POETRY

For the Standard.

"THE COMMITTEE"

A Painter's hand may sketch a flower;
The Poet needs a higher power, A spell upon the mind to cast,
And from oblivion bring the past.

Descend sweet muse! my thoughts inspire, To melody attune my Lyre,
And aid me in an effort weak,
To sing the praise I may not speak.

Amidst a blaze of beauty rare,
Of Gentles brave, and Ladies fair, Selected from the "Temperance Band," Thy gallant worthies' foremost stand.

Enlisted in a noble cause,
And gaining for himself applause, A youthful BENEDICT I see,
The POOR MAN'S FRIEND, a kind M. D.

And here, a man of faith and prayer,
Who makes God's word his daily care, With heart and hand supports a cause, Enforced in the Creator's Laws.

A favoured youth of visage fair,
With sparkling eye and buoy air, Exerts his talents to procure, The charm his presence must insure.

A voice of sweetness meets the ear,
In lively accents, mild and clear, By courtesy the heart is won,
And Britain boasts a sterling "Son."

Half hidden by a laughing host,
A dark-eyed youth is at his post;
Of graceful form, gay, "Debonair," Possess'd of wit, a modest share.

With hurried step and pleasant smile, Unknown alike to art as guile, I recognise a worthy "Son"
A friend of all a foe to none.

A cheerful tone, and merry eye Bespeak a friend and "Brother" nigh;
And melancholy shrinks away, While wit and mirth their skill display.

But one is absent from his place, I look in vain to see his face;
A crowd of beauty shuts from view, A Son of "Temperance" firm and true.

Beside me stands, in manly pride,
The favorite of a circle wide,
A friend of temperance and truth,
Of zeal and industry in youth.

And last, (my pencil fails me now,) A beaming eye, a thoughtful brow, Each varied charm each winning grace, In Nature's Nobleman I trace.

St. Andrews May 12th 1851.

THE FOLLY OF PRIDE.—Take some quiet, sober moment of life, and add together the two ideas of pride and man; behold him, creature of a span high, stalking through infinite space in all the grandeur of littleness. Perched on a speck of the universe, every wind of heaven strikes into his blood the coldness of death; his soul floats from his body like melody from the string; day and night, as dust on the wheel, he is rolled along the heavens, through a labyrinth of worlds, and all the creations of God are flitting above and beneath—Is this a creature to make for himself a crown of glory, to deny his own flesh, to mock at his fellow sprung from that dust to which both will soon return? Does the proud man not err! Does he not suffer! Does he not die! When he reasons, is he never stopped by difficulties! When he acts, is he never tempted by pleasures! When he lives, is he free from pain! When he dies, can he escape the common grave! Pride is not the heritage of man; humility should dwell with frailty, and shame for ignorance, error, and imperfection.

TERRIFIC EXPLOSION OF A LOCOMOTIVE BOILER AT PATERSON, N. J.—SEVERAL LIVES LOST.— The New York Herald of Thursday last, says—Early yesterday morning, the manufacturing district of Paterson, New Jersey, was thrown into an alarming state of excitement, on the information that a terrible explosion had taken place at the machine workshop of Messrs Rogers, Ketchum & Grosvenor, by the bursting of a locomotive steam boiler, whereby four men were instantly killed, and some 15 or 20 injured, the recovery of some of whom is very doubtful.

It appears that a locomotive of superior workmanship, weighing 21 tons, made by the Rochester and Syracuse railroad, had just been completed, valued at $8000, and that morning was undergoing the last test, when it was to have been transported to its destination. Yesterday morning a fire was kindled in the furnace in order to make the final test of its capacity for steam, having been twice before steamed up for that purpose

As the fire kindled up, and the steam was rising, the pumps were set in motion, when the boiler burst, with a terrific explosion.
A violent hurricane passed over Raleigh, J. C., on Sunday, doing much damage.

It is said that Sir John Harvey has obtained leave of absence to visit England, and will depart in the next steamer from Halifax.

COMMUNICATION.

[FOR THE STANDARD.]

MR. RITCHIE'S RESOLUTIONS.

(concluded from our last.)

If there is any thing which, to a British mind, conveys a favorable impression of the character of a people and of their political constitution, it is the existence of an independent Judiciary. So long as those to whom the lives, the property, and character of each individual are entrusted are independent, so long there is a guarantee for the accuracy of civil rights. But it is absurd to talk of the independence of Judges who are dependent upon a vote of the House of Assembly for the amount of their salary. Mr.
Ritchie would doubtless deny that he intended, by his resolutions, to condescend to salaries on such a vote. He would say, he wished to see their salaries fixed, but at a lower rate than at present. But it is not obvious that, if it is once conceded that the salaries of the present Judges can be reduced in the manner proposed by Mr. Ritchie, a principle will be conceded, on which every succeeding aspirant will have continuous measures of spoliation? A happy country ours would be, if the Judges of the Supreme Court had to ponder to our legislators, lawyers, and one them to preserve their means of getting their daily bread!

From the terms of Mr. Ritchie's resolution it might be presumed that he was consentiously satisfied that the circumstances of the country were such that a general reduction of salaries—of all expenditures, was called for. But every man knows the reduction travellers contemplated, is invidious and partial—that a few unpopular officers, whose situations preclude their acquiring political influence —are to be sacrificed to satisfy the insatiable envy of a misgoverned mob. No general reduction in all public departments is seriously contemplated. If it were, the measure would not be an objectionable one. We can imagine a country in a state not dissimilar to that of an individual who is obliged to apply for the benefit of the bankruptcy act. But what does the law and common sense say, with regard to the made insolvent the bankrupt's property is to be distributed among the creditors?— To those who hold the highest securities, a preference is certainly allowed; if there be no degrees of security, the creditors share alike. But our Province is not bankrupt; its revenues are as flourishing, its prospects brighter than ever. No ground for its new fulfillment of its pledges can be shown; still would Mr. Ritchie urge repudiation; still would he recommend a partial and unjust preference towards the creditors of the Province!

We now proceed to consider Mr. Ritchie's resolutions which refer to the present government. Before speaking directly to these resolutions, we would remark, that, in a lawyer-like manner, Mr. Ritchie, in the long and elaborate speech with which he urged the adoption of his resolutions, gave the House his theory of responsible government—interlarded with divers garbled and cleverly selected passages from Lord Durham's report, and Lord John Russell's speeches. It would be easy to quote passages innumerable from both authorities to prove that neither Lord Durham nor the Prime Minister of England ever intended their observations to lead to such deductions as drawn by Mr. Ritchie, or ever presented them in the naked and unqualified manner in which Mr. Ritchie has.
Lord John Russell is now the leader of the Opposition, which authorities, and is prepared to justify, Earl Grey's colonial administration.
Mr. Ritchie is the man who loudly condemns it. Lord John is no authority on his side.

But Mr. Ritchie asserts and re-asserts that his theory of Responsible Government is correct, and by this standard he proceeds to try the Government. He says "I have the right to denounce the constitution—here it is, there are its broad clear lines, you have broken through this constitution, you have transgressed its limits, you are therefore unworthy of the confidence of the people's Representatives." We do not deny that it has been the avowed policy of the Home Government to allow the Colonies to exercise to a great extent, control over their local affairs. This has doubtless been conceded—this is in unison with the idea of Responsible Government. But we deny what Mr. Ritchie virtually assumes—we deny the doctrine of the Colonies, that they are entitled to control and manage affairs not only local but matters affecting the honor of the Empire of which the Colonies form a part. It was not for instance a mere local matter, whether Judge Carter or Mr. Wilnot should be Chief Justice. Judge Carter was appointed by the Home Government, and at the time he took office, and up to the date of Mr. Wilnot's claim, the Chief Justice, Justiceship extra paribus was regarded as the right of the senior Judge—as a right which the Home Government was implicitly bound to observe more over with regard to the Judges salaries, they were secured by the civil list, and with this resource to fall back on, the honour of the empire was virtually pledged to continue the judicial salaries during the good behaviour of the Judges.

It is the policy of Mr. Ritchie to confound the present Government with that of which Messrs. Wilnot and Fisher were the real and active leaders, because some component parts of the old Government have been admitted into that formed by the present Attorney General. Mr. Ritchie would have us believe, that the present Government, in its corporate capacity, with the Hon. J. Ambrose Street as its head and leader, is responsible for the acts of a government whose acts he condemned—who, as a body, with Mr. Wilnot as its chief and responsible representative, he pronounced "politically dishonest." The fact is, that Mr. Street has as strongly condemned the government, who really are answerable for the acts which Mr. Ritchie condemns, as that gentleman has himself condemned them. By accepting office, and allowing some of the members of the old government to remain their position, Mr. Street by no means identified himself with the executive, led by Messrs. Wilnot and Fisher; by no means did he pledge himself to vindicate their acts. Mr. Street pursued a widely different course: a manly, an honest, a consistent course. He made no overtures, no concessions, no retractions. In his plain, straightforward address to the freeholders of Northumberland on his appointment to the Attorney Generalship, he boldly and clearly announced upon what terms, and as the advocate of what principles he had assumed the leadership. No change of opinion did he then announce; none has he manifested since he declared his disapprobation of the acts of the old government. The truth was, the old government was defunct. Mr. Fisher, one leader, had resigned, and Mr. Wilnot gone on the bench and became politically dead. The remaining members joined Mr.
Street; pledged themselves we may presume to support his views and measures. Thus was the government identified with the present Attorney General; thus was he enabled consistently and honourably to become its leader and responsible for its acts under his leadership. In this government, when its leader was absent, before its plans were matured, when it was hardly formed, before time was given to allow of its real character being made known, Mr. Ritchie moved a vote of want of confidence. But without a speaker of any talent to defend it, in spite of the diligent efforts made to confound it with the government, which many members were pledged to oppose—the vote was lost. It was known that Mr. Street was the leader, and in that leader the Country and House could not be driven to say they had no confidence; and we believe that confidence will be retained and be increased. If the government did not possess the confidence of the House; if a firm conviction in the honesty of purpose, in the patriotic object and the practical ability of its leader, had not existed, he could not have withstood the determined, subtle and varied attack which his belated opponents, hungry for office and goaded with repeated defeat, have made against him. It required the ingenuity, dexterity, and experience of an able special pleader to make the present government answerable for the acts of men whose names were no longer within the power of the House; more for a man who in court had acquired a brow beating audacity, could have held that government responsible for the policy of the Colonial office; few would have appealed to so many sordid interests; roused the ashes of monition, long gone disappointment; hardly any one but W. J. Ritchie have marshalled so many conflicting interests or unfolded our Representatives while asking them to assist him in attaining his selfish object. All this has been done—skillfully done; but J. A. Street, Esq. is still Attorney General, and gaining every day the confidence and respect of the legislature and country.

We must now bring our remarks to a close, they having already exceeded our prescribed limits. To Mr. Ritchie we would say: do employ your abilities to better purpose, than in worrying, badgering, and calumniating able men than yourself, and at least equally honest and patriotic.

Instead of carping at and criticising every measure brought forward for the good of the country, bring forward if you have the ability to prepare them, some better measures.
Follow the example of the eloquent and accomplished Mr. Gray, and urge (even while maintaining an honest and consistent opposition to measures, you disapprove) the Legislature some practicable means of advancing the real interests of the people among whom you live. Selfish opposition, and vain declamation on abstract principles of Government, reflect no credit on the individual—find no response from the many. Even Mr. Needham, Mr. Ritchie has done more than you have—he has introduced a bill on the important subject of Law Reform. Where is your Bill—your Measure? We admire just ambition, but not that which seeks fleeting praise and ephemeral popularity, or which is to be sustained by tortuous and sinister means.

The statesman to be respected while living and to leave a name which will be honoured must be sincere, disinterested and straightforward. "Integritas vita." The slave in such ambition as yours is condemned in the works of one of England's poets—
To loose good days that might be better spent,
To waste long nights in pensive discontent;
To speed to-day, to be put back tomorrow,
To feed on pain, to pine in fear and sorrow,
To fret thy soul with crosses and with cares,
To eat thy heart through comfortless despair,
To fawn, to crouch, to wait, to hide, to run,
To spend, to give, to want, to be undone."

LAW RESPECTING NEWSPAPER

Subscribers who do not give expression to the contrary, are considered wishing to continue their subscriptions.
If subscribers order the discontinuance of their papers, the publisher may continue to send them till all arrears are paid.
If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their papers from the office to which they are directed, they are held responsible till they have settled their Bills, and ordered their papers to be discontinued.
If subscribers remove to other places without informing the publisher, and the paper is sent to the former direction, they are held responsible.

ham, Mr. Ritchie has done more than you have—he has introduced a bill on the important subject of Law Reform. Where is your Bill—your Measure? We admire just ambition, but not that which seeks fleeting praise
and ephemeral popularity, or which is to be
sustained by tortuous and sinister means.
The statesman to be respected while living and
must be sincere, disinterested and straightforward. "Integritas vita." The slave in such ambition as yours is condemned in the works of one of England's poets—
To loose good days that might be better spent,
To waste long nights in pensive discontent;
To speed to-day, to be put back tomorrow,
To feed on pain, to pine in fear and sorrow,
To fret thy soul with crosses and with cares,
To eat thy heart through comfortless despair,
To fawn, to crouch, to wait, to hide, to run,
To spend, to give, to want, to be undone."

Pause Mr. Ritchie. Ask yourself if a better judgment than that which has guided your past political course might not direct you—Your idolatry to the praise of a giddy, fickle crowd may for a while be sweet, but like revenge it will recoil with bitterness. The same tongues which tell your praise to-day—tomorrow will speak in language full of cursing. Be true to the image which within yourself you admire, of the manly independent and truly patriotic statesman, restlessly seeking new, but holding fast to ascertained and tried principles. Appear in your real character in our Legislative Hall, not in that in which you have sought to gain a transitory triumph, but by actions which none have or can attain lasting distinction or enduring fame.

In conclusion we say to the people of New Brunswick: What benefit has accrued to you by this long, expensive, and angry debate which Mr. Ritchie's resolutions have given rise to? What new truth has been divulged—what new principle established?

Arrival of the Steamship

CAMBRIA AT HALIFAX.

The Royal Mail steamship Cambria, arrived at Halifax on the 13th inst., at 7 o'clock, in 10 days from Liverpool, bringing dates to the 31st inst. She brought out 39 passengers. The C. spoke the steamship Africa, from New York, off Holyhead, going into Liverpool.

The Great Exhibition was opened by the Queen in person on the 1st of May, in the presence of 30,000 persons, without the least disorder or accident, and under the most favourable circumstances. The most sanguine anticipations of its projectors have thus far been realized.

Parliament re-assembled on the 28th ultimo. On the 2nd instant the Ministry were defeated upon a motion made by Mr. Hume, to limit the Bill for the continuation of Income Tax to one year, instead of three; the numbers were, for the motion 244; against it, 230.

A great Protectionist demonstration took place in Drury Lane Theatre on the 29th ult., and on the same day, at Liverpool, an anti-Papal meeting was held.

IRELAND.—An important letter addressed by Lord Clarendon to the Earl of Shrewsbury has been published, in which all the topics connected with the education question in Ireland and the establishment of the Roman Catholic hierarchy in England are alluded to in plain but earnest terms. After graphically portraying the present state of affairs, he glances in very desponding terms at the prospects for the future. Emigration from Ireland to America continues, and is rather on the increase, especially from the south. Some of the papers state that in some districts there will not be enough people left to till the ground.

A great aggregate meeting of Catholics was held in Dublin on 29th ult., said to have been one of the most influential meetings held there for years. The platform, to which the admission was regulated by paid tickets, was crowded with respectable persons, chiefly professional men, Mer, chants, and Roman Catholic Clergy.—All the R. C. Prelates signed the requisition for the meeting, and otherwise sanctioned its proceedings. None of them were present, nor was any part taken by the Clergy of that persuasion.

FRANCE.—All danger of a Ministerial crisis in France is over, and the old story is revived that the President is making great efforts to prolong his term of office, it is even hinted that a dissolution is contemplated, in the hope that a new Assembly, might be elected more favourable to his wishes.

In the House of Commons, on the 21, Mr. Childers called the attention of the house to a letter published a few days ago by the Bishop of Exeter, announcing his intention to hold a diocesan synod in June next. He observed that this intention would have the effect of separating the clergy of Exeter from the rest of the clergy of the Establishment; and he asked the Government how they intended to act with respect to the contemplated synod of the Bishop of Exeter?

Lord John Russell said he had taken the opinion of the law officers of the crown with regard to the holding of diocesan synods, but he did not think the assembly proposed to be called by the Bishop had the character, or was called in manner of a provincial synod, which could not be called together without the Queen's writ, nor could they put into force any canon without the Queen's permission, under the penalty of imprisonment; the bishop, however, has expressly declared, that it was not the intention of the proposed assembly to enact any canon, and that he did not mean to do any act contrary to law in any respect.

Neither the Attorney General, nor Solicitor General, were of opinion that the proposed meeting would be unlawful. Although the Bishop of Exeter had used the name of synod for an assembly called in a different way, and for a different purpose from synod, properly so called, he considered the Bishop's object of imposing the judgment of the Privy Council in the Gorham case; and it remained to be seen what course the Bishop took in relation to that decision before any step could be determined upon as the proposed assembly.

The House having resolved itself into a committee on the Property Tax Bill, Mr. Hume moved an amendment limiting the duration of the tax in its present state to one year, and made a long speech in favour of direct taxation, which was followed by a long discussion on the merits and demerits of that mode of levying taxes, in which Mr. Cobden, Mr. S. H. Herbert, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Disraeli, Lord John Russell, and several other members took part. Mr. Hume having briefly replied, the committee divided, when there appeared for the amendment 244; against it, 230—majority against Government 14.

LIVERPOOL.—On Monday, a rule absolute was granted in the Court of Queen's Bench, calling upon the proprietor of the Wesleyan Times to show cause why a criminal information should not be filed against him for a series of articles reflecting upon the character of the Rev. William Henry Clarkson, a Wesleyan minister, and imputing to him immoral conduct.

EXTORTION.—The "rook" across the Atlantic continues with unabated vigour. A Nenagh paper states, that the once-populous district of Thurles, and various other parts of Tipperary, appear to be almost totally deserted. A letter from Waterford mentions that five emigrant ships, freighted with fully 2,000 souls, left that port for America on the 22d ult., and on the 25th another large vessel, also laden with emigrants, sailed for the same destination. The accounts from the west are even more startling. A magistrate and landowner in the County of Mayo, speaks in terms of the utmost alarm at the prospect of the country being left without sufficient hands to till the ground. From Westport and Castlebar, shopkeepers, farmers, and able-bodied labourers, are flying as if from a plague. The Titan Herald, referring to the movement in the County of Galway, says:— "If the rate of emigration proceed, with the rapidity which has marked its progress during the present spring, this province bids fair to become a wilderness."

PORTUGAL.—Accounts have been received via Spain, that the garrison of Oporto rose on the 24th ult., in consequence of the arrest of a number of officers and soldiers—and declared for Marshal Saldanha—after a combat of two hours. The general, after having remained 'incognito' in the city, had taken the route to Vigo, to embark in an English ship, and was recalled by the insurgents.—The inhabitants of Oporto have declared for the insurrection.

TURKEY.—A new revolt had broken out in Servia. The neighbourhood of Suryna is infested with brigands.

The Russians seek to prolong their occupation of the Danubian provinces indefinitely, by raising claims with which the Porte is not in a state to comply.

We learn from Bosnia, that the Sultan's troops had bombarded Bihac, set on fire several houses in the neighbourhood, and, after a battle with the insurgents, succeeded in taking possession of the right bank of the Huna river.

THE GREAT EXHIBITION.—The English papers contain lengthy and interesting accounts of the opening of the World's Fair, in London, on the 1st May. Willmer & Smith's European Times, thus notices the products of the North American, West Indian and Australian Colonies:—

"We now come to the colonial department, comprising the industrial products of our Australian possessions, of the Canadian, and Nova Scotia, New Zealand, several of the West India Islands, the Cape of Good Hope, Western Africa, Malta, and the Channel Islands. The contributions from this vast extent of territory are chiefly confined to the south side of the nave. They yield in interest and variety to no other department of the Exhibition, but they are chiefly raw produce."

From the Liverpool Mercury of the 2d inst., we copy the following remarks, respecting the contributions from the United States:—

"The Americans occupy the remaining area of the Exhibition eastward, with the exception of a small strip at the south east corner, which is in the hands of the French.—Of all the departments into which the Crystal Palace has been divided, this is the least crowded with contributions, and perhaps the least dependent for its effect upon ornamental qualities. Our Transatlantic descendants, following out their New World instincts, have no idea of being jostled by other nations, or pinched for space even in the Crystal Palace. While the industries of other countries have been screwing themselves up tight, and getting into the smallest possible compass, that of the United States invites emigration from France, from ourselves, from the rest of Europe generally. It wants expansion, and it has scope for it. Nor does it hesitate to render its actual condition manifest to the world. Other nations rely upon their proficiency in the arts, or in manufactures, or in machinery, for producing effect. Not so with America. She is proud of her agricultural implements, which Garrett, or Ransome and May, would reject as worthless; she is proud of her machinery, which would hardly fill one corner of our Exhibition, and upon the merits of which our civil engineers would not pronounce a very flattering opinion; she thinks a great deal of her first efforts in native marble, by an untaught sculptor; nor is "the wounded Indian" a work untitled to praise. These objects are all collected on the north side of the nave, in the centre of which have been placed Powers's Greek statue, and a great block of tin from New Jersey.

"On the south side she has manufactures of various kinds, carriages of the simplest construction, and most adaptable forms, light sleighs, excellent harness, and a piano forte capable of being played by four performers at a time. There is also a fine collection of Daguerreotype miniatures, in which all the great men of the States in science, in literature, in politics, in arms, have their likenesses accurately represented. They have furnished specimens of the tools with which, in the course of a few generations, they have hewn out a vast empire from primeval forests. All these things they are, and may be more or less proud of; but when you enter their compartment of the Exhibition they rightly drag you off to the extreme south to admire their raw produce. That is the striking and the valuable part of their show. In the mineral and the vegetable kingdom their country is equally rich; and, whether they search its bowels or merely scratch its surface, they seem to be equally discerning and equally fortunate. Our Exhibition contains some collections illustrative of the geology of particular neighbourhoods; the Americans have one of the whole State of Maryland.—Of course cotton, tobacco, and Indian corn, figure prominently in this part of their space."

FATAL ACCIDENT.—As the Western Mail Coach was passing through Wallville yesterday, the 16th inst., towards Halifax, the horses, coming rather suddenly upon a person cleaning a wagon on the side of the road, near a bridge, took fright, and the coach was thrown over into the stream, and, sad to say, one of the passengers was killed. One woman passenger came on; the others were detained until after the Coroner's Inquest.—None of the other passengers, as we learn were at all injured. The deceased's name was William H. Bishop, second son of Elisha Bishop, Esq. of Round Hill, Annapolis, a very worthy and respectable young man.—He was with two females inside the Coach, neither of whom were injured. He had but a few moments before exchanged seats and given a lady his seat outside. Whether he was killed by a blow, or drowned in the stream, we have not been able to ascertain.—No fault, we understand, was imputed to the driver.—Acadian Recorder.

THE RAILROAD.—We are happy to announce, that the long-expected Brig. Ans. dale, arrived in our harbour on Friday last, with switches, screws, and the remainder of the iron rails for the first section (10 miles) of the St. Andrews & Quebec Railroad. Immediately after the arrival of Mr. Julius Thompson, manager of the Railroad, who is daily expected from England, operations will be commenced, and the work carried on with spirit. The tenders for grading the next 32 miles, commencing near Bartlett's Pond, and extending upwards in the head waters of the Digdequash, were received on Thursday last, but the Directors very properly determined not to close with any of the parties, until after their Manager's arrival—the most judicious course that could have been pursued, altho' causing a temporary delay. We have no heard from any authorized source, that the tenders were opened. It boots but little whether they were or not as the gentlemen composing the Board of Directors, possess the confidence of the shareholders; and further, it is neither imperative nor obligatory on them to decide on the tenders the day they are opened, neither indeed could they do so with justice to the company or contractors, as it requires a reasonable time to make up a statement of the various descriptions of the work before they would be in a position to determine who had been the successful party. We will continue to note the progress of the work, and will give timely intimation of the opening of the first section.

Since writing the above, we understand Mr. Thompson has arrived at New York.

FIRE.—Yesterday about one o'clock, the House occupied by Mr. D. Bradley, in Queen-street, was discovered on fire, by a large volume of smoke issuing from the roof, the Engines, military and populace were soon on the spot. The rain during the night and morning, and while the house was burning, kept the flames from bursting out on the roof until the premises were completely gutted—and notwithstanding the united efforts of the firemen, populace, and military, we regret to state, the house was burned to the ground. Mr. Bradley we understand, saved nearly all his furniture.—The property belongs to the estate of the late Cornelius Connolly, and was insured in the Central Office, Fredericton, for £250.

We cannot close these remarks without noticing our Engines, which we regret to say, are of little worth. They have the sounding name of "Engines," but alas! they are sorry affairs. Where is their service? Where the possibility, or even probability of their ever doing any good. The most superficial observer could not fail to discern the miserable distribution of water from them, either as respects height or breath. We hope the proper authorities will see to this matter without delay, and new and powerful engines will be obtained for the use of the town of St. Andrews; then a well organized and efficient fire-department will be formed, which will not allow itself to be interfered with in the discharge of duty, and then we may hope for some better regulations at fires.

THE HON. COLONEL SHORE.—We regret to learn from the New Brunswick, that the Hon. Colonel Shore departed this life at Fredericton on Sunday last, at 5 p.m., having been struck with paralysis on Saturday.—Colonel Shore has for many years been Adjutant General of the Provincial Militia, and also Clerk of the Pleas in the Supreme Court. This last was for some years a very lucrative office, but more recently Col. Shore was paid by a salary of £300 per annum, and the fees by which he was formerly paid, have since been handed over to the Provincial Treasury.—The next Clerk of the Pleas will have only £250 per annum, and the reduction of this salary will ally one of the complaints against large salaries which have of late been so loudly made.

It is somewhat singular that the offices of Clerk of the Pleas, and Clerk of the Crown in the Supreme Court, are at this moment both vacant. The Executive Council is now sitting, and we presume both situations will be at once filled up.

[We learn by a telegraphic despatch received by us last evening, that Wm. Carman, Esq., of Miramichie, has been appointed to fill the office of Clerk of the Pleas, vacant by the death of Col. Shore.]—Ed. Standard.

ACCIDENT.—We learn that a man named Wm. Desmond, working at Chamcook Mills, with a serious accident yesterday afternoon.—While at work near the saws, he slipped, and his left hand coming in contact with the saw, was cut and mutilated in such a shocking manner, as to require immediate amputation, which was performed under the skill of Dr. W. C. M. St. Andrews. The poor man (who only arrived here last fall from Ireland) is doing as well as can be expected.

By an arrival at Halifax, on Saturday last, we learn that the Royal Mail Steamer Falcon, which carried the mails between Newfoundland and Nova Scotia, was totally lost on the 7th inst.—When five hours out from St. John's N. F., she struck with tremendous force on some bold rocks outside of Isle de Bois. The engines were reversed, when she backed off and struck another rock astern, and after repeated collisions she managed to get out clear to sea. The steamer was filling so fast, all hands took to the boats, and made good their escape to the shore. The Captain remained by her till the last moment, and succeeded in saving the Mails and almost all the movable property. The night was densely foggy, and it is supposed that the compasses must have been deranged, which caused the untoward accident.

CONTINGENCIES OF THE LEGISLATURE.—The contingent expenses of both branches of the Legislature for the recent session amounted to the sum of £203 13 7, of which the contingencies of the Council formed the large item of £139 10 6. There does not appear to be much economy practised here; but beside this sum for contingencies, we find £618 11 11 granted for the passages of the Legislature.—(New Brunswick.)

The New York and Erie Railroad was opened on the 14th inst. This event created great interest.

It would appear that the expedition for the invasion of Cuba has been broken up, and these engaged in it have returned home.

A very violent storm passed over New Orleans on the 4th. The city was almost flooded.

ACCIDENTAL HANGING.—John R. Griffith, a boy 16 years old, hung himself in Maple township, Delaware county, on the 17th inst. He had frequently talked about the conviction and sentence of Pharaoh, at West Chester, and doubtless, he thought he would try the experiment how one feels when hanged. He made a knot in a large rope, and admitted his head, in one end of a wheel-barrow strap about four feet long, and ascending a plank tied the other end to a pole lying across two beams. It is supposed that while engaged in arranging his plans, he slipped and fell from the plank, as, when discovered, his neck was dislocated, and his feet were resting on the ground.—(Buffalo Commercial Advertiser.)

There will be a total eclipse of the sun on the 28th of July, and one of the most important that will happen for many years. A writer in the Daily Advertiser thinks it will be one of the greatest inducements for travellers to visit Europe this summer, as the eclipse will be total in no part of the United States. The greatest obscuration will be in Oregon and California, where about five sixths of the sun on the south side will be obscured.

THE RAILWAY.—We are informed that the Hon. JOHN HOWE will be here in the course of a fortnight, on his way to the meeting of Delegates at Toronto, respecting Railways in these Colonies. It is stated to be Mr. Howe's intention to address public meetings on his journey through Nova Scotia and this Province, and we therefore hope to have the pleasure of hearing him discourse in this City. He may rest assured of a hearty welcome, and of being listened to with great satisfaction.—New Brunswick.

OUR UNDEVELOPED RESOURCES.—We understand that a gentleman recently from England—Mr. Mughett—has arrived in this Province, and just proceeded to Quebec, with the view of examining the Manganese which abounds in that district, and having ultimate intention of procuring this article for shipment to the Mother Country upon an extensive scale.—[Ed.]

On Thursday last, THOMAS HARDING, Esq., Mayor of the City entertained a party of his friends at the St. John Hotel in a very handsome style. Upwards of forty gentlemen, including a number of our oldest and most respectable citizens, sat down to a sumptuous repast, provided in Messrs. Schmitt's best style. His Worship was supported by Henry Chubb, Esq., late Mayor, and Leuchlan Donaldson, Esq., formerly Mayor, while the Alderman for King's Ward acted as Croupier. The usual loyal and patriotic toasts went round, and some very neat speeches were made on the occasion; the whole affair went off admirably, and the company separated in the best possible humor, well pleased with the entertainment so liberally and spiritedly provided by His Worship.—[Ed.]

THE TEMPERANCE DEMONSTRATION yesterday was grand and imposing; the procession was formed at 11 o'clock, which included the Divisions in this City, Portland and Indian Town, numbering several hundreds, and their gay banners and regalia, together with the martial sounds of music, rendered the display very attractive.

The Stirce held in the evening was attended by a large portion of the beauty and fashion of our City, and included nearly one thousand persons. The affair was altogether one of the best ever witnessed in this Province, and reflects great credit on all concerned.—[Ed.]

BLACK HAWK

THE above-named Horse is a purely Canadian breed. It is unnecessary to offer any remarks as to his quality, suffice it to say, that Providence in his wisdom has adapted his creature to the habitation of every climate, and when we attempt to subvert Nature's order by transplanting the creature of the torrid to the frigid zone, the consequence of such infringement is obvious to all.
The above Horse, the property of D. P. Myers, Esquire, Chamcook, will stand the Season at the following places, every alternate week for the

CURES FOR THE UNCURED.

Holloway's Ointment.

AN EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF SCHOELLER OR KNOX'S EVIL.
Extract of a Letter from Mr. J. H. Alliday, 209, High Street, Cheltenham dated the 22nd of January, 1850.

To Professor HOLLOWAY.
SIR—My eldest son, when about three years of age, was afflicted with a glandular swelling in the neck, which after a short time broke out into an Ulcer. An eminent medical man pronounced it as a very bad case of Scrofula, and prescribed for a considerable time without effect. The disease then for four years went on gradually increasing in virulence, when besides the ulcer in the neck, and other formed below the left knee, and a third under the eye, besides seven others on the left arm with a tumor between the eyes, which was expected to break. During the whole of the time my suffering boy had received the constant advice of the most celebrated medical Gentlemen at Cheltenham, besides being for several months at the General Hospital, where one of the surgeons said that he would amputate the left arm, but that the blood was so impure, that if that limb were taken off it would be then even impossible to subdue the disease. In this desperate state I determined to try your Pills and Ointment, a trial, and after two months perseverance in their use, the tumor gradually began to disappear, and the discharges from all the ulcers perceptibly decreased, and at the expiration of eight months they were perfectly healed and the boy thoroughly restored to the blessings of health, to the astonishment of a large circle of acquaintances, who could testify to the truth of this miraculous cure. Three years have now elapsed without any recurrence of the malady, and this boy is now as healthy as a heart can wish. Under these circumstances I consider that I should be truly grateful were I not to make you acquainted with the wonderful cure effected by your medicine, after every other means had failed.
(Signed) J. H. ALLIDAY.
CURE OF ACUTE RHEUMATISM OF FOUR YEARS STANDING.
Extract of a Letter from Mr. John Pitt, Dudley 12th Jan. 1850.
To Professor HOLLOWAY.
SIR—It is with the greatest pleasure that I write to thank you for the benefit I have received from your Pills and Ointment, which have completely cured me of the Rheumatism, under which I suffered for this last five years.
I was so disabled as hardly to be able to walk, I had tried every kind of Medicine that was recommended without receiving any benefit. I at last thought I could give your medicine a trial, and purchased from Mr. Holling-Chemist, of this Town, two Boxes of Pills, and two of Ointment, and in three weeks, through the aid of the blessing of God, I was restored to health and am now as well able to walk as ever I was in my life. I am well &c. in this parish, having been sixty-five years in it, with an exception of ten years I served in the 24th Regiment of Foot.
(Signed) JOHN PITT.
CURE OF A BAD LEG OF SIXTY
YEARS STANDING.
Mr. Baxter, of No. 5, Graham's Place, Drypool near Hull, had ulcers on his leg from the age of eighteen until upwards of eighty, and although for many years he had sought the first advice, in the most judicious manner, he was unable to He very often suffered most excruciating pain for long periods together, which incapacitated him from attending to his business. He had given up all hopes of getting a cure, when at last he was perpetuated by Mr. Holloway's Pills and Ointment, which he did, and however wonderful it may appear, the leg was thoroughly healed by their means, and by continuing to use the Pills alone after his leg was well, he has become to health and hearty as now to be more active than most men of Sixty.
N.B.—The truth of this extraordinary statement can be vouched for by Mr. J. C. Reinhardt, 22 Market Place Hull, February 20th, 1850.
CURE OF A DEEPER CASE OF RING-WORM OF SIX YEARS STANDING.
Lima, 13th of November, 1849.
One of the most eminent Surgeons in Lima (the Capital of Peru) had a child covered with Ringworm for more than 6 years, in vain he exhausted all his art in his endeavor to effect a cure. Not succeeding, he consulted among his brethren, the most celebrated medical practitioners of the City, but nothing was found to do the child service.
When he was persuaded by Mr. Joseph P. Bayard the English Chemist and Druggist, residing at No.
74, Calle de Palacio, to try Holloway's Pills and Ointment, which was done, and after using six large Pots of the Ointment, with a proportion of the Pills, the child was radically cured, to the surprise of the whole medical profession. The name of the parent, from motives of delicacy, is withheld.
The Pills should be used conjointly with the Ointment in most of the following cases:— Bad Legs, Bad Breasts, Burns, Bruises, Bites of Insects, and Sand Fles, Fistulas, Coco-Bags, Gout, Glandular Swellings, Lumbago Piles, Rheumatism, Scalds, Sore nipples, Chilblains, Chapped hands, Corns (soft), Cancers, Contracted & Stiff joints, Elephantiasis Sore throats, Skin diseases, Scabby, Sore heads, Tumours, Ulcers, wounds, Yaws.
Sold by the Proprietor, 244, Strand, (near Tempie Bar), London, and by all respectable Vendors of Patent Medicines throughout the Civilized World, in Pots and Boxes, at 1s. 1-2d., 4s. 6d., 11s. 2s., and 3s., each. There is a very considerable saving in taking the larger size.

the words "Holloway's Pills and Ointment"

Stamp, pasted on every Pot and Box; with Should unprincipled Vendors recommend parties asking for Holloway's Pills and Ointment not to buy them, but to take something else in their stead, they do so only for the purpose of getting a greater profit by what they wish them to purchase

GREAT AGRICULTURAL WORK!

THE FARMER'S GUIDE TO Scientific and Practical Agriculture of the "Quarterly Journal of Agriculture,"

Assisted by JOHN P. NORTON, A.M.,
Professor of Scientific Agriculture in Yale College, New Haven, Author of Agricultural Prize Essays, &c., &c.

This highly valuable work will comprise two large royal octavo volumes, containing over 1400 pages, 18 or 20 splendid steel engravings, and more than 600 engravings of wood, in the highest style of the art, illustrating almost every implement of husbandry now in use by the best farmers, the best methods of ploughing, planting, sowing, harrowing, &c., &c., the various domestic animals in their highest perfection; in short, the pictorial feature of the book is unique, and will render it of incalculable value to the student of agriculture.

This great work is the joint production of two of the most talented agricultural scholars of the day: the one eminent as an author and editor in Great Britain, and the other, as a Professor in Yale College. Both are eminently practical as well as scientific men, and all they say may be relied on as the result of profound research, tested and sustained by practical experiment. The contributions of Professor Norton are chiefly designed to adapt the British portion of the book to this country, and thus make it an Anglo-American work, giving to its readers all the really useful agricultural knowledge at present attainable in either country.

The work is divided into four departments, distinguished by the four seasons of the year, commencing with Winter, and Prof. Norton's notes will be published as an appendix to each part. The first chapter treats of the following subjects, under the head of INTELIGENCE

quiring a thorough knowledge of Practical Husbandry.
On the Difficulties to be encountered in learning Practical Husbandry, and on the Means of overcoming them.

Execute the Labor of the Farm.

able to Agriculture.

suited to Agricultural Science.

facts of Farming by the Agricultural Student.

each number, of which there will be about 22 in all. Price, 25 CENTS per Number.
