N. S. FISHERMEN IN WRECK

Tragic Fate of Seven of Crew of Pensacola Schooner Caldwell Colt Is Related

Gloucester, March 11.—The recent arrival of the Morgan line steamship El Oriente, at Gloucester, Texas, revealed the tragic experience of the fishermen who were members of the ill-fated schooner Caldwell Colt, out of Pensacola, Florida, which was wrecked on a reef during a gale, on February 13th, near the Tortugas light. Only two men survived, Capt. L. A. Smith, master, who was brought to Gloucester by the Morgan liner, and Frank Brooks, who was picked up by a British tramp steamer and taken to New Orleans. Both men are in a bad condition, but are expected to recover.

Many of the men were old-time Gloucester fishermen. Capt. Smith is a native of Digby, N.S., formerly lived at East Gloucester and sailed skipper from here for many years. The victims of the disaster who formerly went from this port were Jeremiah Clark, cook, of Newfoundland; William Fudge, seventy-two years, of New Brunswick; Andrew Gannon, sixty-three years, of Pembroke, Me.; Matthew O'Brien, fifty-eight years, of Newfoundland, and Joseph Menze, forty years, of Yarmouth.

MARSHALL NEILAN PROVES HIS GENIUS BY WRITING AS WELL AS PRODUCING HIS PHOTOPLAYS

Versatile Director, Dissatisfied With Screen Material Hereof. Says Day of Original Story is at Hand.

That Marshall Neilan, actor, author, director and producer, successfully and collectively, is one of the most brilliant and versatile creative geniuses in the motion picture world to-day, has once more been demonstrated by his latest contribution to the silent drama—"Dinty".

Wesley Barry, the freckle-faced boy, favorite of the films and protégé of the great director, was indirectly responsible for Mr. Neilan's writing the story.

Search for material that would prove suitable as a vehicle for this popular youngster proved a disappointment, but Neilan recalled a little story about a newsboy that he had started some years before and never finished. It was just what he wanted. He immediately resumed writing the story where he left off, and on its completion had a scenario prepared from it by Marion Fairfax, the clever screen author, who also prepared the continuity for Mr. Neilan's "Go and Get It," which has been acclaimed the most fascinating story of newspaper life ever screened.

Thus in "Dinty," which will be the attraction at the Primrose Theatre for an engagement of two days, beginning Monday 20th, Wesley Barry has the role of a fighting San Francisco newsboy, the sole support of his old Irish mother. The story has a picturesque setting in San Francisco's Chinatown and the plot takes a thrilling turn in the pursuit of a band of Malay opium smugglers who kidnap the fiancée of the assistant district attorney. "Dinty" plays sleuth, and a pretty romance is developed.

ACADIA STUDENT WINS FELLOWSHIP

Donald D. Foster, a Graduate of Acadia, is Again Awarded Coveted Prize.

Donald D. Foster, a science graduate of Acadia University, class of 1920, who won the Loomis Fellowship in physics at Yale University last year, has again won this valuable and coveted prize. He is the fourth man since 1902, when the fellowship was established, to win it more than once. The value of the fellowship is approximately six hundred dollars, and the winner is determined by competitive examination. It is the highest departmental fellowship in Physics.

Mr. Foster is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Foster, of Torbrook West, Annapolis County.

The Loomis Fellowship in Physics was established in 1902 by Francis E. Loomis (B.A. 1864), by the gift of $10,000. This fellowship is open to recent graduates of Yale College and the Sheffield Scientific School of Yale University, and to graduates of other institutions who have spent at least one year in the study of Physics in the Graduate School of Yale University. It is granted to the candidate who passes the best competitive examination in Physics (descriptive, mathematical, and laboratory practice). The holder must be a candidate for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy and must make Physics his chief study.

Two years ago the fellowship was won by J. Stuart Foster, an elder brother of the present winner. He graduated in science from Acadia in 1911 and obtained his Ph. D. degree from Yale University last June. He is now at New Haven, Conn., engaged in research work for the United States government.

Another brother, Malcolm C. Foster, also obtained his Ph. D. degree from Yale last spring. He graduated in science from Acadia in 1914. He is now an instructor of Mathematics at Yale University.

PHINNEY COVE

On Wednesday evening, March 8th, a meeting was held in our church in the interests of the work of the Canadian Bible Society. Our pastor, Rev. D. W. Dixon, was accompanied by Miss Minnie Brown, Secretary of the local branch of this Society in the Hampton Church, of which we became a part about a year ago. After opening the meeting, Mr. Dixon invited Miss Brown to the platform, and for nearly an hour she held the closest attention of both old and young while she told of the organization of the British and Foreign Bible Society, of its object and methods, and of the good results of its work; also of the organizing of the Canadian Bible Society as an auxiliary to the British and Foreign Bible Society; and several incidents were related of the experiences of the Society's workers in different places, and the blessings resulting from their labors. At the close of Miss Brown's address came a song, "Gospel Bells," by the school children, composed for the occasion by the teacher, Mrs. Vernon Bennett, who was appointed Vice-President of the Hampton branch of the Bible Society for this place. A collection was taken for the work of the Bible Society, and the meeting closed with singing, "Abide With Me".

LOCAL DEATH ROLL

CHARLES E. WITHERS
In the passing of Den. Withers, the community of Granville Centre has been called to part with one of the most beloved and respected citizens. Charles Edward Withers was born seventy-two years ago, the youngest son of the late James and Jane (Longmire) Withers. He has lived his entire life at Granville Centre on the homestead farm. For two years he has been suffering from an incurable disease which terminated fatally early on the morning of February 28th at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Claire Bent, Tupperville, where he and Mrs. Withers were spending the winter. Thirty-eight years ago, under the pastorate of Rev. W. H. Warren, he was converted and united with the Granville Centre Baptist Church, and ever since has beautifully adorned the Christian profession, then made. For twenty-seven years he has served his Master and the church in the capacity of deacon. For thirty-five years he was untiring in the arduous task of Sunday School superintendent. A strong, sweet, bass voice, made him a valued member of the choir from his young manhood, and for a member of years he fulfilled the duties of organist. He did not allow anything to keep him from the Sabbath service or the prayer meeting. His enthusiastic consecrated spirit has been an inspiration to all with whom he has been associated. In the community he was a man among men, the first to render assistance in trouble or sickness, and many can testify of personal deeds of Christian service, financially and otherwise, which characterized his life. He was a charter member of Seymour Division, S. of T., and for nearly forty years has been Deputy, and a thorough temperance worker in every branch of the Order. In the home he was a most fond, indulgent, husband and father. Six daughters and one son mourn their loss and revere and honor his memory as follows: Mrs. Wm. W. Hutchinson, Brookline, Mass.; Mrs. Wm. Ingalls, and Mrs. Claire Bent, Tupperville; Mrs. Clarence Eaton, Granville Centre; Mrs. Sidney Burns, Regina; Mrs. Chester A. Wade, Halifax; and Mr. Judson Withers, Granville Centre. One daughter, Mrs. Leon Wade, of Saugas, Mass., predeceased him two years ago. The funeral took place from the United Baptist Church, Thursday, March 2nd, conducted by his pastor, Rev. A. Gibson, who spoke feelingly and fittingly from the words: "He Being Dead Yet Speaketh". Seymour and Belleisle Divisions S. of T. attended the funeral in the regalia of the Order. To the sorrowing widow, formerly (Miss Alice J. Bent), and family, the sympathy of all is extended.
J. W. LOWE
The death took place at the residence of Augustus Watkins, Digby, at five o'clock last Sunday of John William Lowe, father of Mrs. Watkins. Mr. Lowe was taken about six weeks ago with paralysis, but his death was immediately due to pneumonia. He was born in Clementsville seventy-seven years ago and up to the last four years had made his home either there or in Clementsport. He leaves to mourn, his widow, three sons, Stanley, of Upper Clements; Ernest, of Clementsville, and William, of Boston; five daughters: Mrs. Henry Winterhalter, Boston; Mrs. Charles Farnham, Lynn, Mass.; Mrs. Alex. Murray, Boston; Mrs. Lydia Watkins, Digby; and Mrs. Edith Cameron, Windsor; also one sister, Mrs. Ezra Hamilton, of Clementsport, and one half-brother, Levi Trimmer, also of that place. The funeral took place on Tuesday, and interment was in the Baptist cemetery, Digby, the pastor of the Baptist Church officiating.
MRS. MARY ANN WHELOCK RAY
Mrs. Mary Ann Wheelock Ray, widow of the late William Roger Ray, passed away in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lizzie Ray Bruce, Northboro, Mass., on Sunday, Feb. 26, 1922. Funeral services were held at the home of the daughter on the following Tuesday, Rev. S. E. MacGeheon, pastor of the Evangelical Congregational Church, officiating. Music was furnished by pastor and Mrs. Edith Gay, contralto of the church. Hymns used were: "Abide With Me" and "Saved by Grace" sung as duets. Then at the close the pastor sang as a solo the old familiar hymn, "Gathering Home, One by One". The body was placed in the vault until later when it will be taken to the family lot in the cemetery of the home town.

PROGRESSIVE COUNTIES

Mr. John D. MacDonald, Registrar of Deeds, Pictou, has at last after five years' effort, completed the work of making new consolidated and type-written indexes for the Registry, covering a period of one hundred and fifty years—from 1771, when the Philadelphia grant was registered as the first instrument down to the end of 1921. This was a big piece of work and Mr. MacDonald handled it well, having thereby made his office the most desirable of all the registry offices in the Province in which to search titles. He has had, too, the co-operation of the County authorities in the enlargement of the registry vault, within which searching can now be carried on with ease. Mr. MacDonald says the impression is quite general throughout the county that one must visit his office in person in order to have documents registered or titles looked up, but this is altogether unnecessary. Persons having papers ready for registration should not take the risk of holding them for any length of time, when mail service is available.

It might be of interest to our Annapolis County readers to learn that this county is also progressive and has adopted the same system in its Registry office, and the Registrar is very busy these days consolidating a ten year period, the books of which are in a very bad shape on account of long service.

The committee is to be congratulated on their foresight in arranging to have this important work done which will be of great benefit to the whole county. A new Record Book has been introduced in which all records are now made with the typewriter and the old method of long-hand has been abandoned which will mean a great saving to the county in books as very much less space is required in which to copy the documents when done on the typewriter. The Registrar had to purchase a new special wide carriage typewriter with which to do this work.

ICE SUPPLY ON THE FARM

One day last summer I met a farmer who had been to the station with his cream. He had just received his cheque for July and showed his account with the company for the same month. It credited him with fifty-two pounds butter fat at forty-seven cents from first grade cream, and two hundred and twenty-four pounds butter fat at thirty-seven cents from second grade cream. When I asked him how he came to have so much sour cream, he said he had no ice and that his well water wouldn't keep his cream sweet, especially over Sunday. Then I asked him why he hadn't put up ice. "Well," he said, "It was too much bother."

A glance at the figure in this man's account will show that he lost $22.40 that month by not having ice.

Outside of its use in the dairy, ice is essential in the farm home for supplying the refrigerator, in which meats, butter and other perishable foods can be kept fresh for a number of days.

To know how much ice to put up the following is a safe rule to follow: If engaged in the city milk trade the farmer should put up two tons of ice per cow, if supplying cream, one ton per cow is sufficient, and four tons for household use.

In putting up ice, one foot below the ice, one foot along each side and two feet above should be allowed for the sawdust. If the weather is cold, it is a good plan to pack damp snow between the cakes. This prevents the air from melting the ice.

Ice may be stored in the eaves of a woodshed or outbuilding, but it is better to have a building especially built for the purpose, because the dampness is apt to rot sills and walls. In building, two things are essential, drainage and ventilation. Unless the soil is sandy, a few inches of gravel under the ice, with a drain to carry off the water is necessary. By having openings in the gables a draught can be secured which will carry away the warm air under the roof. Plans and suggestions for farm ice houses can be obtained free from the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, or from your nearest Experimental Station.

As ice often comes into direct contact with food and drink, it is important to secure it as clean as possible. It should never be taken from streams, or ponds into which there is any drainage from houses or barns. Disease germs lying dormant in the ice may become very active if they get into man's food.

Good, clear ice, free from snow, harvested before it begins to melt, is the best.

Ice is free for the taking and requires only a little labor in harvesting, therefore, why shouldn't it be used on every farm, when it gives such good returns, not only as cash, but in convenience to the household.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrup. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. GENERAL DEBILITY FOLLOWS INFLUENZA

The After-Effects Often More Serious Than The Disease Itself

No reasonable precaution to avert an attack of influenza should be spared. The disease itself often proves fatal and its after-effects among those who are spared, make the life of the victim one of almost constant misery. Ask almost any of those who have been attacked by this trouble what their present condition of health is and most of them will answer: "Since I had the influenza I have never been fully well." This trouble leaves behind it a persistent weakness of the limbs, shortness of breath, bad digestion, palpitation of the heart and a tired feeling after even slight exertion. This is due to the thin-blooded condition in which the patient is left after the fever and influenza have subsided. This condition will continue until the blood is built up again, and for building up the blood and strengthening the nerves nothing can equal a fair treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The value of this medicine in cases of this kind is shown by the statement of Mr. Edward J. McGuire, Pembroke, Ont., who says:—"In the fall of 1918 I was attacked with the influenza—and not in a mild form either. I was confined to my room for three weeks, and although the influenza subsided I did not regain my health. As a matter of fact I seemed to be growing weaker. I had no appetite, was subject to fainting spells and my feet and ankles were badly swollen. The doctor told me that my condition had developed into a serious case of anaemia, and although I was under his care for over two months I was not improving in any way. At this stage one of my friends advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was loath to do so, as I began to think my case hopeless. However, I was finally persuaded to try them, and by the time I had used two boxes there was no doubt they were helping me. I continued taking the pills until I had used a dozen boxes, when I found that every symptom of the trouble had left me and I was again enjoying the best of health. I returned to my work and have ever since been in good health and feel that I owe it entirely to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I think that anyone who is suffering from the after-effects of influenza, or any form of anaemia should give this medicine a fair trial."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

WEALTH OF FISHERY RESOURCES BASED UPON FISH CONSUMPTION

If We Eat No Fish Our Immense Natural Property Returns No Dividend—The Industry In The Hands Of The Consumer.

Many, many people do not realize what tremendous possibilities there are in our prolific fisheries. They are limitless sources of riches. Each crop of fish is newly-created wealth, just as substantial as that represented in grain and wheat, in cattle and similar food products. But unlike the commodities with which it has been compared, fish does not require any guiding care on the part of man. The perennial crops develop naturally, leaving to us the mere labor of reaping. The natural potential resources of our young country in this regard outstrip those of any other nation. Still we are not at the top as a fish-producing nation. We do not even take advantage of seafood here at home for our annual consumption is but twenty-one pounds per head. When the statement is made that each crop of fish is new-found wealth, there are well-defined limitations. The value of a fish cargo is measured by the amount of money it will bring—not by the amount of nourishment it affords. The law of supply and demand fixes the gold value, which increases as the supply diminishes and falls to zero as the supply increases. Not infrequently boats laden with fresh fish come into eastern ports from the North Atlantic Banks and fail to find a market for their catch. Not a great many months ago a steam trawler failed to dispose of a cargo of 250,000 pounds at any price. So fish is new wealth only when it may be marketed.

The extent of the wealth we may acquire from the sea rests then entirely upon the demand, so the development of the industry does not rest with the fisherman and the persistence and vigor with which he prosecutes his calling. It lies entirely with the consuming public in this country and elsewhere. It is economic folly for the fisherman to take a single fish above the amount for which he can find a market. Any additional labor is wasted.

It is estimated that our waters are sufficiently fertile to supply the markets of the world with fish. Last year we caught close to a billion pounds, while the neighboring republic doubled that amount. From the great banks of the North Atlantic—literally at our door—our American cousins take from two to three times the quantity of fish we do. Is that not surprising?

Fish is undoubtedly becoming more popular. Statistics prove it. But it is necessary for the speedy advancement of the industry that it be used to a still greater extent. Canada consumes about fifty per cent (in value) of the fish she produces. It is the fisherman's most important market and their supply is controlled largely by the extent of this market's demand.

It is not necessary to dilate upon the individual economic and other advantages of a diet liberally provided with fish. This fact is pretty generally appreciated. One item of the greatest importance, however, is to make use of our unusual variety of seafoods. Our waters yield no less than six hundred edible species but not more than twenty are popular on the Canadian market. This means a national economic loss, because the fisherman's catch is rendered only sixty to seventy per cent. marketable. The balance must be thrown back into the sea.

Try any fish once. It would not be placed on the market if it were not a good, substantial and wholesome fare.

MINER KILLED AT SPRINGHILL

Kay Jones was Crushed to Death by A Fall Of Rock.

Springhill Mines, N. S., March 8—Kay Jones, a miner employe at number two mine is dead as the result of an accident at the mine this morning. Jones, with his buddy, John Henwood, were engaged cutting out a new place in number nine incline, on the east 2400 foot level. The explanation of the accident is that Jones was digging out a hole for a prop to support a boom, when a bump or movement of the roof sprung the running boom supporting the roof. The roof of the incline caved in, Henwood was pinned to the side of the incline. He was extricated without suffering serious injuries. The fall of rock buried Jones, and he was only after four hours of strenuous labor that his mangled body was recovered from the debris.

The deceased was of English extraction, and single. He boarded at the company boarding house and had no relatives in Springhill. He was a member of the Springhill branch of the Great War Veterans' Association. To-day their flag is at half mast in honor of the dead. The accident took place shortly after one o'clock, and the body was brought to the surface at six o'clock this morning. As is customary under such distressing circumstances the day shift was cancelled, and the mine did not work. Hoisting was resumed on the afternoon shift.

Made In Canada

In the spring of 1918 we made our first shipment of fertilizer from this plant. At that time several of our travelling men reported to us that local agents were doubtful about being able to sell a fertilizer other than imported. They had been so accustomed to buying imported fertilizer that they did not feel that any which was not imported could be up to the standard of what they had used for many years previous.

In order to overcome this and to impress upon our trade that a fertilizer made in Canada was just as good in every particular as that imported, we adopted the phrase "Made at Windsor, N. S." which we have used on all our advertising pamphlets and booklets and have let the results which the users of our fertilizers obtained speak for themselves.

The value of fertilizer is not fixed by what the maker says about it in his advertisements but it is sold on its contents of plant food represented by the analysis. Almost every user of fertilizer knows what a 4-8-4 or a 4-6-10 or a 5-8-7 are and just what these expressions mean. Government inspectors during the selling season take samples of fertilizer as offered for sale which samples are analyzed by the chemists at Ottawa and the results published in an annual report issued by that department. These reports are circulated everywhere fertilizer is used and every farmer and dealer can compare the analysis with the analysis the manufacturer guarantees.

The other method of determining how the fertilizer stands is by the actual results which the user gets from his crop. This is the final test but the results have shown the high analysis fertilizer almost invariably gives the best results, and we have letters from many of our customers who have used our fertilizers for the past ten years, and we are selling to the same customers year after year.

Both the reports of analysis issued by the Department at Ottawa and the actual results obtained by the users of our fertilizer indicate that it is up to the standard in every particular and equal in every way to any imported fertilizer.

Just at this time we are calling this phase of the fertilizer situation to users and dealers because there is a general campaign being carried on by the Canadian Reconstruction Association to develop the sale of "Made in Canada" goods. By doing this the condition of unemployment will be relieved and everyone knows how serious is this matter of unemployment.

The official statistics ending for 1920 show that during that year the total amount of imported goods used in Canada amounted to upwards of one billion dollars and of this over eight hundred million came from the United States.

Now with unemployment so serious everyone before buying imported goods of any kind should be certain that he cannot buy the same goods equal in quality and equal in price made here. It is of course not possible to stop entirely the use of imported goods as there are numerous things which are not made here, there are others which on account of especial circumstances are made at other points at a lower price and sometimes of better quality, but the product that we sell is equal in price and in quality to any similar brand imported and there is no necessity from the standpoint of price or quality of anyone buying any fertilizer other than those made in Canada.

This year we are making up the various brands running in quality from those containing 1 per cent of Ammonia to as high as 5 per cent Ammonia and from 1 per cent Potash to 10 per cent Potash and we have a variety of grades to suit all crops and conditions. All our brands are made from the best materials, properly mixed, fine and dry and it will run in the planter and satisfactory in every way.

The results of the analysis of our different brands can be found in official government reports covering the past ten years and they will be found to be up to the guarantee all along the line.

We have local agents in most towns and our travelling men cover the various territories and we are glad to send our prices and terms to anyone writing us direct.

DEATH OF JUDGE LONGLEY

One of Nova Scotia's Most Distinguished and Accomplished Citizens Passes Away

In the death of Mr. Justice Longley, which took place Thursday afternoon March 16th, at Halifax, at four o'clock, there passes from the stage of Nova Scotia, one of its most distinguished and accomplished figures. It was well-known that Judge Longley had been in indifferent health for upwards of three years. But notwithstanding this, he continued to engage in many activities of public life and was in close touch with world affairs.

Lately, however, his condition became worse and it was found necessary for him to enter hospital.

Mr. Justice Longley is survived by his widow and several children. By his first wife there were two sons and one daughter, Horace and Paul, of Sydney, and Mrs. A. E. Ball, in the West. By his second marriage there were three sons: John and Goldwin, at Dalhousie University, Halifax, and Charles, at King's Collegiate, Windsor. For over half a century, since, as a youth of twenty-two, he graduated from Acadia University, Wolfville, James Willberforce Longley played a prominent and honorable part in the development of Nova Scotia. It was natural that he should, for he was descended from that splendid old stock which populated this province at the close of the American Revolution. He was born of a United Empire Loyalist family at Paradise, Annapolis County, in the year 1849. His father was Israel Longley, and his mother, Frances L. Manning.

At an early age he entered Acadia University, Wolfville, where he studied for his degree of Bachelor of Arts, which was conferred upon him in 1871. Four years later he was called to the bar, the same year as his Alma Mater conferred upon him his Artium Magister.

As a lawyer, he was eminently successful, displaying in all circumstances a wide knowledge of legal affairs which he combined with a strong human sympathy. But then, as now, politics were a potent force in Nova Scotian life and were closely allied to journalism. Mr. Longley became associated with the Fourth Estate as editorial writer in the Acadian Recorder, Halifax, where his trenchant and vigorous articles attracted province-wide attention.

Mr. Longley graduated still further in politics by contesting Annapolis for the local house and, elected in 1882, he represented that constituency for twenty-three years. It was during the Fielding Administration in 1884 that he became attorney general, holding that office, with a short intermission, in 1896, until 1905, the longest period in the history of the province.

In 1877 he married Miss Anne Browns, of Paradise, who died in 1899. In 1902 Mr. Longley again married. His widow being the daughter of the late George Fletcher, of Norfolk, England.

During his career as a barrister, he was made Commissioner for the consolidation of the Provincial Statutes in 1883. In 1890 he was appointed King's Counsel. His whole-hearted interest in public affairs is manifested in the offices he held in the various organizations of the province. He was a Vice-President of the Nova Scotia Historical Society and a Past President of the Charitable Irish Society, President of the Nova Scotia Exhibition Commission and a Fellow of the Royal Society of Canada. In 1897 Acadia conferred on him a Doctorate of Civil Law, while in 1905 he received the degree of LL. D. from St. Francis Xavier's.

As a writer on subjects of national import, Mr. Longley had many published works to his name. Among
