Gallery is said to have used to secure votes and influence are the following: A position at the Mill street fire station for John Killfeather; $25 paid personally to Charles Mirron, 121 Wellington street, a job on the canal for W. O'Brien; a job as lockman for one Hart, and a job as policeman for Henry Meahan; with the promise of a permanent job from the government; a job for Daniel Demer, from the government an appointment as snow foreman; reinstatement on the police force for John Collins; personally and through Ald. Blazed Trail Stories
AND
Stories of the Wild Life

By STEWART EDWARD WHITE.

(Copyrighted by The S. E. McClure Co., and published by special arrangement in the Evening Times.)

THE SCALER.

Once Morrison & Daly, of Saginaw, but then lumbering at Beasant Lake, lent some money to a man named Crothers, taking in return a mortgage on what was known as the Crothers Tract of white pine. In due time, as Crothers did not liquidate the firm became possessed of this tract. They hardly knew what to do with it. The timber was situated some fifty miles from the railroad in a country that threw all sorts of difficulties across the logger's path, and had to be hauled from mine to mine, miles to the river. Both Morrison and Daly grumbled in spirit. Supplies would have to be toted in to last the entire winter, for when the snow came, communication over fifty miles of forest road would be as good as cut off. Whom could they trust among the lesser foremen of their woods? Whom could they spare among the greater? At this juncture they called to them Tim Shearer, their walking boss, and the greatest riverman in the State. "You'll have to 'job' her," said Tom, promptly. "Who would be hired at any price to go up in that country on a ten-mile trail?" demanded Daly, sceptically. "Got one man," replied Tim, "an I know where to find him."

shifted the intoxicated Mallan's leg out of the danger of someone's falling on it, and departed from that roaring hell-hole to the fringe of the solemn forest. And this brings us to FitzPatrick. FitzPatrick was a tall, slow man, with a face built square. The lines of his brow and mouth, and his jaw ran straight across; those of his temples, cheeks, and nose straight up and down. His eye was very quiet and his speech rare. When he did talk it was with deliberation. For days, sometimes, he would speculate nothing but monosyllables, looking steadily on the things about him. He had walked in ahead of the team late one evening in the autumn, after the Rough Red and his devil had been at work a fortnight. The camp consisted quite simply of three buildings, which might have been identified as a cook-camp, a sleeping-camp, and a night FitzPatrick entered the sleeping-camp, stood his slender scaling rule in the corner, and peered about him through the dank of a single lamp. He saw a round stove in the corner, a littered and dirty floor, bunks filled with horrible straw and worse blankets jumbled here and there, and old dirty clothes drying feebly. He saw an unkempt row of hard-faced men along the deacon-seat, reckless in bearing, with the light of the dare-devil in their eyes. "Where is the boss?" asked FitzPatrick, steadily. The Rough Red lurched his huge form toward the intruder. "I am your scaler," explained the latter. "Where is the office?" "You can have the bunk beyond," indicated the Rough Red, surlily. "You have no office, then?" "What's good enough for the man is good enough for the boss; and what's good enough for the boss is good enough for any blank-blanked scaler."

penchant for the Police Gazette, secretly admired him. "Luk' out for th' Rough Red; he'll do ye!" he would whisper hoarsely when he passed the silent scaler.

His business was, by measuring the diameter of each log to ascertain and tabulate the number of board feet put in by the contractor. On the basis of his single report, James Bourke would be paid for the season's work. Inevitably he at once became James Bourke's natural enemy, and so of every man in the crew with the possible exception of the cook. Suppose you log a knoll which your eye tells you must grow at least a half-million; suppose you work conscientiously for twelve days; suppose your average has always been between forty and fifty thousand a day. And then suppose the scaler's sheets credit you with only a little over the four hundred thousand! What would you think of it? Would you not be inclined to suspect that the scaler had cheated you in favor of his master? That you had been compelled by false figures to work a day or so for nothing? FitzPatrick scaled honestly, for he was a just man, but exactitude and optimism of estimate never approximated, and they did not in this case. The Rough Red grumbled, accused, swore, threatened, FitzPatrick smoked "Peoria," and said nothing. Still it was not pleasant for him, alone there in the dark wilderness fifty miles from the nearest settlement without a human being with whom to exchange a friendly word. The two men early came to a clash over the methods of cutting. The Rough Red and his crew cut anywhere, everywhere, anyhow. The scaler, way was theirs. Small timber they stripped, large timber they sawed high, tops they left rather than trim them into logs. FitzPatrick would not have the pine slaughtered. (To be continued.)

At a meeting of the pilot commissioners yesterday, it was decided to instruct their counsel, Hon. C. N. Skinner and C. J. Coster to appeal to the Supreme Court of New Brunswick against the decision of Judge McLeod in the matter of the Cumberland Railway & Coal Company vs. the Pilot Commissioners. This was the question of piloting fees on the company's coal barges to this port.

ANOTHER SCHEME TO BOOM
The Sale of Common and Weak Dyes.
Cheap-John Jewelry and Plated Ware.

For many years the Cheap-John jewelry and plated ware vendor pursued his calling in market places, at country and city fairs, and on the public highways. Today, owing to the business push of town and city life and ten cent stores, the gentleman referred to above, has been driven out of sight and out of trade. The false theory of "one dye for coloring animal and vegetable productions" (advanced by some package dye makers) having failed to deceive our women and girls, a feast is spread, consisting of Cheap-John jewelry and plated ware, which the ladies are asked to pay for in cash, and the sending of a few empty envelopes to prove that they have tried the weak and poor dyes. Do not forget the terms ladies; "you must first buy and use the common dyes, then run your good materials, and lastly, send on certain sums of money before the Cheap-John jewelry is yours." Just a few warning words:—For easy, safe and profitable home dyeing, you need package dyes of a high standard, not crude and weak dyes bolstered up with Cheap-John jewelry and common plated ware, which can always be bought at any city or town bargain store for less money than you are asked to send to package dye manufacturers. Kindly remember that DIAMOND DYES guarantee at all times perfect results and large profits when used in the home. The DIAMOND DYES are of pure, so easy to use, that a little child who can read the simple and plain directions, can dye as well as her mother. No plated brass or pewter ware in connection with DIAMOND DYES; they sell on their merits, and give joy and pleasure to all who use them. Do not allow any dealer to offer you a substitute for DIAMOND DYES. Always see that the name DIAMOND PACKAGE DYES is on every envelope.

At a meeting of the pilot commissioners yesterday, it was decided to instruct their counsel, Hon. C. N. Skinner and C. J. Coster to appeal to the Supreme Court of New Brunswick against the decision of Judge McLeod in the matter of the Cumberland Railway & Coal Company vs. the Pilot Commissioners. Tuesday in Boston, Mr. Wymouth, British vice-consul, presented to David Dobbins, formerly of the fishing schooner Fish Hawk, a silver medal for his gallantry in rescuing the crew of the Canadian schooner Swanhilda when that vessel was wrecked in the Bay of Fundy two years ago today. The medal bears on the face the coat-of-arms of Canada and on the other side is the following inscription: "To David Dobbins (seaman) for his gallant services in a dory in assisting to rescue the crew of the Canadian schooner Swanhilda when she was at sea the 29th of October, 1903." Two other fishermen, Joseph King and William Mansfield, were associated with Dobbins in the rescue. The Swanhilda was leaking in the Bay of Fundy when her condition was observed by the three members of the Fish Hawk. Dobbins, Mansfield and King launched a dory, and after a hard battle they succeeded in rescuing the five members of the crew of the Swanhilda. About thirty minutes after the crew were rescued the Swanhilda sank. The English vice-consul is endeavoring to locate Messrs. King and Mansfield to reward them. KILLED BY EXPLOSION
Gas Plant Blew up and Edw. Duquette Went With It.

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 25.—Edward Duquette, 27 years old, one of the proprietors of the Iron Camp at the head of Fourth Lake on Fulton Chain, was instantly killed last night by the explosion of a gas plant from which the hotel was lighted. The lights failed soon after darkness and Mr. Duquette with a lantern in his hand went to the hotel to remedy the difficulty. As he opened the door there was an explosion which broke most of the windows in the surrounding buildings and which aroused every inhabitant, and denser of the forest for miles around. The gas house, a strong structure, was blown to fragments. It is said that when the plant was constructed, the discharge pipe was not extended outside of the plant and that accumulation of gas which ignited from the lantern when Duquette opened the door was due to this defect. Duquette's home was formerly in Stanley Island, Ontario.

BOLD BURGLARS
MAKE BIG HAUL
Private Bank Robbed at Niagara and Much Money Stolen.

NIAGARA FALLS, Oct. 25.—The private bank of Harvey Hoag at Niagara was robbed early today by three men who took the precaution to cut all telephone wires entering the village before beginning their work. The manager heard the explosion which blew open the safe and fired several shots at the burglars without effect. The carriage used by the robbers was stolen. They are so hotly pursued by farmers and others that they were forced to abandon their team and take into the woods. It is not known how much money was stolen but was probably large as considerable of the proceeds of the sale of the season's crops had been deposited with Hoag. The safe was blown to pieces. Hoag, later found a hat in front of the bank containing $2,800 in bills. Three thousand dollars in gold are missing.

If Subject to Salt Rheum
WHY NOT MAKE A THOROUGH AND LASTING CURE BY USING Dr. Chase's Ointment

Many people write to tell us that they are attacked by salt rheum every spring and fall, and have been unable to obtain a cure. Others write that they were formerly subject to salt rheum, but have been entirely cured by the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment. If you are suffering from salt rheum, eczema or any form of itching skin disease, it is worth your while to make a test of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and you can do so with every confidence that the results will be lasting and beneficial. On the first few applications you may find the ointment a little severe, but this is necessary for proper cleansing of the sores so that the cure may be thorough. Use warm water and Packard's Tar Soap only as often as is necessary for cleansing purposes and apply Dr. Chase's Ointment plentifully. Dr. Chase's Ointment has a world-wide reputation as a cure for the worst cases of salt rheum and eczema. It is not like experimenting with internal medicines when you use it, for you can see the benefit derived from day to day. Mrs. John J. Delroy, Linwood, Antigonish Co., N. S., writes: "I want to say that Dr. Chase's Ointment has proven a great blessing to me. I had salt rheum on one hand and could not get it healed up. The itching was most distressing at times. Two boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment have cured me completely, and I gladly recommend it to every sufferer." Wherever there is itching of the skin or a sore that will not heal, Dr. Chase's Ointment can be used with positive assurance of relief and cure. 4 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanon, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box.

LITTLE HEED WAS PAID TO THE RECENT WARNING

The Wall Street Situation Still the Subject of Much Doubt—If the Public Comes in it Should Have a Long Pocket Book.

(New York Herald, Monday, Oct. 20.) So far as outward appearances go, the casual observer of Wall street at the week's end would be pardoned in reaching the conclusion that the most recent note of warning sounded in the market, cautioning against an active speculative movement, had passed unheeded. There was a decided shift of activity from standard railway shares to low priced, and in some instances, low grade speculative, but the volume of these issues was not only extensive but entirely too rapid for safety. It would not be hastily inferred in consequence of the demonstration in the industrial quarter of the general stock market that the warning had passed unheeded. It is a fact that the market has been in a state of high tension since the beginning of the year, and that the psychology of a movement such as that which developed in the speculative quarter of the closing days of last week is not difficult to discern. There had been a quarter of an hour's quietude in the market, but the prevailing high level of prices, and the fact that a speculative movement in high priced issues was underway, had upon the pools and clamor that their entrance into the market was not to be met with smaller success. Without doubt there is a certain amount of speculation in the market, but it is not the speculative movement which more nearly equals the prices of one condition of a market and another in the history of the country. The danger of such a movement is in its indeterminate character, its rapid and its indifference, more along together and as usually carried to prices far in excess of any value, present or prospective.

Equalizing the Unequal

It is scarcely necessary to say that stocks are not cheap. Moreover, stocks are never so cheap as they seem to be. Some people are still at a few cents, or a few dollars a share. The theory of equalizing the value of a stock in a market is all very well, provided the equalizing process takes into consideration the value of the stock as well as the price. The equalizing process of established properties has been a long and arduous one. The result of this latter work will be a list of the most valuable properties in the country, which will be used as a basis for the distribution of the proceeds of the sale of the properties. The result of this work will be a list of the most valuable properties in the country, which will be used as a basis for the distribution of the proceeds of the sale of the properties.

Money Problems Unsolved

A general way the late demonstration in the securities market last week, which was the most pessimistic and bitter for the last several months, and bids fair to continue on those lines. The market has been in a state of high tension since the beginning of the year, and that the psychology of a movement such as that which developed in the speculative quarter of the closing days of last week is not difficult to discern. There had been a quarter of an hour's quietude in the market, but the prevailing high level of prices, and the fact that a speculative movement in high priced issues was underway, had upon the pools and clamor that their entrance into the market was not to be met with smaller success.

The stock of the Standard Oil Company, which popularly is believed to be the largest of any one company in the world, is a matter of fact held by a great many individuals. The interest in the company of the Rockefeller family, Mr. H. H. A Tempting Menu

A tempting menu was prepared for the luncheon by Edward Wilson, steward of the club, who varied neither time nor place to make it the most elaborate that has been served in many years. It was as follows:

TROLLEY CARS IN COLLISION

Fourteen Persons Injured in an Accident in New York This Morning.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25—Fourteen persons were seriously injured, one fatally, it is believed, when a trolley car on the 14th street line crashed into another car standing at the foot of the incline at the Manhattan end of the Williamsburg bridge this morning. The injured were removed to the Delancey street police station, where they received emergency medical treatment. One of the injured, a man, it was said by the physicians, could hardly live. A score of others received minor cuts and bruises, but were able to go to their homes.

The French portion of the Russian loan has been arranged. Paris bankers say the French portion is $100,000,000. The German portion $80,000,000 and that Great Britain and the United States will take $200,000,000 each. The rate of interest is to be 4 per cent and it is expected to sell the bonds at about 90.

How the Guests Were Seated at Today's Luncheon.

(Continued from Page One.) There assembled. An officer of the 3rd R. C. A. will announce the names of those presented. The rink is in gala attire for the reception and grand ball. The booths used at the Fair of Nations remain intact. There will not be a great deal more done in the way of decorations for it is unnecessary, but the extra trimming is in the supper room, the large observation room, and a portion of the New Brunswick booth, which has been specially arranged for a private room for Prince Louis.

OUR VISITORS

Fair weather and a hearty welcome greet Prince Louis and the warships in St. John today. The reception programme has been well arranged and there can be no doubt that the distinguished visitors will carry away pleasant impressions of their visit to this port. We have just honored in a fitting manner the memory of England's greatest admiral, and the victory he purchased with his life. We welcome now the modern representatives of that invincible navy, which guards the commerce of an empire vastly greater than that of Nelson's time, but an empire which is attached by the strongest ties of loyalty to the person and throne of him who wears the crown of England. The formal expression of welcome today from those in official positions express also the welcome of the citizens of St. John and the province of New Brunswick.

PROSPECT AND RETROSPECT

On another page of this issue of the Times are printed in parallel columns two articles, one from the Boston Globe and the other from The Outlook on present conditions in the United States. The two articles, taken together, furnish material for thought and a warning for the Canadian people. The Outlook describes the present shameful state of affairs in the United States, which has been partially revealed by the insurance and other enquiries. The Boston Globe points out that what is now occurring in Canada in the realm of material progress occurred in the United States not very many years ago. The United States grew and prospered. Canada is growing and prospering. One result of United States growth, and of the boundless opportunities offered to men of enterprise and daring, especially if they were not over-scrupulous, was the lust for wealth, the making of enormous fortunes, the organization of trusts which lured the people, and a general laxity of principle and an indifference to the interests and rights of others. A refined and not always refined selfishness began to manifest itself, and to attain a dominating influence and power in the national life, until the Outlook calls upon the nation to be frank and "hoist the black flag, and stop sailing as a missionary ship." President Simmons, of the Fourth National Bank of New York, lately denounced conditions that "make it possible for men who pose as the saviours of the earth and who condemn without mercy those who steal fifty dollars or forge a cheque for a hundred dollars, to make millions themselves by lying, by misrepresentation, by fraud and by bribery; and he also denounced 'the man of stainless private life, who in the interests of corporations, of the trust, of the gas company, has recourse to every villainy damned in the Decalogue, who does the deed of a highwayman with the air of a saint.'"

Daily the despatches bring to us proofs of the scandalous conditions that prevail in financial and political circles in the United States. Is Canada moving along similar lines of development? In this country there will be growth, doubtless surpassing that of the United States during the period when its great west was filling up with people. There will be great opportunities to amass fortunes, and great temptations to selfishness and greed. Are we to have land frauds, graft in our politics, civic and federal, defiance of the public interest by corporations, disregard of pledges in such matters as the handling of insurance funds—and all the long train of saddening facts that burden the columns of United States papers at the present time? We have them now in miniature. In Montreal a man is charged with spending $10,000 to secure his election to parliament; Toronto has lately experienced a bribery case; Winnipeg has lately dismissed some minor officials who accepted money from contractors; and from time to time in various parts of the country there are occurrences which prove that what is called graft is regarded with an easy conscience by very many who are able to profit there by.

Canada today gives thanks for much that is great and noble and hopeful in the national life, as well as for material blessings that are unsurpassed. It is well at the same time to give some thought to this future which is so full of promise, and to resolve that the conditions which now cause the best men and women of the United States to cry "Shame," shall never be developed north of the boundary line.

CARING FOR CONSUMPTIVES

The report of the Ontario inspector of public charities shows that in August last there were in the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives 33 patients in residence, 30 males and 3 females. Eighteen of these were absolutely free, 33 were on the pay list, 19 by municipalities, two $2 a week. The inspector found that the institution was well officered, with resident physician, assistant physician, business manager, steward, bookkeeper and nursing staff. The main or administration building is of frame construction, well planned, and cost over $30,000. The sum of $15,000 granted by the Ontario government will be spent in improvement, and it is intended to increase the accommodation so that 75 patients may be cared for. The people of Ontario are working systematically for the prevention and cure of consumption. Provincial, municipal and civic grants, and private beneficence have already done much, but the work is only fairly begun. Next Sunday in all the Hamilton churches collections will be taken in aid of a hospital for consumptives. Ontario's example should be an inspiration for New Brunswick.

The professor who ruled that students in the American history class in the Northwestern University must read the newspapers and be able to answer questions on the news of the day was doing the class good service. The children in the public schools should also know something of what is going on in the world. The ignorance of such matters on the part of some young people who in the ordinary school course seem to be fairly well advanced is deplorable. Some, on the contrary, are particularly well informed. If each day a class were important event recorded in a daily press it would have a stimulating effect upon the minds of the pupils. In some schools, doubtless, this is done. But it should not be the exception.

Australia and the Cape are contributors to the expense of maintaining the navy. They meet a small part of the great outlay for which that service calls. Of Canada, it must be confessed that we refuse to unite with our fellow-citizens in supporting the fleet. We sing "Rule Britannia" with much enthusiasm, but decline to aid in the ruling process otherwise than with our voices. It is surely time for a change. With the praises of Nelson ringing in our ears, and with the meaning of naval defence brought home to us, we should be ready to do our part in the support of the service which really holds the Empire together.—Toronto Mail and Empire.

THANKSGIVING (Toronto News)

Canada as a whole rejoices this Thanksgiving season in a wealth of material prosperity never before equaled in our history. We have had three years of bountiful harvests coupled with good prices. Neither drought nor flood has interfered with the prodigal kindness of Mother Earth. The abundant fruitage has filled our borders with plenty and the heart of the husbandman with comfort. As agricultural prosperity in a land such as Canada is the basis of all material progress, so Canada's unprecedented series of harvests has been the dynamic force to turn the wheel of industry and reward the toiler everywhere within our coasts. Our manufacturers are adding to their plants, increasing their output, seeking new markets. Our merchants are receiving larger patronage and payment for past purchases. Canada's trade has increased more rapidly within the last ten years than that of any other nation. In per capita trade and per capita wealth we head the nations of the earth. Our workmen are getting better wages, work under fairer conditions than ever before, are free, self-respecting, and independent.

This year has seen added to our Dominion, under settled and regular government, two new Commonwealths, each the size of an Old World Empire, richer in extent, in the material wealth of soil, minerals and of timber than the fabled Land of Gold beyond the Spanish Main. We have this year seen begun a new transcontinental railway which shall open to settlement vast areas of fertile land destined to become the home of hungry millions of the Old World. The quality of our immigration is far above that which has filled the United States with the scum from the underclass of Europe. In floods they come, sturdy yeomen of Britain, France and industrious Germans, Norwegians and Swedes, persecuted Russians, and, perhaps best of all, American farmers with both experience and a little money, all seeking wider opportunities, the peaceful enjoyment of the fruits of toil and the blessings of British freedom.

And, best of all, we have had peace. Canada has been called upon to sacrifice neither the blood of her sons nor the hard won treasure of her toilers in bloody war. Our efforts have tended to build up Canadian industries, increase Canadian commerce, the quiet development of our resources and the manifold arts of peace. Prosperity dwells within our boundaries and peace within our walls.

But Canada has been blessed so much in what has been withheld as in what has been sent. The Dominion has enjoyed an unique immunity from those afflictions which have plagued our sister nations. We have had no widespread crippling industrial crises, no ruinous financial panics, no devastation by the storm and the wrath of the elements, no horrors from plague and pestilence, no great disasters to human life, no sign or threat of the hellish vintages and desolation of war.

THANKSGIVING. Closed Today.

If we ever had cause to be thankful for blessings it is today. Thankful to God for abundant blessings; thankful to the public for generous patronage, which has made our business about double that of a year ago. We trust all whose eyes reach this space will have as much cause for true thankfulness.

ALDERMAN T. H. BULLOCK

Ald. Thomas Harrison Bullock, manager of the Imperial Oil Company, Ltd., was born in West Flamboro, Westworth county, Ontario, on February 14th, 1862, and is therefore in his 44th year. He is named after one of his ancestors, Thomas Harrison, and has in his possession a bible of an issue of 1697, which has been handed down from generation to generation to the bearers of that name. The bible contains some births recorded as far back as 1613, which are perfectly legible. It was translated from the Greek by Theod. Beza in the reign of King James I. of England and Scotland.

At an early age Mr. Bullock came to St. John with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bullock, and his father started in the oil business here in the year of con-

ALDERMAN T. H. BULLOCK

He was educated first in a private school in Ontario and afterwards at the public school here. He left the grammar school in the year of his birth of 1877, and entered into business with his father. He has therefore been identified with the oil business for 28 years.

At the age of 21 Mr. Bullock was admitted into partnership with his father, the business being conducted under the name of Joseph Bullock. Owing to the additional vim and energy which Mr. Bullock brought into the company, the firm developed into one of the largest oil handling concerns in the province. About 15 years ago a stock company was organized under the name of the Eastern Oil Co. of which Mr. Bullock was the treasurer. About five or six years ago this company amalgamated with the Imperial Oil Co., under which name the business has since been conducted. Mr. Bullock has always been an earnest worker.

In 1902 he was elected alderman for Queen's ward, in succession to Mayor White, and has represented that section ever since. He is this year chairman of an energetic body, having acted as such to the city in the banking and in some other directions. He is in line for the mayoralty, and it is generally understood that he will be nominated as a candidate for the office of mayor at the civic elections next spring.

In dominion and provincial politics he is a liberal and has been offered the nomination for the local house, but declines to do so. He has spent much of his time from his own business. He is interested in many industrial enterprises, being a director of the Star Line Steamship Co., the Portland Rolling Mills, Provincial Chemical Fertilizer Co., and others.

He is president of the New Brunswick Tourist Association, vice-president of the Associated Charities, director of the Victoria Order of Nurses, and is on the executive of the Canadian branch of the Bible Society. He has been a member of Union Lodge, No. 2, Knights of Pythias, for many years. At the time of the B. I. rebellion the alderman belonged to the St. John Rifles and was one of the members of that company who volunteered for the front of his life a total abstainer, and has always been generous to the poor and all lines of philanthropy. He married Miss Jeanette Chestnut, of Fredericton, and they have five children. For the last twelve years they have made their summer home at Westfield, where Mr. Bullock owns a pretty cottage. Their town house is at 183 Germain street.

ADMIRALTY COURT

MORE MEN WANTED

(Toronto Globe.) The Presbyterian Home Missions have urgent need for more men. Prof. Drury of Glasgow is sending out one man, but it is doubtful if the places will all be filled this year. W. A. Davis, one of seven men lately come from Ireland for work in the west, left Toronto for his charge yesterday.

MCCURDY TO INVESTIGATE Mutual Life Appoints Committee to Look Into Business Methods.

New York, Oct. 25—More interesting than the testimony before the legislative committee investigating the methods of insurance companies today was the announcement by President Richard A. McCurdy of the Mutual Life Insurance Co. that a committee of the board of trustees of his company had been appointed to investigate the company and its methods.

After an entire day given over to the examination of Henry McCintock, secretary of the Mutual Life Insurance Co., and to the reading of column after column of figures, the legislative committee adjourned until November 8, the day after the elections. This extended adjournment was taken to enable the members of the committee who are candidates for re-election to the assembly to meet their constituents and conduct their campaigns.

The testimony of Mr. McCintock was of a most technical nature. A number of Mr. McCintock's explanations brought out the fact that his ideas were in many respects at variance with the established methods of insurance companies and of his own company in particular. This was especially apparent when the subject of deferred dividends was mentioned and was misleading as it implied that dividends were accumulating or were paid at the end of each year.

"I was troubled with piles for several years before I would let it be known. But at last it became so severe that I could not walk and I had to take my bed. I tried anything and everything the doctors prescribed and took their treatments for a long time. But nothing ever did me any good. I had seen your ad in different newspapers, so I got a 5-cent box and began using them. From the very first I got quick relief and by the time I was starting on my third box I saw I was cured. I have not been troubled with them since. Now you can use this as you please, because it is genuine. Yours, T. A. Sutton, Stone and Cement Contractor, Marion, Ind.

Important Local Life Insurance Investigation.

The Sun Life Assurance Co. OF CANADA

Requests the Public to inspect its list of fifteen and twenty year dividend policies which have matured in the New Brunswick agency during 1905.

The profits paid on these policies exceeded promises made when policies were issued.

These results are splendid examples of what is being daily accomplished throughout Canada by this prudently managed and prosperous Company.

The Sun Life of Canada commenced business in 1871, and its Reserve Fund is largely in excess of the amount required by Government standard.

The Company also issues Very Attractive Guaranteed Dividend and Annual Dividend Policies.

OURSELVES AND OUR NEIGHBORS

CANADA (Boston Globe)

At this time when reciprocity is being discussed with so much earnestness in the commercial circles in New England it is noteworthy that all reports from impartial observers indicate that business is booming in Canada.

This Canadian prosperity only adds to the desire of New England manufacturers to have reciprocal trade relations in order to take advantage of the grand opportunities there are to supply British North America with various American commodities, which could be utilized in railroad building and for manufacturing purposes.

The stories of industrial activity in Canada remind one of the period when the western section of the United States was redeveloped, about a quarter of a century ago, by railroad building and the extensive cultivation of the wheat crop.

The location of the lands in Canada is very favorable for agricultural purposes. For example, a correspondent says that between Winnipeg and Hudson Bay the distance of about 300 miles lies over a prairie with fertile soil, and capable of raising any amount of wheat.

Besides wheat lands and timber, the northwest territory and the district lying between Lake Superior and Hudson Bay have fish resources of considerable value.

Several of the Miramichi lumber operators have crews in the woods at work. It is estimated that the cut will be about the same as last year.

A reward of $50 has been offered by the selectmen for the apprehension of the fugitive, and the option was expressed tonight that Governor's search would result in his arrest.

UNITED STATES (The New York Outlook)

Recent disclosures of low moral standards, cheap devices and callous indifference to the rights of others on the part of men of financial and business prominence have sorely hurt those who long for a decent world to live in.

American men are not more dishonest than men who have been under indictment or known to be unscrupulous corruptors; but they are more dishonest than men who are not.

It is high time for the officers of some of our insurance companies to be talking about the duty of providing for some of the needs of the people.

It is high time for men dealing in country is waning. The scandalous country is waning. The scandalous country is waning.

The men who delight in giving faithful words does not thereby prove himself a friend.

AFTER THREE CENTURIES

A Record of the De Soto Expedition Found Under a Boulder.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 25.—After more than three centuries record of the De Soto expedition has been found on the shore of Lake Itasca, under a large boulder where it has lain undisturbed. The record, written on the skin of an antelope, was found by Chester Gray, a farmer living on the shore of Lake Itasca, which is the source of the Mississippi river. He will send the record to the Smithsonian Institution in Washington.

The record, which is barely legible, is dated August 9, 1547, and signed by Ferdinand Vilena and Sanchez Canva, members of De Soto's exploring party, who in the letter say they have named the lake whence arises the great river in which De Soto had been buried six years before "Lake De Soto."

THEY VISITED THE SALOONS

Evangelist Preaches on Backing the Tiger and Seeing the Elephant.

TRENTON, Oct. 25.—Joseph Weber, a Western evangelist, who styles himself the "cyclone evangelist," headed the Methodist ministers of the city Saturday night on a tour of the saloons and gambling places.

In one place he surprised a party in their shirt sleeves playing poker, but he soon restored their equanimity by asserting that he was not gathering evidence for the Grand Jury, but was simply making a tour of observation.

Whenever the party went, guided by a newspaper man, everyone was received with the utmost respect. When hymns were started by the visitors the saloonists joined in the singing. The ministers distributed invitation cards to a meeting in the First Methodist church this afternoon at 4 o'clock, where Mr. Weber preached on Backing the Tiger and Seeing the Elephant.

The tour of the saloons was the result of a series of revivals held here in all of the Methodist churches.

THREE ARRESTS IN TWO WEEKS

Of Persons Running Line Stores on the Maine Border.

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 25.—The third arrest in two weeks on the charge of maintaining a line store was made Monday afternoon at Dexter, when Deputy Marshall Haskell of Portland, Me., arrested Geo. Morrison of Bridgewater.

Morrison was brought to Portland Monday night and was arraigned before Judge Hale in the U. S. District court Tuesday morning on the charge of smuggling and also of maintaining the line store. He pleaded not guilty and was ordered to recognize in the sum of $200 for his appearance at the December term of the district court. He did not furnish bail and was committed.

The maintaining of a line store consists of running a store which is situated half and half on the Canadian and American side of the border. The idea of such an arrangement is for the purpose of deceiving the officers. On the approach of the deputies it is possible for those who are engaged in the unlawful smuggling, to change their goods and persons on one side of the line to the other.

POLICE NEWS

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Wall Street—the stock market opened active with sharp fractional losses in Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Metropolitan St. Ry. L. & N., and B. & O. Canadian Pacific declined 1/4 and Northern Pacific 1/8. Reading was a conspicuous exception, advancing a point, and Delaware and Hudson was rushed up nearly 3. The market readily improved after the first few minutes of trading. Leominde coming into heavy demand and rising to 7 1/8.

The river boats left on their usual trips today and did a good business.

Fifteen Mount Allison delegates left on the Prince Rupert this morning for Acadia, where they will attend the Y. M. C. A. convention.

The Bangor Commercial says: "Within the week the rates on lumber to the Sound and New York which have been $2.75 and $3 all summer, have jumped to $3 and $2.25 and cargo, is reported to have gone out at $3.50. The rate to Boston remains as it has been, $2.50. There is a big demand for vessels for Sound ports and New York, but the demand for Boston cargoes is light. The supply of vessels for New York is correspondingly light while there are plenty of vessels for Boston freights."
