NEGRO MURDERS WOMAN THEN COMMITS SUICIDE

New York, Dec. 25.—Raymond Amos, a negro, early today leaped on to the running board of an automobile shot to death Lela Harper, one of the car's four negro passengers, and then killed himself. The murder and suicide occurred at the corner of One Hundred and Thirtieth street and Seventh avenue, just a few moments after a police "sharshooters squad" had passed the spot in an automobile. Police are searching for Charles Brown, chauffeur of the automobile, which, they said, bore the license number of the late Bishop Charles Sumner Burch. Brown fled before the police arrived, and they were unable to ascertain early today how he came into possession of the machine. The other two passengers were negro women.

DID SERGT. NOONAN MISS THIS WHISKEY?

Has Sergeant of Police Thomas Noonan missed the biggest case of whiskey he ever went after? Dame Rumor says that no longer ago than last week he called to 160 bottles of high-grade liquid. Noonan has a reputation for whiskey-sleuthing that is the envy of many police officers. Three sacks of whiskey in a garage at Crumlin last week. Two men who placed an automobile in the garage for repairs were arrested; one was fined $500 and the other let go. Noonan was not seized, however, but the car out of town with suspicious alacrity, and the fine of the convicted man was $100.

RE-ELECT MAYOR LITTLE.
 Mayor Little is entitled to a second term as mayor. He should have been elected by acclamation.

It will be remembered that his father served the city as mayor for three years, and was not only one of its best mayors, but one of its very best citizens. He came to London from Montreal a young man, and by his energy and ability built up the best wholesale drygoods business in Western Ontario, to which he added other businesses—the Holeproof Hosiery, the Helena Costume and others. He bought out the Gault wholesale in Winnipeg and added that. The firm of Robinson, Little & Company was recognized as in the first rank of Canada's business houses from coast to coast. All classes of citizens regretted his death. He still lives in his sons, all of whom, seven in number, are splendid sons of a very able and honorable father.

Mayor Little has filled the position of mayor during 1920 with great ability, and so as to please his father's friends. It is a great satisfaction to see the son the equal of the father, or, as Charles Sumner put it better: Honor to the memory of our fathers; may the turf lie gently on their sacred graves! But let us not in words only, but in deeds also, testify our reverence for their name. Let us imitate what in them was lofty, pure and good; to each generation is committed its peculiar task; no one does the heart which responds to the call of duty find rest, except in the world to come.

The sons of John W. Little are worthy successors. They have held what their father left and added to it. The magnificent Holeproof Hosiery building is their latest triumph. Mayor Little, in addition to being concerned in all the business enterprises of the firm, found time to act as alderman, and this year as mayor. The city has the advantage of his business experience and ability. It is usual to give so good a mayor a second term by acclamation.

The city will vote for itself when it returns Mayor Little as its mayor for a second year. He represents active, enterprising, progressive, large interests. He strongly favors the widest and most progressive education. He should head the poll by a large majority.

A PRINCELY GIFT.
 The gift of Jacob L. Englehart to the town of Petrolia of the Englehart Hospital and Nurses' Home, is a princely gift, given in the true Christmas spirit.

Recently we had the pleasure of being shown through the hospital and nurses' home. The hospital is the former home of Jacob L. Englehart, to which large additions have been made. It stands on high land with a beautiful commanding view. The nurses' home is on the ground adjoining the hospital. Both buildings are a credit to the town. The site comprises thirty acres.

The good that will be done by the hospital and the nurses cannot be estimated, but the good extends much further. The fact that Petrolia has such a hospital will make the doctors better and safer men. The value of the hospital is not confined within its walls, but enters into every home into which the doctors go. To a less extent than in London this will be apparent. The hospitals and medical schools of London have placed London medical men in the front rank, and from its Western Medical School men have gone out, some of the best men on the continent.

The name of Jacob L. Englehart will be held long in the grateful remembrance of the people of Petrolia and of Ontario for the princely gift of the hospital and nurses' home, and for his splendid work on the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway.

A MISREPRESENTED PEOPLE.
 Few countries which have figured in recent European affairs have been more talked about and less understood than Czechoslovakia. One of the most popular misconceptions has been that the Czechs are a truly democratic people. The aristocratic families of Bohemia and Slovakia are, with but two or three exceptions, of foreign origin, either German or Hungarian. They have, therefore, no influence in public affairs. The elections of last spring were conducted on the most democratic plan imaginable, the women voting as well as the men and even the army, officers and privates alike, casting their ballots. The progressive party was elected by a large majority. The social democrats constitute the most important group in Parliament, and are largely represented in the innermost circles of the present ministry.

The enemies of the Czechs, especially the Hungarians, accused them generally of a leaning toward Bolshevism and of ardent sympathy for Lenin, Trotsky and the Soviet government. The reproach is unjustified. Most of the Czechs hold very advanced opinions, but they are not all drawn toward the system of government which is afflicting unhappy Russia. The outstanding characteristic of Bolshevism, as practiced by Lenin, is the barbarous oppression of the majority by a small minority, and the maintenance of power by the aid of mercenaries, foreign for the most part, liberally paid and free to massacre and pillage to their hearts' content. As a matter of fact, Russian elections have been done away with; there is no longer any elected body, any representation of the people.

In Czechoslovakia, on the other hand, everybody votes, and the voting is done according to a system of representation proportionate to the number of inhabitants, which has been perfected as much as possible, and which permits all parties, of whatever political leaning, to be represented. Because of this method of political representation, the Germans of Bohemia find themselves with more than fifty deputies at the Parliament of Prague, the Magyars of Slovakia only a dozen.

SAFEGUARDING THE FUTURE.
 Of special interest to Londoners at the present time, when the establishment of a juvenile court is under discussion, is the comment of Judge Franklin Hoyt in the January Scribner's, in an article dealing with the moral guidance of children. Judge Hoyt says, in part: "A great nation can afford to be generous in the treatment of its children. Indeed, one of the very tests of its greatness is to be found in the measures which it takes to safeguard and improve the coming generation. If a country expects to receive devoted and efficient service from its future citizens it must take scrupulous care in meeting its own obligations toward them with wisdom and honor. There is nothing visionary or utopian about such a policy; it is a matter of plain common sense and self-protection."

"To paraphrase a famous document it might be said that every child is endowed with certain inalienable rights, and that among these are protection, education, health and the pursuit of happiness.

"Its right to protection comprises many things besides its mere preservation from cruelty and neglect. It has the right to a normal, decent and sympathetic home; the right to the care and protection of the state in case its natural guardians fail in their duties; the right to be safeguarded against corrupting influences and debasing environments; the right of deliverance from economic pressure and the serfdom of child labor in all of its forms.

"By a child's education much more is understood than a mere smattering of learning or a rudimentary course of instruction in the three R's. It has the right to be taught of other things.

"Most important of all is the question of its religious training and its moral guidance. The opportunity must be given every child to learn of religious truths and to worship God. The form of its religion does not concern the authorities; that is a matter to be decided by its parents, its family, and its ecclesiastical advisers. But it should be strengthened and confirmed in its chosen faith, and encouraged to follow its precepts. If our experience in the children's court has proved one thing, it is that religion is essential in the training of youth, and that no lasting good can be achieved when its spiritual development is neglected."

EFFICIENCY.
 On a recent evening a policeman for two hours concentrated his energies on watching a citizen suspected of carrying a "bottle." When finally he made the pounce, the bottle was not there. Meanwhile on his beat some score of warehouses and several hundred private residences were left unprotected. Of course, he may yet get that bottle.

THE WORLD'S BUSINESS OUTLOOK.
 Of special importance at the present time are the views of so eminent an authority as Sir Robert Home on the business outlook. As president of the British Board of Trade he has exceptional opportunities for obtaining vital facts in connection with commercial activities the world over. At the annual dinner of the Shipbrokers' Society in Liverpool, at which he was guest of honor, Sir Robert discussed the outlook frankly, and, above all, practically. He did not believe, he said, that the trade depression could last long. The world was not nearly replenished with the stocks of which it had been depleted, and there were nations needing these stocks. Prices, however, must come down. Many stocks were being held at the level of prices at which they would not be sold, and whilst that must involve hardship to many, the ultimate result must be good. He did not think they would ever do good, healthy business until they got back to something more nearly approaching the normal level of prices.

Touching on the present condition of trade and commerce, he said they were at present rather in the trough of the waves, after having been for two years almost on the crest, but every great war had had exactly the same concomitants as those they were experiencing now. There were times of good trade, almost booming trade, immediately after a war, and then came a great slump. They had had their two years of good trade after the war, but he was afraid people had been spending and speculating with a complete disregard to the dislocation which had taken place in the fortunes and finances of the world. To expect that they were to arrive again immediately at a period similar to the beginning of 1914 would be the work of a dreamer and not of a practical man. There must be harder work by employers, as well as by workmen. There were great business chances which were not so well organized as they could be for the best production, some not so well equipped as reasonable foresight would have justified. What was really needed was an enormous increase in the output of the whole body politic, employer and workmen alike. It must be apparent to all that unless they had greater production they could not have decreased costs.

WHAT OF RETURN?
 [Kansas City Star.]
 A Syracuse professor says he has had a glimpse of heaven, a glimpse long enough to include hearing a few strains from the heavenly choir and a few minutes conversation with St. Peter. Let us hope his subsequent return to Syracuse was not voluntary, else a good many worthy ambitious will undergo revision.

From Here and There

COULD NOT CONTROL PRICES.

[Marketing.]
 The idea that "newspaper talk" has been largely responsible for the slump in prices is not supported by Sir Vincent Meredith, president of the Bank of Montreal. "Following a period of excessive prices and deflated currencies, characteristic of war times," he said at the bank's annual meeting on December 6, "the country is now in the midst of a process of readjustment."

"It has been difficult to make producers, merchants and others carrying heavy stocks, who have grown accustomed to high prices, and the inevitable by recognizing the fact that it is futile to attempt to overcome economic conditions, which no artificial means can alter, alone are the causes of price decline. Canada alone cannot control the world-wide conditions, and it is idle to turn to the government for relief from falling prices."

"A lower price level must be reached before we can reasonably look for a resumption of business activity on a sound basis. To arrive at this stage inventories must be reduced and deficiencies made good by drawing upon the excessive profits of previous years."

THE SHORTAGE OF TEACHERS IS SERIOUS.

[Scribner's Magazine for January.]
 The shortage of teachers is really upon us. Superintendents of schools are searching up and down the land hunting out teachers, married teachers, "near" teachers, anyone who has had a modicum of training or experience in the management of schools. The emergency almost brings back the early days of the war, when England and France, confronted with the necessity for more and more officers of all grades, were beating up the holes and retired men, and pressing them into service. The language was then enriched by a new and expressive term, "dugout"—superannuated and retired officers who were dug out of their refuges, furnished up as speedily as possible, and put on active service. In the same way we are now drafting as many as can be traced of the old staffs, married women, widows in retirement, semi-invalids, who know the routine of school management, and who have or have had a knowledge of the art of teaching. And these educational "dugouts" are doing valiant service, even as their military predecessors did in the war. They often bring to their work a background and perspective of real life which vivifies and enriches their teaching, and a mellowness of experience which mollifies their relations with parents and pupils. But in spite of all efforts, hundreds of schools have been closed. It has so far been possible to keep most of the children under some semblance of instruction; larger classes have been formed and a heavier burden put upon the teachers still in service. High school graduates, with no other training, have been set to "keep" school, which means keeping the school from turning them out of doors. Thus, at a time when educational effort should be at the height of efficiency, it is actually and visibly deteriorating.

EMPIRE EMIGRATION.

[Hamilton Spectator.]
 Premier Lloyd George's plan of emigration within the Empire, as a solution of Great Britain's unemployment problem, will not make any strong appeal to this country in the existing state of industry. It is not as an immediate measure of relief, however, that the suggestion is made, and it is a gratifying evidence of the British premier's faith in the future of the overseas dominions that he should instinctively think of them as the natural places to absorb the surplus labor of the Motherland. To absorb of inter-imperial migration can be ratified without the consent and advice of the dominions concerned; such consent presupposes a condition of industry healthy for the reception of the newcomers. Canada needs these British workers to develop her immense potentialities. How much better it is to have British-born settlers, already attuned to the mentality and political spirit of the country, than alien-minded people, whose assimilation into the national life is such a long and laborious process. Unquestionably, the imperial conference to be held in London in the spring of next year will take up this question in a businesslike spirit, by which it may be trusted, the temporary depression will have passed, and the country be well launched on a period of renewed activity and prosperity.

EMIGRATION NO GENERAL REMEDY.

[Detroit Free Press.]
 In placing the problem of unemployment in Great Britain ahead of the finance and Irish questions, Premier Lloyd George was not discounting the momentousness of the last two perplexities. He was emphasizing the gravity of the first one. And he indicated the extreme seriousness of the situation in the most emphatic way possible when he confessed, with evident reluctance, that he fears the British nation will have to face the problem of emigration. Obviously the premier was thinking of more or less forced emigration. And he was responsible for nothing less than a confession that the island has more people than it is likely to be able to support for an indefinite period.

Yet Great Britain, when compared with most of the remainder of Europe, is in a distinctly advantageous position. If, then, that country is such a strait with regard to unemployment, what must be the plight of the continental lands, and particularly of those which, unlike Britain, have no large dominions and colonies where they can send their surplus population?

But it is a question whether in general the best and permanent remedy for the unemployment problem is emigration, except perhaps for Great Britain with its means for relief within the boundaries of the Empire. South America might perhaps receive some newcomers with advantage to everyone. There are regions there where labor still is far behind the potential demand. But this is not true so of the United States is concerned. Here we can safely accept only a certain amount of selected immigration. We cannot afford to choke ourselves with the European overload.

CHILDREN'S DAY AND WAY.

[Kingston Whig.]
 The most wealthy thing on this earth at the present time, by far, is a child in the modern child toward a copious Christmas morning.

The average kiddie's list of requestful suggestions to Santa Claus is long enough to sink a ship, and sufficiently elaborate to strain the very rib of parental generosity.

Most children exhibit the queer phenomenon of having to have clothes a size or two above their age. In their Christmas wishes they seem to run about ten sizes above.

Little girls who anybody'd naturally think would be satisfied with a doll or two, some paints and books and handkerchiefs and things, are pointedly hinting for wrist watches, vanity bags, platinum pins, bouffant caps and heaven knows what other costly luxuries.

Boys that should be soothed with skates and gloves, steam engines, hockey sticks or a box of tools, have learned to yearn for motorcycles, whole miniature electric railroad plants, radio outfits and a great variety of other expensive articles that father would very much enjoy getting for himself.

They say that Christmas for the children, but hang it! what are we going to do if the children insist upon being grown up?

CRIMINAL CARELESSNESS IN BUILDING.

[Brantford Expositor.]
 According to the New York Herald, 1,500 men, women and children are buried to death every year. "A few of these deaths are the outcome of unavoidable misadventures which human prescience could not foresee, and human ingenuity could not guard against," but most of them arose from causes easily preventable, and too often from criminal carelessness. The Herald adds: "This appalling and heart-rending death list is a monument to stupid, criminal disregard of elementary principles of sound building construction and simple good behavior. It is the terrible price the nation pays for heedlessness and short-sighted selfishness in individuals."

THE TORTURES OF RHEUMATISM

Happily Stopped When He Began To Take "Fruit-a-lives"

"Ottawa St., Hull, P. Q."
 "For a year, I suffered with rheumatism, being forced to stay in bed for five months. I tried all kinds of medicine without relief and thought I would never be able to walk again.
 "One day while lying in bed, I read about 'Fruit-a-lives,' the great fruit medicine; and it seemed just what I needed, so I decided to try it.

OTTAWA CONTRACTOR DIES.
 Ottawa, Dec. 27.—One of Ottawa's best-known contractors, in the person of Mr. Felix McCullough, died on Christmas Day at his home, 181 Waller street, after an illness of two weeks. Death was due to heart trouble.
 Mr. McCullough was born in Armagh, Londonderry, Ireland, 48 years ago, at the time of the Fenian invasion. His wife came to Canada when a boy. His widow and one daughter survive him.

MAYOR LITTLE'S MAKE-GOOD SERIES NO. 2

First Positive step taken to end level crossings and secure Union Depot

Equal Educational Opportunities Provided for every London child. Playground Provided for all parts of the City

How Mayor Little Is Building a Foundation FOR A GREATER LONDON

LONDON HAS had an era of co-operation and constructive advance during 1920. This is here illustrated by a comparison of the 1919 election platform of Mayor Little and his actual achievements during his first year. These will be shown from day to day as stones laid in the upbuilding of London.

- STONE NO. 1—Through Mayor Little's efforts the children of the poor and rich now share alike in the field of higher education. Any child having aptitude and being desirous of attending university, will receive free tuition if the parents are not in a position to pay for it.
- STONE NO. 2—Mayor Little's persistent efforts on behalf of London's kiddies have resulted in the opening of additional public playgrounds in various parts of the city.
- STONE NO. 3—Mayor Little has been particularly active in endeavoring to abolish the menace of the level crossing in London and to secure a new, adequate union depot for the city. During his term of office he has made several trips to Ottawa to interview the authorities and get action on this pressing problem. He has been informed that one of the first large works of construction that will be put under way by the Grand Trunk as soon as the details of the road's transfer to the Government are completed will be track elevation, and a new union depot at London will surely follow.

In line with this promise, the Railway Commission has now undertaken to construct a subway at Rectory street, the tracks to be elevated at this point to the full height required for elevating the tracks through the city later on.

The Rectory street subway is thus the first link towards track elevation in London. The Railway Commission instructed its Chief Engineer Mountain to report on track elevation and subway plans for Rectory street, and his report completely approves of the plan submitted by City Engineer Brazier for the work.

Mayor Little is anxious to solve and terminate the track elevation problem, which will certainly include a new union depot.

MOSCOW NOTIFIES MARTENS TO RETURN TO RUSSIA AT ONCE

Tchitcherin instructs Ambassador to Cancel All Orders.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, Russian Soviet "ambassador" to the United States, today notified the department of labor that upon instructions from the Moscow Government just received by cable, he will surrender himself for deportation January 3. The cable from Moscow was a reply to Martens' report of his deportation order, and was sent by George Tchitcherin, soviet minister of foreign affairs, who denounced the present United States administration for its "hostility." "We must resign ourselves to the fact that Russia for the time being, due to the hostile attitude of the present American administration, will have to get along without its co-operation," the message said. "You are instructed to return to Russia without delay, together with the Russian citizens who are members of your staff, and to cancel and liquidate, in accordance with instructions you will receive from the commissariat of foreign trade, all orders placed with American firms."

THOUSANDS NOT ON WINDSOR VOTERS' LIST

Own Property, But Are Not Citizens, According To Law.

WINDSOR, Dec. 27.—Replying to statements made by Ald. England that 46 per cent of the parents of children attending the public schools are not on the voters' list, Alexander Black, city assessor, said the law absolutely forbids the placing of these people upon the list. Mr. Black said that 5,000 people living in the city, whose children attend the public schools, are not British subjects. He quoted from the voters act, which specifies that only citizens shall exercise the franchise. On account of Windsor being a border city there are thousands of Americans owning property in the city, and as a result taking an active part in local affairs. It was in the interests of these people that Ald. England sought a revision of the list. The fact that they own property and have children in the schools does not give them the right to the franchise, according to Mr. Black. They must suffer the same deprivation as Canadians on the American side, unless the Ottawa Government sees fit to change the nationalization laws, the assessor said.

LEFT THE FARMS Agricultural Immigrants May Be Sent Back by the Government.

CHATHAM, Dec. 27.—The local chamber of commerce will take up with the Government the return of agricultural immigrants to the land. It has been brought to the notice of the local chamber that a number of these men came to Kent county to work on the farms, but after a few weeks with the "cows and chickens," hiked to the city and obtained employment in factories. As they were brought to this country for agricultural work only, an effort will be made to make them return to the farms.

MASONS BURN MORTGAGE ON THEIR TEMPLE

More Than 900 Members of the Craft Witness Ceremony.

OFFICERS INSTALLED

Gathering Last Night Was One of Largest in History of City.

While 900 district Masons cheered loudly in the banquet hall of the Masonic Temple last night, Most Worshipful Brother W. H. Wardrop, K. C., of Hamilton, grand master of the grand lodge of Canada in Ontario, A. F., and M. 1917-19, burned a copy of the mortgage on the building, signifying that all indebtedness on the temple had been eliminated. This event was the culminating feature of the annual installation of officers of the eight blue lodges of the city which was held last night. Over 900 Masons sat down to the banquet following this ceremony, and over 200 were denied places in the hall, which was taxed beyond capacity.

Richard Booth announced with regret that Most Worshipful Brother Charles W. McGuire, president, will die in St. Joseph's Hospital, John Graham, vice-president, responded to the toast and sketched the history of the present building and stated that it would have to be enlarged in the near future. Jared Vinings, secretary, also responded.

Dr. C. H. Zeigler acted as toastmaster.

The following Masons will act as masters for their lodges during 1921, and in company with their subordinates were installed in office: B. R. Hookway, St. John's Lodge, 30; Charles Heenan, St. George's Lodge, 42; T. May, Kilwinning Lodge, 64; C. H. Beard, Tuscan Lodge, 209a; Alfred Johnston, Corinthian Lodge, 330; Arthur J. Wilkins, King Solomon Lodge, 378.

and Joseph Carson, Union Lodge, 380. The officers in charge of the installation are as follows: Most Worshipful Bro. Nelson P. Walsh, master of installation, Kilwinning Lodge, 64; Right Worshipful Bro. Richard Booth, St. John's Lodge, 30, director of ceremonies; Right Worshipful Bro. J. W. Metherall, Corinthian Lodge, 330, assistant director of ceremonies; Worshipful Bros. Finley Marshall, chaplain, Kilwinning Lodge, 64; A. C. Nobbs, Thomas Rowe, W. H. I. no, Dr. C. H. Zeigler and T. G. Davis.

FEAR THAT TWO WERE DROWNED

Police Search in Vain For Pair Missing in Detroit River.

WINDSOR, Dec. 27.—In a flat-bottomed rowboat, braving a heavy sea, filled with great ice floes to get home to Christmas Eve, Joseph Frank Miller Jr., 33 years, 389 Garland avenue, and his brother, Joseph Frank Miller Sr., 35 years, 417 Fairview avenue, Detroit, are believed to have drowned while making their way from Peche Island, Mich., to Peche Island, Ont., the two men landed at Peche Island, about 8 o'clock, hungry, cold and with an ear broken. They got food from Joseph Lauzon, keeper of the island, and dried their clothes. Although Lauzon warned them to remain on the island, the men bought an outfit from Lauzon and started for the Detroit side, about 9:10 o'clock. Since then they have not been seen.

400 WIDOWED MOTHERS ON ONTARIO PAYROLL

TORONTO, Dec. 27.—About four hundred widowed mothers in Ontario have received checks for December under the mothers' allowance act. There were 200 in November. In January it is expected that 600 mothers will be on the payroll. The checks will not be retroactive from October 1 as at first announced. It is said this plan cannot be carried out. The rate of payment is $40 a month to a widow with two children; $45 for three children; $50 for four children and $55 for five or more children under 14 years of age.

LET CONTRACT FOR $4,300,000 DRYDOCK

VICTORIA, Dec. 27.—The contract for the construction of the drydock at Esquimalt, B.C., has been let to P. Lyall & Son, whose tender of approximately $4,300,000 was about $200,000 less than the Government estimate of the cost of the work.

You know George Wenige. A vote for him for alderman in Ward One means a vote for a live-wire council for 1921.

POLICE TO SIFT HUMAN STREAM AT CITY GATES

New York Officials Place Heavy Guards at All Entrances.

FEAR GANG FEUD

Ask Instructors To Speed Up Training of "Rookie" Cops For Service.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Placing of every railroad, street car, ferry and highway entrance into the city under special police guard and the calling out of 650 embryonic policemen for final training were announced by Police Commissioner Enright tonight as the latest measures to check New York's tide of outlaws.

Police previously had been ordered to halt, question and search, if necessary, all suspicious characters and to seek explanations from all persons found in unbecomingly dressed and during the hours of midnight and dawn.

Instructors of the police "rookie" organization were directed to "speed up" the training of the new 650 men so that the force might be augmented as soon as possible.

Meanwhile the department, fearing another gang feud as a result of the murder of "Monk" Eastman, former notorious gang leader and war hero, yesterday, exerted themselves in an attempt to establish the identity of his slayer.

A theory that Eastman, as the head of a "whiskey ring" met death as a result of a quarrel with associates, over the division of profits, was being investigated. In this connection, the police instituted a search for a woman known as "Lottie," said to be one of "Monk's" intimates.

Charles Jones, with whom Eastman was associated in an automobile business after the war, said today he was endeavoring to locate the gangster's sister. He added that he would "see to it that Eastman has a good funeral and that there will be a lot of good men there, to show their friendliness toward him."

Jones asserted Eastman had "gone straight" since he left prison ten years ago, and he knew of no reason why he should have been slain.

Eastman was the seventh noted gang leader to be slain in recent years.

"Wild and Woolly" Westerner in Town

LINDSAY, Dec. 27.—A visitor from Prince Albert, Sask., named Armstrong, said to have been under the influence of liquor, went on a rampage here about 2 o'clock Christmas morning. He clubbed a citizen over the head, then dragged him to a doctor. The latter refused to admit them. Thereupon the man from Prince Albert proceeded to wreck the doctor's office. The police were telephoned and they placed the lively visitor in the "cooler."

Under the impression that they had disposed of Mr. Armstrong for the remainder of the night, the police retired. They did not know their man, however. He tore a radiator from its moorings and with the as-a-wrecking engine, smashed his way out of the jail and departed. He did not go any further than the fire hall, where he camped by the stove until daylight.

Armstrong finally was gathered into the meshes of the law, and today the police magistrate fined him $50 for his fun Christmas eve.

"Witch," "Bang," Goes Gavel

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Echoes of pilgrim days resounded within the walls of Washington Heights court today, when screams of "Witch! Witch! She's a witch!" were hurled at Mrs. Beattie Averin.

She appeared as a complainant against Mrs. Sophie Stern, whom she charged with having publicly abused her in public accusations, but suddenly she turned defendant when Mrs. Stern came to court with her husband.

"Up to a couple of months ago," said Mrs. Stern while her sympathizers booed Mrs. Averin, "my baby was strong and healthy. Then this woman went and cursed it."

"Your honor, that woman is a witch. Two hundred years ago she would have been burned at the stake."

"The witch! The witch!" yelled the women spectators.

"Bang!" went the magistrate's gavel. Then he dismissed the summons against Mrs. Stern for lack of evidence.

WOUNDS FATAL TO HAMILTON ITALIAN

HAMILTON, Dec. 27.—Angelo Fucca, an Italian, who was shot on Christmas morning, following a night at cards with companions, died in the general hospital here today. Giovanni Haranga, who was arrested on Saturday in connection with the shooting, was charged today with murder. He was remanded for a week by the magistrate without having been given an opportunity to plead. His wife, who was arrested on Saturday, and was being held as a material witness, was released today. She has two small children.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH

Jury at Chatham Recommends That Railing Be Strengthened. CHATHAM, Dec. 27.—The coroner's jury empaneled to inquire into the death of Reginald Quinton Hamilton, ex-lieutenant of the Royal Flying Corps, who fell to his death in the G. W. V. A. club rooms on the night of December 24, returned a verdict of accidental death, no blame being attached to anyone. The jurors recommended that the railing that the deceased sat on just before his fatal fall be strengthened and heightened in order to prevent future accidents.

SOCIALIST SPEAKER FEARS REVOLUTION WITHOUT EDUCATION

Leon Blum Is Interrupted by Singing of "Internationale."

TOURS, France, Dec. 27.—The left, centre and right wings of the French Socialist Congress in session here today voiced their fears and hopes on the proposed admission to the Moscow Internationale under the 21 conditions as laid down by Nikolai Lenin. Leon Blum, Socialist member of the Chamber of Deputies, and author of the motion on behalf of the party, to remain as the Socialist party, defended the co-operation of the Socialists with the Government during the war. He was interrupted by the singing of the "Internationale."

M. Blum said he agreed with the communist theory that "the Socialists cannot always confine themselves to local action," but he emphasized that there was a difference between that and the "clandestine" power contemplated under Lenin's conditions, which he said "state that where there is a legal and an illegal organization the former shall always be subordinated to the latter."

"When you people are tired of your adventure and want to come back to your homes," M. Blum told the communists, "you will find us guiding it for you."

The speaker pledged the co-operation of all sections of the Socialists in time of real danger.

FRANCE AND SPAIN HAVE TARIFF WAR

MADRID, Dec. 27.—The tariff war between Spain and France is occupying the attention of commercial men here, as it is causing considerable prejudice to trade, not only that of the two countries, but also of other nations. The negotiations, which have been in progress for some time, show a firm standpoint, the former refusing to reduce the duties on Spanish wines unless the latter consents to abolish the increased duties recently imposed on more than 100 articles coming from France. This Spain hesitates to do, as the reduction would also have to be granted to the other nations entitled to consideration under the most-favored nation clause.

The question of the Spanish credit loan to France also is involved in the discussions. Spain has made demands for repayment of the credit loan, which France finds herself unable to comply with immediately.
