Marlborough Gets $100,000; Duchess Her Children.

After a married life of almost eleven years, and despite the intercession of King Edward, the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough have separated, giving society all over the world one of the greatest shocks in years.

The Duke, under the arrangement for separation, receives an income of $100,000 a year. The Duchess has something much more valuable—the custody of her two beautiful children, the Marquis of Blandford and Lord Ivor Spencer-Churchill, aged nine and eight years.

The separation does not in the least alter the prospects of the Duke. Marquis, who, if he outlives his father, will some day be Duke of Marlborough.

Amrican society, especially in Newport and New York, where both her late husband and her father, William K. Vanderbilt, Despute the efforts of the King, who always strives to prevent these aristocratic upheavals, to effect a reconciliation, and his statement that the Duchess had displayed "incurable obstinacy."

But her friends reckoned without the independent American spirit of the Duchess and her father, William K. Vanderbilt. Despite the efforts of the King, who always strives to prevent these aristocratic upheavals, to effect a reconciliation, and his statement that the Duchess had displayed "incurable obstinacy."

So now the arrangement has been drawn up, signed, sealed and delivered. The Duchess has settled $100,000 a year on the Duke, who also has a good-sized income of his own. He will have Blenheim Castle, the family home of the Churchills, of course, but the Duchess will keep the town residence, Sunderland House, for a time at least. Besides that she will have her children.

The Duchess is now in Paris, but soon intends to come to America with her children for a long visit. The Duke is at Blenheim.

The society woman who was one of the causes of the Marlborough affair, has been keenly discussed in chit-chat. Another of her admirers was one of a family of sporting brothers, the head of which is a well known sporting Earl. The latter, who has been heard of in the Marlborough circle, has been keenly discussed in chit-chat.

It is now said that only an accident saved the Duke of Marlborough from being roughly handled by the same husband recently. The Duke, though small, is plucky, and it is believed he would have defended himself.

WEDDING IN 1895. The wedding of Consuelo Vanderbilt and her father, William K. Vanderbilt, was the first wife, now Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, to the Duke of Marlborough, was one of New York's greatest society events. It took place on November 6, 1895, in St. Thomas's church, and for months before had been the talk of society.

The Duchess was given a dowry of $5,000,000 by her father, and, until Mr. Vanderbilt's marriage to Mrs. Rutherford, it was expected that she would inherit a large share of his vast fortune. The Duke expected to day, and built many air castles with them as foundations. He wanted to handle the Vanderbilt millions some go into politics, become a victory if possible, and excel Lord Curzon, another Englishman who had been pushed to the front by American millions. Moreover, he wished to restore Blenheim Palace and recover the old estates of the Marlboroughs.

The young couple started their married life under most auspicious conditions. They were congratulated by the Queen, and when their first child was born in 1897 the King acted as godfather at the christening. The boy was named John Albert Edward William. He is now Marquis of Blandford, and at his father's death will be Duke of Marlborough, Earl of Sunderland, Baron Spencer of Wormsleyton, Baron Churchill of Sandridge, Prince of the Holy Roman Empire. The second child Lord Ivor Spencer-Churchill, was born the following year.

The Duke spent money like water. He poured it out on Blenheim and on Sunderland House, which later was called Blandford House. When the Duke returned from the Boer War he brought home with him the Duke's check for $1,000,000, and that went also. Finally the Duchess protested at his extravagance, and Mr. Vanderbilt cut off a large part of his income. He took the Duke to task several times about his expenditures, and the latter did not take kindly to the reprimands.

Because of her children the Duchess was anxious that the Duke should

A Lazy Liver

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as a savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, tired liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with over work. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble" by its wonderful control of the stomachs the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the deflection of other organs.

LANGUAGE REFORM.

This seems to be an era of reform. Politics, other business, still others morals, and there are those who appear to think that they should reform our language.

All this language and spelling reform seems to proceed on the supposition, however, that the large majority of the people are so thoroughly proficient in English and spelling that they will understand the changes suggested and find them very much to their advantage.

Perhaps the greatest objection to these language and spelling reforms is the increasing use of the English language in the commercial and political world.

Rebekah Lodge Instituted.

Saturday afternoon and evening was a gala time for the Independent Order of Odd Fellows in this town.

It is customary on an occasion of this kind for degree teams of some nearby town to confer the degree. In this case the new lodge was most fortunate in having the work done by one of the best degree teams of the maritime provinces.

Among the visitors to town for this event was a large party from Kingston, and a fine delegation from Kentville under the direct care of the genial sheriff of Kings County.

On Monday evening the following officers were installed in their respective chairs by the Grand Warden of the Rebekah Assembly.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mrs. A. R. Bishop left on Saturday to spend a week in Kentville.

Frank Clifford will shortly remove to St. John, having secured a good position in that city.

Harry Williams, brother of our genial "hello" operator, is moving from Sydney to Grand Rapids, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Howe Cox, of Cambridge, N. S., Miss Nellie Clarke and Mrs. Nettie Retalick, of St. John, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Chute.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Williams, of San Diego, Cal., have been visiting at Sydney, and for the past week here with Mrs. Farnsworth, will leave in a few days for home.

We are pleased to report that Mrs. H. E. Burton, of Hampton, who has been very ill in Kentville, under the excellent care of Dr. William Woodworth is now in a fair way to speedy recovery and expects to be home very shortly.

The Rev. Silas Morse, of Merrimac, Mass., with Mr. Morse, recently celebrated their silver wedding, receiving the heartiest congratulations and the best wishes of their many friends, as well as tangible tokens of esteem.

Among the visitors in Bridgetown last Saturday, Sunday and Monday registered at the Grand Central Hotel were: Dr. S. L. Walker, of Truro, and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Neely, Holmes Cassidy, Miss B. M. Cassidy, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Northrup and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jorach of Kingston.

Arrow Points. By Pastor Clark. Great cares go with the grandest crowns.

They that seek God's glory share God's grace. While claiming your own rights remember the rights of others.

Selfishness takes many shafts, but not one that is seemly. It is often harder to wait than it is to work.

A sermon is apt to seem long when the hearer's patience or piety is short. Christ found His pleasure in doing His Father's will, and Christians must find theirs in the same way.

HYMENEAL. PORTER-ANDREWS.

One of the prettiest of home weddings took place on Wednesday afternoon Oct. 24th, at 5 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John V. Andrews, North Range, when their eldest daughter Beatrice was united in marriage to Perry A. Porter.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. W. Bancroft, pastor of the Baptist church in the presence of seventy-five invited guests. The bride, who was dressed in white tulle and lace, wearing a veil, carried a large bouquet of roses, and entered the room on the arm of her father.

WOMAN

"Woman" is the name of a new magazine for women. The first number is just issued. Your newsdealer has it. You can get it from him, and it is worth your while getting it.

If you like fiction—good, wide-awake, snappy stories—both serials and short stories—you will like "Woman."

All the other magazines for women are cast on the same model—a little bit of fiction, a few articles, more or less chit chat, some wise advice, a fashion department and a smattering of general miscellany.

The price of "WOMAN" is TEN CENTS A COPY, and the magazine is a very big one—192 pages.

By the way, two rattling good serial stories begin in this first number and it contains a big lot of other good things.

Michael Griffin, a native of Halifax and a former member of the Halifax police force, died at the Victoria General Hospital Sunday, after a lengthy illness, aged 54 years. Mr. Griffin had been ill for some years, and a month ago went to Halifax to enter the institution in which he died. He was Chief of Police of Yarmouth for a number of years, and latterly had been connected with the Dominion Atlantic Railway. He was much esteemed wherever he was known. The deceased was a man who was recognized with the whole province, was shrewd and observant, and had from time to time rendered valuable assistance in police work.

The friends of temperance are urged to assist in building up the temperance and moral defence of our young people. There is great need of a public awakening to the needs of the town in this respect. Let the members of Olive Branch rally around their banner and enter with energy upon a successful campaign during the coming months.—Com.

Roosevelt Discusses Whole Battalion.

They Were Colored Troops And Refused To Disclose Murderer's Identity.

(Special despatch to the Monitor.) Washington, Nov. 7.—Unprecedented in the history of the army of the United States is an action of the President just announced in dismissing in disgrace from that army, an entire battalion of colored troops by their failure to disclose the identity of some of their members who had been guilty of murder. The disturbance occurred at Brownsville August 19th, that resulted in the death of one and wounding another citizen of that city.

Town Council.

The regular monthly meeting of the town council took place Monday night the Mayor and full board being present. Considerable business was done but as our reporter was late a general report of the proceedings will have to be accepted. A number of bills were passed that run pretty well up to $1,000. A by-law was passed making house owners responsible for the price of the water tax. The matter of transferring the town account to the Union Bank of Halifax, was brought up and considerable discussion was indulged in pro and con. The majority of the members were decided in favor of the transfer and on motion the offer of the Union Bank was accepted and the transfer will shortly be made. The chief of police was instructed to collect the outstanding taxes without fear or favor. Howard Munro was present and addressed the council asking that the water be put up to his farm. No action was taken. The formal resolution of the council re boundary extension east was read and passed, Com. Calder voting against. A request was presented from residents of the west end for water, but no action was taken. A councillor made a complaint that the truant law was not looked after, and boys allowed to run the streets and feed off the wharves during school hours. The minutes were read and the council adjourned.

George N. Eaton returned home on Saturday, having spent the past year and a half in Woodland, Maine.

(Special despatch to the Monitor.) St. John, Nov. 7.—Word from the scene of the wreck of the Norwegian bark Adrona, off Richibucto Bar, last night expresses the fear that all the crew of the ill-fated vessel have perished. Efforts were made to get to the wreck but no one could get near the vessel. At the last report the harque was still holding together, but there was no sign of life aboard and this is the basis of the fear that too crew of twelve or fourteen men have all been lost—swept overboard by the mountain sea. Good progress is being made with the new pipe line and it is hoped that connection with the lake will be made next week.

PRINCESS VICTORIA'S MIND GIVING WAY

London, Nov. 3.—Various rumors are current regarding the unsatisfactory state of Princess Victoria's health, and all the circumstances seem to indicate that the trouble is mental. It is reported that the King's eldest daughter may soon retire from the social world altogether.

The Princess's visit to Norway for her sister's coronation had a bad effect upon her, the excitement having somewhat unsettled her. Princess Victoria's retirement—temporary, at least—from court will therefore take place immediately, to save her from possible complications.

NATIONS AGREE ON WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY

Berlin, Nov. 3.—All the powers represented in the international wireless telegraphy congress, except Montenegro today signed the agreement for the regulation of the exchange of wireless messages. Both Italy and Great Britain, however, signed with the reservations which they said were necessitated by their contracts with the Marconi Company. While the document provides, in principle, for inter-communication between all companies, regardless of the system they use, it is declared by the American delegates that the reservations made by England and Italy will virtually nullify the effects of the agreement, as they only bind themselves to abide by the rules laid down where it is advantageous for them to do so.

The Elections Produced No Great Surprise In Any Part of the Country, The Parties Remaining About the Same

(Special despatch to the Monitor.) New York, Nov. 7.—Elections were held yesterday in forty-two states and the whole results, in a number of instances were of unusual interest. It may be said that generally speaking, there were no great surprises. Throughout the south democratic slates and congressional tickets have been elected by unusual majorities. In the west and east slates that were aligned two years ago in democratic and republican columns show no material change. The widest interest centered in the remarkable fight for governor which has been waged in New York State between Chas. E. Hughes, republican candidate, who throughout the campaign has had the support of President Roosevelt, and William R. Hearst, who has been running as a regular democratic and independent league nominee. The latest available show that Hughes, while losing nearly all of the principal cities of the State was successful by about 20,000 plurality. The rural districts brought about a republican victory.

Boston, Nov. 7.—The republicans, after a short but very spirited campaign won the state election, Governor Guild being re-elected by considerably increased plurality over last year, while his opponent, District Attorney John D. Moran, of Boston, candidate of Democratic and prohibition parties and Independent League, received a somewhat larger vote than that given the democratic league a year ago. With two-thirds of the State vote tabulated Mr. Guild's plurality was estimated at 37,000.

OBITUARY. At Tarbrook Mills, Annapolis Co., Bro. Charles Inglis Neely, son of Jacob and Wolten Neely, born at Medonvale, on Oct. 17th, 1838, and passed away on September 18, 1906. Bro. Neely was converted and joined the Baptist church at Tremont under the late Rev. Charles Tupper, D. D. at the early age of 13 years. Later he replaced his membership in the Nicotux Baptist church of which he remained a faithful and devoted member until the time of his departure. Our brother was one of a family of ten boys and one girl, one of the brothers being the late Rev. John Neely, of beloved memory. Five brothers still survive to mourn their loss. Bro. Neely was a great sufferer for nearly three years, but he bore his afflictions with a sweet and loving Christian spirit never murmuring or complaining as to his Father's will. Our brother possessed a very sweet and rich voice for singing and was early in his fifteenth year as a member of the choir. He was passionately fond of the old hymns which made his soul vibrate with the love of God. The testimony of his neighbors is expressed in the following words: "He was always a consistent Christian, honest and obliging in all his dealings, ready by day and night to help them in trouble." The funeral was very largely attended, conducted by Pastor, C. H. Havestock, assisted by Bro. S. P. McTear, of Tremont. Our brother leaves to mourn a devoted wife, two sons and two daughters. Three of the children are members of the church. We devoutly sympathize with the stricken wife and family whose wounded hearts the Saviour alone can comfort.—Con.
