THE BRITON'S WAY.

Lord Rosebery on Some Disadvantages of English Methods.

In his speech at the distribution of prizes to the students of the Birmingham and Midland Institute, Lord Rosebery made several remarks which have since been widely discussed and generally with approbation. Speaking of the Briton's "national self-complacency," he said:

"The nation which is satisfied is lost. The nation which is not progressing is retrograding. 'Rest and be thankful' is a motto which spells decay."

"The new world seems to possess more of this quality of progressive-ness, in its crude state, at any rate, than the old. In individuals it sometimes seems to be carried to excess. I do not by this mean the revolutions which periodically ravage the Southern and Central American Republics. I think more of the restless enterpriser of the United States, with the devouring anxiety to improve existing machinery and existing methods, and the apparent impossibility of accumulating any fortune, however gigantic, which shall satisfy or be sufficient to allow of leisure and repose."

"There the disdain of finality, the anxiety for improving on the best, seems almost a disease; but in Great Britain we can afford to catch the complaint, at any rate in a mitigated form, and give in exchange some of our own self-complacency, for complacency is a fatal gift. 'What was good enough for my father is good enough for me' is a treasured English axiom which, if strictly carried out, would have kept us to wooden plows and water clocks. In these days we need to be inoculated with some of the nervous energy of the Americans. That is true of individuals, admittedly true, but is it not true of the nation? "Occasionally the nation wakes up and finds that its methods or machinery are out of date, and even decayed. It demands for example, that some department or another should be placed up-to-date, and having made the demand, it turns its attention to something else, or goes to slumber; then it wakes up again, finds that nothing has been done, grumbles, and perhaps swears, and turns its attention to something else or perhaps slumbers."

"There is a story of an English duke, the husband of an historic duchess, who was awakened with the news that his magnificent palace, in which he was then sleeping, was in flames. He expressed the hope that they would be put out, and turned round and went to sleep again. Now that in itself is not a bad form of phlegmatic courage, a passive force in itself, but if it is a quality of strength which contains a peril. Our people in like manner when they are told that their house is on fire are apt to call loudly for a fire engine, but to fall asleep again directly it arrives."

Charles Kendall's grocery store at Leckport, to which a new front was built, collapsed today. Daniel Owsen was killed and Tony Spiger and an unknown deaf and dumb man were severely injured.

THE OPHIR'S RETURN.

Great Naval Pageant at Portsmouth. The Loyalty of the Colonies.

PORTSMOUTH, Eng., Nov. 1.—The naval pageant in connection with the return of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York was almost a reproduction of the ceremonial attending their departure. The town and harbor were lined with thousands of spectators, and the cheering mingled with the national anthems and salutes from the harbor ships and land batteries as the royal yacht Victoria and Albert started to meet the Ophir. On board the royal yacht the king in the dress uniform of an admiral stood on the after bridge at the salute, while the queen and the children of the duke and duchess paraded the hurricane deck.

The roads presented a striking spectacle owing to the great gathering of warships dressed from stem to stern with their yards manned and their sides lined with their crews. Nelson's old flagship, the Victory, started the salute to their majesties and each ship in turn took it up as the Victoria and Albert moved down the Solent accompanied by a flotilla of older royal yachts.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Commenting upon the arrangements in connection with the arrival of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York, the London correspondent of the Tribune says:—"The arrival of the Ophir and the departure of the king and queen for Portsmouth were the opening scenes of an imperial function designed as a stately tribute of respect to the colonies. The loyalty of the colonies demonstrated in Australia, South Africa and Canada by their unexampled reception of the heir to the throne has imposed an obligation on the mother country to welcome him on his return with unique honors."

PORTSMOUTH—On Yarmouth, Isle of Wight, the Victoria and Albert and the Ophir met and exchanged signals of greeting. At about two o'clock the booming of distant gunshots and the approach of the royal vessels and the naval procession soon had in sight. As the Victoria and Albert, the Ophir and the two ironclads, steaming in file came after the other passed down the lines of the main guns, bands, and cheers congratulated in the welcome to the royal visitors.

PARIS, Nov. 1.—The despatch from Coulon announcing the return of Admiral Caillaud's division of the French Mediterranean squadron to that port has not been received. The officials of the Associated Press today informed the correspondent that the admiral had not returned and that the facts set forth in these despatches were correct. The admiral is now on his way to British waters.

PARIS, Nov. 1.—The incorrect announcement from Toulon of the return of Admiral Caillaud's division, which created a great sensation, emanated from the correspondent of a well known news agency. The explanation is that Admiral M. Algre, commander of the Mediterranean fleet, returned to Toulon at seven o'clock yesterday evening with all his vessels, except those belonging to Admiral Caillaud's division. The correspondent of the news agency referred to, miscounted the vessels, owing to the darkness.

THE WEATHER.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Forecast: Eastern states and northern New York—Fair, cooler tonight; Saturday, fair, cooler; Sunday, light to fresh wind, becoming westerly.

TORONTO, Nov. 1.—Moderate to fresh southerly and southwesterly winds, fair to cloudy, with some showers Saturday; moderate to fresh westerly winds, generally fair, stationary or slightly lowering; Sunday, fresh southerly and southwesterly winds, with some showers.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The local weather bureau has received the following from Washington:—"Disturbance of apparent marked energy moving northward westward of Turks' island, West Indies, will probably pass near Bermuda Saturday. Barometer 32.7 at Turks' island."

A DESPERATE BATTLE.

LUZON, Ariz., Nov. 1.—A desperate battle took place on Wednesday between Yaqui and Mexican cavalry. Fifteen Yaquis were killed or wounded and a number of troopers were wounded. The charge was led by Lt. Col. Quinto with 300 men, all mounted. They left Guaymas after receiving repeated orders announcing raids by Indians. The Yaquis were camped in a flat canon when the troops came upon them. A fight at close range began and lasted 20 minutes. The troops rose upon the Indians, killing them with six shotguns. The Indians fell back and securing their horses made for the mountains. The troops are in pursuit, and more fighting is expected.

THE IRISH DELEGATES.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—John E. Redmond, Patrick A. McFugh and Thomas O'Donnell, members of parliament, who came here in behalf of the Irish cause, landed today from the steamship Majestic. They were enthusiastically welcomed by a large delegation of Irish-Americans.

Five hundred Irish women tendered a reception at the Hoffman house tonight to Messrs. Redmond, McFugh and O'Donnell, and presented them with an address of welcome, accompanied by a floral harp eight feet high, bearing the inscription, "Cead Mille Failte."

MISS STONE.

SOFIA, Nov. 1.—The best method of transmitting the ransom demanded by the brigands for the release of Miss Ellen M. Stone, the abducted American missionary, and of assuring the safety of the captives are the matters now engaging the attention of the American missionaries who are negotiating with the kidnappers. It is felt that urgent precautions are necessary in order to safeguard Miss Stone and the others, as there is undoubtedly danger that the captives will be murdered after the ransom is paid.

CONSIDERING AMALGAMATION.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—A proposal for the amalgamation of Kodak Limited with a number of other well known English undertakings in England and America is under consideration of the directors, says the London correspondent of the Tribune. Two-thirds of the Kodak shares are already owned in America and if the scheme is carried out the American corporation will acquire a business with a capital of over $30,000,000.

GEN. BULLER.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—According to the Tribune, General Buller's friends are not cast down by "The National Review" publication of the alleged Colonel's message. They assert that the truth will now be forced out, and that the complete text will show that the passage quoted is garbled. General Buller's friends asserted that he learned in advance that "The National Review" would have the article which caused so much commotion, and decided to forestall them. The editor of the magazine is a son of the late Admiral Maxwell and his sister is the wife of Lord Edward Cecil, the prime minister's son, who was with Baden-Powell at Mafeking. There is a general appeal to the war office to make an official statement in regard to the holographic messages from General Buller to Sir George White, General Buller, it is stated, has been advised by his friends to file legal proceedings against "The National Review."

FRANCE AND TURKEY.

PARIS, Nov. 1.—The despatch from Coulon announcing the return of Admiral Caillaud's division of the French Mediterranean squadron to that port has not been received. The officials of the Associated Press today informed the correspondent that the admiral had not returned and that the facts set forth in these despatches were correct. The admiral is now on his way to British waters.

PARIS, Nov. 1.—The incorrect announcement from Toulon of the return of Admiral Caillaud's division, which created a great sensation, emanated from the correspondent of a well known news agency. Algre, commander of the Mediterranean fleet, returned to Toulon at seven o'clock yesterday evening with all his vessels, except those belonging to Admiral Caillaud's division. For breaking the oath of allegiance a fine of $2,000 or imprisonment for ten years is fixed as the penalty. Foreigners are pledged under the same laws as are Americans and natives. A public discussion of the act will be had on Saturday.

CANNON AND HAIL STONES.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Prof. Willis L. Moore, chief of the weather bureau, and his assistants combat the theory of efficacy of shooting as a means of destroying hail storms, and say none of the reports of experiments in Europe have shaken their opposition. Professor Moore will issue a report shortly on the subject, elaborating his views of the investigations and experiments that have been conducted along these lines. He vigorously denies that shooting has any effectiveness in destroying hail storms or in bringing about rain, despite a rather prevalent belief, and says it is not worth while for the vineyard districts of this country to adopt such measures as are proposed in France for the protection of vinticulturists.

AFTER HIM WITH DOGS.

MADON, Ga., Oct. 31.—A young negro named Theodore Booth, on the farm of Hon. George Daughtry, in Wilkinson county, attacked Mrs. Daughtry yesterday afternoon. C. P. R. LABORERS STRIKE. They Were Offered $1.35 Per Day But Demanded $1.50.

The laborers employed by the C. P. R. at Carleton shovelling earth off the ballast trains went on strike this morning. Over 70 men went out. The trouble among the men started on Tuesday of Wednesday, when Foreman Brown discharged a navy named Tibbetts, of the West End, on the charge of loafing. Tibbetts' companions did not approve of the dismissal, and sent word to the foreman that unless Tibbetts was re-instated on Wednesday morning they would strike. When the time came for the men to resume their work, Tibbetts was on hand, but had not been re-engaged, and the men refused to go to work. Operations were delayed for a quarter of an hour, when Tibbetts was told by the foreman to go to work, which he did, followed by the other workmen.

This present strike is for higher wages. The men were getting $1.35 per day and asked $1.50. They were offered $1.35, but refused to accept, and this morning declined to go to work. Work, however, is going on as usual. The cars are loaded at Bay Shore and when they reach Rodney wharf a ballast plow is utilized to empty them. The Shore Line is also taking some of the clay from them today. The company refuse to accede to the men's demands, and it is said there is no likelihood of any other men going out.

Last evening Bocaccio was presented, and tonight the ever popular Bohemian Girl will be the bill. E. P. Raymond Talks to the Star About It.

Farmers from the States Moving Up—Enormous Grain Crops—Proud of Canada.

E. P. Raymond returned last evening from a six weeks' trip through Canada and the western states, and is now more strongly impressed than ever with the superiority of Canada over the states. In conversation with a Star reporter this morning Mr. Raymond said:

"I have all along been accustomed to hear praises of the neighboring republic loudly sung, to be told that it is a much better country than Canada, and that all our young people move there to make a living. However true or otherwise it may be, it is not true sections of the countries. It is not true regarding the central and western. Compared with the praises of Canada, those of the United States are simply not in it, and through almost the whole of Manitoba and Assiniboia hundreds of American farmers, who have become disgusted with their own barren country, are settling. In the west the feeling is exactly the opposite of what it is in the east, for out there all agree that however the advantages of both countries there can be no comparison and the movement of settlers is into Canada instead of from it. At Brandon I met a party of five American farmers, who had come over from Missouri to see the country and who were going home to collect their belongings, preparatory to moving across. They were delighted with the appearance of the country, and stated that they had never seen anything like it in the states. Grassy prairies were unknown to them.

I left St. John on Sept. 20th and went to Boston, where I was joined by my brother, W. S. Raymond, who was going to attend the Episcopal convention in San Francisco. We left Boston on Sept. 23, went to Montreal, and thence to Chicago without a stop. In Chicago we visited the great stockyards, and were much interested in them. From there we went by the Rock Island road to Denver, then to Ogden and spent a day or two in Salt Lake City. From what I observed I should say that the Mormons as a class are misrepresented. Their marriage arrangements and other customs are not what are generally believed, and from the appearance of Salt Lake City and vicinity the Mormons would seem to be an industrious and thrifty people. While there we met Rev. Mr. Walker, a brother of Dr. T. D. Walker of this city. We went next to San Francisco, and spent a week there attending the convention. Frisco is to my mind the dirtiest town I have ever seen, and Los Angeles, which we visited next, is the cleanest. It is to be regretted that the oil business, recently discovered and now being operated in Los Angeles have destroyed the beauty of a large portion of the city. While in San Francisco I met a large number of men, who are generally believed, and from the appearance of Salt Lake City and vicinity the Mormons would seem to be an industrious and thrifty people. While there we met Rev. Mr. Walker, a brother of Dr. T. D. Walker of this city. We went next to San Francisco, and spent a week there attending the convention. Frisco is to my mind the dirtiest town I have ever seen, and Los Angeles, which we visited next, is the cleanest.
