May 16th, 1932.

My dear Sir Arthur,-

I enclose herewith a letter from Mr. Howell of Montreal relative to the widow of the late Reverend William Turnbull Leach, formerly Vice Principal of the University.

I do not know whether the University could justify an allowance to Mrs. Leach even of a nominal amount, but perhaps you would care to discuss the matter with Mr. MacLennan.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Sir,-

I am taking the liberty of addressing you in a matter which closely touches McGill University.

In 1846, the Rev. Wm. Turnbull Leach was appointed Professor of Classical Literature. In the following year he became Vice-Principal. His salary was then supposed to be £100 a year, but even that slender sum was often in arrears.

The Rev. Mr. Leach became Acting Principal, and served for years as such.

In 1886, at the age of 83, he retired after 40 years in the office of Vice Principal, and in various Professorial Chairs.

Sir Wm. Dawson used to say that the University must have perished, had it not been held together by the sagacity and perseverance of Acting Principal Leach, during several critical years preceding the appointment of a Principal. This utterance of his is recalled by graduates now living, and is expressed in one of Principal Dawson's historical addresses.

His widow, now aged 82, lives in Montreal. She has no pension or allowance from the University and, as far as I can learn has never applied for any. She is not even aware that I am making this effort on her behalf. Her income is inconsiderable; it has always been so and is barely sufficient for her needs.

These are facts which are known to some of the older graduates and which have engaged their sympathetic consideration. Among these I mention Mr. Francis MacLennan and Dr. W. D. Lighthall.

I know that this may seem a very inopportune time to suggest additional outlay of any kind, but at the age of 82, health is uncertain and life is short. To delay until the return of better times may be to wait too long.

Would it not be a gracious and just act on the part of the Governors to bestow a pension, even though a modest one, upon Mrs. Leach, in grateful recognition of unforgettable services rendered by her husband and to bring needed comforts and ease to her for the remaining years of her life? Such a pension could not be an appreciable burden on the finances.

As a Graduate of the University,

I am, Dear Sir,

Yours Faithfully,

(Signed) Arch. R. Howell

Dear Chancellor,

I have your letter of the 16th, to which was attached one from Mr. Howell of Toronto.
I have written to Dr. Francis McLennan, saying that I wished to discuss the matter with him.

Ever yours faithfully,

Dear Dr. McLennan,

It will be quite convenient for the Principal if you will call at his office on the afternoon of June 17th. In the morning he has to attend a meeting of the directors of the Bank of Montreal, but any time after three that would suit you he will be glad to see you. If you would telephone me when you come to the City, we can confirm this.

Dear Sir Arthur,-

I have your letter of June 23rd with reference to Mr. Howell's request for a pension to the widow of the late William Leach.

I think it would be well if you would bring the matter before the Board at its next meeting with a definite recommendation, if you care to make one, as to what should be done. Before the meeting I would suggest, too, that you send for Mr. Howell and obtain from him as accurate data as possible as to the income of Mrs. Leach.

July 16, 1932.

This morning I saw Mr. Howell, grandson of Archdeacon Leach, formerly Vice Principal of this University.

Mr. Howell has written a letter to the Chancellor in which he points out that his grandmother is in very straightened circumstances and asks if the University can do anything to provide a pension to this old lady of 83 years. Our records disclose that the facts are as stated in Mr. Howell's letter.

He tells me that she is living with her sister in very poor apartments down on Souvenir Avenue near the CPR. tracks; that she is in receipt of a pension of $80 a month from the Widows and Orphans Fund of the Church, that this is her entire income, while her sister has no income at all. Mr. Howell says neither he nor his brother can contribute anything to her income.

I asked him what he thought would be an appropriate pension. He mentioned the sum of $100 per month.

In view of our own straightened circumstances I can make no such recommendation. But I am willing to recommend $25 or $30 a month, which I think is all we can be expected to do after all this lapse of time. Vice Principal Leach died in 18 .

Dear Mr. Howell,

At the meeting of the Board of Governors of McGill University held yesterday morning, I put before them the matter of pension for Mrs. Leach, the widow of the late Rev. Leach, at one time Vice Principal of the University. The Board authorized an appropriation of $600 per annum, the amount to be paid in monthly instalments of $50.00 each, beginning first of August next.

If the financial condition of the University had been in a more satisfactory state, I am quite sure that the Board would have been more generous. However, this amount will enable her to be provided with some additional comforts in her declining years and to be relieved of some of the worry. Please let me know the exact address, and her full name.

Yours faithfully,

Principal.

E. W. Beatty, Esq., K.C., LL.D., Chancellor, McGill University.

My dear Chancellor,

You will remember writing me some time ago enclosing a letter from Mr. Howell relative to the widow of the late William Leach, formerly Vice Principal of the University. On its receipt I immediately wrote Dr. Francis McLennan asking him to see me and a few days ago we discussed the matter.

The situation is correctly outlined in Mr. Howell's letter to you, but Mr. McLennan was not agreeable to contributing anything himself towards a pension for Mrs. Leach. He contented himself by hoping that the University could do something for her.

It so happens that this matter came up indirectly as I was riding in from Dixie last Saturday with Mr. Henry Joseph, who told me that years ago he bought for the C.P.R. the right-of-way through what is now Montreal West, buying the property from the Trenholmes and another family, of whom the present Mrs. Leach was the heiress. It seems that the Reverend Mr. Leach was at that time about 69 years old. He suggested to his son that he should marry this young heiress, but the son refused; whereupon our former Vice Principal courted the young lady himself and married her. She was then 21 years of age. This would mean that in the last fifteen years of his life the Reverend Vice Principal was not badly off.

Probably that was one reason why the University granted him no retiring allowance; in fact, our records disclose that the Board reduced his salary, whereupon he resigned. I presume from this that it was the only way in which the Board could induce his retirement.

In his letter, Mr. Howell says that Mrs. Leach's income has always been inconsiderable and is barely sufficient for her needs. The fact is, however, that she has not suffered, nor should she, in view of her family connections; I understand that Dr. Howell is another grandson. If she were in very straitened circumstances we probably should make a grant to her during the remaining years of her life, but I confess the only reason I can see why we should really do so is more or less a political reason.

If we did make a grant, what should it be? Before saying definitely I should wish to find out something more concerning her present circumstances; but I should say not more than $25.00 a month should be allowed her by the University.

Ever yours faithfully,

Principal.

how deeply I am impressed
by their kindness.

Dear Professor Leacock:

Thank you very much for your note.

I will be delighted to dine with you after, as you say, "the first tumult and shouting dies."

My father has often spoken of you and of Stony Jackson, with whom, I think, he had a pleasant visit only last summer.

As for myself, I would be very deaf if I had never heard of you, I would be very blind if I had never read of you, and I would be very dumb if I had never spoken of you. I claim only to being a little deaf, a little blind, and a little dumb.

At any rate, it will be a very great pleasure for me to be in your company.

My dear Dr Douglas

I feel sure that you know my name as I was a professor at McGill for 35 years, and have is that your father & I were at Upper Canada together.. I went there at the opening of 1882 &

my brothers Dick & Jim, - both since dead, - were there already and were with your father in Stony Jackson's House... and so I knew your father in all his U. C. C. days & then never saw him for about fifty years till he turned up here at the said to him that I didn't think that anybody in my time had come to McGill for as kindly a welcome + as wide an appreciation as you . . . and he said, I should write you . . . So I write . . .

. . . I am retired now I keep out of all the big things but I should like it very much if you will dine with me, - as soon as the first tumult + shouting dies, - with five or six old friends at my club by own time is as empty as to yours... Please send me a line of acknowledgment

as I'll arrange to write dinner later...

Looking forward to seeing you

My dear Dr Douglas.

Your invitation was so kind and I appreciate it so much that I feel I cannot let it go without adding to what I said by telephone a few words of personal thanks.

Since I retired from McGill, after a trial tour of lectures across the continent, I definitely gave up all public speaking so as to have all my time for writing. The only public meetings I have tried since to attend are those of the McGill Society of Ontario which I helped to found. Even at that I missed the last one.

But no general rule of that sort would have held me back in this case. But since my heavy operations of last year my nervous system seems still unable to stand any great strain. Although I am getting back all the time to better conditions, I find that I dare not attempt making any arrangements ahead for attending meetings, and least of all for taking an active part on the platform.

These present lectures at McGill are the first of the kind which for nearly forty years I have I have neither helped to originate, nor to deliver, not at least to enjoy as a listener. It is a great disappointment - now & all times when such lectures are among the most ^{vital} things in our common life If the world will stay upset a little longer, I shall try to come back & help you to straighten it up, but in the meantime I am sure you will understand my position

After more than a month's absence from Montreal I have but recently returned to the city and this must be my excuse for not acknowledging sooner your letter of the 1st instant, in which you have done me the honour of asking me to serve upon the General Committee which is to deal with the next Imperial Conference of the Teachers of the Empire.

I note that this Conference is to be held in the summer of 1921. I shall be very glad, indeed, to serve on the Committee and hope that I may be able to do some useful work in that connection. I am sorry that it is more than likely that I shall not be able to attend the Conference, as it is my intention to attend a Conference of the Universities of the Empire, which is being held in London next summer.

Dear Sir:-

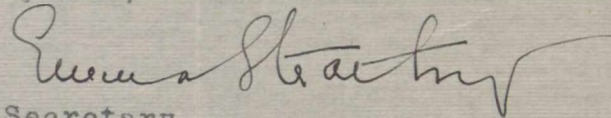

As you may be aware, it has been arranged that the next Imperial Conference of the Teachers of the Empire is to be held in Canada in the summer of 1921, and Toronto, by invitation of the Government of Ontario, has been selected as the place of meeting.

In accordance with the wishes of the League of the Empire of Canada, I am writing to ask if you will do us the honour of serving upon the General Committee which is to be appointed to superintend the arrangements of this conference.

This Conference is the first one called to consider Imperial Education questions since the war. The two former conferences were both held in London, and it is felt that a Conference in Canada will be of Empire-wide interest and usefulness.

We hope sincerely that you will accept this invitation and allow your name to be placed on our Committee. We will much appreciate a reply at your earliest convenience.

Dear Madam:-

With reference to your letter of June 25th last, I must confess that there has been some confusion among the various parties arriving, and that I was not clear whether this was the same party as was coming by the Canadian Pacific.

It is somewhat difficult to make any adequate arrangements for Sunday, as all our staff are on vacation and the University is almost deserted. I am a little doubtful therefore as to the possibility of providing for any entertainment. I am, however, quite certain that we shall be able to arrange for someone to show your party over the University and I will settle the necessary details with the C.N.R.

I trust that your journey will be a very pleasant and successful one.

Yours faithfully,

Wilfrid Bovey.

Dear Miss Baillie:-

I am much obliged for your letter of July 5th, which has simplified matters considerably. We will be glad to arrange a small tea for your visitors and also for them to see as much as possible of the University while they are here.

I would suggest, in view of the programme which you propose, that they might arrive at the University about 3.00 p.m. They would then have a look at the buildings, meeting for tea at 4.00 p.m. Normally we would have the tea outside, but if the weather were bad we would transfer it to the Library.

As regards the dinner, I am rather afraid that I cannot do very much, but I will be pleased to do anything I can. I gather from your letter that you have not made any definite plans and I am taking the liberty of proposing to the C.W.R. that it would be a very nice thing for them to organize this. I will let you have another note in time to reach your house by Friday.

In the case of the tea, we will be pleased to entertain say a total of 65 or 70, not more; and if you will let me have the names of the people who will be in Montreal and whom you would like asked, we will send them invitations. I think that it is quite essential that you yourself should do the collecting of the ^{persons} who are to meet the visitors, as otherwise it is so uncertain how many we shall be able to get.

Will you be in Montreal a few days before the tea takes place? As I expect to be on my holidays and will not arrive in Montreal until the morning of the day on which the tea will be held, I will leave all arrangements with my Secretary, Miss Constance Harvey, with whom you might get in touch any time between now and then.

Before leaving Montreal
I telephoned to the Passenger department of the Canadian National,
and Mr. Harrison of Local # 335 told me
that he was expecting a letter about this party
from their London office.
I am much disappointed
that the party is arriving on Sunday because I am afraid there is no use expecting the mayor to do anything. I was so convinced of that, that I did not try to see the mayor as I had intended doing. I was so very well treated when I spent a year in London

that I am very anxious to help make this party's visit to us as pleasant
as possible.

Mrs. Ard Marshall
thought that the party might walk or take
cars in the morning
drive on the mountain
after lunch at the Windsor and that if it were possible for Mr. Lill to entertain them at tea it would be a great pleasure.

She also suggested a party, if possible, including some rather important people at dinner at the Vinohrady, and if you could help me

to secure any such
I should be much pleased. If practical in summer, however, is very difficult.

Kindly excuse any defects
in this note written under very unconfortable conditions at the camp, and if you have any plans
or suggestions will you be good enough
to let me know them.

I am yours very sincerely

Dear Sir,

THE GOVERNORS, HIGH COMMISSIONERS AND OTHER OFFICIALS OF MANY OF THE OVERSEAS DOMINIONS, AND COMMONWEALTHS.

The next of the Triennial Conferences of the Imperial Education convened by the League of the Empire falls due in 1927. It has, however, been represented to us that this date will not be generally convenient, and it has been proposed that the Conference be postponed until 1928, and an Interim Meeting held next Summer, i.e., July 1926. It has further been suggested that in holding an extra-ordinary Conference we might depart from the usual practice, and hold it outside the British Empire. I am pleased to tell you that such proposal has been warmly welcomed in Paris, where intellectual co-operation is at the present time most cordially invited.

A Committee appointed by the French Government to further such meetings has given the League its co-operation, and has undertaken to make all necessary arrangements. The meeting of 1926 will therefore take place in Paris, from the 24th to the 27th of July, inclusive, and the aim of this special Conference will be to come into touch with representative men and women in France, and learn more directly something of the genius and aims of this great people. The Society co-operating with the League is the Bienvenue française, whose Patron is the President of the French Republic, and whose President is Mon. le Maréchal Foch. On their Honorary Committee are M. Poincaré and other members of the Government.

A valuable and delightful programme has been offered, of which the enclosed is a draft.

I am to ask if you will do ourselves and the Bienvenue française, acting with us, the honour of appointing Delegates to this Interim Conference, and if so, if you will be good enough to send us the names of any who are able to take part. Arrangements will be made with the Hotels in Paris for the four days' accommodation at the most reasonable charge. Particulars of such arrangements will be forwarded to the Delegates at an early date.

I am, Sir,

Yours faithfully,

E. M. Ord Marshall
Hon. Secretary.

The Principal,

Dear Lam:

When I returned to Montreal this morning, I found your telegram of September sixth, together with copy of the letter my secretary wrote you on the following day.

I am sorry that we weren't able to help you and assume that you have, by now, filled the positions. If not, and if there is anything you would still like to have me do, please don't hesitate to write me.

Our very best to you and Marion.

Sincerely,

Mr. S. Lambert Keyniger

September 7, 1938

Dear Mr. Keyniger,

Your telegram has arrived in the absence of Mr. Douglas from the University. We have, however, made a good many enquiries here with a view to finding someone who would fill the positions you outline, unfortunately without success. It happens to be a bad time of the year as the University is not in session yet, and we cannot reach many of the departmental heads who might have had likely candidates. The University does not have an employment bureau where such information is readily accessible. I am so sorry that in the absence of the Principal we were not able to be of real help to you in this matter.

Yours faithfully,

Principal's Secretary

Dear Mrs. Lee:-

Your letter of May 27th last regarding the visit of the League of Empire party, was received during Sir Arthur Currie's absence in hospital.

I have been in touch with the Canadian Pacific Railway by which line the visitors are coming, and I understand that they will be about 150 in number. We will certainly be very pleased to see them at McGill during their day in Montreal. The date is of course one when there are not many people around the University, but we will be very glad to show them all we can.

Perhaps you will let me know whether my idea of the numbers of the party is correct. I would very much like to arrange some entertainment for them, but can hardly say definitely what can be done until I can be sure of the numbers.

Yours faithfully,

Wilfrid Bovey.

Dear Sir Arthur Currie -

Our friend Mrs. Ord Marshall tells me that she is coming with a party of League of the Empire visitors to Canada this summer. They reach Montreal on August 3rd at 7.20 a.m. & leave next morning (en route for Ottawa) at 8.15.

She says that, in visiting Montreal, they would enjoy & appreciate above all things any opportunity of seeing McGill and of meeting any of the University staff. I know

— & of course Mrs Ord Marshall realises — that it will be mid-vacation
with most people scattered far afield. But if it were possible for you to arrange that some welcome should be accorded to this party by the University I believe it would be most deeply appreciated and they would consider it as a beautiful and appropriate beginning to their tour across Canada.

I hope I am not giving trouble by this request, but the lasting interest of my husband & myself in McGill & our happy years there make me feel I am put this before you.

Yours Sincerely

Dear Sir Arthur Currie

Will you allow me
to introduce to you my friend, Mr. Anthony Preston, Professor of Latin at Bishop's?

Mr. Preston is a graduate of Edinburgh and of Oxford. His Subjects are the classical languages and ancient history.

I know that you have many demands upon your time and
attention, but I venture, none the less, to bring to your notice a recent recruit in the Force

With kindest regards

Dear Dean Lee,

Mr. Anthony Preston, the professor of Latin at Bishop's, came in today and in a few minutes we are having lunch together. Corbett, whom you will remember, and who is your successor in the deanship of law here, and Carleton Stanley, Professor of Greek, are coming as well. I tried to get Woodhead, the Chairman of the Department of Classics, and one or two others, but they were not available.

I am sorry I did not see something of you last spring when I visited Oxford once or twice in search of a professor of Moral Philosophy to succeed Caldwell. Lindsay and Pritchard were very kind to me and I sought to induce either Price or Morris or Lyle or Weldon to come, but all maintained that Oxford had the greater claim. In the end I was forced to go to Princeton. I brought Hendel from there. He is a young philosopher of Dutch stock who was brought to my attention by Bowman of Glasgow. He has been here since the beginning of the term in October and has made a fine impression. Next October he will be joined by Porteous, whom you may remember when he was at Oriel some years ago. Hendel is modern and Porteous is of the classical school: together they should make a fine team.

Corbett is doing very well as dean of law and I regard him as one of the best men on the staff of the University.

You probably know all about the changes in recent years in that department, especially with reference to the apprenticeship of students to law firms. I am sure we are attacking on the right line, but some opposition still persists, chiefly among the older legal practitioners.

Medicine continues to hold a strong position. When I was at All Souls last Abraham Flexner was there and cheered me greatly by saying that he regarded McGill as second to none among the medical schools of this continent. Flexner ought to be a good judge, as he has spent the last fifteen years of his life in studying medical education on behalf of the Rockefeller Foundation.

Arts is going very well, particularly Classics, History, Mathematics, Chemistry, Physics and Economics; while I have very strong hopes of Philosophy. We need to strengthen our English and Modern Languages, except German where Walter has a good staff.

I want a firstclass man in English literature, someone who would make himself known beyond the boundaries of Montreal, someone who would be recognized as a great authority and who would be an inspiration.

There is another thing about which you might help me. Lately I have induced the Graduates' Society to place at my disposal annually $2750. It is my hope and intention to bring to McGill each year an outstanding man, who would live among us for a month, give say eight lectures, which would be deemed of sufficient importance to publish in book form later. The presence of such a man would be a great inspiration to all students and professors and to those intellectually inclined in the city. It is very necessary, of course, that there should be no mistake made in choosing the first lecturer. If you have any advice to give me as to a man I should go after, I shall be very glad to have it.

Remember me kindly to Lindsay when you see him and to Professor Pritchard. I have grateful memories of their kindness to me.

With all good wishes,
I am,
Ever yours faithfully,

Dear Sir:-

I have before me for acknowledgment your letter to Mr. Bennett of the 18th instant, which, unfortunately, did not reach Ottawa before Mr. Bennett had left for the West on a holiday.

Mr. Bennett's plans do not anticipate his return for some weeks, but when he is again in Ottawa, your letter will be placed before him.

Yours faithfully,

Dear Mr. Bennett,

Mr. J. F. Luddy called upon me early in September and I had a chat with him before he left for England. I gathered that he was only wishing to make general enquiries regarding the possibility of an opening without specifically aiming at joining the staff of this University. If he earns a reputation at Oxford undoubtedly his position will be greatly strengthened but unfortunately one has to recognize the fact that the openings in Classics are few and far between.

It was scarcely to be expected that I should meet you in Ottawa, since my visit happened to coincide with the particular day that it did.

I am very much enjoying my work here and I had been hoping that after things had settled down somewhat in the political world I might have an opportunity of renewing the acquaintance which was opened so happily for me at the pleasant interview you gave me at Claridge's Hotel. I hope that you are feeling somewhat rested after the strenuous affairs which have beset you just re-

Dear Principal Morgan,-

A young man in whom I am interested, Francis Leddy, I believe called upon you some time ago for the purpose of ascertaining what opportunity there might be for an appointment on the staff of your University when he finishes his course at Oxford. I understand he has given fine evidences of scholarship. You, however, would be able to form your own opinion of that after having talked with him.

I was sorry that a luncheon engagement prevented me from hearing you when you were in Ottawa as I had looked forward to meeting you here.

I hope you are getting along well in your new work.
