THE
EIGHTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE
CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY

OF TORONTO,

FOR THE TWELVE MONTHS ENDING WITH THE 30th SEPTEMBER, 1899.

Motto:

"It is wiser and less expensive to save children than to punish criminals."

The Board of Management presents its Eighth Annual Report, and in doing so acknowledges the good hand of God in the measure of good work accomplished during the year just ended.

With the exception of an increase in the number of children of tender years, for whom it has been necessary to seek foster-homes, in the working out of the "Maternity Houses Act," the work has been of much the same character as in former years.

The enforcement of the above mentioned Act by the Medical Health Officer has already had most beneficial results, as all maternity boarding houses and baby homes are now under license and strict inspection, and their number is limited.

At present there are twenty-six licensed baby homes in the city, and these are all under the supervision of the Medical Health Department. The inspector of the department, Dr. W. Harley Smith, who is also a member of the Board of this Society, visits them twice a week.

Previous to the passing of the Act under which the Society operates, and similar Acts in Great Britain and the United States, there was no protection for the "little citizen," and parents often seemed to think that they owned their children and could use them and abuse them as they liked. The effect of the laws for the protection of children has been to rudely awaken cruel and neglectful parents to the fact that the law of the land regards them as the rightful guardians of their children as long as they do their duty by them, while it clearly shows that the children are citizens whom the state is bound to protect. Under these benign laws, now, not only the citizen who has reached majority, but the citizen a day old has an equal right to the protection which the law affords.

This Society is therefore not a charity merely, but also a subordinate governmental agency for the express purpose of protecting the helpless and acting as their legal representative in the criminal courts.

PLACING CHILDREN IN FOSTER-HOMES.

It will be seen by the following table that a large number of children were placed in foster homes during the year ; but the Society wishes to emphasize the fact that it is not its desire or its aim to take children from their natural homes, but to provide the best possible substitute for the natural home when the latter has been proven a place unfit for the task of properly bringing up and caring for its youthful inmates.

In the last report the difficulty of getting homes for boys under nine years of age, and the still greater difficulty of finding homes for both boys and girls under two years of age was pointed out. During the past year there has been less difficulty in providing for both of these classes. A glance over the Society's records shows that up to the date of the last report the Society in its seven years history had placed only nineteen children under two years, while during the past twelve months alone homes have been found for nineteen under that age.

Sixty children were placed in foster homes during the year. Some of these were rescued from homes of vice and, by the action of the Police Magistrate, made wards of the Society, while others were adopted—through the voluntary action of their parents—for reasons which, on investigation, were deemed to be good. In cases of the former kind the Society's policy is not to go to the extreme measure of the law if something less drastic will answer; but experience has proved, both in this Society's work and in that of older societies with much larger fields, that what is best for the children of vicious parents is also best for the parents. The assumption of some people that the "Children's Protection Act" of 1893 made criminals of people who were formerly innocent, is unfounded. The offenders were not innocent previous to the passing of that Act, but their neglect of their children was not then legally a crime, although their conduct was and has always been a crime against nature and morality.

THE SHELTER.

The Shelter continues to be a useful part of the Society's machinery. The following table shows the number of children admitted and discharged during the year, the causes which led to their admission, and what was done with them:

Total number of children sheltered during the eight years of the existence of the Society.....	2050

The four deaths mentioned in the above table were all those of infants sent to the Shelter during the first few months in which the "Maternity Boarding Houses Act" was in operation. As time advanced and the baby homes mentioned in the early part of this report were licensed it was found better to encourage the parents of such infants either to enter the Infants' Home with their offspring, or, failing to persuade them to do this, to place the children in baby homes and bear the responsibility of their maintenance themselves. The result is that for many months it has not been found necessary to receive infants at the Shelter.

The influence on the children received at the Shelter by their treatment there, may be judged by the fact that it is no unusual thing for such children to leave the building tearfully and reluctantly, and indicates the contrast between the treatment in the Shelter and that of their past unhappy and uncomfortable home life; and it should be remembered in this connection that the Shelter is not a home in the full sense, but a temporary receiving house and necessarily lacks many of the ordinary home comforts to which reasonably well cared for children are accustomed.

Notwithstanding the number of children who have passed through the Shelter during the year, whose condition called for much to be done in the way of clothing, (many being so ill-clad that they had to be supplied with additional clothing, while others were clad with such filthy garments that the destruction of all clothing found on them became necessary), the management is thankful that the required clothing has been largely supplied by the thoughtful donations of the friends of the Society. The list of these donations will be found on the last pages of this report. The gifts of many little children as Bands, Leagues or Societies, or individually were particularly welcome, and these little friends would be delighted could they see the use made of their gifts.

The experience of another year emphasizes the need of a permanent building for a Shelter suited to the work, affording more room and better arrangement for classification.

In previous reports the want of accommodation for certain classes of children in the city and province, has been pointed out and a strong plea made for the establishment of a home for incurable children. It is a great satisfaction to the Board to learn that a Society has been formed during the past year for the purpose of establishing such a home, and it is hoped that it will ere long be opened.

During the summer the management deemed it wise to board out the incurable children at present on its hands and an appeal was made through the press for financial assistance for this purpose.

As will be seen in the subscription list, a number of kind friends responded and the children are now comfortably placed in a home in the County of Durham, in charge of a kind-hearted, Christian woman. Very little of the expenditure on this account is charged in the financial statement, because up to the close of the Society's financial year, no account for board had been sent in for payment.

In May, Mr. Wotton, who had with great faithfulness discharged the duties of Superintendent of the Shelter for five years, resigned, wishing to return to Hamilton, and his resignation was accepted with suitable acknowledgment of his efficient services.

Mr. John H. Bustard, who was highly recommended, was appointed in his stead and has given evidence of fitness for the position.

Miss Gordon, on whom much increased responsibility rested, following the resignation of the Superintendent and the appointment of his successor, has continued to discharge her duties as Matron and Chief Nurse with great faithfulness. The Board would also record its appreciation of the efficient services of Miss Clark, the teacher at the Shelter.

FINANCES.

The Board thanks its friends for the financial support given. The Sunday Schools and classes again gave welcome support, though the total was $9.48 less than last year and $189.47 less than the year before. Sherbourne Street Methodist Sunday School again headed the list, and again increased the amount contributed, while many of the other Sunday Schools, in proportion to their numbers and means, did equally as well. St. John's, Norway, again contributed quarterly and has for years been the only Sunday School to do this. It is to be regretted that a number of the Sunday Schools fell off in the amount of their collections and that one of the largest givers in the former years gave no collection last year. The foster children did not do so well with their contributions as formerly, and this may perhaps be partly accounted for because the Secretary has not been able to give this department that attention which he did previously. The Society's income from the subscribers for the year was about the same as for the previous year, but with the necessity for providing for the extension of the work and a new Shelter building, coupled with the increased commercial prosperity now prevailing, it is hoped this source of income will increase and many new subscribers be added to the list. The balance on hand appears to be large, but this is accounted for in that the last instalment of the city grant for the last year ($1500.00), was received after the beginning of the Society's current financial year. The Society sends out no collectors, but notifies its yearly subscribers by letter as the dates for their subscriptions come around.

During the year the first legacy in the history of the Society was announced. The amount was $1000.00, and it was bequeathed by the late Mrs. Annie Currie. During his lifetime Mr. Neil Currie was a yearly subscriber to the funds of the Society and on his death Mrs. Currie continued the yearly subscription.

The Board has thought it best to hold this in reserve to form the nucleus of a fund for the purpose of building a Shelter suited to the work of the Society.

THANKS.

The Board, in addition to its contributors and donors, tenders thanks to the following for assistance given: The Mayor and City Council, the Medical Health Officer, the Chief Constable, Inspectors of Police and Police, the Boards and Officers of the various Homes and Hospitals, the Society's Medical Staff, the Society's Solicitor, Mr. W. B. Raymond; Mr. A. M. Campbell, Treasurer; Mr. D. George Chesnut, Auditor, and also the city press.

The Board desires to thank also the kind friends—many of them children—who by giving entertainments in the aid of the Society's funds added a considerable sum to its finances.

HOME NESTS AND THEIR OCCUPANTS. THE FOSTER HOME PICTURES.

This year, as last, these pictures are given just as received, and are not specially selected. Indeed, they are copies of all that were sent in during the twelve months. Many foster parents expressed a desire to have sent pictures of their homes but said that they were unable to do so because of the distance from the nearest photographer.

A CHAT WITH THE FOSTER PARENTS.

Extracts from some of the foster parents' letters will be of interest to friends of the Society.

Mrs. S. writes: "I now write to let you know that Albert, as we call him, is well and is quite contented and happy with us. He is good company, for he is scarcely ever quiet unless he is asleep.

He thinks as much of his papa and mamma, as he calls us, as if we really were his parents, and he seems to think we are his parents. He says God sent him on the train to mamma. About the bank you sent with him. He thinks so much of it, I hope you will allow him to keep it. He puts all his coppers in it and says he is going to buy papa slippers and lots of things with it."

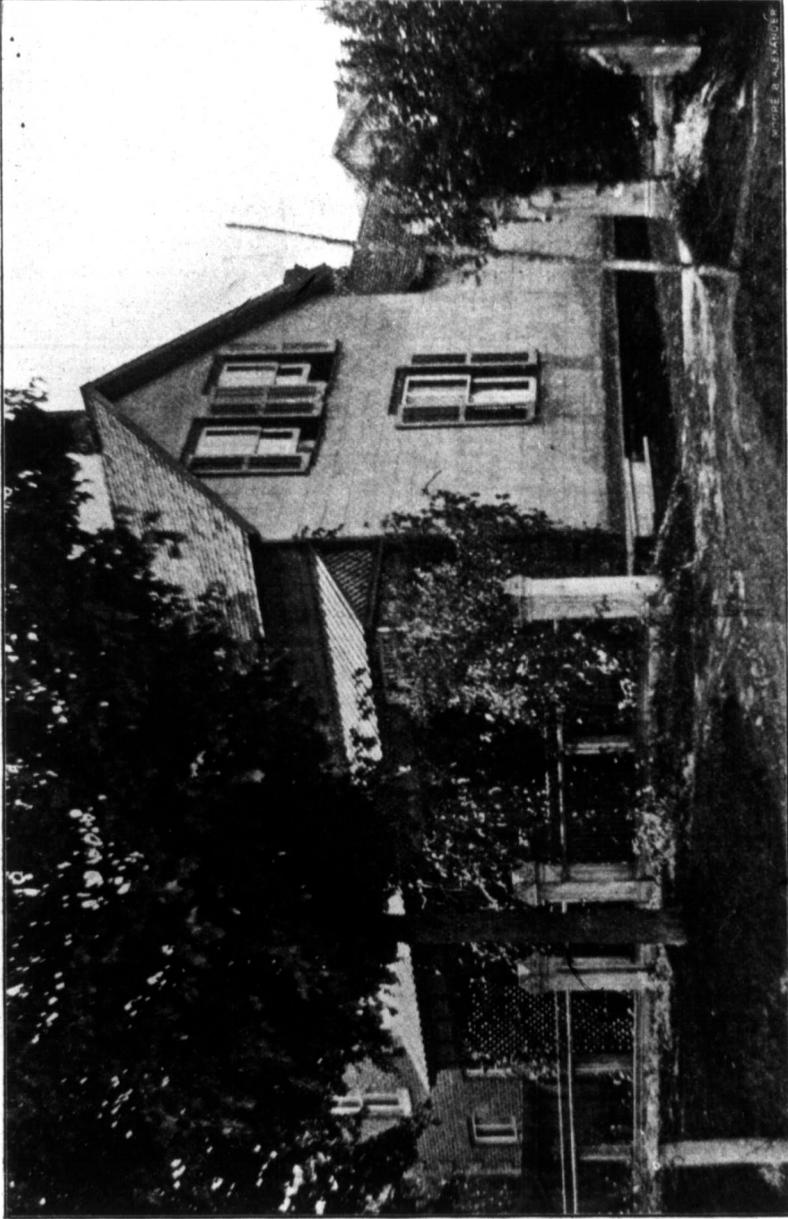

Katie's foster-father and mother write: "She is in excellent health, is growing finely and is very much pleased with her new home. She has no desire whatever to go back to Toronto. She is getting along finely in the public school and also at the Sunday school. We think her smart and intelligent in every respect. She received a fine lot of presents at Christmas and she is delighted with them. She is taking music lessons and is doing nicely. If she continues to do as well in the future as she has in the past, we would not wish for a nicer girl. All the neighbors think a great deal of her. The days pass happily with her, and to us she is a precious treasure, a most loving child full of love and sympathy. We all wish you Godspeed in your labor of love in rescuing those dear little ones for whom Christ died. May God bless you is the prayer of our hearts."

Aleck's foster mother writes: "The little one we have is all we could have desired. He is a very bright, loving little fellow and makes the home seem more like home than it has done for some time."

This fond foster-mother writes:

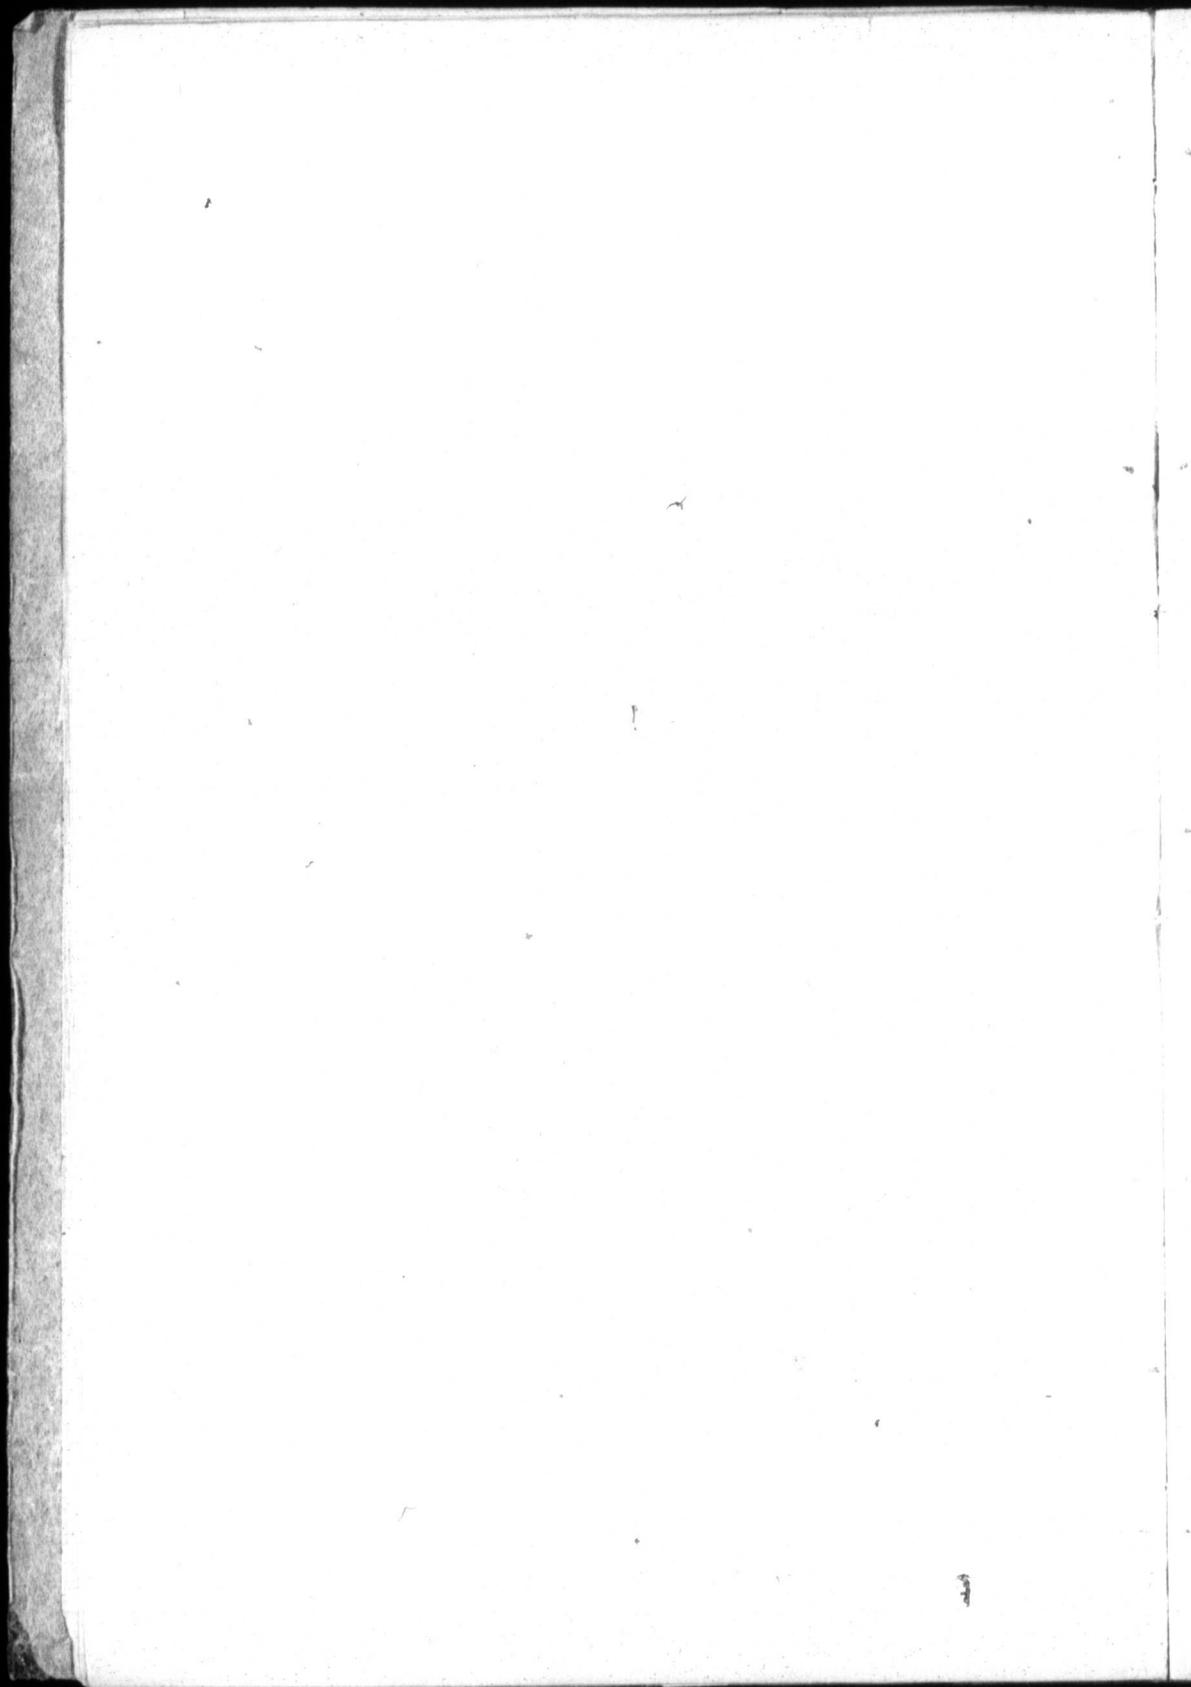

"I thought I would write and let you know how May was getting along. She is well and getting along nicely. She takes two sleeps every day. She never gives us any trouble at night. I believe she is the best baby ever was. People say that May looks enough like us to be our own child. She has only got two teeth yet. She can say "Papa" and "Mamma" and "Lillie," and "by-by" to her papa when he goes away. May has been to the Thousand Islands to see her grandma and grandpa. They think she is a lovely child. I hope that you will have success in your good work."

Mrs. F. writes: "Roy has grown a great deal and is looking fat and well. He has only had one ordinary cold this winter, and has a very slight one at the present time; but I think that has something to do with the last two double teeth he is cutting now. He drives about with us all over the country and has even been for a sleigh drive of (in one day) 30 miles. He is always very warmly clad and I think that, and getting plenty of fresh air, has helped to keep him healthy.

A FOSTER HOME IN NORTHERN ONTARIO.

He begins to talk more, but still, only as a rule, nouns. He is certainly backward in his speech, but he understands a lot and he chatters, in his way, all day long. He is a very dear little boy and we are very fond of him. He is inclined to be a trifle wayward, mischievous and anxious to have his own way, but as I am very firm with him, I do not think that propensity will grow."

This foster-mother writes: "I am glad to say that Rosa enjoys splendid health and has grown much taller since she came to us. She has improved wonderfully in other respects too, is learning to be obedient, and is altogether much less trouble than at first. She is very much attached to her papa and mamma and every day shows great tenderness of heart towards both of us. She is always in distress if she thinks either one of us is sick or tired. She is still a great favorite amongst our friends, young and old. Our pastor and his wife think her a most lovely child, every day growing more beautiful; but we consider that they say nothing more than what is really true. She is a terrible romp, and at Sunday school and church would like to play all the time if possible. Last Sabbath our Superintendent gave her the plate to take up the collection, which she did very nicely; the whole school being amused with the performance. She always tries to help in distributing books, papers, etc., and is just as smart as can be. Just now she is busy with her playthings and daily talks of God and heaven and her dear uncle William who has gone to God's house."

Willie went away to a sunny Southern State. His foster-mother writes: "Willie is well and seems to be perfectly happy. We all think him a very sweet, nice little boy, though he has an awful temper when crossed; but we do not feel that we would be doing our duty toward him by letting him do just entirely as he pleases. We have both become very fond of him and he seems very much attached to us."

Edith has an affectionate foster-mother who writes: "I was sorry I did not ask you a few questions about the child. We cannot think she is a common child. She has so many nice little refined ways with her, and we wonder very much who she is. Perhaps it is against the rules of your Society to answer questions, and if so it is all right; but if not we would like you to tell us what you know about her parentage. We are very much attached to her already and I would not be without her now for a good deal; and I feel very much indebted to you for choosing me such a dear little girl."

This foster-father writes: "As far as James is concerned, he is sharp and as witty as most boys; but of course he is a boy and sometimes needs correction—as the school mistress says, he is a good boy when you get your eyes on him—I have sent him to school very nearly all the time. The only objection I have, he is a little slippery with his tongue, and can tell a lie as quickly as tell the truth, for which I have had to correct him a couple of times, which of course I felt sorry to do, although I did not hurt him. He apparently likes it here, for the other day I told him I should send him to you if he told any more lies and he said, 'Oh, I don't want to go and leave you.' So, you see, he and I agree only for this of which I tell you. He is well and hearty and can go through his clothes as fast as any other boy. I let him go around quite a lot with me and he enjoys it I can tell you. After awhile I shall let him write you himself. Would be pleased to hear from you."

Mrs. Y. Writes: "Our little May is getting along nicely. She is walking, and can talk, and gets all the bread and milk she wants. May's weight is 25 lbs. She has a big doll and rocks and sings by-bye baby. May has never been sick yet."

This comes from an Assiniboia foster home: "I expect you will be wanting by this time to hear how our little boy is getting on. Well, he is growing very fat and healthy and is just now beginning to walk. My wife and family are very much attached to him and would not part with him on any account. Please write and let me know how you are getting on with your little ones, I am always anxious to hear about them. Our little boy has some money collected in his box, which I will send by and by."

Tena's foster-father says: "I am doing all I can for the child I adopted. She is not a very strong child, and I intend to give her a good education and I am saving all the money I can for her, to pay her expenses in high school after she is through the public school. I send it to the savings bank, for I know if she lives she is going to be more than a servant girl. She is only in school since the first of May and she is in her second reader. The other school children call her a 'home' child, as a slur, and she feels badly over it."

Mr. H. writes: "Our little girl is growing, doing nicely and getting to be quite a big girl. She seems to be very quick to learn anything and is very mischievous these cold days, as she is in the house so much. She is very happy and contented—could not be more so if she were our own child—and we could not be more fond of her. She is the favorite wherever she goes. She has grown to be very fond of the animals and she calls them all hers. She has a good time with her cat and dolls. We should not like to part with her now, as she is the joy of our home."

Mr. W. writes: "Charlie is very fond of horses. He is a lovable child, but very headstrong. We love him very much. He likes school and is in a great hurry to learn to read. He is in high glee this morning, as he is going to the county fair. He is very saving of his coppers, but not willing to give them up."

An Alberta foster-father writes: "I do not know how we could be better pleased with Lillie. She is the life of our home, as bright and smart as she can be, and is a general favorite wherever she goes. She is healthy and is growing nicely, and, I am sure, loves us as much as we love her. She sometimes talks about her other mamma at the 'Superintenders,' as she calls the Shelter, but says she likes us better and does not want to go back to Toronto. She has just been carrying in some sticks of wood and small blocks, which she has piled as neatly and nicely as one could wish. I called her in just now and told her I was writing to you, and asked her if she had anything to tell you. She said 'tell them I'm a bad girl and am not going to Toronto.' I asked her why she wanted me to tell you that she was a bad girl. She said, 'So they won't want me to go back to Toronto.' It is a rare thing for her to say she is a bad girl, she loves so much to be called a good girl, and when she has been naughty will never rest till she has asked pardon and persuaded us to say that we are not angry with her or that she is a good girl."

This is how a foster-parent writes of a little three-year-old boy, whom he adopted January, 1898: "As it is a little over one year since the little boy came to our home from the Shelter, I thought I would report. We like the little fellow very much. He has his faults (as have we all), but they are not serious. We find him a very bright, intelligent child, and very affectionate. We are treating him quite as kindly as any child in our home, and he seems to be grateful for the kindness thus shown. He has never been sick since he came to us, has gained four inches in height and seems strong and well. He is a general favorite with almost all who come in contact with him, and we think that if we had had a hundred boys to make choice from we could not have made a more satisfactory selection. We are endeavoring to wrap him round with loving and sacred influences, and making him the subject of much prayer. If his life is spared, he will, we hope, make a fine, cultured and Christian gentleman. He is very fond of his home and us. Every day he says he does like his good ma and pa. He is quite at home, and feels hurt if at any time we suggest his removal from us."

From Manitoba comes this happy note: "Just a few lines to say that our little girl is well and happy, and as full of fun as the day is long. We are very well pleased with her now. She is a fine little girl and is well liked wherever she goes. I wish you every success in your good work."

THE CHILDREN HAVE THEIR SAY.

Katie writes: "As I have been home for two days on account of the big snow storm I thought I would write and let you know how I am getting on. I have been constantly at school trying to be promoted, but my teacher gives me no encouragement. She thinks I am not far enough advanced in my lessons. The work seems so different to that in the city schools, although the teacher says I am getting along very nicely. I attend Sunday School and Church regularly. My teacher at Sunday School is going to give beautiful Christmas Cards to the ones who have been going regularly up till Christmas. I have been taking music lessons from a teacher in the village. She says she thinks I will get on very nicely, as I have the taste for music. We are going to have a Christmas dinner. We expect twenty-five of our friends and relations. We are practicing for a school concert and I am in fifteen drills. Mamma is going to send a parcel to Mrs. S., and said I could send you some of our lovely butter. I am going to churn it all myself.

"We are making a four storey Christmas cake. We are all well now, but papa has been under the doctor's care for two weeks. I am very much pleased with my new home and would not go back to the city for anything. I have lots of things here that I would not have in the city. Please excuse mistakes. I wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

Al wants to help the Society, and was raising chickens, which he intended to sell and give the money to the Society, but he had a catastrophe, which, it will be seen, might have, in the end, turned out to the advantage of the Society. He says: "Ma is writing and says I must write too. I am very well and like my home. We are talking about having a little girl, and I think this is a good place for one. I have been going to school, and am in the second reader. I am going to try and pass to the next book when the next holidays come. I haven't forgotten the Society's kindness to me. I have only fifteen cents in my bank now, but I will have some money to send you next winter. I have nine chickens of my own, and ma has fifty. We have sixteen sheep, seven head of cattle, two sows, and three young pigs, and they are coming on very well. We also have one span of horses. I close with love." To this he added a postscript, "This morning, when I went to feed them, five of my little chickens were dead, and pa thinks a mink killed them. Pa and I set a trap this afternoon. If I get a mink's hide it will be worth more than the chickens."

Florence writes: "I was very much pleased when I received your card telling me about my brother Norman coming to Manitoba. He is only about forty miles from here so we could drive there in a day. I had a letter from my sister Violet, she is nearly as far away again as Norman is. I had a letter from her on Thursday last. She seems as happy as can be. I am so contented here—as much as if I were at our own home. They let me write to my brothers and sisters when I like. I suppose it has been pretty cold in Ontario as well as in Manitoba. It is real cold here to-day. I got Annual Reports twice since I came out here. I cannot think of anything else to say. I am related to Eddie and Trevor and they are related to Frank who used to be Johnnie. We all have real good homes and so has Victor. He is as happy as the day is long. I remain, your friend, Florence."

N.B. Eddie, Trevor and Victor are brothers. These and Frank are adopted by relatives of Florence's foster parents. That is how she comes to claim them as relatives.

Mabel says: "I am just writing you a letter to let you know that I am getting along nicely and like my home. I am going to send the money in my bank. I am going to school. I have gone every day since it started. I am in the second class now and I am going to try for the third class at Christmas. I go to Sunday School almost every Sunday. It has been very dry here this summer and the fruit is very scarce. We had a good rain this morning. I think I will not write any more, only I am writing this all myself."

Bert writes: "I guess you thought I had forgotten you, but I have not. I am having a good time and am glad that I am. I have got everything I asked for. I asked Pa to buy me a pig and I got the pig. I bring the cow home at four o'clock in the afternoon and I go to meet Pa and get a ride on the jumper. I had my picture taken with May and I am going to get one taken alone, and will send you one. I think I will close my letter now as I have nothing more to say, so good bye."

SOME REPORTS FROM THE PROVINCIAL VISITOR.

Mrs. John Harvie, the Visitor for the Provincial Department of Neglected and Dependent Children, has a very busy life of it visiting the children placed in foster homes in Ontario by all the Children's Aid Societies in the Province. Here are a few of the reports she has made, concerning wards of this Society, which, in a measure go to confirm the wisdom of the choice of homes made by the Society, as indicated above in the letters of foster parents and children from which we quote :

Agnes B.—This home is a good one and the girl is doing well. She has grown a fine girl and is quite clever. Visited her on August 23rd.

Hattie O.—The home is a good one and Hattie is doing well. She is somewhat forward in manner, but is improving. She is a beautiful sewer, and some of the articles she made have been sent to Toronto Fair. Visited August 23rd.

Willie R.—Did not go out to this home on account of bad road. Heard from others that the child is doing well and that his foster-parents are much attached to him. August 25th.

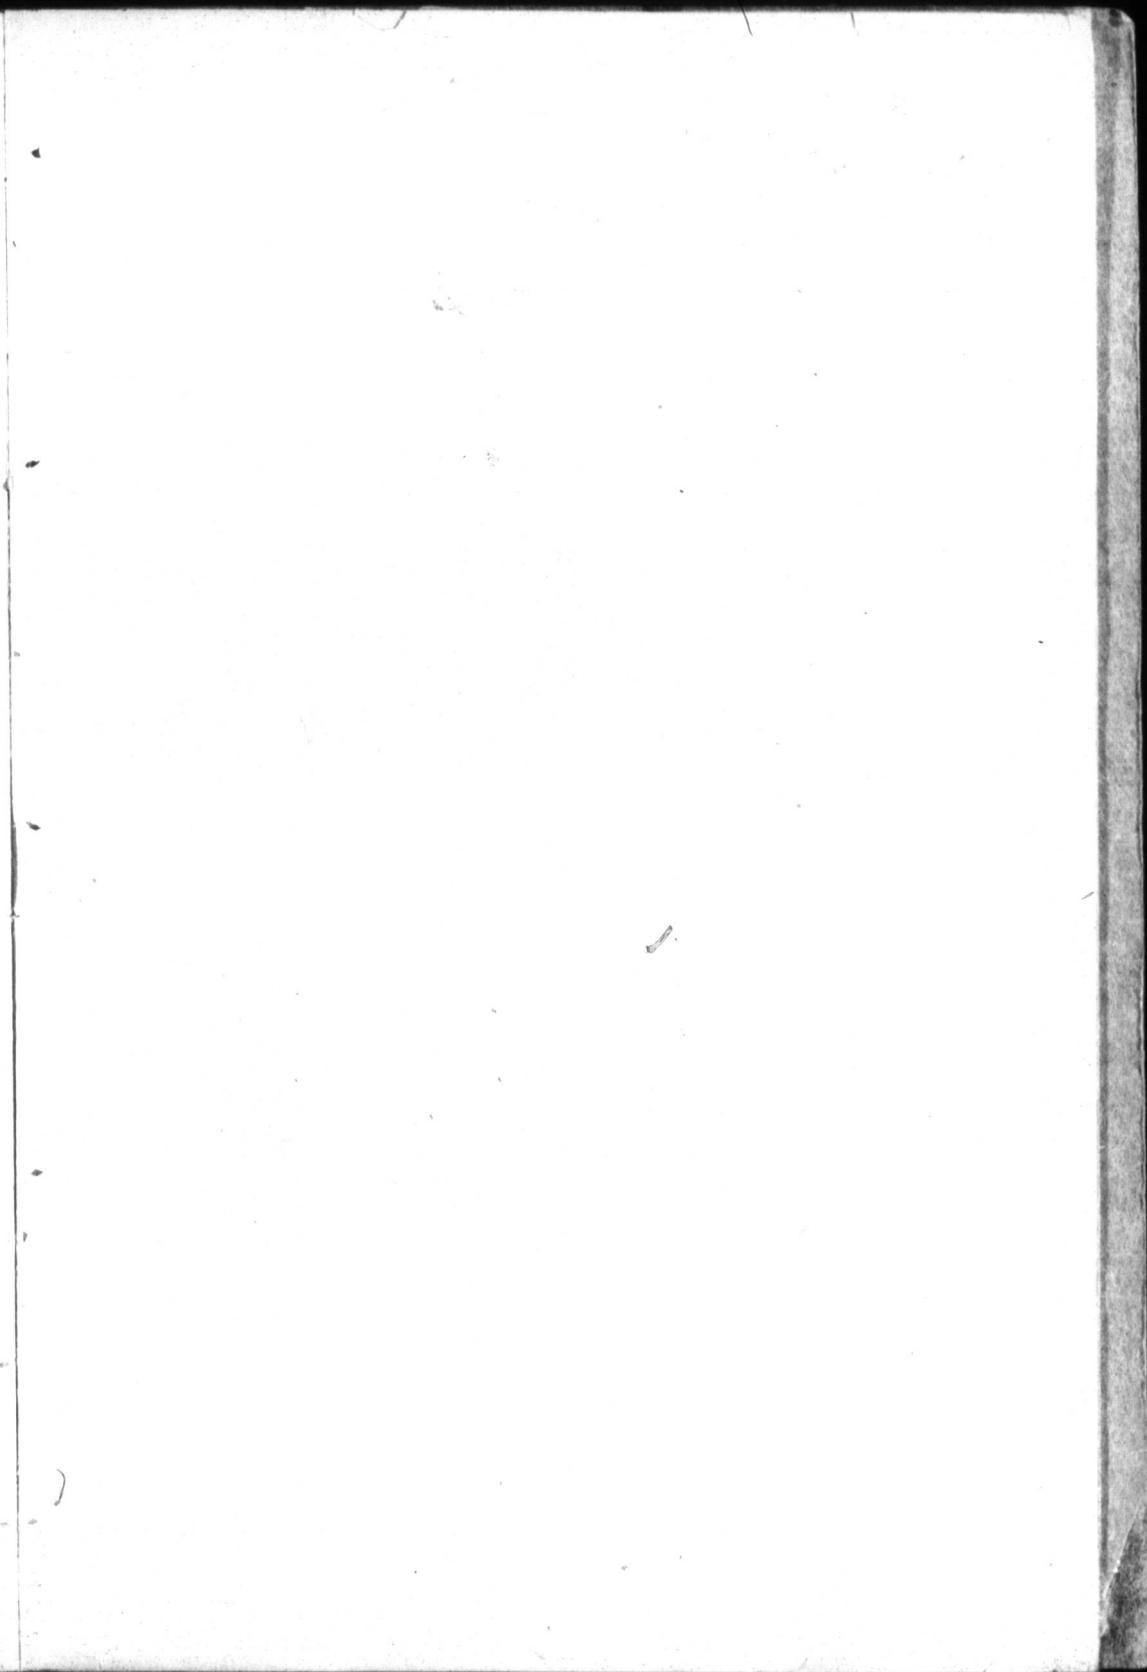

Violet M.—She is growing up a lovely girl and is tenderly cared for. No supervision is needed here and foster-parents prefer little or no correspondence. Visited August 25th.

James B.—Did not visit this home, but heard of James from Aggie, who had just returned from spending a week with him. He is a bright boy and is now in the 4th book, and altogether is doing remarkably well. August 23rd.

John W.—Had dinner in this home and was thoroughly pleased with my visit. This boy is progressing well, is willing and obedient. He reads in the 3rd book and is quite a carpenter. Home is exceptionally good. No other children. Visited Sept. 22nd.

Frank S.—The main difficulty here is this boy's quick and even violent temper. Was glad to hear that there was a marked improvement in this respect since my last visit. The swelling in his neck has been closely watched and attended to, a doctor having been called. Visited Sept. 15th.

Forest A.—This boy is well and strong, has a good appetite and is growing tall. Attends school regularly, reads in the 3rd book and spells well. Good at history and geography, but not so good at arithmetic. Goes to church and Sunday school and attends C.E. Society. Has nice tweed Sunday suit and wears white shirt. Is growing in affection for foster-mother and family. Can drive the horse rake. Family is respected in the Presbyterian church. Foster-mother is particularly excellent woman.

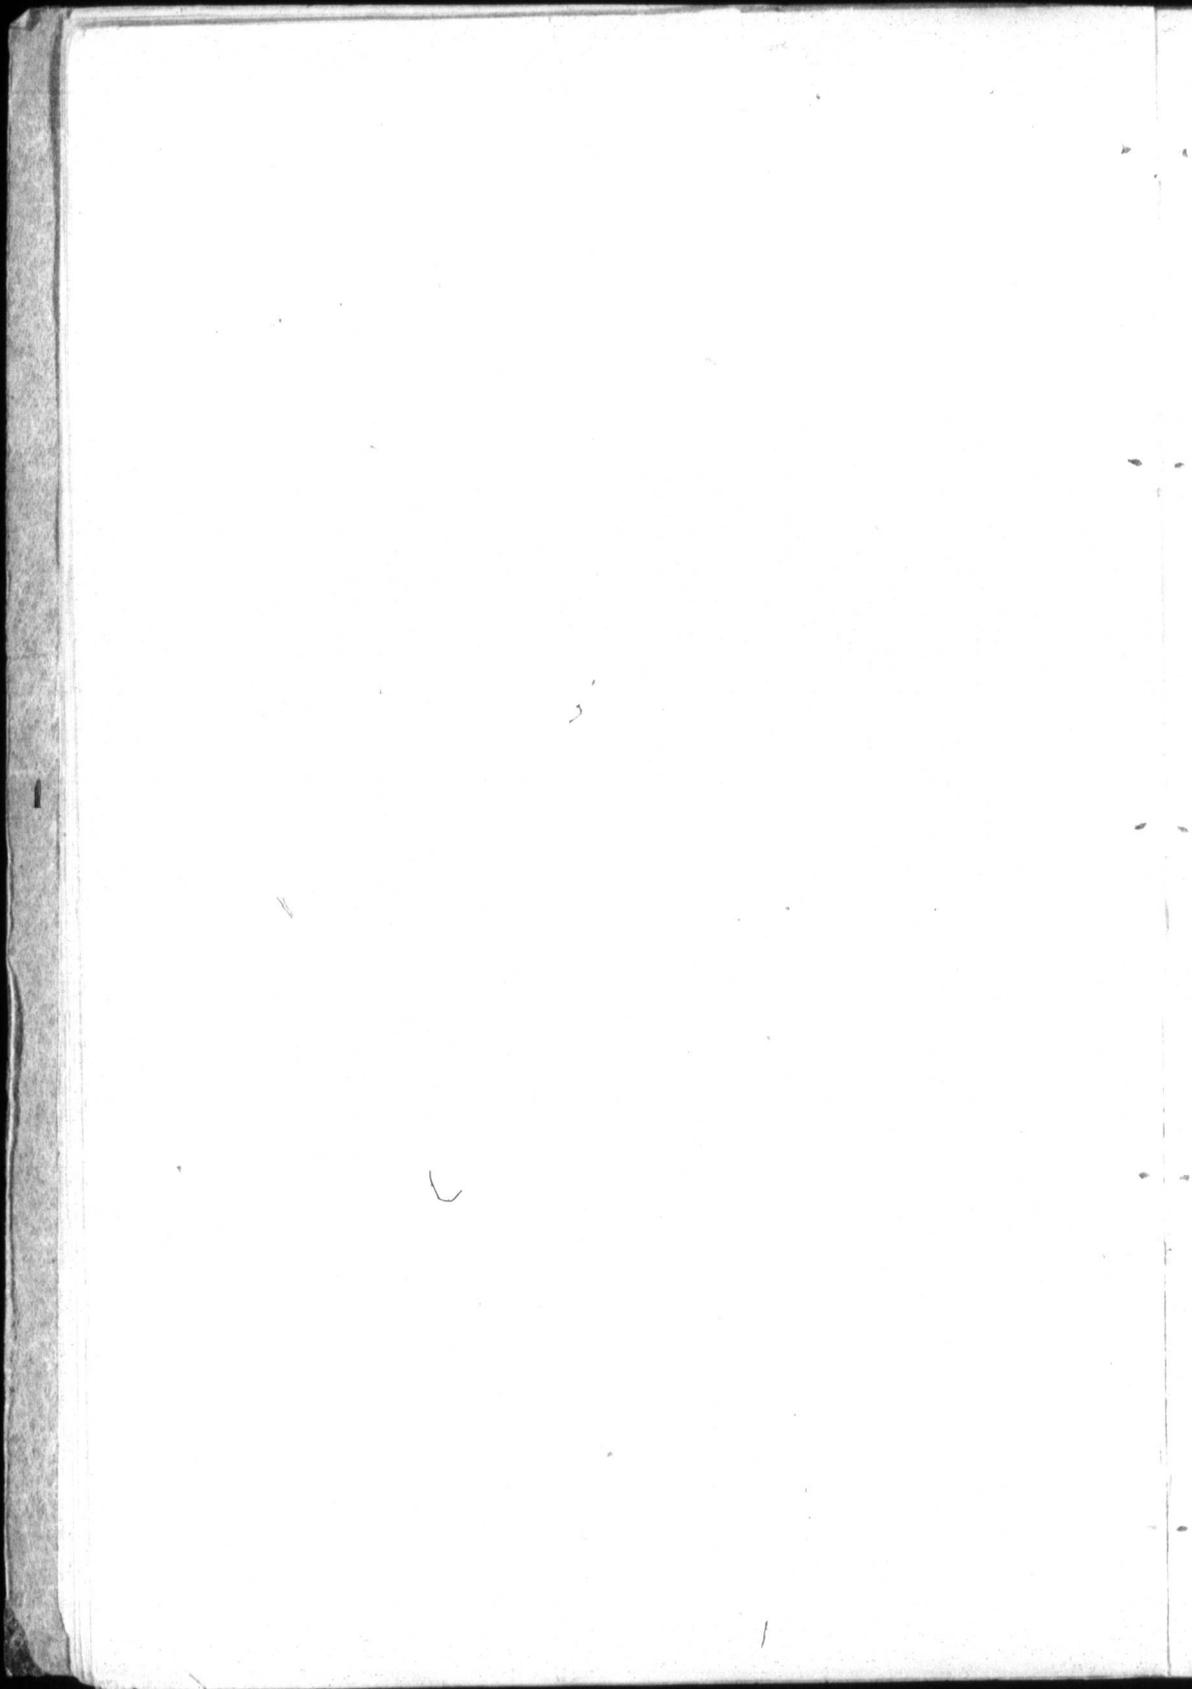

ANNIE AT THE TIME OF HER ADOPTION, AGED 18 MONTHS.

ANNIE IN 1899, AGED 9 YEARS.

Florence B.—Did not call, but learned from Mrs. E., who saw them a few days ago, that Florence was well and everything was going on satisfactorily. The child had a slight accident a few weeks ago, falling off the fence, but was quite better. There is no supervision needed here.

May B.—Mr. M. has just bought a farm, with very good buildings, near the church and school house at C. The child is well and happy and much loved. Visited Sept. 18th.

John H.—This is a good home, a farm containing 200 acres. Thrifty, prosperous farmer. Everything in its place; good house-keeping. One small boy of their own. John is a smart-looking lad. At school in winter, reads in 2nd book, and writes a little. Attends Sunday school in summer. Is obedient and willing, but tells untruths sometimes, although Mr. J. says he is as good as the average boy. Visited Sept. 19th.

John M. I.—This boy is willing and obedient. Reads in 3rd book, and is useful on the farm. Can drive the horses going to plough, etc. Is well clothed; studies the Shorter Catechism; asks the blessing at table, and is altogether a happy, contented little fellow, and seems to prize the privileges of his home. Visited Sept. 19th.

Henrietta G.—This little girl is an affectionate and obedient child. Reads in the senior 2nd book, is well clothed, and taken to visit with the family. Only fault is personal untidiness. Believe the home is a good one, and that all the family have love and sympathy for Etta. Visited Sept. 26th.

Sadie M.—Mr. R. has bought a farm of 100 acres, with good buildings here. Sadie was at school. Everything going on satisfactorily. Child is willing and obedient, although sometimes impatient. Mrs. R. is kind and motherly. Visited Sept. 21st.

Edith M.—Satisfied with this home, foster-mother especially sensible and kind. Struggling to pay for farm. Edith a bright little girl, a trifle forward; reads in first book; is comfortably clothed, very happy and likes her home. Visited Sept. 21st.

Harry J.—This is a good home and fine, sensible people. Mr. I. is Sunday school superintendent, and Mrs. I. teaches in the school. Splendid house-keeping. Boy refined, intelligent and gentlemanly. Somewhat self-willed and above work, but is improving in these respects. Altogether there seemed to be mutual satisfaction. Visited Sept. 21st.

Willie W.—Being in the vicinity, called at this home. Willie is behaving very well. Reads in the 4th book, and is a kind, willing and helpful boy. Mrs. T. is a sweet-tempered woman, and am sure she has had a good influence on Willie. Visited Sept. 25th.

Willie C.—Was on my way to this home when circumstances hindered. Learned from friends and from a boy who goes to the same school all about this boy. He reads in the 2nd class, is well dressed, and goes to Sunday school regularly, and is a jolly little fellow whom everyone loves. Foster-parents are very good to him, and he in turn is quite useful to them. Sept. 22nd.

Bennie G.—This boy has a beautiful home and every advantage. Foster-parents have no other children. Visited Sept. 27th.

Maggie T.—This child is a prodigy. She reads in 2nd book, is as far as reduction in arithmetic and knows all the Shorter Catechism, and is not yet seven years old. Has eight dollars in the bank. Visited Sept. 19th.

David M.—This boy is growing tall, is a good boy, and reads in the 1st book. Mrs. E. is a sensible, motherly woman and a good house-keeper. Visited Sept. 20th.

Beatrice J.—This girl is growing pretty, refined and affectionate. Is about going into the 2nd book. Think foster-mother a sensible, good woman. Am sure they treat the child as their own. Have one small boy. Beatrice asked after Lucy. Visited Sept. 20th.

DESCRIPTION OF A FEW OF THE CASES.

OCTOBER.

Case 4552.—Was that of a boy nine years of age who was nearly blind, but who could see sufficiently to find his way everywhere about the streets and do much mischief. The boy was not looked after by his mother and was fast drifting into bad ways. He was sent to the Ontario Institution for the Blind and is showing such aptitude in learning as will some day make him a good citizen.

NOVEMBER.

Case 4723.—This case was one where the mother was dead and two boys were being neglected by their father. The father was brought before the magistrate and the case was adjourned for a week, meanwhile arrangements were made by the father to place the boys in a comfortable home with their aunt, and the case was dismissed.

DECEMBER.

Case 4799.—Concerned four children, ranging in age from seven to fifteen years. The mother was dead, the father a drunkard, who grossly abused his children. On the case being brought before the Magistrate the children were all ordered into the guardianship of the Society, and subsequently two were adopted to relatives, a third into a good home known to the relatives and approved by the Society, and the fourth placed at a trade. For some time after this action was taken, the father, and some relatives sympathizing with him, gave the people with whom three of the children were placed much annoyance, but after being warned and shown that they could be prosecuted for such conduct the annoyance ceased.

JANUARY.

Case 4913.—This occurrence included six children whose father was an habitual drunkard. Friends had many times got him work, given him clothes and supplied the family with food, but it was all of no avail and the Society had to interfere. The wife being compelled to leave her husband because of his drunken habits, the children were placed where they are being cared for properly.

FEBRUARY.

Case 4995.—Was that of a boy taken in to be boarded when he was three months old. Shortly after bringing the child the mother deserted him, and the couple in whose house he was left had to maintain him out of their slender means. The boy had now got to be two years old, and, unable longer to bear the expense of his maintenance, the people who had charge of him applied to the Society. The little fellow is now in a comfortable foster-home.

MARCH.

Case 5063.—Had to do with a bright boy of eleven, who had the misfortune to have an impediment in his speech. Neglected by his father he was taking refuge in one place after another until the Society took his case up. For some time his father could not be found, but when he was found he was brought before the Magistrate and the Society asked for the custody of the boy. Meanwhile the father's sister, a most respectable woman, had heard of the boy's neglected condition and asked to have him handed over to her. The Magistrate refused the Society's application but handed the boy over to his aunt (with the hearty approval of the Society), telling her to appeal to him should the father seek to disturb her in her possession of the child.

APRIL.

Case 5171.—Was that of a boy of eight. His father was confined in an insane asylum while his little brother of five was in the Orillia Asylum. The mother was unable to maintain herself and children, (she being very delicate), and she determined to return to England with her only girl, if means could be provided for that purpose. Through the good offices of the management of the Evening Star, a public subscription was taken up and in March, 1898, mother and child went to England, while the boy concerned in this case was sent to one of the Homes in this city. The mother has never since either communicated with the Society or the Home, and Willie was in due course placed in a foster-home. Early this year the poor boy began to develop symptoms of the malady his brother is afflicted with and gradually grew worse. Through the advice of the Society, arrangements were made to send the little fellow to the Asylum at Orillia, and the boy is now there. This case brought out an illustration of how good many foster-parents are to the little ones they take into their homes. Willie's foster-mother clung to the hope that by her own care and nursing she could bring him around all right. Even after two physicians had examined the boy carefully and advised sending him to the asylum, she still urged that it might not be necessary for him to go; and it was only after much persuasion and a description of how comfortably all the inmates were provided for, (and of the position of the asylum and its beautiful surroundings) that she finally consented. On the day she handed the boy over she wept bitterly and said that the parting was a cruel blow to her.

MAY.

Case 5395.—Was one where the father and mother were constantly quarrelling and separating. They had four children, and these were brought to the Shelter and kept for two months, at the end of which time the parents had come to terms and the children were sent back to them.

JUNE.

Case 5386.—Was that of a little three-year-old girl whose father had deserted her and whose mother, though educated and refined, was given to drink. At the intercession of relatives the Society took action and brought the case into court. The matter was settled finally out of court by a kind-hearted woman agreeing to take care of the child but not to give her to the mother until she had thoroughly reformed.

JULY.

Case 5478.—Concerned five children whose father and mother were dead and the children placed with their elder brother, who was said to use money (left by his parents for the children's maintenance) for drink, and leave the children ill-provided for in consequence. The case was brought before the Magistrate and discharged by him with a warning to the brother to do better in future.

AUGUST.

Case 5653.—Involved the welfare of a boy of four and a girl of eight. The father was an educated man in one of the learned professions, but drink was his master and he left his wife and family and refused to support them. On the case being brought before the Magistrate, at the request of the children's mother, he handed them over to the Society. The boy was subsequently adopted to his mother while the girl was adopted into a good home.

SEPTEMBER.

Case 5693.—Concerned a little lad of six. He was brought to the Salvation Army Children's Shelter last year by a woman calling herself his step-mother, who never came again. A man, who said that he was his father, called a few days later, but, after that, never came again. A woman who had just lost her own little boy, as the result of an accident, saw this boy and loved him. The boy was brought before the Magistrate, became a ward of the Society, and is now the only child in his new home where he is being tenderly cared for.

At the Annual Meeting of the Society held on November 16th, 1899, the following resolution was moved by Hon. E. J. Davis, seconded by Rev. B. D. Thomas, D. D., carried unanimously:

That this meeting express its thorough sympathy with the work carried on by the Society, and records its satisfaction with what has been accomplished during the past year as outlined in the report just read. It congratulates the Society on the recognition of its aims and objects by the general public, and by the City Council, and most heartily commends the Society and its work to the many subscribers in the City and throughout the Dominion, and benevolent people generally—for continued and increased liberality, and to the City Council for a continuation of its liberal grant.
