Special Session of Town Council

Newcastle Town Council met in special session Thursday evening, 12th instant, Mayor Doyle in the chair. Aldermen present—R. W. Crocker, W. L. Durick, C. B. Fish, T. J. Jeffrey, A. H. MacKay, P. Russell, and C. Sargeant.

Town Clerk read a letter from the DaVere Aviation school offering to give an aeroplane demonstration here for $200.

It was moved that the communication be referred to the Board of Merchants. Ald. Fish reported that he had found that the lower end of George Street was ten feet narrower than it should be. It should be widened.

Ald. Sargeant said that the owner had sometime ago expressed willingness to give up the land necessary to make the street of proper width.

On motion of Ald. Durick and Sargeant, the matter was referred to the Public Works Committee.

The deeds of Alexander, Margaret and George street from Mrs. Wait and John Ferguson, in hand, were ordered recorded.

Ald. Fish noted that the night police was off duty without permission of the Police Committee.

The chief of Police said that he had given the night man permission to stay off a night or two, as the latter had some special business to attend to.

After further discussion, the whole police matter was sent back to the Police Committee.

Ald. Fish read a letter from the G. W. V. A. recommending R. J. Adair as night policeman.

Ald. Durick thought that the temporary appointment of the present night man should be either made permanent or terminated. He thought that the letter of the G. W. V. A. was a little strong. He was willing to give the G. W. V. A. any public office that was open.

Ald. Fish thought returned men should have the preference.

On motion of Ald. Durick applications for night policeman were read, from Ex-policeman J. J. Gallich, E. Vickers, Wesley McDonald and Henry Copp.

The Police Committee was authorized to engage special constables for Circus Day.

Terrific Electrical Storm

Saturday evening's wind and electric storm between six and seven o'clock during which the rain fell in torrents, was especially noticed on the Northwest Miramichi. Peter O'Shea's house and farm in Soregite were destroyed by lightning, only some of the furniture being saved. No one was hurt.

In Cassilis Charles Hubbard's house was struck by lightning. The side was knocked off near the flue, both corner posts were split and some shingles torn off. Then the bolt passed inside the house ripping off a lot of plaster, but doing no other damage. Telephone posts and trees throughout Cassilis were struck in many places.

At Whitneyville the wind, for a few minutes, developed into a cyclone, destroying seven buildings and uprooting many trees before its fury was spent. Two of Melvin Stewart's big barns and one older one were lifted off their foundations and broken to pieces. Enley Mullin's two barns recently erected were also completely blown down. Mrs. Colin Whitney's barn went down in the same storm; and also an old barn, about a mile away, which stood on the bank of the old Millstream.

Picnic in Honor of North Shore Heroes

The afternoon of the king's birthday was a memorable occasion for the village of Millerton, where a picnic was given to the returned soldiers of the district and vicinity by the Oddfellows and Rebekahs of Douglastown, Chatham and Loggville, and to many invited guests of Millerton, Newcastle, Chatham, Douglastown, Nelson and other places by the Oddfellows and Rebekahs of Millerton, assisted by many friends of that village. About two hundred guests sat down to supper on the beautiful grounds of Councillor John W. Vanderbeck, freely loaned for the occasion. At the head of the table were John Betts, master of ceremonies, Rev. H. T. Montgomery and W. McN. Matthews, and Mr. J. L. Stewart of Chatham. Then came the returned soldiers, then the visiting Oddfellows and Rebekahs, then the other guests. A sumptuous repast was served.

The returned soldiers were welcomed in a neat speech by Mr. Betts, who then read them an address.

Then followed an address by J. L. Stewart, a veteran Oddfellow, who spoke on the growth of Oddfellowship, of which this year is the centenary. When he had become an Oddfellow, he said there was but one lodge in New Brunswick, now there were more than eighty. There was no lodge on the North Shore when he came to Chatham; now there were many.

The following soldiers were present: Millerton and vicinity—James Thurber, Alexander Esson, Hubert Parker, Lieut. Malcolm Amos, David Crocker, Archibald Harper, Fred Crocker, Archibald Harper, Fred Crocker, Private Matthews, Ernest Simpson, Jack Price, Able Fry and Clarence Crocker. From other districts—Lieut. J. G. McKnight, R. W. Watson, Ernest Treadwell, Richard Mather, Robert Adair, Willard McCullum, Perley Johnston, William Matchett, H. Malmberg, A. Crastin, William Bransfield, J. Rasmussen, J. Edmunds and others.

Excellent music was furnished by the Newcastle Brass Band during the afternoon and evening.

After tea sports were enjoyed under the management of Councillor Vanderbeck. Some of the prizes were as follows:

Boys' Sack Race—Allan Carter, First Boys' Flat Race—Allan Carter 1st; Earl Parker, 2nd.

First Men's Flat Race—Wm. Bransfield.

Second Men's Flat Race—Wm. Simpson.

Health Shown By Finger Nails

A French physician, Dr. R. Sabouraud, of Paris, has made the study of finger-nails his life-work. Among other things he has discovered that by means of your nails you can tell not only whether you are in poor health, but whether you are going to be ill.

Many people have noticed white markings on their fingernails, but few realize that they are danger signals. According to Dr. Sabouraud, they signify either nervousness, skin trouble or the early stage of tuberculosis. They are often to be seen on the hands of people suffering from gonorrhoea.

Marbled nails are more frequent in women than in men, but with the latter they have more significance. They are not a grave symptom, for you will often find them on persons in good health. But they indicate a probability of some trouble or other developing in the course of time.

In short, concludes Dr. Sabouraud, the existence of marbled nails is a danger signal, not only demonstrating in the apparently healthy a latent weakness, but also in conditions of poor health an augury that serious results may ensue.

May Lower The Price of Tobacco

Montreal, June 11.—To prepare for the general tariff revision promised by Sir Thomas White in his budget speech last week, the Canadian tobacco industry was organized last night into the Dominion Cigar and Tobacco Association.

The organization meeting was held at the Windsor Hotel and the manufacturing, wholesale, jobbing and retail interests of the country were well represented.

The new association, it is stated, will work for tariff revision, which will bring down the present prices of smokes to the smoker, the present government imports both in duties and excises representing one of the heaviest costs of tobacco to the consumer.

Take it from the holiday fishermen, there are better fish in the sea (or river, or lake) than ever were caught.

Double Wedding At Marysville

A very pretty double wedding took place at St. Andrew's R. C. Church June 3rd, when Rev. Father Murphy united in marriage Hubert Dunbar son of Mr. James Dunbar of South Devon and Miss Julia L. Chambers daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. F. Chambers of Marysville the bride looked charming in a Belgium blue satin dress and wore veil and orange blossoms and carried bridal roses.

On the same day Rev. Father Murphy united in marriage Leo J. Chambers son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. F. Chambers and Miss Mary E. Owens daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Owens.

The bride looked lovely in a white satin dress and also a veil and orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet. A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Chambers for the bridal parties.

LEMONS MAKE SKIN WHITE, SOFT, CLEAR

Make this beauty lotion for a few cents and see for yourself.

What girl or woman hasn't heard of lemon juice to remove complexion blemishes, to whiten the skin and to bring out the roses, the freshness and the hidden beauty? But lemon juice alone is acid, therefore irritating, and should be mixed with orchard white this way. Strain through a fine cloth the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing about three ounces of orchard white, then shake well and you have a whole quart pint of skin and complexion lotion at about the cost one usually pays for a small jar of ordinary cold cream. Be sure to strain the lemon juice so no pulp gets into the bottle, then this lotion will remain pure and fresh for months. When applied daily to the face, neck, arms and hands it should help to bleach, clear, smoothen and beautify the skin.

Any druggist will supply three ounces of orchard white at very little cost and the grocer has the lemons.

Used a Gas Mask and Ch'oroform to end Life

Moncton, June 10.—Utilizing the gas mask of her brother recently returned from overseas, and administering a heavy dose of chloroform, was the tragic and shocking means by which Mrs. Samuel J. Mann, the young wife of the manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, at River Hebert (N. S.), ended her life at the home of her mother, Mrs. Nelson L. Rand here this morning. After other members of the family had left the house, Mrs. Rand, noticing that her daughter was considerably later than usual in rising, went to her room and was shocked to find her cold in death.

Expect Ten To Fifteen Bolters

Ottawa, June 12—Speculation as to the effect on parliament of the speeches on the budget made yesterday by Hon. J. A. Calder and Hon. T. A. Cresser, leads to the conclusion on the part of the majority of members of parliament that when the division on the McMaster amendment is taken the defections will leave the government with a majority of thirty, or thereabouts, on the division. Saskatchewan is expected to supply the largest number of bolters from the Unionist side with Manitoba and Alberta each supplying a lesser number. Fred Pardee, who was chief Liberal whip under Sir Wilfred Laurier, previous to the last election, is expected to vote with the opposition. Hon. W. S. Fielding has so far been keeping his own counsel but there are many who think that he will line up behind the McMaster amendment.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer stated in the House of Commons that the net cost of the war to the United Kingdom up to March 31 was $6,700,000,000.

O. Turgeon, M. P. Speaks Out In Tariff Debate

In the tariff debate in the House of Commons on Monday O. Turgeon, M. P., Gloucester, was one of the chief speakers. He said, in part:

Mr. Speaker, this is a time of thought and of reflection. As the representative of a farming and fishing constituency, which has also other elements of industry, and as having at heart the interests of Canada at large, I wish to make my position clear before the house and the country. I am a Liberal of the school of Cobden and Gladstone; I am a free-trader, in the essence of the word, just as much today as I was a year ago, two years ago, twenty years ago. The time has come when the social and financial conditions in Canada are such that the consumer and the workman should no longer be obliged to pay all the expenses of government. That is a British Liberal principle, and for free trade, as far as its adoption is practicable, today, tomorrow, next year or the year after, I am for a diminution of the tariff in every direction to every practical extent, so that in the course of a few years Canada may depend upon income taxation, and the taxation of land values and of objects of luxury for the necessary revenue to administer the country's affairs.

We talk of tariff for revenue and tariff for protection. A tariff for revenue is necessary, at times. It should be imposed upon objects of luxury; it should fall upon commodities not produced in the country, so that no privileged interest may take advantage of it. It should not rest merely upon the poor man or the workman in the city. In its policy of protection the Conservative party has always been proud in declaring that they wanted to raise up towns and cities in Canada. But if you want to develop towns and cities, you must first develop the farming industry. Improve the state of the farmer, make him happy and contented, and his sons will remain on the land. But if you do not enable the farmer to enjoy life; if you do not better his conditions, the young men will leave the farm to go to the cities; and the result will be not the raising up and development of towns and cities, but the increasing of non-employment. A tariff for revenue allows goods to come into the country; a tariff for protection stops goods from coming into the country. And under a tariff for protection the manufacturer, knowing that the twenty-five or thirty per cent duty prevents the foreign manufacturer from sending his goods into Canada, adds a corresponding amount to the price of his goods and makes the enormous profit referred to a while ago—and the people of the country, the workmen, have to bear the burden.

HAIG EMPHASIZES.
London, June 12.—(Reuter)—Speaking at Mercer's Hall, where the freedom of the Mercey's Company was conferred upon him, and Admiral Beatty, Field Marshal Haig emphasized the completeness of Germany's military surrender. He said that to have pressed forward after the great culminating defeat of the Germans on the Somme, November 4, 1918, would have meant further loss of life, destruction of property, and expenditure of money, which it could not have rendered Germany any more belated in a military sense than she was today, with her army disarmed, her transports and airplanes surrendered, and the crossings of the Rhine held by the Allies.

THE MAKING OF A FAMOUS MEDICINE

A visit to the laboratory where this successful remedy is made impresses even the casual looker-on with the reliability, accuracy, skill and cleanliness which attend the making of this great medicine for woman's ills.

Over 350,000 pounds of various herbs are used annually and all have to be gathered at the season of the year when their natural juices and medicinal substances are at their best.

The most successful solvents are used to extract the medicinal properties from these herbs.

Every utensil and tank that comes in contact with the medicine is sterilized and as a final precaution in cleanliness the medicine is pasteurized and sealed in sterile bottles.

It is the wonderful combination of roots and herbs, together with the skill and care used in its preparation which has made this famous medicine so successful in the treatment of female ills.

The letters from women who have been restored to health by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which we are continually publishing attest to its virtue.

Court Martial Sentences Severe

The finding of the general court martial which sat at St. John a few weeks ago to try officers alleged to be concerned in the canteen irregularities of the 1st Depot Battalion, New Brunswick Regt., reached district headquarters Thursday afternoon, together with its confirmation from Ottawa authorities. The penalties handed out were as follows: Lieut. Col. James L. McAvity, cashiered; Major Frank H. Rowe, severely reprimanded; Captain G. Earle Logan, dismissed from the army; Lieut. John H. Belyca, cashiered, and also to undergo six months' imprisonment; Company Sergt. Major Wm. Rawlings, reduced to the ranks; Lieut. Simms and Captain Ington were previously acquitted by the court while sitting at St. John.

Severe Sentences

The promulgation of the sentences imposed by general court martial which tried the charges arising out of the 1st N. B. Battalion will interest many in New Brunswick on account of the wide circle of acquaintances which the accused have. The sentences are severe but severity was not unexpected according to those in a position to know. There is much sympathy for those officers who suffer because they tried to shield others through friendship.

What is involved

Cashiering prevents the officer cashed from ever re-entering the military service of his country in any capacity. During the war just ended there have been a few instances of exceptions to this rule on account of exceptional services under an assumed name or in an Allied army. Dismissal from the service is slightly milder than cashiering but prevents the dismissed officer from ever re-summing commissioned rank. A reprimand will always stand against the military record of an officer. The reduction to the ranks of a warrant officer amounts to the loss of all promotions which he has received in military life and always will stand against his future progress.

SMALL CHILD HAS FEET LARGE AS A MAN

There is no doubt that little Virginia, Sorogins, of Rockwell, Texas, has the largest feet of any baby in the world. Virginia is two years old and is beginning to walk around the house. Instead of wearing a tiny piggy baby shoe, Virginia wears what would be a No. 10 of men's sizes if such "baby" shoes could be bought in the stores. Her feet are fully ten inches in length and are four inches across the instep. Mrs. Sorogins declares when Virginia was born her feet were almost as long as her body. Since that time they have grown in proportion to the other members of the body and it is figured that by the time she reaches the marriageable age her feet will be twenty-four inches long.

YUKON TRAGEDY.

Dawson, Yt., June 3.—The last few days has witnessed the blackest period in the history of Dawson, as the result of death occurring from ptomaine poisoning, following the dinner at the Yukon Gold Company's plant number A-54, below Sinker-Creek, May 24, at which 36 prominent men of the north sat down in a veritable lottery of death. Twelve drew fatal tickets as follows:

George Munden, 43, of Montreal, known here as Thomas Munday; Antoine Saldavitch, better known as Smith, native of Dalmatia; Otto Nordling, 40, native of Sweden, leaving a widow and five children; Dawson; Finley McDonald, 62, New Glasgow, N. S.; Angus Chisholm, 40, of Antigonish, N. S., leaves a widow and two small children in Vancouver; Albert Gauderieu, 49, single, St. Thomas Que.; William Cyrus Lawson, 39, Fort Scott, Kansas, former prominent trader and prospector, Cashier, assistant superintendent of the Yukon Gold Company, leaves a widow in Dawson and son in American aviation corps; France; Adrien Barrett, 40, Bartholomew, Que., leaves widow and three children; Dawson; Alphonse Rioux, 41, Montreal, leaves daughter; John Grant, 53, native of Antigonish, 30 years prominent in silver mining at Aspen, Colo., where he was also sheriff, leaves widow and eight children in Dawson; John Thompson, 49, native of Ireland; Wm. McNeill, Antigonish, N. S., four others in hospital are natives of Antigonish. Entire camp supplies and utensils of this camp have been destroyed. The poisoning is said to be of a rare type of germ known as botulin. Samples of blood have been submitted to eminent bacteriologists of America for analysis.

MAIN FEATURES OF 1919-20 BUDGET.

There are five outstanding features in the 1919-20 budget:

- 1.—The British preference is restored to its pre-war basis, and the 7 1/2 per cent extra war duties added to the general tariff in 1915 are removed from more essential articles.
- 2.—There is an essential net reduction of about 4 per cent in the pre-war duties on all agricultural implements.
- 3.—The Canadian income tax is broadened and deepened to a point almost as severe as that which exists in Britain and the United States.
- 4.—Our business war profits tax—as severe an excess profits tax as was ever imposed in any country—is retained, this despite the fact that the British war profits tax has been reduced by Mr. Chamberlain to forty per cent.
- 5.—The figures of projected necessary expenditure and of available revenue to meet it which reveal the seriousness of the financial situation.

As for the reductions (net) on agricultural implements, western low tariff men should have no complaint in regard to them. They are the precise reduction provided for under Mr. Fielding's reciprocity act, Sir Thomas White having apparently taken the famous 1911 proposals as his 1919 model.

The same thing can be said of wheat, wheat flour, and potatoes. They are made free, just as was provided for by reciprocity, with the added step toward Cobdenism, however, that they are made free, not alone to the United States, but to any country which makes them free to us. In addition, moreover, there are other reductions from the pre-war tariff, including the cutting of five cents a pound off the preferential intermediate and general rate on coffee, three cents on British grown tea and a substantial reduction on soda ash.

Hon. J. K. Flemming Loses His Case

Fredericton, June 6.—The Supreme Court of Appeal of New Brunswick this morning virtually declared void the action in the case of the King vs. J. K. Flemming for the restitution of moneys estimated at $100,000 and claimed to have been illegally obtained by the former premier from A. R. Gould, then president of the St. John and Quebec Railway Company.

This is the action which was brought on behalf of the present Provincial Government against the former premier, and regarding which counsel for Mr. Flemming raised technical objections as to the validity of the suit. The moneys which the Government now asks to be paid into the provincial treasury are claimed to have been received by the former premier in connection with the St. John Valley Railway contract in the years 1911 and 1912. An objection was taken to the statement of claim and this has now been overruled and the application on behalf of Mr. Flemming refused.

STRIKE SITUATION

OTTAWA, May 31.—Dr. Blake, of North Winnipeg, gave notice, Friday, that he will move on Wednesday the adjournment of the House to discuss the whole question of labor unrest in Canada, the causes of it and the remedies.

Vancouver, B. C., May 31.—If Vancouver is to suffer a general strike it will take effect at eleven o'clock Tuesday morning next. This is the decision of the strike committee appointed by the Trades and Labor Council to deal with the question. But the decision of organized labor in Vancouver, as to the advisability of calling a sympathetic strike, cannot be known until Sunday evening at nine o'clock. This is the hour set for the returns of the strike vote which the various unions have been asked to take amongst their members in Vancouver.

EDUCATE THE CHILDREN

Let Them See Wonderful Specimens of Wild Animals in John Robinson's Circus Menagerie

The time spent in observing the splendid animal specimens in the menagerie with the John Robinson Circus, which will exhibit in Newcastle on Thursday June 19th should bring good educational returns in lessons in zoology.

The John Robinson menagerie has been greatly augmented this year and is said to carry splendid specimens of a hundred different species of animal life. The management claims that a well equipped circus menagerie does more to instruct young America in the matter of natural history than would an armload of books.

Children may read volumes and form no mental conception, whereas anything of an interesting nature or unusual nature that they visually ob-

A vast number of circus-goers rush through the menagerie with scarcely a look at the animals and lose half an hour's instructive enjoyment intent on getting into the main tent and securing a seat.

The big top with the John Robinson show this year can accommodate ten thousand spectators and even if tremendous crowds are passing in, there is no need to overlook the exceptionally interesting menagerie, as seats are there for all.

Very few persons fail to find interest in watching animals, particularly wild ones at play, and the frolicsome antics of the little lion and leopard cubs are a prolific source of entertainment, and the amusement created well repays the time spent in

BEAVER FLOUR

MILLED OF BLENDED WHEAT

"Beaver" Flour equals any of the "special pastry flours" because it is, in itself, a special pastry flour—being the choicest Ontario fall wheat, blended with western spring wheat to give it strength.

This is why Pies, Cakes, Cookies, Tarts, Doughnuts, Buns and Fancy Pastry—when made with "Beaver" Flour—are so light, so flaky, so uniformly good.

This is also why the Bread and Rolls—made with "Beaver" Flour—have a delicate, nutlike flavour that is totally lacking in western spring wheat flours.

President Will Introduce The Irish Question

Paris, June 11—(By The Associated Press)—President Wilson today told representatives of Irish societies in America that he would do what he could unofficially to bring the Irish question to the attention of the other peace commissioners.

Announcement to this effect was made by Frank P. Walsh and Edward F. Dunne, the representatives of the Irish Americans, after they had had a thirty minute conference with the president. The promise made by the president was in reply to a question from Messrs. Walsh and Dunne as to what the president intended doing in view of the resolution adopted by the senate urging that the American delegation take steps to have representatives of Ireland heard by the peace conference.

Messrs. Walsh and Dunne said that they went over the situation in Ireland generally in their talk with the president.

Weekly Agricultural Report

The majority of the grain seeding has been completed in the Province. It has been put in under quite favorable circumstances and is making a rapid growth. The hay crop will be heavy. Old hay is selling at from $30 to $33 per ton and farmers are disposing of their surplus stock to make room for the new crop.

Potato planting is being rapidly finished. The earlier planted ones are already coming through the ground. Generally speaking, reports indicate an average well up to the average.

The strawberry crop gives promise of a heavy yield. Montreal buyers have visited the province and are anxious to do business with New Brunswick growers, because of the shortage of the berry crop in Ontario.

Cattle generally are rapidly improving in condition since going on pastures. The pastures have made excellent growth.

Receipts of wool at the Cooperative Warehouse, in Fredericton, are much in excess of last year and shipments are coming in very rapidly. Experts are at present engaged in regarding the wool. Each man receives pay for the grade which he provides.

THE ANTI-TITLES RESOLUTION

There seems to be general satisfaction in the country with the vote in the House of Commons for the abolition of titles in Canada. The fact of the matter is the value of these titles has greatly depreciated because of their lavish bestowal, often on very unworthy persons who happened to have money or political influence to secure a recommendation for such honors. The personal character and political career of some Canadian knights would scarcely bear investigation. If royal titles were limited to men of worth who have rendered distinguished service to their country the question of their discontinuance would probably never have arisen; but too often this has not been the case, and men whom all worthy citizens delight to honor have been associated in rank with a very different class. It has been said that titles are the only incentives to public service which would appeal to men of wealth or station. If this were true it would certainly not be very complimentary to titled Canadians. The man who only serves his country for the sake of such an empty reward cannot be regarded as a very distinguished patriot. One of England's greatest statesmen, the late William Ewart Gladstone, repeatedly declined the offer of a peerage. Another Premier, Pitt, and more recently Premier, Asquith proved equally indifferent to such honors. Thomas Carlyle was offered a title but refused it. Are we to suppose that we have no high-souled Canadians who are above such incentives to duty and public service? We do not believe that the only incentive to public service which would appeal to men of wealth and station is the prospect of knighthood. The best men in public life today would indignantly repudiate such an insinuation. Neither is it true, as has been said, that the resolution of Parliament implies disrespect of the sovereign, or that titles are a tie with the empire. No one reproaches the King for the abuse of a function which he exercises only upon the request of his responsible advisers, and titles would not strengthen the imperial tie when the Parliament of Canada and the majority of the Canadian people are opposed to them. We do not imagine that our good King George will worry much over the fact that hereafter he is not to be requested to confer titles on a lot of Canadians about whom he always knows little more than their names.

WILL CALL MILITIA OUT

Winnipeg, June 11—The leading feature in the strike situation here today was the formal announcement by Mayor Charles F. Gray that any further street rioting of a serious nature will be the signal for calling up on the militia. He intimated that he questioned of invoking military aid was seriously discussed during yesterday's disturbance at a conference with General H. D. B. Ketchen, of the Manitoba Military District, and Colonel J. Sierra, commanding the Royal Northwest Mounted Police forces stationed here.

It was stated at the City Hall that street fighting resulted in a large increase in the number of applicants for special constable duty. Mayor Gray declared that the city would accept another one thousand men, in fact would take every eligible man who applies for police duty.

Rosy Cheeks And Good Health

Come Through Keeping the Blood in a Rich Red and Pure Condition

When a girl—or a woman—finds her color fading, when her cheeks and lips grow pale, and she gets short of breath easily and her heart palpitates after the slightest exertion, or under the least excitement, it means that she is suffering from anaemia—thin, watery blood. Headache and backache frequently accompany this condition, and nervousness is often present.

The remedy for this condition is to build up the blood, and for this purpose there is no medicine that can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They build up and renew the blood, bring brightness to the eyes, color to the cheeks, and a general feeling of renewed health and energy. The only other treatment needed is plenty of sunlight, moderate exercise and good plain food. The girl or woman who gives this treatment a fair trial will soon find herself enjoying perfect health.

Mrs. Hiram Shook, R. R. No. 2, Lyndhurst, says:—"I cannot speak too highly of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, for I believed they saved my daughter's life. She was in a terribly run down condition, pale, wan, and despondent, and people who saw her considered her in a decline. The doctor who treated her did not help her any, and then I decided to give her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. This decision proved a wise one, for before six boxes were used she was much better. I got six more boxes, and before they were done she was in the best of health. When she began the use of the pills she weighed only 90 pounds, and under their use her weight increased to 127 pounds. I strongly urge all mothers of weak girls to give them Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any dealer in medicine, or by mail post paid at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

It's Called Stealing

By ARCHY CAMERON NEW

Deriving out of the way of several large baggage trucks propelled by husky stevedores, John Barnett made his way through the busy labyrinth of the freight sheds to a small private office marked "Shipping Clerk," entered it and closed the door.

"Number 9's loaded," he announced, meaning to a young man at the desk, scanning the chart of loaded freight cars. "Are you ready?"

The young man shuddered, but turned resolutely to Barnett.

"Yes," he snapped between clenched teeth. "But I think it's a fool's errand."

Barnett opened the door, called out a command and in a few moments another big man in blue jumpers entered the office.

"You are—?" Barnett started to question the newcomer.

"The one you want," chimed in the other. "From the chief's office. Is Frank going to make the trip?" He nodded to the young man, who returned the nod and spoke.

"Yes," he spoke nervously. "Let's hurry."

Five minutes later Barnett and the man in blue jumpers, pushing a truck on which lay a heavy packing box, passed through the shed to the yards and to No. 9 freight car, one of a long line behind an engine with full steam up. Stopping in front of the door of the car they lifted the box carefully into it. Barnett paused and spoke in a low tone:

"If you feel cramped, Frank," he whispered, bending over the box, "you can hop out for a while when she goes on the siding at Brooks Meadows. But don't by any means open the door or be seen."

Then Barnett closed the door, stepped off a short distance, waved to the engineer and the train started to crawl away.

"Tell your chief it's all right," ordered Barnett to the other. "No one on this end will ever suspect. Now we'll catch the guilty ones."

It seemed to Frank Young, huddled inside the poorly ventilated packing box, that the train had moved a thousand miles before he heard the crunching of brakes and felt the car come to a standstill.

"Brooks Meadows," he muttered to himself, and then pushing off the top with a heave of his shoulders he stood upright after a few seconds and vaulted out of the case. About him lay case after case of canned goods, but these passed unnoticed as he peered through a hole in the door into a vast stretch of open country. Then after a while he sat down and opened a box and started to eat. Then as he was finishing he stopped breathlessly and listened. What was that? It sounded as if some tool was working on the door.

Silently and quickly he cleared away the evidence of his lunch and slipped back to the box, pulling the lid down over him. Another minute and he heard the door roll back. Some one swiftly climbed into the car and stood close to the box, for he heard heavy breathing. And then he heard a case being lifted, and after a minute the sound of footfalls on the gravelled right of way alongside the track. Still he remained within the case, and after a few moments the intruder returned. The same process was repeated until six cases had been removed, and then after a long wait Young jumped out of his hiding place. The side door was opened wide and he sprang to the doorway. No one was in sight!

The thief had eluded him! What would his chief say to that? Should he desert his post and start out on what seemed a wild-goose chase, for it was unknown country to him, or remain in the car? Evidently his quarry lay here, and he determined to act at once. He felt for his revolver, and then jumped from the car to the roadway. For a moment he gazed in surprise, for a dozen or more cars lay ahead of the one he had left. And the doors of such had been opened!

He peered about him on the ground, and then, bending over, suddenly made an exclamation.

"Sawdust!" he muttered, and then he started ahead to follow the trail. Carelessly he made his way down a long dirt path, and then, circling a thick pine grove, he brought himself up short. Ahead lay a farmhouse, and beside it a barn. And the trail led direct to the barn.

Seizing his pistol in his hand, he went to the barn opening.

"Hands up!" he commanded, and then his hand dropped.

A slender little girl, whose long brown hair fell about her slender shoulders, framing a tanned, exquisitely featured face, who was bending over a case of canned goods, robe and faced him, terrified.

"Please," she cried in alarm, "don't shoot."

"What are you doing?" demanded Young, dumfounded. "Who brought those—here?" He pointed to the cases, piled up all about her.

She regained her composure and faced him squarely.

"I did."

"You," he echoed, and then he jumped around, fearing a trap. But they were quite alone, he and this young girl.

You May Be Skeptical

About What Dr. Chase's Nerve Food Will Do for You, But Here is the Evidence.

When the blood gets thin and watery, when the nerves become weak and exhausted, when your vitality is run down and you feel weak and tired it is because nourishment is lacking.

You may be eating as usual but your digestive system fails to obtain from the food you eat the elements from which new blood and nerve force is created.

Because Dr. Chase's Nerve Food supplies this element to the blood and nerves it is the most successful of restoratives.

While personal experience with a medical treatment is the only absolute proof that it will benefit you, still we are all similarly constituted and what will help one will help another under similar conditions.

This is why it is so interesting to read the experience of other people, and many will find in this letter their own conditions described.

Mrs. Thomas Williamson, Pictou, Ont., writes: "For the last twenty years I have had trouble with my nerves. I suffered from sleeplessness, and, of course, my system was often in a run-down condition from nervousness. At different times when I would have severe attacks, I was under the doctor's care, but this only gave me temporary relief. Twice I was to a sanitarium in Toronto, where I secured some relief at the time. This past summer I suffered from another nervous breakdown, and it was then that I commenced using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I took a treatment of this medicine and can now get up in the morning and do my work, which was something I could not do previously, because I used to get strangely confused. My appetite is good, and I can sleep well, too. Generally speaking, I am so much better that I am proud of my improvement. I cannot speak too highly of the splendid results I have secured through the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food."

Reception for North Esk Heroes

A reception in honor of the returned soldiers of North Esk was held in the Whitneyville Hall Friday evening June 6th at which a large number of people were present to extend a hearty welcome to the boys recently back from overseas. The assembly was called to order with Mr. Clifford Parker in the chair. Squire Jones, of Strathadam, in a feeling and pleasing manner, delivered an address of welcome. A set of military brushes was presented to each of the following men, Lieut. Jordan, James McColm, John Hutchison, Harold Whitney, James Allison and Omar Goodfellow. The remembrances were presented to the respective soldiers by Misses Margaret Hutchison, Grace McTavish, Bertha McTavish, Fern McLean, Frances McKay, Dora Hutchison and Rachael Hare, each of whom expressed their appreciation of the returned men and their joy at having the boys home again. Each recipient expressed his pleasure on returning to Canada and thanked the fellow citizens for the royal welcome tendered them and for the tokens bestowed upon them.

Squire Jones again addressed the assembly after which luncheon was served. Dancing was then begun and the younger people tripped the light fantastic until the wee sma hours. Before the meeting broke up an unanimous vote of thanks was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Mullin, Miss McColm, Mrs. Pearlie Walsh, Miss Rachael Hare and Miss Annie Mullin for their kindness in arranging the reception and obtaining the souvenirs presented to the soldiers. Also thanks to all who so kindly contributed toward the reception, which resulted in one of the most enjoyable evenings spent in the Whitneyville Hall for a number of years.

Maritime Baptist: The friends of Captain (Rev. J. Clement Wilson, at one time pastor of the First Baptist Church, New Glasgow, N. S., and later at Doaktown, N. B., will be glad to know he is on his way home from overseas. Mr. Wilson has been overseas since the fall of 1916. STRONG FOR CIVILIZED GARB

Although we have not thought the people of Africa to be much concerned about clothes and fashions, yet styles, such as they are, have entered the villages of the dark continent and are beginning to cause the people much anxiety. Miss Pearl Mufson, Methodist missionary to Rhodesia, writes of the African dress as seen in a day school, according to the Centenary Bulletin.

"Many of the pupils, who range from the kindergarten age to grandparents, are dressed in store clothes. Their store clothes, however, have largely lost their identity beneath a covering of many colored patches. Weather has nothing to do with clothes in this part of Africa. It may be a real summer day and you are wondering how you can keep cool, but not so these boys who have been to town to work and have clothes to exhibit to their less fortunate brothers. If these riches consist of somebody's castoff overcoat he is sure to have it on and perhaps a bath towel around his neck, while most of the small boys are content with a yard of unbleached cotton for their entire outfit. But sometimes the big boys are quite generous with their little brothers and divide with them; such is the case of one little fellow who is the proud possessor of a vest which about covers him. Two or three others wear their big brother's shirts, which is quite sufficient for all purposes.

"Some of the girls are dressed principally in beads, brass bracelets and anklets; while others have cloth draped around them forming a skirt and they are without a waist. One girl wears a pink silk waist with a dirty calico skirt. They often appear in evening dresses, the cast-off flairs of the town women, and they may be seen digging in their gardens with these on. One came to school draped in a white bedspread."

Styles in names changing as well as in clothing. The following are some of the names which the African mothers have given their children: Spoon, Sausage, Hotel, Pumpkin, Gingerbeer, Cigarette, Shilling, Sixpence, Penny, Coffee, Sweet Pudding, Very Nice, Office, Tomato, Fifteen, Vinegar, Sugar.

Uncle Sam Beneficiary

Members of the American Flat Glass Workers' union, assembled in Memorial hall, Toledo, were told an inspiring story of patriotic devotion by a member of their union at the untiring of a service flag, with 895 stars, representing union men in the army.

After an introductory speech, in which John J. Quinlivan, business agent of the Toledo Central Labor union, told of the determination of the unions to back the government, President William F. Clark described the heroic death of Charles H. McCarthy, who sacrificed his own life in France for the sake of a friend.

Not only had McCarthy, a former member of the Glass Workers' union, died heroically, but he had lived patriotically, Mr. Clark said, for in taking out $10,000 insurance when he entered the army, he asked that the sum be made payable to the United States government.

Saving Man-Power

One of the recent devices designed to save man labor is the slab-handling storage battery truck, which is employed at the plant of a steel company in Cleveland to haul heavy pieces of steel from the storage yard to the heating furnaces, says Popular Science Monthly. The distance approximates 500 feet. Before electricity was substituted for man-power the slabs were loaded on hand trucks.

The new truck is similar to the elevating platform truck, except that its elevating mechanism lifting platform is provided. This platform is secured to the rear axle by a pivot, being operated by a horizontal ram. By manipulating the ram the platform is moved toward a vertical position and its front edges are lowered.

Gentle Germans Quite Insulted

Mr. E. J. Higgins writes this short but pointed letter to the New York Sun about German squealing: "On reading in the Sun that German newspapers are indignant because American soldiers are using shotguns, I was reminded of a 'card shark' in Leadville in '79. He had held out a big hand for a killing and had it stuck in the top of his boot. Finally he got his bank roll into a big pot and reached for his holdout to switch in, but found it gone. 'Held on!' he yelled; 'I ain't going to play in this game—there's cheating going on.'"

Looking Far Ahead

A wife, whose husband is on active service, recently presented him with a bouncing baby boy. She wrote to ask him when he should get leave, and also when the war would be over. His reply was as follows: "Dear Lucy—I don't know when I shall get leave or when the war will be over, but if the baby should be called up before I get leave, give him a parcel to bring out to me—Your loving husband, Bill."—London Tit-Bits.

Giving Reoster its Due

On my way to the railroad station with Victor, with whose parents I was spending my vacation, I remarked that he had lovely hair. Whereupon he said: "Yes, but our reoster has a better comb than I have hair."—Chicago Tribune.

COPENHAGEN CHEWING TOBACCO

Take a small pinch, for a start, and put it between the lower lip and gum, in the centre.

Afterwards you can increase the size of the pinch to suit the strength of the chew you desire.

Copenhagen is strong, because the tobacco of which it is made is cut into fine grains, which makes it impart its strength thoroughly and quickly.

Hence, a little "pinch" goes a long way, showing that Copenhagen is not only an unusually economical chew, but also one of the finest quality, being made of the best, old, rich, high-flavored tobacco.

N. S. Premier Helped Out Mr. Tweedie

(Rev. J. A. McGlasien, P. A.)

One can readily imagine the conspicuous place Premier Murray occupied at inter-provincial conferences by reason of his unequalled tenure of office and the unchallenged purity of his personality. One of the most outstanding public functions of his career was his official visit to the motherland on the occasion of the coronation of King Edward VII. We do not need to say that he represented with commanding credit and dignity the province of his birth and love. On that occasion he and Mrs. Murray were presented to King Edward at St. James Palace. He was, of course, one of the guests of the nation, and was entertained at the famous castle of Lord Lansdale, who entertained the now notorious ex-Kaiser.

The writer heard this story from the lips of the late Premier Tweedie of New Brunswick, who was also a guest at the aforesaid castle. Mr. Murray was dressing for dinner when Mr. Tweedie came into his room in great excitement. In some way Mr. Tweedie's baggage, containing the appropriate dinner togs, had not come to hand. What was to be done? Tweedie proposed that Murray should share with him the humiliation of appearing at dinner minus the conventional sweat-lowlail regalia. With his accustomed chivalry Mr. Murray responded to the cry of distress from his brother premier and braved the lordly dinner table with ordinary every day dress.

Mr. Tweedie said he could never forget the chivalrous self-denial of Mr. Murray, an act that was all the more meritorious because of that well known punctiliousness of the premier in his attention to proper form.

At Opera House Wednesday

Clara Kimball Young and her own company will be seen at the Happy Hour on Wednesday in her latest Select Picture, "The Road Through the Dark," adapted from the story by Maude Radford Warren.

Gabrielle Jarde, oldest daughter of a conventional Parisian family, has fallen in love with an American, John Morgan. Her father wishes her to marry a Frenchman and sends her away from Paris to break up the affair. Before she leaves she secretly meets John, when they pledge their troth and arrange a secret code whereby they can write to each other saying what they wish, without being detected—for the letters of French girls are first read by their parents or guardians.

Gabrielle, with her sister, Marie-Louise, and her little brother, Georges, leave Paris to visit their aunt, Madame Le Coultier, who lives a little village on the Meuse. Then comes the war. The village is invaded by the Germans. Little Georges, Marie-Louise and Madame Le Coultier are killed by the drunken soldiers.

Gabrielle is saved by the Kommandant, Prince Karl of Strielitz, who gives her shelter in his personal quarters. Prince Karl, who is infatuated with the beauty of Gabrielle, tells her that if she will give herself to him, he will punish the rioters and save the town. To save the people of the town Gabrielle becomes the loathsome thing, the French mistress of a German.

Prince Karl learns to love Gabrielle passionately. She pretends to return his love in time, he is wounded and is transferred to the Intelligence Department at the Wilhelmstrasse in Berlin. For a purpose of the German people, Karl reads the letters but fails to detect the code. One night while Karl is giving a banquet, Gabrielle confiscates some strategic papers. Karl learns of her duplicity and he kills him in the ensuing struggle. Gabrielle escapes to France through Switzerland and appears at a council of Allied Intelligence in Paris. America has entered the war and John attends the council as an American representative. He learns for the first time how Gabrielle has acquired the information she has been forwarding through him to the French. Angry and crushed at first, he rises above the personal issue and realizing what the sacrifice has meant to her restores to her the love she thought she had lost.

Modern Appliances in New Telegraph Work Rooms

Employers of the present day have found that to provide neat, sanitation and hygiene, besides the usual neighborly duty of the business owner or manager to those of his fellow-men and women whose time and energy he purchases, is in the highest degree profitable. "Kicking" on the part of an employee arises, as often as not, from ill-health which can be avoided by proper working conditions. The picture shows the women's rest room in the new quarters of the C.P.R. Telegraphs on Main street, near Fortage avenue, Winnipeg.

Looking closely at the apparatus on the tables, in the third picture, one will see, side by side, two machines—one with a keyboard like that of a typewriter, the other with a little type-bearing disc touching a platen. These two machines are the two halves, as it were, of one of the most wonderful contrivances in existence—the automatic printer. Messages tapped off, letter by letter, on the keyboard of the first machine, are written out, by impulses which travel thousands of miles over the wire, on telegraph blanks slipped under the type-disc of the second machine. That is to say, the keyboard machine in the picture may be operating a type-disc machine in Montreal; and the type-disc machine in the picture may be printing a message that is being tapped off on a keyboard machine in Calgary.

The operating room, on the second floor of the new home of the C.P.R. Telegraphs, is 132 feet deep and 28 feet wide. Immense windows in two tiers, the lower of clear glass and the upper opaque, flood the apartment with light by day; and by night a system of indirect lighting gives ample illumination without glare. At the back of the room can be seen the main distributing rack for the different wires.

has been the main consideration. Healthy operators means good service. The employees' comfort and health vice.

APPRECIATE TREATMENT BY AMHERST PEOPLE

Montreal, June 2—Le Evenement of Quebec, under the heading "Thank You, Amherst" says that "all of the officers and men of the 22nd Regiment are never tired of thanking the citizens and ladies of Amherst (N. S.), where our soldiers passed such a very agreeable sojourn in the spring of 1915 before setting out on their grand adventure overseas. Amherst, in fact, treated our boys as spoiled children. The population of that beautiful town was not only satisfied in creating royally the soldiers during the few weeks passed in their midst, but they also treated them finely when they left, besides following them with a kind attention while absent and received them with affection on their return. In fact, Amherst could not have treated the 22nd better had they been composed of their own children. We have it from General Tremblay that hundreds of parcels were sent from Amherst to the boys after their arrival in France. These good people were not satisfied in giving them presents, but they likewise sent them useful wearing apparel."

When to Cut Grass and Clover for Hay

It is regrettable that it is a too general practice among farmers in Canada to leave the hay crops to be cut much too long. There are, as a matter of fact, a large number of farmers who delay the cutting of the hay crop far beyond the time when it would pay them most to cut. In many cases the reason for the delay is that it is a general belief that a somewhat increased tonnage may be secured if cutting is postponed, and in other cases the late cutting is practiced because it is even believed that a better quality of hay may be obtained than if the cutting were done earlier.

In the case of Eastern Canada, where mixed clover and timothy, or timothy alone, are the fundamental hay plants, a few suggestions based on experience may be found not to be out of order.

Timothy and red clover are the standard hay plants which universally are grown together. The clover is contributing the bulk of the hay crop the year after seeding, and the timothy is furnishing the bulk of the hay the following year or years. Supposing that a farmer has a field of mixed clover and timothy, what would be the best time before the timothy has reached its best stage. Shall the farmer cut the hay when the red clover is in its prime, or shall he wait until the timothy is at its best? The answer is: cut when the clover is at its best, notwithstanding that the timothy mixed with it may not be as well developed as might be desired, for the reason that the clover is the more valuable part of the mixture. By cutting early, the clover is given a chance to recuperate and to produce a remunerative second crop, which it might fail to do if the cutting for hay is delayed too long for the sake of the timothy.

In case timothy forms the principal part of the hay crop, which it generally does two years or more after seeding to hay, it is important to handle it for hay in proper manner. Timothy, like most other grasses, has a period of its own when it has the greatest feeding value and when hay made from it is apt to furnish the maximum feeding value per acre. This period is the time of blossoming. At that time, timothy is richest in flesh and milk producing constituents and, if cut for hay when in bloom, the best quality hay may consequently be realized. It is a mistake to believe that better crops may be secured if cutting is somewhat delayed. Some slight increase in the yield may be obtained but what is gained in quantity and feeding value pound for pound.

Under the circumstances, early cutting of timothy for hay must of necessity be recommended as the most economical method of securing a hay of the highest possible value.

Keep Children Healthy

To keep children healthy the bowels must be kept regular and the stomach sweet. Nine-tenths of the ailments which afflict little ones are caused by derangements of the bowels and stomach. No other medicine can equal Baby's Own Tablets in guarding either the baby or growing child from the ills that follow a disordered condition of the bowels or stomach. They are a mild but thorough laxative and never fail to give results. Concerning them Mrs. W. B. Coolidge, Sarnia, Ont., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for over three years and have found them the best medicine I have ever used for my children. I never have any trouble giving them to my little ones and they have saved me many a doctor's bill. My advice to all mothers of little ones is to keep a box of the Tablets in the house." The Tablets are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

DISASTROUS FIRE NEAR CAMPBELLTON AT TIDE HEAD.

A most disastrous fire occurred at Head of Tide near Campbellton on Saturday morning May 31st in which Mr. Albert Mann lost his house and barn with practically all their contents. The fire originated through some wood which had been placed under the stove the previous evening catching fire. No one was in the house at the time. Mrs. Mann having gone to the barn to milk and Mr. Mann having gone to the woods to hew some lumber. Neighbors were the first to notice the fire and immediately gathered about to render assistance, but without proper fire fighting apparatus could do nothing but save a few household articles. Before the fire had reached the barn all the cattle had been released. Both buildings were burned to the ground, Mr. Mann losing practically everything. In the barn were stored five tons of hay and 100 bushels of oats, thrashing mill and other machinery was saved. Mr. Mann's loss will be in the vicinity of $4,000. There was no insurance.
