GOUIN WAS GONE JEROME'S TRIP FRUITLESS

Attempt to Influence Quebec's Premier to Assist in Thaw's Deportation Dismal Failure, and Prisoner's Lawyers Rejoice Chauffeur Thompson to Appear in Court To-Day.

[Canadian Press Despatch] SHERBROOKE, Que., Aug. 29.—Harry K. Thaw's lawyers, successful so far in keeping their client in jail, said from the immigration authorities, rejoiced last night when they received word from Quebec that the trip of Wm. Travers Jerome to see Sir Lomer Gouin, premier and attorney-general, had been in vain.

Mr. Jerome, leader of the New York State force seeking Thaw's return to Matteawan, accompanied by Deputy Attorney-General Franklin Kennedy, left here last night hoping to lay before the premier facts that would persuade him to sweep aside the commitment on which Thaw is held in Sherbrooke, and place him in the hands of the immigration authorities. Presumably Mr. Jerome did not think that the premier was to leave Quebec for New York to join those paying tribute to Lord Haldane, who is to arrive there from England today.

Similarly this fact was not known to Louis St. Laurent, engaged by the Thaws to defend "Gentleman Roger" Thompson, the chauffeur. Although concerning himself chiefly with the Thompson case, Mr. St. Laurent is a resident of Quebec, and is a supporter of the premier, and he was despatched thither, it was understood, to use whatever influence he could bring to bear against the premier taking any action in the Thaw case at this time. He will return here today to defend Thompson when the latter is arraigned before Magistrate Mulvena on a charge of aiding an undesirable to cross the frontier. If Thompson can prove he is a British subject he cannot be deported, but he can be fined a maximum sum of $500 or imprisoned for three months.

Thompson said last night that he would plead not guilty and absolutely would not "sneak" as to the details of Thaw's delivery from Matteawan. It is doubtless necessary for the prosecution to prove Thaw insane before they can establish that he is an undesirable alien and thus sustain the charge against Thompson. If this is the case the Thompson trial may go over until aliens are examined at St. John's Bay.

Woman Detective To Stop Smuggling

Niagara Falls Ladies are Complaining of Activity of Custom Officials. [Canadian Press Despatch] NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Aug. 29. Residents of this city are complaining of the over-zealousness of the Canadian Customs officials. They have suddenly become more alert than heretofore and especially with the women on an article costing $1. The women of this city occasionally buy small articles on the American side, and when questioned about it are taxed 25 cents duty. Another was compelled to pay 60 cents on an article costing $1. The collector of Customs has Mrs. Ogilvie attached to the Toronto office. She is stationed on the upper bridge. She was here during the Christmas holiday last year.

Premier Asquith Attacked By Militant Suffragettes

Miss Asquith Defended Her Father With Spirit Until Detectives Arrive—Offenders Are Arrested.

[Canadian Press Despatch] ELGIN, Scotland, Aug. 29.—The British Prime Minister was the object of an attack this afternoon, in which his chivalry restrained him from adequately defending himself. While he was going with his daughter to the Lossiemouth links two stalwart suffragettes, who had quietly come up to the green, sprang at him suddenly. They knocked off his hat, grabbed him by the clothing and dragged him some distance over the ground. The Prime Minister bore his rough treatment placidly, and refrained from using force to make them desist, while they implored him to give their name or address. Miss Asquith resumed play after the suffragettes had been hauled off him, and was loudly cheered when he reached the last green.

TOUCHES LIVE WIRE, INSTANTLY KILLED

Chief Electrician of the Traction Company Meets Death at St. Thomas

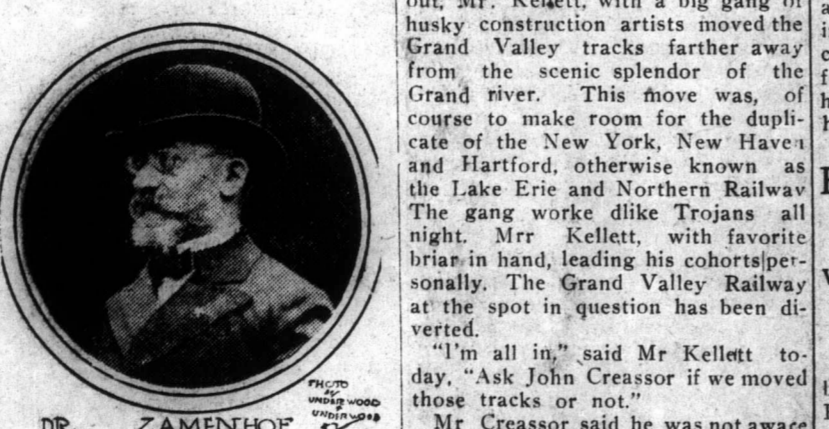

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 29.—Standing on the transformer at the sub-station of the traction company and using a fuse frame to relieve a high tension fuse, Alfred S. Balsden, chief electrician of the company, touched a high tension wire and was instantly electrocuted, 13,000 voltage passing through the body. He dropped from the frame with only a slight burn on the hand after receiving the shock. Mr. Balsden came to St. Thomas from Shedden and was at one time superintendent of the St. Thomas street railway. About a year ago he entered the service of the traction company. He is survived by a wife and child.

THEY WAITED AT THE CHURCH

[Canadian Press Despatch] MONTREAL, Que., Aug. 29.—For three quarters of an hour yesterday afternoon guests invited to attend the wedding in Christ Church, of H. C. Morley and Miss E. Brook, late of Bournemouth, England, waited in vain for the appearance of the bride party. At half past two friends of both parties were in the church and everything was ready for the ceremony which had been planned for that hour. Rev. Dr. Symonds, vicar of the church had returned from his vacation in order to unite the couple in the bonds of matrimony, while Rev. Mr. McGreer, the curate was to act as best man to the groom. Minutes passed without the arrival of either the bridegroom or his fiancée and the friends waited impatiently until a sidesman finally appeared and announced the necessity of putting the function forward to a later date. The surprise was complete and the guests filed out in silence. The groom had been ill and was seized with a relapse just previous to the hour set for the wedding.

Buildings at Exhibition Grounds Are Destroyed To-day.

[Canadian Press Despatch] LONDON, Ont., Aug. 29.—Reduced to ashes by an incendiary fire that made a clean sweep of every structure on the Campbell street side of the fair grounds as far east as the grand stand, five of the Western Fair buildings were destroyed early this morning with a loss of $100,000. The cement building, the L shaped machinery hall, the transportation building, the main horse stable and the W. G. T. U. dining hall fell victims to the flames that ate the frame structures with a voraciousness that defied the efforts of the fire department to stop the running, leaping sheet of flames.

Lightning Played Havoc For an Hour Last Night

Barns Burnt and Cattle Were Stricken in the Fields—Serious Damage Reported in Many Near-by Sections.

Lightning played havoc with things in general last night for the space of an hour, and the city was in darkness for a considerable period. Considerable damage is reported from the country and residents were able to see in the sky reflections of at least two fires which were, however, a considerable distance from the city.

Some of the Damage.

The large barn of Merritt Crumback of East Oakland, was struck by lightning last evening and burned to the ground. The loss will be heavy as he had just placed this year's crop in the barn.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT IN ALBERTA PROVINCE

Grain Yield 30 Per Cent. Heavier Increase in Live Stock. [Canadian Press Despatch] CALGARY, Alb., Aug. 29.—According to recent reports compiled by the Calgary Credit Men's Association covering all the southern portion of the province, and as far north as Stettler, the grain yield will be about 30 per cent in excess of last year and will be practically all marketable. Tremendous increases in mixed farming output are reported; for instance, Lethbridge district, which last year shipped 50,000 hogs, will this year market 450,000. It is expected that the hog output of the province will be considerably in excess of one million head, as compared with 200,000 last year.

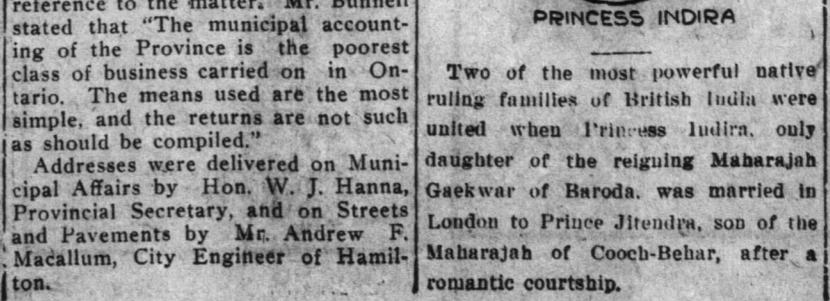

BAD ITALIAN ON A RAMPAGE

CEDARS, Que., Aug. 29.—Posses are out in all directions scouring the country for Dominique Macanno, an Italian storekeeper at Cedar Rapids who yesterday shot and seriously wounded George Denis, later making his escape on a horse which he stole from a neighbor. The provincial detectives and the Montreal authorities have been notified and officers have been sent here to join in the pursuit.

An Increase of 1,000 in the Last Year—Many From Old Country. GUELPH, Aug. 29.—City Assessor Hastings estimates that when he has figured up all the returns they will show an increase of over 1,000 in the population, and at least three-quarters of a million dollars increase in assessment. An increase of 1,000 in the population would bring it up to the 16,400 mark. A large percentage of the newcomers to the city in the last year are Old Country people.

BRITAIN FEARS THE WORST IN MEXICO

Can't See Where Policy of Wilson Can Be Carried Out With Any Degree of Success—There Must Be Intervention—Latest News To-day Regarding Tense Situation.

[Canadian Press Despatch] LONDON, Aug. 29.—The London morning papers continue to find the reason for encouragement in the situation between Mexico and the United States, and express the strongest doubt as to the wisdom of President Wilson's policy, mainly on the ground that Mexico is not yet fitted for democratic government.

The Daily Telegraph fails to see how even the acceptance of Mr. Wilson's conditions by General Huerta would operate to bring about peace and security in Mexico, and contends that whether wise or unwise, the refusal of the United States to recognize the Huerta administration, has created an unfortunate situation. Referring to Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson's advocacy of recognition, and the fact that the Mexican congress, although it was "made" by Madero, nevertheless acquiesced in Huerta's government, the Telegraph says that it is difficult to avoid the conclusion that President Wilson's demands bear rather hardly on the Huerta government, suggesting that the American antagonism to Huerta is due to the belief that he is a confirmed enemy to American interests, while Madero always proclaimed himself a champion of those interests.

Exhibition Attendance.

Aug. 29. Warm words of praise were expressed by the live stock men at the Exhibition yesterday. Judging of horses, cattle and sheep commenced, and all the entries had to be in place. It was the first acquaintance that many of the exhibitors had of the new live stock buildings and equipment, and throughout the whole section not a word of disapproval was heard. The enlargement and reorganization of this department has had an immediate and appreciative response on the part of the men who have worked under disabilities for a number of years. The quality of cattle shown is the highest that has ever been seen in Canada. The breeders themselves are delighted, and are pointing enthusiastically to the fact that several cattle that won sweepstakes prizes at Chicago and other large shows have been beaten this year in Toronto.

The rain of yesterday put the brakes temporarily on the splendid gains that have been made in attendance, but the miles of permanent roadways, the clean cattle sheds and the new live stock arcade all proved their worth, and enabled the crowd to go from place to place in comparative comfort. The new cattle judging ring, situated in the centre of the sheds, facilitated the work of the judges and prevented delays as different classes had to be brought in. The sporting program is now well under way, and the motor-bus races are enjoying increasing popularity.

THAWISMS.

Canada recently has been struck with Thawisms, a peculiar form of epidemic which it is said means a harvest for lawyers and doctors. The Canadian press has also been stricken and the various forms of attack are interesting. The Courier reproduces to-day some sidelight diagnoses of the epidemic, at the same time remarking that were it not for a continental public demand, a quarantine would be established forthwith on Thawisms, which would be the most cruel punishment Harry K. has had since they assigned him to Matteawan for life. Here are some extracts:

Toronto Telegram: A Canadian free-press is the only thing to apply to the Thaw conditions in Quebec. Guelph Mercury: The man who helped Thaw escape from Matteawan is a native of Toronto. On hearing this Hogtown's chest swelled to the extent of ripping off a couple of buttons.

Ottawa Journal: In the desire to get Mr. Thaw, New York State appears to be absolutely unrivalled by any other community.

The longer Thaw remains in Canada the more likely that an impression will travel abroad that money talks with a loud voice in the courts of this country as well as in the United States.

Toronto Star: Thaw has no right to be in Canada. Put him out. It is up to the Government to see that he is as promptly ejected as if money were not talking for him.

Guelph Herald: Lawyer Jerome expects a long fight. He evidently comprehends that Canadian lawyers are going to make the job as good a paying one as it is possible to make it.

Canada's anxiety to get rid of Thaw is only equalled by the lawyers' desire to hang on to him as long as possible.

Montreal Telegraph: As long as the Thaw millions are flowing freely, Harry K. Thaw may be sure that a certain number of people can be got to regard him as a noble-minded and persecuted martyr.

Ottawa Journal: Was it the lawyers or the doctors who saw Harry Thaw first?

Exchange: State Attorney Jerome says the name of Thaw makes him sick. Thaw probably has the same sensation in regard to Jerome.

New York World: 1. One man walks up to another in a crowded roof-garden and in cold blood and without any plea of self-defence shoots him dead.

2. He is saved from electrocution on the ground that he is criminally insane with a form of insanity admitted to be incurable.

3. He is locked up in an asylum for the dangerously insane.

4. He escaped to Canada.

5. And now learned lawyers contend that a conviction of homicidal insanity amounts to nothing more than an acquittal of murder.

This is probably perfectly good lawyers' law, but in laymen's minds it precipitates the question: Which is the more dangerous criminal maniac in a case like this—Thaw or the Law?

New York Evening Post: Canada, with Thaw, begins a decade of great prosperity. We say a decade because Canadian legal procedure thus far has shown itself so startlingly like our own that we are safe in supposing it will be 10 years before the question of Thaw's legal profession and the allied profession of criminal psychiatry are booming. In Canadian private detective circles an exceptional harvest is confidently predicted. The suggestion that Mr. Thaw become a Canadian land holder in order to frustrate deportation has mobilized an army of real estate agents who have been idle since the slackening of the boom in Alberta and Saskatchewan. Because of Mr. Thaw's announced intention to enter upon a campaign of publicity, the Canadian newspapers have placed orders for additional sextuple presses. One can only touch upon the fertilizing influence of the Thaw money in the minor industries—the moving picture industry, the jail delivery industry, the automobile industry, the florist industry which would never be what it is if assassins and degenerates were not to have their cells brightened with a daily bunch of sweet peas. How Mr. Lloyd George must be wishing himself to be Canadian Chancellor of the Exchequer with power to clap a super tax on all incomes derive from Thaw.

And speaking of the legal skirmishes at Sherbrooke and court room cheering, Canadians had just commenced to show pride in the legal despatch with which Thaw was to be treated, when a madman populace cheering a lunatic and a murderer jaffred the finer susceptibilities of every decent minded inhabitant of the Dominion. The remonstrance of Judge Globensky, followed by the studied sarcasm of Jerome as to the dignity which pervades Canadian courts, was really enough to make Canadians heartily ashamed. Judging from the exhibition in the Sherbrooke court room, Canada seems to be suffering an age of Thaws quite as bad as our next door neighbor.

INFLUENCE OF THE "MOVIES." Not long ago the Mint was working overtime turning out nickels. Report had it that the demand for small coin was caused by the growing popularity of the five cent shows, better known as the "movies."

A writer in the current issue of the "American" magazine estimates that no fewer than twenty millions of people attend the "movies" daily or nightly, in the United States alone. Where will it end? Thomas A. Edison, who is given to thinking and has something to think with, says it will end in the abolition of the regular theatrical performance for a combined moving picture and photographic effect.

In this matter it is not hard to find reason to disagree with Mr. Edison. The appeal of the "movies" lies in the cheapness, novelty, variety, and rapidity of the performance. But they touch a new chord in the public breast, and they do not make the same appeal as a play presented by living, breathing characters. The audience watching a moving picture film seldom, if ever applauds, rarely laughs and never hisses the actors. Why? Because one cannot impress a film. There is no human response. Whenever there is a demonstration on the part of the audience it is intended for the manager of the play house. It either flatters or condemns his business judgment.

The actors in a moving picture play are fleeting phantoms. One cannot rotten-egg or carrot them. Admirers cannot present flowers to the leading lady and then bask in her smiles.

Johnnies may not wait at the stage door for her. One gets what he goes to see—a moving picture of a play a dulled sensation of the real inspiration of dramatic art. Vaudeville can hardly ever be faithfully presented by the "movies." Part of the enjoyment of watching difficult and skilful feats comes from the possibility that the performer will fail. This appealing uncertainty would be removed in moving picture vaudeville. Only actually completed and well rounded feats would be shown.

There is room in the world both for the "movies" and the regular theatrical performance. Both will continue to attract their patrons. Neither should be seriously hurt as regards attendance by the other. Pictures of dramatic art should awaken the desire to see the real thing, as pictures of scenery attract tourists to visit far-off places. The betting is that the "movies" will help to turn more of the crowd into the larger theatres.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Before the Senate is reformed or abolished, is it correct to call Canada a self-governing dominion?

The German Emperor has finally broken with Bismarckian traditions. He has gone on the water wagon.

Harry Thaw's publicity efforts seem to bear about as much fruit as those of our own Publicity Commissioner, C.N.H. Emmerson.

Major Leonard, of St. Catharines, has built a large number of houses for the wrens. They are all wanted for the season—Toronto Star.

This summer's fools have only a few days left in which to rock the boat, fall into the river, tip the canoe or find out that the gun is loaded.

Soon the Western harvest will all be reaped, and the annual demand of the West for men will be replaced by the everlasting demand of the West for women.

The Dominion Alliance is spoiling for another fight, not being satisfied with the wallowing it received in North Grey, and is now "poking its nose" into the East York bye-election, having resulted in favor of the Grit candidate. Mr. Henry, the Conservative, is a fine citizen and a credit to any party, and there is no excuse for the Alliance opposition except that he is a Conservative. The temperance cause along such lines as these can never succeed.

The Methodists and Presbyterians in Dryden, Ont., are going ahead with a church union experiment. A new building has been erected which is a creditable structure for a town the size of Dryden. A committee of four from both denominations has been appointed to have charge of the union church. A little actual experience in this line will be worth more in determining the feasibility of church union than all the theories that the leading lights of both sides could expound in a lifetime.

Important Clew. VANCOUVER, B.C., Aug. 29.—An important clew has been obtained by the detective department with regard to the disappearance of the gold belt belonging to Freddie Welsh, champion lightweight fighter, which was stolen from a tobacco store at English Bay. It is believed in many quarters however, that the belt has already been put through the crucible but the theory of the police is that it will be held for the purpose of the reward that will be offered for its recovery.

Charges Investigated. VANCOUVER, B.C., Aug. 29.—An investigation into charges preferred against the head of the city water department by one of the aldermen was started yesterday by a special committee of the city council. The charges included malfeasance, the allegation being that the official padded payrolls in respect to two chauffeurs who drive his automobiles.

A luncheon in his honor by the Pilgrims of New York had to be abandoned owing to the short time the Lord High Chancellor will be in New York.

After his interview Viscount Haldane and party will be taken by the reception committee on a sight-seeing tour of New York, which will last most of the afternoon. This evening the visitors will be the dinner guests of Mr. Severance at the Metropolitan club. At ten o'clock to-morrow morning, Viscount Haldane with Dr. and Mrs. Nicholas Murray Butler will go on board J. P. Morgan's yacht Corsair and steam up the Hudson River, where the Lord High Chancellor, who was formerly the British Secretary of War, will be received with military honors by Col. Townsley, the superintendent of the West Point Military Academy and the tactical and academic staffs of the institution. At West Point the party will be joined by Charles J. Doherty, the Canadian Minister of Justice.

After a reception at the home of Colonel Townsley, followed by a review of the corps of cadets, Lord Haldane and party will leave for Albany, over the West Shore Railroad, traveling in the private car of President Loree of the Delaware and Hudson Railroad. The party will remain in Albany three hours and will leave that city for Montreal at 11 p.m.

Tuesday morning, Lord Haldane leaves Montreal for New York, arriving here at 10 o'clock that night. At 10 o'clock next Wednesday morning he will sail for home on the Lusitania. Fellow passengers of Viscount Haldane on the Lusitania, coming over now are Associate Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes of Supreme Court of the United States and Lord Strathcona, the Canadian High Commissioner in London.

With the City Police

Only three cases, including two drunk charges, came before Magistrate Livingston for settlement this morning, but despite that fact the session was a lengthy one.

Considerable difficulty was experienced by the Court officials in travelling the peculiar circumstances in connection with the accident which befell George Plumstead on Lorne bridge some weeks ago. P. H. Allman, being charged with a violation of the motor act, in that he did drive on the wrong side of the road. The accused pleaded not guilty to the charge and several witnesses were called by both sides. Much of the evidence was very contradictory, and Magistrate Livingston found it very difficult to decide whether the injured man or the owner of the automobile was to blame. As Mr. Allman had done everything within reason for the injured man, he dismissed the case.

Two drunks were allowed to go.

The Satisfactory Store---TEST IT

The re-arrangement of departments, which is under way here now, is being favorably commented upon by everybody. True, it is momentarily a bit awkward, and perhaps a wee bit uncomfortable, but that condition will pass immediately. Certain it is, everybody will approve of the changes.

Ostrich Ruffs, Muffs, Etc.

Paris emphatically says that the Marabout and Ostrich Ruffs, Muffs, Capelines, and Stoles are exceedingly good style. They certainly are pretty, and very suitable for early autumn street wear, as well as being very dressy for afternoon teas, operas, etc. Our collection is very extensive, shown in white, black, brown, grey, and some delicately combined colors, and the prices are very moderate owing to the fact that our buyer visited the factories in France, thus getting these goods from the fountain head.

Dainty Neckpieces, starting at 2.50 and at 3.50, 4.50, 5.00, on up $12.00

Muffs at 3.50, 5.00, 6.50, and so on.

Knitted Underwear

All the Knitted Underwear for Women, Misses, and Children is now conveniently arranged in the corner store. Our values and variety this year are as good and complete as you could possibly wish for. We have the kinds of Underwear that it's profitable to buy—the good qualities of cotton, the wool and cotton, the pure wool and unshrinkable. The more critical the customer, the more certain of being pleased.

These come in rich brocades, and all the dainty and staple shades as well. See the new ribbons certainly!

New Coats and Dresses

We wish we could adequately describe the New Coats and Dresses which are daily pouring in. It would be an impossible undertaking in view of the variety. Where would we begin? Choose early. Have your garment reserved for you. Pay a small deposit, and we will be glad to do it.

HANS WAGNER IS AGAIN 300 HITTER

The Old Boy Can't Be Cheated Out of His Class This Year

Hans Wagner now is in a good way to repeat the boys again. Each year for the last three, far and wide, have been doing statements regarding the passing of the wonderful German. Each year he has found him back and walking the ball in the .300 division of the National League.

This year Wagner appeared ready to make good on his predictions that he was about through as a star for weeks and weeks. Wagner hit .300 in 1912. This is good for an average player, exceptionally so for Wagner it is "down around." His Wagner's 17th year in baseball, and for 16 successive years he has topped above .300, making him the most remarkable player of all time.

A week or so ago Wagner was still hitting below .300, and he seemed destined to fall under the figure. He has maintained 16 years. Then came a series with the Giants.

"I'll be back among the 300 hitters before the series is over," predicted Wagner. "I never knew 7 one when I was in a batting slump and went against Mathewson that I did not hit him hard enough to get back into the top class."

Wagner made good on his prophecy. The first time he went to bat against Mathewson he cracked a homer. He hit safely three times after that. Four times at bat he got four hits. He gathered two line runs, two triples, three doubles and five singles in five games, starting with that work against Mathewson. He lifted himself into the .300 division again, and there he will probably finish the season.

Freddy's Choice They pass a plate of cake to Freddy at dessert. He puts out his hand, hesitates, then draws it back and begins to weep. "What are you crying for?" asks his mother. "Because you are going to scold me when I choose the biggest one."

Double header on Saturday! Will it be a case of finishing the season in a blaze of glory? *

Ottawa is having its second Canadian circuit race meet this week. Says the Free Press editorially:

"Anxious one—No it isn't likely you will see another day like the one when Adolante came home with thirty dollars for your piker bet of one dollar last spring. Such occurrences are nearly as rare as that unicorn, in my opinion you saw last Saturday afternoon."

While the admirers of Mathewson, Rucker, Walsh and others are not ready to concede that Walter Johnson, phenomenal Washington pitcher, is the premier finger of all, he is rapidly establishing a claim to that honor that cannot be denied.

His defeat in eleven innings yesterday by the Boston Americans, a week or so ago Wagner was still hitting below .300, and he seemed destined to fall under the figure. He has maintained 16 years. Then came a series with the Giants.

The movements of the Ottawa baseball club yesterday, says a London despatch, disclosed the fact that Shaughnessy's men are laboring under a mental strain, no doubt the result of having to win another game before they can be pennant.

They seemed very anxious and when it rained during the forepart of the afternoon the strain seemed more intense. Shaughnessy, in speaking about the relative merits of his team and the Tecumsehs, said: "The Ottawas, in my opinion, are a superior team and show more of the real fight which has won them all but about eight games out of the last 40. And concluded: "We have developed into a good road team, something we lacked during the earlier part of the season. London missed their golden opportunity when they fell down in the series with the Peterboro team last week, and we are facing a team much weaker now than we anticipated."

Football

There will be a battle royal at the Agricultural Park to-morrow evening when the Dufferin Rifles and Holmedale Tigers meet for the last game of the City League series. The game is a very important one as the result means a lot to the Duffs and also to Cocksbutt's. If the Duffs win or play a draw, they are city champions, but should the Tigers defeat them it would give the plow factory boys another chance to play for the championship. Both teams are in the finest form and it will be football from start to finish.

The game will no doubt attract a very large crowd as each team has a loyal lot of supporters. The supporters of the Cocksbutt team will naturally pull for the Tigers, and there promises to be an exciting time over at the park to-morrow evening. The Rifles say they will turn the trick, and Cocksbutt's say if they do they will win the championship if they get another chance at it. Trainer Blues of the Duffs says there is no cause to worry as there will be nothing to the game but Dufferin Rifles.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The team for Saturday next to play St. Andrew's at the O. L. B. ground will be as follows: Tigwell, B. Holland, F. Mason, Harrington, Palmer, A. Clark, Hilsley, T. Hamilton, J. Holland, C. Poynter, T. Fisher. Reserves: T. Goodreid, Vipond. All players are requested to be on the ground at 3.50, for play will be called at 6 o'clock sharp.

Monday's Game.

The above team is down to play Tuttle Park at Eagle Place, Monday afternoon. As this game concludes the Y. M. C. A. league fixtures, a good game is looked for, so followers will be given a good exhibition of football. All players are to be at Tuttle Park at 2.30, play to be called at 3 o'clock sharp.

The Dragons.

The Dragons and All Scots will play their last league match on Saturday next at Mohawk Park. The Dragons will line up as usual and all players are requested to be on the ground by 5.45 p.m.

Holmedale vs. Duffs.

Holmedale vs. Duffs on Agricultural Park, kick off at 6 o'clock sharp. Holmedale team: Scanlon, Martin, Hoyle, Moorcroft, Williamson, Scanlin, Etheridge, Belshaw, Maycock, Coburn, Thomas, Reserves, Rowcliffe, Rose.

Highlanders Are Ready.

The above team will play the Dragons in a league game at Mohawk Park to-morrow night, kick off at 6 o'clock prompt. The Scots will line row, J. Gratlan. (Capt.) J. Malloy, T. Forgie, A. Ormister, J. Maich, W. Conochan, H. Taylor, G. Ramsay, A. Stewart. Reserves—A. Little, C. Patella, T. Hurst, D. Lynn, W. Martin.

Duff's Notes.

Public interest in the fight for the league championship is today centred on the struggle between the Duffs and Holmedale on Saturday next, Aug. 30.

On the result of this game depends the league championship. Both teams may be relied upon to put forward every bit of energy and ability they possess to win this game. The Duffs to gain the distinction of winning the championship and Holmedale to prove that they are a better team than their standing in the league shows. One thing, however, is certain that both teams will be real triers.

The following players will represent the Duffs: Knowles, D. Cook, Myring, Harris, Phillips, Biggs, Coale, Bingham, Drake, Mercer (Capt.), Alexander. Reserves: Hutchinson, W. Cook. Kick off 6 p.m. prompt, Agricultural Park. All players are requested to report at the armories no later than 5.30 p. m.

Town's Pride Aroused.

"The town of Plunkville is all perked up. And over what?" "Dunno. Got a new pitcher for the ball team?" "Nope."

"What is it then?" "A flying machine flew over the town the other day."

HUSTLERS TAKE THE ONLY LEAGUE GAME

Providence Pitchers Failed to Baffle the Ganelites—Devlin Breaks in.

ROCHESTER, Aug. 29.—Rochester had an easy time with Providence yesterday, winning 5 to 1. Hoff allowed four singles and fanned ten, while Reislitz, who started for the Grays, was easy. He was replaced by Bentley in the third and Manager Donovan himself hurled in the fourth. Score: Rochester 5, Providence 1.

ANOTHER BEATING FOR CHANCE'S HIGHLANDERS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The local American Leaguers returned yesterday from a disastrous western trip, and were badly beaten by the Athletics, the score being 9 to 3. Schultz pitched fairly well for the locals, but the Athletics ran wild on the paths, stealing seven bases. After Caldwell had batted for Schultz, the visitors pounded Warhop for six runs in the last two innings. The hitting of Walsh and Barry for the Athletics was the feature. Score: Philadelphia 9, New York 3.

BOSTON HUBS EASY FOR TROLLEY DODGERS.

BROOKLYN, Aug. 29.—Brooklyn averted a drop to a tie for fifth place with Boston yesterday by beating the Braves the first game of their series, 5 to 1. Two passes, two errors, two steals and two hits, the latter a homer to deep left by Smith, gave Brooklyn a four-run lead at the start. Fisher scored the fifth and last run in the fourth on his triple and Miller's single. Score: Brooklyn 5, Boston 1.

SAINTS WILL PLAY DOUBLE BILL HERE

Good Offering in Base Ball for the Fans on Saturday.

St. Thomas team was always a favorite in Brantford, and since the last appearance of the Saints here, new men have been added to George Ort's aggregation. Howick and Wild Bill Baker will likely work in the double header here to-morrow with the Red Sox, while Gero and Tasker will pitch for Brantford. It is the last appearance of the St. Thomas team this year, and with the double bill being offered there will doubtless be a good crowd.

The season closes Monday with morning and afternoon games with Berlin.

Giants Fall Before the Phillies—Magee's Big Day With The Bat.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28.—Hard hitting on the part of Philadelphia won the opening game of the final series here with New York today, 7 to 2. Marquard was driven out of the box in the fourth inning, and Crandall, who succeeded him, also was hit hard, although many of the Philadelphia's drives went straight into a New York fielder's hands. Magee played a prominent part in Philadelphia's victory. In four times at bat he hit for a home run and two doubles, his homer coming in the first inning with the bases occupied by Byrne and Knabe. This gave the Philadelphia a lead they never lost. Seaton pitched masterly ball. The score, Philadelphia 7, New York 2.

OTTAWA'S PENNANT SEEMS ASSURED

London Has Desperate Fight in Chance Only--Cockneys Must Win All--Crucial Series Opens To-Day.

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 29.—A desperate fighting chance is all that London can look forward to in the final clash for the Canadian League pennant which commences here to-day with Ottawa. Yesterday's game was postponed on account of rain, necessitating a double header on Saturday. When these three games have been played, the battling Cockneys and Senators will play morning and afternoon games, respectively, at St. Thomas and Peterboro, on Labor Day, next Monday.

The fans of London and other western Ontario cities are keyed to the highest pitch of excitement in anticipation of the all-important series with the champions from Ottawa. The possibilities of the three clashes here in deciding the championship are very great, and while the odds are strongly in favor of Ottawa, the London supporters have not lost heart. They find consolation in the fact that London has been able to win with comparative regular-

The Brantford, Scotch Doubles Tournament will open on Monday, September 1st, Labor Day on the various city greens at 9 a. m. sharp. As follows:

Table with columns: Won, Lost, P.C. for London vs Ottawa.

It is patent therefore that London must win all five games and Ottawa lose all five remaining to be played in order that the Cockneys may win the pennant. The chance is remote indeed Eddie Holly of the Toronto International League team has been secured to umpire the games here. The Canadian league arbitrating staff is short handed, owing to the sale of "Jocko" Halligan to the International League.

Rain Tops Many Games in International Tennis Tournament.

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE, Aug. 29.—Wet courts stopped play yesterday afternoon in the international tennis tournament with but few matches played off.

In the ladies' singles, Miss Mary Browne of Los Angeles national woman champion, defeated Miss Edith Roach of Boston, 6-2, 6-3.

Mrs. Robert Williams of Philadelphia beat Mrs. C. M. Beard of New York, 6-3, 6-0. Mrs. Williams and Miss Browne will meet in the final.

In the men's doubles, Glasco, Toronto, and Devereaux, Utica, beat McKenzie, Toronto and Pepall, Toronto, 6-2, 6-2.

Griffin of New York beat Rogan of Cleveland, 6-2, 6-3. Griffin plays Baird, the Canadian champion, to-morrow.

Johnson, the Californian, defeated Hodge, Buffalo, 8-6, 8-6. Hodge played a great game and made the Californian go all out to win.

Whitney beat Sherwell, Toronto, 6-3, 6-4. Whitney, playing in much improved form, was too much for the Toronto champion, Sherwell played a fine game, but the American's clever placing was too accurate for him.

Baird won his match from Mackenzie easily. He still continues in great form.

It will be noticed that the rinks are numbered from 1 to 5 at Brantford Club, 6 to 15 at Dufferin Green, 16 to 24 at Heather Green, and 25 to 32 at Pastime Green. Each player will go to the rink on which he is drawn. There will be a short formal opening at each green and a secretary on hand with the entries. The rules of the game will be carried out to the letter and the rounds will start sharp at 9 a. m., 11 a. m., 2:30 p. m. and 4:30 p. m. Play will be resumed on Tuesday, September 2nd, at 1:30 sharp.

Johnson Falls Again To Establish Pitching Record

Great Pitcher Lost Eleven Inning Battle to World's Champions.

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—Walter Johnson's second attempt of the present season to set up a new pitcher's record for successive victories failed to-day, when Boston won an eleven-inning contest from Washington, 1 to 0.

For ten innings Johnson had disposed of Boston batsmen in a procession that was monotonous, except for the interest which his performance developed. Only in the second inning was the one, two three order of Boston's going out interrupted, this by Yerkes' hit over short, until the eleventh inning. Then Yerkes sidestepped the second hit off Johnson into centre field. Milan fumbled, Moeller got in the way of his recovery and Yerkes was safe on third.

Wagner's infield hit resulted in Yerkes being put out on the way home, but not until Wagner had reached second. Manager Carrigan was at bat. Johnson had spied over three balls for a count of two strikes and one ball when Carrigan met the fourth squarely for a clean hit between the left and centre fielders, and Wagner raced home. Walter Johnson's winning streak had been stopped. Score: Boston 1, Washington 0.

GENERAL DIAZ IS A LIKELY CANDIDATE

And He Will Postpone His Trip to See Japanese Emperor.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—General Felix Diaz immediately after his arrival in London from Canada yesterday, telegraphed to Mexico for information as to the latest developments. He declines to make any comment whatever on the situation until he receives direct advices from his own country and his future movements also depend on the nature of the news which reaches him.

General Diaz said to the Associated Press to-day that he had not yet decided whether to proceed on his mission to Japan or to return to Mexico. Should his friends in Mexico nominate him for the presidency at the October election he would, he said, return. His trip to Japan was interrupted here, explained, because he was advised in Canada that there was illness in the Japanese emperor's family.

NERVOUS CHILDREN

They Need a Tonic to Strengthen the Weak Nerves and Restore Them to Natural Health.

Many a child has been called awkward, has been punished in school for not keeping still, or for dropping things, when the child is not really at fault, as the trouble is really St. Vitus dance in its earlier stages. So common is this nervous disease in childhood that in some schools one fifth of all the pupils have been found suffering from it in one form or another. Before the presence of the disease is betrayed there is usually a disturbance of the general health. The child shows listlessness and inattention. Then it becomes restless, and twitching of the muscles and jerking of the limbs and body follow. A remedy that cures St. Vitus dance and cures it so thoroughly that no trace of the disease remains is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which make the new blood necessary to feed the starving nerves and gives them the nourishment they demand.

Mrs. Hiram Barnhart, Scotia Junction, Ont., says: "About two years ago, my oldest daughter, Mabel, then ten years of age, was stricken with St. Vitus dance. She could not keep still for half a minute, no matter how hard she tried. Her limbs would jerk and twitch and every little thing would start her crying. I gave her several bottles of medicine said to be good for the nerves, but instead of helping her she was steadily growing worse. Her voice would change so that we could hardly understand her, and her face become twitched until she did not look like the same child. I had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills myself when run down, and finally decided to give her these. When she had taken two boxes I could notice an improvement, and by the time she had used five boxes she was fully cured. However, I was determined to make the cure permanent if possible, and I gave her two boxes more, and I can truthfully say that she has never had a symptom of the trouble since, and is now as bright and active as any child of her age. I heartily recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all mothers as the result of what they have done for my child and myself."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

WIDOW SWEARS TO WARRANTS FOR 4

Alleged Murderers of Herbert Pickell to Be Tried in Detroit and Hamtramck

DETROIT, Aug. 29.—Mrs. Gertrude Pickell, widow of Herbert Pickell, shot and killed Monday night at the Aluminum Casting company's plant, swore out warrants Saturday, charging John "Lefty" Ginnis, Tony Opra, Mike Ochetski and Leo Hempel with the murder.

The four boys are in police custody, Ginnis still being in St. Mary's hospital suffering from the bullet wounds which he says Pickell inflicted. Opra was arraigned Saturday and his hearing set for August 30. The others have not yet been arraigned. Warrants have also been issued charging Joseph Paniszewski, Tony Opra, Leo Hempel, Mike Ochetski and another who has not yet been taken into custody with having robbed the castings company of 270 pounds of aluminum, on the Thursday night before the murder. These boys will be arraigned in justice court, Hamtramck, while the murder trial will be held in recorder's court. This is due to the fact that the murder was committed in the city and the theft in Hamtramck township.

Janiszewski, who has confessed his connection with the gang, but who declares he was not a member of the party on the night Pickell was killed, relates a story of successive crimes, including holdups and robberies, the fruits of which kept the boys in spending money without work. The boys on the night the aluminum was stolen are alleged to have carried the 270 pounds of metal to a hollow tree where they hid it until Opra and Ochetski got a junk dealer who paid them $26 for the lot, valued at $34. Janiszewski says he got but $2.60. Hempel was handed $3 and Mike and Tony divided the balance.

The youngest of the gang is but 15 years old, while the oldest is 18.

DODDS' KIDNEY PILLS

With Edged Tools

By Henry Seton Merriman, Copyright, 1894, by Harper & Bros.

Guy sat and watched the sunde gloves with a certain sense of placid enjoyment. Then suddenly he spoke, continuing his remarks where they had been broken off by the advent of the useful old gentleman.

"You see," he said, "it is only natural that a great many people should give me the cold shoulder. My story was a little lame. There is no reason why they should believe in me."

"I believe in you," she answered. "It was a very unpleasant business," he said in a jerky, self-conscious voice.

"I did not know that I was that sort of fellow. The temptation was very great. I nearly gave in and let him do it. He was a stronger man than I. You know—we did not get on well together. He always hoped that I would turn out a literary sort of fellow, and I suppose he was disappointed. I tried at one time, but I found it was no good. From indifference it turned all at once to hatred. He disliked me intensely, and I am afraid I did not care for him very much."

"Millicent was listening gravely without interrupting—like a man. She had the gift of adapting herself to her environments in a marked degree.

"And," he added curtly, "no one knows how much I wanted that three thousand a year."

"You are moved unreasonably and glanced toward the conservatory."

"It was not the money that tempted me," said Guy very deliberately; "it was you."

She rose from her chair as if to join her aunt and the horticultural old gentleman.

"You must not say that," she said in little more than a whisper, and without looking round she went toward Lady Cantourne. Her eyes were gleaming with a singular suppressed excitement, such as one sees in the eyes of a man fresh from a mad run across country.

Guy Oswald rose also and followed more deliberately. There was nothing for him to do but take his leave.

"But," said Lady Cantourne graciously, "if you are determined to go away, you must at least come and say good-bye before you leave."

"Thanker, I should like to do so, if I may."

"We shall be deeply disappointed if you forget," said Millicent, holding out her hand, with a smile full of light heartedness and innocent girlish friendship.

"CHAPTER VI. CURSE this country! Curse it! Curse it!" The man spoke aloud, but there was no one near to hear.

He shook his skinny yellow fist out over the broad river that crept gracefully down to the equatorial sea.

All around him the vegetable kingdom had asserted its sovereignty. At his back loomed a dense forest, impenetrable to the foot of man, deying his puny hand armed with ax or saw.

The trees were not high, few of them being above twenty feet, but from their branching crowns and parasol boughs in tangled profusion, interlaced, joining tree to tree for acres—jays, for miles.

As far as the eye could reach either bank of the slow river was thus covered with rank vegetation—miles after mile without variety, without hope.

The glossy surfaces of the bushes, the broken here and there by certain black forms floating like logs half hidden beneath the wave. The river was the Ogowe, and the man who cursed it was Victor Durnovo, employee of the Loango trading association, whose business it was at that season to travel into the interior of Africa to buy, barter or steal ivory for his masters.

He was a small faced man, with a squarely aquiline nose and a black mustache which hung like a valance over his mouth. From the growth of that certain-like mustache, Victor Durnovo's worldly prosperity might have been said to date. No one seeing his mouth had before that time been prevailed upon to trust him. Nature has a way of hanging out signs and then covering them up so that the casual fall to see. He was a man of medium height, with abnormally long arms and a somewhat truculent way of walking, as if his foot was ever ready to kick anything or any person who might come in his way.

Victor Durnovo had sent his boatmen into the forest to find a few dates, a few handfuls of frowded, and while they were absent he gave vent to that wild unreasoning passion which inhaled into the white man's lungs with the air of equatorial Africa.

"Curse this country!" he shouted. "Curse it, curse it—river and tree, man and beast!"

Presently a penitence seemed to come over him, for his eyes lost their glitter and his heavy lids drooped. His arms were crossed behind his head. Before him lay the river.

Suddenly he sat upright, all eagerness and attention. Not a leaf stirred. It was about 5 o'clock in the evening, the stillest hour of the twilight-zone. In such a silence the least sound would travel almost any distance, and there was a sound traveling over the water to him. It was nothing but a third repeated with singular regularity, but to his practiced ears it conveyed much.

He knew that a boat was approaching, as yet hidden by some distant curve in the river. The third was caused by the contact of six paddles with the guano of the canoe as the paddlers withdrew them from the water.

Victor Durnovo rose again and brought from the boat a second rifle, which he laid beside the double barrelled Betty which was never more than a yard away from him, waiting or sleeping. Then he waited. He knew that no boat could reach the bank without his full permission, for all the rowers could be killed before they got within a hundred yards of his rifle. He was probably the best rifle shot but one in that country, and the other, the very best, happened to be in the approaching canoe.

After the space of ten minutes the boat came in sight—a long, black form on the still water. It was too far away for him to distinguish anything beyond the fact that it was a native boat.

"Eight hundred yards," muttered Durnovo over the sight of his rifle.

He looked upon this river as his own, and he knew the habits of equatorial Africa. Therefore he dropped a bullet into the water, under the bow of the canoe, at 800 yards.

A moment later there was a sound which can only be written "P-tit" between his legs, and he had to wipe a shower of dust from his eyes. A puff of blue smoke rose slowly over the boat and a sharp report broke the silence a second time.

Then Victor Durnovo leaped to his feet and waved his hat in the air. From the canoe there was an answering greeting, and the man on the bank went to the water's edge, still carrying the rifle from which he was never parted.

Durnovo was the first to speak when the boat came within hail.

"Very sorry," he shouted. "Thought you were a native boat. Must establish a funk-get in the first shot, you know."

"All right," replied one of the Europeans in the approaching craft, with a "Sportuous" wave of the hand, "no harm done."

There were two white men and six blacks in the long and clumsy boat. One of the Europeans lay in the bow while the other was stretched at this case in the stern, reclining on the canvas of a neatly folded tent. The latter named was evidently the leader of the expedition.

A puff of blue smoke rose slowly over his head.

Little expedition, while the manner and attitude of the man in the bow suggested the servitude of a disciplined soldier slightly relaxed by abnormal circumstances.

"Who fired that shot?" inquired Durnovo, when there was no longer any necessity to shoot.

"Joseph," replied the man in the stern of the boat, indicating his companion. "Was it a near thing?"

"About as near as I care about. It threw up the dust between my legs."

The man called Joseph grinned. Nature had given him liberal gifts of showmanship for indulgence in that relaxation, and Durnovo smiled rather contentedly. Joseph was grabbing at the long reedy grass, bringing the canoe to a standstill, and it was some moments before his extensive mouth admitted to control.

"I presume you are," Durnovo said the man in the stern of the boat, rising leisurely from his recumbent position and speaking with a courteous savor faire which seemed slightly out of place in the wilds of central Africa.

He was a tall man with a high aristocratic head and a rufous face, which somehow suggested an aristocrat of old France.

"Yes," answered Durnovo. (To Be Continued)

Dollar Wheat Predicted

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Dollar wheat, dollar corn and dollar potatoes, is the forecast sent to farmers by The Orange Judd Farmer. Other food products are likely to carry prices in proportion. "The world's production of oats, rye, buckwheat and other small grains is below normal," it is said, "and corn is the smallest in years. The same is true of potatoes in America and Europe. The intrinsic market worth of wheat at Chicago is fully $1 a bushel. "The shortage in the crop is 600-

000,000 bushels. Reduced yield of forage, pastures and hay will increase the demand for corn as feed for live stock. Its use as human food and in manufacture is steadily increasing. With all these things taken into consideration, it can be seen readily that corn should be worth $1 a bushel. Loose habits generally lead to tight places.

HUNT FOR THE JEWEL THIEF IS RELENTLESS AS FATE

(Copyright, 1913, by the New York Herald Co. All rights reserved.)

A MAN may commit a murder and slip out of sight and knowledge pretty easily.

A man may swindle his fellow men out of hundreds of thousands of dollars and have an excellent chance to get away.

But the man who cracks a jewellers' safe—that is another question.

There is a power that will follow this kind of malefactor to the ends of the earth, never resting, never pausing—as inevitable as destiny, as cruel as fate, as patient as the water that wears away a stone.

He may go north or south, east or west, but he cannot avoid it. He may hide himself away in a village or in a great city. He may change his name, his habits of life, his appearance. He may cut himself off from his family and all his friends. He may seek to baffle his pursuers by an open and carefree way of life that simulates innocence itself.

All in vain: Justice will find him out at last and drag him back to pay the penalty of his crime.

To travel across a continent only to find one's footsteps dogged just as before the journey, to hunt out some obscure spot and settle down for a while in fancied security and suddenly to come broad awake with the knowledge that a stranger in the village is regarding one with an extraordinary pertinacity, to make a successful disappearance and be hidden until the hunt goes by only to find an emerging from one's seclusion that it hasn't gone by at all, but is waiting there with entire complacency and a perfect faith—after a while this gets on the thief's nerves. The most stoical purloiner of jewels cannot live by jewels alone. He is a man with human sensibilities, and what are jewels for, after all, to such a man?

It is not in exchange for pleasure? At last, in desperation, he settles forth to make a little of the joy of living; he takes one little impatient false step; he weakens to a human confidence.

And then they have him.

No Hope for the Repentant.
Gloating beneath the burden of his plunder he decides to make restitution. He will give the things to their owner. He will be free man again.

But the Jewellers' Security Alliance, which is an organization of jewellers formed for the purpose of bringing thieves who rob jewelry stores to justice, says "No, my lad."

And the repentant burglar who had thought to restore at least a portion of the pelf and go free in consequence finds that it isn't to be that way at all. He is going to be punished to the full extent of the law. Restitution doesn't do for the jewelry burglar. He is to be made an example of, so that other burglars who are contemplating a "crack" will think twice before they attack the stock of those jewellers on whose stores are posted the little signs which denote membership in the Alliance.

The jewellers have discovered that to deal most wisely with those who want to relieve them of their stock without paying for it is to pursue the thief relentlessly, relentlessly until he is landed, and quite without regard to the amount that he has stolen. Money is spent freely in this task. It doesn't matter in the least that the amount spent to get the man is twice as much as the price of his loot. The thing is to get the man.

This policy steadily pursued has done more to discourage the robbing of jewelry stores than any other that has ever been tried. There are two organizations of jewellers which pursue this policy. One is the Alliance, which is composed of retail jewellers, and the other is the Jewellers' Protective Union, which includes the wholesale men, who send out agents on the road with millions of dollars' worth of jewelry to be sold to the dealers throughout the country. The value of the jewels which are moving about the country in this fashion varies between thirty and forty million dollars. The forms of robbery with which these salesmen have to contend are sneak thieves, knockout drops and hold-ups. The retail jewellers who are protected by the Alliance, in addition to the genuine burglar who cracks the safe, must deal with the store thief, sometimes a burglar, sometimes a sneak thief, the hold-up man and the window smashing thief. In the case of the indoor job, however, where a safe has been left open or an employee has been an accomplice of the thief.

One of the reasons why the organizations of jewellers are so much more effective in their pursuit of criminals than are either private firms or the police of the cities in which the robberies take place is that their detectives are stationed in every State in the Union ready to take up a case the minute that a telegram is received stating that robbery has been committed and the suspects are supposed to be in some one particular territory. The individual jeweller could not sustain such universal espionage in the result of which without the expenditure of vastly more money than he is usually willing to put out, and the police of any one city can track their man after all only a short distance. The pursuit soon weakens therefore when left to individual sufferers from the robbery unless the plunder has been so extraordinarily large that it is wise to spend great sums in the hope of its recovery.

One of the most astonishing forays of jewel thieves in which the Jewellers' Protective Union was interested occurred in Chicago several years ago. It was one of those astoundingly plotted crimes which are too incredible to be admitted to the columns of fiction but from time to time appear in the realm of cold facts.

At ten o'clock in the morning a jewelry salesman entered a corner jewelry store in Chicago. He carried a bag containing several diamond set pieces. He was accompanied by a porter carrying pieces of less value. As he stepped over the threshold of the store two masked men stepped forward, each of them armed with a revolver. One of the masked men covered the porter, the other man covered the salesman. Ordered to submit at once on pain of being shot through the heart, the salesman and the porter made no resistance and were taken by the masked men back of a screen which shut off one corner of the store. Behind this screen they found the owner of the store, his son, who acted as clerk, the watchman and the office boy, all lying on the floor with their feet tied and gazed so that they could not make any noise.

One of the band of thieves remained back of the partition to mount guard over the bound men. The others then ransacked the store. They had already taken the salesman's cases, containing about twenty thousand dollars' worth of diamonds. After they had gotten what they wanted from the store they departed in an automobile, leaving the men behind the partition unable to move or speak. They were in this position for about three-quarters of an hour when the office boy managed to wrangle free from his bonds. He at once brought help and the pursuit of the thieves began. There were seven of these men who had arranged for the robbery and carried out their project in detail. They had come to the store in an automobile.

The driver said that he could do this, and the man who had halled him said the trunks were up in an office building opposite. The driver left his team and mounted the stairs of the office building with the other man, but when they arrived at the room in which the trunks were supposed to be they found the door locked. The owner of the trunks said that he would look for the janitor and started off to do so while the driver waited.

The man who had halled him said the trunks were up in an office building opposite. The driver left his team and mounted the stairs of the office building with the other man, but when they arrived at the room in which the trunks were supposed to be they found the door locked. The owner of the trunks said that he would look for the janitor and started off to do so while the driver waited.

Finally the driver said he could wait no longer; it was necessary for him to go down to his team, as otherwise he might miss the train for which his load was intended. He hurried down to the street, but he could not find his team. Strange to say, it had disappeared. So had the man who was so anxious to have his trunks taken to the station.

In the meanwhile as soon as the driver had gone into the office building a man had approached the waiting team. He mounted the seat and drove away. He drove a short distance and stopped in front of a house from which came two men, who took from the transfer wagon the two trunks of the jewelry salesman which had been sent to the train. They carried these trunks into the house, took from them $25,000 worth of diamond rings and brooches and departed. So did the driver of the team, a negro picked up in the street and given a few dollars to drive the wagon and keep his mouth shut.

It was rather a difficult case at first hand, because no professional burglars were concerned in it, or any other men known to the police as undesirable citizens. It was a case of a robbery carefully arranged by three entire novices at the trade, all ordinary residents of the city in which it took place, all apparently respectable. These men had of course been going down grade or had always been down grade, but this was not known to their associates. The fact that a salesman who carried, as they knew, this large stock in diamonds could so easily become their victim, the thought of so much wealth almost within their hands, had somehow brought out in all of them the violet dark spot of criminality and had brought them together for the plotting of the deed as quickly and surely as if they had all been members of a professional gang of thieves.

After close detective work the three men concerned in the robbery were traced. One was a medical student, another was an idle posing as a medical student and the third man had been assistant clerk in a hotel at which the salesman had stopped on previous trips to Atlanta. The clerk had a passion for diamonds and had bought one or two of them of the salesman on other occasions.

The $25,000 worth of diamonds was planted in different places. The medical student immediately got married on the strength of his share of the loot and was arrested in New Orleans while on his honeymoon. One of the other men was followed to Mount Vernon, N. Y. He was arranging to go to Europe. The third man was taken at Birmingham, Ala.

After the capture a peculiar situation arose, for it was discovered that in Georgia the penalty for committing a robbery even of this magnitude is only one year's imprisonment. The penalty for stealing a horse is so much greater that the Union tried to have the men tried for stealing the transfer company's horse. As the horse had been taken only a few blocks and then recovered by the company this was impossible, and the Union had to be content with the short term sentence and the recovery of the jewels.

Work of the Alliance.
The Jewellers' Security Alliance has recently run to earth the thieves, who in February last broke into the establishment of Philip Preston, on the second floor of the twelve story Chamber of Commerce Building at Rochester, N. Y. The men escaped with $3,000 worth of jewels from salesmen's trunks, but had their plans carried they would have gotten away with much more valuable property, for they had taken steps to blow open the safe, which was protected by an accident to one of the band.

Five masked bandits swooped down upon the building in the dead of night. They first smashed a lock on the massive iron gate which guarded the entrance. They then placed a lock on the inside of the protecting gate to secure themselves from interruption. After they had thus protected themselves from intrusion from without the robbers stole upon the engineer and freeman in the engine room and surprised and overpowered them. Leaving one of their band on guard, the four men stole up to the second floor, where they placed a charge of dynamite around one of the largest safes, which contained thousands of dollars' worth of jewelry. Using heavy blankets to muffle the explosion, they proceeded to blow open the outer doors. At this point one of the burglars was so badly injured, presumably by the explosion, that the others lost heart, and without waiting to force open the inner doors of the strong box they departed in haste, taking with them what they could gather from the exposed jewels and salesmen's trunks.

A grip containing a woman's photograph, which one of the burglars had left in the station in his haste to get out of town, was the slender clue on which the detectives worked in this case. The chase led to Youngstown, Ohio, where the picture was identified as that of the wife of "Bert" Donaldson. Through watching the woman's mail the route taken by the burglars was discovered, and after a chase of nearly five months the Alliance has now another triumph to its credit.

Elephant Removing Stockade to Drag the Roped Ones Away.

Buffle Attempts to Break Away.

Picture of a Cow Elephant Which Had Once Been Tamed.

EVERY five years there is a great elephant hunt in Mysore, India. The operations connected with the recent hunt cost the government more than 50,000 rupees. For months beforehand native keepers and beaters were employed in gradually but persistently working the herds up from remote and difficult jungles to an enclosure forty miles away. According to a prearranged scheme, the elephants are driven into such a position that they cannot get water except at a great tank enclosed by timber palisades. The elephants may hesitate for a long time to enter this pool but finally, driven by thirst, they enter and the gates, of which there are five in number, are dropped in place by men concealed in the trees, who release the ropes as soon as they see the elephants within the enclosure. Then men on elephants and beaters drive the animals into a smaller enclosure, where they can be caught and roped. The last drive lasted two days.

The tame elephants have an important part in the pursuit of the wild ones, not only obeying the orders of their riders with great docility and intelligence, but performing feats of strength and dexterity. Three tame elephants are attached to one wild one in the enclosure to drag it away; perhaps to be lashed to a great tree trunk, where it struggles to free itself are in vain. The tame elephant is a queer cry is uttered by the men in the efforts to capture a cow elephant which has once been tamed. "Wuff, huff, mutt, mutt, butt, butt" call the beaters, and the elephant pauses in her flight, listens and turns.

Elephant hunting in Soudan is becoming immensely popular. More than a hundred men started from Khartoum this year, many of them being on their honeymoon with their brides. A writer in the London Sphere gives an interesting account of the pursuit and final capture of a game old elephant, one of whose trunks weighed 110 pounds, and the other 108 pounds. When he had sighted the elephant about four hundred yards away, in side of a pool of the most description, would swim the river and then go up a drive in the mountains. The old elephant was slightly started at first by the noise of the natives, who were shouting untold numbers of beads if they

With difficulty he and one of the natives got into an old canoe, were tipped over by a hippo, picked themselves up, got back into the canoe and continued the pursuit. When they got within a few yards of the great animal the sportsman was too-shaky to make the brain shot that he attempted effective and, although he saw he had hit the animal just above the eye, the elephant paid no attention. He kept going and his pursuer continued firing. Several times the elephant charged, but the sportsman got behind an anthill and protected himself. "At last," writes the Englishman, "almost with my last gasp and swearing I would never smoke again, I got up level with him, both my pants gone, my bootlaces unripped, and my shorts in ribbons from the thorns of the dom palm. I let go both barrels for his heart; again he swung around and charged. The boy with the cartridge bag fled straight down wind, I fled across wind for a big anthill; the elephant followed the boy. Loading hastily, I got in one more shot; the first and only shot at his right side. This stopped him; very slowly he turned and stood still. I turned on top of the anthill and gave him two more shots. He swayed to each of them and sank down. I approached carefully, found him struggling, went up close and gave him the last shot through the back of the head, from which he died."

The man was bitten almost to death by mosquitoes on his way back to camp, but as the natives say, nothing matters if one has killed an elephant.

Peace Celebration Proceedings at Chrysler's Farm

(Canadian Press Dispatch)
MORRISBURG, Ont., Aug. 29.—Where yesterday the rounded, earnest faces of a thousand school children, their youthful voices uplifted in song on the battlefield where 100 years ago their forefathers had fought and died, spoke of peace, today part of the program for the centenary celebration of the battle of Chrysler's Farm suggested grim war.

Detachments of red coated troops from every part of the surrounding district poured into Morrisburg at noon to swell the red tide which has been rising steadily since the first military men arrived yesterday.

Finally at about noon the Ottawa contingent arrived and were met at the station by hundreds of Morrisburg citizens and their fellow soldiers and by the martial music of five bands marched the five miles to the Chrysler Farm.

At the battlefield they again formed, the Governor-General Foot Guards from Ottawa marching to the music of the British Grenadiers, and remained in their ranks for the speeches of the day. These addresses were delivered by Premier R. L. Borden and Hon. Rudolphe Lemieux, ex-postmaster-general, who came to Morrisburg with the Ottawa excursion this morning. Premier Whitney, of Ontario, who was also to figure in the program could not come at the last minutes because of illness.

The military detachment from Ottawa consisted of the Eighth artillery brigade, under command of Lieut.-Col. C. H. McLaren, including the 23rd and 22nd field batteries, who fired a royal salute of 21 guns this afternoon.

A company of the 43rd and another from the G. G. F. G. completed the Ottawa forces, other regiments represented by detachments were the 41st from the district, the 42nd from Perth and Smiths Falls, who brought with them two old guns, relics of the battle of Chrysler's Farm, the 50th from the counties of Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, the 45th from Lindsay and 50th from Greenville.

Col. T. D. R. Hemming of Kingston, officer commanding the third divisional era, was brigadier for the day.

Both the premier and Hon. Mr. Lemieux in their speeches this afternoon spoke of the splendid promise of permanent peace to be found in this celebration of a battle which had occurred 100 years ago and had been followed by no similar conflict in all that time.

Standing on the ground consecrated to history by the blood of those who fell, locked in bitter conflict a century since, a struggle which practically decided that Canada was to remain a part of the British Empire, Premier Borden seemed to find peculiar inspiration in his surroundings and his words.

At the conclusion there was a march past of the troops and red coats once more glittered across the fields of Chrysler's Farm. A salute from the battered and rusty cannon captured from the American forces on that raw day in November 1813, supplied a touch of quaint realism to the scene.

HEALTH BOARD WILL WAKE UP

In Regard to Alleged Nuisance on Greenwich St.—Other Business at Meeting

A meeting of the Board of Health was held in the Mayor's office yesterday afternoon. Those present were Chairman John Pette, Mayor Hartman, Dr. Pearson, W. E. Walsh and W. Glover.

The reports of the inspection of dairies by E. B. Cuddehe, V. S., were presented and licenses will be granted to those whose reports were satisfactory to the Board. Some of the dairies will have to make slight improvements but on the whole the reports were first class.

The Board took up the matter re the disturbance which at times comes from the factory of the Thornton's Limited on Greenwich St.

A largely signed petition was presented to the Board requesting them to take steps to have the nuisance removed. Merchants along the south side of Colborne St. state that at times they cannot open their back doors or windows because the stench is unbearable. A case is now in the courts in connection with the matter.

It was the unanimous opinion of the Board that steps should be taken in the matter to have the nuisance done away with and the following resolution was passed.

Moved by Dr. Pearson, seconded by W. E. Walsh.

"That the petition, re, Hide factory and fertilizer plant, signed by W. E. Long and others be forwarded to the city council for action in relation to the same and that a deputation from the Board of Health be present to wait on the council to make any suggestions desired by the said council."

The clause in the Ontario Board of Health act which refers to establishments of this kind reads as follows:

"Any person who without the consent of the local board or of the municipal council establishes any of the following trades or business manufactures—blood boiling, bone boiling, refining coal oil extracting oil from fish, storing hides, soap boiling, tallow melting, tripe boiling, slaughtering animals, tanning hides or skins, manufacturing gas, fertilizers from dead animals, from human or animal waste, or

CHILD BORN AND SLAIN ON BEACH

Declares Provincial Officer in the Case of a Dead Infant.

HAMILTON, Aug. 29.—A suit of pyjamas bearing the mark of Beggs & Shannon, of this city, and other wearing apparel bearing the laundry marks of "C.R.K." or "C.R.N.," led Provincial Detective Miller, to this city yesterday in the hope of securing some information concerning the mysterious death of an infant whose body was found on the lake shore at New Toronto on August 10.

The detective says the child was born on the spot, and the clothing which was found was used in an effort to destroy evidence of the crime. A pet dog belonging to the people in the vicinity discovered the body and gave the alarm.

It has been proven that the child lived for about five hours after birth and death was due to strangulation.

The clothing which the police found consisted of a woman's undershirt, gentleman's laundry and the pyjamas. The parties connected with the child murder made an attempt to destroy the marks on the clothing by the use of a penknife, but failed to destroy all of them.

It is the opinion that they were frightened off before they accomplished their task.

The woman's clothing was of the cheap and worn variety, white that belonging to the man was of fine material, which, the police think, shows that the man was of higher social standing than the woman.

Detective Miller would not say whether his work in this city had proven successful, but intimated that he was satisfied with his labors here.
