STAID LONDON BUSINESSMEN UNBEND FOR FESTIVITIES OF ROTARIANS' PICNIC

Advertiser Illustrations.

The annual picnic of the Rotary Club, held Monday at the farm of John White, London Township, will go down in the club's history as one of the greatest on record. The Advertiser camera man was there to record just some of the doings, and the above "snaps" tell their own story. Across the top may be seen the winning contestants of the Tintea Trophy—Rotarians Frank Ashplant and James Gray, being presented with their prizes by A. E. Silverwood. The Langford leap-frog sprinters are to be seen in the centre, while to the right may be glimpsed the race of the "greater production" rotarians for the ton of coal presented by W. A. Martin. The kiddies who kicked in the "balloon kick" contest are at the left of the lower pictures; the girl sprinters are in the centre, and some of the participants who hammered nails instead of thumbs in the Nichols' nail-driving contest.

FOE DRIVEN FROM CAPO SILE; THOUSANDS OF PRISONERS AND MUCH MATERIAL TAKEN BY ALLIES IN PIAVE BATTLE

Well-Directed Counter-Attacks and Desperate Resistance Taking Steam Out of the Austrian Offensive, Emperor Charles' Legion Being Unable to Make Decisive Headway—Heavy Defeat Seems Certain For the Teutons.

London, June 20.—News reached London this afternoon that the Italians have regained Capo Sile, the town on the lagoon to the west of the Piave River, near its mouth, which was captured by the Austro-Hungarians.

The River Piave, overflowing its banks, has destroyed several pontoon bridges constructed by the Austrians at Intestadura and also at San Ponna di Piave. This has increased the difficulty of the Austrians in their rear communications, affecting the transportation of artillery, ammunition, food and fresh troops.

It is stated that the Austrians fighting south of the Piave River continue to implore help and also that two of their divisions have been greatly reduced by losses.

Paris, June 20.—The splendid resistance of the Italians and their Franco-British allies leads the French press to conclude that the Austrians cannot avoid defeat, especially as well-directed counter-attacks have resulted in the capture of thousands of prisoners and much war material.

A Havas dispatch from Rome says that Italy has achieved a great double victory, referring to the recent naval exploit in the Adriatic, and the present checking of the Austrians.

Late in March, says the Echo de Paris, Field Marshal von Hindenburg demanded that Austrian divisions be sent to the French front. Field Marshal Conrad von Hoetzendorff, supported by Emperor Charles, assured the German leader that an Austrian offensive against Italy would have a great chance of success, and would be received joyfully by the Dual monarchy. This point of view was finally accepted by the German supreme command.

ITALIAN SPIRIT HIGH.

Italian Army Headquarters, June 19.—By the Associated Press.—Realization that the Austrian offensive has failed is spurring the Italian troops to a desperate resistance along the Piave. Heavy fighting continued today around the Montello Plateau on the north, and near San Dona-di-Piave on the south.

On Montello, which is hilly and wooded, the opposing forces frequently stumbled upon each other unexpectedly. Such meetings always result in sharp encounters. The spirit of the Italian troops is at high pitch despite wounds, loss of sleep and constant movements made necessary by the conditions of the terrain at several points.

ITALIANS CONTROL AIR.

Italian Army Headquarters, Wednesday, June 19.—By the Associated Press.—The Italians have won complete control of the air along the Piave line, where the most determined fighting of the present Austrian offensive is in progress. This afternoon not a single Austrian machine was aloft on this front.

In general the situation of the Austrians along the Piave appears far from satisfactory to them. Prisoners taken by the Italians all declare the Austrian army has little food. Some of the prisoners have not eaten for 48 hours.

CANADA MUST FEED ENGLAND AND THE ARMY

Ottawa, June 20.—A bulletin from the Canada Food Board says: "Great Britain in peace times depended upon imports for four-fifths of her food supply. One out of every seven of Scotland's total population is in the army; in England one out of every twelve; in Canada one out of every seventeen.

Britain, despite army demands for men has increased her farm acreage by help of women, boys and labor diverted from towns and cities. She has also increased her production of munitions and ships, and her manufactured exports, such as cotton, by which she finances herself.

But most of her usual sources of food supplies have been cut off by the war and scarcity of ships. Canada produces the largest available food surplus in the British Empire. The responsibility for feeding the armies and the Mother Country falls directly upon Canada. The harvest of 1918 must be saved or millions will starve.

Let Canadians realize the truth before writing "yes" or "no" on the registration cards to the question 'Are you willing to do farm work?'

OTTAWA CIVIC WORKERS GET HALF-HOLIDAY PER WEEK AND WITH WAGES

Ottawa, June 20.—The board of control at a meeting yesterday afternoon decided to recommend to the city council that all permanent civic employees be given one half-holiday per week with pay. This is to be in addition to the one day off in seven, which council approved at its Monday meeting.

FATAL BOILER EXPLOSION.

Montreal, June 20.—Joseph Charron, 35 years of age, was killed and several others had a narrow escape from serious injuries yesterday at Mount Laurier, when a boiler in the Mont Laurier sawmill exploded and destroyed the engine-room. Charron was married and is survived by a widow and five children. The damage to the mill is estimated at over $1,000.

CLEMENCEAU REPORTS STEADY STREAM OF AMERICAN SOLDIERS

Talk On War Situation Greatly Cheers Army Commission.

Paris, June 20.—Talking to the parliamentary army commission today on the military situation, Premier Clemenceau alluded to the American military effort, which he said was being constantly sustained, and which was resulting in the steady and safe arrival in France of large numbers of American reinforcements. He spoke also of new decisions made by the British Government regarding measures to be taken during the next enemy offensive, and upon the situation as regards the defence of Paris.

Leon Abrami of the war department gave details of the military strength of the Entente ,and his revelations, together with the statements made by the premier, had a most reassuring effect upon the commissioners.

The members of the commission, says l'Homme Libre, were particularly impressed by the figures given of the number of American troops, which, it predicts, will shortly bring about numerical equality with the enemy.

RAIN BADLY NEEDED FOR CROPS OF SASK.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Winnipeg, June 19.—Superintendent of Interior Elevator Company H. Bartwell wires to a local paper tonight from Regina, Sask., as follows: "Having driven by auto practically all through Saskatchewan, I would say that the crops outside of the Arcola, Soo and Assiniboia branches of the C. P. R. are damaged fully 35 per cent. Rain is required badly, but if it does come at once the stalks will be very short, and naturally the heads of grain will be in proportion. Some fields that were blown badly are practically dried out. Speaking in general, the oats and barley crops have not had sufficient moisture to get any growth to speak of; in fact, the ground in many places is bare."

OTTAWA WILL EXPLAIN ENTRANCE OF POLICE AT JESUIT NOVITIATE

Guelph, June 20.—The next step of the Guelph Ministerial Association in connection with the visit of military police to the Jesuit novitiate here is problematical. A meeting is being held this afternoon of the committee appointed to deal with the question at which it will be decided whether to go on with a public meeting of protest early next week.

Much depends upon a statement which it is stated the Dominion Government is issuing today, explaining the whole affair. The heads of novitiate here have nothing further to say until the statement appears and the ministerial association is also awaiting it. The latter had received a communication from the militia minister, saying that a report will be given of the visit to the college, but the letter from the minister is satisfatcory only so far as it goes.

GEN. WILLIAMS FREED

Edmonton, June 20.—News has been received in Edmonton that Gen. Victor Williams, who was a prisoner of war in Germany for more than two years, since his capture at Ypres in 1916 is now in England and will return to Canada soon. For about six months he was interned in Switzerland, his release being allowed recently.

HUNGRY MOBS STORM BAKERIES OF KARL'S CAPITAL; RIOTING AT HAMBURG, BERLIN, COLOGNE

Peace Demonstrations In German Cities Are Followed By Clashes Between Police and Workers---Disorder At Vienna Over the Reduction of Bread Rations, May Place City Under Martial Law.

London, June 20.—Serious rioting broke out in Vienna yesterday, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Amsterdam. The mob broke into a number of bakeries, stoned the residence of the premier and also one of the wings of the Hofeburg Palace, the message adds.

Cavalry is being rushed to the capital to restore order. It is probable, it is stated, that martial law will be proclaimed. The rioting was in protest against the reduction of the bread ration.

RIOTING IN GERMAN CITIES.

London, June 20.—Heavily censored private messages received in Stockholm indicate that peace demonstrations were held in Berlin, Hamburg and Cologne and that several workmen were killed and many persons arrested, says a dispatch to the Morning Post from Stockholm. The police and military dispersed crowds of demonstrants.

WHOLE NATION EXCITED.

Amsterdam, June 20.—Vienna dispatches to German newspapers say that the reduction of the bread ration in Austria-Hungary caused immense excitement throughout the Dual Monarchy. All Austrian newspapers, without distinction of party, protest against the measure, demanding its removal and asking immediate help from Germany and Hungary.

GRAIN SUPPLIES EXHAUSTED.

London, June 20.—There have been reports from various sources of trouble in Austria, notably in the capital, because of the bread ration reduction forced by virtual exhaustion of the Austrian grain supplies.

The bread allotment to each individual in the city of Vienna is now less than 1½ pounds weekly, it was stated in a dispatch from Copenhagen on Tuesday.

VEHEMENT PROTEST.

Protests against this rationing have been vehement from various quarters. The Vienna city council on Tuesday passed a resolution of protest, and the labor council in that city emphasized its similar protest by the passage of a resolution renewing its demand for a speedy general peace.

Strikes in Vienna and elsewhere have been one outgrowth of the situation, according to reports from Switzerland, and fears have been expressed in Austrian quarters that what would virtually amount to a general strike was imminent. In one recent labor demonstration in Vienna the police had to be called upon the disperse the rioters, it was said.

GERMANY CANNOT HELP.

Austria, it appears, is entering the new harvest year without any reserved stocks whatever, and is dependent upon Germany for such scanty supplies as she is receiving. Germany herself, however, is reported so short of stocks herself that she is able to extend little help. Seemingly there are still supplies in Hungary from which Austria might derive some small assistance, but appeals to the Hungarian authorities do not appear to have brought results.

SMASH U-BOATS, URGES GOMPERS

Minneapolis, Minn., June 20.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, addressing a mass meeting here last night, made an appeal to the American people to resent the ravages of German submarines, which "are bringing the war to the threshold of this country."

Other speakers at the meeting, which was held under the auspices of the American Alliance for Labor and Democracy, included James Wilson and Miss Agnes Nestor, members of the European labor mission, and James Lord, member of the Mexican labor mission.

The hope of Europe rests upon the United States, according to Mr. Wilson.

NUMEROUS CLASHES REPORTED BY HAIG

British Raiders Active at Many Points With Success.

London, June 20.—British raiding parties were active in several sectors along the front last night, taking prisoners and inflicting losses upon the Germans in numerous classes, the war office announced today.

The text of the statement says:

"A number of raids were carried out by us last night in the neighborhood of Boyelles (southeast of Arras), Lens and Givenchy, and in the Strazeelle and Ypres sectors (in Flanders). Certain of these enterprises led to sharp fighting, in which the enemy suffered many casualties. We captured 18 prisoners and 3 machine guns."

DOMINION'S MINISTERS MAY STAY IN LONDON FOR DURATION OF WAR

London, June 20.—Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency—The Morning Post says it is proposed that the resident ministers of the dominions in London be appointed at least for the duration of the war in addition to the high commissioners. They would deal with all war matters concerning the dominions. It remains to be decided whether they will all be members of the war cabinet like General Smuts of South Africa, and Hon. William Hughes, premier of Australia.

MARITAL TANGLES OF BROTHERS GET AIRING IN COURT

Too Much Outside Affection Is Alleged.

LOVE LETTERS PRODUCED

Fervid Epistle From Lady Friend of Complainant Read as Evidence.

"Brotherly love" may be a term well understood by some brothers, but not so with Thomas and Richard E. Blackwell, the central figures in a police court case this morning.

Richard E., the younger, has his brother summoned in an effort to have him bound over to keep the peace. After the magistrate heard both sides of the story, he declined to bind the defendant, Thomas Blackwell, over, for a time at least.

In the information Richard E. swore tht his brother Thomas threatened "to knock him to pieces and to get rid of him."

The complainant, who is a married man, under cross-examination by his counsel, E. T. Essery, said that his brother had been too affectionate to his (Richard's) wife.

"Why, they drove me from my own home, and now he won't even let me talk to my own wife," said the complainant.

"All right, we will see what your brother Thomas' side of the story is," said W. R. Meredith, counsel for defendant, as he proceeded to cross-examine the complainant.

Sees Her Every Day.

"In the first place you have a dear lady friend which you see every night. Is that not so?" asked Mr. Meredith.

"Yes, I see her every day," replied complainant.

A bundle of letters was here handed to Mr. Meredith by the complainant's wife. Picking up one addressed to Richard Blackwell, Mr. Meredith read as follows; "My dear, absence makes the heart grow fonder, and I hope that this is so in our case. I am so lonely when away from you."

Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon mopped his brow and Sergt.-Major McGuire reached for the switch to turn on the electric fan, as the lawyer proceeded with the reading of the fervid epistle.

"Was this just a platonic friendship, or did it go a little beyond that?" asked Mr. Meredith.

"I object," interrupted E. T. Essery, and the magistrate ruled the question out.

"Did you not kiss and fondly embrace this woman, not your wife, as you and she parted on the street the other night?" was the next question asked by defendant's counsel of the complainant.

"I just bid her goodnight, that was all," replied witness.

Denies Brother's Story.

Thomas E. Blackwell, the defendant, took the stand and denied all the accusations that his brother had made. He declared that he thought the younger brother needed a lesson.

The complainant asked to call his father to substantiate some statements he had made, but Magistrate Graydon refused.

"I will not permit your father to go in the box under these circumstances," said the court. Magistrate Graydon suggested a reconciliation between the estranged brothers, but both shook their heads, indicating there was no such chance.

JUDGMENT RESERVED IN NON-JURY CASES

The non-jury sittings of the supreme court for June were brought to a close at the courthouse at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Chief Justice Sir Glenholme Falconbridge reserved judgment in the cases of O'Neil vs. O'Neil and McGirr vs. Standeven. The evidence in the O'Neil case was heard at the morning sitting, and in the McGirr vs. Standeven case in the afternoon. The chief justice announced he would not likely hand down his decisions in these cases for at least a month.

A GREAT RESERVE.

The Algonquin Park of Ontario is easily accessible by the Grand Trunk Railway from all the principal centres. It is about two hundred miles north of Toronto, and may be reached also through Ottawa, being about one hundred and seventy miles west of the Capital City. There are more than fifteen hundred lakes and rivers in the Park, and to the excellence of the fishing there is undisputed testimony. Fish caught in the waters of the reserve have won each year many of the national competitions open to the anglers of the continent. While the Park makes an especially strong appeal to the fisherman and canoeist, it is a vacation territory where each member of the family may find healthful recreation in the great out-of-doors. Good hotels. Illustrated descriptive literature and all particulars may be had on application to any Grand Trunk agent, or to C. E. Horning, D. P. A., Toronto, Ont. b

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL BOYS SHOW METTLE ON FRENCH FIELDS

600 Have Enlisted, Says the Deputy Superintendent.

PRAISES MILITARY DRILL

London Boys at Institution Making Good for Most Part.

George R. Gauld, deputy superintendent of the Victoria Industrial School, Mimico, is spending the day in town, in the course of a motor trip through Western Ontario, as far as Chatham, on business in connection with the school. He brings an excellent report of the London boys who are in the school, the majority of them doing well indeed, a few not so well. Each boy attends school for half a day, taking up the regular branches of study, and each boy has the advantage of an hour's military drill a day. Each boy, further, is learning a trade whereby he can earn a livelihood. One boy who was taken down to the school not long ago is doing good work in the bake shop. Some are learning farming, and one young colored lad is making good in the laundry. Others are learning carpentering, shoemaking, printing, etc.

Concerning the subject of military drill, "We have two periods a day for this, one in the forenoon and one in the afternoon," said Mr. Gauld. "We have a cadet corps, inspected by the military authorities, just as the public and high schools have their corps. The boys are very proud of this, and the physical training they receive does them much good. All our boys receive military training and when the war broke out, we gave an opportunity to all who were eligible to enlist. They were eager to do so, and some of the boys of only sixteen who were big for their age would have done so if they had been allowed and could pass the medical examiners. In all, about 500 or 600 of our boys have enlisted since the beginning of the war, and we have had splendid reports of a number of them. Most of them, in fact, have made good, and numbers of them have died the death of heroes.

"My elder son, George R., who is at present with the 5th Reserve Battalion as an instructor, has a number of our former boys in his unit, and has sent us fine reports of them. Quite a number of our former Industrial School boys have become non-commissioned officers, though, as far as I know, none has been promoted beyond the rank of sergeant."

Mr. Gauld, who is a Westminster Township old boy, and a brother of Rev. Dr William Gauld, the widely-known missionary of the Presbyterian Church in Formosa, has been for many years associated with the Mimico Industrial School. Two of his sons are overseas, Capt. George R. Gauld, who is at present in England, as already stated, and Lieut. W. G. Gauld of the Royal Flying Corps.

Capt. Gauld, who is a graduate of Toronto University, went overseas as a private in March, 1915, with the 5th University unit to reinforce the Princess Patricias. He was subsequently transferred to the 58th Battalion, and given a commission. At Vimy Ridge, where he was slightly wounded, he was recommended for the Military Cross, Promoted to a captaincy, he continued in active service until he was seriously wounded at Passchendaele, and has been in England since. He expects to return soon to France.

A nephew of Mr. Gauld, Lieut. Gordon Gauld, son of Rev. Dr. Gauld, and a young man of exceptional brilliancy and promise, was recently killed in action.

Miss Gauld, a sister of the deputy superintendent of the Mimico School, makes her home in this city.

QUERIES REGARDING MILITARY SERVICE

Send In Your Problems and They Will Be Answered From Official Information by The Advertiser.

W. A. B. Q.—1. I come within the 19-year-old class, and have my registration certificate. Would there be any objection to my going out west until I have to report for service?

2. Would I be liable to be caused any annoyance, having only my registration certificate to show?

A.—1. No, only notify the M. S. A. registrar of your change of address.

2. That is all that you could possibly have, and you need nothing further. You should, of course, have the receipt for your national registration also.

P. H. S. Q.—1. If a man enlisted in the 63rd Battery two months ago, could he now transfer to special service? To whom would he apply?

2. What branches of the Special Service Corps for service in Canada are now open?

A.—1. If he is in category A, he could not transfer to a home service unit, though he might to an overseas combatant unit. All applications must go through his commanding officer.

2. There are no special service companies now. They have been absorbed by the Canadian Garrison Regiment. If he were in category lower than A, he might secure a transfer to that unit, or to the Service Company, Canadian Engineers. Nearly all units employ men of the lower categories for service in Canada.

BARN BLAZES AS AVIATOR FLIES OVER

SHEDDEN, June 19. — A peculiar incident occurred this morning about 10 o'clock while a number of people from the village were watching a biplane, which was passing. After the aviator passed over the village he turned in a northerly direction and passed over the barn of J. H. Sells, which immediately took fire, and the building and contents, which consisted of a binder, mower and other farm implements, besides several tons of hay, were totally destroyed. The hired man, Kelly Sells, had about $50 worth of clothing burned, along with $10 in money which was in one of the pockets.

Although the aviator passed over at the exact moment the fire started, it is not believed that this had anything to do with the starting of the blaze, although the origin of the fire is a mystery.

The building was lightly insured, but the contents were well covered.

ROTARIAN PICNIC AT WHITE'S FARM WAS REAL FROLIC

Program Filled With Novelties Kept Big Crowd Well Amused.

GREAT DAY FOR KIDDIES

Rotary Greater Production Show Was a Feature of Outing.

Yesterday was Rotarian Day, at Edgewood, east of the city, the country home of John White, where the London Rotary Club's annual picnic was held. The weatherman did his best to make the affair a success, and the Rotarians did the rest. There was not a dull moment from the arrival of the crowd from London until the last infant was bundled up for the return trip to this city. The Rotarians gathered at the Y. M. C. A. at 2 o'clock and left for the White farm by autos, signs along the road directing the way. Immediately upon arrival at the picnic grounds the fun commenced, and all children between the ages of 1 year and 80 took part in the pastime. It was a day for the youngsters, many of whom last night no doubt had dreams of ice cream cones, crackley nut, gum and candy, all of which was passed out to them free of charge yesterday, with the sky as the limit.

A Fine Program.

The sports were run off without a hitch, there being many feature events, each one of which was named after a prominent Rotarian, such as the Langford leap-frog race, and the Dowler dash. One amusing event was that known as "over the top," the contestants being in the 200-pound class, and incidentally placed in sand-bags. To reach their goal the heavyweights had to scale a parapet, and it was great fun for the ladies on the side lines. The Tintea trophy musical contest provided more laughs than Charlie Chaplin could manufacture in seven reels. There were nine camouflaged Rotarians in the contest, and each was required to thrust his head through an aperture in a manner similar to the "hit the coon" contests at the country fair. As his number was called each member had to render a solo, the spectators acting as judges. Unknown to the would-be Carusos, the spectators were armed with rubber balls, with which the former were showered, very few being hit, however, as the audience was in good humor. The contest ended in a tie between Frank Ashplant and James Gray, who refused to warble again, claiming that their dug-outs were not bomb-proof. A. E. Silverwood presented them jointly with a Tintea trophy, which consisted of a tin box adorned with lettuce. While the presentation was in progress the bottom fell out of the trophy, and a young chicken (feathered variety) escaped, only to be captured by the food controller.

Fishing Contest.

Last but not least was the fishing contest, which was held down by the river, the picnickers adjourning to the scene. Here the lines were already cast for the anglers, and at the word "go" all hauled in. Weight was to count on the catch, and all were lucky enough to get a bite. Frank Ashplant landed an empty Hiram Walker bottle, otherwise known as a dead soldier, and Dr. N. H. Beal captured a finan haddie which had been cured, but according to its captor had suffered a relapse. Toney Tillmann drew in a can of sardines, but the prize went to J. G. Bridge, who landed a large snapping turtle. The prize presented was a supposed box of cigars, but when opened by the recipient proved to be a box of dough. Unable to locate Toney Tillmann, who was hiding behind a burdock leaf, the winner fed the prize to his catch, which seemed to relish the banquet.

In connection with the Nichols nail-driving contest, the ladies were warned beforehand that in 1916 and 1917 some of the contestants thought this was a finger-nail driving contest to their sorrow. The Rotary Greater Production Show was a baby show in disguise, there being two groups entered, 1915 and 1916 models, and 1917 and 1918 models, bachelors being barred. John Bridge had three entries, one in each class, and succeeded in copping a prize. The judges lost a deal of their popularity before they completed their task, but little things like this do not worry Milt Jackson or Frank Jewell.

Every baby entered in the event was presented with a bank account of one dollar by Rotarian E. C. Bowker.

Fine Service.

Prizes for the various events were presented after lunch, and by the way, that lunch was a bang-up. Refreshments were served cafeteria style, each guest acting in the self-serve way. Ice cream was handed out as dessert in individual boxes with small spoon attached. There were sandwiches, cakes, fruit and everything that a hungry Rotarian tribe could wish for.

Frank Jewell, mounted in a chair, presented the prizes, but he suffered from an attack of shell-shock because of numerous monster firecrackers being exploded at his feet by fellow-Rotarians. The club presented Tony Tillmann with a corkscrew, and Frank Jewell with a flask, and when last seen they were fishing for more mud turtles in the River Thames. Rev. Q. G. Warner was presented with a pair of curling tongs for his good work as weatherman for the day, and E. V. Buchanan was presented with a young moose for his zoo at Springbank.

Real Hielanmen.

The juvenile pipe band of this city dispensed music during the afternoon, and "Bill" Martin, along with Manager E. V. Buchanan, danced the Highland fling in approved style, the former winning the long-distance medal for endurance. For this pantomime he received a set of clay bagpipes, but not to be outdone Manager Buchanan borrowed a plaid motor rug and set of bagpipes, parading around as a Scotty in disguise, with nobby knees. During this act he lost a part of his make-up, which was found later, when Frank Jewell presented him with the Order of the Garter.

When asked to give a speech on receiving the prize on behalf of his baby in the Rotarian greater production event, Dr. N. H. Beal, slightly flustered, said: "The baby looks like his father, therefore she won the prize." And yet he does not understand why all the ladies present laughed so heartily.

Before departing for home in the evening the club moved a vote of thanks to John White for the splendid day spent, and the crowd gave this staunch Rotarian three hearty cheers, which made the woods ring, there being about 200 guests present.

The Prize Winners.

Following is a list of results of the various events run off:

Keene contest (boys, 75 yards)—1 Roy Hayman, 2 Walt Gammage, 3 John McCallum.

BEAUTY SPECIALIST TELLS SECRET

A Beauty Specialist Gives Simple Home Made Recipe to Darken Grey Hair.

Mrs. M. D. Gillespie, a well-known beauty specialist of Kansas City, recently gave out the following statement regarding grey hair:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home, at very little cost, that will darken grey hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Orlex Compound and ¼ ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost, or the druggist will put it up for you. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a grey-haired person look twenty years younger. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."

FOOD LAW QUERIES

Answering the query of a Lakeside subscriber regarding to the amount of flour that can be legally held, James Gray, local representative of the publicity department of the Canada Food Board, gives the following statement:

"In the case of a farmer he can retain all flour that is now in his possession, but he must report the amount held to the miller or merchant from whom the flour was obtained, who in turn must report to Ottawa, to the Canada Food Board. Any other citizen who has in his possession a bag of flour which was opened before the order concerning the hoarding of this commodity was published, may keep the balance. Any further purchases must not be greater than a fifteen days' supply, however.

MERLIN QUERY.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Is it against the law of the food controller to have a strawberry or ice cream social, the same as we always have had, for the aid of the church? May we use granulated sugar for the berries and cooking, such as the public has always supplied us with in the past, without being in danger of being fined, as we want to do what is right?

A MEMBER OF THE E. W. S. OF A. MEMBER OF THE E. W. S. OF A. RALEIGH PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

In reply to this, James Gray advises that a letter be sent to the license department of the Canada Food Board, Ottawa, for an interpretation of the law on this question.

MACKEREL WILL BE RUSHED TO CITY FROM EASTERN COAST

Express Service To Provide Sea Food For Londoners.

The following announcement has been made by the Canada Food Board:

Final arrangements have been completed by the Canada Food Board with the producers and the express companies whereby Atlantic sea fish will be rushed by special fast refrigerator cars direct from the ocean boats to Toronto as a distributing centre. Supplies of these fish for London will be sent on from there without any delay, thus connecting up this city with the big fish campaign which is now in full swing. It is the intention to introduce some line of sea fish each week. This week citizens will have the opportunity to sample the delicious flavored mackerel. These fish are not only beautiful in appearance, but because of their flavor have long been classed as an epicurean dish. While mackerel usually sell at about 25 cents per pound, they will be sold to citizens at 13½ cents under this arrangement.

Mackerel fishing is a gamble. The fish strike the coast in schools during the summer months and are hunted by the fishermen in schooners. When a school comes to the surface a seine net is run around the school. A fishing crew may get practically nothing for a two months' cruise or a lucky boat may make a fortune in one or two hauls.

Farmer Alleged To Have Struck Humane Inspector.

Joseph Hewitt, a London Township farmer, was summoned to police court this morning to answer a charge of assaulting Humane Inspector George Burgess. After hearing the evidence, Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon discharged Hewitt with a warning.

Inspector Burgess testified that Hewitt struck him over the ear, but Hewitt said he just gently shoved the inspector.

John Monteith of Delaware corroborated the evidence of Inspector Burgess, and Mrs. Near substantiated the statements of Hewitt.

The trouble arose over a crate of chickens, which the inspector said were being smothered beneath the weight of a bundle of papers.

MISSION STARTS AGAIN.—The special services conducted by the Pentecostalists of London during the warm weather a year ago, and which attracted such wide attention, have been revived this season. A tent has been erected near the gospel mission of the sect on Dundas street, near William, and, it is stated, the meetings are being largely attended. Last year they were held east on the Hamilton road, people going from all parts of the city.

AN APPEAL FOR FLOWERS.—The Flora Yorke Miller Y (Y. W. C. T. U.) celebrates Jennie Cassady day each year by taking flowers to the sick. This year the members wish to take flowers to the sick soldiers at the barracks hospital and sanatorium. If any persons have flowers they would like to give for this purpose the Y. would be very glad if they could be sent to the rooms, 432 Park avenue, on Friday, by 1 o'clock. The members also wish to decorate the Y. M. C. A. tent on Carling Heights and would be glad to have flags sent to the rooms with the flowers.

Through the activities of the London delegation to last year's convention at St. Louis, Canada was kept well to the fore in all sessions, and will be given due prominence at San Francisco this year.

Head of Vacant Lot Garden Movement Enthusiastic After Inspection of Results of City's Response to Greater Production Plea.

Ald. S. R. Manness, head of London's vacant lot garden movement, believes that London will this year raise enough potatoes to meet at least one-third of the city's requirements. It is just possible, he says, that it may reach 50 per cent.

Ald. Sam is known by all to be considerable of an optimist and enthusiast on two questions, vacant lot gardens and municipal fish sales, but a tour of a portion of the vacant lot garden areas, tends to substantiate the belief that the alderman's predictions in regard to the gardens have a more solid foundation than mere optimism or hopes.

It has been remarked that if the farmers could only make as good use of their unused land as the city folks are the country would never be in want. This is a fact. Few spots throughout the city remain untilled. There are gardens everywhere. Almost every foot of available space is being used to produce something.

Potatoes Predominate.

Potatoes predominate. They compose five-sixths of the crop on the vacant lot gardens, and have replaced flowers in many lawns. Out of close to 200 gardens visited by representatives of the press and Ald. Manness on Wednesday, but two uninviting-looking ones were encountered. Both were in the same patch, being two of 20. Perhaps the excellence of the others, which presented such a contrast to two, showed the uncared for ones up worse than they really were. The gardens as a whole, however, evidence the fact that a great deal of muscle and brawn has been employed on them. The ground in all cases seemed to be well taken care of. The potatoes, in different stages of growth, from those just peeping through the ground to those in flower, seemed in remarkably fine condition. In this regard it might be pointed out that Ald. Manness' own garden is the only one found where the spuds were already in flower.

The north end of the city has a rather large share of vacant lot gardens. Its rival is the eastern section. Both these districts have some large plots. Victoria and Maitland, Regent and Maitland streets have some excellent plots. Bourgetdale has some particularly fine ones, including those of the street railwaymen.

Two extra fine private gardens were encountered. One on Dundas street east, an acre in extent, worked by an aged man. It is remarkably well kept. The other was in Broughdale, and is owned by Manager E. S. Bowker of the Dominion Bank.

Children's Gardens Well Kept.

The community gardens are exceptionally fine and praiseworthy. There is a well-kept one on Regent street; another on Miss Carling's property on Ann street; one on Sherwood avenue, and another with 41 plots, 24 adults and 17 children, at Belvedere, A. M. Smith's residence, Wortley road. The gardens here are exceptionally well kept, especially the children's. The same might be said of the community garden on Cavendish street, West London.

On the whole the gardens evidence the fact that London has answered the call to produce to the fullest of her land resources. Hundreds of homes which have always purchased their potatoes will this year buy but a small portion of their requirements, and a good many will not be required to purchase any.

The gardens are a credit to their owners, to the city, and especially to those who have pushed the vacant lot garden movement to such a successful position. Today they are a real factor in the life of the community.

PRE-REGISTRATION ENDS FRIDAY NOON; 50,000 CARDS OUT

18 Special Booths Will Complete Their Work at Noon Tomorrow.

NO MORE CARDS NOW

When Present Supply Is Exhausted, Registration Will Cease.

Pre-registration in the city of London will close at noon Friday. This decision was announced by Registrar R. A. Bayly at noon today, who urges that all deputies and assistant deputies be guided by this decision and permit no cards to be signed after Friday noon.

Up to noon today more than 50,000 blank cards had been handed out to deputies and assistants by Registrar Bayly.

"I believe from reports that are reaching me from the places of pre-registration that between 21,000 and 22,000 persons have signed the cards in this city," said Registrar Bayly today.

With 50,000 cards having been handed out Registrar Bayly decided today that no more blanks will be distributed. Those cards which are unsigned must be filled in by Friday noon or returned on Friday afternoon to Registrar Bayly for use on Saturday, which is the official registration day.

When the present supply in the hands of any deputy at any one of the eighteen places provided for pre-registration is exhausted that deputy is requested, by Registrar Bayly, to cease pre-registration at once.

The discontinuance of pre-registration by Friday was found absolutely necessary in view of the fact that less than 30,000 blank cards remain at Registrar Bayly's office for use on Saturday, the day set by statute for registration.

At The Advertiser office alone over 2,000 persons have signed the cards, the entire office staff working for hours at a time to keep up with the rush.

Registrar Bayly estimates that at least 30,000 persons will have signed the registration cards by Friday noon.

Outsiders Signed.

The number of persons believed to be subject to registration in London is placed at 44,000. From the 30,000 persons who, it is expected, will be registered by noon Friday must be deducted close to 3,000 who have signed but whose addresses are given in Middlesex County or other outside places.

The postmaster in West London was sworn in as a deputy Wednesday afternoon and pre-registration forms provided him. Pre-registration can now be made there, as well as at the other 17 places previously mentioned in The Advertiser up to noon on Friday.

Needs More Help.

Registrar Bayly is still in need of help for Saturday at booths in West London, the city hall, Talbot street school and at Sacred Heart Separate school.

In view of the short time from now until registration day, persons who can see their way clear to assist at any of these places on Saturday are requested to immediately communicate with Registrar Bayly.

In South London assistants have volunteered in such numbers that all places are now filled for registration day in that part of the city.

On Saturday, commencing at 7 o'clock in the morning and continuing until 10 o'clock at night, 77 registration booths will be open for the work. The registration booth in each instance will be in the same places used as polling sub-divisions in the last Dominion election held on December 17th. Anyone not having knowledge of these places can secure the information by telephoning Registrar Bayly.

Where Foreigners Register.

On Saturday all foreigners unable to speak English will be registered at Booth No. 43, the Aberdeen school, Hamilton road. Interpreters will be provided here, and foreigners unable to speak English are requested to register at this place only.

The duty of every male and female of 16 years of age and over being registered by Saturday is apparent when the Canada Registration Board announces that upon the results obtained will depend whether Canada must submit to the rationing or not.

What Food Board Says.

The following circular showing what may result because of the failure due to non-registration is sent out by the Canada Registration Board:

"The Canadian people may, probably will, have to submit to food rations if the war is unduly prolonged. If rationing comes it will be based on the information obtained on registration day, June 22. This means that any person who fails to register will experience considerable difficulty in obtaining a food card. And without a food card it is extremely difficult to exist under a system of compulsory rationing.

"Canada means business. She proposes, along with the other members of the Alliance, to see the war through to the only conclusion possible for the free peoples of the earth. She proposes to maintain her overseas army at its full striking power. She further proposes to increase her export of food to the Allies, first by increasing her production of it, and second by economizing in her consumption of it. This necessitates the intelligent direction of man power and the elimination of waste. The registration of the civilian population is to be made the foundation for all subsequent war efforts."

PHYSICIAN COMPLAINS HE CANNOT GET DRUGS; DRUGGISTS DISAGREE

Major Dr. Hunt, who recently returned from overseas, was a victim last night of the local law which closes all drug stores tight at 8 o'clock in the evening. Dr. Hunt required medicine for an urgent case. He found several drug stores locked, with no one on the premises, and, continuing his search, located one store which was locked, but the proprietor was within. This proprietor, however, would not fill a perscription, saying he would gladly oblige, but the bylaw would not permit him to do so.

"It is an asinine law," declared the doctor to The Advertiser. "Suppose the doctors were to get together and have a bylaw passed prohibiting them from attending cases within certain hours? It would be just as reasonable.

"The physicians now-a-days do not carry a stock of everything in the drug line; yet this law would compel a patient to suffer pain all night. Must all emergency cases be rushed to the hospital?"

Dr. Hunt suggests that there should be one all-night store, or a zone system with an all-night drug store in each. A police officer could advise strangers which store was open.

If it were considered unfair to give such emergency business to any one or few druggists permanently a rotary arrangement could be made whereby each could take a turn. If keeping open, or having a call bell system as in the olden days, were deemed a hardship, the rotary arrangement would distribute and minimize inconvenience.

London druggists, commenting today upon Dr. Hunt's complaint took the position that no hardship was inflicted upon the public by 8 o'clock closing, as most physicians had supplies of drugs required for emergency purposes, and in any case of extremity, where supplies were lacking, there would be no difficulty in getting what was necessary.

The druggists believe that when their employees work from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. they have put in as long a day as should be required, and one of them stated that if the old hours were restored it would be impossible to get help. Several of them maintained that no hardship had resulted so far from the operation of the law.

BUILDING PERMITS GO WITH A RUSH

$34,930 Chalked Up as Total for Month to Date.

There was a rush for building permits today. Building Inspector A. M. Piper issued the four largest permits which he has had on any day this year.

W. E. Leonard & Sons took out the firm's second permit of the week, and its third this year. It was for $5,000. It will remodel its foundry. The plans have been prepared by H. McBride, architect, and John Hayman & Sons have been awarded the contract. Earlier in the week Leonard's secured a permit for $1,500 to remodel and enlarge the office, and in May secured a $4,500 permit to enlarge the plant. W. Smith will erect a $2,700 brick veener dwelling at 60 St. George street. R. Quick will erect a new store and dwelling on Dundas near Quebec to cost $4,500. Rowland Hill will erect a two-story brick dwelling at 236 Duchess avenue to cost $2,700. June permits, 66 in number, now total $34,930.

ROSS', LTD., STAFF ENJOYS ANNUAL PICNIC YESTERDAY

Outing at Springbank For the Firm's Employees.

The annual picnic of the firm of Ross' Limited of this city was held yesterday afternoon at Springbank. The weather was all that could be desired and the pleasure shared by every one present proved a relief from the strain and stress resulting from conditions imposed by the war.

Sports were indulged in freely, but the chief feature of the enjoyable outing was the game of ball played by the teams selected from among the employees by members of the firm.

An exhibition game was played on the Springbank diamond before an enthusiastic gathering of spectators between the furriers of Ross' Limited and a combination from the cloak-makers and the sales department. The ball was thrown into the diamond at 4 o'clock by Mr. Ross Sr. The game was closely contested, as the result shows.

In the initial innings the furriers showed up to the best advantage, making some spectacular plays. They seemed to have everything alive skinned and peeled, and created an atmosphere which kept those who witnessed the game at a high temperature. Not even the breeze that blew from Byron could cool the wave of warm feeling produced by the successful plays of the furriers.

A spirit of friendly rivalry took possession of the opposing team and the latter part of the game was characterized by some heavy scoring, due to an extent by the size of the ball and the weight of the bat, together with the hard-hitting abilities of the batters, who time and again sent the leather sphere beyond the range of the outfielders, and threatened to strike the batteries out of their boxes. The final tally of the score was 3 to 5 (plus ten) in favor of the furriers.

The beautiful sunshine, the blue sky and the voices of the rooters rising on the upper air, making Springbank vocal with sound, made the annual picnic of Ross' Limited an occasion characterized with life, color and animation. All the arrangements were made by the office staff, under the patronage of the firm.

FOE DRIVEN

AUSTRIAN DRIVE IS A HUNGER OFFENSIVE.

Italian Army Headquarters, Wednesday, June 19.—That Austria's drive against Italy is positively a "hunger offensive" has been proved by new orders and addresses found upon prisoners. These were signed by officers ranging from Field Marshal Conrad von Hoetzendorf down to regimental commanders. One which was issued by the commander of the famous regiment bearing the name of Archduke Charles says:

"Soldiers, remember the spoils we got last fall from the Italians, the sheep, steers, warehouses full of good clothes, and grocery stores full of wines, canned goods, flour and sugar. Think for your family. Think of the white bread you may win for all."

Troops in Bad Shape.

The correspondent has visited groups of hundreds of prisoners, all of whom are thin and weak. They said they had little food for the past month and spoke with horror of the winter months they had passed. A sample of their black bread showed that it was made of rye straw and potatoes.

Many of the prisoners have strong, well-spiked shoes, but these, they claim, they made themselves or bought. Their clothes, however, are falling apart, having been patched frequently. Most of them have mere rags for shirts. The majority of the prisoners have money, but it is either in paper bills or iron coin. The most of them wear medals for valor, some of them having two or three of them, but these decorations are of base metal and none are of gold or silver. One is stamped with a likeness of Empress Zita and encircled with laurel wreaths, and is made of a zinc composition. The prisoners part readily with these medals, saying they have no pride in them, for a few pennies of Italian money. Most of the captured men are young and light-haired, and generally have bad teeth.

BATTLE GOES AGAINST AUSTRIA.

London, June 19.—The offensive on the Italian battle line launched by the Austrians seemingly has failed miserably in the mountain regions, and apparently has almost been stopped along the Piave, while a stroke started by the Germans against Rheims broke down in its inception, without the enemy taking a yard of territory.

The Austrian offensive in the Italian theatre is still in progress along the Piave River, but in the mountain region, after the sharp reaction by the Italian, British and French troops, who, in counter-attacks, pushed the invader from the points he had reached in his initial rush, the enemy evidently is fearful of again trying out the mettle of the defenders.

On the Piave numerous attempts have been made by the Austrians to gain further bridge heads on the western bank of the stream, but the Italians everywhere are holding them with their gunfire and are doing sanguinary execution within the ranks of the enemy across the river with bombs and machine guns.

Austrian Claims Wrong?

The Austrian war office asserts that the Austro-Hungarians have crossed the Fosseta canal at some points, where Tuesday it was claimed they had made advances, and also that several Italian lines at the southern foot of the Montello plateau, the key to the Venetian plains, have been pierced. Rome, on the other hand, declares that all the weak attempts made in the Montello region were completely repulsed.

More than 9,000 men have been taken by the Italians since the offensive began, and many guns and several hundred machine guns have been captured. That intensive air fighting has also taken place is shown by the fact that 50 enemy airplanes have been shot down. Only two of the Allied machines have failed to return to their base.

ITALIANS HAVE CAPTURED OVER 9,000 PRISONERS.

ROME, June 19.—The Italians have captured since the beginning of the Austro-Hungarian offensive on the Italian front prisoners to the number of 9,011, and have taken many guns and several hundred machine guns, the Italian war office announced today.

The battle on the Piave River broke out again furiously yesterday afternoon, the statement adds. Fresh efforts of the invaders to cross to the right bank from San Andrea to Candelu were repulsed.

An intense struggle also took place in the Fossalata sector, north of Capo Sile.

ITALY IS STAKING ALL, SAYS AUSTRIAN REPORT.

VIENNA, June 19.—(Via London.)—Austro-Hungarian troops have crossed the Fossetta Canal at some points, the Austrian war office announced today. It is added that the Italians are staking everything in order to stop the advance of the Austro-Hungarians in their offensive on the northern front.

Italian attacks delivered on each side of the Oderzo-Treviso railway, the statement adds, broke down under heavy losses. The Austrians broke through several Italians lines at the southern foot of the Montello.

BRITISH TAKE TWO MORE AUSTRIAN MOUNTAIN GUNS

LONDON, June 19.—The Austrians have been able to make virtually no progress against the British forces holding an important section of the line on the Italian front. The situation on the British front is unchanged, according to the official communication tonight describing these operations.

MORE EXCHANGING OF FARM LABORERS FOR THIS HARVEST

This Prediction Made by the Ontario Department.

ROOT CROPS ALL GOOD

Shortage of Mill Feeds Indicated by Reports From Representative.

The following is a summary of reports made by agricultural representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture on June 17:

The growth of spring crops has been slowed up somewhat by the cool weather prevailing during the past week.

Potatoes and mangels and other roots are looking well in every district.

All spring grains promise good yields, more especially oats, and most of them showed an increased acreage.

Pea blight has appeared in two sections of Prince Edward County.

Fall wheat is now nicely in head, but much of it has been patched with other grains.

Clover is in bloom and young meadows promise excellent yields. The cutting of clover and timothy will be earlier than usual.

The first cut of alfalfa has been made in several localities, and a very fair crop is reported.

Wellington reports flax to be coming along well.

Summer and fall apples and pears and plums are said by some to have set fairly well.

Shipments of beeves, especially choice animals, have fallen off, although prices have been rising. Young cattle are now doing very well on pasture, as the grass is now at its best. Beef cattle sell at from 12 to 16 cents a pound; dairy cows brings from 75 to $150 each.

Milk production is at high tide, and cheese and other dairy factories are working full time or more.

Hogs are lower in price than for many months, the figures quoted ranging from $16.50 to $17.60 a cwt.

Wool brings from 60 to 68c cents a pound.

Fodder supplies are sufficient for the need, as a considerable quantity of hay and straw is yet on hand, and new hay will be available in a couple of weeks. Grain is scarce, however, and there is a great shortage of mill feeds. To supplement fodder, grain and other mixtures have been sown to be cut green as soiling crops.

There is a good demand for experienced single men, as haying will soon be started. More exchanging of labor by farmers is likely to be practiced this season.

WINNIPEG EDUCATIONIST INSPECTS LOCAL SCHOOLS

Will Ask Home Board to Adopt Ryerson Style.

Dr. McIntyre, inspector of public and collegiate schools for Winnipeg, was a visitor to London Wednesday. He came to see the Ryerson school, having inspected schools of similar construction at Rochester, where he was told of the London school.

Inspector C. B. Edwards showed Dr. McIntyre about the city. He took him over Victoria Public School, the Interview Avenue School, and then the Ryerson. Dr. McIntyre stated that the latter school was the best he had ever seen. He has toured the United States for six weeks looking at one-storey schools, and will now endeavor to get Winnipeg to adopt them. Mr. Edwards will send him blueprints of the local school.

DEPUTY PROVOST OF DISTRICT IS BEING SENT TO WINNIPEG

Capt. MacAuley To Take Over Important Duty There.

It was stated at military headquarters that Capt. A. G. MacAuley, deputy assistant provost marshal of this district for almost two years, is being transferred to Winnipeg, and will leave for the West in the near future. Capt. MacAuley is one of the most popular and efficient officers on the headquarters' staff here, and it is said that he is to assume important duties in Military District No. 10, his duties being similar to those performed here.

Capt. MacAuley served overseas with a Highland battalion, and after being wounded was returned to this district to act as assistant to Major Baron Osborne, and later to Major John Hirsche. It is understood that Capt. MacAuley will be succeeded here by Capt. Strang of the Dominion provost marshal staff.

FOUR RECRUITS TO ATTACKING FORCE ON GARBAGE CANS

Additional Collectors Secured To Aid Clean-Up.

Four more garbage collectors today joined the 22 who were on the job Wednesday, making 26 in all. This means that all the routes except one are now being collected, though some of the outfits only have one man, whereas they were manned by two before the strike.

A good portion of the city was covered Wednesday, and the strong attack on the heavily-laden cans, it is hoped, will reach all parts of the city by the time the men quit on Saturday.

FEW PASSES, HE SAYS

Philip Pocock, a vice-chairman of the London Railway Commission, smiled rather broadly when his attention was called to the statement of an alderman at Monday's council meeting, that he had been told that there were 300 or 400 passes on the London and Port Stanley Railway in use. Mr. Pocock said that he doubted if over 20 passes had been issued. The holders of these, he claimed, are members of the city council, General Manager Buchanan of the utilities commission and the members of the railway commission. All are single passes, carrying but one person.

FORESTERS COME HERE FOR NEXT CONFERENCE

Toronto, June 20.—The Canadian Order of Foresters decided in convention here to meet next year in London. The Montreal men tried for it. Further discussion of rates took place this morning, and though an increase to present members was voted down, it is likely a motion that new members pay standard or Government rates will be adopted.

WILL PRESS FOR SEVERE PENALTY ON I. W. W. AGITATORS ARRESTED BY DOMINION POLICE AT BORDER

Military Authorities Here Consider Him Dangerous Man.

TABULATING EVIDENCE

Russian Literature Will Be Translated For Use at Trial.

Evidence against John Perchuda, ringleader of the Russian-Austrian trouble at Windsor, and the real cause of the detention of 26 members of the border municipalities foreign colonies, who are held here as defaulters under the M.S.A., is considered by military authorities here as being of the most damning type. Two suitcases of evidence are now being examined at militia headquarters, and will be produced at the trial of the man, which will be conducted by the civil authorities. The alleged I.W.W. agitator is now in Sandwich jail. He is considered by the officers of Military District No. 1 as a most dangerous man.

Held Much Evidence.

Among the evidence found at Perchuda's home in Ford by the Dominion police is a complete theatrical make-up set, including false beard and grease paints. Two small bombs, such as are used for signalling purposes, and photographs of several important railway bridges and tunnels, and prominent public buildings are also in the hands of the authorities. Besides this there are many letters and I.W.W. literature, said to be of the most inflammatory type, printed in Russian, which will be interpreted and used against Perchuda when brought to trial. In one of the suitcases was found an abundance of red badges with Russian markings, and these also will be introduced as evidence.

Press For Long Term.

The authorities are determined to nip the propaganda, as advocated by the prisoner in the bud, and with the evidence which they possess will press for a long prison term for him, if a conviction is registered.

It is believed here that this man has been in similar trouble in the United States, and his record will be investigated before he appears for trial. It is stated that members of the party arrested under the M.S.A. and brought to London will also be proceeded against under the defence of the realm act, the civil police working in conjunction with the military authorities in collecting the evidence.

Were Ready for Duty.

Major J. Hirsch, assistant provost marshal M. D. No. 1, today stated to The Advertiser that the returned soldiers of Windsor and district deserved hearty commendation for the splendid manner in which they volunteered their services in the recent trouble at Windsor. Major Hirsch stated that the returned men, including those discharged from the service, immediately reported at the Windsor armories for duty, but it was not necessary to utilize their services in making arrests.

WINDSOR, June 19.—The activity of the Dominion police in checking any attempt at foreigners residing in the vicinity of Ford to congregate, headed off any further trouble today, and when the entire foreign colony of the district was lined up and the registration act explained by an interpreter the crowd dispersed quietly.

Some of the aliens claimed they had been told by Perusada, the agitator arrested Monday, that they were to be forced to work on farms without pay, and that their property would be confiscated by the Government.

The sending to London under guard of some thirty-five Russians and Austrians this morning also had a quieting effect upon those left behind.

GLOOMY KARL

Rome, June 20.—Emperor Charles is personally encouraging his troops in their efforts to break down the fierce resistance of the Italians. The Austrian ruler, it is reported, desired to cross the Piave and to climb Montello, but his advisers induced him to postpone the plan, believing the position to be unsafe, owing to the danger from artillery bombardment, and the activity of Anglo-Italian airmen.

The emperor is said to be greatly disappointed at the results thus far secured, and is preparing to make further attacks before admitting that the offensive has been checkmated.

WRECKS AIRPLANE TO AVOID STRIKING AN AGED SPECTATOR

R. A. F. Major Crashes Through Fences.

Major Ballard, Royal Air Force, commandant of the school of aerial gunnery at Beamsville, wrecked his machine while flying in the vicinity of Talbotville Wednesday afternoon, but he escaped unhurt. The major was in London for a few hours on Saturday last, en route to Detroit, and it was during the return flight that the accident occurred.

Running short of gasoline between London and St. Thomas the aviator was forced to descend in a field near Talbotville to replenish his supply. A large crowd of district farmers gathered in the field to view the airplane and as the major coasted across the meadow in his machine, preparatory to rising, Mr. Bellows, an aged spectator, walked directly into his path. The major, unable to stop, as he was traveling at a rate of 50 miles an hour, swung his plane sharply to one side in order to avoid the old man, crashed through two wire fences and wrecked his machine.

Mr. Bellows and Major Ballard both escaped injury, and a squad was sent from Carling Heights camp to guard the wrecked plane, pending the arrival of Royal Air Force mechanics from Beamsville, who will dismantle the machine and ship it back to that place.

ENTRANCE EXAMINATIONS

The entrance examinations got under full swing in different schools of the city Wednesday, when the some 250 pupils who are writing made an assault on the spelling and composition papers. Neither papers were considered hard. This morning the pupils attacked the arithmetic papers, and this afternoon are writing on literature. Tomorrow they wind up with grammar, geography and writing.

The lower school examinations at the collegiate have just been completed. Today a start is being made on the upper and middle schools. These latter include scholarship candidates, faculty of education, honor and junior matrics and normal entrance. These examinations will conclude on July 5.

The three papers already written on by the entrance classes, with the answers to the arithmetic problems, follow:

SPELLING.

In a recent letter to the New York Times, a former British ambassador writes as follows: "It is only vulgar minds that mistake bigness for greatness; for greatness is of the soul, not of the body. In the judgment which history will hereafter pass upon the forty centuries of recorded progress towards civilization that now lie behind us, what are the tests it will apply to determine the true worth of a people? Not population, not territory, not wealth, not military power; rather will history ask what examples of lofty character and unselfish devotion to honor and duty has a people given? What has it done to increase the volume of knowledge? What thoughts and what ideals of permanent value and unexhausted fertility has it bequeathed to mankind? What works has it produced in poetry, music, and other arts to be an unfailing source of enjoyment to posterity?"

1. It seems as though the universe were on the verge of some catastrophe.

2. In order to conserve the meat supply, the food controller urges us to substitute certain cereals, which are highly nutritious.

3. The amateur gardener made a specialty of potatoes, carrots, onions, beets, tomatoes, parsnips, turnips, cabbages, and other vegetables.

4. Lightning damaged a schooner's mast as she was discharging her cargo.

5. The descent from the hills necessitated long circuits.

6 The Indian massacre presented a scene of frightful atrocity.

7. Competitive examinations are not a decisive test of ability.

8. Squads of infantry made their way to the interior.

INVALIDS NEED NOT REGISTER, IS RULING OF CITY REGISTRAR

Persons physically incapacitated from attending registration booths will not be required to register under the manhood and womanhood power bill unless assistant deputies are sent to the homes of these persons.

This interpretation of the act was given out by Registrar R. A. Bayly today. Persons who are ill at present and recover in a reasonable period of time will be compelled to register at postoffices later. Bedridden invalids and sick persons, who will not be apt to leave their homes for some period will not be called upon to register.

"It will be impossible to send assistants to all the homes to register these persons, so that such people will not be called upon to register," said Registrar Bayly today.

The registrar also pointed out that the Government had merely requested that assistant deputies be sent to the homes if possible. This provision of the act is in the form of a request not an order, according to Registrar Bayly's interpretation.

NEW EMPHASIS ON CITIZENSHIP GIVEN BY EDUCATION MOVE

Ethical Movement Explained to London Women.

"The ethical education movement aims to place a new emphasis on character and citizenship in education, character worked out in citizenship," was the statement made on Wednesday evening by Professor Osborne of Winnipeg, to a number of women in the city interested in the subject of education. The opportunity of hearing Professor Osborne tell of the ethical education movement, which has as its ideal the making of Canada a practically Christian nation, was extended through Miss Grace Blackburn, president of the Women's Canadian Club, who invited several representative women of London to her home to meet him.

"If Germany, with marvelous ingenuity and efficiency, has been able through her educational system to develop a nation characterized by the selfishness which has made possible the atrocities of this war, might not Canada, emulating the ingenuity and efficiency of Germany, set deliberately about the task of building up a nation animated by ideals of altruism?" was a question raised by Professor Osborne. The importance of beginning with the children in the schools at the most impressionable and plastic period of their lives, was emphasized, and also of setting deliberately about the realization of the ideals of Christian citizenship when the Canadian nation is young and small, and at this time when war conditions have made the Canadians a united people, undivided by the barriers of political divisions and dogma which formerly constituted high walls of separation.

"The movement, he stated, had not been inaugurated with the idea of interfering with established provincial systems. The idea is to give to all systems in Canada the national and world outlook, to give a new dignity and meaning to the teaching profession, to give to the teachers themselves and the nation the realization that the biggest and most important task in the nation is the shaping of the character of the children in the schools, and through them the future of the nation.

It is proposed by the promoters of the ethical education movement to assemble a great conference on education of men and women of Canada, to formulate a plan of putting the ideals of the movement into action as soon as it has been made known sufficiently throughout the Dominion. Ten or a dozen eminent speakers will present various phases of the subject, not only outstanding Canadians, but perhaps one or two eminent British educators, who can give suggestions to a young nation setting the current of its national life towards Christian idealism in practice. Since the United States constitutes a link in the chain of Allies, an eminent American might be secured, such an one as John R. Mott, and perhaps William Howard Taft or Theodore Roosevelt.

While the conference may not materialize for a year or so, the idea is too big and too important to be injured in any way by undue hurry. Professor Osborne expressed the wish that the women of London may be kept in touch with the movement. To this end, Mrs. Thomas Baker was appointed by the group which heard Professor Osborne to act as secretary and be responsible for the distribution of literature and information regarding the progress of the movement.

Among those whose names are associated with the inauguration of the movement are Archbishop Matheson, primate of all Canada; Rev. Dr. Chown, general superintendent of the Methodist Church; Professor A. B. Baird, moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church at the time the idea was mooted; his Honor Sir J. A. Aiken, lieutenant-governor of Manitoba, and Francis Bullman, recently elected president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

Professor Osborne strongly emphasized the point that the term "Christian idealism," as applied to the movement, is entirely disassociated from the theological sense of the term, or anything that might involve dissension or division on denominational lines.

SPECIAL JEWISH REGISTRATION

For the benefit of the Jewish residents of London, registration of such persons only will be made on Friday afternoon from 1:30 o'clock to 6 o'clock at the Aberdeen school, Hamilton road.

Registrar R. A. Bayly has provided these facilities for the registration of those Jewish residents, whose faith prohibits them registering on Saturday, unless forced by law.

Interpreters will be provided and all Jewish residents who object to registering on Saturday (the Jewish Sabbath) are requested to take advantage of this opportunity on Friday afternoon.

NEW U-BOAT CRIMES

Fresh Flagrant Examples of German Barbarity Come to Light.

London, June 20.—That the German U-boats are unequal to the warfare against them was the virtual admission of Capt. Persius, the naval critic of the Berliner Tageblatt, says a Rotterdam dispatch to the Daily Telegraph. Capt. Persius writes:

"Every layman knows that U-boat losses are unavoidable owing to the continually increasing sharpness and effectiveness of the enemy defence measures, which, perhaps, will further increase as the war progresses.

"It is scarcely to be denied that our enemies are both carrying on the war and living. From the beginning of the U-boat war it was a mistake, often committed amongst us, to underestimate the resources of our enemies."

NEW SUB BARBARITY.

London, June 20.—Via Reuter's.—A new and flagrant example of German submarine barbarity is reported by the newspapers:

"A U-boat first torpedoed without warning and then shelled a British steamer. When the officers and crew of the damaged vessel took to the boats they were ordered alongside the submarine and forced to go on its deck, the captain being taken below as a prisoner. As the steamer had not yet sunk, the captain ordered some of the British to row one of their two boats back to her with a German prize crew, which rifled the steamer systematically and then sank her with three bombs.

After having been employed for nearly five hours in this work, the British were given some provisions and cast adrift. The same treatment was dealt out to the others of the crew, numbering 28.

Of the 28 men in the second boat, only 5 survived until she was picked up four days later. The occupants of the first boat were picked up in a very critical condition on the fifth day by an American steamer.

Veteran Registrar of North Grey Is Dead at Owen Sound

Robert McKnight Filled Important Position for 43 Years.

OWEN SOUND, June 19.—After filling the position of registrar of deeds for North Grey since 1875, Robert McKnight, aged 82, died at his home here today. He was born at Kilkeel, Ireland, and came to Canada at the age of 19, and after teaching a year in Essex Township entered the mercantile business at Markdale, and later at Meaford. He contested North Grey in the Liberal interests three times, but was unsuccessful. He received his appointment to the registrarship from the Mowat Government. His wife died in 1896. He is survived by four children—G. Frank McKnight of Edmonton, Major Robert McKnight in France, Mrs. Kenneth MacKenzie of Kincardine, and Miss Bessie McKnight at home. One son, Lieut. Wilbur McKnight, was killed in action in 1916. Mr. McKnight held the rank of captain in the 31st Grey Militia Battalion, and was on the first parade of the battalion on the first Dominion Day celebration in 1867. He took much interest in military matters, and only retired on reaching the age limit.

JONAS AND VERNON ARE ARRAIGNED IN COURT

LONDON, June 19.—Sir Joseph Jonas, former lord mayor of Sheffield, and Charles Alfred Vernon, who is said to have been employed in an important capacity in the ministry of munitions, were arraigned together today in the Bow street police court on the charge of having communicated useful information to the enemy.

In opening the case for the prosecution the crown attorney said that the homes of the defendants were searched and communications found therein indicating correspondence with Berlin.

The attorney also read a number of letters which passed between Sir Joseph and Vernon, showing that Vernon received information from a British subject of the percentage of Germans employed in the new works of the Vickers Company in 1913, about the manufacture of a new rifle and airplanes, and new gear for the navy, which Vernon passed on to Jonas, who, in turn, sent it to a friend in Berlin.

It was pointed out by the attorney that the information was correct and that it would be useful to Germany.

Vernon was the son of a former partner of Jonas, named Hahn, and changed his name after the outbreak of the war, the attorney asserted.

EASTERN STAR HAS BIG GARDEN PARTY

Forest City Chapter Entertained on Wednesday Night.

The Forest City Chapter, No. 13, Order of the Eastern Star, held a patriotic garden party on the lawn of Sister Mary Kerr, 145 Elmwood avenue, on Wednesday evening, which was largely attended. Sister Elizabeth M. Taylor, associate grand conductress, occupied the chair. In her opening address she pointed out that the Order of the Eastern Star had over 900,000 members in the United States, Scotland and Canada, who were mothers, wives, sisters and daughters of Master Masons, and that they were all sending help to the men in the trenches and helping at home to increase the food supplies for army uses.

The Askin Street Sunday school orchestra, under the direction of E. W. G. Quantz, rendered delightful patriotic selections. Miss Gladys McEvoy, Master Kenneth March, Mr. Carmen Learn, Miss Nora Kennedy and Miss Marion Stark each contributed solos, while Miss Meryl Jackson and Carmen Learn rendered duets. Miss Marion McAuli gave a reading and Bro. E. T. Essery an address showing the work being done by the British and Canadians.

A handsome sum was realized for the chapter's patriotic fund.

Series of Blows On West Front Are Looked For

LONDON, June 19.—Another big German thrust is imminent on the western front, according to advices from correspondents in France. The Allies look for a series of rapid blows and are ready and confident. It is deemed that the kaiser is in desperate need of "victory communiques" to hearten the people at home. Advices from neutral sources following on Germany all agree that the fatherland is in a bad plight. Military critics say that man power is beginning to tell with the enemy.

British military observers still cleave to the opinion that the next great German effort will be made by Rupprecht's army against the British lines, with the channel as the objective. The defeat of the German crown prince before Rheims yesterday, it is believed, insures Paris against any immediate danger of a renewal of the offensive in that direction.

MRS. VILLERS-STEWART ACCUSED OF BIGAMY

Woman Who Sprung Sensation at Pemberton—Billing Trial.

LONDON, June 19.—Mrs. Villers-Stewart, one of the chief witnesses at the trial of Noel Pemberton-Billing for having libeled Miss Maud Allen, was charged in the Marylebone police court today with bigamy. It is alleged that she married Stewart, her present husband, who is an army officer, while her first husband, Percival Bray, formerly a motorbus driver, was still alive.

Mrs. Stewart caused a sensation at the Pemberton-Billing trial by testifying that Neil Primrose, who was killed while with the British forces in Palestine, had shown her the German "black book," which was said to have contained the names of 47,000 persons in England, including those of ex-Premier and Mrs. Asquith and Viscount Haldane.

She was remanded for one week.

SAYS MOTOR OUTINGS HELP TREATMENT OF RETURNED SOLDIERS

Head of Byron Sanatorium Expresses Appreciation.

Dr. Kibbe, medical superintendent of Byron Sanatorium, in a statement today declared that the motor outings given the patients at that institution by the members of the Soldiers' Aid Commission, were most beneficial to the soldiers.

"The trips given the soldiers are proving of great advantage in the treatment of the men," said Dr. Kibbe. "They are of great value."

Dr. Kibbe wished to express appreciation of the services given by the executive of the outing committee in providing the trips and also the luncheon. He hoped that they would be continued during the season.

MOTOR TRIP PICNIC FOR CHOIR MEMBERS

Talbot Street Church Organization Enjoy Outing This Week.

Several annual outings have been held this week by Talbot Street Baptist Church organizations. Wednesday afternoon the choir enjoyed a delightful motor trip to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gray, near Poplar Hill, where an enjoyable picnic was held. Seven or eight automobiles were required to take out the young people. The first order of the afternoon was a program of games and races, introducing a number of novelty events. After supper an impromptu concert was given, at the close of which a hearty vote of thanks was extended to Mr. and Mrs. Gray for their hospitality.

The same afternoon the Builders' (Young Ladies') Bible class picnicked at Springbank. The members of the Ladies' Aid went down to Port Stanley at 2:20 this afternoon for the annual outing of that organization, which takes place at the summer home of Miss Groves.

WORK FOR SOLDIERS EXPLAINED.—The work that the Invalided Soldiers' Commission is doing for the returned men was explained to the employees of McClary's central plant at noon today by Miss McCormick. Vocational training was dealt with at some length. Several instances were given of the splendid results which are being obtained in the work of rehabilitating the men for civilian life. The address was heartily applauded by the audience.

MAY DISCUSS REPORT.—The utilities commission will hold a regular meeting this afternoon at 3:30. It is possible that a discussion on Manager E. V. Buchanan's figures on the cost of water may take place. Routine business is the order of the day.

$2,000 DAMAGE TO ALBERT ST. HOUSE IN AFTERNOON FIRE

Blaze From an Outbuilding Sweeps Into House.

Fire of unknown origin did damage amounting to over $2,000 at the home of G. B. Patterson, 76 Albert street, early this afternoon. The fire was discovered by a member of the family in a small building at the rear, but attached to the house.

Before the firemen arrived the blaze had assumed serious proportions, and had swept into the main portion of the house. Considerable damage was done to furniture, as well as to the building. The loss is covered by insurance.

MANY ENGINEERS COMING

It is expected that London will entertain a hundred or more engineers next week, when the stationary engineers of the eastern part of Canada will gather here. Nine years ago they held their convention here, and it was largely attended.

It is planned to make the exhibits a big feature this year. Firms from all over the United States and Canada will exhibit steam specialties of different manufacture.

The Red Cross will be ousted out of Hyman Hall for the period of the convention.

"We expect a large attendance and some excellent business sessions," stated George Moll, head of the local committee. The big social event will take place at Springbank Tuesday evening.

Assisting Mr. Moll with the local arrangements are W. Walters, D. F. Campbell and D. Freedy.

BIG CROWD WITNESSES HYDE PARK "RAISING"

A big crowd witnessed the barn-raising at the farm of R. Tuckey of Hyde Park on Wednesday afternoon, when teams captained by ex-Reeve B. C. Brooks of London Township, and Warren Lore of Hyde Park, entered the race. The Brooks' team, by a narrow margin, won out.

More than 200 men and half as many women were present at the raising. The "spread" provided by the women was most elaborate and enjoyed.

Many motored out from London to witness the affair.

LIFT GOVT. CONTROL OF SHIPPING SOON AS PEACE ARRIVES

Enemy Should Be Forced To Surrender Ships as Punishment.

LONDON, June 19. — The board of trade committee, in its report on the position of shipping and shipbuilding in the reconstruction period after the war, unanimously recommends the early removal of Government control. The peace treaty, it declares, should enforce the surrender of enemy shipping, heavily punish the enemy's crimes at sea, and provide for the auctioning of surrendered vessels, the proceeds to be treated as part of the common war indemnity.

The committee considers post-war restrictions on building for Germans useless unless all the Allies, including the United States, are prepared to coerce neutrals to that end.

NO ITEMIZED ACCOUNT; LAWYER LOSES HIS FEE

TORONTO, June 19.—Because Hon. George Lynch Staunton of Hamilton did not itemize his bill for legal services rendered William Somerville and St. Clair Balfour, his action against them to recover the amount of the bill is dismissed by Mr. Justice Masten. H. S. White appeared for the defendants, and J. G. Farmer, K.C., for the senator.

"No proper bill having been rendered," says Mr. Justice Masten in giving judgment, "the action is prematurely brought and must be dismissed unless the plaintiff chooses to accept the sum of $507 paid in by the defendants."

The judgment is without prejudice to any other action. Senator Staunton may choose to bring thirty days after the delivery of such a bill as the practice demands.

CALLS FOR SACRIFICE

Mrs. Gordon Wright Delivers Message to White Ribbon Convention.

Ottawa, June 20.—War work and war sacrifices must be the first consideration of the W. C. T. U., and with our brothers, fathers and husbands, we must face the tyrant enemy until suppressed, declared Mrs. Gordon Wright, president of the W. C. T. U. provincial convention, in her address here last night.

Mrs. Wright was all praise for the Union Government, for its prompt action in suppressing the liquor traffic. She expressed her deep regret that England has not seen fit to bring in similar legislation.

"We, the women of Canada, protest against our sons being debauched and degraded by liquor and its consequences," she said. "When we have given our best and our bravest to help the mother country in her fight for right, we white ribbon mothers are not asking too much when we say that such an undesirable alternative as the wet canteen should not be handed our boys when they cross the seas."

Cigarettes and Tobacco.

She deplored the fact that so many women in Canada should send cigarettes and tobacco overseas for the soldiers, and she quoted an officer in a training camp, stating that the overindulgence of the cigarette habit was hindering the boys in their training.

Regarding the question of venereal diseases and the conservation of child life, the president said, "surely we need the woman's viewpoint in the Government."

With their powers of citizenship they see great hope, and she expressed her conviction that the "Senate of the Dominion should be the first point of attack by the woman's housecleaning touch." At the evening session the provincial presidents reviewed reform work in their own provinces.

Quebec Misunderstood.

Mrs. F. H. Waycott of Montreal said that Quebec was always rather misunderstood. "Quebec has been called the dark province, but if we are dark, then we have learned to see in the dark. Out of the 1,189 municipalities in my province only 89 are wet."

Mrs. A. L. Powers reported for Nova Scotia, Mrs. L. Hetherington for New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, Mrs. E. A. Stevens for Ontario, Mrs. A. H. Oakes for Manitoba, and Mrs. H. E. Armstrong for Saskatchewan.

JUGO-SLAVS FIRMLY BELIEVE IN VICTORY FOR ENTENTE ALLIES

Geneva, June 19.—The Jugo-Slavs firmly believe in the eventual victory of the Entente Allies, according to the Journal Novine of Agram, Hungary:

"Gen. Foch, whom David Lloyd George called a great soldier, has not yet disclosed his intentions," says the newspaper. "He is carefully holding back his reserves, and nobody knows where he will employ them.

"Every month the Allies grow stronger in men and richer in material. Altogether it is to the interest of the central powers to conclude a peace quickly. The internal strife between the nationalities of Austria-Hungary has reached its height. Never before in history has the people's spirit for freedom and independence been so agitated as now. We have every faith in the Allies."

Rations For Canada Within Two Months

Superintendent of Registration Makes Significant Statement.

MONTREAL, June 19.—The rationing system must certainly be imposed in Canada within the next month and a half to protect citizens in general, L. G. A. Cresse, superintendent registrar for Quebec, stated today.

Mr. Cresse said that within the last few weeks hundreds of thousands of bushels of wheat have gone down with vessels sunk on this and the other side of the Atlantic. Mr. Cresse's announcement was made in support of a plea for complete registration in Quebec.

RUSSIAN COMMITTEE WANTS ALLIED ARMY TO OPERATE IN SIBERIA

PEKING, June 19.—(By the Associated Press).—The Far Eastern Russian committee for the "salvation of the motherland" has resolved to appeal through Japan for immediate intervention in Siberia by Entente Allied forces. The Russians say there would be no difficulty in establishing an allied army in Siberia. They frankly deprecate a purely Japanese expedition on the ground of what they term Japan's imperialistic and racial antagonism.

FRANCO-AMERICAN WAR SECRETARYSHIP CREATED

PARIS, June 19.—Announcement will be made officially tomorrow by the French Government of the establishment of a secretaryship for Franco-American war co-operation at the office of Premier Clemenceau. The new department will be headed by Capt. Andre Tardieu, the French high commissioner to the United States.

In Old Age

Health and comfort in old age depends largely on keeping the liver and kidneys in healthful action.

Pains and aches, stiffness of the joints, lumbago and rheumatism tell of poisons left in the blood by sluggishness of the liver and kidneys.

People in advanced years hold Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in high esteem because of the promptness and certainty with which they awaken the action of kidneys, liver and bowels.

Twenty-One German Destroyers, Many Submarines and War Craft Are Penned Up in Bruges Canal

LONDON, June 19.—Twenty-one German destroyers, a large number of submarines and numerous auxiliary craft are penned up in the Bruges Canal docks as a result of the recent British naval operations at Zeebrugge, the German submarine base on the Belgian coast.

Thomas McNamara, financial secretary of the admiralty, made an announcement in the House of Commons to this effect this afternoon, and said the operations were more successful than was at first supposed. He said these German craft were now the targets of continous bombing.

UKRAINIANS START A REVOLT; STREET FIGHTING AT CAPITAL

London, June 19.—A great revolt has begun at Kiev, according to an intercepted wireless message transmitted from Moscow to the Exchange Telegraph Company.

Artillery stores have been exploded, and there is continued street fighting.

The revolt is spreading to the Poltava and Tchernigov districts.

Forty thousand peasants, armed and organized, are participating in the revolt.

Britain Will Not Grant Admittance to Dutch Socialist

LONDON, June 19.—Pieter Troelstra, the Dutch Socialist leader, who, after a conference with Philipp Scheidemann, leader of the German Socialist party, intended to go to London to attend the annual conference of the British Labor Congress, will not be permitted to enter England, according to the London Standard. Troelstra, it is said, has been refused a passport.

CHEMISTS OF STATES FIND BETTER METHOD TO PRODUCE CHEMICALS

Niagara Falls, N. Y., June 20.—Work on the million dollar plant under construction here, and intended to produce chemicals used extensively in the war, has been definitely stopped, army officers said yesterday. American chemists, it was said, have perfected a new and better process to produce the chemicals. Work on the buildings was halted abruptly on Tuesday, when soldiers from Fort Niagara marched in and ordered 300 workmen off the job.

DESERTED BY HIS STAFF, ENEMY GENERAL FIGHTS UNTIL FATALLY SHOT

Italian Army Headquarters, June 19.—Deserted by his staff on the Montello Plateau, Major-Gen. von Kronstadt of the Austrian army fought single-handed against the Italian Arditi until he was wounded seriously. The general died later in a hospital.

It seems that the general and his staff became lost in the woods of Montello and ran into a band of Arditi. When the members of the staff saw Italian soldiers they ran away. The general was called upon to surrender, but refused to do so, and opened fire on the Arditi. In the exchange of shots the general received his fatal wound.

ONTARIO OSTEOPATHS ELECT NEW OFFICERS

STRATFORD, June 19.—Several interesting papers were read and officers were elected at the annual meeting of the Western district of Ontario Osteopathic physicians in the Queen's Hotel today. Most of the cities and towns west of Guelph were represented.

Following the business session, papers were read and discussed by Dr. R. E. Parker, of Listowel; D. M. Sheriff, of Guelph; Dr. C. Irwin, of Brantford, and Dr. E. S. Detweiler, of London. There was also a practical demonstration in Dr. Merrill's office by Dr. Harkins, of London.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Dr. C. H. Sander, of Brantford; vice-president, Dr. R. Harkins, of London; secretary, Dr. C. R. Merrill, of Stratford; treasurer, Dr. L. M. Heist, of Galt; trustees, Drs. J. G. Heileman, of Goderich; Hibborn, of Preston; Detwiller, of Guelph; Irwin, of Brantford, and McAllister, of Guelph.

The district secretary, Dr. Merrill, reported on the report of the Government medical commission. This report, it was said, showed that osteopathic colleges and standards were highly efficient and fully equal to those of medicine, but the Government still refused to give the osteopathic physician any standing in Ontario. He also pointed out that the osteopaths asked no lowering of standards, but only an opportunity to meet just demands and be enabled to practice their profession freely.

LONDONER FINED, BUT FARMER MAY BE SUED

ST. THOMAS, June 19.—George Burrows, a London barber, was fined $10 and $12 costs when he appeared before County Magistrate Hunt today. W. Westover, a Yarmouth Township farmer, declared that Burrows' auto was responsible for his horse and buggy being ditched recently on the Gravel road. James Ryan, who was driving the car, declared that the auto was not marked in any way, and that Westover's outfit went into the ditch itself, and that Westover laughed as they were passing over the shaking up he had received. The Globe Indemnity Company, which issued a policy to protect Westover against accidents, may sue Westover to recover the amount which Burrows had to pay, on the ground that Westover was not at fault and there was no damage done.

NEW U. S. LIST ADDS 250,000 AVAILABLE MEN

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Preliminary reports indicate that more than 250,000 men may be added to Class One available for immediate military duty as a result of Provost-Marshal-General Crowder's recent order for revision of deferred classification lists by local draft boards.

STR. AUSTRALIA IS SERIOUSLY DAMAGED

SARNIA, June 19.—A diver from the Reid Wrecking Company, who made an examination of the steamer Australia, found that the boat is more seriously damaged than was at first thought. More holes were found, and it is estimated that the loss will be over $100,000.

HAD NO PAPERS.

SARNIA, June 19.—For not carrying papers Harry Cook paid $4.50 and costs in police court today and was sent to London.

Mrs. Blake of Maria street received word today that her son Victor, who lost his right arm while on active service, has arrived safely from overseas. He enlisted in the west, and went overseas two years ago. He is expected home shortly.

MUST PRODUCE PROOF.

WOODSTOCK, June 19.—Nicholas Shea, whose home is in Chatham, was sent to London today to get proof of his age. Montalieu Potter of East Oxford was fined for riding the bumpers.

Lieut. B. L. Cook, son of George L. Cook of Beachville, has arrived home on furlough. He went overseas with the 71st Battalion, and was wounded on September 8, 1916. He spent two months in the hospital, and after recovering was made instructor at Hastings and Bramshott. In November last he joined the Royal Naval Air Service.

SUSPICIOUS PAIR CROSS LAKE IN ROWBOAT AND "TAKE TO THE WOODS"

NIAGARA CAMP, June 19.—Two men, presumed to be military deserters, who evidently had rowed across Lake Ontario in a boat from Hicks' boathouse at the mouth of the Humber River, Toronto, and were almost exhausted, were towed to shore west of Niagara today by a fisherman. The pair did not wait for an introduction to the military authorities on this side of the lake, but immediately made off into the woods, while the fisherman was telephoning the authorities here about them. Captain Stetham, provost marshal, began a hunt for the pair as soon as notified.

"GO ON OR GO UNDER," SAYS MRS. WRIGHT TO REFORM CRUSADERS

OTTAWA, June 19.—Quoting Lloyd George's recent message to the labor men of the mother country that "you must go on, or go under," Mrs. Gordon Wright, president of the Dominion Women's Christian Temperance Union, in her address to the delegates today repeated that appeal, urging the temperance women to be on guard for all reforms that make for the uplift of humanity.

The fact that prohibitive measures for the liquor traffic had been enacted throughout Canada was no reason why this organization should cease its activity. There is and always will be plenty to do.

DELAWARE GUILD ELECTS OFFICERS

DELAWARE, June 19.—At the annual meeting of Christ Church Girls' Guild, held at the home of Mrs. E. A. Minnitt, officers for the ensuing year were all re-elected as follows: President, Mrs. (Dr.) J. G. Bice; vice-president, Mrs. E. A. Minnitt; executive committee, Miss Jean Cummings, Miss E. Barton, Miss Eva Mahler and Miss M. Gibson.

The result of the recent promotion examinations of the Delaware Continuation School are as follows: Form I. to Form II., lower school, names in order of merit: Faye Bancroft (honors), Ellie Matthews (honors), Oulton Hammond (pass), Donald Downey (pass), Douglas Comfort, Lorna Branton (conditioned in history). Teacher, I. E. Conway.

ST. MARYS LAD WAS NEARLY DROWNED

ST. MARYS, June 19.—While swimming today in Rice Lake here, near the dam, Milton Dunnell, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dunnell of this town, got out beyond his depth in the water and went under a couple of times. A drowning was only prevented by the prompt action of two of his comrades, Jack Gregory and Jim Graham, who pulled him out of the water. A fire alarm was sent in, but before the brigade arrived the boy was safe on shore, uninjured though badly frightened.

DUTCH CLAIM THEY HAVE EYE ON GERMAN TRAINS

AMSTERDAM, June 19.—A semi-official communication has been issued by the Netherlands Government in reply to the expression of fear by the British that the control over railroad traffic through the province of Limberg was inadequate. It says that trains are submitted to two examinations on their entry into Holland. The agreement of the Netherlands with Germany is that train movements shall not be greater than in customary peace times.

PURSE OF GOLD FOR OVERSEAS CHAPLAIN

INGERSOLL, June 19.—On behalf of the Young People's Society and the congregation of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, presentations were made to the pastor, Rev. Ronald MacLeod, at a large farewell gathering last night. From the young people Mr. MacLeod received a well-filled purse of gold, while on behalf of the congregation he was the recipient of a check for $500. Each presentation was accompanied by a suitable address. While he is serving overseas as chaplain, Mr. MacLeod will receive one-half of his church salary, which will be $1,000 per year.

IS TOWN MAJOR.

CHATHAM, June 19.—Word has been received here that Major Hodgins, who went overseas with the Kent battalion, has been appointed as town major of Amiens.

The review medical board has examined another 32 men, of whom ten were placed in category A. 2 in B, 5 in C, and 15 in E.

BUILD UP THE BLOOD

It is a hopeless task to try to restore your health while your blood is deficient in quantity or quality. The blood circulates through every portion of the body. It takes nourishment from the food and distributes it to the various organs and muscles; it takes also any medication that is administered through the mouth. The blood is the only means by which medicine can reach the nerves. Hence if the blood is poor, the body becomes weak and the nerves shaky, and the victim may be subject to headaches and dizziness, poor appetite, indigestion, a constantly tired feeling or perhaps to rheumatism, sciatica or neuralgia. Poor blood is the forerunner of nearly every ailment to which mankind is subject, and you can only enjoy robust health by keeping the blood rich, red and pure. To keep the blood in this condition no medicine yet discovered can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Every dose helps to make new, rich red blood which carries new health and new strength to every part of the body. When one becomes weak and pale Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will restore the blood, bring the glow of health to the cheek, and make weak, ailing people energetic and strong.

You can get these Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

MEAT PRICE JUMPS, SAYS C. O. L. REPORT, AND MAKES EXCUSES

Some Retailers May Be Taking Advantage.

PACKERS WITHIN THE LAW

Report to Crothers Has Different Tone Than O'Connor Employed.

Ottawa, June 19.—The cost of living branch reports to the Hon. T. W. Crothers, minister of labor, as follows, concerning food in cold storage:

"Reports from the cold storage companies for June 1 indicate an increase in quantity in store of butter, eggs, pork, mutton, lamb and fish, and a decrease in the quantity of cheese, beef and fowl, compared with May 1 of this year.

"As compared with June 1, 1917, we have more butter in store, more beef and more fish. We have less cheese, eggs, pork products and fowl than a year ago. The most striking comparison is in the case of beef, of which we have 11.72 per cent more than on June 1, 1917. Since the purchasing commission of the Allies is fully aware of this fact, and a large proportion of this stock is already under contract to them, we find no grounds for any charge of hoarding.

Some Take Advantage.

"The most striking feature recently in the market situation of storage products has been the great rise in the price of beef. The matter has been carefully investigated with the view of detecting profiteering, and while the merchants in some localities have apparently used the general rise in prices to cover an undue increase, we have not been able to find any evidence that the general increase throughout the country was due to unlawful action on the part of the meat packers. The increase is general throughout the whole of North America, and is fully as marked in the case of live cattle as in the case of meat. The increased price is due wholly to the war situation, particularly to the fact that the purchasers of the United States army and the purchasing commission of the other Allies have considered that the increased price to the farmer was necessary to stimulate the production of more beef on the farms.

Smoothing It Over.

"It is impossible to make an exact statement for the country as a whole, but the evidence available indicates that the rise was most evident in the price of live animals and in the retail trade. Apparently, if any of the dealers have taken advantage of the situation to raise the price unduly it is the retailers. This probably is due in part to the fact that the wholesalers have large stocks on hand, on which they are not allowed by the Canada Food Board to advance their prices. It is noteworthy that wholesale prices of beef have advanced very much more in the United States than they have in Canada.

"The amount of food commodities in storage on June 1, 1918, was: Butter, 2,251,673 pounds; cheese, 2,966,997 pounds; eggs, 5,422,588 dozen; beef (fresh and pickled), 19,333,470 pounds; pork (fresh and pickled), 31,218,944 pounds; bacon, ham and smoked meats, 14,721,221 pounds; mutton and lamb, 1,507,824 pounds; fish, all varieties, 16,154,305 pounds; fowl, all varieties, 904,475 pounds.

"The preceding figures cover only goods reported as held in storage. To estimate the quantity of any such goods available from cold storage companies for consumption and export, add about 10 per cent to represent goods in transit, and certain comparatively insignificant quantities unreported."

BRITISH LABOR REFUSES TO MEET ENEMY TILL HE REPUDIATES HIS RULERS

PARIS, June 19. — (Via Reuter's Limited.)—The Petit Parisien today publishes an interview with George H. Roberts, the British minister of labor, in which Mr. Roberts asserted that since the German offensive all agitation concerning the withdrawal of workers from their jobs for the army has been ceased among workers in factories and mines with the exception of the revolutionary minority of inveterate trikers and pacifists.

The mass of the British working classes, Mr. Roberts said, was frankly patriotic, and refused to meet the enemy under any circumstances until he had laid down arms or repudiated his rulers.

NISSOURI PUPILS ARE WRITING THE ENTRANCE

THORNDALE, June 19.—Twenty-three pupils from West Nissouri today commenced writing the entrance examinations. Miss Delmage of the continuation school presided, and today's examinations were in spelling and composition.

Registration is proceeding rapidly in this district, and more than half of the men and women already filled out the necessary form.

C. A. Mahon of Sebringville has been engaged as lineman by the East Middlesex Telephone Company, and will put the system in repair as soon as possible.

Crops throughout this district are looking well.

ST. MARYS FLAX MILL WILL BE REBUILT

ST. MARYS, June 19.—A special meeting of the town council was held last night to consider the terms of a bylaw to raise $8,000 to encourage the flax industry. The mill on the outskirts of the town was recently destroyed by fire. Mr. McCredie, the flax man, had previously addressed the board, asking for the loan of $8,000 for the erection of a new mill, but at last night's meeting he told the members of the council that he had decided to withdraw his application for the loan, as it was impossible for him to delay until the ratepayers would give their decision on the bylaw. In the event of his going ahead with another agreement and going on with the construction proposed on the property, he asked certain considerations: That the town construct a six-inch main hydrant opposite the corner of Park and James streets, and that he would like to arrange for a fixed assessment at present valuation for ten years or an equivalent to that.

The date for the St. Marys fall fair has been set for Thursday and Friday, September 19 and 20. Director Tollings, of the South Perth Agricultural Society, has been named to fill the position in the society made vacant by the death of William Porter, of Downie Township.

C. P. R. RAILS IN WEST BEING TAMPERED WITH?

CALGARY, June 19.—Several persons were slightly bruised and shaken up and five or six coaches were derailed at 3:50 o'clock this morning when the first section of the Canadian Pacific Imperial Limited train struck a broken rail two miles west of Sheppard. Following a rumor that the rails may have been tampered with, the Canadian Pacific Railway is now making a full investigation.

U. S. SHIPYARD WORKERS MUST HAVE THEIR BEER

COLLEGE GRADUATING CLASS ALL IN KHAKI

Loyola Boys Have Brought High Honors On Institution.

MONTREAL, June 19.—Khaki predominated at the 22nd annual commencement at Loyola College here today, when the graduating class of seven pupils, all of whom have entered the king's service, received their degrees. In addition to these there were 23 Loyola boys training for the Royal Air Force at Toronto, while 235 former pupils are fighting, or have fought overseas since the beginning of the war. They have won eight military crosses, several D. S. O.'s, Legion of Honor, Croix de Guerre, Distinguished Conduct medals and military medals.

All class prize winners accepted only medals, the prizes being donated by the winners to a general fund for war charities.

WINGHAM MAY GET FERTILIZER FACTORY

WINGHAM, June 19.—Messrs. Parker and Taylor of Ingersoll were in town recently looking over conditions here, with a view to establishing a fertilizer manufacturing plant here.

Mayor Binkley called a meeting of the ratepayers yesterday, which was fairly well attended.

Messrs. Parker and Taylor proposed that the town purchase the chair factory property, and they would pay the town interest on the cost of the factory for a term of 20 years, when the money would be returned to the corporation. They would improve the buildings and put them in proper shape for the manufacture of fertilizer. The town was also asked to give exemption of taxes, except school taxes, and free water for a term of 20 years.

The matter was discussed quite fully by the citizens and left in the hands of the town council to consider the question of submitting the question to the ratepayers.

BLAMING SIR WILFRID.

DONALD SUTHERLAND, M.P., South Oxford, is quoted by the Toronto Globe as saying at the annual meeting of his Conservative constituents "That is why the act (the M. S. A.) is a farce." He was blaming the fact that Sir Wilfrid Laurier was given the right to nominate half the members of the exemption tribunals for this alleged "farce."

Mr. Sutherland uses harsh terms in speaking of the act which his colleagues are applauding as a great success and thoroughly justified. Gen. Mewburn has been telling the country that everything is working exceptionally well under the M. S. A., and Quebec young men are doing their duty, not only willingly, but enthusiastically. He is pleased to a degree. That, however, is the opinion merely of the minister of militia, and the member for South Oxford declares by inference, that it is all wrong. The whole thing is a "farce."

By the way, is it permissible for Canadians to speak so sneeringly of this child of the Borden Government's brain? Is it not rather bad form, to put it mildly, for one of Sir Robert's most ardent and worshipful supporters to speak in this condemnatory way? Of course, Mr. Sutherland was speaking to his Conservative constituents, many of whom are farmers who have seen the act through different glasses since its recent amendments, and it was difficult for the member to agree with them in private conversation before and after the meeting, and, on the platform, uphold everything the Government has done. He was looking for a middle course or a seat on the fence.

There was, in Mr. Sutherland's opinion, blame which must be placed somewhere, and the speaker fell back on the old policy of reviling Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The Liberal leader was declared responsible for the alleged failure of the Borden Government's act, and, to bolster up such a ridiculous statement, Mr. Sutherland tried to give an idea to his bewildered audience of how Sir Wilfrid had managed this trick. He had done it through his agents on the exemption tribunals. They, although no more numerous than Sir Robert's nominees had dominated the exemption boards, where each leader was represented by one man. The Liberal appointees, by their superior will power and greater determination, had simply taken all power of action or thought from their fellow-boardmen. A compliment to the Conservatives, to be sure!

What Mr. Sutherland forgot to tell, or, rather, chose to ignore, was the fact that at each tribunal there was a third man, a military man appointed by the Government, who had authority to appeal against any exemption which he considered unjust, and let a judge decide the case; he could take it even to the final court if he so desired. How could these men be controlled by Sir Wilfrid Laurier? Being intelligent men, Mr. Sutherland's audience probably enjoyed some quiet laughs.

ALIEN PLOTTERS.

THE MILITARY authorities took decisive action in the case of a large number of Russians and Austrians employed at Windsor, who proved to be disciples of the I. W. W. and Bolsheviki when their "credentials" were revealed. These foreigners, employed at high wages and enjoying the fat of the land, while those of British blood were away fighting, actually showed some tendency to fight—against law and order—and to establish a nest of "kultur" in the very land which was sheltering them and giving them immunity from military service.

But the most startling thing in the whole affair was the evidence of conspiracy and I. W. W.-ism found on the persons of these men. The conditions discovered should have the effect of making a dilatory government take some decisive action in dealing with the whole question of aliens, and especially alien enemies. These men have found shelter and lucrative employment. That they have plotted against this country while given a special freedom is proof of their capacity for the committment of atrocities. The authorities should take the sternest measures to uproot this noxious growth. The public should be permitted to learn the facts in the matter and to show how viciously false have been the specially protected and highly-paid foreigners. They deserve no further consideration. They have placed themselves in a position which if duplicated in Germany would have meant a blank wall and a firing squad, or a hellish living death in the sulphur mines.

NO GERMANS NEED APPLY.

GERMANY is preparing to control emigration by her sons after the war is over, believing that many will attempt this as a means of evading the high taxes which must be levied to pay the bill. She does not forbid her citizens leaving, but rules that they must leave behind one-fifth of their total possessions, and, in case they escape without doing so, they are to lose their nationality and regain it only when they voluntarily pay up what the Government says is due from them.

Apparently even the official mind of Germany has failed to grasp the loathing that is felt for Teutons in nearly every land to which they would wish to go, and takes it for granted that they will be welcomed again as immigrants in foreign countries during the five years immediately succeeding the war. There is an awakening coming for Berlin and for all Germans, bad and good, if there are any of the latter alive.

Canada wants immigrants when peace comes again, but she does not want Germans or Austrians. She has had many good citizens who came from these nations and built up homes and businesses for themselves in the Dominion, but she has acquired such detestation for the race now that it is probable legislation will be passed to exclude newcomers from enemy lands coming here.

The United States has held wide open the door for the entrance of Teutons and has welcomed them and treated them well. To a large extent the Americans' faith in their power to absorb these foreigners and turn them into law-abiding, industrious citizens has been justified, but there have been exceptions, and these exceptions are a type of the German of today. The United States wants no more of them, and is likely to slam the door in their faces.

Britain has had more than enough of Germans, and Australia, New Zealand and Africa will not endure them for years to come. Where then will they go?

The Germans who made this war and fought it must be made to pay for it to the limit of their resources. Five years will not be sufficient or twenty-five years. No doubt it would please the powers in Berlin if they could arrange for large emigration on condition that their law of prepayment of taxes were obeyed; their compatriots could then start afresh in new lands and from them wrest more wealth to make up for what has been spent and destroyed. The civilized world, however, has no desire to pay Germany's debts in this way, and will make it very clear that their motto, until such times as new ideals and ethics predominate in that country, is not only Germany for the Germans, but Germans for Germany only.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

South American republics should be encouraged in their plan to send troops overseas. Every little will help.

There are some new things which are not popular in Western Ontario, and I. W. W. propaganda is among them.

Liberal meetings in the province seem to prove that the electors know more about Liberal principles than their leader in the Legislature.

President Wilson is honored by the hate which is felt for him in Germany and by the billingsgate language used in connection with him.

When a youth can submit to arrest seven times and escape each time before he is in uniform, he ought to volunteer for espionage work in Germany for the Allies.

Having recently been dead, von Hindenburg is now sick from acute nervous disease and in a sanatorium, according to the latest dispatches. If the ghosts of all he has murdered pay him visits, it's no wonder his nerves have gone.

It will help to avert a fuel shortage in the coming winter if people will refrain from lighting furnaces, etc., at the first sign of coolness. If each family would decide not to begin firing up until one week later than last year, the saving would be great.

Parents should endeavor to give their male children the name of George F. if possible, as a passport to fame. It is noted that the two leading educationalists of this city who are leaving the schools both have this name, George F. Rogers and George F. Copeland.

A COMEDY OF ERRORS.

The fire marshal of the State of Wisconsin has issued a bulletin which he terms a "Comedy of Errors." It should have been called a tragedy. It says:

He looked for a gas leak with a match, and found it.

He lighted a match to see if his gasoline tank was empty. It was not.

He smoked while filling his auto tank, but will do so no more.

He smoked in bed, so did the bed clothes.

He threw the matches into the waste paper basket. He is wiser now.

He threw a cigarette stub into some rubbish.

He saved his oily waste and oily rags and they burned his shop.

He washed his hands in gasoline near the stove. The doctor washes them now.

He did not worry about fires as he had "plenty of insurance," and forgot the safety of his wife and children upstairs.

He stuffed up the chimney holes with paper and rags.

She cleaned her gloves with gasoline and saved fifteen cents, but paid the doctor and druggists fifteen dollars.

She poured kerosene into the lamp while the wick was burning.

She put gasoline into the wash boiler on the stove to make washing easier.

She dried clothes too near the stove.

She used the wrong oil can.

She burned sulphur all over the house to fumigate.

She used the wood-box back of the range as a waste paper receptacle.

She gave matches to her children to go out to burn leaves in the yard. The cotton dresses burned easier than the leaves.

She was "coming right back," so left the electric current on in her iron.

She swung the gas bracket too close to the curtains.

She fixed up a fine tissue paper shade for the lamp.

She filled the tank of her gasoline stove while one burner was going.

The comedies have turned to tragedies; many of the scenes of action were in ashes and too many of the actors are maimed or asleep; others will follow, no doubt, as they are prone to ignore the advice and experience of others instead of profiting by the errors and sufferings.

YOU WOULD KNOW HIM ANYWHERE.

[The Sheriff of Lee County, Alabama, Desires Word of One Bill Saunders, Wife Killer.]

"I want him $100 worth. Bill Saunders. Business is dull and I got room for one more. An unbleached American colored negro. He is described as being "very black." In fact they have quit making them as black as he is. He is as black as the hinges of purgatory that hang the gates of eternity. A piece of charcoal would make a snow white mark on his countenance. His age is given from 40 to 57 years. His weight from 135 to 170 pounds. He is really about 55. Looks ten years younger. Five feet eleven inches or six feet; 155 pounds. Has a long appearance, because he is slender built. Little mustache, sharp arrow face, high cheek bones, long chin, large flairy eyes. Walks erect. Plain quick spoken. Feminine voice. Prominent Adam's apple. Throat cut several years ago from right ear to a little past the goozle. Evidently cut by left hand man, or cut from behind. He is illiterate; has limited mental capacity, ignorant fool kind of a damn negro. But he has sense enough so far to evade arrest. He is somewhere in America; he must be there; he is not here. If he was dead I could tell you just where to go and find him. I wouldn't want to go there myself. Look him up, arrest him and wire me, and hold him till I can get there with the $100. I will pay the freight on him back. You needn't be afraid of him, a man that would murder a woman like that wouldn't hurt anything that wears breeches. (I got his knife.)

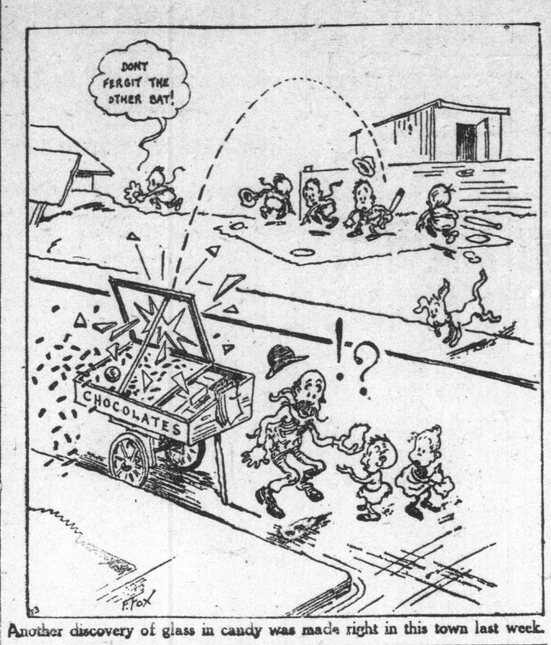

LAUGHABLE.

[Toronto Telegram.]

So far as Paymaster Borden and A. E. Blount are concerned, the general tendency is to laugh. The former is Premier Borden's brother, and Sir Robert felt called on to deny that he had anything to do with adding some unserved years to his record of service to enlarge his pension when he retired from the militia department. Mr. Blount, who was Sir Robert's secretary and man of business, recently sacrificed himself to the extent of accepting a $5,000 a year job as secretary of the Senate, said job being the nearest thing to a sinecure the good old patronage system could provide.

THE FAIRY WISH

There was nothing outwardly romantic about Elsie Boggs. She was nearly thirty, with sandy red hair and spectacles. She lived alone with a querulous maiden aunt, and she had never, so far as anyone knew, had a lover. Yet her sandy red head was filled with dreams. Perhaps the new librarian, who handed out an armful of romances to Miss Boggs every Saturday night, might have guessed this fact. But the ladies at the aid society, the neighbors who saw her about her household tasks, and most of all Aunt Hattie, did not know that Elsie was forever dreaming of princes and warriors, beautiful ladies and good and evil fairies. Not that Elsie believed in fairies, of course. Still, it was pleasant to imagine things as they might be if there really were fairies who could make wishes come true.

When we entered the war the ladies of the Stillville Aid Society, like the ladies of other aid societies all over the country, began to knit for the soldiers. There were strange things discussed at their meetings in those days, other things than the new church carpet and the best way of doing up peaches. Soldiers, hospitals, France—that far country of Jeanne d'Arc—and honor, glory, sacrifice. Even Stillville, remote in its little valley, was touched with the spirit of high adventure, and something of the spirit of romance.

To Elsie Boggs it was all like a page from one of her stories, preferably a historical one. She had thought romance a book-thing, of adventure, as belonging to past ages, yet here romance was coming to life before her very eyes, and changing the slouching boys she knew into erect young heroes in khaki, with a strange earnestness about their faces. Elsie threw herself, heart and soul, into working for the soldiers. No fingers were as quick as hers with the knitting needles. She was quite the town wonder. Sweaters, socks, helmets—she turned them all out with amazing rapidity. But since there was no longer time to read romance, Elsie had to make it up for herself.

For many years she had had a habit of wondering what would happen if certain conditions were thus and so, and now, quite suddenly, she caught herself wondering what would happen if the soldier for whom she was knitting a particularly fine sweater should learn that she had knit it, and if he should some day come to find her and she should be no longer red-haired and freckled, but as lovely as the young girl's head on a late magazine cover. He would make love to her, of course, and then—

Aunt Hattie's voice cut in upon this reverie.

"I hear Bud Emery has enlisted," Aunt Hattie said, as she came in from the street. "There ain't going to be a young man left in this town. I don't know what we're coming to!"

"Bud Emery?" echoed Elsie. "Well, he's not so very young. He used to be in my class in school. He's 30 anyway."

"Two young to have his life ruined. But at least he hasn't any wife or anyone dependent on him. I never heard of Bud courting anybody."

"No, I guess he never did," Elsie agreed. But even as she spoke she wondered whether the shy glances he had used to give her in school were not a kind of courting. Bud was painfully shy, but she had always felt, somehow, that he liked her. He had never liked anyone else, apparently.

However, it would be difficult to imagine Bud Emery as a figure of romance. He was more freckled than she, with sandy hair that bristled fiercely all over his head. He ran a feed store, and was believed to be comfortably well off. He lived down at the Palace Hotel and was notably unsocial in his tastes. Elsie had always liked Bud; but no, even she could not picture him in any but workaday guise.

As Elsie went on with that extra fine sweater, a daring idea came to her. Never before in her life had she put one bit of her sentimental thought into action. Now she was possessed with a desire to label that sweater, so that the soldier who got it could come to find her if he chose. Furthermore, as she worked she knitted into it what she tried to imagine was a fairy wish, a wish that he would want to find her.

The sweaters were destined for some far-off Red Cross station, so Elsie felt quite sure that no one she knew would ever see the slip of paper that she folded into this garment. It bore her name and address, and it might be that some time she would hear from the man who received it.

Elsie saw Bud Emery before he went away to camp, and tried to fancy how he would look in a khaki uniform. He was so big and shambling, so awkward and shy. It was hard to imagine him erect and trim, yet she knew that he would make a fine soldier. Bud Emery was true blue.

The weeks went by after she had sent away that sweater, and nothing happened. Perhaps it took time for the articles to reach their destination; perhaps her sweater had been lost on the way, or perhaps the man who got it had not noticed the slip or cared to write to her if he had. And so eventually Elsie gave up thinking about it. After all, she was a red-haired old maid, and would be a sad disappointment to any soldier. She had been a fool to dream of romance. The army might make the men over, but nothing could make her over. Her part was just to stay at home and knit.

And then one day there came a letter for Elsie. She rarely received letters, and this one was addressed in an unfamiliar hand, very large and black, almost as if a man had written it.

She opened it with a fast-beating heart, and hastily scanned one page. "Camp Devons," it was headed. And, strangely enough, it began, "Dear Elsie!"

"Yesterday they gave us out some knitted things that the Red Cross had sent around, and what do you think I got? A sweater with a little slip of paper inside it. I couldn't understand at first how your address had come there, until I realized that it must have been you, Elsie, who made that sweater. Isn't it funny that I should get it? I tell you, I like that sweater, and when I think that you made it, I like it all the more.

"Some people say that it is easier to write things than it is to say them, so maybe that is why I can say now, on paper, what I have wanted to say to you for years and years. And that is, Elsie, that I love you. You might have guessed it before, I should think, but you know how funny I am and afraid to talk much. But now I have told you that I shall never be afraid to talk to you again, that is if you will let me. I have 'leave' next week and plan to come home for a few days, and I want to come to see you, so we can talk it all over. Let me know, Elsie, how you feel about this. Of course, I don't suppose you care for me, but maybe you could.

The letter was signed "Bud Emery." Elsie dropped it to the floor and stood staring straight ahead. Her eyes, behind their spectacles, were wide with dreams. Here was a soldier who already loved her.

She could meet him with no fear of disappointing him, for to him, perhaps, she was beautiful.

Late that night, after Elsie had mailed her letter to Camp Devons, she sat alone at her window, looking up at the stars. And the romance of the still night seemed to promise beautiful things. After all, romance was real, and more alive today than ever before. And perhaps, she thought, there were even such things as fairies. For had not her fairy wish come true?

ALLIES HAVE STARTED PROPAGANDA SERVICE

Paris, June 19.—Official announcement is made of the creation under the foreign ministry of a propaganda service to allied and neutral countries with a director under the title of commissioner general. Anthony W. Klobukowski, former minister to Belgium, has been appointed commissioner-general in charge of the work.

BANKS ARRANGE FOR FINANCING GOVERNMENT

Montreal, June 19.—It is understood here that arrangements have been concluded between the Dominion Government and the banks whereby the government's requirements will be financed pending the issue of another permanent loan in the autumn.

The arrangement includes advances for the purchase of meats, cheese and other provisions urgently needed by the British Government and presumably, too, for the financing of industrial orders placed through the Imperial munitions board. The arrangement is important, therefore, for the assurance it gives that a market will be available for the country's surplus output of dairy and other products of the kind and that industrial activity in manufacturing centres will be well maintained through the summer.

FEW GERMAN FLIERS ABLE TO REACH PARIS

Paris, June 19.—The Germans have attempted fourteen air raids on Paris since January 31, but only 22 of the more than 300 machines which took part in them have succeeded in flying over the city, according to a record of the enemy efforts published in the Excelsior this morning.

The newspaper comments upon the effectiveness of the aerial defences of Paris thus indicated. Nine of the 22 machines which penetrated the barrier, it adds, were brought down by the French defenders of the capital.

ANOTHER REPRISAL WAR

Berlin Threatens Over Alleged Expulsion of Germans From China.

Amsterdam, June 19.—When reports that 10,000 Germans have been expelled from China and interned in Australia are proved, says the Deutsches Tages Zeitung of Berlin the German Government will collect 10,000 inhabitants of French occupied districts and send them to prison until the Germans are returned to China and compensated for their losses.

PARIS CHEERED UP.

Paris, June 19.—News of the Austrian repulse on the Italian front, the comparative quiet on the French and British lines, silence on the part of the long range guns for six days, and the inability of the Gothas to cross the terrific defensive barrage in their last attempts to reach Paris, only one German having succeeded in flying over the city, have caused the taut nerves of Paris to relax. The city has assumed an appearance nearer that of before the war than at any time since the opening of hostilities.

SUFFERED GREAT AGONY FROM PAIN IN STOMACH FOR OVER 5 YEARS

Most of the misery and ill-health that humanity is burdened with arises from disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels. If you are feeling out of sorts, have pains in the stomach, especially after eating, bilious spells, headaches, sour stomach, coated tongue, sallow or muddy complexion, specks floating before the eyes, you should take a few doses of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and note the change.

Miss Ida Hoan, Dunrobin, Ont., writes: "For over five years I have suffered great agony from pains in the stomach. I tried several remedies, but got no relief until a friend advised me to take Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. I started with two vials, and before I had one quite used I found much relief. I continued until I used four vials, and they have completely cured me. That was fourteen months ago, and I have not had the slightest return since. The best praise I can give them is not enough."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

TO FIGHT ON MEANT DEATH FOR RUMANIA, RULER TELLS NATION

Amsterdam, June 19.—Rumania concluded peace because to resist further would have exhausted the country to the point of destruction, said King Ferdinand in his speech from the throne at the reopening of the Rumanian Parliament at Jassy Monday. The peace treaty was then submitted to the legislature for approval.

The king said that Rumania had accepted the peace forced upon her as a necessary condition to her existence. The treaty manifestly imposes painful sacrifices, but the Rumanian people would examine it with the manliness which an exact comprehension of the interests of the state demands.

He alluded with satisfaction to the fact that the war had brought back the Moldavian land and the Bessarabian people into the arms of Rumania and restored friendship with the Central Powers. Good relations with the other powers were still maintained and plans were afoot to resume normal diplomatic intercourse.

F. of Ontario, has been appointed secretary-treasurer of the Oddfellows' Relief Association of Canada in succession to the late Root. Meek. Mr. Evanson was for several years mayor of Prescott and one of the most active Oddfellows in the province. He will assume his new duties at once and will take up his residence in this city.

The Power Behind Strong, Keen, Red-Blooded Americans

"To help make strong, keen, red-blooded Americans there is nothing in my experience which I have found so valuable as organic iron—Nuxated Iron," says Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital. Nuxated Iron often increases the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, run-down people in two weeks' time. It is now being used by over three million people annually, including such men as Hon. Leslie M. Shaw, former Secretary of the Treasury, and ex-Governor of Iowa; former United States Senator Richard Rolland Kenney of Delaware, at present Major of the U. S. Army; General John L. Clem (Retired), the drummer boy of Shiloh, who was sergeant in the U. S. Army when only 12 years of age; also United States Judge G. W. Atkinson of the Court of Claims of Washington and others. Nuxated Iron is dispensed by all good druggists everywhere.

JIMMY COON STORIES

By Dr. Warren G. Partridge.

Copyright 1917 by George Matthew Adams.

JIMMY COON TAKES PETER AGAIN TO SEE THE TWO-TAILED BIRD.

Well, Peter Rabbit was so excited to see that Two-Tailed Bird that he went lickety-cut everywhere to tell all the little Folk of the Woodland all about that wonderful Two-Tailed Bird.

And the next night Peter Rabbit coaxed Jimmy Coon to take him again to see the strangest Two-Tailed Bird in all the world. And when these two brave hunters found that big tree in the dark night no one was in the tree but Mrs. Long-Eared Owl.

And Peter's big eyes almost popped out of his funny head as he saw the most laughable sight you can imagine. Why, Mrs. Owl had a big mouse in her claws, and she was playing with the live mouse. And Mrs. Owl was as nimble in playing with that live mouse as a Juggler in a Circus.

Only the tail of the mouse hung out of her mouth.

Why, Mrs. Owl would take that live mouse and throw him up in the air and catch him in her mouth. And then she would try it again. And she never failed to catch the live mouse in her mouth. You couldn't do that. Try it!

Well, what do you suppose happened when Jimmy Coon and Peter Rabbit were watching Mrs. Owl playing with that mouse? All of a sudden Mrs. Owl decided, then and there, to swallow that live mouse whole! And Mrs. Owl threw that mouse, with her left foot, and that mouse went up into the air, and she fell headfirst into her mouth, and she swallowed the mouse whole and alive!

And Jimmy Coon and Peter were so astonished at this wonderful sight that they both fell over backward. And, by-and-bye, Mrs. Owl flew off. But she soon came back with another live mouse—and she played with that as a clown would do in a circus, and then she threw the live mouse up high with her right foot, and she caught him in her mouth as he fell headfirst into her open mouth. And she had mastered that wonderful trick to have the mouse always fall into her mouth headfirst.

Mrs. Owl was very particular in her eating, and she always wished to taste the head of a mouse first as he was going down into her feather-covered bread-basket.

But Mrs. Owl met with an awful accident, as she tossed up the last mouse, to catch him in her mouth, as the mouse fell downward, head-first. Horror of horrors! That live mouse stuck fast in her throat, and only the tail of the mouse hung out of her mouth.

And Peter cried out: "Oh, Jimmy! Look quick! There is the front tail of Mrs. Owl again hanging out of her mouth!"

Tomorrow: Jimmy Coon Saves the Life of Mrs. Owl.

DAILY BIBLE QUESTION CLUB

12. Verses 7-8—Why was it necessary for the disciples to be told of Christ's resurrection, and especially that Peter should be told?

13. Why was it that these women were so frightened by the best news mortals could hear? Can you give any similar present day cases?

14. Verses 8-11—Jesus appeared first to a woman who had been a desperate character. Would that suggest, or not, and why, that the worst of sinners, when saved, are dearer to the heart of Jesus than ordinary Christians who had never been very bad?

15. If it is a fact that we are slower to believe good news, than bad news, how do you account for it?

Golden Text: Now hath Christ been raised from the dead.—I. Corinthians, xv., 20.

HIS ENEMIES CLAIM THAT HIS BODY WAS STOLEN FROM THE SEPULCHRE.

Those who had caused Jesus to be put to death were in great consternation when they heard the story of his resurrection from the dead. They hired men to spread the report that his body had been stolen from the sepulchre by his disciples, and they then invented the story of his resurrection; but it is easily seen how impossible it would have been for Christ's disciples or others, to have stolen his body when the tomb was watched by the Roman soldiers. It would have been a death penalty if the soldiers had permitted any person to steal his body from the grave. His absence from the grave can only be explained by the actual fact which is so carefully recorded in the gospels. A careful and critical reading of the narrative will confirm the fact that Christ was resurrected.

No Red Cross Work Done at Hyman Hall Next Week

Convention Being Held There Causes Change in Usual Order of Work.

Owing to the fact that a convention is to be held in Hyman Hall next week, the regular work of the Red Cross will not go on there. However, executive meetings and the office work will be continued as usual, and the Red Cross Auxiliaries in the city have extended an invitation to the workers at headquarters, asking them to work with them.

Monday's surgical work will go on as usual next week, but in Cronyn Hall. This summer the Red Cross will take no vacation, and the rooms at Hyman Hall will be open during both July and August.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Richardson of Napanee is the guest of Mrs. Keenleyside, Maitland street.

Miss Mary Weston of Stanley street has returend after spending a most enjoyable vacation with Mrs. Bundy, Detroit, Michigan.

Miss S. J. Patterson, New York City, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Walker Slade, 5 Pearl street, city.

Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Coleman of this city have taken a cottage on Orchard Beach, Port Stanley.

Mrs. J. S. Niven of this city has announced the engagement of her youngest daughter, Annie Gwyneth Macbeth, to Major Kenneth Howard McCrimmon, D.S.O., the marriage to take place quietly the end of June at St. Paul's Cathedral.

Mr. Ernest Bluethner of Princess avenue is enjoying a trip through the west and out to the coast.

The marriage took place on Tuesday, June 18, of Miss Lula Roy of this city to Mr. Glen Edell of St. Thomas, the Rev. H. H. Bingham officiating. In the evening the bridal couple left on a wedding trip to Niagara Falls.

An interesting wedding was that which took place yesterday at the home of the Rev. W. R. McIntosh, King street, when Annie McCommins of San Diego, California, formerly of Blythe, Ontario, was united in marriage to Jas. Cloakey, of Wingham, the Rev. Mr. McIntosh performing the ceremony. After a short honeymoon, the young couple will reside in Wingham.

A very pretty June wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan McNeil of North Caradoc, when their only daughter, Margaret Ann, was united in marriage to W. H. McLeish, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McLeish, West Williams, Rev. John Moore of Strathroy officiating. The bride was attended by her little cousin, Miss Annie McNeil, and the Wedding March was played by Miss Gertie Milliken. Rev. Fred Milliken sang "Oh, Promise Me," while the register was being signed. After lunch the happy couple left, amid showers of good wishes from their friends, on a motor trip to Goderich and other points.

SARNIA.—The old adage, "Save the pennies and the pounds will take care of themselves," has been proven true in the case of the penny bag method of raising money for the Red Cross in this city.

During the eighteen months since the adoption of this simple method, the sum of $8,000 and over has been collected in this manner, which averages well over $400 per month.

Under the terms of the recently organized War Chest Fund in this city, the penny bags, with all other money-raising schemes for patriotic purposes, will be abandoned.

AILSA CRAIG.—An entertainment of unusual interest was held in the town hall under the auspices of the Young Peoples Club, when Capt. (Dr.) J. G. Gunn, on furlough from the hospitals of Engand and France, gave a very helpful address on the work of the C. W. C. A. Sergt. Fred Young of London, who neds no introduction as a notable speaker, was also present, and held the attention of the audience with interest while he pictured to their minds scenes that he had witnessed while on active service in France. The little sketch entitled "Uncle's Will," cleverly staged by members of the Lucan Dramatic Club, was well received and won hearty appplause. A most interesting feature of the evening's program was the presentation of wrist watches by the Red Cross Society and friends from the 7th concession of McGillivray to four of the young men of that locality who have been called to the colors. Each boy was presented with a beautifully-worded address During the evening suitable patriotic solos were rendered by Miss Henderson, Mrs. Watcher and F. Hughes. The proceeds, amounting to $97, which were apart from some advertising, entirely clear, have been given to the local Red Cross Society for overseas work.

POINT EDWARD.—The Ladies' Aid of Blackwell Methodist Church is holding an ice cream and strawberry social on the church grounds at 8 o'clock tonight. Everybody will be heartily welcomed.

RAVENSWOOD. — The Red Cross Circle met at the home of Mrs. Robert Porter. The inclement weather did not deter the ladies from meeting as usual and accomplishing a creditable amount of sewing and knitting. They considered it a "lucky" afternoon, owing to the numerous donations received. Mrs. Porter gave a sewing-machine for circle work, Mr. Porter $10, and T. A. Porter $5, while Mrs. J. J. Freeman again very kindly offered to do knitting. Cocoa and cake, served by Miss Lillian and little Sarah Norine Porter, was very much enjoyed by the ladies ere the return trip was made. Later in the day a check from the Bosanquet Council was received.

In answer to the appeal from overseas for paper and envelopes for the soldiers, the circle sent to Hyman Hall a box containing 58 pads of paper, 52 bunches envelopes, 12 quires paper and 5 dozen lead pencils. The sum of $14.10, contributed in cash, was invested in writing material and later sent to the same place.

SOMBRA.—A branch of the Women's Institute was organized in Sombra March 26, 1917, with a membership of 42. Commencing in June, regular monthly meetings were held and six other meetings, when Red Cross work was done. The work accomplished is as follows: 21 overseas boxes packed, 34 stretcher caps made, 27 sheets and 43 pillow-cases, sent to Hyman Hall. Seventy-four pairs of socks were also sent there. A knitting contest was held in April and in 14 days 100 pairs of socks were knitted. Money raised for Red Cross, $316.85; money for institute, $40.25, making a total of $357.10.

The money was raised for Red Cross as follows: Collected, $115.60; donations, $17.85; grants, $20; parties and teas, $106.80; proceeds of quilt and collar, $30.90; donations from leap year party, $22.20; miscellaneous, $3.50, making a total of $316.85.

Money was spent for Red Cross work as follows: Money paid for yarn, $157.94; flannelette for pyjamas, $28.58; packing overseas boxes, $47.89; cotton for sheets and pillow-cases, $40.65; miscellaneous, $24.58, making a total of $299.64. The balance on hand is $17.21.

Officers elected for the year are as follows: President, Mrs. W. Ball; vice-president, Mrs. H. Waddell; secretary, Isabel Rattray; directors, Mrs. E. Dalgetty, Mrs. J. Burnham and Mrs. W. Duncan; district directors, Mrs. J. Dupois; representative to district meeting, Mrs. Dalgety.

AILSA CRAIG.—The Ebenezer Red Cross Society met recently and elected officers for the coming year. A good deal of work has been done in the past year by the society, and although it is not very large they have shipped overseas 101 pairs of socks, 83 shirts, 5 mattress covers, and some trench caps, and donated $21 to the Byron Sanatorium, the proceeds of an auction sale, and also shipped boxes to boys overseas. The society is growing, and it is expected more work will be done in the coming year if it is needed.

WHERE YOUR JARS COME IN

CYNTHIA GREY'S MAIL BOX

Follow the Barrage.

B. E. F., France, May 19.

Some hours before, under cover of the darkness, a comrade says they were led to their allotted position, where they now await the signal to commence that old game of following the barrage. Moving quietly from man to man, he whispers, "So many minutes to go." "We're ready" is the quietly spoken reply, proving how welcome his message is, heralding action; waiting is irksome.

Crashing, deafening, terrible comes the signal. Our barrage has opened and the shells are bursting with vivid splashes in the Boches' front line, probably 80 yards in front. Within 30 seconds dozens of star shells brilliantly illumine the sky, and the venomous crack and rattle of rifles and machine guns add to the pandemonium. It is the Huns' reply—they are on the alert. Our men are moving in extended line, as on parade, following the barrage. There is no apparent hurry.

Above the continuous, deafening roar and crash, crack, rattle, no voice can be heard. The men loom large, like giant silhouettes amid the glare. Here and there one sinks to the ground. You wonder why. The effect is intensely weird.

Reaching the Huns' barbed wire, the boys worm their way through the gaps, and then sink on one knee, waiting. The critical moment is near, when the barrage will lift, and creep on towards the enemy's second line. There's no warning, no pause in the thunderous roar of the bursting shells, yet, instinctively, all know that the barrage has moved on. Now is the psychological moment—hesitation means failure. As one man the lads leap forward with a yell and are in the trench before the Huns realize it. One takes his place as sentry at each dugout entrance, where the enemy have gone to earth. The remainder scramble out of the trench, and again extending into line follow the barrage, now pommelling the enemy's second line.

Everywhere hangs a heavy fog of smoke, and away behind a roar can be heard like the echo of the barrage in front—the Hun has opened his barrage on our first line to prevent or cut off reinforcements. But he is too late. Our second wave is reinforcing the first, as they move up to within 30 yards of the enemy's second line. As the barrage lifts forward and creeps towards the Germans' third line, our lads dash forward and capture the trench, meeting with strong opposition. For the first time they throw bombs, which quickly smash a way for the bayonet. Keener than ever, the men quickly form up, following the barrage, take the third line with little opposition, and the final objective is gained.

The crisis over, nature reasserts herself. The men are surprised to find it's daylight, and for the first time they realize they are tired and thirsty. Clothing and puttees are torn, steel hats lost, a few slightly wounded, yet withal they are exuberantly happy, for they have followed the barrage to victory.

And now I'll bid you once again a pleasant goodnight, and God bless you all.

From Across the Channel.

"Scotch Thistle," an old Mail-Box friend, sends the following for publication. One is very proud to realize that such thoughts fill the minds of our friends "over there," as they fight on with unquenchable spirit to protect those in the Homeland.

Somewhere in France.

As I write the night is beautifully calm. I have just come in from a quiet stroll along the railway siding alone with my thoughts, not a sound from the guns; indeed, one would hardly imagine that there is a war in progress, a war that has spread throughout the civilized world. The intense silence is most strangely eloquent. It brings with it messages of hope and of good cheer, memories of bygone happy days, of friendships and associations dear to one's heart, soon one hopes to be renewed. It tells of that peace for which the whole world is longing, and which cannot now be long delayed. Above all it tells of that peace which passeth knowledge, which has sustained us through most trying circumstances and has allayed our pains.

Peace breathes along the shades of every hill,
The tree tops and the glades are hushed and still,
All woodland murmurs cease,
The birds to rest within the brake have gone,
Be patient, weary heart,
Anon, thou too shalt be at rest.

Yes, although we are out here away from home, and all that it holds which is most dear to us, yet our thoughts are always on the other side of the channel. We see visions of the happy times to come, when we shall cross that channel never to return. What a home-coming that will be! As we think of it we do not look so much for the flourish of trumpets and the beating of drums. We can see farther beyond all that. We look for the lass whom we left over three years ago and who has carried on so bravely in our absence. We seem to feel the baby fingers of our little ones pulling at our moustache or trying to discover what is at the back of our eyes. Even the canary we imagine will be warbling songs of welcome on that day, whilst the dog will have an extra bone in honor of that occasion. Yes, our hearts are in the Homeland. We are not out here because we like the life. That of itself is most distasteful to us. But we realize that the future peace of the whole world depends upon our presence here. He came, he saw, he conquered. We came—we felt in honor bound to come. We saw—we can never really tell of what we did see, the details are too horrible for words. We mean to conquer. It is the only way. We cannot allow such diabolical cruelty and cunning to go unpunished.

"S. E. B.'s" Cousin.

Dear Miss Grey,—I read the notice in the paper that you wished my address and also that of my cousin, so here I am. I had a letter from my cousin saying he had only received one letter since he went to France, and I've written him every week. What can be wrong with the mail delivery, or probably he will get them all together. Well, Miss Grey, it's working hours, so I'll have to stop. Thanking you and readers for all kindness. Sincerely, S. E. B.

Ans.—The address of "S. E. B.'s" cousin has been forwarded to readers, asking for same. I notice, "S. E. B.," that you haven't the young man's regimental number. Would that account for the non-receipt of letters, I wonder?

Their Marriage Certificate.

Dear Miss Grey,—Could you please tell me if a handwritten copy of a marriage certificate from the minister where the marriage was performed is lawful? Our certificate is in England, and it would be some time before we could get it. Or does one have to send away for a copy? If so, where, as we were married in East Nissouri, in the county of Oxford, Ontario. Thanking you, I am,

GREEN.

Ans.—Get a copy of your certificate from the provincial registrar, Toronto, Ontario.

BEAUTIFUL HAIR, THICK, WAVY, FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Draw a moist cloth through hair and double its beauty at once.

Save your hair! Dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Immediate?—Yes! Certain?—that's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after an application of Danderine. Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few week's use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, charming, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will spend a few cents for a bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.

Hermits Challenge "Terrible Tisers"

Rex.—With a view to squelching forever and anon the exaggerated ego of this self-heralded Advertiser baseball nine, the Hermits are willing, nay, anxious, to meet, with hickory, mitt and pill, on the Springbank triangle at any time, this doughty, pencil - pushing, yarn - slinging gang of newspaper alleged baseball players. Yea, verily, this is a challenge. TANTON, Vice-President.

The above impolite, not to say crude, defi has been hurled at the feet of the famous 'Tiser ball-tossers. It is from the Hermit Club, whose baseball team is noted as the most windy in this world of highly explosive camouflage. It has manifestly been submitted with the intention of catching The Advertiser team off its guard. The challenge is accepted, for it shall not be said that the 'Tiser Toughs ever refused to take on another aggregation in a sporting event. When it comes to sportsmanship the 'Tiser Terrors are never found wanting. Name the day, Harold.

M'TAGGARTS TAKE BOTH FEATURES OF JAMAICA RACE CARD

Tom Wins Garden City Stake, While Johnny Grabs Handicap.

New York, June 20.—It was McTaggart Day at Jamaica yesterday, G. W. McNamee's 4-year-old colt, Tom McTaggart, winning the Garden City Selling Stake, while Johnny McTaggart put up one of the best rides seen this season in order to land Sun Flash a nose in front of Dorcas in the Montagu Handicap.

Though the Garden City event was the feature of the card, there was more enthusiasm over the handicap, which was a thrilling race, as the speed was so well maintained that Sun Flash hung up 1:45 4-5, and came within two-fifths of a second of the track record for a mile and a sixteenth, held jointly by Roamer and George Smith. McTaggart's perfect handling of the winner pleased the crowd even more than the victory of the favorite. Mergler gave a capable exhibition of riding in the Garden City Selling Stake. He followed closely the pace set by Wiseman until the stretch, and made his turn just at the right moment to come away and win by a length from Obolus, which closed fast and beat Wiseman by two lengths for the place.

CHAMPION CYCLIST RIDES TO CRUMLIN AND BACK IN TWENTY-FIVE MINUTES

It took William Godfree, champion cyclist of this city, just twenty-five minutes to ride from the Perfect Bicycle Shop, East London, to Crumlin and back in a race held here last night. There were five entries for the event and Godfree, owing to his reputation as a cyclist, was handicapped behind the other starters. Harold Dick got first prize, Joe Simms came second, Godfree third, Charles Lewis fourth and Harvey Johnson fifth. The first man in road a Perfect wheel, and the second covered the distance on a Brantford machine.

This is the first of a series of races to be held in the city during the summer. It is planned to hold a race every week or at least every two weeks. The events are open to all cyclists in the city. Prospective contestants are asked to notify the Perfect Bicycle store for particulars.

A. M. C. CRICKETERS ADD ANOTHER GAME TO VICTORY LIST

Defeat Picked Team, Making It Six Straight Wins.

A. M. C. cricket team annexed its sixth straight victory in as many games in a match with a picked military team at the heights last night. The pitch was not in good condition, which accounted for several ducks' eggs notched by players of both teams. Dykes of the picked military aggregation bowled seven of his opponents, in addition to making the highest score. He found the ball for 24 runs before being caught out by Arundell.

Willsher, Chappell and Arundell bowled for the Meds, the first two finding the wickets four times each. Chappell played a good game at bat with a well-earned 14. Lilleyman of the A. M. C. starred in the field.

Both teams put up a first-rate exhibition, and the outcome of the fixture was in doubt until the last man was out. The final score was 64 for the Meds, against 57 for their opponents.

Arrangements have been made to meet the Brantford team at Springbank Park on July 1. Sergt. Greenwood, manager of the A. M. C., also got in communication with Hamilton cricketers, and a game between the Ambitious City and the local A. M. C. team can be expected in the near future.

ASKIN ELKS WALLOP TALBOT STREET BOYS

The Askin Elks easily defeated the Talbot Street baseball nine at Springbank in a scheduled inter-church league game on Tuesday. The score was 13 to 3.

Bill Lewis, in the box for the victors, had the Talbot street aggregation at his mercy. Earl Arscott, the twirler for the losers, was hit hard and often. He tightened up somewhat after the first three innings. A one-handed catch by Cecil Gauld in centre field was the feature of the game.

The teams lined up:

Umpire—J. A. Jackson.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Color Actually an Agent For Good Or Evil in Your Life

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG,
A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University.)

DR. HIRSHBERG

Scientists now tell us that 35 per cent of all knowledge the human mind possesses comes through the eye. And the greater proportion of this eye knowledge comes through color. Leaving out the printed page—which in one sense is form—all eye knowledge comes through either form or color.

As an illustration of the reaction of the mind to form and color, let us take the following: Suppose someone sends a patient a bunch of roses and marguerites. How clear and vigorous the contrast of the red and white; how wholesome and vital are they in their suggestiveness and what quiet messengers of good cheer! But if these same flowers had been woven into the form of a funeral wreath they might scare a sick mind to death. The main question is how do people in normal health react to color?

What Color May Mean.

That they do react is proved by the fact that there has been invented and used for experimentation a device which consists of an attachment that records the fluctuations of the pulse, as a person is subjected to various colors, depending upon whether the color depresses or excites. The fluctuations recorded are amazing.

Color has become even a part of the warp and woof of the English language. Thus we say "a red-letter day," "as blue as indigo," "black Monday," "a brown study," "a drab day," and "a greenhorn." These words would not have come into the language if the effect of color was not common heritage.

The colors used by Marie Antoinette and Louis XVI. were no more accidental than those used by Henry VIII. or Queen Elizabeth. The tints and subtleties were characteristic of the lives and times of Louis XVI., as were the virile and direct pure colors of red, yellow and blue indicative of the times and tastes of Henry VIII. Imagine Queen Elizabeth in a Marie Antoinette room. She would have used her very direct and voluble English, not sufficiently elegant to print here. We can easily imagine how Marie Antoinette in an Elizabethan castle would have gone out as a mouse under a vacuum.

By such extreme historical cases do we realize the truth of the reaction of the mind to color. But the best witness is the doctor's experiences, and, if I were to quote freely from my notebook of the effect of color upon my various patients the entire article would not suffice. One patient was made violently nauseated when subjected to a certain tone of red violet.

Two others, full-blooded men, presidents of great corporations, cannot work with any repose of mind at home or in the office if not surrounded by blue. Both of these men are multi-millionaires; neither is effeminate, and both control millions, which they could not do if they were not men of power and ability. Therefore, there is nothing fantastic about the following illustration:

One woman had a grey room, done in panels, a room formal, modern, severe, cold, lifeless. She is naturally talkative, cheerful and bright. But when in this room she finds herself stilted and ill at ease. She painted the wall a different color, and put in bright chintzes, and to her surprise became chatty and even brilliant.

All of the foregoing in reference to the eye has been along the line of esthetics, which, of course, forms the basis of this article, but a most interesting article could be written on eye strain from the physical, rather than from psychological, standpoint.

How You React.

You cannot say to a person, "Philadelphia," "New York" or "Boston" and get the same reaction. The reaction of each place may be different upon various minds, but no two people can think of Philadelphia and New York as the same. The mental picture is bound to be different. You cannot say "Annapolis" and "West Point" and get the same mental eraction. When you say "Wall Street" there is not brought to mind the picture of a church at the end of a street, but rather we think of finance, pleasantly or unpleasantly.

You react to people. There are certain people in whose presence you can be but a few moments without feeling sucked as dry as a bone. They act upon you like vampires. Then there are people with whom you come in contact for only a moment who impress you with a sense of vitality and kindness. Your prejudices, likes and dislikes and friendships are often based on nothing tangible. It is not what the people say and oftentimes not what they do, but what you think they are. Why you think they are a certain thing it would be almost impossible for you to analyze or state. You are merely conscious of a reaction, pleasant or unpleasant, a reaction which has come through your senses, probably through the eye, perhaps through color associations.

Answers to Health Questions

A READER. Q.—Could you tell me what to do for an unusually craving appetite?

2. Is —— harmful?

3. What can I do to make my hair curly and fluffy?

A.—Eat a little every three hours instead of large meals three times a day.

2. As I do not discuss advertised articles, I cannot help you in this matter.

3. Purchase some quince seed and add a little rosewater to it. Apply this to the hair and place hairpins in it to keep the waves in place. Let it dry thoroughly and then brush the hair lightly.

H. T. Q.—Mucus comes into my mouth and also drops in the back of my throat. Please tell me what can be done for this.

A.—You should have your nose and throat examined and the tonsils and adenoids removed if necessary. In the meantime spray the throat and nose with alkaline antiseptic solution.

TROUBLED. Q.—Please tell me what can be done for a sore on the foot that discharges matter and blood.

A.—Take 10 grains of bicarbonate of soda every four hours and sulphide of calcium, 1 grain, after each meal. A little ammoniated mercury ointment should be applied to the sore. If you do not experience relief, consult your family physician.

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

What Is It That Lillian Reads in Grace Draper's Letter?

"I would like to ——," I whispered, looking up with horror-blinded eyes at Lillian.

"I know, dear," she interrupted reassuringly; "you know I'm not exactly a stranger to this sort of thing myself."

The simple words calmed me, for they brought to my memory as with a flash-light the long, gruelling nightmare of Lillian's life with Harry Underwood. My suffering, cruel as it seemed, had been nothing compared to the long-drawn-out burden which had been hers.

"I am ashamed, Lillian," I whispered, looking up into her steady eyes, "to bear things so ungraciously when I have your example before me."

"Never mind my example," she said practically. "Finish that letter as soon as you can."

"There isn't much more of it," I returned, taking up the letter again and preparing to follow her advice.

"Yours——Grace."

"Of course," the dashing chirography ran on, "prim little Madgie never could resist opening an envelope that had my fist on the outside of it. Of course, she's the original Caesar's wife, and all the rest of that dope, but it's one of my principles never to lead my fellow-sisters into temptation, so I have just had a kid I know write your address.

"Well, old top, I wonder if you know how your girl has missed you. Just think, I haven't seen you for almost a week. I do hope that mysterious stunt of yours will be over soon, for I'm getting mighty lonesome. I don't like playing around by myself one bit, and, although I have no business flattering you—for the Lord knows you're conceited enough already—yet when I try to talk to any of the other mutts that try to wear out our front steps, I find I've got to slip it o you, old boy. There aren' any of the rest of them that come within a thousand miles of you.

"When are we going to have another jamboree? I am fairly hungry for a dinner of your ordering. You really ought to do that for a living, Dicky-bird, you do it so well. I am at the same old place and for the next three or four days I'll stay close to the telephone from 3 to 4 every afternoon.

"With all the love there is in the world, and then some, yours till you know what freezes over, GRACE."

I did not crumple this letter angrily as I had my husband's. My frenzied passion had passed, and it seemed beneath my womanly dignity to treat the loathsome thing I held in my hand with anything btu calm contempt. So, as I finished reading it, I folded it carefully two or three times and laid it on the table near me.

Lillian put out her hand and took it.

"I want to read this thing again," she said. "I didn't have a chance to get the right slant on it, I believe, before."

I watched her curiously as she perused the letter. She was evidently making a most careful study of it, for she reread it, several portions of it, and a number of times stopped and seemed lost in thought at some passage. Once she looked up at me, her eyes plainly puzzled.

"Don't You See It?"

"There's something about this I don't understand, Madge. Of course, I'll admit it looks mighty bad for Dicky on the face of it, but I can't help fancying there's some explanation for it somewhere."

"I am afraid I don't share your optimism," I replied a bit stiffly.

Into her eyes flashed a look in which I read infinite pity for me, but there was mingled with it something else, something which brought the shamed blood to my cheeks. She lowered her eyes to the page before her an instant later, but the memory of that glance remained. It convicted me somehow of a lack of loyalty to my husband.

For a moment I felt fiercely resentful, and all unworthily there flared up in me the old senseless jealousy of Lillian which had been mine in the first years of my marriage.

"Why is she so loyal to Dicky?" I asked myself fiercely.

The next moment my spirit was bowed in humiliation at my mental treachery to the woman who had been such a wonderful friend to us both. I felt eager to have her finish the letter that I might set myself right with her. Of course, I could never confess the mad moment that had been mine, but I could pretend if I did not really feel a hope that Dicky's responsibility for Grace Draper's letter was less than I had imagined.

As she reached the last page I saw her start, and a look of relief flashed into her eyes.

"Well, may I be forgiven for a gibbering idiot!" she ejaculated. "To think that I didn't see through that clever she-devil before."

I looked up at Lillian in bewilderment. She had jumped to her feet, and was pacing the floor excitedly.

"Don't you see it?" she demanded, stopping and facing me, then added penitently:

"No, of course, you can't."

POLLY LEARNS A NEW WAY TO IRON.

"Oh, dear!" exclaimed Polly one morning as she leaned on the ironing board. "I hate to iron."

"Why?" asked a squeaky voice, and Polly turned to see her little friend Gocomback smiling at her. "Why do you hate to iron?"

"Because it always makes my wrist tired pushing the iron, and my feet get tired standing still. Now, if there only was some way to iron clothes without straining my wrists it might not be so tiresome."

"Well, now," laughed Gocomback. "I know another way. I'll just take you to a little tailor shop I know of and let you see how they do it. Maybe you'd like to learn to press clothes the way that tailor does. Want to go?"

"Oh, yes!" cried Polly. "Any way would be better than having my wrists get so tired."

With a merry chuckle Gocomback blew three times on a tiny whistle hanging at his belt, and before Polly could blink her eyes away they sailed through the air and dropped down into the quaintest of streets.

"What are they trying to do?"

"Where in the world are we?" exclaimed Polly, for she'd never seen such strange-looking people before.

"We're in Cairo, Egypt," replied Gocomback.

"But what have you brought me here for?" laughed Polly.

"To visit that tailor shop," replied Gocomback, leading Polly through the strange, narrow streets to the entrance of a queer shop. Here three men in curious loose robes looked as if they were trying to stand on their heads, their white turbans flopping in the breeze.

"What are they trying to do?" asked Polly.

"Ironing," replied Gocomback. "See —their boards are raised a few inches from the floor. Their irons are shaped like your flat irons, except for the long handles. Of course you can see that those irons are a great deal larger.

"Each man places a block of wood on top of the iron and with his foot on it he guides the iron in the direction he wants it to go by means of the long handle. They iron fast and well, don't they? How would you like to iron that way?"

Polly laughed and shook her head, and then——

Gocomback blew on his tiny whistle again, and, quick as a wink, Polly was standing beside her own ironing board.

"No, I'd rather iron with my hands than with my feet," laughed Polly, "even of my wrists do get tired."

So she set to work again, and before she knew it her ironing was all finished.

Five Selected Recipes

Sultana Pudding.

Required—A quarter of a pound of suet well chopped and mixed with half a pound of flour and two ounces of bread crumbs. Add one teaspoonful of baking powder and a pinch of salt, and mix in half a pound of Sultanas. Beat up one egg in half a pint of milk, flavored with lemon or vanilla to taste. Mix all together, adding one tablespoonful of sugar. Turn into a greased dish and bake for about one hour and a half.

Belgian Biscuits.

Half a pound of flour, a quarter of a pound of butter and a quarter of a pound of sifted white sugar. Mix well together and make into a paste with one beaten egg. Roll out as thin as possible, cut into rounds with a cutter, and bake for about ten or fifteen minutes in a moderate oven. These biscuits will keep for several weeks in a close-fitting tin.

A Vegetarian Dish.

Having boiled a cabbage until tender, chop small and place it in a pie dish with little knobs of butter. Then cover with a layer of grated cheese and bake in the oven for half an hour.

Haricot Mutton.

Take the best end of a neck of mutton and cut it into chops, put them into a frying pan with some fat, and fry to a pale brown; cut two onions, two carrots and a turnip into dice; fry them in mutton fat, but do not let them brown. Put the vegetables and meat into a stew pan with just enough water to cover them; simmer for two hours, skim off all the fat, add a little catsup and some seasoning. This dish is best served very hot.

Beef Fritters.

Procure some cold beef, three-quarters of a pound of flour, half a pint of water, salt, pepper, half a small onion, two ounces of butter, two eggs and some lard or dripping. Mix the flour with the water until smooth, stir in the butter, which should be slightly melted, and the onion minced. Add the well-beaten whites of two eggs. Mince the beef finely, season with pepper and salt, stir it into the batter. Drop a teaspoonful of the mixture at a time into boiling dripping or lard. A few minutes only is required for frying the fritters.

To-morrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

FRIDAY, JUNE 21.

This is a day of rather complex influences, according to planetary testimonies. While it will predispose to great activity and energy, urging to large enterprise and initiative, there is an element of danger threatening to circumvent and undermine arising from some unexpected source or from some hidden enmities and treacherous machinations. Journeys, changes and removals which are not advantageous are indicated, and other probabilities call for a wise, cautious, well planned and sturdy administration of one's affairs in order to reap the strong benefits of the reigning good planetary influences and defeat the malignant.

Those whose birthday it is will have an active year, calling for the best skill and mentality in the guidance of affairs. Avoid travel and guard the domestic circle. A child born on this day will be quick, clever and enterprising, but should not be careless, indiscreet or erratic.

Some people seem to think that a vegetarian is a curiosity. A rough calculation shows that the population of the world, now estimated approximately at 1,600,000,000, is said to be divided as to dietetic habits about as follows: Strict vegetarians, 250,000,000; practically vegetarians, but eating a little fish of flesh, 450,000,000; eating meat about once a week (on high days and holidays), 500,000,000; eating meat daily and sometimes more than once a day, 400,000,000.

DIARY OF A FASHION MODEL

BY GRACE THORNCLIFFE.

She Learns Just How a Charming Afternoon Frock Is Made For Warm Days.

The very thing!" exclaimed Miss Hathaway, after Madame had pointed out the many advantages of a black afternoon dress. She was at first a bit reluctant to agree with Madame, advancing the theory that black was so warm-looking.

"But," Madame explained, "the dainty frillings offsets the 'warm look' to which you seem to object, and, besides, you will find charmeuse is very soft and not nearly so heat-absorbing as satin or other silky fabrics."

When Miss Hathaway slipped the dress on she looked perfectly stunning in the garment, which set off her Titian beauty to great advantage.

Madame said nothing at first. She stood off a ways, surveying the effect; then she remarked:

"You look cool enough. "How do you feel?"

Miss Hathaway smiled back:

"As comfortable as I look!"

A few minutes later Miss Hathaway was quite as enthusiastic about the frock as Madame, and she stalked around the studio, peeping into the mirrors, which reflected her at various angles.

"Do you know," she said in a confiding whisper to Madame, "this is the very first black dress I've ever had, and for a long time I've wanted one, but mother has always objected, saying, 'If you wear black, what color can I wear?'

"But I'm sure mother won't object to my wearing this dress, for it's so girlish, and, besides, the touch of blue ribbon and the white frilling add a bright note to its otherwise dark background."

The dress is one of black charmeuse, with open panels at the back and front of the skirt. The bottoms of the panels are finished with six rows of narrow silk cord.

Although the blouse is quite simple, the white organdie hemstitched frilling at the neck gives the blouse sufficient charm to require no additional trimming.

A wide girdle of its own material is definitely and effectively broken by the old-blue picot-edge ribbon, which encircles the waistline and ends in a large bow at the back of the dress.

The sleeve is quite plain, and is finished with the same white organdie hemstitched frilling and a small band of narrow, old blue, picot-edge ribbon tied in a coquettish bow at the wrist.

The old-blue and black combination was, indeed, a pretty setting for Miss Hathaway's fair skin and blue eyes—she made a stunning picture in the outfit.

"I know I can always depend on your taste," she said apologetically to Madame, as she was about to leave, "but sometimes I get notions into my head that have to be disproved before I'm willing to accept other ideas."

Madame smiled with satisfaction and pleasure, adding jokingly:

"Always glad to have your ideas, and to give you ours in exchange—if they're better. Good afternoon, Miss Hathaway."

FIVE BRITISH PLANES ROUTED 19 OF GERMANS

Brilliant Allied Aerial Victory Off the Coast of Belgium.

BAGGED THREE OF ENEMY

American Aviator Tells Story of Thrilling Half-Hour Engagement.

London, June 19.—In the fight off the Dutch coast on June 4, five British seaplanes of the largest type outfought nineteen German seaplanes. One of the enemy machines was sent down in flames and another driven down out of control, according to a description of the fight written for the Associated Press by Ensign K. B. Keyes, a United States naval aviator.

Previous to the encounter, one of the British machines had descended to make repairs, and the Germans set upon the four other machines protecting the injured one. Ensign Joseph Eaton, another American aviator, was on the injured machine, and he was subsequently interned in Holland. "Ensign Eaton and I were two Americans among the crews of five flying boats on a North Sea patrol," says Ensign Keyes. "West of Terschelling, Eaton's machine had to alight on the surface, owing to engine trouble. We stood by, circling in the air, and waiting for him to repair the damage. Soon five German airplanes hove in sight. We took battle formation and went for them. I was in the front cockpit with one gun and 400 rounds of ammunition. In the stern were three more guns and their operators. The Germans fled at our approach, but I had the satisfaction of getting several rounds into them, although it is impossible to say whether there were any effective hits.

Enemy Comes Back.

"After a time the enemy came circling back, but instead of five machines there were only four, one small scout having been sent landwards, presumably to bring help.

"Soon afterwards we discovered ten hostile machines coming up from an opposite direction. They were not high in the air, but close to the water, and were joined almost immediately by five more, making nineteen in all. The enemy scouts were painted black, while the two-seaters were sea-green and very hard to distinguish from the water.

"We four swung into battle formation again and charged into the middle of the enemy fleet. When we were nearly within range, four planes on the port side and five on the starboard rose to our level, while two of the enemy machines passed directly beneath us, shooting upward.

"The firing was incessant from the beginning, and the air was blue with smoke and the Germans' explosive bullets.

"Once I looked around and noticed my commander in a stooping position. I thought nothing of it, and later when I looked again and saw he was still in the same position, the truth dawned on me that he had been hit. Looking closer I saw his head was in a bloody pool.

A Running Fight.

"We kept a fine running fight, although our machine was cut off from the rest, and surrounded by seven enemy seaplanes. We fought for ten miles until we drove off seven Germans, sending one down out of control and crashing another in flames from a height of two thousand feet. The five other machines were severely punished by our gunfire.

"During the last few minutes our engine began stopping, and the engineer reported that the petrol pipe had broken. Meanwhile I had laid out the commander in the cockpit and taken his seat.

"The whole engagement lasted a half hour, and I think we did very well. Afterward my machine descended on to the water, where repairs were made and then returned to port. The whole flight lasted seven hours."

Ensign Eaton of Connecticut was interned in Holland on June 5, with other Allied aviators who descended on the Dutch territorial waters in the fight off Terschelling. Although his machine was damaged, Eaton was not hurt.

STREET CAR STRIKE AT WINDSOR ENDS IN CONDUCTORS' VICTORY

Row Started When Superintendent Refused To Put Ticket in Fare Box.

WINDSOR, June 19.—Trouble between a newly-appointed superintendent of the local street railway system and a conductor, who hapened to be a returned soldier, culminated in a complete tie-up of the entire plant at 11 o'clock this morning. From that hour not a wheel turned anywhere on the system, which included the interurban car lines to Amherstburg and Tecumseh.

At 7 o'clock tonight the street railway company admitted its defeat, and offered to reinstate the conductor and to pay him for all lost time. The offer was promptly accepted by the men, who thus gain a moral as well as a practical victory.

The cause of the strike was the action of Superintendent W. E. Hayes, who "fired" Conductor George Sanderson because the latter insisted that the superintendent put a ticket from his passbook in the fare-box on his car. Hayes, it is said, told the conductor he did not require to carry a passbook, being an official of the company. The conductor insisted, however, and the outcome was the discharge of Sanderson by the superintendent. Thirty minutes later every car on the system had ceased to operate. No violence was offered anywhere, the men quietly leaving the barns after bringing in their cars.

Shortly after 7 o'clock tonight the men in session at their hall were notified that the company had "reconsidered" its action in discharging Conductor Sanderson, and that he would be put back to work with pay for lost time. This announcement was greeted with cheers, but notwithstanding their victory the men declared they would not take their runs out until tomorrow morning.

The citizens meanwhile are using taxis when they can be obtained, but most of them are taking a short course in pedestrianism.

BRANTFORD'S MAYOR PLANS TO ORGANIZE PUBLIC UTILITIES

Street Railway Commissioners Refuse to Extend the Service.

BRANTFORD June 19.—Following a conference between city council representatives and the stret railway commission, Mayor MacBride announced today that he would organize the city for the establishment of a public utilities commission here. The fact that the street railway will have a deficit this year, and the commissioners have refused to extend the service in an effort to increase business, has aroused the ire of the mayor. The disagreement arose over the reopening of Mohawk Park and the double-tracking proposed.

The Brant county council adopted estimates for the year here today, which included for Red Cros $6,500, for patriotic funds $30,600, and for Y. M. C. A. $5,000, in six townships, a round sum of $100,000 has to be raised, as well as the provincial war tax. It was the opinion of the council that taxation was the fairer way to raise war funds and that the people p referred taxation to campaigns.

WENTWORTH FARMERS ON TOUR OF INSPECTION

KITCHENER, June 19.—About 100 farmers from Wentworth County arrived in Kitchener this afternoon, after having inspected the crops and farms in various parts of the country. This morning they visited the Brown farm near Preston, and A. C. Hallman's farm at Breslau, and this afternoon inspected the famous Baird dairy farm near Woodstock. The delegation is making a tour of Brant, Waterloo and Oxford Counties, and have been greatly pleased with the appearance of the crops and the substantial character of the farm houses and barns. They were under the direction of J. S. Knapp, district representative, and A. R. G. Smith. While in Kitchener the Wentworth delegation were officially welcomed to the county by Warden Oaks and the members of the county council.

SARNIA WOMEN HELD ON LARCENY CHARGE

DETROIT, June 19.—Mrs. Ironsides and Miss Minnie Sandals, both of Sarnia, were arrested here on a charge of larcency in down-town department stores. Mrs. Ironsides was apprehended by a clerk, who noticed that she repeatedly dropped gloves that were on display. When she remarked, "Oh, I have dropped my gloves," and proceeded to leave the store, the house detective was called and the two women were turned over to the police. Mrs. Ironsides gave the names of some of Sarnia's prominent businessmen as references, and claimed to be the possessor of oil stocks, a store and a car. The women were released today on their own recognizance.

WOODSTOCK LOSES SHIP'S CHRONOMETER

WOODSTOCK, June 19.—In a local jewelry store doorway for the past 30 years has been stationed a ship's chronometer which has regulated the time for thousands of people. This week a purchasing agent of the navy department was in the city and commandeered the instrument. Chronometers are made in England, and according to the navy representative, are very scarce at the present time.

GUNNER GILLIARD JOINS BENEDICTS

STRATFORD, June 19.—Gunner H. Gilliard, formerly boys' secretary at the local Y.M.C.A., was married at Hamilton today. His bride was Miss Violet Fulton of Hamilton.

Gunner Gilliard enlisted with the 67th Battery of Toronto, and is at present in the paymaster's office at Petawawa. Until he goes overseas the young couple will make their home in a cottage near the Petawawa Camp.

DEATH TAKES YOUNG BRIDEGROOM-TO-BE

BURGESVILLE, June 19.—Death cast a heavy gloom over the neighborhood when John Springer, Jun., died suddenly after only a half hour's illness. One of the saddest features of the death is that he was to have been married the first week in August to Miss Violet Stoakley.

Chicago, June 20.—Opening: Corn—July, $1 45; August, $1 46⅝.

Oats—July, 72⅝c; August, 68¼c.

Winnipeg, June 20.—Oats opened ⅛c to ¼c lower for July at 86¼@86⅛, and ¼c higher for October at 72⅝c.

Flax opened ⅞c higher for July at $3 78.

Inspections on Wednesday totaled 68 cars for all grains. The contract grades of wheat were 40 cars.

Chicago, June 20.—Official notice that the food administration license of commission merchants does not cover the carrying of cash gain for customers who are not licensed, brought about general selling today in the corn market. Prices declined sharply in consequence. Big receipts here tended also to weaken prices. Opening quotations, which ranged from ½c to 1⅝c lower, with July at $1 44⅝@1 45⅝, and August at $1 46⅛@1 46¾, were followed by an additional setback.

Oats, like corn, weakened owing to the food administration notice. Reports of excessive heat in the Southwest failed to check the down-turns. After opening ⅜c to 1½c lower, with July at 72½@72⅝c, the oats market rallied a little, but then sagged further than before.

WALL STREET.

New York, June 20—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Specialties were the chief features at the strong opening of today's stock market, although the whole list reflected the further favorable war news. Tobacco issues, notably United Cigars and Sumatra, rose 1 to 2½ points. Industrials of the war class were less active, but equipments, shippings and oils made irregular gains. Brooklyn Transit was the only heavy stock, losing 2¼ points. Rails lagged, except Reading and the secondary coalers. Liberty bonds were steady.

Noon.—Early promise of a general advance was not fulfilled, trading becoming very dull and prices somewhat higher before midday. General Motors reached 4 points, and Royal Dutch Oil dropped another 6 points for a total of 16 since Tuesday. Brooklyn Transit extended its decline to 4 points, and other utilities were under pressure, presumably because of the attitude taken by the war finance corporation.

GRAIN SUPPLIES OF THE AUSTRIANS HAVE COMPLETELY RUN OUT

Government Is Compelled to Reduce the Ration of Bread.

LONDON, June 19.—Austria's grain supplies have completely run out, and such food of this nature as she is getting is coming from what Germany has allotted to her from the Ukrainian supplies, according to indications in a Copenhagen dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company. This message, quoting an interview with Herr Paul, the Austrian food minister, obtained by the Vienna correspondent of the Berlin Tageblatt, in which the minister confirmed the news of the recent reduction in the Austrian ration. This, he said, was due to insufficient supplies from Bessarabia and Hungary.

The entire 1917 harvest from these sources had been distributed and consumed, the minister stated, and the Rumanian harvest had also been used up, bringing the entire process of replenishment to a full stop, the Government, therefore, being obliged to reduce the ration.

The supplies exported from the Ukraine were unsatisfactory in quantity, while the agreement that had been made with Germany several months ago, had been altered, with Germany taking over the entire distribution of the Ukrainian supplies.

BULGARS SHORT OF FOOD.

AMSTERDAM, June 19.—According to the Germania of Berlin the food situation in Bulgaria brought about Premier Radoslavoff's resignation.

The food problem in that country, the newspaper adds, is becoming increasingly difficult. Its supplies are entirely exhausted, and the nation is asking advances of grain to cover the time until the next harvest. The central powers, however, Germania declares, cannot give Bulgaria this aid to the extent desired.

WILL TAKE SOLDIERS FOR RIDES IN AUTOS

WOODSTOCK, June 19.—At a meeting of the Woodstock Motor League, the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, F. Millman; vice-president, Fred Karn; secretary-treasurer, B. Gale; executive committee, T. L. Hay, R. H. Reid, S. G. McKay, J. S. Meyers and H. Clayton. The league has decided to take steps to have the road between Woodstock and Ingersoll repaired, as it is in a disgraceful condition. The proposition of taking the inmates of the house of refuge and the returned soldiers for a ride occasionally was considered, and a committee was appointed to look after this matter.

BRUSSELS STABLES DESTROYED BY FIRE

BRUSSELS, June 19.—The first fire that Brussels has had for several years occurred here about 5 o'clock last evening, when the large stables in connection with the P. Ament factory were totally consumed, and nothing but the unceasing and untiring efforts of a host of helpers prevented the surrounding buildings, lumber piles, etc., from being burned. The fire started from a spark from the factory smokestack while the boiler flues were being blown out. The loss will be in the neighborhood of $3,000, with a small amount of insurance.

GRUB IS DESTROYING THE SUGAR BEETS IN VICINITY OF DUART

Many Acres of Fine Plants Are Being Plowed Under.

DUART, June 19.—Acres of sugar beets are being turned under and planted in beans and other crops. The beets promised a fine yield earlier in the spring, but, owing to the grub worms, which are very numerous in many fields, having created havoc among the tender plants, it has become unprofitable to cultivate and mature them.

The grub is of a dark grey color, and about an inch and a-half long. It burrows in the ground during the day and comes up at night to get in its destructive work, clipping the vegetable off at the ground. Old sod fields prove the worst as the decayed vegetation forms breeding places for the pest.

The worm is described as a half-brother to the army worm and nearly as destructive. They are also reported to be working among the sprouting corn.

LABOR MEN WILL ASK FOR CARS TO SPRINGBANK SUNDAY

Petitions Will Be Circulated in City Factories Shortly.

HELP TO MINISTERS CLAIM

Special Meetings at the Park Could Reach Non-Churchgoers, Is Said.

At a meeting of the Trades and Labor Council last evening a resolution was passed approving of Sunday cars to Springbank. Petitions will be issued by the labor men and will be circulated in the offices and factories of the city.

The following committee was chosen to issue the petitions and and look after the matter of Sunday cars to Springbank: Delegates Burk, Hessel, Scoyne, Fountain, Howarth, Vining, McArthur and Avey.

Delegate Scoyne said that it was not fair to the workers to have the men with automobiles enjoy Sunday at Springbank when the working man has to stay at home. He also added that the matter had been brought before the cigarmakers' local and that it had voted $5 to pay for the printing of the petitions.

Delegate Hessel said the Ministerial Alliance would oppose this move.

In Other Cities.

Delegate Peveler stated that in cities where there is a park the size of Springbank Park the ministers hold special meetings at those parks on Sunday, and they reach many people they would be unable to speak to in the churches. He stated that he thought the ministers would not object to this move.

President Dean stated that London was getting to be a large enough city to have a park open on Sunday, and that it was a shame that a beautiful park like Springbank could not be used on Sunday.

"The people who can afford it can go to Port Stanley on Sunday afternoon, but why shouldn't the workingman be allowed to go to Springbank on Sunday?" he said.

Delegate Hessel asked the members of the council to help make the church parade which will be held on the first Sunday in September a success, and said that by all members of the unions turning out they can fill St. Andrew's Church.

Delegate Scoyne reported that the Label League is growing rapidly.

Delegate Hessel recommended progress in connection with the fire department investigation.

Labor Day Picnic.

The following committee was appointed to look after the Labor Day picnic preparations:

Printing Committee—G. F. W. McKay, president, Fred Allen and J. Howath.

Sports Committee—D. Wright, president, Delegates Hessel; Campbell, Pebbler, Bollen and Sergt. Lucas.

Refreshment Committee—Delegate Jackson, president, Delegates Claire and Steele.

Band Committee—Delegate Secker, president, Delegates Pte. Fred Young and Delegate Burk.

Gate Committee—Delegate Vining, president, Delegates Collier and Burk.

C. C. Ferguson was appointed chairman of the Labor Day committees.

Natural Gas.

The council discussed the natural gas question at length, but it was decided to leave the matter with No. 1 committee. Delegate Hessel said that the people outside of the city have been using natural gas for some time and find it very satisfactory. When the citizens of London were out looking for coal last winter and were willing to buy it at any price the people who were using natural gas were very comfortable and had no trouble. He also added that he was on a special committee that investigated the homes in the suburbs using natural gas, and he found that the people were well satisfied with it.

Delegate Cummings said iot wasn't the matter of having natural gas, but it should not be mixed with artificial gas and the same price charged for it.

Price Too High.

Delegate Buchanan said: "We are out for natural gas under municipal ownership, but we are not willing to pay 90c for it."

President Dean said he could not see how men could work in a factory where it is used in this city for eight or nine hours a day and not make a complaint, and when it was planned to use it in their home object.

Delegate Burk said that Russians were working in factories in this city for fourteen and fifteen hours a day, and the same men when approached by the Dominion police were given a few days to get their papers. They were protected by the employer and were taken to a lawyer to secure papers. He also said that Russians in this city who work in factories were asked why they did not join the labor unions, and said they belonged to a union in Chicago, and when they were asked if it was the I.W.W., they replied, yes.

TRAIN SOLDIERS AS WATCHMAKERS, JEWELERS' ADVICE

Resolution Will Be Sent to the Department of Education.

TARIFF ILL-CONSIDERED

Government Regulations Are Scored at Retail Men's District Convention.

A resolution urging the department of education and those in charge of the various vocational training schools for returned soldiers to adopt a course of instruction in watchmaking and the jeweler's craft was unanimously passed at the second annual convention of the Western Ontario Retail Jewelers' Association, held in Duffield Block, with W. G. Young presiding, on Wednesday afternoon. This action was taken on the recommendation of Thomas Roden of Toronto, at the close of his address on the question of securing future mechanics for service in the jewelry trade.

Mr. Roden, after graphically picturing the period of his own apprenticeship, when boys were glad to work for the first six months of their apprenticeship with no remuneration, in order to have a chance to learn the trade, drew attention to the changed conditions.

Conditions Change.

"The condition is very different in these days. New standards have been set up, and the situation is very difficult. Unless the dignity of the mechanic's calling is recognized in Canada the country will eventually become the property of foreigners, who realize the needs of the manufacturers as regards capable help."

The parents are at fault, as well as the boys, for the existing conditions, said the speaker. Boys are encouraged to enter the professions rather than learn the jewelry trade. Girls cannot take the boys' places in mechanical work, as they are not settled enough. They cannot be beaten in financial institutions and similar places, however.

The two methods of overcoming the scarcity of mechanics outlined are the encouragement of technical schools and vocational schools for returned men. From these two sources the future jewelers will be drawn. To encourage the soldiers the speaker suggested that a few scholarships could be offered for progress made in a certain time in the vocational schools.

Dwelling on the value of industrial development, he emphasized the importance of scientific research to this end, and urged his hearers to give all possible aid to this work.

Deals With Tariff.

The tariff was touched upon lightly by Mr. Roden, being upheld by him as necessary for the proper equalization of living conditions.

E. J. Nelson of St. Thomas gave, for the benefit the members, his experience with the new price list. The spirit of comradeship and good-fellowship, and perfect confidence that had been created among the jewelers was emphasized by the speaker. That the members of the association were dependent on each other was also pointed out.

Recent Government legislation affecting the trade was dealt with by M. C. Ellis, Toronto. "The legislation affecting our trade was not brought about by the hysterical cries of the populace denouncing it as non-essential. The Government is too wise for that; it needs the money, and we must neither knock nor grumble, but do our bit cheerfully." There is no legitimate industry that is non-essential, and as for luxury, that is a relative term, in the speaker's opinion. The manufacture of war munitions that are so essential today will, after the war, be considered as quite the reverse.

Was Ill-Considered.

"The legislation was hasty and ill-considered. A great deal of inconvenience and much misunderstanding would not have been the result of the Government had taken the jewelers into its confidence. The trade will not be prejudicially affected, however. After all, our first duty is the winning of the war, and we, as jewelers, are not behind any other body of men in patriotism."

Mr. Ellis explained minutely the terms of the taxation to the members present. He regretted the fact that they had not been able to have the $1,000 exemption apply to all jewelers, and not only, as it does now, to the smaller ones. As it stands now, all who have on hand less than $1,000 of taxable jewelry which was bought between October 1, 1917, and May 31, 1918, are exempt from the retroactive tax. The jeweler who has $1,005 worth bought in the same period pays a tax on the total amount, instead of the surplus over $1,000. The opinion was expressed that this was not just.

Organization Work.

O. M. Ross of Toronto gave a paper dealing with organization. In connection with the tax recently placed on jewelry he had heard it said that the tax had been made retroactive in response to the request of the manufacturers. That this could not have been possible, as the nature of the tax was not known by them until the bill was brought before the House, was pointed out. A permanent committee should be appointed to watch future legislation, the speaker thought. A permanent secretary was also suggested by Mr. Ellis. A resolution was unanimously passed pledging the support of the Western Ontario Retail Jewelers' Association towards the forming of a permanent organization.

The necessity of better methods in the jewelry business was taken by M. M. Cohen of Toronto. The greater patronage of trade journals, efficient accounting methods, and effective advertising, were emphasized as some of the essentials necessary. "This is the time when all leaks should be stopped and business energy be most efficiently employed."

The value of local association groups was discussed in brief speeches by Messrs. Kline of Hamilton, Barr of Sarnia, Waters of Ingersoll, Morrison of Chatham, and J. S. Barnard of London.

Other routine business was disposed of by the association.

Officers Re-Elected.

All officers were unanimously re-elected for the ensuing year. George Kline of Hamilton voiced the sentiments of the association when he declared that it could do no better than re-elect the present officeholders, and the motion unanimously carried.

The officers are: President, W. G. Young, London; first vice-president, C. H. Hepinstal, St. Thomas; second vice-president, H. Richardson, Ingersoll; treasurer, J. S. Barnard, London; secretary, Gordon McLaren, Hamilton.

Following the election of officers the jewelers and their guests adjourned to Springbank Park, where they were the guests of the London Jewelers' Club. The first sporting event was the baseball game, London jewelers vs. the outside jewelers. The latter won, 18 to 13, despite the slants dished up by J. A. Nash for the Londons, and the work of J. A. Collinson behind the bat.

Boxing in barrels provided amusement to all visitors.

Banquet Guests.

A banquet was tendered the association members in the pavilion by the London Jewelers' Club. John S. Barnard, president, presided, and acted as toastmaster. The toast of "Canada" was responded to by M. C. Ellis of Toronto. That of "The Association" brought replies from Messrs. Stewart Lees of Hamilton, Patterson of Sault Ste. Marie and Barr of Stratford. Other speakers included O. M. Ross, of the Trader, Toronto, who replied to the toast, "The Trade Journal."

Votes of appreciation to the London club and to the local manufacturers and jobbers, who were the hosts at the noon luncheon given at Smallman & Ingram's, were passed during the sessions.

The meeting was attended by more than 150 out-of-town and local jewelers, and was on every hand regarded as an unqualified success.

MAJESTIC

W. S. Hart, in "Selfish Yates," at the Majestic Again Today.

Appearing in a new and novel characterization, William S. Hart, the popular Thomas H. Ince Artcraft star, was seen in "Selfish Yates," his latest production, at the Majestic Theatre yesterday.

"Selfish Yates" in a dive-keeper and salconist in Thirsty Centre, a mining town in the mountains of Arizona. He prides himself upon the fact that he is selfish, and that his reputation stands proudly upon an eminence of self-esteem. He thinks of no one but himself, and his motto is to look after his individual interest first and let the devil take the hindmost.

One day Mary Adams, with her little sister Betty, drives into the town in a prairie-schooner. Yates is annoyed at their intrusion mainly because he realizes that Mary is a woman who has nothing in common with the bedizened, degraded females so frequent in his dance hall. She appeals to him for work, and he contemptuously turns her over to his Chinese cook to serve as scrub-woman, and he is intensely annoyed when she thanks him tearfully for this opportunity to earn her humble livelihood, to the end that Betty's feeble health may be restored.

In the dance hall, while scrubbing early one morning, she sees an organ, and playing "Nearer My God to Thee," the soft strains reach Yates and awaken him. He angrily upbraids her for destroying his rest and peace of mind, and when she turns from him in contempt he is unable to analyze the peculiar sensations that overcome him when in Mary's presence.

W. S. HART, featured in "Selfish Yates," his latest success, showing at the Majestic again today.

The story is one of unusual interest, and the reformation of "Selfish Yates" through the power of this simple girl is a remarkable performance.

BRITISH TOMMY IS WITHOUT FEAR, SAYS MAJOR W. J. HEAMAN

Exeter Officer Arrives Home After Two Years' Service.

PRAISES "Y" WORKERS

Says Their Heroism Equal to Any Displayed at the Front.

"It isn't any disparagement to the Canadian soldier to say there is no finer fighting man on earth than the British Tommy," said Major W. J. Heaman of Exeter, to The Advertiser, last evening, shortly after his arrival in town, following an absence of nearly two years years overseas.

Major Heaman was with the imperial forces, the third army, in France, from June, 1916, until he was severely injured in February of this year, and he knows the Tommy he is talking about.

"The British Tommy," he continued, "is absolutely without fear. He takes everything most philosophically. I have seen him rolled up in his blanket in his hut, as happy as if he were housed in a palace. His patience is infinite, and that is why he stands up so well under the long, wearying strain of waiting in the trenches. The Canadians should be useful as 'shock forces,' then sent back till another big show is on. That is where the Canadiins are at their best, when there is something big doing. While they haven't the patience of the Tommy, they shine in initiative. When Tommy takes his objective he is satisfied he has done his bit and accomplished the task set him. The Canadian, on the other hand, wants to know why he can't go on farther."

"When is it all going to end?" was the inevitable question which popped out.

"Not For a Year Or So."

"That's what nobody can tell," replied Major Heaman. "Of course, it is going to make a difference in the duration of the war with all these Americans in the field. Last November we heard there were 500,000 over, but that probably was a big estimate. Before leaving for this side, the figures I heard were 800,000. In any case, they are now holding a part of the line and from all indications the American fighter is like the Canadian in initiative, eagerness and resourcefulness. Over in England the same confidence in regard to the final victory prevails that has always been manifest there.'

Two days before landing on this side passengers on the boat on which Major Heaman came over were warned to put on their life belts, though not a sub poked its periscope out of the water in the neighborhood of the ship as far as he knew all the way over.

Major Heaman went overseas in September, 1916, with the 161st (Huron) Battalion, which, like the 160th of Bruce County, became a part of the famous 5th division. In order to get to the front, Major Heaman accepted a commission with lieutenant's pay in the Imperial forces, though retaining the title of major.

Making Improvements.

With reference to conditions in the camps in both England and France, he referred to the improvements that are being inaugurated all the time for the welfare of the men. Special mention was made of the university extension courses available, the classes in various branches which have been established and the service rendered by the Y.M.C.A.

"I don't know about the work of the Canadian Y.M.C.A. in France," he said, "but I have a vivid recollection of November 20, when the first big Canadian show was on. A British Y.M.C.A. secretary stood out in an exposed place serving hot drinks to all the wounded as they came or were brought back. It took as much courage and forgetfulness of self to do that as anything I witnessed at the front."

Chaplains' Work.

Major Heaman also mentioned the work of the chaplains, paying a special tribute to Capt. Rev. Principal MacKinnon of Halifax Theological College, one of the prominent speakers of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Canada, which closed the end of last week in this city.

Expressing his regret that he had missed Capt. MacKinnon: "He was attached as our chaplain shortly after we went over," he said, adding, "We wondered why a Nova Scotia man should be given the job of chaplain for a Western Ontario unit, but he hadn't been with us more than four or five days before we discovered he was a real man, about the finest kind we had ever come across. Any of our men would have done anything in the world for him."

After spending the night in town, visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs William Heaman, and his brother, A. M. Heaman, Major Heaman went on this morning to his home in Exeter, accompanied by his wife who came down to London to meet him.

Little Miss Evans appears in this picture in the part of Eileen Homer, a dear little girl who has lost her mother and who is extremely anxious to secure again the loving care and kindness which only a mother can give her. This desire on her part leads to many surprising adventures and concludes in a manner decidedly satisfactory to Eileen and to every person who sees this picture.

Many of the scenes were taken in Florida, where Madge and the entire company were sent especially for the filming of these scenes, and as would be expected these portions of the production are rarely beautiful. But, for that matter, the whole picture is a beautiful production—beautiful in story, beautiful in scenic effects and beautiful in the way that it is acted.

In addition to this feature photoplay will be shown an Ebony comedy, "A Milk Fed Hero," and a Judge Willis Brown story, "The Preacher's Son."

In vaudeville, "The Tiller Sisters," will render a number of popular songs.

RETURNED SOLDIERS FROM SANATORIUM HAD SPLENDID OUTING

Picnicked and Had Supper at Maplehurst Farm.

A party of 132 returned soldiers from the Byron Sanatorium had a most enjoyable auto ride and picnic yesterday afternoon. Their objective was "Maplehurst Farm," owned by D. L. Graham of concession 9 of Lobo, and after leaving the sanatorium the party motored through Kilworth to Komoka and Poplar Hill, and thence to Mr. Graham's farm, which he had offered to the soldiers for an outing. After enjoying themselves about the farm and grove for a while the soldiers sat down to a splendid luncheon, which was provided for them by the members of the Thistle Club. They then started on the return trip, coming to London through Coldstream and Ilderton and in on the proof line road.

Thirty-four autos were provided by the following auto firms and citizens: Universal Motor Sales and Reliance Garage, Sir George Gibbons, Bert Hookway, A. E. Barbour, F. Grant, V. Colgan, W. E. Keely, Rev. Louis Barber, P. B. Fetterley, Capt. Shuttleworth, W. Guffin, W. E. Moore, I. B. Wright, T. N. Heard, F. Norton, F. J. Brown, Dr. J. Stapleton, N. M. Williams, H. W. Lewis, R. Durst, W. Bowes and F. Smith.

The arrangements for the outing were made by Fred L. Smith, chairman of the Byron Sanatorium committee. The soldiers themselves have formed a committee for looking after the arrangements in connection with loading the cars, etc., and everything went through yesterday without the slightest hitch.

A treat for the men that was much appreciated was provided through the generosity of R. C. Struthers, who made a donation for the purchase of cigarettes.
