A Glasgow Grain Firm Goes Down With $1,000,000 Liabilities.

The British Steamer Hartfield Burned at Sea.

A Hundred of Stokes' Men Shot by Belgian Troops.

Sims Boeves, the Famous Tenor, Takes Another Wife.

BLAZE IN AN HISTORIC TOWN. London, Sept. 18 .- Fifty houses and the Dominican monastery at Friech, Corinthia, were burned yesterday. The town, anciently known as Virunum, is noted as retaining its ancient character. It was a flourishing place at the time of the early Romans. FAILED FOR $1,000,000.

London, Sept. 18.-Fox, Clinch & Co., corn merchants, of Gloucester, have suspended payment. Their liabilities amount to $1,000,000. The failure is ascribed to speculations in grain futures. It is stated that the firm will pay 10 shillings in the

SIMS REEVES MARRIED AGAIN. London, Sept. 18.—Sims Reeves, the English tenor, has remarried. The name of Mr. Reeves' new wife has not transpired, but she is said to be young and handsome. Mr. Reeves' former wife, who has not long been dead, was a soprano singer, named Emma Incombe.

A SWINDLER PUNISHED. London, Sept. 18 .- Geoffrey Perkins, an American, and who represented himself to be a lawyer and a journalist, has been sentenced to ten years at renal servitude on the charge of levying and collecting blackmail. Perkins was indicted in December last.

BRITISH STEAMER BURNED.

London, Sept. 18.—The British steamer Hartfield-Capt. Lang-from the Clyde June 21, for Table Bay, caught fire at sea and was abandoned. The British brig Invercauld—Capt. Donaldson—from Barry, picked-up part of the Hartfield's crew, and landed them at Cape Town, the crew are missing.

A HUNDRED OF STOKES' MEN SHOT. London, Sept. 18 .- The Daily Telegraph publishes a telegram, dated Uganda, Sept. 5, which states that 100 of Stokes' followers were shot by the Belgian troops after Stokes had been executed. Stokes was an Englishman, who was hanged by the Belgians for alleged participation in the slave trade, and whose execution has since formed the subject of negotiations between the British Government and Belgium.

BARON BEAUMONT DEAD.

London, Sept. 18 .- Miles Stapleton, tenth Baron Beaumont, is dead, as the result of injuries caused by the accidental discharge of a gun while shooting on his estates, Carlton Towers, Selby, Yorkshire, the charge striking him in a fatal part Lord Beaumont was 45 years of age. He was lieutenant-colonel of the Twentieth Hussars, and had been an officer in the army since his arrival at an eligible age. Lord Beaumont was found lying beside a hedge, with his head completely shattered. by the charge from his gun. It is supposed his gun caught in a branch of the hedge. TERRIBLE RAVAGES OF CHOLERA

St. Petersburg, Sept. 18.-In the Province of Volhynia between Aug. 18 and Aug. 24, inclusive, 5.849 cases of cholera were reported, and 2,184 deaths from the disease. In the Province of Podolia, from the 21st to the 31st of August, 101 cases of cholera and 45 deaths were reported.

A BAD OUTLOOK. Tangier, Morocco, Sept. 18.-The bacteriologists at the Government laboratory of Madrid, in Spain, have reported on their examination of the intestines of one of the victims of cholera. The official report was received here today. The disease is pronounced real Asiatic cholera. There were twelve more deaths today.

This news is a great menace to Spain and England. All sorts of little coasting craft are constantly putting out from small ports adjoining Tangier for the Spanish and Portuguese ports all the way from Cape St. Vincent to Valencia. The sanitation of Tangier is bad. All refuse is dumped into the Bay of Tangier and carried by the tide across the narrow straits directly in the path of the great fleet of British merchantmen passing in and out of the Mediterranean.

Anarchy Prevails and Fritain and Other Powers Must Interfere.

London, Sept. 18 .- There are indications that the powers may be invited to interfere in the affairs of Belgium and the Congo Free State. ing in England regarding King Leopold's African venture was never very favorable, and the execution last January of the English trader Stokes, without, it is alleged, observance of the due precesses of law, excited much in-dignation here, which found expression in the late session of Parliament, when the Foreign Office was warned to demand explanations. The reports which have reached this country in private letters, as cabled exclusively to the Associated Press yesterday, that a condition of virtual anarchy prevailed in the Congo Free State, that in several instances Belgian troops have been defeated and slaughtered by natives, and that two Englishmen were murdered there and eaten by savages, have intensified the feeling, which is given voice in the leader in the St. James' voice in the leader in the St. James Gazette. This afternoon, after receiv-ing the facts above alluded to, the St. James' Gazette says: "A troublesome time is clearly at hand, for King Leopold, whose African responsibilities are far greater than Mr. Stanley led him to expect that they would be." CHOLERA'S PROGRESS.

Honolulu Much Alarmed by the Outbreak of the Plague.

The Cause of Death Traced to Poisonous Fish.

San Francisco, Sept. 18.—The Hawaiian mail has been landed from the steamer Rio Janeiro, bringing the following:

Honolulu, Sept. 13.—There have been 59 cases of cholera up to date, with 46 deaths since the scourge broke out. Two white people were attacked yesterday, and have since died. C. L. Dodge, business manager of the Hawaiian Star, and former ly of San Diego, California, was one of the victims. The city is in a state of alarm, and business will be suspended for one week, while a house-to-house inspection will be made. Radical measures will be adopted to stamp out the disease. In nearly every case the cause of death has been traced to poisonous fish. The scourge is not believed to be Asiatic cholera. No Chinese or Japanese have been attacked, although there are thousands in Honolulu. The steamship Rio Janeiro was prohibited from landing her Japan freight and will take it on to San Francisco. The Bennington and Olympia have gone to La Hanana, one of the neighboring islands, as the cap-tains of the vessels are afraid to remain in port. Residents of the island positively refuse to allow passengers or freight from Honolulu to be landed.

His Wedding to a Famous English Actress.

Mr. Clark Has Been Almost Blind from Nervous Trouble Ever Since His Hasty Wedding.

New York, Sept. 18.—Since the mar-riage last Friday of Miss Nellie Ganthony, the English monologist, and John Clark, the son of James Clark, a millionaire manufacturer of St. Marys, Ont., Mr. Clark has been suffering from an alarming attack of nervous exhaustion at No. 36 West wenty-fifth street. Before the wedding day was ended, he was so nearly blind that he could not see the two physicians who worked over him, but he is able now to distinguish objects. Dr. Henry H. Forbes says that Mr. Clark is better, but that complete rest is absolutely necessary. Mrs. Clark has hardly left her husband's bedside and is quite worn out.

Miss Ganthony met Mr. Clark at Torouto. where he is a lawyer. He served papers on her to attach boxoffice receipts on a claim against Robert Grau, her manager. It was, Mrs. Clark says, a case of love at first sight. Dr. Houghton, of the Little Church Around the Corner, refused to perform the marriage ceremony. The doctor noticed that Mr. Clark was somewhat nervous. Mr. Clark and Miss Ganthony then went to the City Hall, where they were married by Ald. Schil-Mr. Clark was then in a notice-ervous condition. Mrs. Clark explained that though they had been engaged for some time, the marriage had been hastened in order to arrange certain property settlements for her. It was planned to sail this week on the Teur They were to be married again by a minister at the home of the ride's parents in England. They were then to take a trip in Norway, returning to settle down in Toronto. Mr. Clark has a large income. Some Fine Exhibits by Leading Merchants and Manufacturers.

Prize Winners in Several Departments--A Little Jap Gets a Gold Medal-Notable Exhibits.

Yesterday was Germania Day at the great Western Fair, and as has been the custom in years past, there was a large influx of people from Berlin and the county of Waterloo generally. The ever-welcome Berlin band came too, and during the day more than satisfied the crowds in the stands with their musical programme. The attendance was up to that of Germania Day last year, numbering from 12,000 to 15,000. The directors did not expect many more, but today and tomorrow they want the grounds packed. And prospects are that they will be.

Everything went off very smoothly. The attractions were all put on, the races went off without a hitch, and consequently the grand stands were emptied before 5:30 o'clock. In the line of attractions the Japanese troupe of eight people, was the most enjoyed. The high rope acts, juggling, ladder balancing and contortion work were something marvelous, and not only did they please the grand stands, but the attractions committee of the fair board as well. The smallest member of the troupe-a little boy of about 7 yearswas brought on the stands between two of the acts, and presented with a large gold medal. Mr. A. D. Holman made the presentation. "It is with pleasure," said he, "that I have been requested to make this presentation to the little lad. He has given delight to the visitors and directors by his clever work on this his first appearance in London, and in pinning this gold medal on his breast I hope he may live long to wear it and look back with pleasing remembrance to his first visit to the Forest City.

And as Mr. Holman pinned the medal the little chap bowed, smiled and ran off to prepare for his difficult mid-air ladder act.

The rest of the attractions were carried out. Alvini made the balloon ascent and took a daring leap to terra firma, landing without injury. "Ajax" took his daily bath by diving from the 75-foot tower into a 6x8 foot tank of water 36 inches deep. The Partellos and the Albions in their respective acts were up to the mark and took well. Mr. Adam Beck gave an exhibition of high jumping with Hurricane, the horse which recently cleared 6 feet 2 3-4 inches. Hurricane was in good form and cleared six feet with ease. This afternoon he will endeavor to break the record which he made in the Queen City. Wm. Wilson, a Toronto jockey, rode him.

THE RACES. The first of the horse races was a 3minute pacing stake in which there were six entries but only four starters. No difficulty was experienced in getting the quartet off. In the first heat Clipper and Black Fly found it too much to keep up with Miss Delmarch and Nellie Bruce, and were distanced. The latter only won by a neck.

Delmarch and Nellie Bruce got a neck-and-neck start in the second heat and were making a beautiful race. when the former broke. She lost a good deal thereby, but quickly regained her feet and settled down. She was unble to close up the gap caused by the break.
The third heat had the same result

as the second. Summary:

Panic was hitched to a highwheeled sulky, and with Enterprise, was distanced. Wilder Lee was distanced in the second, and in the third an unusual thing occurred. Stone River practically had the race up to the home stretch, but there the driver, evidently considering he had a dead ture thing, drove easily, with the result that Canada Southern worked up and crossed the wire not two feet in adance. A pony race was also on the programme, but it did not materialize. THE EVENING PERFORMANCE.

The first evening performance of the Fair was given last night, and the crowds which beseiged the grand stand numbered fully 5,000 people. The entertainment was a good one throughout, the Japanese giving many new acts, the Partellos excelling themselves in their frolics in a Chinese laundry, and the three Albions perical engagement at Scarborough on Oct. 18. forming their acrobatic feats with the same snap which has marked all their appearances. The leading feature of the evening was the fireworks exhibition by Hand & Co., of Hamilton, under the supervision of Mr. T. W. Hand. It was a magnificent display of the pyrotechnic art at the height of its development. It may be stated without fear of contradiction that it was the best ever given at the Western Fair, and was worthy of the occasion. For half an hour the grounds were brilliant with the explosion of rockets, shooting stars, and set and movable pieces, and the evening concluded with a grand finale in which the words "Good Night" were given in many colored letters of fire. The display also included light and airy elephants, colored balloons, with hanging chains of fire, which were a marvel. One piece in particular was exceedingly fine. It showed a large maple leaf, in the center of which was the Queen's head, the whole surrounded by the motto, "Our Queen and Country." Every one departed, abundantly satisfied with the splendid entertainment.

Live Stock Department. HORSES.

The horse ring is still the center of attraction at every gathering of farmers, and the present fair is no exception to the rule. The verdict of the spectators is that while there are many good horses shown, the exhibit is behind that of former years. An exception might be made in favor of the single roadster class, which brought out over 30 fine animals to face the judges. One reason, no doubt, for the dearth of road horses of the first-class is the fact that farmers, owing o hard times, have had to part with the best in their stables, and often for a poor price. At former fairs there were a large number of colts entered in the different classes, but this year the show in this line is small and the quality inferior. The fact is plainly visible that the farmers, as a rule, have gone out of the business of raising colts, a fact which the owners of sires have learned to their sorrow. Some farmers expressed the opinion on the grounds yesterday that the time would soon come when it would pay to raise horses again, and that the type to raise was the heavy horse, suitable for the dray and cart. The bike and the trolly are likely to make the light roadster a drug, but there has nothing appeared yet to drive the dray horse out of business. Most farmers who have bred horses this year, have bred to sires of this class. There were some good thoroughbred sires shown, among them being Mr, Fitzgerald's of London, a first-class horse and worthy to capture the red ticket. Good stallions were shown by Messrs. Meredith, Martin and Thompson. There was dissatisfaction, and a good deal of trouble caused by some of the exhibitors of colts not complying with the regulations. The rules require that exhibitors shall produce a certificate of registration in the stud book before their stock can | breeds are present, and of good quality. In this they failed and their stock had to go back to the stables. Others produced a racing registration only, and as this is no guarantee of breeding they were also bowled out. These regulations are proper as maintained by Mr. Wilson, of Paris, the judge, because it protects farmers, who without them, would be misled and patronize mongrel stallions. It was refreshing to see the judge in this class uphold what was right in the interests of good breeding, though some of the exhibitors "kicked like steers" before leaving the ring.

The exhibit of Clyde dales is not large, and many of the old breeders who were wont to put in an appearance are absent. S. J. a dozen good individuals in the stables.

CATTLE. The Western Fair still maintains its reputation for the excellent character of its live stock exhibit. Many of the leading exhibitors of the Province are conspicuous on account of their absence; but the time has gone by when a show is a failure if they do not appear. Good stock in Ontario is not confined to a few breeding farms; in every locality it may be found, and would do credit to any breeder. Hence it is that the Western Fair has a meritorious exhibit, though most of the prominent breeders have taken their herds to Montreal to capture the big prizes which are there offered. But it is just as well for the management to learn that the Western Fair is just as important as either the Montreal or Ottawa shows, or at least is considered so by the farmers of Western Ontario, who visit it, not to see the jim-cracks, but to learn something that will benefit them in their present fight to make a living on the farm.

"The time will come," said one prominent Elgin farmer, "when good weather, a strong man, a balloon and brass band won't draw the farmers of the county to London. If the Western Fair can't give as big prizes and draw the best breeders to it, it ought to go out of business, and will have to.'

DURHAMS. The number of entries is not as large as usual, but the young cattle are of a superior class—the best ever seen at the fair. There appears to be a disposition among breeders to produce animals of a smoother class, and those in the ring this year indicate that they are successful in that line. Among the exhibitors are H. K. Fairburn, Bosanquet; H. & W. Smith, Hay, and E. Gaunt & Sons, Lucknow.

JERSEYS. The little Jerseys are to the fore in large numbers, and the competition is strong in interests of the Canadian farmer or not, this breed has become popular and is replacing the beef breeds on farms in every township. The low prices prevailing for the produce of the dairy the present season may cause some to rue the change, but there is no question about the superiority of the Jersey over all other breeds in the production of butter fat, but when the time comes to send a Jersey to the shambles, the fact stands out prominently that the is not very valuable, chat with Jersey breeders reveals the fact that notwithstanding low prices for dairy products they are not discouraged, and can see the time, not far distant, when cheese and butter will go back to the old paying prices. The Jersey show at the Fair is firstclass in every particular. Humpidge & Laidlaw show fifteen fine animals, among them the 2-year-old bull, Prince Frank, a magnificent animal. J. O'Brien, London West, captured the red ticket with an aged bull from his herd. Among the exhibitors are Richard Edmonds, London township; Wm. Bacon, Orillia and J. A. James & Son. Nilestown.

GALLOWAYS. A. and R. Shaw, Brantford, have a fine herd of this breed in the pens. They are becoming more popular every year for their general purpose qualities, and it is being claimed that they excel both as beef and in this exhibit are most artistically arranged our buffalo robes come from?" Samples of robes made from the hides of Galloway cattle were shown on the grounds, which were equal in appearance and in durability to any that were ever made from buffalo skins.

AYRSHIRES. The Ayreshire vied with the Jerseys in numbers, and appeared to have about as many admirers as their competitors at the milk pail. The principal exhibitors are Ballantyne, of Blanshard; D. A. Graham, Parkhill; J. A. James & Son, Nilestown, and Nichol Bros., Platsville.

HOLSTEINS.

There are not many of this breed in the pens, but there are some good individuals in the lot. A. C. Hall & Co., New Dundee, show twelve head, and among them Netherland Stateman's Cornelius, a fine bull that has been a prize-winner at a great many fairs. A. and C. Rice, of Currie, also have a good exhibit.

Mr. Stone, of Guelph, has a fine herd of Herefords, and in it is a very fine yearling bull. Most of the Hereford breeders have gone to the Montreal show. Mr. McNish, Lyn, is the only exhibitor, apparently, of the popular Guernseys, the rest having gone to the eastern fairs, where the prize money was big enough to draw.

T. Maxwell, Sarnia, and Walter Hall, Washington, Oxford county, show some fine individuals of the Polled Angus breed. SHEEP.

The sheep pens are well filled, and the how, as a whole, is equal to that of any past year. There are thousands of pure bred sheep in Western Ontario, and there are few farmers who keep sheep but can show flocks of a pure breed, or at least a nigh grade. The Southdowns are numerous and the quality is grand. Among the exhibitors are A. Telfer & Sons, Paris; T. C. Douglas, Galt; Geo. Baker, Simcoe; R. L.

Burgess, Burgessville, and Jackson & Shore. The Leicesters are not numerous, but the quality is of the best, and old sheep men declared they never saw better individuals of this popular breed. J. S. Smith, Maple Lodge, and Laidlaw, Westminster, have good flocks in the pens. There were some fine entries of Shrops by D. G. Hanmer & Sons, Mount Vernon, and W. H. Beattie, Wilton Grove. Mr. Wood, London Town-ship, and R. H. Harding, Thorndale, show good flocks of the Dorset breed.

The show of swine is hardly up to the average. Yet all the well-known breeds are represented by superior animals. The Berks outnumber any other breed, and still seem to retain their old popularity. The principal exhibitors are J. W. Shipley, Komoka; John Ackland, Delaware, and H. J. Davis, Woodstock. W. T. Elliott, Hamilton, has a large exhibit of Tamworths, a breed that is getting quite popular with farmers. Tape Brothers, Ridgetown, have a fine exhibit of Duroc Jerseys. The York-shire, Chester White and Poland-China

LEADING EXHIBITS.

THE STANDARD SILVER TRUSS. The Smith Manufacturing Company, Galt, have another exhibit this year of their justly celebrated silver truss. Their exhibit is on the ground floor of the main building, near the principal entrance on the north side. A convenient place is provided whereby those interested may have the trusses adjusted and fitted. The truss is the invention of a Toronto man-Mr. A. G. Smith, and is made in one piece of nickel silver. From its peculiarity of shape and adaptability, it adjusts itself to every pos-ture of the body. What recommends Prouse of Oxford County, however, has half the truss so strongly to public favor is its simplicity, durability, coolness and capacity, for withstanding the results of moisture and perspiration. Visitors to the Fair should not fail to see this meritorious exhibit. THE McLAUGHLIN CARRIAGE. Visitors should not miss seeing the McLaughlin Carriage, the exhibit of the enterprising firm of high grade vehicle manufacturers from Oshawa, Ont. Their exhibit is to be seen under can-vas, within 60 yards from the main en-trance, and directly west of the main offices. It comprises Surreys, Mikados, Phaetons , Aberdeens, light driving buggies, and we think we are safe in saying a line of cutters and sleighs. which, for style, elegance of finish and durability, have never been excelled at the Western Fair. Intending purchasers should not overlook inspecting their goods. In fact, critical examination and comparison with other makers' goods is invited. The firm, at their works in Oshawa, employ 145 hands and have an annual output of between 4,000 and 5,000 jobs. They have one motto only: "Good honest work, at a fair price." If you wish a shoddy article it cannot be purchased from the above firm. GERHARD HEINTZMAN PIANOS

ON HAND AGAIN. Mr. Wm. McPhillips, the enterprising London agent of the famous Ger-

hard Heintzman pianos, is at the Western Fair again with an assortment of instruments, which, if possible. excels his grand exhibit of 1894. Mr. McPhillips' display is situated on the ground floor of the main building, near the southwest corner, and its tasty arrangement naturally causes the visiters to pause and admire—and in many cases to place an order for a piano. The Gerhard Heintzman is manufactured by Mr. Gerhard Heintzman, of Toronto, and has on its merits alone won a foremost place in the hearts of Canada's musicians. The manufacturer first entered business in 1877, after he all the classes. Whether it is in the best had gained a thorough knowledge of every branch of the art. The first eight planos bearing his name were made entirely by himself—a feat so unique in the history of the piano industry that Mr. Heintzman is almost as proud of this as he is of the fact that these eight instruments are still in homes where they have made lifelong friends of the purchasers by their musical excellence and durability. Today, however, instead of eight planos, there are upwards of 5,000 in use, and many of them grace the homes of professional and amateur pianists. And still the popularity of Gerhard Heintzman pianos steadily increases, lowing to their superior finish, excellent response, great purity and largeness of tone, perfect touch and rich brilliancy. Unso-licited testimonials are daily received by the manufacturer from the leading professors and instructors of music, from all parts of Canada. When contemplating the purchase of a piano call vers throughout Canada, and they all on Mr. McPhillips in the main building, or go to the warerooms, 229 Dundas street, and examine the premier piano of Canada. 100c

THE BELL PIANO. The exhibit of the Bell Organ and Piano Company of Guelph, is located at the southeast corner of the main building (downstairs), and is incessantly besieged by throngs of fair visitors. The instruments milk producers. This breed appears to amidst a labyrinth of beautiful foliage with them came have answered the question, "Where shall while the surrounding walls are tastefully Western Fair.

draped with curtains and hung with costly pictures. Mr. James W. Belcher, manager of the London agency, has control of the display, and has at a great expense, secured the Messrs. Stone Brothers, two colored gentleman who hold a foremost position in Detroit musical circles, to exemplify to Fair visitors the many excellent qualities of the Bell pianos. Besides doing this to great advantage, they prove themselves pianists of unusual ability. The musical instru-ments manufactured by this firm are standard wherever music-lovers are found. Great interest is being taken in the orchestral attachment to be found in pianos exhibited by the Bell Company. The company has recently, and at great expense, obtained sole control of this valuable improvement. The invention consists of a series of leather thongs, or tongues with metal insides, which hang between the hammers and strings of the piano, and which, when operated by the four different pedals with which each instrument is provided, produce at will exact representations of the harp, the mandolin, the banjo and the zither. The effect is truly marvelous, and defies description, and is undoubtedly an entirely new departure in the art of piano manufacturing.

R. R. BLAND, WOOD MANTELS, GRATES AND ART TILES.

Parties who are needing anything in this line should be sure to see Mr. R. R. Bland's fine display at his warerooms, 229 Dundas street (old Mechanics' Institute), consisting of the very latest designs in hardwood mantels. The improved Monarch shaking grate (than which there is nothing more beautiful and cheerful) is also shown, Mr. Bland also keeps a complete selection of enameled and embossed art tiles (suitable for bath rooms and vestibules), gas grates, andirons, gas logs, etc. Besides the fire-place furnishings Mr. Bland makes special furniture to order-grille and spindle work, carvings and parquet flooring. In these days of advancement it is generally conceded that no room is artistically complete without a polished floor of inlaid wood, and Mr. Bland is prepared to send experienced workmen to any part of the country to do this class of work.

THE CLEVELAND CYCLE EXHIBIT. The popularity of the Cleveland Cycle in the United States has been so marvelous that it has become necessary to establish other immense factories at Thompsonville, Conn., to work in co-operation with their mammoth factories at Toledo, Ohio, the combined capacity of which is the largest of any high grade manufactory in the world. The demand for Cleveland Cycles in Canada, which they have been unable to supply, has compelled them to answer this call by establishing the most extensive and modern cycle manufactory in Canada. These factories are located at Toronto Junction, and cover a floor space of over 100,000 square feet, with the capacity of 75 wheels per day, giving employment to from 300 to 400 skilled mechanes. The cost of this immense plant equipped with every detail of the largest and most improved machinery, will be over

$150,000. Every individual part of the Cleveland Cycle will be manufactured from the crude materials in this establishment, thus meeting all possible requirements of the rider and the seller, and giving them ready means of duplicating any and all parts of this wheel on demand. The most careful selection and inspection of raw materials the closest scrutiny in detail of every finished part-with finished wheel subjected to the severest test by the best experts in the business--can accomplish but one result, viz.: distinctive and individual qualities of merit and superiority—the highest possible grade of bicycle construction - the leader of the high-grade line. The models of the Cleveland Cycles built with 11 inch tubing, known as "Swell Specials," as shown in the exhibit, are years in advance of the times, and are marvels of strength, beauty and lightness. The bestinformed and oldest wheelmen have chosen this as their favorite mount, and the Michaux Club-the "four hundred" of New York—have also adopted the models 20 and 21, designated as "Swell Specials." Aside from the distinctive features of large tubing, they have many improvements alone peculiar to the Cleveland Cycles. The bearings are positively dust-proof, are of tool steel, and ground, thus insuring the lightest running bearings known to science of cycle construction. The Cleveland chain stands singly and alone as the best device of its kind yet invented, having the only hardened center-pin, without complication, reducing friction to a minimum, and removing all noise and grinding so annoying to riders. The thread tirefirst introduced in their Cleveland Cycles in 1892, has been still further perfected in the '95 models. Cleveland Cycles have now the most resilient, speedy and durably constructed stire ever put on a wheel. Space does not permit a detailed description of the many other improvements. Suffice it to say that they stand upon the broad plane of making the most mechanically perfect cycle in the world, sustained by a broad guarantee, which is unquestioned. An agency will be established in London almost immediate-this strictly high grade wheel. THE PIANO TO BUY. It has been proven time and again that the piano is the most popular and most practical instrument in the market as by its means children's voices are educated and the rudiments of the musical art are taught. Therefore, it naturally follows that for such an important work a god piano is an absolute necessity, and the question, "Which one should be bought," faces a person. The very best should be secured, as it is impossible to over-estimate the deleterious effect of a poor plano, however attractive the case, on a beginner especially. If the ear of the student be aturally musical, a poor piano would e a source of endless disturbance and torture. If, again, the musical taste and ear of the beginner is unformed, nothing could be more harmful and a greater barrier to progress than an instrument out of order and tune. To de-termine the best of the many pianos on the market is another duty, and that which has the best tone, is made of the best material, and by the best workmen, will stand in tune the longest, and submit to the wear and tear of usage best, should be secured. The Gerhard Heintzman piano has been sected by composers and college masceak of it as an inspiration in itself, this piano has delighted artists, sarely it will meet your wants. Mr. Wm. McPhillips, the London agent, has an exhibit on the ground floor of the main building, and is ever ready to prove to visitors the merits of the Ger-

STRANGLED TO DEATH.

Mrs. Butler, of London West, Meets a Peculiar Fatality.

Caught by a Window Sash in the Neck-Found Dying by Her Husband.

Mrs. Alfred Butler, 10 Peter street, London West, met with a strange and sad death yesterday.

Between 4 and 5 o'clock she returned home, having gone out to dinner. She had secreted the key inside the gate, but could not find it upon her return. She went to a side window, which is screen by lilac bushes, intending to enter through it. Standing on a small step-ladder, she raised the window and had evidently commenced to enter, when the sash fell, striking the back of her neck and pinning her to the sill, upon which her chin rested. No doubt strangulation prevented an outcry, as none was heard by the neighbors, and the bushes prevented her from being

About 5:45 p.m. her husband returned from work, and finding the front door locked, imagined his wife had gone to the Fair. He, to, went to the side window to get in, and discovered his wife, trying, as he at first thought, to do the same thing.

"Can't you get in?" he asked.
There was no reply. "Why don't you answer?" he repeated. Then going nearer he discovered that his wife was dead or dying. He quickly released her and laid her on the ground, where, after drawing a few breaths, she died, before assistance could be procured. A doctor, who arrived soon after, was of the the opinion that death was due either to strangulation or to apoplexy, induced by the accident. When found Mrs. Butler had one foot on the stepladder and the other swinging loose, so that her neck supported a portion of her weight.

Deceased was 56 years of age and a native of Bristol, Eng. She was married in 1861 and settled in the Peter street house in 1870. Her husband is an employe of Carling's brewery. leaves two sons and two daughters-Alfred, of Valley Falls, N. Y.: Joseph, of Manitoba; Miss E. Butler, of Toronto, and Mrs. W. C. Boxall, of Chicago. WEALTH OF ONTARIO.

Her Municipalities Worth $815,530.052 in 1894. Toronto, Sept. 18.—The municipal statistics of the Province of Ontario for 1894 have been issued by the Ontario Bureau of Industries.

The population of the Province in 1893 was 1,910,059, with a total assessment of $825,530,052. The rate of assessment was 15.17 mills, equal rate per head of 6.56. The bonded debt amounted to $48,083,243, or $28 17 per head of the population, and the interest paid on loans was $2,508,691. The says: "The population, and report assesed values remain almost the same as compared with 1892, but the tax bills have increased at the rate of 38 cents per head of population over 1892, or an advance of $1 63, or 33 per cent since 1886."

Over 60 per cent has been years. added to this item since 1886. The interest charges are equivalent to onefifth of the taxes imposed. The rail- traces now secured, places Kurschinway debentures have been reduced ski in very close quarters. It is befrom $6.729,155 in 1886, to $5,079,604 in lieved the chain is now complete, not 1893.

ELECTRIC LIGHT. The newest fancy in electric lights as applied to home uses has brought forth most artistic results. The piano lamp, instead of being illuminated by oil in the usual way, is now supplied with an electric light pulp from a wire coil that winds itself about the standard of the lamp unseen. A room may be lighted from a bulb that is concealed behind a screen in the corner and throws an opaque splendor all about the room. The light may also gleam from a cluster of Dresden china flowers or from vases on the mantel. The light leads itself to no end of artistic effects. The banquet lamps or candles on the dinner table may be also thus supplied, and the simplicity and cleanliness are a regular boon to the housekeeper.

A LIFE SAVED .- Mr. James Bryson Cameron, states: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs, and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice, I procured the medicine, and less than a half-bottle cured me; I certainly be-lieve it saved my life. It was with re-luctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I

of Ball and Goal. It seems an easy matter to invent a game; the best games are so simple—yet a popular game was never yet invented. Every one of them has grown, and the best of them have been growing for hundreds of years. Our best games form a sort of aristocracy; their pedigrees run back to very ancient times and no modern upstart can compete with them. Take baseball and cricket, for instanceprobably the most popular outdoor games of modern times—the one in our own country, the other in England. They are first cousins, and their hold on American and English boys is in all probability due to the fact that they each unite two strong lines of descent -that of the bat and ball games-to which tennis, lacrosse, hockey, croquet and, more distinctly, billiards also belong, and that of the goal games, such as tag, puss-in-thecorner, I spy and dozens of others.

All the nations we know anything about had bat and ball games ages ago. Nobody invented the bat and ball; they grew up with our civilization from the time when little savages used to knock about a pebble or a fruit with a stick. So with the goal games-they have always been popular. Their name is still legion.

Any one who chooses may trace the growth of cricket from the year 1300. It is not so easy to trace the pedigree of baseball, for, just as with a great many American families, there is a break in the record back in colonial times. It is known to have been played by the Indians. It is a thoroughly American game, and no one loves it less because some people claim rounders as its ancestor and others reject the claim with

As for indoor games, we may prove their nobility in just the same same way. Chess comes down to us from the ancient Hindoos, by way of Persia. Checkers were played in Egypt, and then in Greece and Rome. Cards made their appearance in Europe in 1350, and the Chinese say that they used them two centuries earlier than this. Tenpins was certainly played in the thirteenth century, and probably much earlier. Lawn tennis is only an offshoot of the old game of court tennis, said to have been brought into Gaul by Roman soldiers, and

The Scrap Bag

The Jolliest train running north, south, east or west, through the whole Dominion on a certain date in September is the Muskoka express on the day of its last run from Gravenhurst to Toronto. The homeward bound crowd gathered together that day were all genuine Muskoka lovers, none of your be spangled and gorgeous with some half-hearted novices who run up for flashing decoration. Nothing is too a couple of weeks in the hot weather, and then let a sore tooth, the black flies, or a pressing invitation given by somebody's second cousin's sister, to and help make up camping party on the Thousand Islands, or any other inferior place, be an excuse for leaving the sweetest, wildest, freshest paradise of a wilderness, that stands with wide gates thrown open to all who would enter. The last day in September on which the Muskoka express will run, brings hurrying in from distant points, and still remoter islands, those enthusiastic proselytes of wood and water, who would fain linger in rocky fastenesses and up their hidden streams, even at the risk of a gentle nipping from that ever foremost scout of the ozone regions-Jack Frost. Of all our inland cities perhaps the Torontonians are most truly wed to their Muskoka life every summer. Anyhow, Toronto was well represented on that homeward journey, and just here it may be interesting to remark how very much alike everybody appears in Muskoka, especially in the going and coming. Verily the cotton shirt-waist is a great leveller, and doth render distinction of classes more difficult than hitherto. More than one of those merry maidens who romped through the cars, with checkerberry leaves in their hair, and battered old sailor hats, evidently off duty, as far as tan and freckles be concerned, were recognized as the daughters of wealth and affluence, who will presently be tripping demurely along King street in the most correct form. But I wish you could have seen them all that day. "Good form" must have been stowed away in the lunch baskets or the 'runks in the baggage car. No signs of it anywhere about, only fun, "jolly good fun," from the cow-catcher to the last wheel! Babies crowed. Small boys whooped and changed their seats every minute and a half. Placid mammas, with all their tired lines smoothed away, smiled. While the queen of the camp (who is always a girl that carries a large supply of giggles) kept up a continual gale at her end of the car. Chatter-chatter, went everybody's tongue, and higher and higher rose everybody's spirits, until, were it not tions. But for the woman who has a litfor the fishing tackle, and baskets of | the money to buy, a little time to scheme, fern and cotton-grass, and chipmunks' tails, and porcupine quills stuck in everybody's cap, we might have been taken for a merry party of excursionists just starting out for a long day's outing, instead of a party of travelers returning. Sewer gas or pine-wood breezes! We are surcharged with the one going out and the other coming back, but, oh! what a difference it makes, which.

Little is seen of the tailor-made girl this season. It is the picturesque maiden who delights our eyes. All morning she is nowhere to be found, but early in the afternoon emerges from cobwebbed garrets and dusty bookstores, where she has been searching for quaint antiquities to adopt for her gowning. Everything must gaudy for her, nor is the maid daunted by the most outre of styles. Marie Antoinette she has taken into her heart; to Marie Antoinette she looks for inspiration for her gowns.

After weeks of search, one little woman called her friends together to rejoice over the "sweetest costume" The skirt was rather full over the hips, but otherwise was quite the regulation thing. But the bodice! How those girls did delight in that bodice! It was cut to fit the figure, with sleeves that must have annoyed the wearer, so tight were they The entire bodice and sleeves were covered with embroidery of green and gold, while immense bows of green velvet were fastened just at the elbow. A high collar finished the neck with a bunch of tiny green ostrich tips at each side. I forgot to mention that the dress material was black, and that the skirt was finished with bands of green velvet.

DRESS JUGGLERY.

A Clever Woman Who Contrives Several Costumes Out of One.

The economics of the toilet is a complex question that every woman answers more or less satisfactorily, according to her lights and purse through all the variations of dress, from a calico gown and checked sunbonnet to a temperate selection among the dainties displayed in the shops, this month, of foreign importaand a vast desire to make always a sweet, smart and suitable appearance, what shall she do?

Let her draw first an inspiration and lay a lasting cornerstone on which to erect dainty, effective little varieties of toilet by buying a good black silk.

To begin with, the silk gown needs to be made of good armure or peau de soie weave, also, says the feminine authority, who has tried and proved this plan, it requires linings at seventy cents a yard. The skirt ought to be made four and three-quarters yards wide at the bottom to in combustion. Burn it, and it and fit the hips snugly, the waist cut absolutely plain, with sleeves of generous but not extravagant volume, the neck completed with a high, stiff collar band and the skirt so finished as to fit up smoothly over the basque's bottom.

With the six yards of lining needed and twelve yards and three-quarters of silk, such a pattern calls for, the cost of the materials can be easily calculated, adding an item of $3.50 for the well-chosen findings. The expense of dressmaking ought to be reckoned by the personal skill of the purchaser, plus the aid of a seamstress in the house for two or three days.

Here, then, is the gown for the statelier entertainments of the winter, to be worn with a stock and girdle of clear peachskin velvet, and a bag front, made of pleated black chiffon, spangled over with fine green iridescent beads, sewed on by the wearer's nimble fingers. Just in a morning and out of pretty bits saved from old gowns and bonnets can be put together enough girdles, stocks, fronts, all the needed decoration for general use, When the colored waiter brought his while the skirt calls for no ornamentadinner, Mr. C. found that he was to tion. Presently he said to the waiter, reception, tea or wedding breakfast. Just above the herring boning frill full on a narrow edging of cream Valenciennes lace, cut exactly in the center of the square a hole large enough to slip the head through, and let the soft fabric fall in airy folds and points from neck to knees about and over the black silk under dress. Now, for the theater party, the fichu is in order, and as the chiffon square called for one dollar and a half's worth of goods with ninety cents worth of lace, the fichu, as shown in the cut, needs as much cream India muslin as one dollar and eighty cents will buy, with seven yards of lace edging and ten of inserting. costing, in prettily tinted imitation Brussels; four dollars and fifty cents. The white satin stock should show lace and muslin points under the chin and at the breast, the front laps of the fichu need to be caught up with a cluster of loose silk, variegated roses or poppies. Silk tissue, in rainbow-like tints of yellow, rose and green, comes double width at one dollar and a fraction a yard. In yellow or green over black, asking no other trimming than its own cloudy, shimmering folds, one thickness in skirt and loose waist over the black silk gown composes a costume worthy of all admiration. The lighter and more airy the fold, the more satisfying the result in beauty, for everywhere it flies out, to show the clean lines of the black silk and body beneath, and lends a delicious youthful grace and slenderness to the wearer's figure.

MUST GET NEW SPRINGS.

The City's Present Water Supply is Insufficient.

It is Shrinking—Railway Companies to Pump from the River.

The city water supply has again become serious question for the commissioners to handle. At yesterday's meeting of the Board, Engineer Moore reported the whole of the supply collected at Springbank had been used and he recommended that action be taken to increase the supply, by taking in Colville's lower springs, and Griffith's Byron springs. He also urged that the C. P. R. and the G. T. R. pump their own supply from the river during the summer months hereafter. The water in the reservoir is now so low that it has again become necessary in the engineer's opinion to have the G. T. R. draw from the river again. His report was laid over for consideration.

The pumping engineer reported only 5 feet 9 inches of water in the reservoir. The river is so low that the hydraulic pumps are idle and steam power is being used entirely.

Engineer Moore estimates that the Colville springs (which belong to the city) will yield 400,000 gallons a day, and the Griffiths springs (which are private property) 201,000 gallons daily. He wished work to be started this fall so that the supply will be ready by next summer. To the "Ad-vertiser" he stated that he did not think the present springs were becoming exhausted, but thought the shrinkage due to the three past dry seasons and to the fact that the snow last winter fell on frozen ground, and when it melted ran off instead of soaking down.

The waterworks dam was reported to be in a leaky condition and in danger of washing away if not repaired. The commissioners will lower the river for a day or two to permit repairs. Sim Fax made an offer for the catering and attraction privileges at Springbank. Filed for consideration. Commissioners Cowan and Judd, the engineer, secretary and Inspector Plastow were present.

Royal McKenzie Towers Away Above

His Associates. Duluth, Sept. 18.—Patrolman Royal McKenzie was until a short time ago the tallest officer at the head of the lakes. A short time ago Gust Anderson, a coal heaver, was appointed on the police force at Superior, Wis., and as Anderson is a trifle taller and heavier than McKenzie, the championship medal has been handed to him. This does not disconcert McKenzie, who is still growing ,and hopes by the time he is a year older to have distanced even Anderson. McKenzie was 26 years of age his last birthday. He came here from Huron county, Ontario, and now measures precisely 6 feet 10 1-2 inches in height and weighs 257 pounds and 3 ounces. He is a remarkably well-built man, and one does not notice his great height until he stands near man of the ordinary size, when the latter looks like a dwarf.

For the last year Patrolman McKenzie has been growing steadily, and is now nearly three inches taller than he was in September, 1894. He was appointed on the police force two years ago, and is by all odds the largest man in the department, although Detective Thos. Hayden is a close second, standing 6 feet 7 inches. The two men make a remarkably handsome team, and are of as much eservice as a whole squad of ordinary-sized men, as there is not a woodsman in the entire northwest who dares even wink crooked when they are around. McKenzie can, standing in his stocking fet, touch with his finger tips a point almost ten feet from the ground while Hayden can make a scratch just nine feet two inches high on the wall McKenzie some years ago gained quite a reputation as a member of a Canadian tug-of-war team ,nd it is said he ws more than a match for any two men who could be pitted against him. He was born of very large parents, his father standing 6 feet 11 1-2 inches and his mother 6 feet 1 inch, and each one weighing in the neighborhood of 250

McKenzie is not ashamed of his great height and takes pleasure in performing seemingly impossible feats for the edification of his fellow-policemen while around his station.

KINGSTON'S OPPORTUNITY.

Another election has been decreed in Kingston, the Ontario Minister of Public Works having been unseated. As Hon. Mr. Harty's majority was away up in the hundreds at a time when his opponents were arguing that the Ontario Legislature could not stand, and were making all kinds of rash promises on behalf of the Government which the Opposition was alleged to be about to form, it is not likely that the opposition to the Minister of Public Works will in the altered circumstances be serious. Hon. Mr. Harty has made a good administrative officer, and should be returned by acclamation to serve out his term of four years for which the Sir Oliver Mowat Government has been retained by the people of

GOVERNMENT AID TO FAIRS.

A good deal of talk has taken place over the efforts of the Toronto fair dito obtain financial and other aid from the Dominion Government. It is the ambition of Toronto men to get something more than a local indorsation of their show, and they have persistently endeavored to influence the politicians at Ottawa to come to their aid. As the Ministers have come to rectors have made strong efforts to wring from them a promise of Government recognition. And Ministers have made indefinite promises to extend favoritism to the Toronto show.

We do not blame the Toronto men for trying to get Government aid for their exhibition. That is natural. Tovery modest, no doubt; but the aggrandisement of Torontonians, generally unity of aim. If, however, the general taxpayer, as represented by the Government of the day, is to be called upon to put up money to aid the Toronto directors, because they admittedly provide a good show, the subsidizing will not be allowed to end there. All first-class exhibitions throughout Canada must be similarly treated. This view is recognized by wide-awake journals, among others, by the Toronto News, of the entertained by which another representative journal, the Montreal Herald, has this to say:

The Toronto News opposes the idea of a Dominion exhibition in that city. It is not probable that the idea was seriously entertained except by a few directly interested in the result. ronto is a very nice place, but it resembles heaven, in that every one is not anxious to hurry there. The local fairs and the big exhibitions scattered about the country are of much greater value to the agricultural and manufacturing interests of Canada than one fixed fair at Toronto could ever be."

This is a reasonable view, which will no doubt be generally indorsed. Why, It may well be asked, should the Do-Government meditate giving special aid to the Toronto fair, and none to the Western Fair-a show equal in all essential points to the exhibition in the rival city? If it were deemed advisable for the Dominion Government to officially recognize the merits of any show, the Western Fair should have its first care. Years before the Toronto people could organize an independent agricultural and arts exhibition, the Western Fair was established, and it has ever since provided a first-class annual exhibition for the instruction and amusement of the best agricultural section in Canada.

The proposal to officially help the Toronto show, and ignore the Western Fair and all other great exhibitions, will not meet with approval outside of the neighborhood of Toronto. This species of discrimination would be as unjust as it is unnecessary.

"Recreation," the new sporting magezine, has made a distinct strike. It is not much over a year old, yet already the American News Company alone handles over 5,000 copies a month of it. The number for September is finely illustrated, and is full of breezy information about all kinds of manly sport. Editor Shields knows how to sport. Great Britain is now buying eggs from Russia, from Turkey and from Egypt. Sometimes the consignments arrive in anything but fresh condition. According to a correspondent, a week or two ago a steamer arrived in the Mersey, which had as part of her cargo a lot of eggs from Alexandria. It is said, however, that the eggs originally came from Syria. When the steamer was docked, the crates were placed on the quay, and it was discovered that broken, and, owing to the heat and long voyage, the whole was absolutely rotten. A terrible stench was emitted, and so offensive was the odor that no one could approach the quay where the rotten eggs were lying. We mention the incident to explain the fact that the mother country buys products from every country that is prepared to take British goods in exchange. The wheat fields of the Argentine Republic have been developed chiefly by British purchases, made possible by the freedom with which the people of that new land take British goods in payment.

Canadian cheese has once more been vindicated. Let us keep up the standard of our products and we have nothing to fear. Is anyone tempted to 'scamp" apples barreled for the British market this year? If so let him think of how much harm a dishonestly packed apple barrel is calculated to

TWO-IN-THREE SYSTEM. Prospects now point to the adoption next year of the two-in-three system of harness racing by several prominent track members, says the New York Sun, and many observers believe that a few years more will see the present three-in-five plan generally discarded by progressive trotting associations. All of the races at the long meeting in Galesburg, which closed last week, were at a mile and repeat, with non-winners ruled out at the end of three heats, and the system is said to have proved satisfactory to horsemen and spectators.

With the trotters and pacers forced to maintain through seven or eight heats the extreme speed that is nowadays required to win in high class company, there is a terrific strain on feet, joints and tendons, and when horses are called upon to start once a week or oftener throughout the season, it is not strange that so many of them train off and become stale after a few starts, or that others occasionally fall dead on the track in the ordeal of divided heats. One of these horse-killing contests occurred at Louisville last week in the 2:17 class, eight heats having been trotted before a decision was reached. Several of the starters were immature youngsters, and one of them, Norvardine, a valuable colt by Norval, died after fighting it out for seven heats. New York horsemen will recall a similar occurrence which took place at Fleetwood Park last June, when the promising but unseasoned 4year-old Salute was literally raced to death in a long drawn-out contest with a lot of aged horses. There is occasionally a horse of iron, like William Simpson's great 4-year-old filly Bouncer, by Hummer, that seems to thrive and Improve under any amount of severe campaigning, but they are rare exceptions, many more breaking down or

BOY MURDERER CONVICTED Guilty of Killing His Mother, Robert Coombes is Sent to the Asylum-

His Brother Acquitted. London, Sept. 18.-Robert Coombes, the 13-year-old boy, who, with his bro-ther Nathaniel, aged 11, was arrested last July on a charge of murdering his mother by stabbing her while she lay in ted, was today adjudged guilty of the crime, but declared insane and condemned to be imprisoned in an asylum during the pleasure of her Majesty. No charge was brought against the younger brother. A half-witted man named Fox, who was arrested with the boys, on suspicion of complicity in the murder, was acquitted. The actual murder was perpetrated by the elder boy. After the commis-sion of the crime the boys pawned a number of valuables and proceeded to enjoy themselves with the proceeds in various ways. When arrested they were playing cards with the half-witted man Fox, wholly indifferent to the terrible odor pervading the house, due to the decomposition of the mother's dead body. The minds of the boys were undoubtedly upset by reading sensational and unwholesome literature. The father of the boys was a steward on board the National line steamship France. His ship was on its way to America when the tragedy took place, and he first heard of it upon his arrival in New

FOUND A MAN IN HFR ROOM. Dundas Girl's Scream Scares

Burglar. Hamilton, Sept. 18.-Miss Crow, of Mount Fairview, Dundas, was aroused from her slumbers about 1 o'clock yesterday morning and discovered a man in her room. When the young lady screamed the man ran down stairs and escaped through a window onto the veranda. In his hasty exit he dropped the young lady's watch, but carried off the chain. The man had discovered the keys of the safe, opened it, took out two $10 bills and in his search for more scattered the contents of the safe all around the floor. It is supposed the burglar obtained entrance to the house before the in mates went to bed, concealing himself till they retired.

Emmons is a powerful man, but the stranger proved a match for him, until Mrs. Emmons, attracted by the noise, entered the room and helped her husband to overpower him. The child gave a sharp cry when the struggle began, and as the mother entered the room she heard it moan two or three times. When the burglar was secured she turned to the child to find

Farmers' Day Brings a Great Crowd to the Fair.

Thousands on the Railroad and by Rig -The Streets Jammed.

If anybody had doubts last night that the old-time crowd would come cross the great American desert, a feat to the Western Fair, they were disattempted by Thomas Stevens several years pelled this morning, like the clouds that kindly rolled by and let the warm sun to shine on "Farmers' Day," the greatest at the great exhibition.

With early dawn vehicles poured into the city from all the concessions and side roads. The streets at many of the hotels were almost blocked by rigs before noon. Before 8 o'clock, trains, regular and special, began arriving, and it is safe to say the railroads never did a day's bigger business. No less than 1,300 came in on the Huron and Bruce alone in the morning, the special having thirteen full cars. On the Grand Trunk heavy specials arrived from Brantford, Chatham, Stratford, Sarnia, Guelph and intermediate sta-tions. The M. C. R. brought a big tions. crowd from Elgin, and on the L. E. and D. R. R. trains there were 700 people. The C. P. R. trains were also loaded.

With many from the country, "Farmers' Day" at the Western is their annual red letter day, and it was a happy, demonstrative crowd that jammed Richmond and Dundas streets, and made walking hard for the person in a hurry. The trolleys were new to most of the visitors, and provoked open-mouthed wonder. The crush of would-be passengers at the main corner was so great that three policemen and several street railway officials were put on guard. Many boarded the electric cars at the G. T. R. station so as to be sure of seats, and an endless pro-cession of loaded motors and trailers made things exceedingly lively up town. It is needless to say the rapid transit delighted all.

The Fair and street railway directors may smile today.

The attendance of Tuesday is said by Secretary Browne to have been slightly in excess of last year. The awning overhanging the platform in front of the grand stand took fire last night from a falling spark. A little water saved it from destruction.

Among the visitors today was Robert Boston, M. P. for South Middlesex. Col. Campbell, of Milton, grand chief of the Sons of Scotland, and Mr. Matthew A. Mitchell, of Milton, were call-

THE PERFECT WASHER. Housekeepers are taking an unusual interest in the exhibit of Perfect Washing Machines, as shown by the manufacturer, Mr. Philip Vollmar, of Chatham. The exhibit immediately adjoins the "Advertiser" tent to the west. The Perfect Washer is the most improved machine of its kind in the market, and during the years it has been on the market has given the greatest satisfaction, which is attested by un-solicited recommendations from large numbers of persons who have given them fair trials. The working of the machine is the beau ideal of simplicity itself. The clothes are placed between the corrugated rubber boards, one of which moves downward and the other upwards as the lever is operated. The operation is substantially that of hand washing, and no father, husband or brother should permit the wash board drudgery, and allow the ladies to in-hale steam and hot suds 52 days in the year, when the work can be done more expeditiously and with no injury to the garments, on a Perfect Washer. Recent improvements add greatly to the merits of former machines, without in any way affecting the principle of the old fashioned hand movements on the common washboard. " ' IN THE LEAD.

Intending purchasers of carriages and cutters should not fail to visit the magnificent exhibit of Wm. Gray & Sons, Chatham, which is situated under canvas near the old poultry building. This firm carried off the highest honors at the Industrial Exhibition, Toronto, and sold the entire exhibit there. At the Western they are showing some of the newest and latest designs, and fully substantiate the world wide reputation of the firm. Their motto is "We lead, others follow."

A GREAT TRIUMPH.

All day long a busy throng hovers about the exhibit of the Scribner Organ Company in the main building. They are enchanted invention, the phenomenal success of which is vouched for by the following testimonial: "The Scribner Organ Company, London, Ont. Dear Sirs: Having been interested in your organ from the beginning of your career and watched the progress of your invention and the pipe attachment I feel that I must now write you, as the time has arrived when I consider you have brought the organ to a state of perfection. I consider the combination of the reed and pipe on the organ a great success. That you have solved the question so long sought after by the greatest organ builders in the world is beyond a doubt. I can unhesitatingly say that it is better than any reed instrument I have ever played upon. The artistic points and quality of tone, voicing power, etc., I

THE LONDON BROOM FACTORY. Mr. John R. Gurd, proprietor of the Lendon Broom Factory, London West, has a very large stand in the main building, and a number of employes manufacturing brooms. The process is a very interesting one, from the handling of the raw corn at the start to the turning out of the broom all completed and ready for use. Mr. Gurd has the only full power broom factory in Canada, equipped with the most improved machinery. He manufactures brooms and whisks, and has deservedly earned a foremost place in the business in which he is engaged. The capacity of the factory is 100,000 per year, but if trade continues on the increase as it has of late, more extensive facilities will have to be secured by the pro-

THE FLOWER KING. It has come to be a generally accepted fact that Gammage & Sons lead in the matter of cut flowers and floral designing. Twelve firsts and one third is the record of prizes won in this section at the Western Fair this year, and if further proof is necessary to establish the firm's claim to lead, such proof will be fully established on examination of their splendid exhibit in the horticultural building. Probably the most striking feature is the funeral design, composed of Bride and Meteor roses. The base is composed of pretty Lillium Rubrum, with a groundwork of white carnations. An arch of red and white carnations surmount this, while pendant from the apex of the arch hangs a heart of Meteor roses, in their dark red hue, suiting admirably for the design. The arch is surmounted by a star of white carnations, and the exhibit draws warm words of praise from all who examine it.

A list of the firm's successes includes: First—Funeral designing. First-12 varieties of roses. First-6 varieties of roses. First-3 roses, any one variety (Am-

BRITISH CATTLE MARKET.

John Swan & Sons, limited, Edinburgh, in their weekly report of Sept. 6, say: Supplies of fat cattle were rather smaller. Everything prime met a good trade, but secondary qualities showed no improvement. There was a large number of Irish cattle on offer, the quality of which was very good. Fat cows made as nearly as possible last week's prices. There were about 1,200 States and Canadian cattle at Yorkhill, trade fer which was good at prices the turn in favor of sellers. The number of sheep on offer has been a fair average. Trade throughout was steady, and prices as nearly as possible equal to last week, in some cases rather in favor of the seller. Best classes of lambs sold well at slightly more money. Fat calves very dear, while pigs made about last week's prices. For all classes of store sheep and lambs there is a good inquiry, and prices rule high. Fair supply of store cattle. Best made previous prices, but a few of the secondary sorts had to be left unsold. There was a large show of milk cows. Best made previous prices, but a few of the secondary sorts had to be left unsold. There was a large show of milk cows. TORONTO.

Toronto, Sept. 17.—Offerings at the Toronto live stock market were light today—only 40 cars, which included 1,259 sheep and lambs and 700 hogs. Export cattle were slow, owing partly to the fact that only three loads of really choice cattle were received. They sold at 4½c per pound. Less desirable lots sold at 3½c to 4c per pound. Butchers' cattle were quiet. Best sold at $350 per cwt. One load sold for Montreal. Stockers and feeders were in active demand for distilleries. Quite a few were bought; the price paid was 3c per pound. Sheep Sheep and lambs were dull but steady. Export sheep soid at 3½c to 3½c per pound. Calves in small supply and veals were wanted at $4 to $6 each. Milch cows and springers in small supply. They sold at $25 to $35 each. Hogs in light supply; demand good and market steady; for best, $4 50 to $4 60 per cwt was paid. Thick fat sold at 4½c per pound; sows at $3 50 to $3 75 per cwt. Stores not wanted. Stags sold at 20 to 2½c per pound.

EAST BUFFALO.

EAST BUFFALO.

East Buffalo N. Y., Sept. 17.—Cattle—The market was fairly steady.

Hogs—Receipts, 2 cars. The market was excited and unreasonably higher for the following sales, which were partially enough to make a market: Yorkers, fair to choice, $4.85 to $4.90; medium weights, $4.80 to $4.85; heavy grassy ends, $4.45 to $4.90; nedium weights, $4.80 to $4.85; heavy grassy ends, $4.45 to $4.50; roughs, $3.50 to $3.90; stags, $3.0 to $3.50; pigs, good to choice, $4.65 to $4.85.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 14 cars held overfrom yesterday and three loads of fresh natives came in, while ten cars of Canadas were reported to arrive later in the day. Market ruled fairly active and a shade firmer for all kinds. Lambs, choice to prime, $4.60 to $4.85; good to choice, $4.25 to $4.60; fair to good, $3.60 to $4.10; culls and common, $2.75 to $3.40; Canada lambs, fair to prime, $4.30 to $4.90; sheep, choice to selected export wethers, $3.75; good to choice weights, sheep, $3.25 to $3.50; fair to good mixed sheep, $3.65 to $3.50; fair to good mixed sheep; $3.65 to $3.50; fair t

On 'Change.

Special to C. E. Turner, broker, Masonic Temple, from Walker & Co. Chicago, Sept. 17.—The market is now at a point when differences of opin-ion will be expressed. Everybody was bullish at 80c. Mostly everybody is bearish at 58c. There is a good deal in this for the speculator, for it makes his position as a bull decidedly stronger. Nobody can say much for the bear side, and the bears will seek cover on the first signs of buying. Last Friday and yesterday afforded proof of this. There are now two sides to the market, and the bears have far less strategical advantage than they had, while the bulls have about all they could want. The sense of moneys' worth is beginning to be recognized in 56c wheat, and while a sick market does not get well in a minute, the silver lining of convalescence seems to show itself.

Corn-This grain has more than held ts own today. Strength comes from light receipts, which show a decided falling off. Provisions firm and look higher.

THE BEAN MARKET. The Chatham Banner says: If wheat is moving slowly because farmers do not care to sell, the same cannot be said of Kent's second great staple.
Local buyers are besieged with offers to contract, and anybody willing to ouy at a dollar could secure half a million bushels before the present month is out. A few thousands have been taken at these figures, principaly to fill orders for small lots to a number of points in Eastern Ontario and the Maritime Provinces, but buyers refuse to make contracts at any figure holders are just now willing to look at, believing the price will soon be to 75c or 80c. A New York produce man, who was in town yesterday afternoon, reports having bought several cars in the neighborhood of Lockport at $1 10 aboard cars, for which the local buyers paid but $1, and Nelson Stringer, who left yesterday for Potterville, Mich., where he had been operating for several seasons, informed us that he will open the market there at $1 to $1 05. As the duty is 20 per cent, it will be seen that 80c to 90c, plus duty of 16c and freight, is all that the buyers here would be warranted in paying with a view of entering the American market just now. It is early in the season yet, but the outlook for high prices is at

TORE UP THE RAILS. There was a lively scene today on Central avenue, corner of Colborne. The street railway people laid a switch 150 feet long on the street intersection. The city engineer discovered it and ordered the rails to be torn up and re-laid in the middle of the block. The order caused some loud dissatisfaction, but it was obeyed.

PROF. WIGGINS' STORM. Prof. Wiggins has modified his predicted storm to meet the exigencies of the occasion. The disturbance is due between now and the 21st. Mr. Wiggins says it is to be merely a coast storm, which will be felt on the east coast of America and the west coast of England.

LIGHTNING'S PRANKS. About 2 o'clock this morning lightning struck the London House with a shock like n earthquake. Every lamp was extinguished and furniture and crockery was tumbled about in all the rooms. It is needess to say the crash awoke the inmates and rightened a few of the more nervous ones. No damage was done, except to a few water pitchers and basins which were smashed by contact with the floor. Mr. Fleming, a boarder, was thrown clear out of bed.

To Deal in Property of All Descriptions-A Reliable Agent.

Among the visitors to the fair there are doubtless many who are looking for good investments in city and farm property. They will find a reliable and satisfactory medium in Mr. J. F. Sangster, who will be found at the office of Stuart, Stuart & Moss, barristers, over the C. P. R. ticket office, corner Dundas and Richmond streets. Mr. Sangster has a splendid list of farms, market gardens, houses and lots, which would tempt anyone with money to invest or desirous of a change. Everybody wishes to make his lot on earth as happy as possible, and Mr. Sangster has just such lots -Mrs. Thos. Boyd, Toronto, is visiting for sale or rent by the score. His farm property covers the Western Peninsula in its most desirable portions and his city property is the choicest.

Mr. Sangster, who is a real estate dealer of long experience and trustworthiness, also negotiates loans on property at the lowest rates, pays off old loans and puts up new buildings. He can accomodate his customers on the monthly plan or otherwise as their convenience reguires. Call and see

DOHERTY ORGANS.

W. Doherty & Co., Clinton, Ont. It is perhaps justly claimed that for pre-eminence in all the points that constitute a really up-to-date instrument, elegance in style and finish, combined with richness and pureness of tone and expression, the Doherty Organ stands unrivaled. That the merits of these instruments are appreciated is evidenced from the class of people who buy them. They have reached the top wave of fashion, and if they continue to manufacture the same high grade of goods as they now turn out, they will keep the proud position they hold.

Their business is always increasing, and even in these hard times they are working overtime an additional evidence of the popularity of their instruments.

THE DOHERTY ORGAN EXHIBIT. In its Exhibition notes of the Industrial Fair, Toronto, the Mail and Empire of Saturday last says: "W. Doherty & Co., of Clinton, Ont., have a large display of organs in the music pavilion; in fact, it is the largest the company has ever made. The handsome and highly finished instruments are invariably the center of attraction, and elicit warm encomiums everywhere, and their chief characteristics may be enunciated as follows: "They excel, especially in style. They excel especially in unique design. They excel especially in originality. They excel especially in aesthetic taste. The Doherty Organs are pleasing, beautiful and expressive, and the tone is rich, full, round, pipe-like. 384 Richmond St., London.

To her mother alone had Annis mentioned the appearance seen or fancied, by herself as standing in the ruined chapel the evening before Nita died. This the two had since attributed to overwrought imagination.

Tonight, however, seeking her recently occupied room for a forgotten trifle, the whole scene represented itself vividly to her mental insight. Shuddering, she looked up the coridor, flooded, as then by moonlit radiance, and recalled the white, mute terror con-tracting poor Nita's childlike features as she sank into her arms, and the quiver thrilling her own frame when, drawing back the blind, she beheldwhether in fancy or reality—that somber figure, with tonsured scalp, standing in immobility rigid as that of the stone effigy prone beneath its feet. Impulsively yet shrinking still, she crossed to the first of the long line of embrasured windows terminating beside the entrance to Nita's boudoir. Hastily unveiling it, the whole of the abbey ruins lay exposed beneath her view. One startled glance—then, intent and steady waxed her gaze. No fancy this; no possible delusion. There again was the dark-robed figure, rigid, motionless; but this time kneelingcrouching, rather—before the devastated shrine, with outstretched arms and bowed head hidden in the close-drawn

A moment's indecision, and then resolute enlightenment set Annis' lips in resolute resolve.

Unpausing, unhesitating, she opened a door upon her right hand, dashed down a narrow stairway, and through a portal at its foot emerged into the ruined presincts.

As before, when interrupting Nita on her dubious quest, her noiseless progress over the mossy sward revealed approach only upon reaching the object of investigation. No ghostly presentiment this-Annis could have laughed now at her wavering fears, had not the deception devolved such peaked hood of which was drawn closeed sobs issued seavily from a laboring, tortured breast. "Get up, Martha," Annis commanded.

"What business have you here? Oh, shameful! Shameful!" her indignation strengthening at thought of Nita's wrongs.

With a wild shriek the girl sprang upright, cowering back into a contiguous niche formed by two crumbling bits of masonry set at right angles. so thickly ivy-matted that, against the somber background, her dark-robed form might easily have posed undetected.

Annis, however, was not to be evaded, though the girl's sudden vanish-ment from moonlight into gloom ap-Proximated, in effect, a too pantomimic transformation scene. Moreover, Martha's scream had penetrated ears listening for Annis' return, and Rolf and Mr. Ainslea came hastening in alarm to ascertain its cause. "What is it?" Rolf cried, excitedly, hurrying to her side. Silently Anris pointed to the figure cowering back against the ivy. Standin so, the hands folded together in the long loose sleeves, the hood fallen back from the bowed head whereon the plate-like cap counterfeited a bald patch against the surrounding of ebon hair, the illusion was complete. An observer would have said, undoubtedly, a monk stood there.

For a moment Rolf was startled. Then the white indignation on his face blazed into fury, flery as an avenging angel's. Mr. Ainslea's expression, if calmer, showed as stern. "So it was you-you, Martha Dale-with this insensate fooling, that laid my darling low." Rolf's voice, hoarse and strained, vibrated with deep emotion. Clutching Martha by the arm, he dragged her, rone too gently, into the light, then gazed at her in deep amaze.

"No, no! Not that," the culprit cried, tossing her hands up wildly and staggering back into the friendly gloom.

centrol yourself. Surely-good heavens!—you cannot justify conduct so seemingly atrocious! You could not de-liberately meditate injuring your poor Young mistress!"

"She were but a married child," re-terted Martha, scornfully, regathering her forces. "But she were the apple o' his eye, and I vowed I'd wring his bosom to its core. He were best reached through her."

"So, to revenge yourself on me, you murdered her, my more than life" Rolf ejaculated, aflame with bitterness.
"Nay, I meant naught o' killin'—I told you that afore," Martha returned, impatiently. "All I schemed were crazy-ing her an' makin' your love a burthen weary as your life." "But why-why?" interposed the rector, gazing in bewilderment from one face to the other. "You yourself are crazy, surely, Martha Dale, for what rossible harm could Mr. Carlyon have wrought you or yours to awaken such Retreating the few steps she had ad-vanced, she lifted the matted ivy coating the niche whereinto she had recoiled, and revealed a narrow aperture widening into a hollow in the thickness of the wall, reaching here to some twenty feet in height. Whether the masonry had been displaced accidentally or by design, whether the recess had been previously undiscovered or forgotten, is immaterial to determine. There it was, wide enough for a person—two at a pinch—to stand upright in, a narrow slit above showing a single star in heaven's clear vault, and the ivy hanging an impenetrable screen in front. No more efficient place of retreat and concealment could possibly have been devised. Her confession ended, Martha stood before them, proud, defiant, yet with a certain sublimity permeating mien and attitude. The hood of her coat, which she had again raised, partially veiled her features, and her head was turned aside.

The two men exchanged glances. Out of Rolf's face the fury had died, leaving only the ashen whiteness of illimitable misery. The rector paused and

'What say you, Rolf?" he questioned "Should the law claim her?" "Justice demands her punishment," Rolf answered, heavily.

"Aye—and she will be punished. To her life's end will the remembrance of her crime rankle and fester in her soul. But will you be its avenger?" "Oh!" he cried, desperately, "what can I say? Could vengeance give me back my dead? Could I bear gossip braying above my darling's grave? Do with her as you will." And impetuously he strode away. Judge and culprit stood facing each other in silence. Annis quietly stole indoors. Then, sternly, Mr. Ainslea addressed

Four years later the story of Nita Carlyon's brief life and tragic end had faded into a phantasm of remembrance. Even to Rolf himself, the keen bliss and agony of that bitter-sweet episode appeared distant and intangible as a fever dream. After Nita's death he had quitted Fordham, and, like his father, betaken himself for distraction to foreign travel. The abbey was leased to a large and jovial family, against whose exuberant vitality ghostly fanders was income. cies were innocuous, and by whom defunct monks and crusaders were held in scanty reverence. Change had also assailed the rectory, for ecclesiastical preference had translated Mr. Ainslea to a deanery in an influential diocese. Loath as Annis had been to resign the home whereto her heart was knit by fond and varied association, personally she was the gainer. Amidst the widened advantages of an expanded sphere, the friction of society, intellect, art, taste and travel, she had developed wonder-Although still the same sweet Annis Ainslea, pure and maidenly to her heart's core, it was hard to recognize in her graceful, gracious, digni-fied Annis of today, the simple, unas-suming country girl in whom warmest partisans even had failed to fathom the latent riches of unusual capacity. At the commencement, however, of the third summer of residence at Overton, a threatening of collapse in the dean's health suggested the advisability of changed surroundings, and Norway was the arena chosen. Annis accompanied her father, and it was by one of the lonely flords of that majestic land that, unexpectedly, she and Rolf

Carlyon met again. The result was inevitable. People say that Rolf Carlyon owns the sweetest, loveliest wife that ever existed. -with no disloyalty to the sleeping Nita, for whom his love had owned the wild, strong passion of youth's first attraction—Rolf himself often marvels that for so long his eyes were holden from discerning the fuller meed of beauty—in form and character alike -which distinguished his manhood's choice as among women a very "pearl of pearls."

THE END.

That Tired Feeling

Is a common complaint and it is a dangerous sympton. It means that the system is debilitated because of impure blood, and in this condition it is esrecially liable to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the remedy for this condition, and also for that weakness which prevails at the change of season, climate or life.

Hoed's Pills act easily, yet promptly and midently on the bowels and liver. 25c.

that ten large sturgeon have recently been taken without hooks, at one drift, with a strong salmon net, is likely to revolutionize the Provincial river fishery. Three of the fish thus taken were exceptionally heavy, weighing over a quarter of a ton each, and the entire ten aggregated at least one and a half tons. These fish were caught without injury to the nets. Similar catches are also reported. A sturgeon weighing over 8:0 pounds, was taken the other day near the Stevenson canneries.

HE WEARS DRESSES.

Odd Mania of a Youth Who Refuses to Don Trou ers.

Orangeburg, N. Y., Sept. 18.—At the age of 20, Ferdinand Helmke, a straping young farmer of this place, wears girl's dreses and cannot be induced to don trousers, for which he has a great aversion.

The Holmke family moved here when Ferdinand was a baby. When it came time for him to lay aside dresses, it is related, he cut such a queer figure in trousers that the parents and the older brothers laughed at the little fellow. This unnerved him, and he cried so long that it was feared he would kill him-self. His appeals to have his dresses restored were heeded, and since that time he has worn nothing else.

Ferdinand's parents have tried many times to induce him to lay aside his dresses, but he refused. Entreaties and threats have not moved him, and they finally gave up trying to overcome his idiosyncrasy. The women call the young man "Hannah" when referring to him, though none dare apply this name when addressing him. The boys have long called him "Skirts." Their ridicule long since ceased to have any effect upon Ferdinand.

His ordinary dress is a man's coat and soft hat, with the blue flannel skirt lace shoes and long stockings of a girl. The sight of young Helmke at work in a skirt or playing ball or indulging in other games with the boys in neighborhood wearing his inevitable costume has long since ceased to attract the attention of any but strangers in the vicinity. Aside from his peculiar mania for the costume of a woman, neighbors speak kindly of the young man. He is a hard worker, kindly and hearty in a manner among acquaintances, and gets along well with the girls, though they are disposed to make fun of his odd appear-

General Washington's Other Name.

A large company of persons was startled recently by the inquiry for Gen. Washington's other name. A was asked the question, but in a manner that betrayed no humorous intent. It was evident that the company had never heard the Father of his Country had ever assumed an alias. The wag was compelled to tell his fellowguests that our first President's other name was "George." Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the name of the world-renowned remedy for all blood disorders, liver complaints and consumption (or lung scrofula) in its early stages. It has no other name, no rival, because it's the only medicine for these maladies so certain in curative effect that it can be guaranteed to cure, or money refunded.

Sadder, Yet Wiser. A recent inquirer at the Toronto office of the Lakehurst Institute, Oakville, upon being informed the terms for treatment, remarked: "I would like to go, but can't afford to spend that much money." Three weeks later he called again, and this time he said: "I have just got over another spree, and am poorer by three times the cost of your treatment than when I was here last. I am off to Oakville before I am twenty-four hours older." We inquired how he managed to afford the spree at that price and what he had to show for his investment? It seems strange that so many otherwise keen, shrewd men should be content to throw their good dollars over the bar day after day, month after month, year after year, for the sake of being thought good fellows, and get no visible return except an aching head, a red nose, a rank breath, and a consciousness that some people whose opinions they value may have witnessed the spectacle of a good man gone wrong. How long will your bank account stand the demands of your spree account? How long will your system stand the strain of these sprees Investigate the treatment for alcoholism and dipsomania given at the Lakehurst Institute, Oakville, now the recognized standard of excellence. DERMATOLOGY.

An Art for Which There Should be Little Use.

Why Not Have a Better Understanding With Yourself as to What Makes Your Skin Sallow and Blotchy.

The treatment of diseases of the skin has been much studied by scientific men. Soaps, lotions, cosmetics, etc. without number have been heralded all over the country for years. It is a fact that nearly all diseases of the complexion are directly caused by some stoppage of nature's drains. All the local treatment in the world cannot permanently cure these annoying complaints. The bowels, nature's drainage system, must be kept free from clogging or disease results.

Especially is this true with women. It is almost past belief to what extent female troubles are directly traceable to constipation of the bowels.

The researches of an eminent physician led him to believe that much scientific treatment, with a view to regulating the bowels, was erroneous. He demonstrated that the simple remedies of nature used in as nearly a natural state as possible, were most efficient.

These researches led to the production of Karl's Clover Root Tea, the greatest regulator of bowel disorders known to man. Its wonderful efficacy has amazed all who have used it.

President Cleveland's old caterer, says of this wonderful remedy: "I have taken Karl's Clover Root Tea every evening before going to bed, with great results. My skin looks better and the pimples are disappearing. Have been troubled for years with erup-tions on the skin, and all remedies so far have failed to help me. A few dcses of Karl's Clover Root Tea worked wonders."

A proper use of this sterling remedy will insure bright, clear skin, healthy color and freedom from headache, dizziness, indigestion, and all kindred ills. It can and does cure all forms of disease resulting from a clogging of the system. This natural remedy, brewed directly from roots and herbs, strikes directly to the seat of the trouble, and is a boon to mankind.

Do not suppose that you are a sufferer from some high sounding organic complaint. Look to your bowels. Keep them free and don't worry Get a sample of Karl's Clover Root Tea at W. T. Strong's.

of Biddulph, youths, were caught stealing a ride on the G. T. R. express from Ingersoll yesterday. They will be seen out of the city. Charles Garner and Dave Gilmour stole into the Fair grounds. A night in the cells was their punishment. Matilda Meader, aged about 60, swore she only had a glass of ale, and that a policeman ill-treated her, in proof whereof she showed a badly-bruised arm. Matilda had enough money to carry her to St. Thomas, and she will be seen on the train. The complaint laid against Charles Reynolds by Mrs. J. Beattie of trespassing on her premises was withdrawn. John Williams, of Strathroy, had still $6 20 left after his jamboree, and paid $1 of it to the clerk as the price of liberty. A number of drunks were allowed to go, as they wished to see the Fair.

AT THE FRONT. One of Chicago's progressive retail firms heads a recent display advertisement with the statement that "last month closed with a business nearly double that of August, 1894. Septem-ber opens up even more auspiciously; it opens with more than twice the business of a year ago." Philadelphia merchants who advertise have the same story; and the story will grow in interest as the days shall roll by. Better times are, of course, the secret; but is it not unquestionable that the tide of better times flow chiefly for those who keep themselves at the front in bad times by persistent advertising?-Philadelphia Record. TORONTO WATERWORKS.

An Cutbreak of Disease Feared and Great Precaution , Recom-

Toronto (Special) Sept. 16.—The accident which recently occurred to the Toronto waterworks conduit has created a great deal of consternation, and an outbreak of disease is possible. Doctors are prescribing the various precautions to be taken, and among them it is strongly recommended that the kidneys should be kept in a state of perfect regularity by means of Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which experience has shown to be equally effica-clous in the latest as well as the earliest stages of kidney trouble. It is also stated by the physicians that this season is one in which the kidneys are peculiarly susceptible to disorder.
