offar hite eyes, though in form and color exact-ly similar, there was wanting that misty, dreamy depth of expression; all was clear, hold, and bright, but with a light wholly of this world : the beautifully out mouth had a proud and somewhat marcastic expression, while an air of free-and-say superiority sat not ungracefully in every turn and movement of his fine form. He was listening with a good-humoured neg-ligent air, half comic, half contemptuous, to Haley, who was very volubly expatiating on the quality of the article for which they were bargaining.

question form --- Hogg's Workly Instructor. READ DEFORE 'TOU' BUY.---At a public suction of the library of Dr. Francis Bernard, (an eminent English physician,) it happened in the progress of the sale, that the auction-eer held, up a particular book, and called the attention of the crowd to it, saying, 'that there was an important observation written in the volume he was about to sell, in Dr. Bernard's own hand!'' This intima-tion produced a spirit of rivalry among the bidders; but when the book was knocked down at a high price, the purchaser read, to his ustonishment--''I have perused this book, and it is not worth a fürthing.''

SCHOOL BELATIONS .---- In Coleridge's time, School discipline was very severe, and it was insisted, that all domesticities should be for-getten so long as a boy was at achool. On the first day of the attendance of Coloridge, after the holidays, he was observed by the master to be crying--probably feeling a little "some-sick." The master said sharply to him; "Boyt The school is your fitther? Boy? The school is your mother? Boy? The school is your brother? Boy? The school is your first cousin, and your second cousin, and all the rest of your relations? Lat's have no more crying."

STUDY AND PLAY .- An idle fellow once Stupt and PLAT.—An idle fellow once saw a famous Greek philosopher playing at marbles with some children in the road. Glad of an opportunity to, reprove a man, who was every way his superior, the idle fellow approached him and meeringly asked, if he ware not ashamed to spend his time in such a foolish and unbecoming manner, with children? This question was a good deal like the meditations of an owl, who once made himself extravarantly merry, because made himself extravagantly merry, because an eagle, who happened to be asleep, could not see. The philosopher, however, con-descended to reply. Pointing to a bow, which lay unstrang upon the ground, he said.
