Many Liberals See Danger in Attitude of Conservatives

FRENCH SOLDIERS ARE ON THE MARCH FROM THE RUHR

THE LIBERALS ARE A BIT SUSPICIOUS OF THEIR ALLIES

There is Now Said to be a Rift in the Lute

HECKLERS BUSY Victory, Says MacDonald—Less Unemployment is Reported.

(Canadian Press.)

London, Oct. 22.—Traditional rivalry and their dread of another coalition seem to be intensifying the opposition to the "pact" between the Liberals and Conservatives on the part of the more extreme members of these parties.

Distrust and suspicion find loudest voice among the Liberals, notwithstanding that Mr. Asquith, their leader, has given his blessing to the reciprocal arrangement whereby Liberal or Conservative candidates in some constituencies are standing side by side to avert three-cornered contests which might work for the benefit of the Laborites.

Mr. Asquith declares: "I can see nothing which violates the most rigorous code of public honor and political consistency in the two old political parties making reciprocal sacrifices in the face of a common danger," but many members of the party find their leader's dictum extremely distasteful, and are not hesitating to say so.

Not Getting Square Deal

Some of them hint that he takes a rosier view because the Conservatives not only have with a candidate in Paisley to give him a straight fight against the Labor candidate, but are canvassing for him and are reported as intending to support him on the platform.

The disgruntled ones say that this is all very well, but that the Liberals are not getting a square deal, as far more Liberal candidates are standing aside for Conservatives than vice versa, and the reciprocal agreement will consequently thin the Liberal ranks in Parliament for the benefit of their enemies.

The bulk of the Liberals seem satisfied with Mr. Asquith's attitude, but it looks as though the others will prefer to vote Laborite rather than Conservative, in constituencies where there are no Liberal candidates. Another suspicion also is arising among the Liberals, namely that the Laborites and Conservatives have an understanding in some places aiming at the defeat of the Liberal candidate.

Lady Astor's Prospects Plymouth, Oct. 22.—The prospects of Lady Astor, who is standing for re-election to Parliament in the Sutton division of Plymouth, are regarded as particularly bright, and her supporters are confident that the Laborite candidate, Capt. G. W. Brennan, whom she defeated last year, has no chance of success.

Wild Rowdiness

London, Oct. 22.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Sir Alfred Mond, Liberal Minister of Health in the Lloyd George Coalition Government, was forced to abandon a meeting in Hackney last night because of rowdiness. The upper part grew worse as the former Minister tried to make himself heard, until finally he was scarcely able to utter a single complete sentence, and gave up trying.

Still more vigorous tactics by disturbers were adopted at a meeting in Reading, where a man struck the Conservative candidate, J. Williams, with a stick, as Williams entered the hall. The assailant was allowed to remain at the meeting, however. Apparently he was emboldened by this leniency and became very unruly. Thereupon Candidate Williams left the platform and single-handed threw the interrupter out of the building.

Called Lloyd George Liar

London, Oct. 22.—(By Lloyd Allen, United Press Staff Correspondent).—Undaunted by the prospect of continued rowdiness and heckling, which exceeded in bitterness similar disturbances of recent election campaigns, leaders of Britain's three political parties continued intensive speaking campaigns today.

PROOF OF VALUE OF ADVERTISING

What it Has Done For The Fruit Trade in Great Britain.

London, Oct. 22.—(Canadian Press.)—A tribute to the power of newspaper advertising is contained in the report on the first year of the "Eat more fruit" campaign, issued by the Fruit Trade Federation.

This is the largest co-operative fruit advertising campaign ever launched in this country, says the report, and during the past season the peculiar virtues of oranges, apples, lemons, pears and grapes have been brought home to more than twelve and a half million people in Great Britain daily, and nearly a hundred million weekly, by press advertising.

The success of the campaign is testified by letters from fruit brokers, shippers, wholesalers and retailers throughout the country, and by the fact that it has just been renewed on an even more extensive scale. By means of advertising it is hoped to make "Great Britain which today consumes less fruit than Iceland, the greatest fruit eating nation in the world."

MONCTON RATES DECISION THIS AFTERNOON

Will Not Pin Company to Lowest Possible, Says Utilities Chairman.

ARGUMENT HEARD

Fredericton Case Later Today—Statement re Sale of Moncton Utility.

A report by S. H. Mildram of Boston, expert rate adviser for the New Brunswick Board of Public Utilities, on the petition of the City of Moncton for reduction of rates for electricity charged by the Moncton Tramways, Electricity and Gas Co., Ltd., was before the board for consideration this morning here after argument by the company and other interested parties.

Trueman, chairman, announced, however, that, as the rate, to be decided on would be of a temporary nature, the board would not press a minimum rate on the company at the present time. In explaining his statement, Chairman Trueman added that the board might order a lower rate than that proposed by Mr. Mildram, but, in any case, would not pin the company to the lowest rate possible on the valuation of their investment.

Material excerpts of Mr. Mildram's report, in which he recommends reductions, will be found on page 9 of this issue.

A report by Mr. Mildram on Fredericton rates was to come before the board at 2:30 this afternoon. In this case, also, he recommends reduction of rates. A conference was to be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon between representatives of the city of Moncton, the Moncton Tramways Company respecting the street railway situation in Moncton.

Ottawa, Oct. 22.—Hundreds of civil servants throughout the country are retiring this month under the provisions of the Calder Act, which will expire at the end of October. The terms of this enactment are considered to be more liberal than those of the Superannuation Act, because, in addition to their retiring allowances, civil servants may withdraw in full their payments into the retirement fund. A large number who are nearing the age of retirement figure out that it will be to their financial benefit to leave the Calder Act. One man, now retiring, has been sixty-three years in the public service.

MAY A CHRISTIAN APPROVE OF WAR?

This Question is Before Convention of Lutheran Church in America.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—To decide whether a Christian is ever justified in going to war is one of the difficult problems that was submitted this morning to the Biennial Convention of the United Lutheran Church in America at its session here. Five hundred delegates, representing more than 2,800 Lutheran congregations, are called upon to define the position of the church on that point.

The war issue comes before the convention in the form of four memorials from as many different synods which have already taken their attitude on the teachings of Jesus Christ.

Several months ago the committee adopted the statement that it believed the Lutheran Confession, formulated 400 years ago, was a correct interpretation of the teachings of Jesus Christ. This caused a protest from three of the United Lutheran Church in America. They have adopted memorials, Christians opposing the idea that war is ever justified.

MACKENZIE KING GIVES REASON FOR PROGRESSIVE AID

Says Betsave Government Carried Out Its Election Policy.

AGAINST GROUPS

Says He Offered Three or Four Portfolios to the Third Party.

Vancouver, Oct. 22.—Speaking to a capacity audience in the Arena here last night, Premier Mackenzie King said he had given the group system of portfolios to the Liberal elected in Saskatchewan, after offering to take into the Cabinet any three or four Progressives whom the party might name.

"I have been criticised for catering to a group," the Premier continued, "but I was trying to get the Government on a footing of equal ownership of the land. I knew these western people, such as transportation rates and other things, would arise, and I wanted western men in the Government to help us consider them."

The Premier said he had a minister from every province in the Dominion. With the majority so small as to be almost non-existent, the problem of government had been difficult, but the Progressives had said of the Government honorably carried out its election policy. The Premier said:

"The distance one can go in government is the same as in business or household economy. It depends upon that one can raise in cash or credit," he said. "The first thing was to raise money to pay interest on debt. If that could not be paid the country was bankrupt. The debt was $2,970,000. The interest was $197,000,000, or more than it took to run the whole Dominion in Laurier's day. The two billion had been added during the war, and he reminded his hearers that the whole capital cost of the war had still to be paid out of the pockets of the people."

Mr. Meighen had disputed this, but taking the books as kept by themselves, Mr. King declared that the special war taxes had gone to payment of interest on war debts.

New Gold Strike is Made in Yukon; Indians Get Choicest Claims

Carcross, Yukon Territory, Oct. 22.—Practically the whole of the male population here has set out for Little Adlin Lake where it is said a band of Indian prospectors, under the leadership of "Big Lake" Jim, have discovered placer gold within 40 miles of this town and 20 miles east of the old Tagish post.

"Big Lake" Jim notified other Indians of his discovery before coming to town to tell the white population in the strike and the Indians are said to have pegged out the best claims. Nearly every one making the trip was present at getting a claim on past ownership of one. The stampede in the first Carcross has seen for sometime, practically everyone fit for travel rushing out to the scene as soon as word was received.

Some prospectors are believed to be on their way to the diggings from White Horse and Skagway. The strike is within 60 miles of the Russ placer mines near Athin and the famous "Engineer" quartz mine. Up to the present the dirt pays approximately $4 to the pan and as a rule the gold comes in flakes or in small nuggets valued at a dollar.

FRENCH SOLDIERS ARE ON THE MARCH OUT OF THE RUHR

Mines and Customs Offices to be Returned to German Owners.

NEW ERA HAILED

Tearful Dortmund Maidens Bid Fond Farewell to the Blue Clad Poilus.

(United Press.) Dortmund, Germany, Oct. 22.—Throughout the night, by the light of roaring blast furnaces, French troops were on the march out of Dortmund. Dawn found evacuation of this important centre in full swing, cannons and field pieces rumbling through the cobble-stoned streets, while curious German citizens peered from behind window blinds and many could scarcely repress their tears.

Dortmund, the first largest Ruhr centre to be evacuated, will be cleared of French troops by Thursday morning.

Wesel, another city in the occupied area, seized by French and Belgians nearly two years ago, was also evacuated today. There the burghmaster with difficulty repressed the joy of the inhabitants—fearful lest some untoward demonstration might cause a change of mind on the part of the withdrawing troops.

Throughout the Ruhr, the departure of the blue-clad soldiers who have been billeted in towns and cities, and become familiar sights since early in 1923, was hailed as the dawn of a new era.

The French have ordered all occupied mines, customs offices and the like returned to their owners by October 28. There is no doubt that the evacuation of the Ruhr has begun in earnest.

Scenes here this morning were of martial, but friendly activities. Little pyramids of guns in the square, and soldiers in full marching equipment sitting on packs awaiting the bugle call to fall in for the trek to the railroad, was a sight that greeted the early risers. The troops appeared fat and well fed, and there were not a few German maidens with tearful faces, and here and there an affectionate farewell.

CROW'S NEST RATES

The Government is Asked to Suspend Order of Railway Commission.

(Special to The Times-Star.) Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 22.—It is said here that the freight rates under the Crow's Nest agreement will be withdrawn by the railways on October 27, and the former rates reverted to, unless some action be taken by the Government in the meantime to prevent such action. The Government can suspend the order of the Railway Commission and has been requested to do so by the governments of some of the prairie provinces. It is understood that the matter was under consideration at the Cabinet Council this morning, and some members of the Cabinet favored such a course. It is unlikely, however, that any action of the kind will be taken until after the return of Premier King on November 10.

GETS GRANT FOR NURSES IN N. B.

Hon. Dr. Roberts Appears Before Rockefeller Foundation.

Hon. Dr. Roberts returned today from Toronto and New York. He attended the national meeting of the Red Cross Association in Toronto and a meeting of the Rockefeller Foundation in New York.

Dr. Roberts said that he attended the Toronto convention in an endeavor to secure a grant of $10,000 additional for this province for public health nursing. While he had not received any definite promise he declared that members of the executive committee would give the request favorable consideration at the March meeting of the central executive.

From the Rockefeller Foundation in New York he secured a grant for the support of 12 nurses in the province in public service nursing for two years with the understanding that the work will be taken over by the counties at the end of that time.

Dr. Roberts said that he had received this grant last year, but he had secured the acceptance of the nurses only from St. John County as yet and he considered that it would be better to have an extension of time, thus dating the two-year period from the present date. He had feared that the Rockefeller Foundation might cancel the grant to the province as the progress in getting the work started had been a little slow and he had made the special trip to New York to put the matter before the board. Dr. Roberts reported that he had been granted the request with the prospect of a further increased grant if the first 12 nurses are successfully taken care of by the counties.

THE LIBERALS ARE A BIT SUSPICIOUS OF THEIR ALLIES

 Premier MacDonald addressed meetings in his own constituency, Aberavon, where Conservatives and Liberals are ridiculing the Russian Treaty and predicting they will defeat MacDonald and win his seat for a Liberal opponent.

Labor leaders were jubilant today when official unemployment figures showed that 1,000 jobs had been won for men and women on the last check, October 13. This is the first decrease in unemployment since January, when there were 1,000 unemployed. Lloyd George, speaking at Haverford, continued to tongue-lash the Government, despite the interruptions and threats of Labor leaders who kept up a stentorian chant of "liar, liar."

Victory, says MacDonald.

CRITICIZES THE RAILWAY SERVICE

Comment on the C. N. R. service given passengers on the sleeping car attached to the freight train due here from Moncton at 6 a.m. was made this morning by a traveler when the car arrived 2 hours and 45 minutes late. The train, he said, left Moncton at midnight, 30 minutes late and on the way here, the engine had a breakdown. After a long wait, temporary repairs were made and the train limped into the island yard, arriving at 8:15 o'clock. Here, it is the custom to have a shunting engine ready to push the car into the station but it was not until half an hour later, an engine in sight, the car was attached and the short run into the station commenced. Half way there, the car went off the tracks and the passengers walked the rest of the way home.

On the train were some passengers who desired to make connection with the Boston boat leaving here at 8 o'clock this morning. They are now compelled to wait over until Saturday night as the boat makes only two sailings a week from here now. The

SEQUEL TO STRIKE OF BOSTON POLICE

The Strikers of Five Years
Ago are Now Widely Scattered.

Boston, Oct. 21.—The Boston police force marched on Columbus Day, five years after the reorganization that followed the police strike, raising the question what had become of those who quit the force at that time. In the crowd that watched the parade were former members of the striking police who answered the inquiry.

The little men who turned in their badges and clubs on the night of Sept. 9, 1919, are now scattered from coast to coast doing work of almost every kind. There are more present policemen among them, however, whether in California or in New England, than are at any other work, notwithstanding regulations in some places against their employment.

Some 200-odd members of the old force have done no regular work since they went out, one officer of the Boston Social Club, the striking policemen's organization said. "In New Hampshire, in Maine, and in New York especially, the strikers found work at their old police duties. Some are chiefs."

One city in New England was said to have a force consisting entirely of former strikers, with one of their number as chief. Los Angeles, San Francisco and Chicago forces include one or more of the Boston patrolmen of five years ago.

The produce trades in Greater Boston supplied a field that has given a living to many. Banks in this city and elsewhere have employed others as special officers. Some are working as watchmen or guards, and a few are members of private detective forces.

There are painters, carpenters, bricklayers, butchers, seamen, a lawyer or two, shipping clerks, waiters, motor-men, longshoremen, chauffeurs and garage employees among the active or associate members of the club. The club has about 800 active members, it was said, and is still paying monthly dues to members in need.

The president, Michael A. Lynch, resigned two weeks ago. Thomas Mahoney, vice-president, has since been acting head.

Japan Proposes College For Women

Tokyo, Oct. 22.—(United Press)—A plan which will tend to make education among the women of Japan more general is now under consideration by the Department of Education.

It is for the establishment of a Government college for women. The plan call for a total appropriation of 185,000 yen, over a period of three years. The first year's allotment is to be 350,000 yen. The college, according to tentative ideas, is to be conducted along lines similar to those under which private schools now are operated.

The college is to be located in the suburb of Tokyo. It is hoped to be ready by the opening of the fall semester next year.

Ask Churches To Help Fight Drugs

Washington, Oct. 22.—(United Press)—Earnest support of churches and church organizations for the American plan for world-wide suppression of the "drug-evil" before the International Opium Conference in Geneva in November is sought by the Federal Council of Churches.

The council calls upon Christian America to support, by thousands of resolutions, the famous "American policy" calling for total extirpation of opium plants except to meet medical and scientific needs. The petitions will be presented to the world conference by Bishop Charles H. Brent, one of the three American delegates appointed by President Coolidge. Congress has appropriated funds for the expenses of the delegation.

The American delegates, the Federal Council says, will make a strenuous fight for control of the traffic in habit-forming drugs, but leaders of the fight believe that it is essential for the world to know that they are backed by the American people.

The International Opium Conference was summoned by the League of Nations, chiefly through the efforts of Stephen G. Porter, then congressman

Was so ill couldn't even

Now, thanks to Carnol, she can work sixteen hours a day without fatigue.

Here's her story—"When a young girl I was knocked down by a horse and trap in London, England. I was kicked in my side and head. In later years I always had a cramped feeling in my left side if I sat too long. Five days out of seven I was never well. I underwent an operation and my doctor told me that my bottom rib was growing up over the other and caused my back to be one mass of inflammation and lumbago. He also said that my kidneys were affected. Even sweeping gave me pain. My operation took place in Brazil, South America. After my operation I had a nervous breakdown with insomnia. One time I didn't sleep for three months day or night. My doctor advised me to go home to England for a change. I stayed in England only a short time, but couldn't sleep, then came to Canada. I have been here two and a half years and have been laid up now and again. I have also been a great sufferer from ulcers in the mouth due to stomach and my food has given me great trouble. One night my husband brought home a bottle of Carnol and I still take it. I can honestly say now that the ulcers are gone. Your great tonic Carnol has been my salvation, for I can now work with anyone. I cook and care for fourteen, nine men, four children and myself, so that's a good proof that I am feeling A1. All my friends are telling me that I am looking well. I can work from five o'clock in the morning till nine and ten at night. My friends here in Timmins say, "Don't you find it very hard work?" I say, "Oh, no, I take my Carnol and that helps me." I find the days all too short, I wake up in the morning fresh, and sleep as sound as a bell. It would take too much of your time to tell you how I have suffered. It was nothing for me to be taken like one dying, from my tongue to my feet. I could just feel my heart beating. My husband or anyone near me had to rub me until I could feel life return to my side. This seems to have completely left me. I am thankful to think I have come to Canada to find so valuable a tonic as Carnol."—Mrs. J. Drew, 7-2, Box 804, Timmins, Ont.

AN EXPENDITURE
OF $1,728,703,000

This Amount Paid Out Last Year by Class I Railways in States.

Washington, Oct. 22.—(United Press)—Class one railroads of the United States spent $1,728,703,000 for fuel, materials and supplies in 1923, according to reports of the carriers to the Bureau of Railway Economics.

This total shows that the railroads rank among the best customers of the nation's industry.

"Most of this," said American Railway Association President Ashton, "went into the operation and maintenance of railroads and only a small part went into capital expenditures for equipment and additional facilities for which in 1923 there was actually paid $1,089,000,000, a large part of that sum being for contracts which included both labor and materials."

Of the reported amount, $617,600,000 was expended for fuel, or about one-third of the total expenditure. More than 28 per cent. of the total amount of bituminous coal produced in the United States in 1923 was purchased by the railroads at a cost of $919,000,000, while they also bought 12 of the anthracite production for $18,198,000. Fuel oil costing $78,867,000 was used in 1923 production in the United States. Other kinds of fuel to the value of $4,731,000 was purchased.

Six billion board feet of lumber, valued at $282,511,000, was used by the class one railroads in 1923, or 13 per cent. of the total estimated production of 40,000,000,000 board feet. As pointed out, this does not include the large amount of lumber bought by contractors for railway construction.

Steel rails, iron castings, structural iron and steel and many other articles of these materials needed in railway operation were used to a value of $464,

NO, MR. JONES, NO.

Sombody said, oracularly, that it was well to let the curtains of the future hang; but that is timid counsel in many circumstances, and we note that Mr. Randall K. Jones has ignored it. He tells all and sundry that the United States is swallowing Canada, and that the process is alarmingly near completion. This message he gives to his fellow-Canadians through the medium of the Fredericton Rotary Club, and through his warning lacks the frenzy of Cassandra. It has, at first hearing, a note akin to that of the frog at three o'clock in the morning.

It is a pleasure to observe, however, that on second thought Mr. Jones' apprehension seems far from warranted by the statements with which he explains it. It is true that the "peaceful penetration" of Canada through investments, through immigration, through expanding trade, and through the wanton seizure of land in the Dominion; it is true that the continuity of 112,000,000 neighbors over the long border, while we are but 9,000,000, conveys a sense of disquiet. But a true national spirit is not suffocated by trade considerations, and while our exchange of goods, and of population, with the Americans has assumed immense proportions, our pride in Canada and our resolute decision to remain in the great British family have not diminished but grown stronger. We buy and sell more and more; we welcome American investments; we desire friendly relations with the Republic and cultivate such relations so long as they in no way diminish our national independence and self-respect—but our citizenship we do not sell or contemplate selling or losing. The undying and imperishable thing that counts is not a matter of barter. The Canadian heritage is above price. It is not in danger today; it will not be in danger tomorrow, or in two decades, or in forty. There is this to be said also: that if Mr. Jones had studied the census returns and noted the proportion of our population that is of native or British stock, and if he gave due weight to the significance of the figures, he might have been less fearful.

His warning, we feel sure, springs from admirable motives; but even if his premises are in part sound, his conclusion is unwarranted. Indeed, in reading a summary of his address, one thinks of a story. Fitzhugh Lee, when he was American consul in Havana on the eve of the brush with Spain, heard a group of Spanish officers discussing the coming conflict. They did not know he understood Spanish. One of them said that immediately war was declared they would land an army in Florida and march to Washington. "They will," General Lee said to his table companion. "If the poll don't arrest 'em."

Uncle Sam is not going to swallow Canada. There are 9,000,000 of us at this writing and nine out of ten of that number will not only say that there isn't going to be any swallowing, but are ready to maintain that view, in spite of politics, of governments, of trade, of proximity, and, we had almost said, of hell and high water.

HIS LEGACY.

One of those men who bequeath to their children golden counsel as well as money was the late Hon. Louis Philippe Brodeur, former Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec and judge of the Supreme Court of Canada. His will is described as "a most human and unusual document, containing, as it does, lofty and inspiring advice." He left to his widow and five children what in Canada may be regarded as a considerable fortune—$144,000.

After a short prayer commending his soul to God, and recording his hope that his sins might be forgiven, the testator wrote of his children and their duties, going on to say: "Should any of my children devote themselves to public life, then I ask him never to let himself be guided by personal interests, but always to have before him the public interest."

And, in another passage: "I entrust my children to maintain always the principles of integrity which I may have inculcated in them. They must always be true to their parents, and always give to their mother constant marks of their filial attachment."

He had included in the will a bequest of $1,000 to the Martville hospital, "as a faint token of gratitude to the County of Rouville, which honored me during my political career with constant and inalterable trust." As this sum was given to the hospital, while Hon. Mr. Brodeur was living, this provision in the will was revoked in a codicil.

It has been said that a man's public never really knows him until he is dead, and not always then. Some will speak eloquently of their authors. This is a case of that sort. His advice to his children, fortified by the example he set them in life, should be more valuable than their shares of the estate. Some leave money, but neither advice nor example of worth. Some

THE ORIENTAL VIEW.

(The Bookman in Manitoba Free Press.)

I was greatly interested in "The Pallor of the Yellow Peril," by Lincoln Steffens, who turns a conversation with a Chinese philosopher on the Japanese problem disturbing his nation. He describes the tranquil Chinese diplomat whom he eagerly questions, and whose answers are a kind of allegory. Mr. Steffens is very frank, and makes the attack as "one finger of the perfect hand stirred and the deep smile in his eyes deepened."

THE GREAT AMERICAN FREE-FOR-ALL.

(Mr. John W. Davis stands for American membership in the League of Nations; but that is not the decisive issue in the presidential race this year; and La Follette—well, in race track parlance, an added starter upsets the betting. Mr. Coolidge, if he is President again, will probably find his party unable to rule Congress. But the new government and the next Congress will find a disarmament conference before them, and the United States will be represented there and will scarcely refrain from substantial agreement with the decisions reached at that meetings of the nations. For many reasons in addition to international issues there is reason to regret that Mr. Davis and Mr. Coolidge were not sent in the race without the confusion which the La Follette entry contributes. Had the Democratic convention been free of the Bryans, had there been a more outspoken platform and another choice for Mr. Davis' running mate, the race would look different today. Either Mr. Davis or Mr. Coolidge, most outsiders will think, would make an excellent President. Should both fall of election a period of intense political excitement will follow, and sometimes of such excitement political folly is born—even danger.

TRADE WINDS.

(John Masfield.)

In the harbor, in the island, in the Spanish Seas, Are the tiny white houses and the orange trees, And day-long, night-long, the cool and pleasant breeze Of the steady Trade Winds blowing.

There is the new wine, the nutty Spanish ale, The squeaking fiddle, and the soothing in the sail Of the steady Trade Winds blowing.

And o' nights there's fire-flies and the yellow moon, And in the ghostly palm trees the sleepy tune Of the steady Trade Winds blowing.

IN LIGHTER VEIN

No Use. There was a canvasser at the door trying to sell Mrs. Higgins a burglar alarm. "But I don't need any of your burglar alarms," she told the man, making as if to shut the door. "That's just what the lady next door said," was the reply. "What do you mean?" asked Mrs. Higgins, now on the alert. She had called "that woman" in her mind. "She said that it was no use my calling on you," went on the man, "as you wouldn't need any, as you had nothing worth stealing."

"Give me three," interrupted Mrs. Higgins, gritting her teeth.

Homs-Brewed. "My wife is a great one to borrow trouble."

"Mine doesn't have to; she's an expert at making it."

Quite the Contrary. "I'm afraid father was very angry when you asked him for me, wasn't he, Jack, dear?"

"Not at all. He asked me if I knew any more respectable young men who would be likely to marry your three sisters."

Homs Illustration. "Pa," said Johnny, looking up from his grammar lesson, "what is meant by active and passive voice?"

"Your mother's and mine, my son."

SURPLUS OF BUFFALO.

(Manchester Guardian.)

It looks as if the buffalo had really ceased to be threatened with extinction. Not long ago the Canadian government sold its surplus of the animals—to be made into meat. The American department of the interior now announces that the preserve in the Yellowstone National Park is overstocked. A statement in the American press to this effect followed by the information that the surplus would be given away has resulted in a flood of applications to Washington. Some of the applicants obviously have but a hazy notion of the kind of beast they desire to own. Several children have applied for "little ones as pets."

A Colorado man ordered two truck-loads, and another, in Iowa, wrote saying, "I would like to have one of those buffalo that you are giving away. What else did you do with them?"

A man in Georgia wanted one to give to his daughter as a birthday present, and another applicant desired a couple of buffaloes, "gentle enough to hitch in the front yard."

The distribution of the animals starts next month, and the authorities state that, while attempting to satisfy the some of the wishes of private individuals, preference will be given to municipal zoos, many of which ask for a few animals to form the nucleus of a bison herd. The buffalo may yet be counted by the million as in former days.

THE BUILDING OF THE DOMINION

The high-level bridge over the Saskatchewan at Edmonton

Perched high on the banks of the Saskatchewan River, Edmonton looks proudly over the prosperous Province of Alberta, of which it is the political capital.

For 120 years (centuries, as time goes in the West) Edmonton has commanded the fur trade of the Northland, and in that trade is still pre-eminent.

Known as the commercial centre of an unusually rich farming area, Edmonton is rapidly assuming a rôle of greater importance. It is the gateway to the Empire of the Northwest—the distributing centre for an area which spreads away into the rich territories of the Peace River country, and to the Mackenzie River Basin—and beyond. It has a veritable spider's web of railways to feed the commerce of its great business houses.

Industrially, Edmonton is making rapid strides. Its long list of manufacturers must grow, under the encouragement of unlimited coal supplies and unexcelled shipping facilities.

Edmonton is the educational centre of the province, being the seat of the University of Alberta.

Recognizing the importance of Edmonton, the Canadian Pacific contributed $498,000 to the cost of the high level bridge over the Saskatchewan.

DO YOU KNOW that there are about 4000 bridges along the lines of the Canadian Pacific, practically all being of steel or reinforced concrete? Placed end to end they would stretch a distance of 80 miles.

Industrially, Edmonton is making rapid strides. Its long list of manufacturers must grow, under the encouragement of unlimited coal supplies and unexcelled shipping facilities.

Edmonton is the educational centre of the province, being the seat of the University of Alberta.

Recognizing the importance of Edmonton, the Canadian Pacific contributed $498,000 to the cost of the high level bridge over the Saskatchewan.

DO YOU KNOW that there are about 4000 bridges along the lines of the Canadian Pacific, practically all being of steel or reinforced concrete? Placed end to end they would stretch a distance of 80 miles.

Known as the commercial centre of an unusually rich farming area, Edmonton is rapidly assuming a rôle of greater importance. It is the gateway to the Empire of the Northwest—the distributing centre for an area which spreads away into the rich territories of the Peace River country, and to the Mackenzie River Basin—and beyond. It has a veritable spider's web of railways to feed the commerce of its great business houses.

FLIER FORGED TO LAND NEAR CITY OF EMBDEN

Paris Newspapers Display Story of Alleged Seizure Prominently

Paris, Oct. 21—A story recounting the alleged confiscation by the German authorities of a French balloon which landed near Embden is printed prominently in this afternoon's newspapers. The balloon, participating in a competition, left St. Cloud on October 11. When it was forced to descend upon German soil the pilot received every attention and aid from the authorities and was invited to lunch by the Mayor of the city but he was detained for two days pending instructions from Berlin. When these came they ordered that the pilot be released but that the balloon with its instruments, maps and all of its material be confiscated. The newspapers point out that the French balloon was confiscated at a moment when the German ZR-3 was flying over France with the authorization of the French Government.

Apply Sulphur as Told When Your Skin Breaks Out.

Any breaking out of the skin on face, neck, arms or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur. The pimples seem to dry right up and go away, declares a noted skin specialist. Nothing has ever been found to take the place of sulphur as a pimple remover. It is harmless and inexpensive. Just ask any druggist for a small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur and use it like cold cream.

Marx Says Dissolution of Reichstag Does Not Endanger Agreement

Berlin, Oct. 21—Dissolution of the Reichstag and the advent of a new Parliament in no way endangers the fulfillment by Germany of the London agreement on the Dawes reparation plan, Chancellor Marx told the press. Although the political complexion of the new Reichstag is wholly conjectural at this hour, the Chancellor is convinced that the election, which has been officially set for Dec. 7, will retain a sufficient number of supporters of the Dawes plan and of the foreign and internal policies of the present Government to ensure the construction of a workable coalition Government.

In connection with requests from the Japanese, Roumanian and Serbian delegates that they be represented on the transfer committee, the commission decided it was incompetent to change the composition of the committee. It decided, however, to draw the attention of the transfer committee to the advantage of hearing interested delegations when opportune.

USE TEAR BOMBS TO DISPERSE MOB

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 21—A riot call was sent to police headquarters tonight when a crowd of persons, said to be Ku Klux Klan sympathizers, were reported to be attempting to prevent persons from entering the Arena Gardens, where Aldrich Blake, former secretary to Jack Walton, deposed Governor of Oklahoma, was scheduled to speak. All available police reserves were called out and the officers succeeded in forcing back a crowd of several hundred persons who were said to be preventing persons from entering the building. The subject of Blake's address had been announced as "The Ku Klux Klax."

Tear gas bombs were used by police to disperse the mob and shortly after 8 o'clock the crowd had been driven into side streets.

Experts estimate that the incandescent lights of today have about four times the efficiency of those of 18 years ago.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

THE MAGIC ANCHOR

"Use it like a lasso," he explained. Davy Jones sent for his magic anchor and gave it to Nick. "Use it like a lasso," he explained. "A lasso wouldn't be a bit of use in the sea any more than an anchor would be in a desert. Just hang it over your sea-horse's neck and when you see Tweekanose, let out the rope and throw it. It will be sure to catch him."

"Why is everybody looking so queer?" "Because," explained Nick, "our sea-horses aren't much bigger than polly-wogs and the anchor is as big as a wash-tub." "Why, so it is!" declared Davy Jones. "But what of it? Look at you two children. I bet you anything that you used to be as big as real children."

"Ink, wink, Now ponder and think, Down under the water, It's right you should shrink."

And instantly the magic anchor shrank until it was small enough for a watch charm. Davy Jones picked it up and handed it to Nick. "Here you are," he said. "If this doesn't do the work and catch that rascal, Tweekanose, I'm very much mistaken."

"But how can we get it back to you?" asked Nick. "Children always come home to roost," said Davy Jones. "Just drop it into the ocean any time, any place, and it will come right back."

AGENTS RAID CAFE IN EVENING DRESS

Prohibition Men Make Big Haul of Liquor in New York Restaurant New York, Oct. 19—Dressed in cutaway coats and wearing silk "toppers" and white carnations, Prohibition Agents Rosen, Fitzpatrick and Leap recently raided the Mid-Town Restaurant, at No. 86 East 41st street. The place at the time was filled with more than 200 diners. They fled, panic-stricken, leaving meals and unpaid bills. Liquors valued at $600,000 were seized. J. Hines, manager, was arrested. When the well-dressed men announced that they were dry agents and that the place was being raided, scenes of the wildest disorder followed. The raiders urged the diners to finish their meals, but all present made a concerted rush for the street. The restaurant, one of the high-priced, exclusive type, is patronized by persons of wealth. Highballs cost $1.00 each. The liquor consisted of 80 cases of Scotch whiskey, 18 cases of Chartreuse, 15 sacks of ale, 100 cases of beer and a large quantity of Benedictine and wines. The agents bought Scotch highballs at $1.00 a drink, ordered meals and then, on the pretext of an almost forgotten engagement with a broker in the Wall street district, Rosen left his two companions and hurried down town, to return later. He returned with a search warrant issued by United States Commissioner John N. Boyle.

COMMENT ON THE DANCING VOGUE

Says an English exchange:—

As present the foxtrot and the waltz reign supreme. The one-step is played very frequently; its chief use is to open and close a dance. The "blues" have quietly died. The rumba, like the tango of pre-war days—and suddenly went out. The recording manager of one of the biggest gramophone companies—and gramophone companies are good barometers—told me recently that he had not made a new "blues" record since Christmas, although at that time he was making records for the season. There are only the four-step tango, which is really not a tango at all, but a dance with an individuality of its own, and the quick new Five-Step left to choose from—if a choice is to be made at all.

The tango's strong point is that it already has a nucleus of dancers, and has been on the dance stage for three seasons. In Paris it is the foxtrot's rival. Foxtrot, tango, waltz, is about how the Paris dance programme runs, in the proportion of 1-2-1. In many smart places it has its own band, which specializes in tango music, its equipment with concertina or harmonium predominating in place of the saxophone of the foxtrot, and plays no other music. At such places as Deauville, Dinard, Le Touquet the tango is danced a good deal. Many people do not acquire it these last three years, and danced it in French ballrooms. In London for one season it was played once or twice during tea dances and at night in most of the best dance places, but so few people took the floor that presently it was dropped. Still, it might be revived in the coming season with a good prospect of being taken up.

The only rival the Parisian tango has at present is the Five-Step. The Five-Step is quite a delightful dance, languorous, rather languid, gliding with no difficult postures. Its weakness is that it rather lacks character. Its chief strength, however, can be done to its music quite well. But the music is charming and alluring and that is half the battle.

It cannot be too strongly emphasized that it is the music which keeps one particular dance alive, or sweeps a new dance in. Steps are of quite secondary importance. The whole prospect of new dance is darkened by the fact that something of a vested interest in foxtrot music has grown up. Tens of thousands of expert "foxtrot" musicians and composers keep the foxtrot living and vital hands have reached a very high degree of perfection and the forces opposing any considerable change are enormous.

Meaning, there are no changes in either waltz or foxtrot. One slight change in the dance programme is in the proportion of waltz to foxtrot. Last season it was five foxtrots to one waltz in most places; in the coming

F. B. ELLIS AGAIN HEADS N.H. SOCIETY

A. Gordon Leavitt, Secretary, Wins Praise of Annual Meeting.

A year of greater encouragement and gratifying achievement was reported upon at the annual meeting of the Natural History Society held yesterday evening with Frank B. Ellis, president, in the chair. Mr. Ellis was re-elected president and A. Gordon Leavitt, who was re-elected treasurer after 25 years of most faithful and efficient service in that office, was tendered a formal vote of thanks for his work for the society. The resolution of thanks will be suitably inscribed and presented to Mr. Leavitt at a later date.

The officers elected were as follows: President, Frank B. Ellis; vice-presidents, first, T. H. Eastbrook; second, W. S. Fisher; treasurer, A. Gordon Leavitt; curator and secretary, William McIntosh; recording secretary, W. F. Burditt; librarian, Geoffrey Stead; additional members of the council, Rev. Dr. David Hutchinson, John Kimball, Dr. J. Roy Campbell, A. H. Wetmore and John A. MacKay. At the first meeting of the council additional members will be elected.

The treasurer's statement showed receipts had included a city grant of $5,000 and supplementary grants from the province. There had also been bequests of $1,000 from the estate of Hon. W. H. Thorne and $200 from the estate of W. Frank Hatheway, which sums are to be placed in the building fund, a fireproof building being the ultimate goal of the society. A gift of $10 from Mrs. C. J. Sunder and membership fees totalling $203 were also included in the receipts. The balance on hand was more than $600 and there were some outstanding bills.

The report of the Ladies' Association will be given.

tion was read by Mr. McIntosh. Appreciate His Work.

The meeting passed a very hearty vote of thanks and appreciation to Mr. McIntosh, whose excellent work as curator has received well-merited recognition in the scientific world. In his report Mr. McIntosh referred to the success of the show windows in Union street, one of this year's innovations which had been the means of so greatly increasing the number of visitors above the 13,000 of the previous year that no record could be kept. A summary of the work showed the following totals: Nature study notes supplied teachers, 2,068; collections of specimens loaned to schools, 166; collections given to schools or individuals, 113; collections made for schools or students, 800; specimens identified, 2,708; articles prepared for newspapers or magazines, 27; lectures, lessons or talks given for teaching, 110.

The report referred to the visit of the curator to various museums in the United States and to the exhibit arranged by him at the St. John Exhibition and to the notable Oriental exhibition held at the museum in January last when Mrs. Frances Ayscough loaned a very valuable collection.

SUCCESSFUL BRIDGE HELD.

The Altman's Sacred Heart Convent staged a very enjoyable and successful bridge in the rooms of St. Vincent's Alumnae last evening. The decorations were simple but effective, autumn colorings, pines and roan berries, and the soft glow of lighted candles offsetting the hard brilliancy of the electric lights making the scene a very relaxing one. Bridge was played at 10 tables, while at others the lovers of auction forty-fives held forth.

Miss Elizabeth Furlong, president of the alumnae, received the guests, assisted by Mrs. D. P. Chisholm. Mrs. F. H. Foster and Mrs. J. M. Driscoll presided over the tea and coffee. The supper was served at the smaller tables. Mrs. Struan Ritchie and Miss Anna Murphy were the conveners and were assisted in serving by a capable committee chosen from the alumnae. The prize winners were Miss Florence McQuiggan and Miss Mabel Seely and Messrs. F. Dupuy and J. Strling. George Murphy won the auction forty-five prize. The bridge was in part a benefit, to raise funds for the work of the alumnae. It was the first of a series of social events and were assisted in serving by a capable committee chosen from the alumnae. The prize winners were Miss Florence McQuiggan and Miss Mabel Seely and Messrs. F. Dupuy and J. Strling. George Murphy won the auction forty-five prize. ## SAYS FERNHILL COMPARES WELL

Supt. Clayton Tells of Visit to Cemeteries Near Boston.

The following is Supt. Clayton's report on his visit to cemeteries near Boston, and a comparison with Fernhill—

To the President and Directors, Fernhill Cemetery Company.

Gentlemen—Whilst on my vacation this month, I visited cemeteries adjacent to Boston, Mass., for the purpose of gathering information that would be of assistance in the better management of Fernhill, particularly in matters relating to the method of marking Perpetual Care lots, and the system of recording the cutting and trimming of same.

As regards the date on which lots are cut and trimmed, at no cemetery that I visited could I find any such record; only a weekly report, furnished by the party in charge of grass cutting is filed. This report deals only with sections, and does not refer to grass cutting; as a result, during my visit I was very unfavorably impressed with the appearance of many of the perpetual care lots.

The appearance of the cemetery entrance in each case was very beautiful and created in me a feeling of reverence, respect and admiration. The skill, care and harmonious blending of nature's wondrous gifts, trees, shrubs, flowers and grass, but as I wandered towards the more remote parts of the grounds, the changes in the appearance seemed as if governed by the distance from the entrance. I arrived at certain parts, there the conditions were very opposite in every way to those at the approach. It seemed almost impossible that these two conditions could exist in the same cemetery, paths overgrown with weeds, lots uncared for, rubbish lying about, avenues weedy and needing repairs to the uneven surface, tools, coats, dinner-pails, wheel-barrrows, etc. scattered about, some on lots, on stones, or hanging on the trees. These matters may appear small, but in a well ordered cemetery, they appear very objectionable. The chapels and tombs I found more elaborate and costly than those we have, but they cannot give better service.

The principal avenues are coated with an asphaltic material which gives a richness to the place, and a pleasing contrast with the grass margins.

Aside from those things that their great wealth enables them to do, I am convinced that all parties connected with Fernhill can be proud of its appearance, systems, methods and economical management.

Yours respectfully,
J. P. CLAYTON,
Superintendent.

WORK OF Y.W.C.A.
HERE IS PLANNED

The monthly meeting of the Y. W. C. A. board was held yesterday afternoon and the various activities for the coming season were discussed. It was decided to hold a track meet on Oct. 23 for the gymnasium girls, also three Halloween parties. It was also decided to enlist volunteers to aid in collecting subscriptions from friends of the association and the granting of membership in the gymnasium class for older women to all sustaining members who were eligible.

Mrs. E. C. Weyman, president, was in the chair and Mrs. Alfred Morrissey, secretary, led the opening devotions. Reports of all branches of the work were very encouraging. The King street east residence report showed needed repairs were ordered carried out. The physical department report told of the work of the new instructor, Miss Dorothy McArthur, who has already enrolled 153 pupils in her classes. Several cups had been donated for the track meet and a good start made in opening a class for boys. The kindergarten had still room for more children but had made a very encouraging start. The membership committee report told of efforts made to interest the women through the city churches.

A scheme for the observance of the "week of prayer" from Nov. 9 to 15 was approved.

The opening of the buffet in connection with a recreation room for the girls of the city to which they might bring their friends was considered a very wise suggestion, although a distinctly new departure. It was thought that these advantages would be eagerly received by the girls and young women of the city. Miss Warner and Miss Culver would take charge of the buffet luncheon and a party to be held on Nov. 8 would mark the opening of the recreation room and buffet.

In the absence of Mrs. A. W. Estey, Miss Edna Hunt gave the report of the girls' work committee, telling of the large numbers now attending the Boosters meetings. The Boosters were learning sewing among other activities and gifts of three yards of cotton crepe were asked for.

Miss Hunt and Miss McArthur were appointed to represent the Y. W. C. A. on the Religious Education Council.

A Skin of Dazzling Loveliness... in spite of days brimful

JULIA HOYT
One of society's most beautiful women, has expressed enthusiasm for the Pond's method of caring for the skin. She says, "Loveliness of clear, smooth skin may be acquired by any woman through the daily use of Pond's Two Creams."

HOW is it that the lovely society women you know have learned to keep that dazzling thing we know as youth?

Yet their very lives seem made up of activities that tend to bring deep shadows and lines into the face, to make the skin sallow and old before its time.

How do they guard their exquisite freshness, keep the undimmed radiance of their skin?

They searched to find the way to keep their complexions protected from every trace of fatigue in spite of a whirl of late suppers and balls, theaters, luncheons and teas.

At last they found the method that Pond's Laboratories have for years been perfecting. Just Two Creams which provide the balanced care every normal skin should have—a Rejuvenating Cleansing—a Delicate Protection and Finish.

Once Every Day a Cleansing with Pond's Cold Cream. It gets down into the pores, and brings up the day's collection of dust and dirt, rouge, powder and excess oil. Apply the cream generously, spreading it over face and neck; let it stay on a few moments. With a soft cloth take off all the cream and dirt. And now apply the cream anew and wipe it off once more. Such undreamed-of cleanness! Your skin, just rosy-clean, heaves a sigh of relief, refreshed delight!

Next a Lovely Finish and Protection with Pond's Vanishing Cream. Smooth on a little of this greaseless cream, just the amount the skin will absorb. It instantly disappears. Now see what a lovely surface it gives your skin.

And like a soft garment it protects your complexion from its enemies, "Winter and rough weather." So you should always use it just before going out, the very last thing before you powder. You'll find now, too, that you never could hold your powder so long before or make it go on so evenly as it does over this soft, utterly vanishing, exquisitely finishing cream!

Learn from the lovely society women who keep their skin perpetually fresh and youthful. Buy Pond's Two Creams today. Your complexion will respond immediately to their deft services, showing a new, undreamed-of, dazzling loveliness in spite of days brimful. # Mildram Recommends Rates Cut In Moncton and Fredericton

UTILITIES EXPERT STUDIES FIGURES; REPORTS TO BOARD

Gives Moncton Rate Base of $300,000; Fredericton $200,000.

CUTS SUBSTANTIAL

Suggests Moncton Car Fares Higher—Says Information in Fredericton Lacking.

S. H. Mildram, technical expert of the N. B. Board of Public Utilities, presented to the board today his report on the petition of the City of Moncton for reduction in the rates charged for electric energy supplied by the Moncton Tramways, Electricity and Gas Co., Ltd., in Moncton for street lighting, domestic and industrial purposes.

This company, in addition to supplying electrical energy in Moncton, also owns and operates the street railway system and distributes natural gas throughout the city.

Prior to 1910, the city owned and operated both electric and gas plants. Under the terms of an agreement consummated in May, 1910, the city leased to the Tramways Company for a period of 89 years from March 26, 1911, the gas and electric plants belonging to the city. The total investment of the company was $188,751.89, covered by bonded indebtedness at 4 per cent. The company was to pay the city 8 per cent. of its gross earnings for five years and, after that, a royalty of four per cent. on the gross earnings for a further period of five years, then 8 per cent. for the next five years, and 5 per cent. for the remainder of the lease. It was also provided the annual rent should not be less than $10,000.

It was evident, the report says, that the rent was intended to provide interest and sinking fund charges on the city's bonds. The company was authorized to issue stock to the amount of $1,000,000, the total issue amounting to $1,000,000 of 10,000 shares of $100 each, for which the company is said to have received cash and services. The records do not show the report adds, the amount of cash value of the services, or the amount of the discount. Additional issue of stock totaled 1,284 shares, par value of which amounted to $128,400. The company received $10,000 in cash, discounts being allowed of $115,600.

Says Volume Indicated.

The first bond issues had a par value of $205,000, on which discounts were allowed of $40,076.08. Later, bonds were issued with a par value of $185,000, on which there were discounts totaling $10,000. Plant investment and rate base statement shows a total of $1,898,998.73. Outstanding against this is a common stock value of $1,135,400. The company actually expended in cash for all classes of plant to Dec. 31, 1923, $726,752.89. This, with the city's expenditures, makes a total of $1,852,504.28, which represents the total actual cost of all plant as compared with the company's figure of $1,898,998.73.

"The above indicates a very considerable amount of water in the company's outstanding capital obligations," the report says.

Gives $300,000 Rate Base.

W. J. Francis & Co., Montreal, in April, 1920, appraised the electric plant at current reproduction value at $495,708.26, with a reproduction value of the city's original investment of $185,899.96. The present fair value of all the electric plant is estimated at $1,898,998.73, including plant additions. Mildram says, including plant additions. Deducting a reserve for depreciation, amounting to $415,246.82, the present fair value of $1,483,751.91 is found as a liberal estimate of the electric rate base, the report adds. This company is entitled, Mr. Mildram says, to a fair return of 8 per cent. on the rate base of $300,000. This would amount to $24,000 a year.

Prior to 1923, the report continues, the company generated electricity by steam power, but on June 9, 1922, the city had contracted with the Government for a supply of hydro electric energy for Moncton to amount of 2,500,000 k. w. h. a year at a price of 2.25 cents per k. w. h. On June 21, 1922, the city contracted with the Tramways Company to turn over the hydro energy to the company without profit, the company to distribute under a schedule approved by the Public Utilities Commission.

"Inasmuch," he says, "as it was clearly by means of this hydro contract the company was enabled to make material savings in its operating expenses as compared with the former cost of current generated by steam, it is only fair and reasonable that both the city and the public share in the benefits to be derived from the resulting decreased cost of production to the company. The suggested schedule will produce a liberal return to the company. The suggested rates would produce a gross operating revenue of $141,921.75 and will leave $26,701.73 for dividends, etc., or a return of 8.87 per cent. on the $300,000 rate base."

Reduction.

Mr. Mildram anticipates in the report that there will be an increase of 12 and 1/2 per cent. in the rates under the hydro contract with the reduced (Continued on page 14, second column)

WAS THREE YEARS IN ARCTIC REGION

Danish Explorer Subsidized on What He Could Shoot and Catch.

By HERBERT BAILEY, (British United Press).

London, Oct. 22.—Peter Freuchen, Danish explorer, has just arrived at Aberdeen aboard the schooner Solong after being missing for three years in Arctic regions. When found in Pond's Bay, Beaufort Land, he was living on seal, walrus and reindeer flesh, and on fish which he shot and caught. Four Eskimo helpers were lost; two men and two women; while the Canadian police vessel, which calls at Pond's Bay, had paid its visit before Freuchen reached there, and would not be back for at least another year.

SMUGGLERS' OY WILL SOON PASS FROM THE SCENE

Only Two Line Stores are Left on Vermont-Quebec Border.

BEATING THE GAME

People on Both Sides Evade the Duty and Laugh at Officers.

St. Albans, Vt., Oct. 22.—The American-Canadian line stores, which once impudently straddled the New England-Quebec border from Lake Champlain to the northern Maine wilderness, are thinning fast, according to United States customs authorities, and in one more generation, officials say, there will be no single surviving stronghold of the most ancient smuggling institution which ever theoretically thumbed its nose at the law-makers of two nations.

Progressive Exit.

For some years past, says the Boston Post, the American government has been closely watching the border. No commercial buildings can be erected there except upon sites already devoted to such ventures. Thus no new line stores can be established, and the old one, long handed down from father to son, are growing fewer from season to season. Fire takes its annual toll of them, customs men tear them down when they are caught with contraband, and the shifting of rural populations drives occasional shopkeepers out of business.

In Northern Vermont, where dozens of the line-stores used to flourish, only two are now open. They are in, of course, Franklin village, and their weather-beaten hulks stand in a picturesque example of a form of evasion which at one time threatened extinction to every regular Yankee or Canadian merchant within a day's travel of John Bull's back fence.

Steady, Immense Profits.

While adventurers and desperadoes of the past year have risked their lives and their liberty running Chinamen, Jews, dope, and liquor over the international line by every means of transportation from snowshoes to aeroplanes, and by every means of evasion, including their own bodies, they have been able to make a constant stream of money for themselves and their partners. They have had no need of bank accounts for themselves on both sides of the boundary. Cigarettes and overhauled wools were their main products, gasoline and maple sugar are their staples instead of whiskey or diamonds, but they put away dollars as they came, and they have been able to keep their money in their pockets, and they have been able to keep their money in their pockets, and they have been able to keep their money in their pockets.

The line-stores run on an adaptation of the cash and carry system. They sometimes use the cash and carry system. The carrying—mostly in open defiance of two laws—is done in the middle of the street. The border shop's front door is usually bricked up. The day line that separates Uncle Sam's territory from the territory of Great Britain. Inside the store, however, the line of demarcation isn't imaginary. Sometimes a chalk mark, but more often a paint atrak indicates exactly how far south a bottle of Johnny Walker can go without fouling Mr. Volstead and how far north a package of cigarettes can roam without paying tribute to the treasury of the crown.

Always Have to Watch Step.

The best and cheapest wares of Canada stock the shelves on one side of the line, and the pick of the American markets is heaped on the other. Daily shoppers from North and South alike come around to inspect their money to the fullest advantage. What they do with their purchases after they have paid for them is no concern of the government officials, Canadian and American, keep a hostile eye on the line-straddlers. The border store owners pay property taxes and income taxes to both countries, and are assessed for contributions to two townships. Their shops are searched periodically, and if one crate of eggs or one box of matches is on the wrong side of the line, the building can be, and often is, torn down. Long expatriated.

Consequently every foot of ground floor space is economically used. This shows A. Flakow, 18, and his tailor shop under the steps of a house in West 29th street.

THE LAW AGAINST ROWDYISM IS NOW BEING INVOKED

Some Interesting Sideights on the Election Campaign in Great Britain.

LABOR HAS NO PRESS

Curzon is Bitter-Free Trade Warning—Conservatives Have Most Money

London, Oct. 22.—The political campaign is settling itself down to a rather tedious process of discrediting and belittling "the opposing party." This is due to the absence of any great question of principle to stir the mind of the voters.

There is, nevertheless, an overwhelming flood of oratory. Marquis Curzon entered the field for the first time today with a speech in London. As natural to a former foreign minister, Lord Curzon devoted his speech to denouncing the foreign policy of the Labor Government, especially the Russian treaty, which he characterized as "astounding" and "respecting which he said:

"The whole annals of our country contain nothing more humiliating or more disgraceful than this treaty."

Lord Curzon also pictured the situation growing in Egypt and India, which might possibly lead to war.

Premier MacDonald's health has improved and he is again touring the country in an active campaign. There has been some rowdyism at Bristol, Norwich and other places, leading to the arrest of many disturbers, under a special act of Parliament passed in 1908, when suffragist disturbances were rampant. This is the first time the act has been invoked since that period.

Labor Has No Press.

The difficulty of forecasting the outcome of the present appeal to the country is not diminished by the fact that the Liberal party lacks any adequate representation in the daily press. This is particularly the case in London, where, out of the whole field of newspaper activity, morning and evening, only one small paper represents Labor, while on the other hand the Conservatives have a representation in the big dailies far greater even than the Liberal party. Hence the people are apt to form an erroneous opinion of the progress of the campaign.

Both Liberal and Labor parties are beginning to feel the strain of the annually recurring elections, and it is this that has been used as an explanation of the small proportion of Liberal candidates in the field. In comparison with the two other parties it is here that the Conservatives have a distinct advantage—the possession of almost inexhaustible campaign funds.

This state of affairs will induce the Liberal and Labor parties to adopt

FRANCE DOES NOT CARE WHO BEATS MR. LA FOLLETTE

Regards Him as Leader of the German Element in United States.

OTHER REASONS

Neutral as Between Coolidge and Davis, But Like Latter's Policy.

By A. L. BRADFORD (United Press Staff Correspondent).

Paris, Oct. 22.—The French attitude toward the American elections is this: They don't care who beats La Follette. Aside from open opposition to the Wisconsin senator, Frenchmen had taken only moderate interest in the campaign in the United States until J. P. Morgan let it be known today that there was "nothing doing" on a loan until the result of the November 4 balloting should be known. Interest picked up at once. Even at that, the interest is less than in 1920, when Cox and Harding were battling for the presidency. There are three reasons why Frenchmen oppose La Follette's election.

The Reasons Stated.

1. The independent candidate is considered a leader of the German element in the United States. His Germanophile utterances are cited.
2. La Follette's attacks on the Versailles treaty prejudices the French against him because the treaty is regarded here as the charter of France's post-war existence. The Wisconsin senator has threatened to seek revision of the act.
3. La Follette's statements that he would seek immediate payment of Allied debts would be enough to make him unpopular here. Feeling against La Follette is summed up by the Gazette, which says: "From our external point of view, let us hope that either Coolidge or Davis is elected."

No Preference.

There is no well defined French preference as between Davis and the incumbent. Both have points which the people here consider in their favor. Both are believed inclined to be lenient toward collection of France's debt, which is the outstanding point in this country's interest toward anything American.

The Democratic nominee's stand on the League of Nations and the tariff is considered as more favorable to France than that of the President. At the Quai D'Orsay, however, pains were taken to stress the fact that the French Government wished to be considered entirely neutral.

NAVY WANTS HUGE MILITARY AIRSHIP

Uncle Sam Will Eclipse The Z R-3.

By LUDWELL DENNIS (United Press Staff Correspondent).

Washington, Oct. 22.—A new military airship over twice the size of the ZR-3 and the Shenandoah will be built by the United States Navy, if the directors of the budget and Congress grant the appropriation now being asked by the Navy Department, it was learned in official quarters today.

Although the size of the air-ship will depend upon the money available, present plans call for a capacity of about six million cubic feet, original plans for a 10,000,000 cubic foot ship having been given up.

The ZR-3 contains 2,400,000 feet. No official announcement of the plans will be made until after the election, even if the budget bureau approved the expenditure.

THE DUTCH PEOPLE OPPOSED TO ARMY

So Much so That Queen Has Refused to Review Troops.

Amsterdam, Holland, Oct. 22.—Whether it is worth while for Holland to keep up an army and navy in the light of recent war experiences is a question which is agitating the public and the government alike. A demonstration recently held in all the Dutch cities disapproval was expressed at the fact that, instead of following the example of Denmark, whose Government has just proposed the abolition of the army, the Netherlands had increased her current war budget by 1,000,000 florins, and because of Queen's speech at the meeting of Parliament made no mention whatever of disarmament.

Anti-militaristic feelings are also finding expression elsewhere. During the army manoeuvres certain incidents occurred which the authorities are careful to explain did not mean open mutiny but which, judging from newspaper accounts, came perilously near it. The "eleventh" elements refused to obey orders it is said, and officers were treated with contempt.

According to the Handelsblad, a prominent newspaper, the position at one time became such that no vigorous measures to enforce discipline could be taken for fear of provoking a dangerous outbreak. As a result, the Queen has refused to attend the review of awards will not take place.

SHE CAME OVER IN THE MAYFLOWER

The Only One to Go to Boston Will Be Honored.

Boston, Oct. 22.—Of the 180 passengers on the Mayflower only one, Mary Chilton, came to Boston, and her memory is to be preserved in a bronze tablet which has been placed in Spring Lane, to be dedicated next Thursday. The Massachusetts Society of Mayflower Descendants, which erected the tablet on the site of her last home to commemorate the fact that she was the only Mayflower passenger to become a resident of Boston and that she arrived in America before any other white woman who settled in this city, will have charge of the exercises. These will be held in the Old South Meeting House, a few rods away, the home of the Third Church, of which Mary Chilton was a member.

The tablet, executed by John F. Parham, sculptor, shows the Mayflower in bas-relief, mentions the distinctions of Mary Chilton, and notes the fact that she was married to John Winslow at Plymouth about 1624, came to Boston about 1637, and bought a home on the site now occupied by a tall office structure in 1671. John Winslow died there in 1674. His wife survived him five years.

The memorial will be unveiled by Mary Chilton Winslow, a three year old life member of the society who is a direct descendant of Mary Chilton. James R. Garfield of Cleveland, former secretary of the interior, who also is a descendant of Mary Chilton, will deliver the address.

Some Wonderful Bargains.

"Tough competition for the Franklin farmers," commented Collector Whitehill. "But that isn't all. Take a look at these sweaters and underwear at such low prices."

Piled high against one wall were brushed wool garments, beautifully made, selling for prices that were less than half the bargain figure in America. Elaborate ladies' jerseys were marked $2.98.

"My wife bought a sweater just like these in Boston," said Mr. Whitehill, "at a cost her over $10 bill."

Proprietor Hill, the soul of hospitality, took the collector and the Post man all over the store. Tobacco, manufactured goods, and auto supplies were the staples on the American side. Farm produce, woolens and linens were the staples of the Canadian stock. It wasn't a very big store but the heaps of goods were ranged within inches of the line on the floor.

"Store in Family Years and Years."

"Sure your boundary line's right, are you?" asked the collector.

Walter laughed.

"Survey her every season," he said, "just to be sure the frost ain't shifted my foundation. I don't want you fellows to come a tearing me down."

Before the visitors left, Walter displayed his papers, his tax receipts, and his title claims. A genealogist would have had a picnic with the records of that property's ownership. If the first hill didn't come over in the Mayflower he caught the next boat and Walter, his last descendant, has a report here on his return from a survey of British conditions.

EVERYBODY WANTS SOME GRAPE WINE

Minervas and Flivers, Rich and Poor, All in The Buying Game.

New York, Oct. 21.—"Grapes" said the driver of the Seventy-ninth street bus to the girl sitting up front. "He's after grapes!" and he indicated the well-dressed man who has just alighted at First avenue, after receiving an affirmative answer to his question: "Is there a surface car line on First avenue?" "Sure, to make wine," the driver added in response to the girl's look of surprise.

And he was right. First avenue between 101st street and 110th street was the man's destination, and here he joined the mixed crowd engaged in selling, buying and unloading grapes from trucks, putting cases of grapes into cars, dicker for barrels for grapes, and exchanging tips on their selection, consumption and transmutation into wine.

There is nothing underhand about it, no attempt at secrecy, no pretence of anything being what it is not. It is a grape market and the grapes sold are wine grapes. You buy your grapes and you take them away, or the obliging seller will deliver them. You need a barrel? For $3 he will sell you one. He will not only give you what you pay for, but he will throw in advice, tried and true, for the tyro in wine making.

Buyers Come in Motor Cars.

The grape market functions in the afternoon, but it begins to really get high along about 4 or 5 o'clock, when the prosperous business man comes up in his well-appointed car, driven by a uniformed chauffeur, with perhaps a second man at his side to give him a hand with the cases. The owner makes at once for the grapes which are his objective. He doesn't need to look for them. Packed in shallow boxes, known as cases, they are stacked up in solid squares more than a story high on the sidewalk, against the curbs as well as against the buildings, all the way from 101st street to 125th street.

Later in the day the clerks and working men come, and as late afternoon gives way to early evening and turns into night there is another shift, the medley becoming more marked. Minervas and flivers, Dodges and Lincolns, Packards, Cadillacs and Buicks, mudguards and thump bumpers, while their owners, drivers and passengers indulge in the freemasonry of the trade.

"What kind of grapes are those?" and the prospective customer points to a pile of very small, round, purple-blue grapes with rusty-brown dry stems—an unfamiliar grape. "Wine grapes," is the ready answer. "Make Strong Wine Like Blood."

Further questioning brings out the fact that they are "Baby" grapes. They are very sweet, you are told, and you are asked to taste one—the broomed Sicilian seller breaking one with a powerful thumb and holding it up between thumb and forefinger. "Very sweet," he comments: "make strong wine like blood."

There are Alicante, Muscatel and Malaga grapes, they oval Silis which grow in large clusters and have no seeds, and a small, sweet red grape which the seller calls "Zinwardel." Information is offered that you can use all fine grapes, Muscatel or Alicante or you can mix Baby with native Catawba to make a good red wine.

A purply-blue grape is described as Zibodella, which, like all the grapes in the market, with the exception of the Catawba and Concord, comes from California. The last two named are seen in their accustomed baskets, but the California grapes are in cases.

These cases are about a foot and a half square, and about a half foot deep. The average amount carried away by each case is twenty-five cases, enough to make fifty gallons of wine. A fair average of the price asked is $1.50 a case for the Muscatel, and $1.60 for the Silis. One merchant demanded $2.00 a case for Zibodella. Good Babys bring $3.50, but you are reminded that they are very sweet and make strong wine.

The first avenue grape market is in a distinctly Italian neighborhood, where wine-making goes on as a matter of course, and a certain amount always a dozen places men washing out wine barrels in front of warehouses and certain it is that a sour, dark liquid runs in the gutters and the smell of sour wine hangs heavily in the air all day, while five-ton and ten-ton trucks keep rolling up and discharging their loads of grapes, while, a little farther up the avenue, displayed in front of a shop are businesslike-looking wine presses. These, like the grapes and the barrels, can be delivered.

FORGIVENESS IS SUPREME MESSAGE

Modernism Gives Men Only Haze Instead of Certainty, Says Knubel.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—The supreme message of the church to the world is forgiveness of sins, declared the Rev. Dr. F. H. Knubel, in his sermon last night to the 500 delegates from all over the United States and Canada, at the opening of the fourth biennial convention of the United Lutheran Church in America, delivered at Wicker Park Lutheran Church.

The test of a standing or falling church is this, does it make forgiveness of sins its one message? It was Jesus' one central message, and He imparted it to His disciples when He told them, 'Whosoever sins ye remit, they are remitted.' No man is in the fullest sense a Christian unless he finds himself able to forgive others their offenses, unless also he knows the necessity that he go forth to others bestowing forgiveness of sins as though God Himself were bestowing it.

'There is need of a new ethical message. There is failure to understand and accept the old one. Behind the world-wide pessimism of the present day is a vague but true consciousness of fundamental human fault. If the church would react to this, she would recognize that her message to a world that is losing hope and slipping morally, is to awaken and stir men's consciences to their depravity, and proclaim forgiveness of their sins. Aroused consciences are the greatest moral force the world can possess.'

'We hear much of pacifism these days, and the church is asked to support it. If the church is to preach to nations in their antagonism it must cry for repentance as to that national pride, selfishness and self-righteousness which nations cover under false patriotism.'

Get Through Quicker. A local judge says that golf is a waste of time. We will not in every case. For example, if you have a small vocabulary and a quick turnover...

LADIES' AID OFFICERS.

The Ladies' Aid of Centenary church met in the church parlors yesterday and confirmed the election of officers made last week and which were:

President, Mrs. George Lockhart; vice-presidents, Mrs. Fred T. Barbour and Mrs. G. F. A. Anderson; secretary, Mrs. J. Hunter White; treasurer, Mrs. Frank Skinner.

The City Council yesterday afternoon decided to send notice to the Board of School Trustees that they would be very glad to have them meet the council at the office of Mayor Potts on Tuesday, October 28, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon to discuss with them the matter of a vocational high school.

Mayor Potts called attention to the fact that posters advertising the "Community Sale" being conducted under the auspices of the Retail Merchants' Association had been printed in St. Louis, and stated this was hardly consistent with the "buy-at-home" campaign which the merchants were backing at the present time.

Commissioner Frink reported that the public works department would have no objection to the moving of freight through the streets on trucks provided the load did not exceed three tons per wheel, or a total of 12 tons for each load, and that no padlocks were placed on the tractor wheels. The report was received and filed.

On motion of Commissioner Bullock the application of J. G. Lake for the lease of a lot in Crown street was refused as this was a part of the street when it was extended.

T. Louis McGowan wrote on behalf of Miss Mary A. Morgan, complaining that a barn in Barker street was obstructing the entrance to her property and asking to have it removed before November 1, or legal action would be taken. Referred to the Commissioner of Safety and city solicitor.

Mayor Potts gave notice that he would at the next council meeting move that the Government be asked to pass legislation providing for the election of the Board of School Trustees and for their making their own assessment and collecting it.

SUGGEST TUESDAY FOR CONFERENCE

Get Together of Council and School Board—Council Meeting.

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a moment to prepare, and saves you about 75c.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2 1/2 ounces of Pine in a 16-oz. bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup.

You can feel this talk hold of a business. This cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—infamed membranes—and this Pine and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less.

Each one seems, now possibly more than in 1914, to be constantly on the alert for an opportunity to catch some neighbor country by the scruff of the neck. Advocates of such philosophies as turning the other cheek, are everywhere far from being the popular heroes of the day.

One nation, however,—but here the cause is a debatable one—is giving promise of sometime becoming an exception to the rule of universal war mongering. The Republic of Austria has for some time been turning her swords into plowshares and her spears into pruning hooks.

of the Hapsburgs, near Vienna, is now being used almost exclusively for the manufacture of such peace-time necessities as locomotives, agricultural machinery, mining apparatus, automobiles, and tractors for plowing.

Built in 1840, the entire arsenal plant comprises 140 buildings and covers 800,000 square meters of ground. Its output goes to all sections of Europe, and is helping to replace in part the wealth which the pre-war and war-time guns of the arsenal destroyed.

Although they differ on almost every other issue, Seipel and the socialists agree on the policy of making Austria a nation of peace.

PEACE MOVEMENT GAINS IN AUSTRIA

By ROBERT H. BEST (United Press Staff Correspondent).

Vienna, Oct. 5.—(By mail to United Press).—Europe as a whole is still far from being that Utopian state, in which the millennium of the Bible shall come to pass, and in which the meekest of lambs shall not hesitate fearlessly to lie down to sleep on a bed of lions.

No people trusts any longer as far as the proverbial 2,000-pound ox can be thrown by a sick mosquito; and many countries are even now itching for more wars.

SPORTS NEWS GLEANED FROM WORLD'S CENTRES

SAYS HARRIS HERO OF SERIES

Farrell Picks Snappy Washington Manager as the Big Man.

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Editor)
Chicago, Oct. 22.—(United Press).—No world's series is complete without a hero, and as a rule it is possible to have opinion united fairly on the one player who most distinguished himself and whose individual efforts contributed most to the victory.

Returning from Washington, when ever played in a series were still chasing up and down the spine, the question was put to a crowded Pullman smoking car.

"Who was the big hero of the series?"

There were immediate responses forthcoming:

"Buck" Harris,
Walker Johnson,
Frank Frisch,
Roger Peckinpaugh,
Sam Rice,
Goose Goslin,
Tom Zachary.

Opinion was so much divided it seemed that there was no big outstanding hero and it was suggested by the crowd that the real hero was Fred Fulton, who in bounding his way over the head of Freddy Lindstrom, the eighteen-year-old Giant third baseman, in the seventh and deciding game, hit the big hero for Washington.

As there is always a hero in every world's series there also is a goat and when the question was asked: "Who was the goat of the series?" a response was given almost in one voice.

Now that some time has elapsed since the series and the fever aroused by the wonderful battle of seven games between the Senators and the Giants has subsided, it is easier to probe the hero with a clearer mind.

Harris.

It is my opinion that the biggest hero of the series and one of the greatest of any series was young "Buck" Harris, the twenty-eight-year-old manager of a world's championship team.

Frank Frisch distinguished himself by great fielding at second base, but Harris handled his position just as well and made plays just as sensational as the Giant second baseman, although Harris does not put into his work the circus circus of Frisch, who runs out from under his cap, dives on his face and falls all over himself making recoveries.

Tom Zachary pitched and won two significant games, but Harris won two games by great hitting when a punch meant a victory.

Roger Peckinpaugh was brilliant in three games and he might have been the big star if he hadn't been hurt and missed so many games of the series.

Goose Goslin hit three home runs and played well and Sam Rice played the best outfield game of the series.

Walter Johnson, beyond all doubt, was the sentimental hero of the series and it was the great Walter who stepped to the battle line in the last game and held off the Giants after he had lost two games.

The opportunities for heroes and undying baseball fame were offered in the seventh game when the two teams were squared at three each and a championship and a fortune depended upon one game.

It was in that one never-to-be-forgotten game that young "Buck" Harris rose to the greatest heights and inspired a team that was on the cracking point and took them to a victory all alone.

Harris won the sixth game when the Senators were on the ragged edge and he almost doomed and he won the seventh game with a single that drove in two runs, tied the score and made the table for the one winning run that Earl McNeely drove across in the twelfth inning.

It was Harris who gathered the team in the sixth inning when they had cracked. If a baseball game ever was blown and lost, that seventh game was blown when the Giants rallied in the sixth inning and scored three runs that looked like a monumental comeback.

pitching of Virgil Barnes. Blue blew up at shortstop, after making several of the finest plays in the earlier innings. Joe Judge, old and experienced in tight places, gunned up an easy chance and a run went over the plate while he held the ball in his hand.

The Leader.

Harris then gathered his boys around them and pulled them together like the fiery captain of a football team. He exhorted, he patting them on the backs and he gave the finest exhibition of spirit in the face of disaster that any baseball player, captain or manager ever has shown. The Senators caught his fire and enthusiasm, they took on some of his confidence and they settled down and won the game.

You must remember that Harris had managerial troubles. He had enough disappointment to break his heart when Walter Johnson failed to win two games he started and when Peck, the big work of the inner defense, was injured and had to leave the game. Harris had to move over a good third baseman to shortstop and put at third base Miller, who hadn't been good enough to keep a job with the Philadelphia Phils.

Harris had to do a lot of figuring and player juggling and it should have affected his work on the field, but he arose to a brilliance that even his fondest friends couldn't have expected him.

To make his glory more complete, "Buck" Harris out-stared and out-threw that "master-mind" of baseball, John J. McGraw, in the last game, a game that McGraw wanted to win as much as any game his Giants ever had played.

No one could have done more than "Buck" Harris did to win any series.

UTILITIES EXPERT STUDIES FIGURES; REPORTS TO BOARD

The new Midram schedule will result in a net reduction of 2.75 cents per k.w.h. in the average rate for domestic and commercial consumers, or approximately 27.2 per cent. In study of the power consumption, Mr. Midram reached the conclusion that the increase under a full year of hydro operation would be 10 per cent, and that the average rate for the majority of the larger customers would be reduced. Respecting the municipal pumping station, Mr. Midram favored a slight increase in current for the city should use its electric current for all its pumping at the station as it would be cheaper than even a gasoline engine plant with its attendant labor charges. The load factor would be improved, he says, the consumption of current increased and a tendency created to make a further reduction in rates possible to all classes.

Mr. Midram suggests a reduction in the rate charge from the present 3.5 cents-per k.w.h. to 2.75 cents per k.w.h. This would reduce the operating expense by $1,200 a year or approximately, the operating loss of this division in 1923.

Suggests Higher Rates.

Mr. Midram suggests an extension of the loop around the city, also that the present bus competition be done away with. He considers the present rates of rate too low and suggests a 10-cent and a weekly transfer pass for $1, similar to the mode now in use in St. John.

The rate expert predicts an increased consumption above the minimum of 2,200,000 k.w.h. and says that any additional amount sold will yield additional revenue without any substantial increase in operating expenses.

Rate Reduction.
The suggested rates would produce a gross operating revenue of $7,597.18, or an increase of $3,000.00 over the present rates. This increase is due to a 12 per cent. increase in the rate base. This was considerably in excess of a fair return of 8 per cent. but in view of the uncertainty as to how much bond interest has to be paid,

RING FANS ARE FACING DULL DAYS

Little Prospects for Championship Bouts During the Winter Season.

New York, Oct. 22.—It looks like a dull winter for the boxing fans here. Few if any of the champions will be in action. What fights that will be offered must feature second and third-raters.

Jack Dempsey and Benny Leonard are absorbed with their stage work. Mike McTigue doesn't seem to care whether he defends his light heavyweight championship or not.

Alte Goldstein is a poor excuse for a huntaway champion and there is no great demand to see him in action.

Johnny Dundee has given up the featherweight title and the division is without a ruler for the first time in years.

Tex Rickard, still the city's leading promoter, will send Fred Fulton against Mike McTigue next month in a bout that will prove nothing and may be less.

When birds like Firpo and Fulton can feature a card you get a fair idea of the dearth of worthwhile material and matches.

MAY WATCH FIRPO AND NEGRO HEAVY

Rickard Figuring on Signing George Godfrey to Meet Argentine.

New York, Oct. 22.—Having abandoned his plans for a heavyweight battle in which Luis Angel Firpo would face Fred Fulton on the recommendation of the State Athletic Commission, promoter Tex Rickard has made known that he is planning a match for Firpo against either George Godfrey, Philadelphia Negro heavy-weight, or Quintin Romero, Chilean, to be held at Madison Square Garden, in the event that Godfrey and Romero are averse to tackling the giant Argentine boxer, Rickard plans to fight a match between Firpo and Mack Renalt, Canadian heavyweight, just as soon as the immigration difficulties of Firpo are adjusted.

Newark promoters also are angling for Firpo's services in a ring battle, it became known. The National Sportsmen's Club's directing triumvirate—J. Frank Black, Harry Blaustein and Babe Callen—were seeking to arrange a two-round no-decision bout between Firpo and Barclay Madden, rugged Irish heavyweight, who recently fifteen rounds with Harry Williams and a similar journey with Jack Renalt.

MCGRAW WOULD PAY $100,000 FOR VANCE

Pitching Ace Now Worth a Fortune—Once Sold for $50.

New York, Oct. 22.—Manager John McGraw of the New York Giants says he would willingly part with $100,000 for Dazzy Vance.

Charley Ebbets, owner of the Brooklyn club, says twice that amount wouldn't tempt him for his star pitcher, the sensation of the majors in this season just closed.

These seemingly fabulous amounts being offered for ball players makes the original sale of the now famous Vance lump sum as the one best laugh of the day.

Ten years ago Vance was playing with the Superior club in the Nebraska league of 1912. It is his idea that is animating the men interested in Vance to press for more complete organization.

Prior to this year, the winner of the three-cornered league between Rotherham Collegiate, Fredrickton High, and St. John High was considered the champion school team of the province, but this year it has been conceded that other winners of school leagues in the province have a right to play for the title. The winner of the Kings County League, therefore, will be eligible to play-off for the interscholastic championship.

DAVE SHADE AFTER CHAMPION WALKER

New York, Oct. 21.—Babe Cullen, National Sportsmen's Club promoter, today announced that he has wired Leo Flynn, manager of Dave Shade, an offer of $100,000 to have Shade fight Mickey Walker, welterweight champion, at Newark, Nov. 21.

HE WILL PROVE IT IN SEVEN VOLUMES

The Great Was Christ and Was Not Crucified.

Moscow, Oct. 22.—Saint Basil the Great, was the real Christ, according to Professor Nicolas Morosoff, Russian scientist and philosopher, who has just completed a sensational work entitled "Christ," which is to appear in seven volumes.

Prof. Morosoff was impressed by the Gospels for 20 years because of his alleged connection with the secret order which assassinated Alexander II. He says it is not true that St. Basil or Christ was crucified, and asserts that he was only punished by being tied to a tree, and fixes the date of this event as March 21 in the year 958 of the present era.

It is asserted by Prof. Morosoff that St. Basil, or Christ, lived 11 years after this date. The existence of the Twelve Apostles he says is a mere myth, which arose over the fact that St. Basil, or Christ, was surrounded by a group of learned astrologers.

MANY PRESENT AT Y. M. C. I. OPENING

Smoker and Entertainment Thoroughly Enjoyed—Forming Classes.

There was a large assemblage at the opening of the season for the institution and those present were delighted with an excellent programme. F. C. Spittler, chairman of the social committee, presided, and after those in attendance made an address, pointing out the advantages of every young man becoming a member, and said that he expected that every class would be filled this season.

After the singing of "O Canada," J. P. Coughlan, president of the association, made an address, pointing out the advantages of every young man becoming a member, and said that he expected that every class would be filled this season.

Vocal solos were given by Cyril Moore and William Melody. There was a pretty exhibition of wrestling between Leo McCrosson, provincial amateur champion and runner-up for the Olympic trials, and "Bud" McCarthy, who was also a runner-up for the trials. The boys worked well and pleased the audience with their performance. The referee was Walter Hughes.

Short addresses were delivered by Hon. R. J. Ritchie, J. P. Quinn and H. J. Sheehan, who spoke along the lines of the grand opportunity of young men becoming members of the association and the excellent physical and mental training that they will receive when a member.

A comedy sketch entitled "Sleep" was given by Cyril Moore, A. J. Deane and Harold LeClair proved most amusing and this was followed by an address by Rev. Charles Stacey, Rev. William Duke and R. D. Sullivan, financial secretary of the association, all pointing out the advantages of young men being members of the Y. M. C. I.

It was mentioned that W. E. Stirling had again been selected as physical director and that the junior, intermediate and senior classes were being filled up and all members would receive the very best of attention.

The happy gathering was brought to a close with the singing of God Save the King.

PLAN FOR SMOKER.

The Young Men's Society of St. John the Baptist is planning for an open night and smoker to be held on Monday night at the Y. M. C. I. The men of the parish are to be invited to attend and an excellent programme will be provided. F. Barrett, the president, was in the chair and there was a large attendance of members. It was decided to fill one of the rooms of the parish building as a pool room for the use of members of the society.

AMERICAN LEAGUE HEAD SAYS HE WILL INVESTIGATE THE REPORTS.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—President Ban Johnson of the American League, has returned from a two weeks' sojourn at Excelsior Springs, Mo., declared that he was going to take my coat off and get down to work, referring to the baseball scandal that stirred the nation just before the playing of the world's series between the Senators and the Giants.

"I have received a lot of letters and personal communications on this subject," President Johnson said. "It took a long time to get at the bottom of the White Sox scandal, you may remember."

The American League executive made no further reference to the Dolan-O'Connell scandal case.

EXPERIMENTS TO BREAK UP ATOM
In an underground laboratory at Sheffield University, England, almost buried in a world disorder of war and electrical contrivances, there is to be found daily at work a little pale-faced man who believes he will be able to revolutionize the world's power supply.
He is Dr. T. F. Wall, and his experiments are being conducted with a view to breaking up the atom and controlling the vast sources of electronic energy which will then be emancipated. If he can do so he will realize the wildest dream of modern scientists.
His task is fraught with immense peril as well as immense possibilities to the human race, for no one can say what will happen should the atom be broken up and its energy let loose.
Some scientists believe that one drop of water contains sufficient energy to drive the whole universe. It is easy to conceive what vast havoc might be caused by the same energy misdirected. Therefore, though Dr. Wall believes he is on the road to early success, he emphasizes that progress, in the interests of common safety, must necessarily be slow.
Camera-Like Apparatus.
Explaining his experiments, Dr. Wall said that by disturbing the movements of the swiftly moving electronic orbits in the atom he aims to break the atomic structure and so release its vast energy. An external, artificially produced magnetic field is the weapon he is directing against the intense magnetic fields produced in the atom by the high-speed electrons, thereby setting up mutual reaction and tending to create a condition of instability.
For this purpose a fearsome-looking apparatus, something like the skeleton of a huge camera, has been erected, and against an atom in a piece of iron is being concentrated an electric current of such intensity that the total energy applied for a fraction of a second is equal to 100,000 horse-power.
"It is said Dr. Wall, "it is impossible or impracticable to produce artificial magnetic fields which can disturb the electrons and so release atomic energy by a single application, it is probable that repeated applications, with apparatus altered to give three or four times the present power, will by cumulative action produce the desired effect."
"A condition of instability has already been approached," he added, "and when this unstable region is entered some very exciting results may be expected."
Questioned on the possibilities, beneficial and otherwise, attending the release of such an unparalleled new force, Dr. Wall said: "It is easy to allow one's imagination to run riot, but anything, of course, is possible. It is one thing to release such a force and another to control it."

PROMINENT MEN ARRIVE TO CONFER HERE ON PORT CHARGES MATTER

Among Them is D. W. Campbell, a Pioneer of Winter Port.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock permanent shipping men met the members of the city council and port committee to discuss with them the matter of a reduction in the charges made at this port, with a view to bringing more business to St. John. A Montreal delegation arrived this morning and included men well known here and all interested in the matter in hand.

At 11 o'clock this morning a meeting was held at the office of the Board of Trade at which the local representatives of the shipping lines and the head office men conferred and arranged for the conference in the afternoon. The shipping men would not say just what they were going to say to the members of the council, further than they would ask for reductions in the port charges.

Recalls Early Days.

Among the men here for the conference is D. W. Campbell, who was manager of the Beaver Line when the winter port service was inaugurated by that company in 1896. Mr. Campbell said there had been a big change since that time and he was glad the port had come ahead. At the present time he is manager of the Elder Dempster Line for Canada and still has ships coming to St. John.

Speaking of traffic conditions today, Mr. Campbell said there must be a lessening of the burden on the steamships if St. John was to get its share of the trade. He referred to the anchorage charges, the charge for bunkering and for heating the sheds, which he said, were not imposed in other ports and said all these small items should be eliminated. Today ports, like other business houses, had to go after business and make it an object for the exporters and shipping men to use the port. The steamship lines were operating on a very small margin and would naturally use the port most advantageous to them.

During the morning Mr. Campbell, accompanied by J. T. Knight, local agent of the Elder Dempster Line, visited Courtenay Bay and the West Side docks.

Others in the party were: G. M. Borworth, general manager of the Canadian Pacific Steamships; W. M. Kirkpatrick, general export traffic agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway; W. A. Coates, director of the Robert Reford Company; J. W. Nicol, general manager of Furness Withy Company; Leo Doherty, general manager inter-continental traffic Canada Steamships; T. J. McCreary, assistant to Mr. Doherty; Erik Reinhard, manager of the Scandinavian-American Line; and W. R. B. H. Kennedy, manager and manager of McLean Kennedy Company.

The visitors were entertained at luncheon at the Union Club by the local shipping men at 1 o'clock. The guests included the members of the council and railway men, the Mayor and City Commissioners and Messrs. H. C. Schofield, J. T. Knight, W. T. Ledington, Thomas Nagle and Percy Turcotte.

J. C. Chesley, local agent for the Marine and Fisheries Department, remarked casually that the removal of the top wharfage question was mentioned, that he had not received an invitation to attend the conference this afternoon. Mr. Chesley was surprised that, as he is in charge of the Government wharves here, which include No. 6 extension, No. 7 and Nos. 14, 15 and 16, Sand Point, the latter three being the newest and among the best equipped in the entire port, no invitation to attend so important a conference was given.

The question was one, he considered, that affected the Government interests here as well as those of the city.

REVISE THE CIVIL SERVICE SALARIES

Official Here Gets Word of Order-in-Council at Ottawa.

An order-in-council revising the civil service salaries to adjust them to the new basis since the removal of the houses has been passed by the Government, according to a telegram received here this morning by William M. Campbell, provincial representative on the Dominion executive of the Customs and Excise Officers' Association. The telegram came from the secretary of the association at Ottawa and also contained the information that details of the new schedule would be forwarded by mail at once.

REPORT THAT MANY HAVE COME TO CITY

Merchants Say Community Sale is Getting Nicely Into Stride.

Merchants reported today that a large number of visitors from outside points were in the city and the community sale was just beginning to hit its stride. It was expected that the afternoon trains would bring in many more buyers to take advantage of the bargains which are being offered at this time.

Today visitors to the city who wished to take advantage of the opportunity could see the city and suburbs as a guest of the retail merchants. This morning two seven-passenger automobiles were placed at the foot of King street and this afternoon several more were on the job. While they had not been used to any great extent during the morning it was expected that many would take advantage of the offer during the afternoon.

In the County Court this morning, before His Honor Judge Barry, trial of a case against William McAnulty, William Smith, Harold Wilson and George Peckham, charged with assault and attempted robbery, was commenced. The accused elected to take speedy trial. The complainant, John A. McKenzie of Lakeville, near Woodstock, was not present. After the evidence of four witnesses for the crown had been taken, the case was postponed until Oct. 28.

Evidence was given by Sergeant Rankine, Policeman Sheehan and Special Officer Mc'Brien regarding the arrest of the accused on the day after the alleged assault and attempted robbery. The case was taken place in a house in Somerset street. Mrs. Laura Price, who resides on the lower floor of the house, testified that she saw a racket and someone running downstairs on the night in question. It is likely that the complainant's evidence will be given at the adjourned hearing.

K. J. MacTae appeared for Wilson; Francis Kerr for Peckham; E. J. Hennessey for Smith; and J. B. Dever for McAnulty.

As Hiram Sees It

"I was thinking," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam to The Times reporter, "of gittin' some fellers to join in startin' a little industry in St. John."

"That confirms my suspicion," said the reporter, "I thought you were showing signs of mental aberration."

"Now just what was you meanin' by that?" queried Hiram.

"Any man," said the reporter, "who would talk of starting anything but a cemetery in St. John is bordering on lunacy. I can bring you equitable persons who will agree with me that poor old St. John is all in, and who will advise you to vamoose."

"You're a nice feller to hev in a town," said Hiram. "You orto git a free ride on a rail-wit-let-fer feathers thrown in. Ever hear me run do-'n The Settlement? If I don't try to start the there industry, it'll be because critters like you is rampin' a glee fectry on a day an' night shift. You're no good.
