D'ANNUNZIO'S TROOPS PLAN TO DESTROY FIUME IF DRIVEN TO SURRENDER BY GOVT. FORCES

Italy Is Throwing a Naval and Military Cordon About City —Food Supplies Are Reported To Be Running Low and All Sources of Stocks Are Being Blocked.

Paris, Sept. 18.—Italy is throwing a naval and military cordon about the city of Fiume, which is still held by Capt. Gabriele d'Annunzio's forces. Food supplies are reported to be low, and an effort is being made to close all avenues by which stores can be rushed into the city, and thus to force the surrender of the troops holding the place.

Advices received here indicate that Capt. d'Annunzio's men have entrenched themselves about the city and intend to defend it against any attack which may be made. In the event it is found impossible to hold Fiume, it is said, plans have been laid to destroy the city.

Gen. Badoglio, deputy chief of staff of the Italian army, is in Fiume, and has issued a proclamation, calling upon the d'Annunzio troops to return to their units. Some are said to have left the city. Gen. Diaz, commander-in-chief of the Italian army, has been recalled from his vacation, and has been in conference at Rome with King Victor Emmanuel and Premier Nitti.

All dispatches relating to the situation at Fiume are being subjected to rigorous censorship by the Italian Government, but it is reported that Rear-Admiral Casamova, who landed at Fiume on Tuesday to restore order, is under virtual arrest there.

IMPASSIONED APPEAL IS MADE BY D'ANNUNZIO TO PEOPLE OF FIUME

Rome, Sunday, Sept. 18.—"I, a war volunteer, and a mutilated fighter, appeal to Victor Hugo's France, to Milton's England, and Lincoln's America, and, speaking as an interpreter of the valorous sentiments of the whole Italian people, proclaim the annexation of Fiume to Italy," said Capt. Gabriele D'Annunzio, speaking to an immense throng the day his "irregular" forces marched into Fiume, according to reports reaching this city.

Capt. D'Annunzio, who is reported to have been quite ill and suffering a high fever when he reached Fiume, went to the commander's palace, being borne along by a crowd that seemed crazed with patriotic fervor. After entering the palace, he was asked to speak and at once went to the balcony overlooking the crowd.

"I am so ill that I will say but a few words," he began, with a simple gesture. "In the present mad, cowardly world there is one pure thing—our love for Fiume. Fiume stands like a lighthouse over the sea of degradation. People of Fiume, do you confirm your vote of October 30 last, when you decided for annexation to Italy?"

Up from the crowd came a tremendous shout of "Yes."

Unfurled Flag of Trieste.

Capt. D'Annunzio then unfurled the tri-colored flag of Trieste, which he bore with him throughout the war, and which was consecrated in Rome, pressing it to his lips while the people responded with wild cheers.

Capt. D'Annunzio has a force of more than 10,000 men, which has occupied the line separating Fiume from Jugo-Slav territory. This line has been strongly fortified. An immediate inventory of the contents of warehouses was ordered, and it was found there was a lack of meat and vegetables, but great quantities of wheat, flour, rice and sugar, which may afford sustenance for the city should it be blockaded.

Girls Welcome Soldiers.

Stirring scenes occurred when D'Annunzio troops marched into Fiume. When the first motor lorries bearing the soldiers made their appearance they were surrounded by crowds, girls springing on the lorries and on armored motor cars, and decorating them with flowers and green branches. It took an hour for the column to make its way to Plaza Dante in the centre of the city. There the troops were welcomed by Dr. Grossich, president of the Fiume National Council.

"You have by your action achieved what neither the present nor any past government could do," he exclaimed amid applause. Now Fiume is definitely annexed to Italy. Fiume is now a sister to other Italian cities. Italy is in command here now."

Dr. Antonio Vio, mayor of Fiume, greeted Capt. Annunzio, and warned the people against "mischief makers" who, he declared, would not fail to create trouble." During the whole day the city remained in a state of feverish joy.

EX-CROWN PRINCE OF GERMANY REPORTED TO HAVE RETURNED HOME

Rumor to that Effect Reaches Paris by Way of Zurich.

Paris, Sept. 18.—A rumor has again reached Paris by way of Zurich that former Crown Prince Frederick William of Germany has returned to his native country.

Reports that the former Crown Prince of Germany had escaped from Holland became current late in June, it being rumored he had managed to reach German soil, but it was announced officially in a few days that he was still in Holland. There were many reports to the effect he did spend at least some time in Germany at that period, visiting Holland among other places. On July 9 another report became general to the effect that he had returned to Germany and was preparing for a monarchist coup d'etat. At that time it was said that he visited his wife, but hastened back to Holland. This report, however, was never confirmed.

U. S. ATTORNEY-GENERAL SAYS DATA AGAINST "BIG FIVE" COMPLETE

Declares Evidence Collected Will Astound People of United States.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 18.—Evidence that will warrant and sustain the indictment of the combination of packers known as the "Big Five," will be presented to a grand jury this week, United States Attorney-General Palmer announced here at a conference of state and federal officials called by Gov. Smith to consider the cost of living problem. "There never was before in any government agency," said Mr. Palmer, "so ample a collection of data bearing upon the activities of this giant as there is today. When it is laid before a jury the wrath of the American people will compel a verdict of conviction. The story will amaze America."

The federal attorney-general, in discussing the high cost of living and the activities of the department of justice, said that the campaign would succeed.

Picking Plums

And There Are Many Worth While in Advertiser's Puzzle "Pie"---Get Your Chart and Start Now.

Once upon a time there was a young chap named Jack Horner, who made a profitable thing out of picking plums out of a Christmas pie. He sat off in a corner and did not bother about what other people were doing. Jack Horner was getting his reward.

There will be a considerable number of Jack Horners who will pick the plums out of the puzzle "pie" being offered by The Advertiser. This "pie" is worth more than $2,700, and in it one big plum of $864. Not only is it original, but there is no catch to it. Skill and a reasonable amount of perseverance will put a contestant in a position to capture $864, or one of the 50 other plums, ranging in value up to $512.

Like little Jack Horner, the successful candidates will be found off in corners these cool fall evenings, figuring out how many circles are on the chart.

Even though you can't start at once to solve the puzzle, lay it aside and pick it up at your leisure. You will find it just as inviting as many puzzles you have tried to put together, with no prize to win for solving them.

It should be remembered that whole prizes will be awarded, so that those who win can feel sure they will not have to divide their prizes with other contestants. This makes it possible for anyone to win up to $864 merely for solving the puzzle and paying a subscription for The Advertiser.

There is no special time when a solution has to be submitted, neither is there anything to be gained by delaying your solution. But neither early or late filing has anything to do with winning the prize itself. This is a contest in which everybody has a chance to win, with nothing to lose, as every cent is paid by contestants, applied on their subscriptions to The Advertiser at regular subscription rates.

PRICES WILL BE CUT BY DRASTIC ACTION OF BOARD

Judge Robson Declares That Profits Will Be Regulated.

NO MORE FANCY BACONS

All Necessities Will Come Under Control of Board With Power to Prosecute.

Winnipeg, Sept. 17.—Judge H. A. Robson, chairman of the board of commerce, declared yesterday that drastic action cutting down the cost of necessaries will be taken by the board of commerce just as soon as the evidence at the different probes have been taken. No advances on necessaries will be tolerated, he said. The board aims to prohibit the sale of all fancy bacons. The retailer who makes a profit in excess of one cent per pound on any sale of sugar is liable to prosecution. This applies to Winnipeg dealers and is not limited to the east, Mr. Robson says.

Order To Be Definite.

Regulations covering all packing plants, and including such products as butter, eggs, cured meats and cold storage products in general will be drafted shortly. The order will be very definite, Mr. Robson declared. The board will deal with all the necessaries of life, including boots and clothing. Mr. Robson said. Prosecution will be made in every case where there is violation of the set profit by dealers. The board itself may impose the fine or institute criminal proceedings against the guilty parties.

Will Deal With All.

Mr. Robson was not ready to give an outline of the provisions to be made for checking up of violations of the board's orders, but declared that every complaint brought to the board would be fully investigated and dealt with immediately and to the full extent of the law.

Cost of living probes are about to be instituted in Calgary, Edmonton and Regina, Mr. Robson said.

Judge Robson left last night for Toronto, where the commission will open a formal probe into the cost of living on Tuesday morning next. He also announced that it may be necessary to go on from there to Montreal.

CHURCH OF ENGLAND WILL LEND SUPPORT TO GET GRATUITIES

Resolution Calls For Aid to Returned Soldiers Compatible With Country's Interest.

Ottawa, Sept. 17.—"Even as late as 1912 or 1911 in our own country, in the Maritime Provinces, machine guns were used against the workers in an endeavor to resist the rise of trades unionism," said President Tom Moore, illustrating in an address before the Provincial Synod of Ontario the hard and steady fight which labor had had to wage in the evolution of the modern labor movement. The session this evening in Lauder Hall was given over to discussion of industrial questions, addresses being given by C. A. Magrath, Dominion fuel controller, by Bishop Roper of Ottawa, and by Very Rev. Dean L. N. Tucker of London, prolocutor in addition to the address by Mr. Moore.

An important resolution passed at the afternoon session of the synod pledged the support of the Church of England in Ontario to the returned soldiers in securing the largest gratuity compatible with the welfare and interest of the country as a whole.

The resolution was moved by Capt. (Rev.) E. Appleyard, M.A., M.C., of Woodstock, and was seconded by Ven. Archdeacon McIntosh of Guelph, both returned chaplains. It declared that the church would support the right of the returned men to the largest measure of assistance through gratuity grants possible without endangering the interest and well-being of the Dominion at large.

Representatives to the provincial council of the church were selected as follows:

Diocese of Huron—Very Rev. Dean Tucker, Rev. J. W. J. Andrew, Mr. Matthew Wilson, K.C., and Col. W. F. Cochshutt.

Diocese of Niagara—Very Rev. Dean Owen, Ven. Archdeacon Forneret, Mr. George A. Coppley and E. T. Lightbourne.

MANITOBA MAKES 6,000,000 ACRES OF UNIMPROVED LANDS AVAILABLE FOR USE OF RETURNED SOLDIERS

Greatest Move Made Yet by Western Province for the Re-Establishment of Veterans Into Civil Life—Value of Lands On Public Accounts Is Placed at $13,000,000.

Winnipeg, Sept. 17.—By an order-in-council passed yesterday, acting Premier Hon. Edward Brown and the provincial cabinet placed 6,000,000 acres of unimproved farming lands on the market for returned soldiers. This is the greatest move made by the government up to the present time for the re-establishment of returned men. The order in-council provides for the establishment of an arbitration board to determine the price the province shall receive for its land. George A. Metcalfe, administrator of succession duties for the Provincial Government, will act as arbitrator for the Province of Manitoba.

The Federal Government will also name a member of the arbitration board. The land which has been thrown open is all unimproved, much of it suitable for farming. The land is known at the present time as provincial school lands. The value placed on it in the public accounts of 1918 is $13,000,000.

Kaiser Portrait Gone, So Pupils In Berlin Strike

Berlin, Sept. 18.—Pupils of the grammar school in Griefswald have struck because the portraits of the former kaiser and popular army leaders were removed from the schoolrooms in the vacation season. They sent a telegram to the minister of education giving as a provision of their return to school and pleaded guilty.

"I will promise your honor," said the attorney, "that if you will deal leniently with my client, he will hereafter permit no undersized cars in his garage."

"On that condition I will suspend sentence," said the court

MINE WORKERS HAVE NOT YET FORMULATED SCALE OF INCREASES

Committees Finding Classification of New Schedules a Real Problem.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 18.—Extent of the wage increase to be demanded by the United Mine Workers' of America in the conference with the operators of the central competitive district at Buffalo September 25 has not yet been formulated by the scale committee of the association, but it will probably amount to a sixty per cent raise. This demand, applying to miners of bituminous coal corresponds to the demands formulated at the recent tri-district convention of the anthracite miners, which have been indorsed by the convention for submission to the anthracite operators.

The scale committee of the association consisting of the presidents of the district organizations, and the international officers, met last night, but the session was entirely devoted to cataloguing and placing in order the mass of resolutions from the local organizations relating to wages, hours of labor, and conditions of employment covered by the general classification of wage scale matters. The formulation of the actual scale demands will be a complicated problem.

RENNER FORCED TO EXPLAIN HIS EYES TO WEST STATEMENT

Austrian Minister Predicts Return of Strength To National Finances.

Vienna, Sept. 18.—During the course of a conference with representatives of the provincial governments, the Austrian minister of finance, Josef Schumpeter, told them he hoped that within three or four years the equilibrium of the budget would be restored, without bankruptcy, conversion of loans or additional taxation. Chancellor Renner's "eyes to the west" remark has caused such a widespread challenge that he has been impelled to explain that he did not mean that Austria should turn to France to the exclusion of Germany, but that Austria's hope lay westward rather than to the Slavic countries.

Thomas Drouillard, a garage owner of Ecorse, was before Circuit Judge Jayne, Wednesday on complaint of Game Warden Charles Daniel that he had been found with undersized fish in his possession.

Drouillard, on advice of his attorney, Ignatius Salliotte, withdrew his plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty.

Girl Under Oath Accuses Official

Pontiac Road Commissioner Assails Vice Testimony.

Pontiac, Mich., Sept. 18.—Fifteen-year-old Virginia Stockwell Wednesday afternoon testified against Robert Garner, county road commissioner, accused of a serious offence against her.

The child adhered to her story as told the officers prior to Garner's arrest, outlining in detail her alleged stay of several nights in Garner's apartments during the absence of his wife at a church conference. An effort by the defence to establish similar escapades before and since the alleged Garner incident was barred by the court.

The girl declares she stayed in Garner's rooms with another girl, and that with Garner on several occasions was Gus Tarion, now awaiting sentence on a similar charge.

She said on one occasion after she and the other girl had retired Garner called up and told them to put on dresses belonging to his wife and meet him at a restaurant for supper.

Sitting with Garner in court are his wife and aged parents.

GIRL OF LESS THAN 15 YEARS MARRIED HERE ON AUGUST 30

Residents Say They Will Draw Attention of Children's Aid Society.

MARRIED AT PARSONAGE

Minister Says License Was in Order and He Accepted It.

Visitors to The Advertiser this morning announced their intention of drawing the attention of Secretary W. E. Kelly of the Children's Aid Society, to the circumstances surrounding a wedding which was solemnized at the First Methodist parsonage on August 30th by Rev. Dr. R. G. Peever, the reason for the agitation being that the bride was a child of 14 years, 4½ months of age.

In order to be certain as to the truth of this allegation, the birth register at the city hall was searched and it was found that the girl was born on April 14, 1905. The age of the young man was not ascertained, as he does not belong to London, but he is said to be considerably under 21 years.

Mr. Kelly was out of the city today, and inquiries in his department brought the reply that no one had entered complaint concerning the wedding up to this date.

Some mystery surrounds the ceremony, due to the reluctance of those who know to publish the facts. The parents of the girl, when approached, refused to give any particulars, the father hinting that the girl was of age, but declining to state her exact years.

Dr. Peever, when called, admitted marrying the couple on the date stated, but declared that the marriage license was in order. He refused to say who issued the license, referring the reporter to the city records. There the name of the issuer is not on file, having been sent to the provincial registrar in Toronto, but the license number is given as C67899.

Dr. Peever stated that he had no reason to doubt that the youth and girl were of an age to be married, and had not required from them the written consent of parents. Report has it that another minister, who had been approached previously, had refused to consider conducting the ceremony because he felt certain something was wrong.

The girl is well known to neighbors, and her marriage has caused a great deal of comment.

Paris Newspapers See Possibility of Such a Move.

Some journals anticipate a virtual dissolution of the conference, the work of which may be succeeded by negotiations between the different foreign offices.

MASKED BANDITS BIND MAIL CLERKS ON OCEAN LIMITED AND GET $75,000 IN SILVER

Five Men Enter Car Near Harlaka, Que., Overpower Railway Employees and Secure Valuable Shipment en Route From Montreal to Halifax.

Quebec, Sept. 18.—Five masked men bound and gagged the mail clerks on the Ocean Limited, Canadian National Railway, near Harlaka, early this morning, and robbed the mail car of $75,000 in silver, which had been shipped from Montreal for Halifax.

The Ocean Limited does not stop after she leaves Levis until Harlaka is reached. At Harlaka the train had barely pulled out, according to the mail clerk foreman, when the door of the mail car was crashed in, and the five masked men, pointing automatics into the faces of the mail crew, shouted the dramatic and businesslike "Hands up!"

The bandits quickly bound and gagged the clerks, then made a dash to the bags containing the money.

Made For U. S. Border.

At St. Thomas the bandits escaped as the train slowed down. It is believed that they had an automobile hidden in the bushes. It is thought that they made for the United States border and were expected to attempt to enter Maine.

No one noticed anything wrong on the train at St. Thomas, and it was only at Cape Ignace, the next stop, that the conductor of the train passing along the platform of the station, grew suspicious about quiet in the mail van. Making an investigation, he found the back door of the car splintered and the five clerks securely tied together. One of the clerks, E. Rene, was found to be suffering from nervous shock from his experience.

Posses Organized.

Posses have been organized and are scouring the country in the neighborhood of St. Thomas and Cape Ignace.

The distance between Levis and Harlaka is about 20 miles, most of it uphill, so that the train generally takes about three-quarters of an hour to make the trip. The bandits boarded the Ocean Limited at Montreal. The train reaches Levis about midnight, and the bandits were able to effect their robbery and escape entirely in the darkness.

The following statement was given to the Canadian Press at 10 o'clock this morning at the postmaster's office here:

"T. C. R. train No. 200 (Ocean Limited) left at 12:10 this morning. Mail Clerks Gosselin, Lachance, Vailleau, Rene and Dumoulin in charge of mail car.

Believed To Be Tramp.

"Passing in front of Dohen's Hotel, Levis, one of the clerks noticed a man who jumped on the railing on the side door, and who sat there. Mail clerks did not interfere, believing the man to be a tramp stealing a ride, and not caring to kick him off, for fear of killing him on the track.

"A little farther, the mail clerk saw other men jump on the train. He signalled them to hop off, but they paid no heed and stood between the couplings of the mail car and baggage car behind. At Harlaka, where the train stops to enable the pushing engine to uncouple and return to Levis, two of the bandits entered the car, held the crew at the point of revolvers and rifled the mail.

"The robbers were well clad, wore automobile goggles and spoke English."

No Trace of Bandits.

"The robbery was carried out by two of the robbers who entered the car while the other three guarded the doors. The two thieves inquired who was in charge, and Veilleux indicated that he was. They removed the ropes from his hands and feet and his gag, and at the point of a revolver compelled him to indicate where the registered mail and money packets were. He tried to remonstrate, but was forced to divulge. After this, but was forced to divulge. After sist, but was forced to divulge. After rifling these packets, the robbers again bound Veilleux, gagged him and rifled other mail, removing what valuables they could lay hands on. It is curious they could lay hands on. It is curious thing is that they did not touch the personal property of any of the mail clerks.

"It is a lucky thing that the robbery was committed this morning instead of any other day, for some days the car used to carry as high as $200,000 in money, while today was a small day in money shipments."

No trace of the bandits has as yet been found.

It was learned this afternoon that the money stolen by bandits from the mail car of the Ocean Limited near Harlaka early this morning, was intended for the pay of bank employees in various small towns of the Maritime Provinces.

Two Quebec banks has $51,000 in the lot. The amount was insured.

According to advice in the hands of the department, the car contained mail only, but what the value of money and articles in the mail was, officials here are as yet unable to say.

TECHNICAL SCHOOL WILL TRAIN PUPILS FOR VARSITY MATRIC

Board Engages A. D. Hone, Science Specialist, as Headmaster.

TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL

To Cater Especially To Students For University Applied Science.

A. D. Hone of Peterborough, qualified science specialist and high school principal, has been engaged as headmaster of the technical school by Principal H. B. Beal, subject to the approval of the board of education.

When the board confirms the appointment it will give the London technical school the rank of technical high school and the power to prepare pupils for matriculation, similar to the collegiate. This will aid in reducing the congestion at the collegiate, as it is thought that at least 50 students for matriculation can be accepted at once without enlarging the staff or changing the timetables. Thirty other pupils who do not intend to take matriculation courses could also be accommodated, and if new teachers are engaged and all available space used, 175 pupils could be accommodated making a total attendance of 300. Principal Beal reported that 124 pupils are enrolled in the technical day classes already, in comparison to 94 last year.

D. H. Weir has been engaged as a draughting and academic instructor. He is a graduate of the School of Practical Science, and has had experience as an academic teacher.

The evening classes wil open the first Monday in October, and the special art classes will also be continued.

Trains for S. P. S.

The staff of the school is now organized to handle matriculation for the School of Practical Science, with qualified specialists in science, mathematics, English and history, and qualified high school teachers for all the work of the matriculation department. The school is now in a position to specially cater to students who desire to take matriculation for the School of Applied Science and the household science department of the university. The special advantages of the matriculation course provided in the technical school are that, in addition to the regular matriculation courses, it provides a practical training which is directly preparatory to the engineering courses and the household science courses of the university.

Advantages Not Realized.

Principal Beal stated at the meeting that the majority of citizens did not realize the advantages which the technical school offered. It was tradition that the only road to success was the Collegiate Institute and the professions, whereas many boys were gifted for vocations other than professional. Parents were anxious to receive advice on the training of their children for various occupations, he had found.

Chairman W. N. Manning thought that steps might be taken to supply vocational guidance, which Mr. Beal characterized as one of the greatest needs of the schools today. William Reid did not think this would be of much use. Many new-fangled notions were being brought into the schools, but, he declared, the world today was not a bit better than it was 40 years ago.

COMMITTEE GETS PETITION AGAINST CROSSTOWN LINE

Recommends Toronto Appeal For London Against Phone Rates Increase.

The cross-town line established by the street railway on Rectory street is not proving satisfactory to most East London residents, and the matter of changing the arrangement was referred to the special street railway committee by No. 1 committee of the city council at a meeting Wednesday afternoon.

W. Wakeman presented a petition against the present service which had so many names on it that it was nearly as long as the line itself.

Vice-Chairman J. W. Cunliffe and E. R. Dennis of the housing commission appeared in connection with building. Arrangements were made for salaries of the three officials of the commission to be paid from general funds and charged to the housing commission until debentures for the purpose have been issued. Word was received from J. G. Richter definitely declining to reconsider his resignation from the commission.

Ask Auto Parking Field.

A letter was received from the chamber of commerce, asking the committee to consider the advisability of establishing a parking field for automobiles. A space at least 600 yards square will be required for this. Further information will be obtained from the chamber.

The committee will recommend that the city of Toronto represent London in appealing against the increase in Bell Telephone rates.

Aldermen E. S. Little and S. R. Manness were appointed a special committee to deal with the question of preparing information on the federal square site and the building of a new city hall, for presentation to the electors at the next elections.

Mayor C. R. Somerville and Ald. Little were appointed to look into the revision of 1920 assessment.

Cannot Exempt Property.

A request was received from the Great War Veterans' Association, asking that the council exercise its powers to exempt the property of returned soldiers from taxation up to an assessment of $3,000. Chairman Little said that they could do nothing, and the communication was filed.

The tender of the Dunlop Tire and Rubber Company for firemen's helmets at $9 each was accepted, and the tender of Dambra & Walsh for overcoats for the fire department at $33.50 was accepted.

SOLDIERS' RE-ESTABLISHMENT COMMISSION DOES WONDERFULLY FINE WORK AMONG TUBERCULOUS

From Moment Sick Veteran Enters Institution At Byron He Is Under Best of Treatment and Provided With Home and Interests of the Best.

Few people in the city and district round about it realize the magnitude and efficiency of the work being done by the Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment Commission, working in conjunction with the military hospitals

Take for example, the tubercular soldier alone. And his case is but one type considered. Call him Private Lung.

As soon as Pte. Lung has been brought home to Military District No. 1 he becomes the care of the Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment Commission here. If the medical board pronounces him T. B. or T. B. suspect, he is sent to the best place in the district for leading him back to a state of normal health again—the Byron Sanatorium for Tubercular Soldiers.

Everything Up-to-Date.

This institution, composed of a number of the most up-to-date and scientifically equipped buildings, is situated directly behind the civilian sanatorium, and is perhaps often overlooked by the citizens of London. They do not realize that for the soldiers there has been built practically another hospital.

The big central building is known as the "Infirmary," and here all the admittances are made. Pte. Lung on arrival is given the most thorough examination and kept there under observation for a month. If he is found to be very ill he is kept there, but if his condition will allow he is then passed on to the big new "Pavilion," where he must be under strict medical inspection, but may go about as he likes, visiting the city and so forth.

Real Hospital.

The Infirmary, of all the buildings, is most like a hospital. The patients' quarters are situated in four complete hospital wings, each wing built in two compartments, the inner compartment heated and the outer sunroom, admitting quantities of pure, fresh air and sunshine. Very few of the patients, even here, remain in bed all day. There are comfortable recreation and smoking rooms in each wing.

In the Infirmary Building is a modernly-equipped examining room, with double doors to preserve the absolute quiet necessary for chest examinations; a fine eye, ear, nose and throat department for minor operations, often necessary in tubercular cases; an up-to-date, fully-equipped operating room with pure ozone fan, where major operations are performed in cases of emergency; an accompanying room for the administration of anesthetic; a modern dental room with fine equipment, an X-ray room with fluriscope and accompanying dark room for development and reading of plates; the best possible sterilizing room, and a splendidly equipped laboratory for research work, where the T. B. bug is constantly in a state of incubation for observation.

Mainly Gifts.

The greater number of these splendidly equipped departments have been placed in the hospital through the kindness of various patriotic organizations throughout Western Ontario, and bear their names in brass plates on the doors.

The dining-room at the Infirmary serves all the patients in the entire military portion of the sanatorium. a cafeteria system being used. Everything is perfectly sterile here, even the tops of the tables being pure white and made of a combination resembling marble. About 120 patients can be seated at a time. The huge kitchens in the Infirmary are fitted with every convenience for saving labor and producing the best cooked articles of diet. Electric stoves, ovens, huge dish-washing machines and potato cleaners are used. An ice-making plant, huge refrigerators, cooling room for meat and milk house add to the efficiency of this part of the institution. In addition to the main kitchen, there is a diet kitchen, situated directly above it, and connected by means of a dumb waiter, where special diets are prepared for patients needing them.

And all this splendid building was erected and equipped to help Pte. Lung on his way to civil life once more.

Fine Quarters.

After his month is up and he is found to be fit for transfer to quarters in one of the lareg outside wards, he leaves the Infirmary and, if he is fortunate, may be housed in the big modern pavilion. Here again there are four wards, each ward containing twelve beds, with fresh air and sunshine being admitted constantly. Behind the open part of the pavilion ward, which is entirely unheated, runs a small heated corridor, divided off into small dressing rooms, where the patient may keep his personal effects. Connected with each ward is a sitting-room and recreation room.

Several other wards, not in the pavilion, are built along much the same lines, although not so modern in their equipment. In addition there are four small huts, each housing but four patients. These are popular places in the summer-time, but cannot be used in winter.

And so the patient's physical health is looked after, and he is brought as quickly as possible back to a state where he may again be useful in the community. But even as he is on the way to recovery, his occupation in civil life is being considered by the soldiers' civil re-establishment commission, and part of the time necessarily spent in hospital is utilized to help him towards getting better established in an occupation, when it comes time for his release.

All Given Interests.

Private Lung not only basks in the sunshine and absorbs quantities of the best of food, while he is at the sanatorium, but if the medical officers think fit, he is required to become an occupational student. At first the work given him may be but some little bedside job, such as bead-stringing, basket-weaving, embroidery work and so on. The occupational therapy nurses are there to show him how to do this sort of work. It may seem very trivial to the layman, but the medical profession has discovered that when a man is kept occupied and interested he makes a much more rapid recovery.

When, however, he has reached a more advanced stage in his recovery he may attend classes in the handsome new vocational building. And here it is the aim of the instructors to give the men something that will actually help them in their civilian life.

The entire upper floor of this building is devoted to a huge auditorium, where concerts are given, and excellent moving pictures shown nightly during the winter months. The lower floor, however, is divided into the occupational class rooms, where the patients work a maximum of three and a half hours a day, and a minimum of half an hour daily. Here are in progress well-attended classes of commercial telegraphy, architectural drawing, stenography, wood carving and carpentering. There is also an excellent commercial course, which includes a little of almost all the rudiments, such as English, arithmetic, writing, etc. Here many a man is able to brush up and make himself qualified to attend other more difficult classes, such as drafting.

How it Helps.

As an example of the progress made by the men, Private Lung's case might be cited. He was a butcher by trade, but became fascinated with architectural drawing. Having received his groundwork at the sanatorium, he was given a course in this work at the Toronto Technical School, and is now earning $25 a week in Calgary and rapidly advancing. All this was made possible to him by the soldiers' civil re-establishment commission.

Each man is helped along towards choosing an occupation, suitable to his health and ability, while yet in hospital, and on his discharge is given a six months' course in anything which he desires. If he cannot find suitable classes in the Technical School, he is placed in some concern as an apprentice, receiving full army pay for the six months.

Private Lung entered this district, incapacitated, because of the T.B. germs, which had got the better of him. Six months after his discharge he was a well man, with an occupation of his own choosing, and bright prospects before him. He has now become an asset to the community instead of a burden.

Are those in charge of the work really interested in it and in the men? Talk a few minutes with Major Chesham and such a question becomes quite unnecessary.

PRINCE WILL OPEN $10,000 NAVY LEAGUE CAMPAIGN IN CITY

To Aid Dependents of Sailors Killed or Maimed in War.

The chamber of commerce, a representative of the mayor, and other prominent citizens last night indorsed the plans of the Navy League in this city to have the Prince of Wales open a campaign during his visit here on October 23, for $10,000 to aid dependents of sailors who lost their lives in the war.

The prince will wear the uniform of a naval officer during his visit to London in honor of the Navy League, according to Mrs. Harry Reynolds, organizer of the League.

The campaign to secure $10,000 will conclude on October 25 with a tag day in aid of the fund. The chamber of commerce board rooms at the Tecumseh House will be used by the League as a headquarters. The charter of the organization is now hung there. The League has the support of the chamber of commerce, and the civic officials, and the mayor last night, through Alderman Seabrook, expressed his appreciation of the work of the Navy League and his co-operation with the plans of the association in the coming campaign.

Elect Officers.

Herbert Gates was elected chairman of the Navy League, to take the place of E. B. Smith, retiring. W. W. Wainwright was chosen vice-chairman; L. K. Saddler, secretary (temporarily), and Archie McLean, treasurer.

Plans to carry on work of organizing educational classes for the Boys' Brigade were formed last night, and 25 boys are already members. Officers in this city who served during the war in the British navy will act as instructors, and classes will begin at once.

George M. Reid, addressing the meeting, outlined the work of the Navy League since its organization here in May, 1918, by Rev. S. Boal, of England, who addressed the Rotary Club and the chamber of commerce in this city.

Work Accomplished.

Outstanding work of the League here was the sailors' week campaign last year, when nearly $25,000 was raised to aid sailors and dependents; Christmas parcels and comfort collections, the educational campaign in alliance with the I. O. D. E., and the exhibition of naval photographs recently.

J. P. Watt declared a keen interest in the work of organizing educational classes in connection with the Boys' Brigade.

The officers of the Navy League announce that a five-reel motion picture film will be shown under its auspices in a local theatre soon, entitled "The Life of Nelson." The Navy League possesses the exclusive rights in Canada to exhibit this picture, which is a dramatic feature film of the life of Admiral Lord Nelson, portraying the historic and dramatic events in Nelson's life, woven together with his love romance.

LABOR MEN OPPOSE BUYING FAIR SITE, HOMES OF WORKMEN

T. and L. Council Signs Petition For 600 Living on Property.

PROPOSE ANOTHER SITE

Government Cheats Soldiers Discharged Overseas on Exchange Rate, Is Report.

Members of the trades and labor council are strenuously opposed to the Western Fair Board purchasing seventeen acres of land east of Queen's Park, and on which there are 100 homes of workingmen. The 600 workingmen living in the prescribed area have in circulation a petition asking that the purchase be not made. Representing them, A. Christian, who has been residing on the seventeen acres for many years, appeared before the council and asked the members to sign the petition. It was decided to sign it as a body, and not as individuals.

Mr. Christian declared that anyone, even from the country, could pay $1 and become a member of the fair board, and then could dictate to the workingman as to what should be done with his home. It was deliberately "barbarous and monstrous," he said. The fair board would rather have some people who bring their lunch and a gin bottle full of tea five days in the year than workingmen who pay taxes 365 days in the year, and 366 days every leap year, he declared.

Says, Remove Fair Board.

R. H. Hessell, who is the council's representative on the housing commission, said that the idea of purchasing was entirely wrong. Houses were needed, and yet the board would wipe out 100 homes and pay $300,000 rather than purchase 100 acres for a new site farther away from the centre of the city. "The proper thing is to remove the fair board," he concluded.

When delegates from the council attend the Dominion congress at Hamilton in the near future they will make a bid for the convention for this city for 1920.

To the reconstruction convention in Toronto, London will have only one representative, while other cities of less importance will have many more. This is because of the "hand-picked" delegates whom Tom Moore in Toronto selected, it was said, and against whose election the council will protest. Originally London had three delegates, but one is out West and unable to attend, and another is not a resident of the city.

Government Cheats Soldiers.

Delegate Tyte reported that the Dominion Government was cheating Canadians who enlisted in the imperial forces and were discharged in England out of 46 2-3 cents on every pound note. He said that on each note this amount was deducted, whereas the Government could have given the men a draft on the Bank of Montreal, so that they would have received all their money.

Delegate Fred Young declared that this matter would be thoroughly investigated by the Army and Navy Veterans. It was not discussed further at the meeting.

As the tailors' union is not affiliated with the label department of the A. F. of L., James Hussey, secretary of the trades and labor council, is not entitled to membership in the council under its ruling, Delegate Fred Burk told the meeting. But under the constitution of the Dominion Trades Congress he has a right to occupy his present position, it was said. Further information on the subject will be obtained at the congress.

Many of the councillors reported a difficulty in securing clothes with union labels in this city.

Teamsters of local cartage companies reported that they were not being recognized by the employers in their demand for more wages. As the union is a new one, a grievance committee from it will meet a grievance committee from the council to try to better matters.

Catarrh of the nose or throat when it becomes chronic weakens the delicate lung tissues, deranges the digestive organs, and may lead to consumption. It impairs the taste, smell and hearing, and affects the voice. It is a constitutional disease and requires a constitutional remedy.

EXPECTS THE WORLD TO BE CHRISTIANIZED WITHIN A DECADE

Rev. Carl N. Garland of Philadelphia Tells Methodists Time Is Propitious.

Owosso, Mich., Sept. 17.—That the hour has struck for a wave of evangelism and that it is not unreasonable to expect that the entire world will be Christianized within a decade, was the statement made this afternoon by Rev. Carl N. Garland of Philadelphia, speaking before the Detroit conference here. He declared that the centenary movement of the Methodist Church to bring about a million conversions in nine months was well timed.

Rev. Mr. Garland declared that never was the un-Christianized world so appealing in its desire to become Christianized and that the world could never forget the responsibilities of the Christian people if they ignored these appeals. He asserted that the church of today needs a spiritual awakening to its responsibilities in winning souls and declared that the laymen must cease leaving this mission to their pastors. Sixty million people in the United States have never accepted Christ, he said, because they have not been asked.

Calls It a Tragedy.

He characterized this as one of the tragedies of the country today. He pointed out that of the 35,000 Methodist churches, only 6,000 have shown a gain in conversions in the last year. He said that evangelism must take on a definiteness in purpose that has been lacking in the past.

Rev. W. W. Diehl of Detroit, speaking on rural evangelism, asserted that this was the most difficult problem facing the church today and declared that unless rural evangelism is carried on, the city churches will fall because the rural churches are the springs that feed the city churches with pastors and members. And that the country churches are suffering from the farm to city movement. He asserted that any rural minister who was lazy would fall down in his work because farmers won't go to hear a man preach whom they know is lazy.

Rev. Mr. Sheldon of the conference board of education, told the conference that hundreds of young people brought up in Methodist homes, were drifting away from the church because of lack of special workers at the universities and colleges to keep them in touch with the church. He said that unless something is done to provide these workers the work of the Methodist seminary would be a farce.

May Turn Over Paper.

The conference has under consideration a proposal from the board of directors of the Christian Advocate, official paper of the church, to turn over the paper, gratis to the Michigan and Detroit conferences, after liquidation of the stock. If the proposal is accepted the directors will be chosen by the conference members and its policies directed by the conference members.

A vote will be taken probably Friday on whether or not laymen delegates shall vote on the same basis with pastors at the general conferences hereafter.

All conferences throughout the country are voting on the same question.

WORK FOUND FOR 72 VETERANS BY S. A. C. FROM 163 APPLYING

Report of the Month's Work Shows Activity.

ONE HOME FURNISHED

Welfare Committee Extended Aid to Man Landing Without Funds.

London's branch of the soldiers' aid commission concluded a busy month on August 31, according to the report issued by Secretary E. H. Lance this morning. There were 890 visits made to the office by soldiers or their dependents for information and assistance, and the number of London men included in that total was 562. In the employment section, 163 men applied for positions, and work was obtained for 72 of them. The remainder were referred to the Ontario Government Employment Bureau and the department of soldiers' civil re-establishment.

Advances Made.

The report states that there were 60 advances made, amounting to $3,177.75, during August by the finance committee under the direction of Chairman George F. Copeland. At the present time there have been almost 2,300 advances of money made to soldiers, amounting to $46,852. Last month the number of repayments made amounted to $3,323.63, being the advances previously made to 83 returned men. The disbursements made from the relief fund totalled $40. Considerable activity along relief lines was also extended by the welfare committee, under Chairman Mrs. S. F. Lawrason. It included the complete furnishing of a home for a returned imperial service man and his wife, who arrived in the city from overseas without funds.

Meeting the Trains.

Another interesting feature explained by the report is that there have been 640 men received at the railroad stations upon arrival for dispersal, and 138 of that number were local boys. In addition, there were 172 returned men, who were dispersed outside of London, welcomed home. In the same work, the chaplains' council has also been busy. The number of families of dependents received during August were 171, while the soldiers welcomed at the dispersal station were 640 in number. The chaplains have visited many of the boys both in the hospitals and at home, endeavoring to cheer and assist them in every way.

LOCAL NEWS

CLEARINGS INCREASE.—Weekly bank clearings, as announced today show an increase of $582,866 over those of the corresponding week of last year, the figures being: For 1919, $3,074,961; for 1918, $2,492,095.

SOME LATE STRAWBERRIES.—Nearly a box of strawberries, ripe and rich in flavor, were brought to The Advertiser office this morning by William Charlton of Ilderton, who has them ripening nicely in his patch.

FOREIGN ARTICLES.—Peanuts and popcorn may not be sold on the local market because they are foreign articles, No. 1 committee of the city council has ruled. Application for a stand was made by a vendor, and he was told that he would have to grow the peanuts if he wished to dispose of them on the market.

CALL TO TORONTO DIVINE.—Members of the congregation of the Ottaway Avenue Christian Workers' Church have extended a call to Rev. Nathaniel Eby, a Toronto evangelist, to fill a vacancy in the local church. While no definite acceptance of the call has been received by the local congregation, it is regarded as likely that the Toronto divine will take over this new charge in the near future.

THROWN OFF LOAD.—E. Langford of 128 York street was bruised and badly shaken up when a load of hay belonging to E. Mathers of Lambton, on which he was riding, was upset on King street, just after leaving the market, this morning. Mr. Langford, who is by no means a young man, was thrown heavily to the pavement, narrowly escaping being crushed against a post. Dr. D. H. Hogg attended him and reported that no bones were broken.

PARKING MAY BE ALLOWED.—Steps to legalize the parking of automobiles on the market square, except during market hours, will be taken by No. 1 committee of the city council, it is likely. Motorists have been doing this without authority for some time, and the aldermen see no reason why the practice should not be legalized as it keeps the cars off the streets and relieves congestion of traffic. Signs will be posted prohibiting the parking during market hours.

UNIVERSITIES OF BRITAIN INTERESTED IN CANADIAN

Prof. F. R. Miller Returns After Studying In Old Country.

Dr. F. R. Miller, professor of physiology at the Western University Medical School, has just returned from England, after spending the summer months studying physiology at Oxford, Cambridge and the University of London. He says that the universities over there are very much interested in the Canadian universities, and speak very highly of London's "Western."

VETERANS WILL ASK TAX EXEMPTION FOR HOMES IN THIS CITY

Legislature Empowers Council To Grant This.

DO BEREAVED BENEFIT?

Alderman Says the Privilege Should Be Extended to Them.

A deputation of returned soldiers likely will visit the city council at its next meeting to ask that the city exempt returned men from taxation on their homes, as it has been empowered to do by the Legislature.

A communication making this request was received by No. 1 committee from the Great War Veterans' Association yesterday, but no action was taken. It is therefore probable that the soldiers will pay a visit.

The Legislature has given municipalities power to exempt soldiers' homes from taxation up to $3,000. It may exempt them also from statute labor and poll taxes, but not from local improvement and school taxation.

The act says that this applies to "all returned officers and men," and Ald. L. S. Holmes wonders whether this is intended to include the dependents of men who were killed overseas. He thinks it is only fair that they should be included.

NEXT YEAR TO BRING RADICAL CHANGES IN CITY'S ASSESSMENTS

This Anticipated, Following Committee's Appointment.

A radical revision in the assessment of London property may be made next year. Mayor C. R. Somerville and Ald. E. S. Little have been appointed a special committee to investigate the matter with Assessment Commissioner Stephen Grant. On the outcome of their investigation will depend largely any changes which will be made.

Since taking the mayoral chair, Mr. Somerville has advocated assessment revision, but little headway has been made so far. His present appointment may mean that something definite is to be done at last.

The assessment as a whole will be reduced by a half million next year because of changes in the assessment act made in June. Non-householders are now exempted from assessment up to $700 instead of $600, and householders are exempt up to $1,700 instead of $1,500.

The first appeal under this change in the act has been made by Miss Mary Symonds, and City Solicitor T. G. Meredith is now considering it.

WINTER BOAT SERVICE TO CLEVELAND FROM PORT TO START ON SEPTEMBER 25

Appeal Being Made To Business Houses To Use Route.

September 25 likely will be the opening date of winter boat service between Port Stanley and Cleveland. The steamer Theodore Roosevelt, which plied between the ports during the summer, is now docked at Port Stanley for the winter, but a smaller boat is expected to be in commission before the end of the month.

Officials of the boat line estimate that there will be sufficient freight and passenger traffic to keep traffic open until the end of the year.

Saves Time and Money.

The London and Port Stanley Railway Commission is going to send out circulars to London business houses and factories soliciting business. They will point out that the boat shortens the trip from the United States by 200 miles, thus effecting a large saving in freight rates. In addition to this they claim that it will be possible to obtain shipments from Cleveland within two or three days, whereas when the goods come via Buffalo they sometimes require thirty days.

Broken lots of all classes of freight will be accepted. Carload lots are the only ones which are accepted by the Bessemer, so that the smaller boat will meets the needs of the smaller consumers.

Passengers Expected.

It is expected that between thirty and fifty passengers will be carried each trip. Full accommodation, including staterooms, will be provided, and the fare, one-way, will be three dollars. London and Port Stanley officials estimate that this is a saving of five dollars on the fare by railroad, and expect that many travelers will be induced to use the line for this reason. A return trip likely will cost five dollars.

The Theodore Roosevelt, although an American boat, is to be refitted in Canada. It was taken over from the United States Government in mid-season so that no opportunity was given to refit it thoroughly for passenger service, the result being that it earned no encomiums from passengers this summer.

It will be given a thorough overhauling at Port Stanley, and it is possible that a large dining-room may be installed.

The owners are confident that London firms will be able to supply new parts necessary for the repairs.

CASE ADJOURNED

Five Men Charged With Having Liquor Unlawfully.

Five men, three of them residents of the city, and the other two belonging to Glencoe, were arrested for having a bottle of whiskey with them while they were at the rear of the Belvedere Hotel last night, and after appearing in police court this morning each was bailed in the sum of $500 to appear on Wednesday next, when their counsel, J. M. McEvoy, will proceed with the case. The reason for this length of adjournment was that Mr. McEvoy could not take the case on Friday, Monday or Tuesday, and Magistrate Graydon could not try it on Saturday. As it is, Inspector Robert Birrell will be away on his holidays on the day of the trial.

Steel Workers Fail To Secure Conference With Corporation Officials.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 18.—Before resuming their discussion today on matters in connection with the steel workers' strike, called for next Monday, the national committee for organizing iron and steel workers issued a statement that, having failed to obtain a conference with the United States Steel Corporation, the last and only hope is to strike until such time as the corporation will meet the representatives of the men.

TELLS OF REDUCTION

J. A. Nelson Declares Drop in Prices Was Due to a Falling Hog Market.

Toronto, Sept. 18.—Dissatisfaction with price and cost lists produced by J. A. Nelson, superintendent of the retail stores operated by the William Davies Company, was expressed by Lieut.-Col. W. L. Price, counsel for the board of commerce, at this morning's investigation into the cost of living before Vice-Chairman W. F. O'Connor.

Mr. Price declared that he wanted all price and cost lists from June last submitted to the board, but all he had obtained were some originals and copies.

A reduction in the cost of hog products between September 2 and September 12 was due, said Mr. Nelson, to a lower hog market. The market at present he described as "falling," and before many weeks it would become a "cheaper" market.

Mr. O'Connor observed that even allowing for the reductions, profits up to 4 cents a pound were being obtained by the company. Mr. Nelson did not think the profit was too great. He claimed that the reductions had been made to get rid of higher-priced products.

Closely questioned by Mr. O'Connor and Col. Price, the superintendent maintained that the decreased prices were not adopted in consequence of the work carried on by the board of commerce, neither were they due to public agitation against the high cost of living. He declared they were due to the falling market.

Mr. O'Connor—Why not be frank enough to say that the public would not stand for high prices any longer, and that was the reason?

The witness declared that some weeks ago he had suggested the lowering of prices because of the falling market, but Mr. O'Connor interjected that his evidence did not quite coincide with that of Mr. Fox.

VANDECAR ADMITS THEFT FROM DRUG STORE ON TUESDAY

Remanded For Sentence and To Be Examined.

Frederick H. Vandecar pleaded guilty in police court this morning to stealing $300 worth of goods from Strong's drug store on Tuesday night, and was remanded a week for sentence. Included in the haul was $250 worth of fountain pens, five cameras, $10 worth of stamps, a bottle of cocaine, and a small amount of cash taken from the cash register.

Russell Magee, manager of the store, discovered the theft of the articles on Wednesday morning, and later in the day the police arrested Vandecar.

Believed to be a drug addict, and able to throw some light on the theft of small amounts of drugs from various local doctors, he may be given an examination to determine whether he uses "dope."

TWO PRISONERS OFF FOR PENITENTIARY

Patterson and Hicks-Lyne Removed On Wednesday.

Deputy Sheriff B. F. Watterworth left London yesterday for Kingston, taking with him, Howard C. Patterson, and J. Hicks-Lyne, two prisoners sentenced in this city to terms in Kingston Penitentiary. Patterson was sentenced to serve three years after being convicted of auto theft by Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon in the local police court on Tuesday last.

Hicks-Lyne was sentenced to serve two years in Kingston Penitentiary by County Judge Talbot Macbeth after pleading guilty to a charge of bigamy in the county court here recently. Sheriff Watterworth will return to London tonight.

NOT GUILTY OF SELLING LIQUOR, MAN GOES FREE

Another Pays $200 For Having Bottle In Hotel.

Being of the opinion that no evidence to prove his guilt had been given, Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon in police court this morning dismissed a local man on a charge of bootlegging.

A witness told of meeting accused on Richmond street on Monday evening and going to the Tecumseh House with him. Here they met a man who had a bottle of whiskey. They had had a few drinks when P. C. William McCullough and Sergt. Thomas Bolton broke up the party.

As a result of the interference, the man with the bottle paid $200 to Police Court Clerk John Moule this morning.

INDIAN MEDICINE MEN

In the Indian Tribe one finds the "Medicine Man,"—one versed in the healing art of roots, herbs, leaves and barks. In these he discovers emollients, astringents, laxatives and tonics, all of which are prepared and offered to sufferers among the tribe. To such good, old-fashioned roots and herbs Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the most efficient remedy in the world for female ills, owes its success. For forty-five years it has been restoring the women of America to health, until it is now recognized as the standard remedy.

TAILORESSES

Women with one or two years' experience working on men's coats will be paid $15.00 per week while learning the operating of women's coats. The work is very quickly learned by tailoresses and with experience earn $20 to $35 per week. The work is attractive, no pressing, bright workrooms, hours, eight to five, closing Saturday noon. RIGHT TO COLLECTIVE BARGAINING IS MAIN ISSUE AT CONFERENCE

Labor Men Ask That Legislation Make This System Effective.

VETERAN MAKES PLEA

Adam C. Hay Says Efforts Should Be Made To Settle Long Standing Question.

Ottawa, Sept. 18.—The right of labor to organize, recognition of labor unions and the right to collective bargaining were the subjects before the national industrial conference when it opened this morning. The first two speakers dealt entirely with the latter phase, and Adam C. Hay of Winnipeg, a returned soldier, said there had been a thirty years' fight for this principle in the old country, and he appealed to the conference to try and settle this matter here in thirty minutes, and thereby confer a benefit on the entire labor population. Mr. Hay said he had gone to the front with the first Canadian contingent, and stopped some German ammunition. He hadn't gone there with any high-sounding notions of fighting for king and country, but rather because the German system and the German socialists were trying to chloroform their labor. He was going to do his best here and everywhere to keep British and Canadian labor free from contamination. Collective bargaining was one of the principal aims of labor, and it should be granted.

A. B. Weeks of the Canadian Northwest Steel Company thought this was hardly the time for innovations in regard to labor legislation.

Says Headlines Misleading.

Before proceeding with the business of the convention this morning, Senator Robertson said he felt compelled to appeal to the press generally in connection with the headings appearing in the papers. The articles themselves were very fair and accurate, but the men who prepared the headlines were giving the people a wrong impression.

A. C. Hay, Winnipeg, said the conference had been called as a national affair. The speaker said he had gone overseas with the first Canadian contingent to fight for international democracy, and he came to this convention in the hope of making a stand for Canadian democracy. He hoped for unity in the conference and good results would accrue.

Mr. Shaw of Woodstock had said the men in his plant were not organized. All Mr. Hay had to say about that was that it "was an awful thing." Collective bargaining was one of the great needs of labor today.

Labor Asks Legislation.

Mr. Hay said the labormen were not asking consideration. They wanted legislation making collective bargaining effective. Canada had lost two and a half million days work since 1901 for the right of collective bargaining, and if it could be settled now there would be a great saving to the Dominion.

Mr. Hay hoped the term "the opposition" would not be used much longer in referring to the employers' group. The men who said they had worked eighteen or twenty hours in building up their business should not necessarily pass that on to the next generation.

Collective Bargaining.

A. B. Weeks, a Vancouver manufacturer, thought if the corner stone of justice and equity could be laid this conference had been justified. Dealing with collective bargaining, Mr. Weeks was quoting from the report of the royal commission on industrial relations, when he was pulled up by Tom Moore, one of the members of that commission, who pointed out to Mr. Weeks that he was not quoting the report, but giving the clauses his own construction. Mr. Weeks did not believe the royal commission was right in judging that this was the time for drastic changes.

BALTIC SITUATION IS DISCUSSED BY THE SUPREME COUNCIL

Paris, Sept. 18.—The situation in the Baltic region, which has been complicated by various factors recently, including the difficulty over the withdrawal of Gen von der Goltz's German troops, desired by the Allies, was taken up by the supreme council at its session today.

The council met at the ministry of foreign affairs.

There were present Stephen Pichon, the French foreign minister; Sir Eyre Crowe, the new British representative on the council; Frank L. Polk, American undersecretary of state; Viterio Scialcia, representing Italy, and Baron Matsui, for Japan. Marshal Foch also attended the session.

Regarding the Baltic situation, the council heard the report of Major-Gen. Sir Hubert Gough of the British army, allied military representative in the region.

Chicago Mail Plane Falls; Tank Burns; 2 Houses Burn

Cleveland, O., Sept. 18.—Two houses were destroyed by fire yesterday when a Government mail plane bound for Chicago from here, crashed on their roofs in an effort to make a hurried forced landing, causing the gasoline tank of the plane to explode. Pilot E. V. Gardner escaped injury by leaping just before the crash, and later started for Chicago in another plane with what mail could be rescued from the flames.

FRENCH DEPUTIES TO RATIFY GERMAN PACT IN NEXT FEW HOURS

VETERAN OF FIVE CAMPAIGNS, IN WHICH GREAT WAR IS INCLUDED, AGED 75 YEARS, NOW IN JAIL FOR CARRYING HIS MEDICINE

Had Bottle of Whiskey and Quinine On Person When Apprehended, Dispensed by Druggist—Denies Knowledge That He Was Breaking Law.

To have served in five campaigns, to be wounded in action twice while fighting for his King and country, and then at the age of 75 years to be condemned to serve three months in prison because he was unfortunate enough to be captured by a local police constable with a 16-ounce bottle containing, he says, whiskey and quinine, bottled by a druggist in accordance with a doctor's prescription for medicinal use, is the lot of a prisoner at the county jail here. Visiting this city during fair week in expectation of meeting his son returning from overseas service, this war veteran, whose home is in Lansing, Mich., who was discharged from the British army following an attack of pneumonia, carried on his person the bottle of whiskey and quinine as dispensed by a Lansing druggist, and was apprehended by a zealous member of the local force.

Ignorant of Law.

Appearing in police court here, Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon had no other option than to commit the unfortunate man to jail for three months for violating the Ontario temperance act. The veteran informed an Advertiser reporter at the jail this morning that he was ignorant of the Ontario temperance act, and considered himself breaking no regulations when he carried the liquor on his person to be taken during coughing spells. He stated that he had no grievance with his trial here, as he understood the position of Magistrate Graydon, who had no alternative in sentencing him, and in fact he stated that the local justice was very considerate in explaining the situation to him.

Born Here.

Garbed in a gaily-colored convict suit at the county jail here today the honorably discharged soldier told his story while sweeping teh floor under the surveillance of a turnkey. Born in this city, the prisoner first saw service in the Riel rebellion, where he was wounded at Fish Creek. He next volunteered with the Union forces in the American civil war, enlisting in Ohio, where he resided at the time, and for which service he is now in receipt of a pension. The third campaign for this veteran was the Spanish-American war, for which service he is also in receipt of a pension from the American Government.

Fought In France.

When the Boer-British war broke out the veteran served for over eighteen months with the latter forces, leaving this city with a picked force of 42 men. Returning to this continent he took up residence in Lansing, Mich., until the great war broke out. He volunteered with the 4th Canadian Battalion, and upon arrival in England transferred to the 8th Devon Regiment, with which unit he served on the firing line for sixteen months until pneumonia rendered him unfit for further service. During this period of service the old soldier was wounded in the arm.

Age No Handicap.

Age was no handicap in his final enlistment owing to his previous army experience. The son is serving with the King's Rifles Regiment of the British imperial army, and is returning to Canada on furlough in the near future. Following in his father's footsteep, the son enlisted for service in South Africa at the age of 16, accompanying his father to the war, and later served in Egypt and France during the war recently closed. A brother of the prisoner was, prior to his death, a prominent Ontario lawyer, and an uncle, now dead, was a former member of parliament for Huron County.

That this grizzled old veteran should be compelled to complete the three months' sentence is regarded as a travesty on justice by all familiar with the facts of the case, and incidentally points to a hardship inflicted by the rigid Ontario temperance act.

GOT SOME WHISKEY IN WET DAYS; DOES NOT SELL ANY OUT

George Fountain Discharged On Bootlegging Charge.

George Fountain, colored, 309 Horton street, charged in police court this morning with selling liquor, had his case dismissed, Magistrate A. H. Graydon ruling that there was no evidence to find him guilty.

Behind Fountain's house is an alley with an entrance on Clarence street. Now, this alley seems to be the assembling place of all nationalities. Beside it live some Chinese, who keep a laundry. On it Greeks park their peanut carts, and at all hours of the day and night white men and colored men "hang around."

The Secret Deal.

Not long ago a certain white man in this city was in search of a thirst-quencher. He was directed to this alley. Going there after the shades of night had fallen he met an individual who was so dark that he could not distinguish him from the inky darkness of the night.

Anyway the mysterious stranger produced a bottle and handed it to the white man for $7. Rejoicing, the purchaser wended his way up Clarence street until he was arrested by P. C. Malcolm McRae.

On searching Fountain's house four bottles of whiskey were found hidden away.

Got It Early.

Hannah Augustus Fountain, wife of the accused, declared that this whiskey once was in Shea's liquor store. "It came from Shea's when they were selling out. I got my share the same as the rest," she declared.

"I didn't sell any and my husband didn't," she continued.

She didn't know who could have sold the whiskey to the previous witness, but in speaking of the alley, she declared: "Greeks and Jews and every other thing go through there."

"My husband doen' bootleg anything," she reasserted.

Another colored man who came to Fountain's house was Thomas Prior, but he came there to practice music, for he belonged to a harmony sextet, the same as Mr. Founain.

GRAINS.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Nervousness over the labor situation, especially uncertain outlook regarding the steel strike, resulted in an irregular opening today in the corn market. Little pressure to sell, however, developed, and with commission houses absorbing most of the offerings, more confidence on the buying side was shown. Nevertheless, advances were not well maintained. Opening prices, which ranged from 1½c decline to ¾c advance, with September at $1.43 @1.43½, and December at $1.21@1.21¾, were followed by a moderate upturn all around, but then by something of a reaction.

Scantiness of arrivals gave a tone of firmness to oats. After opening ¼c off to ¾c advance, including December at 68@68¼c, the market scored a substantial advance.

Wininpeg, Sept. 18.—Oats opened ¼c higher for October at 82½; December ⅛c higher at 76½, and May ⅛c higher at 79c.

Barley opened ⅜c higher for December at $1.19⅜.

Flax opened 1c higher for October at $4.45; November ½c higher at $4.43, and December unchanged.

Inspections yesterday totaled 628 cars for all grains. The contract grades of wheat were 433 cars.

MYSTERY VEILS YANK HELD FOR $6,000 RANSOM

Swede Sent by Mexicans For Money Says He Can't Find Camp.

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 17.—American mining men here and American Consul A. E. Dow of Juarez received no information today of the release of Dr. J. W. Smith, an American physician, held for $5,000 ransom near Santa Eulalia, Chihuahua.

The ransom money was delivered to E. Monson, or Munson, as the American consular reports spell his name, who was also made a prisoner by the Mexicans and released with the demand for the ransom.

Monson is reported to be a subject of Sweden. Dr. Smith was expected to be released late yesterday and to reach Santa Eulalia last night, according to reports from Chihuahua City.

Worked for Mining Firms.

The American was physician and surgeon for the Potosi Mining Company at Santa Eulalia, and Monson is employed in the Santa Eulalia district mines.

William Dwelly, a British subject, and Paul Steger, a Swiss citizen, also were made prisoners, but later released Saturday morning, when the train from Chihuahua City to Santa Eulalia, fifteen miles distant, was held up by ten armed Mexicans, the payroll of the Buena Tierra mine taken and the four captured.

Cavalry troops from the Chihuahua City garrison are hunting the men who held up the train. Their identity is unknown.

Monson Loses Trail.

Monson returned to Santa Eulalia at 3 a.m. today, and reported he was unable to locate the Mexicans holding Dr. Smith.

He said he went to the appointed meeting place with the ransom money at 10 o'clock last night, but, probably due to federal cavalry activities, the Mexicans had fled, according to a telegram received here this afternoon.

Another effort to deliver the ransom money and obtain the release of Dr. Smith is being made.

BERLIN BOURSE IN GRIP OF A BULL MOVEMENT

Berlin, Sept. 17.—The Berlin bourse is wholly in the grip of a bull movement, and the scramble for foreign money, colonial securities and shipping shares continues unabated. The upward trend of the market is explained by the fact that the mark is fast falling in value.

The Boersen Zeitung declares that all measures calculated to improve the value of the mark are dependent on the good-will of the Entente, and that there are no prospects for a betterment of the situation until home production revives, exportation sets in, and the political situation, which is hampering both, permanently quiets down.

"Until then," says the newspaper, "we will be forced to look on while the outside world steps in and appropriates valued ground, capital and assets for a mere song, contributing further to the impoverishment of Germany."

BULLITT'S STATEMENTS ARE CHALLENGED BY AN ENGLISH WRITER

Declares American in Interview Said Lloyd George Was Unaware of Russian Mission

London, Sept. 18.—Some of the statements made by William C. Bullitt before the foreign relations committee of the United States Senate are challenged by a writer of the Daily Sketch, who signs his article with the initials, "R. K." He says he was the first, and he believes, the only English newspaper man who interviewed Mr. Bullitt in Paris. The writer quotes Mr. Bullitt as saying in his interview that his mission to Russia was suggested by Col. E. M. House, and approved by President Wilson. The arrangement, he says, was undertaken without the knowledge of members of the Big Four of the peace conference, as Mr. Wilson and Col. House desired the mission to be as secret as possible. When Mr. Bullitt returned, Mr. Wilson sent his report to Premier Lloyd George, but did not include the secret communication from Nikolai Lenine. The premier was greatly impressed by Mr. Bullitt's report and wished to have it published according to the article, but President Wilson refused and suppressed it. The writer is emphatic in his statement that Mr. Bullitt told him Mr. Lloyd George was unaware of his mission until he saw the report, and that President Wilson and not the premier, prevented the publication of Mr. Bullitt's conclusions as to Russia.

O-Cedar Polish

the Wonder Polish for your Motor Car

Why should you let your car deteriorate in appearance. It is so easy to keep an auto body practically like new. It only requires a slight expenditure of money and effort, if you use the right polish.

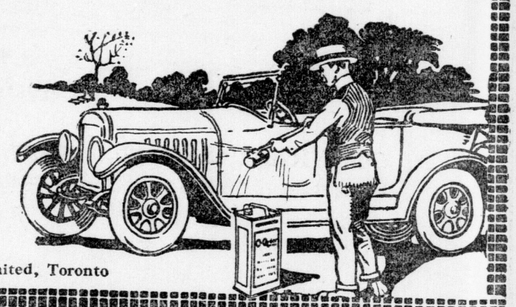

O-Cedar Polish used the right way, has been found by thousands of motorists to be the correct treatment for any car.

Follow these directions carefully:—

Wet a piece of cheese-cloth with water. Wring out the surplus water. Pour on as much O-Cedar as the cloth contains water. This combination forms a soft, harmless lather that removes dust, scum and grime. Polish with a dry cloth. If there is mud on the car wash it off first—then follow directions as above.

Another way, is to mix half water and half O-Cedar in a sprayer. Before using shake the sprayer, to mix O-Cedar with the water. A light brisk rubbing with a dry cloth produces a hard, dry lustre.

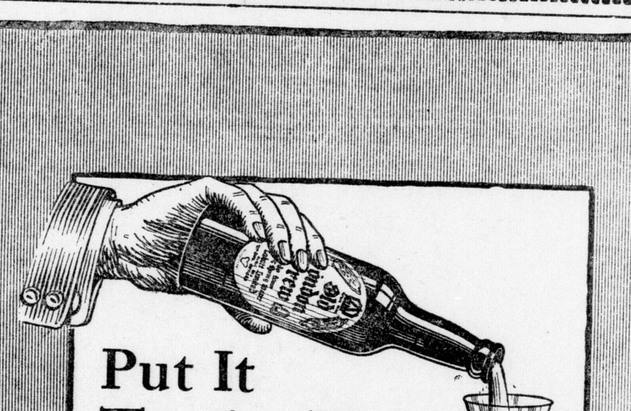

With the O-Cedar Duster, you can dust your car in a few minutes, every day, and keep it looking bright.

Use O-Cedar Polish in the house as well as in the garage—use it for your furniture, your floors and your linoleum.

O-Cedar Polish is sold in various sized packages, from 25c. to $3.00. The O-Cedar Duster 75c. You will find O-Cedar Products at any Grocery or Hardware Shop.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Why You Should Get Lots of Fresh Air Even on Cold Days

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG,
A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University).

DR. HIRSHBERG

Fire will not burn without air. Air means oxygen. Life, like light, comes from fire. That is to say, living depends upon oxygen. Air must be at hand or you cease to breathe. Moreover, if the air lacks enough oxygen, it is not truly air, but a gas and, indeed, a poisonous gas at that. Therefore, air means life. It follows, therefore, the fact that when the breezes blow and the winds give vent to coolness, dryness, and motion in a fresh atmosphere, health and vigor are encouraged. The real essence of pure air is less an absence of poisons than the presence of dryness and movement.

When, however, Old Boreas does not give vent to his pure draughts, carbonic acid gas, moisture, warmth and other vitiated blasts cause ill-health, pallor, anaemia, lassitude and a deficient earning power. Ventilation, then, means giving vent to your best energies. It is as necessary as sunlight, food and drink. Ill indeed blows the winds that profits nobody. Even the cold, cracked, tumble-down walls of a woodman's cottage have their virtues.

Fireplace Ventilation.

A window lowered two inches from the top will ventilate a room more efficaciously and more safely than twice as much space at the bottom. An open grate fire so beautiful and so common in ancient homes and old English houses is also a very effective means of ventilation. The hotair of the fireplace when the flames are dancing up the flue carry all the foul air with their own mad rush up the chimney. Even when the weather is warm or mild, an open fire in a hearth is a great tonic and stimulant. Therefore, a fireplace should never be closed or blocked. To stand an oil stove or a few candles in it acts as a suction oxidizer to send the bad air up the chimney.

In frigid weather it is not always pleasant during the day to keep the windows open long. A false, concave window-sill about two inches in height below and another about two inches from the top of the window is a superior ventilator and it also shields you from icy blasts.

Fresh Air Vital.

At night covered as you are with many comforters and blankets, the windows should be wide open.

Doors are very poor ventilators. They permit dirty, breathed and vitiated atmospheres to enter. Even the cracks and edges of doors should be covered with some sort of protective strips.

Foul air and ill-smelling atmospheres should never be disguised by burning incense or punk or atomizing the room with cologne, perfumes or rosewater. Instead, light a fire in the open hearth or place a lighted lamp in the chimney-place and avoid all causes of such odors; open wide the windows and soon the foul air will be replaced by fresh, invigorating atmosphere.

BREATHE DEEPLY, THEN LISTEN FOR THAT BRONCHIAL WHEEZE

Dangerous to Neglect Troubles in the Chest, Throat or Nose at This Season.

Rough, wheezy breathing means danger ahead. Every day you defer treatment makes it harder to cure.

Don't delay. Bronchial and lung troubles are all too frequent. Start today with "Catarrhozone," breathe in its pure balsamic vapor. Let its healing fumes do for you what stomach medicine never can. Nothing so certain as a Catarrhozone Inhaler to strengthen a weak throat, to rid you of Bronchitis, to drive out catarrh, coughs and colds. Use Catarrhozone to prevent, to cure, your winter ills. Physicians indorse it, hospitals use it. Thousands swear by it. MY HEART AND MY HUSBAND

ADELE GARRISON'S NEW PHASE OF

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

How Madge Restored Alice Holcombe To Calmness.

I took Alice Holcombe's twisting hands in mine, held them firmly as she abandoned herself to the sobbing she had evidently suppressed as long as she was able to do so.

I saw that she had come to the breaking point following her story of the coroner's inquest, allowed her grief to have free vent, knowing that she would be the better for the outburst. But as the minutes wore on, with her sobs increasing in intensity, I saw that hysteria had her in its grip, and prepared for strenuous measures if my first protests failed.

"Come, come!" I said peremptorily, yet with a note of tenderness in my voice. "You must stop this. You're hurting yourself, and if ever you needed your strength you will need it in the next few weeks. You wish to help Mr. Stockbridge, you know."

Her only answer was a burst of choking, dreadful laughter. I felt that I must stop that at any cost, for I feared more than anything else the inquisitive intrusion of the janitor which might come at any moment.

"Will you stop?" I demanded sternly, putting my hands on her shoulders and giving her a little shake.

"I—I—c-can't—it's—so—so—funny—" she babbled, then went off again into the choking laughter.

Heroic Treatment.

It was no time for half measures. I took away my hands abruptly, turned and rushed out of the room to the hall, snatching a large vase as I went from the cupboard where the kindergarten teacher kept her material. I filled it with cold water at the tap in the hall, returned to the room, and just as my friend caught her breath for another burst of laughter I took careful aim and dashed the contents of the vase full in her face.

She choked, gasped, sprang to her feet, her hands groping over her face, dashing aside the water which was running down her face and gown. She was raging now, thoroughly angry, and I saw with a sigh of relief that the other danger, that of uncontrollable hysteria, was past.

What! What do you mean?" she stormed. Then, as sanity returned to her, she sank down again in the chair and covered her dripping face with her hands.

I bent over her, drew the hands back firmly, and gently wiped her face and the waist of her gown.

"It was the only way, dear," I said. "Forgive me, but I had to do it."

"I know," she murmured. "It is I who should ask your forgiveness for being such a fool. But I'm all right now."

"I am sure you are," I returned heartily, "and I want you to prove it by coming up with me to the teachers' room, where I'll make you a cup of strong tea in a jiffy. That will straighten you out more quickly than anything else. Are you able to walk?"

The Packet of Tea.

"Yes," she replied laconically, and made good her assertion a few minutes later, when we made our way to the teachers' room on the floor above us. I sighed with relief as we entered it and closed the door behind us. We had not encountered the janitor anywhere, and we were now safe not only from his intrusion but his gossip also, for brewing tea before going home after a late session was quite a fad of some of the teachers. It would cause no question in his mind.

I made Alice lie down upon the comfortable couch while I brewed the tea. As I put the little packet—one of those I had contributed to the common stock—into the pot there came an indescribable sensation over me. Milly Stockbridge's eager, restless hands stretched out in curious examination of similar packets in this very room so few days ago came so vividly to my memory that it seemed almost as if they were before me in reality, again clutching at me.

I glanced furtively at Alice Holcombe, was relieved to find that she had closed her eyes, and in all probability had not seen the packets. For myself, I felt suddenly that a draught of the tea would choke me.

I did not shake off the impression of those ghostly hands until after Alice Holcombe, strengthened and refreshed, had returned home in Benny's cab.

I had accompanied her to the door, and had seen that she was ready to take up with me the next day the difficult and delicate task of completing the work of the school year in the Bayview school with the principal incarcerated in jail.

Then, as Benny had turned his taxi toward Marvin—for I felt entirely too upset to risk encountering the stares of chance travelers upon the railroad train—all thought of the dead woman, her unhappy husband, even of my suffering friend, went out of my mind, crowded out by the sudden speculation as to what arrangements Dicky had made in order to enable him to carry out the threat of the night before—not to speak to me until I had explained certain things to him.

French Blue Taffeta Makes an Effective Afternoon Frock.

French blue is a color becoming to almost every woman, and taffeta in this shade makes an effective afternoon gown.

The kimono blouse is cut to fasten in a surplice line at the front, where a vest of chiffon, showing a white ground with stripes of mauve and salmon, gives an effective color contrast. The vividly striped chiffon is repeated on the triangular inserts of the bell sleeve. The fronts of the jacket and the sleeves are corded with blue taffeta. The broad, crushed girdle is also taffeta.

From a long sash end dangles a heavy tassel of mauve and salmon. The unusual collar is white chiffon and the hat is a picturesque velvet shape embroidered with chenille flowers.

TO PUT ON FLESH AND INCREASE WEIGHT

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE.

Most thin people eat from four to six pounds of good, solid, fat-making food every day, and still do not increase in weight one ounce, while on the other hand many of the plump, chunky folks eat very lightly and keep gaining all the time. It's all bosh to say that this is the nature of the individual. It isn't Nature's way at all.

Thin folks stay thin because their powers of assimilation are defective. They absorb just enough of the food they eat to maintain life and a semblance of health and strength. Stuffing won't help them. A dozen meals a day won't make them gain a single "stay there" pound. All the fat-producing elements of their food just stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste. What such people need is something that will prepare these fatty food elements so that their blood can absorb them and deposit them all about the body—something, too, that will multiply their red blood corpuscles and increase their blood's carrying power.

For such a condition I always recommend eating a Saltogyn tablet with every meal. Saltogyn is not, as some believe, a drug, but is a scientific combination of the most effective and powerful flesh-building elements known to chemistry. It is absolutely harmless, yet wonderfully effective, and a single tablet eaten with each meal often has the effect of increasing the weight of a thin man or woman from three to five pounds each week. Saltogyn is sold by good druggists everywhere on a positive guarantee of weight increase or money back.—Advt.

TO RELIEVE CATARRH, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness, or who are growing hard of hearing and have head noises, will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them, and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home, and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 ounce Parmint (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmint is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form, or distressing rumbling, hissing sounds in their ears, should give this recipe a trial.—Advt.

The Adventures of Jimmy Coon

JIMMY COON MAK ES A BACK DOOR.

When little Peter Rabbit heard that Uncle Bullfrog was going to play Fox-trots, he was so scared that he fainted away, and they had to throw water in his face to bring him to. You see he was afraid that that meant that Mr. Red Fox would come to the party.

"You are a regular silly, Peter Rabbit. Mr. Red Fox isn't even invited, and, anyway, I am making a sky light to Mr. Porcupine's living-room, so that if any unpleasant person comes to the party who isn't invited, there will be a safe way out. It isn't safe to trust to just one door."

"I am surprised that Quilly Porcupine would live in a house with only one door," said Teddy Possum.

"It doesn't make any differene to him, for he wears his overcoat all the time, day and night, and he hunches up his shoulders when he goes to sleep and all his sharp spears stick out, and he always goes to sleep in the front hall and no one can get by him," said Jimmy Coon. "I know, for I tried."

I wish you could have taken a peep into Quilly Porcupine's cellar. He had fresh lettuce for the rabbits, nuts for the squirrels and chipmunks, fresh fish and mussels for the guests of honor, Jimmy Coon and Teddy Possum; hemlock bark, lots of it, for the porcupines, a nice mouse for Mr. Owl, some fresh water bugs for the orchestra—he hadn't forgotten a thing. He had some lily pads for dessert for the porcupines and for the chief guest of honor, Alphonse the white porcupine, he had a great treat—an old salty axe handle to chew on.

That was a great dainty. It was to a porcupine just what salted almonds are to some people.

Quilly Porcupine did look stupid, and there was no reason why he should be anything else, for he never had to defend himself against enemies, because he just humps his back up and waves his tail when an enemy comes along, and he is perfectly safe, while all the rest of the little Forest people have to use their wits and depend for safety on speed, valor or trickery to defend themselves.

So everybody was astonished to see how hard Quilly had worked to get ready for the party, and everybody was surprised that he had such lovely refreshments ready. It meant a great deal of hard work.

The little folks could hardly wait for the time for the party to begin, they were so anxious to begin eating. They wanted to get in and go down cellar for the food, but the only way to get into the cellar was by the ladder from the front hall, and they couldn't get in by the front door, for Alphonse sat in the doorway and blocked it up.

Indeed, Alphonse had to sit hunched up in the front door for days, while Quilly was off getting things for the guests to eat.

Then the funniest thing happened.

You remember that Quilly Porcupine's house had only one door, and that was the front door. But Jimmy Coon found a crack in the ceiling of the hall, and he and Teddy Possum went to work to make it bigger, so that at last there was a sort of a skylight, and a ladder of little stones made a nice little path—so that now the house had two doors.

"It is much safer for any house," said Jimmy Coon, "and I feel sure that Quilly Porcupine will like it very much."

Of course, all the little animals had to try the skylight and come down the ladder into the front hall. Alphonse, the white porcupine, was asleep, hunched up in the front door, so he didn't hear them at all. They couldn't wake him up by talking and chattering, for he sat right in the door, and all the talking and chattering of the squirrels and the other animals never waked him.

Alphonse was sitting in the front door to guard the food until the time should come for the party. You remember that Quilly had it all stored in the cellar and the only way to the cellar was by the stairs through the hall.

Now when these little animals crept down through the skylight into the front hall, it did not take long until their sharp noses told them there was something good to eat in the cellar, and so they lifted up the trap door and softly and gently crept down the cellar stairs.

My! but they were all hungry. Two fish there were and nuts and lettuce and carrots and some shiney beetles, and some dried grasshoppers, some nice hemlock wood and some lily pads, although none of the animals cared for the hemlock wood.

You would have felt sorry for poor Quilly Porcupine. He had worked so hard to get ready for his party, and now it looked as if there would not be much left after all his hard work.

Chatterbox, the Red Squirrel, was off with Quilly Porcupine helping him collect food for the lunch. Jimmy Coon did feel a little ashamed of himself, for he knew the party was made for him, and it did not seem fair to eat up all the refreshments ahead of time.

Benny Mink and Sammy Muskrat and Peter Rabbit and Teddy Possum all crept down into the cellar.

"It seems a shame," said that rascal, Jimmy Coon, "to let all this nice food go to waste, for Quilly is so slow that it may be the middle of the summer before he is all ready for the party! Let's just eat a very little of everything then Quilly will never know the difference when he comes to serve the supper."

So those rascals ate a little of everything, and then they crept up the stairs and out of the new door which Jimmy Coon had built. Quilly was still away on his trip to get more food and so no one knew that they had been there.

Quilly Porcupine came home every night tired out, for Chatterbox, the red squirrel, was very lively and led him a chase. Quilly was heavy and slow, and he was sick of the whole plan and he told Chatterbox he would never have another party.

Chatterbox cheered him up and told him he must have about enough and that he must set the day for the party. "Go and look down cellar and see how much you have," but Quilly was so tired and sleepy that he just went right to bed after supper and never went to look. He felt perfectly sure that nothing could happen to all those good things to eat, for he had left his cousin, the white porcupine, to keep house and guard the eats.

"You didn't take a walk or anything today, did you?" said Quilly to his cousin.

"No, I didn't stir from the house," and Alphonse, the white porcupine, yawned.

"Well, since we are going to have a party, I want everything to be all right and I must have plenty for everyone to have enough to eat—I would like to go down cellar and count to see just how much there is, but I am too tired tonight."

The first time those little animals went into Quilly's cellar, they ate only a little, but they thought about all those good things to eat when they got home, and every last one of them went back again for another bite.

Perhaps you think that they could have gotten things just as good to eat somewhere else. Of course they could, but when they knew about all these nice things to eat they couldn't resist the temptation and so they all went back, one at a time, until almost the last crumb was gone.

The next morning, bright and early, Quilly called Chatterbox and they both went down cellar.

Poor Quilly couldn't believe his eyes. Hardly a crumb was left on the store room shelves—just a few fish-scales and one or two nuts. The mussels were eaten up and only one lettuce leaf was left. It was a heart-breaking sight, and perhaps you think that Quilly sat down and cried.

Not at all. And why didn't he? Well, because they had never touched a thing that porcupines like to eat! All the lily pads were there, and the hemlock wood, and he had a lot of that, and the old salty axe handle.

"Well, Jimmy Coon is a rascal, and so is Teddy Possum. And those two have dragged poor little Peter Rabbit into their badness with them. But I shall have the party just the same," and he laughed again.

Just a few fish scales and one or two nuts.

Tomorrow's HOROSCOPE

By Semarion Kemble

FRIDAY, SEPT. 19.

The sidereal forces for this day are in operation for success, and prosperity, especially for those in the employment of others. Those who are undeniably deserving may seek promotion and favors. Others should deal with those in authority, seeking honors or preferment from superiors. Withal there is need for discretion in the signing of papers, and it would be advisable to be on guard against fraud or trickery—although the menace is a slight one. It will be observed that old obstacles and long-standing delays and disappointments will be set aside, making way for new and progressive achievements. In heart and home or social affairs there may be some slight disappointment.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a successful year. Those in employment will benefit. A child born on this day may succeed best in the employment of others, despite a ten-office.

Backache only a Symptom

"It Seems as Though my Back Would Break."

This is a common expression among women, yet they toil on day after day heedless of the significance of this distressing symptom.

Backache is often a warning of some inward trouble that requires attention, and which unless relieved will sooner or later declare itself in more serious ailments.

If it is caused by female derangement Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is what you need. It quickly asserts its curative powers in all those peculiar ailments of women.

For more than thirty years this good old fashioned root and herb medicine has been restoring women to health.

The Splendid Recovery of Mrs. Fleet

Brantford, Ont.—"I have been a user of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and find there is nothing better for female troubles. I was taken sick with sharp pains in my right side and up over the hip to the back and the doctor said I would have to be operated on. I was in the hospital three weeks and did not get any better so I went home and took the Vegetable Compound. I stayed in bed three weeks more, then I was able to get up. Now I am all right and I have recommended your medicine to several friends and my daughter is taking it and all are pleased with the results from its use."

Detroit, Mich.—"I was in a general run-down condition, was very nervous and tired, had backache and other troubles. I suffered for several years, was not able to work at times and tried doctor's medicine with no results. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised, and after taking it a short time I was much better. I am still taking it myself and giving it to my daughter, and am glad to recommend Vegetable Compound at any time."—Mrs. M. E. Hunt, 171 Davison Ave.

THREE STATEMENTS.

At Toronto September 9 Premier Hearst issued the following statement regarding war service gratuities:

"The returned soldiers are making strong representations for increased gratuity and urging that immediate action be taken to ascertain what further financial aid can be given them. Speaking for Ontario, the home of almost half of our army and the province from which the Dominion derives nearly half of the public revenue, I feel confident our people are prepared to bear willingly their share of any additional grant the circumstances may demand, and the financial position of the country warrants."

At Walkerton, September 10, addressing the South Bruce Conservatives, Hon. T. W. McGarry, provincial treasurer, said:

"No man would say for a moment that the Canadian people would grumble about supplying finances for another year of war. Then why object if we are asked to apply at least the amount saved by the valor of our soldiers towards helping them resume civilian life? I am strongly convinced that for both the returned men and the returned nursing sisters a reasonable gratuity must be provided. It is not a question of shall Canada give it. It is a question of how best shall we provide it and how soon."

Speaking in the House of Commons on Tuesday, Captain R. J. Manion, Unionist, of Fort William, said:

"One of the greatest menaces in this country today is the demagogue who is ready at a moment's notice to accede to the demands of any class of people. They are panderers to popular prejudice. They are ready to accede to any demand as long as they do not have to give the money themselves. All they care about is getting the votes, and it is a sad commentary on our public life that too frequently these demagogues get the votes while serious-minded men who love the soldiers and love this country of ours get shoved aside."

THE CENTENARY OF WATT.

A three days' celebration is taking place in Birmingham, England, this week in honor of the centenary of James Watt, who died at Heathfield Hall in that city, August 19, 1819. The event is being made the occasion for an assemblage of eminent scientists and engineers, not only to pay tribute to the genius of Watt, but also to make a survey of the field of engineering science. The program includes a memorial service, an inspection of Watt's private workshop, which still stands intact as he left it; visits to some of the earliest Watt engines, and a degree congregation, when honorary degrees will be conferred on distinguished engineers. As a result of the gathering it is expected that there will be endowment made of a James Watt professorship of engineering to promote research in the fundamental principles underlying the production of power and the study of the conservation of the natural sources of energy, the erection of a James Watt memorial building, and the publication of a memorial volume. The committee in charge is endeavoring to make the name of Birmingham to the engineer what Stratford-on-Avon is to the Shakespearean scholar.

While Watt was born in Greenock, and spent nearly twenty years of his life in Glasgow, the most notable period of his career, extending over 45 years, was passed in Birmingham. Greenock is not letting the occasion pass unnoticed, and is having an exhibition at the Science Museum of Watt models, apparatus and machinery.

Someone has defined genius as capacity for hard work. Certain it is that men of genius do not bind themselves by any eight-hour law, and Watt was no exception to this rule. He gave his whole thought and time to the steam engine, with immeasurable benefit to the human race. And so great has been this benefit that probably the most ardent Sabbatarian would not seek to detract from his greatness, because he discovered the secret of the separate steam condenser during a walk on a fine Sabbath afternoon. In explaining it, he said: "I had entered the green by the gate at the foot of Charlotte street and had passed the old washing-house. I was thinking upon the engine at the time, and had gone as far as the herd's house, when the idea came into my mind that as steam was an elastic body it would rush into a vacuum, and if a communication were made between the cylinder and an exhausted vessel it would rush into it, and might there be condensed without cooling the cylinder. I then saw that I must get rid of the condensed steam and injection water if I used a jet as in Newcomen's engine. Two ways of doing this occurred to me. First, the water might be run off by a condensing pipe, if an off-let could be got at a depth of 35 or 36 feet and any air might be extracted by a small pump. The second was to make the pump large enough to extract both water and air. I had not walked further than the golf house when the whole thing was arranged within my mind."

PRICES IN ENGLAND.

In recent months many Canadian newspapers have published figures to show that the cost of living is higher in Canada than in the United States, and now along comes Mr. Sibley, editor of the Montreal Herald, who has just returned from a trip to England, with figures to show that the consumer in the old country is better off than the Canadian consumer, in spite of the fact that England has to import a large part of her food.

Mr. Sibley found that bread was selling overseas at 19 cents for a four-pound loaf, although flour commanded about the same price as here. The same quality of cheese selling in Canada at 40 cents sells in England at 36 cents, after transportation charges are paid. The best quality of beefsteak costs 48 cents per pound, sirloin 40 cents and mutton and lard sell for about 32 cents. The finest cuts of bacon can be purchased for 48 cents a pound, a much superior article, Mr. Sibley says, than can be had in Canada at 79 cents. Poultry and eggs are dearer than in Canada.

The Montreal man found that he could get a made-to-measure suit of clothes while overseas for about half the cost of a suit of similar quality in Canada, the finest quality suits selling from $35 to $40. He bought fine Irish linen collars at 16 cents each.

Probably prices vary in various parts of the British Isles as they do elsewhere, but Mr. Sibley is convinced that the elimination of profiteering by vigorous methods has kept the cost of living within the reach of persons of modest means, even though there is ample opportunity for those having wealth to spend it quickly.

A VAST HERITAGE.

We of the Western Ontario peninsula take justifiable pride in this choice spot of Canada, where crops never fail, where wealth is plentiful, where schools and churches are almost at everyone's door, where the sun shines brightly most of the year, where there are, comparatively speaking, good roads in all directions, where steam roads and electric lines are ready to convey us hither and thither a dozen times a day, where amusements indoor and outdoor are plentiful, and where we have neighbors within call no matter where we stand. No other district in Canada offers so many advantages for human welfare.

However, it is well that we are reminded once in a while that this peninsula does not comprise all of the big Dominion; that, in fact, it is such a small portion as to attract little attention on the map of Canada. The Western Ontario peninsula comprises about half the area of older Ontario, that is, the part lying south of the Mattawan and Ottawa Rivers; and older Ontario is only one-fifth the entire province, while the entire province is only a small part of Canada.

Few people realize that that part of the province called Northern Ontario has an area of 330,000 square miles, larger than Great Britain, France or Germany, that it contains twenty million acres of agricultural land besides mineral resources that are the envy of every other nation, and water power sufficient to run all the industries of the country, that to travel across it from north to south one would have to go as far as from London to Chicago and back, that almost half of this northern country is no farther north than the southern boundary of the western provinces. And when we realize that the vast areas of Northern Quebec and the Ungava land are larger still, we appreciate to some extent what remains to be developed in this old land of the east.

But it is when we begin to measure with the imagination the immense stretches of land in the west that we get a real idea of what Canada offers to the future. We of the east are accustomed to estimating the west in terms of the three trunk railways, forgetting the tremendous distances of rich land stretching far to the north, hundreds of miles beyond the parallel which marks the northern boundary of Northern Ontario. A party of western men recently made a trip into the country north of Edmonton to study its possibilities. Edmonton, to the easterner, is considered about the "farthest north," yet one of the settlements visited by these men lies 333 miles north of Edmonton and 600 miles from the Pacific Ocean. At this point wheat has been grown successfully for thirty-three years. The importance of the fact is not that wheat can be grown so far north, for most of Norway is still closer to the pole, but in the fact that there is a stretch of land in the west 650 miles from north to south that can support human beings as luxuriously as any other part of the world, including Western Ontario.

When the Prince of Wales has finished his tour of Canada and has returned to England he will have an amazing story to tell of this country's greatness, and it is a story which Canadians themselves should know better than most of them do.

LONDON VETERANS' STAND.

The attitude of the Great War Veterans of London on the gratuity question is representative of the best thought among the returned men on this point. Those members in the country, and they seem to be confined chiefly to Toronto, who rushed in with an impetuous demand for $2,000 or nothing, were not representative of the level-headed Canadian boys who exhibited discipline, steadfastness and devotion to a high ideal in their march against civilization's enemies.

The tone of the meeting in London Tuesday night spoke for steadiness and moderation, but did not imply satisfaction with what has been done. The men know that compensation in very many cases is inadequate and even unjust, and Canada cannot let anything short of justice prevail. They did not ask for a fixed minimum for every soldier, but they did ask, and with every degree of justification, that a joint parliamentary and G. W. V. A. commission be formed to arrange a system of bonus payments as effective means of rehabilitating soldiers in civil life. They realize that the incapacity pension in many cases is too small, but did not undertake to say what should be paid. The London men are to be heartily commended for the moderation with which they discussed the question, and the desire expressed to work along constitutional lines.

Canadians as a whole know that words of commendation do not cost anything, and that no amount of money, as money goes, can repay the men for their sacrifices; and the men who fought in France realize that although they fought to save the country's good name, a bankrupt country, no matter how good its name, is a poor place to look for sustenance and comfort for the rest of their days.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Hamilton Times could not resist the temptation. It asks if the Allies are going to fume because D'Annunzio has occupied Fiume.

Quebec has found good roads a paying investment, and is preparing to spend another $20,000,000 in highway improvement; and yet there are people in Ontario who talk of benighted Quebec.

One publication has defined profiteers as "men who make more money than you do," and the British parliamentary secretary to the food minister defines profiteers as rats and other vermin. We are now waiting for the next chapter.

James Watt discovered the secret of the efficient steam engine when out walking, and Isaac Newton was led to the discovery of the law of gravity when out taking a stroll. How in the world are we going to discover anything new when everyone rides in an automobile?

Detroit is becoming such a large city that almost anything might be expected of it, but when goat meat is being palmed off on it as "leg of choice spring lamb" one would expect a protest in memory of days not so long ago when the sight of green pasture and all the good things it contains was not such a rarity for its citizens as now. Detroit, however, has accepted goats for lambs for a year and didn't know the difference. There is some consolation after all in being a mere "hick."

HELP WANTED.

By Isobel Stoneley.

"I tell ye, I don't want no wimmen folks 'round my place," the judge called lustily over the telephone party line. "Can't you send me down a good, steady, young man? Eh? Yes, bookkeeping and making up the payroll. Eighteen to start. If he's pretty smart I might give him twenty."

"Sorry, judge," came the answer from Layton's Business Agency. "We haven't anyone on our books excepting Miss Preston and Miss Andrews and Miss——"

"Don't want no wimmen folks," repeated the judge flatly. "Can't abide 'em. There ain't a woman in the mill, Layton, and we've got to allow them boys some leeway and latitude. If I put a female in the office they'll have to sit straight and talk soft and keep their hats off, and summer's coming on, and I can't risk it. Huh? You'll recommend her yourself? Nope. Had trouble before. They make more worry 'round the place and upset everybody's comfort. Send me a good, steady-going young man and I'll take him."

That was Wednesday afternoon, and promptly at the following morning, when the thin black line of workers filed through the high board entrance to the mills, Kate Preston waited her chance to follow them, nodding to Timmy Ryan as he passed by, grinning, in his father's made-over trousers, and smiling at all the other little chaps from the brass-finishing department.

"Is that the office over there?" she asked the timekeeper finally, and the judge, just climbing down from his husky little roadster, heard her, and bristled instantly.

Kate stood unflinchingly until he had finished telling her his general and conclusive opinion of women workers, and when he had finished, she smiled at him. It was no propitiatory smile; no wheedling smile. It was comradely and sympathetic.

"You'd better try me, Judge," she said calmly. "Help is scarce everywhere, and it isn't a very desirable place, you know. Mr. Layton says you're pretty hard to suit. It's a long way back to town, and I came out last night. I've taken a room up at Mrs. Ryan's for a week, and if you don't mind I'll just go in and try it anyway."

Before the judge had recovered his presence of mind she was already in the office and had her hat off. He watched her warily. Rollins, the assistant bookkeeper, received her friendly greeting with a grunt, taking his cue from the "boss."

Old Man Adams, the purchasing agent, gave her one long, appraising look over his glasses, smiled and went on opening mail. Sam Doty, the judge's own special messenger and long-suffering office slave, looked scared when she took the judge's old alapaca coat off its accustomed hook and hung her own cloak there.

Yet she stayed. Day after day passed, and while the judge was grouchy and ungracious to her, she kept her place and made good. Gradually she lifted burdens from his shoulders, looking after the filing, the personal mail, the telephone orders, classifying, smoothing organizing until even Adams would cough and beam approval on her. "Pretty likely young woman," he ventured one day, and the judge grinned back appreciatively.

"Exception always proves the rule, Adams," he said. "Don't spoil her."

She had been there nearly two months, and in that time Timmy had gossiped with her and so had his mother. She was told of the shadow that hung over the factory, how Bob Dexter had come home from college and had been in the way. The judge had frankly not wanted to be bothered with him. He wanted to run his own business.

"Time enough when I pass along, Bob," he had said testily. "We don't need you down here."

"And the judge missed a bunch of money one day," Timmy finished up. "Pay day the cash comes from the bank in new bills, and he had three $1,000 bills himself, and they was stolen, and he says Bob took 'em, and Bob never come back."

"Too bad." Kate smiled and forgot all about the story until one day as she took down her own cloak the judge's old grey alpaca coat took another tumble from its adjacent peg, and as she lifted it she felt the stiff crumple of new bills in the inner pocket. There were three of them—nice, bright, brand-new bank-notes. She looked down at them half sadly and walked slowly over to the judge's little inner room and laid them before him.

"There they are," she said gently. "Hadn't you better let me telephone Bob?"

"How the devil did you ever find them?" demanded the judge, joyously.

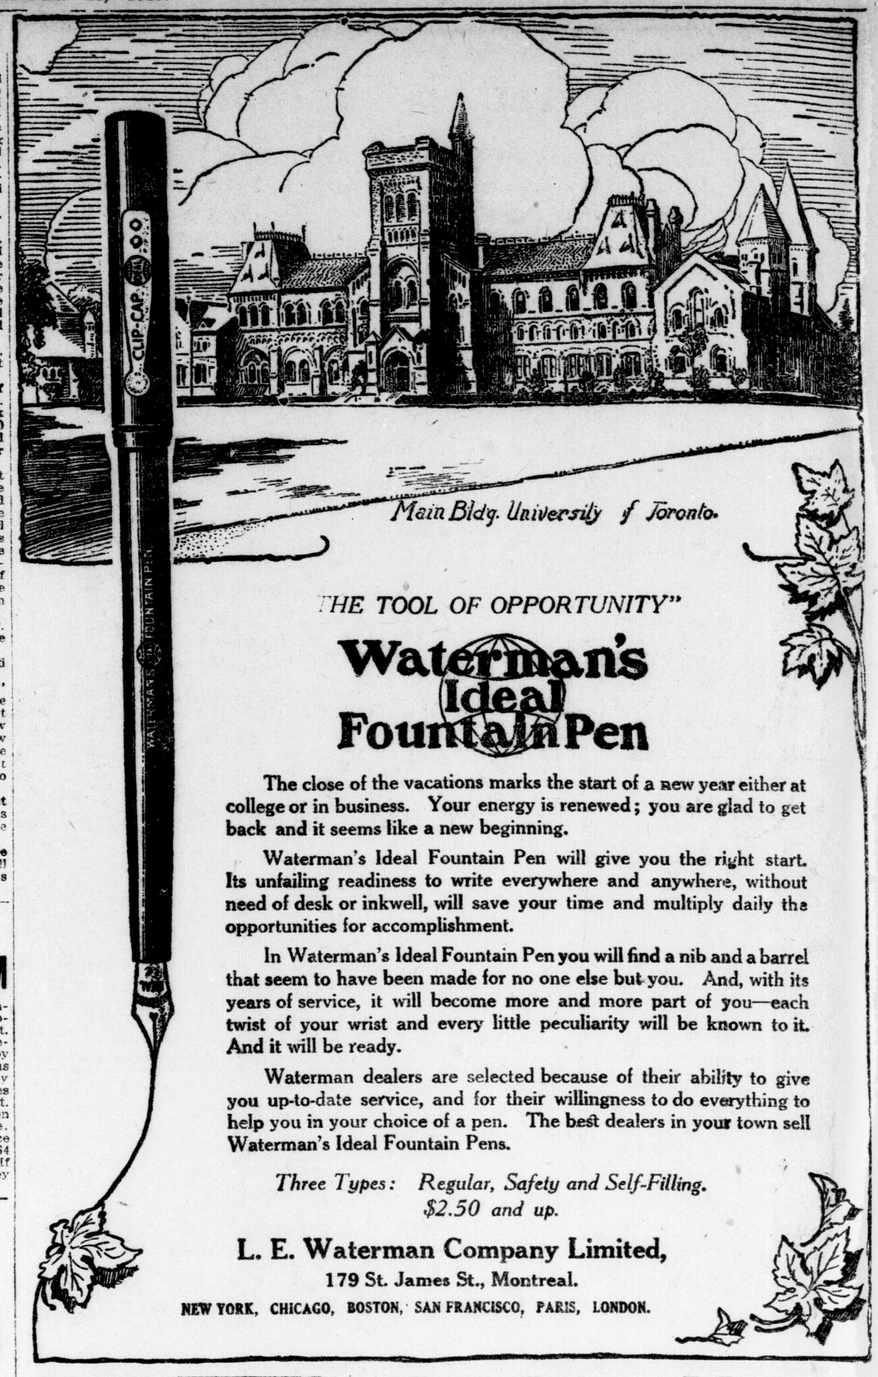

"I came to find them, Judge Dexter." Kate told him seriously, sitting on the edge of his desk. "Bob told me all about it after we became engaged, and how hopeless it was trying to make you know they must be right under your nose around here some place. He couldn't come and look for them, so I came. Do you mind very much?"

The judge glanced warily out, but Adams was out and the office was in its afternoon lull of quiet. He laid the three bills back in her hand.

"Take the pesky things, my dear," he said huskily, "and call up Bob and tell him for me he's got more sense than his old dad."

Weak - Nervous Women

There is No Remedy Like Vinol

"Women's work is never done." That's why they are overworked, nervous, all run down, no appetite, and can "hardly drag around." Vinol creates a hearty appetite, induces sound sleep, invigorates the nerves and creates strength.

Here is Proof that Should Convince Everyone

"I was run-down, nervous, and losing flesh rapidly, and had fainting spells, so I had to stop work for weeks at a time. My doctor told me to take Vinol. I did and after two or three days I commenced to feel better. I have gained flesh rapidly and feel better in every way since taking it." —Miss Phyllis Jones, W. Toronto, Ont.

"I suffered from general debility and a nervous breakdown; I was depressed, weak and tired all the time. A neighbor told me about Vinol, and after all other medicines had failed to help me Vinol built me up and made me well. I heartily recommend Vinol." —Mrs. James Stock, Winnipeg, Manitoba.

For all run-down, nervous, anaemic conditions, weak women, overworked men, feeble old people and delicate children, there is no remedy like Vinol.

Your money will be returned if Vinol fails — Leading Druggists.

Trial Vote Is To Be Taken at Wortley Road Mothers' Club

No Risk of Spoiled Ballots Run in This School District.

Mrs. Mattie Rose Crawford, new industrial secretary at the Y. W. C. A., was the speaker at a well-attended meeting of the Wortley Road Mothers' Club, held Wednesday night at the school. Mrs. Crawford urged the mothers to get in touch with this department of the Y. W. C. A. work, pointing out the dangers which beset young girls, and how association with such an institution as the Y. W. C. A. could make it much easier for both mothers and girls. Especially did she urge the mothers to become interested in the welfare of the industrial girl worker.

Trial Vote To Be Taken.

Mrs. Crawford will be present at next month's meeting of this club and conduct a practical demonstration of how the referendum vote should be made. Trial ballots will be prepared and actually used by the mothers.

The club decided to hold a rummage sale and sale of home cooking at 2:30 Friday afternoon, at 47 Edward street, the receipts to be in aid of community work in the Wortley road district. It was also decided at this meeting that the club would fill a certain number of boxes, to be used in feeding the Western Ontario returned men on the day of the prince's visit to the city. Mrs. Stanley, the new president, was in the chair for the first time, 21 members joining the club.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

Dear Miss Grey,—I just merely wanted to know if my boy was entitled to $100 gratuity. I was told that he was, by a returned soldier, with some confidence. I told him that he had not been overseas, that he was picked out twice, but was each time among those who were too many. He said that did not matter; if he had been in khaki uniform three months exercising, that he was entitled to $100. Now, Miss Grey, he had been in over three months.

Well, now, I should just like you to be so kind and considerate to try and give me information about it.

He's been a very good, honest boy. His father died when he was 7. Just about a month after he came out from the Barnardo home he got his big toe frozen to his boot, when he was about 12 years old, and it came on again when he began marching exercises. He was in the barracks hospital and was operated on. He is all right now, thank God. Please let me know if he is entitled to it or not. "Keep on smiling." Good luck to your page.

Thousands of People Saw the "Spray" Process of Making KLIM—Separated Milk Powder Demonstrated at the Exhibition

THE specially constructed drying-box for demonstrating how liquid separated milk is converted into a dry powder—KLIM—without removing a particle of the food value or changing the natural flavor was the center of attraction for thousands of visitors to the Toronto Exhibition.

For the benefit of the wives and mothers who did not visit the Exhibition this illustration of the "spray" process will be of especial interest as it shows how an ever ready supply of pure separated milk can be kept in the kitchen for use at any time.

Liquid separated milk is forced by cylinders through tiny pinholes at great pressure, coming out in the form of a fine mist just as from a huge atomizer. This fine mist enters a large square room through which are blowing strong currents of warm filtered air. The spray of liquid is whirled about this room just as you have seen the wind blow snow or fog. The moisture laden air passes out through screens which prevent any of the Klim escaping. Drifts of fine, clean milk-white powder pile up in a few minutes and is then packed into the attractive blue-and-white striped tins your grocer sells.

At no time does the liquid or the powder come into contact with human hands. Every machine, pipe, drying-box and utensil is as clean and sanitary as scientific management can devise. The cleanliness of the Klim plants would delight the heart of the most painstaking home-maker.

Women At Home and Abroad

"JUDY" IS A NEW WOMEN'S MAGAZINE.

No, "Judy" isn't one of those mysterious and altogether impossible figures which stand in the sewing closet on the pretense that it will mold itself to any human form which claims to call itself feminine. "Judy" is a new publication on the New York market, with the entire editorial staff composed of women. This is what "Judy" says about herself on the fly-leaf:

"I will be pro-woman without being anti-man; I will try to be experimental and entertaining without being silly; vigorous without being denied the use of the mails."

GIRL GUIDE MOVEMENT TO FORE AGAIN.

A vigorous campaign is on foot, instigated by Mrs. F. P. Betts, local commissioner of the Girl Guide movement, to organize a large number of companies in the city during the fall and winter months. The companies already formed are becoming stronger and their attraction is being felt among the girlhood of London.

This week-end will see several of the companies at their regular work once more. On Friday afternoon the St. Paul's Cathedral Guides will meet, to be followed in the evening by a gathering of the Cronyn Memorial company, and on Saturday afternoon by the Y. W. C. A. patrols. Miss Helen d'Avignon, new girls' work secretary at the Y. W. C. A., will be present and speak at these meetings.

NEW FRENCH SILHOUETTE IS WIDE AT HIPS.

At this time of year, of course, no gown is more popular than the one-piece street dress. And everyone here in Canada, far removed from the fashion centre, does want to know just what the fashion lords are decreeing over in Paris. What they say is this: "You will be wider than you are long from the waist down, and a mere slim line from the waist upward." How does that suit you, my Lady Slim? It's just the very thing that will suit you, especially if you are young and pretty. If you are inclined to be stout, well—but, of course, suit yourself.

Perhaps one-third of the new one-piece frocks are being made with the wide hip effect, and the extreme shortness of the sleeves is a noticeable feature about them. Indeed, they are so short that they display the arm, not only to the elbow, but more than half way beyond to the shoulder. The necks are almost invariably round, and often edged with a little lingerie collar. Skirts are only slightly longer.

H. C. L. AFFECTS LADIES-IN-WAITING.

People have been accustomed to associate strikes with the manual laborer. What, then, would Madame Grundy's surprise be when it is rumored that the ladies-in-waiting to the Queen were almost on the point of striking? The reason was that they considered $1,500 a year, allowed them from the King's purse, not enough, owing to the high price of court dresses. The would-be strikers were twelve ladies-in-waiting, including the Countess of Shafesbury and Lady Eve Dugdale.

They maintained that this allowance covered expenses nicely in pre-war days when court dresses, shoes and bouquets were not so expensive, but even then they had to skimp a bit. However, since the war, now that court balls are again the rage, they declare that they have spent as much as $2,000 in four months.

The Countess of Shafesbury and Lady Dugdale, the most influential of the court ladies, audited their expenses and showed them to the Queen, who, however, declared that the court ladies should be willing to make some sacrifices, and that there was no reason why their annual allowances, paid during war time, when there were no court functions, should not help at the present time. (The $1,500 from the King was practically a gift during war time.) Whereupon the Countess of Shafesbury and Lady Dugdale immediately resigned.

When Queen Mary found she could not persuade them to reconsider, and that the action threatened to break up the ladies' circle, her majesty ordered an inquiry into the ladies' expenses, and granted a 100 per cent increase. This will mean that an increased expenditure of $18,000 a year will be put on the King's private purse.

I. O. D. E. TO ERECT $100,000 HOSPITAL FOR SICK CHILDREN

Soon To Begin Raising Money For Beautiful War Memorial in London.

Much important business was conducted at the first autumn meeting of the Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E., held yesterday afternoon at the Soldiers' Club. At this meeting it was officially passed that the I.O.D.E. should undertake as a war memorial the erection of a $100,000 hospital for sick children in the city. And the order will begin immediately to raise the funds necessary. Child welfare has been undertaken as the big peace work of the London chapters. Their tea-room at the Western Fair which, by the way, took in $1,115.01, was in aid of this cause. Of course, the expenses were large and the amount actually made for child welfare here would not be more than half this sum.

Soldiers' Club Closed.

The Soldiers' Club on Dundas street has now been officially closed as such, but it has not yet been decided whether the I.O.D.E. will yet make use of the building.

Another important matter came up at yesterday's meeting—that of helping feed the soldiers from Western Ontario on the day of the visit of the Prince of Wales. It was decided that since the other organizations in the city were uniting in the filling of boxes for the men, the I.O.D.E. would do its share by serving a buffet luncheon to the officers who visit the city on that day.

Rally on October 3.

The annual I.O.D.E. rally of all the primary chapters in Military District No. 1 was arranged to be held on Friday, Oct. 3. As child welfare is to be the work of the order here in London it was thought well to interest the chapters out of town in this idea. Consequently, the principal speakers on rally day will talk on the subject of child welfare.

Where's the Economy

The money women save by doing their own washing is often paid away in doctor's bills—many times over. Those terrible backaches—those dangerous chills—are surely stepping-stones to the doctor's office or hospital. No wonder women dread wash-day. SOX GET TIGHTER HOLD ON PENNANT BY GRABBING TWO

Kerr Shuts New York Out in First Session—Naps Right After With Win.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The Chicago White Sox advanced a little closer in clinching the American League pennant today by defeating New York in both sections of a double-header. The scores were 2 to 0 and 11 to 2. The first game was a pitchers' battle in which Kerr, the little Chicago left-hander, won from Quinn. Kerr scored the only run on Quinn in the sixth inning on his own single, Leibold's single and Weaver's sacrifice fly. Weaver clinched the game with a home-run off Mogridge in the ninth inning.

In the second game the White Sox knocked out Thormahlen in the first inning and continued to pile up runs on Shawkey and Shore. Chicago made nineteen hits of which E. Collins made five in six times up. He also stole three bases.

SAYS BAN B. JOHNSON HAS TO GO OUT OF BASEBALL

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—"Byron B. Johnson will be put out of baseball," declared Col. Jacob Ruppert, one of the owners of the New York Americans, who is also a director of the league. William H. Baker, president of the Philadelphia Nationals, member of the nominating committee for a chairman of the National Baseball Commission, announced today that Garry Herrmann of the Cincinnati Reds ought to resign as chairman of the national commission so that a successor may be elected for him immediately.

Baker said it would not be fair to baseball for Herrmann to continue as chairman while his club is contending for the world's pennant.

World Series Will Draw Many Canucks to Chi

Most Pulling For Sox To Win Series — Strong Offensive, Weak Hurling Characteristics of Sox.

With Chicago, Cleveland and Detroit all pennant possibilities this last two months, fans from Ontario have been sure of being handy for the northern end of the world's series. Chicago, while the worst choice of the three with regard to proximity, will be the mecca of a good-sized Ontario contingent, and plans are being arranged by a number of Londoners already to watch the battle for the world's baseball honors. If the Sox clinch the pennant, "nighness" of the Windy City will perhaps get the Canadian contingent pulling for the White Sox with a realization that even on dope, which is never any more reliable than the weather reports, that the forthcoming affair is going to be a tight, tidy little fight and with the usual upsets to all the varied forecasts coming in now like a flood.

The pennant race in both leagues has been one of the best ever. Until last night there was always the possibilities of the Giants doing something phenomenal and unheard-of and winning a string of games in the National. And in the American, the last few weeks held possibilities even for the Naps, which are not much apparent just at this sitting. Several reasons may be given for the Sox holding the lead, and one is the failure of Cicotte to break under the strain. The sensational all-round playing of Risberg has been a contributing factor to the Sox position at the top.

They Get There.

At any rate, the fact remains that the Sox are today under the leadership of Gleason, practically contenders for world's honors, and that is the main thing. How they reached there will form dope for the post-season series of the stove league, but in reaching there, the Sox haven't been able to disguise a lot of things about themselves. Gleason, as the managing brains of the outfit, is a newcomer to the spotlight of managersah, and beyond the fact that he took over last spring and molded an aggregation together that has fought its way steadily to pennant honors out of material that in spots looked very discouraging, there is little real dope on him. But on the team, there has been thousands of yards of perfectly good paper used to show up its various angles, and out of this sea two main facts stand out to the comfort and possibly discomforture of Sox fans, and these are that the Sox are a loyal, get-together, hard-hitting outfit, but are weak on the hurling end.

Figuring John Collins, as well as Leibold, as a regular, because of his frequent appearances against left-hand pitching, and Schalk in the same category because he catches all the games, the Sox have eight day-after-day performers, six of whom are batting .278 or better, and four of whom are in the .300 class. Two hover between .255 and .260 all the time. Risberg is the only weakling.

Figures Lie.

Felsch, who should be up near the .300 mark, is a much greater factor in the batting than .254 indicates. To find a man who has beaten him in two-base hits, one must go up to Speaker, who is hitting .285; the next man above him in triples is Judge, whose average is 291. In homers Felsch shows especially well. Only nine men lead him, and he hits, when at home on a park on which it is difficult to get four-basers. Even Babe Ruth never made one there until this year. And in addition, Felsch is fourth among the base-stealers of the Johnson circuit.

So there's a punch almost anywhere, and there is no man who can be counted on as "fish," until the pitchers are reached. Risberg may be excepted. The Swede, at that, hits a ball hard when he does meet it. And even if he is gotten out of the way, there still is Ray Schalk, batting .278, and with an uncanny habit of getting them when they hurt; that is, when they hurt the opposition.

That's the offensive power of the Sox contenders as hitters. The league statistics give them something along the same lines in all the offensive departments of the game.

In their pitching problem centres much speculation. Cicotte has had a marvelous season, a marvelous finish so far. What the ultimate finish in the series will be is something else. "Lefty" Williams, on the past season, is nearly in a class with his teammate. Will they both break as other season mainstays have in the past, and give their less-famous teammates opportunities which lesser lights have grasped in the past to fill the breach and win both games and fame? Like all problems these have their answers, and they will be tucked away in a box score in a matter of weeks.

Leonard Again Gets Decision Over Dundee

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 17.—Benny Leonard, world's lightweight boxing champion, outfought Johnny Dundee of New York in an eight-round bout here tonight. Although Dundee earned the honors in only one round, he fought hard throughout and puzzled the champion with his jumping-jack tactics. Leonard weighed 135½ pounds, five more than his opponent.

Leonard had the advantage in the first round and early in the second sent a right to the head. Dundee feigned grogginess for a few seconds and then suddenly rushed and almost carried Leonard off his feet with the attack.

Dundee's blows lacked direction in the third which was even. Leonard took the fourth by a shade and led in the remaining sessions. In the seventh he almost doubled Dundee up with a hard body blow, but failed in the final round in an effort to send over a knockout. It as the seventh time the pair had met.

Red Bird Bicycles

ARE MADE IN CANADA

and that they are good Bicycles is proven by the number you daily see on the streets.

When you buy a RED BIRD you are certain that your money remains in Canada, for Canadian circulation. When you buy another make the chances are that the money you pay for it goes to another country and helps to keep foreign workmen busy in place of Canadian workmen.

Beware of the Bicycle that is offered to you as a made-in-Canada. Up to the present there is no law preventing anyone to misuse the phrase Made in Canada, and this label on a bicycle does not prove to you that it is made in Canada.

INSIST on knowing where all the parts are made. On a RED BIRD we can show you. Can the other fellow?

THE LONDON ADVERTISER'S GREAT $2,750 PUZZLE CONTEST

50 Cash Prizes

THIS CONTEST IS FOR OLD AND NEW SUBSCRIBERS

The Advertiser Offers 50 Cash Prizes, Having a Value of $2,750.00, to Those Submitting the Best Solutions of Its Circle Puzzle. Everyone May Enter This Contest, Which Is Merely a Test of Accuracy and Perseverance.

The London Advertiser's Own Puzzle Contest

All Payments Apply on Subcriptions, So You Can't Lose

The Problem

Count the circles in the Puzzle Chart.

Every circle is complete and the chart is entirely free from tricks and illusions. However, to pick out every circle and count it requires patience and care. Those who do this the best will win the valuable cash prizes offered for solving the puzzle.

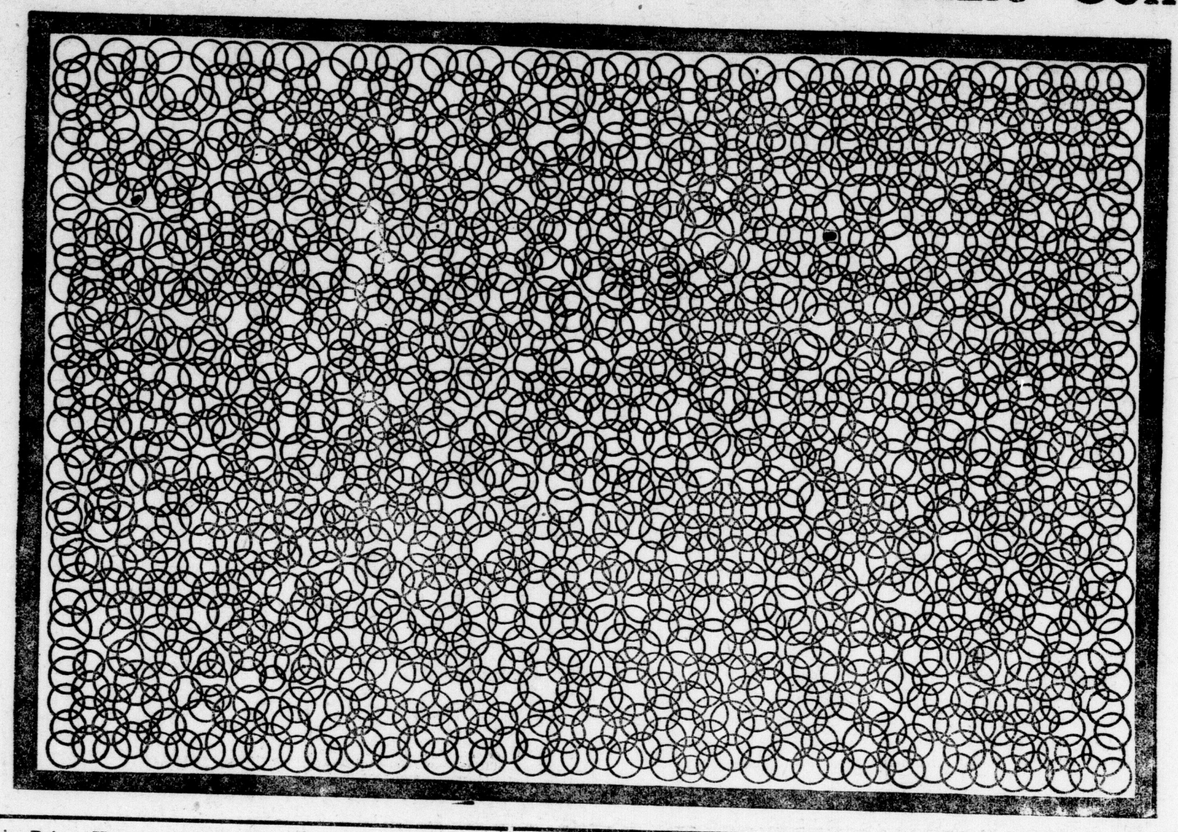

Any method which contestants hit upon that seems to be best adapted to making the count may be adopted. The Advertiser will be glad to receive short notes explaining how the results were obtained. As many different solutions may be submitted as contestants wish. Before sending in a solution, however, read the general rules carefully.

This contest will not only prove profitable to the winners of the prizes, but solving the puzzle will also prove to be a pleasant and fascinating pastime. Taking advantage of this opportunity may net you as much as $864. The plan of this contest permits everyone to work out his own results. He will not only know what he has done himself, but will also have an opportunity to check up the work of his competitors.

Read carefully all the rules, then make up your mind to enter this very interesting contest. It is open to all present subscribers, as well as to those who wish to become subscribers.

As the main prizes have an increased value, according to the amount paid on subscription when solutions are filed, contestants should familiarize themselves with the prize list before sending in their solutions.

Additional puzzle charts may be obtained at The Advertiser office, or they will be mailed to all who send a self-addressed, stamped envelope for them.

How To Enter

This contest is open to present bona fide residents of Ontario.

Anyone in this territory may enter the contest upon payment of not less than $2.00 or more than $12.48. This amount will be applied to subscription to The London Advertiser at regular subscription rates. It may be applied on either the morning or evening edition, or both.

You may submit just one solution or as many different ones as you wish. With each solution you must pay not less than $2.00 or more than $12.48. The total amount paid, whether you send one or more than one solution, will be applied to one continuous subscription, unless you otherwise direct. If you are already a subscriber the amount, or amounts, you pay will be applied to extending the time you are paid to. If you are a new subscriber the amount paid will be credited to you and your subscription started at once.

Present subscribers, wherever located, will continue to receive the paper through the same channels as now. No change whatsoever will be made in carriers where subscribers receive the paper through carrier service. All carriers will receive notice that the subscription has been paid and be instructed to collect the amount from The Advertiser office. The same will be done where the paper is being received through an authorized newsdealer.

If you send more than one solution at one time send a separate blank with each one and state in each blank the amount you are paying with that solution.

This contest is open to both men and women. You may order the paper sent to someone else if you wish, names and addresses being subject to any changes that later may be desired.

The sooner you send in your first solution the longer time you will have to go over your figures and send in another solution if you find you can do better.

Address .....

NOTE: This blank, whether used by a contestant for his own solution and subscription, or by someone who has been interested to become a subscriber, whether he enters the contest or not, will enable the records to be kept correctly, and also will insure the one sending in a new subscriber to get proper credit on the prize awards.

Important Features

The attention of contestants is called to two important features in connection with the prizes.

1. While the amount you pay for subscription to The Advertiser has no effect on your winning a prize, it does affect the value of the first five prizes should you win one of them. For instance, each of the first five prizes has a fixed value, to which is added from five to fifty times what the winners pay when they register their solutions. This is explained further in the prize list.

2. The first five prizes may also be increased ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS each by your interesting five persons who are not now regular subscribers to become subscribers. You will receive twenty dollars for each one, whether you secure one or five. Each one of these new subscribers must pay not less than the minimum amount ($2.00) required of contestants. They may pay up to the maximum ($12.48) if they desire, and they may also become competitors for the prizes if they wish to submit one or more solutions of the puzzle. That is, they may enter the contest under the same conditions exactly as any other contestant, the payment they make entitling them to entry.

The name of each one of these new subscribers must be sent in on one of the accompanying blanks, whether he becomes a contestant or not. The fact that he was secured by you must also be indicated in the proper place provided in the blank, so you will receive credit. You may send in any or all of these five names whenever you wish, either when you send in your own solution or later. Just use one of the blanks for each one, and then there will be no mistake made in regard to your getting due credit.

Rate of Subscriptions

On account of this contest all previous subscription offers are withdrawn. The following rates will prevail:

Evening Edition—Delivered in London.

Two Years	$12.48
One Year	6.24
Six Months	3.12

Morning or Evening—Called for in London.

Morning or Evening—By Mail Outside of London.

Two Years	$8.00
One Year	4.00

Deciding Ties

In the event of ties those tieing will be required to solve a second puzzle in order to determine who shall receive the prizes. This second puzzle, if one should be required, will be equally as attractive and practical as the first. Under this plan those who win will be assured of receiving the full value of their prizes without having to divide them with other contestants. Should still further ties ensue a third problem of the same order as the second will be submitted to those again tied to solve. This plan will be continued until all have been eliminated except the actual prize winners. Should there be no ties on the first puzzle, only the one, of course, will be presented. In the event that a second puzzle is required, one week will be allowed in which to solve it. This will prevent the contest being prolonged for any unusual length of time.

General Rules and Information

There is no objection to several members of one family or several friends working together to obtain a solution, provided only one of them turns the solution in. The prizes are awarded for individual effort, and it would not be proper for one person to turn in a solution, then give it to someone else, and for the latter to submit it as his own.

If the paper is already being sent to your residence, either by carrier or through the mails, send in the renewal in the name of the person who is already subscribing. If some other member of the family wants the solution credited to him, or to her, merely attach a note to the blank giving the name of the one who wants to have credit for the solution. The purpose of this is to avoid sending two papers when only one is needed.

When, in the judgment of the Contest Manager, more than one member of the same family, or any others, send in two or more solutions which have the appearance of having been worked in collusion, The Advertiser will reserve the right to use its best judgment in refunding any of the subscriptions paid in connection therewith and rejecting the solutions.

Information will be furnished and rulings made on any points contestants may want information about. The Advertiser reserves the right to decide any and all questions which arise, and those entering the contest as a part of the contract must and do agree to abide by such rulings.

The date a solution is filed has nothing to do with its winning a prize. It is always safe, however, to send in a solution as early as convenient. Then you will have ample time to go over your figures and, if you find you can get a better solution, you will still have an opportunity to profit by your later effort.

As many prizes will be reserved as there are people tied before any prizes are awarded for less correct solutions. That is, if three people should tie on the best solution the first three prizes would be reserved for them, and they would be awarded these prizes in the order of the standing of their solutions of the next puzzle. That is, the best solution would be awarded the first prize, the next best the second and the third best the third prize.

All solutions must be sent in on the blank herewith. No solution unaccompanied by a cash subscription will be accepted. No solution may be changed after it is once registered.

No one directly or indirectly associated with The Advertiser will be allowed to participate in this contest.

ROWELL AFTER PREMIER'S JOB? LOOKS LIKE IT

Apparently Newton Wesley Would Like To Take Borden's Place.

HAS BEEN SPOKESMAN

Though Doherty Is Acting Premier, Rowell Has Been Mouthpiece.

OTTAWA, Sept. 17.—If Premier Borden does not get back to the House very soon he may find that his position has been usurped. When he was absent in England last session Sir Thos. White, minister of finance, undertook to plume himself for the job, and was getting along nicely when Sir Robert heard of his aspirations and cabled curtly that he would be back right away to take up his duties as premier where he had left off. He came back without waiting to sign the peace treaty. Sir Thomas White pleaded ill health and retired from the Government altogether. He is back in the House today as plain M. P. for Leeds and Brockville, and he is in the very pink of condition and not ill at all.

Sir Robert came back, but he did not take much interest in affairs and last week was confined to his bed with grippe. Now there is another aspirant for his job. Hon. N. W. Rowell, president of the privy council, has apparently decided that he would like to preside in reality at the round table. Day after day, since the premier's absence, it has been Mr. Rowell who has risen and spoken for the Government when important questions have been discussed, and that despite the fact that Hon. C. J. Doherty, minister of justice, is acting prime minister.

Defended Delegates.

It was Mr. Rowell who undertook, when the peace resolution was on the tapis, to do all the defending of the peace delegates which was done. It was he who, after Hon. Arthur Sifton, a signatory to the treaty, had sat down without having explained anything, brought the real old Tories of the Union party to their feet by acclaiming to all the world that Canada had reached the rank of nationhood through the efforts of the delegates.

And it was he who, after the tumult and the shouting had died, stood for ten minutes receiving the handshakes and congratulations of these same old Tories who a year ago considered him only a Grit gone astray. It was he again who, last Friday, delivered the Government's ultimatum on the gratuity proposition and who gave the veterans to believe that the premier had receded from his former position and had now granted a committee of Parliament.

Perhaps Hon. C. J. Doherty was not without intent when last night he announced on behalf of the Government that the committee would have nothing whatever to do with the question of gratuity.

Does Not Matter.

But the statement of Mr. Doherty does not matter much. Certainly Mr. Rowell gave the impression that so far as he was concerned the committee was intended to inquire into all matters affecting the soldiers, including the gratuities, and certainly that was the impression which the veterans had. And Mr. Rowell has ordered that half a million copies of the speech he made last Friday be printed and distributed at the public expense. Mr. Doherty's speech will not be printed.

So much for the first stages in the aspiring plans of Mr. Rowell. The second stage came today. It is just about eighteen months ago since Hon. Charles Murphy delivered in the House certain specific charges with regard to the Liberalism of the president of the privy council, and with regard to his reasons for joining Union. On that occasion old Tories in the Government came surreptitously to Mr. Murphy and shook his hand in silence. Since then Mr. Rowell had made no effort to answer the charges. Tonight, however, the spirit moved him and he spoke.

Story of His Life.

It was necessary that as an aspirant for the position of a new leadership he should be clean shriven before he went further. So he took the House into his confidence and he told the story of his life.

The fonts at the printing bureau which contain the letter "I" will be exhausted tonight in placing the words of Mr. Rowell on Hansard. It was very personal.

He prefaced his remarks by an eloquent tribute to Sir Joseph Wesley Flavelle and by a defence against the rude remarks of Joseph Archambault, who had spoken before. He declared that the world would yet thank Sir Joseph for what he had done for the empire and the world at large, and thereafter he turned to consideration of himself.

Hon. Charles Murphy was not in the House. Mr. Rowell gave a blanket denial to all the charges which the member for Russell had made. To prepare the way for the new leadership he proclaimed that during his leadership of the Liberal party in Ontario he had not taken a cent for his services as such; in fact he had handed into his firm of partners as compensation for the loss of his services his sessional indemnity and $5,000 a year in addition of the profits of the firm which were coming to him. He had got along all right on the remainder.

Campaign Fund.

So far as the secretarial fund was concerned it was designed to pay the expenses of organizers for the "abolish the bar" campaign. He denied that he had ever aspired for the position of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and called F. F. Pardee (who was not in the House) to witness that this was so.

The conclusion of his speech was a plea for unity in this fair Dominion.

The president of the privy council spoke until a quarter to six, and apparently felt sure that there would be no possibility of rebuttal from the Opposition. Unfortunately there was just a quarter of an hour left before adjournment, and James Robb of Huntingdon, chief Liberal whip, took advantage of that short period to inform the House that the eloquent pleader for unity had, during hte election of 1917, been party to appeals which had for their purpose the dividing of race from race and creed from creed in the Dominion.

However, at the conclusion of Mr. Rowell's speech the old Tories wildly cheered him, and another reception was held after adjournment at the back of the speaker's chair.

DON'T BE A SLAVE TO YOUR NERVES

Good Advice To Nervous People.

People who are excessively nervous, tired out and all run down, who get the jumps and fidgets, who can't concentrate their minds on work, have fits of blues, trembling, nervous headaches and dyspepsia and that "don't give a hang" feeling so common to nervous folks, may take it as a certain fact that their trouble is due to impoverished or devitalized nerve force. Their nerve cells are starving, and when they give out entirely complete nervous prostration or breakdown is the result.

A splendid treatment for weak nerves is found in the famous Ferro-Peptine, composed of six of the best nerve vitalizing elements known to modern chemistry. These tablets go straight to the nerve cells and begin immediate action. Take a Ferro-Peptine tablet, wait ten minutes and watch yourself perk up. They feed your famished nerve cells, start healthy blood circulation and normal digestion. Then you brighten up, put on a smile, get some of the old-time "pep" back in your system, and feel as happy as a clam at high tide. Ferro-Peptine is absolutely harmless, contains no dangerous habit-forming drugs, is easy to take, inexpensive, and Standard Drug Company and other leading druggists sell it on a positive guarantee of successful results or money back.—Advt.

PUBLIC TO HAVE CHANCE TO BUY HOARDED BACON

Supply Held For Export To Be Seized For Home Consumption.

O'CONNOR WILL ACT

Tells Davies Manager the Public Is Not Getting a Square Deal.

TORONTO, Sept. 17.—W. F. O'Connor, nice-chairman of the board of commerce, proposes that Canadian consumers of bacon shall have an opportunity to get in on some of the bacon sides which have been exported to the Old Country and sold at comparatively low prices. He intimated today, after F. C. Fox, general manager of the William Davies Company, and J. A. Nelson, superintendent of all the Davies retail stores in Toronto, had given evidence, that a million pounds of this commodity, at present locked up in the Davies plant awaiting the day on which the English consumer should have used up the supply of Wiltshire sides he had on hand, would be coralled for home consumption.

The commissioner told Mr. Fox that the Canadian consumer was not getting a square deal — when his bacon costs were regulated by European famine prices.

Fox's Denial.

Mr. Fox repeatedly denied that the William Davies Company was interested in any packers' combine. He promised to produce a chart giving detailed information as to costs, selling prices and profits.

At the conclusion of the testimony, Commissioner O'Connor said: "You have undertaken to say that you are not making any profit. We will find out what the profit is before we are done here."

The inquiry will resume tomorrow morning.

UNACCOUNTED FOR DESERTIONS FROM C.E.F. NUMBER 1,733

161 Missing, Casualties and Not Accounted For Since 1914.

BELOW THE AVERAGE

London, Sept. 17.—The Canadian Associated Press is officially informed that the total number of desertions in the Canadian forces since August, 1914, and not accounted for is 1,733.

When it is remembered that over 420,000 troops came overseas from Canada, this is considered below the average. It must also be borne in mind that included in this number are those who deserted from the first contingent of about 33,000 men, a high proportion of whom were men born in the British Isles.

An average of about fourteen deserters a month is being accounted for, so that the list is likely to be considerably reduced. The total number missing in battle, casualties and not accounted for, since the beginning of the war is 161.

It is understood that Sir Edward Kemp, minister of militia overseas, is sailing for Canada immediately.

FOUR YEARS IN PEN FOR GODERICH MAN ON SERIOUS CHARGE

Albert Jardine Weeps When Sentenced—Good Races at Fair.

GODERICH, Sept. 17.—The Jardine case opened here this morning after the adjournment from last evening, the jury being kept in guard by two constables. The court was again adjourned this morning at 11:30, till 2 p. m. to hear expert evidence in regard to some letters which Jardine claims the girl had written to him, but which had not passed through the postoffice, but which were put in a secret place which Jardine says they had "framed up" between themselves.

Jardine has not been living with his wife since the spring of 1918, but was supposed to be paying a certain amount towards her and the children's keep, which he has not been doing, it is alleged. Jardine claimed that he made no threats against the girl's life, which she says he did. However, a razor was found on his person when he was arrested by Constables Murphy and Gundry, on the 25th of July at the Meneset Station on the C. P. R. about 2 miles from here.

Expert Witness.

The expert witness on the letters that were produced said that the person who wrote No. 2 did not write No. 1. He claimed that there were several differences between the two letters and explained a number of things fully to the jury.

The jury was out three-quarters of an hour and brought a verdict of guilty on the indictment of having carnal knowledge of the young woman.

The judge then asked Jardine if he had anything to say why sentence should not be passed on him, and he replied that he would not let it occur again if sentence were not passed. The judge replied that if the jury had found him guilty of rape that the sentence would have been much heavier, but that he would sentence him to the limit on the indictment of which he was found guilty, four years in the Portsmouth penitentiary at Kingston.

The prisoner felt his position very keenly and broke down crying as he was leaving the prisoners' box. M. G. Cameron, K.C., acted for the prisoner, and Dudley Holmes of Wingham prosecuted.

BUMPER FAIR CROWD.

The fall exhibition had another bumper crowd today. There was a fine showing of horses and stock. All live stock was paraded in front of the grandstand. One of the features of the day was the drawing contest put on by the G. W. V. A. of town for a Chevrolet touring car, which was won by Miss Gladys Saults, daughter of Walter Saults.

The horse racing was another big attraction and some good horses were entered.

NATION LEAGUE THE ONLY HOPE FOR THE WORLD

Nothing Else Can End Welter of Warring Nations, Says Lloyd George.

HOPES FOR NEW BRITAIN

Free From Poverty and Tyranny of Mankind Over Mankind.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—Premier David Lloyd George spoke before the International Brotherhood Congress this evening and was given an enthusiastic reception. He began by saying that a political platform was not involved at the meeting. He dwelt on the passing of the old order through the war and alluded to General Smuts as having employed the most penetrating phrase of the war in reference to the league of nations—"Humanity has struck its tents and once more is on the march."

Mr. Lloyd George expressed the hope that all armaments would disappear and that the long-drawn misunderstandings between Ireland and the rest of the kingdom would also pass.

"I am looking forward," he continued, "to seeing waste in all forms disappear and a new Britain springing up—a really free land, free from poverty, from the tyranny of mankind over mankind. Some persons seem to think that I have accepted the position of leading counsel for the old order. Rather than that I would throw up my brief tomorrow.

Great Demonstration.

This statement provoked a great demonstration, the audience rising and cheering.

"A league of nations was never more needed," declared Mr. Lloyd George. "I fear the welter of warring nations will continue unless there is a strong hand like that of the federated powers to insist upon peace. I see no hope for the world except in such a strong league."

Concluding with an appeal for fair play among all classes, he exclaimed: "It is not sufficient to say that we have won the war. We want to reclaim the wilderness of the world and redress wrongs. That is due to the immortal dead. They died for the redemption of the world."

May Visit Canada.

Thomas Howell, a Canadian delegate, in seconding the vote of thanks to the premier, said he understood Mr. Lloyd George intended to visit the western world. In this case Mr. Howell said he hoped the brotherhoods of the United States and Canada would have an opportunity to greet him on their platforms.

Mr. Lloyd George, in acknowledging the vote, referred to the possibility of a visit to Canada and the United States.

EAST ELGIN TORIES MAY SEE, PERHAPS NOMINATE, A. BROWER

Elusive M.P.P. Expected To Show Himself To His Electors Tuesday.

After postponing it once and arranging plans for several weeks the Tory convention of the East Elgin party, calling itself "Liberal-Conservatives," will meet in Aylmer on Tuesday.

Such characteristic standbys of the party as David Marshall, M.P., Hon. F. G. McDiarmid and possibly Andrew Brower, M. P. P., will address the convention, it is said. In the nomination of a candidate it is stated there will be only one name offered, that of Andrew Brower. East Elgin electors will at least be given an opportunity to see him. Although representative in the Provincial House since the last election, he has never been seen or heard of except in connection with his possible appointment to the position of sheriff of Elgin since he was placed in Parliament. Mr. Brower will be opposed by Andrew Mills for the Liberal party, and Malcolm McVicar of South Dorchester for the U. F. O.

Little Likelihood of Trouble Among Canadian Shopmen

TORONTO, Sept. 17.—There is little likelihood of labor trouble among the railroad shopmen on the Canadian railroads, according to J. Clarke, schedule representative on Canadian railroads for the International Union of Boilermakers, the headquarters of which are in Kansas City. Mr. Clarke is in Toronto at present to allay unrest among railroad shopmen who are uneasy because of the delay in dealing with their grievances which came before the Canadian Railway War Board in May and were deferred until the demands of the United States railroad workers were satisfactorily settled.

NEIL COUTTS FACES MURDER CHARGE AT OWEN SOUND ASSIZE

Said To Have Slain Man at Ayton in July After a Quarrel.

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Sept. 17.—Neil Coutts, of Toronto, a drover, was placed on trial at the assizes here today on a charge of having murdered William Umback at Ayton on July 23 last. One of the witnesses, Andrew Schink, ex-warden of Grey County, said he saw Coutts strike Umback over the head with a cane on the veranda of Doerson's Hotel. Umback, he said, reeled and fell, and Coutts struck him again.

The trouble arose over remarks alleged to have been made by Umback while the accused and another man were bidding on some pigs. The trial was not concluded today.

DUBLIN NEWSPAPER IS SUPPRESSED FOR DISOBEYING ORDER

Printed Full-Page Prospectus of the Irish Republic Loan.

DUBLIN, Sept. 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—The determination of the authorities to repress all manifestations of republican activities is shown by the suppression of the Cork Examiner, one of Ireland's chief daily newspapers.

Although it is a constitutionalist and opposed to the Sinn Fein, the Examiner printed a full page prospectus of the republic loan, assuming, it is declared, that the prohibition of references thereto which existed under the censorship lapsed with the withdrawal of the censorship. The military authorities, however, retained full powers and raided the premises and removed part of the plant.

The same advertisement was offered to the Dublin dailies, which refused the risk.

Forces of Turks, Tartars and Kurds are surrounding Armenia, the message says. An urgent appeal is made for 10,000 American soldiers and necessary equipment for 30,000 Armenian volunteers.

THREE ARE BURNED TO DEATH IN FIRE AT BEAVERTON, ONT.

Two Girls and Middle-Aged Woman Are Victims of Flames.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

BEAVERTON, Sept. 17.—Miss Effie McEachern and Misses Margaret and Dorothy Lyon were burned to a crisp early this morning, when the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Lyon, about seven miles northeast of here, was completely destroyed by fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyon's eldest son, Ernest, started a fire in the kitchen stove and then went to the barn to do the chores. The fire is supposed to have started from the stove and spread from the kitchen to the woodshed. In a few minutes the whole house was in flames.

Mrs. Lyon, her son Norman and her three daughters, and her sister, Miss McEachern, had been sleeping upstairs. Mrs. Lyon managed to get them all into one room. She threw some pillows from the upstair window, then threw her daughter Effie, aged 9 years, out from the flames. Miss McEachern and the other two children, aged 11 and 5 years, had backed into the smoke and flames, and are believed to have fallen through the burning floor, to be enveloped in the flames below.

Mrs. Lyon and Norman jumped from the upstair window. Mrs. Lyon is in a critical condition from burns and shock, while her daughter Effie is suffering from several broken ribs caused by her fall.

The Late George Brown.

George Brown's Ideal; Robert Jaffray's Ambition

THE Globe was founded for a cause—that cause was Responsible Government, the Abolition of Clergy Reserves, the overthrowing of the Family Compact. It fought for Ecclesiastical Reform, for Representation by Population, for Confederation. All through the bitter controversies of those early days, The Globe stood conscientiously to its task. It helped lead the country through many dangers and pitfalls to great nationhood.

This was George Brown's ideal. He fought for it by his personal service in public life as well as through The Globe, which he founded in 1844. He lived to see Canada emerge from the struggle a fully confederated Dominion, stepping on to the highway of great national progress and prosperity.

What The Globe Stands For

The Globe stands for Canada as a nation within the British Empire, entitled to share in the settlement of great Imperial issues—such as peace and war; for the arbitration of all disputes between nations; for the equality of all Canadian citizens—regardless of race or creed—before the law—for the right of women to vote in all elections and sit in Parliament and the Provincial Legislatures; for the national ownership and operation of railways and telegraphs; for the development under Provincial or municipal control of all available water powers and the extension of public power lines wherever practicable to the farms as well as the cities and the towns—for the prohibition by Federal law of the importation, manufacture or retail sale in Canada of intoxicating liquor for a reform in the land laws and in the system of land taxation throughout the Dominion which shall encourage use and discourage speculation; for the strengthening and enforcement of the law against combinations in restraint of trade—for a tariff based on revenue requirements; for a more equitable division between Capital and Labor of the wealth produced by their co-operation in industry; for old-age pensions and the insurance of wage workers against unemployment and sickness; for the simplification of Court procedure and the lessening of appeals so that the poor shall not remain at a disadvantage; for an educational system in all the Provinces that shall promote citizenship by the abolition of illiteracy.—Stewart Lyon—Editor, The Globe, in the 75th Anniversary edition of The Globe.

Robert Jaffray received his inspiration from George Brown, whose guide, counsellor and friend he was. The management of The Globe by Robert Jaffray, was characterized by an ambition to maintain the George Brown traditions, and The Globe's position as the Great Family Newspaper George Brown made it.

"I am not bound to win, but I am bound to be true" declared Lincoln during the darkest hours of the Civil War. As an advocate of reform and an organ of public opinion, this has been The Globe's principle. Strict adherence to and the continuance of its traditions have realized the George Brown ideal, and fulfilled the Robert Jaffray ambition.

Says the Orillia "Times": "The Globe is to-day in point of influence the foremost newspaper in Canada, and has won for itself the proud place it occupies by sheer merit. Its remarkable strength was shown during the war, no other Canadian paper approaching the excellence and detail of its cable service. The Globe was founded as a defender and exponent of the rights of the common people, and so long as it remains true to its honorable traditions, it deserves to, and will succeed."

The Globe still stands for and advocates unity, Democratic Progress and British Connection. Its present publishers are actuated by the traditions laid down by the two great personalities that directed The Globe during its early days and later development. Nothing is spared to make The Globe the paper these leaders would have it be.

It is the organ of no political party. It has always been conducted with an independence that knows no master. It submits to no outside dictation.

Like Lincoln, The Globe has stayed with its friends when it has deemed them right, and parted from them when it has thought them wrong. It has stood, and still stands, by what it considers the interests and rights of the people.

From its very inception, The Globe fought for a prohibitory liquor law, for nation-wide education, for freedom of trade and commerce, for uniform and equitable legislation, for cheap postage, for the curtailment of arbitrary executive power.

To-day The Globe is still the servant of the people. Its association with the Liberal Party is not that of a mouthpiece, but of an ally in the promotion of all good causes, and of an honest critic when leaders of Liberalism lag in the advance.

The country is facing big problems that are vital to every Canadian. The Globe will consistently and persistently press its viewpoint. The discussions on these big questions and the news of passing events during the coming months should be followed very closely by all people.

The Globe is a Great Family Newspaper

It is rich with honorable traditions, always true to the causes which brought it into existence, always the advocate of every good cause.

Because to-morrow's Globe will be what it was to-day, what it was yesterday—because it will be what it has always been, it is worthy of a place in your home.

List of Victims of Texas Storm Nears 300 Mark

All Attempts at Identifying the Bodies Has Been Abandoned.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, Sept. 17.—Darkness fell on the storm-stricken city of Corpus Christi and environs tonight with the list of dead from Sunday's hurricane hovering around the 300 mark, and with a heavy rain which fell almost continuously throughout the day, hampering the work of clearing the debris and increasing the sufferings of thousands of homeless.

All attempts at identifying the bodies had been abandoned because of their condition, and burial parties sent out along the shores of Nueces Bay were hurrying the corpses to nearby towns for interment.

The food situation, serious from the outset, took a more acute turn today with the arrival of several hundred refugees from the surrounding country.

Election Must Be Held October 20 or After Next Session

TORONTO, Sept. 17.—With reference to the question as to the date of the provincial election, the Globe in its news columns tomorrow will say:

"The election day must come on October 20, the date of the referendum election, or else it will be necessary to postpone it until after the next session. It was learned from a well-informed source yesterday that the above proposition was put up to Premier Hearst by several prominent government supporters at a special meeting called recently."

The story says that Sir William Hearst will make his decision in a few days.

PYORRHOEA OR DISEASED GUMS

Hundreds of Cases Here Says Dentist—Don't Have Your Teeth Pulled. Make Diseased Gums Healthy and Teeth Tight With This New Prescription—Instant Relief.

A prominent New York dentist recently discovered a new prescription—Epithol—which is so successful in the treatment of Pyorrhoea and Riggs Disease that it is sold here in London by Standard Drug Company or Taylor Drug Company, and other leading druggists, on an absolute guarantee to refund money if in any case it fails to correct the trouble.

If your teeth are loosening or if your gums are receding and are sore or tender, inflamed or bleeding, spongy or flabby, or if they discharge pus, get an ounce of Epithol today if possible and start using it right away. It seems to work like magic. Teeth tighten and the gums grow sound and healthy and the bleeding pus discharge soon stops.

Fred Chapman says: "My teeth became very sore and loose, pus formed around the roots and gave me a severe case of stomach trouble. My physician urged me to have my teeth extracted. A dentist recommended Epithol, and after a short time my teeth became tight and my gums restored to a healthy condition. I recommend Epithol to anyone suffering from Pyorrhoea."—Advt.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain—How To Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Advt.

THE INDUSTRIAL CONFERENCE IS NOT LOVEFEST

Labor and Employer Groups Are in Straight Opposition.

THE MINIMUM WAGE

Member of Manufacturers' Group Favors It For Women, But Not Men.

OTTAWA, Sept. 17.—Minimum wage and the right to organize were before the national industrial conference this afternoon and brought some sharp differences of opinion, although the manufacturers conceded the justice of a minimum wage for women and minors. Advocacy of a particular policy on the part of labor has, indeed, generally brought strong opposition from the employers.

The recommendations of the royal commission on industrial relations for bettering labor in Canada, which have been supported by the labor group, have been somewhat severely handled at times by their opponents, and the resolution on shortening the hours of labor went to the committee at noon with both sides apparently unmoved.

John R. Shaw of Woodstock, the last speaker in the afternoon's debate, thought the royal commission should have been composed of men with a practical knowledge of the things they were going to report upon, "instead of being composed of lawyers." The best men in the labor and employing groups had stayed away from that commission's sittings, because they did not want their time taken up by "listening to a lot of windbags."

Stiff Fight Likely.

The resolutions on the right of labor to organize, recognition of labor unions, and the right to collective bargaining were before the conference at adjournment tonight, and there is every prospect of a stiff fight on these questions tomorrow. The employers concede the first right, as it has been recognized by the peace conference and the Government here, but they want to protect the right of the worker not to organize if he does not wish to do so. In regard to recognition, if it means a closed shop principle all over the Dominion, the employers are opposed, and their attitude toward collective bargaining is also unfavorable.

The minimum wage for workers provoked warm discussion. Munro Grier of Toronto, a member of the manufacturers' group, admitted the justice of granting a minimum wage to women and minors, but thought there should be no such provision in regard to male workers.

Woman Champions Men.

Miss Helen Gutteridge of Vancouver, who replied for labor, reminded him that every argument he had used in favor of a minimum wage law for women had equal application in the case of men. Skilled or unskilled, the laborer was worthy of his hire. If the women were the mothers of the future generation, it was equally true that the men were the fathers of that same generation, and healthy children could not be expected from pauperized, weakened fathers.

The debate on the right to organize and recognition of labor unions, together with adoption of the principle of collective bargaining will occupy most of tomorrow morning, it is expected. Many speakers on both sides are ready to take the floor. It is expected that the subjects dealing with the establishment of joint plant and industrial councils will also be productive of warm arguments.

Inspector Bags 40 Gallons of Imported Booze

Windsor Shipment For Fake Consignee Confiscated.

WINDSOR, Sept. 17. — Consigned to the Goodspeed Manufacturing Company, Windsor, 40 gallons of imported liquor, valued at $1,000, was seized tonight by License Inspector M. N. Mousseau and Provincial Officer J. P. Smith, at the local offices of the Dominion Express Company. The liquor was shipped from Montreal in boxes labelled "Merchandise, with care." There is no such concern as the Goodspeed company here.

Ernest Tillard, 21, and Harry Parker, 20, both of Windsor, are being held on charges of robbery of H. & J. Dowler shop, haberdashers, on the night of August 20.

Detectives making the arrests recovered goods stolen amounting to $1,000 in a residence in Sandwich. The robbery netted about $3,000 worth of goods for the thieves. Tillard and Parker will be arraigned in police court tomorrow.

Labor Promises To Take Big Part in Kingston Election

[Special to The Advertiser.]

KINGSTON, Sept. 17.—Labor promises to take a big part in the by-election here for the House of Commons. Ald. William Patterson has been asked by the trades and labor council to be a candidate, and it is understood that he will accept. Ald. Patterson is representative of the labor men in the city council, having been elected last January by the largest majority ever given a man running for aldermanic honors.

Everything in connection with the Kingston by-election for the House of Commons must be run on standard time. The registration here this week has been going on under daylight saving time, and it has been very light. Today Col. H. E. Pense, returning officer, received word from Ottawa to conduct registration under the old time.

PRINCE BECOMES A CHIEFTAIN OF THE STONY INDIAN TRIBE

H. R. H. Has Interesting Experiences at Banff.

MEETS COWPUNCHERS

Visit To Bar-U Ranch Establishes the Popularity of Heir To Throne.

BANFF, Alta., Sept. 17.—A picturesque escort greeted the Prince of Wales when he reached Banff at 10 o'clock this morning. The Stony Indians formed up to conduct his royal highness to the park, where the park commissioner presented the formal address of welcome. Then the Stonys entertained their young chieftain with a typical Indian fete. The formal dignity of their initial greeting gave place to special dances and songs and quaint ceremonies of their race.

The Prince of Wales was made a chief of the Stony Indians with pomp and circumstance. The prince had added a wonderful headdress to his regalia, and one more royal prerogative has been added to him. Once again his personality won the affections of a group of strangers. The Indians are his willing subjects from this hour.

Cowboys Impressed.

A jolly bunch of cowboys waited at Bar-U ranch near High River yesterday morning to watch the delivery of the morning cup of tea to the royal party, housed in the guest cottage at the big ranch. They were amazed and impressed when the prince came up behind them, hot and happy from a five-mile run before breakfast, attired in runner's costume and obviously unwearied by a late session of bridge the night before.

Within ten minutes he was one of the cow punchers in spirit and activity, and the keynote had been struck which made his visit to Bar-U a memorable day for all the residents of the big cattle ranch.

DISCOURAGED WAR VETERAN RETURNS "LEMON" TO GOVT.

Blenheim Man Abandons "Farm" — Hardships Too Great.

BLENHEIM, Sept. 17.—Blenheim's first veteran to be wounded overseas took up land at Kapuskasing, New Ontario, under the veteran's land grants plan. His experience in that part of the country has been most discouraging, so much so that after a season's experience with fires and crop failure he has returned here, abandoning his farm.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at 10 o'clock this morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Collar, John street, town, when their second daughter, Winnifred F., was given in marriage to Christopher F. Waugh, assistant manager and claims agent of the C. W. & L. E. Railway Company, Chatham. Rev. A. E. Jones performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate relatives. The happy young couple left on a trip down the St. Lawrence to Montreal. On their return they will reside in Chatham.

CROTON VETERANS HONORED BY FRIENDS

WABASH, Sept. 17.—A reception was held last evening at the home of William Leeson of Croton in honor of the following returned soldiers: Ptes. Frank Leeson, Stanley Bodkin, Howard Miller and Charles Coneybeare.

In honor of the event the house was very prettily decorated with flags of every description and with streamers of red, white and blue.

Charles Childs of Huffs acted as chairman, and a program was given as follows: Selections by the Burwell orchestra of Wabash, gramophone selections, violin solo by Wesley Kelly of Wabash, and an address by Capt. Mowbray of Botany.

Each of the soldiers was presented with a $10 bill by Miss Ida Grieg, on behalf of the Huffs I. O. D. E. Society.

Mrs. Chester Ellis of concession 2, Camden, has received a telegram to the effect that her son, Pte. Orville Ellis, had died in one of the Quebec hospitals. Pte. Ellis returned from overseas last spring, suffering from a badly-lacerated face.

He was sent to Quebec for treatment, and after an operation blood-poisoning developed.

Executions, 11; commutations, 5; suicide, 1; deceased prior to execution, 1; total, 18. The total for last year was twelve.

WALL STREET.

New York, Sept. 18—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Mixed gains and losses at the opening of today's stock market session reflected over-night developments in the labor situation. The various steel shares and equipments reacted with oils, motors, coppers and shippings, but losses were soon largely recovered on the strength shown by Baldwin Locomotive, Lackawanna Steel, General Motors and Tobaccos. United States Steel alternated slightly over yesterday's finals, and rails, investments and speculative issues shaded moderately.

1:30 p.m.—The second reversal of the session occurred at midday, when further heavy selling forced United States Steel down to the lowest of the week. Related shares, efuipments, oils, leathers and shippings also registered extreme declines of 2 to 5 pints.

The Directors of the Baldwin Gold Mining Company, Limited, have authorized an issue of 200,000 shares of Treasury Stock at 15 cents a share for 7 days, from September 17th to September 24th, and at the end of this time the price will positively be advanced to 20 cents, and on October 1st to 25 cents.

REMEMBER—All these subscriptions go direct to the treasury of the Company, without one cent commission to anyone. This offer closes on the 24th, and all orders must be in or postmarked this date.

The BALDWIN Mine is situated in the famous Kirkland Lake district, and is owned outright by the Company—the property, plant and machinery are all paid for, and free of encumbrance. The Company has done a considerable amount of development work—the shaft is down 215 feet—crosscutting, 175 feet, drifting about 70 feet—all in ore bodies. The location is exceptional—with the railway running clear across north end of property and trains stopping at the mine. The Blanche River runs through the property, which is thickly wooded—thus providing fuel, building material and water in abundance.

An active market on the Standard Mining Exchange is anticipated in the Fall. We think this is one of the most promising investments offered.

DON'T DELAY—Wire or mail your order now before prices advance.

CAYUGA SCHOOL FAIR MOST SUCCESSFUL; BIG POULTRY SHOW

CAYUGA, Sept. 17.—The local branch of the agricultural department held a most successful rural school fair in the Agricultural Park, Cayuga, on Tuesday. The competing schools were Nos. 8, 10, 11, 12, 13, Seneca; Nos. 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 10, 11, North Cayuga; No. 3, Oneida. The exhibits in stock, vegetables, drawing, baking, botanical collections, etc., were very interesting, and showed good work by the pupils of the schools. The exhibit in poultry was exceptionally heavy, one of the best shown in the county.

The pupils of No. 11, North Cayuga, executed a drill to the delight of all present, and made a good showing in exhibits as well. An exhibit of a cat with kittens from No. 7, North Cayuga, attracted much attention. A good day of races and sports was enjoyed. The weather was delightful, and the attendance good.

The fall fair at Rainham Centre Wednesday drew a good crowd from Cayuga and was well attended from all points, the weather being ideal. Mrs. D. Duff and Mrs. J. E. Fissette went out from Cayuga on Tuesday to assist in judging the baking and fancywork. They reported the exhibits as somewhat limited in number, but of first-class quality.

The funeral of Mrs. McIntyre took place on Friday from the home of her son-in-law, Mr. Legree, to St. Stephen's Church, and thence to the Catholic Cemetery.

The district conference of the W. M. S. of the Presbyterian Church, held in Caledonia, was one of the most successful in years, and many very helpful ideas were discussed. Delegates were present from East Seneca, Blackheath, Cayuga, Dunnville, Caledonia, Oneida and Carluke. Mrs. Joseph Peart, Mrs. Grant Herod, Miss MacFarlane, Mrs. W. G. Blake, Mrs. W. J. Quinsey, Mrs. D. McClung, Mrs. Erie Lewis were present from Cayuga.

CROPS WELL MATURED IN RUTHVEN DISTRICT

RUTHVEN, Sept. 17.—Oldest growers in this district say it has been years since crops were so thoroughly matured as this fall. Grain is well filled out, and extra solid, which will make the best quality for next year's seeding. Corn is now being husked out, and the sample of this grain is away ahead of the 1918 crop. The peach harvest is in full swing. Late tomatoes are ripening almost as fast as they can be hauled away. The big tobacco crop is being mowed down at top speed, and every barn and shed is being utilized to hold "the leaf." Two weeks more will see everything safely under shelter.

Hadley McDonald has a gang of men building a large barn which will be used to cure out his big crop of tobacco.

Harrison Smith, who is husking out his corn, finds that from 40 to 45 ears fill a bushel basket every time. This is regarded as a record-breaker, as it usually takes about 75 ears of the regular size to make a bushel.

Hickory nuts, walnuts and chestnuts are going to be plentiful this fall.

William McDonald & Sons have just had completed three up-to-date drying kilns, which they are now using in curing out their large crop of the Warne leaf tobacco.

TENDER GUMS —A WARNING

Beware of gum tenderness that warns of Pyorrhea. Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhea—many under forty also. Loosening teeth indicate Pyorrhea. Bleeding gums, too. Remember—these inflamed, bleeding gums act as so many doorways for disease germs to enter the system—infecting the joints or tonsils—or causing other ailments.

Forhan's positively prevents Pyorrhea, if used in time and used consistently. As it hardens the gums the teeth become firmer.

Brush your teeth with Forhan's. It cleans the teeth scientifically—keeps them white and clean.

If gum shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

THIN, NERVOUS FOLKS SHOULD TAKE BITRO-PHOSPHATE

Women Need It To Bring Pink Glow of Health To Pale Cheeks and Forestall Tell-Tale Lines of Age—Men Need It To Make Strong, Vigorous Bodies and Steady Nerves.

Weak, thin people—men or women—are nearly always nervous wrecks; thus conclusively proving that thinness, weakness, debility and neurasthenia are almost invariably due to nerve starvation. Feed your nerves and all these symptoms due to nerve starvation will disappear.

Eminent specialists state that one of the best things for the nerves is an organic phosphate known among druggists as Bitro-Phosphate, a five-grain tablet of which should be taken with each meal. Being a genuine nerve builder and not a stimulant or habit-forming drug, Bitro-Phosphate can be safely taken by the weakest and most delicate sufferer, and the results following its use are often simply astonishing.

By strengthening the nerves, weak, tired people regain energy and vigor; thinness and angularity give way to plumpness and curves; sleep returns to the sleepless; confidence and cheerfulness replace debility and gloom; dull eyes become bright, and pale, sunken cheeks regain the pink glow of health.

CAUTION.—Bitro-Phosphate, the use of which is inexpensive, also wonderfully promotes the assimilation of food, so much so, that many people report marked gains of weight in a few weeks. Those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh, should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

PLUMBERS WILL CONFER FRIDAY ON WAGE SCALE; WORKERS ASK 80 CENTS

Members of the local plumbers' union, who at present are receiving 57½ cents an hour, are asking for an increase to 80 cents for the same time. Employers were presented with the demands on Tusday. If the conference of employers and employed, which is being held on Friday afternoon, does not terminate satisfactorily, there is a possibility of a strike being called.

When the demand was made in the autumn of 1918 for 65 cents an hour, the plumbers received the present wage, which is 7½ cents above that which they were receiving then. No agreement was drawn up then.

DANDRUFFY HEADS BECOME HAIRLESS

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.—Advt.

MLLE. NITTA-JO IS HEADLINE ATTRACTION AT THE GRAND TODAY

Four Other Big Keith Acts and Feature Photoplay on Program.

For the latter half of the week, commencing with a matinee today, another vaudeville bill of unsurpassed excellence will be presented at the Grand, a bill containing a wealth of talent, and one which has every promise of being more varied and entertaining than that of the first half of the week.

This bill, excellent in every detail, is headlined by Mlle. Nitta-Jo, the biggest sensation in vaudeville, one of France's most popular character singers, who is making her first tour of America. Here she has created a positive furore, and has been acclaimed the greatest artist to be imported in years. She impersonates "La Gigolette Parisienne," which is a feminine Apache. Her characterization is graphic and exceedingly interesting. Mlle. Nitta-Jo is the possessor of an unusually beautiful and melodious voice, and this she uses to the best advantage. It is very difficult to describe an artist. Art is something that invariably makes its presence felt, but baffles description, and Mlle. Nitta-Jo is an artist to her finger tips. She has played throughout the world. Mademoiselle was born in Paris, and made her stage debut when only nine years of age. She is an actress as well as a singer, and combining the two qualities has made her one of the most unusual personalities on the stage.

JUNE CAPRICE

A special feature of the bill is Sidney Taylor & Co., who will present a comedy sketch. Mr. Taylor is known throughout the country as the producer of vaudeville sketches that are not only highly amusing, but thoroughly novel in their conception. His present offering is a one-act comedy that fills all the requirements of perfect entertainment. Bolger Brothers, billed as "the banjo boys," in popular and classical selections; Mason & Gwynne, a pair of blackface funsters, and The Youngers, in a gymnastic surprise, are the other acts on this bill.

Making love under false pretences to a girl with millions; winning her heart only to realize what a contemptible trick has been played; confession and disgrace, to say nothing of the sorrow of lost affections. These are the colorful threads running through the fabric of "The Love Cheat," the feature photoplay starring June Caprice and Creighton Hale, which will be shown at the Grand today, tomorrow and Saturday. A comedy film and the Gaumont Weekly News will be included in this bill.

10,000 VETERANS TO COME HERE TO GREET THE PRINCE

Eight Bands and Civic Officials From Outside Places Invited To London.

At least eight bands will participate in the welcome to the Prince of Wales when he visits the city. Three of these will be local bands.

The special committees of the city council dealing with the reception conferred yesterday with a committee from the Great War Veterans' Association. In addition to the London bands they decided to invite others from cities and towns in the vicinity which the prince will not be able to visit. The mayors and other officials of these municipalities will also be invited to attend.

Ten thousand or more war veterans will be visitors in the city. The Daughters of the Empire will provide box luncheons for all these, and a dinner will be arranged for the officers.

After participating in the parade the bands will be stationed on Dundas and Richmond streets, and will play throughout the evening. Stands will be erected at all the intersections of Dundas street from Waterloo to Talbot street, with the exception of Richmond, and on the corner of Richmond and King streets and Richmond street and Queen's avenue.

Capt. J. H. C. Woodward was added to the city's committee as the returned soldiers' representative. He explained that the soldiers who would participate in the parade would not by any means be all G. W. V. A. men. Every returned soldier would be invited, regardless of what organization he belonged to.

Arrangements may be made to have the prince plant a tree on Hunt's flat, where it is proposed to establish a woman's park.

MINISTERS MUST LEAD IN LAST ASSAULT UPON STRONGHOLD OF LIQUOR INTERESTS IN ONTARIO

Alliance Discusses Campaign in Favor of Prohibition and Suggests That Boys Could Assist Considerably — Will Try To Educate Voters On Marking of the Ballot.

"Just imagine that the liquor traffic is the Hindenburg line, and this is our last and greatest onslaught and we must win. We ministers must lead the attack, although owing to so many being away the entire summer we are not able to get as good a start as we would have liked," said Rev. T. D. McCullough, at the first fall meeting of the Ministerial Alliance, yesterday morning in the Y. M. C. A.

Rev. T. D. McCullough and Rev. Captain N. Omond, the latter recently returned from overseas, and a native of London, gave suggestions to the attending clerics as to the best way to present before the various congregations how they must vote in the coming referendum. Mr. McCullough said that he knew that the Methodist ministers had been preaching upon the subject, but had not seen the Presbyterians working desperately hard. Rev. D. C. MacGregor, the president, remarked: "We are solid anyways and the Methodists have been a little more lucky in getting into print."

Got Names Added.

Rev. T. D. McCullough stated that through untiring efforts of the various committees canvassing the voting lists, over 1,000 names had been added to the list, some, of course, which were in favor of prohibition and some against. "It requires united effort on the part of everyone who aims for prohibition, and there is a feeling that prohibition will sweep the country. We should not bank on this, we may get a surprise at the polls. The boy power in the city could do a great deal to lighten the burden of the committees in distributing circulars showing the people the way to vote and why they should vote this way. Enough of these have been printed," said Mr. McCullough, "that one may be put into each home. The ladies of the church, who will work for temperance can visit in the homes and instruct women who have never before voted, how to vote and how easy it is for them to destroy the ballot by putting other markings that the "X" in which column she wishes to vote. Just telling people to put four 'No's' is not enough, it must be explained thoroughly to them, and the minister in the pulpit has the power to instruct the members of his congregation to do this."

Suggests Meetings.

Mass meetings were suggested by Rev. Byron Snell as a means of getting in touch with people who never went to church, to educate them in the right way to vote.

Much amusement was caused by Rev. G. Dewey, recently inducted as minister of the Empress Avenue Methodist Church, who rose to say that he was among the disfranchised Methodist ministers, and that his name and those of two or three other members of his family were on the voters' list, and asked Rev. T. McCullough whether he could vote or not. Mr. McCullough explained that he could not legally do so, not having resided here since April last. Mr. Dewey said he would like to make the attempt, anyway, when there were so many to vote in the one house. Counting the Methodist ministers who have changed charges this year, and members in their families who have the right to vote. Mr. McCullough stated that about 1,000 Methodists were off the voters' list.

Too Much Confidence.

Capt. Omond, speaking on the great work to be done by the army of workers against the liquor traffic, expressed the opinion that he thought there was too much confidence being placed on a sweeping victory for prohibition, and this caused people who might be on the prohibition side to act indifferently and not vote or help in the cause. It was suggested by Capt. Omond that the ministers of the various congregations find out which members had motor cars and have these placed at the disposal of the committee to take voters to the polls. Capt. Omond will send a program to all ministers, including the officers of the Salvation Army, suggesting what can be done by the ministers to influence the people to vote "right."

President D. C. MacGregor asked that a report be given by the committee on the Midway at the Western Fair this year. Rev. Byron Snell, in a short verbal report, said that the chief censor at Toronto had declared the shows "clean," and they found it unnecessary to investigate when the shows came direct from Toronto to the Western Fair. No report had been prepared by the committee, which had been asked to investigate the recent local strikes. During the course of the morning discussions on the best ways to put the referendum question before the public were held between the various clergy.

TWO NEW MEMBERS ON WESTERN "U" FACULTY START AUTUMN TERM

On account of the increasing enrolment of students in the Western University, and to meet the demands for the expansion of courses, two new positions have been created during the past few months. Beginning with the autumn term, which will open on September 29, there will be on the staff a professor of geology and a lecturer in botany in addition to the professors and instructors of former years.

The lecturer in botany is Mr. Nelson C. Hart, who was recently an assistant in the same department in the University of Toronto. This summer he was appointed science master in the Riverdale Collegiate Institute, Toronto, but is securing his release from the Toronto school board, since he prefers to continue in university work rather than in that of the high school grades. Several years ago, Mr. Hart was demonstrator under Professor Robertson, then of the University of Toronto, now head of the department of zoology in Western. Mr. Hart's appointment comes very appropriately at the time the university is receiving the fine botanical collection presented by Mr. J. A. Morton of Wingham.

The chair of geology will be held by Professor E. H. Perkins, who for the last four years has been teaching in the State University of Rhode Island. Dr. Perkins took his undergraduate work in the Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., and his post-graduate studies in Yale, from which university he has received the degree of doctor of philosophy. He has also served a year as assistant geologist on the United States geological survey, and during the war was engaged in some special war work in the department of mineral resources at Washington. His field work in geology covers a large part of this continent.

Have You Named a Dependable Executor ?

"One-man control" in business life has been proven a failure. It has been found that he cannot absent himself from his business without serious consequences to that business.

As a will-maker you desire the services of an executor who is always at the office—never on vacation—never absent from the city—not subject to illness—and who will not die.

BRILLIANT CAST IN 'LOVE INSURANCE' AT MAJESTIC THEATRE

Bryant Washburn Has Leading Role in Entertaining Photoplay.

The cast supporting Bryant Washburn, the famous Paramount star, in his latest picture, "Love Insurance," which is showing at the Majestic Theatre today, Friday and Saturday, is one of the most brilliant ever assembled. Among the character men are Theodore Roberts, who has had a notable career both on the stage and in pictures; Eddie Sutherland, who recently returned from service overseas with the Canadian forces; Edwin Stevens, famous for his roles in Gilbert and Sullivan comic operas, and in the title part of "The Devil"; Frank Elliott and others.

Lois Wilson, the charming Alabama beauty, is Bryant Washburn's leading woman, and Frances Raymond plays an important supporting role.

"Love Insurance" abounds in unique and important character parts, and the leading actors and actresses who play them have ample opportunity to do their best work. The scenes are laid in a beautiful spot in Florida, and the plot deals with the efforts of a conscientious insurance agent to subordinate duty to love and hasten the marriage of the girl he loves to a rival. However, Cupid will not be foiled, and it all turns out happily in the end. Bryant Washburn is the likable young insurance agent, while beautiful Lois Wilson is the woman in the case.

PRINCE TO PRESENT NEARLY A HUNDRED MEDALS IN LONDON

When H. R. H. the Prince of Wales arrives in London in October, he will have the task of presenting almost a hundred returned officers, nursing sisters and soldiers with war medals in recognition of their services overseas.

Included in the presentations will be half a dozen Royal Red Crosses and a greatly-coveted Russian decoration. The latter is for a padre in the Greek church, who distinguished himself on the firing line, and who is thought to be resident in this military district. Those who are to be so signally honored on the day of the visit of the prince will be notified in the near future.
