High-Pressure

Living characterizes these modern days. The result is a fearful increase of Brain and Heart Diseases - General Debility, Insomnia, Paralysis, and insanity. Chloral and Morphine augment the evil.

A Cure for Nervous Debility caused by an inactive liver and a low state of the blood. - Henry Bacon, Xenia, Ohio. "For some time I have been troubled with heart disease. I never found anything to help me until I began using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I have only used this medicine six months, but it has relieved me from my troubles, and enabled me to resume work."

CHAPTER XIII. "SHE IS MY WIFE." The face vanished in an instant. As quickly as she could collect her senses, Shirley followed Mr. Morrison out the hallway. She went around in the porch to the window where the face had been. The master was nowhere about. No living creature was there. She stepped out upon the lawn below, and peered about under the starlight. She saw nothing, heard nothing.

Local and Other Matter.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 7th, 1889.

Annals and Atlantic Railway.

We said last week that the action of the Shelburne meeting had relegated the matter of railway advantages, so far as that County is concerned, to the status quo, but which led to this conclusion before our readers. This we now intend to do as shortly as we can.

It is only one of the two proposed schemes can be matured. This statement is sustained by the affirmation of Mr. Fielding at the meeting referred to. He is reported to have said it would be difficult to obtain a provincial subsidy for both lines, though he did not hesitate in saying, whichever scheme was finally adopted by the people of the Counties of Queens and Shelburne, his government would subsidize it when the requirements of the Railway Act were complied with, and a company should seek to contract for its construction, and he even went so far as to say that his government would do so quite irrespective of a Dominion subsidy if such a company could show they possessed the means to complete a contract without that subsidy. It follows from this that until one of these lines receive the assent of the people of the Counties interested, no subsidy by the Local Government will be granted, and without it no road will be undertaken.

With regard to the Dominion subsidy. No sane man, it seems to us, could hope for it for the Millard line, as it is professedly intended to be a competing line to the Western Counties and Windsor & Annapolis railways. Could it rationally be expected that the Dominion Government would construct the line to Shelburne, at an expense of half a million of dollars, probably with the intention of consolidating them, taking them over, and making them a portion of the Intercolonial system, only to render their paying capacity an impossibility by granting the means to establish an opposition line? Surely the Shelburne people will not continue so blind to their own true interests as to hope for such a thing.

3d. The Millard line so far from being as easy of construction as alleged, the reverse is certainly true. It is always a fact recognized by civil engineers that following the course of the river drainage of a district affords easier gradients and better facilities for drainage than those which occur at right or nearly right angles.

4th. A glance at the map only is needed to convince any one that while the Atlantic and Annapolis would follow mainly the valley of the Rossignol or Liverpool River, the Millard would cut not only this valley but that of the Port Medway and others nearly at right angles.

5th. Shelburne, which possesses an open harbor the year round, would form the interior western terminus of the Millard, leaving the people of Barrington ad interim in the same position as they ever have been, namely, without a railway. The Millard would, for the most part, in its course eastwardly to New Germany pass through a barren country, unsuitable for cultivation, and its route would be one which would offer small prospects of local freights or passengers.

6th. The opposite of all this is to be found in the rival line, with a company at hand to undertake the building of it as soon as subsidies shall have been assured, and with nearly a certainty of a Dominion subsidy, in addition to the local, if the people of Shelburne should opt for the line wanted by Queens and Annapolis. We say a certainty nearly, but we believe we might say absolute certainty, if complete unanimity of the three counties interested could be arrived at.

We do not believe the late Shelburne meeting voiced the wishes of a majority of the people of that county, and we therefore look for a fuller expression of its public opinion on the subject at another and more representative meeting which we hope may take place soon.

Our Bay Fisheries.

We paid a flying visit to Margareville on Monday last, and were gratified to learn that the fishermen of that section of the county have had a very successful catch so far this season. The line fishing was good, some said better than usual, and herring are now being taken in quantity and of good quality. A short visit to the fish houses convinces us of the accuracy of these statements. Dry and pickled fish filled some of them to their utmost capacity, and the nets were taking, on an average, ten barrels a night. Fishes were separated into two classes—split and round. The larger ones are put up as split herring; the smaller ones as round fish. For the Boston market. As to the haddock and cod of the Bay of Fundy, they are as fine as any taken in the sea, and perhaps we would only say the truth if we affirmed that the former are the finest in the world, and why our fishermen do not cure more of them as Fishermen we cannot conceive.

No salmon weir was erected there this year, which, we think, was a mistake, though there was some other place on the shore did not do so well as they sometimes do. Every succeeding year should witness increased efforts to secure a full share of the immense wealth concealed by the old Bai Françoise.

A company, with a capital of $20,000, has been formed in Milton, near Yorkmouth, for the manufacture of doors, sashes, furniture, etc. Chas. J. Kent will be the manager.

A mill dam, near Parrsboro, filled with saw logs, burst in consequence, one day last week, and the logs, to the value of many thousand dollars, we regret to say, went to sea.

The ladies of the W. C. T. U., desire cordially to thank Mrs. Tupper for the use of her pleasant grounds, and for her kind and interesting evening with their music, and also the many friends who encouraged us with their presence.

Pulp wood is being shipped in considerable quantities from Albert County, N. B., to American markets. Why not cure pulp mills, give employment to our own people, and sell the manufactured articles abroad?

A correspondent of the Digby Courier says:—“Mr. A. D. Brown, principal of the Bridgetown School, is spending a short vacation at Weymouth, and is looking for a school of (maekers) in St. Mary's. Mr. Brown has returned here, but we regret to say, the school did not accompany him.

This is what a returned California tells his Nova Scotia countrymen about the propriety of keeping up an asylum to the over-trusted occidental States. He speaks through the Acadian, of Wolfville:—“Mr. D. A. Shaw, after an absence of sixteen years in Southern California, has returned to visit friends and native land. Although Mr. S. has been successful in securing a competence for himself and family in the land of his adoption, he says he would not advise any one to leave this country to go there in the hope of making a speedy fortune any easier than in Nova Scotia. Land booming and speculation has been overdone and the reaction is severely felt. Large numbers of persons who a few years ago invested capital in real estate find it extremely difficult, at the present time, to realize ready cash to pay their taxes.”

—The Nova Scotia Assembly now stands prorogued until the 26th day of September next. See Royal Gazette of July 31st.

—D. Lawlor, of North Sydney, C. B., has a cow that in two consecutive weeks produced 41 1/2 lbs. of butter. She is a grade Durham with some Jersey blood.

—I am offering now 150 kegs of iron and steel nails, and 100 boxes of Window Glass, at low figures. R. Shipley.

—A barrel of dulse frequently sells for more money in Boston than a barrel of flour. Some of our Bay shore inhabitants can bear witness to this statement as a fact. —Wm. Bent, for some time in the employ of the W. & A. R., left their duties on Monday last, to enter upon the service of engineering on the Nova Scotia Central. —The attention of our readers is called to our correspondent “M.”’s excellent article on Good Stables and the Conservation of Manure in the Dominion. It is a wise observation on these subjects reflects credit on himself and the county of his birth.

—The Liverpool Advocate thinks it possible that Shelburne may yet adhere to the Atlantic and Annapolis railway scheme, and thinks such a course on the part of the people of that County is the only thing to be done to secure railway advantages.

—A large shed, 300 feet long, used for storing coke for a considerable blast furnace, was burned Saturday. The whole works of the company had an exceedingly narrow escape from destruction as 3,000 tons of coke caught fire and the works were only saved by the exertions of a small army of workmen. The loss is about $8,000. —Ans. Acadian.

—The Bridgewater Enterprise, of July 31st, contains a notice of co-partnership between J. N. Mack, M. D., of Bridgewater, and A. R. Foster, M. D., of (Harvard). Doctor Foster is a native of this county, being a son of Michael Bohaker Foster of Upper Grandville.

—Small Fruits of Kings.—The following statement is made on the authority of the Acadian:—“S. B. Chate, of Berwick, marketed about 6,000 quarts of strawberries this season. L. D. Robinson came next with about 5,000 quarts strawberries, and 3,000 quarts raspberries.”

—A BRIDGETOWN BOY GONE TO HIS REST. More than thirty years ago, and while still in his teens, Edward L. James, or “Neel” as his school companions called him, went to Texas with a view to seeking his fortunes in that then far off, and for the most part, unknown land. There he settled and ultimately married. At the close of the war he followed his business in Sydney and here he appears to have been fairly prosperous. From the Sequin Advertiser, a copy of which has been handed us by his sister, Miss Angelina James, we have pleasure in quoting the following notice of her late husband:—“E. L. James, a resident of Seguin county for nearly twenty years, and who for many years conducted a business in Seguin, died in the city of Austin, Texas, on the 22nd inst. For many years past Mr. James was clerk in the bureau or department in Austin. Mr. James was a good man, and if he had an enemy we never heard of it. He was about fifty years of age, and we believe, a native of Nova Scotia. He was married in this county in the city of Sydney, to a lady dying a couple of years ago. Mr. James left children, who are with their relatives in this county.”

—Mr. Gilbert Hill, we regret to say, still continues to be very ill.

—Two hundred and eighty-three millions of pounds of cotton are now being ginned in the United States. The aggregate trade of the Dominion for the year ending the 31st of Dec. 1888 shows an increase of six millions of dollars, the increase, however, being chiefly derived from exports.

—Mr. S. Nelly, of Lynn, Mass., called at our office on Friday. Mr. Nelly is a native of Aylesford, N. S. He went to the States several years ago after serving an apprenticeship in a printing office in Aylesford, and engaged with a large printing and publishing house there, and has since, after passing through the highest office of a printer, returned to his native land, where he is to be for some time on the occasion of the 100th Anniversary of the birth of the late Mr. Warren, Baptist minister, of this town, and it was on this occasion that the accident occurred. It appears that the seat fixed in the swing-carriage, when no attention being paid to his request, she attempted to stop the swing with her feet. The descending motion of the carriage, in this case, was the cause of her being struck by the leg. It was in the trial to do this that her leg was broken. The fracture was of the lower end of the femur, and the child was unable to recover her place among her playmates.

—On Thursday afternoon of last week, Alice Craig, while in the act of swinging, had the misfortune to have her leg broken. A Sunday-school festival was held on that day on the grounds of the Rev. Mr. Warren, Baptist minister, of this town, and it was on this occasion that the accident occurred. It appears that the seat fixed in the swing-carriage, when no attention being paid to his request, she attempted to stop the swing with her feet. —The late H. S. Piper. Below we give place to a number of notices of the decease of the lamented gentleman, which have appeared in the various provincial newspapers since the occurrence of the sad event last week.

—Mr. H. S. Piper, proprietor of the Bridgetown Monitor, is dead. He was a quiet, business-like journalist and was well known and popular in his profession. —Yorkmouth Times.

—H. S. Piper, proprietor of the Bridgetown Monitor, died on Sunday, in his 37th year, of consumption, after a long illness. He leaves a wife and two children. He is spoken of in the highest terms. —Pictou News.

—Henry S. Piper, editor and proprietor of the Monitor, died on Sunday, in his 37th year, of consumption, after a long illness. He leaves a wife and two children. He is spoken of in the highest terms. —Pictou News.

—We regret to announce the death of H. S. Piper, editor and proprietor of the Monitor, published at Bridgetown, Annapolis Co. Brother Piper was in his 37th year, and for some time past had been afflicted with the complaint. He conducted the Monitor with ability. His death took place on the 28th. —Yarmouth Times.

—It is with deep regret that we inform our readers of the death of Henry S. Piper, Editor and Proprietor of the Bridgetown Monitor, which occurred on Sunday morning last. Mr. Piper was a comparatively young man, and was a native of Nova Scotia. He leaves a wife and a child. He was a quiet, business-like journalist and was well known and popular in his profession. —Yorkmouth Times.

—Mr. George Ruffus, of Mount Pleasant, sold one of his horses last week to an American buyer for $200.

—The governor-general and family are at present sojourning in Quebec, where it is expected they will remain about a month.

—Our townsman, Samuel F. Randolph, is rapidly recovering from the inflammation of the eye by which he was seized a few days ago. His business is being carried on daily for a fact, which we have been requested to state.

—Two Boston bicyclists passed through our streets yesterday on their way to Halifax from Yarmouth, to which place they were brought by St. Yarmouth. One of them, Mr. Emmerson, expressed himself as highly pleased with what he saw of our streets, and seemed gratified on being told they would still have some 50 or 60 miles of equal enjoyment before them.

—SAB ACCIDENT.—On Thursday afternoon of last week, Alice Craig, while in the act of swinging, had the misfortune to have her leg broken. A Sunday-school festival was held on that day on the grounds of the Rev. Mr. Warren, Baptist minister, of this town, and it was on this occasion that the accident occurred. It appears that the seat fixed in the swing-carriage, when no attention being paid to his request, she attempted to stop the swing with her feet. The descending motion of the carriage, in this case, was the cause of her being struck by the leg. It was in the trial to do this that her leg was broken. The fracture was of the lower end of the femur, and the child was unable to recover her place among her playmates.

—The late H. S. Piper. Below we give place to a number of notices of the decease of the lamented gentleman, which have appeared in the various provincial newspapers since the occurrence of the sad event last week.

—Mr. H. S. Piper, proprietor of the Bridgetown Monitor, is dead. He was a quiet, business-like journalist and was well known and popular in his profession. —Yorkmouth Times.

Joker's Corner. Appearances are Deceitful. The other afternoon a very modest looking gentleman sauntered into McGill's bookstore and began looking at the treasures in the English corner.

Appearances are Deceitful. The other afternoon a very modest looking gentleman sauntered into McGill's bookstore and began looking at the treasures in the English corner. Mr. Millard eyed the stranger with suspicion, for the reason that not very long ago a modest looking gentleman pocketed several treasures and made off with them.
