Headquarters of United Mine Workers At Glace Bay Raided

Red Banner and a Lot of Literature Seized—Rooms of McLaughlan, Livingstone, Stewart and Bell Searched—Secret Descent Causes Surprise.

Sydney, N. S., May 15.—The huge red banner which gained notoriety in the recent May Day parade, as well as a large quantity of literature, was seized by a detachment of thirty provincial police which last night raided United Mine Workers headquarters at Glace Bay and the homes and rooms of executive officers of District No. 28.

Lieutenant Col. E. W. MacDonald, D. S. O., commanded the raiders, who searched the home of J. B. McLaughlan, secretary of District 28 and the boarding house where President Dan Livingston, International Board Member, Alex M. Stewart of Stellarton, and Tom Bell of Toronto, editor of the Maritime Labor Herald, put up when in Glace Bay.

Crown Prosecutor Malcolm Patterson is examining the literature to determine whether or not it comes under the heading of seditious and Communist propaganda.

The raid was carried out with much secrecy and took the United Mine Worker officials by surprise. The raiding force left Sydney under cover of darkness, troopers on horseback. Colonel MacDonald and his officers in automobiles. By unrequited roads they reached Glace Bay and descended upon the U. M. W. headquarters where an alarm could be given. No arrests were made and there was no disorder.

N. Y. TIMES IS FOR RECIPROCITY

Canada and U. S. in Tariff War Absurd

Each Country Needs the Other, Says Editorial—Reception Cold, So Far, Farmers Contending That It Would Be Blow at Their Interests.

(Canadian Press)

New York, May 15.—The Times in an editorial on the reciprocity proposal made by Hon. W. S. Fielding, endorses reciprocity between Canada and the U. S., and says:

"There is every reason why it would be absurd for Canada and the U. S. to embark upon a tariff war."

"There is no geographical barrier between the U. S. and Canada," the paper continues, "and the facility of inter-communication is such that the free and uninterfered interchange of products between the two nations is to the advantage of both. America needs Canada and Canada needs the U. S. During the year 1922 nearly forty per cent of Canada's exports went to the U. S., and more than sixty-five per cent of her imports came from this country. Canada can well absorb more American goods, and the U. S. can offer Canada a much greater market for certain of her products."

"Thus far the reception of the Canadian offer in this country has been rather cold. Our farmers see in the plan

FIRST ON TRACKS; THEN IN THE AIR

London, May 15.—Plans for an aerial pullman are being examined by British aircraft authorities. A great slim metal saloon, like a long tapering pullman car, is the basis of the idea. Covered with smooth gleaming sheets of a featherweight metal alloy, this great air coach will be designed to rest on a long framework which will have wheels like a railway coach. The conveyance, which will have day and night accommodations, will run on ordinary railway tracks and will be backed into a railway station to receive its passengers. When they are aboard an engine will take it to an airfield outside a city, where it will be brought to a halt in the centre of a strange intricate framework of widespread wings and machinery. The coach, shedding its railway wheels, will then slide into position above a powerful pneumatic tired airplane chassis, to which it will be bolted. Thus in a few minutes a railway car will be transferred into an airplane.

PRESERVE FORESTS SIR LOMER URGES

Minister of Justice Calls for Co-operation Against a National Menace.

Sir Lomer Gouin has issued the following statement regarding conservation of forests: "One of the greatest menaces facing Canada today is the progressive destruction of the forest resources. Expert information shows that ten trees have been wasted by human-set fires to one tree utilized for the service of the Canadian people. This spoliation of what is, in the main, a public-owned property, of great immediate utility and quite indispensable to the future of our country, cannot be permitted to proceed much longer. If we are willing to recognize the damaging consequences of forest waste, surely we are willing as co-partners in Canada's progress, to put a stop right now to a form of public robbery that must be checked if the nation is to survive. "The forest is the most destructive of all our natural resources. Had it not been for recurrent conflagrations started by human carelessness, Canada today would undoubtedly have been the richest forest owner on the globe. Forest scarcity has bred high prices and keen demand, so that every square mile of timber in this Dominion may be said to represent potential employment, municipal development, traffic for our railways, home markets for our farmers, and other valuable commercial gains. It is useless to argue that forest protection is nothing more than insurance on the existence of paper and lumber companies and the newspaper industry, the claim on a Canadian citizen's co-operation would be hardly less sensible. "One of the sturdiest pillars of public revenue, railway traffic, well-paid employment, and the upkeep of hundreds of municipalities is standing timber. That pillar may continue to make a great statistical showing right to the edge of national disaster, for the manufacture of forest products can proceed at high speed until the moment that the storehouse of raw materials reaches the brink of bankruptcy. If we are to avoid such disaster we must join hands as citizens today and stop the plague of camper's fires, and the multitude of other vicious agencies that we Canadians with our own hands are setting loose each summer to ruin a great public heritage."

To Build Up Folks Over 40

Iron Rejuvenates Blood—Yeast Quicken Life-building Cells. If you feel that you are "slowing up," if the day's work tires you more than formerly, or if you lack the punch and stay-there power of younger days, nothing will bring such quick improvement, or produce such amazing tonic effects as this new combination of iron and yeast known as Ironized Yeast. For the first time scientists are now able to give to yeast a power that acts directly on the blood. As everyone knows, yeast has proved itself to be of untold value in strengthening the life-building processes. But something was needed to build up this, pale, weak blood and thus make yeast positive and to establish reaching effects in its work of physical reconstruction of the vital functions of the body. Scientists now agree that brewer's yeast is the richest source of vitamins known. So thousands of pale, sick and underweight people are gaining health and strength through Ironized Yeast, which is a combination of iron and other valuable tonic ingredients with yeast imported from Bass' Ale Brewery, England, and especially concentrated under the process recommended by Dr. A. Seidell, of the Hygienic Laboratory of the U. S. Public Health Service. Get Ironized Yeast from your druggist today. It is convenient and pleasant to take, being in handy tablet form. The ten day treatment costs only $1.0. It is guaranteed to give satisfactory results or your money will be cheerfully refunded.

Welsh Tongue Causes Argument. Witness Insists on Right to Give Evidence in His Own Language. London, May 15.—(By Mail).—"I am a Welshman residing in my native country, and as Welsh is my language, I will give my evidence in Welsh," declared the Rev. J. Hawen Rees, chairman of the Holyhead Evangelical Church, after having requested the oath in English. The reverend gentleman was called to give evidence on behalf of the temperance party, who objected to the renewal of the license of the Bardsey Island Inn, which was later referred for compensation. T. R. Evans (for the tenant): Here is a gentleman who can speak English as well as I can. It is nothing but playing to the gallery. You have heard him repeating the oath in English. Dr. Clay (chairman of the magistrates): I am sure Mr. George will ask him to give his evidence in English. The Chairman: I am sure Mr. Rees will give it in English. Mr. George: I hope you are not going to put it to him as a matter of courtesy. There is a principle involved. Mr. Drew (Barrister): Four judges have laid it down that where witnesses are unable to understand English, they may give their evidence in Welsh, but here is a gentleman who is able to speak English as well as I am. Mr. George: There ought to be no

THEIR VERY AMUSING SHOW

House Audience Kept Tears With the Carrolls' Presentation of "Peggy Behave."

es Carroll, head of the Carroll said from the Opera House that week that St. John people would that he was going to follow "Up in Mabel's" did that last night. It was an out-and-out farce, right a ready response from the audience. The variety of amusement which developed served to tie in an uproar, and from rise of the curtain there was not a dry eye.

husband, was the discovery by Peggy of a picture of a former sweetheart, Grace Gibson, played by Elizabeth Marshall, a local young lady, among her husband's belongings.

Dixon, the butler in the Stanton home, was played by Malcolm Arthur, and he gave to the interpretation which has made him a great favorite with St. John audiences. Real trouble began when Peggy met her father's intended wife, Mrs. Kate Coffin, played by Gwendoline Williams. Peggy believed that her husband, and not her father, intended marrying Mrs. Coffin, and she called in the aid of the chief of police, played by Charles Howard Stevens, to prevent the union. Mrs. Judd, played by Dorris Kellon, mother of Mrs. Coffin, provoked much merriment by her deadness and consequent failure to grasp the many difficult situations which arose. Rev. Fink, the minister who finally tied the knot binding Stanton and Mrs. Coffin, was played by Clement Taylor.

The play was well arranged and well staged and earned the hearty commendation of the audience, which felt that in this play the company had fully sustained the reputation which it had earned and maintained the high standard which it had set for itself. The orchestra in good form and did much to contribute to the evening's entertainment.

CHARGE AGAINST PRINCIPAL

A charge against Reverdy Steves, principal of Aberdeen school, of punishing Geoffrey Medlar on Friday morning is being taken up in the Police Court. The evidence at the first hearing was to the effect that the boy had been sent to Mr. Steves for some misdemeanour and had been strapped severely. It was also alleged that he had been responsible for a cut under the boy's eye. Mr. Steves said he had been compelled to punish the boy, but that he had not abused him. He said the boy was unruly, and offered to bring several other teachers of the school who would testify to this effect. The case was to come up yesterday afternoon, but the magistrate was not present. The boy's father offered to withdraw the charge if Mr. Steves would pay the doctor bill for the boy's treatment, but this was refused, and the case was set for this afternoon.

The Winsome Girl has a Winsome Skin

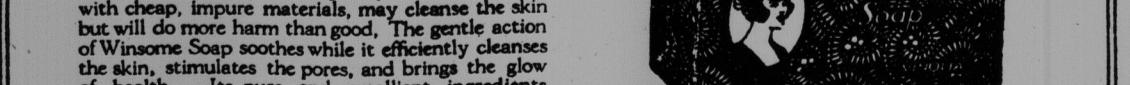

Does your skin glow with the radiance of health and beauty

A LITTLE care and knowledge of how to treat the skin, a little care and judgment in the selection of your toilet soap, just a little determination to make the most of yourself, to help Nature beautify you and—your skin glow with the radiance of health and beauty.

Skin cleansing is ALL important. This is not a lecture against the use of rouge and powders. They are good, but the great danger lies in using them over and over again without thoroughly cleansing the skin between each application. Thus, an artificial "skin" of grit and impurities is formed, which clogs up the pores, resulting in a coarse, sallow, sickly skin.

WINSOME—the soap paramount. Naturally, the soap is very important. A soap with cheap, impure materials, may cleanse the skin but will do more harm than good. The gentle action of Winsome Soap soothly cleanses the skin, stimulates the pores, and brings the glow of health. Its pure and emollient ingredients refresh and awaken up the pores.

The voice of the tempter is still heard in the land. It is still being heard that the City Council and the New Brunswick Power Company and the Provincial Government get together to discuss the hydro situation. What for? To help the Power Company get control of the Musquash current. That is the aim of those who are magnifying the trouble of the quash and warning the city council to be careful as to what it does.

CLERKS HAD SALE AT GILCHRIST STORE

Heads of Departments Kept Hands Off, Leaving All to Employees—No Prizes Were Needed.

Salesclerks and the non-selling force of the Gilchrist Company in Boston recently conducted a sale during which the department managers were absent with official leave. From beginning to end the sale was operated solely by members of the Gilchrist Association, comprising employees of the store.

Even the advertising for the event was left to the employees. A small announcement appeared in the local newspapers and the rest of the publicity was obtained by sales-clerks and service employees sending out personal letters and calling customers on the telephone. One enterprising salesclerk sent out more than 200 letters and every night got in touch with scores of customers by phone.

The store was divided into twenty-eight groups, seventeen from the upstairs departments, and eleven from the basements by a committee representing each of the selling and non-selling departments. The committee also set its sales quota for each department.

Previous to the opening of the sale the management decided to allow the salesclerks to determine what would be the best kinds of merchandise to feature. Blank forms were distributed and the selling force listed the desirable merchandise and the prices at which it should be sold. In all cases where goods were listed which the store did not carry, it was up to the buyers to secure them.

Perhaps the most interesting thing about the sale was that the store did not have to offer cash prizes to arouse interest and enthusiasm for the event. Each day two winning departments were chosen, one from the basement and the other from the upstairs store, and the winners treated to a dinner in the association lunch-room in the store building.

SISTER NOT LIABLE FOR BROTHER'S BILL

Ottawa Doctor Loses Appeal in Toronto Court.

Toronto, May 15.—A sister does not become liable for her adult brother's doctor bill just because she called her doctor to attend to him is the decision of the Appellate Division which has dismissed the appeal of Dr. J. Lorne Graham, of Ottawa, from the decision of Judge Mulligan in the First Division Court of Carleton County.

In 1920, Napoleon Constantineau, civil servant in the Railway branch, became seriously ill, and in an unconscious condition he was removed from his apartment to the home of his sister, Mrs. Laura G. Brunet, where it was thought he could have more quiet. Mrs. Brunet asked Dr. Graham, who was attending her, to take her brother's case. Dr. Graham took charge on June 8 and continued in attendance till Constantineau's death towards the end of August. Constantineau never regained consciousness. The doctor's bill was $284.

Mr. Justice Logie remarks that Dr. Graham elected to treat the deceased as his debtor. He billed him during his life and his estate after his death. The doctor cannot now change his election.

"The sister was under no legal obligation to maintain her brother," says another member of the court, "and if the plaintiff intended to rely on her credit for his remuneration, he should have made the situation plain."

RECENT DEATHS

Mrs. Jeremiah Harrison.

Many friends in the province will learn with regret of the death of Julia, widow of Jeremiah Harrison, which occurred at Fredericton yesterday in the eighty-eighth year of her age. Mrs. Harrison was a daughter of the late Canon Harrison, who was formerly rector of St. Luke's church. Her husband was one of the prominent business men of St. John and for many years conducted a large wholesale grocery business in the city. Ill health compelled him to take up residence in Fredericton and the family removed to the capital some years ago. Mr. Harrison died about ten years previously. Two daughters survive, Mrs. D. B. Lawson and Miss Harrison, both of Fredericton. The body will be brought to St. John and the funeral will probably be held on Wednesday from St. Paul's church.

CEDAR HILL DIRECTORS.

An assessment plan was decided on at the monthly meeting of the Cedar Hill cemetery directors, which was held last evening. The legislature of 1922 passed an amendment to the cemetery act giving the directors power to assess lot holders one per cent. per square foot, providing the lot holders at their annual meeting by two-thirds vote accept the amendment, and the Cedar Hill Cemetery Company accepted the amendment. Money has been expended for a vault, putting in a new water system and adding the Manawagonish road extension to the assets. These expenditures have left the company without a reserve and have made the company responsible for $2,000. There are

DISCOVER HOARD IN IRISH CABIN

Old Pensioner was Found to be Wealthy.

London, May 8.—(By mail).—In a little mud cabin at Ballintubber, in a remote boggy region of Roscommon, Ireland, a quantity of gold and silver coins and notes, hoarded by an aged miser, has been discovered. A half hundredweight four bag, which was bursting with 4s. and 5s. pieces, was found, together with $900 in gold and $700 in notes. The paper and gold coins were stored in three stockings.

Patrick Leech, who was seventy-six years old, and an old-age pensioner, lived the life of a recluse at the cabin, which was about ten feet square. No human being or animal was seen at his abode, and people were mystified how he obtained his food.

He was known in the district as 'Paddy the pensioner'. He boasted that he had never had a day's illness, and refused help from relatives and neighbors.

The other day he was found dead.

So Fashion Walked With Sweet Economy

It's safe to say it now—the prices of those magical modes of summer worn by the models yesterday were not hifalutin in the least. In fact they were so low that folks might not have come had they known—but now they have actually seen their charm and worth.

That chess board cotton crepe knit of Absinthe green with the gold girdle and rosette and panelled open to show a white facing—it's no more than $19.75. See by the window. The ratine striped voile in rose, girdled in gold, panelled and having slashed sleeves—$16.90, that's all.

The Irish linen dresses, high mandarin collars on some—$11.90. The Grass Cloth suits trimmed in Cire satin—$26.75. The special Homespuns, $24.75 and $26.75. The windwos bear this out—look as you please.

The Tot Party Frock

Those flounced Organdies in Blue, Pink or Yellow, sashed with a sprig of roses—they are only $8.75 for ages 8 to 14. And those cool and guaranteed dresses of Sun-Resista—Yellow, Mauve or blue, smocked and embroidered by hand—$3.95 would take one for any kiddie from 2 to 7. And will go into training at once, possibly with Barry, former world's professional scaling champion. Hilton's stay in England will be from six to seven weeks and, according to present plans, he is due to arrive in Canada about the middle of July. It is improbable that he will come to St. John; he probably will keep straight on to St. Catharines and there defend his Canadian title on July 29. He may elect to compete in the United States national meet at Baltimore early in August. So, at present, it looks as

HILTON TO LEAVE ON THURSDAY

Final Arrangements for His Departure Made at Meeting of Executive—Lord Beaverbrook Appealed to.

Final arrangements for Hilton Belyea's departure for England were made last evening. He will leave here Thursday evening for Montreal and there embark on the Cunard liner Andania for London. Lord Beaverbrook, a former New Brunswicker, has been requested to arrange for Hilton's stay. Preliminary details were adjusted for Hilton's departure on Thursday evening for Montreal at a meeting of the Citizens' Committee last evening in the Board of Fire Underwriters' rooms. The shell he will take with him will be crated today and will be transported on the Andania free of charge. An effort will be made to interest several well-known Montreal men to assist the champion during his short stay in the metropolis. He is expected to arrive in London on Monday, May 28, and will go into training at once, possibly with Barry, former world's professional scaling champion. Hilton's stay in England will be from six to seven weeks and, according to present plans, he is due to arrive in Canada about the middle of July. A party was given at the residence of Mrs. Mary Hogan, 82 Protection St., recently in honor of her birthday. Many were in attendance. She received nice presents.

The committee is counting on support from Lord Beaverbrook. A sum of money will be placed in charge of Lord Beaverbrook for expenses in connection with Hilton's training period. A new shell will be constructed for him in England by the Sims Company, which will be notified of the dimensions soon.

After the meeting had adjourned, a telegram was received by the secretary of the committee from Joe Page expressing his willingness to look after Belyea on his arrival in Montreal and to provide for the transportation of his shell and rowing machine from the station to the steamer.

LEGAL ASPECTS OF APPOINTMENT OF HOSPITAL STAFF

Matter Considered by Commissioners, But Decision Deferred Until the July Meeting.

The adjourned meeting of the Board of Commissioners of the General Public Hospital was held yesterday afternoon, chiefly for the purpose of appointing members of the staff. It was decided to prepare a new set of by-laws for motion at the June meeting and adoption at the July meeting.

The Canadian Association of Nursing Education was asked by the Board to arrange for Miss M. Murdock, superintendent of nurses, to attend its annual convention in June. This request was granted, necessary funds being voted.

Dr. Roberts reported on the hospital by-laws having been approved by the Governor-in-Council. The present by-laws make it impossible to elect to the staff any one more than sixty years of age. It was pointed out by Mrs. McLellan that until the by-laws were presented last week at the meeting of the Government may sections had never been sent to Frederickton.

Mr. Kelley held that because of the change of day of meeting from Wednesday to Monday not having been mentioned in the by-laws, the election of staff could not be legally undertaken. He moved the present staff be re-elected until May, 1924, in consequence. Mrs. McLellan seconded the motion.

Mr. Emerson moved in amendment that the election be proceeded with. Mr. O'Brien seconded this motion. Mr. Emerson then put forward a new amendment that two vacancies on the medical staff be filled. He withdrew his previous amendment.

Dr. Roberts put forward a new amendment. He thought none of the commissioners felt absolutely sure they were right and that no two of the members thought alike in the matter. His motion was that the election be postponed until the July meeting, the new by-laws being sent to the Government in July. He thought candidates would not like to be appointed at a doubtful election.

Dr. Ryan seconded Dr. Roberts' amendment. Dr. Roberts' amendment carried four to two. Mrs. McLellan and Mr. Kelley voting nay and Dr. Crawford and Mr. Aggar, Mrs. McLellan and Dr. Roberts.

The revision of the by-laws was placed in the hands of the legal committee. Dr. Ryan, Mr. Kelley, Mr. Aggar, Mrs. McLellan and Dr. Roberts.

The new set of by-laws was to be submitted at the June meeting passed at the July meeting and forwarded to the Government for endorsement. The meeting adjourned and the Commissioners went into committee to discuss training school matters and the hospital street rights.

"BRASS" AT THE QUEEN SQUARE IS POWERFUL

Marriage as practised nowadays by the cynical and carolous, gets an awful body blow in "Brass," a powerful Warner Brothers picture, now on the screen adapted from the novel of Charles G. Norris, which opened yesterday at the Queen Square Theatre for a six-day run with Monte Blue and Marie Prevost in the featured roles.

Not only the silliness of people going into marriage without knowing each other well, but their readiness for the divorce court is shown in a way unforgettable. "Brass" tells a corking good story that delighted the big gathering that beheld the picture.

Philip and Marjorie Baldwin, young and married, suddenly wake up to find themselves utter strangers. A mother-in-law picks out the scattered threads of his life as best he can. Two women come into his life, the while Marjorie divorces him and remarries. The ending is led up to in masterly fashion, with thrilling climaxes that surprise and fascinate.

Monte Blue never acted better than he did here. True, it is also due to the supporting cast which includes Marie Prevost, Harry Myers, Irene Rich, Helen Ferguson, Frank Keenan, Edward Jobson, Margaret Seddon, Cyril Chadwick and Pat O'Malley.

HARVARD MEN TO EXPLORE CHINA FOR FOGG MUSEUM

Cambridge, Mass., May 14.—An expedition consisting of Harvard men will go to China shortly to explore the country and do research work for the Fogg Art Museum, under the auspices of which the party will travel. Long-gone Warner, until recently director of the Pennsylvania Museum in Philadelphia; H. H. F. Jones, assistant curator of the same institution, and Dunan McDougall, son of Dr. William McDougall, professor of psychology at Harvard, will form the expedition. A preliminary survey in central and

Mr. Warner, leader of the expedition, expects to obtain for the Fogg Museum a comprehensive series of rubbings from inscribed and decorated monuments and also a number of photographs.

GHOST PATROL SCORES A HIT AT THE UNIQUE

Those who have been crying from a surcease from the flood of saccharine "flapper" motion pictures, will find their desire at the Unique theatre, where the Universal production, "The Ghost Patrol," opened yesterday. In this picture old age has been made the motif of a touching drama. The story concerns a veteran policeman, devoted to duty and the people on his tenement best for thirty years, who is retired.

The tragedy of the old man's broken heart is lightened by the sunshine of youthful love and the story is unique in its double appeal to young and old. The strength of the story itself is admirably supported by the characterizations of the all star cast. George Nichols, who will be remembered as the father in "Molly-O," plays the unique role of the aged officer to perfection, while George E. Williams gives another of his clever Jewish characterizations.

Ralph Graves, former Griffith star, and Bessie Love, who is known as one of the most popular stars are ideally fitted to the roles of the young lovers which requires strong emotional action.

PILGER GETS NEW DANCE PARTNER

London Girl is Sensation of Season in Paris.

London, May 8.—(By Mail)—Out of the thrills and sensations of the most sensational revue ever staged in Paris has come forth a new Gaby Deslys. Harry Pilger discovered her four months ago at the Savoy Hotel in London, and today every theatrical critic in Paris is writing about the strange resemblance of this young English girl to the famous French comedienne.

Her name is Wyn Richmond, she is 17 years old, beautiful and remarkably talented. When Harry Pilger saw Wyn Richmond at the Savoy last October he was struck with her amazing resemblance to his great dancing partner.

The first dance they danced together convinced him that he had discovered a new star, and a week later he was signed "with her" for the big Palace revue "Les Femmes de Paris" at the Dufrenoy Theatre of the Rue du Faubourg, Montmartre. The big spectacle opened a few days ago, and already the newspapers acclaim Harry Pilger and his partner as the soul of the play.

From the day that she and her parents came to Paris with Pilger the young girl worked incessantly. Today she speaks French almost without an accent.

"AULD BRIG OF AYR" TO BE PRESERVED

Town Council Decides to Abandon River Scheme.

London, May 8.—(By Mail)—"Till a brig, when ye're a shapless cairn." This boast, which Burns jestingly attributed to Ayr's historic "Auld Brig," may, after all, be fulfilled by the action of the Committee for the Preservation of Ancient Monuments, who have assumed responsibility for its preservation.

So ends the fierce controversy that has raged over the proposed of Ayr Town Council to reclaim land from the bed of the River Ayr, and possibly damage the bridge.

The council has agreed by eleven votes to seven to abandon the scheme. It is not known precisely when the "Auld Brig" was built. In the year 1296 Alexander II. granted a charter to the burgh of Ayr for the maintenance of the bridge. In 1440, and again in 1491, the bridge was restored. Burns saw it three centuries after its restoration, in the reign of James IV., and dedicated his song to the architect of the new bridge which was then built to meet the needs of local commerce.

SETTLEMENT OF MILK SITUATION IS HOPED FOR

At a special meeting of the Milk Dealers' Association last evening in the Moose Hall, with the president, J. N. Riley, in the chair, the demand of the producers for forty-eight cents an eight-quart can f. o. b. shipping point was considered. It was decided to offer forty-five cents a can and pay the freight. The difference is only three cents a can, and it is hoped that an amicable settlement will be reached forthwith. Mr. Riley forwarded the offer last night by night letter, to be effective for the month of May only. The producers' ultimatum expired yesterday. An answer is expected within the next few days.

ARRANGE FOR MILK FUND TAG DAY

A special meeting of the Local Council of Women was held yesterday afternoon to arrange for the holding of the annual milk fund tag day. The Victorian Order of Nurses have been able to do a great deal of good work through the medium of this fund in saving the health and lives of babies of poor parents. About 230 babies were aided in the first two years of the fund.

Mrs. J. H. Doody presided and the meeting was held in the Board of Trade rooms. Mrs. G. Wilford Campbell was appointed secretary for the meeting. It was decided to carry out the tagging in the principal business and residential streets only, and various committees and conveners were appointed. For Tag Day.

Mrs. A. C. D. Wilson was chosen as general convener for the tag day, which is to be held on Loyalist Day. The Daughters of Israel, with Mrs. L. Isaacs as convener, were to have charge of the 10,000 tags and besides the conveners, Mrs. W. J. Bingham and Mrs. W. B. Tennant undertook to assist with the tying of tags. Mrs. Tennant promises to have some of the tags tied by the Children's Aid workers. The tag design is of a baby's head, similar to the tag used last year.

Mrs. G. Wilford Campbell was appointed finance convener and the district conveners were named as follows: West St. John, Mrs. E. A. Young and Mrs. Ernest Waring; Dukes ward, Mrs. Herbert Flaherty, convener for the C. W. I.; south side of King street, Daughters of Israel; north side of King street, Mrs. A. C. D. Miss Alice E. Estey was appointed convener for the banks.

LEVERHULME TELLS OF BUSINESS START

Maker of "Sunlight" Soap Tells of the Opening in 1884.

London, May 8.—(By mail)—Lord Leverhulme was in a reminiscent mood at Port Sunlight, when he welcomed 300 or Lever Brothers' customers in the grocery trade on their visit to the soap works of the company and the margarine factory of Planters, Ltd., at Bromborough Port.

He related how he came to choose the name of "Sunlight" for his soap, and how he became a soap maker. He had often been asked, he said, if the works, as they were now today, were planned long ago. They were not.

He began to think about soap when he first wrapped it up. It was in 1884, when he was on holiday in the Island of Lewis, that the idea of becoming a soap maker occurred to him, and on his return he consulted a patent expert in Liverpool. He was given several names which he could register, and "Sunlight" was among them.

The name did not appeal to him at first, but later he decided to register it. The curious thing about the name was that he was able to register it in any country in the world without difficulty, as no one had used it before him. In the spring of 1885 the firm were having their soap made for them.

The missionary committee, of which Miss Catherine Goodrich is chairman, had charge of the meeting last evening at the Esplanade Street Epworth League. The programme consisted of papers which described work of missionaries in China and Japan. The papers presented various features of missionary life and activities in the two foreign countries. They were exceptionally well presented and contained much information of an interesting character.

PICTURE SHOWS COMMON IN CHINA

A Mission Worker Finds Them in All the Large Cities.

London, May 8.—(By mail)—"China today is thoroughly awake and eager to grasp at everything new," said Mr. Wood, a mission worker at Peking, in an address at the annual meeting of the Liverpool, Birkenhead, and Wirral auxiliary of the London Missionary Society, China, she continued, was adopting the policy of the open door in every respect. Politically, however, the country was in chaos, and she was ashamed of the way in which Westerners were taking advantage of the absence of stable laws. In Shanghai, for example, they had set up an abominable factory system, and women and children were being exploited. Cinemas had sprung up in all the big Chinese cities. They were not altogether bad, but because there was no stable Government, there was no film censorship, and the result was that most of the films that found their way to the East were those that could not pass the censorship here. They were practically no difference between the problems that pressed for solution in Chinese cities and those which confronted us in large centres in England. The Rev. W. W. Clayton of Canton said the passion for Christian unity was one of the strongest passions in the heart of the Chinese Church. The Christians of Canton had not waited for a complete scheme of organic unity before taking action on great moral issues, but had carried out successful evangelistic purity, public health, and anti-gambling crusades.

A cryptic message which may be the keynote to the fate of men who go down to the sea in ships was found by Allan Follett, 99 Broadview avenue. The message which was heavily marked in pencil on a lath read, "Lost—ship and crew, (me) Capt. Birns survived." There were other words but the action of the sea had made them indecipherable together, but, because there was

Every Dollar Comes Back

With Substantial Dividends

Have you ever heard of an absolutely safe investment, purchased by instalments, which does not require the payments to be completed if you become disabled, but, instead, pays you a monthly income as long as you live?

—which cancels all further payments in event of death and pays immediately the full amount you had set out to save? —or, at the end of 20 years, absolutely guarantees to return to you every dollar you have deposited in annual premiums, with substantial dividends?

The Capital Return Policy

is a new departure in life insurance policies which the Canada Life introduced to the public. It has carried out the above program for a great number of policyholders who wisely took advantage of it.

This Policy Gives You--

- 1. Immediate Life Insurance protection for your home. 2. Cash values, available in emergencies, which, with the substantial dividends added at stated intervals, make your policy a valuable business asset. 3. At the end of 20 years you can draw out all you have paid in, along with dividends which have been compounding at interest.— Or, you can take a Special Cash Guarantee, along with the accumulated dividends, and continue the policy (fully paid for) earning dividends as long as you live.— Or, this Special Cash Guarantee may be applied to increase the amount of your policy—for example, a $5,000 policy would be raised to more than $7,500.

Suppose some day you should become totally and permanently disabled through accident or illness. Immediately all further deposits would cease, and you would receive $50.00 a month as long as you live—and the $5,000 would be paid in full at your death. (This feature is added for a small extra payment yearly, which is not returnable with the regular deposits.)

SEVENTY-NINE YEARS OLD

Robert A. Johnston, veteran printer and pressman, is receiving congratulations on the attainment of his seventy-ninth birthday. Mr. Johnston is still able to do a good day's work at the time, and is enjoying excellent health. His recollections of the printing and paper trade in St. John are most interesting. He was born in St. John, and has lived here ever since. In his prime a man of remarkable physical strength, he is still hale and hearty, and can write as smoothly and plain a hand as any high school student.

BOARD OF TRADE MATTERS.

LOCKE-NICKERSON.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized this afternoon at 3:15 o'clock in St. Matthew's church, Douglas avenue, by Rev. W. H. Spencer, when he united in marriage Miss Alice R. Nickerson, daughter of Mrs. Mary Nickerson, of 70 Metcalf street, and Albert E. Locke, of St. John. The bride, who was given away by her brother, William Nickerson, was charmingly attired in a traveling suit of navy blue tulle with hat to match and carried a bridal bouquet. Miss Jennie Keim was organist and played "The Wedding March." Many guests were received, including a chest of silver from C. Stevenson, the bride's former employer. The groom's present was a handsome fox fur. Mr. and Mrs. Locke left for Montreal where they will reside.

PURPOSE DRIVING CHARGE

John J. Kelly pleaded guilty this morning in the police court to a charge of being drunk and not guilty to one of furiously driving a horse and carriage in Union street. Policeman Coughlan said that with Policeman Orr in Dock street last night he had heard shouting and seen people running. He had seen two people in a wagon drive through the crowd at a gallop. He had run to the corner and had seen the team going up Union street. He had waited on the corner and later the team had returned and he had placed the accused under arrest. The magistrate said he would remand the accused for the present as he understood that another charge was to be laid against him during the day.

One man charged with drunkenness was remanded.

KIDNAPPING CASE

A case of kidnapping from the Children's Aid Home occurred last night about 5 o'clock. It was frustrated only by the prompt action of Detective Biddiscombe and Miss Ross, the police matron, through whose efforts the child was restored to the Home again about 8 o'clock. The father of the children, Ernest Brown, also helped to get the child back into the care of the society. Nobody seems to have witnessed the abduction of the little one who was playing in the yard, but the mother is between three and four years old, secretary was arranging to have all the material of the commission insured as it was delivered. The police, he expected, would be ready today.

The Mayor advised the commission that its recommendations would be considered at a meeting of the council this afternoon.

PURPOSE DRIVING CHARGE

John J. Kelly pleaded guilty this morning in the police court to a charge of being drunk and not guilty to one of furiously driving a horse and carriage in Union street. Policeman Coughlan said that with Policeman Orr in Dock street last night he had heard shouting and seen people running. He had seen two people in a wagon drive through the crowd at a gallop. He had run to the corner and had seen the team going up Union street. He had waited on the corner and later the team had returned and he had placed the accused under arrest. The magistrate said he would remand the accused for the present as he understood that another charge was to be laid against him during the day.

One man charged with drunkenness was remanded.

KIDNAPPING CASE

A case of kidnapping from the Children's Aid Home occurred last night about 5 o'clock. It was frustrated only by the prompt action of Detective Biddiscombe and Miss Ross, the police matron, through whose efforts the child was restored to the Home again about 8 o'clock. The father of the children, Ernest Brown, also helped to get the child back into the care of the society. Nobody seems to have witnessed the abduction of the little one who was playing in the yard, but the mother is between three and four years old, secretary was arranging to have all the material of the commission insured as it was delivered. The police, he expected, would be ready today.

The Mayor advised the commission that its recommendations would be considered at a meeting of the council this afternoon.

Wireless Harnesses New Electric Force By Use of "Magnet"

British Engineer Tells Result of His Experiments; Can Give No Explanation of Power He Uses.

London, April 12.—(By mail.)—As a result of experimental work in wireless telegraphy what appears to be a new principle in magnetism and electricity has been discovered, says The Cardiff Times and South Wales Weekly News.

Raisin Toast

—is a delicacy that you should try with tea. Get a loaf of real, full-fruited raisin bread, and see how good it is.

simpler and more effective than those at present in use. What it accomplishes is to harness the current entering the receiving station direct instead of utilizing it to bring a complicated secondary apparatus into action.

The nature of the discovery is simple, and in principle is merely an extension of what everyone has observed with the horseshoe magnet. The magnet, as is known, will attract an iron bar and it is easy to calculate the exact force that it can exert.

This is made slowly to revolve, and the astonishing result is obtained that when a current passes through the coil the force of attraction on a steel shoe placed in contact with it is about fifty times greater than would be expected by theoretical calculation.

Nothing is known as to the explanation of the force, but it appears to have some resemblance with what occurs when two perfectly flat bars of metal are placed in close contact. These exercise so great an attraction force that they are able to carry a large weight. It is this new force that has now been harnessed by wireless.

Paint Man's Mind Unsound, Daughter Holds in Will Fight

Trinidad Martinez, 81, Unduly Influenced by Step-Mother, Brooklyn Woman Charges in Suit for Estate.

New York, May 14.—The trial of the contest over the will of Aristides Martinez, Cuban paint manufacturer and chess expert, has been begun in Supreme Court. The contestant is Mrs. Elizabeth Longman of 927 President street, Brooklyn, the only child of the testator, who received only a small share of her property, the greater part going to Mrs. Agnes Wilcox Martinez, of Great Neck, L. I., widow of Mr. Martinez, but not the mother of Mrs. Longman.

It is the contention of the daughter that her father, who was eighty-seven years old at the time of his death, was not of sound mind, and that under the influence of Mrs. Martinez, who, the daughter alleges, was her father's common law wife.

Mr. Martinez's first wife was Miss Annie Niblo, a niece of William Niblo, who was the owner of Garden. Counsel for Mrs. Longman in opening his case said Mr. Martinez first met the woman who now is his widow when she was eighteen years old and was employed in the office of an insurance company. She was known as Marie Taylor, and Mr. Martinez, posing as a bachelor, made love to her.

When Miss Taylor learned of her suitor's married state and taxed him with the deception he promised to continue to provide for her. When the first Mrs. Martinez died in 1904, Mr. Martinez and Miss Taylor became known as husband and wife, but never went through any ceremonial marriage.

About two years before Mr. Martinez's death, it was alleged that Mrs. Marie Taylor Martinez began to exert an influence over her aged husband. She induced him to open a joint account in the National City Bank for her husband and herself, in which there was $100,000, representing the drawing account of Mr. Martinez in his firm for four years, and also, it was charged, the widow induced him to sell some Brooklyn real estate and to deposit the $112,000 proceeds in the joint account.

Mrs. Martinez denies the allegations that she unduly influenced her husband. Several witnesses testified that Mr. Martinez gave no signs of mental deterioration, but rather appeared much younger than he was.

London, (By Mail)—Reference to a wedding which was abandoned after the guests and the clergyman had assembled at the church and the bride dressed ready for the ceremony, was made in a case in which Miss Gladys Victoria Hunt, of Springfield road, East Ham, E., claimed damages for breach of promise from First Class Petty Officer, James Willey, of Belgrave Road, Walthamstow, E., according to "The London Daily Mail" report.

The wedding was fixed for 1 o'clock on May 1 at St. Bartholomew's, East Ham.

At 12.30 Mr. Willey's brother, Sidney arrived at the house. Miss Hunt was wearing her wedding dress, the motor car was at the door, and the clergyman and the forty guests were waiting at the church. Sidney said, "Jim has gone home and the wedding is postponed."

On hearing that Miss Hunt fainted and was put to bed. She got up in the afternoon and saw Mr. Willey, who told her he did not love her and would not marry her.

The jury found for Miss Hunt and awarded $150 damages.

IN-HIS-NAME CIRCLE.

At the meeting of In-His-Name Circle The King's Daughters held last night at the Guild with Mrs. F. K. McArthur presiding, plans were made for carrying on the philanthropic work which is the chief aim of the circle. The following delegates were appointed to represent the circle at the convention of the New Brunswick branch of the King's Daughters which will be held in St. John in July: Mrs. F. K. McArthur, Mrs. Frank Wray and Mrs. Guy Smith. An excellent paper on the life of Florence Nightingale was read by Miss Mary Thorne. The fact that today is the anniversary of the birthday of Florence Nightingale and that hospital work is being observed made the paper a particularly timely one. Mrs. R. C. Thomas invited the circle to meet at her country home at Morins some time in July.

Corinne Poth, 13 year old New York girl, enjoys the distinction of being the rarest equestrienne in the country.

Your faith in Kellogg's Bran can never be misplaced—IT IS ALL BRAN!

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krummled, will permanently relieve the most severe cases of constipation because it is ALL BRAN—not a food mixture that cannot possibly have sufficient natural corrective properties. Once constipation gets into your system you must fight it to the finish. Kellogg's Bran is the weapon. It will win for you. Don't take half-measures; don't temporize.

Kellogg's Bran is permanent relief for constipation if it is eaten regularly—at least two tablespoonfuls daily; in chronic cases, with each meal. And Kellogg's is a taste-delight because it is delicious and comes to you as a highly palatable, desirable food, as well as a corrective. You will greatly enjoy Kellogg's Bran as a cereal; its nut-like flavor—universal!

BRITISH ROAD IN FLAMES; SHOPS AND STOCKS SCORCHED

London, April 25.—(By Mail)—A road on fire was the situation with which the Maidenhead bridge had to deal with recently, says a "London Daily News" item. Corporation employees were tar-spraying King street when the tar boiled over, and the huge apparatus took fire, while the running tar set the newly-laid road surface ablaze. Shops were filled with black smoke, which penetrated every department and almost choked the inmates. The intense heat scorched some of the shop fronts, and damage was also caused to stocks.

Burn on Stutterer's Tongue Sometimes Overcomes Malady

Shift From Normal Voice to Queer or Singing Note Has Same Effect and Produces Almost Certain Cure.

London, April 15.—(By mail.)—Is stuttering merely resistance to the human element in the victim's environment? Consider the following emergency: A very bad stutterer is called upon to deliver a public lecture before an august body (writes Dr. E. W. Scripture in The Lancet). In such a case the stuttering can be temporarily cured for a few days by making a slight but somewhat painful cut in the tongue, by burning it slightly with a cigarette end, by holding a sharp pebble in his mouth, or by any other device that will make his tongue feel painfully queer.

The explanation is a curious one. He is now a person in pain, and the human environment may go hang. Another emergency is that of the stutterer who cannot or will not undergo rational treatment but wishes to have occasional help in important situations. If he has sufficient force of character to be willing to speak in what he considers a queer voice, he can speak fluently whenever he pleases. The explanation is that he now feels himself to be a personality of a different kind.

This phenomenon is illustrated by the following case: The head of a large business department stuttered so that he could not dictate to his stenographer; he always wrote out his letters and then handed them to her. This he kept carefully concealed from his superiors.

On beginning treatment he was told to sing; he had no ear whatever and simply spoke along on about one tone in practically normal speech, although he believed he was singing. He was now told simply to sing his letters to the stenographer and that all would be well. He refused, saying that he did not wish to make a fool of himself by singing to his stenographer.

As a health builder, Royal Yeast is gaining in popularity every day. It is a food - not a medicine. It supplies the vitamins which the diet may lack. Royal Yeast is highly beneficial in cases where the system seems "run down". Royal Yeast is the richest known source of vitamins, and when taken into the system acts as a corrective agent. Royal Yeast Cakes are recommended for their purity and wholesomeness. It is the purest, the most convenient and economical yeast on the market.

Two to four Royal Yeast Cakes a day will work wonders. A full day's supply can easily be prepared at one time by using one glass lukewarm water and teaspoon sugar to each yeast cake. Allow to stand overnight in moderately warm room. In the morning stir well and pour off liquid. Place in refrigerator or other cool place and drink at intervals as desired throughout the day. Send name and address for free booklet "Royal Yeast Cakes for Better Health."

The tour will start on July 8 in Detroit and end at the same place on July 23, covering 1,700 miles. It is the ninth annual tour. From Callander, Ontario, to Ottawa, the tour shows the route of Champlain's travels in 1613.

Tools to Run on Daylight Time

Light saving will be adopted by schools, according to a decision last evening at a meeting of the Board of Education. The Board of Education, after receiving reports from the principals and teachers, decided to adopt daylight saving time in the city schools, and to notify all principals before next Friday, which will be a holiday.

Education, instructions asked for, and immediate action urged.

A communication was read from Dr. W. S. Carter, chief superintendent of education, regarding the granting of three one-session days to the St. John schools during carnival week, the school days consequently having been less than the five hours specified. The letter said that the Board of Education would direct the government work for those days paid, but recommended that the trustees ask permission of the Board of Education before taking similar action in the future.

A letter of appreciation was ordered sent to the Board of Education.

Mr. Leavitt said that daylight time would come into effect on May 15, and asked if the board intended to take action. On motion of Mr. Leavitt, seconded by Mr. Ingraham, it was decided to adopt daylight saving time in the city schools, and to notify all principals before next Friday, which will be a holiday.

No Rent Charge For Kindergartens

Generous Offers of Teachers and Owners of Premises Accepted by Association—Financial Statement.

Acceptance of the generous offers of the free kindergarten teachers to give their services throughout the month of June without salary and the offer of the owners of premises to give them rent free for that month was decided upon yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the free Kindergarten Association held in the Wellington Row school with the president, Mrs. Allan G. McAvity, in the chair. The report of the teachers' committee was presented by Mrs. H. H. Pickett, convenor.

The financial statement showed that the sum of $285 was needed to cover the expenses for the month of May. The New Brunswick Telephone Company's employees had very kindly undertaken to give a performance this week for the benefit of kindergartens, and it was decided to hold a tea next week and to connect with it a party sale and a fancy work sale. Mrs. McAvity was appointed general convenor and Mrs. William Rising convenor for the party sale and Miss M. Rowley convenor of the fancy table.

Mrs. Rising asked the members to make infants' garments during the summer months as contributions to the annual sale arranged by the Kindergarten Alumnae to raise money to buy the toys given the children at Christmas.

The Trinity Church Young Women's Guild last night held a supper and quilting party. Miss Dorothy Robson presided and special guests were Rev. Canon R. Armstrong and Mrs. Armstrong, Rev. A. E. Gabriel, Mrs. John M. Hay and Miss Cummings. A surprise in the form of a kitchen shower for Miss Edna Smith in honor of her coming wedding was one of the successes of the evening. The meeting voted to make Miss Louise Howard an honorary vice-president as a mark of appreciation for her interest and faithful service.

Bonar Law and Lloyd
George Invertebrate Pipe
Smokers.

Shakespeare Anniversary—Lord Ribblesdale's health Causes Concern—New Game Giving Auction Bridge a Fight in Society.

Our Own Correspondent.)
London, April 26.—The dance haunts along the green banks of the river down to Maidenhead and beyond are already bestirring themselves soon now they will be popping the town clubs over week-ends, as if prices were going to rise quite pleasantly, too. My river subscription form, which has just been returned, requests season subscription of two guineas. Last year it was and the year before that five. So as arrangements have not been made to recoup the balance in drink inner prices all will be well.

Leavenworth's strictures against pipe smoking are rather severe in present Prime Minister and his son, Lloyd George. Both are pipe smokers, and Bonar Law's coat of arms if private room at the House of Commons is littered with them in every age and stencils. So was his down at Kensington. So is the sanctum at 10 Downing street, at time I saw him. Everyone, it is said, is a pipe smoker.

Speaker's Centenary.
There has been most interesting and celebrations of the great Shakespeare anniversary, including processions on street corners and in urban churchyards. But the end is the real centenary of our Englishman. A centenary is, in an empty grave—and at this anniversary moment not in the West End of London (staging a play by Shakespeare, are playing him in Berlin, and in Cologne, but not in London. Effort for the Old Vic to keep the many in the only adequate way—a really splendid rendering of his greatest works. I see that London Journal proclaims a grand assumption that, merely because his biting was shabby, Shakespeare died from neuritis. But some of our soundest Shakespearean scholars says agreed that most probably what Shakespeare died of was neuritis, not on the handwriting alone, but on the speaker's heart-felt sorrow.

The supremacy of bridge as the dominant of polite society is seriously threatened by a weird new Chinese game, Mah Jong. Mah Jong is what the Chinese play instead of auction bridge. It is all the rage in Mayfair, and is going to be further popularized this season by tournaments arranged for charity affairs.

Lady Curzon is an enthusiast, and so is Mrs. Benjamin Guinness, who had a tournament at her house in Carleton Terrace the other day. Lady Keppell and Lady Diana Cooper are also experts. The game went to America from China, and was brought here by Seifridge.

Rugger Season.
England can look back upon the rugger season now virtually over without dependency. Once again we secured the international championship and our fifteen, despite the jeremiads of the critics who vowed our men were not veterans, was probably one of the best that ever took the field. We will use Kershaw and Davies, the famous twins of victory, next season for certain. But there are promising understudies for the crucial post.

For the first time on record, notwithstanding the famous individual players who have worn their jerseys, Somerset won the county championship. And Newport, unless their last match with Leicester on the midland club's ground proves fatal to the night, alone among English and Welsh clubs maintains an unbeaten record. The curious thing is that, with such formidable club sides, Wales should fare so badly in the international game. Perhaps the best English club side of the season was Gully's—but next year they will miss their captain and several of their strongest players.

The Smartest Queen.
Queen Ena of Spain, consort of King Alfonso, has long been recognised as the smartest of all living royal ladies. Her slim white figure and handsome head admirably become the latest fashions, and, though as Princess Victoria of Battenberg she performs the duties of a normal lady, she is in modern styles, and adopts what pleases her, both in costumes and military. At the wedding of Princess Mary she was a figure apart in the royal circle, so far as her attire went, and was admired in consequence by discerning feminine critics who were present in the Abbey. But even the Queen of Spain has her admirers. Her admirers are the little thorns, and now Queen Ena has, amongst other great ladies, been denounced by the public as a sort of Madrid Father Bernard Vaughan, as pandering to immoral vagaries in female dress. From any but the narrowest modern standpoint, the criticism is absurd. Though Queen Ena wears moderately short skirts, she really is the pink of propriety, and, amongst other things, she is the mother of little baby Laetitia. But perhaps this Madrid incident explains why at Buckingham Palace the modern fashions are regarded in a festive lense.

PRINCE OF WALES EATS HAM AND BEANS AT BANQUET
London, April 19.—(Associated Press by Mail)—English hostesses who have been vying among themselves to have the popular Prince of Wales dine with them have been dismayed to find his royal highness has very abstemious tastes and consumes all except the simplest dishes. One of London's most aristocratic and wealthy families set a royal banquet before the prince lately, only to find that their guest passed it all by and chose a plate of cold ham and beans.

English physicians attribute the Prince's good health to his frugal diet, abstention from rich, highly seasoned dishes, especially fish foods, much outdoor exercise and a cheery, optimistic disposition.

The City Union of the King's Daughters yesterday presented to Mrs. John Foster, a beautifully bound hymn book as a mark of appreciation of her splendid work for the order during the many years which she had served as convenor of the war committee and also as a token of warm personal regard.

The presentation was made by Mrs. H. W. Robertson, president of the City Union, at the meeting of the House committee held at the Guild yesterday afternoon, with Mrs. E. B. Nixon, the recently elected convenor, presiding. In making the presentation Mrs. Robertson spoke feelingly of Mrs. Foster's good works and untiring devotion. Mrs. Foster was greatly touched by the kind thought and expressed her thanks feelingly.

John L. Waddell, of 828 Main Street, St. John, N. B., is well-known as a lesman for one of the city's largest firms. His work compelled him out in all weathers, a condition as rapidly telling on him until he retired Dreo, the real tonic and by that had rid him of all his ailments. Mr. Waddell: "Dreo certainly works it is claimed to do. I feel better every day on account of the trouble and indigestion that had at times I did not could finish my day's work. I was specially introduced in St. John by Ross Drug Co., 100 street. It is also sold by Moore's Drug Store, 105 Prince Edward and F. W. Munro, 357 Main street. It is also sold in Fairville by T. son, in West St. John by Watson R. Dunlop, and by a good druggist here.

WOMEN

So Says Mrs. MacPherson of
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Brantford, Ontario.—"I was always tired and the least exertion would put me out for a day or two. I had a pressing pain on the top of my head, and a pain in the shape of my neck, and when I stooped over I could not get up without help, because of pain in my back. I did not sleep well and was nervous at the least noise. I keep house, but I was such a wretched creature that I could not do the floor nor wash the dishes without lying down afterwards. A friend living near me told me what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for her so I began to take it. With the first bottle I felt brighter and got so I could wash dishes and sweep without having to lie down. Later I became regular again. My monthly periods have taken ten bottles all told and am now all better. I can truly say that your wonderful medicine cannot be used for putting health and vim into a woman."—Mrs. James H. MacPherson, 888 Greenwood St., Brantford, Ont.

Getting a Move On.
London has been having an orgy of street repairs. An effort to overhaul the long arrears of wartime, no doubt, but to many an old comrade of "The Londoners," almost reminiscent of the war. Platoon and companies of navies, all wearing khaki pants and tunics, have been digging and picking in the Strand, Holborn, and Oxford street. Embroid communication trenches have scamed our civilian thoroughfares, and there have been real duck-boards laid down for pedestrians to pass over. If there had only been a little barbed wire festooned about, it might have been quite homely. Most of the navies engaged on this work have been over the water since 1914—either as real fighting men or in labor battalions—and many of them can speak French fairly fluently in a light conversational way. Oxford street is the lively West End sector at the moment. The "No Throughfare" boards are up, and this beautiful city is out of bounds for taxis. "Same as the Square at Ypres in '16", as one smiling ex-navy man explained. And the illusion of just behind the lines in France or Belgium during the war has been increased by the fact that the navies, to expedite work, and get business back again, one Oxford street store turned on a gramophone all day long, and the ex-navy man's voice caught the old B. E. F. glee party spirit.

"The Ancestor."
I am sorry to hear that Lord Ribblesdale's health is causing considerable concern. Everyone who knows him has a real affection for our most picturesque peer, whose polished manners and old-time aristocratic bearing, no less than the stock which he nearly always wears, long since earned him the title of "The Ancestor." Formerly a lord-in-waiting at court, Lord Ribblesdale was intimate with the late King Edward. By his first marriage, to a daughter of the late Sir Charles Tennant, he has a son, the late Lord Aquith, and Lord Lovat and Sir Matthew Wilson are his sons-in-law.

Mah Jong.
The supremacy of bridge as the dominant of polite society is seriously threatened by a weird new Chinese game, Mah Jong. Mah Jong is what the Chinese play instead of auction bridge. It is all the rage in Mayfair, and is going to be further popularized this season by tournaments arranged for charity affairs.

Lady Curzon is an enthusiast, and so is Mrs. Benjamin Guinness, who had a tournament at her house in Carleton Terrace the other day. Lady Keppell and Lady Diana Cooper are also experts. The game went to America from China, and was brought here by Seifridge.

Rugger Season.
England can look back upon the rugger season now virtually over without dependency. Once again we secured the international championship and our fifteen, despite the jeremiads of the critics who vowed our men were not veterans, was probably one of the best that ever took the field. We will use Kershaw and Davies, the famous twins of victory, next season for certain. But there are promising understudies for the crucial post.

For the first time on record, notwithstanding the famous individual players who have worn their jerseys, Somerset won the county championship. And Newport, unless their last match with Leicester on the midland club's ground proves fatal to the night, alone among English and Welsh clubs maintains an unbeaten record. The curious thing is that, with such formidable club sides, Wales should fare so badly in the international game. Perhaps the best English club side of the season was Gully's—but next year they will miss their captain and several of their strongest players.

The Smartest Queen.
Queen Ena of Spain, consort of King Alfonso, has long been recognised as the smartest of all living royal ladies. Her slim white figure and handsome head admirably become the latest fashions, and, though as Princess Victoria of Battenberg she performs the duties of a normal lady, she is in modern styles, and adopts what pleases her, both in costumes and military. At the wedding of Princess Mary she was a figure apart in the royal circle, so far as her attire went, and was admired in consequence by discerning feminine critics who were present in the Abbey. But even the Queen of Spain has her admirers. Her admirers are the little thorns, and now Queen Ena has, amongst other great ladies, been denounced by the public as a sort of Madrid Father Bernard Vaughan, as pandering to immoral vagaries in female dress. From any but the narrowest modern standpoint, the criticism is absurd. Though Queen Ena wears moderately short skirts, she really is the pink of propriety, and, amongst other things, she is the mother of little baby Laetitia. But perhaps this Madrid incident explains why at Buckingham Palace the modern fashions are regarded in a festive lense.

PRINCE OF WALES EATS HAM AND BEANS AT BANQUET
London, April 19.—(Associated Press by Mail)—English hostesses who have been vying among themselves to have the popular Prince of Wales dine with them have been dismayed to find his royal highness has very abstemious tastes and consumes all except the simplest dishes. One of London's most aristocratic and wealthy families set a royal banquet before the prince lately, only to find that their guest passed it all by and chose a plate of cold ham and beans.

English physicians attribute the Prince's good health to his frugal diet, abstention from rich, highly seasoned dishes, especially fish foods, much outdoor exercise and a cheery, optimistic disposition.

The City Union of the King's Daughters yesterday presented to Mrs. John Foster, a beautifully bound hymn book as a mark of appreciation of her splendid work for the order during the many years which she had served as convenor of the war committee and also as a token of warm personal regard.

The presentation was made by Mrs. H. W. Robertson, president of the City Union, at the meeting of the House committee held at the Guild yesterday afternoon, with Mrs. E. B. Nixon, the recently elected convenor, presiding. In making the presentation Mrs. Robertson spoke feelingly of Mrs. Foster's good works and untiring devotion. Mrs. Foster was greatly touched by the kind thought and expressed her thanks feelingly.

CUTICURA HEALS
ITCHY PIMPLES

Over Chin and Cheek. Large and Red. Was Discouraged.

"The pimples I suffered from were scattered over my chin and cheek. They were large and red and after a day or two feasted over. They itched and when I washed my face with water and soap they would come off and I was awfully discouraged. I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a sample. After using it there was a marked change so I purchased more, which healed my skin. I am now free from my troubles. I can truly say that your wonderful medicine cannot be used for putting health and vim into a woman."—Mrs. James H. MacPherson, 888 Greenwood St., Brantford, Ont.

Had Bad Pains
In Her Heart

Nerves Were Very Bad

Mrs. John Case, R. R. No. 4, St. Catharines, Ont., writes: "I wish to say that I have been bothered very much with my heart and nerves. I doctored with two different doctors, but did not find much relief. I would have such bad pains in my heart, at times would be almost afraid to move or breathe, and at night I could not sleep. If the pains in my heart were gone, my nerves would be so bad I could eat but very little, and then only with great care. I am able to do my own work, and can eat anything I wish. I cannot praise

Queen Ena of Spain, consort of King Alfonso, has long been recognised as the smartest of all living royal ladies. Her slim white figure and handsome head admirably become the latest fashions, and, though as Princess Victoria of Battenberg she performs the duties of a normal lady, she is in modern styles, and adopts what pleases her, both in costumes and military. At the wedding of Princess Mary she was a figure apart in the royal circle, so far as her attire went, and was admired in consequence by discerning feminine critics who were present in the Abbey. But even the Queen of Spain has her admirers. Her admirers are the little thorns, and now Queen Ena has, amongst other great ladies, been denounced by the public as a sort of Madrid Father Bernard Vaughan, as pandering to immoral vagaries in female dress. From any but the narrowest modern standpoint, the criticism is absurd. Though Queen Ena wears moderately short skirts, she really is the pink of propriety, and, amongst other things, she is the mother of little baby Laetitia. But perhaps this Madrid incident explains why at Buckingham Palace the modern fashions are regarded in a festive lense.

PRINCE OF WALES EATS HAM AND BEANS AT BANQUET
London, April 19.—(Associated Press by Mail)—English hostesses who have been vying among themselves to have the popular Prince of Wales dine with them have been dismayed to find his royal highness has very abstemious tastes and consumes all except the simplest dishes. One of London's most aristocratic and wealthy families set a royal banquet before the prince lately, only to find that their guest passed it all by and chose a plate of cold ham and beans.

English physicians attribute the Prince's good health to his frugal diet, abstention from rich, highly seasoned dishes, especially fish foods, much outdoor exercise and a cheery, optimistic disposition.

The City Union of the King's Daughters yesterday presented to Mrs. John Foster, a beautifully bound hymn book as a mark of appreciation of her splendid work for the order during the many years which she had served as convenor of the war committee and also as a token of warm personal regard.

The presentation was made by Mrs. H. W. Robertson, president of the City Union, at the meeting of the House committee held at the Guild yesterday afternoon, with Mrs

'The Steam Coal of Salesmanship'

Man, by taking thought, cannot add a cubit to his stature.

But he can by thought, and by concerted action on accurate conclusions, do much to add growth and give rejuvenation to his business, particularly in these times.

On the high seas of business, with a fair wind aft and the barometer steady, progression is an easy matter.

In heavy seas and against a headwind, the consumption of fuel must be greater.

Then he should pile on the Steam Coal of Salesmanship-Daily Newspaper Advertising.

Then is the time to crowd on steam - to use Daily Newspaper Advertising with the greatest degree of confidence.

The Daily Newspaper is the medium of the moment - the axis of opportunity; flexible, powerful and instantaneous in its ability to create sales.

Advice as to the best ways and means of doing this will be given to those who inquire of us; or consult any recognized advertising agency - a list supplied on request.

Conserved if you will. Eliminate the tags of advertising - the barnacles that fasten themselves to your appropriation under the guise of publicity, but which are none other than philanthropy. Give more careful scrutiny to results and fire up in the Daily Newspapers.

The Daily Newspaper is the great natural and national advertising medium, and in proportion as you use it with skill and judgment, results will come.

STEFFANSSON TO ENGLAND IN ARCTIC INTERESTS

Quebec, May 15.-Canadian Press) Vilhjamur Steffansson, Arctic explorer here yesterday on his way to England said that he was not planning any more expeditions in the near future and added that "what I am interested in now is the spreading of information about what kind of a country we have in the north. That is what I am going to England for."

Asked if he were going back to Wrange Island, he replied in the negative, but that he was financing an expedition there.

Black-O gives a wonderful black soft lustre to the shoe without much rubbing.
