An hour afterwards a deafening report brought the inhabitants in the vicinity of the mine running to the pit head, where they found the ventilating and hoisting machinery at the top of the shafts had been blown to atoms by an explosion of great violence, and a man who had been working twenty yards away had been decapitated by the force of the blast.

Rescuers at Work. Rescue parties of miners belonging to the night shift were soon on scene making preparations to enter the mine in an endeavor to save their com-

"Electrification by Misrepresensation"

"ELECTRIFICATION BY MISREPRESENTATION."

Mayor Graham talks so fast that he occasionally interrupts himself.

He happily described the case he is charged with the other night he coined the above phrase. That's the thing in a nutshell.

"ELECTRIFICATION BY MISREPRESENTATION."

The mayor knows more about their own business than the Grand Trunk Railway or the Michigan Cenral Railway. Although he cannot show a word on paper to prove that the Michigan Central Railway would run over an electrified line, he glibly informed the signers of a recently-circulated petition that the M. C. R. had given assurance that it would use the line, a grave misrepresentation.

On the strength of this statement a number of the aldermen signed the petition. In committee the mayor assured the aldernien that Chairman Ledyard had given him (the mayor) absolute assurance that the line would use an electrified road. He had no authority whatever for this statement, as is proved by the letters of Chairman Ledyard, absolutely refusing to consider operation over the road. Let the mayor or anyone else produce proofs or stop this attempt to "bluff" the citizens, which is sure to be exposed within a short time. "ELECTRIFICATION BY MISREPRESENTATION

One of the men laid c laim to the machine, and the police officer told him that it had been left standing on Dundas street five minutes longer than the law allowed and that he better move it at once. Then he noticed the mayor and saluted. "Oh, that's all right," said the

Time To Check Wasteful Era Of Civic Rule

Municipality's Method of Doing Business Has Been Demoralized Within Last Two Years--A Glaring Record of Maladministration Shown By the Limelight.

Contracts Doubled and Tripled, Contracts Let Without Tenders, City Architect's Discharge Involves Large Loss--Citizens' Finances Played With Fast and Loose.

During the past two years London's city administration has degenerated. There have been demoralizing influences at work, and the conduct of city affairs has indicated in no uncertain manner just how these influences have flourished and borne fruit. Increased taxation is by no means a criterion of inefficient, demoralized civic administration. There are many perfectly legitimate reasons why a city's tax rate should increase without having a demoralized administration at

When, however, increased taxation is coupled with an ominous list of scandals, fiascos, examples of maladministration, inefficient government, usurped rights, created positions, appointments of relatives and friends, junkets and wasteful expenditures, it may well be taken to indicate an uncontrollable, inefficient, incompetent administration.

A SINISTER CHAPTER OF CITY HISTORY. Never in the history of municipal London has there been such an ominous, sinister record as the one that has been made during the past two years. Incompetency, rule-of-one and waste have gone arm in arm down the months of the past two years. There have been times when they have been more prominent than usual, but their continual presence has been seen and felt. They have left their indelible mark in the city records.

The handling of the federal square purchase, the expensive alterations at the Spencer Block, the erection of the building on the $50,000 market site, the downtown walks scandal, the double-priced incinerator, the triple-priced court house, the dismissal of the city architect, before the quarters there were completed, the appointment of relatives of the mayor to responsible civic positions at good salaries, the effort to create offices for favored aldermen, the failure of the $10,000 heating apparatus at the incinerator and Victoria Hospital to do the expected work without another $7,000 expenditure, and many other instances of a like nature, have stood out as periods in the general story of demoralized civic administration.

SOME OTHER FEATURES.

Other features of this same administration would be the resignation of the city engineer, George W. Wright, because of interference with his department on the part of the mayor, the awarding of contracts to relatives of Mayor Graham, the purchase of an undersized car for the fire chief, the refusal of the council to grant the fire chief's demand for more men, the fiasco that grew out of the appointment of W. N. Ashplant as city engineer when London had two city engineers-Messrs. Brazier and Dumford-the treatment of the electrification reports as the mayor's private property, and a multitude of other minor questions. WHERE IS THE GOVERNMENT GRANT?

Nothing has been done by the present administration to see that the federal square proposal has been carried through. The assurance was given by the administration that the grant would be taken up immediately by the Dominion Government, supplementary estimates would be brought in, and an appropriation large enough to cover the Government end of the scheme would be granted. This has failed to Continued on Page Eleven.

GRAND TRUNK CONTRACTS SEVEN-EIGHTHS OF COAL CARRIED ON L. & P. S. R

The Gabey-Storer report estimates that 400,000 tons of coal are annually handled through Port Stanley. They assert that this amount would continue to be hauled by an electrified L. and P. S. R., which, at 16 cent a ton, would yield $64,000. Bear in mind these are the figures of Messrs. Gaby and Storer, on the strength of whose report the city council was last year urged to submit the electrification bylaw to the people. Of the 400,000 tons handled through the Port, 350,000 are consigned to the Grand Trunk Railway. The Grand Trunk says that if the road is electrified, it will withdraw all of this business. Deprived of seven-eighths of its coal traffic, the London and Port

Stanley Railway would earn at the Gaby-Storer rate of 16 cents a ton, only $8,000 from this class of freight, instead of the $64,000 credited to it by the team of electrical engineers,

Here is $56,000 cut off the Gaby-Storer estimates of receipts at one stroke, leaving a deficit.

The fact is that the withdrawal of the Grand Trunk's business would destroy the paper surplus which each of the experts has tried o figure out.

Farmer Injured Filling Silo :

Harry Foster, a resident of White Oak, was rendered unconscious on Saturday when he was thrown heavily to the ground by the rapidly revolving fan of a cutting box.

He was engaged in running the machine at a neighbor's farm. A large silo was being filled, and a number of the nearby residents had assembled. His work kept him constantly near the machine, and when a rattling was heard he raised the hood to investigate the cause. In some manner the good caught the revolving knives, jerking the cover out of his hands. He fell on the machine, and by a miracle avoided the knives. The revolving fan struck him, however, in such a manner as to render him unconscious.

He was picked up hurriedly by his friends and carried into a house neary, where medical attention was given. He will recover.

GERMAN BATTLESHIP ORDERED TO MEXICO

Conditions There Warrant Action, Says Foreign Office at Berlin.

Berlin, Oct. 14.-The foreign office here reached the conclusion last evening that the existing situation in Mexico is such as to necessitate the presence of a German warship in Mexican waters.

The cruiser Hertha, which is now being used as a school ship, will be selected as the most available warship for duty along the eastern coast of Mexico. She is now cruising in New England waters.

A cruiser from Europe scarcely could be chosen for this work, as the German squadrons have been depleted by the withdrawal of four cruisers for ervice in the Mediterranean owing to ne recent hostilities in the Balkans. ALVERSTONE RESIGNS

A GHOULISH ATTACK.

The pro-electrification campaign stoops to indecency which does not spare the dead. The Free Press make a callous attack on the memory of the late Col. Little, accusing him of betraying the city's interests in his dealings with the Michigan Central when that company was on the point of severing its London connection.

The accusation is as ungrateful as it is unjust and unfeeling. The manufacturers wholesalers and other shippers will vividly recollect their alarm at the prospect of losing the ago, and the heroic efforts that were put forth to persuade the company to corporated as the London and Southcastern Railway Company, conducted and succeeded in their object after Interests. At the time not a whisper of the agreement, by which the company, in return for continuing its Lon- St. Thomas. don business, was given a seventeen price of $700,000—exactly their cost.

one has expressed a contrary opinion wrath at the Michigan Central for opposing its scheme, spews its venom at the late Col. Little. The memory of that great and useful citizen of London is secure against such attacks from such a source. These are worthy of notice only as an illustration of the tactics employed to carry the $700,000 bylaw. Truth and decency are flung to the winds.

THE RUSSIAN MURDER TRIAL.

The trial of a Jew at Kiev for ritual murder of a Christian child reveals in a striking way the mediaeval darkness of Russia. In Western Europe it was once fashionable to believe that Jews killed Christian children at the passover as a religious rite and made use of their blood for ceremonial or medicinal purposes. But since the thirteenth century no official countenance has been given to charges on this score. To any educated intelligence such a practice as blood-drinking appears at once as absurdly contrary to the written law of the Hebrews. All partaking of blood is prohibited from the Pentateuch down.

It is an interesting fact of history that the Christians themselves in the early centuries were accused by Greeks and Romans of this very murdering of children. Says Justin the Martyr (about 150 A.D.): "They drag our slaves, children or wives to the ordeal, and by means of horrible tortures force them to confess to these mythical rites." Possibly a confused rumor as to the Christian rite of receiving the body and blood of the Lord in holy communion may have been the basis of the charge.

In the present Russian trial the evidence shows that the body of a boy was found in a cave covered with 47 wounds inflicted in the forms of pricks and slits. The boy had been made to suffer torture before being finally killed by a wound piercing his heart. The body is said to have been almost wholly devoid of blood, and very little blood was found in the neighborhood of the corpse. Hence the cry of ritual murder raised by the reactionaries (religious and political). Bishops are mentioned as leading the hue and cry against the Jews as authors of the feat has saved over 500 lives.

The idea of Jews having a pick on his invention he has earned it. Christian children or a partiality for their blood is about on a par with the witch-hunting of 200 years ago. Up to the early part of the eighteenth century burnings went on and long after official persecution ceased popular illwill stigmatized numbers of old women as having commerce with Satan. Christian champions said that to disbelieve in witches was to disbelieve in the Bible. Evidently some of the Russian clergy would tend to regard disbelievers in Judaic devilry as disbe-lievers in the church. It seems possible that in some cases of murder, where suspicion has fallen upon the Jews, the crime may have nicipal ownership on the ground that calculated to suggest a diabolical reproach those who are opposing, no Jows to divert suspicion from the real operation of the L. and P. S. R. on guilty. The 47 blood-letting wounds the same ground? in the present instance are suggestive of such an intent. Perhaps the pubicity of the case and of the flimsy character of the evidence may do omething at last to kill a superstition responsible for much cruelty in Russia. That a whole race should be charged with peculiar malice and out-and-out devilry because Judas Iscariot went wrong, is against common sense and ommon profit let. alone Christian

Meeting Has Been Called For Wednesday Evening, When Several Propositions Will Be Dealt With by Membersand Committee in Charge

The London Curling Club will hold a meeting Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock in the Grigg House for the purpose of taking up the question of providing a rink for itself for the coming season. At the present time the club is considering a couple of propositions, but as opinion is divided it has been necessary to call the meeting.

At the annual meeting held a couple of weeks ago, a committee was appointed to look into the matter of securing a rink and since then this committee has been busy. The club can secure the Simcoe skating rink, it is believed, and it is likely it will be rented or purchased. This

OWARD J. LOCKE, author of "The Case of Becky," says that the reason for David Belasco's great success as a producer of plays is his skill in theatrical surgery. Belasco dissects every manuscript word for word, speech for speech, until its anatomy is in perfect theatrical proportion.

Says Mr. Locke: "From ten in the morning frequently till three the next morning we went through the play with miscroscopic care. Often we spent hours on a few lines, on a single speech." And Thomas Dreier, editor of Associated Advertising, commenting on this, writes: "How many business men give a fraction of this attention to the language and the message in their advertisements-advertisements that go into space costing thousands of dollars?"

There's a thought worth while here. I have often wondered why folks will waste even the small amount a Want Ad. costs by dashing off any kind of "copy," running it in a newspaper, and serenely expecting the newspaper to deposit the contents of an advertising Horn of Plenty at Newsaper space is valuable in proportion to the efficiency of the written word that is set into type and goes into that space. Even a Want Ad. can be given "pulling power" by the kind of careful, painstaking preparation that is necessary to make any kind of advertising worthy of the name.

So don't dash off that Want Ad. pell-mell. Take a little time and trouble to convey your message just the way it should be conveyed. newspaper can sell you white space. It is up to you to make that white space effective.

We can't all be Belascos, but we can learn something from his methods.

Some interesting discussion followed the report of the Dominion secretary, Miss Eleanor E. Smith, of Windsor, N. S., at the Dominion convention, W. C. T. U., on Monday afternoon. Miss Smith spoke warmly of the work the "Y" members were doing. They were qualifying themselves to take up the duties of the W. C. T. U. in later years, and were valuable in their work of training the younger children alon gtemperance lines. The total membership of the year was 1,-152, a considerable gain over last year's

Miss Smith lamented the fact that in some localities the "Y" work was being dropped and branches of the young people's branch formed instead, the idea being to include young people of both sexes in temperance work. This, she stated, was not necessary, as young men were privileged to belong to the "Y" branches as honorary members, and as such did excellent work in a number of branches, according to her personal knowledge.

Shut Out Young Men.
Other delegates appeared to feel that the forming of Y. W. C. T. U. societies shut out a larger part of young men from active service in the union, Boys who had outgrown the Loyal Temperance Legion, and who had arrived at the really dangerous time of young manhood, would be willing to join a young people's society, but would not become honorary members of a girls' organization.

Another interesting report was on Legion by Mrs. Adah McLachlan, of Hamilton. This work is carried on among the young children, and is partly educational and partly philanthropic. Through the kindness of the editor of the Bulletin, the W. C. T. U. official organ, an essay contest been held in which many children competed. The total membership for the year was 8,586, with legions in ten

The matter of Loyal Temperance Legion affiliation fees received some attention from the convention. Upon recommendation of Mrs. McLachlan, a fee of 10 cents per member per year was decided upon, half of this sum to to be divided for county, provincial, Dominion and world affiliation fees. The recommendation carried.

Medical Temperance. The report of the medical temperance department was presented by Mrs. John Scott, of Westmount, Que., gers of administering alcohol as a ne. Mrs. Scott referred to the strong feeling evidenced in this matter. at the International Medical Congress in London, England, this summer, and also stated that following the convention of the Canadian Health Association in Regina, the use of alcohol had fallen off 90 per cent in the hospitals of the Dominion. She believed the time would come when doctors and nurses who recommended alcohol as medicine would be back-numbers. British Columbia, Alberta, Manitoba, Ontario, Quebec and Nova Scotia all reported efforts made to suppress the use of liquor in the sick-room. Mrs. Scott, in concluding her report, moved a recommendation that a resolution be sent from the Do-minion W. C. T. U. to the Government, asking that firms manufacturing medicated wines be required to state on a printed label the amount of alcohol conained in each bottle. Both resolution and report were unanimously adopted. Unfermented Wine,

The report on the department of unermented wine was submitted by Mrs. W. G. Brown, of Toronto. An increased interest in this subject was constantly being shown, Mrs. Brown stated. Many churches were awakening to the fact that it was inconsistent to use fermented wine for the sacrament and condemn it in other places "Why should we consecrate on the Lord's table that which we seek to banish from our homes and society?" was asked

The Right to Vote, Keen interest was shown in the report of Mrs. Dettlor, of North Bay, on equal franchise and Christian citizenship. "It is refreshing to look at the countries where the women have been allowed the vote for some years and to notice the improved measures which have become law. Let us not forget that woman suf-frage is not a utility; it is not a matter to be judged by its palpable effects; it is not a privilege to be granted as a courtesy to the 'weaker sex.' It is a right, pos-sessed by every citizen, male or female that can be withheld in a democratic country only by injustice and wrong. Suffrage for women is surely coming," said Mrs. Dettlor, amidst applause, "but le us understand the necessity of having in our possession this direct and powerful means of securing the legislature we are seeking, namely the abolishment of the liquor traffic and the conditions which so

personal interest in the subject and to seek to interest others as well Encouraging reports were received from several provinces, especially from Alberta, wher practically every woman property-holder has the right to vote in municipal matters. Mrs. McKinney, Alberta's provincia president, spoke enthusiastically abou onditions in her home province, and of the recent measures passed in Calgary whereby married women were considere ouseholders jointly with their husbards their name appearing on the voters' list During the afternoon, Mrs. Gordon Wright was called away from the meet ing upon the announcement that Miss Agnes Slack, honorary secretary of the world's W. Medical Temperance Unferment- Honorary President Agrees With Criticism of Modern Female Attire.

> Delegates to the Dominion convention of the W. C. T. U. were officially welcomed to the city Monday evening at the Normal School by Mayor Graham on behalf of the city council. In his address the mayor declared himself in favor of giving the vote to women. Although he did not favor the means employed by some of the women of today in attaining their desire yet he could see no reason why women should be denied a privilege which was theirs by right of perfect equality with men.

> His worship deplored the present dictates of fashion in woman's dress, saying that their present attire "dared men to insult them."

> The city's greetings were tendered to the members assembled. There was an absolute certainty that those visiting the city would be charmed by the beauty of its parks and its public institutions. Representative of Springbank were some of the beautiful flowers grown there, which, although the season was late, were still brilliant in all their beauty.

> Mrs. Rutherford. In replying to the address, Mrs. Ru-herford, honorary president, thanked the mayor for the courtesy extended to the W. C. T. U. and exppressed her hearty approval at the stand taken in gard to woman's dress

The greetings from the local union were extended by Mrs. Ashplant. She felt optimistic as to the campaign against the liquor traffic, as considerable progress had already been made the work of the Loyal Temperance in London to warrant the justification of anyone being interested in the temperance cause. Mrs. Stevens, Dominion corresponding secretary, voiced the hanks of the union.

A Guest of Honor. A guest of honor of the evening, Miss Agnes Slack, a noted English moral reformer anda prominent lecturer, spoke briefly to the meeting on the work in her home-land.

Short 21/2-minute addresses followed by the representatives of each province: Quebec, Mrs. McArthur; Ontario, Mrs. Hattie A. Dredge River and Build Drives to Springbank More Useful Than Electrification.

Businessman Points Out How Money Could Be Used to Great Advantage.

"Let London spend a million dollars on beautifying its river and in building lrives to Springbank on both sides of the iver and it will do London more good than ten electrification schemes possibly by a well-known businessman, who has found much recreation on the Thames and who believes that with proper attention given it the river could eventually be made navigable to Detroit, and that great playgrounds, the envy of all ities, could be made of the stream, its banks and the park at Springbank,

Dredge the River. and free from the pollution with which it is now filled. Filling in the sides of the present bed, a riverside drive that would attract attention from all sides could be constructed. f Detroit or any other American city had the Thames and Springbank it could not be secured for fifty million dollars. "London could give this undertaking asset which no money could buy. Boating could be made so that one would not be stuck on a mud bank in a canoe, and there would be a flotilla of the fastest speed boats in the country on the river if the proper facilities were arranged. of 20 men who would buy fort made to give the city a place for more, for it is a wonderful flesh-builde boating. What do you suppose Toronte would take for Toronto bay?

Navigate to Detroit. "Then it is not too visionary to picture the time when large boats could be navigated clear to Detroit. The Thames navigable for a considerable distance bove Chatham, and a comparatively small amount of dredging would make it navigable clear to London. The dredging f the river from London to Springbank ould make West London immune from Every foot of gravel taken out f the river bed would put West London so much higher above the water level. and a drive on either side would form an impregnable breakwater.

'This is my idea of a real civic work or London. It would do the city more good than ten electrification schemes."

WHO HAD DISAPPEARED

Inspector Sanders, of Children's Aid, Solves Mysterious Affair.

Inspector Sanders, of the Children's Aid Society, has located, after several months' search, a young girl who was spirited away from her home in this city last summer immediately after a coroner's jury advised that she be taken charge of the Children's Aid Society. Her mother died from the effects of morphine, supposed to have been taken with suicidal intent. The jury which inquired into her mother's death was of the opinion that the home of the girl's father, where she lived with her half-sister in an unkempt and neglected condition, was not a proper home for her, and incorporated in their verdict a recommendation that the society take charge of her. Before Inspector Sanders could do this she mysteriously disappeared and all efforts of the society failed to find her until a few days ago, when Mr. Sanders was informed that she was living with a married sister about four miles from Woodstock. Mr. Sanders found that her condition was not much better than when she lived in the city. Her sister had said that she could do nothing with her sister, nor could she afford to keep her. The child was quite willing to return to the city with Mr. Sanders, and is now in the Children's Shelter. Her sister said shie that the child's father had said that un-

One Was Serious. The accident in which Superintendent Dodd's car figured was the most serious of the two. With Bissett, he was driving home from St. Thomas in the department's car. Without Permission. "No permission was granted for the ase of the car, and the superintendent had no business to take it outside the corporation limits," declared Chairman B. W. Bennett, of the board of works, under which committee the garbage department comes.

The car itself, which is now in Thomas garage, is partially windshield, steering wrecked. The gear, and part of the under work of the machine are badly smashed and twisted. No estimate of the damages has yet been prepared.

Chief Operator C. H. Colby was driving General Manager Glaubitz's car when he ran into and injured Evans, who was riding his bicycle noth on Wellington street. He was turning south from Dundas street onto Wellington, when, according to the driver's story, Evans ran in front of the car. How can these few cars give a satisfactory service between London and Port Stanley during the summer months, and especially on holidays in extra coaches to enable them to handle the crowds on those days. How can you do it with six cars and six trailers, when 6,000 or 8,000 people want to get to Port Stanley between 7 and 10 o'clock? materialize, and the council is sitting by with folded hands waiting for Providence to send a fly, or a Government grant.

THE "TEMPORARY QUARTERS" BILL.

The expensive alterations of the Spencer Block is another instance, running into more than $10,000. The carrying out of the project has been on a par with the federal square project. Money was spent on fitting up the quarters as though cost was no object. Then there was the famous transfer from the old city hall to the new one, on orders of the mayor. It is two months since the transfer was ordered, but as yet the quarters have not been completed. Before the old city hall was left many thousands were spent on "temporary al-

A PAIR OF HEAVY ACCOUNTS.

The court house and the incinerator are in the same class. The rehabilitated court house may be a good building, but the increase in the cost from $25,000, as originally estimated, to the $75,000 or $80,000 that the building will cost, is where the citizens' money was freely spent without warrant. At the incinerator, the tender-less, agreementless destructor has cost double what similar plants of twice the capacity have been constructed for in other cities. Then there is that $10,000 expenditure for installing apparatus that was calculated to heat the Victoria Hospital. On the report of the engineer in charge it will cost another $7,000 before this apparatus can be utilized for the purpose it was constructed for.

THE JOBBING DEPARTMENT.

The creation of offices for favored members of the Graham clique in the council was stopped, temporarily at least, by the spot-light of publicity. Relatives of the mayor were appointed to civic positions, ranging from superintendent of one of the newly-created departments of municipal enterprise, to stenographer in other departments. PAYING A PAIR OF PIPERS.

By the dismissal of the city architect, over $10,000 has been spent in the past year and a half that would have been saved had the office been continued. The construction of schools, public buildings and other works has been heavy in the past year. It will be heavier next year, yet the fees for outside architects continue, and the city pays the piper-not only Building Inspector A. M. Piper, but the real piperthe $10,000 additional charges.

HAD THREE ENGINEERS.

In the city engineering department, the most important of all offices, there has been an almost continued fiasco since City Engineer George W. Wright handed in his resignation to the council. It was interference with his department that caused this action. His successor. H. A. Brazier, was then appointed city engineer, and Engineer Dumford, of Toronto, as his assistant. Then W. N. Ashplant was appointed to city engineer. However, the third engineer, having accepted another position, let the council out of the hole it had dug for itself with its many engineers, and things continued a little more smoothly than might have been expected.

ADDITIONAL FIREMEN DENIED.

In the fire department, as in possibly no other department, are found some fine examples of "good business," with the emphasis on the GOOD. In spite of the fact that the underwriters have promised the city further reductions on the key rate, in spite of the fact that additional firemen were promised when annexation took place, in spite of the fact that the fire chief has recommended more men on many occasions, and has reported that he cannot man his present apparatus with his forces, in spite of the fact that the police force has more than a dozen more men than the fire department, in face of all these, the demanded increase has never been granted to the department.

THE FIRE CHIEF'S CAR. Another example was the famous saying of the mayor that the presence of the fire chief at all fires was unnecessary. The mayor opposed the purchase of a car for the chief on these grounds. When

STARING CITIZENS IN FACE.

These are only samples of what has been done during the past two years, yet they are staring Londoners in the face at this time as never before. The same administration that has been responsible for these conditions will be the same administration that would be in charge of the expenditure of $700,000 and more, if electrification carried.

Judged on their merits of the past two years, it is easily to be seen where London will wind up if the expenditure is intrusted to the present incompetent city administration.

Citizens' Committee To Open Rooms

The Citizens' Committee, representative of the ratepayers and businessmen who are opposing electrification, will open committee rooms at 392 Clarence street Wednesday morning. These rooms will be open to all desiring information on the subject, and will be open during business hours and in the evening.

Any citizens who are desirous of giving their aid in the defeat of the bylaw and the advancing of storm sewers and the West London breakwater, should see the committee in charge of the rooms.

Little Ones Telling of Good Times

The Children's Aid Society met in the society's offices Monday afternoon, with Mrs. F. E. # A STRAIGHT TALK TO LONDON RATEPAYERS

You have been successful in your business, otherwise you would not be in business. You have read something of the electrification situation, and you are considering the matter from the standpoint of good business for the city of London. Your future is bound up with the future of the city. Can the London and Port Stanley Railway be made to pay if steam roads withdraw their support? Are you satisfied you have full and complete information whether the steam roads, now operating, will continue? Would the London and Port Stanley Railway be made to pay when the steam roads withdraw their support, as they say they will? Would you invest a dollar on the information now before

You are not being convinced by sentiment. Before you go to the poll on Oct. 22, you will have decided that electrification is a good thing from a business standpoint, or have rejected it because it does not stand the test.

In the first place, do you want two electric railways running to Port Stanley? Will they both pay, will they give you an efficient service? Would you not prefer lines north, east or west, in territory not already covered? Will it look like good business to the outside world to see London served by two roads in this direction and by not one in

When you vote to injure a line that is at present bringing thousands of shoppers to London annually, you vote to warn all outside capital that London does not invite their operations; you strike a blow at a London industry. When the London and Lake Erie Railway to Port Stanley was built, was there any thought of electrification? Was one word said to warn the men who were building it that it should not be gone on with? Did one citizen of London object to its enterprise? Was there any thought other than that the London and Port Stanley road should stand as a steam road and not competitive?

The London and Lake Erie Railway Company contributes largely to the welfare of the city of London, running adjacent to the homes of thousands of farmers; it brings them to the city many times a year as shoppers, ONE-THIRD OF THE TRAFFIC BEING RURAL, and it is said by merchants that all of the steam railroads running into London do not bring as many BUYERS to London as this little electrical railway.

What did the London Free Press say about the London and Lake Erie Railway only a few years ago? Here it is from the files of that paper:

"London's pioneer radial is scoring a success. In so doing the company is demonstrating to the citizens the advantage which these radial lines are to London.

"EVERY CAR ON THIS TROLLEY SYSTEM EACH DAY IN THE BUSINESS WEEK BRINGS TRADE TO THE MERCHANTS. MEN AND WOMEN, AND PARTICULARLY THE LATTER, COME HERE TO DO BUYING THEY NEVER WOULD WERE IT NOT FOR THE CONVEN-IENT METHOD OF REACHING THE CITY WHICH THESE CARS AFFORD."

"The company never received one cent's worth of encouragement from the citizens of London. Indeed, the promoters literally had to fight their way into town. They were discouraged, not encouraged, but they are here to stay."

Now the same newspaper is endeavoring to demonstrate to the citizens that this road has no right to exist. The road has been attacked and treated as no London industry-for it is an industry of London in the true sense of the word-should be treated.

The London and Lake Erie Railway Company has asked no favors from the city of London. It has never received a dollar in bonus or by any other means. It will continue to operate even if the London and Port Stanley Railway is electrified, but neither line will be able to pay. It has not the right nor does it seek to say what shall be done, but it does desire fair play from the citizens and all fair-minded people will see that it has fair treatment.

The largest owners of the London and Lake Erie Railway are Toronto men, and if they receive fair treatment at the hands of the people of London they will make extensions of the line, bringing the city in close touch with many important points, such as Aylmer, Ingersoll and Delaware, with which it now has inadequate or no connection. Extensions cannot be financed otherwise.

Over two hundreds of thousands of dollars have been spent to improve the London and Lake Erie Railway and Transportation Company since it was purchased by the present owners. It was the first radial railway in the country to take Hydro-Electric power, and is the best equipped electric line in Canada, which is something to be proud of.

Do you believe that the Grand Trunk and the Michigan Central Railroads are bluffing when they say they will withdraw their business from the line if electrified? Remember what happened when the Grand Trunk carshops were burned. Remember the hopeless condition of the city at the time of the recent Grand Trunk Railway strike. Remember that the Michigan Central Railroad connects London with the New York harbor, and that the Grand Trunk and Michigan Central Railroads have control of over 3,000 miles of railway. Remember the number of employees that will be removed and the number of homes destroyed. Remember, too, that this is the first time in the history of London when ratepayers were asked to contribute money to destroy the wholesale and railway interests, and to lessen the number of homes. London has been proved to be called a city of homes, but there will be many homes vacant if electrification carries, and London will lose its place as second wholesale centre in Ontario. London is an inland city, and are its shipping interests not of much more interest than whether coal is carried by steam or electricity?

Therefore the citizens of London should not vote to injure this "pioneer radial line." or to reduce value of real estate and ruin London as a wholesale centre.

The London and Lake Erie Railway and Transportation Company requests the ratepayers to consider the matter in a businesslike way.
