AUTOPSY SHOWS THAT CARRANZA DID NOT COMMIT SUICIDE, BUT WAS ASSASSINATED BY REBELS

Surgeons Who Conducted Post-Mortem Examination Find Two Bullets Entered From Front — General Herrera Reports President Took His Own Life Rather Than Be Captured.

Vera Cruz, May 25.—Reports of an autopsy performed on the body of Venustiano Carranza at Tlaxcalantongo, fail to agree with the claim of Rodolfo Herrera, that the president committed suicide rather than be taken captive. It is asserted in official quarters here.

Surgeons who conducted the autopsy, it is declared, found Carranza had been struck by two rifle bullets, one of which penetrated his breast and the other his abdomen. The bullets entered from the front, and it was the conclusion of those who witnessed the operation that the president had been assassinated, it is said.

The text of Col. Herrera's reports to Mexico was received here last night. The part relative to the attack on Carranza and the latter's death follows:

Herrera's Statement.

"With the object of arresting Carranza and the principal officials who were with him, I attacked his camp at 5 o'clock in the morning, having 50 men with me. He had reached Tlaxcalantongo, in the district of Huachinango, where there is a pass leading northward to a part of the republic where he had planned to establish his seat of government. The president was under escort of troops commanded by Gen. Murguía. "When he realized that escape was impossible, Carranza committed suicide by shooting himself in the breast with his pistol, which he always carried. So close was the muzzle of the weapon to his breast that blood was spattered upon it, and the barrel of the pistol still bears bloodstains.

"The body was recovered and taken to Villa Clara. Three of my men were killed and one wounded.

"(Signed) RODOLFO HERRERA."

Four commissioners sent into the State of Puebla by Gen. Obregon and Gonzales to investigate the circumstances attending the death of Carranza have reported that, in view of the fact that he secured and the manner in which the president was killed, it is unnecessary to go to Tlaxcalantongo.

REMAINS OF CARRANZA ARE LAID TO REST IN PEASANT CEMETERY

Mexico City, May 25.—By the Associated Press.—In accordance with his oft-repeated request, President Venustiano Carranza, slain last Thursday morning at Tlaxcalantongo, was buried late yesterday afternoon in Dolores Cemetery, where, in the shadow of Chapultepec, the bones of Mexicans have for many years found their last resting-place.

As the funeral cortege left the home of the late chief executive, the extraordinary session of Congress was being called in order to choose a new president, to hold office until a new president, to be elected September 5, is inaugurated. Adolfo de la Huerta, governor of the State of Sonora, was named after Congress had been in session for an hour and a half.

The body of the slain president arrived in Mexico City at 5:30 o'clock yesterday morning and was taken to the family home, being escorted by soldiers and a delegation from the diplomatic corps. Later the body lay in state until the last of the funeral, thousands passing before the casket to look upon the face of the man who was hurled from power by revolution, and whose death occurred under circumstances that await explanation.

RUSSIAN NOBLES SAY THAT CARRANZA IS STILL ALIVE

Claim That Royal Family Is Living in Japan.

REASONS ARE GIVEN
Bolshevik Account of Ruler's Assassination Lacks Confirmation.

Geneva, May 25.—The Gazette de Lausanne yesterday published three columns concerning a statement of Russian nobles and officers recently returned to Europe, who declare that the former Russian Czar and his family are still living, having escaped disguised by way of Vladivostok to Japan, where they are now living peacefully. Their existence is being hidden for political reasons, the returned Russians say.

One curious fact is recalled by the newspaper, which says it has been revealed that out of the ten thousand inhabitants of Ekaterinburg not one saw the murder or burial of the royal family while the Bolshevik accounts of the incident lack confirmation.

GRANT CERTIFICATES OF NATURALIZATION IF RECORD IS GOOD

New Bill Will Vest Power in Secretary of State.

OVERCOMES OBSTACLES

The Proposed Measure Would Eliminate Bad Features in Present Act.

(Special to The Advertiser.)
Ottawa, May 25.—Following extensive negotiations with the imperial authorities, which have been proceeding for some time back, important changes will be made to the naturalization act, especially as it affects persons of alien origin, who were not naturalized prior to the commencement of the war. Under the imperial naturalization act as adopted by Canada in 1913, unnaturalized persons of alien origin were not eligible for naturalization until a period of ten years after the proclamation of peace has expired. This has been pointed out in the House during the discussion of the franchise act, especially by J. D. Edgar, N.W. Waterloos, who works hardship to many persons who have dwelt long and peacefully in Canada, but who did not actually become naturalized from misunderstanding or other reasons.

It is now proposed that a bill has been prepared for the purpose to vest in the secretary of state power to grant certificates of naturalization to persons who were in Canada for a period of ten years prior to July 1, 1913, and who behaved as good citizens during that period. This power, which will likely be exercised, will remove many persons of a disability under which they are at present laboring.

It is understood that the imperial authorities took a broad view of the matter, and intimated that they did not desire Canada to be bound down too strictly to the regulations of the imperial act.

VETERANS TRAINED TO FILL JOBS FOR WHICH THEY ARE UNSUITED

Defects in Vocational Training Methods Are Pointed Out.

RECOMMENDATIONS MADE
Committee of Three Instead of One Urged by Returned Soldiers.

Ottawa, May 25.—Shortcomings of the D. S. C. R. vocational training were being discussed by the special committee on pensions and re-establishment this morning. Three witnesses—S. Stafford, Toronto; W. Nicol, Kingston, and H. Newman, Ottawa, told the committee there was hardship among vocationally trained men and asked for an extension of the training course.

Mr. Stafford thought the D. S. C. R. was doing everything possible to give the men a new start in their work, but there were flaws in the regulations. A man seeking a general education course was given a "farmers' barbed wire" course. Another, who would have been a good machinist, was given a "by force, if necessary, against labor" course. Mr. Nicol could not say whether or not these men had asked for these special courses. He claimed there was much waste of money through men being placed in the wrong course.

At the present time the D. S. C. R. "progress report" overcame these difficulties, but the men discharged before the war started had no recourse. Mr. Newman declared he had wanted to take an electrical fitting course, but the department would not do so, and he was given a "by force, if necessary, against labor" course. He was doubtful of making a successful living out of this after six days' work, and he was injured. The vocational students asked for an extension of the course to twelve months, instead of eight.

PUGILIST ACCORDED GREATER RECEPTION THAN A MISSIONARY

Rev. W. D. Lee of Millbrook Denounces Present Labor Unrest.

Millbrook, May 25.—"You never heard of an evangelist or missionary being accorded a civic welcome in Toronto," this interjectionary remark was followed by a denunciation of the recent action of the Toronto city council in giving a public reception to a prize-fighter.

The speaker was the Rev. W. D. Lee, of Millbrook, in the course of a sermon on Sunday, in which he characterized the present-day tendency towards shortsightedness and a shorter working week as contrary to the Biblical injunction to "work six days and rest on the seventh." He concluded with a plea for a united church.

THOUSANDS OF U.S. FARMERS TO SETTLE IN CANADIAN WEST

Omaha, Neb., May 25.—According to a statement just made public by J. W. Bennett, in charge of the Canadian Government land office, the great tide of emigration of 1912 and 1913 to Western Canada is about to be repeated. In the first three months of 1920 almost as many settlers from the trans-Missouri country have gone to Canada as went last year. The statement adds that during the past twenty years 45,000 Nebraska farmers have emigrated to the Dominion, taking with them approximately $50,000,000. The explanation given is that the farmers who had farms in Nebraska could not purchase land just as good in the Dominion for one-third of what they sell for.

STREET RAILWAY QUESTION BEFORE COUNCIL TONIGHT

Lengthy Detailed Report On the Road by Hydro Department To Be Fully Discussed—Men Will Strike On May 29 Unless Wage Question Definitely Settled by Then, Says Aid. Ashton.

Permanent settlement of the street railway strike rests with a special meeting of the city council tonight. The committee, which conferred with the street railway employees and arranged with them to accept an increase of 8 cents an hour, will make a report of its negotiations and recommend that a bylaw be introduced to increase fares to 5 cents each and six limited tickets for 25 cents.

The report will be based on the report of the railway board that a fare increase of 50 per cent is necessary to produce sufficient revenue to meet the wage increase.

DENOUNCES DICTATORS WHO VOTE DIVIDENDS ON EXORBITANT PRICES

Boston, Mass., May 25.—William Shaw, general secretary of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, and publisher of the Christian Endeavor World, said in an address to the Pilgrim Publication Association today that the greatest menace to the industrial life of America is the dictator who enriches himself and his fellow stockholders by voting stock dividends based on exorbitant prices for products.

Mr. Shaw asserted that recent cash and stock dividends in many instances represented exorbitant profits extorted from the people while they were under the stress and storm of war.

DESCHANEL ADVISED TO TAKE LONG REST

Owing to Accident

French President's Condition Is Regarded As Satisfactory.

SUPERFICIAL WOUNDS

Insisted on Presiding At Cabinet Meeting, But the Doctors Object.

Paris, May 25.—President Deschanel, who was injured yesterday morning by a fall from the facade of the Elysée Palace, spent a good night, and his physicians issued a bulletin this morning saying his condition was satisfactory. As possible, although rest was necessary.

The bulletin added the president was suffering from "superficial wounds in the face and left leg and general prostration."

Mr. Deschanel did not preside at today's cabinet meeting as was expected, members of the ministry insisting that he obey his physician's orders and rest. After the cabinet session, Jules Steeg, the minister of the interior, announced that the president's condition was satisfactory, but that the doctors would make a long rest at Rambouillet. The date of his departure, however, has not yet been fixed, the secretary said.

President Deschanel rose at 7 o'clock this morning and ate a hearty breakfast. He insisted that he was sufficiently fit to preside at the cabinet session, but the doctors and the cabinet ministers eventually succeeded in persuading him not to attend the meeting.

CANADA'S FALLEN HEROES CANNOT BE REMOVED FROM THEIR PRESENT GRAVES, DECLARES MILITIA DEPT.

Ottawa Authorities Will Not Endeavor To Disarrange the Agreement Empire Made With Belgium and France To Adopt Canadian Dead—Would Violate the Spirit of Arrangement.

Ottawa, May 25.—By Canadian Press.—The militia department has issued a statement emphasizing the reasons why it would be practically impossible to exhume the bodies of Canadian soldiers who lie buried in France in order that they might be brought to Canada for burial. The statement says that an advertisement recently appearing in Toronto newspapers gives the impression that it is possible to exhume bodies of Canadian soldiers buried in France and Belgium and return them to Canada for re-burial.

The statement says that the question is very misleading, "goes on the statement," "as the governments of France and Belgium have by special decrees forbidden the removal of bodies from these countries. The opinion is that these restrictions should not be removed."

The statement says that it would be a colossal work to empty some four hundred thousand graves and to allow some few persons to remove bodies of dead soldiers would be contrary to the spirit of equality. Any effort to exhume the bodies would be "opposed to the spirit in which the empire gratefully accepted the offers made by the governments of France, Belgium, and also Italy and Greece, to provide land in perpetuity for our cemeteries and to adopt our dead."

MANY VISITORS HERE FOR WESTERN UNIVERSITY CONVOCATION WEEK

Graduate Dance Tonight, Annual Banquet Wednesday, College Play On Thursday, Followed by Convocation Exercises Friday.

Quite a number of visitors are in London this week for the convocation week events of Western University. The graduating classes in both arts and medicine have a whole round of functions before them, in most of which their friends and relatives may participate. For several years past the interest in this closing week has been growing, and this year a special effort has been made to give it a reunion touch as well, and bring back to London as many possible of the graduates of an earlier day.

The inter-scholastic athletic meet, inaugurated this year, is likely to be now on an annual footing of the convocation week. The splendid success that attended this outdoor gathering is regarded as an excellent bit of advertising for Western, and a whole round of athletics all through the high schools and colleges of Western will be in evidence. Members of the board of governors were much in evidence at Queen's Park yesterday, and showed their satisfaction with the way in which the field day was conducted under the direction of the athletic director, Mel Brock.

Tonight one of the most pleasant of the social events of the week takes place at the gymnasium in the graduation dance, extended to all under-graduates in honor of those who have this year finished their work and are to receive their degrees.

Wednesday night is being looked forward to by the students of the university. The annual convocation banquet, held at the Teumess House, has always been a popular event, and a considerable number of old graduates are coming. The features of the evening program will be the reading of the valdettors by Miss Anne Beckton (arts) and Edward Loughlin (medicine). The toast to the graduates will be proposed by Dr. H. A. McCullum. The main address of the evening will be given by Rev. T. S. Roy, while Dr. Robert Foss will speak particularly to the alumni. Musical numbers are to be given by Miss Gertrude Rowntree, Mel Platt and Walter Matthews, the latter two being graduates in medicine of this year, while Miss Rowntree is a graduate in arts of last year. The banquet will begin at 7:30.

Thursday night and night will be the presentation of the university play under the direction of Robert Hannah. "Widow's An Ideal Husband" is this year's offering and bumper hours are already assured for the evening, when degrees in both arts and medicine will be conferred and a special address given by Dr. Whiddon, M.P., head of Brandon College and one of the outstanding educationalists of the west. It also is expected that Chancelor, the Hon. Dr. Roche will also be present and address the gathering. There will be a traditional academic procession from the Y. M. C. A. to Wesley Hall, including governors, senate, faculty and graduates.

After a brief respite the work of the university will resume on Friday, when the summer school work, for which preparations have been under way for some time, will be in full swing. The summer will also be a busy time for the medical department in anticipation of the arrival of the new building on Ottawa avenue towards the end of the year.

HENRIETTA WANTED TO BE MOVIE QUEEN

New York, May 25.—Henrietta Holmwood, Cal., May 17, after a country-wide search since her husband's death here on April 12, returned home today. She made stops at Philadelphia, Chicago and Los Angeles. She had $18 when she arrived here today.

MANY REAL ESTATE SALES THIS MONTH

Record Number of Transfers Is Recorded.

The present month will break all local records for real estate sales. More than 450 transfers are reported to have taken place already, and although the exact amount of money involved is not known, it is estimated that it will be much more than a million dollars. In normal times transfers each month number only about sixty.

Last month there were 400 transfers and this has made it absolutely impossible for the assessment department to compile the data in the time usually required for this work. The department is still working on last month's sales, and expects to encounter another deluge on June 1.

Building figures are well on their way to the million dollar mark, a total of $601,310 having been recorded to date. Building returns this month alone total $217,230.

Permits were issued today to the London Housing Commission for two more stories and a half brick veneer dwellings on Bedford avenue, to cost $450 each. H. C. McVie is the architect, and R. G. Wilson & Sons are the builders.

CONCERT BY PUPILS OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Musical Festival, Under Direction of E. Goethe Quantz, To Be Presented.

Many rehearsals have made the chorus of 300 pupils of the public schools of London ready for a finished presentation of the big musical festival to be held in the Grand Theatre at the end of the week. E. W. Goethe Quantz, director of music following at the school, says that the children are better trained than in any previous year. The majority of the chorus has been selected, at first by the teacher, and after his or her voice had been tested, by Mr. Quantz personally.

Practices have been held regularly of the entire chorus, and the music in the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium, and a very favorable response is anticipated from the music-loving public of London. By offering three concerts this year the board of education officials hope to make it convenient and possible for every person interested either in music or in the musical training of London's school children to attend one of the concerts.

Fight Follows a Poker Game

Alleged "Informer" Gets the Worst of Fistic Argument.

Two months ago a number of prominent citizens were arrested and taken to the police station in the patrol for playing poker on Sunday.

They were acquitted, but ever since that time there has been a feeling among the crowd that one of their own friends had informed the police, and that this was the reason for the arrests.

Since that time the party in question has been ostracized and has taken no part in the games whether played on Sunday or week days.

Yesterday he got into the game, but only for a short time. As soon as a well-known player arrived, the lady of the house was informed that unless the objectionable party left, all would leave and the party break up.

The argument ended by all leaving, and after proceeding up Clarence street a couple of blocks, the alleged informer was met by another interested party, who said: "If my fist ever met your face it would be the end of you."

"What would my hand be doing just then?" answered the visitor to the city. This question was answered and several blows exchanged in which the alleged informer got the worst of it. He was seen later walking on Richmond street with his face plastered with plaster.

No police court proceedings will probably follow, as the participants prefer to settle their differences out of court.

ITALIAN RECEPTION TO THE APOSTOLIC DELEGATE

The reception to the apostolic delegate, Monsignor de Maria, tendered by the Italian citizens of London at St. Peter's Parish Hall Monday evening was under the auspices of the Italian Benevolent Society. The Italian children of the city sang "O Canada," and an address was made by Prof. Pasquale Venuta, conductor of the Marconi Band.

The presentation of a set of beads in a beautiful silver casket was made on behalf of the Italian Benevolent Society by little Anthony Furanna, and a basket of flowers was presented by Miss Grace McVie, assisted by Misses Kathleen Pieroni and Freda McVie.

Monsignor de Maria spoke in Italian, telling his audience of his native land. A short address in Italian was made by Bishop Fallon. Music was furnished by the Marconi Band.

Following the reception, His Excellency Monsignor de Maria met the Italian boys and girls and their parents.

The committee in charge of the reception was composed by Tony Furanna, as chairman; Stephen Pieroni, Joseph Danura, Tony Losciavio, Sabina Palladio and John Russo.

CANADIAN CLUB

Rev. Canon Scott Will Be Speaker at Thursday Luncheon.

Rev. Canon Scott, formerly senior chaplain to the Canadian troops in France and Belgium, will address the local Canadian Club at a noon-day luncheon to be held in the Pecan House Thursday at noon. Canon Scott will speak on "The Boys Over There and Over There," and that he understands his subject is evidenced by the fact that in 1914, with the outbreak of war, he enlisted for overseas service as a chaplain, served at Valenciennes mobilization camp, proceeded to England, camped on Salisbury Plain, and accompanied the first Canadian contingent to France, where he ministered to the troops.

During his long service as a chaplain, Canon Scott won the hearts of all Canadians with whom he came in contact, and despite his age, contrary to convention for chaplains, went into the front line with the infantry. He was wounded. During the war Canon Scott's son made the supreme sacrifice. Prior to his death in 1914 he was attached to the garrison troops in Quebec, his native city, as a chaplain.

OFF THE RAILS

Weeds bordering the roadbed of the G. T. R. in this district will be kept under control this summer by novel means. A machine, larger than a hand-car, operated by gasoline, will be run over the lines in charge of a conductor and crew, under train-orders. On each side of the machine two arms project. These arms contain three revolving discs, which tear up the weeds for several feet on each side of the tracks.

Although the machine has never been operated in this district, it has been successfully used on other parts of the G. T. R. system. It was working on the Huron and Bruce line last week.

CARS COLLIDE.

An auto driven by Roy Dale, 310 Wolfe street, and another car were slightly damaged when they collided at the corner of Oxford and Talbot streets at 5 o'clock on Monday afternoon. Only by the presence of mind in throwing his car into reverse did Mr. Dale avoid a serious accident.

All those citizens who have been leaving their ashes for the garbage men regularly all winter will have the remainder of the molested this week if they have them ready when the men call," said Mr. Dodd. "We will not be able to look after those who have allowed a large amount to accumulate in their cellars all winter, however."

With the collection of ashes eliminated it will be possible for the collectors to cover their routes twice a week, it is expected.

TORONTO STOCK EXCHANGE.

Toronto, May 25.—After a holiday recess the Toronto market was dull and prices remained fairly steady. Brazilian had a little run down 43 1/2 and 44 1/2, with the price fractionally lower than on Friday. Steel of Canada was comparatively active, with prices about on a par with those of last week's close. Banks and bonds were quiet and firm.

STANDARD STOCK EXCHANGE.

Toronto, May 25.—Greater activity than at any session during the past month featured trading on the Standard Mining Exchange this morning, and while stocks were irregular, the majority of lower priced issues recorded advances.

(Special to The Advertiser.)
Toronto, May 25.—Morning sales:

Winnipeg, May 25.—May oats opened 1 1/2c higher at $1.20, and July 1c higher at $1.15.

July flax opened 17 1/2c to 19 1/2c higher at $4.75 1/2 to $5.00.

Chicago, May 25.—Commission house buying, which found offerings meagre, brought about decided upturns in the value of corn today. Scarcity of the stocks of corn here tended to make sellers cautious owing to the fact that contracts for May delivery must be closed not later than Saturday. Moreover, bears appeared inclined to go slow until arrivals of corn here totaled a good deal larger than at present. Opening prices, which varied from unchanged figures to 2 1/2c higher, with July at $1.61 1/2 to $1.62, and September at $1.51 1/2 to $1.52, were followed by material gains all around.

Oats ascended with corn. After opening at 90c to 91c, including July at 88 1/2c to 89 1/2c, the market continued to climb.

Provisions were a little firmer in response to grain strength. Trade, however, was slow.

Cause of Early Old Age

The celebrated Dr. Michenoff, an authority on early old age, says that it is "caused by poisons generated in the intestine." When your stomach digests food properly it is absorbed without forming poisonous matter. Poisons bring on early old age and premature death. 15 to 20 drops of "Seigel's Syrup" after meals makes your digestion sound.

SIGNOR DI MARIA HERE FOR FIRST DIOCESE VISIT

Apostolic Delegate To Canada
Is Given a Warm Welcome.

BESTOW POPE'S BLESSING

Will Visit Chatham This Afternoon and Windsor On Wednesday.

His Excellency, Most Reverend Signor Peter De Maria, D.D., apostolic delegate to Canada, arrived in London Monday afternoon via the Grand Trunk on his first visit to this city. At the station he was received by the Marconi band, and welcomed by Bishop Fallon and Roman Catholic clergy of the city with prominent Catholic citizens. He was then conveyed by auto to the home of Bishop Fallon, where he donned his robes of office and headed by the Marconi band, proceeded to St. Peter's Parish hall via Talbot and Maple streets.

At 6:30 p.m. a dinner was tendered the delegates by the clergy of the diocese, after which he proceeded to St. Peter's seminary. Here a procession was formed with St. Peter's seminary boys leading, followed by the priests of the London diocese, a choir of 25 local altar boys singing under direction of Father Finn, Philip Peacock, Bishop Fallon and Signor De Maria, the concourse proceeding along Dufferin avenue to St. Peter's Cathedral between a bodyguard of several hundred local Roman Catholic men and women, who knelt on the grass and sidewalks as his excellency passed along. The Roman Catholic men then followed the procession into the cathedral. Altar boys bore the flowing robes of Bishop Fallon and Signor De Maria.

Official Welcome.
In the church, on behalf of the Roman Catholic laity of the diocese, Bishop M. F. Fallon tendered an official welcome to his excellency as representative of the Pope, and asked that he bestow upon all present the pontifical blessing.

Signor De Maria, rising, thanked those present for the cordial welcome, after which he bestowed the pontifical blessing upon them. Although this reception was for men and boys only, many women were present both outside the cathedral and during the bestowal of the Pope's blessing. After the papal blessing the delegate gave the benediction of the sacred sacrament.

Following the reception in the cathedral his excellency addressed local Italian Catholics in his native tongue in St. Peter's Parish Hall. At this meeting on behalf of the members of the Italian Benevolent Society Professor Venuta presented his excellency with a handsome silver box, the top representing the landing of Columbus. In the box were a set of beads.

Signor De Maria remained over night at Bishop Fallon's house as his guest, and this morning at 8:30 o'clock celebrated low mass in St. Peter's Cathedral for women and children, being so he was assisted by Rev. Father L. M. Porrietta, professor of liturgy at St. Peter's Seminary, and Rev. Father W. Langlois of Ford City. A feature of this service was the singing of hymns by 500 local separate school children, under the direction of Rev. Father M. A. Brisson. This ceremony was largely attended and very impressive throughout. At the conclusion of mass the children marched to school and his excellency was the guest of the alumni of St. Peter's Seminary for breakfast.

The apostolic delegate left London at 11:20 a.m. today via C. P. R. for Chatham, where he will officiate this afternoon, and tomorrow he will be at Windsor.

Special Services.
On Thursday his excellency will attend the celebration of the fifty-first anniversary of Assumption College at Sandwich, when several bishop graduates of this institution will be present. In addition the Archbishop of Toronto will attend and Bishop M. Fallon will officiate.

Then he will return to Ottawa. Bishop Fallon will accompany him upon his Western Ontario tour, which is merely a visit of Signor De Maria as diplomatic representative of the Vatican for Canada, with headquarters at Ottawa. Many priests from Western Ontario were present at the services held here yesterday, and are remaining in London Monday, and remained in London.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody Can Tell When You
Darken Grey, Faded Hair
With Sage Tea.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By taking a few drops of "Sage Tea and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says: "Everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the grey hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful."

AT THE ALLEN.

"The River's End," a spectacular, magnificently produced and well-acted photoplay, replete with thrills and adventures of the great snow-capped stretches of the Canadian Northwest, commenced showing to large and highly appreciative audiences at the Allen Theatre Monday, and will be the feature attraction there the remainder of this week. In addition to an elaborate, highly artistic musical program, under the direction of Maurice Tourne, the Allen program includes an "entertaining comedy," "Petitcoats and Pants," a News Pictorial, and a high-class film depicting the life of the Crow Indians. The feature picture "The River's End," is built around the Royal North-West Mounted Police, in days before the extinction of genuine desperadoes left the world's finest constabulary with nothing else to do than hunt down Bolsheviks or straighten out labor squabbles. Now amalgamated with the Dominion Police, doorknockers extraordinary to government buildings in Ottawa, the R. N. W. M. P. is a romantic history. Through the plot of "The River's End" runs the story of a Chinaman, a Harvard graduate, who sought to force the love of a beautiful white woman through threat of exposing her opium-smoking brother who had killed their father. Consistent of the R. N. W. M. P. is sent to the Arctic circle to bring back

AT THE PATRICIA.

Tom Mix, one of London's screen favorites, starring in "The Daredevil" at the Patricia Theatre yesterday, scored a distinct hit with his hair-raising exploits. His work prevented a dull moment during the film. In a role which was undoubtedly prepared for him, and for him alone, he portrays a virile part in an admirable manner. As a clean-cut man of the Western type, Mix lives up to all expectations. The picture is a real vehicle shown locally in which he has played the stellar role. "Fighting obstacles which an ordinary man would hesitate to encounter, and working out from very dangerous and embarrassing situations, proves to be the daredevil's forte, and spectators of this film can understand why his darddevil stunts were in evidence throughout, they are not of the showy or bravado type, and hence the plot gains rather than loses in interest. In addition to the above feature film the program includes a two-reel comedy, "Dog-Gone Clever." This number is a sure cure for the blues, and kept the house in continuous uproar. Featuring Brownie, the wonder dog of the screen, this film proves a delight to all lovers of animals and demonstrates to what measures the ability and intelligence of a dog can be developed by training. In addition to this a second comedy in keeping with the rest of the program is shown. The above bill, which will continue at the Patricia Theatre today and tomorrow, is concluded by a news feature and is one of high merit.

AT THE GRAND.

If a person, through long experience with the motion picture theatre, has learned to expect, when he sees a double feature picture program advertised, perhaps one good picture accompanied by one of inferior worth, let him now learn that there are exceptions to the rule. At the Grand Theatre on Monday "The Deadlier Sex" and "Alias Jimmy Valentine," two gripping pictures from the pens of Bayard Veiller and Paul Armstrong, consecutively and starring Blanch Sweet with Mahlon Hamilton in the first one and Bert Lytell in the second, held the tense interest of the large holiday crowds until "The End" of the second picture was flashed on the screen. "The Deadlier Sex" carried the spectators from money-mad, scheming Wall street to the wilderness of rocks, babbling rivers and stately plains, where by God's handwork men are taught that there are greater things than money in the world. Perhaps the author thought that the audience could not be content with the usual beauties of the forest, and so started to take his hero and heroine in a mad race, in which canoes and automobiles are vehicles back to the city, but Cupid intervenes, and the sworn enemies become lovers in a most unexpected way. The charming performance of Miss Sweet in the role of a certain member of the deadlier sex, who, as president of a railroad, kidnaps her enemy and carries him to the wilds, will remain long in the memory of those who saw her. She was well supported. The story is novel, and has many touches of humor.

Who does not know the story of Jimmy Valentine, the gentleman crook, and champion safe-cracker, who, after being saved from prison by a beautiful girl he had befriended, makes good in the world of honest men through the girl's influence? The story, though old, has been but lately filmed, and was shown for the first time on the screen in Canada yesterday. Lytell, as Jimmy, interpreted the role well, and, by studied restraint from over-acting, scored a huge success. The play is founded on the greatest of police stories. Voila Vale, playing opposite, was delightful.

Besides these great pictures, an excellent vaudeville act was given by Emmet and McClure. The act affords a great variety of instrumental music and comedy. It received several encores.

A Pathe Review and News Topics of the Day and an educational film completed the program, which will be repeated today and tomorrow.

The annual Convocation Week of Western University has arrived and every loyal citizen of London has an opportunity of taking an active part in the most popular event of this most eventful week. Everyone is invited to attend the annual play, which is being staged at the Grand Opera House for two performances, matinee and night. Thursday of this week, May 27. The university players are this year offering a four-act comedy of love and romance, "An Ideal Husband." Present indications point to two capacity houses showing that the citizens of London have a personal interest in Western University. Boost the play and thereby boost our own University. The proceeds of this production will be used to meet the expenses of the Literary Society, which is the largest student organization at Western. "An Ideal Husband" will prove a delightful entertainment, and the cast is the best assembled by the university "fit" in years. Seats now selling at the box office.

AT LOEW'S.

Ever-popular Wallace Reed packed Loew's Theatre to the doors at all performances on Monday, when he appeared in his latest vehicle, "Double Speed." From every angle the picture was a success. Real comedy runs through every reel of film. The stellar part, that of "Speed" Carr, a wealthy young son of Manhattan, is well suited to him. Like many other motorists who set out for sunny California from "down east," his slogan was "Los Angeles or bust." The latter alternative was his fate. Some rogues stole his car and his clothes, when he was yet many miles from his destination. However, some rural folks helped him to get to the coast city.

On his arrival he could not produce credentials to identify himself. Unable to draw from the bank money which was his, he decided to work. How he becomes chauffeur to the daughter of his uncle's friend, who was searching for him, and how he finally wins her and proves himself to be the genuine "Speed Carr," is told in a truly interesting manner. Before he finally attains his end, however, he has many escapades, and gets into many tangles, all of which help to make the plot absorbing.

Filled with action, this photoplay is a treat to London screen lovers, and there is not a dull moment during its entire showing. The vaudeville program consists of five well-balanced vaudeville acts, with comedy predominating. The leading attraction, Frank Stafford & Co., in clever whistling imitations, went over with a punch. Halligan and O'Rourke, in songs and talking comedy, present a pleasing number. Pittler and Dav, in a run and look of the house in a continuous uproar, while Rob and Whitman offer an amusing comedy, "Back to School Days." Louis Hart & Co., present the "Gentleman Athlete," with distinctly original acrobatic stunts, and a film comedy and a News feature complete the above excellent bill, which will be repeated at Loew's today and Wednesday.

BIRD NOTES

(Contributed by McIlwraith Ornithological Club.)

The "Big Day" has come and gone. May 24 each year is looked forward to by bird-lovers as the crowning event. Migration is usually at its height, and the holiday enables us to spend a longer time amid the birds. This year we were favored with ideal weather, a warm, rainy night on the 23rd, and the morning of the 24th found hosts of birds here—the long-looked-for wave had at last arrived. Thanks to a friend with a car, we were able to visit several of our favorite haunts, and the result was the identification of 80 species, totalling some 430 individuals. The number of individuals is, of course, in many species estimated, as it is impossible to jot down every bird that is seen or heard when a dozen or twenty are flying around and all singing at once.

The only one which might be termed a new arrival was the Connecticut Warbler. This is one of the latest of this family to move north and one that is not generally known as it is rare, and rather secluded in its habits. In color it is olive green above and yellow below, with head, neck and chest sage grey. It feeds mostly on the ground in the shelter of thickets of thorn bushes, and walks around instead of hopping. A white eye ring serves to distinguish it from the Morning Warbler, which it closely resembles. Another bird, first seen some days ago, but which has not yet been noted in this column, was the Florida Gallinule. This is an inhabitant of marshes, or the marshy edge of ponds and rivers, and in common with its near relative, the Coot, is often called Mud-hen.

The Black-Billed Cuckoo was seen on the afternoon of the 23rd and again the morning of the 24th. This bird is not parasitic in its habits as is the Cuckoo of Europe, but is somewhat irregular in its nesting habits, as sometimes both young birds and fresh eggs may be found in the nest at the same time. The Cuckoos, both yellow-billed and black-billed, are most beneficial to fruit growers, as they are very fond of the tent caterpillar. Instances are on record of more than one hundred being taken from the stomach of one of these birds.

To Shrink a Fleishy, Flabby, Wrinkled Face

The woman whose face has a bloated appearance at times, as well as she whose face is permanently over-fleishy or flabby, should use the simple saxo- lite solution. This is made by dis- solving one ounce of powdered saxo- lite in one-half pint of witch-hazel, in- gredients which any druggist will sup- ply. Use as a wash lotion. There is nothing better to reduce the face to a normal appearance. The loose skin shrinks, bagginess and wrinkles are ironed out. Not only does the effect quickly show in one's improved look- ing of firmness and smoothness, but there is also a comfortable feel- ing of freshness and snugginess. This treatment is far superior to massage. The latter, as a matter of fact, can afford but temporary relief and its continuance tends to break down the muscular tissue and aggra- vate the trouble.

FORD CO. COMPLETES REAL ESTATE DEAL

Plans For Erection of New Five-Story Building Indefinite.

The Ford Motor Company, acting through P. Walsh, real estate broker, has taken up its options on all residen- tial properties lying on Pall Mall, Yale and Colborne street, and embracing all the land east of the present Ford fac- tory bounded by Pall Mall and Colborne streets, and as far north as a line con- tinued east from Yale street. Plans for the erection of a new five-story factory on the property are just now indefinite, and Manager W. H. Smith stated that he could not say whether any building operations would be commenced this summer. "All I can say is that we have taken up our options," said Mr. Smith. He added that so far no plans have been made for the immediate wrecking of the residences on the property pur- chased, but sooner or later the Ford factory would be extended over the new property.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO SELLING LIQUOR

A. G. Bayliss Will Be Tried Monday Next in Police Court.

Through the keen memory of P. C. Walter Pope, A. G. As he was not ready to proceed with his case he was bailed in the sum of $500 to ap- pear on Monday. He is also charged with failing to obey a summons. On both charges he pleaded not guilty.

Bayliss came to the city from Toronto to get an auto which he had stored, and which the storage people threatened to sell if he did not recover it. The officer saw him at the corner of King and Richmond streets soon after he had come from the train.

To beautify the teeth

All statements approved by high dental authorities

Millions of people now employ a new teeth cleaning method. Millions of white teeth show the results of it. This is to urge a ten-day test, to show what it means to you.

They fight the film

This new way combats film—that viscous film you feel. That is what clouds teeth and what wrecks them. Most tooth troubles are now traced to film.

Film clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. If not removed it hardens. Then month after month, between your dental cleanings, it may do a ceaseless damage.

It is the film-coat that discolors—not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

The ordinary tooth paste does not dissolve film, so the tooth brush leaves much of it intact. Thus very few people escape tooth troubles, despite the daily brushing.

Now dental science has evolved a film com- batant. Five years of tests have amply proved its efficiency. Leading dentists now every- where advise it. And it is embodied for your daily use in a dentifrice called Pepsodent—an ideal modern tooth paste.

Sent on request

A ten-day test of this new method is sup- plied to all who ask. Thus millions have seen the results of it.

Pepsodent is based on pepsin, the digestant of albumin. The film is albuminous matter. The object of Pepsodent is to dissolve it, then to day by day combat it.

Pepsin must be activated, and the usual agent is an acid harmful to the teeth. So this method long seemed barred. But science has discovered a harmless activating method, so active pepsin can be every day applied.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coat disappears.

See the results and let our book explain them. Then judge for yourself what is best for you and yours. Cut out the coupon so you won't forget.

countries like Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland and Jugoslavia abound in that happy region. And there are possibilities other than stamps in these new-born states.

Jugoslavia is one of the most interesting of them. Inhabited by 11 or 12 million Slovenes, Serbs, Croats, Dalmatians and Montenegrins
(the mountain variety of Serbs), it shows about the most mixed nationality, though the five or six people all speak a similar language. The territory of about 100,000 square miles is not much developed by railways, mining and modern agriculture or manufacture, but is full of promise. Wheat already is a rich yield and the Serbian pigs are celebrated. In 1917 the Austrians took from northern Serbia alone a total of 7,600 tons of dried fruits and 9,000 tons of fruit jam, besides 230,000 litres of wine.
There are great prospects for beet sugar and with the extension of modern methods of livestock breeding, Jugoslavia will take an important place as the foremost European producer of not only pork and bacon, but cattle in general. Things are bad enough at present, with war-devastation, loss of male population, famine and disease, but with the resumption of labor and outside help, times will soon improve.

All over Jugoslavia are scattered vast deposits of copper, coal and gold, most of them never worked, some untouched since the Middle Ages, when the mineral wealth of the Balkan countries was a matter of popular fable. German management took hold of a copper mine in 1906 when its production was 800 tons, in 1912 it turned out 7,500 tons, and during the war it reached an annual output of 12,000 tons.
That is how the Germans got some of their copper to make up for the loss of American supplies. The main copper deposits are still inaccessible on account of the lack of railways, and it is the same with the Bosnian iron and salt mines. But hydraulic power awaits the miner in almost unlimited quantities, as the mineral fields are in the mountains where waterfalls abound.

Timber covers one-third of Serbia, Bosnia, Montenegro and Carniola, the principal provinces of Jugoslavia. The development of mining, lumber and power resources calls for the investment of foreign capital, and for the aid of foreign engineers and experts. If Jugoslavia gets a fair deal at Fiume, at least an untrammelled passage of its commerce through that great port, the outlook for the future is excellent. As Canada, largely an inland country so far as good ports are concerned, breathes easily through Vancouver and the St. Lawrence, Jugoslavia proposes to breathe through Fiume on the west and the Danube on the east. Jugoslavia is as keen for the Adriatic outlet as we are for an ocean waterway to the head of the Great Lakes.

SAFER THAN THE MALE.

A local police constable has attempted to shatter public opinion by stating that women are the best motorists. Accidents in which women have taken the major part are few and far between, but when there is a motor accident caused by a woman, the sex is condemned as nervous and hysterical. The constable is a returned man and in England, he states, there are as many male as female motorists, and considering the heavy traffic in London, England, it is remarkable the few accidents that occur.

During the war women were engaged to drive ambulances, motor lorries and omnibuses. To drive these heavy trucks a great deal more skill is needed than to drive a pleasure car around the streets in a Canadian city.

The constable has had women motorists under close scrutiny since his return from the war, and says that they are far more watchful when crossing street intersections. Many drivers of the male sex cause a great deal of trouble when crossing the city's busiest corner, Dundas and Richmond streets. Some of them disregard the constable's signal altogether, or do not proceed when they do receive it.

A GREAT COLONIZATION PROJECT.

Experts have estimated that in the Canadian Northwest there are today something like 20-000,000 acres of vacant land, all of it within a score or so miles of railways. This vast acreage is exclusive of that held by the Dominion Government, the Canadian Pacific and other railways, and the Hudson's Bay Company. In order that this land may become settled, an organization known as the Western Canada Colonization Association has been formed. It is composed of prominent Canadians, many of them leading financiers of the east, and has the backing of the financial and commercial interests of the prairie provinces. A large part of this land is owned abroad, and it is because of this, to a considerable extent, that it is remaining unsettled. The object of the colonization company is to act for this ownership in placing settlers, a work that neither the Government nor the railways can take up where privately owned land is concerned. With both of the latter the colonization company will co-operate, so that powerful financial and other assistance can be had. The company will see that the newcomers will be placed at points best suited to them and they will be looked after until properly established, with expert advice and information.

The scheme promises to bring immense progress and prosperity to the Northwest, which will, of course, be reflected throughout the entire country. In order to finance the project an appeal is being made to the business corporations of the Dominion for a fund of $1,500-000. Of this sum more than $300,000 has been already subscribed by public-spirited financial and business men.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Why should young people enter into the most difficult, because the most delicate, of human relationships without even the rudimentary knowledge required for the new position and its responsibilities? If before marriage it were compulsory to pass an examination in business methods of account-keeping and housekeeping we might hear less of matrimonial disaster and divorce.

THE USES OF ADVERTISEMENT.

[London Times.]

The University of Liverpool, like most other universities and educational institutions, wants more money with which to maintain and develop its national work. In order to obtain the money it is bringing its case before the public in the form of large advertisements, one of which we publish today.
To our friends in the United States this would seem to be a natural and obvious course; but in this country universities have fought shy of frank and undisguised publicity. This shyness may be a survival of the old tradition that advertisement was the best fitted to recommend wares like soaps and patent medicines. The practice of the Government of hospitals, and of public funds, particularly during the war, left this tradition almost lifeless, and Liverpool has dealt it a death-blow. There can, in fact, be no loss of dignity from an advertisement which states the truth persuasively about an article that is worth its price.

From Here and There

ISN'T WORTHY OF AMERICA.

[From "Chalmers Comes Back," by W. J. Dawson, 1919, pp. 142-3-4.]

"I am an American, so don't think I am capable of disparaging America. No armies have fought with finer devotion than our American boys. They are equal of the best. But they didn't win the war.
They came too late for that. They helped turn the scale beyond doubt. That was a great thing to do.
But if you will look at the casualty list of the last three months of fighting, you can easily discover who bore the brunt of the struggle. For week after week the British casualties ran at thirty to forty thousand. I'm not saying that the American troops wouldn't have fought quite as well, but they weren't there in sufficient numbers. They held one end of a long line, and held it splendidly. They did great things in the Argonne. But do you know that up to the very end of the war hardly an American aeroplane was in the air? They weren't ready.
The American aviators flew in French and British machines. Sometimes they had refitted them with American engines, but that was all. The fact is—and it's a splendid fact—that America had laid her plans for a long war. She had built railways right across France to supply her troops with food and munitions. She had organized with tremendous efficiency for at least four years of war. Obviously it follows that when the war ended suddenly, she had not put forth her strength. It was there, but it wasn't mobilized. Therefore, it's nonsense to say that America won the war. She helped immensely by her wealth and her unexpected military efficiency and the effect that these things had in destroying the morale of Germany. She helped to the utmost of her opportunity in actual fighting, but it isn't enough to say that without parading all the streets with placards 'The Yanks Did It!'"

"I should be a very poor American if I didn't do justice to my comrades-in-arms. I don't suppose you know it, for the world generally doesn't know it yet, but the Canadians were the hammer-head of all the great final attacks. They were always put into the place of the greatest danger. They used to be called 'Poet's Pets.' But I never heard them boast that Canada won the war. For four years and a half they fought from Ypres to Drocourt, but I never heard them boast about it. It's the spirit of boasting I dislike. It's petty. It's parochial. It isn't worthy of America. It's just because I am an American that I hate to hear any American talk boastfully of his own doings, in tant disparement of those who fought much longer than he, and against more terrible odds."

HOUSES AN ABSOLUTE NECESSITY.

The Springer Hotel, a name that recalls much Union Square history in New York, is to be turned into an office building. So is the Hotel Earlinton, a 20-room house in West Twenty-Seventh street. So is the Knickerbocker, a far bigger and newer hostelry.
So is the Grand Central Palace, the scene of many splendid fairs and civic expositions. In the same neighborhood is to rise between Park and Madison avenues, a gigantic business structure covering two blocks from 45th to 47th street, involving the expenditure of $40,000,000 and adding to the huge office towers of that neighborhood an amount of space exceeding the mammoth Equitable in Lower Broadway.

Mid-Manhattan is swiftly acquiring an incomparable array of palaces of commercial and professional activities. But where will their daylight population go at night? asks the New York World. Where shall the people who work in them find homes?

The same issues from the press that circulated these gallant undertakings and how, in New York, where rental conditions are at least no worse than in New York, a tent city was begun in a cold May rain, with the only complaint that it is not big enough for the need. To relieve the entire population district would take many acres of canvas.

The World tells the merchants, the capitalists, the officials, the workmen of New York, that they must soon realize that homes are as necessary as offices, garages and theatres.

NOT DEAD, BUT SLEEPING.

[New York Times.]

Russia lives and will continue to live, and the Russians are going to have something to say about the disposal of "the body that was once the Czar's empire." In pursuance of that policy we have sometimes gone too far: we have refused that consideration of the border states which immediate interest, as well as principle, strongly requires; but at any rate we have not committed the fatal blunder of thinking that Russia has disappeared, or that a hundred million people can be disregarded because they are under a Bolshevik Government. France and England are doing all that Ludendorff could ask; they are driving Russia, under whatever government into German alliance whenever a German alliance becomes worth having. When Russia revives she will be a powerful friend and a terribly dangerous enemy; that might be profitably considered, and not in Warsaw alone.

EGG-O Baking Powder

It does its work absolutely. Its double action makes it a

Always follow the directions—one level teaspoonful to quarter to a half less EGG-O, and get better results.

President Asks For Authority To Accept Mandate Over Armenia

WASHINGTON, May 24.—President Wilson today asked authority from Congress for the United States to accept a mandate over Armenia. The president told Congress he thought the wish of the American people was that the United States should become the mandatory for Armenia.

President Wilson said he was conscious that he was urging "a very critical choice," but that he did so "in the earnest belief that it will be the wish of the people of the United States and that this should be done."

Sent to Committee.

The president's message was read in both the House and the Senate, but was discussed in neither. Each house referred it to its committee on foreign relations, and there was no indication when either committee would take it up. Some Republican leaders in the Senate predicted privately that the message would lie in the Senate committee indefinitely.

The president, in his message, informed the Senate that he had accepted the invitation of the alleged supreme council that he undertake "to arbitrate the very difficult questions of the boundary between Turkey and Armenia," saying he had thought it his duty "to accept this difficult and delicate task."

Provision for mandates over former subject peoples is made in the treaty of Versailles and it is set forth that such mandates shall be executed under the League of Nations, but since the United States is not a member of the league, administration officials said that if Congress decides that the United States should act for Armenia the treaty provisions would be waived in this case.

The question of a mandate over Armenia was discussed at length in the report of the American mission to Armenia, headed by Major-General Harbord, which recently was presented to the Senate. General Harbord estimated that acceptance of the mandate would necessitate the presence of 50,000 American troops there. Other estimates, however, have placed at less than the Turkish army had been demobilized in accordance with the

HELENE'S MARRIED LIFE

BY MAY CHRISTIE
Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate
LXXXI.—Tony Again.

The old saying that "the course of true love never did run smooth" is very true.

My course, it seemed, was destined to be rocky. Always full of disappointments.

I was to take tea at 4 o'clock with Jim. At 4 o'clock a telegram arrived from Alice—an urgent telegram—asking me to go over to the local post-office, and wire her $100.

Perhaps I could have done the business by telephone, to some extent. I could have saved myself the walk. But I was flustered over Alice's request, and didn't stop to think the thing out.

Perhaps her husband had missed his train to Liverpool, was hurrying to catch the next, but found himself unexpectedly short of funds.

Oh, I must hurry to the postoffice, and see what I could do for them.

I hunted through my purse, to see if I had $100 on hand.

Alas! I had only about $45!

I went to the cook, whom Alice looks upon as a sort of housekeeper. No doubt the cook was well provided with the necessary funds to run the house. Alice can't stand sordid details, like the ordering of meals, or paying of the butler's bills.

"But, no! Cook, too, was short. She'd been setting bills that morning.

I hesitated, wondering what on earth to do.

How awful if poor Mr. Anstruther should miss his boat, all through my stupid delay!

Finally, I pocketed my pride, and went to Jim's mother, asking her for a temporary loan. Oh, how I hated to do that! I didn't think I ought to give an explanation about the request, and indeed, Jim's mother didn't ask it. From the tip of her softly-waving grey hair, she said she was a "grande dame," tactful, possessed of true refinement and good taste.

She lent me $55, and offered more, which I refused.

And pretty soon I was hurrying towards the local postoffice.

Alice's wire carried the address of a smart Fifth Avenue hotel. I would send the money there.

I wished I'd been able to get the car, and thus save time. But—mysteriously—the car had vanished.

A drizzling rain was falling when I neared my destination. I had on a new hat, too. The drizzle was annoying. And, oh, the time I was wasting on this bothersome errand, when I might have been with Jim.

The postoffice was close to the railway station, and after I had done my business I turned into the narrow lane that led up to the station parcels-office, hoping to find a parcel there that I was expecting from my New York dressmaker.

I didn't find the parcel. But—

"Hello, Helene! What are you doing here?" Tony's casual, quizzical tones sounded close beside me. "Going to town with me, eh?"

The sheer effrontery of the fellow thoroughly annoyed me.

For a moment I made no adequate reply.

Here was a man who could deliberately pawn another woman's property, keep the money for himself, and lie to her. Here was a rascal who could deliberately make ardent love to another man's wife, even while sharing that man's hospitality.

What a breaker of safes, a stealer of hearts, a parasite.

But, worst of all, here was the man who had done my Jim and me an injury.

No wonder I stared coldly at him.

Tony with his cool, collected manner, took my silence for plucked pride.

"I haven't seen much of you of late, Helene. Did you move?"

He tried to smile, but his eyes were meeting in your little apartment in town. His air was jocular.

I settled. I spoke up.

"Your exit from that place was not a matter to be remembered with any complicity—on your side. It was Mr. Travis Lloyd, I think, who kicked you out."

Tony's face flushed darkly. That shot had told.

"I'll be even with the old boy yet," he said unpleasantly.

"It seems you're trying," I rejoined, with a smile. "I'm thinking of taking over the news that Travis Lloyd had given me recently concerning Tony's attempted robbery of his safe."

"But have a care, Tony. The arm of justice is long—and sure."

The man beside me sneered. But I could see a quick look of anxiety in his eyes. No doubt he was wondering just how much I knew.

He definitely changed the subject.

"How goes it with your job—young St. Aubyn?" The answer was quite pronounced. His accent on the word "lover" wasn't pleasant.

I made no answer. I turned away.

The train for New York came thundering in. A quick step was behind me, and Tony touched me on the shoulder. In his eyes was a curious light.

"Any message for your friend Alice?" he asked, smiling coolly.

"For Alice?" I stammered, thinking of the $20 I had just wired her. "Alice in New York, seeing her husband off to South America?"

"I know it," said Tony, with his slow, unpleasant smile. "I expect to dry her tears after the sad parting is over, and dine with her in town to-night."

Tomorrow: Foolish Alice.

for a slow-worm, a reptile supposed to be blind. Cata Caecilia is said to have been the real name of the great Roman matron, patroness of all other matrons, whose tomb is famous throughout Italy.

Another famous Caecilia was the Christian martyr whose body was discovered in perfect state after 200 years and enshrined in a church. It is she who is the patron saint of sacred music. In her honor Philip of France and William I. of England each named a daughter Cecile. The English Cecile, a daughter of Henry II., was the time of the reformation. It was Cecile, called the Rose of Raby, afterward the Duchess of York, who gave the name greatest vogue in England, where she was known as Proud Cis. Her grandson, the Princess Cecile Plantagenet, was a nun.

After the reformation, strangely enough, Cecile became a generic term for milkmaids and sank into oblivion. When it was revived it came forth as Cecile and was a sightly way contracted to Cecily and Cecy.

Cecily's talismanic stone is jet, denoting sorrow. Yet, if it is worn by Cecily it is said to preserve her from misfortune, suffering and danger of every sort. Wednesday is her lucky day, and three her lucky number.

I took up the paper a request by Samson for a cure for warts. I have used one that is so simple and so effective I want to share it with everyone I hear of who needs it. Apply common castor oil to the warts three or four times a day and at night. The warts will disappear in from four days to a week's time under this treatment. My little girl, 5 years old, had a very nasty one in the corner of her eye, and several on her cheeks, lips and hands. Some had been there for two or three years, and they all disappeared, leaving not a trace of a scar with this treatment. Needless to say, I was very thankful for that. Would like to hear what results others have with this cure.

ONE GREAT ESSENTIAL

TO A WOMAN'S HEALTH IS HER NERVES

Nature intended women to be strong, healthy and happy as the day is long. Instead of being sick and wretched. But how can any woman be healthy and happy when the whole nervous system is unstrung. The troubles they pay more attention to their social and household duties than they do to their health. In the end, they find that they become irritable and nervous, have hot flushes, faint and dizzy spells, smothering and sinking spells, become weak and nervous, and everything in life becomes dark and gloomy.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the very remedy that nervous, tired-out, weary women need to restore them to the blessings of good health.

Mrs. P. H. Ryan, Sand Point, N. S., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from nerve troubles. I was so weak and nervous I could not sleep at night and could not walk across the floor without trembling. I had hot flushes and fainting spells. When I was on my second box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I began to feel better and kept on until I had used six boxes when I felt like a different person. I am never without them in the house and recommend them to all who suffer with their nerves."

PETE'S SEARCH.
PART SIXTEEN.

Instantly old Betty lost all her fear. Once she had tried to love this cruel master, but he had been so mean there was no love left for him, and all thought of loyalty had fled. She knew that he was trying to kill her and perhaps kill Pete. Betty, like the good old dog she was, might have lain right down and let this master, who had made most of her days miserable, kill her and

It not been for Pete, but he was not going to let anything like that happen to this handsome puppy of hers. No, indeed! So, together Pete and Betty raced. Betty not knowing where they were going, but Pete with a great hope in his heart.

"Betty, Betty, Betty," cried the cruel master, come back here." But Betty and Pete kept right on going. The master then grew so angry he began to shout and race after them. Still Betty and Pete got farther away. Very angry, the man stopped, took aim and fired his gun. The sharp report sounded but the bullet passed away over Pete and Betty and did not even scare them. It just made them run all the faster. If that were possible. But the next time the cruel master took more careful aim. There was a sharp sting in Betty's ear and blood trickled down. The bullet had made a gash in the tip of her ear, but it was not a serious hurt. On, on they went, as more bullets were fired at them.

"I am sure I shall drop dead," cried Betty at last. "I haven't run so far for years and my breath is giving out."

"Just a little farther," panted Pete, "just a little farther."

There, Pete's heart gave a bound of joy. The balloon was where he had left it and the man was standing in the field whistling for him. How surprised he was when he saw two dogs came racing toward him.

"Come on, mother, right in," cried Pete as he dashed forward and jumped into the basket of the balloon. Betty hesitated just a minute and then followed. The balloon man looked at them in amazement, wondering what to do, but when he caught sight of Betty's bleeding ear he guessed that the dogs had been in danger. With a cheerful laugh, he pulled in the ropes and slowly the balloon started to rise. It was a minute later when the cruel

Tecs Divide With Wolves But Lose Lead in Race

Lose Morning Game 3-0, But Stage 9th Inning Rally in the Afternoon To Sew Up and Joe Briger Repeats Sewing Up Work by Polling Double, Driving in the Winning Counter.

Nearly 8,000 persons saw the London Cockneys divided their games with the Bay City Wolves over at Tecumseh Park yesterday, thereby slipping into second place, while the bay Custers at Kitchener were annexing the top rung and two games. When the high noon affair went to the Wolves, 3 to 0 with Carmen, the little southpaw doing mound duty, and the afternoon game was going the same downward path along about the eighth inning on Mr. Thomas' hurling, and some pool help at times, it looked as if the menagerie liked southerly hurling and were about to tuck a double ration away as a day's work.

The fatal half of the ninth came along, after Grimm, relieving Thomas, had held the Wolves at bay for his first frame, and the score 7 to 5, Pittenger, first man up, lifted one right into Wenger's mitt. Kennedy grooved one that looked like a three-bagger, might have been a home run, but which Pyke only gave him two bags on. Kuhn walked and Deloitte took to the paths for him. Kennedy made third on a passed ball, Joe Briger kindly poled the necessary two-bagger out to Wenger who wasn't under it. The tenth frame produced nothing, but in the eleventh the Wolves looked as if they would prolong the game. White poled a long hit out to right field, which looked like a foul, but which got him to second. Whaley hit a hot one that Deloitte couldn't handle with one hand, and stole second right pronto. Byrne leaned on one for one of the longest hits this season to right field, but which fouled, and he was afterwards passed. The best of the game was a pop fly, with Wenger making the third out.

A Perfect Day.

Kennedy came to bat in the eleventh with a perfect day at the plate. He grounded out. Deloitte flied out. Crichlow stretched a single into a two-bagger, and then Big Joe Briger knuckled Dame Opportunity knocking at his bat a second time. He slipped the dame the wink and singled through short, scoring Crichlow.

G. Adams of Brantford and R. Rumble of Barrie Tied For Senior Individual Championship—Moody of St. Thomas C. I. Carries Off Lower School Shield—Meet Huge Success.

Sarnia Collegiate Institute carried off both track championships, lower and upper school, at the first annual interschool meet of Western Ontario, held at Queen's Park yesterday. G. Adams of Brantford, and Rumble of Barrie, with 16 points each, were tied for the individual championship in the upper school, while Moody of St. Thomas Collegiate carried off the lower school honors.

Fine Organization.

The organization of the meet was such that the big list of events with 252 boys entered, ran off like clockwork, and the big crowd out to see the meet, were able to follow every event with the new scoring system, and from the score board, which was one of the novelties of the meet. The undertaking, though a tremendous one to consider, not only attained its object of setting up track competitions between the schools of Western Ontario, but as well brought out in its very first venture, some splendid and coming athletes.

No records were broken, but some creditable time and distances were made in the different events in both the classes. Sarnia piled up 18 and 17 point totals to win.

The band of the First W. A. R. Battalion played throughout the afternoon.

In the organization of the meet, the work of Secretary Mel Brock cannot be overlooked, and to a large extent its success is due to his energetic supervision. The officials of the meet, were: Referee—Norton H. Crow, A. A. U. of C.

Associate Referees—Dean W. S. Fox, Ph. D.; Dean P. S. McKibbin, Ph. D.; Clerk of the Course—Fred J. Smith, National Y. M. C. A., Toronto.

HOME-MADE BREAD

Home bread-making reduces the high cost of living by lessening the amount of expensive meats required to supply the necessary nourishment to the body. The increased nutritious value of bread made in the home with should be sufficient incentive to the thoughtful housewife to give this important food item the attention to which it is justly entitled. Bread made with Royal Yeast will keep fresh and moist longer than that made with any other.

A Flaky Pie-crust

You should not deny your children the pleasure of eating fruit pies, cakes and pastry because of a selection of inferior flour.

When pie-crust is hard and heavy it does not assimilate easily, and the little folks suffer.

But when pies are made of Diamond Flour you get a light flaky crust that melts at the first crunch.

It is so tasty and digestible, that children can eat it and thrive.

It is as much for the healthy development of the children as for the benefit of grown-ups that

"Neponset" Twin Shingles are the only Twin Shingles manufactured. They are two shingles in one, thus reducing the time of laying, and the number of nails required by one-third.

"Neponset" Twin Shingles are so designed that they can be laid close together, assuring a roof that is absolutely weather-tight, while retaining the appearance of a slate roof.

"Neponset" Twin Shingles are made in two colors, red or green.

Vice-Presidents Defeated Presidents at Thistles — Skips Hynd and McMullen Won At L. R. C. and C. C. Gordon Won At Elmwoods.

Local bowlers got away to a good start yesterday on greens that were in the best of shape. The games on the whole were close and rather exciting, in spite of it being the opening day of the season. Old Jupiter Fluvius threatened to spoil the day's sport at different times, but the enthusiastic players were too much engrossed in their games to take a great deal of notice of the weather, other than that it was hot.

At the Thistle Club the rinks of F. N. Allen, the vice-president, defeated the trundlers of President Israel Taylor by 30 shots. Fred Allen, in spite of the long lay-off during the winter, piled up a plus score of 22, which was enough to carry off the prize itself.

English Engineer Discovers
A Waterproof Cement

Used by British Government During War
Now Manufactured in Canada

Tank at St. Mary's Cement, Limited, where Super Cement was tested with remarkable results.

FOR years, engineers, chemists, scientists, and other experts have been trying to discover a WATERPROOF cement.

Until Super Cement was discovered by an English Engineer, just previous to the war, nothing had been accomplished beyond the use of numerous so-called water repellants or pore fillers which were added to ordinary cement. The results were disappointing as architects, engineers, contractors and builders well know.

Succeeded Where Others Failed
The only true method of waterproofing is to make the cement do ALL the work instead of only a part of it. And in the discovery of Super Cement, the inventor succeeded where others had tried for years and failed. His Super Cement does ALL of the work of WATERPROOFING. It does it completely.

During the war, Super Cement was used by the British Admiralty, War Office, Royal Air Force, Board of Works, Home Office, and by the Public Works Contractors. It was given the most severe tests. It proved its efficiency.

Manufactured 6 Years in England
This new cement has now been manufactured in England for six years. Although its manufacture for other than war purposes was greatly retarded by Government war restrictions, it made for itself an enviable reputation. It is now patented throughout the world.

Super Cement is made from a combination of the ordinary cement during its manufacture and another chemical ingredient (a Catalytic Colloid) which, when ground with the cement changes its physical properties, making the resultant cement combine more thoroughly with the mixing water. The result is a concrete so strong and so dense as to be impervious to water, gasoline and other liquids.

Remarkable Waterproofing Results
Such remarkable waterproofing results have been secured with Super Cement that it is now being used by the British Government for—Gasoline Storage Tanks for Aerodromes—Wash for Waterproofing Brickwork—Lining for Concrete Shipping.
Private users are employing Super Cement for—Lining the interior of Leaking Cellars and Basements.
Weatherproofing Old Brick Sewage Tanks—
Making Steam Exhaust Condensers—
Making Silos—
Making Acid Tanks—
Making Oil Tanks—
Making Water Tanks—
Making Waterproof Floors—
Making Stucco Houses—
And other waterproofing purposes too numerous to mention, as well as all the ordinary uses of concrete where a superior product is desired.

Numerous testimonials have been received from users of Super Cement. This one received from Anglo-Colonial Dyes Company (Riverdale Works), of Charlottetown, England, is interesting.

Used For Acid Tanks
"The Pits have now been in use for about eight months. The di-nitro-phenol, sulphuric acid, etc., is kept at boiling point for about 8 to 10 hours a day. On chipping the side of the pit, I find the liquid has not penetrated the cement in the slightest."

Canadian Tests
Super Cement has been tested also in Canada, at the plant of St. Mary's Cement, Limited, St. Mary's, Ontario, and has given remarkable results.

Briefly, the tests showed that a mortar made of river sand and Super Cement 1:3 was impermeable under a water pressure of no less than 200 lbs. per square inch. It was impermeable under a gas-line pressure of 180 lbs. per square inch. This is a higher degree of impermeability than has ever been obtained with Building Cements.

Super Cement is a discovery that will enlarge the entire cement industry. It is what the building world has long been looking for.

Further particulars, copies of tests, testimonial letters, etc., will be gladly furnished on request by

WOODWORTH ROVERS ORDERED OFF FIELD; GRAND TRUNKS WIN

St. Thomas Side Penalized for Breach of Discipline in the W. F. A. Opener Here.

The G. T. R. won from the St. Thomas Woodworth Rovers in the second game of the Springbank on Victoria Day. Most of the fans that saw the international game stayed for this one. The game was clear all the way through, except for the last period, when a penalty was allowed the G. T. R., and the Rovers thought that the penalty could not be given, deciding to end the game there. Neither team scored a goal throughout the game. In the first period both teams started to play a defensive game, and this was kept up all the way through. In the second period the Rovers tried to break through the "Wasp" defence, but the three G's, Garrow, Green and Ganne, were right there on the job and showed some remarkably fine work.

The line-up:

St. Thomas Woodworth Rovers—Goal: Duckworth; right back: Allday; left back: Latham; right half: Robinson; centre half: Birchall; left half: Arel; outside right: Paul; inside right: Fair; centre forward: Robertson; inside left: Raby; outside left: Marchant.

Referee—Mr. James and McGuire (Great War Vets).

INTERNATIONAL IS WON BY ENGLAND; 5,000 SEE THE GAME

Copy of Big Soccer Classic at Springbank Provides Good Game.

England won from Scotland in the international game played at Springbank on Victoria Day by the score of 2 to 0. Over 5,000 spectators witnessed the game, which because of the warm weather, was at times very hard on the players. In the first period, after the president took the kick-off, both teams went out to score, but neither succeeded until the last of the period, when England took a penalty kick and sent the ball past Garrow, who could not have stopped it under any circumstances. A little later on they were awarded another penalty kick. In this they were also successful. When the referee blew his whistle for half-time the score was 2 to 0 in favor of the English. In the second period, England settled down and played a better combination game than their opponents. No scoring took place in this period, and the game ended with the score 2 to 0, with the English the victors.

The Line-Up:

Referee—Sergt. Sam Hacking, Princess Pats.

Line-upmen—Scotland, Jimmy McGuire; Great War Veterans; England, S. Rea (returned).

LOOKING THEM OVER.
Capt. Edgar M. C. got back in time to strengthen the English defence. He played a splendid combination with his partners, Hunt and Nudds.

The halves were hard workers on England's side while their forwards played a good combination game.

Scotland's goalers, Garrow (G. T. R.), played very good all the way through.

Dickson played a good game for Scotland. He was continually bombarding the English goal, but was unlucky enough to not score a goal.

Armstrong and Leigh gave a good exhibition of soccer. The latter was the best player on the field.

Lawrie (G. T. R.) was missed both by the "Wasps" and the Scotland team.

Sight. Itched And Burned.
Cuticura Heals.

"Baby was two months old when I noticed little pimples on her head. They kept getting worse and spread till her head, face, neck and arms were one mass of eruptions, burning, itching, and bleeding. I was told it was eczema. I had to sew up her arms and legs in linen. She was a terrible sight. For one year I had no rest night or day."

"We got Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In less than two weeks she began to mend and in a few months she was healed." (Signed) Mrs. Boorman, 243 McDonnell St., Peterboro, Ont., April 19, 1919.

Troublesome Small Pulleys

Have you trouble getting belts flexible enough for small pulleys, yet strong enough to last?

Goodyear has produced Extra Power Belting—belting flexible enough that it need not be too tight! Gripping enough to prevent slipping at any speed!

For this is 5-point belting.

1. It is extremely strong, because of specially-designed, properly-woven fabric.

2. Yet it is very flexible, for it is not stitched, but is welded together with high-grade rubber, forced through and through the fabric and surrounding every thread. It hugs even small pulleys.

3. It has a friction surface which grips, dry or damp, and needs no dressing.

4. It has a seam sealed tight with high quality rubber.

5. The same rubber which gives Goodyear Extra Power its flexibility, prevents ply separation, even when the edge is worn or torn by shifters or accident.

The list of satisfied users of Goodyear Extra Power Belting on small pulleys is very great—too long to print here. But a few are:

WALL STREET.
New York, May 25.—Gains exceeded losses at the opening of today's stock market, but the undertone denoted a continuance of bearish sentiment among professional traders. Oils were the only noteworthy exception, Mexican Petroleum rising 1 1/2 points, with a more moderate gain for Pan-American. Buying of low-priced rails, attributed to Western interests, effected an advance of 1 point for Rock Island. United States Steel made a fractional gain, but most of the seasoned industrial and rails were little changed. Atlantic Gulf, yesterday's strongest feature, forfeited a point at the outset.

Noon.—The market became active and strong before the end of the first hour, oils leading the movement on further buying of the Mexican issues. Motors and equipments followed the steel and shipbuilding advances running from 1 to 3 points. There were substantial recoveries also in sugars, textiles, leathers, tobaccos and chemical issues at gains of 1 to 5 points. Rails stocks more prominent on buying of Reading and Southern Pacific. The only stocks to lag were coppers and other metal issues. Call money was again freely supplied at 6 per cent, but exchange on London yielded part of yesterday's advance. Liberty bonds were higher.

1:30 p.m.—Most gains were irregularly increased during the intermediate session, although business fell away to a marked extent. News from Mexico prompted further covering by the shorts in oils and buying of rails included many of the speculative low-priced shares.

"SEEING LONDON" IS VICTORIA DAY SLOGAN

Majority of Citizens Spend the Holiday in the City.

Settlement of the Port Stanley Railway strike apparently was not in sight when Londoners made their plans for spending Victoria Day. The usual daily schedule of car service was operated between London and the lakeside, but there were plenty of vacant seats on the regular trains and no specials were needed. On the other hand, the street railway carried many thousands to Springbank, where the amusement park opened, and to the baseball game in Tecumseh Park and the Western University athletic meet in Queen's Park. Theatres were crowded and hundreds motored to the Grand Bend or other popular pleasure resorts, or took short trips out of town over the steam roads. Crowds congregated at the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific station platforms at every train hour. Special taxi services were operated to the Grand Bend, and many took advantage of special round-trip rates. At Port Stanley, the roller coaster and the merry-go-round were in operation, and a few booths were open, but the L. and P. S. R. Cafeteria and bathhouse had not opened for business late in the afternoon. For the great majority of Londoners, "Seeing London" appeared to be the popular slogan, and it was quite the biggest holiday spent in town for some years.
