NICE FAMILY ROW IN SOUTH AMERICA

Salvador and Guatemala Have Already Had Hard Battles---So Far About 3,500 Men Have Been Killed and 5,000 Wounded -- Gen. Regalado Has Been Assassinated.

MEXICO CITY, July 17.—News received yesterday that a general was arrested in Salvador that General Regalado was assassinated by two men who formed part of his escort, and that those men were Guatemalans employed for the purpose. Col. Pinedo's forces, which entered Guatemala via British Honduras, are now said to be in the mountains south of the Mexican state of Labaco.

STANDARD OIL CO. CORNERED

Attorney General of Ohio Thinks He Can At Last Bring Company to Its Knees

CLEVELAND, O., July 17.—The Plain Dealer today says: "Based on his opinion upon the testimony already submitted to the federal grand jury in this district, Attorney General Moody believes that the government has at last secured the evidence which will lead to bringing the Standard Oil to its knees."

"The return of District Attorney Sullivan was this morning on an all day conference with the attorney general yesterday at New York, will mark a complete change in the plans of the government in connection with the fight to stamp out price discrimination by the gigantic oil trust."

"The changes in plans include a complete reversal regarding M. J. Gannan, vice-president of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railroad. Gannan will not be indicted in this or any other federal district. Instead he will be asked to assist the government in forging a chain of evidence about the needs of some of the biggest Standard Oil Company officials in the country."

"Acting upon the orders of District Attorney Sullivan, Assistant District Attorney Gerry late yesterday afternoon issued another subpoena for the appearance of Gannan before the grand jury this morning. Gannan, who happened to be in the city yesterday, was immediately served with the subpoena by Deputy District Marshal Manning. He seemed pleased with the turn of events, which makes it certain that he is not to be made the scapegoat for violations of the law on the part of others."

"The switch on the part of the government in finally deciding to summon Gannan as a witness is explained by the statement made yesterday that the single desire of the department of justice at present was to get at the Standard Oil Company."

"A telegram from District Attorney Sullivan said that nothing was to be left undone to accomplish their purpose. The attorney general is firmly of the opinion that indictments can be secured here and that District Attorney Sullivan will in some week with the grand jury today with this end in view."

HERRMANN VISITS THE COUNTRY MARKET AND MAKES FUN FOR CROWD

Herrmann the Great, the magician who is showing at the Opera House, paid a visit to the country market this morning and astonished the natives. For a time all were well and boys were produced from the eggs, flower boxes and the pockets of the crowd. Herrmann was enjoying the show immensely when suddenly the "arm of the law" in the shape of Clerk Dunham swooped down upon the magician and peremptorily ordered him to move on. Naturally Herrmann refused and the interference as he was not engaged in any wrong-doing and he remonstrated with the little clerk, but to no effect. Clerk Dunham's orders were to "kidnap" the magician was notified to account for the "marble boss" attitude, unless it was an account of the large following that were anxious to see the clever sleight-of-hand feats that he performed, but he politely acquiesced to the clerk's orders as far as moving on was concerned but he completed his tour of the market. Some of the children expressed themselves about the interference in an uncertain terms. Herrmann on entering the market glanced curiously around and then re-wounded. General Regalado, who had led, was over a mile in advance. He had fifty picked officers and men with him. Every one was killed, and after the rest troops came up and drove the Guatemalan troops forward, they found over 60 dead Guatemalan soldiers, including several officers. In that battle, Salvador captured the enemy's artillery, then Guatemalans worked for peace. Salvador refused, but twelve hours later a telegram from President Roosevelt changed conditions. When this message was read, the two armies were facing each other and resting on their arms awaiting the result of President Roosevelt's telegram. PARIS, July 17.—The consul of Salvador has communicated a note to the press confirming the announcement of the death of General Regalado, leader of the revolutionary forces which invaded Guatemala from Salvador and adding that peace is on the point of being strangled through the intervention of President Roosevelt and President Diaz.

of a subpoena for Gannan, Sullivan wired to have all the employees of the Lake Shore R. R. who have testified before the grand jury recalled. These witnesses include James L. Clark, western traffic manager and C. S. Shaw, freight agent of Chicago; M. C. Tully, R. H. Huston, G. B. Wheeler and H. I. Meyer, all employed in the Cleveland office. It is known that the government officials are eager to obtain one more link in the evidence already secured against the Standard Oil Co. An determined effort will be made to complete the chain through Gannan and Clark. What the government officials want particularly in the names of the Standard Oil Company officials through whom, it is charged, re-lating arrangements were made with the Lake Shore and other railways. With these names in their possession the government attorneys will be ready to testify.

The committee had considered the advisability of having the indexes in the registry office codified and reversion from Vol. 1 to Vol. 78 both inclusive, and they recommended that at present they be authorized to have the indexes of Vols. 27 to 82 both inclusive, consolidated and re-kind, and work not to be paid for until next year and that the arrangements for same be made under the direction of a committee of the council.

The committee also recommended that the payment of the fees to the registrar of births, marriages and deaths be made a standing order upon the certificate of the auditor general and the chairman of the committee on finance and accounts and that hospital improvement debentures to the amount of four thousand five hundred dollars be transferred to the sinking fund investment account.

They also advised that the sheriff with the approval of the chairman of the committee on finance and accounts be authorized to furnish material for clothing for the jail prisoners to be manufactured in the jail by the inmates, and that a sewing machine be procured for that purpose.

Also that an appeal be taken to the governor general in council from the judgment of the board of railway commissioners for Canada, ordering the municipality of Lunenburg to contribute to the cost of the railway crossing, each appeal to be under the direction of the chairman of the committee on finance and accounts, and Councilors Lowell, Lockhart, Bullock and the mayor.

reached such a state that it has become necessary to enact seven legislations relative thereto. We in Canada as guardians of the public health should be on the alert, because as state after state across the border takes action relative to this contemptible form of fraud, our own market will be restricted, and it is only natural to expect these operators will do all we can to do to prevent their operations. CZAR APPROVES FAMINE RELIEF

He Supports Both Houses of Russian Parliament Against His Own Ministers in Appropriating $7,500,000 for Starving Peasants---More Outrages and Disorders Reported Today

ST. PETERSBURG, July 17.—The emperor last night approved the bill of the lower house of parliament, which was adopted by the upper house appropriating $7,500,000 for famine relief, thus supporting the contention of both houses of parliament against his own ministers. This law is the first enactment of the Russian parliament and represents the net legal result of a session of over two months.

The papers today say that the authorities at Peterhof are again making M. Shipoff, former president of the Zemstvo Council, and M. Yermoloff, leader of the conservative centre party, to renew their attempts to induce the constitutional committee to enter a coalition cabinet. ST. PETERSBURG, July 17.—The daily budget of revolutionary outrages and agrarian disorders is larger than usual today. In many places the peasants are vainly applying the torch to estates belonging to the crown and to private forests.

At Nafstafino, in Simbirsk province, the town hall was set on fire yesterday and the entire village consisting of three hundred houses, was consumed.

Throughout Poland systematic pillaging of the government grain shops is in progress. The central police office at Warsaw was robbed yesterday and a gendarme was killed.

At Lublin, Russian Poland, revolutionaries yesterday executed a workman who was suspected of being a spy, and at Nizhni Nevgorod and Vassiky the owners of the spirit monopoly were robbed and killed.

The bank at Sontom, province of Tomsk, was robbed yesterday and at Tilsa an Armenian locomotive engineer was shot in his cab by an assassin concealed in the neighboring woods.

Workmen at Rostoff, province of Yaroslavl, killed an alleged government provocator, at Pilsanok a Tartar woman who was baptized in the orthodox church was murdered, and at Yaroslavl bombs exploded at the residence of the chief of police and an officer of the gendarmes.

KOSTIOMKA, July 17.—In the village of Kunkiloff two hundred houses have been burned in disturbances incident to the agrarian movement. The crown lands have been set on fire in sixteen different places.

LUDLOW IS OUT WUN LUNG IS IN

One Patient Released from Rodney Hospital and Two More Go In.

Again have old Wun Lung and Oung-gong been relegated to the Rodney Hospital, and the supply Ludlow, looking sick and spent after her bout of the past few weeks in various infirmaries, is at her post in the hospital. This is looked upon as a very central concern of the hospital. The "pride of the fleet" was put on the route again this morning and she seemed quite amiable. Extensive repairs and changes have been made, involving about two or three thousand dollars, and it is generally thought that the erratic craft will behave herself for as much as a week or more.

Measles Wun Lung and the Oung-gong will be made ready for any emergency.

The Scotch company Boys' Brigade will meet in St. Stephen's church schoolroom for drill 7:30 tonight.

Ernest A. Tapley, of the employes of the Alex. Gibson Co. is in the city and says that in the past month Mr. Gibson paid out $80,000 in wages, which is a record breaker in his operations since he began business.

A meeting of the City Laborers' Union will be held in their rooms, Sutherland's hall this evening. All members are requested to be present, as business of great importance will come before the meeting.

The mayor will interview the leading officers of the local militia and get their views on the subject, and he hopes to get the matter settled so that the new building can be erected in the near future. The committee is composed of the following: Mayor, Ald. Spodoff, Lantlam, Tilley, Pickock and Lockhart.

THE NEW DRILL HALL

Mayor Sears Will Now Devote His Attention to That Project.

Now that the dredging matter has been disposed of, Mayor Sears will give his attention to the new drill hall project. GETTING AT THE TRUTH

Among the steamer passengers landed at this port last winter was a London newspaper man, in disguise. Many Englishmen who write futile or deceptive books about Canada do so after a week or two in a parlor car and a short sojourn at some comfortable hotel in the West. But Mr. H. R. Whates, of the London Daily Telegraph, whose "Canada, the New Nation," has just been published, is an Englishman of another type. In setting out to study Canadian immigration he secured parlor cars and government agents and joined a party of laborers bound for Canada. He was determined to find out for himself what difficulties and what opportunities were to be met by the man who comes to Canada with out capital but with health and a willing mind to work hard. His book, therefore, is not guess work and is devoid of hearsay evidence. The steamer was a rough place, but the London writer found nothing there calculated to daunt any man with a reasonable amount of grit. He came in January when the labor market was supposed to be as unfavorable as any time of the year. Even then he proved that a newcomer who was ready for any sort of employment would not long lack work. On the ship he selected those who were a party of laborers brought out by the Salvation Army. Mr. Whates' examination of these men is interesting as showing the sort of material he found in the steamer. He writes of them: "They all came from West Ham and neighboring East-end districts, and were all indispensable members of the working class—not loafers, not rescued particles of the 'submerged' mass. The money for emigrating these families was provided, in whole or in part, by the fund so opportunely started at Christmas time by The Daily Telegraph. These people were very poor. I went into the particulars of their cases minutely, chiefly for the purpose of satisfying myself whether the men were workable from the start of their own, for it would be fatal to any emigration policy that may hereafter be formulated if the money of the charitable were spent in expiating ex-convicts and similar degenerates, whether through the agency of the Salvation Army or any other body. It is gratifying to be able to say positively that the men—some of them mechanics, most of them laborers of one kind or another—were honest and respectable workers, whose only misfortune was want of employment."

A STRONG MAN

The Brooklyn Eagle is impressed by the incidents marking the celebration of Mr. Chamberlain's seventieth birthday. It describes him as "the man who began and lost the biggest political fight waged in England since Mr. Gladstone led through the Home Rule issue before the people." Referring to his fight for preferential trade, the Eagle quotes from a recent speech in which Mr. Chamberlain asserted that the fruition of his hopes and those of his party was certain, and says: "Well, stranger things have happened than the justification of Joseph Chamberlain's faith in his creed and his future. He is alert and vigorous at seventy. Mr. Gladstone achieved perhaps the most spectacular triumph of his long career at eighty-four, when he jammed a Home Rule bill through the House of Commons. Becomesoldier was six years older than Mr. Chamberlain is now before he discovered that he had had enough of public life. Lord Salisbury was two years older before he retired to his estate at Hatfield House. "Instances could be freely multiplied to show that statesmanship is about the most healthy profession in the world. Multiplication, however, is an instance unnecessary. The inference to be drawn from Mr. Chamberlain's Birmingham speech is that he is in sound health and superb spirits. He is not dismayed, not he. For he is not still a young man with a future before, not behind, him, and with abilities and courage and a monumental capacity for aggression from which his opponents have suffered much in the past and from which they are morally certain to suffer much more in the future."

SOCIALISM

A singular development of social conditions in the United States is the conversion to socialistic principles of a number of earnest young men who possess large fortunes, but have come to believe that the social life of the country must be held at the door of the very system which produced their own riches. They would abolish capital, but the selfish use of it, and to this end labor to have it placed in the hands of the people collectively. One of the latest converts is Mr. J. G. Phelps Stokes, who has for several years been devoting himself to work in the slums of New York. He was allied with the Heret party, but has now withdrawn from their ranks, because he believes he sees opportunities for larger service in cooperation with the Socialists. In the course of a letter he says:—"I have learned but gradually the injustice of the situation which confronts the average worker. Honest and earnest men and women by hundreds of thousands suffer privation and want, although surrounded by prosperity and plenty, and owe their sufferings chiefly to the monopolization of the land and of the machinery of production by the few exclusively for the purpose of private gain; access to the land and machinery being denied, unless the workers will produce enough, not merely for their own support, but for the maintenance of the idle and luxurious as well. This is to my mind a great injustice and one that demands early remedy. Personally I can no longer refrain from making every endeavor to arouse recognition of it." The most effective arguments used by the Socialists are provided by the capitalist themselves, or that portion of them which lives selfishly, caring nothing for those who are without the means of comfortable existence. The Socialist sees the inequalities, knows that many a deserving person is almost starving while rich prodigals spend on themselves or fling away in dissipation wealth they did not produce. The result is an outcry against capitalism, and it is a cry that steadily swells in volume. The Socialist remedy does not to most people seem adequate, but the existing system is growing intolerable, and must be amended. Thoughtful men and women see the danger, and the safety of the social fabric lies in the assurance that in time a great body of public sentiment expressed in legislation will alter the conditions which produce such glaring inequalities.

THE HUGGING BRIGADE

The hugging brigade will be compelled to abandon the old burying ground. It is too near the police court. And the magistrate makes very pointed observations against the estab-lish-ment on style of embrace in vogue among the toms. "Is a monstrous wicked world, to be sure; but old residents say the amount of hugging done in the old cemetery is not what it used to be. Some twenty years ago a British warship which was in port swept the city with her search-light. When the glare struck the burying ground a company of women variously estimated at from 50 to 200 in number, fled for shelter from that suddenly made public vicinity."

IT IS SUGGESTED THAT IF THE CIVIC ELECTIONS

were held late in the fall instead of in the spring the aldermen, who are very enterprising about election time, would find less difficulty in getting things in shape at Sunnyside. An alderman is apt to believe that no public grievance will live through the winter. And certainly our recent civic history proves that the taxpayers have short memories.

OH, YES, THERE IS GOING TO BE A REPORT

on assessment and taxation—some day. No hurry, you know. A bill will be necessary, and civic bills are always late at Fredericton. Evidently the old custom is going to be kept up.

LATER VILLAGE BLACKSMITH

Under a spreading chestnut tree the village smithy stands. The smith, a hardy man is he, with wide and fertile lands. No more his tawny back he bends beneath the horse's weight; No more his ringing anvil he swings in happy strength elate. No more his face is covered o'er with blaz'ring fumes of steel; Nor hooded with his honest sweat, its channels there to cut. Adown the street he sets at ease before the And jingles in his custom-made his stocks of easy tin. For wise was he within his day and seized the chance that came. MORNING NEWS

Local

A meeting of the provincial board of health was held last night in the government rooms, and August 14 was fixed as the date for hearing the question of the pollution of the St. John river by the sewage of Fredericton. The hearing will likely take place in a committee room and will begin at 10 a. m. It is understood that the matter receives itself decided, and the city of Fredericton, on the one side as opposed to the sewage proposition, and the city of Fredericton on the other. For the country, H. Wilson, the warden, and Dr. Penke, chairman of the local board of health, will be invited to attend, and the provincial cap-ital will be represented by the city clerk. Among those at the meeting were Judge Barry and Dr. E. J. Fisher, of Fredericton; Dr. S. G. Macdonald, of the same city; and A. M. Curran, of Fairville, the last named two being new members.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

Herrmann the Great entertained a very large audience in the Opera House last evening and before his entertainment was completed the general opinion was that nothing like him had ever been seen in St. John before. As a magician he has established a new standard here as he always does wherever he appears. Herrmann, although his own fame is world-wide, knows the advantage of presenting an entertainment where all the accessories are complete. His performance would probably be as wonderful if he appeared on practically a bare stage, but he does not, he has his stage splendidly set and the curtain rises on a handsome and fantastic stage picture.

To attempt to describe the wonderful feats of legerdemain or manual magic conjuring and necromancy with which Herrmann mystifies his audience would be impossible. All the simple folk know to conjure with perform with an ease and finish never before seen here and when one thinks the limit has been reached, he goes further and presents mystery after mystery until the audience reaches a state of mind where they would not be surprised if the horns of a ruminant animal and dove hood were to show themselves and the whole stage go up in smoke and flame.

Probably one of the best of Herrmann's tricks was the one in which he treated the audience to liquid refreshments, which he caused to appear in empty glasses. Anything one asked for from milk to gin was produced at will, and to show that he had the real goods the beverages were given to those in the audience who called for them.

A noted feature of Herrmann's work in conjunction with others is that he uses undraped tables, and every facility is given to the audience to watch and observe the manner in which the various feats are performed. But, when the closer you watch the less you see.

Melanie Marie Herrmann was then introduced and the magician put on his greatest act of the evening of the Princess Mahomeda. Marie Herrmann as Princess Mahomeda was placed on a cot, tied hand and feet and put in a hypnotic state. She was then slowly raised from the cot for about a yard without any visible force whatever. She remained suspended in the air for a few moments and was then slowly lowered to the cot again. In the next trick a man was placed in a cabinet just large enough to hold him upright. The cabinet was hoisted up and the doors opened and was seen to be empty and the supposed occupant came up through the cabinet to the floor.

Madame Sa Hera, the veiled prophetess, was also an important feature of the entertainment. She gave a really wonderful exhibition of mind-reading and thought transference, correctly answering questions asked by the audience and in other ways giving startling manifestations of her power.

Taken as a whole, the performance is a wonderful one and every evening with Herrmann the Great is a pleasure not to be overlooked. He will continue at the Opera House all this week and Madame Sa Hera will give a special matinee for ladies on Thursday.

NEW YORK, July 16.—The new play which George M. Cohan proposes to write as a starring medium for his wife, Miss Ethel Levey, is not likely to be finished this summer, as the actor-manager-playwright has already got his hands more than full.

When asked about the nature of the new play last night a far-away look came into Miss Levey's lovely eyes. "You'll have to ask Mr. Cohan about that; I know very little about it. Probably it will be a boy's part, for I've never seen anything about the line. The project isn't new; in fact, 'Little Johnny Jones' was written for me, and I was to have starred as the original Johnny. When I demurred George took the part himself and then built up my character.

"You see, I don't mean to give—really I don't. It means going away from my husband and little daughter, and I don't care to do that.

"Of course, I have recreation, too. I can my own motor car, for instance, and they say I'm not a bad chauffeur, either. Why, only the other day I tutored the machine about very deftly at Madison Square and came to my own home that if there had been a chip on his shoulder the car would have brushed it off. But he was a nice policeman, so it was all right. The real trouble was that it had been raining and the tires slipped on the wet pavement."

Julia MacLure sailed for Europe. She will visit London and Paris, and even make a trip to the Swiss Alps before returning to fill her contract with the Shubert.

Marie Corelli, in reply to Edward A. Braden's invitation to be present at the initial performance of "Hansel and Gretel" to be given at the Grand Theatre on Tuesday afternoon, June 26, at a benefit-performance for the Charter House Mission. The character of the sketch is one to try somewhat singularly blunt and violent. The episode when Corelli strangles the Prussian intruder in the presence of the audience, is reported to have been thoroughly gruesome.

Virginia Harned, who is in London preparing for her tour in "The Girl in the Woods," is to return for rehearsals early in August.

Henry Woodruff, as a sequel to his marked success in "Brown, of Harvard," has signed a contract for three years with the Henry Miller company. A picturesque biblical play is being considered for his use when his college piece shall have become worn at the edge.

The Shubert and Lew Fields have engaged Edna Wallace Hopper to appear in leading woman with the popular comedian when the new company at the Grand Square Theatre is established. To accept the position Mrs. Hopper has cancelled a forty-week' contract for which she was already booked next season. The contract was signed on June 27, and the comedienne is immediately to begin preparations for her engagement. The Shuberts announce that they are now engaging the other members of a new musical comedy which will be the work of two well-known New York authors.

It is reported from Paris that such Bernhardt believes she has discovered another great literary genius, as she previously discovered Rostand. His name is Rene Praxel, and he is only twenty-two years of age. This young author had the good fortune to persuade Madame Bernhardt to read one of his plays, entitled "Nuit Perdue." The tragedienne is said to have declared, immediately after the reading, which lasted until long past midnight, that she would stage the piece at her own theatre in Paris. Praxel, who estimates that he has composed some 5,000 verses of poetry, has never published a line; he has been waiting for a theatrical success.

"The Measure of Man," the modern drama by Vera Maynard, which aroused so much enthusiasm when first produced at the Empire Theatre, New York, last spring, by the American Academy of Dramatic Arts, is to be presented this season with Robert Drouse in the title role. Frank Keenan, it is interesting to note, has been engaged as producing stage director. Henry B. Irving will open his American tour at the New American Theatre on Oct. 8, in Stephen Phillips' "Paula and Francesca." He will be supported by Dorothy Baird and an English company.

New York, July 14.—Manselle Champagne, on the Madison Square Roof Gar-

THE VORLOP DANCERS

One of the Big Acts to be Seen with Barnum & Bailey's Circus

"Dancing one's way into popularity" is not a new accomplishment. Silhouetted here and there through the years of modern amusement history are the names of dainty, clever, nimble-footed women who have won their way into the hearts of the public by their poetic poses and graceful gyrations in the dance. There have not been many stars of the first magnitude in this galaxy of tripping terpsichoreans, but those who, like the great Fanny Elser, the German danseuse, have basied in the high light of popular favor, have won a fame which will be perpetuated through many generations of amusement lovers.

In recent years the number of really eligible terpsichorean stars has been notably small. It was therefore a matter of surprise and also of felicitation that in Berlin, last winter, three Bismarck landed upon the public a company of dancers of such surpassing merit, such airy grace and artistic finish as to constitute the most sensational amusement feature that the German capital had seen in years.

The troupe consisted of seven young girls and one man. Three of the girls impersonated male characters, the others were female. Their costumes were not only novel and unique, but also beautiful beyond comparison. The usually unemotional Berlin newspapers raved over the new sensation. The usually reserved where the Vorlops appeared was crowded at every performance to see their startling "Dance de Toubillon."

An act that could create such a genuine furore in the German metropolis was considered sufficiently mysterious even in the greatest show on earth, and it was secured. The price, it is announced, would fairly stagger the American public. That the money has, however, been well spent is attested by the enthusiasm that this remarkable dance has created in the United States. There has been nothing to equal it in a decade.

The Anglied meaning of the "Dance de Toubillon" is the "Dance of the Whirlwind." The name is not overdrawn. No other words could so fully express the grace, the swiftness, the wild abandon of this terpsichorean revel. It begins with a series of quiet, poetic poses by two companies of the same troupe, four on each stage. The inaugural movements suggest nothing of the whirlwind. They are slow, rhythmic, dreamy. It is a beautiful, graceful, radiant picture, reflected from the days of the Divorcee. Presently the movements are accelerated. The music merges into a waltz—the waltz into a kind of Latinized Schottische—the Schottische into the impetuous Dance de Folie—arms and head keeping time with the swiftly moving footstep—the music swelling louder, and faster and still faster—a stirring, fascinating, exhilarating frenzy of rotating motion.

The first movements serve to arrest the attention of the audience. The gracefulness of the dances—the beauty of the costuming—the dreamy, catchy strains of the orchestra take hold upon the eye and the imagination. As the dance proceeds the interest is intensified. But as yet the applause comes only in staccato ripples. The more profound is the breathless attention. The audience scarcely speaks. All eyes are turned upon the platforms and the dancers.

Now comes the climax, the whirlwind itself. Faster than the senses can follow, the dancers spin round and round. Without a second's pause one dancer claps the hand of another and sends her spinning in a dizzy circle. Still without interruption, a second girl, joining hands with the first, sends her spinning in a dizzy circle. The center of the swirling human wheel is caught up, and the girls go twirling through the air at an amazing speed. The effect is bewilderingly kaleidoscopic. It can only be described as a dizzy, dazing, dashing, dizzy delirious delirium of movement.

"And it brings down the house." The great audience bursts into a roar of applause, and the Vorlops, bowing and smiling their appreciation, gracefully retire. It is a triumph that comes to the few dancers—and that only once or twice in a generation. The Vorlops have literally danced their way into the hearts of the audience.

The Vorlops will make their first appearance in St. John with the Barnum & Bailey circus next Friday, July 20.

WILL TAKE THE SCHOOL CENSUS

School Trustees Decide to Commence This Work on Sept. 17th. - - - Compulsory Education.

A special meeting of the school trustees was held last night when preliminary work necessary before the enforcement of the compulsory education act was discussed. It was decided that the enumeration of children of school age, called for under the act, be commenced on September 17. There will be one enumerator in every ward, who will receive $2 a day.

One enumerator will be employed for each of the thirteen wards, with a chief who will be directly responsible to the board.

It was the feeling of the board that this chief enumerator should be a permanent official of the board, and act as chief inspector of buildings, attending all the meetings. The salary of $1,200 a year was suggested. It was not thought necessary to appoint a grant officer just yet. This subject was very little discussed, but some present seemed to think $200 sufficient for the position. The board has at least one application already for this office.

The somewhat vexed question of accuracy of the census was also discussed. Members of the board held widely divergent views on this matter. Last night some put the total number of children in the city who do not attend any school at 100, while others thought that 1,500 or 2,000 is nearer the mark. Superintendent Bridges reported that practically every school room in the city is crowded, and some means will have to be taken to accommodate the surplus.

Trustee Bullock reported that the committee appointed by the board on manual training had not held any meetings because of the illness of Trustee Maxwell. In view of this the chairman appointed Trustee Keefe on the committee. Bridges reported that practically every school room in the city is crowded, and some means will have to be taken to accommodate the surplus.

Winnipeg, July 16.—It is reported that a company, backed by Sir Thomas Lipton, will establish an immense meat packing plant here in the effort to capture the trade with Great Britain which American scandals have killed.

Sir Thomas Lipton had intended starting a concern in Chicago on a scale to rival the largest American companies, but this is now impossible, and the plant will be located at Winnipeg.

NOVELTY BASE BALL

On August 20th and 21st, the well-known dramatic society, "The Volunteer Organization," will be repeated at the Opera House for four performances. The company consists of 27 persons, 10 of whom are males. From this number a baseball nine has been organized; and when the fact is taken into consideration that each member of the team must also capably fill a prominent position in the production of the play, the idea is indeed unique.

The baseball club is under the espousal of William Hallman, who formerly played second base for the Philadelphia National League team. Mr. Hallman is a well-known comedian and plays the part of Ebb Uter, the village handy-man in the drama.

Several other members of the team are ex-college boys, and efforts are now being made to have the strongest baseball club play the season on the date of their engagement here.

Henry Ervin, of this city, will do the booking for the company throughout the province as far as the baseball games are concerned, and the dramatic team will do battle with a St. John team on the 20th and 21st.
