THE HAGUE.

Fifteen Different Things Accomplished by the Peace Conference.

It has become somewhat customary for the newspapers to make fun of the Hague Conference, but a review of what was done, shows that their work was not in vain.

(1) The conference has established the inviolability of neutral territory and the right of asylum in that territory for prisoners of war.

(2) It has prohibited belligerents from establishing wireless telegraph stations in neutral territory.

(3) It has prohibited belligerent ships of war either to revictual in neutral ports, except to complete their normal supplies, or to take fuel except in order to reach the nearest port of their own country.

(4) It has provided that henceforth hostilities may not begin without a previous declaration of war or an ultimatum with a conditional declaration.

(5) It has directed that a state of war must be notified without delay, to the neutral Powers, and may be given by wire.

(6) It has revived the three declarations of 1899, which had lapsed five years thereafter, namely, prohibitions to drop projectiles from balloons, to diffuse deleterious gases, or to use expanding bullets.

(7) It has approved regulations which require indemnification by any belligerent who violates any of the laws of war.

(8) It has provided a definite period of grace to be allowed to belligerent merchantmen in an enemy's ports at the outbreak of hostilities.

(9) It has prohibited the use of mines for the purpose of restricting commercial navigation, and the use of floating mines, except those so constructed as to become innocuous within an hour after having passed beyond human control, and also the use of innocuous mines which do not become innocuous after they have broken their moorings.

(10) It has prohibited the bombardment of undefended places.

(11) It has insisted upon the inviolability of fishing boats and of the postal service.

(12) It has ratified the humanitarian recommendations of the Geneva Red Cross convention of 1906, and has added others.

(13) It has provided for the humane treatment of captured crews.

(14) It has established an international prize court, in which unlimited right of appeal is given in cases where neutrals are concerned.

(15) It has agreed that one nation shall not attempt forcibly to collect a debt claimed by its citizens from the government of another nation unless there shall be first an offer by the creditor country to submit the question of the indebtedness to arbitration.

First Authentic Reports from Karatagh are Horrifying.

MANY VILLAGES DESTROYED—CORRESPONDENT WITH RELIEF EXPEDITION SENDS REPORT OF AWFUL SLAUGHTER IN RUSSIA TURKISTAN.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 10.—The first direct reports from the scene of the great earthquake at Karatagh, Russia Turkistan, about three weeks ago, reached this city to day from a correspondent who accompanied the relief expedition sent in from Samarkand. Telegraphing under date of November 9, this correspondent says:

"The town of Karatagh was completely destroyed. The victims number 4,000 in Karatagh and about 10,000 in the adjoining district Denauk. All the villages in the vicinity were wrecked. It is possible that there are hundreds more dead in these villages, but investigation is only now determining the approximate number."

Mt. Allison vs. Acadia.

The final game in the Intercollegiate League series for the King Richardson Cup took place in Sackville, on Nov. 9th, and ended with a score of 8-0 in Mt. Allison's favor. The day was ideal for football and a large crowd attended. Acadia's fifteen were much heavier but the Mt. Allison men showed more snap, and were always on the ball. Faulker Acadia's full back played the game for the visitors. Five minutes after the whistle McKay scored for Mt. Allison and it was over.

by Llewelyn. Mt. Allison controlled the scrim and healed repeatedly. The score stood 5-0 at the end of the half. Much scrimming took place in second half and when on Acadia's five yard line, McSweeney bucked through and scored which was not converted. The game was hard and fast but not rough. In the evening a reception was given the Acadia boys at the Ladies College.

Middleton Baptist Church.

REV. G. W. SCHURMAN BEGAN HIS PASTORATE ON SUNDAY.

Rev. G. W. Schurman arrived on Saturday, and began his pastorate of the Baptist church on Sunday. There were large congregations, morning and evening. The new pastor preface his address in the morning by a few salutatory remarks. The subject of his sermon was the Novelty of Christianity. In the evening the congregation was favored with a solo by Mrs P Elliott. Rev. Mr. Schurman's text was from Rom 8: 23, "The wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life."

Rev. Mr. Schurman has a pleasing address and decided a individuality.

"Rev. G. M. Schurman, Mrs Schurman and family left North Sydney on Wednesday, for Middleton, where they will in future reside. A social in their honor, was held on Tuesday evening in the vestry of Calvary Baptist church, where an excellent program of vocal and instrumental music, reading and recitations, etc. was carried out. During the evening Mr Schurman was presented with a well filled purse of gold, while Mrs. Schurman was made a life member of the W. C. T. U., and also presented with a well filled purse."

The above despatch from North Sydney, indicates the good feeling of the people of that town toward Mr. Schurman and family.

Complimentary Banquet to Popular Physician.

Lunenburg, November 13.—Doctor Fred S. L. Ford, of New Germany, was tendered a complimentary banquet by his brother members of the Lunenburg-Queens medical society. Dr. Ford, who for twenty years has practised his profession in New Germany, has been compelled through ill health, to give up his work for a time and seek rest and renewed health in a warmer climate. As a physician and as a man the genial and popular doctor has won the esteem and respect of his many patients and of all who have had the pleasure of his friendship or acquaintance. The banquet, which was a most enjoyable function, afforded an opportunity for his medical friends to give expression to the high regard and affection in which they held their guest. Dr. Marshall presided and proposed the toast to Dr. Ford in a very bright and complimentary speech. Dr. Ford, in reply expressed his gratitude for the kind words and good wishes, and his regrets at having, for a time to leave his work and his friends.—Herald.

Strange Schools.

SOME REMARKABLE INSTITUTION IN LONDON.

In a slum corner of the east end of London there lives a man who is by profession a language teacher of parrots, and he carries on a very successful business. Parrots are sent to his establishment from all quarters, and in a very short space of time the proprietor sends them to their respective owners with remarkable ability to chatter. His specialty is to teach parrots to speak sentences in various languages, according to the particular foreign market to which they are to be sold. Another interesting academy in the East End of London is a musical institution for birds. The proprietor has several rooms in each of which is a phonograph. His feathered pupils hang in the rooms, and gets them to catch the refrains by constant repetition. He is able to teach a bird one song weekly, and his standard charge is half a crown for three week's tuition. There is an academy for canines in a certain South London borough, which is known to all the prominent circus people of Europe, and which is the "old school" of many of the performing dogs in Great Britain at the present time. The interior is fitted up with trapezes, vaulting-broads, bars, rings, and other tricker's apparatus, and day by day, tumbling and all sorts of performing canines are taught their clever tricks. It is perhaps unnecessary to add that the proprietor enjoys the benefit of a first-class income.—The Captain.

Drummonds Purchase Iron Mines.

The Drummonds who own the "sme" works at Londonderry and the iron mines at Torbrook, have purchased the Gloucester iron mines for 80,000. They will probably erect furnaces at Bathurst utilizing the falls of the Nepisiquid river.

Capt. Bernier's Trip.

The statement contained in a Quebec despatch that Captain Bernier, during his recent voyage in the Arctic regions, enlarged the Dominion of Canada to the extent of five hundred thousand square miles, is misleading. All the islands in the Arctic sea north of the Canadian mainland, with the exception of Greenland land, were British territory by right of discovery. That right had never been disputed, down to the time when the MacKenzie Government was in power, and the late Judge David Mills was Minister of the Interior. Attention having then been called to the aggressions of United States whalers and whiskey traders in far northern latitudes, negotiations took place between the Dominion and Imperial Governments, which resulted in the cession to Canada of all lands and islands north of the continent, with jurisdiction over the surrounding water. The facts were made known at the time in parliamentary reports. More recently it became necessary to assert Canadian sovereignty in those regions, as United States explorers, traders and fishermen showed a disposition, which was encouraged by the press of the Republic, to intrude on Canadian territorial rights. The expedition commanded by Captain Bernier was sent to put a stop to these encroachments, and to assert Canadian possession by hoisting the Dominion flag on all the lands and islands that had been ceded by Great Britain. This duty Captain Bernier deserves full credit for having efficiently performed as well as for having brought all foreign ships visiting our northern waters under Canadian law by requiring them to take out licenses. He has not added one square mile to the territories of the Dominion, all the places he visited having been included within Canadian territory for over thirty years past.—Witness.

Cost of Transportation.

"By sea freights—1-10c. per ton per mile.
"By railroads—1c per ton per mile.
"By good roads—7c per ton per mile.
"By ordinary country roads—25c per ton per mile.
Ninety per cent of every load by steamship, railroad, or express must be carried by wagon or truck over a high way. It costs the farmers of the United States nearly three times more than those of Europe to market an equal tonnage of farm products."

The above items, printed on the stationery of Mr. D. Ward King, the inventor of the split-log drag, embrace the pith of a dozen sermons on the necessity for more practical attention to rural road improvement. Think over them. Stir up your municipal and legislative representatives, on the subject of immediate road improvement.—Farmer's Advocate.
