

tion expressed in the Declaration of the Chamber of Deputies...

The King immediately signed the Declaration, the Act of Adherence, and the Oath...

After the ceremony, the King repaired to the Palais Royal, and gave a grand dinner to the Peers and many of the Deputies...

His Majesty it is said, has asked of the King of England, the relics of the Prisoner at St. Helena.

The National Guard of Paris has named a Deputation to go to London, to thank the inhabitants of that great city and the English Nation...

The Peers and Deputies have this day sworn fidelity to the King, and obedience to the Charter. The King of Spain, it is said, will be obliged to convoke the Cortes...

A Brussels Paper of the 12th says—"We have just learnt that 60,000 Austrians are on their march for Italy..."

The thanks of the Deputies were voted, on the 6th instant, to the city of Paris, and a monument was ordered to be raised to it...

It has been for several days a subject of discussion whether the King would take the name of Philip VII. or Philip I. and both were, in their turns, used in the acclamations at the Royal sitting...

FRENCH MINISTRY.—King Louis-Philip I. has just appointed his Ministers, viz: Foreign Affairs, Count de Mole; War, General Gerard; Finance, Baron Louis; Instruction Publique, and President of the Council of State, Duc de Broglie; Interior, M. de Guizot; Marine, General Sebastiani; Justice, M. Dupont de l'Eure...

PARIS, August 7.—The ex-Ministers who counter-signed the atrocious Ordinances which were the means of spilling so much blood, and which were intended to destroy the bases of public liberty...

THE STREETS OF PARIS.—Paris has been, from the earliest ages, the battle-field of conflicting factions. It is peculiarly susceptible of internal defence; the streets are narrow; the houses are high, and built of stone; the windows are turned towards the street, and serve well as embrasures for musketry...

On the 28th of July, 1791, the above singular monster was led to the scaffold, where he furnished a remarkable instance of revolutionary vicissitudes. He was put to death with his accomplices by a tribunal composed of friends and associates.

COMMUNICATIONS.—TO THE EDITOR OF THE WEEKLY OBSERVER.—Sir, I am happy to observe that WILLIAM B. KINSEAR, Esquire, has authorized his friends to propose him as a Candidate at the ensuing Election...

SPAIN.—It would seem as if internal commotions were of a contagious nature: for scarcely has the capital of France emerged from the struggle between despotism and constitutional liberty, when a similar convulsion appears to be breaking out in Spain...

plainly indicate a great and important change in the old system of the Continental Kingdoms. The flame is lighted up, and it becomes all despotic rulers so to modify their governments, that they may not be involved in that general destruction which will, sooner or later, overtake all institutions which are based upon tyranny and oppression.—Litt. Courier.

HISTORICAL PARALLEL.—The Globe, Paris paper, gives the following close and ingenious parallel between the reign of the Stuarts in this country, and that of the Capets, in France:

Table with 2 columns: ENGLISH REVOLUTION, THE STUARTS; FRENCH REVOLUTION, THE CAPETS. Lists corresponding events and figures for both revolutions.

Of all the authorities upon which people can rely in a grand political crisis, history is the most powerful. In the present state of affairs it will be seen on which side it leans.—Jb.

It is remarked that the great revolutions of Europe, have occurred in the month of July. In that month two revolutions were operated, which rendered famous the eighteenth century, and changed the face of the old and new world...

From the Courier.—We have much pleasure in giving publicity to the following document; and have no doubt but that the gratification we feel in doing so, will be heartily responded by every person to whom Major Ward is personally known.

THE 37th REGIMENT was to leave Bona, the latter end of July, to embark for these Islands.—Bernard's paper.

The Hon. JENNY CHAPMAN and Lady, arrived in Town on Tuesday morning last, from London, after an absence of nearly two years. Her Honour and Lady came on land from Bona on St. Andrews, where they took the Stage Coach, recently established between this City and the latter place, being the first passengers that ever travelled the route in a Stage Coach.

On Thursday evening, Mr. William Watters, aged 44 years, was found dead in the street. It is believed that he had committed suicide by taking an overdose of opium.

NOTICE.—Proposals for publishing a series of Discourses on the Subjects and Mode of Baptism by the Rev. Dr. Burns, are at the Stores of Messrs. J. Millin, Prince Street, M. Lee and M. Kerline, and James Stewart, Water Street, where a matured and respectable copy will be sold for a few copies on an inferior paper which will be sold considerably lower. Sept. 21.

THE OBSERVER.—We have this past week gained a considerable accession to our stock of information, having via Halifax, been put in possession of London dates to the 17th, and by the High Johnston, Liverpool papers to the 18th Aug. It will be seen that French affairs go on and prosper. Nothing has occurred to tarnish the lustre of the revolution, which from its commencement to its present state of maturity, has been conducted with singular moderation and judgment. The conduct and fate of Charles X. and the Polignac ministry, afford a striking illustration of the well known adage, Quis Deus cuncti perdere vult dementat. For surely never did men possessed of the ordinary powers of humanity, manifest such obliquity and infatuation of mind, conjoined with recklessness of spirit and of purpose...

THE OBSERVER.—We have this past week gained a considerable accession to our stock of information, having via Halifax, been put in possession of London dates to the 17th, and by the High Johnston, Liverpool papers to the 18th Aug. It will be seen that French affairs go on and prosper. Nothing has occurred to tarnish the lustre of the revolution, which from its commencement to its present state of maturity, has been conducted with singular moderation and judgment. The conduct and fate of Charles X. and the Polignac ministry, afford a striking illustration of the well known adage, Quis Deus cuncti perdere vult dementat. For surely never did men possessed of the ordinary powers of humanity, manifest such obliquity and infatuation of mind, conjoined with recklessness of spirit and of purpose...

unity church on Thursday, and at the inauguration of the Duke of York, and at the presentation of the Duke of York, and at the presentation of the Duke of York...

The Poll for the Election of Members to represent City and County of Saint John in General Assembly, is to be opened on the 11th of next month.

A Sham Fight between a proportion of the troops in garrison and of our local Militia was exhibited in our immediate vicinity on Friday last, and was conducted with great skill and hazard on both sides. The forces whose object was the invasion of our city, were repulsed, and surrendered in good time and in good order, our valorous defenders having proved more than a match for them in prowess and in military tactics, and all the combatants are likely to "live to fight another day."

FRUITS OF TEMPERANCE.—These are showing themselves in the timber as in other branches of Trade. For we learn that the cargo of Brig Duncan Robertson, of this port, sold for 15 7/8 per foot in the Liverpool market, being 1/4 per foot more than several previous cargoes had sold for.

From the Courier.—We have much pleasure in giving publicity to the following document; and have no doubt but that the gratification we feel in doing so, will be heartily responded by every person to whom Major Ward is personally known.

THE 37th REGIMENT was to leave Bona, the latter end of July, to embark for these Islands.—Bernard's paper.

The Hon. JENNY CHAPMAN and Lady, arrived in Town on Tuesday morning last, from London, after an absence of nearly two years. Her Honour and Lady came on land from Bona on St. Andrews, where they took the Stage Coach, recently established between this City and the latter place, being the first passengers that ever travelled the route in a Stage Coach.

On Thursday evening, Mr. William Watters, aged 44 years, was found dead in the street. It is believed that he had committed suicide by taking an overdose of opium.

NOTICE.—Proposals for publishing a series of Discourses on the Subjects and Mode of Baptism by the Rev. Dr. Burns, are at the Stores of Messrs. J. Millin, Prince Street, M. Lee and M. Kerline, and James Stewart, Water Street, where a matured and respectable copy will be sold for a few copies on an inferior paper which will be sold considerably lower. Sept. 21.

THE OBSERVER.—We have this past week gained a considerable accession to our stock of information, having via Halifax, been put in possession of London dates to the 17th, and by the High Johnston, Liverpool papers to the 18th Aug. It will be seen that French affairs go on and prosper. Nothing has occurred to tarnish the lustre of the revolution, which from its commencement to its present state of maturity, has been conducted with singular moderation and judgment. The conduct and fate of Charles X. and the Polignac ministry, afford a striking illustration of the well known adage, Quis Deus cuncti perdere vult dementat. For surely never did men possessed of the ordinary powers of humanity, manifest such obliquity and infatuation of mind, conjoined with recklessness of spirit and of purpose...

THE OBSERVER.—We have this past week gained a considerable accession to our stock of information, having via Halifax, been put in possession of London dates to the 17th, and by the High Johnston, Liverpool papers to the 18th Aug. It will be seen that French affairs go on and prosper. Nothing has occurred to tarnish the lustre of the revolution, which from its commencement to its present state of maturity, has been conducted with singular moderation and judgment. The conduct and fate of Charles X. and the Polignac ministry, afford a striking illustration of the well known adage, Quis Deus cuncti perdere vult dementat. For surely never did men possessed of the ordinary powers of humanity, manifest such obliquity and infatuation of mind, conjoined with recklessness of spirit and of purpose...

Table with 2 columns: ARRIVED, DEPARTED. Lists ship arrivals and departures from Saint John, including ship names, companies, and destinations.

The Poll for the Election of Members to represent City and County of Saint John in General Assembly, is to be opened on the 11th of next month.

A Sham Fight between a proportion of the troops in garrison and of our local Militia was exhibited in our immediate vicinity on Friday last, and was conducted with great skill and hazard on both sides. The forces whose object was the invasion of our city, were repulsed, and surrendered in good time and in good order, our valorous defenders having proved more than a match for them in prowess and in military tactics, and all the combatants are likely to "live to fight another day."

FRUITS OF TEMPERANCE.—These are showing themselves in the timber as in other branches of Trade. For we learn that the cargo of Brig Duncan Robertson, of this port, sold for 15 7/8 per foot in the Liverpool market, being 1/4 per foot more than several previous cargoes had sold for.

From the Courier.—We have much pleasure in giving publicity to the following document; and have no doubt but that the gratification we feel in doing so, will be heartily responded by every person to whom Major Ward is personally known.

THE 37th REGIMENT was to leave Bona, the latter end of July, to embark for these Islands.—Bernard's paper.

The Hon. JENNY CHAPMAN and Lady, arrived in Town on Tuesday morning last, from London, after an absence of nearly two years. Her Honour and Lady came on land from Bona on St. Andrews, where they took the Stage Coach, recently established between this City and the latter place, being the first passengers that ever travelled the route in a Stage Coach.

On Thursday evening, Mr. William Watters, aged 44 years, was found dead in the street. It is believed that he had committed suicide by taking an overdose of opium.

NOTICE.—Proposals for publishing a series of Discourses on the Subjects and Mode of Baptism by the Rev. Dr. Burns, are at the Stores of Messrs. J. Millin, Prince Street, M. Lee and M. Kerline, and James Stewart, Water Street, where a matured and respectable copy will be sold for a few copies on an inferior paper which will be sold considerably lower. Sept. 21.

THE OBSERVER.—We have this past week gained a considerable accession to our stock of information, having via Halifax, been put in possession of London dates to the 17th, and by the High Johnston, Liverpool papers to the 18th Aug. It will be seen that French affairs go on and prosper. Nothing has occurred to tarnish the lustre of the revolution, which from its commencement to its present state of maturity, has been conducted with singular moderation and judgment. The conduct and fate of Charles X. and the Polignac ministry, afford a striking illustration of the well known adage, Quis Deus cuncti perdere vult dementat. For surely never did men possessed of the ordinary powers of humanity, manifest such obliquity and infatuation of mind, conjoined with recklessness of spirit and of purpose...

THE OBSERVER.—We have this past week gained a considerable accession to our stock of information, having via Halifax, been put in possession of London dates to the 17th, and by the High Johnston, Liverpool papers to the 18th Aug. It will be seen that French affairs go on and prosper. Nothing has occurred to tarnish the lustre of the revolution, which from its commencement to its present state of maturity, has been conducted with singular moderation and judgment. The conduct and fate of Charles X. and the Polignac ministry, afford a striking illustration of the well known adage, Quis Deus cuncti perdere vult dementat. For surely never did men possessed of the ordinary powers of humanity, manifest such obliquity and infatuation of mind, conjoined with recklessness of spirit and of purpose...

AUCTION SALES.

On THURSDAY the 7th Oct. at 11 o'clock the Silver and Gold at Public Auction, A General Assortment of British and other MERCHANDISE, Among which are the following Articles: 25 CASKS NAILS, assorted, from 4d. to 2 1/4; 20 CASKS SPIRES, from 4 to 9 inch; 5 Pouches Jamaica SPIRES; 100 Kegs White LEAD; 50 pieces OZARKS; 40 Ends Superfine and Fine Broad Cloth; 40 Pieces striped HOMESBURG; 20 Dozen Grey COTTONS; 2 Bales Sars; 20 Pieces striped SATINS; 30 Dozen Writing PAPER, assorted; 10 Dozen PENS, in papers of 1 lb. each; 30 Dozen THREADS, assorted colours; 5 Cases BATHINGWARE, assorted; 2 Cases GLASS, containing Tumbler and Wine Glasses; 100 Pieces MUSLINS, assorted; HARDWARE, &c. &c.

To the Independent FRELDBOLDERS of the County of SAINT JOHN.

THE lamented death of His late Majesty, having caused a dissolution of the House of Assembly, you will soon be called upon to exercise the important right which you possess as British Subjects, of electing Members to represent you.

THE lamented death of His late Majesty, having caused a dissolution of the House of Assembly, you will soon be called upon to exercise the important right which you possess as British Subjects, of electing Members to represent you.

THE lamented death of His late Majesty, having caused a dissolution of the House of Assembly, you will soon be called upon to exercise the important right which you possess as British Subjects, of electing Members to represent you.

THE lamented death of His late Majesty, having caused a dissolution of the House of Assembly, you will soon be called upon to exercise the important right which you possess as British Subjects, of electing Members to represent you.

THE lamented death of His late Majesty, having caused a dissolution of the House of Assembly, you will soon be called upon to exercise the important right which you possess as British Subjects, of electing Members to represent you.

THE lamented death of His late Majesty, having caused a dissolution of the House of Assembly, you will soon be called upon to exercise the important right which you possess as British Subjects, of electing Members to represent you.

THE lamented death of His late Majesty, having caused a dissolution of the House of Assembly, you will soon be called upon to exercise the important right which you possess as British Subjects, of electing Members to represent you.

THE lamented death of His late Majesty, having caused a dissolution of the House of Assembly, you will soon be called upon to exercise the important right which you possess as British Subjects, of electing Members to represent you.

THE lamented death of His late Majesty, having caused a dissolution of the House of Assembly, you will soon be called upon to exercise the important right which you possess as British Subjects, of electing Members to represent you.

THE lamented death of His late Majesty, having caused a dissolution of the House of Assembly, you will soon be called upon to exercise the important right which you possess as British Subjects, of electing Members to represent you.

