. Gartshore visited the meeting yesterday afternoon to speak for the finance committee on the subject of raising more funds. He reported that the general welfare fund this year would probably not include requests for building funds, but merely aim to cover the maintenance funds of local institutions. This brought to a close any discussion on the subject as to whether or not the hospital committee would go into the welfare fund this year. Col. Gartshore suggested that the best time for a private campaign for the hospital would be next fall, pointing out that the building committee had money enough on hand to carry on until that time.

A acceptable gift to the hospital fund was $65 from the Daughters of Scotland. Mrs. E. B. Smith presided over the Municipal Chapter meeting and Mrs. Arthur Smith over the hospital committee meeting which followed it.

HOME ECONOMICS

MRS. ELIZABETH KENT, MacDONALD COLLEGE.

CRETONNE IN THE LIVING-ROOM.

If the walls and rug of the living-room are plain, then there should be relief and variety in the curtains and upholstery, and it is often wise to plan a room in this way, because walls and rugs are more or less permanent, but curtains and coverings can be changed from time to time. The delightful cretonnes, printed linens and chintzes on the market make such a plan attractive. But care must be taken not to mix colors and patterns regardlessly; there is really room for only one large-figured cretonne in one room. Plain cushions should be used on divans and chesterfields covered with figured cretonne, and curtains, or other hangings, if they cannot be the same pattern as the cretonne, should be plain, as well. One tires easily of large, colored designs, unless they are most carefully chosen, and as a rule more quickly of animals and birds in such designs, than of flowers, real or conventionalized. These bright cretonnes offer many a trap to the unwary. Rightly chosen with regard to wallpaper, rugs and furniture, they are the prettiest possible; the best way is to take a large piece to the room, where it is to be used and test it there.

Charming effects can be got by combining a pretty cretonne with the prevailing color of its background, or with the highest note of color in it, in plain stuffs. Curtains and cushions may be faced with the plain color, and of several chairs, one or two may be cushioned or upholstered in it. Cretonne is particularly suitable in a room where wicker furniture is used, as in country homes and bungalows.

Cretonnes and chintzes vary greatly in quality. Linen is, of course, the best dear as it is. But it does not pay, in any case, to buy any large quantity of cheap cretonne; it fades and frays so soon that the very labor of sewing on it is wasted.

CLEANING RUGS.

Any rug with fast colors may be washed at home, if you have plenty of muscle and courage. All the dust must be got out first, by a vacuum cleaner, or brushing and beating. Then prepare a heavy lather with any good white soap, or with blue soap powder, as heavy as a shaving lather, and spread it on the rug with a brush, doing a little at a time and rinsing it off with a sponge or soft cloth wrung constantly out of clean water. It is necessary to keep the lather heavy and frothy, and to change the rinsing water often. Be sure to get all the soap off, else the rug will be sticky. Usually, if a rug washed at home does not look well, it is because of inadequate rinsing, which allowed soap or grime to remain in the rug. It is hard work and requires strength as well as patience and care.

Fur rugs, like any skin, are likely to dry in the heat of the room and deteriorate rapidly. White fur can be washed in soapsuds, rinsed in lukewarm water, to which a little bluing has been added. A little linseed oil should be rubbed on the back of the skin after washing, to replace the natural oil of the animal. A rug mounted on a heavy flannel or wool back must not be washed. It can best be cleaned with cornmeal, heated in the oven and rubbed into the fur in handfuls. As fast as the meal gets soiled, use fresh. Then cover the rug with fresh meal, let stand over night, for several days, and shake and brush well, but be sure to get out all the meal, or insects will be attracted to it.

Grease spots on large rugs should be rid as much as possible of dust, and then cleaned with plenty of clean gasoline. But remember that gasoline is very inflammable, and have no fire near it. Also air the rug well after using it.

Personal Health Service

(By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D., Noted Physician and Author.)

For Ladies Only.

Man works from sun to sun, but woman's work—hey, what about that? Woman's work? She hires it done.

Here is a letter which ought to give a great many women a mean five minutes:

"Dear Dr. Brady:

"I am a (low tremolo) young girl eighteen years of age. I am 65 inches tall in stocking feet and I weigh 155 pounds. I am rather ashamed to confess that I am perfectly well. My mother is dead and I am trying to fill the place she left vacant. We are regularly a family of six, but there are almost always few extra guests. Ours is an eight-room house, large rooms, especially the kitchen, which takes me an hour to scrub. I do all the work. Luckily I have a washing machine and a carpet sweeper (not vacuum), so there are two tasks made easier. I also have a hand mixer which is a great convenience. I am very particular—things have to be just so, and naturally I work hard to keep things just so, though I am speedy at work and always in something of a hurry, never taking time to rest until the work in hand is all finished. The only square meal I have through the day is the evening meal, which we call 'supper.' I do all my own housecleaning, from picking up pins to beating carpets and moving furniture. I even move the piano when necessary, although the folks tell me I must not. I take care of the lawn, which takes about two hours to clip and massage. In winter I shovel snow and skate a good deal. When my home work and baking are done I take care of the church, a fifteen-minute ride from the house—sweep, dust, scrub, and clean it all myself—"

Yes, ladies, this reads like a fairy tale, we must admit, but it is a bona fide document. The girl will be chopping all the wood for the church stove and milking the cows for the church supper before we reach the end of this terrible confession!

"Just because I can't bear the sight of dirt, and then I hurry home to get supper. I take part in everything done at church, head as well as hands, to help the plans along. Therefore I am out five nights a week and seldom get into bed before eleven o'clock. I must get up not later than 6:15 a.m. in winter and 5 o'clock in summer. Of course, I hate to hear the alarm clock—seems as though I have just gone to bed—but I always do get up. I sleep like a log; indeed, I am asleep often when I roll into bed.

"Now neighbors tell me I will break down and ruin my health and be wrinkled and grey and done before I am 30 if I keep on working so hard. They called in one long stream to tell me that while I was doing up nearly three hundred jars of preserves last fall. They thought I ought to buy store preserves, but I can't bear . . . . They warn me I am sure to pay for my fun in later years. Do you think that in ten years' time I'll be old and cramped up? It seems to me that I am happiest when using every ounce of strength and energy the Lord gave me to some good purpose.

"I'm relying on your answer. Tell me the honest to goodness truth about it all.

"(Miss .....)."

Everything fine except insufficient sleep. The girl who means to retain her youthful complexion and her youthful good looks and vigor will not fail to get in TEN hours of sleep every night, even though she has to let the lawn run into timothy or permit sanctimonious dust to gather in the dark corners of the church.

But so far as the work is concerned, no medicine can be better for a woman's health, good looks, and morals. The curse of this present day is the workless woman, the woman who does nothing but waste her time and her husband's or somebody else's money. Yes, and the woman who can bear to depend on store preserves and every other little thing she can find ready to eat. These workless women are as often found in homes that can't as in homes that can afford the luxury.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Prescribing Exercise.

What would you recommend in the way of exercise for a patient too weak to undertake much strenuous effort? (L. G. E.)

ANSWER—Great caution. The patient's attending physician is the only one in a position to prescribe the kind or dose of exercise, if exercise is advisable. It is quite as important and difficult a problem to prescribe exercise as it is to prescribe drugs, and requires quite as careful judgment and intimate knowledge of the patient and his condition. This a great many of our readers do not realize.

Tea Habit.

I am sixty years of age and in the habit of drinking about six cups of weak tea daily. It has apparently caused no ill effect, but well-meaning friends keep telling me it will give me rheumatism. (Mrs. K. E. G.)

ANSWER—That which some tea habitues call weak would taint the stomach of an ostrich. Six cups of tea a day are about four too many for the good of most of us, but I cannot say that you are sure to suffer any ill effects. There is no reason particularly to fear the development of any of the diseases vulgarly called rheumatism.

Babies To Lend!

You wrote about adopting a baby if we had none in our home. Please tell me where we can get one, a boy baby. We have a nice country home and would love to have a little boy for our own. (D. M.)

ANSWER—Ought to have your family doctor's advice and help to be sure the baby's health and heredity are good. Various maternity institutions have 'em.

Puppy Stories

(by Vincent G. Perry.)

THE LITTLE LAME DOG.

(Part Ten.)

"Oh, oh, oh!" whined a little voice from under a pile of dirt close by. Quickly the old mother dog ran forward and commenced to dig. What a bark of joy she gave as she unearthed the little lame puppy, none the worse for his experience.

The cats gathered round and admired the puppy silently. They weren't used to being on such friendly terms with a dog, you see, so they hardly dared voice their opinion of things just then.

"Hurrah for the lame puppy!" cried Pinkey the white rat, and quite meekly the cats joined in his cheering.

"Now then Mrs. Mother Dog," Pinkey began when they were safely above ground. "You had better leave this puppy for me to take care of."

"I'll do no such a thing," the old mother dog declared stoutly. "I'm going to carry him right back to my box in the kitchen, and woe betide anyone who dares take him away from me."

So, although Pinkey tried to convince the mother dog that harm would befall the puppy, the old dog carried him off.

"I wonder where the old mother dog can be," her master was saying when a scratch came to the door.

"She's brought back the lame puppy," he cried in surprise, as the mother dog walked in.

"Goodness she has gone mad," the lady of the house gasped. The mother dog didn't mind that; she hoped in her heart that they would think she had gone mad and then they would be too frightened to try to interfere with her.

"No," said the master. "She likes her lame puppy, and she is afraid we are going to take it away from her."

"I think we had better let it live—even if it is going to be a cripple."

When the old mother dog heard that she was just placing the lame puppy back in the box with his brothers. With a bark of delight she bounded forward to show how pleased she was with her master's decision.

"She really understands," her master exclaimed. "We certainly must let the lame puppy live now. Perhaps we can find some way to get his leg better."

To Be Continued.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

Attention, Mollavene.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have never written to your page before, but I have enjoyed reading the letters.

I was wondering if Mollavene would kindly send me those comic recitations, as I am taking part in a concert.

Inclosed find a mite for S. C. H. I will sign my name as MAPLE BUD.

Easter Bonnets.

Dear Miss Grey,—I saw in tonight's paper where Brown-Eyed Betty wished to obtain the words, "Somewhere Out in the West," "Oh, What a Pal Was Mary," and "Where the River Shannon Flows." I have not the first-mentioned, but I am forwarding the last two. Hoping they will be of use to her.

Aren't we having lovely weather. It is just like spring here. I will soon be able to enjoy the weather, as Easter holidays begin Friday. How many Boxites have their new Easter bonnets yet? I got mine last night, so here's hoping that it doesn't rain. Well, my letter's growing lengthly, so I'll close now. Yours as ever, BERENICE.

P.S.—What do you think of my writing?

Ans.—You write a very good hand, Berenice. Thank you for inclosures.

The Little Banana Girl.

Dear Miss Grey,—This is my first letter to your cosy page, which I enjoy very much. My sister has written several times; she received such splendid help. I guess I was inclined to be jealous, so here I am. I am 12 years old, and I'm in the Senior III. class. I am not very smart at school, because I do not have good health, which prevents me. I would be very delighted if one of the Boxites would correspond with me. Someone about my own age. My address is with Miss Grey. Isn't this lovely weather? I have half a mile to go to school, which I enjoy these lovely spring mornings. Miss Grey, do you ever feel fatigued after reading all these tiresome letters of ours? Well, I had better skip away or Miss Grey will be pulling my ears for taking up so much room. I'll sign

THE LITTLE BANANA GIRL.

P.S.—Please find inclosed 10 cents for the S. C. H. fund.

Ans.—I think the letters are anything but tiresome. Thank you for hospital dime. Come again soon.

Ninety Pennies.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am inclosing the birthday pennies of my Sunday School class. They bring me on the Sunday nearest their birthday as many cents as they are years old. They are only the Beginners, and a small number of them. I have told them about the S. C. H., and they were very much interested in it, and wished their pennies to be sent to help. S. S. TEACHER

Ans.—Many thanks to your little class for the pennies, which will go towards our fund for the Cynthia Grey cot.

Who Wanted Magazines?

Dear Miss Grey,—Having been a constant reader of your "wee sma" but interesting corner for some time, and seeing where so many other readers are always wishing crochet patterns, I am sending a few and hope they will be accepted. I saw some time ago where one of the Boxites wanted any old magazines, but I have mislaid her address (name), but have any amount of Ladies' Home Journals and Blue Books she would be welcome to if she will pay postage. I put one of these patterns on curtains, so possibly it would please Mother of Seven. I think Seven Years' Sadness surely is tried. I have been married just one year, and am very happy except for one little cloud. We live with my husband's people. I wonder if any other Boxites do, but the old proverb says, "Laugh and the world laughs with you, weep and you weep alone," therefore I do the former. Inclosed, find mite also. K. K. K. KATY.

Ans.—Thank you for patterns. I have also forgotten the Boxite's name who wanted magazines, but possibly she will see your letter and send for them. Many thanks for hospital mite.

Attention, Betty Brown.

Dear Miss Grey,—I see where Betty Brown writes about the romper pattern and about returning the rompers and postage. The postage she may give to you for the S. C. H.—It was only 6 cents. I would be very pleased to have the rompers returned as they were sent to me from down south, and I would like to keep them. Yours sincerely,

H. N. D.

Ans.—Possibly Betty Brown will see your letter and return the pattern. You must have forgotten the mite, did you?

Elizabeth Ann.—I have forwarded your letter to Fuzz Wuzz.

Advance Guard of London Club Hits Buzz's Training Camp

McWaine, Alert Rookie, Hopped Off Train Yesterday Afternoon—Candidates Jump Right Into Work, Full of Pep.

BY G. H. TOWNSLEY.

DELAWARE, Ohio, April 4.—Although "Buzz" Wetzel had to hold some of them into their togs today he declared he had another winner this year.

Only 12 of the 20 men signed with the London, Ontario, 1920 league champs put in their appearance at the spring training camp here today, when "Buzz" sounded the call for the first workout of the new year. As usual the London uniforms are late, and several players have wired that they have not received tickets.

The only ones on the scene are the Ohio lads who live close to the camp.

McWaine Arrives.

Late this afternoon McWaine, the London champ, showed up and reported to Wetzel. Mac was in the best of spirits, despite his long fight with the railroads getting here. He was full of jump and pep, and showed no lack of anxiety to don the unies and swing a bat. He wanted to know all about everybody.

One of the first things most of the lads asked about was the weather predictions. Wetzel said he had been sleeping on an almanac and checking up each day to see if the weatherman was keeping his word. It will be remembered that the outfit during their spring training last year did most of it in the indoor gymnasium cages, and reports from the camp each day were more on the weather than on the progress of the Londoners. All the men that had uniforms were tossing the horsehide for fair this afternoon.

Class and Sanders of Middleton, Ohio; Mathews of Drakes, Ohio; Linahan of Cambridge, Ohio; Wise of Troy, Ohio, and Daniels of Jacksonville, Ohio, all infielders, were romping 'em this afternoon. Pitchers Pinto, Chillicothe, Ohio; Hillyear, Murray City, Ohio, and Hall of Delaware, Ohio, were on the list as being on time. They worked out a while Herbst of Cleveland, also was here. Catcher Curray of Chillicothe was on deck. The rest of the crew is expected tonight.

Three games are scheduled with Ohio Wesleyan University, on whose lot the champs are working, to be run off this week. The first is to be staged Wednesday evening.

It is too early to predict anything, but fans who were out today watching the Canadians pass the ball are banking again on Wetzel, with whom they fell in love last year. They are banking on his claim that he will develop from his green material another outfit that will either cop the league flag or give the winner a chase for his life.

Lacrosse Has Amazing Growth in Five Years

As hard as it has been to introduce lacrosse into London in the past, the 1921 club could take some encouragement from the strides the game is making this year. Much of it is simply revival, but in a good many places where lacrosse has never been played it is being taken up.

The following statement shows the rapid strides made by lacrosse of late years. During the period of the war, when nearly 90 per cent of the players were doing their bit, the interest, of necessity, lagged, but since the return of the boys it has gone ahead faster than the most sanguine supporter had hoped for.

1917..	10	3	..	3	4	..	162

1920..	50	5	19	13	10	3	1023
1921..	65	8	20	18	14	5	....

To date 65 teams have announced their intention of again participating in lacrosse, while at least ten others have hopes of entering the O. A. L. A. circuit. An early start will be made this season, so that the finals may be reached before the inclement fall weather makes conditions uncomfortable for the spectators and players alike.

BAIL OF INDICTED PLAYERS DECREASED

Reduction From $24,000 To $7,500—Six Players Named.

CHICAGO, April 4.—The bond of each of the seven indicted Chicago American League baseball players was reduced today from $24,000 to $7,500 by Chief Justice McDonald of the criminal court. The players named were: Joe Jackson, Eddie Cicotte, Claude Williams, George Weaver, Oscar Felsch, Fred McMullin and Charles Risberg.

Attorneys for the defence, in arguing for the reduction, pointed out that the players had not disappeared when under $500,000 bonds on previous indictments.

Defence counsel told the court that the bonds would be furnished in a week. The men are not under arrest.

LEWIS THROWS JOHN PEZK OF NEBRASKA

NEW YORK, April 4.—"Strangler" Lewis of San Jose, Cal., world's heavyweight catch-as-catch-can wrestling champion, tonight threw John Pezk of Ravenna, Nebraska, with a bar and arm lock, after wrestling one hour, thiry-four minutes, and thirty-two seconds.

HERMAN WINS IN SEVENTH

FREEPORT, N. Y., April 4.—Pete Herman, former bantamweight champion, defeated Johnny Holzberg of Brooklyn here tonight, the referee stopping the twelve-round battle in the seventh round. Holzberg had been floored several times.

WORTH WATCHING

Many great infield combinations have been said to be the perfect unity, but rotten when it came to a division. Certainly most of them when taken apart and placed with less brilliant players have performed in a mediocre manner.

Take Eddie Collins, for instance. Collins looked bad when he left the Athletics and found himself on a losing White Sox team. He looked bad at bat and in the field. Then the White Sox developed another winning combination and with a good shortstop like Risberg to his right and a safe first like Gandil to his left, to say nothing of a crack infielder like "Buck" Weaver on third base, Collins again sprouted and became a blooming wonder.

This year Collins will be between a pair of recruit infielders. He will have protection on neither side. If he conceives plays in a flash, as he has always done, he will not have the assistance to carry them out, and he will be much like a great painter who is handcuffed. At bat there will not be the batting strength before and aft, the kind of strength the Athletics had and later the White Sox, where a pitcher could not save his strength for Collins, but would have to "bear down" for very batter with the possible exception of the pitcher. This year pitchers can "lay" for Collins and Schalk, unless some of the recruits show surprising hitting strength, and there is nothing now to indicate that they will.

Majors Stare Jinx in Face, Starting On Hoodoo Date

April 13 Sounds Ominous, But It Doesn't Come On a Friday Fortunately—Were Usually Superstitious.

Some new and novel is for the major leagues to select as kickoff day April 13. Previously the big fellows always have side-stepped April's hoodoo date as one on which to open, and previously they never have arranged things so that the campaign got under way on Friday—nor are they likely to. The first Saturday gate is invariably a big one, if the weather is at all decent, and opening on Friday would mean, if an opening was rained out, that two big gates would be consolidated into one. That, more than superstition, is the reason the big leagues swing into championship action in the middle of the week.

Superstition has probably kept the club owners from heretofore slating the blow-off operations on April 13, the 14th having been one of the favorite dates picked previously.

In the early days of the pastime the club owners figured that it wasn't wise to swing into action until the last of May. That date was the opening one for the seasons of 1878, 1879, 1880, 2882, 1883 and 1884, and practically for 1881 and 1885. In the last two mentioned years some of the National League clubs played their first games on April 30 and the others on May 1 to 2.

Lifted on April 22, 1876.

In the first year of the National League—1876—the lid was lifted in Philadelphia on April 22 and in Louisville, Cincinnati and Brooklyn on April 25. Jupiter Pluvius may have fixed the date for the openings for the Cubs and Colonels, Reds and Cardinals and for the Superbas (then Mutuals), who took on the Braves, paired with the Phils in the Quaker City inaugural. Hartford's first game was played with Brooklyn on April 27. This was how the first games of 1876 in the National League turned out:

April 22, at Philadelphia—Boston 6, Philadelphia 5.

April 25, at Louisville—Chicago 4, Louisville 0.

April 25, at Cincinnati—Cincinnati 2, St. Louis 1.

April 27, at Brooklyn—Mutual 8, Hartford 3.

Al Spalding pitched the first National League shutout on opening day 45 years back, and it is an oddity that since then no Chicago National League pitcher has in the first fracas of the year kept his opponents away from the plate. Orval (alias Jeff) Overall did pitch nine runless innings for the Cubs against the Reds in 1910, but he couldn't stop with tall Fred Beebe, once chased out of Camp Chance, and in the tenth, Cincinnati scoring once, kept the Californian from duplicating A. G.'s 1876 stunt.

The opening date of 1876 must have been too early for the club owners, for in 1877 they put the openings off until May 8, the west monopolizing all the first games, with Hartford playing in Chicago, Boston in St. Louis, and Cincinnati in Louisville. The Ty Cobb-Tris Speaker-Roger Hornsby section of the country had a right to the inaugurals, as it furnished four of the six cities comprising the National League circuit.

After 1885 the schedule makers of the senior organization experimented with opening dates. In 1886 it was April 29; 1887, April 28; 1888, April 20; 1889, April 24; 1890 (Brotherhood year), April 19; 1891, April 22; 1892, April 12; 1893, April 27; 1894, April 19; 1895, April 18; 1896, April 16; 1897, April 19; 1898, April 15; 1899, April 14, and 1900, April 19.

The American League began operating as a major organization the next year, and, like the National, it has consistently avoided April 13 as a day on which to give the fan his first chance to satisfy his voracious appetite. Once the opening gun in the two leagues was fired as early as April 10, and when Ebbets Field was ready in 1913 the first game was played there April 9, this being a special date that was moved up.

Everybody but the magnates feeling sure the pastime, after its necessary closing, would go big in 1919, only a 140-game schedule was adopted for that year, and the opening date, beyond a special opening in Boston on the 19th for the Braves and Superbas, was April 23. Last year Kickoff Afternoon was April 14, this year it is April 13, and next year it probably will be April 12.

The only opening game ever played on April 13 was that of 1911 between the White Sox and the Tigers, who were stormbound on April 12. Detroit won it, 4 to 2, with Big George Mullin pitching against Large Ed Walsh.

AS YOU WERE

(BY SEE S. GEE)

Buffalo is mentioned for a berth, instead of Cleveland, in a new western group of the National Pro. Hockey Association, which will come into being if London gets an artificial ice arena.

A meeting this afternoon of the special ways and means committee to further discuss the proposition ought to get it a bit farther along on the road to reality, and if the committee really have something definite to discuss this afternoon they've certainly been letting no verdure grow under their trilbies.

Buffalo would be a much better bet as far as a new professional venture goes, than Cleveland, although the hockey spirit is stronger in the latter city. London, Hamilton, Toronto and Buffalo would make an ideal grouping, and would mean a big saving in contrast to the money spent on the jumps from Toronto to Montreal and Ottawa.

There would be little difficulty in London getting a franchise.

The officials in charge of amateur sports certainly have a merry job on their hands if they expect to clean up any of the sports, now so strongly under official suspicion all over the Dominion. There is hardly any sport that is out of line with the pointing finger of accusation. Perhaps the worst offender is hockey. The situation is bad enough here in Ontario, where they use a little finesse in their "paying" and "residence" arrangements. But in the west they are most uncouth in their amateur dealings, and the public is let in on everything except the actual pay-days.

All the regulations in the world will never stop the practice of having amateur games just a mere camouflage to the paying of salaries that make professional services beggarly by comparison. Many a pro. hockey player has mourned the jump from amateur ranks, and it is getting to be a still poorer move.

About the only way to get at the evil is by education. Lift up the sporting ideals of the various communities, and they won't stand for the amateur player who looks on athletics as a profitable side-line only. This looks like a big task, considering that the work would have to be put on all communities from top to bottom. Laws, if they were drastic enough, and as drastically enforced, might start the ball rolling in the right direction, but sievelike legislation, half-heartedly imposed, will only aggravate the evil.

Rickard's option on the services of Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier expires in five more days. To all offers and inquiries Rickard simply says: "I'll tell you Saturday." One thing is certain, Rickard on his past record won't let the big fight be staged by anyone but "Tex." About the only safe prediction as to the locale is the U. S. of America.

* * *

The Mint League may be long on fast ball this year, but with Knotty and Shag out of the circuit, it will be short on much colorful conversation.

* * *

The White Sox players would have to clean up an awful bunch of pillows to pay half their attorney's bills.

* * *

The Tigers are on the last leg of their training trip. It's too early for them to be in the last division yet.

The Brantford Red Sox are no more. They will be disguised as the Brants this year. You couldn't disguise a Brantford ball fan that easily.

Should Let These Two Fight in the Cellar

MONTREAL, April 4.—Tonight's feature fight at the Monument Nationals between Sergeant Ray Smith, New York light-heavyweight, and Eddie Ricord, local fighter, ended in the second round, when both men fell through the ropes. Smith suffering slight concussion of the brain. He had also fallen through the ropes in the first round when a loose corner post gave way. Ricord was unhurt.

ORGANIZE JUNIOR SOCCER AT BIG MEETING TONIGHT

Four Teams Already Certainties—Six Teams Probable—20-Year Age Limit Likely.

A meeting will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the rooms of the 1st W. O. R. at the armories in order to organize a junior soccer league for the season.

Four teams—Machine Gunners, 1st W. O. R., 12th Field Battery, and Grand Trunk Apprentices—are certainties, and the Hussars, with another team, will come in, it is expected. A team representing the Y. M. C. A. would be a welcome addition as the sixth team.

The age limit is the big question of the hour, and will be settled once the league is gotten under way tonight. Some of the military teams say an age limit of 18 years, which has been proposed in some quarters, would make it too close for them, as they do not sign on recruits until they are 18 years past. A 20-year age limit might prove more acceptable, however, than jumping to the 21-year age limit desired by one club.

The high cost of equipment is a great hindrance to the development of sport along junior lines in many games, but happily this is not so big a problem with soccer, the equipment for which is the cheapest of any pastime.

SARNIA TO CONSIDER A CITY LACROSSE CIRCUIT TOMORROW

Sarnia Lacrosse Club Is Behind the Move, But Won't Run Show.

SARNIA, April 4.—Wednesday night Sarnia will make its first attempt to bring the national game within the reach of the young fellows of the city who want to play, but are as yet uninitiated into the how of the playing rules, when a meeting to organize a city league for the coming season to develop players for the junior O. A. L. A. team, as well as supply players for the intermediate ranks for the future, will be held in the chamber of commerce rooms.

Norman Glintz, who broached the idea and started the ball rolling, will explain the idea to the meeting, and it is altogether likely that a number of the officers of the parent body will be present to prove that the Sarni Lacrosse Club is behind the move.

Whether the City League will be run by the lacrosse club or whether they will elect their own officers and run their own affairs, to allow the lacrosse club to devote all its time to the O. A. L. A., details will be decided at the meeting. That matter will rest with the lacrosse club.

Every young fellow who wants to take a whirl at the game this year is welcome to the meeting. Some of the strongest players in Sarnia, as well as other O. A. L. A. teams, last year played their first games and made good during one season, amply proving that years of experience is not necessary to pick up the game. In case there are more players on hand than are necessary to fill out teams for the clubs represented, one or two new teams will be organized.

Ottawa Brings Stanley Cup Back to the East

Mickey McKay and Alf Skinner Both Back in Game Last Night.

Vancouver, April 5.—The Stanley cup, emblematic of the world's professional hockey championship, will remain in the east for another year, the Ottawa Senators successfully defending the trophy against the Vancouver Millionaires by taking the fifth and deciding game tonight by two goals to one. The game was played under seven-man hockey, western rules governing. About 10,000 people saw the easterners retain their supremacy as world's champions.

The closing moments of the game were marred by a fight between Gerard and Cleghorn, Ottawa, and Cook, Vancouver, all three receiving penalties of $25 and were barred for the rest of the game. Several other players exchanged blows, and the game showed promise of finishing in a free-for-all.

Ottawa played an uphill game during the last two periods, the second period commencing with the champions one goal behind. They overcame this in the second, however, and in the third period which was scoreless, they played a defensive game, while the Millionaires fought desperately to at least even the count.

Many Penalties Imposed.

Despite coast penalty system, there were plenty of them handed out. "Smiling" Eddie Gerard, the Ottawa captain, was awarded no less than six.

This was the first time the series has been won by a visiting team. Several years ago, Frank Patrick, president of the Pacific Coast Hockey Association, predicted that one day a super-team would be developed which would travel across the continent and win, and this the Ottawa team has done.

Vancouver's goal in the first period came after 16 minutes and 26 seconds, when Cook gave Benedict a hard shot, which he could not clear in time to stop Skinner, who was playing a good game, from netting on the rebound.

In the second period the Ottawa team monopolized nearly all the play, outskating and outgeneralling the coast champions. The Senators were taking long shots at Lehman and Duncan many times saved the Millionaires by his long reaching checks. After over seven minutes had elapsed, Nighbor went the length of the ice and shot at Lehman, who saved, but did not get there in time to prevent Darragh from tying up the score.

Darragh was also responsible for the second and winning tally, when he received the puck from Denneny.

In the third period the Millionaires missed some beautiful chances to score by missing passes in front of the Ottawa net. An offside goal by Skinner evoked much cheering which soon subsided when the referee's decision was given. The game ended with the Ottawa team on the defensive and the Millionaires' whole team exerting every effort to tie the score.

RECEPTION FOR ATHLETES.

ROBERT PYE DIES AT THAMESVILLE

THAMESVILLE, April 4.—After an illness of several months the death occurred today of Robert Pye, a well-known businessman, aged 58 years. He was born in Markham, but spent his boyhood in Meaford, where he learned tailoring, which he followed until last Christmas. He was married to Miss Martha E. Trew in Lindsay in 1885, afterward moving to Ridgetown, where they resided two years, coming to Thamesville 27 years ago. He was a member of the Disciples' Church, Ridgetown, and had been a teacher of the Bible class in Thamesville Baptist Church for many years. He was a staunch Reformer, and an active workr in the cause of temperance. Mr. Pye was past master of Tecumseh Lodge, No. 245, Masonic, Thamesville; past district deputy grand master of Erie District Masons, and also past noble grand master of the Oddfellows' Lodge. Besides his wife, he leaves two brothers, Charles of Clarksburg; Alfred of Vancouver, and one sister, Mrs. Tobias of Toronto. He is the fourth member of the family to pass away in the last twelve months, two sisters and his mother having died. The funeral will be held on Wednesday. The local Masons and Oddfellows lodges will attend in a body. Interment will be made in Mount Pleasant Cemetery, Thamesville.

WALTER DUTTON IS AGAIN HEXATHLON CHAMP. OF CANADA

Broke International Record in Potato Race—Had 559 Total.

Abundant enthusiasm has characterized the senior hexathlon among the Canadian Y. M. C. A.'s this year, with nearly every section of the Dominion taking part. This all-round athletic contest was inaugurated in 1906 by the Ontario and Quebec branches and was adopted by the Y. M. C. A.'s of the United States in 1913 and by Japan and the Philippine Islands in 1915. Last year Toronto Central was the international winner, but this year it looks as if Toronto West End will carry off the much-coveted trophy in Class A. They are the Canadian champions for 1921, with the splendid score of 5,321, over 100 points better than last year.

An outstanding feature of this year's contest was the splendid performance of W. Dutton of London in the 60-yard potato race. He not only made a new Canadian record, but took one-fifth of a second off the best international mark when he did 12 3-5 seconds. He also wins the all-round championship for Canada, with a score of 559 points.

This year 19 associations took part, with 807 individual athletes competing, as compared with 13 associations last year and 687 competitors.

The best scores in the different events are as follows:

MINERS, OWNERS

morrow's "decision" meetings of the transport delegates and the National Union of Railwaymen.

SERIOUS INDUSTRIAL CRISIS NOW FEARED BY ENGLISH PEOPLE

London, April 4.—The signs tonight point to the dispute between the coal miners and the Government drifting in the direction of the most serious industrial crisis in recent years. There are rumors that the Government has decided upon certain military steps, which are likely still further to inflame the miners, while further emergency regulations will be based in accordance with orders-in-council, giving the various governmental departments almost unlimited powers to take possession of mines, lands, buildings, works, gas, electric and water supplies, horses, food and forage, and to requisition all kinds of transport, including tramways and light railways, to close ports or harbors, control shipping and cargoes, fix prices of coal and prohibit or regulate the sale and supply of motor oil.

The Critical Day.

Much may depend upon the attitude of the Government as revealed by the debate in the House of Commons tomorrow, and Wednesday will be the critical day, deciding whether the other sections of the triple alliance, the railwaymen and transport workers, will strike in support of the miners.

The railwaymen strongly favor a strike, on the ground that when the railways are taken out of government control a similar situation may arise, and unless they support the miners now they cannot expect the miners' support should they need it at that time.

Moderate opinion is concentrating in favor of the suggestion offered on Saturday by Alfred Bigland, Coalition Unionist, that the so-called de-control bill shall be rescinded and the time limit for control fixed for May 30, instead of March 31, thereby giving time for discussion and arrangements of the wages question and the education of the miners to the real industrial position at home and abroad.

John Robert Clynes and Arthur Henderson, the most independent of the Liberals, intend to press this suggestion upon the Government tomorrow.

May Be Turned Down.

It is believed that the Government will refuse to accept this suggestion, and that the prime minister will base his position upon the simple proposition that it is impossible for the country in the present state of its finances to bear any further burden in the shape of a subsidy to the miners. It is not impossible that important political developments may hang on the Triple Alliance's decision on Wednesday.

The anti-administration press accuses Lloyd George of trying to manoeuvre the Labor party into a false position, whereby he could appeal to the country against the Labor policy of "direct action and bolshevism." These newspapers recall the prime minister's recent attack on the revolutionary and socialistic tendencies of the Labor party, and they appeal to labor leaders, especially the miners, to abandon the extreme policy of wrecking the mines by flooding and refusing all discussion of the mine owners' proposals. By their present attack, the papers say, they are only playing into the prime minister's hands.

Cabinet Meeting.

Mr. Lloyd George presided at a cabinet meeting tonight, those in attendance including Sir Robert S. Horne, Sir Eric Geddes and T. J. MacNamara, to discuss the situation, which also was considered by the Parliamentary Labor Party in consultation with the miners' leaders.

The balance of opinion tonight is that the Triple Alliance will refrain from the declaration of a general strike until it is certain that attempts at a peaceful settlement are hopeless. It is announced that the admiralty has cancelled all leave.

The Prince of Wales, on the advice of the Government, has cancelled his proposed visit to Norwich Wednesday.

BOYS' WORK CONFERENCE HELD AT OWEN SOUND

OWEN SOUND, April 4.—A large and enthusiastic gathering of men and boys representing the district of which Owen Sound is the centre attended the boys' work conference, which closed last night. The delegates numbered 600, and were from all the principal points of the district, extending from Southampton to Meaford and as far south as Wingham and Orangeville.

The conference was under the auspices of the Religious Educational Council, and the principal speakers were: Rev. J. C. Robertson, D.D., Presbyterian secretary of Sunday schools and young people's societies; Rev. Manson Doyle, associate secretary of the Methodist board of Sunday schools and young people's societies, and R. W. Cook, secretary of the Ontario Boys' Work Board.

The session was most interesting and good work was done instructing the boys as to organization along the lines of the Tuxis Square, emphasizing the four-fold aspect of development along physical, intellectual, devotional and social lines.

Officers elected were: Grand praetor, William Garbutt, Owen Sound; grand deputy praetor, Arthur McPherson, Orangeville; grand scriptor, Charles Krug, Chesley; grand comptor, Clifford Hunt, Owen Sound. Each square, of which seventeen were formed, has its own officers.

NEW YORK SOCIETY WOMAN DISAPPEARS

New York, April 5.—Mysterious disappearance of Mrs. Annette Rankine, who has not been seen at her home in the fashionable Fifth avenue district since last Tuesday, became known yesterday.

Mrs. Rankine, who is prominent socially, was last seen Tuesday on the East Side, when she alighted from her automobile and a few minutes later entered another machine of similar make standing near her own. Whether she did so inadvertently or not is not known. The car immediately disappeared. She was wearing several costly pieces of jewelry.

Mrs. Rankine is the widow of William Birch Rankine, founder of the Niagara Falls Power Company. The marriage occurred in 1905, and Mr. Rankine died about six months later. Since then Mrs. Rankine has been depressed and has led a retired life.

Mrs. Rankine, before her marriage, was Miss Annette A. Norton, daughter of Edward Kingsley Norton of Buffalo, where her family is well known.

TELEGRAM OPENS ITS UPTOWN PRESSROOM

Toronto Newspaper Inaugurates Novel Feature.

Toronto, April 5.—Downtown congestion and the swiftness of the age were two factors responsible for a unique experiment in newspaper publication inaugurated by the Toronto Evening Telegram last night. With appropriate ceremony that journal opened its "uptown press room" four miles from the main office in the centre of the city. From this uptown press room the various editions of the Telegram will be printed and distributed simultaneously with those turned off the presses in the downtown plant. The paper will be edited and the type set and partly stereotyped in the main office. But the printed pages will roll off the presses situated in buildings four miles apart. The publishers thus hope to meet the difficulties of lack of time and space.

Last night's proceedings consisted of a "family gathering" of the Telegram staff. It was also the 45th anniversary of the founding of the paper by the late John Ross Robertson, and a life size portrait of the founder, by Owen Staples, was unveiled. Speeches on behalf of the present trustees were made by Irving E. Robertson, and the editor, John R. Robinson. Mayor Church presided.

BIG "DRY" MAJORITY EXPECTED AT ARKONA

ARKONA, April 4.—The local referendum council is planning an everybody canvass, and on Sunday, April 10, a special temperance service will be put on in each of the four churches. A splendid majority for the drys is expected from Arkona and vicinity.

D. Johnson has sold 50 acres near the village to W. Johnson for $2,500, and has bought 100 acres from Henry Cochrane for $6,000.

At Rock Glen, that part of the River Aux Sable near here, where the electric light power-house is situated and the river dammed, a government fish race was constructed last fall at a cost of over $2,000. This was to assist the fish to pass over the dam and go up the river. At this season the fish are crowding the race in their effort to go up the river to spawn.

TORONTO STOCK EXCHANGE.

Toronto, April 5.—Declines of at least 2 points were registered by Canada Steamships, common and preferred, and General Electric, at this morning's board of the Toronto Stock Exchange. After a weak opening, fairly heavy trading forced the Steamships issue down. General Electric opened steady at $1 10, but on light trading fell to 108. Fractional losses were suffered by a number of the other stocks dealt in. War loans were in light demand.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

PACKERS' STRIKE IN TORONTO WILL AFFECT LIVE HOG PRICES

Local Buyers Refuse To Make Any Forecast of Prices.

EGGS STILL SLIDING

Drop of One Cent Per Dozen in Wholesale Price.

There was only a small attendance at the local market on Tuesday morning. Eggs were the chief offering, and as a result the wholesale price was set at 25c per dozen. Retail quotations, 27c and 30c per dozen, were unchanged. Officials stated that there was a possibility of a further reduction in prices before the end of the week.

There was a good demand for wheat, but the supply was not plentiful. The price jumped to a maximum of $1.90 per bushel. By the hundredweight it sells for $3 and $3.17, but it was intimated that the millers were not paying as high as this.

Local hog buyers say that the strike of meat packers in Toronto is likely to have a serious effect on live hog prices in this district. No live hogs were offered today, but it is expected large supplies will be on the square Wednesday for the usual shipment. Buyers refused to state what prices will be paid.

Chicago, April 5.—Sentiment became a little more bullish today in the wheat market, after initial declines due to rains in Kansas and Nebraska. Subsequent advances were associated with gossip that new wheat was already being contracted for by export interests. Smallness of the present visible supply tended also to lift values. Opening prices, which ranged from ¼c decline to a like advance, were followed by moderate setbacks all around, and then by a rise to well above yesterday's finish.

Corn hardened with wheat. After opening unchanged to ½c higher, the market sagged a bit and then scored general gains.

Oats were governed by the action of other grain, starting ⅛c off to ⅜c up, then receded somewhat and later had an upward slant.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

New York, April 5—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Initial dealings in the stock market today were again very irregular and confusing. On the constructive side Studebaker was most prominent, rising a point in the first few transactions and soon extending its lead to 1⅝. General Asphal and Houston Oil also were strong with American woolen, American International, St. Paul and Sears-Roebuck. Unsettled conditions in Holland probably accounted for the 2-point reaction in Royal Dutch. Pressed Steel Car, Kelsey Wheel and Atlantic-Gulf were also reactionary. Mexican Petroleum, yesterday's most erratic feature, yielded a large fraction at the outset, but soon strengthened.

SUPERINTENDENT OF GOVT. EMPLOYMENT BUREAU IS RETURNING TO PULPIT

Toronto, April 5.—Rev. J. A. Miller, superintendent of the Government Employment Bureau, announced today that he was leaving his position at the end of the month to go back into the work of the Presbyterian Church, with which denomination he was previously associated.

Mr. Miller was appointed Government agent in 1914, when he developed the employment of farm labor along a number of original lines. He was quite successful in this work, and when the work of the bureau was extended he was given the position of superintendent.

FARM HANDS' WAGES IN WEST REDUCED

Winnipeg, April 5.—A marked reduction in the wages paid to farm hands this year is evident by a wage scale obtained from the provincial employment offices here today. Single men, under contract, can get $40 per month and board until seeding starts and $60 per month and board thereafter until the season closes.

The rate prevailing for married couples is given at $80 to $85 per month and board under eight months' contract.

A survey shows that 1,450 farm helpers will be required in the province during April, and it is believed that hundreds of men in Winnipeg have accepted farm jobs during the last few days.

Toronto as a Tourist Centre is indicated by the volume of her Hotel traffic. The returns of all Hotels show not only a tremendous increase in transient traffic, but increased volume of local patronage.

In other words, Toronto is becoming more cosmopolitan. The advent of the new Union Station, the Harbour Development and the Radial System will serve to enlarge their scope.

This accounts for the increasing investment interest in the King Edward Construction Co. Limited Preferred Shares. These Preferred Shares can be bought on a basis that pays 11% on the investment.

WILL NOT LOSE PAY ON CHURCH HOLIDAYS

Civil Servants May Remain Away From Their Offices.

OTTAWA, April 4.—(Canadian Press.)—Civil servants are to have the privilege of remaining away from their offices on church holidays without deduction being made from their salaries. This statement was made by the prime minister at question time in the House today.

Civil servants of the Roman Catholic faith, he said, had always been granted time to attend their religious duties without deductions being made from their pay. A statement made by Sir Robert Borden on this matter last year, however, might be interpreted as meaning that recognized church holidays were to be full holidays in the service. In view of this, instruction were being issued that while the law stands as it is, it be so carried out.

The days particularly referred to are: All Saints' Day, Immaculate Conception, Epiphany and Ascension Day.

Another Government reply to questions was that Canada exported to the United Kingdom and Ireland during the period from August, 1920, to February, 1921, 1,124,508 barrels of apples, valued at $6,963,882. Customs entries did not show in what province the apples were respectively grown.

SERVICE-AT-COST PLAN IS REJECTED

Vote in Detroit Will Be About Two To One.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

DETROIT, April 5. — At an early hour this (Tuesday) morning the indications are that Detroit has rejected by a substantial majority the plan of the Detroit United Railway to have the city take over its lines on "service at cost" basis. The "piecemeal" plan of Mayor Cousins, by which the city may purchase such portions of the street car lines as it may require, appears to have been indorsed about two to one. Both plans require a 60 per cent majority of the total vote to carry.

The election commission reported that the voting had proceeded without trouble of any kind. It is not likely that the final figures will be available before 7 o'clock this morning.

SHAREHOLDERS VOTE TO SELL CLAIMS

TORONTO, April 4.—The Keora sale deal, under which the two main claims of the company are to be sold to a newly-organized concern, to be known as the South Keora Mines, Limited, was approved at a largely-attended meeting of shareholders in the King Edward Hotel today. The proposals as submitted by the directors, went through with only one shareholder voicing opposition, and the vote was overwhelmingly in favor of the project. Three of the directors of the new company are now members of the Keora board. Keora receives by way of payment 2,000,000 shares out of the 3,000,000, at which the new company is capitalized. The remaining 1,000,000 will be offered to the public at thirty cents a share, present Keora shareholders being given first opportunity to subscribe. The amount realized by the sale of this treasury stock should more than supply the $250,000 required for development purposes.

FATHERS MUST NOW PROVIDE FOR MAINTENANCE OF ILLEGITIMATES

New Bill Before Legislature Proposes Sweeping Reforms Over Existing Laws—Proposed Tax Measures of Provincial Treasurer Come in For Criticism.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, April 4.—Surprising and unaccustomed alacrity was displayed by the Ontario Legislature today in dealing with the numerous public, private and Government bills that came up for consideration. A score of measures were advanced a stage, some given a third reading, some a second, and others committee approval. About a dozen of the bills that were dealt with in today's business-like session were Government bills.

Father Responsible.

While the bill for the legitimization of children by the subsequent marriage of their parents was under consideration, Hon. G. Howard Ferguson drew attention to a feature of the bill placing responsibility for the maintenance of illegitimate children on the father. That the bill made this maintenance a charge on the father's estate, and though a man might will his personal property away from his wife and children, he could not will it away from an illegitimate child, as far as maintenance was concerned.

"That will not hurt the illegitimate child," commented Mr. Raney.

"No, but it is placing the illegitimate child in a higher position than legitimate children," said Mr. Ferguson.

An Important Point.

Mr. Raney said that this raised another question, whether a man should be able to will everything away from his wife and children. It could not be done in France. "I do not think they should be free to do so under our laws," he said. He told the House that the matter had been brought to the attention of the Government by a private member, and that a bill might yet be brought down.

Hon. Peter Smith's amusement tax act went through after the treasurer had dropped the clause preventing a municipality from imposing any higher tax on pool and billiard parlors than the province imposed. He said he had discovered since the bill was framed that in some municipalities a very high tax was imposed, and that this clause would mean a reduction in municipal rebenue.

Hon. Beniah Bowman's public lands act, the chief feature of which is a provision making overseas service during the great war apply upon the time required for homesteading crown lands, went through committee, as did his bill to provide for the creation of Long Point Park on Lake Erie.

Want Information.

The Legislature made slow progress with the passing of the supplementary estimates and devoted nearly all the afternoon to duscussing the immigration problem. Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Conservative leader, and H. H. Dewart, K.C., Liberal leader, pressed the minister of agriculture for information as to what arrangements had been made to guarantee that persons brought out from the British Isles under the auspices of the Ontario Department of Agriculture would remain on the farms and not at the end of the summer return to the larger cities and become charges on the municipalities. The Opposition leaders wanted to know if there was a settled system and what inducement had been offered to the men to emigrate from the old land.

Not Likely to Happen.

Hon. Manning Doherty replied that they were advised of the prevailing rate of wages. So far as their becoming a charge on the cities at the end of the summer, basing his view on past experience, he said this was not likely to happen. He contended there was not one man out of work in Toronto who had come to Ontario as an agricultural laborer under the auspices of his department.

So far as the recent arrivals from England were concerned, the minister of agriculture said out of 700 farmers and farm laborers who arrived on the Empress of France, every one had been placed. The Ontario Department of Agriculture had now applications for 600 farm laborers on its books. He thought that it was advisable for Ontario to prosecute a vigorous campaign in England for a good type of farmers and farm laborers. This type was now ready to emigrate, he said.

Would Cost $1,000,000.

Answering Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, the minister of agriculture said that he had been looking for a new site for an office for the Ontario agent-general in London. He saw one on the Strand which would cost $1,000,000. He said he did not think he would go ahead with that proposition.

Hon. Mr. Doherty admitted to Hon. G. Howard Ferguson that up to date he had not been in communication with the Dominion authorities regarding the question of advertising for immigrants. The latter had pointed out that although Ontario bore half the cost of advertising in Europe, nearly all of the advertising was directly in the interests of the prairie provinces, very little being said about Ontario. The minister said he was of the opinion that Ontario would have to look after itself in this matter.

Working For $25.

The minister of agriculture admitted to H. H. Dewart that some of the men who had recently been brought out were working for $25 a month and board for the summer. Mr. Dewart said he thought that these men would sooner or later be a charge on Toronto and other large centres.

Members on both sides of the House admitted that it was a very hard thing to secure men who were willing to be employed by the year.

To Premier Drury fell the lot of explaining why it was difficult. His opinion was that men who were quite willing to work hard during the summer months did not like to do the chores in winter. Then, again, they complained against having to work on Sundays. The premier said that there was no shortage of openings for married men on the farms of Ontario. There were jobs and houses for far more men than could be found.

H. H. Dewart asked what guarantee there was that men brought out under the auspices of the minister of agriculture would have permanent employment.

"We cannot guarantee employment," replied Hon. Mr. Doherty, "but there are no unemployed men in our cities today who came out to this country as agricultural laborers."

Should Have $250.

Major A. W. Gray of Leeds pointed out that whereas most immigrants were required to have $250 cash in their possession when landing in Canada, persons coming out to work on farms were not under this obligation. The member for Leeds thought it would be a good plan if, before a farm hand was allowed to leave the rural district for the city the authorities should see to it that he had at least $250 in his possession. This would do away with the problem arising out of the fact that many came to this country as agricultural laborers for the sole purpose of evading the necessity of having $250 in cash and then, after a month or two on the farm, left for the cities only to be a charge on the municipalities.

Hon. Manning Doherty said that at the present time 15,000 men could be taken on the farms of Ontario. According to advices he had received, from seven thousand to eight thousand might be expected to arrive in Ontario this summer.

News to Him.

H. H. Dewart asked Premier Drury if there was any truth in the report that Mr. Drury was to be appointed a member of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission in place of Hon. I. B. Lucas.

"I have never heard of it, nor would I consider it," the premier replied.

Hon. G. Howard Ferguson followed by saying there was a rumor on the street that W. H. Casselman, member for Dundas, was to be appointed a member of the hydro commission.

"Nothing has been done about it at all," Premier Drury said. "The Government is not responsible for rumors on the street."

NIAGARA DISTRICT FAVORED RADIALS

Fruit Growers Also Testify Before the Royal Commission.

TORONTO, April 4.—Businessmen and fruit growers of the Niagara district were the chief witnesses today before the royal commission inquiring into the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission's radial railway schemes, all being favorable to the projected radials.

C. S. Parnell, ex-M. L. A., a wholesale grocer of St. Catharines, spoke of the Grand Trunk Railway freight service as being only "fair" and growing worse, and expressed the belief that a fast electric railway service between St. Catharines and Toronto would be of inestimable value to St. Catharines and would secure the major portion of the freight business between the two cities.

W. C. Bunting, former president of the Niagara Peninsula Fruit Growers' Association, said rapid transit was one of the most desirable things in the fruit business on account of the perishable nature of the product.

District Stagnant.

Mr. Burgoyne said St. Catharines and district had been virtually stagnant in the period prior to electrification. Welland and other municipalities had grown considerably as a result of hydro radials operating in the district, he said. Lincoln municipalities in three decades past had shown an increase of 75.81 in population, and Welland municipalities by 132 per cent. What St. Catharines now wanted, Mr. Burgoyne said, was radials service to the west and northwest of that city, similar to the service to the east and southeast, which had proved successful. While St. Catharines had put $100,000 into the Niagara Central Railway, and had to pay this when that line went into liquidation, "we would have faith enough to do the same thing with regard to the road to the west," Mr. Burgoyne added.

Asked About Letter.

Mr. Burgoyne was questioned by R. S. Robertson, counsel for the municipalities not in favor of the projected radial railways, as to a letter said to have been written by Sir Adam Beck, chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission, to Hon. Dr. Reid, minister of railways and canals in the Dominion Government, asking the minister if he would be favorable to the disposal of the Toronto, Niagara and St. Catharines Railway to the hydro commission, in view of the fact that the proposed hydro lines would largely parallel the former, which was operated by the Canadian National Railways. Mr. Burgoyne, although president of the Hydro Radial Union of the Niagara district at the time, July 22, 1919, said he had not known that matters had reached that stage.

Mayor Lovelace of St. Catharines expressed the opinion that a fuller and more frequent electric railway service would develop business. If the Niagara, St. Catharines and Toronto Railway were acquired by the hydro commission competition in freight would be secured and this would be beneficial to St. Catharines.

CLAIMS PROHIBITION IS UNCHRISTIAN

Liberty League Speaker Makes Attack On Temperance Workers.

TORONTO, April 4.—Hon. Charles A. Windle, Chicago, editor of Brann's Iconoclast, addressed about 6,000 persons in the armories here tonight under the auspices of the Citizens' Liberty League, against prohibition. There was some expectation that a demonstration might be made against Mr. Windle as a result of representations by a local evening paper that the anti-prohibition speaker had been pro-German in his paper, and was still anti-British. The Toronto paper published extracts from Brann's Iconoclast to substantiate its charge that he was an Anglophobe, but Mr. Windle was given a fair hearing and did not suffer from disturbers, as had been the case at a prohibition meeting here on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Windle, with a Bible in his hand through a great part of his address, claimed that the prohibition campaign was unchristian and an attack upon personal liberty. The whole prohibition campaign, he asserted, was built up on assumption, and was contrary to the teachings in the Bible. If the law regulated drinking, it should also regulate eating, Mr. Windle argued, as more persons died from over-eating than from over-drinking.

"The same crowd who snatch away your beer glass," Hon. Mr. Windle said, "are the ones who will next be grabbing for your pipe and cigar." He declared that if they won this prohibition fight they would next attack some other liberty which the people now enjoyed.

TAKING NO ACTION ON HUNS' PROTEST

GENEVA, April 4.—The council of the League of Nations will apply the same rule to Germany's latest protest against the presence of French military forces in the Saar region as applied to previous protests, it was announced by council officials here today. Unless some member of the league raises the question, no action will be taken.

ESMONDE IS UNDER ARREST

Charge of Sedition May Be Laid Against "Envoy."

VANCOUVER, B. C., April 4. — Osmond Grattan Esmonde, described as Sinn Fein "envoy" to Australia, was arrested here this afternoon on orders from Mayor Gale. The charge to be laid against him is said to be that of sedition, and probably arises out of Esmonde's alleged anti-British utterances at a meeting here last Friday night. Esmonde, refused admittance to Australia, because he refused to take the oath of allegiance, was brought back to Vancouver on the steamer Makura of the Australian Line, and given permission by Canadian immigration authorities to land, on condtion that he proceed to an Atlantic ports to embark for England.

TROOPS MARCH UNLESS CHARLES LEAVES HUNGARY

Military Operations Begins If Emperor Is Not Gone by Thursday.

PRAGUE, Czecho-Slovakia, April 4.—In an ultimatum delivered to Hungary yesterday, the Jugo-Slav, Czecho-Slovak and Rumanian governments are understood to have threatened the severance of all relations and the commencement of military operation against Hungary if former Emperor Charles has not departed from that country by 6 o'clock on Thursday evening.

The three states are determined to require Hungary to settle definitely the dynastic question, giving adequate guarantees to surrender immediately Western Hungary to Austria and to suppress the irregular troops in that region.

NO AGREEMENT FOR A REBATE

Grocer At Probe Gives Name of Party Who Gave Discount.

TORONTO, April 4.—After an adjournment of almost a month the action brought by Attorney-General W. E. Raney against the Wholesale Grocers' Association of Ontario for a declaration that the association restricted trade and was a combine, was resumed here today before Mr. Justice Orde, and will be continued tomorrow. Wilfrid Scott, a witness, declined at the morning sitting of the court to give the name of the wholesale grocer who had remitted him a cash discount amounting to five per cent on an order. However, this afternoon he stated that the discount came from J. C. Knowles of the Canada Brokerage Company. He said he had had no agreement that he would receive a rebate.

Several witnesses were questioned by A. W. Roebuck, counsel for the crown, in connection with discounts and rebates on goods purchased from various wholesale firms, particularly the E. W. Gillett Company. Milton Cork, of Loblaw's Groceterias, Limited, said his firm had bought Gillett goods through five wholesale grocers at list prices, with a five per cent discount.

MANY APPLY FOR REMISSION OF TAXES

TORONTO, April 4.—Hon. W. E. Raney informed John O'Neil, Liberal member for Southeast Toronto, in the House today that 173 applications had been made for remission of fines or penalties imposed under the O. T. A., between November 13, 1919, and March 1, 1920. Clemency, in whole or in part, was granted in 93 cases. In no case had the recommendations of the board of license commissioners been refused by the attorney-general or the executive council, and in no case had the attorney-general acted on his own initiative, Mr. Raney stated.

VETERANS SEND SCATHING REPLY TO DR. STEELE

Not Asking Favors and Disgusted With the Meighen Government.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

ST. MARYS, April 4.—To say that the local branch of the G. W. V. A. is disgusted with the Meighen Government does not adequately express the feeling of local returned men toward Dr. M. Steele, M. P. for South Perth. Time and again since the 1917 election Dr. Steele has ignored the returned men of this riding. Veterans of St. Marys and the whole countryside are up in arms against the conditions now existing at Ottawa.

"The Borden Government pleaded with the men who were holding the front line trenches in 1917," said one veteran to The Advertiser. "Their pleading was listened to, and now they are ignored by those who pleaded most. Will the Government ever prove to those who saw service in France that they appreciate their services, and when will they fulfill their promises made to the men who saved the country, and made it possible for them to hold their Government seats?'

The following letter was forwarded today to Dr. M. Steele, M. P., in reply to his statements in a communication of March 22, which was recently published:

Dr. M. Steele, M. P., Ottawa, Ont.:

Dear Sir,—Your letter of the 22nd inst. received, and at a meeting of St. Marys Branch, G. W. V. A., held last evening, the letter was read and discussed fully, and we are authorized to reply as follows:

For your information, at least fifteen returned men, all living in the riding, could be named to you who have all the necessary qualifications as census commissioner. Not only have they the qualifications, but they know the riding thoroughly, and any one of these fifteen would have welcomed the appointment, and could have devoted from three to four months to this work. Some are not working at all, some on half-time, and, moreover, all of these men were in the ranks and saw service in France.

You state you consider it no compliment or favor to a returned man to give him a Government job. Your actions bear out your convictions, but may we point out to you that no returned men consider it a compliment to receive a Government job, but they take the view that if there are any appointments to be made that they can fill, it is their right that they demand, and your duty that you consider their claim. No compliments, no favors, are asked, but a sense of justice, backed by statements made a thousand times by politicians that the old party patronage system has been abolished by the present Government holding office at Ottawa.

This is not the first time you have overlooked or ignored the returned soldier in the question of appointments. A very short time ago the Government had occasion to appoint some veterinary surgeons in St. Marys to do certain special work. Two members of the profession reside in this town; one is a returned soldier, but the appointment went to the one who had not seen service, although the qualifications of both men were equal.

Might we remind you in closing that the members of this branch of the G. W. V. A. resent keenly your actions, and they feel that if there is a member of Parliament in Ottawa who should consider carefully and with justice only the claims of the returned soldier, it is the member for South Perth, who holds his seat solely and wholly by virtue of the votes of the soldiers. Yours truly,

F. G. SANDERSON, President;
F. E. MUTTON, Secretary.

RAIDS FAILED TO PRODUCE EVIDENCE OF ANY GAMBLING

Sarnia Police Took Action Following Rumors and Letters.

SARNIA, April 4.—Following persistent rumors and receipt of anonymous letters by officials and the police to effect that gambling was being carried on nightly, the police today conducted two "silent raids." No arrests were made, and no direct evidence of gambling discovered, but a list of the names of parties found in the two places was taken.

Only one case has been entered for trial at the non-jury sittings of the Lambton County court, which opens Tuesday before Judge Albert E. Taylor. The case, Cranston vs. Peters, is an action for damages arising out of an auto collision.

When the court of revision on the voters' list for the referendum vote closed 810 names had been added, it was announced today by C. S. Woodrow, revising officer.

Another harvest for the U. S. treasury was garnered today at the Sarnia Tunnel depot from departing foreigners who had avoided paying their income taxes in the United States for several years back. The amount collected in income taxes was $1,276. Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue T. J. O'Brien and his assistants, Lee Ashley and William Innes, were called by immigration officers to examine the travelers. There were 45 in this group, the third largest one to pass through here on its way to Russia. They came from Chicago.

545 NAMES WERE ADDED AT GALT

GALT, April 4.—Messrs. A. E. and H. S. Willard and K. Serviss, who a year ago purchased an an auction sale the New Royal Hotel and stable, have increased their holdings on Main street by the purchase of the Anderson Block adjoining.

It was learned today from Revising Officer J. M. Jamieson that he added 545 names to the voters' list for the coming referendum during the past week, and no names were struck off.

The board of works has started its men on roadwork, and on the paving of a short strip of Queen street from Water street to the bridge. It is proposed to widen the street considerably by moving the sidewalk.

33,000 EXPECTED TO VOTE.

WINDSOR, April 4.—More than 1,900 names were added to the voters' lists by the revising offices in the Border Cities. A. J. Cadman, returning officer, for North Essex, stated today that over 33,000 ballots would be stamped for use in North Essex at the coming referendum vote.

SAYS "POOR PRUNE" UNGENTLEMANLY AND UNMANLY REMARK

Rev. Dr. Knowles Scores Criticism of London Pastor.

SARNIA, April 4.—In an interview here today, Dr. Knowles, speaking on "Denominational peace contrasted with denominational prejudice," basing his remarks upon Dr. Hughson's resignation from the Baptist Church and ministry on conscientious grounds and doctrinal scruples, said: "I hold no brief for Dr. Hughson. I don't know the man, but according to newspaper reports, judging the fact of his change of conviction, seeing he could no longer be a loyal Baptist minister, he was right, perfectly right. Had he been a Presbyterian minister and changed his convictions, and went over to the Baptist Church, he would have done right. I, myself, would do the very same thing. Even if my convictions, so changed as regards the Roman Catholic Church, as Dr. Hughson's did of the Presbyterian Church, I would, like Cardinal Newman, go over to it, and feel I was doing right and seeking to save my soul."

Dr. Knowles scored the London Baptist minister's harsh criticism of Dr. Hughson: "That poor prune up in Stratford," as being ungentlemanly, discourteous, unmanly, unkindly, unchristian, and instead of his criticism lessening Dr. Hughson in the public eye, it had lowered his critic considerably among the people.

"Dr. Hughson," Dr. Knowles said, "is a man of convictions, having the courage of his convictions. He forces us to admiration and respect, and constrains us to take off our hats to him. No matter what church conviction takes you out of, no matter what church conviction takes you into, he who is led by solid, honest, conscientious conviction, he who is led thus to square himself with himself, he who is led thus to square himself with his God, may be a poor man. That's no disgrace. Perhaps his poverty is caused by his liabilities, or his wages or salary, but he certainly is not a 'prune,' a coward, a fool, and if God-led, is making no mistake."

MOVE TO TAKE OVER TELEPHONE SYSTEM

INGERSOLL, April 4.—Consideration from all angles was this afternoon given the proposal of the Ingersoll Telephone Company to take over the local system of the Bell Company. The conference between representatives of the two companies was held in the council chamber, with Mayor Henderson presiding. Many citizens, principally subscribers of the Ingersoll Company, were in attendance. H. E. Robinson represented the local company, while P. H. Ashley was present on behalf of the Bell Company. In the course of the discussion various questions were asked as to the effect of the proposed amalgamation. It was pointed out that if the deal went through it would eliminate a duplication of 110 telephones in the town and district. The Ingersoll Company desire to act as long-distance agents for the Bell Company, and this would also mean a saving of 10 cents on every call, as compared with the existing situation, when the call goes in over the local line. The meeting unanimously carried a resolution asking the council to amend clause 10 of the agreement between the town and the Ingersoll Company, which prohibits amalgamation, buying or selling to any company. This resolution will come before a special meeting of the council for consideration.

The death occurred today of a well-known resident, Mrs. Hughes, wife of O. Hughes, Thames street south. Her illness was of about two years' duration, and her death was not unexpected. She was in her 38th year, and a member of the Church of the Sacred Heart.

MANY STRIKERS RETURN TO WORK

Conditions Expected To Be Normal At Chatham Plant Today.

CHATHAM, April 4.—Forty-two employees of the local plant of the Wilson Canadian Packing Company went on strike today as a protest against the reduction in wages of 12½ per cent. A number of the employees have now returned to work, according to Superintendent Bailey, who predicts that the plant will be back at normal working conditions Tuesday.

The Chatham Horticultural Society has opened a store for the sale of plants and seeds, including those contained in their option lists, for the benefit of members of the society and any others who care to benefit by the reduced prices.

Information has been laid against Dennis O'Neil of Raleigh Township for stealing property from the farms in that township owned by Bishop Fallon of London.

Manager J. C. Jackson of the public utilities commission made an inspection trip over certain streets in the outlying sections today on a petition from the inhabitants for better lighting facilities. A petition from the residents was presented to the council this evening.

FARMERS VERY BUSY WITH SPRING WORK

PARKHILL, April 4.—Today was the hottest day of the season, and the warm spell found farmers all over the district very busy. Farm work is well advanced, and all through the district farmers are looking for an excellent season.

The large brick building on Mill street used by Marks Bros., as a wood manufacturing plant has been sold to a firm composed of three Englishmen, all of whom served in the war. They will carry on an extensive business in manufacturing wooden toys.

At a party held at the home of Duncan McCallum of East Williams, several of those present contracted ptomaine poisoning by eating salmon sandwiches. None of the cases are serious.

GRAIN BOAT LEAVES PORT.

PORT ARTHUR, April 4. — The steamer Peter Reiss, first arrival of the season, after taking on grain, leaves this afternoon for Duluth.

THEATRES

AT THE GRAND.

Healing by faith, or a demonstration of the divine power in human affairs, is the basic theme in "The Faith-Healer," which is showing at the Grand Theatre for the first half of this week. The theme of the picture is stupendous and has a beautiful love story running through it.

The picture concerns a young shepherd who feels the divine call to go forth and heal the sick and suffering. When he is at the height of his work love enters his life, and he feels his divine power failing. Milton Sills plays the leading role of the shepherd and Ann Forest the leading woman. The country girl leaving the city and entering into the city night life with her employer and other bitter experiences are vividly portrayed. The girl returns to her home in the country with her invalid aunt, there to make a fresh start, and there she meets the faith-healing shepherd, who she later loves and marries, after he has performed a number of miracles in the village where she lives and has cured her aunt. The settings are beautiful throughout the film.

The "Harmonic Four," composed of local talent, provide some very fine songs and solos. The Paramount magazine, a travelogue and "The Hayseed," starring "Fatty" Arbuckle, complete an exceptionally fine program, which will be repeated today and on Wednesday.

AT THE ALLEN.

For the first time in its history the Allen Theatre of this city staged on Monday a vaudeville act. The innovation proved a splendid success, for the "Florida Four," a male quartet of colored songsters, were given a rousing reception on their initial appearance. On several occasions in the past the management has treated patrons of the theatre to musical treats by presenting outstanding singers, but nothing quite as pretentious as the "Florida Four" had been attempted up to the present time. It is one of the best singing acts ever brought to the city, and the large audiences of Monday showed their appreciation by demanding many encores.

Besides the vaudeville act there were two other features in the form of a double picture program, including the "Roads of Destiny," starring Pauline Frederick and Jane Novak, and "Dangerous Hours," a play adapted from the Saturday Evening Post story, "A Prodigal in Utopia."

"The Roads of Destiny" is a picturization of O. Henry's famous novel. It is a play which will satisfy mother, father, brother and sister, for the picture abounds in thrills, and its philosophy will supply food for thought for all those who like to think. Originally the story centered around a male character, but in the adaptation, Pauline Frederick was put in the lead, and she displayed remarkable ability to portray the emotions that the famous author registered in his character. It is a drama of destiny worked out in an unusual way. It is the story of the fate which awaited a beautiful young girl at the end of four different roads, east, west, north and south. The settings are elaborate and at times picturesque.

"Dangerous Hours" is a timely drama dealing with Bolshevism and the present spirit of unrest throughout America. The theme has been handled with much adroitness. It was developed by a series of spectacluar episodes ranging from the burning of a whole block of city buildings to a realistic reproduction of the Russian Soviet.

A News Weekly and a comedy completed a program which will be repeated today and tomorrow.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

"Ten Nights in a Barroom" is a play which will never grow old, and Rev. Robert Downing, who has taken the leading role in it for 600 consecutive nights, is an actor whose youth seems to be renewed each time he appears on the boards. The week's engagement of the Majestic Players in this appealing drama, with Mr. Downing as Joe Morgan, opened auspiciously last night. The house was filled to capacity, and laughter and tears alternated as the emotions of the audience were touched by the scenes presented.

It was obvious from the rising of the curtain that the play gripped the audience, and there is no doubt that for the balance of the engagement not only will the Majestic Players delight their regular patrons, but that this powerful play will attract new admirers.

Robert Downing's interpretation of the part of Joe Morgan, the seemingly hopeless inebriate, who regains his manhood after the tragic death of his daughter, is so realistic and convincing that one is safe in saying that a large proportion of the audience forgot that they were sitting in front of the footlights and were not spectators of real scene of life in which the evils of intemperance were for the most part the controlling power.

Mr. Downing was splendidly supported by the members of the company. As Sample Swichel, the comedy work of James W. Swift was one of the treats of the evening. He thoroughly entered into the spirit of his part of the blustering, but always funny village constable, and his patter song about "Uncle Tom's Cabin," provoked unbounded amusement.

Willie Hammond, the easily-led-away young man, who flattered himself that he was "only sowing his wild oats," was cleverly acted by Edward Latimer, and his evil genius, Harvey Green, was capably portrayed by Alfred L. Rigali.

As Simon Slade, the miller who had turned tavernkeeper, George W. Dill had rather a difficult role to fulfil, but he came out of it with credit, and Harry P. Young as Jack Romaine, was quite at home in his part.

As this is a play in which the male characters have the most to do, it is unnecessary to dilate on the female roles, but a word of praise is due to Gwendoline Pates for her child-like and vivid acting as Mary Morgan, the victim of the curse that for a time held her father in its grip. Edna Marshall, as Mehitable Cartwright, was inexpressibly funny, and Marguerite Westin and Louise Gilchrist, in the parts of Flora Slade and Mrs. Morgan respectively, fully maintained their reputation.

"Ten Nights in a Barroom" is a play that everyone should see, not only for the lesson it so powerfully teaches, but for the excellent night's entertainment it affords.

AT LOEW'S THEATRE.

Enid Bennett, one of the most adorable of screen stars, was indeed pleasing in her latest production, "Silk Hosiery," at Loew's Theatre this week. Miss Bennett at first is seen as a model in a cloak shop. Despite her social position she has hopes that some day she will be someone. Her chance comes when a noted prince comes to town and invites the elite to a great ball. In the crowd are a man and a woman who are plotting against the prince, but Enid steps in, and after a hard-fought fight with the woman recovers for the prince a jewel which he has lost. Then she marries the prince's aide, a handsome man whom she fancied the first day she saw him.

"Clothes, Clothes, Clothes," last of the vaudeville turns, is well presented, and is a playlet that had much light comedy, which is of such a calibre that it could be repeated in the best of homes. Two men and three women take part, and all are good.

Lyle and Emerson are a team that are able to put over much comedy in dialogue form. Their act also includes songs and dancing.

Makerenko and Maker are good singers and dancers. Their settings and costumes are gorgeous; in fact, their act almost seems to be a bit of grand opera.

The territory covered by the Amherstburg office of the amalgamated departments comprises the town of Amherstburg and the townships of Anderdon, Colchester North, Colchester South, Gosfield North, Gosfield South, Mersea and Pelee Island.

Kent County, which before the amalgamation was situated in the territory of the local inland revenue office, is now under the jurisdiction of the customs and excise department offices at Chatham.
