Washington, May 15 .- Dr. B. Dernburg, often referred to as the unofficial spokesman of Emporor William in the United States, has made plans to leave the country of his own initiative within a short time.

It became known here in official quarters today that, in view of the intimations that President Wilson and the Cabinet were displeased with Dr. Dernburg's speeches justifying the sinking of the Lusitania and some of his other public utterances, which they believed might be calculated to array sentiment of Germans in the United States against the Washington Government, friends of Dr. Dernburg here have persuaded him to leave the United States.

May Go to Cuba. Just when Dr. Dernburg would leave or where he would go, was not made known, but it was believed he would sail for Cuba or South America. Dr. Dernburg's activity in the United States since the beginning of the war has been closely observed by the President and other high officials here, who came to believe in the last week that continuation of his speeches and statements might, in the event of a critical turn in relations with Germany, menace the domestic welfare of America. It has been repeatedly denied by the German embassy, as well as by Dr. Dernburg himself, that he was a spokesman for the German Government, or that he had any official status. They Have Doubts. In view, however, of the fact that Dr. Dernburg was formerly colonial secretary in the German foreign office, and become prominently active in behalf of the German cause since the outbreak of the war, officials here believe that German-Americans attach official weight to his utterances.

Dr. Dernburg himself issued a statement last night, declaring he had never discussed matters that had arisen diplomatically between the United States and Germany. Officials here made no comment on that, beyond pointing to Dr. Dernburg's utterances in Cleveland and New York recently, seeking to justify the attack on the Lusitania.

New York, May 15.—Dr. Bernhard Dernburg declined today to discuss the statement from Washington that he would soon leave the country of own initiative. Remaining secluded in his apartments here he refused to see newspaper representatives. In an answer to a note inclosing a copy of the Washington dispatch, he returned the reply: "No comments."

The issue is put up clearly to union of this continent and Great Germany to back down or fight.

The excuse of the Germans for sinking the merchant vessels of an enemy is that she is unable to protect the submarines while convoying the prize inte a port and therefore there is a danger of the submarines being destroyed. Mr. Bryan's note takes up this point and agrees with the German view that it is practically impossible for a submarine to take a prize at sea without imperiling the lives of all those on board, but he maintains that this fact does not justify the murderous methods used in the cases of the Falaba, the Gulflight and the Lusitania. He affirms again the right of American citizens to travel on the merchantmen of a belligerent and says they have a right to expect that their lives will not be endangered by acts that are clear violations of universally acknowledged international obligations. Simmered down Germany is told she must at once make reparation for the loss of American lives on the Lusitania, that Americans hereafter must be guaranteed safety, and that the methods employed by the pirates are unfair, illegal and outrageous. What will Germany do? The German Government has repeatedly declared that Americans who travel on British do so at their own peril. Now he United States demands that Germany pledge herself to protect the lives Americans. There can be no dodging f the issue. And if Germany agrees to it, it amounts to calling off her subparines, at least so far as attacks on trans-Atlantic liners are concerned, as on her own admission the nature of narines prevents them, in most cases, inspecting cargoes to establish matter of contraband or to give ufficient time for those aboard to esser's special apologists in America have plainly shown their contempt for the United States Government. Unssible that the United States would go to war no matter how acute the provocation. If that has been the impression they have sent to Berlin, Mr. Bryan's plain words will come as a hock to the Kaiser and his warlords. There isn't the slightest doubt but that the American people are behind President Wilson in his demands and are ready to back him to the limit. To agree to the demands will greatly

If Germany determine to pursue its dastardly policy in the face of the protest of the most moderate of neutrals, and if Columbia rise in her might to force home her conviction and to assure protection of her citizens, it will be for America that Americans will fight.

At the same time the spirit that steels the arm of Canada and Britain will be the same spirit that will beat the plowshares of the peace-loving republic into swords. It is the spirit of peace militant, a paradox 'tis true, but based in the sound logic that makes for lawful living in every land.

The extract, which at this time is significant in revealing the inner Wilson, is as follows:

"No man can sit down and withhold his hands from the warfare against wrong and get peace out of his acquiescence. The most solid and satisfying peace is that which comes from this constant spiritual warfare; and there are times in the history of nations when they must take up the crude instruments of bloodshed to vindicate spiritual conceptions. Enough interest to provide the enthusiasm for real care of the garden is required. All of which is human nature, and perhaps it is vain to struggle against it. But there is some gain in thoroughly understanding the situation. If you can overcome your instinctive prejudice, and can really make George and the rest feel that they are welcome, it will be a great pleasure to Jim, and will help to oil the machinery of life.—Youth's Companion.

The reason is that they give your husband something that you cannot give him. You may dispute it, you may deny it, you may shut your eyes to it. You usually assign reasons quite ing apron may be made from a yard of different. Frank—well, it must be admitted that Frank is not quite tidy. Henry, of course, is most amiable, but he does talk intolerably loud. You say that those are the reasons, and you think that they are; but the real reason is that your husband feels a certain ease and freedom with his boyhood friends that he does not feel with you. They like his old clothes, they like his slang, they like his off-hand manner; you do not. And to be with them is as comfortable to him as it is to wear the old clothes.

And you show your dislike, do the best you can. You may not know to say the says and around the waist. Hem one end of the material, turn up and one end of the end on the waist.

YANIGANS BEAT REGULARS THEN EDDIE LAMY LAUGHED

Famous Speed Skater and Centre-Fielder Proves That He Who Laughs Last Laughs Best - Sensational Fielding Features the Game.

It is hard to tell which played the most prominent part in yesterday's practice diversion over in Tecumseh Park, sensational fielding or Eddie Lamy's laugh. Probably there was more of Eddie Lamy's laugh than anything else. Eddie happened to be on the win. ning side and he contributed a double and triple to the general festivities. All of which is calculated to make any demon ball player laugh in these days of preparation and pre-season ball games. Eddie was shifted over to the side of the Yannigans yesterday, which makes his percentage for the week 1,000 with 4 games won and 0 lost. It was the first win for the Yannigans. When they were losing the earlier part of the week. Eddie was playing for the regulars and the laugh wasn't quite as prominent. When "Doc." Hammond skidded for a time and the regulars chased four runs across the pan, it was Mr. Reidy's turn to laugh, but the Yans kept plugging away and finally burst out into the lead in the sixth inning when "Lefty" Evans poled one for two sacks with men on second and third. In the first of the seventh, however, the Regulars did some more timely hitting and another two counters trickled across the platter, while Eddie Lamy out there in centre field was the object of much derision and kidding from the said Regs.

Eddie Starts The Rally.

Mr. Lamy came in to bat in the last half of the seventh with determination in every muscle. When he connected, the Regulars managed to recover the ball quick enough to hold him at third base. Thereupon Jack Schaffer came up and took one of Wayne Dowell's southside shoots in the ribs. Schaffer thereupon stole second base amid peals of loud lawfter from E. Lamy, who was cutting up capers like a youngster over there on third. Frank Eckstein followed Schaffer to the plate and the game was all over when he singled to centre and Lamy and Schaffer trotted home with the winning counters.

Some Great Fielding.
Sensational fielding also had a place in the proceedings. Ray Whiteraft, Frank Eckstein and Elmer Hoch, not to say anything about old Cy. Reidy, pulled a few stunts that bring crowds to their feet in the big leagues. Whitty raced across second base in the second in with one hand and threw fack out at first. WHAT THEY'RE DOING AT WOODBINE

TORONTO, May 14.—J. F. Dolan's King's Plate candidate, O'Kemus, was seen in action for the first time this season at the Woodbine this morning, and he created a very favorable impression among the railbirds. He is a grand looking type of a thoroughbred and there is no doubt about his sbillity to run fast. He stepped a 1-4 in .25 2-5, 1-2 in .50, 3-4 in 1.16 3-5, the mile in 1.45, and was well in hand throughout the trip. He is a strapping big colt with good action, and is certain to have a large following for the big race.

Was a French lady. He has no relatives in Germany, never saw Germany, and never learned the language.

Edward McBride arrived yesterday from Baltimore, while his seven horses came in this morning. In the list are the three clever two-year-oids, Tom Elward, George Smith, and Pesky. He has also two other two-year-olds in Eddie Henry and Maudie, in addition to the four-year-olds Squeeler and Ortyx.

The Brookdale Stable Plater, Lady Curzon was only breezed a 1-2 in .51, accompanied by Double Bass, no doubt in preparation for a longer work to-improve. Miss Fox was sent 3-8 in .38 1-5; John Thompson 1-4 in .26 and the two-year-olds, Foxlet and McBride, 3-8 in .37.

Trainer John Walker worked the Plater. Hampton Dame, a 1-2 in .52 and 3-4 in 1.16 3-5 in very handy style. Revencourt worked with Gartley. Geo. Cornell's Guineas candidate, and the latter displayed much improvement over his previous work. They went 1-4 in .25 1-2 in .49 3-5, 3-4 in 1.17, mile in .145 2-5, and the 1 1-8 miles in 1.59 3-5. Revencourt will not be a starter in the Plate.

"Canada Jack" Adkins, who has not raced on Canadian tracks for several years, has entered the Mackenzie horses in the stakes to be run at Ottawa. The stable will be shipped to Canada with the close of the Louisville meeting.

"Dick" Watkins contemplates resting his horses until the opening of the Hamilton meeting, although Barnegat may be sent on from Baltimore to fill his early engagements here.

Harry Gidding's Plate reliance, Harry Bassett II., had Ondramon as a workmate the last six furlongs, and put in a mile in 1.46 2-5, the first 1-4 in .25 4-5, and the 1-2 in .52. Ondramon's 6 furlongs was in 1.20.

Dark Rosaleen and Rustling, from the Dark Rosaleen and Rusting, from the Seagram Stable, went together a mile in 1.47. Froissart's 1-2 was in .54. Wm. Walker's Sherlock Holmes put in a good mile in 1.46; Kyle, 3-8 in 37 1-5, Banjo Jim, 3-4 in 1.18 2-5, and Mona G., 3-8 in .38.

Robt, Davies' King Hamburg and Re-coll breezed 3-8 in .40. The two-year-olds, Peep Sight, Rock On, and Abey-ance, 3-8 in .37.

The King's Plate, to be run at Woodbine a week from today is for horses that were foaled, raised, and trained in Ontario, are owned by a British subject resident in Ontario, and have never been out of Canada for a moment, or out of this province for more than a month. These conditions provide that no English horse, even, could run for the King's Guineas in Ontario. There isn't a German horse—a thoroughbred, that is—on the continent of America.

William Krausmann, the owner of Hampton Dame, one of the most fa-vored horses for the King's Plate this spring, was born near Elora, and served nine years in the 30th Wellington Rifles. His father came to Canada when he was three years of age. His mother

With the Boy Scouts of Canada

"A Scout obeys orders" is the seventh Scout law. That means the orders of his parents, his patrol-leader, his Scoutmaster or any one that is in authority over him. He should obey their orders without question. Even if he gets an or-ier he does not like he must do as soldiers and saliors, and he must carry it out all the same because it is his duty: and after he has done it he can come and state any reasons against it, but he must carry out the order at once.

No troop can be successfully carried on unless every order given is obeyed in an instant. It may seem to you that not doing as you are told is quite a joke, chum, and something that you can brag over but it is not. A boy or man who cannot do as he is told will never make success of life; he will be forever trying to dodge somebody and someday will hide himself so securely that the world will forget he ever existed. A boy who cannot obey a person in author-ity over him will never be obeyed if by accident he becomes an officer.

Poultry Raising.

There are many things to guard against in poultry raising. The first and worst is lice. These get on the little chicks and if they do not kill them they stunt their growth. The greatest preventative is sulphur. When the chicks are out scratching, catch the old hen by the feet and hold her head down, sprinkle sulphur all over her, especially under her wings. Do the same to the chicks, but be careful not to put too much on them. Do not let them get under the old hen for about an hour of they will suffocate. Burn sulphur in the coop (after removing the chickens) and put coal-oil on the roosts if you have them. For chicken head lice put a paste of sulphur and lard on the head. The ailments of chickens can nearly always be cured by castor oil. same food that grown hens eat. A good scratching feed is as follows:

The method for sprouting is as follows: The oats are placed in trays about six inches deep to the depth of two inches, and thoroughly sprinkled with warm water. They are then covered with burlap that is sprinkled once a day, and allowed to remain on them till the sprouts are about an inch high. They will sprout evenly if kept at the proper temperature (about 75 to 85) and should be fed when the sprouts are about four inches high. The oats should not be fed later than five days after they have come to proper height as they will become sour or rot. The amount to be fed rests with the feeder as he knows best how much his hens will eat.

For sprouting purposes new heavy oats should be used. Feed for one hundred fowls can be obtained from a pint of oats at a cost of less than a

New Scheme To Feature the Films

One of the observant critics of general trend of motion pictures has declared that the future of the business depends much on the manner in which the pioneers in the film field readjust their systems of distribution and production to meet the competition that has been devel through the organization of so many

With the utilization of the facilities the regular companies have for the production of features of a high order, it is believed that they will be able to set a standard of production which will compel the feature concerns to raise even their present high standard. Some such idea must have actuated the heads of the Vitagraph, Lubin, Selig and Essanay forces when they organized their new distributing feature system under the tile of "V.-L.-S.-E., by means of which the more ambitious productions of this quartet are to be placed directly in the hands of the exhibitors without the intermediate handling through the general film exchanges. As the regular feature releases of these companies are of a high order, it stands to reason that they each ontemplate exceptional pictures in their new program. The system of releasing them will be similar to that which has been followed by other larger concerns, the restriction of the pictures to one exhibitor in each city for a certain period.

D. W. Griffith-Big Movie Man

One of the romances of the motion picture business-and there will be quite a lot of them to be written when the business ceases to be such a romance itself-is the story of David W. Griffith, the man who is believed to have done more to make the pictures a really big factor in the interpretation of the dramatic art than any other individual Seven years ago Griffith was an actor out of a job. He had been a salary of $27 per week. He added to his work as an actor by assisting the stage manager and handling most of the properties. He was worked harder than any other mem-ber of the company. It is said, by the way, that he was not a very good actor, either. He applied to the manager of his company for a raise, on the ground that he was filling three jobs and being paid for only one.

The manager decided that Griffith wasn't worth even the small sal-ary he was being paid, and told him he could quit if he didn't like the way he was treated. Griffith did quit. He had written a play which he called "A Fool and a Girl." It was produced by James K. Hackett and ran exactly one week—princi-pally because it had been booked for that week, and Mr. Hackett wanted to keep his contracts.

Griffith had been studying the mo-tion picture field, and decided there was a change for him there. He applied to Frank Marion, manager of the Kalem Company at that time, for a job. Marion questioned him as to his experience, and asked him hat made him think he was suited to motion pictures.

"I believe motion pictures might be dignified and put on a par with the spoken drama," Griffith told Marion. "In my opinion you've got to change your whole style of actng. At present it's only horseplay, and not true to life. Moreover, you don't use the right kind of stories, and your photography is retten." "I'm afraid I can't use you," said Marion. "You seem to be a bit visionary."

The next place Griffith applied was at the office of the Biograph Company, up in the Bronz. He kept his opinions to himself and he got a job at $15 a week. What happened after that is a vital part of the history of

To say that Griffith almost singlehanded revolutionized the moving picture business is only to repeat what many of its students and his-torians have said before. He introtorians have said perore. He intro-duced naturalistic acting and he be-gan, in a small way, the develop-ment of handling crowds that has led to the halfmillion-dollar picture led to the halfmillion-dollar picture with thousands of people.

As soon as he had induced the Biograph people to let him direct a picture in his own way his advancement was rapid. Within four years his annual salary with the Biograph was said to be $50,000. The Mutual bought him away only at the muh. bought him away only at the pub-lished price of $100,000 and a percentage of the profits.

Many of the big stars of the pictures, from Mary Pickford to Blanche Sweet, were "discovered" by Griffith, and a large number of the best directors have learned their trade under him.

Chicago Movie Shows Are Open All the Night

for Rabid Fans and "Nighthawks."

[By Joe Walters.]
While Chicago isn't boasting about it, that metropolis has a form of all-night amusement, which is found in no other city in the United States, with the exception of New York, the community whose second name is white-light-electricity.

Do they pay?

By eleven-thirty movie patrons of Chicago have started homewards. By one o'clock the tide has dwindled to a mere trickle, on the "owl cars." There is a luli in the business of photoplay.
The "day" houses are closing their doors, the attendants weary-eyed, and floors and corridors littered and dirty. The all-night theatres are hastily pre-paring to receive those who live best, according to their own views, under the dazzling incandescence of the great white way. Two o'clock is the rush hour. At that time the theatres are jammed. Someone said, sometime, that the place to study humanity was the waiting-room of a busy railway terminal. How about the all-night railway movie theatre? They're all there, both asleep and awake.

What percentage go to see the pic-

A guess might be ventured that it's less than fifty-fifty. The rabid movie fan generally finds time in daylight or evening to view the wonders of the photo-drama. And how many so-called fans are there whose picture appetites could not be satisfied between eight in the morning and twelve at night? welve at night?

A VERITABLE INGENUE Marguerite Courtot, with the Kalem Company, is a veritable ingenue, having been born in 1897 in Summit, N.J. Sh has never appeared on the "legitimate" stage, and, according to rumor, had no desire to shine before the footlights. Since her debut in the movies, she has been with the Kalem Company, and is now New York's leading woman, under the direction of Tom Moore, who is in charge of the company's Big Town HAZEL DAWN, who was delighted large audiences in this city on several occasions when starring in "The Pink sald a London builder to our manager a few days ago. "More houses are going up in London on that basis this year than ever before; and if more Rent Payers only knew the simple method of making their Rent Money buy their own homes, we would be swamped with building orders."

"Talk About Economy in Making Rent You Ease in Money Buy Old Age Your Home'

This information and particulars is of tremendous value to all persons paying rent, and the saving made in one year by those who know and use this method. is so startling that you should have the benefit of this knowledge today. It is yours for the asking.

Work started on four more houses in Manor Park this week. This makes twenty new homes for Manor Park this season, and many more will be added to this number before long. At the present time the following well-known building contractors-Mr. Thos. Baker (of Dyment-Baker Lumber Co.), Geo. Roberts & Son, the London Contracting Co. -and others have gangs of men building houses in Manor Park. A great many homes will be built on this property this summer and as an investment we recommend the buying of Manor Park lots NOW.

There are some very fine $140 and $160 lots in good locations that can be bought at these prices during this month. After June 1st the $140 lots will be $150 and the $160 will be $175. A number of higher priced lots are going up too. Any lot can be bought on the easy terms of five dollars down and five dollars monthly until paid for. These are the last lowpriced lots and their value is steadily going up in this part of the city.

When the Wharneliffe road is paved this year, these lots will be cheap at $200. We know something also of great importance to this property, but enough for now. Act. Men of action win. Act today.

What makes the ideal home? Isn't it an atmosphere of restfulness, ease, comfort and cheerfulness? Are not these the factors which change a house, a mere habitation, into an ideal home? When you are planning a home you should think of these things, as well as of brick, lum-

HOW FAT FOLKS MAY BECOME THIN

[By Elizabeth Thomas.]

Ferhaps you are suddenly becoming stout, or it may be that you have been putting on weight for years. In either case the cause is the same—lack of oxygen-carrying power of the blood. This trouble occurs in adults of both sexes and all ages, but it may be overcome very easily and without any of the privations that most people imagine necessary to reduce their weight.

Simply go to your druggist and get some oil of orilene capsules. Take one after each meal and one before going to bed. Weigh yourself so as to know just how fast you are losing weight. Wonderful results have been accomplished by this inexpensive recipe, but be sure to get the genuine oil of orilene in capsule form. It is sold only in original sealed packages. Any large druggist can supply you, or a large size box will be sent on receipt of $1. Address D. J. Little Drug Company, Box 1240, Montreal, Can.

Prices of stocks rose 2 to 4 points, and the short interest was again hurriedly driven to cover. War shares, yesterday's weakest features, made up some of their declines, and standard shares as well as speculative issues responded to the more cheerful mood.

Trading was very moderate throughout, however, pursuant to the policy of caution counselled in responsible quarters. Recessions occurred in the final dealings, Bethlehem Steel and Westinghouse Electric reacting sharply Foreign advices were of the usual conflicting character, but domestic news was altogether reassuring. The depression arising from the situation between Washington and Berlin seemed to have given place to feeling of quiet assurance. Gains of 1 to 3 points were quite general, with war specialties again in the lead. Investment issues participated in substantial measure. The local market derived additional encouragement from London, where Americans were mostly firm.

Do I Like Bread and Milk?

What a question to ask a little girl whose mother uses Diamond Flour. Don't you know that bread made of Diamond Flour is lighter and whiter and more even in texture than any other bread can be?

Don't you know that it's flavor is better? Why, less than half the wheat berry is good enough for DIAMOND. Some millers use nearly three-quarters of each grain. It is a strong statement to make, but we know that you will find Diamond Flour more satisfactory than any other kind you have ever used.

MERITORIOUS PROGRAM

Clever Dancing by Youthful Pupils Features Repertoire of Selections.

'Tis not in mortals to command sucess, but the four hundred or more children who took part in the patriotic concert at the armories did more, they deserved it; and if the measure of the applause given by the huge audience which filled the building is a criterion, they certainly achieved it.

Never in London's history has any entertainment drawn such a crowd. Long before the hour at which the concert was timed to begin a queue formed in the approach to the Dundas street entrance to the hall and it A board of medical officers, composed grew so rapidly that the ushers and special constables on duty for the oc-casion had difficulty in handling the situation. All along Dundas street in both directions people were hurrying to hear the children sing, and for upwards of half an hour every street car east bound brought additions to the wait-

3 000 Pack Armories The inside of the armories had been converted for the occasion into an auditorium, with rows of seats with a total capacity of upwards of three thousand, practically every one of which was occupied, and with a platform backed by tiers of seats for the chorus at one end. The wall at the rear of the platform was decorated with Union Jacks and British ensigns. The program was a long one and the numbers were not the usual children's songs, but somewhat pretentious selec tions from famous operas and com-positions of well-known composers. The band of the 7th Regiment opened the concert with a warch, "Long Live the King," and this was followed by renderings of the "Procession of the Toreadors," from Carmen, and "The Admiral's Broom," Bevan. The youngsters, who were under the direction of E. W. G. Quantz, director of singing in the public schools, made an immediate hit and easily systained the Pleasing Selections.

Other items by the chorus were Tchaikowsky's "Golden Leaves Dance." the "Viking Song" of S. Coleridge-Taylor, Balfe's "Excelsior," "In This Pour of Softened Splendor," "Ciro Pin-suti," a waltz from Faust, "The Rule League Baseball Club here had been hoping against hope that the camp would remain here, as it would have hoping against hope that the camp would remain here, as it would have meant quite a thing for them. Guelph made a further attempt at Ottawa at the first of his week to have the deci-of the girls and boys; "The Gypsie's Laughing Trio," "Stephen Glover" and "Jack Canuck," a patriotic song composed by Bullen-Ham.

The band numbers included two phantasias, "Our Soldiers," and "Sounds From England," and "The Canadian Patrol" march. In each of the two latter the bandsmen sang parts of the numbers.

ever, because of the lateness of the Remarkable Tableau

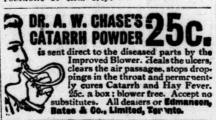

The entertainment concluded with a series of remarkably effective tableaux which Britannia and her allies were epresented. First, companies of whitelad sailor boys and soldier laddies marched onto the platform and took their places opposite each other, and hese were followed by groups of boys and girls, each group dressed in the national garb of one or other of the nations now fighting as Britain's al-Musical Event Draws Hosts of lies. Japan, France, Belgium, Russia and Britain were all represented, the latter by a group of youngsters dressed in khaki uniforms. In the final tableau place on the platform the chorus sang a national air of the country reprecarried the national flag. The concert was preceded by a short address by Trustee A. E. Silverwood, on behalf of Dr. Shaw, chairman of the board of education, who was unable to be present. He stated that a great deal of time and trouble had been given to the training of the children for the concert, but he was sure that those responsible would feel amply repaid by the sight of the splendid audience which had come to hear the children. He said the proceeds of the entertain-ment would be divided between the Red
