WRECKING TRAIN STARTED
BEFORE COLLISION OCCURRED

Railway Employees Realized Despatcher's Error and Rushed Relief to the Scene
—New Man Responsible
for the Mix-Up

PALMERSTON, Ont., Jan. 28.—That the wrecking train had started for the scene long before Tuesday's wreck had happened, came out today when the inquiry began.
As the freight from the south swung on to the western track and disappeared towards Southampton instead of to Owen Sound by the eastern track, the baggage men at Harrison rushed pale faced and frantic into the despatcher's office and convinced the despatcher of the mistake. A message was sent to stop the Southampton
train at Clifton, and the despatcher almost collapsed when the answer came back that the train had passed.
There was no other station where either train could be signalled.
The wrecking train was ordered out and sent on the line cautiously as there was one chance in a thousand that one of the trains might have been on a siding when the other roared past. But it was not long till they reached the scene of the wreck and gave aid to the wounded.
As announced before, the engineer on the south train was a new man on the route and he signalled for the western train in mistake.

HOLDING A DOG SHOW IN

Victoria's Day Offering a Job to Ch'own
Hockeyist—J. H. White Talks Missions.

MONCTON, Jan. 28.—J. H. White, White, of St. John, last evening addressed a largely attended meeting in Wesley Memorial Church in the interests of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, urging strongly for increased giving in this city toward the movement, which he thoroughly explained. The address was an interesting one, and at the close a cordial vote of thanks was passed to the speaker.
The Moncton Association's management give absolute and forceful denial to the story that a position was offered Campbell, the Charlottetown goal tender, in this city. The local team say they have plenty of goal tending material without Campbell's services and if he comes to Moncton it will be entirely on his own responsibility.
The Westmorland Poultry and Pet Stock Association's two days' show opened here today. It is open to exhibitors from Westmorland, Albert and Kent Counties, and about four hundred birds have entered. Some Jones, being judge. The show is being held in the W. C. T. U. hall, and being the first of the kind that has ever taken place in this city, is attracting some attention.

HEAVY WINDSTORM IN NEW

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—High winds which prevailed today played havoc with communication with various parts of the country. A four story frame structure was blown from the foundation and the walls of a half finished dwelling collapsed. Many suburban buildings had their roofs ripped off. In the harbor numbers of small craft were torn from their moor-

REFUSED MONEY
FOR BALLOONS

Congress Declines to Make a Half Million Grant.

Signal Officer Says the Dirigible Gasbag
Will Always be Ahead of the Aeroplane.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Ballooning
in America has received a decided setback according to officials of the War Department as the result of the refusal of the House Committee on appropriations to set aside the liberal sum for the military aeronautics.
The signal corps desired at least $500,000 for the new branch of the service, assurance being given that the dirigible balloon was beyond the experimental stage and was an instrument of much use in time of war as "a component part of the equipment of any well regulated army." It was pointed out that France had three dirigibles and Germany four, while the Italian army is in a measure equipped with them and reports are that the Russian army are adding them to their equipment.
The plan was to have the government buy a number of balloons such as the one acquired last summer.
When George Allen, chief signal officer, was before the committee, he was questioned as to the possibility of firing at balloons with mortars, and he admitted that you are going to "fight anything except a balloon. You cannot shoot a balloon down with guns because it has a horizontal and vertical motion and nobody can hit it.
It is almost impossible to find a balloon at a thousand feet even on a moonlight night."
"We do not believe that the aero-plane will ever take the place of the dirigible balloon," he continued. "Experience shows that the aeroplane will carry only a very light burden not to exceed two or three men, and the minute you commence to carry any load you start put on the gasbag. It seems hardly possible that aeroplanes are going up to the height that a dirigible balloon goes."

CUBA STARTS OUT
FORHERSELF AGAIN

Inauguration Today of President Gomez

Appropriate Ceremonies Mark the Closing of the Period of United States Control—Fair Sailing Ahead.

HAYANA, Jan. 28.—A new era in Cuban independence dawned today when the affairs of the island, which have been administered by American officials for more than two years as the result of the revolution against former President Palma, in 1906, were formally transferred to the newly elected native executive. January 29 will be inaugurated with May 20 as a national holiday in Cuba, for it was on the latter day in 1898 that the island was first transferred to the Cuban people by the U. S.
after a period of rehabilitation following the Spanish war.
The coming of this day of Cuban liberty was signalled by a general display of fireworks, the velvet blackness of the tropical midnight being set afame by rockets and pyrotechnic bonfires which sent down showers of golden rain and gleaming colored lights.
The streets of the city which were brilliantly illuminated and garlanded with chains of incandescent bulbs, were thronged with people until an early hour this morning and a spirit of carnivalesque revelry prevailed. Thousands of people gathered around the Clerks Club throughout the night where inaugural orations were held and jointly recognized on entering the building and leaving and loudly applauded. The inaugural parade, in which the most brilliant functions held since the days of the Spanish occupation.
The ceremonies of today began almost with the dawn, and they will not end until long after night fall.
The inaugural parade, in which only native troops, civil organizations and the rural guards will participate, will pass under the magnificent triumphal
arch erected in Monserrate Square, facing Central Park, and it will be reviewed by President Gomez. It will not start until late this afternoon.
One of the first ceremonies of this morning was the placing of the Cuban flag on the tablet marked the house in which Jose Marti, the Cuban patriot, the born. Next came the presentation of the new Cuban flag which was raised on the flagstaff of the palace.
The old flag will be sent to Washington and placed in the museum.
General Gomez, who plotted against former President Palma, and who was imprisoned by him for a month and releged to the island as the first official under the American intervention, will take the oath of office as President at noon, and within one hour thereafter Provisional Governor Magoun will take the oath of office as President of the harbor for home. Mr. Magoun will go on a warship conveyed by the battleships Maine and Mississippi, while the army officers will travel on board the transport McClellan. Mr.
Magoun goes to Knights Key, Florida, where he will take a train direct to Washington. The McClellan proceeds to New York.
Jose Manuel Gomez goes into power
as the leader of the Liberal Coalition party, and as a result, because of the overwhelming choice of the Cuban people in the elections of last fall, the Cubans always held a grudge against President Palma that he was the choice of the American government. No such complaint can be made because of President Gomez, for the Americans studiously avoided anything savouring of advice as to the candidates or the platform in the last campaign.
President Gomez was escorted this morning from his home in the city to the palace by detachments of troops and the rural guard. He rode in the same carriage with Governor Magoun who called for him with a military guard of honor.
The ceremonies of inauguration at the palace will be very brief. Precisely at noon President Gomez will step out upon the balcony overlooking the Plaza de Armas, and take the oath faithfully to enforce the laws of the republic and defend the constitution.
The oath will be administered by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.
Afterward President Gomez, who is not much of a speaker, will make a short address.
Returning inside to the reception room Gomez will receive from Governor Magoun the final decree, turning over all the affairs of the island together with an order from Washington terminating Mr. Magoun's commission as provisional governor.
Vice-President Zayas was sworn in this morning at a meeting of the Senate.
PRESIDENT GOMEZ.
Major General Jose Miguel Gomez,
the first President of the Cuban Republic is 54 years of age, a native of Santa Clara province, where he has always enjoyed extraordinary popularity. He participated in two Cuban revolutions against Spain, in the first of which he reached the rank of Major, and in the second that of Major General. He was selected as Governor of Santa Clara province by the government of intervention, and when his term expired he was elected governor.

TAKING A REST FROM
SLAUGHTERING PEOPLE

Chicago Motorman Kills Four
and Maims Two

Their Own Fault, He Says, for Getting in Front of Speeding Cars—His Work Hard on the Nerves.

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—Four persons having been killed beneath the wheels of electric cars which he was motorman, and two women having been maimed for life, L. A. Broadway is now taking a voluntary rest "to recover his nerves."
Within another week he expects to be at work again and says he trusts his car never will kill another person. He is not particularly sure of such luck, as he says people seem to be taking greater chances with electric cars everyday.
In none of the accidents in which his car has figured has Broadway been condemned by the coroner. He is an employee of the Chicago and Milwa-aukee line. "A motorman in Chicago for these high power electric cars," he says, "has a nerve racking job all the time. I have worked on steam roads and I would rather take an express schedule of the electric. You locomotive than to try to keep the express schedule of the electric. You often have to make 55 miles an hour."
"People generally take all sorts of chances with electric cars. They disregard the fact that the electric cars of the line are running faster than the steam cars. They jump in front of the cars when they should give them a wide berth."

William Mackenzie to Have a

Canadian Northern May be Changed

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 28.—Wm. Mac-Kenzie, the president of the Canadian Northern Railway, and controller of other great interests, is going to Gov
Ganda on Tuesday next with a party.
They will spend a week in the new silver district looking over the possibilities of the field. The object is said to be twofold, but it has been hinted
to become another Cobalt the main line that if the camp realizes its promise of the Canadian Northern which will be built to connect the western, and at Port Arthur, with Ottawa and points west, will be switched so as to take in Gov Ganda, turning south from that point to cut through the

His Injuries

BOSTON, Jan. 28.—The funeral of Euhospital on Tuesday as a result of injuries received in the collision between the Republic, on which he was a passenger, and the Florida, was held at the church of the Immaculate Concep-

time a requiem mass was sung for the repose of the soul of Mrs. Lynch, who was killed in the collision and whose body was carried down with the insultable when that ship sank on Sunday night. Hundreds of friends of Mr. and Mrs. Lynch crowded the church and the remembrance in the shape of flowers were many. At the close of the service the body of Mr. Lynch was taken to Moxon, a physician of Brooklyn, and a classmate of John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

was set upon and beaten by three men on his way home early today from the Brown University Alumni dinner, at the Hotel Astor. The physician was knocked down and kicked in the face and would undoubtedly have been rob-

to his assistance. The three men fled, though one man was captured after a hard chase. He gave his name as John

The locomotive sent from McAdam faro as ill as its predecessor, coming to grief at the junction and dropping another hour from the schedule. A third locomotive brought the train safely to the city.

Word reached the city by telephone yesterday to William Morris of Chubb street of the accidental death of John Ebbingham of Golden Grove at St. Martins yesterday afternoon. Mr. Ebbingham was cutting down a tree in the woods in the morning, when it fell, striking him a heavy blow. He never recovered but passed away in the afternoon. No further details of the sad affair could be procured last evening.

The body of the deceased will be brought to this city this morning. He was a life long resident of Golden Grove and was well and favorably known by all. He leaves four daughters to mourn their sad loss, viz. Mrs. Charles McLean, Baywater; Mrs. R. S. Westmore and Mrs. William Morris, St. John; Mrs. Walter Thury, Connecticut.

BELLEVUE STADIUM OF RAILWAY MEN'S SPORTS LAST NIGHT

Attended by over 2,000 interested spectators the Street Railway men's sports in the rink last evening were most successful. The races were fast and exciting and the series in all proved one of the fastest seen in St. John in recent years.

Chief interest centred in the appearance of Hilton Belyea and Walter Evans. Belyea proved the star of the evening. He won the 440 and mile quads and also captured the 500 yards dash.

Evans also showed great speed, winning the 220 yards final and his heat in the 800 yards. In the final of the 100 yard event Evans pushed Belyea hard and lost by about two feet. Tracey made a splendid showing, pushing the winners in all of the events. Longley gave Belyea a hard run in the 440 yard dash and also skated well in the others. M. Bell, W. Bell, Shellington, R. Belyea, Conley, Harrington and Campbell also skated well in the different events.

Probably the best race seen here for many years was the final of the 800 yards dash. It was fast and exciting. Evans took the lead early in the race and was passed by Belyea about the fifth lap. However, the West Side skater regained his position and for the balance of the race the two men skated neck and neck. Belyea finally won out by about two feet amidst tremendous cheering from the assembled thousands.

The small boys' race, snowhake and other events furnished plenty of fun, and all these present greatly enjoyed the sports.

In the junior boys' half-mile, Cunningham won out, with Alchorn second.

The senior boys' half-mile was also fast and exciting, the winner traversing the distance in one minute and thirty-seven seconds.

There were no waxes, the officials performing their duties to the satisfaction of all. The events were sanctioned by the Amateur Skating Association of Canada.

The Victoria's even band was in attendance and rendered a splendid programme of music, which was much appreciated.

THEIR CONSENT MUST FIRST BE OBTAINED NOW

A meeting of the Bills and By-Laws Committee was held yesterday afternoon. Ald. Pickett presided at the meeting. There was a full attendance.

It was decided to prepare a bill providing for the nomination of candidates for alderman by the voters of the city and accompanied by the written consent of the nominee. Hereafter the consent of the candidate nominated was not needed in the nomination of candidates for alderman. It permitted of a certain amount of trouble and annoyance because of the Common Council scheduled for Monday next.

The report to be submitted will chiefly have to do with the proposed board of control. Owing to the absence of the city engineer the matter of the consolidation of the departments will not be taken up.

The home mission board of the United Baptist church is now in the parish of Coverdale, near Moncton. This has been done as a result of a recent visit to Moncton by Rev. David Hutchinson and Rev. Dr. McIntyre. The new field will include Stony Creek, Mid Creek, Coverdale Hall and Middle Coverdale. Efforts will be made at once to secure a man to supply the new stations, the home mission board aiding in the finances.

Tuesday evening a young woman who resides in the city, was taken to a man crouching in an alley. The police were notified and discovered that the man was an officer from one of the steamers. They are satisfied that he is the "Jack, the hugger" who has been a terror to the West Side women. Chief Clerk visited the ship yesterday and interviewed the man, but did not have evidence enough to place him under arrest.

Considerable interest has already been manifested in the evangelistic services to be commenced next week by J. Ritchie in the hall of the Queen square church. Mr. Bell is already well known here, and the nature of the services conducted by him has been highly commended by leading Methodist clergymen. A choir and orchestra will assist every evening, singing being always a prominent and attractive feature of Mr. Bell's services.

The Young People's Missionary Society held an enjoyable gathering last evening in the Main street Baptist church. There was a large number in attendance. Several interesting speeches were delivered at the meeting, including addresses by E. M. Siggel on the laymen's missionary movement, H. V. Hayes on the students' volunteer missionary work and Rev. D. Hutchinson on the young people's missionary movement. The addresses were along the lines of what could be accomplished by hard work.

The Knights of Columbus will hold a meeting this evening when arrangements will be made for the holding of the annual ball, which takes place in Keith's Theatre rooms on February 22. The appointment of a committee, etc., will take place tonight and it is the intention to have the preparatory work well under way. A change in an office in the Knights of Columbus has lately been announced. F. P. Hayden, district deputy for Nova Scotia, has tendered his resignation, and State Deputy W. J. Mahoney, of this city, has appointed R. G. Donahy, of Halifax, district deputy in his place.

On Thistle Ice A. J. Stevens of the Thistles won from Hugh Watson by a score of 21 to 9. J. A. Strickland defeated H. G. McInnes by four points, while F. Orchard of the Thistles met defeat at the hands of J. L. McAvity, 10 to 16.

LAWY OUTCLASSES ALL COMPETITORS

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 27.—Edmund Lamy, of Saranac Lake, N. Y., amateur skating champion, outskated all competitors in tonight's event of the National Skating Championship races at the Elysium rink. He won easily both the 100 and 200 yard and one and one-half mile contests, but was not sufficiently pushed to break any records.

TOOK BANK DEPOSITS TO START A TRUST COMPANY

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Charging that William Gow deliberately appropriated $145,000, belonging to the estate of the late Carrie McGuire from the Borough Bank of Brooklyn, where it was deposited to open the International Trust Company, a Manhattan institution, capitalized at a million dollars, District Attorney John F. Clark outlined today before a jury in the supreme court, the people's case against Gow who is charged with grand larceny in the first degree. According to Mr. Clark, a stock subscription of $5,000 was the only money legitimately obtained which was used in organizing the trust company and the transfer of the $145,000 from the Borough Bank with the alleged connivance of two of its officers, just before the expiration of the time available for completing the new trust company, was but one of a series of operations by which the $1,000,000 was apparently raised. Gow is being tried under one of the strict indictments against him jointly with Howard Maxwell, formerly president of the Borough Bank and Arthur D. Campbell, the former cashier of the institution.

At a meeting held in Toronto last week the executive of the Baptist board dealt with the subject of church union and formulated plans for its consideration. A city clergyman last night expressed the belief that union will take place. At a later date the whole committee of the Baptist church will assemble to discuss the subject. In the meantime it is probable that communications will be sent to the Baptists both in the west and the Maritime Provinces.

LAYS INFORMATION BY THE WHOLESALE

Chief of Police Foster of the Grand Trunk Pacific arrived in the city yesterday with a batch of information preferred against a number of alleged Liquor License Act violators. They were laid before Commissioner Parry last before his court on Wednesday in their disposal.

Of the six warrants issued two name Italian men a Frenchman and the remaining three natives of Canada. They all charge the illegal selling of liquor on the line of the railway between Grand Falls and Plaster Rock.

Mr. Foster, in conversation with The Sun yesterday, stated that all was quiet now among the Italian element in the district of Plaster Rock and that little further trouble was anticipated.

JUNIOR THISTLES CAPTURE MATCHES

The Junior Thistles completely outclassed the St. Andrew's players at last evening's last evening, winning from them by a score of 130 to 80. Much interest was shown in the matches, which were played on the ice at both the rinks.

On St. Andrew's ice, R. Thompson won over Dr. E. B. Smith by a score of 22 to 11. A. P. Patterson of the Thistles defeated William Humphrey by 16 to 10. W. J. S. Myles had 17 to 8. Howard defeated Geo. S. Bishop by one point.

On Thistle ice A. J. Stevens of the Thistles won from Hugh Watson by a score of 21 to 9. J. A. Strickland defeated H. G. McInnes by four points, while F. Orchard of the Thistles met defeat at the hands of J. L. McAvity, 10 to 16.

WOMAN OUTCLASSES ALL COMPETITORS

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 27.—Edmund Lamy, of Saranac Lake, N. Y., amateur skating champion, outskated all competitors in tonight's event of the National Skating Championship races at the Elysium rink. He won easily both the 100 and 200 yard and one and one-half mile contests, but was not sufficiently pushed to break any records.

ARMAGH SACRED CITY; HEAD OF 2 CHURCHES

Chief Seat of Catholics and Protestants in Erin at Same Place.

The little cathedral city of Armagh (pronounced with a strong accent upon the last syllable) is the most sacred place in Ireland, the ecclesiastical headquarters of both the Roman Catholic and the Protestant churches of Ireland the seat of the most ancient and celebrated of Irish schools of learning, the burial place of Brian Boru, the greatest of all the Irish kings; the home of St. Patrick for the most important years of his life, and the cradle of the Christian Church in the United Kingdom. It was from Armagh that William D. Curtis in the Chicago Record-Herald, that the message of the gospel was sent to the people of Scotland and Ireland, and here was the genesis of the faith that is now professed by all the nation.

Armagh is a quiet, well-kept town of about 800 inhabitants, built on a hill around the cathedral founded by St. Patrick in the year 433, and the streets are steep and rather crooked. It resembles an English university town, and looks more like Cambridge than Winchester than the rest of Ireland. More than 1200 years ago it was the greatest educational center in the civilized world, and it still has several important schools, including a Roman Catholic theological seminary, a large convent for young women, a technological school, and an astronomical observatory, a public library of 20,000 volumes and a little old-fashioned temple of a building with a sign to advertise it as the rooms of the Philosophical Society. The houses are packed together very closely, as is the custom in all Ireland, although there is plenty of room for the town to spread out, if it were the fashion to do so.

There are ranges of green hills all about and their sunny slopes are closely planted to grain potatoes and other crops. There are several fine factories in the neighborhood, which furnish employment for the wives and daughters of the town and a small automobile factory. The population is about equally divided between Protestant and Roman Catholic faiths. There are three Presbyterian churches and one Methodist which assert themselves boldly even in the presence of an ecclesiastical see that is nearly 1400 years old.

Way back in the year 433 St. Patrick came to Armagh and built a church and a monastery upon the summit of a beautiful hill overlooking a most delightful country, where he established his ecclesiastical headquarters as primate of Ireland. The land was given him by the king of Ulster, whose royal palace stood there for centuries, and that estate has remained in the possession of the church ever since and is so walled partly by the demesne of the primate and the police of the Protestant archbishop and partly by the residences and business houses of the town, and the ground rears further the ancient palatial palace is now occupied by Rev. Dr. Alexander, Protestant archbishop of Armagh and primate of the Church of Ireland.

Across the valley upon a similar hill is another cathedral, also dedicated to the glory of St. Patrick, and behind it, in a much more modest mansion, is the residence of Cardinal Lewis Roman Catholic Archbishop of Armagh primate of Ireland and a member of the Sacred College of Rome. Thus, in the same little town we have two cathedrals of St. Patrick, two archbishops of Armagh and two primates of the holy Catholic church, both claiming ecclesiastical authority inherited from St. Patrick, founder of the Christian Church in Ireland and first archbishop of Armagh, through 114 generations of archbishops who have lived and prayed and reigned in this picturesque little place.

It is common to find in the same town to archbishops, one Roman Catholic and one of the church of Ireland, and the duplication is often the cause of embarrassment and confusion.

There are two archbishops of Dublin seeking or even mentioning one of them it is necessary to make yourself clear by giving the name of the church, not the name of the man as well as the title. Not long ago I addressed a letter to "His Grace, the Archbishop of Dublin," and it was returned to me for a more definite address.

They tell me, however that Archbishop of Alexander and Cardinal Lewis are the best of friends and see each other frequently, co-operating in works of charity and movements of public interest with cordiality and mutual esteem.

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 27.—The city of Boston can save $150,000 yearly in the sanitary division of the street department, according to a report rendered the mayor and city council tonight by the finance commission. The commission declares there will be a saving the present year of $12,215 under Superintendent George H. The Unpledged Man
By ELLIOTT FLOWER.

Albert Kennedy driving along the country road, swerved in toward the fence and stopped his horse. This being accepted as an indication of a desire to pass the time of day, the man on the other side of the fence brought his horse to a standstill, and leaned against his post. The man on the other side of the fence was Adam Grimm. "Hallo, Adam!" Kennedy called out cheerily.

"Morin', Mr. Kennedy," Grimm replied stolidly.

"Rather early with your plowing, ain't you?" asked Kennedy, who knew as little about plowing as he did about the peary gates.

"No," answered Grimm; "late."

Kennedy flicked his whip at a fence-post idly, as if waiting for the spirit to move him to some other passing pleasure, and Grimm seemed content to rest for a moment in an idleness which Kennedy finally inquired.

"Don't never bother none about that returned Grimm.

"You ought to," advised Kennedy. "There's a chance for a new man to go to the legislature."

"Why don't you try for it?" asked Kennedy.

"Me!" exclaimed Grimm.

"Sure," urged Kennedy. "It's a great chance for you."

"Glad to hear it," Grimm to his horse, and went on with his plowing.

Kennedy, surprised, followed the retreating figure with his eyes, and then smiled grimly. "He is p'nt me to talk," he reflected, "but I guess I've got the seed planted. He'll do a good bit of thinking."

Half a mile down the road Kennedy made another stop, to discuss politics with Jonas Ritter, another farmer. This time he had a more loquacious man, and the conference was longer and more intimate.

"Been watching the political situation?" asked Kennedy, after the usual greetings.

"Some," answered Ritter.

"We ought to beat Hanchett for the legislature," remarked Kennedy.

"I thought he was your man," said Ritter, in surprise.

"Not this time," explained Kennedy. "He's been there so long that he's getting careless, and I can't stand for his record."

"It's bad," agreed Ritter. "I ain't had any use for Hanchett since he hitched up with the corporations; but it looks like he's got a cinch on this district."

"Oh, no," returned Kennedy, firmly. "The right kind of a man can beat him."

"Who's the right kind of a man?" "Adam Grimm," said Ritter.

Ritter scratched his head thoughtfully, and then rested his arms on the top of the fence and looked down at Kennedy. "He's a good fellow," he said, "but I don't see no way to nominate him. Only way to get him in is to get him in the conventions."

"I don't," returned Kennedy.

"That's so," admitted Ritter.

"You ain't walked me up through 'em," said Ritter.

"Yes, but I could put him through."

"He's a good man," reasoned Ritter, half to himself, "but he ain't got no people who would have trouble handling him, an' we'd like to have a chance to elect a man who would have much chance, an' Adam Grimm looks like that man."

"The looks like him," said Ritter.

"I'll be along again in a few days," returned Kennedy.

"I haven't asked for any, have I?" returned Ritter.

"No," admitted Ritter; "but I want to make that p'int good an' clear."

"Make it as clear as you like," said Ritter cheerfully.

"I wouldn't go to the legislature unless I was a free man," persisted Ritter.

"I can't see that anybody's got a string on you," laughed Kennedy. "You haven't noticed me trying to hand you a halter, have you?"

"No," answered Ritter, frowning perplexedly; "an' that's what worries me."

Kennedy became serious. "Why, Adam," he said, "the trouble with you is that you get your ideas from the sensational press. The papers have told you so many lies about me that you're actually making it difficult for me to do a fine thing for both you and the district. I'm offering you the nomination, and I'm asking you for no pledge of assent in any promise," announced Grimm, after a long pause.

POET SAYS WIFE HAD ASTRAL MATE

Asks Divorce, Laying Trouble to Being on Another Planet.

Mrs. Mountain Declared Her Spiritual Progress.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 26.—Because his wife, Valerie, joined the "Order of the Fifteen," an esoteric college body which had its inception in the East, a poet, says the poet, has asked for a divorce.

Desertion is the charge brought by Mrs. Mountain, who declares that she had absorbed the mixture of occultism, mysticism, Buddhism and Hinduism handed out by the society she had joined, and was finally taken to the house for the consideration of his wife.

She had discovered a soul mate on a higher plane, and confessed to having frequently visited this sweetheart. The poet was not physically jealous, he says, but he was indignant that his wife had left him to dwell in an entirely different plane than the earth plane—in another world, in fact. But it made him very jealous spiritually. Also she told him that his very touch interfered with her progress, and that she was obliged and spiritual, while he was the reverse.

FOUND HER MOVING OUT.

Testifying before the master, Mountain said that his wife is a native of Vienna and is thirty years old. They have two children. He left here last September for a trip to Denver. When he got home he found his wife moving out. She said she wanted to live with another man. He was amazed, he says, and went home to his mother. He was permitted to see his children at intervals.

"Last January I went on a trip abroad," he said. "While I was away from my unhappiness. When I reached Genoa, there was a letter from my wife. In it she said she was so glad I was gone and that she hoped I would stay abroad, for she could not develop her spiritual nature with me anywhere around."

"She has a delusion that I am an undeveloped sort of person spiritually," he said. "I have been told that she has a delusion that I am an undeveloped sort of person spiritually."

"How long has she been going through that mental process?" he was asked.

"She has been going to those meetings about four years. It is the 'Order of the Fifteen' to which she belongs."

"What kind of meetings?" he asked.

"They are religious," he said. "I want to send a good man to the legislature."

"An' then what?"

"I don't know," he said. "I don't know how to answer the question directly. He would the reins around the whip, jumped from the bus, and walked away to the right."

"Adam," he said, "it's just a question of beating Hanchett and you're the man to do it. Hanchett has no business to be in the legislature; he has all right when he first went, but he's turned out, and he's disgracing the name of the legislature. He has no business to be in the legislature; he has all right when he first went, but he's turned out, and he's disgracing the name of the legislature. AMUSEMENTS.

JERE McLAUFFE PLEASURES A GOOD HOUSE WITH $5,000 REWARD.

Amateurs Tonight.

Jere McLauffe and his company opened their third night at the Opera House last evening to a large audience which is not surprising with a full dramatic company and a half dozen specialties, including a couple of new ones all at a very low rate of admission.

Jere's parodies are always a great attraction; everyone laughed and roared at one of his rollicking and wonderful conglomeration of circumstances which happened an unfortunate husband. The Castellucci Brothers are a trio of decidedly clever musical artists, playing a number of high class selections on various instruments. Conyers and Gay, the Gay sisters and Miss Leveau gave their usual great delight.

Last night's play, $5,000 Reward, is an interesting melodrama, with the $20,000 bank robbery as the principal scene. The play tonight is "The Aerial Column." The daily matinees are highly attended, as a big house saw Shamus O'Brien yesterday. At tomorrow's matinee Wm. Baxter Butted In will be presented. A long list of good matinees will be presented tonight.

WESHERSTER, Pa., Jan. 27.—Henry James, aged 55 and his wife, aged 51, who lived on a farm at Berwick, near here, were brutally murdered some time last night at their homes. The bodies were found today by a nephew of the couple, who went to the farm on an errand.

PRINCESS HAS GREAT SHOW.

Despite court attractions a very large crowd attended the Princess last night and judging from the applause the programme was thoroughly enjoyed. The World of Magic, the leading film, is one of the finest ever shown here. The picture is all hand-colored. The Impersonator's Act is a rare novelty; it is a great laugh. An Alwood Garment is one of those which comedians find it hard to get a hit. Another's Lover in Difficulties is another first-class comedy. It has been applauded last night. There will be a brand new song by William Adams today.

CONFLAGRATION AT THE UNIQUE.

The burning of Stamboul (Constantinople) was shown yesterday at the Unique, and is certainly a wonderful reproduction of a genuine fire in a foreign city. It is not a one-house fire, but a conflagration, consuming large portions of Stamboul. Experts here have pronounced this the most spectacular film ever shown in Saint John.

A Florida Feud, or Love in the Spheres, is a picture that would be a head liner in any other programme. The last picture, Wooden Headed Veteran, completes a bill not unsurpassed at the Unique. Miss Brewer will appear in a new song called, "Dream on, Dear Heart, Dream On." Mr. Dick will have a new illustrated song for the balance of the week.

CHINESE HAD TAXIMETERS.

Distance-Recording Machines Were in Use 900 Years Ago.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—An interesting piece of work has just been accomplished at the engineering laboratory of Cambridge University. Dr. Gillespie, professor of Chinese, recently came across specifications of a vehicle with a distance-measuring piece of mechanism attached to it of a kind which had been in use in China so long ago as the Chin Dynasty, A. D. 265.

The specifications of this ancient taximeter is of considerably later date, being about 900 years old, and is so clearly expressed that Prof. Gillespie has been able to construct a working model from a translation of the specifications. The vehicle is a kind of chariot and registers distances with considerable precision, and records them by the beating of a drum at each 10, or Chinese mile, and the ringing of a bell at every completion of ten miles. A 12 is about one-third of an English mile.

MORLEY AND INDIA.

Work of the Council in London Which Controls the Empire

How the Fate of Far-Off India is Settled Under the Shadow of St. James's.

Most people who are interested in Indian affairs have some general notion of the functions of the India Council in London, and they probably have a shrewd idea that its influence is exercised largely on the strength of character of a chief, generally unacquainted with India personally.

In financial matters Lord Morley has to look to the advice of Sir Felix Schuster and Sir James Mackay. The former is too well-known as a high authority on banking and finance generally to require much description.

Military affairs are represented by Sir Charles Egerton, a distinguished soldier, who, as a general, was in command in the Afghan War, and later commanded in Somaliland and in several frontier expeditions.

THE POLITICAL DEPARTMENT.

The Council is perhaps strongest in its political departments. In Sir David Barr it has, perhaps, the ablest of the officers serving under the Indian Foreign Office.

In the United Provinces, of which he eventually became lieutenant-governor, or in Ajmer. He has been everywhere to a district superintendent of police to a member of the Board of Revenue, and it is on questions of revenue that he has perhaps the best knowledge to speak for his country.

The two Indian members are a new feature in the council. Looking to the desirability of appointing moderate, though not subservient men, perhaps no better selection could have been made than that of Mr. Syad Hosen Bilgrami to represent the Mohammedan side and of Mr. Krishna Gopinada Gupta, a Bengali Hindu of wide convictions and thoroughly loyal convictions.

JUDICIAL ISSUES.

The judicial side of the council is found in Sir Lawrence Jenkins who, as a puisne judge of the Calcutta High Court and Chief Justice of Bombay, gained the highest reputation as a good judge and a level-headed man.

These, then, are the men who throughout the present crisis have consulted with Lord Morley on the state of India. Rarely have the discussions been more profoundly charged with facts, issues, rarely has greater knowledge been shown.

FOSTER DUMB, CROUCHES IN SEAT BEFORE VIGOROUS ONSLAUGHT OF PUGSLEY

PROMPTLY CHALLENGED.

Hon. Dr. Pugsley promptly challenged the truth of both statements. Dr. Sproule said he had seen the fact in newspapers.

"I defy him to produce any newspaper in which he saw that statement," said the Minister, who briefly recapitulated the facts of the case and noted that falsehoods without number had been circulated during the campaign with reference to alleged Mayes affidavits read by Premier Hazen. Moreover, he added, there was doubt as to whether said affidavits was a real affidavit at all being assigned by Mayes and related reports of the production of original having been always met with a refusal.

Dr. Sproule having been summarily tangled up in his facts at the very beginning of what might have otherwise developed into steady howl of Sproule's eloquence sat down, before he had gotten well started. Mr. Boyce, of Algoma, then stepped the tangled skein of the argument, being followed by other speakers of the day.

Dr. Pugsley wound up the debate with explanation of the whole case as summarized above.

In the Bank of England's museum may be seen the old oak chest which was the Old Lady of Threadneedle Street's first strong room. R. W. GRIMMER IS ELECTED MAYOR

Lively Election at St. Stephen

ST. STEPHEN, N. B., Jan. 27.—This town has had today the first real live town election it has witnessed for a number of years, with contests in every ward. There were two parties, the "old board" and the new. The former was composed of the mayor and council of last year, excepting that councillor Teed retired as a candidate in Queens ward and was replaced by Thomas Casey, while in Kings ward, councillors Dinmore and Luffin severed their affiliation with their colleagues, the latter running for mayor and the former for councillor under the endorsement of the temperance federation. The old board could only find one candidate, Hugh Love to replace them.

Makes Short Work of Appeal Cases

Assessment in Cases Against City of St. John Final, Says Court... FREDERICTON, N. B., Jan. 27.—The supreme court this afternoon made short work of the appeals in the cases of Sleeth v. the City of St. John and Gordon v. the City of St. John. It was agreed that the cases should be argued together and Mr. McClellan, K. C., for the plaintiff, had scarcely got started with his motion for an increase in damages assessed by Judge McLeod, when he was told by the court that the assessment was final and would not be changed. Mr. Skinner, K. C. for the City, was not called upon to present his side of the case.

TO SAVE THE SOULS OF NEW SETTLERS

TORONTO, Jan. 27.—That the Canadian Methodist church intends to take active part in the work among the immigrants to this country is indicated by the fact that the missionary executive decided today to appoint writers well known as "immigration chaplains" to meet strangers at St. John, N. B., and Halifax and at Quebec during the months of navigation. Arrangements will be made as soon as possible. It was further decided to carry on negotiations with representatives of other churches to arrange for some Protestant clergymen to be sent to meet immigrants leaving Liverpool with immigrants for Canada.

SALVATION ARMY SHELTER CROWDED

The unemployed situation shows no signs of becoming less acute, although the systematic effort recently instituted to grapple with the problem has resulted in the amelioration of much distress. Considerate snow storms coming just when most needed have been largely instrumental in providing work for many destitutes, while the Salvation Army sawing wood and saying nothing has managed to meet the many demands that have been put upon it and incidentally to relieve the city of a somewhat grievous burden. Yesterday the Army put in two additional cars of soft wood. This is to be saved immediately. It will provide for the shifts of thirteen that are being given work each day for some days. Officials of the army state that the demand for this wood is increasing, and now fairly good. The shelter continues to be taxed to its capacity each night in furnishing sleeping accommodation for those without homes.

BOSTON AND MAINE CUTS FREIGHT RATE

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 27.—The Boston and Maine Railroad sent to the Interstate Commerce Commission a statement that it should insist on a sixty cent a hundred red freight rate to the west, the same as from Baltimore, although it agreed on January 1st to maintain a 69 cent rate for a month. Up to the first of the year the rate from Boston had been slightly higher than that from Baltimore, which has acted adversely, according to the Boston and Maine officials, to the business interests of this city and in favor of Baltimore. It was the belief here today that the reduction by the Boston and Maine will be met by a further reduction by the railroads centering in Baltimore and may lead to a rate war.

COMMENT ON THE GROWTH OF LUXURY

Persons of Moderate Income Follow Pace Set by Wealthy

Buelow's Plea for Economy Falls on Deaf Ears—Oxford Lecturer Explains the Tendency.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The astonishing increase in luxury which is so striking a feature of present day life was the subject of conversation the other evening at a small exclusive club frequented by diplomats. One member in the British service spoke strongly of the ruinous expense of the English social life of today.

"Up to a quarter of a century ago," he said, "our habits were simple. Even the wealthy made no great show. When I began to stay in country houses in the seventies the way of living was plain and unpretentious. Who nowadays could have the courage to offer his guests boiled eggs and cold ham for breakfast on a hot day, a dish of cold meats and cheese for luncheon, and a dinner of four or five courses all told? What women in society nowadays would be content to allow herself £150 a year dress allowance? An aunt of mine, with one of the greatest titles and at one time in Queen Victoria's household, never exceeded that amount.

"To the very wealthy it doesn't matter what they spend on their personal pleasures, but when you find men earning from £2,000 to £3,000 a year spending all in a mad endeavor to do just as the wealthy do—drive motor-cars, eat at the most expensive restaurants, keep a number of servants, and consume the most expensive wines and cigars—then you may be sure that the country suffers.

"I don't believe," continued the diplomat, who is famous with the social life as all the great capitals, "that in any other country you will find this tendency among people of moderate income so marked as is here. In St. Petersburg dissipation among the upper classes is carried to amazing lengths. In New York millionaires throw their money about as if it burned their hands. In Vienna it is a great deal of gambling and wildness generally, but only among the aristocracy; in Paris there are plenty of chances to lose one's money and so the bourgeois taking them."

SAME CONDITIONS IN BRITAIN.

The same story of extravagant luxury comes from Berlin. Prince Von Buelow's repeated warning to the Kaiser that the evils of extravagance came at a moment when the German people were indulging in possibly the most luxurious life of their history.

"The round of court festivities," said another diplomat, "now in full swing in Berlin is accompanied by a display without parallel in the German capital. The grand dinners and dances at the Imperial Drawing Room represent the high-water mark in an era of luxury toward which Germany has been advancing for the last few years.

The Chancellor's first appeal in November last for simplicity and economy fell on deaf ears. The wealthy classes prepared for the current season on a scale of unprecedented magnificence. Dinners and balls are arranged without regard to expense, the gowns are more costly than any before, and the last few weeks among them a single necklace costing $12,000, which a Berlin tradesman bought for his wife.

"Vast sums are spent on the luxuries of the table, actual fortunes are lavished on dress. Persons who used to be satisfied with a light supper costing 5 marks with a bottle or two of inexpensive wine, now insist upon a meal of seven to ten courses, with wine of good vintage, costing 25 to 50 marks a cover. Cigars selling at 7 marks apiece are frequently called for. Gambling at clubs and private houses is said to be taking place for incredibly high stakes.

The desire to spend money lavishly infects all classes. The attempt to avert the extravagances of the rich is believed to be bringing the privileges of the moderately well-to-do to the brink of financial ruin, while scores of wealthier citizens are said to be living beyond their means."

GERMANS WANT MONIES WORTH.

"There is one thing," commented the diplomat who had been grumbling at English extravagance, "in which the Germans show their good sense. They insist on getting their money's worth. We heard a hotelkeeper at Nice say that Englishmen felt insulted unless overcharged. That kind of pride has no place in the German character. Oscar Browning, a Fellow of King's College, Oxford, and a university lecturer on history, has been interviewed on the question of the modern trend of extravagance. He takes the view that life nowadays is really simpler than it used to be.

"Owing to the greater distribution of wealth," said he, "what was formerly considered the privileges of the few has become the property of the many, raising the standard of comfort and even luxury in classes which did not possess it, but bringing down the standard of the highest to the common level.

"I do not see," concluded Mr. Browning, "in the modern world any sign of dangerous forms of luxury growing up, except, possibly, in certain classes in America."

EXPOSED HIS HAND.

Mrs. Potts—Can't see why you always stay late at your office these nights. I don't see that you gain anything by it.

Jack Potts (absentmindedly)—That's so, but I won't always be a loser. Luck will change.

IS THE OLD EARTH GROWING WARMER?

Statistics Prove That Winters are Not So Cold.

In 1816, Ice Formed in New England Every Month in the Year—Siberia the Coldest.

There is abundant evidence that the earth is becoming warmer rather than colder, says a writer in the Chicago Inter-Ocean. In addition to the strictly scientific proof in support of that view, the record of severe cold winters in the past centuries compared with the present also lends support to that contention. The record discloses some curious freaks on the part of old Boreas, beginning with the fifth century of the Christian era and extending down to the present day.

The Black Sea was completely covered with ice for a period of 20 days in 401.

The Danube river was frozen over so that an army crossed it on the ice in the year 463.

There was a frost in Constantinople which lasted from October to February in 463.

The Black Sea and the Dardanelles never were frozen over since 463.

The Danube, the Elbe and the Seine were frozen hard enough to bear up a heavy wagon traffic over them for a month in the winter of 523.

The Adriatic Sea was frozen in 860.

There was a snowstorm in Europe in 870 which lasted from the beginning of November to the end of March.

Nearly all the vines in Europe were killed by frost in 881 and 892.

There was a frost in England, during the summer's day, 1033, in England, there was a frost so severe that it destroyed fruit.

The river Po in Italy was frozen from Cremona to the sea in 1113. Wine casks were burst and trellis by the action of the frost.

Loaded wagons crossed the Adriatic Sea on the ice from the mainland to Venice in 1284.

The Danube river was frozen to the bottom in 1284, and remained so frozen for a long time.

The Rhine was frozen over and loaded wagons crossed it on the ice in 1322. Travelers also crossed from Norway to Jutland on the ice in 1342.

All the rivers of Italy were frozen over during the winter of 1344. It was so cold in Denmark that the wolves could not stay there in 1460 and they crossed inland on the ice.

Snow fell in Europe for 40 days in 1470.

THE WINE FROSE IN FLANDERS IN 1468

The wine frose in Flanders in 1468 and the soldiers to whom it was distributed had to cut it in pieces with hatchets.

The River Scheldt was frozen over sufficiently hard for three months in 1526 to bear the traffic of loaded wagons.

All the rivers of Europe were frozen over and the Venetian fleet was frozen up in the lagoons of the Adriatic at Venice in 1621 and 1622.

The winter of 1658 was a hard one in Europe. Charles, of Sweden, crossed on the ice the Little Belt, the strait between Denmark and the peninsula of Jutland, with his whole army—foot, horse, baggage and artillery. The rivers in Italy bore heavy carriages.

There was a coating of ice 81 inches thick on the Thames in England in 1664 and in 1684 the ice was again thick enough on the Thames to support coaches which were driven across it.

The winters of 1691 and 1693 were so severe in Austria that the wretched entered Vienna and attacked men and beasts in the streets.

The winter of 1709 is called by distinction "the cold winter." All the rivers and lakes of Europe were frozen over, and so was the sea for several weeks from the above. In England the ground was frozen nine feet deep. Birds and beasts died in the fields and men perished by thousands in their houses.

In the south of France the olive trees were killed and wild plantations destroyed. The Adriatic Sea was frozen and even the Mediterranean about Geneva. The citron and orange groves suffered in Italy.

Fairs were held on the ice on the River Thames in the winter of 1715, and travelers crossed the ice from Copenhagen to Sweden.

Multitudes of cattle and sheep were buried in the snow in Scotland in the winter of 1726.

In January, 1737 the ground was frozen to a depth of four feet in New England.

The winter of 1760 was scarcely less cold than that of 1709. An ox was buried under the snow in Spain and Portugal. The Zuyder Zee was frozen over and thousands of persons crossed over it. The lakes of England were also frozen. That winter an "ice palace" was built at St. Petersburg after an elegant model and in the just proportions of Augustinian architecture. This seems to have been the first of the ice palaces. Snow fell to a depth of 23 feet on the level in Portugal in the winter of 1744, while in New England it was a summer's winter.

The winters of 1754 and 1755 were so severe in England that the strongest also exposed to the air for a few minutes in a glass was frozen over with a coat of ice an eighth of an inch thick. River or Elbe was frozen to the bottom in 1771.

The Danube was covered with ice two feet thick below Vienna in 1775. Vast numbers of birds and fishes perished and in Holland and France wine froze in the cellars.

December 25, 1795, is recorded as the coldest day ever known in London, when the thermometer registered 15 degrees below zero.

The mercury froze hard at Moscow January 23, 1830. From 1830 to 1833 the winters were remarkably cold, particularly the latter in Russia, which surpassed in intensity that of any winter in that country for many preceding years, and caused the destruction of the French army in its retreat from Moscow. What with the ice in battle and the effects of this calamitous frost, France lost in the Deadlock on Question of Water Privileges—Forest Reserve Plan Under Consideration.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 28.—With the completion today of the second week of the executive session in the election of a United States senator interest centered on the votes to be gained or lost by Senator Hopkins.

Some of the radical Hopkins men stated that the first ballot to be taken today would show a material increase in his vote but the greater number, even among his followers, were inclined to believe that if a lower level was not reached it would be a good sign for ultimate success. The change of the anti-Hopkins men were elated and many of the House Committee on the subject of water under the control of the United States and as a result, it is almost certain that the bill will be reported.

The inquiry into the death of Mrs. Annie Howatt was concluded yesterday afternoon when the jury returned a verdict that she died from the use of medicine. They recommended that the authorities take steps to eliminate the sale of poisonous drugs except when ordered by registered physicians.

Mrs. Jew McAniff gave evidence of finding the pills in the medicine cabinet on the floor of her room. Mrs. Howatt, husband of deceased, told of seeing his wife alive two days before she died and that she complained of being nervous.

Arthur W. Baskley, a drug clerk told of selling a box of pills during New Year's week. The pills were purchased by a man whom he has not seen since.

"That's interesting," returned his hearer. "Come to think of it, the well known thing like that happened several thousand years ago in connection with Balaam, wasn't it?"—Circle Magazine.

Pieces of metal placed in the crucible are rapidly melted, the temperature being 2,500 degrees.

HUNDREDS OF BANKS FOR TAG DAY WORKERS

Bank of N. B. Makes a Very Generous Offer

Members of the Staff Will be Detailed to Look After the Collections, Handed in at all Branches.

Tag day is booming.

The ladies of the Free Kindergarten committee have met with every possible encouragement in developing their plan of this unique money raising campaign, which is to take place on Feb. 13th. Every one seems to be heartily in favor of the suggestion, and many offers of assistance have been received.

Yesterday afternoon members of the executive called at the Bank of New Brunswick for the purpose of ascertaining whether it would be possible to borrow the small notes provided by the institution for the use of depositors, for the day.

The result of the visit was far beyond expectations. Mr. Arthur MacDonald, the manager, at once promised that the committee could feel assured of the use of two hundred of the little banks, which are immediately available. If it is found that more are needed, he has asked the committee to let him know the desired number, and he will at once arrange to bring in those that are now kept in the different city branches, so that as many as are wanted will be provided.

In addition to this, Mr. MacDonald made a suggestion which has been received with great pleasure. He has arranged to place at the disposal of the workers, members of the bank staff in the main office and in each of the branches. These clerks will, during the day, devote their whole time to tag day collections. The little banks may be brought into them and they will be opened, the money counted, the day's device, their whole time furnished at the close of the day.

This suggestion relieves the committee of the great deal of work and makes it possible for returns to be handed in as often as convenient at different intervals in the city.

With such an auspicious start, the tag day movement is bound to boom, for everyone is talking about it now and it will, without doubt, be in every way successful.

CANTON LATOUR IS INVITED TO LYNN

Visitors Who Were Here Last Summer Want St. John Men to be Their Guests.

Canton La Tour, No. 1, I. O. O. F. met last evening for installation of officers and in addition to this, transacted a considerable amount of business. A pressing invitation was received from Canton City of Lynn, Mass., urging the local patriots to attend a great gathering on June 17th. On that occasion Cantons to the number of eighteen or twenty will be present from different parts of the eastern states, and all degrees of Oddfellowship will be exemplified by moving pictures. In addition, a very attractive programme of entertainment is being prepared.

It is probable that the St. John men will arrange to attend. There will be a special programme for the next meeting in the Canton to be held on Feb. 10th, and after that meeting the members will be entertained by Col. N. W. Brennan. At the last meeting the officers installed were as follows:

H. C. Lemmon—Commandant.
F. W. Stanton—Lieutenant.
W. R. Sanderson—Eminent.
E. E. Staples—Clerk.
W. J. Watson—Accountant.
G. A. Stephenson—Standard Bearer.
J. C. Gorr—Guard.
Geo. Maxwell—Sentinel.
John Johnson—Picket.
G. W. Pollock—Past Captain.

GETTING AFTER THE COPS

It has been known for some time that cells in the central police station are badly infested with bed bugs and it is feared by some of the officers that these disturbers of the peace might find their way into the guard room. It is now known that the bugs have found warm quarters in the big room where the policemen congregate. In the cracks of the surface in the room can be found the breeding places of the bug and the timid visitor to police headquarters who learns of the state of affairs will not feel like lingering about for any length of time. The building will probably be given a thorough cleaning out in the spring.
