Axon and Armour and Susan From Were in House When Crime Was Committed.

[Canadian Press.] Brantford, Ont., July 18.-Examination by the police up until an early hour this morning of Joe Axon, County Constable Armour and Susan Froh-man, sister of Emily Antone, who was murdered early Tuesday morning in the village of Middleport, revealed the information that both Axon and Armour, as well as Susan Frohman were in the house at the time the crime was committed. The three witnesses have been all wed out on sureties of $500 each. From their story, Jack Bennett, the alleged slayer, who is now a fugitive in the woods of the Indian reserve, broke into the house and appeared like a man infuriated with drink. The door of the house was smashed in pieces, and Bennett then proceeded, it is alleged, to kick and beat his victim to death. Mr. William A. Grasby, aged 74. vho has lived in this city since coming to Canada in the early seventies, and who was formerly well known as carpenter at the old Grand Trunk roundhouse, dropped dead of heart disease on the platform of the Grand Trunk depot this morning as he was about to board a train for Port Stanley, where he intended to spend the day fishing. Coroner Dr. Ferguson viewed the remains, but decided that death was due purely to natural causes, and that no inquest was necessary. The body was later removed to the undertaking par-lors of Smith, Son & Clarke.

Mr. Grasby, who was an unusually active old gentleman, arose as usual this morning, and worked, as had been his custom, in his neatly-kept garden. For some time cherry-picking occupied his attention, and this exertion is thought to have superinduced an at-tack of heart failure.

He had not complained, however, and He had not complained, however, and left home in a happy frame of mind with the prospect of an enjoyable day at the lakeside. However, as he passed the check room on the eastern end of the platform, he suddenly toppled over on his face, and died within a few minutes. He was carried into the baggage-room, but life was extinct.

Mr. Grasby was born in England 74 years ago, and came to Canada in the early seventies. For many years he worked in the Grand Trunk roundhouse as carpenter, but retired from that occupation twelve years ago. -Since then he has lived retired for the greater part Ottawa, July 18. - Two firemen of No. 3 fire station, Arthur Lee and John Rossignal, and Wm. Graham, the 16year-old son of Fire Chief Graham, were injured in a collision between a street car and the hose wagon on which they were riding in response to an alarm. Young Graham, who was standing talking to his father at the station, ran for the hose wagon and rode on the side-board to the fire, while his father shot away in his motor car. At the corner of Rideau and Nelson streets, a car, which was coming at high rate of speed, caught the hose wagon and hurled it on one side. Young Graham was caught between the wagon and the car and sustained serious injuries to his legs, head and body. He was picked up unconscious, and lies at his home in a serious condition. Fireman Lee was thrown through the window of the car vesti-bule, knocking down the motorman, but escaped with slight injuries. Fireman Rossignal had a miraculous escape, being thrown in front of the car, the flanges on the wheels pressing against his leg just as the car was brought to a stop.

One of the horses on the hose wagon will have to be destroyed.

July Sale, Black Dress Goods About 70 Dress One-Third Off and Skirt Lengths One-Third Off

SMALLMAN & INGRAM.

This is a clearing of all dress and skirt lengths, including lengths up to 7 yards. Some long enough for skirts, but most of the pieces have sufficient for dress or two skirts—from 5 to 7 yards. This is the best sale of the year as it takes in almost every class of goods carried in our stock, and the fact that there is only a few yards left is the best argument we can offer that these ends are the choice of the collection, and the customer's choice. Skirt, suit or dress lengths, in Serge, Broadcloth, Worsted, Voile, Cashmere, Henrietta, San Toy, Poplin, etc., in all-wool and silk and wool mixtures, and not an undesirable piece in the whole collection. Our best every-day selling lines. The sole object of the sale is to clear the shelves of all odd ends, preparatory to receiving fall importations which are now on the way. If you need a fall suit length or odd skirt or a new black dress, here is your opportunity to save a third and get your choice of the very goods you want. This means 75c goods for 50¢, $1.00 goods for 66 2-3¢, and $1.50 dress goods for $1.00 a yard. We will list a dozen lengths taken from the collection, which will show you the exact amount you may save on these lengths.

Big Out-Clearing of Men's and Women's Hosiery Friday and Saturday

Tomorrow we will begin a great clearing sale of all surplus stocks of Men's Socks, as well as all odd lines in Women's Summer Hose. Fall importations will soon be arriving, and room must be made for same. LONDON, THURSDAY, JULY 18. AN AMAZING COUNSELLOR.

The Kingston Standard (Con.) says its party will not be well served by glossing over the Liberal victory in a result of Mr. Borden's, visit to Lonis a serious issue to meet," says the claims for Canada in respect of this Saskatchewan. "In our opinion there Standard. It cannot be met, as the Toronto News suggests, by building up the west as a manufacturing dis-elled Committee of Imperial Defence. It trict "That would be altogether too slow a process," says the Standard, "for it will be years before the west, with its sparsely settled and widelyscattered population can be put on a profitable manufacturing basis." It goes on to say: "Nor will it be met if we are to take as final the statement of the London Advertiser that 'the present Government cannot offer the west larger markets, because it can if The whole tendency of the times is toward larger markets, and the Borden Government has already shown its recognition of this fact by reaching out after more trade with Great Britain, more trade with the West Indles-more trade, in-deed, wherever it can advantageously be found. For Canada, then, to say that we must not further consider the possibility of the Amer-ican market—merely because it is American market and despite absurd. Surely it is idle to close our eyes to the fact that our trade with the United States is steadily increasing year by year, despite all the restrictions put upon it."

With bated breath we scan the next paragraph in this extraordinary article to see how the United States market—Canada's natural market as own words. the Standard calls it-is to be obtained. We are warned by the Standard that "any movement in this direction does not mean the revival of the reciprocity pact." Reciprocity in the form presented ten months ago is "hopelessly dead," it says. But pa-Standard comes to the point. Canada ing class of intellectuals, Russia would tience is rewarded at last, and the

"It is axiomatic, too, that the prising that our exports to the States have steadily increased dur-ing the same time. To argue, then, disguise it as we may the connot the manufacturer, pays the tax-the Government must go further and reduce, measurably in some cases, reasonably in others, on those manufactured the duties on those manufactures of which the west today stands so badly in need and upon which its growth and its very life depend. The tendency in short will be more and more toward a tariff for revenue only, making due allowance always for a reasonable, but not an excessive protection, for our infant industries."

So the reduction of the cement duties is the Premier's way of opening the Americar, market to Canadian grain! But it is not "axiomatic that the more we buy from any country, the more we sell" to that country. Our exports to the United States have not increased pari passu or anything like it with our imports from that ccuntry. We send produce half round the world to pay for those imports, as the Standard should know. The reduction of cement duties will do nothing to gain entrance to the American grain market. As for Mr. Borden's efforts after larger trade with Great Britain, they must also, presumbaly, be comprised in a reduction of the duty on British goods. Has the Standard heard that the British preference is to be increased? The British market is limited in any event, and we can't sell much the new trick? more there than we do. The great bulk of the West Indian population is too poor to buy No. 1 hard. The United States market is what Saskatchewan and the rest of Canada needs as the Standard admits. It imagines Mr. Borden to be working towards this desideratum by way of some revenue-protective, admissive-exclusive, yes-no tariff. Crow as the Kingston chantecler may, it will hardly bring about the sunrise of so paradoxical a policy; and the policy even if possible would be useless as regards selling our natural products to the protected American market, But what an extraordinary doctrine from a Conservative journal that if you take care of imports, exports will take care of themselves! And what will our tremblers, who shricked last September in terror of American commercial and political invasions think of the Standard's plea for a general reduction of the tariff to a purely revenue basis? The Standard's editorial is evidence of the impasse in which the Conservative party finds itself. After refusing the moderate price asked by the United States for the free entry of our natural products into the American market, it begins to realize the problem and temper of the west. The Standard raises a cry to do more than the Americans asked of us without turn for it. The Interests will cer- was prematurely checked, and that in Ser tainly put their foot down on any such notion as a "revenue tariff" however apologetically qualified. The Government will not dare to oppose the forces which put it in power. "Dead," says the Standard of reciprocity. To judge by the frequency with which certain journals keep saying so, they have a bad ghost to encounter.

AN UN-CANADIAN PROPOSAL.

The Montreal Star, which relies on he Monroe Doctrine to protect Canadian shores, continues to try to prod Mr. Borden into repudiating his own pledges by deserting the Canadian navy project. The Star pretends to be haunted by the German spectre, and wants Canadian Dreadnoughts rushed into the first line of defence or attack in the North Sea as soon as they can be built. They must be built in British shipyards and placed "wholly at the disposal of the British admiralty, or whatever new body may be created as don." The Star is very modest in its "new body." It would be satisfied with Canadian representation in a remodwarns Camadians not to expect too much of such an arrangement:

"We will be in the position of amateurs or apprentices; and our contribution is not likely to be considerable enough to give us anything approaching a commanding voice. We say these things-not to belittle the praiseworthy aspirations of those who desire to be 'called to the councils' of the Empire—but merely to put in their true light these steps in advance, and to expose the puerile absurdity of those who claim that Canada should buy for three Dreadnoughts' the right to teach the ageworn veterans of the British admiralty, foreign offices and Committee of Imperial Defence how to perform their duties." It is for this attenuated form of imperial representation that the Star adian control of Canadian expenditure tariffs and protection without making tariffs and protection with the protecti is willing to perpetually sacrifice Canfor naval purposes. It may well be doubted whether Mr. Borden will so flout Canadian sentiment. He may propose an interim Dreadnought or two on the pretext of "emergency" to stave off an election for two or three years, but his permanent policy must be a Canadian naval establishment. Either that, or he must give the lie to his

MANITOBA AND RUSSIA.

The act providing for compulsory education in Russia, passed by the Duma, has been vetoed by the Supreme Council, which is the Russian Government. Russian reactionists contend that but for a small and disturbket by scaling down her tariff! To autocratic sway of the "Little Father," fined civilization.

A correspondent, writing of the more we buy from any country the more we sell, so that it is not sure Supreme Council's quashing of this action by the Duma, says: "In all And every goose a swan, lad, other lands parents are compelled to Then, hey, for boot and horse, lad, something to help their children to a higher plane that we cannot up something to neip their children to a higher plane. And round the world a way help further along these lines is to by education. In Russia the higher Young blood must have its argue in the face of facts. argue in the face of facts.

"Having had the courage to lower the duty on cement, for instance, is the interests of the consumer—for the interests of the consumer—for the consu toba. Parents there are not compelled to help their children to a higher plane by education. The Winnipeg

Free Press says: "In the Legislature of this province when the compulsory attendance proposal is brought forward by the Liberals, the majority controlled by Sir Rodmond Roblin vetoes it." But Manitoba will not always remain in the same class as Russia. The "Little Czar" who has controlled the prairie province for ten years is nearing the end of his rope. After the next election Manitoba will have a legislature at least as progressive as the Russian Duma.

A good deal of what is called human nature is just animal nature.

Government in the same spot? Rightly used, the naval issue can put Sir Wilfrid Laurier in a cleft stick.-Toronto Telegram. It must be admitted that Mr. Borden and Mr. Bourassa together used it very adroitly in September. What's The Kingston Standard is very confiding, if it expects a revenue tariff from Messrs, Borden and White. It will wait a long time for such a bone sporting news on one side from Mother Borden's cupboard. The Standard should try to remember who put Messrs. Borden, White, Reid and the rest in the seats of power.

The Borden Government. Asquith Government, and the News which has led the way in the protest on behalf of Canadian and British interests at the Isthmus of Panama, have the backing of the best newspapers across the line.-Toronto News.

Modesty is a fine quality, but the News carries it to excess.

Sir Donald Mann says the Canadian west will have a wheat crop of 250,000,000 bushels this year. It will sell for 10 to 15 cents a bushel less than the price across the line. The Canadian growers will make money at that, but why prevent them from making more money, to be spent largely in Eastern Canada?

MAGIC OF CELTIC SONG

[By Special Arrangement With the Winnipeg Telegram.]

Dr. Morgan's book on Welsh naticnalism may serve to send some English readers on the quest for Welsh literature. Ever since I read Matthew Arnold's essay on Celtic poetry, with its praise of "the natural magic" of bardic song, I have been interested in this subject. Matthew Arnold wrote pleasantly on a theme which he knew very little about; but he made no mistake in eulogizing the mystical beauty of the songs of Taliesyn and his successors. Among English poets, Thomas Gray was one of the very first to appreciate the freasure of Wales. Every school boy has been bothered by the difficult allusions in Gray's great ode, "The Bard," but every boy reader has gathered from that poem some conception dominions? And what would happen of the grandeur of these eld whitesupposing that one or more of them bearded poets who sang weird pro-objected that the proposed war was dents of literature are now keenly would stay the hand which directs the alive to the importance of the romantic movement in our poetry. This began with Gray and was handed on to Wordsworth, Byron, Keats, Shelley, and other members of that great school who brought English lyricism to its [Toonto Star.] who brought English lyricism to its il. Bob Rogers' machine highest point of perfection. Now, as Somebody must have it was Welsh and Highland Scottish peetry that largely influenced Gray THE SASKATCHEWAN ELECTION. and thus set in motion the tide of romanticism, which is flowing yet, the Saxon has every reason to be grateful to the Celt.

As I have said, natural magic is everywhere present in Celtic cong. The Welsh bards loved the voice of the wind and the flame of the flower and the sweet smell of the wildwood. Here is a little poem by Taliesyn, entitled "The Song of the Wing." It suffers much by translation, but it is still beautiful:

On the sea, on the land, Unviewed and unviewing, Pursued and pursuing, Yet never at hand, the land, on the sea, Unviewing, unviewed, Though in sight of the Sun; Ne'er at command, However he's sued! Indispensable, Incomprehensible, Matchless one!

Notice the nature images in this poem written in the remote past by prince of North Wales. It is an address to his lady fair:

My Chosen One is tall and lissome, Typle her cloak as heather blossom; my chosen joy it is to worth chosen joy it is to watch her When thoughts of grace breathe from

And, oh, my chosen lot t'would be to With her my secret and my dower, Whose hue

Whose chaste Cymraig completes her power. My Chosen till I die, what to thee am Hast no reply? To lovely silence Mine is inded the maid! Let Love be not delayed, Since thus by Queen is chosen.

The following translation of another fine old Cymric poem by Mr. Alfred Graves is also a splendid illusration of that loving observation of nature which characterized Welsh poetry long before Wordsworth inherited their passion. This poem is ntitled "My Burial":

When I die, O, bury me Within the free young wild wood; ittle birches o'er me bent, Lamenting as my child would! Let my surplice shroud be spun Of sparkling summer clover; While the great and stately treen Their rich rood screen hang over! For my bier-cloth blossomed May Outlay on eight green willows! ea gulls white to bear my pall Take flight from all the billows. Sea gulls Summer's cloister be my church Of soft leaf-searching whispers, From whose mossed bench the nightingale To all the vale chants vespers! Mellow toned, the brake amid, My organ hid be cuckoo! Paters, seemly hours and psalm Bird voices calm re-echo! Tystic masses, sweet addresses Blackbird, be thou offering Till God His Bard to Paradise Uplift from sighs and suffering.

Too Much Criticism.

The criticism of the local fans at Saturday's game and the treatment that has been accorded Bowerman during his sojourn in this city by the fans at the park, were the cause of his throwing up the management of the club. He came to London with the intention of providing the city with a good ball team and a first-class article of ball. There is no doubt that he did it. La Presse Says Scandal Will Cause Rejoicing in Protestant Ontario.

Montreal, July 17 .- The French press of the city unites in censuring His Lordship Judge Monet for his address at St. John's last night, in which he defended the priests who conduct the Ste. Marie Monnoir College, and attacked Archbishop Bruchesi and Bishop Bernard for their actions in interdicting the college. Henri Bourassa, in Le Devoir, says: "No matter what be the nature of the case or the motives actuating Judge Monet, it is inadmissible, for a Catholic addressing a public meeting to deal in such a marner with the decisions ren-dered by two prelates in the exercise of their disciplinary authority. It is liketheir disciplinary authority. It is like-wise inadmissible for a judge, and more especially a Catholic judge, to hold up to ridicule the judgments of ecclesiastical tribunals. If the interested parties feel that there is sufficient basis for an ap-peal to a higher tribunal let them fol-

A Modern Force in Business

ADVERTISING has established a new A order of things in commerce. It has become a mighty power in business progress; a complex yet comprehensible transmitter of many parts for the distribution and selling of merchandise and service.

Its function is fivefold:

To enlighten or educate—to create new wants or to satisfy old ones-to protect and foster legitimate enterprise-to establish a medium of understanding between buyer and seller as a basis for mutual profit and advantage—to prescribe an economical price and the maintenance of a fixed standard of quality

None know better than the buying public how well these functions have been fulfilled.

Modern advertising has given us an insight into various manufacturing processes. The producer has taken us, the consumers, into his confidence and told us just how his mince meat, his flour, his clothing, etc., is made. We know why certain things should or should not be. Advertising has told us-broadened our understanding and guided our judgment.

Modern advertising has enabled us to unlock the treasure house of the world's divinest melodies through the medium of the player-piano. The motor car has lengthened the business day and brought the fragrant countryside to our door. Men shave in comfort in ten minutes where they used to take twenty. A magic bottle provides us with cold drinks with the weather at 90 degrees or gives us a warm beverage when Jack Frost dips at 40 below.

Modern advertising has elevated the standard of business ethics. It protects the manufacturer from unscrupulous competition and the consumer from base imitation. It conserves trade-extends businesscreates good will. It enables the corporation, the manufacturer or private individual on trial to take his case directly to the public, and to secure the public's judgment on his policy or character based purely upon their respective merits.

Modern advertising has opened up new opportunities to the oppressed and poor of far-off lands. It has turned an unceasing tide of immigration to new countries. It has developed nations, and made the name of the New World a promise of better things among the people of the Old.

F All this advertising has done and will continue to do. It is the everincreasing influence for the advancement of mankind—the most potent, indeed, of the many forces influencing human action.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any good advertising agency or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part - so write if interested.

DRUGGISTS' OUTING WAS A GREAT SUCCESS

Fine Programme of Sports Was Feature of Enjoyable Day at Port.

The second annual picnic of the London Drug Clerks' Association was held yesterday afternoon at Port Stanley, and over 500 people accompanied the clerks to the lakeside in six special cars that left the Traction depot at one o'clock. On the way to Port the committee distributed boxes of chocolates to the ladies, and cigars to the gentlemen. In the first car were the "bachelors," who, although but few, made themselves heard in a mixture of harmony and discord, mostly the latter. Roy Miller acted as choir leader in a very capable manner. Upon arriving at their destination, the party immediately went to the baseball grounds at the foot of the Fraser Heights, and a programme of races and other events was carried out. Special mention should be made of the way in which Morris Percival won the fork race. He has always been given credit for a good picker, but the man-ner in which he picked up the radishes in this race surprised even his most ardent admirers.

"Barney" Vining won the fat man's race in record time, and with a course of strict training could develop into a fast sprinter; but even at that he did not beat out "Jimmy" Childs, the well-known East End apothecary, by very much. Great disappointment was expressed by the clerks that George McLachlan did not enter any of the races, as several had picked him as a sure winner.

Baseball Match. At the conclusion of the races a baseball game between the druggists and drug clerks was scheduled, but for some reason or other the druggists did not put in an appearance, and finally a team from Aylmer was found who had the courage to tackle the clerks. The clerks were so disappointed at the action of their "bosses" that the Aylmer team finally won the game, which was featured by the baserunning of Stee and the hitting of Doupe, who in three times to bat had a triple and two doubles. The teams were:

[Canadlan Press.] New York, July 18.—Engineers who operate heavy traction locomotives of the Mallet type, a com ination of two or-dinary locomotives, were witnesses called at the morning session at Manhattan Beach of the arbitration commission which is seeking to adjust the wages of the engineers.

Warren S. Stone, chief of the locomotive engineers, placed these men on the stand to show how the advance in mod-ern railroading had added to the duties and responsibilities of the men at the throttle. He brought out the fact that many railroads had coupled together two heavy freight engines to form one mon-ster locomotive, which could be operated by a single engineer. He said that the engineer who had double responsibility is paid only a slight advance over what

WANTS LONDON TO CATER TO YANKEES

Standard Urges Metropolis to Work For Share of Tourist

Harvest.

London, July 18. — The Standard says: "London is gradually beginning to see the real meaning of the annual invasion from America, but the mecabs and a total of not less than $115,000 during that period? Why is it that between those dates Paris has between seven and ten thousand Americans in its first-class hotels and twenty thousand Americans in other hotels and pensions? Parisians Best Advertisers. "The answer is, in plain language: London and England have greater attractions, advantages equal, if not better, and infinitely better bargains, but the Parisian sets out to specially cater and advertise, while on this side of the channel there is a general attitude of indifference.

'Perhaps London is doing well. No first-class hotels are more popular or better managed than those in the metropolis. But even London cannot afford to be satisfied. In the limited london group for Americans the London season for Americans the amount spent by them is $7,400,000.
"The United States customs tariff is a fairly accurate reflection of the business Americans take to London, to the provinces and to the conti-nental centres. These place it in disputably on record that from Lon-don Irish lace, linens, poplins, Scot-tish homespuns and plaids, tailormade dresses, evening dresses, English silks, China replica and original ostrich feathers, furs, antiques, jew-elry and clothes are bought to the extent of at least $5,000,000 and often extent of at least $5,000,000 and often far in excess of this in a few weeks.

"But nine times as much money is left on the continent every season by Americans as is left in London and elsewhere in England. As a nation of shopkeepers' are we satisfied with this ratio? No city in the world is more 'a home from home' to the best and wealthiest Americans. Within the next twelve weeks what has any continental capital weeks what has any continental capital to put against the Derby, Ascot, Henley, Goodwood, Cowes and the Dublia horse show? What resorts on the continent can provide the superb seaside health, repose or recreations of Crome, Clifton-ville, Follestone, Eastbourne, Erighton, the Isl₂ of Wight and Bournemouth?

Yet They "Have the Goods."

"As an American might say: You English have the goods, but don't know how to display them.' We let the to display them.' American come and go. We treat him with the best, as he deserves, but we make no effort. He must find it all out, as a rule. Of course, there are excep with some sort of foresight and organiza tion, the amount of money spent in London, at the holiday resorts and in the provinces might be enormously in-

"The annual invasion is imminent, but it is not too late yet."

This includes the supplies to be used in Trirpoli.

Moreover plans are about completed or two new lines of steamships between Italian ports and Tripoli, with a big state sbusidy. In well-informed circles here, however, no early termination of the war is look-ed for. "I would not be surprised," says one editor, "if it runs on till next summer. The Italians will hold on to the coast and the oases and gradually the Arab hostility will dwindle. As to the Aegean Islands that have been seized, they will not return to Turkish domination. On the other hand, it is absurd to suppose that they will be handed over to Greece. Though popular opinion in Italy is for their retention, the Italian Government is only concerned with them as means or oringing pressure to bear upon Turkey. At the end of the war the question of the islands will be referred to the powers, and we may it for granted that the Sporades at least will be put under some form of guaran-teed autonomy, subject only to the suzzrainty of the Sultan, on the model of the principality of Samos. But Italy means rertain one of the smaller islands, possibly Calymius, as a naval base. The possession of one of the Sporades would possession of one of the sporades would give Italy the command of the narrow entrance into the Aegean Sea from the Mediterranean. Italy, in fact, would hold the strategic outer gate of the Darda-

The fact that the Norwegian plating an expedition to Northern Canada for the purpose of lifting, if possible, the veil of mystery which surrounds the fate of Anif possible, dree and his brave followers, has nteresting and lengthy investigation of the Andree expedition in a leading Swedish paper. As a result, the conclusion is hazarded that Andree's ill-fated balloon may have passed over the North Pole, as was planned by the bold and clever

Northern Canada are not being treated lightly ,especially as Andree himself mentioned Canada as a place where he would be likely to land. His projected route was marked by a line drawn from Spitzbergen right across the pole to the northwest of the American continent, or Northeastern Siberia.

When Andree started he believed he had every prospect of accomplishing the great task he had set himself. He could, all told, lighten the balloon 1,434 kilograms, and he had with him an ample supply of provisions, ammunition, tent, sledges and so forth. The loss of gas was calculated at 84 kilograms every 24 hours. This was considered well on the safe side, but the balloon under those conditions could be kept in the air for 17 days. grief off the Kola Peninsula is untenable, according to expert reasoning. As to the direction of the balloon the hypothesis of Prof. Nathorst that Andree from Barent's Sea went north able, and the strong southerly which prevailed for several days after the start wuld in all likelihood enable, truly,

Andree not only to reach the pole, but arrive in Northern Canada. THE ORIENTS WON

Prominent Chicago Lady is Charged With Shooting Her Husband. [Canadian Press.]

Chicago, July 18.-It was expected today that a verdict might be reached this evening in the case of Mrs. Rene B. Morrow, whose prominence in woman's clubs here has attracted wide attention to her trial on a charge of having shot her husband to death on the porch of the Morrow home last De-

While the closing arguments were in progress today, Mrs. Morrow, who is a neatly-dressed, matronly-appearing woman, seemed hopeful of acquittal, on the ground that Morrow was either murdered by a burglar or committed sui-cide. It was con ended that the motive for her prosecution lay in the dis-closure to Morrow's relatives after his death that the property of the couple was held in the name of Mrs. Morrow. The lather created by canthrox allays scalp irritation and dissolves dandruff and excess oil, and after rinsing well, the hair and scalp are clean and sweet, while the hair dries quickly, with an even, rich color and beautiful gloss. Nothing compares with canthrox for keeping the hair silky, brilliant and fluffy in hot weather.
