Western Provinces Have Secured Additional Representation--London Has a Gain of More Than 8,000--Returns Are Not Yet Complete.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—Hon. Martin Burrell, minister of agriculture, last night gave out to the press the first official statement of the result of the census-taking, which is now practically complete. The figures show a population of 7,081,869 for Canada, as compared with 5,371,316 in 1901, or an increase of 1,710,553.

As compared with the increase of population in the 1891-1901 decade, the figures are more satisfactory. In the ten years preceding 1901, Canada's population increased by 2,768,076. As compared with this, the increase of 1,710,553 in the past ten years is considered the most remarkable period of Canada's growth.

Saskatchewan in the Van. Of the provinces, Saskatchewan shows the largest ratio of increase, having jumped from 91,279 to 453,105, while Alberta comes second, with an increase of from 73,022 to 372,919 in the decade. The Province of Quebec shows an increase in population of 351,759, while Ontario has increased by 336,955. British Columbia increased by 184,109, and Manitoba by 149,489.

The provinces down by the sea have all fallen away in population. Nova Scotia showing a decline of 2,273. New Brunswick 20,775, and Prince Edward Island 10,337.

Montreal shows the largest increase in population of any city in the Dominion. The total population of the city is 466,197, as against 267,750 ten years ago, an increase of 198,447. Including Westmount, Maisonneuve and Verdun, Montreal has a population of 510,811, or a comfortable margin over the half-million mark.

Toronto is in second place, growing from 208,048 to 376,240 in 1911, an increase of 168,200. Vancouver is third, with an increase of 101,125, from 106,113 to 207,238.

EASTERN CANADA NEEDS TONING UP

Congestion in Cities Regarded in Ottawa as Needing a Corrective.

FEWER ON THE FARMS

Natural Increase in Population Not Accounted for at All—Emigration

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ottawa, Oct. 18.—The population of Montreal is 510,811; this includes Montreal proper, Westmount, Verdun, Maisonneuve and Outremont. The census figures show that in Eastern Canada the growth has been confined almost entirely to the cities and that the country is losing population. The Maritime Provinces either have held their own or actually lost people during the ten years since 1901.

In the west, while the cities showed great gains, the growth of population in the rural parts of the country was less. With the exception of British Columbia, where the growth was chiefly confined to the cities.

The figures are regarded as unsatisfactory as far as Eastern Canada is concerned and are held to indicate that the east will have to apply some sort of correction on congestion in cities and under-population in the country by an increased rural population. The figures indicate that there has been a heavy drift of people from Canada to the United States or else there has been actually no natural increase in Canada for ten years.

In ten years, 1,708,375 people have entered Canada, as immigrants, and the census figures show the increase in Canada of population to have been 1,710,553. The balance of a margin of only 5,000 for natural increase.

Alberta's 41 Per Cent Gain. The figures show Alberta increased 41 per cent, Saskatchewan 28 per cent, Manitoba 23, Quebec 21, Ontario 15, New Brunswick 6, Nova Scotia one-half per cent and Prince Edward Island lost nine per cent.

BARKIS IS WILLIN' SAYS MR. GLASS

Mr. Peter Elson Ready to Drop Out in Favor of Mr. White.

DIFFERENCES IN PARTY

Take Executive Committee Decision To Take the Responsibility, and Has Called a General Meeting.

There will be a meeting of the Conservatives of East Middlesex in Dufferin Hall, London, on Thursday, to consider the question of opposing East Middlesex for W. T. White, minister of finance.

All the delegates to the convention which nominated Mr. Peter Elson, M. P., together with the chairmen and secretaries of each division, will be invited to attend and discuss the matter. Notices are now being sent out by Mr. S. Frank Glass, the secretary, calling the members together.

It had been the intention of Mr. Elson to have a meeting of only the executive committee of the party, but the decision to call a general meeting was reached. It was further decided to call a convention for Saturday next to name a candidate for the Legislature.

Reports have been coming to the executive that the members of the party are not united.

BRIBERY RAMPANT IN E. ELGIN, MARSHALL'S SEAT IS PROTESTED

Liberals Declare That $25 Was Paid for Many Votes—Charged That Mr. Marshall Personally Conducted the Work —$15,000 Was Spent.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Aylmer, Oct. 18.—At a largely attended meeting of the East Elgin Liberal executive here it was unanimously decided to protest the election of David Marshall, M. P.

Members from almost every section of the riding related instances after instance of the most barefaced bribery and corruption having been brought to their notice. A modest estimate places $15,000 as the amount of money corruptly used in the riding by the Cannara Combine and the Conservative organization to insure Mr. Marshall's election.

Too Much to Spend. While the corrupt practices on behalf of the Conservative candidate appeared to be general throughout the riding, a couple of divisions in Yarmouth and several in Bayham evidently were not touched by the Marshall heeler.

Could readily place, with the result that the spending went right on after election day.

Mr. Marshall and his running mate in the provincial in East Elgin will be called upon to show cause why they should not be disqualified from representing the riding for some years.

At least, and if one-tenth of the rottenness which is known to have marked the election can be legally fastened upon them it will provide an object lesson for the whole country that will not be without a deterrent effect in future elections.

In some instances, it is alleged, as high as $25 was paid by Mr. Marshall's agents to a single voter, known to be doubtful, to induce him to vote for the combine's candidate. In another instance a father-in-law received $50 for the same service.

Voters residing out of the riding were provided with transportation and expenses, horse gifts and loans were made with a lavish hand on behalf of the Conservative candidate.

Everywhere the corruption appears to have been practiced by the Conservative workers, and it is alleged that Mr. Marshall personally directed the systematic campaign of corruption which was practiced, the uncovering of which will provide one of the most startling disclosures of the methods by which the election in East Elgin was won by the combine's candidate.

LONDON'S POPULATION 47,177 CENSUS FIGURES ANNOUNCED

Through a Mistake at Ottawa, Population of This City Is Reduced 1,000, But This Will Be Corrected—The Figures of Different Wards.

London's population, according to figures made public at Ottawa, is fixed at 47,177. There must be some mistake about this, however, as Census Commissioner Scattergood's books show that the population was 47,128, a difference of practically 1,000.

And even this is practically 1,000 less than the figures presented by the assessment of the city of London, which announced some time ago that the population of the city was 47,128.

However, the growth of London since the last decennial census was most striking. In 1901, the population was 46,128, and the census of 1911 shows a gain of nearly 1,000 more than that.

The error must have occurred at Ottawa, not in London.

"When we started the census we hoped to bring the population close to 47,000. However, as our enumerators got to work we found that we could not reach that number. I think the population of London is more than 47,000, and I am sure we made no mistake. The error must have occurred at Ottawa, not in London."

"The published figures are not the same as I sent to Ottawa," said Mr. Scattergood. "My figures show the population to be 47,128, while the report says 47,177. That is a mistake of nearly 1,000 people. I will send down some figures to have them compared with the census figures. The error must have occurred at Ottawa, not in London."

POLICEMEN DESERVE MEDALS FOR SAVING LIVES OF FIVE

Corner MacLaren is very strongly of the opinion that the Humane Society should give Sergeant McDonald a medal for the bravery he displayed in rescuing five persons in the early morning fire which partially destroyed the house occupied by the Pinches family on Dundas street Tuesday.

"It was a splendid act of heroism," said Dr. MacLaren to The Advertiser. "The policemen deserve some tangible recognition for their bravery. They earned it a good deal more than many persons who receive medals for jumping into a river. It is often comparatively easy for a person to jump into a stream and rescue another, but the police officers had to face both fire and dense smoke and their own lives were imperilled in saving those of others. Such deeds as this are too often admired at the time and then forgotten. I think the police officers richly deserve some tangible expression, such as a medal or something else, and the Humane Society should take the matter in hand, and look after it. CANADA'S CENSUS.

The census returns do not bear out either the official or popular estimates of the growth of population, but there is reason for national congratulations. Judged by the former decades, the last one makes a wonderful showing. Here are the figures since Confederation:

Year	Population
1871	3,635,024
1881	4,324,810
1891	4,833,239
1901	5,349,566
1911	7,100,000

The ten-year-increases have been as follows:

Year	Population
1881	689,786
1891	507,428
1901	536,427
1911	1,710,334

The really disappointing feature is the slow growth of the rural population in Ontario, and the Maritime Provinces. In Ontario the total increase for the ten years is 336,555, of which 325,058 is accounted for by 47 cities and towns. When the figures for towns and villages under 4,000 are given, it will be probably found that the population actually on the farms is lower than ten years ago. The Maritime Provinces, taken together, have remained practically stationary. Prince Edward Island even showing a decline of nearly 10,000. As in Ontario, the cities of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia have grown, but the rural community has not advanced. Quebec's population has grown 351,799, but 275,000 of this is represented by 21 cities and towns.

For Canada as a whole, the rural losses in Eastern Ontario are compensated in the west, where the growth of country and town has been amazing.

EASTERN PROVINCES LOSE MEMBERS.

Quebec's membership in the House of Commons was permanently fixed at 65 by the B. N. A. act. Quebec's population, according to the new census, is 2,000,697, or one seat for every 30,778, a figure which becomes the unit of representation for the whole country. It means that provinces which have not increased proportionately as fast as Quebec will have fewer seats after the next redistribution, and those that have increased at a faster rate will have more. On this basis the representation in the House which meets next month, and in the House elected after redistribution, will be roughly as follows:

	Membership Present	After Next Election
Ontario	86	82
Quebec	65	65
Nova Scotia	18	16
New Brunswick	12	11
P. E. I.	4	3
Manitoba	10	10
Saskatchewan	7	12
Alberta	7	12
British Columbia	7	12
Yukon	1	1
	221	232

The West will therefore have 20 more seats after the next election, but as the Eastern Provinces will lose nine seats, the western provinces will make a real gain of 29. It is a vivid reminder that the centre of political gravity is shifting from Ontario.

The census of 1901 resulted in a loss of six seats to Ontario, two to Nova Scotia, one to New Brunswick, and one to Prince Edward Island. These provinces entered a formal protest and the Government submitted to the supreme court the question whether the four original provinces of confederation were exempt from any provision for decrease in their representation. The court decided that the B. N. A. act made the reduction legal and compulsory. It is quite likely that the Maritime Provinces will renew their protests and ask for a constitutional amendment to prevent any further diminution of their weight in the scales of Parliament. It will be a very delicate and difficult question, involving a change in Quebec and in the whole basis of representation. Any alteration would require the approval of all the provinces, and would have to be ratified by the Imperial Government.

THE SNAP ELECTION.

"Don't forget me" seems to be the meaning of Sir James Pliny Whitney's snap election. "I am afraid that I must do something at least unusual after Mr. Borden's spectacular success to remind the electors of the Province that we are still pretending to do business at the Toronto stand." That seems to be our Premier's humble acknowledgment and confession. He has been a little obscured in the prolonged intensity of the navy and reciprocity discussions. The educational blunders have, of course, been fairly continuous, the high-handed, confiscatory and unconstitutional legislation against certain private interests may yet get the Province into trouble, and the Farmers' Bank episode is full of reflection upon Sir James' stewardship. But it is rather omissions than transgressions that he has to acknowledge. Witness the matter of law reform. Sir James once talked of this, but what has he done? The inactivity in Northern Ontario may indeed be set down to negligence and the insolence of office; but the opposition to a logical rational development of the hydro-electric policy, and Sir James' refusal to consider the system of land values taxation, which has been making rapid headway in the Canadian West, are the outcome of prejudice and ingrained distrust of reform and progress. In many of his attitudes, from educational reaction to stand-pat on taxation, his ideas are on a level with the outlook of an old-established butler in an antiquated house.

Sir James may be a steady old servant, but the banner province of Canada needs a more up-to-date and active service than he seems disposed or able to give. The taxation question is becoming a most important one. Alberta, especially, has settled it to her advantage; one good reason why people migrate from Ontario to Winnipeg or to Edmonton or to Vancouver is that those cities have more modern systems of taxation than Ontario allows. If Sir James Whitney persists in his refusal even to look into the matter, he will lose the support of a progressive element which has supported him in the past.

Are the Ontario farmers content to "let well enough alone" in view of the census returns?

Ontario needs a back to the land movement, but the Hon. Jimmie Duff is not qualified to be its Moses or its Joshua.

In the past ten years the country has grown nearly four times faster than in the preceding ten years. But we are so accustomed to these wonders that some of us are not satisfied.

Mr. W. T. White is a financial associate of Mr. J. W. Flavell. When he comes to East Middlesex he might be able to tell the farmers why hogs have gone down, while bacon stays up.

Half the increase of population in Ontario has gone to Toronto, and half the increase in Quebec to Montreal. Population, like wealth, is healthier when it is distributed, and not lumped.

Mr. Page Croft, a Unionist M. P., says Canada rejected a proposal in which there was an enormous pecuniary gain to the whole agricultural community. But the opponents of reciprocity told the farmers a different story.

Nova Scotia shows a total increase of only 2,273, but the cities and leading towns had a growth of over 28,000. Rural Nova Scotia has actually gone behind. This is lamentable in a fertile province. Yet the farmers are told that their condition leaves nothing to be desired.

Ontario factory centres have grown largely by supplying western farmers. There are no more customers among Ontario farmers than ten years ago. A rural renaissance in this Province is a crying need. Nothing would have promoted this more than the opening up of a great market across the line.

The London Daily News reports that 1,657 vessels from foreign ports entered the port of London between June 25 and Aug. 26, of which 878 were British, 289 Swedish and Norwegian, 156 German and 110 Dutch. Not a single American ship arrived. The United States people have driven their own flag off the high seas by taxing the shipbuilding industry to death in the interests of the steel trust.

The British revenue for the half-year ending Sept. 30 is £73,028,721, compared with £61,415,872 in the year 1909, before the Lloyd George budget took effect. The new budget appears to be doing all that was expected of it by its author, though he has been favored by business prosperity. However, his opponents predicted that the budget would kill both the revenue and business.

TOO LAVISH DISPLAY.

"You observe," remarked the host, who was showing his distinguished foreign visitor around Newport, "that we Americans devote ourselves to pleasure, regardless of expense."
"I hardly put it that way," retorted the witty foreigner. "Rather you devote yourselves to expense regardless of pleasure."

MUST PLEASE MR. MONK, TOO.
[Winnipeg Tribune.]
But, although Mr. Borden will not be dependent on the Nationalist vote, he cannot afford to ignore his pre-election utterances as to the desirability of consulting the people about the naval policy. And if it is Monk who is to be a member of the new ministry, a referendum will have to be taken, for that is the course which Mr. Monk insisted upon and made his fight on.

AUTUMN IN THE GARDEN.
[Twenty Van.]
When the frosty kiss of autumn in the dark makes its mark
On the flowers, and the misty morning
Gives over fallen leaves;
Then my own garden, where the golden Sunlight of the year is now, rich and Deep, through the toll
Of a hundred years is mellow, rich and Deep, whispers in its sleep.

'Mid the crumpled beds of marigold
And dusty daisies, and where the box Borders with its glossy green the ancient waits.
To reach, a voice that talks
Of human hopes that bloom and wither here
Year by year—
Dreams of joy that lightened all the laboring hours,
Fading as the flowers.
Yet the whispered story does not deepen grief;
But relief
For the loneliness of sorrow seems to flow.
From the Long-Ago,
When I think of other lives that learned
like mine,
To reach, a voice that talks
And remember that the address of the fall
Comes alike to all.

What regrets, what longings for the lost were theirs!
And what prayers
For the silent strength that nerves us to endure
Things we cannot cure!
Facing up and down the garden where they
I have traced
All their well-worn paths of patience, till I find Comfort in my mind.

LIBERAL OLD BOYS.
[Winnipeg Free Press.]
Mr. Borden is not the only Conservative leader who was nurtured in Liberalism. Sir James Whitney belongs to a Liberal family, and began his career as a Liberal. Twenty-five years ago the hottest, wildest Liberal in Manitoba was one R. P. Roblin. The Liberals again intend to supply leaders for both Canadian parties.

AN 1804 DOLLAR IN CIRCULATION.
[Chicago Tribune.]
Somewhere in Chicago a silver dollar, valued by numismatists at $50, is waiting to be collected. It was stolen recently from the collection of Charles E. Rogers by workmen, who, Mr. Rogers has reason to believe, had no idea of its real worth.

The dollar is of the issue of 1804. In numismatic circles it ranks about as does the "Mona Lisa" among artists.
"I had some decorating done," said Mr. Rogers, "and they were a lot of men running in and out. The coin was in a small chest in the dining-room. I'm afraid some ignorant workman grabbed it, so it may not be genuine. The dealer went out and bought a drink with it."

THE COSSACK AND THE SAINT.
[London Globe.]
A Paris contemporary by way of illustration as to how some persons discharge their religious obligations relates a story of a Cossack who was overtaken by a terrible storm of thunder and lightning in his terror he prayed to the saints to save him and promised if only he once more reached his home he would sell his horse and the proceeds should be spent in candles in honor of the saints. The saint pleased with so generous an offer, stayed the storm and the Cossack reached home in safety.

This is how he discharged his vow. The next day he went to the market with a cock and a horse. His method of sale was this: He would only sell the two together, the horse at 30 kopecks (about 15 cents) and the cock at 200 rubles (about 20). After a time the Cossack found a purchaser on these terms and faithful to his vow the Cossack devoted 15 pence to the purchase of candles for the altar of his patron saint.

GAMEY SAYS WHITNEY MUST BE PROGRESSIVE
North Country Demands That Government Adopt New Policy.

Toronto, Oct. 15.—"The Government, I believe, will proclaim a forward and aggressive policy in regard to New Ontario," said R. Gamey, M. P. P., yesterday. "The Government must adopt such a policy. The north country is quite hopeful as to the outlook for the Conservative candidates in the northern ridings. As to the probability of his being a sub-junct minister, Mr. Gamey maintained the silence that he wrapped himself in ever since the question has been mooted."

DR. KENNEDY IS PRESIDENT

Western University Medical Alumni Association Elects Officers.

MANY DOCTORS HERE

Important Gathering of Medical Men Saw Clinics and Heard Interesting Addresses.

Several hundred medical men of Western Ontario journeyed to London yesterday to attend the annual meeting of the Western University Medical Alumni Association. This association was organized several years ago, and has done a great deal to hold together the graduates of the Western Medical College, forming a connecting link between them and the old school of their college days. In addition to the great impetus to deeper interest in the profession, which the annual clinic has given to the medical men of the west generally. Not only does the Alumni Association invite back to London once a year all its own members, but all the medical practitioners of Western Ontario are annually invited to be the guests of the Alumni Association at the annual meeting.

Officers Elected.
The first session of yesterday afternoon, held in the Auditorium, was devoted to the election of new officers as follows:
President—Dr. J. B. Kennedy, Wingham.
Vice-President—Dr. H. A. McCall, London.
Secretary-Treasurer—Dr. Spence, London.
Executive—Drs. Arnott, Spence and Weekes.

A Clinic Held.
At 3:30 p.m. a medical clinic was held by Dr. Hoover, of Western Reserve University, Cleveland, and his lecture and demonstrations were greatly appreciated by the physicians attending.

After an intermission for luncheon, which was served in Hyman Hall, an instructive and interesting paper on "The Surgery of the Stomach" was read by Dr. Armstrong, of McGill College, Montreal.
During the evening a theatre party was held for those of the visiting doctors who desired to attend Mantel's "Macbeth." Others who were not so

SO DREADFUL WAS THE SUFFERING FROM ITCHING PILES.

AFTER TWENTY YEARS OF PILE TORTURE RELIEF AND CURE CAME WITH

Dr. Chase's Ointment

You take no risk and you make no experiment when you use Dr. Chase's Ointment for piles. Many doctors still cling to the idea that nothing but an operation will effect a cure. But operations are expensive and dangerous, and often fail in their results. Some have been cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment after operations had failed. Dr. Chase's Ointment truly has a wonderful record as a cure for piles and all itching skin diseases. Here is a case which was reported recently: Mr. John P. Marshall, 14 Barnes road, St. Johns, Nfld., writes: "For upwards of twenty years I was troubled terribly with itching piles. I was so bad that I was obliged to lay up, unable to attend to business. I tried many treatments without benefit, until I accidentally read of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and found at last a cure by using this ointment. I only used one box and part of a second, and when I was completely cured, I have had no return of the piles. That was eighteen months ago, and, needless to say, I attribute this cure to Dr. Chase's Invaluable Ointment."

Many sufferers from piles have tried so many acres of treatments that they cannot believe that cure is possible. In order to convince the skeptical, we are always willing to send a sample box free to anyone who incloses a two-cent stamp to pay postage.

Peerless Peninsular
A DURABLE CAST-IRON RANGE WITH MODERN CONVENIENCES

You don't want to use a range as a step-ladder—not as the ordinary thing—but you do want a strong, well-built range. This picture is given here to show that the oven door—a weak spot in most ranges—is a firm, strong piece of construction in the Peninsular and it is typical of the whole make-up of this durable range.

Some people prefer a cast-iron range but want one or two features usually found only in steel ranges.

The Peerless
is designed for just such people.

It has the perfectly-fitting doors and parts, the firm, substantial body and the cozy, homelike appearance peculiar to cast-iron ranges.

At the same time it has an oven made partly of iron and partly of steel—an oven that will heat quickly and evenly all over.

It has a large oven, two inches deeper than any other range of the same size—just large enough to cook four pies at once.

It has a "drop down" door, which is not usual on a cast-iron range.

It may be had with a hot water reservoir and a steel warming closet with drop door.

The Part You Cannot See
These are all things that you can see—very important things, but not more so than the things you cannot see—the interior construction, which decides whether or not your pies will burn, whether your oven will be perfectly tight so as to keep out dust and smoke, whether it will wear.

These unseen points you can be sure of when you buy a Peninsular range.

Fifty years of building stoves—honest stoves—have behind every range that bears the name "Peninsular." That name says the materials are good—the fine arrangement is good—the oven is built to heat evenly—the range will wear.

There is a Peninsular range to suit every purse and to please every taste in range architecture.

"The Cost"
illustrates some of the more popular lines and explains why Peninsular ranges cost less in the long run than others. Don't buy a range before you read this book. It's free.

CHANGES ARE MADE IN THE GROUPING

Tankard and District Cup Clubs Placed Differently by the O. C. A.

TO PLAY AT INGERSOLL

Instead of London in the Series of Tankard Play—Scottish Curlers Coming.

Toronto, Oct. 18.—Changes in the grouping of the clubs in the Tankard and District Cup competitions and the institution of a friendly game competition with a loving cup named after Mr. J. S. Russell, the sponsor, were the most important matters transacted at the semi-annual meeting of the Ontario Curling Association at the Victoria Club yesterday morning and afternoon. Other matters of hardly less importance were the election of officers, the appointment of a committee to look after the Scottish curlers and the reference to the executive of the suggestion to charge a flat rate instead of 25 cents as a registration fee for each member of the various clubs in the association.

Play at Ingersoll.
These changes were made in the Tankard grouping:
Campbellford was taken out of Group 2 and put in Group 1; Stroud, a club admitted at the meeting, was added to Group 6, and H. J. Grasett was made umpire in place of W. A. Boyd; Bright and Plattville were placed in Group 8; play in Group 10 will be at Brampton instead of at Guelph; Palmerston, in Group 13, will be at Ingersoll instead of London, and the umpire will be C. H. Simmer.

In the District Cup competition, Weston was added to District 1, and Campbellford was taken out of District 2 and placed in 3. Stroud was placed in District 4, and play will be at Basile instead of Guelph. In District 6 Stratford was added. Petrolia was placed in District 8.

The executive committee's report dealt with the visit of the Royal Canadian Curling Club. They will visit Kingston, Peterboro, Toronto, Hamilton, Galt, London, and Detroit, and Messrs. J. W. Corcoran, C. A. Swabey, and J. A. Macfadden were appointed a committee to look after the visitors.

They will arrive at Halifax on Jan. 6 and will remain five days in the Maritime Provinces, three days in Quebec, six in Montreal, and three in Ottawa. They will visit Kingston on Jan. 22, and will be in Toronto on the 27th.

It was stated that the clubs in the association did not send in a complete list of their members, and Mr. Asseline suggested that a flat rate be charged instead of 25 cents registration fee for each member. The matter, after being discussed at some length, was referred to the executive committee.

The Loving Cup.
With the view of fostering and promoting the more general play of friendly games between the clubs forming the O. C. A., it was decided to institute a new competition, to be called the Russell Loving Cup, to be presented to the club playing the largest number of friendly curling games with the other clubs in the association, and with not less than two rinks, under the following regulations:

1. That not more than two games between any two clubs shall be counted in any season. 2. Matches played at bonapartes or tournaments for trophies of any kind shall not be counted. 3. The players shall be the ordinary rinks of the clubs competing, and as far as possible in regular rotation. 4. Returns of games shall be reported to the secretary of the association before the last day of March in each year, and the cup with the name of the winning club engraved thereon, shall be presented at the April meeting of each year.

The election of officers resulted as follows:
Patron—His Excellency the Duke of Connaught, Governor-General of Canada, etc.

Honorary President—The Hon. the Lieutenant Governor, Hon. J. M. Gibson.
President—C. W. Cartwright, Hamilton Thistles.
Vice-Presidents—T. H. Brunton, Newmarket; J. W. Corcoran, Toronto; Queen City Club.
Chaplain—Rev. W. L. McKay, Milton.
Secretary-Treasurer—J. A. Macfadden, 24 King street west, Toronto.

Executive Committee—C. Swabey, Toronto Club; W. C. Matthews, Toronto Granite Club; Geo. Dublin, Toronto Parkdale Club; C. Turnbull, Galt Granite Club; A. M. Cunningham, Hamilton Victoria Club; W. A. Boyd, Hamilton.
Standing Committee.
On Complaints and Appeals—J. W. Corcoran, Alex. Congdon, W. L. Dick.
On the Annual—James Hedley, C. Swabey, Rev. H. A. Macpherson.
Auditors—G. R. Hargrave, G. G. Eakins.

The Fort Garry.
The work of constructing the second of the Grand Trunk's system of palatial hotels has begun at Winnipeg. It has been definitely and finally decided that the Winnipeg hotel, which will be of the same style of architecture as the magnificent "Chateau Laurier" at Ottawa, shall be called "The Fort Garry."

Football of Old-Timers Was No Afternoon Tea

Reformers who insist that football is brutal don't know what brutality is. If we are to believe Philip Stubbs, a person who did business in the sixteenth century, Stubbs wrote a book, the title of which is "Anatomie of Abuses Current in Ye Realm of England."

In 1583, of football he says:
"Sometimes their noses gush with blood, sometimes their eyes start out, and sometimes they in one place and sometimes in another, but whosoever scapeth away the best goeth not scot free, but is either sore wounded, crazed, or bruised so as he dieth of it or else scapeth very hardly; and no marvel, for they have sleights to meet one betwixt two, to dash him against the heart with their elbows, to butt him under the short ribbes with their gripped fists and with their knees to catch him on the legs and plecth him on the necke, with a hundred such murdering devices."

"And hereof groweth envy, rancour, and malice, and sometimes brawling murder, homicide, and great effusion of blood as daily experience teacheth."

CONNAUGHT TO SEE
CANADIAN RUGBY

Duke Will Kick Off at Ottawa Game Saturday.

Ottawa, Oct. 17.—His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught has accepted an invitation from the Ottawa University Amateur Athletic Association to attend Saturday's football match at Varsity Oval between the Toronto Varsity and Ottawa College teams. The new Governor-General, accompanied by his royal highness, will occupy seats in a stand which is being built especially for them on the east side of the field. They will be accompanied by a military escort, and music will be furnished by the band of the Governor-General's Foot Guards. His royal highness will be invited to kick off the ball. This will be his first experience at a Canadian football game.

LONDON BEATING PARIS
AS CITY OF GAIETY

Americans Are Flocking to British in Preference to French Metropolis.

Manchester Guardian.
The chairman of one of the big London hotel companies, speaking at the annual meeting the other day, remarked that the past season had been a very good one for the hotels, and he added later that this was not only or mainly the effect of the coronation. The year generally had been a good one. Of course, the coronation was not an affair of a week only. It made the whole year different, and the glorious weather coming on the top of the feeling that it was a great year, made things very apparent, because Paris still has in the matter from a general point of view. It is one more sign of what has long been said by people who watch social ways, that London has of late years been replacing Paris to a great extent as a city of enjoyment.

The tendency is not yet perhaps very apparent, because Paris still has a kind of gaiety which London has not, and its cafes and restaurants still provide the most easily attainable way of "being abroad" and knowing it. But for the people, increasing in number every year, who will spend money and expect a lordly good time in return, London is coming to be the place. Paris, they feel, is changing. It is growing more of a commercial city. Frenchmen want to make the millions that they have so long seen other people spending, and so the place is falling into more dull and businesslike ways. That makes it tumble between two stools. It cannot beat London as a place of business, and yet in its new mood it is forgetting its business of pleasure. The streets that used to sparkle with fine horses and carriages are losing no little of their glitter. The result is that Americans come more and more to London. They are growing so numerous now that for some time it has been quite possible to go to dinners in private houses here where the hosts and guests made a completely American party. That would not have been remarkable in Paris at any time in the last thirty years, but it is still new enough here to be noticeable.

There are two kinds of bamboo used in building and cabinet making in the east—one having solid and the other hollow stems. The solid, seen in Japanese furniture, is much smaller than the hollow, but both belong to the same species. In the construction of bamboo houses no nails are used. The parts are bound together with lashings formed from the skin of bamboo itself.

Tattooing Crude and Artistic

Tattooing is universal in the South Sea Islands, and common among the North and South American Indians, the Dyaks, the Burmese, the Chinese and the Japanese. Its introduction to Europe was undoubtedly due to sailors, and among civilized western peoples it is practically confined to the seafaring class and to soldiers. We are familiar with the anchor, ships in full sail, and mermaids, and the transfixed hearts, female Christian names, and amorous mottoes of Tommy Atkins are quite as well known. Among the Polynesians tattooing probably reached the greatest perfection. In the Marquesa group, for example, men were tattooed all over, even the tips of the fingers and toes, and the crown of the head being covered with fantastic designs. As from three to six months were occupied by each separate operation, commencing at birth, a man must have attained the age of 30, at least, before the entire scheme of bodily decoration was completed. Among the Kabyles and Arabs of Algeria, children are tattooed by their mothers as a means of identification.

Probably the rudest form of tattooing is that in vogue among the aborigines of Australia and certain tribes of negroes. The method adopted by these races consists in cutting gashes on the skin, arranged in patterns, and then filling the scars. This mode, as opposed to the more common device of pricking with a needle, is practically confined to the black races. Among certain African tribes, notably the Kafirs, tattooing is an honor bestowed upon a warrior who has distinguished himself in war. A long incision is made in the thigh, which is then rubbed with clinders until sufficiently discolored. The Kafirs, tattooing is a kind of writing, but in Japan, where the art was early practiced, it is and was merely to take the place of clothing or other adornment, and only those parts of the body which are usually covered were tattooed. Workmen for the most part favored this substitute for clothing, such as runners, grooms, bearers and others who work in a semi-nude state. But now that proper clothing is compulsory in Japan, the practice has almost died out, and it, which is doubtful, the designs used ever possessed any special meaning. It is probably lost. Dr. Hanks, in 1835, said that a few years prior to this time there were, in Tokio alone, as many as 2,000 men tattooed. The head, neck, hand were never tattooed, and it was found only among the lower classes. Women were seldom marked in this way.

The usual objects represented were dragons, lions, battle scenes, girls, historical incidents and flowers. The colors employed were mainly black, which appeared blue, derived from Indian ink, and various shades of red, derived from caeciles, fixed firmly, four, eight, twelve, twenty or forty together, and arranged in rows on a piece of wood. The points of the needles were quite even, except when it was desired to produce light or dark shading; and a skilled workman would cover the whole back and breast of a full-grown man in one day with excellent pictures, elaborately shaded in various tones.

punctures, during the process, were not painful, and as soon as the operation was over the patient was bathed with hot water, again, the tattooing was done on the exposed parts of the body, and is largely in vogue among women. In above Luzon, have a style unlike any practiced in other parts of the world, consisting of a series of lines and curves, which ornament the hands, arms, breast. A favorite design is a picture of the sun as a number of concentric circles, on the back of the hand.

Doom of the Redman Forecasted by Figures

In the last four months, without a single birth being recorded, the Indian population of California has decreased in California for five years. For instance, in a tribe of 1,251 Mission Indians in 1905, according to the report of that year, there were 31 deaths and 21 births. In the same year among 615 Indians in Round Valley there were 18 deaths and 10 births. Among the Mission Indians, according to the report, there were 31 deaths and 35 births, this being one of the few groups where the birth rate was on the increase for several years.

Since 1905 the decline has been gradual, and the report of the state as a whole shows that Indians are dying much faster than they are being born. 20,976 in California. The Indian population of California, according to the 1910 census, was 20,976, of which more than 13,000 are on reservations. This number is about one-fifteenth of the total of Indians in the United States.

Tubercular diseases are the chief "cause of death" in the majority of cases, despite the fact that Uncle Sam has spent thousands of dollars to improve living conditions among the Indians and thus wipe out the white plague. Trachoma has been second on the list of diseases which has taken off the Indian, especially in the Southwestern States. The red man seems to be particularly susceptible to this disease, which affects the eye primarily and weakens the entire body. Often both trachoma and tuberculosis have to be fought in a single patient.

Callaghan on Piano Actions

Although the action is one of the most important things about a piano, a poor instrument will remain poor, even if it has the best action made.

In other words, the finest action obtainable, will not make a masterpiece out of a cheap piano, any more than a Knight engine will make a touring-car out of an ice wagon. MARTIN-ORME pianos are fitted with actions made by two of the oldest establishments in the Dominion. These two firms supply all the reputable piano-makers in Canada with their actions.

The makers of the MARTIN-ORME piano put THEIR OWN name on the action in every case, so that they will be held responsible should there be any cause for complaint.

The great secret about piano-actions is in the proper adjustment and careful regulation of the action by the people in the factory. In MARTIN-ORME pianos this is attended to by the head of the firm in person. It's one of those big little things that count.

WELSH GIRL TO EVANGELIZE RICH

Margaret Bevan Arrives at New York to Spread "Old-Fashioned Gospel."

POOR HAVE LESS NEED

Youthful Preacher Expects To Be Ordained and To Be Missionary To India.

New York, Oct. 17.—With a desire to preach "old-fashioned gospel" in America, and to help the many rich who, she believes, have a better chance than the poor to be good, 15-year-old Miss Margaret Bevan arrived on Saturday on the Battle of Liverpool. With Miss Bevan was her mother, Mrs. E. A. Bevan. When home the two live in Caerthilly, Wales.

Her clear cheeks, pink with animation, the slender little girl, wearing short dresses, and her brown hair hanging in a braid down her back, told some of the incidents of her remarkable life.

Became inspired to preach. "I haven't any kin who are specially religious. My father is a Jeweler. I have always been interested in church work of all denominations. Three years ago I was asked to read a paper before the Brotherhood, an organization like your Y. M. C. A."

"I started to read it, and I became so flushed with the subject that I threw down the paper and told them outright a few things about Christianity. They liked it, and I have been preaching ever since."

"I have talked in all parts of Wales, England and Scotland. I recognize no creed, and I have talked in all kinds of churches. I am still going to school in Wales. I hope to be ordained in a year or two and be sent as a missionary to India."

"In America I begin my tour Sunday night, when I preach in Scranton, Pa. I go as far west as Denver."

"I think so much of the Americans. An American who is a Christian is stronger than an Englishman of that faith, for the American has so many more temptations. I just believe in Christianity of the old kind, brotherhood, and all that. I am poor, but I like the rich. I think they have such a good chance to do good with their means. And so many of them do. They have such a chance to be Christians—I'm sorry that all of them are not."

TO LESSEN CRIME EXCLUDE UNDESIRABLES

Dr. Phelan, of Kingston, Makes Strong Statements at Convention.

[Canadian Press.] Dr. Daniel Phelan, surgeon of the Dominion Penitentiary, Kingston, Ont., assailed the low class of immigrants as "the curse of this country," in addressing the American prison congress today on the prevention of crime and insanity.

"As all men are fully forty-fifths hereditary," said Dr. Phelan, "the other fifth will depend upon circumstances, association, example, habit, moral training, and other external causes."

"It is therefore evident that each individual will live according to his slight variations, to the usual habits of thinking, feeling, and acting, as his ancestors. There may be on the surface sufficient propriety of conduct to conform to the general usages of society; his inborn nature may be concealed by a veneer, but underneath is the real man, with all his aversions to be employed in every American city."

"Therefore, if we desire to lessen crime, insanity, and other forms of degeneracy, we should hesitate to accept the low class of emigrants from foreign and other sources, without due care and consideration. They are the curse of the country."

Dr. Phelan stated that fully 1 per cent of the population is either insane, defective, from birth, and that these conditions are increasing at a rate much faster than the rate of the increase of population.

INJURED MAN UNABLE TO REMEMBER ADDRESS

Mr. William Morrison Hurt in an Accident on Talbot Street.

Mr. William Morrison, a driver for the Dymott-Baker Company, met with an accident on Talbot street Monday afternoon that resulted in a temporary lapse of memory that left the victim without knowledge of his name or address.

While Mr. Morrison is still unable to explain the accident himself, it was stated by assistants that he was driving along Talbot street near Dundas, when another rig drew suddenly in front of him. He pulled up his team so quickly that he was shaken from his seat, and alighted on his head on the pavement. Morrison was rendered unconscious, and remained in that condition for some time in a store into which he was carried.

In the meantime another employee of the company arrived on the scene to take charge of the horse, and identified the man, who, although recovered, could not tell who he was. Later, however, he gave his address as 28 Elgin street, and was driven to his home by Dr. J. B. Campbell, who attended him.

BILL OF $208,093

City Architect Collected Only $60,000 on City Hall Job.

[Canadian Press.] Toronto, Oct. 17.—Architect E. J. Lennox, who is somewhat famous as the man who built the Toronto city hall, is suing the city for his fees, and the case is on before Justice Latchford and jury today. Mr. Lennox's total bill for drawing plans, erecting, supervising work, etc., is $208,093. He has received on account some $60,000. The city had some difficulty in getting the architect's bill, and the matter was somewhat more lively than was originally called for.

The city buildings have cost already $1,125,000 and took fifteen years to construct.

SAYS MAN WILL FLY LIKE BIRDS

Wilbur Wright Agrees It May Take Years, But It Is Certain.

AIR KING A PROPHET

Experiments by Brothers to Show How to Stay Without Effort.

New York, Oct. 17.—Wilbur Wright, whose brothers, Orville and Louis, are about to begin experiments on the North Carolina coast with a new type of flying machine, today discussed the experiments freely.

"There is no secret about this new machine," he said. "It is simply a development of all that we have learned by study of flying and experiments in flying. Anybody who has seen the buzzard fly knows that there is a method by which man may sustain himself in the air once he gets the hang of it."

"What a bird can do, a man can do, as Darius Green said. Or that there is not the slightest doubt. The only difference is that nature provided the bird with the means to stay in the air without exertion, while man has got to study it all out."

May Take Years. "It may take years to accomplish this result. Perhaps we are all wrong in thinking that we have solved the problem. We will not know until we have given a practical test to our ideas. That is what my brothers have gone to North Carolina for. The world will know the result almost as soon as we will."

"There seems to be a great curiosity about whether we expect to use a motor or not. Well, at the start, we don't expect to use one. The problem is to find out whether, once we are in the air, we can stay there for an indefinite period. Birds can do it. Why cannot man?"

"At the same time, it must be remembered that birds cannot rise from the ground without exertion. They keep their wings until they reach a certain height. Then they stop working and sail along without further effort."

"If we can start a machine from a great height maybe we can keep it in the air without a motor for an indefinite period. But if we have to start from the ground we will have to have some power to get us up. Once up we can shut off the power and stay up as long as we like. That is, if our machine proves successful."

Whether we use a biplane or a monoplane really makes no difference, but I will say that in the experiments we are about to start we will use a machine of the biplane type. A biplane enables us to take advantage of the slow currents."

We are doing in these experiments what we did with our original machine, trying to work out the scientific side. The practical, material side will take care of itself. It may take years for man to fly like the birds, but there is no slightest doubt in the world that he will ultimately achieve it."

Working Properly. Because There is Wind in It. Use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to Set It Going Again. A Trial Package Free.

The doctors call it flatulency, but unprofessional folks know it as "wind on the stomach," and most distressing of all state things it is. It is a sign of a serious condition of this great motor organ. Always annoying and painful in the extreme, at times often leading to bad and fatal results. The stomach embarrassed and hampered with wind cannot take care of its food properly and indigestion follows, and this in turn leads to all the troubles of the system.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not alone intended for the sick, but well folks as well, for the person who craves hearty foods and wants to eat heartily and run the risk of having indigestion and all the troubles that follow. They act like a charm and make eating and digestion a delightful and pleasant thing. They keep the stomach active and energetic and able and willing to do extra work without special labor or effort. Don't forget this. Well people are often neglected, but the Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have them in mind. A free trial package will be sent to anyone who wants to know what they are, how they look and taste, before beginning treatment with them. After they get to the drug store and see them everywhere, here or at home, they are 50 cents a box, and by getting them at home you will save money. Your doctor will prescribe them; they say there are 40,000 doctors using them, but when you know what the matter is, you yourself, why go to the expense of a prescription? For free trial package address F. A. Stuart Company, 150 Stuart Building, Marshall, Mich.

[Canadian Press.] Toronto, Oct. 17.—Acting for Win Dawson, Lee Sayer, of Ottawa, applying to the court for the return of the manuscript of the life of William Lyon Mackenzie, held by Morang & Co., publishers, and which the author was paid $200 for writing the book, but was not satisfied when Morang refused publication. There is talk of appeal to the privy council, the chief justice, at the request of Morang's solicitor having motion enlarged.

AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Mrs. Schwartz Was Very Weak—Vino! Made Her Strong.

When we tell you that VINO! is the best remedy in all our large stock for making weak people strong and vigorous, we are only telling you what has been proved hundreds of times.

For instance, Mrs. Y. F. Schwartz, New York city, says: "I was suffering from profound weakness following a long illness, and for more than a month I could not gain strength as I should."

"I then determined to give VINO! a chance to help me, and it is most satisfactory. My strength has been built up, and I know that VINO! has been of great benefit to me."

"If you are weak and run-down from any cause, let VINO! do your bidding. It will build you up and make you strong. We guarantee that it will—if it does not we give back your money. Try VINO! today."

War is to be declared between the two countries on Oct. 28, on which day their respective main armies will be at Brantford and Toronto. They will be expected to come together along the Dundas Valley.

MR. MARSHALL MUST FACE THE CHARGES

London Free Press Tells of Alleged Wide Distribution of Money in East Elgin.

The London Free Press of this morning says:
St. Thomas, Oct. 17.—The election of Mr. Marshall, M. P. for the east riding, will be protested.
The executive committee of the London Free Press has decided to bring an inquiry into the conduct of Mr. Marshall's campaign.
The sum of $15,000 in the sum estimated that Mr. Marshall and his friends have spent in the riding, and the townships of Yarmouth and Barham appear to have been considerably "over the money" limit. It is alleged that Mr. Marshall has given money to voters in the riding.
The price of votes, according to the London Free Press, is $50 each.
Gifts and loans, so it is charged, were scattered broadcast, and a lavish hand filled the pockets of the voters with the coin of the realm.
No official proceeding has yet been decided on the executive.
But there is no knowing what may happen during the week.
The local Liberal organ declares that the executive have set before them a task which they are determined that the whole affair shall be cleared up. What form of proceedure the executive will determine upon has not yet been disclosed.

MAY BURN LEAVES

Investigative Council Decides Not to Strictly Enforce Present By-law.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ingersoll, Oct. 17.—At a regular meeting of the town council held last night, the question of burning leaves on the streets came up and caused considerable discussion. The mayor had given orders to the police that the by-law preventing the burning of leaves in the street should be enforced. The final outcome of last night's meeting was that the by-law should not be strictly enforced, and the citizens would not be interfered with as has been the case in the past.
A motion was put that $200 be appropriated for the purchase of new wedge scales for the market.
At the opening meeting of the Anglo-American Young People's Association

SIX SMALL CHILDREN AND MOTHER DESITUTE

J. Cross, of This City, Has Been Committed to Jail at Goderich for Theft.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Exeter, Oct. 17.—J. Cross, of London, formerly caretaker of the Exeter Cemetery, has been sent to the Goderich jail, after being given an examination by Magistrate Kay on a charge of having misappropriated $38 belonging to the cemetery people. Bail was fixed at $500, but Cross was unable to raise the amount. He was arrested in London by Constable Elliott, and brought back here. Cross has always borne an excellent reputation here, and his friends state that if he took the money it was because his wife and some of his little children were ill and he had not the money to provide them with necessaries. Cross has six small children, in London, and his wife is still there. She is in poor health.

Local authorities have investigated the case, and found Mrs. Cross and her little children living in the southern part of the city. As a result of what has happened to Cross, who was employed at the C. P. R. as a laborer, they are in bad shape. The Children's Aid and church workers have interested themselves in the case and have undertaken to see that the family are not in want.

they found him dead. Mr. Scarr was one of the pioneer residents of Maryboro Township, but had lived retired

KNOWS NOW

Doctor Was Fooled by His Own Case
for a Time.

It's easy to understand how ordinary people get fooled by tea and coffee when doctors themselves sometimes forget the facts.
A physician speaks of his own experience:

"I had used tea and coffee for years and really did not exactly believe it was injuring me, although I had palpitation of the heart every day.

"Finally, one day, a severe and almost fatal attack of heart trouble frightened me, and I gave up both tea and coffee, using Postum instead, and since that time I have had absolutely no heart palpitation except on one or two occasions when I tried coffee, which caused severe irritation and proved to me that I must let it alone.

"When we began using Postum it seemed weak—that was because we did not make it according to directions—but now we put a little bit of the butter in the pot when boiling and allow the Postum to boil for 15 minutes which gives it the proper rich flavor and the deep brown color.

"I have advised a great many of my friends and patients to leave off tea and coffee and drink Postum. In fact, I daily give this advice." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windso, Ont.

Many thousands of physicians use Postum in place of tea and coffee in their own homes and prescribe it to patients. There's a reason.

A remarkable book, "The Road to Wellville," can be found in packages.

Cosing Company as party plaintiffs to this action.
Judgment: I agree with the local judge. Rule 2063 is a statutory exception to the right of the present plaintiff to use the name of his partners. He may well have had authority to use the name when he instituted the suit, but the rule requires more than an authority to use the name when it is sought to add a party plaintiff to a pending action. It requires his written consent. For reasons suggested upon the argument the plaintiff may in the end find his position stronger if he accepts the suggestion made by the local judge and adds Munne as a defendant and makes the necessary amendment. The permission may, if desired, be included in this order. Appeal dismissed. Costs to defendant in any event.

A NEW EXCLUSIVE
STORE FOR LADIES

The old-established and well-known Robinson Corset and Costume Company have made some startling departures in their methods of doing business, and already this enterprise is bearing good fruit.

Under their new name of "Finch Fashions" they are opening a display parlor at 286 Dundas street, adjoining their workrooms, and a few doors east of Wellington street, for the exclusive display of their new season's models in ladies' outerwear, skirts, suits, coats and dresses and Corsette Corsets.
The merits of these are so well known that they scarcely need repeating. The fact that they offer an almost unlimited choice of styles and materials, that all their garments are bench tailored and made to customers' own measures, should prove sufficient inducement for every lady to call.

A Colleen made-to-measure corset is a luxury no well-dressed lady can really afford to be without. When we add that the prices are little, if any, above those of the ordinary ready-made goods, we think it will be evident that the opening of such a store will supply a long-felt want.

A grand opening show will take place on Saturday, Oct. 21, to which the public are invited.

A fuller announcement will be made.

MAKE SUNKEN GARDEN
OF UNSIGHTLY PIT

One Means of Doing Away With Eyesore in the North End of City.

It has been suggested that the An-tislithic gravel pit, through which Cromwell street runs, be turned into a sunken garden and park.
There is a great deal of dispute going on in the council as to whether or not the city should force Mr. Antislithic to restore the roadway at a cost of $6,300.

It is understood that Mr. Antislithic will give the land for a very small sum provided the city will use it for a park.

Many of the aldermen are favorable to that. The city could then build the road and make an excellent park for the north end.

"The idea is a good one, and I think very practicable," said Ald. Donnelly.
"It would improve the property in that section a very great deal. At the present time the place is an eyesore."

"I think the scheme would work out all right," said Ald. Tuncock.

"It looks like a good scheme to me,"
said Ald. F. G. Mitchell.

Others are considering the proposition and it is expected that something will come out of it.

BRAKEMAN KILLED

His Foot Caught in a Frog.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Elbert Herbert was held this after-

$10 FOUNTAIN
PEN FOR $1.25

Regular $2.50 to $10 Value For $1.25, at Guillemont's Drug Store.

The highest fountain pen sale ever placed before the people of London started today at the drug store of E.
L. Guillemont, 404 Richmond street.
Mr. Guillemont has made arrangements for showing some 150 different styles of the Celebrated Wirth & Co.
pens, valued at from $2.50 to $10, and about 20,000 of these pens will go on sale at the price of $1.25 each. In this magnificent assortment there are pearl-handled, sterling silver mounted, gold mounted, businessmen's pens and many other attractive designs.

The average person generally takes it for granted that unless he pays $5, $6, or more, for a fountain pen he is not making a good investment. This theory is given a rule jolt at this mammoth sale, during which a guarantee for one year accompanies each and every sale. Furthermore, purchasers are told that if they are not satisfied they can have their money refunded any time during the sale, or the pen may be exchanged for any other model or design. This sale will afford an excellent opportunity to purchase a most acceptable Christmas gift suitable for any person at a price within the reach of all.

The south window of the Guillemont store has been given over entirely to the display of these pens, and there will undoubtedly be a rush, the sale will last for several days.

Watch The Advertiser tomorrow for a special announcement concerning the sale.

of a prosperous and growing factory which has 95 horsepower installed in electric motors of various sizes.

The motors supply power of the highest efficiency at the minimum cost.

"We are well pleased with our intallation," adds the manager, "and can cheerfully recommend electric power for manufacturing

COUPLE HANDED
HUNTING LICENSE

Presented It to Preacher and
Were Sent Back to City Clerk.

[Canadian Press.]
Quincy, Mass., Oct. 18.—Aaron Sigelman and Miss Julia Bernstein had joined hands and were about to be pronounced man and wife last night when the clergyman glanced over the license. Then he noticed for the first time that the license permitted Sigelman to hunt deer, but said nothing regarding marriage.

The trate couple immediately departed for the headquarters of the city clerk in Boston, where the license had been procured to demand an explanation. The clerk explained by telephone to the clergyman that Sigelman had gone to the desk where hunting licenses are issued and had not mentioned marriage.

MUNHIR PASHA
LOSES COMMAND

Condition of Turkish Army Near Tripoli is Grave.

[Canadian Press.]
Rome, Oct. 18.—Authoritative reports from the Turkish camp at Tripoli indicate a graver condition of affairs. Munhir Pasha, it is said, has been obliged to abandon the command of the troops, and his place has been taken by Colonel Muech Bey. The latter opposes the plan of a majority of the troops to cross the Tunis frontier. Several soldiers who attempted to desert have been shot.

The ports of a new naval action on the Albanian coast is officially denied.

TURK FLEET MAY FIGHT.

[Canadian Press.]
Vienna, Oct. 18.—A dispatch from Constantinople says that the Turkish fleet left the Bosphorus under orders to protect certain reports, and, should the occasion arise, to engage the Italian ships.

Italy's proceedings in the Aegean Sea, it is thought in Constantinople, are intended to force Turkey to accept the loss of Tripoli and to enter into negotiations for peace.
