CITY MISSION SUNDAY SCHOOL TAKES COLLECTION FOR ARMENIANS

Children of the Dundas Street Mission Remember the Suffering Children of Armenia With a Generous Contribution Nice Addition to Statement Today.

The Armenian fund is the richer today by a contribution from the children of the City Mission Sunday School. It is not a large amount as contributions go but, coming as it does from the children of one of the poorer sections of the city, it represents more of human affection and genuine sacrifice than would a much larger donation from other sources. The City Mission is an enduring monument to that saintly couple, Rev. and Mrs. Schuster, whose devoted Christian service among the poor of this city can never be forgotten.

The West Belleville War Workers are ready to take up the matter of contributions of clothing and goods as they can ascertain how gifts of this nature are to be handled. Mrs. M. McMullen, the president, has written to the Treasurer of the Central Fund at Toronto for directions

Fire Chief Brown

1919 Fire Loss Only $10,024.19

Excellent Fire Report Presented by Chief W. J. Brown

The annual report of Fire Chief W. J. Brown is an illuminating one. The estimated loss is $10,024.19 for the year 1919 and the property endangered was worth only $117,860. The report follows:

During the year the department responded to 48 alarms as follows: 1 alarm for fire inspection; 15 for fires which caused no loss of property; 32 alarms causing loss of property.

Total estimated value of property and contents damaged by fire $117,860; estimated loss $10,024.19.

1918
Estimated value of property and contents damaged by fire $313,440; estimated loss $15,198.50.

You will note by comparison with the 1918 report that the property loss shows a favorable decrease and although some of the fires are you will note were caused by carelessness on the part of the owners or tenants, I believe that on the whole our citizens are being far more careful in fire matters than in former years, and during my inspection I find that improvements are being made to safeguard against fires. One point of danger that still remains, and which could be improved is the matter of defective chimney and stove pipes. If the attention of our citizens could be drawn to the fact that pipes and chimneys which have been used during the winter should be cleaned before starting fires in the fall, the danger is not so much after the fires have been started for a time, but is more frequently from building a fire of dry pine and other material causing a quick blaze.

In my report for 1918, I called the attention of the council to the poor fire protection afforded the Children's Shelter and Hospital. I am pleased to state that this matter has been attended to, and a new 6 inch water main installed, giving ample protection in case of fires.

The health of the members of the department for the past year has been splendid.

Possibly it would be well for the council to take into consideration the installing of a motor fire fighting outfit. I believe that owing to the fact that our streets are now being paved that it would be possible to operate such an outfit to advantage. I wish to speak advisedly in this matter for I realize that everything at present is at a top-notch price, and there are many heavy expenditures to be considered by the city.

Our hook and ladder wagon have some attention in the way of light repairs and re-painting as it has now been in use for some ten or twelve years with practically nothing being done to it.

Some eighty young men and women gathered and presented Miss Freeman with cut glass, silver, agate and linen. Obituary

MRS. A. B. CHAMBERS.

Louise McCullough, wife of the Rev. A. B. Chambers, died at her home, 76 Hogarth avenue, on the evening of Saturday, Feb. 7th in Toronto after an illness of less than a week from pneumonia. Mrs. Chambers was the daughter of the late Reverend William McCullough and was born in Belleville in 1844. She was educated at the High School of the Nazarene, Brantford, and took the degree of Mistress of English Literature at the Ladies' College, Hamilton in 1886. Dr. and Mrs. Chambers celebrated their golden wedding on June 15th, 1918. Mrs. Chambers was a lady of superior mind and character, and many lasting friends. In all the stations which her husband occupied, she was survived by one son, Mr. H. A. Chambers, and three daughters, Mrs. R. W. Anglin and Mrs. A. N. Burns both of Toronto, and Mrs. A. E. Stirling, of Tennant, Sask., also nine grandchildren. Of recent years she has been associated with Simpson Avenue Methodist Church, Mr. Chambers having retired from the ministry some years ago in order to become Governor of Toronto Jail, from which position he recently retired.

Holloway St. Over the Top

First Church in Belleville Methodist District to Pass Objective.

Holloway St. Methodist Church is the first church in Belleville District to report over the top in the great Methodist National Campaign. The League Room of the church was chosen for Head Quarters and during the entire day the collectors were bringing in their returns and having them placed in the book provided for that purpose. At 4 p.m. there was great rejoicing for Holloway St. Church reported $3400.00 and still others to hear from.

The ladies of the church provided a banquet for the Canvassers and at 6 p.m., the happy company assembled around the festive board, and sang "Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow."

At 7 p.m., the morning class of boys and the Boy Scouts met for practice for a concert to be given on the 5th of March, and when they heard the good news they at once gave three cheers for our side of the river.

This class led by Mr. Gillett has subscribed $100.00 for the Methodist National Campaign.

The E. League assembled at 8 p.m. and another expression of delight was given. They at once arranged for a sleigh drive on Thursday evening to celebrate the occasion.

Much credit is due to Mr. Elsworth Mastin and his faithful staff of willing workers for the success of this campaign.

If tombstone epitaphs were reliable, his satanic majesty would have to look for another job.

A poor politician remains poor all his days.

Arm Chopped Off in Cutting Box

Once more is the cutting box the agent for a horrible accident. This time it was a young lad, Stanley Howard, who has been working for
Mr. Stanley Croxall, near Uxbridge.
He was engaged in running the cutting box on Friday afternoon last,
when in some unaccountable way
the fingers of his left arm got caught in the rollers of the machine and before he could stop the machine or assistance reach him, his arm was cut off in half-inch pieces, to just below the elbow. The lad managed to stop the machine but was unable to reverse it until Mr. Croxall, who was working in the loft at the time,
heard his cries and went to assist.
Medical aid was soon at hand and the arm was amputated an inch below the elbow. The case is all the more sad on account of the lad being left-handed, and a Home boy.

Hon. R. H. Grant Visits Queen's

Hon. R. H. Grant, minister of education, visited Queen's University
on Friday, in company with A. M.
Rankin, M.P.P., and was the guest of Principal Bruce Taylor. Hon. Mr.
Grant was greatly interested in Queen's, and while no announcement is made, it is understood that the requirements of the university as one of the greatest teaching institutions in the province, were not overlooked. One of the most urgent demands at the present time, which, by reason of the relation of the service to the department of education, public charities and health, and which must appeal with peculiar force to the government, is the medical college, and with the medical college the General Hospital which, while deemed suitable as a civic institution, does not meet the requirements of education. The Government is expected to give the financial assistance needed.

Left for His Home

Hon. R. H. Grant, Minister of Edu-
morning for his home in Carleton Place. His daughter, who accompanied him to the city from Toronto, will remain here to spend several days with her sister, who is a nurse
at the Sydenham Military Hospital.

Pinned Under Tree, Meets Death

A distressing accident which resulted in the death of a young man occurred at Lyndhurst on Thursday, when Gerald Covey met his death as the result of being pinned under a tree which fell on top of him. He was out in the woods near his farm cutting down timber, and in felling a tree it lodged in the branches of another nearby. The shock broke off part of the tree, which fell on top of him, and crushed him against a large rock. He incurred terrible injuries to his head, arms and back and died instantaneously. The unfortunate young man was twenty-four years old, and leaves behind to mourn him a young wife and a little daughter of about a year old. He is also survived by his parents and by his two brothers and one sister.

The sad accident has cast a gloom over the entire community, in which the deceased was very popular and much respected.

Announcement is made of the purchase by the Bell Farm, Coraopolis, Pa., of Echo King Sylvia, sired
by King Valdessa Pontiac, from A. C.
Hardy, of Avondale Farm, Echo
King Sylvia's dam is the wonderful cow owned by Mr. Hardy whose record of 12,899.80 pounds of milk in 100 days (504.34 lbs. butter) has never been approached by any other cow in the world. She is the only cow that ever produced 1,000 pounds of milk in seven days, and during the last year came close to her previous record with a production of 933 lbs.
of milk in seven days. Echo King Sylvia was purchased by Mr. Bell for a handsome sum.—Brockville

Positive Block Installed

According to a bulletin issued by George Cooper, trainmaster for the Grand Trunk Railway at Brockville, a positive block will hereafter be in force on all train movements on the main line of that railway. This means that a train will not be allowed to follow a train carrying passengers until a report of its arrival is received from the next open telegraph office. This has generally been adhered to, but occasionally a train is allowed to proceed on a 20-minute block.

New Ruling on Cheese

The Canadian cheese exporting committee, Montreal, are in receipt of a cable from the Ministry of Food, London, reading as follows: In view of present exchange position please make no further purchases of cheese
without previous sanction from us.
There is now no restriction here to prevent private importation of cheese except the Importers' maximum selling price of 1s 4d per lb.
for whole milk, and 1s 2d for other than whole milk, and maximum retail price of 1s 8d for former, and 1s 6d for latter quality.

Course Meets with Favor

The free winter course in agriculture for farmers' sons, now being held in Bath, by the local branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, has met with great favor among the young farmers in the townships of Ernestown and South Fred-ericksburgh.

Machine Employment

Employment along the Kingston water front has been very satisfactory this winter, in view of the early indications of a shortage. The Montreal Transportation Company has had forty-nine men refitting boats and the Aggrove Foundry and Machine Company has been busily employed and has good prospects for the spring.

Receive Back Pay

Trackmen of the Grand Trunk Railway employed in the Brockville and Manitoba yards today received back pay due them since September, 1918, when their rates were increased to 40 cents an hour. The company contended that when the trackmen accepted this rate of pay, which was higher than that being granted trackmen on section gangs, they broke the rules of their union.—
Brockville Recorder and Times.

Collecting Funds

The Standard Church of America,
of which Rev. R. C. Horner is blastop, is conducting a canvass in Eastern Ontario for the purpose of raising funds for the building and equipping of a seminary, to be later developed into a university. A site has already been purchased here. The ministers of this denomination have already subscribed $10,000 to start the fund.—Brockville Recorder and Times.

Teachers Welcome
School Inspector

J. E. Benson is Guest at Dance and Social Evening

With eulogistic addresses, with music and dance, the public school teachers of Windsor welcomed J. E.
Benson, M.A., the new public school inspector, in the Collegiate gymnasium on Monday evening. Teachers, principals and members of the Board of Education vied with each other in getting the best out of the evening,
which wound up with a dance.

Chairman T. C. Ray, in introducing the new inspector, read a letter received by the Board of Education and signed by the present and retiring mayor and warden of Picton
and Prince Edward county.

"We would like the pleasure of introducing to you one of the finest types of citizens this county has ever produced.

"Mr. J. E. Benson has, by his progressive ability, untiring efforts and gentle manner, won the confidence, affection and love of the whole county."

"We believe that we are expressing the unanimous feeling of the town and county in saying that, as a citizen and as a school inspector, Mr.
Benson is our ideal. We hear nothing but expressions of regret that he has thought it best to resign from county work for a city position, and we trust that Mr. Benson, with his excellent wife and daughters, will soon find many warm, admiring friends in your city."

Makes Address
In a short address, the new inspector voiced his appreciation of the kind reception tendered him. He congratulated the Board of Education and the teachers on the recent increase in salaries and pointed out that, with an increase in salary, comes an increase in responsibility.

"I want you to have confidence in me," he said, "and I hope to prove worthy of that confidence. I expect to have confidence in you and I believe that you will be worthy of the confidence I repose in you. I do not want to be thought of as an inspector but as a friend.

"Education is the life of the new democracy. It has its effect on the world, on the nation and on the homes of the people."

William Lowe, principal of the Collegiate Institute, stated that, since the increase in salaries was made effective, there had been evident a great change in the work of the schools. The teachers were more contented and, with a contented mind, comes more efficient work.

It was Mr. Benson's first day in Windsor, he having just arrived from Picton, Ont. He stated that he would bring his family to the city as soon as he could "choose one of the many houses which were available."—Border Cities Star.

Foxboro Key to Have Electric Light

Well Signed Petition Now Being Dealt with by the Hydro—Other
Notes of Progress from Thurlow's Beautiful Village.

Foxboro's ardent desire for an electric light service seems at last in a fair way to be realized.

A petition for an accommodation of that kind, signed by sixty-seven householders was handed in to Thurlow council at its last regular meeting. The petition has been sent on to the Hydro-Electric Power Commission at Toronto and the commission's engineers are now dealing with the subject and will shortly be in a position to report.

It is expected that the projected line will leave the main feeder, in the vicinity of Albert College and will pass out north along Parks

St. where a number of customers will be picked up who are at present without lighting service. Upon arrival at the Third concession, the line will cross to the Madoc road and follow that thoroughfare to the village.

The householders in Foxboro feel that the expenditure necessary will be far more than made up by the rapid increase in property values that would issue as soon as good illumination and power were at hand.

About four years ago a petition for lighting was sent in by Foxboro people but as it was signed by only 27 names, it was felt by some that the cost was individually too great.
Now, with nearly double that number on the petition, and the prospects of others wanting the service later, it is felt that the estimate will be so reasonable as to commend itself to everybody.

There are numerous evidences of progress in the village. Much property is changing hands.

Mr. Everett has purchased a new home from the Almond Reid estate.
Messrs. Robt. White and Willett
H. McTaggart have rented the Melzer Wicket property at the south end of the village and will establish there an up-to-date butcher shop.

Mr. Samuel Clarke has part of the material on the ground for building a new frame residence of attractive design.
These facts are merely cited in order to show that Foxboro has decidedly entered the go-ahead class and will give a good account of itself in the near future.

Obituary

THE LATE MARY E. BULL.

On Sunday morning February 1st 1920 Mrs. Edward Bull, Bloomfield, passed away in her 57th year after an illness of eight months. Mrs. Bull retired at her usual hour on Saturday night, as well, apparently as she had been for some weeks. She said she was "weary and would sleep long the next morning." She was found on Sunday morning in her last sleep
by her little granddaughter, Priscilla Pearce, who went to waken
her.

Mrs. Bull was the daughter of Mr.
Nelson Cahoon and Cecilia Welbanks.
She was one of a family of nine. Her brother William predeceased her about eight years ago. Mary Cahoon married Edward Bull thirty six years ago. Their only son Cory died about eighteen years ago. Their only daughter, Laura, married Mr. Edward Pearce, and with her husband, is at this time in England. Mrs. Bull suffered a stroke, eight months ago, and she had never recovered from its effect. A weak heart was a noticeable result.

Mrs. Bull was a Methodist and a useful woman in all matters concerning her church. She was a member of the W. M. S., and the Ladies' Aid. In disposition Mrs. Bull was retiring yet generous and winsome. She had many friends who will miss her presence. She is survived by four sisters and three brothers.—Mrs. Wilfred Hailat, Mrs. A. Haynor, Mrs. John
Striker, Miss S. Cahoon, Mr. Charles Cahoon Mr. Gordon Cahoon and Dr.
F. Cahoon. To these, and to the sorrowing father husband and daughter
the deepest sympathy is extended.

ternoon at her late residence and the burial was made in Glenwood.

MUCH SUFFERING DUE TO THIN BLOOD

Rich. Red. Blood Necessary to Health and Strength.

If more people knew how many ills and pains are caused by thin, watery blood a great deal of suffering would be avoided.

The blood goes to practically every part of the body, carrying oxygen and nourishment. The efficient action of every organ is directly dependent upon the quality of the nourishment it gets from the blood.

If the blood is thin it becomes weak in nourishment and health fails. The best way to keep the blood rich and red and thus enjoy good health is through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

At the first sign of weakness these pills should be taken and go robust health will soon follow. The statement of Mrs. J. J. Murray, Corbeton, Ont., shows the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of this kind.

She says: "A few weeks ago my daughter, Lillie, was in a very badly run down condition. She was pale, thin, and scarcely able to get about."

The least exertion made her heart palpitate so violently that we were actually afraid that one of these spells my carry her off. She slept so badly that often she would lie awake until morning.

Treatment did not seem to help her and we were almost in despair when a friend advised the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

A few weeks' use of this medicine showed a decided improvement, and a further use of the pills fully restored her to health and she has since been a strong, healthy girl.

Some time later I was taken ill myself, being badly run-down from household care. A doctor was called in but his medicine did not seem to bring back my strength and remembering what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had done for my daughter, I decided to drop the doctor's medicine and try them.

The results that followed were like those in my daughter's case, and through the use of the pills I was given a well woman. I am glad to give my experience in the hope that some other sufferer may find the way to health."

You can procure Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or they will be sent you by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing direct to The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Winnipeg, Feb. 11.—The Board of Commerce bread report for November, tabled before the City Council, allows an increase in bread prices of one and one-quarter cents per loaf to cover the advance in the price of flour made by the Canadian Wheat Board last fall.

The Pas, Man., Feb. 10.—John Morrison, M.P.P. for Grand Rapids, states that there is 150,000 horsepower going to waste every day at Grand Rapids falls.

Regina, Sask., Feb. 11.—By order of the Canada Wheat Board, stocks of wheat for seed purposes will be held until March 15 at all points on the Canadian Pacific Railway line from Assiniboia west to Gowanlock, also on the Canadian Pacific railway line from Swift Current to Walsh and on the Empress-Bassano branch from Swift Current to Empress.

ton will take advantage of the exchange situation and pay interest due in London. By so doing the city stands to save $18,138.38, as compared to par exchange. Approximately twenty thousand pounds is due in April.

Vancouver, B.C., Feb. 11.—Was has been declared by the forest branch of the Department of Lands and Forests which has for years been carrying on its destructive work in certain sections of the interior of the province, according to a statement made by Hon. T. D. Pattullo.

Ralph Hopping, an entomologist who has wide experience in fighting the pine beetle on both sides of the international boundary, has been loaned temporarily to the province by the entomological branch of the Department of the Interior at Ottawa, and Mr. Hopping is now on the ground directing operations for the curtailing of the energies of the bug, and it is hoped, for its ultimate control.

Calgary, Alta., Feb. 11.—A suitable memorial to the members of Alberta University who fell in the war will be erected by the Alumni Association, and will take the form of a memorial scholarship fund to assist students, by loan or otherwise, who may be in financial difficulties during the college period.

Vancouver, B.C., Feb. 11.—Huge boulders the size of business blocks toppled from the heights of Crown Mountain, near Vancouver, during the earthquake which shook the district a couple of weeks ago.

Vancouver, B.C., Feb. 11.—The Provincial Government has decided to take over from the Anti-Tuberculosis Society of British Columbia the King Edward Memorial Sanitarium at Tranquille, near Kamloops, subject to the approval of the Legislature.

Regina, Sask., Feb. 11.—Hon. C. A. Dunning informed the Saskatchewan Legislature that Prof. John Braeken was conducting experiments in the hope of being able to breed a rust-resistant wheat which, if successful, would result in the saving of millions of dollars to the country.

Vancouver, B.C., Feb. 11.—Fifty thousand Canadians, the majority of them tourists, are at present in Los Angeles, California, according to A. B. Graham, local manager of the Pacific Steamship Company, who has returned from a southern trip.

Calgary, Alta., Feb. 11.—Steps should be taken to prevent the slaughter of young calves, city commissioners stated during an interview yesterday. Witnesses at the milk probe have testified that dairymen are in the habit of killing calves for their hides in order that they would not have to provide them with milk.

"The destruction of she-stock and calves because of the shortage of feed this season has made serious inroads on the best supply of the province and the killing of calves still further reduces seriously the future best supply of the country," it was stated. "This wanton destruction should be stopped summarily. It is being done not only in Alberta but in other provinces, where men are pursuing a selfish, shortsighted policy."

A Dominion act was suggested as the best means of remedying the condition. Nelson, B.C., Feb. 11.—That the federal housing scheme, while honestly designed to be of the greatest benefit to returned men, was in reality susceptible of considerable improvement, was the opinion of both judges and spectators on the evidence adduced by the speakers in the initial debate of the local Great War Veterans' Association.

The proposition debated was that the housing scheme ought to embody the loan features of the land settlement scheme, which was held to be far more liberal and imposed fewer restrictions. Vancouver, B.C., Feb. 11.—In an official circular read in all archdiocesan churches, His Grace Most Reverend Timothy Casey, D.D., archbishop of Vancouver, addressed the clergy of the Catholic arch-diocese on the subject of the relations between capital and labor and urged "just co-ordination" between the employer and the employee. He said in part: "The great struggle of the day is between capital and labor, the employer and the working man, as each looks upon the other as an adversary."

There is some right and some wrong on the side of both; that is, and it is for us to point out where the right shall be promoted and the wrong set aside, so that justice and charity prevailing, the different elements of society may, according to God's design, draw close together to carry on just co-ordination, and so work in harmony that the peace and prosperity of the community may be assured.

The right of ownership is unassailable, doubtless, and is founded on the law of nature. Besides that, it is sound economic and of sovereign advantage to the laborer. It opens to him the way of owning his home and property, and thus secures him that true liberty which is the greatest common good of mankind. Why there are so many attacks upon the principle is largely due to the fact that there is vast ownership which has not been legitimately acquired, and is a peril to the public interests. This abuse does not, however, destroy a sound principle.

The overthrow of this principle—the right of ownership—would of course disrupt the present social order, which may well be the subject of reform, but not of destruction. It is for us, then, to preach and teach those things which will accord not only with justice, but that, as each element of society recognizing the rights of the other and willing to fulfill its duties toward the other, but also with charity."

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Dafeo visited the former's sister Mrs. Harold Baker recently. Our sleighing is nearly gone and many are using the wheels. Friends from Toronto are visiting at Mr. Joe Carlettes. Our farmers are making use of the ice bridge across the bay by hauling gravel for their next summer's use.

Mrs. E. Forbes and Mrs. E. Brown of Rochester N. Y., are guests of their sister Mrs. J. Anderson East Trenton. Mrs. Wesley Layton is in Toronto the guest of her daughter, Mrs. day.

Mrs. Lorie Kane spent the week with friends in Belleville. Steps are being taken to establish once more a Public Library. A town of Trenton's population ought to be able to boast of such an institution and having gone without one for so many years we would be sure able to appreciate such. Councillor Tripp has been laid up with a sore arm after being vaccinated. Nineteen young men became new members of the H. N. S. on Sunday last.

The Knights of Columbus gave an assembly on Monday night. A gala time is reported by all present. Several cases of smallpox have been reported in Hespler. Queen's Hotel, Preston, has been sold to Chas. Schamler, of Breslau. London City Council will pass a by-law limiting garbage cans to fifty pounds. Davis Economic Store will build a three-story departmental store in Kitchener. Most women would rather be loved than trusted.

Clinic Established in Kingston for Queen's Medical Students

Incorporation has been granted to the Kingston Clinical Association Limited with a share capital of $100,000. The purpose of the Association is to conduct a medical clinic which will supply a standardized systematic examination for the benefit of the medical students at Queen's. Specialists in each branch of medicine will be in charge and all modern scientific equipment will be used.

The Association has purchased from the Anglican Synod, for $12,000 the property upon which the present public library stands and the land adjoining to the extent of 135 feet frontage on Bagot street. An architect has been engaged and plans for a suitable building are being prepared. In this building the doctors will have their offices and laboratories and electrical and other necessary equipment will be installed.

The names which appear on the application for incorporation are J. C. Connell, W. T. Connell, G. W. Mylks, J. F. Sparks, and J. P. Quigley. It is intimated that Dr. W. T. Connell will be director of the Clinic and that other medical men than those named will join the association.

This is an interesting development in view of the present hospital agitation and with reference to the recent proposals to dismember the Queen's medical school. It will have the effect of making Kingston a more important medical centre than it is at present. It is the first Clinic of the kind to be established in Canada.

Dean Connell is doing everything possible to make Queen's medical college the very best. Several years ago he inaugurated the scheme for the enlargement of the Kingston General Hospital and this scheme now is to be carried to a successful issue. In connection with it is the inauguration which will give medical students who come to Queen's more facilities for practical study than are afforded by either McGill or Toronto medical schools.

Peterboro, Feb. 11.—Senator Frederick Nicholls, head of the Canadian General Electric Company, met the city council here Saturday evening, and announced that the company was prepared to expend in Peterboro on new buildings and equipment between $600,000 and $1,000,000. This will include a moulding shop. Work is to commence on the new buildings in June, and when completed, will add between a million and a million and a half dollars to the company's Peterboro payroll. In consideration for these extensions the company is seeking a ten-year extension of its present fixed assessment of $150,000.

The young man A. E. Bacon, charged with theft of a sweater, was yesterday afternoon remanded by Magistrate Mason for a week. It has been ascertained that the fire in Mr. J. S. Tom's residence yesterday originated in a box of matches and not from defective wiring.

Picked Up Around Town

Mrs. Mary Morrel who underwent an operation at the general hospital on Monday is still in a critical condition. From an average of 100 arrests a month at Orange, N.J., prior to prohibition, only four were made in January. A Jackson, Mich., man who started suit for divorce was informed his wife had already divorced him two weeks before. Andrew Lewis, a "lifter" in the Columbus, O., prison, paroled, and on his way home, was found dead in his seat on the train. Fire destroyed half the buildings at the Philippine Carnival Exposition causing $1,000,000 loss. Many exhibits are irreplaceable. A Detroit man who got married over the telephone is now charged with bigamy. He must have picked a two-party line by mistake. Reports from Kelley's Island, near Sandusky, O., where 500 people are marooned for the winter, say the influenza situation is desperate.

CIVILIZATION SAFE

Every few days somebody announces that the world disorder and discontent is about to knock the bottom out of civilization, following which, the human race will rapidly revert to a state of abject savagery. These black prophecies would carry little weight were it not that all too frequently they come from men whose opinions are accustomed to be accorded unusual attention.

THE TURKISH QUESTION

The Peace Congress has at last come round to the point where it must address itself to the Turkish question, and there is much speculation as to what the settlement will be. The problem is not easy of solution; it has defied the resources of European diplomacy for generations.

Written for the Ontario by Marth Meiklejohn.

Well, good day, Mellinda, Ann. If this isn't a real treat to see you! I was just telling Rastus this morning it was an age since I'd seen you.

Well, I sez to him, I'd just take my knittin' out by the currant bushes and keep an eye on her and see where she went to her nest.

Well, I went and sot there a-knuttin' for maybe ten minutes, when I see her start off cluckin' important like as though she had important business on hand, and I followed.

I got the eggs and came out and there wuz Rastus lygin' an empty salt barrel. I told him that would not hold him up.

Obituary

MRS. JOHN GARRISON.

The death occurred in Morven on Sunday, Jan. 25th, 1920, of Mrs. John Garrison, wife of the late John Garrison. Mrs. Garrison was born in Moscow, 77 years ago, where her brother George Lamphing, still resides. Prior to marriage, Mrs. Garrison was a school teacher but early in life she was married to John Garrison of Moscow with whom she lived for sixty years she lived in happy and useful service. Over fifty years ago they moved to their home where they have ever since lived. Nine children were given to them, five of whom survive. Charles, Norman, Damon and Gideon, of Napanee, and Mrs. Wilson Purdy of Morven, who for the past year has given her mother every care. Mrs. Garrison has been a life long Christian and a Methodist, and for many years a teacher at Morven Sabbath School; also a life member of the W. M. S. Her memory will be precious to those who loved her here. For several years Mrs. Garrison has been gradually weakening. Just 5 months ago her husband was taken by death and this may have hastened the end, but there is an element of joy in the thought that they who had lived and loved each other here so long should be so soon reunited.

The funeral was held in the White Church, Morven, on Tuesday, Jan. 27th, the services being in charge of the minister Rev. R. G. Carruthers. A large number of people assembled to pay a last tribute to one whose home has been a landmark in this community for so long. — Napanee Beaver.

Carrie Palmateer, widow of late Ernest Phillips after ten days illness of pneumonia passed away at the home of her brother-in-law Mr. Albert Phillips, Gilmour, on Sunday, Feb. 1st, in the 36th year of her age. Mrs. Phillips had been a resident of Stirling for the past five years. Her husband pre-deceased her about two years ago. A few days before Christmas the deceased with her little family went north to spend the holidays with her mother. While visiting at the home of her brother-in-law, Mr. A. Phillips she contracted a severe cold which developed pneumonia. Her death was a great shock to her friends. She is survived by three children, — Laura, Norma and Clayton for whom the entire community express deepest sympathy. Service was conducted at Gilmour by Rev. Mr. Petrie and the remains were brought to Stirling on Tuesday for burial.

Relatives who attended the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. W. Waring, Mrs. Fred King, Mrs. Owen McQuillan and Mr. E. Gunter of Coe Hill whose marriage to Mrs. Phillips was to have taken place on Wed., Feb. 5th. — Stirling Leader.

THE LATE MRS. ROBERT SCOTT.

One by one the older residents of this community are being called to their reward; this week we regret to record the death, at the age of 74 of Mrs. Robt. Scott of Seymour which took place at her home on the 27th.

For many years she had been a patient sufferer from a malady to which medical aid gave little relief. About 16 months ago she was stricken with apoplexy which left her almost helpless. As medical assistance could do little she was given the most careful nursing until the sable-robed messenger took her home.

Mrs. Scott's maiden name was Margaret Weatherston, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Luke Weatherston Sr. of Percy. She was born in Berwickshire, Scotland and emigrated to Canada with her parents in 1850. In June 1869 she married the late Robt. Scott. Of this union there were born to them three sons and three daughters, all of whom survive and are left to mourn a loving christian mother.

Interment took place at Wark on the morning of Jan. 20th, her remains being laid beside those of her husband who predeceased her nearly three years ago. Mrs. Scott was a member of St. Andrew's church of this town the pastor of which, Rev. Mr. Mcintosh officiated at the obsequies. — Campbellford Herald.

Kingston Skating Rink Was Model for Nissen Hut

Kingston, Feb. 6. — Lieut. - Col. N. P. Nissen inventor of the Nissen Hut used by the Allied troops addressed a meeting of the Engineer Society of Queen's University and said that in working out the problem of its shape he recalled the Kingston Skating Rink. He said that was the real father of the Nissen Hut. These huts were used by all the Allies. Over 100,000 were manufactured and shipped to every theatre of war. Later Col. Nissen designed a circular portable hut with improvements in ventilation. The latter was eight feet in diameter, held 20 men and weighed only 1300 weight the signing of the armistice, however came before these could be sent to France.

Laws for Pedestrians and Motorists

FOR THE PEDESTRIAN.

- 1 — Do not cross a street except at the corner crossings if possible. This applies particularly to city traffic.
2 — Do not fail to stop and look in both directions for automobiles, and listen for the warning automobile horn, before attempting to cross a street.
3 — Do not rush across a highway ahead of a fast motor vehicle. It is faster than you.
4 — When in doubt, give the passing automobile the right of way. Personal safety is more important than pride or pique.

5 — Do not dodge across a crowd of city thoroughfare between passing cars and the semaphore signal commands you to stop.

6 — When alighting from a street car, always look behind the car, before you attempt to reach the curb.

7 — Never cross a street directly in front or behind a street car that has stopped momentarily. There is danger from street cars, and any fast moving auto approaching from the opposite direction.

8 — Admonish children to keep off the highways and not to use them as a means of travel if there is a sidewalk.

9 — Alertness, balance and caution — these are the ideal A. B. C.'s of the careful pedestrian.

FOR THE MOTORIST

- 1 — Don't forget to slow down at street intersections. It may save a human life.
2 — Don't forget to look to the right and left before passing a rail road crossing.
3 — Don't forget when signalled by a vehicle in your rear, to turn slightly to the right and allow such vehicle to pass you on the left.
4 — Don't forget the pedestrians. They, too, have rights on the streets and highways.
5 — Don't forget to use extra precautions when you see a child crossing a highway.
6 — Don't forget that in case of accident, you must stop immediately and give your name, address and license number to the injured party or police officer. If no police officer is in the vicinity, report to the nearest police station or judicial officer.
7 — Don't forget that all motor vehicles must be equipped with adequate brakes in good working order and adequate horns and other signaling devices.
8 — Don't forget that your lights must be lit within half an hour after sunset.
9 — Don't forget that "safety first" saves life and limb and often your temper.
10 — Remember the A. B. C. of motoring — Always Be Careful.

Zionists and Zionism

Editor Ontario.

There was a day when it would be necessary to apologise for bringing before the public, such theme as I have as the heading of this article but to-day it is not so; the subject meets you at almost every turn.

There are very few people, however, that have, but a very hazy idea of what it all means, and fewer that realise that both in the past as well as in the present the subject has found a place in the hearts and minds of not a few Christians, who themselves are landmarks in the history of the Church.

This fact is one that the Jewish people should become more familiar with than they seem to be. The average man of the world cares very little for the hopes and aspirations of the Jewish people, being so engrossed in his own affairs to give more than a passing thought to this vital question.

Before Zionism was ever heard of there were true Christians taking a very real interest in the future of the Jew to Palestine. In fact that interest can be traced back as far as (in England) the early Puritans. This of course was one of the many results of the OPEN BIBLE.

These same people who believed in Israel's restoration to her own land were amongst those who championed the cause of the Jew, regarding their re-admission to England, after they had for years been refused asylum there.

I quote from the current issue of the magazine "Scattered Nations" when I call the attention to for instance the fact that Roger Williams (1604 - 1683) the founder of Rhode Island and the pioneer of religious liberty, in a memorandum presented to "The Parliamentary Committee" known as the "Committee for the Propagation of the Gospel," of which Cromwell himself was a member and wrote: "I humbly conceive it to be the DUTY of the Civil Magistrate to break down the superstitious Wall of Separation (as to civil things) between us Gentiles and the Jews, and freely without asking to make way for their free and peaceable habitation amongst us."

Again, in 1649 two Baptists, John Cartwright and her son Ebenezer Cartwright, both residents in Amsterdam, presented a petition to the Council of Officers, praying for the repeal of the Statute banishing the Jews from the Realm.

When in the 18th Century the subject of Prophecy began to get more attention than it had formerly received, many were the eminent Christians who opened advocated the right of the Jewish people to the Land given them by "Jehovah." It would be impossible to mention more than a few in such an article as this. Amongst these (quoting the Scattered Nations) are Dr. John Jortin (1698-1770) author of many books dealing with Jewish problem. Thomas Newton (1704 - 1782) Bishop of Bristol defended in his Assertions of the Prophecies 1754 the idea of the restoration of Israel in words "which no Jewish Nationalist could excel."

But we must not run on indefinitely interesting as is the subject, the years have come and gone and much has been said and written on this subject, and the great majority have gone to their rest, who for years had this subject before them, and it may have seemed to them that they laboured in vain, but this is not so; The seed thus sown, often with tears is about to bear fruit, the Christian and the Jewish Zionist shall rejoice together, the former in seeing the old time Prophecies unfold and mature and the latter in the long wished for opportunity to return to the land "The Pleasant Land" flowing with milk and honey. When this materialises the Jew will no longer lay himself open to the charge laid against them in the 106 Psalm "Yea the despised the pleasant Land"

Yours in anticipation of things to come, T. Rich.

BREAD INSPECTION. Freshmen and Sophomores Staged An Old Time Rush In Kingston.

A Rush at the College. Civil war amongst the Science students at the Kingston College broke out at noon today when the freshmen and sophomores staged an old time rush. The sophs were getting their pictures taken in front of Fleming Hall when the freshmen on the top flat decided to interrupt the performance. Loose furniture in the form of chairs and drawing boards dropping three stories added emphasis to their remarks. The sophomores but waited till the camera snapped and then rushed up the stairs to retaliate. The freshmen not only held a superior position but turned a three inch fire hose down the stair way which effectively washed the sophs out of the back door.

One student had the misfortune to be hit by a drawing board. He was knocked unconscious but recovered shortly after in the General Hospital.

Bread Inspection. Questions are being asked as to what steps have been taken by the Kingston Inspector of bread to put the regulations as to weight etc., into effect. At a recent meeting of the Trades and Labor Council the matter was discussed and it was decided to ask the city authorities responsible for the enforcement of the particular by-laws relating to the manufacture and sale of bread to see that they are put into effective operation.

Embargo on Freight. Such a difficult situation has developed in regard to motive power that it has become necessary to place an embargo on all freight, other than perishable goods from St. Alban over the line of that railway it was announced by Grand Trunk Railway officials here to-day Passenger trains and perishable freight trains are said to be the only ones moving over the C. P. R., which is likely to become further tied up as a result of yesterday's storm. — Brockville Recorder & Times.

Hoys take Farmer's Horse. Mr. Stanley Orr may have a long walk to his home to-night on Simcoe Island if his pony and cutter, which he says were stolen from the Whitney hotel yard Kingston Friday morning are not located before then. According to the story he told the police two boys came into the yard while he was away and told the yard man they came after their father's horse and he believing their story let them take the horse.

Assumes Regimental Command. At a meeting of the officers of the 47th Regiment held in Kingston Thursday Major A. W. Gray M. P. of Westport was the unanimous choice as officer commanding in succession to Lieut. - Col. S. Knight of Elginburg. When Major Gray's appointment is confirmed he will submit a slate of officers for the new establishment. Major Gray, who was at the last general election chosen as the representative of Leeds in the Legislature is a militia officer of long experience and served with the Railway Troops in France. He was stationed with the 38th and 109th Overseas Battalions.

Baseball Talk Starting. Despite the fact that hockey is occupying the limelight in sports in Kingston there is considerable talk about baseball. Secretary Stanley Trotter of the City League expects to call a meeting shortly and have things in readiness for the opening of the season in the latter part of May.

Has Lost 100 Young Men. The local information office of the department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment Kingston has on file 1,000 applications from returned soldiers for jobs. Of this number 800 are from Belleville, 250 from Kingston and the balance from other points in the vicinity of Kingston. Within the past two months Kingston has lost 100 young men who went to other places. There is a relaxation in efforts to locate the men and waiting for a considerable time in jobs, and the office works in conjunction with the government employment bureaus and the local committee administering the returned soldiers' unemployment fund, which was a great boon providing against absolute need in a great many cases a condition that was due to the general slackening in industrial activities everywhere, but which is expected to improve with the opening of spring and the inauguration of an industrial programme by the City Council and the Board of Trade. Much good is expected to result by the active co-operation of these two great bodies.

New Law Partnership. Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, M. P. has taken into partnership in his law practice at Kemptonville, William J. Reilly, B. A., son of the late Andrew Reilly of Spencerville a member of the bars of both Ontario and Alberta. Mr. Reilly served overseas with the P. C. L. I., rising to the rank of captain and later being attached to the legal branch of the headquarters in London. — Brockville Recorder & Times.

Gananoque Would Separate. The Gananoque town council has formed a committee composed of Mayor Wilson, Reeve Dowdsley, Deputy Reeve Sine and Councillor Gibson to consider carefully the relations of the town of Gananoque with the United Counties with a view to separation, if such is deemed to be asked to assume and construct as a provincial highway King street from the east to west limit, including the present bridge. — Brockville Recorder & Times.

JOBS FOR TEACHERS. Instructors in English Required to Live Among Foreigners. Manitoba will be offering profitable openings to teachers who are willing to take up work among the foreign settlements in that province very soon, according to Mr. Ira Stratton, special school organizer of the Manitoba Department of Education.

"I will give teachers $900, a house and fuel to start with," he stated. Mr. Stratton is on an extended visit to this province and has been addressing various congregations and meetings.

The work in Manitoba is more in the nature of mission work than regular academic tuition. Forty-two and a half per cent. of the population is of other than British birth, very largely of Slav origin. Mr. Stratton is attempting to provide the children of these immigrants with an education in the English language and Canadian ways and customs at the same time. To do this he is having his teachers go and live among the people, in cottages which he provides. He finds that the foreigners are anxious to secure the knowledge he offers them and told today of many cases where very average immigrants have already become "Canadianized" citizens of excellent quality. He calls the teachers who undertake his work, "the Apostles of Canadianism."

The Armenian Fund and Others. I have been anxiously watching in efforts to locate the men and waiting for a considerable time with the expectation that an announcement would appear in the Ontario stating that parties were ready to receive supplies of clothing for the destitute of Armenia, but without result up to the present. You will remember that several days ago you announced that arrangements were being made to collect clothing for the purpose referred to. Please let the public know what progress is being made in the respect.

The Toronto Globe some time ago told its readers that clothing was badly needed and would be very acceptable for the Armenians. I also noticed in to-days Ontario that the Jews in "Eastern Europe" and especially the children numbering one million are in just as sad a condition as the Armenians and need clothing just as badly.

Now Mr. Editor, The Ontario today speaks in glowing terms of the great success being achieved by the "Forward Movement" in collecting money. Well Sir, the writer of this feels that the great needs of the destitute Jews and Armenians do not class in importance to the Forward Movement interest; second and if this estimate is correct or even nearly so, in what light does this place those Christians who are subscribing so liberally to the "Movement" and contributing nothing or very little in some cases to the Armenian fund? Well may one ask sincerely, is the spirit of Christ really possessed by this class of so-called Christians.

HEALTHY CHILDREN ARE HAPPY CHILDREN

The well child is always a happy child—it is a baby's nature to be happy and contented. Mothers, if your little ones are cross and peevish and cry a great deal they are not well—they are in need of medicine—something that will set their bowels and stomach in order, for nine-tenths of all childhood ailments arise from a disordered state of the bowels and stomach. Such a medicine is Baby's Own Tablets. They are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach, and thus drive out constipation, colic, indigestion, break up colds and simple fevers and make the baby healthy and happy. Concerning them, Mrs. Albert Hamel, Pierreville, Que., writes:—"Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine I know of for little ones. They relieved my little girl from constipation when nothing else would and I can strongly recommend them to other mothers." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Doctor's There

(Homo fervidus et diligens ad omnia paratur.—Cicero.)

When in the cottage blessed with Love's sweet store, A babe is born, and o'er the rustic door Is hung the crown of motherhood, and affr Is all within—The Doctor's there. When 'neath the pall of mystic Death's wondrous spell A mother's heart is broken by the knell Of all that's dear, and on the stair No baby feet—the Doctor's there. When virtue uses and breath of ruthless lust Eats into the soul as does the gnawing rust; When no one else with her the shame will share, With mother's touch—the Doctor's there. Where blossoms Life's sweet bud at blush of day, Where breath of withered rose at eve-tide steals away, On the south wind—in joy and care, An uncrowned King—the Doctor's there. —L. B. McBrayer, M.D., Asheville, N.C.

His wise, rare smile is sweet with certainties, and seems in all his patients to compel such love and faith as failure cannot quell.—Hawley. There are men and classes of men that stand above the common herd; the soldier, the sailor, and the shepherd not infrequently; the artist rarely; the clergyman, the physician always as a rule. He is the flower (such as it is) of our civilization; and when that stage of man is done with, and only remembered to be marvelled at in history, he will be thought to have shared as little as any in the defects of the period, and most notably exhibited the virtues of the race. Generosity he has, such as is possible to those who practice an art, never to those who drive a trade; discretion tested by a hundred secrets; tact, tried in a thousand embarrassments; and what are more important, Herculean cheerfulness and courage. So it is that he brings air and cheer into the sickroom, and often enough, though not so often as he wishes, brings healing.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

No wonder it is then that so great a writer as Carlyle could exclaim: "To the mitred bishop, nay, even to the highest prince in the land, I might not make obsequious; but to the physician, making his visit in the dark hours of the night, oftentimes without hope of reward, except—to him I would doff my hat."

The above and what follows refers to the work of the doctor—not that of rib-twisters, backbone-pinners, or of subluxations. I wonder how many of you have read this true-to-life character sketch of the family physician which appeared of late in a well-known publication? (Note—It is from The Boston Transcript.—J.S.S.) "The doctor is altogether a special kind of person. His illusions are few. His information is enormous, and it now and then, he wears a superior smile, forgive him. He has probably just heard some remark which he knows to be fatuous or hypocritical. Again, his jokes are likely to be a bit technical, and his view of life materialistic. But if he has a brand of idealism, you can put your trust in it, for he has learned it in a hard school, and it is genuine. He has faced the worst, and can still believe the best. And if he has a religion, it will be worth coming at, for he has wrestled it out of the actual battles of good and evil in our common life seen at close range. "The lawyer we take into our confidence when we get good and ready; the clergyman we admit to parlor and dining room; but the doctor goes into bedroom unannounced. He goes in at a time when the house, temporal and spiritual, has not been set to rights for his reception, but if what he sees there surprises him he seldom lets it be known. In the healing of bodies he has opportunities for healing souls which could never come to a priest, and with which many a priest could not deal. He is the lay father-confessor, regardless of creed. "He knows more psychology in five minutes than the philosopher or clergyman or barrister in a week, and he is withal the least emotional of men. The peculiar thing about him is that while fighting his grim and silent battle with death, without the applause of a crowd, often without pay, and sometimes, without even gratitude, he seems superior to all these considerations. He is responding to a higher sort of noblesse oblige which is always unintelligible to the average man, not for the average priest. Compared with the mercenary of military men, the frozen enthusiasm of the doctor is a very curious manifestation. It may be something in the training he gets, for, no matter what the youngster may have been, if he has anything in him it will go hard if his practice as a physician does not bring it out. And to him belongs the final reward of service, which is the increased opportunity for service." (He is the Doctor—not "Doc.")

In Ontario we have universities the equals of any other country, and yet our province is being the home of several damnable cults, erroneously named medicals, whose members, as quacks, are self-styled doctors, uneducated and not graduates from any lawful college or university. Will our province give fakirs recognition? No! —S.P.Q.R.

Miller's Worm Powders were devised to promptly relieve children who suffer from the ravages of worms. It is a simple preparation warranted to destroy stomachic and intestinal worms without shock or injury to the most sensitive system. They act thoroughly and painlessly, and though in some cases they may cause vomiting, that is an indication of their powerful action and not of any nauseating property. —C. H. Chapman.

The Farmer in Politics

The old-time picture of the farmer as a character with hay in his hair and straw on his boots needs considerable retouching. Today he drives a silver, smokes those black cigars—if he has a mind to—which used to be reserved for dynamic financial powers in novels of Wall Street, has his clothes made to order in the city (we have Peter McArthur's word for it) and creates an atmosphere generally of the garage rather than of the cow stable. And as for his politics— We are trying to emphasize that the national conception of the farmer is changing—and that still greater changes may be looked for. We have long contended that the average farmer has a better understanding of public problems and public affairs than the average resident of the city. He has many opportunities for reading and thinking and political debate often fills the place in his off-time—for he has some which is employed by the city worker at the movies and now, backed by organization, he is proving it. Read the following extracts from a "check-up" of the convention of the United Farmers of Alberta at Calgary. This was written by F. W. Crandall, who may be described as a business man who farms—he has applied the methods of big business to agriculture—with an understanding of the interests of both: "It has never been my good fortune to attend any delegated gathering where those attending reached the same high degree of intelligence, were so well versed in parliamentary usages or were to be able to express themselves in an intelligent way on the floor of the convention. From the first to the last the convention seemed to have risen above the stage where—as in the past—a few foolish resolutions were passed. The delegates at once got down to a safe, sane and conservative working basis. In the past a great deal of time has been wasted—without any good resulting—from useless discussion of impossible things, some delegates from the country undertaking to force on the convention silly ideas which they wanted to exploit, and which, even if carried, would mean no material good to anybody."

Marching on to Ottawa The Drury victory in Ontario was the bolt from the political blue which warned the "regulars" that gathering clouds might be something more than a "black wind."

In the province the result was as welcome to the farmers as it was unexpected. But in the West it was regarded as premature. The leaders of the Grain Growers' movement are organizing a march on Ottawa and are not dawdling in politics along the way. The United Farmers of Alberta decided to keep out of the provincial arena. They did so on the advice of Hon. T. A. Crerar, who is establishing himself in the public mind as the logical candidate for the Dominion premiership on the ticket of the Farmers' national party. The Drury success raises a temptation for farmer politicians in other provinces, but Crerar and his followers have higher ambitions which they are now being forced to fully reveal. The Farmers' Government in Ontario has made some mistakes—mitigated to some extent through inexperience—but generally is giving evidence of ability to give safe, sane and practical government. The advent of a Farmers' Government at Ottawa is not so greatly to be feared as the old-line politicians would have us believe. There is, however, to be considered that one great issue—the tariff.

Protection has been the policy of both Liberal and Conservative parties in Canada since Confederation; it has been the national policy. Canadian prosperity, agricultural and industrial, has been built on that policy. Besides, the tariff is the chief source of national revenue, and direct taxation is a questionable expedient—as shown by experience—in such a sparsely settled country. We believe that the leaders of the farmers realize these things and that they use free trade merely as a slogan—for the farmers, like all other parties, play the game of politics. Should they come into power, tariff revision would undoubtedly be their policy. But that was also the policy of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in '96.

Some intelligent revision of the present tariffs would do no harm, but no Government could afford to endanger national prosperity by raw class legislation. The danger would not lie so much, we believe, with the leaders of the Farmers' party as with the rank and file, who might be in a position to temporarily exert an unhealthy and near-sighted influence over their representatives. At such a time it is most unfortunate that the farmers have been led to regard the tariff merely as a protection for a certain class rather than a benefit for the whole people; merely as class legislation which could never have existed. But no intelligent effort has been made to educate the people—particularly the farmers—to the real facts, and to show that the great majority of manufacturers of Canada are not selfish profiteers but hard-working, chance-taking upholders, whose institutions have played a very large part in the development of the whole country.—Financial Post, Toronto.

Vernon Castle's Last Dance With His Wife "I have taken out all that seemed too sacred to be made public and looked at tightly in my heart." These words appear in the preface of a poignant human document, "My Husband," written by Irene Castle, the dancing partner of young Vernon Castle, who sacrificed a salary of $5,000 a week and later his life, to serve his country in the Royal Flying Corps.

Vernon Castle, whose sunny nature won him friends in all parts of the world, was killed in Texas in February, 1918, at the age of twenty nine, while attempting to save the life of a flying pupil he was instructing. In the story of his life written by his widow, Vernon Castle appears in the role of the ideal lover. The young couple started life together practically penniless, their only asset being their art. From a varied career in dingy cabarets in Paris, the couple danced their way to fame and fortune, which was at its height when the war and separation came. Here is the account of the great parting: "Swallowing hard, I waved feebly out of the window as the train moved from the platform, leaving him standing at the salute, every bit a soldier. Once out of sight I sobbed to my heart's content, and as the fields and hills rolled by hazily I wrote this little prayer for him. It's poor, I know, but I quote it because he wore it tied around his neck with a dirty little string for the next nine months: "Almighty God, if Thou are there, Listen to my humble prayer. And keep him safe. Keep him in your care always. Watch over him this weary day. And keep him safe. Make him feel my love and sorrow Bring him back some near tomorrow. And keep him safe." The last dance of the dancing partners took place while Vernon Castle was on leave. "On the night of the benefit he danced divinely. At the close of the performance many beautiful flowers were handed to us over the footlights. "In the wings, Vernon nervously kissed my hand and there were tears in his eyes. I wonder if he guessed? We had danced our last dance, and the last ring of applause for us was still. The world had been a very good one to us. Together we tasted success, fame and money. Thank God that at no time during that night did I dream it was the end. "In summing up his career, Mrs. Vernon Castle says: "Vernon was so like a little boy. He was interested in anything. I have heard of no one who disliked him. In spite of the money he made he never had any. He loved spending it. You simply could not persuade him to save for the future. I am happy now that he spent and enjoyed the money he had to the fullest degree earned." oncho. wnoo

Miller's Worm Powders were devised to promptly relieve children who suffer from the ravages of worms. It is a simple preparation warranted to destroy stomachic and intestinal worms without shock or injury to the most sensitive system. They act thoroughly and painlessly, and though in some cases they may cause vomiting, that is an indication of their powerful action and not of any nauseating property. —C. H. Chapman.

Claudeboye U.F.O. Co-operative Association had a turnover of about $60,000 for 1919. A Pill That Is Prized.—There have been many pills put upon the market and pressed upon public attention, but none has endured so long or met with so much favor as Farmette's Vegetable Pills. Wide-spread use of them has attested their great value, and they need no further advertisement than this. Having firmly established themselves in public esteem, they now rank without a peer in the list of standard vegetable preparations.

Ode to the Boys

Why do you chew and drink and make huge bets? Why do you travel at so fast a pace Why do you smoke those hateful cigarettes, And puff tobacco in each lady's face? Why do you walk along the streets and spit? Why deem it such a manly thing to flirt? Why relish stories that are quite unfit, Why call a girl a "chicken" or a skit? Why proud-of-your ability to swear? Why ogle pretty girls with foolish "lart"? Why turn around and rudely stare At any girl that has a shapely calf? Why show your sox, perchance not over clean? Why turn your trousers up so very high? Why wear such gaudy ties, a cross between A rainbow and a piece of pumpkin pie? Why congregate on every Sunday night, To watch the girls emerging from the church? Why halt them with a boisterous delight, Then walk away and leave them in the lurch? Why waste your hours in billiards or in pool? Why wear those shoes of hideous yellow tan? Why not turn square around and go to school? To learn the manners of a gentleman? Why do these rotten things? 'Tis to your shame! Alas! the day of chivalry soon fades! And, since you are so very much to blame, Why write insulting odes about the maids? —By Another of the Girls.

The Art of Conversation

An author who has achieved considerable success, reckoned on the basis of the sale of his novels, recently said to the writer that he had no difficulty whatever with plots or with the creation of his characters, but the greatest difficulty in handling his "dialogue." How many of us, in reading the modern novel, come to the same conclusion as to an author's limitations, without hearing him make this frank admission! If one had felt at perfect liberty to answer this author frankly, he should have told him that his statement contained a contradiction when he stated that he could create his characters and yet could not handle the dialogue, because if the characters are really created, the dialogue takes care of itself. It is the phrasing of an artificial conversation which the characters themselves do not express that introduces that artificiality which the reader unconsciously feels and resents. "We all can recall among our friends those who talk rather than converse. They talk at us, rather than with us. We may agree or disagree, we may vainly attempt to join in the conversation, in which case the speaker's voice raises to a higher key, or we are unceremoniously called back to the original starting point and resign ourselves to the role of listeners. This is exactly what we find in many modern novels. In our everyday social life, we cannot escape it without resorting to rudeness; but, when we are alone with a story, we are at least free to put the book aside, if it talks at us instead of with us. "We turn from our friends who talk to another friend who converses, and here we find ourselves in an entirely different atmosphere. We may agree with or oppose the different ideas; but, whether acquiescence or opposition, the conversation is stimulating as well as enjoyable, and we feel ourselves drawn more closely to the personality which gives of itself at the same time that it receives. Here again we find the same thing in literature. Turn to Thackeray and see how intimately his character talk the readers into their confidence. His novels may have no great unity, but in all his dialogues the reader feels himself to be taking part. His characters live, and while their conversation is desultory, it is real conversation. Some one once asked Thackeray why Becky Sharp behaved as she did, and he replied, "Don't ask me; Becky is till much for me." So here we have it. The characters must do the conversing, and to do that they must be real characters, not simply photographic manikins. Place two really created characters in an interesting situation and the dialogue will take care of itself. They will talk with each other, which is conversation, and not at each other, which is merely talking.

MANUFACTURE WAX FIGURES AND PAPER MACHE FORMS

The A. S. Richardson Co., Ltd. Will Begin Operations in the Canning Factory South Wing—Fixtures Their Specialty.

The manufacture of wax figures, paper mache forms, wood and metal fixtures, and novelties of all sorts will begin in Belleville about the end of April.

The directors of the company are: President and Manager, R. C. Williams; Secretary and Treasurer, J. A. Rogers and Mr. A. R. Williams, of Toronto.

The exhibit at Hotel Quinte is well worth seeing from an educational standpoint. The A. S. Richardson Co. manufacture wax figures, paper mache forms and a complete line of wood and metal fixtures.

The demand for these articles is extensive. The needs of manufacturers and retailers of underwear, hosiery, shirts, and so forth mean a large output. Novelties of birds, and figures of paper mache in half relief or full will have a very large sale.

Only four firms in Canada manufacture these forms. The Richardson Company was established in 1883 by A. S. Richardson, who carried it on until 1909 when he died. It was

HOW TO REDUCE THE HIGH COST OF LIVING

Article I.—At the Farm Hand

Editor Ontario. Now that everybody is complaining because of the recent marked advance in flour and sugar, with all foods which have these as constituents, let us all seek to discover methods and means by which this may be counteracted.

Not many years ago nearly every farmer who could preserved a maple bush, and acres of these still stand in every township of Ontario, and in fact in most of our provinces.

The writer remembers the time when "sugarbeet" sugar was an article of luxury on many farm tables, and "white" sugar unknown there. Then many sugar casks had shelves of maple sugar in cakes and was "shaved" for tea and table use, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunning removed to Saskatoon, with Mrs. Cummings four or five years ago and have since made that city their home.

He was a Methodist in religion and a man who was strictly honorably in his dealings, of proved integrity and of good industry in the prosecution of his calling. He was not seeker after public office but preferred the quiet of his home and farm. His many old friends in this section will regret the passing of one who was so long and favorably known.

27 Convictions in Town Police Court

Oshawa, Feb. 7. — Twenty-seven convictions were made in the Oshawa Police Court for the month of January. The amount paid in liquor fines not including the costs of the court, which the convicted men are obliged to pay, total $1,290, of which sum $112.40 is paid into the town treasury. Five of the liquor fines were for the $200 amount. One man who was unable to pay a $200 fine was sent down for three months. Other cases included one man charged with insanity one for assault and let off on suspended sentence, one violation of the sanitary by-law, one assault with intent to commit grievous bodily harm, one peddling without a license one assault occasioning actual bodily harm.

Another cereal which was an excellent substitute for wheat four years ago is very common among us still, but is little used in this age of quick-and-easy methods, viz., buckwheat. When potatoes are worth 80c per bushel and wheat four eight cents per bushel, a cheaper and very wholesome substitute is buckwheat flour, properly prepared, and adjusted for table use. Who but remembers and regards buckwheat pancakes as something better than a substitute?

A woman is always grateful to the man who gives her a chance to refuse him. No woman can tell whether her hat is becoming to her until she ascertains the price.

Two Children Saved From Burning House

Sergt. Reid and Fireman Hatley rescued them last night. Peterboro, Feb. 7. — The fire department received a call at 11:42 o'clock Wednesday night to the residence of Mr. G. Hutton at 65 McDonnell street. As there was some delay in sending in the alarm the flames had gained considerable head way before the firemen arrived on the scene and the situation they had to cope with was serious. Were it not for the splendid efforts of the men, who finally succeeded in getting the fire under control the damage, considerable as it was, would have been much greater. The fire was caused by an accumulation of soot of about two years standing in the chimney which, becoming heated set fire to the partition on either side. Luckily there was no loss of life, as the two little children, who were sleeping at the time and in great danger were rescued by Sergt. Reid and Mr. Hatley of the fire department. The fire was extinguished in about fifteen minutes with forty-five gallons of chemical and one hundred feet of hose. The total estimate of damage is as far unknown.

JOHN DUNNING. John Dunning, one of the oldest residents of the township of Thurlow, passed away yesterday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Helen Cummings, of Saskatoon, Sask., after an illness of only a few days. Deceased was a native of Ireland, the son of Samuel Dunning, and was born 38 years ago. He came to Canada with his parents in 1847 and settled in Huntingdon. After his marriage he settled in the township of Thurlow, near Plainfield. Here he prospered and reared a large family, nine of whom are still living.

He was a Methodist in religion and a man who was strictly honorably in his dealings, of proved integrity and of good industry in the prosecution of his calling. He was not seeker after public office but preferred the quiet of his home and farm. His many old friends in this section will regret the passing of one who was so long and favorably known.

Two Children Saved From Burning House

Sergt. Reid and Fireman Hatley rescued them last night. Peterboro, Feb. 7. — The fire department received a call at 11:42 o'clock Wednesday night to the residence of Mr. G. Hutton at 65 McDonnell street. As there was some delay in sending in the alarm the flames had gained considerable head way before the firemen arrived on the scene and the situation they had to cope with was serious. Were it not for the splendid efforts of the men, who finally succeeded in getting the fire under control the damage, considerable as it was, would have been much greater. The fire was caused by an accumulation of soot of about two years standing in the chimney which, becoming heated set fire to the partition on either side. Luckily there was no loss of life, as the two little children, who were sleeping at the time and in great danger were rescued by Sergt. Reid and Mr. Hatley of the fire department. The fire was extinguished in about fifteen minutes with forty-five gallons of chemical and one hundred feet of hose. The total estimate of damage is as far unknown.

Mr. Wm. McGie Succumbed

Well Known Citizen Passed Away on Sunday.

William McGie, one of Belleville's best known citizens passed away on Sunday morning at his home, 38 Forin street, after a illness of some duration. He had a short while ago disposed of his hardware business on account of ill health. The late Mr. McGie had a diversity of interests. He was 60 years of age and was a native of Ontario and had been a resident of Belleville for forty or fifty years. He was in the hardware and plumbing business for many years and was known to the entire public as an upright man, straight and honest in all his dealings. He was deservedly popular with all classes of citizens for his many admirable qualities. His disease removed a well-known figure from the mercantile life of the city.

Mr. McGie's death leaves a gap in St. Andrew's Presbyterian congregation. He had been an elder for many years and was one of the leading church workers. The late William McGie was a prominent member of the Masonic fraternity. He was master of Moira Lodge No. 11 A. F. and A. M. and had since been treasurer of that lodge. He was one of the trustees of the funds of the lodge. He was most zealous in the performance of his duty at all times. Last year an unusual honor was conferred upon him when he was given honorary life membership in the lodge, he being one of the very few receiving this distinction. He was also a companion of Moira Chapter, Royal Arch Masons.

He was a past noble grand of Belleville Lodge No. 81 I.O.O.F. Surviving are his widow, one son, William R. of Chicago, one daughter, Jessie K. of Belleville, two brothers, Arthur, of Belleville and Walter, of Salt Lake City, and one sister, Mrs. W. J. Wilson, of Toronto.

The deepest sympathy is extended to the bereaved family and relatives in their loss.

RASTUS AND MARTHY ATTEND A WEDDING

Written for the Ontario by Marthy Micklejohn.

Well I've just got home from Araminty Brown's wedding. I never thought Rastus would go, and his taters not planted for they always brides' dress, it must have cost Am have to get in the ground by the full moon in June no matter what comes or goes. But when Rastus got the invitation I could see he was terribly tickled for we wasn't no real relation only Araminty's father, Araminty Brown was a cousin to Rastus in-law but Rastus always thought a lot of Araminty and said he was a nice present as sure as his name was Rastus Micklejohn. Well I had to have a new dress for the occasion for my alpey was gettin shabby so I bought a new blue grenadine and some light trimming and got Melindy Ann Stringer to make it. Rastus bought a new red necktie and he said he'd take her a Jersey cap for a present and I could take her a couple of my Dorking pullets.

Well we started real early for she was to be married at noon Rastus tied the calf in the wagon and put the pullets in a box and put them in with the calf for company, and he and I got in the seat and when the cotton umbrella and we was just going along fine till we come near the turn by Solomon Appleton's mill when we met one of them automobiles. Well old Nancy wasn't used to seemin wagons goin without horses and she just bolted and upset that Jersey calf and them Dorking Pullets right out onto the road. Caleb Johnson was a comin along and he stopped old Nancy and helped Rastus to load up agin. Well this time we got along alright and arrived in good time.

Asking Favors of Mail Order House

of men of smaller means. The credit system, as it is used sometimes, especially in the smaller communities, is abused and works a serious hardship upon the business men of the town. Some merchants, to avoid the loss that results from such abuse of the system or possibly to enable them to sell goods at a lower price than their competitors, operate strictly on cash basis, but the great majority of merchants in every community give those customers who are responsible and honest the privilege of a charge account and the chances are that some sort of a credit system, properly safeguarded, will always continue to be a feature of legitimate trade.

Ask Catalogue Houses for Credit. You who have a reputation in your community for being at least fairly responsible and upright know that when you desire it or need it you can obtain credit from at least some of the merchants in your town. But some time when you are in need of some article of merchandise and are a little short of ready money, order what you want from a mail order house in Chicago or some other city and ask them to please charge it till the first of the month. The experiment will be interesting at least, and the answer that you receive may cause you to give a little thought to the difference between trading with the mail order houses in some far-off city and buying from the merchants in your own home town.

Some mail order concerns are now operating a so-called credit system, but it is not a credit system such as is maintained by most retail merchants. These mail order houses will sell certain merchandise on the installment plan, but they not only demand a initial cash payment but require the purchaser to sign a contract which operates as a mortgage not only on the merchandise purchased, but upon any other property that the customer may possess. There is nothing in this system that bears any similarity to the open credit system that is used by the majority of retail merchants.

There are some other requests you might make of the mail order man when the occasion arises and the responses might be equally interesting. For instance, you, Mrs. Farmer, who bought that box of groceries from the catalogue house last month, might write the manager and ask him to buy your butter and eggs. Of course, it would be considerable more trouble to pack them for shipment to the city than it is to take them in to your local grocer, who is always ready to pay you the market price for them, but then maybe the mail order man would pay you enough more than

Farm House Is destroyed.
A barrel of pork, a cream separator and a churn, besides the clothing which he and his family were wearing was all that John Bennett, of the township of Kettle and his neighbors could save from his house when it was destroyed by fire a few days ago. The first intimation that anything was wrong was received by Mrs. Bennett when she opened a bedroom door and was met by a rush of flames. She gathered her children and ran from the house without being able to save anything. Neighbors could not enter the building because of the rapid spread of the blaze. A defective chimney is believed to have been responsible. The pork etc., was saved from an outside kitchen. — Brockville Recorder & Times.

H., Smith's Falls, placed constables at either end of the car and ordered all other passengers removed. The doors of the car were then locked. The man who it was afterwards learned was suffering from smallpox was carried to a solitary state to Toronto where he was taken to an isolation hospital. Lavo claimed to have boarded the train at Montreal. — Brockville Recorder & Times.

One is Walters, who was arrested here last October, after deserting from a submarine chaser in Toronto, and who served a month's sentence for trying to escape from each. The other two are two warbirds who came in via Windsor without a permit. — Cobourg Sentinel-Star.

$150,000 Distributed to Farmers.
The annual meeting of the Renfrew County Limited was held last week and the financial statement presented showed that the business had developed very much during the past year. Between the increased quantity of raw material sent by a growing number of farmers' patrons and the increased price paid for the raw material, the sum of $150,000 had been distributed during the year 1919 to the farmers who send their milk or cream to the Renfrew institution.

Science Freshmen Aim High.
The campaign of the students to raise $50,000 for the Students' Union at Queen's progresses favorably. The freshmen year in Science has set as the objective will mean an average donation of $49. Contributions already received from students range from ten to one hundred dollars, the majority of them being for fifty dollars.

Customs Duties Increase.
The customs duties for the port of Cobourg for the month of January amounted to $53,542.36. Of this only $2,209 was duty on coal, the balance showing an increase of more than double on general business over the same month last year. — Cobourg Sentinel Star.

To Show in Canada.
For the first time since the outbreak of the war a big circus is to tour Canada. The Barnum & Bailey Shows, now a part of the Ringling Bros., system will enter the country at Cornwall on July 12 from Watertown N. Y., and remain until July 23rd, first playing Ottawa, then Montreal. The remainder of the itinerary is unknown at present.

Offered Congratulations.
A number of congratulatory letters and telegrams from Ottawa have reached Major General V. A. S. Williams the general officer commanding Military District No. 3 in which Ottawa is located, congratulating him upon the honor of C. M. G., Companion of St. Michael and St. George which has been conferred on him by His Majesty.

The Ottawa Citizen says: General Williams was the highest Canadian officer to be taken by the Germans, and was a prisoner for some three years. General Williams still suffers considerably from wounds and injuries received on the occasion of his capture. He is most popular with all soldiers who have served under him and while a very strict disciplinarian has the art of gaining the affection and respect of all officers and men serving under him.

Ogdensburg is Disappointed.
Ogdensburg citizens recently invested $16,000 in a project to have the Massey interests of Superintendent W. A. erect a plant there for the manufacture of steam automobiles. A building was secured and word now comes from G. A. Massey that owing to difficulties in securing a clear patent he is not ready to proceed with the development of the industry. He writes the Chamber of Commerce at Ogdensburg that he is anxious to have the building disposed of "without any loss to us" and hopes it may be used for the housing of another industry.

Cannot Get a House Here Pastor Lives in Church.
There is apparently no let-up in the shortage of houses in Oshawa and the people are compelled to resort to anything they can find that will serve as a home until they can improve matters. Rev. J. L. Harton the new minister of the Baptist Church after trying in vain to find a suitable house either for rent or sale, has arranged to occupy as a temporary residence the Sunday School rooms at the rear of the church. The rooms will be subdivided and fitted up for house-keeping.

It is hoped to build a parsonage on the church lot soon. — Oshawa Reformer.

Rescued by Fire Chief.
Chief J. H. Mathewson, of the Montreal west fire and police department formerly of the Brockville Fire Department, who played the pipes to the delight of the many patrons of the Bobbie Burns anniversary concert held in Victoria Hall a few days ago rescued a lady from peril during the fire in the Montreal recently. Chief Mathewson was directing his men during the course of a blaze in the basement of a residence when cries of help drew the attention of a young woman a domestic clad in night attire, seated on a window sill three stories above the ground with dense volumes of smoke pouring out all around her. There was no ladder that would reach directly to the window where the lady was seated, but Chief Mathewson determined to reach the woman without the aid of a rescue escape. Reaching the lower sashes of the building by means of a ladder the rescuer began a perilous climb over the slippery ice-covered roofs and projections until after tremendous effort and a good deal of luck he managed to grasp the window sill to which the woman clung. Even then things did not look much better, for it seemed impossible to get the woman down to safety but urged on by the pressing emergency Chief Mathewson hit upon a plan, and hanging to the sill only by his toes he swung her into the arms of a fireman who had appeared at a window of an adjoining semi-detached house. — Brockville Recorder and Times.

YELLOW "GOLYBOSH" IN NEW YORK
Widest of Wildcats From Umdingo Forest. It is Also the Boss Hater.

New York Times:—Captain Sylvester Ruddle, formerly of the Forosa Penitentiary and who now describes himself as a Christian Scientist and a dealer in ivory nuts, arrived yesterday from Africa accompanied by his native servant Dingbad, bringing what he avers to be the only specimen of the striped yellow golybosh of the Umdingo forests on the upper Congo in captivity. The animal is said by its owner to be the biggest and fiercest specimen of the wildest tribe in Africa.

The Captain who was lunching yesterday at the Ritz-Carlton with his friend, Marzabuka N. Mistle, the well-known Mining Lane caravan seed merchant, appeared reluctant to talk about his pet, because he said, to those who had not explored the great forests of the Umdingo his description of a real yellow-striped golybosh might look somewhat exaggerated.

"This cat is so wild," said Captain Ruddle, "that the parents eat the offspring and oftentimes the offspring eats up the parents. The golybosh hates everything on earth so much that the animal will frequently whirl round at a frightful velocity trying to eat itself up and sometimes succeeds. That is why the golybosh is so rare. In fact, it is almost extinct through these causes I have mentioned."

Burglars Busy at Millbrook
Lindsay, Feb. 9. — Saturday night or Sunday morning persons who have had a long "dry" spell broke into the station house and took from it a case of liquor and a few extra bottles from another case. It is reported that there were about fifteen cases at the station. It does not look as though everyone was going to continue on the dry list in Millbrook.

About the same time, or thereabouts, someone passed through an opening made in a window in the rear of Mr. Jesse Bryan's downtown store and rifled the till which contained about six or seven dollars but apparently the thief only wanted money as nothing else was missing except the glass from the window. This recalls the similar experience of Mr. R. T. Adams when he owned the store. The thief made his entrance in the same way by breaking the glass of the rear window.

Rararuzza, the name of the one I have brought with me, which means in the Umdingo language "Yellow fiend of the black forests," was given to me by King Umlabo for saving the life of his only daughter Ulocha from a rogue elephant, who was chasing her around the sacred Golybosh trees one day when she was collecting some grasshoppers to make a salad for King Umlabo's tiffin.

THE SALTED GRASSHOPPER
"The grasshoppers in the Umdingo land, I might mention, are much their kind that I have ever seen in tropical countries. The natives dry these grasshoppers and they are not at all bad."

Mr. Mizzie corroborated his friend in his statement at this point, but added that he preferred the salted grasshoppers he had eaten at Sidi Okra in the Sahara Desert, which, in his opinion had a more gamey flavor than those of the Umdingo country.

"It was a pure fluke," the captain continued, "that I managed to hit the wild pachyderm in the right eye with my express rifle, because he was tearing up the baobabs with his powerful trunk and knocking down everything that came in his way. Four big lions had just taken their afternoon stroll around the skirts of the village, and I was lying doggo as we call it, on my couch quaffing a cup of tea. I had out lost my lions, and did not wish to take the trouble in the hot sun to interfere with their promenade until I heard the Princess screaming at the top of her voice, in the Umdingo tongue for help. Apparently the lions had faded to the forest when they saw the elephant coming with blood in his eye."

"The dear fat old King Umlabo was so grateful that he offered to give me his daughter Ulocha and making me the heir apparent to the throne of Umdingo."

PREFERRED TO VISIT MOTHER
"I declined his kind offer with profuse thanks," Captain Ruddle said "on the plea that I had to go home and see my aged mother, as I was the only son and her sight was growing dim. After many attempts to induce me to change my mind, the King presented me with his pet wild cat Rararuzza, which he kept in a huge cage outside the royal huts under the shade of some giant palms."

"Some idea of the springing qualities of the yellow-striped golybosh may be imagined when I tell you that this wildest of the wildcats can leap into the air to catch a flying fox and eat it alive before returning to the ground. With its fondness for raw meat from Umdingo it is my torage from New York to keep its appetite satisfied. I found that the meat on the steamship off

Sheridan's Play Cleverly Presented by High School Students

Sheridan's brilliant comedy of "The Rivals" was revived at the Belleville High School last evening by the students of the institution, to raise funds to aid the Memorial Scholarship Fund.

The unfortunate fact is, that the electors are so busily engaged in their own concerns that they pay little attention as to who shall be elected to school boards.

The same thing exists as regards municipal councils. What efforts are made by electors to return the best and most intelligent men to those councils?

The settings were appropriate for the play. Following are parts taken by the students:

Does Not Approve of School Board Policy

Editor Ontario, If the statement which gave absolute power to school boards over municipal councils had given the matter the consideration its importance merited, he surely would have placed some restrictions.

Operation Made a Monkey of Him

Dr. Serg Voronoff's interstitial gland theory for restoring the vigor of youth to sex continues to attract wide interest in France as a news despatch. One French newspaper has just printed an article about a patient of Dr. Voronoff who, after undergoing an operation regained his vigor and proceeded to a life of dissipation in which he outdistances a much younger man and who is his nephew.

The article tells of a young man who expected to inherit in a few years a fortune of $1,000,000. He was a really fond of the man who was to leave him this money - a wealthy uncle - and persuaded him to go to Dr. Voronoff for an operation.

After the operation, the aged man's vigor and health restored he began going out nights taking his nephew with him. He carried on numerous love affairs and kept the young man up until late every night making him join in dinners of rich food and wines. Gradually the young man began to lose his health and strength and became more and more anemic, and finally was forced to enter a sanitarium.

Meanwhile, his rejuvenated uncle continued his wild career, and one night went to a prize fight. In his youth he had been an enthusiastic boxer and became very excited when he saw the two pugilists fighting. He had a dispute with the manager of the fight and finally struck him, knocking him down and fracturing his skull.

The manager brought an action for damages and was awarded $40,000, the amount of money the young nephew expected to inherit from his uncle.

Soon afterwards both uncle and nephew died.

Mr. Nickle's Advice

Trenton, Feb. 6.—The Trenton Chamber of Commerce has started by holding a meeting with a view to obtaining suggestions for the improvement of conditions in Trenton. Addresses were given by Fric Green, Industrial Commissioner of the Canadian National Railway, and W. C. Nickle, K.C. Mr. Nickle pointed out the great economic loss sustained by Trenton by reason of not having adopted a sufficiently progressive policy of industrial activity to retain her own young men and young women instead of having them take situations elsewhere. He further urged that Trenton join with the St. Lawrence Deep Waterway and Power Association in an effort to get the transportation facilities of the bay improved. Mr. Green spoke of the great resources of Canada and particularly those of Hastings County, and urged the citizens to interest themselves in them and seek to develop them.

It is far easier to criticize the small mistakes of others than to avoid making a few large ones of them yourself.

THE JUGOSLAV PROPOSAL

Written for The Ontario

Chas. M. Rice, Lawyer, Denver, Colorado.

The "supreme effort" of Jugoslavia to reach an agreement with Italy has been rejected by Premier Nitti, and the supreme council of the peace conference, in its 57th session, is said to have notified Belgrade that unless it reconsiders its refusal to concede Italian demands the terms of the pact of London will be applied to the disputed territories.

The details of the latest Italian demands have not been made public. Presumably they require the ultimate surrender of Fiume and Zara to Italy, with certain of the islands off the Dalmatian coast.

Belgrade declares its readiness to permit the internationalization of Fiume and Zara under the League of Nations, provided Italy agrees to the demilitarization of the other Adriatic islands. The Jugoslavs are also willing to recognize Italian national rights in Dalmatian industries and to grant to Italian residents in Dalmatia freedom to choose Italian citizenship without prejudice to their rights of residence in Jugoslavia.

It seems to me that Belgrade has gone a long way toward seeking a just settlement. Unless these proposals are modified by conditions which are not dictated by the despatches, they deserve a more generous consideration than has been given them. It is difficult to see what legitimate interest of Italy can suffer through their acceptance.

LIFE ON THE SAHARA

Farming is Possible on the African Desert.

Contrary to popular belief, it rains in the Sahara, plants grow there, and animals live there. J. Nicholas Bruce, writing into a Nation, Paris, tells us that this vast region would have been developed long ago but for the anarchy and lack of safety that prevail. Oases may be enlarged, and even created, advantage may be taken of underground streams, and when there is no longer fear of spoliation by nomadic robbers the most favorable places will become settled, as has already happened in some localities protected by the French. Then there will not only be agriculture in the Sahara, as there is today in the former deserts of the United States, but mines and industries, in other words, the Sahara is to be rehabilitated. We quote from a translation and abstract of Mr. Bruce's article in the Scientific American Supplement.

"As far back as 1888, Henri Schirmer, whose ideas on the geography of the Sahara and its climate are today accepted by all the world and no longer inspire criticism, proved that the Sahara is not entirely lacking in rain, although the regimen of the winds occasion its present sterility; he has explained that the Sahara is not absolutely unfit for life, either for plant or for animal life; but that Saharan agriculture has but little resemblance to that of other countries; that the European cannot suppress a desert as some them dream of doing and that a strategic road could be constructed across it as far as Soudan; that its oases should be de-

A REMARKABLE OLD PHOTOGRAPH; ONLY TWO IN THIS GROUP ALIVE TODAY

It would be quite difficult nowadays to duplicate such a family group as that pictured above. It shows the sixteen members of the well-known Noxon family, taken over forty years ago, when the father, Samuel Noxon, and his wife, Rhoda, celebrated their golden wedding. There were eleven sons and daughters. The only surviving son is Dr. Allan Noxon, of Toronto; and the one living daughter is Mrs. Douglas Diggs, now residing in Florida. Dr. Noxon is seen in the standing row, the first one on the right. Mrs. Diggs is seated in front of him. Dr. Noxon is over 80 and remarkably active. Among public men in Ontario are his many friends.
