MR. WILSON'S STRONG APPEAL FOR MAPLE CITY RATEPAYERS

Grand Trunk Railway Engineers Admit That Dangers of a Level Crossing Would be Lessened if Less Shunting Were Done—Strong Sentiments

The city of Chatham and the C. W. & L. E. have at least granted one point through the visit of the Government engineers yesterday. After the arguments had been thoroughly presented to them, the engineers practically admitted that if the G. T. R. lessened their shunting operations across William street, that the dangers of a level crossing at that point would be considerably lessened; that the objection to a level crossing at this point was principally on account of the danger to the public, and that the Grand Trunk should not use the crossing for shunting purposes to the extent claimed.

The citizens interested, gathered at City Solicitor Wilson's office, and after a short business meeting, went out to meet the train bearing the Government engineers. The deputation consisted of the following gentlemen: His Worship Mayor Marshall, City Solicitor Matthew Wilson, City Engineer E. B. Jones, Ald. Austin, Ald. Edmondson, Ald. Benson, George Stephens, ex-M. P., N. H. Stevens, J. Piggott, W. T. Piggott, Dr. T. K. Holmes, W. T. Shannon, W. W. Scane, Archie Park, W. D. Sheldon, A. B. McGee, Robert Gray, Hugh Macdonald, Charles Hadley, Edwin Bell, and others.

The train bearing the engineers was late in arriving, and it was almost four o'clock before the trip of inspection was commenced. The gentlemen sent here at the instigation of the Dominion Railway Commission were Assistant Engineers Simmons and Murphy, two very capable and clever gentlemen. Engineer Somerville, of Toronto, was present for the Grand Trunk.

The Government engineers were first taken in hand by City Solicitor Matthew Wilson, K. C., and Mr. George Stephens, ex-M. P. Mr. Stephens presented the city's side of the case in admirable style. He pointed out that the Grand Trunk had plenty of idle property on which they could do their shunting, without using the city streets, and he also drew attention to the disadvantages to which a subway or an overhead crossing would put the city and the electric road. The party then left to view the ground over which the dispute had arisen, going out as far as the G. T. R. and P. M. R. crossing; the third alternative as a right of way offered to the radical company by the G. T. R. It was explained to the engineers that such a roundabout route would mean a serious disadvantage to the electric line, for various reasons, some of which have been gone over. The danger would not be overcome by crossing at this point, but really increased, as railway traffic there would be more lively. The city would never consent to this route, as it would mean that the radial road would have to haul its freight over the main streets. The C. W. & L. E. could not consider such a proposition, for the reason that it would disorganize their system of transportation to the lake, and would mean that they would have to purchase private lands en route, when they already have a right of way granted them.

It was while viewing the grounds, that Mr. Somerville asked if a proposition for the electric line to cross at St. George street would be considered. This was also objected to for obvious reasons. The tour of inspection was continued.

WHAT THEY THINK

Park Brothers Add Their Sentiments To Other's Expressed in Reference to Grand Trunk's Action

The Planet this morning obtained the following opinions from Park Bros., in regard to the blocking of the C. W. & L. E., at the G. T. R. crossing:—

Archibald Park—I think that the G. T. R. are most unreasonable in the attitude they are taking up. They offer to let us cross at King street east on the ground that there is less danger at that point than at the William street crossing. This is absurd; there is just as much danger at one place as at another. The C. P. R. crossing, too, is just as dangerous, as far as traffic is concerned, yet we were allowed to cross it. There are 29 trains a day at the King street east crossing, that is allowing for trains that come in and go out, and there is every bit as much danger there as anywhere.

John Park—I think that we would be making a wise move if we turned the junction of Queen and William streets into one crossing. It would be a benefit to both the city and the G. T. R., and the latter would, no doubt, be only too willing to make concessions to the C. W. & L. E. in return for the increased shunting facilities which the enlargement of the crossing would afford them.

LET THEM GO

A half a dozen young boys faced Judge Houston in the Police court this morning, charged with stealing bicycles from Briscoe Bros., and strawberries from Tom. Campbell, Baxter street. The Judge delivered a severe lecture to them and allowed them to go. The boys confessed that they had also stolen a lacrosse stick from Briscoe, and they brought it to the police station shortly after they were dismissed.

Wonderful Success

Of the Gourlay Piano is Attributed To the Unrivalled Tone That Appeals Instantly to the Cultivated Ear

The Gourlay possesses that deep, rich, sweet tone that is the one ambition of every manufacturer, the tone that so many strive to possess, but so few accomplish. There are so many points to be considered in building a piano, and all must be right. The sounding board, for instance, is called the "piano's soul." It is inside the inner sanctuary. Many hands assist in its building, but the fashioning or plan of construction belongs to the Gourlay, Winter & Leaming Co. There is not a Canadian-made instrument constructed like a Gourlay. The construction of the sounding board, the Gourlay style of building the back, the acoustic rim, the Gourlay plate, are but a few of the points that can readily be understood by investigating this instrument, and by comparison one can not fail to be impressed of the fact that the Gourlay is the best piano built in Canada to-day. Below is one of a great number of letters received by the manufacturers that make them feel proud of the Gourlay.

WHAT MR. H. WHORTON BULL, THE LEADING SINGER AND TEACHER IN WINDSOR, SAYS.

Gourlay, Winter & Leaming, Toronto, Gentlemen,—Permit me to express my entire satisfaction of the Gourlay Piano. I have been using this instrument ever since I opened my studio in Windsor, and although it has had hard, constant use, it retains that sweet, pure, clear tone that is such a help to vocalists.

I congratulate you on the success of the Gourlay as a thoroughly musical piano. With best wishes I am, Very truly yours,

H. WHORTON BULL, Windsor.

If you will visit the Gourlay exhibit now going in the Scane Block, King St., Chatham, you will see a full line of Gourlay pianos, and those in charge will be pleased to have you try them, hear them, see the construction.

One can order a Gourlay Direct From The Factory now and save the agent's or small dealer's profit, have terms arranged to suit them.

THE VITAL QUESTION OF A GAS SUPPLY FOR CHATHAM

How the Discovery of a Wonderful Field of Oil and Gas in Tilbury East Township has Stirred the Financial World—Planet Reporter's Trip.

Of all the fields of speculation open to the financier none is more fascinating than the pursuit of oil. The true speculator is a born gambler and that venture in which there are the greatest extremes of luck, the greatest uncertainties and the biggest risks, draws him as the magnet draws the steel. Oil, with its immense possibilities, its elusiveness, and its fickleness, appeals to the speculator as nothing else, not even mining, does. And so it is that, at the first sign of the fluid, the speculator is on the spot ready to prove or disprove its promises.

The history of the oil industry on this continent teems with interest of unusual intensity. Stories of "gushers" that made men and cities, of "lucky strikes" that worked wonders, of fortunes won and lost in a single breath, of mighty things that hinged on mere trivialities, of men, cities, histories, and wealth that came and went with the flow of the dirty-brown liquid, are arranged in the early days of wild oil speculation and discouragements, when theory upon theory was formed and exploded, down to the present day of scientific certainty and the Standard Oil Company, the interest in oil has been growing and, at the present time, there is scarcely a man who does not follow its development with the greatest of attention.

The discovery of oil in Tilbury East a few months ago made a stir in Chatham and the surrounding country that was almost unprecedented. The Raleigh field, which, at one time, held the attention of our business men, did not turn out as well as it was expected to, but there are men who hold that there is oil in paying quantities at a greater depth than most of the wells reached, and who believe that the field will eventually turn up trumps. Oil men, whatever effect the part failure at Raleigh had on them, did not give up hope of finding the real article in large quantities somewhere in West Kent and their expectations were fully realized when, at the beginning of this year, the first well sunk in Tilbury East proved a wonderful success and opened up a field for speculation such as had never even been dreamed of. This first well, the Kerr No. 1, is still flowing with undiminished force and at the time of writing nearly half a hundred derricks rear their heads above the trees and houses within a radius of three miles or so. The machinery and the men are on the way to drill as many wells again and in a few weeks over a hundred grinning wooden skeletons dotted about the country will tell of the coming of oil and the coming of Tilbury East.

ASPECT OF THE FIELD.

On Thursday a Planet representative drove out to the scene of the oil activity in company with Mr. Peter McNaughton, of this city. Mr. McNaughton is an old oil expert of wide experience and, with Mr. P. D. McKellar, the County Registrar, he holds large interests in the Tilbury East oil field. The drive was a most enjoyable one, the rich agricultural districts in Raleigh, with their fine fields of corn, barley, wheat and oats, presenting a scene of prosperity and abundance thoroughly typical of the banner county at its best. A mile before Fletcher was reached the oil-scented air told of

40 YEARS MARRIED

Many Guests Assembled to Celebrate A Popular Wedding Anniversary

The home of Mr. A. Westman, 58 Craig street, South London, was the scene of a very pleasant celebration Wednesday night. The occasion was the fortieth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Westman. Over fifty guests were present, and a most enjoyable evening was spent.

A pleasant feature of the celebration was that Mrs. J. Scofield, of Chippewa Hill, who acted as bridesmaid at Mr. and Mrs. Westman's wedding, was able to be present, and she also received many hearty congratulations.

Another pleasant feature was the christening of Mr. Westman's little grandson, Douglas Eldon Westman, son of Mr. Eldon Westman, of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Westman were married forty years ago yesterday in the city of Toronto by Rev. Dr. J. A. Williams. For two years they lived in Toronto, and then removed to London, where Mr. Westman started in the hardware business.

Among others who were present were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hewitt, Toronto; Miss Sadie Amy, Toronto; Alfred Westman, Chatham; Miss F. Spence, Hamilton; Mrs. Harris, Ithaca, N. Y.

SATURDAY, JUNE 23, 1906.

"WHOM THE GODS DESTROY," ETC.

We have to apologize to our readers for once more referring to a subject which has already taken up too much time and attention. On Monday last our "esteemed local contemporary," The Banner, published an editorial which was intended to be a malicious attack on Mr. Clements, but which turned out in the most part to be untruthful and uncalled for. Upon a closer investigation it was found that the Banner made a serious mistake in a couple of paragraphs, and accidentally told the truth. When the facts were thus revealed matters took a complete turn, and looked quite in favor of Mr. Clements. This was pointed out by this journal in defense of the Banner's first editorial, 4th paragraph and 1st sentence, referring to Mr. Clements:—

"Of course it must not be forgotten that some things have followed his appeals for various municipalities and localities in the way of public benefits."

Since this was pointed out the Banner has been making vain attempts to square itself, take back water, squirm, wiggle, and recant, and still come through it all carrying some semblance of dignity. It has made a miserable failure and now its readers are really in doubt as to whether it is supporting Mr. Clements or opposing him. Its apologies to its readers, The Planet, and to itself have left it in a sad plight.

Last evening the editor evidently had a visit from an essential friend in the business office who, we imagine, instructed him to square away in some shape. Driven to desperation with no arguments to advance, our hot headed and fiery tempered friend broke loose from the restraint in which he has labored ever since he let the above quoted sentence slip into his editorial pillbox, and descended, to once more hurling indiscriminately vile names and strong nasty epithets at this journal.

To lose one's temper in a public argument is a sign of moral and mental weakness, and it is a wonder the Banner has not benefited from its past experiences in this respect. It is the man who can get out of a tight place with the coolest head who will make the smallest fool of himself. The editor of the Banner hinted last evening that we would object to the abusive language and cowardly personalities thrown in our direction. Not at all. We have got rather used to it, having seen it so often in the columns of our contemporary, and we are beginning to look upon it in the same manner as it is viewed by every intelligent citizen—with pity and disgust.

CEMETERY DISPUTE.

A few days ago a ratepayer took occasion to complain through the columns of this journal of what was termed by him, improper treatment to citizens from the caretaker of the cemeteries.

It was claimed that of late people have been put to unnecessary trouble at a time when, if anything, their worries should, if possible, be lessened. The caretaker has undertaken to deny the accusation and so the question stands.

No matter who is in the right, and who in the wrong, the affair should call for some investigation from the Parks and Cemeteries committee, under whose orders the caretaker is acting. If the charges are proven true, some steps should be taken to guard the public against negligence and indifference on the part of a public official. If the charges are disproven and Mr. Turner is shown to be a faithful and trustworthy employee, as he has hitherto been held in the eyes of the public, he should by all means be exonerated from any blame in this matter. In this way the committee could effectively put a stop to unjust complaints being made and they would

WHAT Fruit-a-tives ARE

OR "FRUIT LIVER TABLETS"

Fruit-a-tives are the marvels of modern medicine. They have accomplished more actual cures—done more good to more people—than any other medicine ever introduced in Canada for the time they have been on sale.

Fruit-a-tives are fruit juices. They are nature's cure for

- CONSTIPATION
- BILIOUSNESS
- BAD STOMACH
- DYSPEPSIA
- HEADACHES
- IMPURE BLOOD
- SKIN DISEASES
- KIDNEY TROUBLE
- RHEUMATISM
- IRRITATED HEART

Fruit-a-tives are the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes. These juices are concentrated—and by a secret process, the juices are combined in a peculiar manner. This new combination is much more active medicinally than fresh juices—yet so perfect is the union that Fruit-a-tives act on the system as if they were in truth a natural fruit, medicinally stronger than any other known fruit.

To this combination of fruit juices, tonics and internal antiseptics are added, and the whole made into tablets.

feel satisfied in their own minds as to the character of their public servants.

A NEW RECRUIT.

It has always been the firm belief of the majority of the people of this Province that the most ardent temperance workers are found in the churches and Sunday schools. Occasionally anti-whiskey advocates springing from such sources are enabled to enlist the services of business men and private citizens who through the fact that they are teetotalers and have nothing to do with the "vile traffic" wish to save their erring brothers.

According to a western paper, The Baileyburyian, the temperance workers have been overlooking a valuable addition to their ranks. They offer the following advice to the temperance men in their western town:

"Too many drunks, is the cry. We are fighting this state of things, to the best of our ability. We flatter ourselves that we have done quite a bit towards the abatement of this epidemic, but we want a more earnest co-operation on the part of the bartenders. They are the men who, if they do their duty, can do more in the aid of temperance than all the lecturers in Canada, so it is up to them to combine, and help to cut this thing out."

VICTIMIZING INDIAN WARDS.

Much has been heard recently of rakes-offs, wire-pulling and graft in connection with the administration of this affairs of this Dominion until the average citizen now looks for accounts of dishonesty in almost every paper he picks up. That this state of affairs could exist in a country such as Canada is reputed to be, is to say the least, astounding, and it is a circumstance from which all honest men shrink. One could forgive the wrong doings of an occasional black sheep and the prompt dismissal of such offenders would reassure the people that a government is, at least, honest in its intentions.

With the case of the Laurier administration, however, new revelations are being made every day, and the ultimate conclusion seems to be that every department of public service at Ottawa is corrupt with evil practices and unjust methods of transacting the people's business.

Mr. Frank Pedley, Superintendent of Indian Affairs, was on the stand a few days ago to explain a cattle transaction. It was shown that the Department supplied young cattle from Ontario to stock Indian reserves in Alberta. The order for these heifers was given to Mr. E. Devlin, of Ottawa, who is not a cattle grower or dealer, but is an eloquent stump speaker for the government at election times. In 1904 Mr. Devlin furnished 222 head of two-year-olds charging the Indian department $30 per head for them at Calgary. As the price of such stock in the Ottawa district at the time was $15 and the freight $2.50 per head it does not appear that the interests of the Indians or of the Canadian taxpayers were closely guarded. No tenders were called for, and the prices were fixed by officials whose partisanship is not questioned.

And this has been going on under the eyes of the Premier. There is more than one elector puzzling over the question of where it will all end.

FROM PLANET FYLES OF HALF A CENTURY AGO

From The Planet fyles from March 16, 1865, to March 23, 1865.

On Friday last a fearful explosion occurred at the Thames Oil Company's well near Ekehwell. The boiler in the engine house exploded, blowing off the head of the engine, whose name was Abraham Sullivan. At the instant it transpired that the explosion was due to the sudden filling of the boiler with cold water, the boiler being almost red-hot at the time.

A police officer in Windsor is awaiting trial for manslaughter over very strange circumstances. He found a woman in the street in an apoplectic fit, and thinking that she was intoxicated, he took her to the police station, threw a bucket of water over her to bring her round to sobriety again, and lo! she died in a cell for the night. When the cell door was opened on the following morning the woman, whose name is unknown, was found dead from the combined effects of the cold water drench and neglect of her serious condition.

It is with great pleasure that we welcome back to our midst our old acquaintance, G. H. Reeve, the watch maker and jeweller, who left Chatham a few years ago, and is going to see old travellers and old settlers returning to their old homes in this town.

The continued success of the Bothwell oil prospectors and working companies cause greater excitement throughout the whole province.

The Dunkin Prohibition Act was passed upon at Aldboro and resulted in a victory for the Temperance Act.

Married, on Tuesday, March 7th, 1865, at the home of the bride's father, Wm. Richards, of Chatham, to Miss Sarah Ann Stockdale, Raleigh.

Wm. Tall advertises his stove depot and hardware store.

On Friday last the waters of the Thames began to rise in this vicinity and on Monday morning that part of the town lying along the river banks was flooded. King street and Thames street are under water in many places, the hotels and houses are only to be reached, by boat. Several of the saloons in town are conducting business strictly on the Dunkin temperance plan, water being in abundance. The old hull of the steamer Despatch, which for a long time has lain embedded in the sands on the site of the old Chatham Bridge, floated off this morning and has travelled a long distance down the river already. The damage done to property in London and Thamesville is considerable, many bridges being so badly injured that they cannot be used for traffic. What the damage in this town will amount to cannot be ascertained at present, but it is certain to be heavy.

TAI TONG.

It Seems to Have Originated in Early Religious Customs.

What is the origin of tattooing? Religion, which has so much power over peoples and which proves so obstinate in preserving ancient customs, has certainly contributed to maintain it among the more barbarous part of our population. We see a quasi official proof of it at Lorette. Those who cultivate a devotion for a saint believe that by engraving his image on their flesh they will give him a proof, a clear testimony, of their love. We know that the Phoenicians marked the sign of their divinity on their foreheads (Ewald, Judaisme, 184). In the Marshall Islands they have to ask the permission of the gods to tattoo themselves, and the priests alone in New Zealand perform the office of tattooing (Scherzer). Lubbock adds to this that a woman who does not have a tattoo mark cannot enjoy eternal felicity. The women of Britain tattooed themselves in obedience to religion (Pliny, 33).

The second cause is the spirit of imitation. A Lombard soldier answered me laughingly one day when I rallied him on his having spent a small sum to spoil his arm. "See, monsieur, we are like sheep, and when one of us does anything we all imitate him at once, even if we risk doing ourselves harm." Love of distinction also has its influence. A third cause is the most incorrigible sort who had six brothers tattooed like himself. I explored me, although he was half covered with the oddest tattoo marks, to find him a professional tattooist. When the tattooing is very curious and spreads all over the body," he told me, "it is to us other thieves like the black coat of society with decorations—the more we are tattooed the more we esteem one another; the more we have over his companions. On the contrary, one who is not tattooed has no influence. He is regarded simply as a good fellow and is not esteemed by his company."—London Chronicle.

WINGED SEEDS.

How Nature Provides For Propagating Some of Her Plants.

Many seeds seem, by their formation, to be especially designed for transmission through the air, and of these several are quite as good illustrations as the thistle. The seed of the common dandelion, a plant to be seen on every common, has wings that will carry it away on the slightest breath of air. The wings are very slight filaments, radiating backward from the seed, so that when the latter finally lodges it falls tip first in the most favorable position for taking root.

Country children often find amusement in blowing the seeds from one stalk and watching to see how far they will go before falling to the ground, but whenever there is even a moderate breeze the experiment is a failure, as the feecy seeds fly out of sight, and the next season a dandelion springs up where the plant was never seen before.

The common tumble weed is another example of the winged seed. The plant grows in a woolly bunch, which, when dried, is easily separated from the stalk, and a light breeze sets the ball rolling over the ground, to scatter its seeds wherever it goes. The seeds of many ferns and microscopic plants are so constructed as to be readily lifted and carried away by the wind, while some, of considerable size, are provided with an elaborate arrangement for aerial transportation. The common maple is an example of the last kind, for projecting from its large head is a membranous sac resembling in size, shape and general appearance the wing of the locust. When the seed is separated from the tree, even if the air be quite still, it does not fall directly to the earth, but, by its peculiar construction, acquires in falling a spiral motion that takes it several feet from beneath the starting point, and when a brisk breeze is blowing one of these winged seeds has been known to twirl through the air for six miles before its journey came to an end.

Women have a knack of saying things which mean a great deal.

The best way to defy sin is to deny self.

Liberty means responsibility, and responsibility tests the man and the race.

FOR YOUNG FOLKS

A STEAM ENGINE.

It Is Safe and Practical, and Any Boy Can Make It.

Get a quart sirup can for your boiler (Fig. 1, A), punch a sixteenth inch hole in the lid of your boiler one and one-half inches from the edge of the can. Take a piece of tin 5 by 6 inches and cut out of each corner two inches square (B). Bend the tin into the shape of a box. Punch a hole into the top of this box for exhaust steam to escape; also holes in the exact center of the sides for shaft to pass through. Cut two pieces of tin 1 1/2 by 3/4 of an inch. Trim the edges to look like Fig. 3 (E F). In the exact center of these pieces cut out a place halfway through, just wide enough for each fan to fit in. Cut out of tin a balance wheel (C) two inches in diameter. Punch a hole in its exact center. For the shaft (D) use sixteenth inch wire three and one-quarter inches long. On one end bend a loop and solder it against the side of your wheel (Fig. 2, G). Join the fans together and place in the box. Make two tin washers to fit over the shaft, one on each side of the fans between the sides of the box and the fans. Run the shaft through the box and the washers. Solder the shaft to the fans near the center. Allow the straight end of your shaft to project through one side of the box about one-half inch.

Solder the box on the lid of the can or boiler open side down, so that a direct stream of steam coming through the hole in the top of the boiler will strike the ends of the fan. Make a hole (outside the box in the lid of your boiler, if there is not one already), through which pour water in the boiler. Keep corked (H). Keep your boiler one-third full of water.

For heating the boiler use an ordinary alcohol lamp or set it on the stove, and it can be used to work any small mechanical device.

To make an engine of greater power use a larger can, increasing all measurements proportionately.—Woman's Home Companion.

A Jolly Peanut Game.
The children sit around small tables, four at each. A cupful of peanuts is placed in the middle, and a small pair of bonbon tongs is provided for each table. The children try in turn to remove one peanut at a time without stirring the other nuts. If a player succeeds he is entitled to another chance until he fails, when the turn passes to the child on the left. At the end of twenty minutes a bell is rung. The player at each table having the most peanuts wins. The winners at the different tables play another round until there is but one winner.

Conundrums.
Why is a historical event like a parcel untied and tied again? Because it is re-ordered.

Why do doctors keep bad company? Because the worse people are the oftener they visit them.

What houses are the easiest to break into? The houses of bald people, because their locks are few.

Why does an aching tooth impose silence on the sufferer? Because it makes him hold his jaw.

Waiting His Turn.
One day George's mother asked him whether he wanted to go with her to buy a petticoat.

George answered with enthusiasm, "Oh, yes!"

When his mother got to the store she asked for a white petticoat. When George saw the skirt he asked:

"When are we going to get the pet goat?"—Little Chronicle.

Billy and Me.
What is the use of our learning so much. Scraps of dead Latin and scraps of high Dutch?

Amo's "I hate you" and haben's "to be"—What does it matter to Billy and me?

Wicked old kings that are dead—serve 'em right—

"Pitt's Geography, colors in light" "Clipses of Saturn or bones of a bee"—What does it matter to Billy and me?

Res-ratry system or decimal points, Classes of levers as shown in our joints, Height of the mountains or depth of the sea—

What do they matter to Billy and me?

Baseball and knives and ripe apples and string.

Trees we can clamber and stones we can sling.

Swashes, adventures, our dinner and that is what matters to Billy and me!

NORTH SUTTON.

Children's Day exercises at the First Baptist church on Sunday were well attended.

The grading for the new track on the M. C. R. is progressing favorably.

Mr. E. Cockfield paid us a flying visit last week.

We are having a great deal of rain these days.

There was some excitement in the east end last week; two neighbors and a misunderstanding about a horse.

Time has no odd days or holidays in his calendar.

It never is a waste of time to take time to do a thing well.

The football match between Northwood and Bethel teams on Saturday afternoon was a tie, each side scoring one goal.

Peter Osterhout and Wm. Wildblood returned home Saturday from Chatham, where they were acting on the petit jury in the County Court. A large number from here attended the anniversary services at Bethel on Sunday. Anniversary services will be held in the Baptist church here next Sunday. The Rev. Mr. White, of Chatham, will conduct the service both morning and evening.
The O. C. H. C. met and spent a social evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James Reid last Friday evening.
Miss Carrie Osterhout spent a couple of days home last week.
P. D. Campbell started his saw mill this week.

Expert Tea Blending

HAVE you ever tried to blend colors to match the shade of the red rose?

Pretty difficult, yet an expert can do it easily.

Why? Because he can tell by looking at the rose what colors are required to produce that tint or shade. He can make that precise color every day in the week.

Just as the artist in colors blends the tints of the red rose, so my artists in tea blend the "rich fruity flavor" of Red Rose Tea.

With expert knowledge and intuitive skill he selects the particular picking of rich, strong Indian tea and the precise grade of fragrant, delicate Ceylon, and by skilful blending produces the peerless flavor of Red Rose Tea—a tea which for delicacy and strength is matched by no brand of Ceylon alone.

STRICTURE AND KIDNEY DISEASE CURED.
"I had stricture for eleven years. It finally brought on Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. I had an uncomfortable shooting pain in the groin and feeling as though something was in the urethra. My back was weak and I could scarcely stoop over. Urine was full of sediment. Had a desire to urinate frequently. Family doctors, so-called specialists, patent medicines, electric bells, all failed. I was discouraged. I had spent hundreds of dollars in vain. Finally I consulted Dr. Kennedy & Kergan at the last resort. I had heard a great deal about them and concluded from the fact that they had been established over 25 years that they understood their business. I am delighted with the result. In one week I felt better and in a few weeks was entirely cured. Have gained sixteen pounds in weight."

When Sickness Comes to the Little Ones It Is the Mother Who Chiefly Suffers.

She suffers even more than the child who happens to be sick. Her sympathy is deeper than that of any other member of the family that of the mothers look forward with dread to the torrid heat of summer, thinking of their children and the many liabilities to disease that are before them.

Spring and summer are sure to bring ailments, especially among the little folks.

It does not take a mother very long to discover that Peruna is the best friend she has in times of illness among the children.

The doctors may come and go with their different theories and constant change of remedies.

The doctor of years ago gave entirely different remedies than he does today. Each year finds some change in his prescriptions and in the drugs he relies upon.

A Multitude of Mothers Have discovered that Peruna is the stand-by, and that in all the ailments of spring and summer to which the children are subjected, Peruna is the remedy that will most quickly relieve. Whether it is spring fever or stomach derangement, whether it is indigestion or bowel disease, a catarrhal congestion of the mucous surfaces is the cause.

Peruna quickly relieves this condition of the mucous membranes. Its operation is prompt, the children do not dislike to take the medicine, it has no deleterious effects in any part of the body.

It simply removes the cause of the disagreeable symptoms and restores the health.

Peruna is not a physic. Peruna does not produce any drug habit, however long it may be taken. Peruna is not a stimulant.

Peruna is a specific remedy for all catarrhal ailments of winter and summer, acute or chronic.

The mothers all over the United States are the best friends that Peruna has.

The Mothers Hold Peruna in High Esteem.

Not only because it has cured them of their various ailments, but because it always rescues the children from the throes and grasp of catarrhal diseases.

We have in our files hundreds of testimonials from mothers whose children have been cured by Peruna. However, the large majority of mothers who use Peruna, we never hear from.

But we do hear from a great number of mothers who are so overjoyed at some special good they have received from Peruna that they cannot restrain their enthusiasm. They are anxious to share these benefits with other mothers.

T. E. Roden formerly of Blenheim, now in the Birmingham General Hospital, England, where he expected to last week undergo an operation on his knee for tuberculosis of the bone. His surgeons are confident of his ultimate recovery though he will have a permanently stiff knee joint.

Rev. J. P. McQuarrie of Valetta, was completely surprised by a gift of a handsome new buggy from one of his most generous church members on Monday last. The donor is as modest as he is generous and would wish his name withheld and not given the publicity that his generosity deserves. Needless to say Mr. McQuarrie is highly delighted with the gift and will do even better work than he has been doing as a result of this exhibition of love and respect held for him.

The garden party at Gore Hill on Friday night was very successful socially and financially, notwithstanding the rainy weather. The greatest attraction was the singing of Miss Gertrude Hollinsake, leader of the choir in Park St. Methodist Church, Chatham. Miss Hollinsake has a voice of peculiar sweetness with command power and expression. Competent judges say that she is the best soloist west of London. It was a great pleasure to hear her, and an endeavor will be made to secure her presence at some of the church entertainments during the season, Leamington Post.

ARE GRATEFUL TO CLEMENTS

S. S. No. 1, Harwich, Will Now Have A New Flag And Pole

EVENT ON WEDNESDAY

Chatham's most enterprising and up-to-date suburb, S. S. No. 1, Harwich, has taken another step in advance.

Last Winter a largely signed petition was forwarded the Dominion government, through the popular representative, H. S. Clements, M. P., asking that a national flag be furnished all schools in Canada upon their request for same, thus creating a sentiment of patriotism and loyalty.

Mr. Clements finds it impossible to get the measure carrying the petition through the House, but he was so struck with the sentiments conveyed by the petition, that he presented the section with a magnificent flag.

A seventy-five foot flag pole has been secured from the row of ancient cedars planted by the late David Wilson, on the old Wilson homestead, early in the last century.

This and the flag will be raised on the No. 1 school lawn with imposing ceremony, next Wednesday evening.

It is unnecessary to add that the people of No. 1 S. S. feel deeply grateful to Mr. Clements for the interest he has taken in the matter, and anticipate having him along with other local orators at the event.

IS STARVING TO DEATH

Chas Myers, a Lunatic, is in Bad Shape in County Gaol

SHOULD BE TAKEN AWAY

A very sad case is reported from the county jail, and if the facts are as represented, there is work waiting for some humane society, and if some kind person does not soon act a poor lunatic who is now confined there will soon be past all human aid.

A couple of weeks ago a man named Charles Myers was brought into the city and handed over to the gaol authorities as a lunatic. He has been confined in the gaol ever since and although the gaol authorities have been notified, no one has arrived to take him away.

Myers is in very bad shape. He is completely out of his mind and refuses to eat or drink. The authorities at the gaol can not induce him to do either. It is stated that he has eaten nothing since he was committed to gaol and has only had an occasional drink of water.

He refuses to wear clothes, and sits, stripped, in his cell, with his head in his hands, moaning all day long—practically starving to death.

An immediate effort should be made by some one to have the man removed an asylum, for if something is not done soon results may be serious and sudden. It is said that in his present state he cannot last much longer.

CHIEF SARK, MICMAC INDIAN, OF PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.

Magnificent Specimen of Manhood Who Aims to Be to Canadian Indians What Booker T. Washington Is to the Negroes of the United States—Won His Recent Re-Election Through Pure Reasoning.

What Mr. Booker T. Washington is to the negroes of the United States Chief John Sark of Prince Edward Island is trying to be to the Indians of Canada. Well educated for one of his race, of pleasing manner, and the possessor of unusual shrewdness, Chief Sark is beginning to be recognized throughout the Maritime Provinces as one of the most public-spirited men of his race. Though only forty-seven years of age, the chief has exercised his immediate authority over the Micmacs of the Island Province for more than ten years, and as there are more than three hundred of these full-blooded "Americans" under his jurisdiction

CHIEF JOHN SARK,
(Of the Micmac tribe of Indians, Prince Edward Island.)

It will be seen that his position is no sinecure. Recently some ultra-democratic members of the tribe began to air their "republican" ideas in the Government reservation at Lennox Island, claiming that it would be better for all concerned if the chieftainship were abolished. Such a course would necessarily be fatal to the national existence of a roving people, and this danger Chief Sark so successfully explained that he was immediately re-elected for another term. Though only the actual head of the Prince Edward Island Micmacs, the subject of this sketch has always entertained ambitious views regarding the welfare of his race throughout the entire Dominion. Recently he went on an official visit to several upper Canadian chiefs and to the Department of Indian Affairs at Ottawa.

In person Chief Sark is a magnificent specimen of manhood. Though the physical traits of his race are dominant in his face and form, yet a strain of hardy French blood can be noticed in his high forehead and piercing black eyes. His official residence is at Lennox Island, a beautiful spot about ten miles to the west of Summerside, P. E. I. Here upon the 10th day of August every year the chief presides over the ancient festivities which usher in the feast day of the Micmacs' patron saint, St. Anne.

STARS AND PLANETS.

They Give a Faint Idea of the Awful Immensity of Space—Where the Planets Belong.

Some people find a curious difficulty in mentally distinguishing between stars and planets. Again and again they hear that stars are suns and that planets are worlds, that a sun is not a world and that a planet is not a star, and their confusion of mind on the subject remains untouched. Yet the distinction is not really difficult to grasp, and to see it clearly is quite essential to any understanding of the heavens. Our sun is a star, brother to all those twinkling points which lie scattered over the night sky. Our world is not a star, but a planet, sister to the few shining but non-twinkling bright bodies which appear to wander slowly among the stars. The planets belong to our solar system—all of them, without exception, that we are able to see. Other planets belonging to other stars may and doubtless do exist in countless millions throughout the universe, but we have no power to detect their presence. They, like the planets which belong to our sun, shine by the reflected brightness of their particular star, not by their own intrinsic radiance, and so they cannot be seen at a very great distance. Any watcher with eyesight and telescopes such as ours gazing from the region of any star in the sky outside our solar system would see nothing whatever of the planets or the moons of our system. He might make out the sun as a more or less dim star. He would not be able to detect Jupiter or Saturn, still less our little earth. And it must be remembered that every single star in the whole universe lies outside our solar system, with only one exception. That exception is our sun. So by the solar system we mean the little family or kingdom of one star, known to us as the sun, and that star is one of tens of millions of stars which all together make up the enormous stellar system, and that stellar system is doubtless one of very many, perhaps millions, of stellar systems, all of which together make up the created universe, using that word in its older and not in its more modern sense.—Chambers' Journal.

NOVELISTS' GREAT CHARACTER AND SCENES FROM BIBLE.

STORY WRITER'S CONFESSION

High Spiritual Encouragement: In the dramatic story of the Queen of Sheba in the Court of Wise King Solomon—"The One-Half of the Greatness of Thy Wisdom Was Not Told Me."

Los Angeles, Cal., June 17.—In the dramatic story of the Queen of Sheba's experience in the court of the wise King the preacher finds a lesson of high spiritual encouragement. The text is II Chronicles ix, 6, "The one-half of the greatness of thy wisdom was not told me."

It is amazing to find how much the incidents and the thrilling scenes of the Bible are reproduced under other names in the literary masterpieces of the present day. Like the huge trees of the Mariposa grove, which anchored their roots in the soil centuries ago and have lately had tacked upon their bark the names of "Grant," "Lee," "Washington," "Dewey" or "Roosevelt," these old Bible scenes have been rechristened with modern names. But they still remain the same old scenes as the Mariposa trees remain the same old trees, no matter what signboards have been nailed upon their sides. Furthermore, many of our greatest writers attribute the strength of their books to the fact that they have gone to the sacred writers to find their inspirations. "Most of my great characters and scenes have been drawn from Biblical lore," lately wrote an English novelist. "Some people may not recognize their antiquity because they are not Bible students. But these supposed creations of my brain lived thousands upon thousands of years ago, although I have dressed them up in modern clothes and given them Anglo-Saxon names." These are not the identical words of the noted English writer. I cannot remember his exact expression, but they convey his confession just the same.

Now we can find the scene of King Solomon as a young prince, choosing wisdom, reproduced in many different literary masterpieces. Alphonse Lamartine, the great French poet, who died in 1869, gave a beautiful description of it in his story of King Nimrod. The King had three sons. He offered to them three cases, the one of gold, the second of amber, the third of clay. The gold represented "empire," the amber "glory or fame," the third represented "wisdom from God." "Choose!" cried King Nimrod. "Choose!" And when the youngest son chose the case of clay King Nimrod said: "Thou hast chosen well. Thou hast chosen best of all, for the man who chooses 'wisdom' shall wave the sceptre as well as mount the throne of fame."

We find the wonderful Bible character of young Solomon being reproduced in Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice." When the young Hebrew prince stands before God and says, "Give me now wisdom and knowledge that I may go out and come in before this people, for who can judge this people that is so great?" We see to see Portia standing with her three caskets, the one of gold, the other of silver and the third of lead. Then we see the avaricious man reaching for the casket of gold. Then we see the selfish man reaching for the casket of silver. But lastly we see the true lover lifting up the casket of lead. And when Bassanio chose the leaden casket he won all that his heart could wish, for he won fame and honor besides wisdom and love. Thus, as Shakespeare and Lamartine have their heroes lift the vase of clay or the casket of lead, they say: "Well done! Well done, thou sagacious man! All success shall be thine." We seem to hear God speak to the young Prince Solomon these words when he chooses wisdom instead of gold. "Wisdom and knowledge is granted unto thee, and I will give thee riches and wealth and honor such as none of the kings have had that have been before thee, neither shall there be any after thee have the like." Thus the fame and riches of Solomon not only spread through his own country, but also to the farthest parts of this sea.

The scene changes. We are to-day standing in the Davidic capital. There is great excitement everywhere. The royal couriers are riding every whither. The King's guards are marching to the city's gates. The whole capital is in gala day attire. "What is the matter?" you ask. "Why," says a courier, halting his chariot, "do you not know that the beautiful Queen of Sheba from the great nation of the south is coming to visit our King? She has heard so much of the fame of Solomon's wealth and wisdom that she has come to test them with her own eyes and ears. Here she comes with her courtiers now. Make way there. Stand back. There is the King alighting to meet her. Are they not a glorious pair of rulers?" Was not this the welcome that was given to the Queen of Sheba when she came to prove Solomon with hard questions?

You know the rest of the story. After the Queen of Sheba had seen all and heard all and communed with Solomon all that was in her heart, she turned to him and said, "It was a true report which I heard in mine own land of thine acts and of thy wisdom." Yes, the reports of Solomon's wisdom were great, but they were not exaggerated. Indeed, they were understated. For after the Queen of Sheba had gone on enumerating what she had heard, she comes out in the words of my text, "The one-half of the greatness of thy wisdom was not told me." Now as the wisdom of King Solomon has always been used by the pulpits commentators as a symbol of God's wisdom, I thought to-day I would try to tell you in a humble way a little about that divine wisdom. Truly, like King Solomon, God's wisdom is a wisdom which passeth all understanding.

King Solomon stands as the symbol of the "All Knowing One." He was the wisest of all men. The Bible distinctly declares it. Not only were all the secrets of the past ages to him an open book, but he was the reader of men's mind and the prober of the innermost secrets of their hearts before they had opened their lips to speak to him a word. You all know how the wisdom of King Solomon was first tested by the Queen of Sheba before she came to the Jerusalem capital to visit the wisest of all men. Legend tells us that she first sent a letter to Solomon by her ambassadors. Accompanying these ambassadors she sent 500 youths dressed as maidens and 500 maidens dressed as youths. Then she sent a challenge and a diamond intricately pierced. Then, writes Dr. Kitt, the letter was supposed to read thus: "As a true prophet thou wilt be able to separate the maidens from the boys, perforate the diamond and fill the goblet with water that hath not dropped from the clouds nor gushed forth from the earth beneath." Legend tells us further that King Solomon told the ambassadors the contents of the letter before it was opened. Then he solved the three riddles in the following way: First he placed a basin of water before each youth and maiden, and by the way they washed he was able to distinguish the boys from the girls. Second, he threaded the intricately pierced diamond by compelling a small worm to crawl through the crystal labyrinth, while there was tied to the body of the worm a small silken thread. Thirdly, he filled the gold goblet with water which had not fallen from the heavens above or gushed up from the waters beneath by driving a cork around and flanks were covered with foam and filled the goblet to the brim. These examples of the wisdom of Solomon may be only fables; but, whether they are fables or not, one fact we do know, and that is that the wisdom of King Solomon stands as a type or the all knowing wisdom, the wisdom of an omniscient, all seeing God.

Is it not a blessed satisfaction to you that God knows everything? The world for years may have been misjudging and condemning us, not because it is an unjust world at heart, but simply because its knowledge is so meager. How differently we would treat our own dear ones if we only knew the true conditions of their lives. I think the saddest remark ever heard of was one making was by a dear member of my church. She was lying in bed about to die of a cancer. One day she looked up and said: "I wonder if God will ever forgive me for being irritable and fault-finding to my children. I sometimes think I was not to blame for being cross. I sometimes think that this cancer has been working upon me and undermining my system for years and years. I did not know it, and my irritability was due to my sickness and not because my nature was naturally cross." Ah, yes, the world may not know the causes of our actions, but God knows. Is it not a blessed thought that God knows your every thought and your every action and does not misinterpret your actions as the world so often does. He knows all. Yes, all.

King Solomon, in the next place, was not a man of blood. He was not the central figure of sanguinary battle-fields. His chief martial interest was not the bugle to sound forth the clarion call to arms. He was the prince of peace. He was the creator and the developer of a nation's industries during an era when the sword was turned into a ploughshare and the spear into a pruning hook. Like Moses, bringing forth water from Horeb, King Solomon lifted his magic wand and struck the hard bowlders of national finance, and at once there gushed forth rivers of molten gold. Work, work, work, there seemed to be plenty of work in his kingdom. There was work for everybody and high wages and prosperity for all. As we wander to-day over the hillsides we find them covered with orchards. The trees are bending so low under the weight of the fruit that the branches have to be propped up. When we go down into the valleys we find them covered with the golden headed harvest. When we go down to the seashore we hear the heavy tramp of the sailors whose ships have come from Tarshish. The busy marts are crowded with merchantmen. The fat, well fed cattle are upon a thousand hills. The long caravans, heavy laden with gold and silver and ivory and precious spices and silks and rare treasures of all sorts, are crossing the deserts from the east and the south. Ah, yes, never was there such an era of prosperity as that of the Solomonian reign. Read the ninth chapter of Kings and second chapter of Ecclesiastes if you would know what was the extent of that prosperity. "So I was great." That alludes not only to his own individual greatness, but also to the greatness of his people. And increased more than all that were before me in Jerusalem. Also my wisdom remained with me. And whatsoever mine eyes desired I kept not from them. I withheld not my heart from any joy, for my heart rejoiced in the love of my labor, and this was the portion of all my labor. Thus my friends, as the harvests began to grow in the fields and the fruits began to ripen in the orchards and the gold and silver and the ivory and the precious stones and the silks were brought from foreign lands into the Hebrew capital on account of the wisdom of the King can we not feel that all our temporal prosperity is directly due to the great Prince of Peace, whom we call our Saviour, Jesus Christ?

But King Solomon not only stands as the divine type of a great and powerful King, a friend to the great and the powerful of his realm, but he is also the symbol of a just King, looking after the rights of the helpless and the weak. Solomon was not only willing to take by the hand the great and the powerful and call him brother, but he was also willing to put his arm about the helpless, the friendless and the weak and say: "I am thy friend. I am thy protector." And no man, no woman, could be so poor and helpless but they could always come to him and find true justice.

You cannot understand what Solomon justice means unless you in imagination go and see one of the Oriental rulers holding court in the Far East. Now, the eastern court was not like the western courts. The king did not appoint certain judges to dispense justice, but on certain days they themselves went into a large open audience place as the great moguls of Delhi used to do. Perhaps the best description for you this audience place of King Solomon by describing for you the Judgment Hall of Akbar the Great as I saw it. This audience place, literally speaking, is no hall at all. The blue dome of heaven is its ceiling. The pillared columns of marble, which find their anchorage in the walls, are of mosaic floors, merely lift themselves up for adornment and not to support any roof. This reception hall was once one mass of jewels and precious stones. These precious stones were not tossed together in heaps of the Italian hot carter tumblers bricks into a pile. They were arranged in most exquisite designs with reference to size and color. There in jewels the artist pictured the plumage of the birds strutting about in the gardens and the colors of the flowers lifting up their red lips to be kissed by the setting sun and of the rainbows playing among the fountains. There in this wonderland was the peacock throne upon which Akbar the Great sat, which throne alone was supposed to be worth $15,000,000. It was in such an open hall of justice that King Solomon used to sit, and any one who wished could come direct to the King and get justice.

Let us for a little while enter the Jerusalem court to-day. The great Hebrew King has been hearing applicant after applicant. He begins to look weary with his work. No sooner is his last case finished than he turns sharply and says, "Who is next?" With that two women come forward. They are both immoral and bad women, yet each laid claim to a little boy as her own. What did King Solomon do? Did he say: "It makes no difference how the judgment goes. They are only social outcasts anyway." Oh, no, that was not Solomon's way. He said to himself: "I must help the true mother. I must give her back her baby. So I must be sure and make a right decition. I can only do this by a subterfuge."

Then he turns in an indifferent way and says to the executioner: "Don't let us be bothered any more about this matter. Let us hasten to the gallows. Cut the baby in two and give each claimant a half." The true mother at once falls on her knees and begins to beg for the life of her child. "Oh, my King, my King, my good King!" she said. "Save the life of my baby. Let this woman have the child if necessary, but save my baby alive." The other woman uttered not one word of protest. She merely turned and said: "All right. Let the King kill the child, that it be neither Jew nor Gentile. Let this woman have the child if necessary, but save my baby alive." The other woman uttered not one word of protest. She merely turned and said: "All right. Let the King kill the child, that it be neither Jew nor Gentile. Let this woman have the child if necessary, but save my baby alive." The other woman uttered not one word of protest. She merely turned and said: "All right. Let the King kill the child, that it be neither Jew nor Gentile. Let this woman have the child if necessary, but save my baby alive."

When we talk about King Solomon blessing his own people we also find Christ the Saviour of the Jew. When we find King Solomon welcoming the Queen of Sheba to his court, we find Christ the Saviour of the Gentiles as well. Jesus did not simply come to a Hebrew Christ. He came to be a world's Christ. Can you not find this symbol in the glorious welcome which the ruler of the Davidic capital gave to this beautiful, dusky Queen of the southland?

"Oh, what is the use of bothering with the Queen of Sheba?" I hear some of the Cabinet Ministers say to the King. "She is from a country way off to the south. We can never get any trade from her. If there was a canal cut through the Suez isthmus, that might be different. But all intercourse with that nation must come overland by camel back through regions infested with robbers. Why do we not turn and court the affections of those nearer at home?" "Ah," methinks I can hear the great King say, "if we can help any people we must help them all alike. All who will come to me I will help, whether they be Jews or Gentiles, whether they be whites or blacks, whether they be men or women. They shall all be treated alike." And so, standing amid swaying palms and the incense bearing servants and amid the bowing courtiers of the welcoming King, I learn that when we go forth to Christian work we are not to hem in our gospel invitations by any nationality or by any one social class. We must carry the gospel to all peoples of all climes.

Now comes the practical question. Are you and I willing to come to our Saviour King, as did the Queen of Sheba, who sat at the feet of King Solomon? Are we ready like this Queen of my text, to bring our priceless gifts? Are we ready to come and bow at the feet of Jesus and give to him the most priceless of gifts—namely, the gift of our earthly lives and of our eternal souls? Oh, my friends, if we continue sinners, how much longer will we be in the country, do you believe we will ever be able to come and sit at the Master's feet in the new Jerusalem?

Immortal, travelling this road of death, when are thou going to spend eternity? Queen of the Land of Sin, wilt thou leave the far country and come and bow at King Solomon's feet in the Davidic capital? Down on thy knees, immortal! And then when thou hast uttered the publican's prayer, King will lift thee and call thee his child and thy brow will wear a royal coronet. And then—what then? The glory of that moment no human lip may describe. The half of that eternal triumph has never been told and never will be told until, like the Queen of Weight of the World.

The world is to be weighed once more, doubts being entertained by scientists as to the accuracy of previous estimates, but whether the error be a case of short weight or over weight has yet to be settled. So an expedition is set out to Egypt, where, strange as it sounds, the great pyramid will be utilized by the investigators. First the weight of the pyramid will be ascertained, and then the weight of the earth estimated from its proportionate size. The swinging of pendulums will be the gauge, for the pendulum is affected by the power of attraction exerted by a large or small body—a mere question of arithmetic to the man of science. From the force exerted by the pyramid in pulling the swinging pendulum from its natural course the weight of the pyramid can be estimated, and that of the earth—the exact size of which is known—can then be easily calculated.

Identification For Warships.

The German admiralty has resolved upon furnishing ships of war with means for recognizing each other's identity at distances too great for reading the name of the vessel. This is to be effected by the use of rings or bands on the chimneys, each differing in number and color. The colors used will be black, white, red and yellow. According to several liberal German journals, the ships of the opposing squadrons frequently mistook a friend for an enemy during the recent manoeuvres, owing to the absence of any means of identification.

MORE LORD'S DAY BILL

Section Four, re Sunday Labor, Discussed For Hours.

But the Section Stands Over—Premier's Insistence on Park Closing Clause of Bill Brings Forth a Phillipic From Mr. Bourassa—The Original Clause Carries—Censure of the Moncton Land Deal Voted Down.

Ottawa, June 22.—After fifteen hours of hard work in committee yesterday the House decided to rest from its labors on the Lord's Day bill. The progress so far has been unsatisfactory.

Nearly all of the day was consumed in discussing section four, which, in substance, provides that any employer who requires an employee to work on Sunday must give him twenty-four consecutive hours of rest during the next six days.

After hours of effort, the Minister of Justice asked to have this section stand over, and the committee proceeded to section five, which deals with the matter of closing parks on Sunday. The Premier's insistence upon this clause brought forth a philippic from Mr. Bourassa. He spoke dramatically, and at times he quivered with passion.

In the morning Henry Bourassa submitted two amendments, making additional exemptions in favor of the driving of logs on Sunday and the saving of crops on Sunday.

Louis Lavergne offered another amendment to permit Sunday labor in the sugar bush.

Sunday Labor. Mr. Aylesworth said that the bill was intended to give 24 consecutive hours of rest.

In the afternoon, Mr. Bourassa moved an hour-for-hour amendment. Ralph Smith moved another amendment to provide that Sunday labor under two hours should not entitle the worker to a full 24-hour rest day. Mr. Pringle (Cornwall and Stormont) offered a substitute. He allowed 24 consecutive hours of rest, but they might commence or terminate on Sunday.

Mr. Aylesworth said that the employer who requires his employee to work on Sunday was compelled to give him a holiday during the week. But although the employer "must give" the holiday, the employee was not compelled to "take it."

Section four will stand for the present.

Parks and Games.

Section five, forbidding any parks to be open to the public where an admission fee is charged, and forbidding any game or contest for a prize or reward, aroused a double-barrelled opposition.

Mr. Rivet (Montreal) moved an amendment permitting parks to be open "where authorized by provincial or municipal authority."

Mr. Taylor (Leeds) moved an amendment forbidding any person to witness the same.

Sir Wilfrid's Dilemma. Sir Wilfrid Laurier refused both amendments. He could not yield everything demanded by the Protestants of Ontario or by the Catholics of Quebec. Last year he had been accused of being ridden by Shearer.

Mr. Bourassa made an impassioned reply. Sir Wilfrid Laurier was destroying the great work of his life. The keystone of our national fabric is toleration; each race, creed, and province must respect the others. He favored the law, but each province should be at liberty to administer, regulate or suspend it to meet the religious views and social customs of the people.

The amendments were voted down, and the section passed as reported by the committee.

Sunday Excursions.

Mr. Connée (Rainy River) opposed section six forbidding Sunday excursions. Mr. Pringle said the bill as agreed upon by the committee only forbade "organized" excursions. Why had this word been dropped in reprinting the bill? He insisted that Mr. Shearer had no objection to the amendment. Mr. Aylesworth refused to accept it.

The Moncton Land Deal.

Upon motion to go into supply Mr. Ames (Moncton) offered a resolution of censure respecting the Moncton land deal, which he denounced as a glaring instance of the ruse of which followed all dealings between Matthew Lodge and Mr. Emmerson's department.

Mr. Fielding said that at the time he purchased the land he believed that he was getting a splendid bargain. He made a sweeping denial of any corrupt action on his part.

Mr. Foster (North Toronto), opined that a nod was as good as a wink to a blind person. Mr. Lodge was a sharp fellow and Mr. Emmerson was no fool. The Minister admittedly gave the tip to Lodge that the Government was going to buy.

Mr. Fielding said that Moncton real estate was rapidly growing in value. It was to be the terminus of the G. T. P., and that fact had boomed the city.

R. L. Borden thought that Mr. Fielding was easily satisfied. He wished to believe that Mr. Lodge by blind chance had bought lot after lot in Moncton until he controlled some 18 acres, and that by equally blind chance the Government had not only purchased the lots just acquired by Mr. Lodge, and stranger still, had purchased neither more nor less than what Lodge was prepared to sell.

Upon division Mr. Ames' motion of censure was lost—yeas, 46; nays, 89. Mr. Bourassa was not present. Mr. Verville voted with the Government.

RAW BLEEDING SCALY ECZEMA

Looked More Like Piece of Raw Beef Than Human Being—Doctors Useless—Blessed Relief and First Real Sleep in Weeks After First Application, and

SPEEDY CURE BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"Words cannot describe the terrible eczema I suffered with. I was almost a solid mass of sores from head to foot, and looked more like a piece of raw beef than a human being. Blood and pus oozed from a great sore on my scalp, from under my finger-nails, and nearly all over my body, and every hair in my head fell out. I could not sit down, for my clothes would stick to the raw and bleeding flesh, making me cry out with pain. My doctor did all he could, but I got worse and worse. I did not think I could live, and wanted death to end my frightful sufferings."

"My mother-in-law begged me to try Cuticura. I said I would, but had no hope of recovery. But oh, what blessed relief I experienced after applying Cuticura Ointment. It cooled the bleeding and itching flesh, and brought me the first real sleep in weeks. It was as grateful as ice to a burning tongue. I would bathe with warm water and Cuticura Soap, then apply the Ointment freely, and took the Resolvent for the blood. Soon the sores stopped running, the flesh began to heal, my hair started to grow, and in a short time I was completely cured. If anyone doubts this, tell them to write to me.—Mrs. Wm. Hunt, 135 Thomas St., Newark, N. J., Jan. 11, 1905."

"Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humour, from Pimples to Scrofula, from Itchiness to Eczema, consisting of Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Resolvent (also in form of Chocolate Coated Pills in trial of 6¢), may be had of all druggists. A single use often cures. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Boston, Mass. 10¢ Mail Order. "How to Cure Every Humour."

Section four will stand for the present.

ville. Witness said that when he told Lord Strathcona last April that he did not know the names of the North Atlantic Trading Co., he was candid with Lord Strathcona.

The papers in the Arundel Printing Co., the North Atlantic Trading Co., the Leopold affair, and the George T. Merwin matter were ordered to be reported to the House.

Paid Double For Tobacco.

Ottawa, June 22.—At the afternoon meeting of the Arctic committee, Capt. Bernier was again on the stand, and it developed that there was considerable ill-feeling between him and Major Moodie. W. F. Cockshutt (Brandon) testified that T. & B. tobacco was worth 87 cents per pound, including excise duty. The Government bought it for the Arctic at the rate of $1.34 a pound.

A TORONTO MAN TRIES Something New and is Delighted Feels Like a Boy.

Mr. M. N. Dafeo, Manager The Dustless Brush Co., 29 Colborne St., Toronto, is telling his friends how he found health after years of illness and pain. He says: "I have been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia for many years. I have been treated by a local doctor and have taken nearly all the advertised remedies, with only temporary relief, if any at all, but since using Anti-Pill I can eat anything the same as when a boy. I have been taking one Anti-Pill at bedtime for the past three months, and find the regularity both in my stomach and bowels. My old-time vigor has returned, so that my spirits are buoyant and temper normal. As a result of this unhopful for experience I am in duty bound to give all credit to this wonderful remedy, Anti-Pill."

Every druggist sells Dr. Leonard's Anti-Pill, or a sample will be sent free by The Wilson-Fyle Co., Niagara Falls, Ont.

The remedy that cured Mr. Dafeo so completely is surely worth a trial.

ANECDOTES OF DAVITT.

A Moonlighter's Joke On Organizer of Irish Land League—Story Told By William O'Brien, M. P.

In his "Recollections" William O'Brien, M. P., relates this story concerning his confrere, the late Michael Davitt, the organizer of the Irish Land League, when the latter was carrying on a campaign against the moonlight outrages so prevalent in the south of Ireland a few years ago.

The principal form the outrages took was the destruction of cattle belonging to Lord—, and the moonlighters took the ingenious vengeance of taking as well as killing the cattle in order to deprive Lord— of all evidence.

After a speech in which the orator denounced the moonlighters roundly to a crowd Mr. Davitt was entertained at dinner in the local hotel. After dinner he was waited upon by a group of stalwart young men, the ring-leader of whom said:

"That was a fine speech of yours to-day, Mr. Davitt. You were a bit hard on the boys, but they have no grudge against you for it. I hope you made a good dinner anyway."

"Never at a primer piece of beef in my life," replied the politician.

"I'm not surprised at that," remarked the moonlighter captain; "it was the best cut off one of Lord—'s but locks!"

He Spoke the Gaelic.

A good story of Michael Davitt was revived by the Illustrated-London News apropos of the publication of his book, "The Boer Fight For Freedom."

The story relates to one of Davitt's speeches as organizer of the Irish Land League and runs as follows:

"He lashed his large audience into a sort of frenzy by his strictures upon English rule and Irish slavery. During his most impassioned and eloquent, if least loyal, passage he was interrupted by the arrival of the Government short hand reporter, who dashed up on an outside 'jaunting car' accompanied by three members of the Irish constabulary with rifles and side arms fixed.

The fresh arrival immediately prepared to take down the words that were being barked from the man who was at that time second to none, including Charles Stewart Parnell, as the chosen of the people. Davitt paused and gazed at his new hearer, who awaited him, note-book and pencil in hand, and then, turning to a mass of upturned faces, he finished his peroration in the wild eloquence of his native language, and heaven knows what treason he emitted, for certainly the Government reporter did not, as he gazed blankly at the speaker. The audience understood and appreciated his purport, expressing their approbation in wild and unbounded screams and shouts."

No man can be happy all to himself.

MUSIC AT SEA.

Conditions Under Which Ships' Sails Sometimes Sing.

Some curious facts have been noted with regard to the sound conducting qualities of ships' sails. When rendered concave by a gentle breeze, the widespread sails of a ship are said to be excellent conductors of sound.

A ship was once sailing along the coast of Brazil, far out of sight of land. Suddenly several of the crew, while walking along the deck, noticed that when passing and repassing a particular spot they always heard with great distinctness the sound of bells chiming sweet music, as though being rung but a short distance away.

Dumfounded by this phenomenon, they quickly communicated the discovery to their shipmates, but none of them was able to solve the enigma as to the origin of these seemingly mysterious sounds which came to them across the water.

Months afterward, upon returning to Brazil, the crew determined to satisfy their curiosity. Accordingly they mentioned the circumstance to their friends and were informed that at the time when the sounds were heard the bells in the cathedral of San Salvador, on the coast, had been ringing to celebrate a feast held in honor of one of the saints.

Their sound, wonderful to relate, favored by a gentle, steady breeze, had traveled a distance of upward of 100 miles over the smooth water and had been brought to a focus by the sails at the particular locality in which the sweet sounds were first heard.

This is but one of several instances of a similar kind, trustworthy authorities claiming that this same music is often heard under somewhat the same circumstances and especially in a moisture laden atmosphere—London Tit-Bits.

An overplus of knowledge cannot always be regarded as valuable.

SPORT

The Shamrocks, of Chatham, met the Wallaceburg Juniors in a good lacrosse contest on Tecumseh Park last evening. The ground was in a heavy condition, making fast play impossible but, under these disadvantageous circumstances both teams performed very creditably. The game was the Shamrock's right from the commencement, Wallaceburg only obtaining one good shot on goal and that from the centre of the field. The disparity between the two teams became more noticeable as the game advanced and the final score of 6-0 in favor of the local boys was a fair reflex on the play.

For the Shamrocks, Downey, Holmes and McDonald, on the home, played well, and Poole and Higley, on the defense, worked wonders. To Tom Poole, who made one of the best field captains seen here for some time, the honors of the game must go, his Trojan-like exertions mainly accounting for the heavy defeat of the visitors.

The Chippewas and Shamrocks play a practice game on Tecumseh Park, Monday evening, at 6.30.

The game between Wallaceburg and the Chippewas which was scheduled for last evening, was called off, Wallaceburg claiming that they could not raise a team.

The Chippewas would like to arrange games with any outside teams, Dresden and Wallaceburg preferred.

FOOTBALL

Bridge End and Crow's Dock play a game on the Park this evening. Both teams are strong and in first-class condition and a fast game is expected. Kick-off at 6.45 p. m.
