The following are created Barons: Legislation is not exactly relished by the French Conservative press.

Le Canada, which is said to voice the sentiment of Mr. Ouimet, has been outspoken enough in its advocation of a remedial measure, but it now comes and Mr. James Williamson, M.P., the returning Lord Chamberlain, become the forward with a threat that the French Conservatives will cut the party unless for program be carried out. schools, that is to say, "schools without God," as Le Canada puts it.

It appears that Mgr. Lafleche, Bishop of Three Rivers, in the course of a discussion, with J. H. Legriss, member for Maskinonge, remarked that he would rather trust to the Protestant leader of the Conservatives to do justice to the Roman Catholic minority in Manitoba than trust to Mr. Laurier, the French-Canadian leader of the Course of a talk with the latter on the Manitoba question, Mr. Leurier "decided himself in fayor of neutral or is certain that with a Unionist Governthe Manitoba question, Mr. Laurier "declared himself in favor of neutral or free schools." Mr. Laurier's denial of these sentiments is contained in a letter written last Friday, in which the formulated phatically that the Bishop mistakes this attitude altogether, and misinterprets him sadly if he supposes that during their long conversation on the sub-testant schools which challenge the admiration of the Liberal chief." three years, less his good conduct allowance, to serve, but friends of his family had been asking for his release on the grounds that his sentence was severe for a mere boy. A pardon was granted, and he was given his liberty on April 2, 1893. His appreciation of the clemency of the Executive has since been shown by the persistent regularity with which he has pillaged Government offices and institutions.

All liberated within a few months, they met at a pre-appointed place, completed their plans, added to their numbers George Stone and Walter Irwin, and began a tour of the province. On Oct.21, 1893, three of them, one of whom was Sherin and the others thought to be Rutledge and Black, made an attempt to burglarise the Toll House at Port Dalhousie. Sherin was shot dead by Mr. W. B. Clark, collector of canal tolls. His coroner told me last evening that since Demers had given such an emphatic answer to the dreadful injunction of the maris innocence. The brothers and sisters were on the stand all the foremark of respect for their fallen chum, one of them stripped off his coat and laid it over the body. An effort was made to find Rutledge and Black, who, the Crown claims, were his accomplices, but they always eluded capture. Rutledge was one day met in Yonge-street by Detective Cuddy.

Canadian Pilgrims for Lourdes.

The Abbe Brunet of the Seminary of Tried to Kill a Detective

On seeing the officer, he whipped out a revolver, pointed it at Cuddy's head, backed out of the doorway of the store and escaped. A few weeks later word came that he and his chums were living at Streetsville, Ont. Several of the city and provincial detectives took the train provincial detectives took the train Streetsville, and at the break of day surrounded the house in which they were supposed to be. The game had flown once again, and the officers were foiled.

Robberies occurred in all parts of the province with persistent recurrence, all of them the work of this gang, but no capture made. Finally Black and Stone were arrested in Montreal, but escaped from custody. Stone was soon invicted of burglary in Buffalo and sentenced to five years in the peni-tentiary. He escaped, was re-arrested in Chicago, sent back to Buffalo, and is now serving his time.

Rutledge and Black, the only remaining members of the gang, are suppos-ed to have headed southward. It is said they have had a quarrel and, on Rut-ledge's arrest, Black supplied the Red Cloud, Neb., authorities with the history of Rutledge and his connection with the throughout Ontario and brought down this session.

scheme would go through all right. He had got the matter before the Railway Committee, and when the time came would show the public that the prospectus had been prepared strictly in accord with the agreement hitherto made with the Government, "In fact," added the President of the Atlantic and Lake Superior, "Mr. Hanson, the banker, has just told me that, after reading it all through, he considers the prospectus the most straightforward document of the kind he has ever seen." The Senator, in fact, will appear before the Railway committee armed with facts and figures, and he really does not see how the Government can change their policy regarding the company.

scheme would got through all right, He had got the Railway or serior. Service with the Railway in London since his return from Kiel. He is closely guarded by his friends, and sees few people. His health is fairly good, but he suffers from imperfect hearing and failing sight. With the help of glasses he can still read, but he reconstantly started that he will stand for Parliament, for at least take some part in the electoral struggle, but these are followed by authoritative demials. His will power is still tremendous, but his retirement from public life is final. Some Liberal journals are urg-

According to The Statist, a number the Chinese loan, which a short time ago it was thought would be issued by French financiers, under the guarantee of Russia. The Anglo-German firms think that a loan of £32,000,000 at 6 per cent. will be as much as is safe to ask investors to take at present.

Mary's Hospital. Princess Beatrice presided at a sale of work by the Working Ladies' Guild. The dresses worn on these occasions by the Princess of Wales and her daughers were specially remarked. The new fashion is in marked contrast to the present exaggeration having the skirts narrowed and sleeves small. The fact that the Princess of Wales and her daughters have worn gowns made in this new stlye is believed to mark the doom of inflated balloon sleeves.

The Shahzada Nazrulla Khan will rass a night at Windsor Castle. Prior to inviting him the Queen insisted that some one should coach him in etiquet. In a recent interview with her Majesty the Khan, following the custom served by his father, the Ameer of Afchanistan, in presenting a missive to a high personage, wetted all over with his tongue a letter from the Ameer that he had been charged to hand to the Queen. The latter looked at the pro-cess doubtfully, and finally decided that t would be better for her not to take the letter. A lord-in-waiting received the missive with a look of undisguised disgust on his face.

Henley-on-Thames, June 30.—The Cornell eight went to Fawley Court, racing with the Argonaut four of Toronto yesterday afterneon. The latter were given a haif minute start. About 100 yards from the boat house something went wrong with their slide and they stopped. The Cornells reached half the distance in 3 minutes 39 seconds.

The river is now very lively with the practiging crews. The Canadians are exciting great admiration among the spectators.

Don to-day between Buffalos and Chap-The Cornell boys have not been doing so much hard work within the last few days as the English crews. They take shorter bursts at racing speed, and they are rowing a somewhat longer stroke, rarely striking above 40 to the minute. They are taking occassional full courses. Today, for instance, they dovered the course under adverse conditions, in 7 minutes 18 seconds. All the men are in the finest condition.

Don to-day between Buffalos and Chapman's Torontos, the first at 10.30 a.m. and the afternoon at 4. Wittrock, a late National League pitcher, will likely be in the box in the afternoon. Gray or Payne will also officiate. Wadsworth and Vickery will pitch for the Buffalos. These clubs also play a third game July 2, at 4 p.m.

West Newton, Mass., June 29-Fine tennis weather greeted the players. The first match was between Dr. Pim and H. S. Mahoney, the visitors from abroad. Each the was between Dr. Pim and H. S. Mahoney, the visitors from abroad. Each other. Pim practically allowed Mahoney to play his own style of game for the first and acted only on the defensive, but after that he became more aggressive and easily won out the match. Score: 5-7, 6-2, 6-3.

Larned had things his own way and defeated Hobart in two straights, 6-3, 6-3.

This morning, Larned, who will be unable to play on Monday, defaulted the unfinished match to Chace. This places the latter, Pim and Mahoney all with three matches won and one lost. Hobart has won 2 and lost 3, and Larned has one victory and four defeats.

On the Don Flats Christie Brown defeated the Metropolitans by 57 to 16.

The Ivy Leafs defeated Walker's College by 5r, 7h, 1e to 4r, 3h, 2e, Batteries, Mahoney and Mulvaney; McBrien and Moore.

THE TORONTO WORLD that failed to grasp the truth of this statement, and the lost opportunity, are alike discreditable to the Genius (with a big G) supposed to sit up aloft where railways are concerned. West of Port Arthur local considerations might be urged. Here, where the G.T.R. and G. W.R. and N.R. were all entrenched in opposition, it would have been a stroke very ordinary genius for the C.P.R. to strike out some new scale of charges and a tariff and service looking to local conditions and requirements. But habit was too strong, and the genius too weak to break the shackles of tradition. The opportunity was lost, and what has not been done in a spirit of self-preservation must now be accomplished by force of law. THE ARBITRATION FRAUD. The arbitrators in the Heber case an nounce they have finished the affair and usefulness. It is stated the Their 'declaration of independence on total costs will amount to $5000. The people catch the inspirations and deepen the patriotism of the present.

Their declaration of independence on July 4, 1776, was a dramatic event, whose arbitration was concerned with the renewal rental of an Island lot, the lease of which has just expired. The lot in that causes Orangemen to worship the 12th of July? Simply the recollection of a battlefield where blood was shed and where an undying enmity was established between two religious factions. As is, however, out of all proportion to the far as its national holiday is concerned, value of the property. The Island was originally divided into 5-acre lots.
