

East Toronto Election Trial.

The trial of this case took place on Thursday before Chief Justice Richards. Mr. John O'Donohue was the respondent. The petition charged, in the usual terms, bribery by the sitting member and his agents. When the case was called, Mr. Bethune said he had only the previous day received the particulars of the case, and had then only come to the knowledge that bribery had been committed by agents without the respondent's knowledge, and he was prepared to admit there was sufficient evidence of this within the meaning of the Act to try the case. The expenses of the election, however, were not over $1,400. He believed it proper to make this statement at the commencement of the case, as there was a large number of witnesses in attendance, and the expense would be enormous. There were personal charges urged by the opposite side against the respondent, and if they wished to proceed with those they might do so. His client was quite prepared to meet them. One or two witnesses were examined as to bribery by agents, and after that, the counsel for the petitioner accepted the proposition made by Mr. Bethune, not to press the charge of direct bribery by respondent. His Lordship, therefore, declared the election void; that no corrupt practices had been proven to have been committed by the respondent at the election; that John Barron and David Kelly have been proved at the trial to have been guilty of corrupt practices; and that, if it has not been proved that corrupt practices have been carried on to any considerable extent. Costs to be paid by the respondent.

THE RYKERT INVESTIGATION.—A great deal of interest is taken in the proceedings of the Rykert Committee, which has now got fairly to work. The evidence so far relates to the part Mr. Rykert took in the Toronto Street Railway legislation, and the sums he received for services rendered in connection with the Kely bill in opposition to another bill for the incorporation of a rival Company. The other matters in connection with the investigation will be proceeded with at subsequent meetings of the Committee. Mr. Kerr conducted the examination for Mr. McKellar, and Mr. Cameron for Mr. Rykert.

WHOLESALE LYING.—For real downright lying commend us to the London Free Press. We have on more than one occasion exposed its falsehoods regarding matters in connection with the Agricultural College, and yet it persists in reiterating these day after day, or in coining new ones to suit its purpose. In an editorial on the College on Thursday it indulges in two regular thumpers, which we simply mention as a sample of its ingenuity in fabricating the most unfounded stories about this Institution. It says that the first Matron for the College was appointed nine months before the Government took possession of the Farm; that the late Principal was appointed the same way, and that both were living at the public expense for nine months before they moved on to the Farm. We need not say how wide of the truth is this assertion, and that these officials were only about the same number of weeks as the Free Press makes months residing in Guelph before they went to live on the Farm. Such are the weapons the Tory papers are using in decrying the College and everything connected with it.

The Reformers of North Bruce have again unanimously nominated as their candidate for the Local Legislature their present able member, Mr. Donald Sinclair, who has accepted the nomination. Few men have more the unqualified respect and confidence of all parties than the member for North Bruce, and he is held in equal respect in the House, where his remarks are always listened to with attention.

Judge Johnson has unseated Hurreau (Conservative), at L'Assomption, for corrupt practices by agents. The respondent resigned on proof being made. The Judge denied the petition of Mr. Forest, who claimed the seat on the ground of disqualification. The nomination for South Norfolk will be held on the 9th prox., and the polling a week after.

LAUNDER IN A PUNK.—In the Public Accounts Committee on Wednesday, Mr. Launder got angry and left the room, giving as a reason that he would not submit to any law. He wanted to be allowed to examine the papers while the rest of the Committee were busy about something, and the chairman decided that confusion would be avoided by the Committee acting in union, and getting through with one account at a time. Even Rykert was ashamed of Launder and left him to stop his nonsense, but Launder refused, and after trying to bully the members he left and the business went on peacefully.

THE MONTREAL SWINDLER.—Phillips, the patent rights agent arrested on a charge of having conspired with McKinnon, of Toronto, to defraud A. C. Sutherland, merchant, of Montreal, of $24,000 on fraudulent pretences, has been discharged by the Police Magistrate, owing to informality in the complaint. He is, however, still held on a capias, concerning a motion to quash it on similar grounds was made and taken on de die. We gave the particulars of this astounding case in Thursday's issue.

ANOTHER OLD LANDMARK REMOVED.—Mr. Andrew Pettit, of Grimsby, died on the 15th instant, at the residence of his son, Rev. Charles Pettit, rector of Richmond, county Carleton, at the ripe age of 84 years. Mr. Pettit, the son of U. E. Loyalist, was the second or third white child born in the neighborhood of Grimsby. He served in the war of 1812, being present in several engagements at that time. Two of his sons served in the rebellion of 1838; two more and his son-in-law in 1866. Among the oldest of the settlers there was no man in the surrounding country more universally respected and esteemed in every department of life.

The writs for the general election for the Local Legislature, in Nova Scotia, have been issued. The nominations will be on the 10th of December and the elections on the 17th.

THE GOODNESS MONDAY REWARD.—Miss Mary Handley before the Law Committee of the Brooklyn Common Council, testified under oath that she was hired by Kate Stoddard, and that she was also promised the reward in case she was successful. She then detailed her search for Kate Stoddard and Kate's arrest. Chief Campbell gave similar testimony, and added that he believed from information which he had received from Kate Stoddard that she was the murderer of Mr. Goodrich. He refused to tell what this information was. General Jordan and Mr. Folk gave similar testimony, and the committee in executive session resolved to recommend the payment of the reward to Miss Handley.

The lumber trade was greatly depressed during the last season, the exportation to the River Plate, from the St. Lawrence, being less than one-half of last year's exportations. Total shipments, 16,242,293 ft.; do. for year preceding, 36,294,945 ft.

FARMERS' DIARIES. — If our farmers knew how little trouble it is to keep a diary, and with what satisfaction they would look over it in a few years, we feel sure they would, many of them, be induced to begin one. A simple record of the weather and the operations of the farm, the writing of which would not occupy two minutes a day, will, in after years, be not only a source of pleasure, but also of great practical benefit; by reference back to the record of former years, one can see how late he planted certain crops, and at what time they matured, also items of interest to the family prices, &c. At Day's Bookstore will be found a large stock of Diaries and Farm Account Books. Day will sell you a large foolscap Diary for 35 cents, and Pocket Diaries from 15 cents upwards. Begin now, and it will pay you well for the few minutes' lost in entering your day's work.

CHAPTER VI.

"Have I disturbed you, bright Jessie?" he asked, coming nearer.

"Oh, no!" she answered, blushing. "I was only waiting to rest a little while before going home."

"And dreaming, I perceive," said Herbert. "May I ask of what—of whom?"

"I wasn't dreaming," said Jessie, innocently. "I was wide awake all the time."

"Day-dreaming, I mean," said Clinton, with a smile. "Do you know, fairest Jessie, I have been at your cottage all the morning, waiting to see you?"

"To see me?" said Jessie, with another quick, glad blush.

"And not finding you there, I have come in search of you," he continued. "And found me," she said laughing.

"If I had known you were coming I would have staid at home."

"Perhaps it is better as it is, bright one; for I have found you alone. It is very pleasant to have found so fair a companion on this lonely isle."

"Yes, it is a lonely place," said Jessie, musingly; "and yet I like it better than Strathmore, or any other place I have ever been in. Only I should like always to have a friend with me to talk; and that, you know, I cannot have here. Aunt Ben is always too busy to go out; and Fritz don't care about the trouble of talking, much less that of walking, so I have always to go alone."

"And if he would go, I fancy Master Fritz is hardly the kind of companion Miss Jessie would select," said Herbert.

"Not if I could find any better," said Jessie, with a laugh; "but I have grown so accustomed to being alone now that I do not mind it at all as I used to."

"And so you are perfectly happy here, fairest Jessie, reigning queen of this fairy isle?"

"Ah, no! beautiful Miss Helena is Queen of the Isle, I am only her most loyal subject," said Jessie, gaily; "you ought to know that, having paid her your allegiance."

"What if I should say that the subject was more lovely than the queen?" said Herbert, in a low voice, and in a tone that brought the hot blood flushing to Jessie's face.

"I should say you were laughing at me, as, of course, you would be. Certainly, no one would ever think of me while Miss Helena was near. Oh! how I wish she would always stay here; and then I should have a companion."

"Ah, bright one! if I were in her place what would I not surrender for such a privilege!"

"Would you," said Jessie, looking at him in unfeigned surprise. "When why not stay? I am sure I should be glad to have you here always."

Her innocent words, her enticing, beauty, her child-like candor, were a strong temptation. For one moment he was about to fall before her, to clasp her in his arms, to hold her there for ever, while he breathed forth his mad, passionate love, and told her nothing on earth should ever part them now.

But again rose before him the dark, warning face of Helena to allay the fever in his blood. It seemed to him he could see her black, fierce eyes gleaming on them through the trees—he could almost hear her voice, shouting "Traitor!"

All unconscious of the struggle raging in his breast, Jessie stood leaning against a tree, her curved, crimson lips half parted—her blue eyes fixed on a cloud, drifting slowly over the sky, little dreaming of the far darker clouds gathering rapidly now over the horizon of her life.

And still in Herbert's heart went on the struggle. He dared not look at her as she stood before him—bright, radiant, bewildering—lest the last lingering remains of fidelity and honor should be swept away by the fierce impetuosity of passion in his unstable heart.

But his good angel was in the ascendant still, for at that moment the voice of Fritz was heard, calling loudly—"Jessie! Jessie!"

"Here, Fritz! here I am," she answered; and in another instant, honest Fritz stood before them.

"Aunt Ben sent me looking for you," said the young gentleman, rather sulkily; "and I've been tramping this half-hour while you were taking it easy here," said Fritz, wiping the perspiration from his hot brow.

"It was all my fault, my good Fritz," said Herbert, as if from a sudden matchless up her hat and basket, and fled, having a just terror of Mrs. Ben's sharp tongue.

"Make my excuses to your good aunt, and here is something for yourself."

Fritz's dull face brightened wonderfully as Herbert drew a gold piece from his pocket and pressed it into his hand, and then turned and fled slowly in the direction of Graham Castle, thinking all earthly happiness by centred in the opposite direction.

Mrs. Ben's reproaches fell unheeded for the first time on Jessie's ear that day. She heard not a word of the long lecture delivered with more than the good widow's usual eloquence; for she was thinking of another voice, whose lowest tone had power already to thrill to the innermost recesses of her heart.

She loved without knowing it, without wishing to define the now, delicious feeling filling her breast, only conscious she had never been so happy before in her life, and longing for the time when she should see him again. Ah! well had it been for her had they never met more.

The residence of Mr. John Cummings in the Township of Wallace, was completely destroyed by fire, one day last week.

MANUFACTURE OF COCOA.—"We will now give an account of the process adopted by Messrs. James Epps & Co., manufacturers of diabetic articles, at their works in the Euston Road, London."

See article in Cassell's Household Guide, p. 96.

Our Friends will bear in mind—Parties purchasing goods wish to buy them at the cheapest rate. Now the nearer you can get to the Manufacturer, the cheaper are the goods.

Mr. Horstman, the popular Hardware merchant of this town, last summer visited the manufacturing district of Europe, and purchased very largely from the manufacturers there.

He has also made special arrangements with manufacturers in the United States and Canada to have their goods at the lowest Cash prices. In consequence of the extraordinary bargains Mr. Horstman offers, his sales this season are largely increased; in fact, there has been a perfect rush at his mammoth establishment during the last two months.

Remember, by purchasing Hardware from John Horstman the profits of the wholesale dealer, or middleman, are saved to the customers. Stoves and Tinware have been added this season, and on account of the very low prices at which these goods are offered by Mr. Horstman this branch of the business has exceeded his most sanguine expectations.

SLATE ROOFING PAINT!

AGENTS WANTED IN EVERY TOWN.

A Roof may be covered with a very cheap shingle, and by application of this slat, looking much better and lasting longer than new shingles without the slat, for ONE THIRD THE COST OF RE-SHINGLING. The expense of slating now shingles is only about the cost of simply laying them.

The Paint is Fire-Proof against Sparks or Flying Embers, as may be easily tested by anyone, and appears from the fact that insurance Companies make nearly the Same Tariff as for Slated Roofs. For Tin and Iron it has no equal, as it expands by heat, contracts by cold, and never cracks nor scales. For Furnaces it is particularly adapted, as it will not corrode in the most exposed places. Roofs covered with Tar Sheathing Felt can be made water-tight at a small expense. The Slate Paint is EXTREMELY CHEAP!

Two gallons will cover over 100 square feet of shingle roof, or over 400 of tin or iron. No Tar is used in this Composition, therefore, it does not affect the water from the roof, if turned off from the easterly before the first few rains. On Decayed Shingles it fills up the holes and pores, hardens them, and gives a new, substantial roof that will last for years. It fills up all holes in tin or felt roofs, and their place and keeps them there. It fills up all holes in tin or felt roofs, and their place and keeps them there. DUNDAS IN BRAMPTON.—The store of Mr. Wellington Patterson, in Brampton, was entered by burglars on Wednesday morning, and the cash box containing $50 in cash, some valuable papers, and a silver watch, taken from his bedroom. They also attempted the house of Mr. McCalla, but failed. No clue to the robbers.

Three vessels on Tuesday entered the Welland Canal without locking at the Port Colborne end, which has never been accomplished before. The phenomenon of unusually high water rendered this possible.

A pork packing establishment is to be started in Mount Forest.

Capt. Foster, of Port Burwell, Ont., says:—I have been troubled with a cough, at times very severe, for years past. I have found Allen's Lung Balm to relieve my cough more readily than any other cough medicine I have ever tried. My wife also used it with the most satisfactory results.

DO NOT TROUBLE YOURSELF TO ASK whether Dr. Wheeler's Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calceola may be safely taken in your particular case; being composed of elements necessary to the formation of the bone, muscle and nerve, and acting purely as a nutritive tonic, it is positively certain to benefit all ages and conditions of life, as it perfects the digestion and assimilation of food and the purification of the blood. Phosphates are the essential agents of the gastric juice and the active power of the nervous system, and Nature's universe, wisely providing these delicate organs (the lungs) without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stores the night sweats, and changes the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALM

Is the great modern remedy for Coughs, COLDS, CONSUMPTION, ASTHMA, CHOP and BRONCHITIS. It is recommended by Physicians everywhere, who are acquainted with its great usefulness.

Dr. A. L. Scovill, of Cincinnati, Ohio, says:—

"I have witnessed its effects on the young and the old, and I can truly say that it is by far the best expectorant remedy with which I am acquainted. For coughs, and all the early stages of lung complaints, I believe it to be a certain cure, and if every family would keep it by them, ready to administer upon the first appearance of disease about the lungs, there would be very few cases of fatal consumption. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise, without irritating these delicate organs (the lungs), and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stores the night sweats, and changes the morbid secretions to a healthy state."

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.

Before Taking. After Taking. Specific Medicine

Cure all Nervous Diseases, such as Tremors, Dizziness, Prostration, etc., which, in many cases, are produced by over indulgence in the use of tobacco and alcoholic spirits; but the Specific Medicine is more especially recommended as an unfailing cure for Seminal Weakness, Spermatorrhea, Impotency, and all diseases that follow as a consequence of Self Abuse, as Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pain in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, and many other Diseases that lead to insanity or consumption, and a Premature Grave, all of which, as a rule, are first caused by deviating from the path of nature and over indulgence.

The Specific Medicine is the result of a life study and many years of experience in treating these special diseases. Full particulars in our pamphlet, which we desire to send free by mail to every one.

The Specific Medicine is sold by all Druggists at $1 per package, or six packages for $5, or will be sent by mail on receipt of the money, by addressing Parties buying at FRASER'S will save more money than they would elsewhere. FRASER'S keeps a general store where all can get suited without having the trouble of going all over town.

Being the only merchant in Guelph who attended the Great Auction Sale in Montreal, can state with confidence that he can show Goods at prices much below their regular value.

FRASER'S store is renowned for its cheap goods. The number of customers to FRASER'S for the cheap smoked goods is enormous, which causes other merchants to grumble and growl. Still FRASER'S is determined to look after the wants of his customers, no matter what others may think.

In consequence of the late great fire in Montreal, Messrs. Molitres, French & Co. have sold the balance of their stock saved from the fire $250,000 at auction, of which G. B. FRASER bought largely, at such low prices as will enable him to sell
