DEVOTED TO COUNTY NEWS AND GENERAL INTELLIGENCE

GODERICH, ONT., FRIDAY, MAY 2, 1890.

THE METRODIST MAGAZINE FOR MAY, 1890.

The "Canadian Tourist" notes for May describe with numerous fine engravings the ride over the St. Gotthard Pass and the delightful sails through Lakes Lugano and Como. Lady Brassy's "Last Voyage" recounts her strange adventures in Burmah and Borneo, with exquisite engravings. The Rev. Geo. J. Bond describes and illustrates a Sunday at Nazareth and other incidents of life in Palestine. A thoughtful paper on "Christ's Treatment of Honest Doubt," by the Rev. John Bond, will read with interest. The Rev. James Allen, M. A., in a strong paper, makes the best possible argument against University Federation—a view strenuously combated by the Editor. Mrs. Barr's "Story of Yorkshire Methodism" grows in power, and a touching tale of East End life in London is given, also a sketch of adventure by Robert Louis Stevenson. The Editor reviews from Dilke's "Greater Britain," quoting the author's favorable estimate of Methodism in Canada and elsewhere. W. H. C. Kerr, M.A., has a scholarly rendering of Dr. Watts' Cradle Hymn into classical Greek. Price $2 a year; $1 for six months; 20 cents per number. Toronto: William Briggs.

PORT ALBERT.

Thos. Lee, of St. Thomas, visited his parents here this week.

Mr and Mrs Sanderson, of Richmond Hill, paid a visit to friends here last week.

Albert Mahaffy has returned from McGill College to spend the holidays with his parents here. He is studying for the ministry.

Will Smale is erecting a dwelling house on lot 13, Wellington-st. East, purchased from his brother, Alf.

NEW BLACKSMITH.—Mr. Fowler, of Daungannon, has leased Mr. Geo. Erwin's blacksmith shop, in which, since his arrival here some two weeks ago, he has done a good business. Mr. Erwin, we understand, intends acting as agent for an agricultural implement company.

Edward Martin and Adam Green are before the mast on the schooner Jane McLeod.

James Green commenced his apprenticeship with Mr. MacVicar, bricklayer, in Goderich, last week.

Harry Toombs has got a situation on the dredge Challenge for this season. The dredge is expected here as soon as her work in Goderich harbor is completed.

THE LATE MR. DOBSON.—It was with feelings of the most intense satisfaction that we read the item in your Port Albert correspondence last week, referring to the death of the above named gentleman, which sad event occurred—so your correspondent states—in Toronto in March last. Gentle reader, be calm! don't unnecessarily excite yourself. Don't put us down for a South Sea cannibal smacking his lips at the prospect of a feast and the next instant tearing his hair with rage upon finding that mortification had set in. Nor yet don't imagine us as a disciple of Sir Boyle Roche, whose bulls were both notorious and potent at the beginning of the present century. If you can't reconcile "feelings of intense satisfaction" with a "sad event," we can, and that is quite sufficient. Don't you see? You don't, so we'll explain ourselves. Mr. Dobson, when dying, bequeathed to one of his employees, Miss Melinda Graham, third daughter of Mr. Robt. Graham, of this village, the sum of $3000 to be by her received when she attained her majority. At least so said the correspondent. We have, therefore, tears for Mr. Dobson's death on the eve of an election—he was a Reformer—while we are at the same time all smiles for his charitable donation. Alas, how sad it is to reflect upon the fewness of the number of such men as the late lamented Mr. Dobson living in Canada today. How few of us of the masculine gender display the same forethought for the welfare of a faithful servant; how few follow the advice of the poet who wrote:—

Lives of great men oft remind us,
We should make our lives sublime,
And departing leave behind us,
Three thousand dollars—every dime.

to be given as a marriage portion to some lovely maiden just ripening into womanhood. The blush of shame mantles our own alabaster brow when we remember that our last will and testament contains no mention of any of the many extremely fascinating and highly accomplished young ladies residing in this village and vicinity, whose complexions, we are grieved to say, have changed to a pale bottle green since reading last week's Port Albert correspondence of THE SIGNAL. But we shall make ample amends. The noble precedent established by the deceased Mr. Dobson shall be lost upon us at any rate. And in a pamphlet upon which we are now engaged, the many and various charms of these poor, weak vessels shall be both elegantly and eloquently portrayed. It shall be thorough no fault of ours if each and every one of the dear creatures be not equally sharp-shod and carefully trained before entering the matrimonial race. Toronto, Hamilton, London, Stratford, St. Catharines, Clinton, Belleville, Brantford, Montreal, Ottawa, Quebec and Halifax please copy.

P. S. I. Tom paid his customary official visit to our school recently. He expressed himself as being highly pleased with the general progress of the school since his last visit. The average attendance at present is about 55.

TO ADVERTISERS.

A GOOD PRESENT.—The most useful gift for a group is a copy of THE SIGNAL. Apply to D. McGillicuddy, agent, Goderich.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union meet on the basement of North-st. Meth. church every Tuesday afternoon. Praying meeting at 230, business meeting at 3.

There's less in the lake yet, and the chilliness is in the air, but spring-time is here all the same, and if you want the latest, best and most fashionable styles of hats, don't fail to call upon F. J. Pridham.

Because Geo. Stewart is making a specialty of groups and large residence views is no reason that individual photos and cabinet or picture framing is neglected. Every line is still carried on at the old stand.

Merchants can get their Bill Heads, Letter Heads, Etc., etc., printed at this office for very little more than the ordinary cost for the paper, and it helps to advertise their business. Call and see samples and get prices.

Who will be the candidate in the question which is agitating the politicians on each side of politics, but there is a question about the latest and best styles of photos and picture frames being obtainable at R. R. Sallows.

Oh, Maw! Hadn't I better hustle over to F. E. Pridham's and get one of the 75 cent neckties that he is selling for 25 cents. If I don't move soon he may change the ticket on the dandiest line in town, and I'll be left or have to put up more silver.

Some people do not stop and think whether 'tis better to buy something that is cheap or pay a little more for a good thing. The cheapest is not always the best. If you want first class sanitary plumbing or are thinking about putting water into your house or want a bill-fashery, call on them. They do only good work, and their prices will always compare favorably. Give them a call for either lead or iron work.

BRIEFLETS.

Mr. E. R. Watson is erecting a brick house on Church-st.

Mrs. Caton, of Owen Sound, is visiting her sister, Mrs. H. L. Strang.

Miss Annie Doyle left on Wednesday by the steamer United Empire for Sault Ste. Marie.

Mr. Ed. VanEvery left on Wednesday for Port Coldwell, Algoma, to superintend the fishing station there.

Mr. Andrew Waddell on Tuesday left for Sudbury on business in connection with his mining claims in that section.

Mr. Hilton Holmes who had been spending a three weeks' holiday in town, returned to Toronto on Wednesday.

Clinton News Era.—Mr. Howard Cox of Goderich, is now in town, having come down from the suburb to clerk in the store of Mr. T. Dettlor.

The Gospel Standard, an English newspaper of very strict tendencies, advertising that "No charge is made for inserting the death of godly persons."

Wingham Advance.—Mr. D. B. Calbiok, of the Goderich Organ Factory, was in town last Friday. Dan reports business lively in that town.

Mr. H. S. Holmes, of Aton, spent a few days in town this week, visiting old friends. Harry is always welcomed to Goderich by the "old heads."

Among the bills to which the royal assent was given at Ottawa on Thursday last week was one to incorporate the Owen Sound & Lake Huron Railway.

Mr. Will. Trainor, of Chicago, is visiting in town.

Messrs Walter Shearman and Charles Reid retained this week from Louisville, Ky., and have gone to Lucknow, where they have secured work.

The Goderich bicycle club purpose going to Lucknow on the 24th inst. There are to be some races there on that day and it is hoped to capture the Seapoy town.

Mrs S. S. Morris and daughter Cora, of Pinnoching, Mich., are the guests of the former's mother, Mrs. O'Brien, Victoria-st., and are also visiting other relatives in town.

Mr Winchester, Government inspector of legal offices, was in town Wednesday last, seeing that the pigeon-hole, &c., of our local officers were in a fit and proper condition.

The Salvation Army has purchased, as a site for the barracks to be erected shortly, the lot on the corner of Waterloo and Lighthouse-sts., in the rear of the roller mill.

Judge Doyle and Mrs. Doyle returned from Baltimore, Md., last week, whither they had been on a health and pleasure trip, which had proved beneficial in the highest sense.

The Knox church Young People's Association will give an entertainment on the evening of Friday, May 31st. Refreshments will be served and a good program is being prepared.

Mr. Alex. Saunders is now the lessee of the Grand Opera House, having taken over the interest of Mr. C. W. Andrews. A good number of first-class shows are booked for the summer months.

The outpost of Clinton has been detached from the port of London and placed under the survey of the collector of customs at Goderich, the change to take effect on the 1st July next.

Woodslock Sentinel Review.—Wm. Burrows, a former resident in the vicinity of Richmond, is now a prosperous flour and feed merchant and general dealer in seeds and agricultural implements in Goderich.

Don't make any engagement for the evening of Thursday, May 8th, as the Y.P.A. of North-st. Methodist church are going to give another of their excellent 10c. entertainments on that evening. Watch for the bills.

The sad news has been received of the death of Rev. T. A. Large, formerly of Luttwal, Methodist missionary in Japan. He was stabbed to death by native burglars, who had entered his house. Particulars are very meagre as yet.

J. A. Robertson, manager of the Goderich Marble Works, has moved the works to the second door north of Wm. Acheson's harness shop. He has now the finest marble shop in the county, and is prepared to attend to all orders for work in his line.

THE CREAMERY.—Mr. John Hannah desires us to correct the rumor that has gained currency in Colborne that the Goderich creamery project had fallen through. Arrangements have been made for the successful prosecution of the enterprise at an early date.

ORGAN CO. MEETING.—A general meeting of the shareholders of the Goderich Organ Company (limited), will be held in the town hall, on Tuesday, May 13th, 1890, at 8 o'clock p.m., to take steps for further advancing the interests of the Company. A good attendance is requested.

Mr. C. W. Andrews, of R. B. Smith & Co., left on Thursday morning for Kansas City, Mo., where he is taking a situation. Charley will be missed in theatrical circles, always having been billed for the heavy business in local companies. We wish him success in his new sphere.

W. C. T. U.—On Tuesday evening, May 6th, in the Temperance Hall, a public meeting will be held under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. An address by Rev. B. L. Hutton, renderings from North-st. S.S. orchestra, readings, recitations, songs, etc., from several others will make up the program. All are invited. Collection at the door.

THE BASEBALL CLUB.—The Goderich baseball club met Saturday evening and elected the following officers:—President, L. Crawford; vice-president, W. Proudfoot; captain, P. Malcomson; secretary, treasurer, H. Cooke; managing committee, T. Stratton, Herb. Robertson and H. Beacham. The prospects are bright for a prosperous season for baseball in Goderich.

Assembly Hall, over Smith's bakery, has been comfortably fitted up for a meeting room by D. K. Strachan, and is commodious and well lighted. The meetings are as follows:—Breaking of bread, Lord's Day, 11 a.m.; Tuesday evening, at 7:30 p.m.; Bible study, Friday, at 7:30 p.m.; prayer meeting, Gospel preaching every Lord's Day evening by A. J. Mauger. All are welcome.

THE ST. GEORGE TRIAL.—On Thursday of last week the jury in the St. George accident case at Osquode Hall, Toronto, brought in their answers to the questions submitted to them by Mr. Justice Rose. The court was then adjourned until May 16th, when the matter will be further argued. The plaintiffs base strong hopes of a verdict in their favor on the findings of the jury. If judgment be given against the Grand Trunk Railway, it is said the case will be carried to the Privy Council. Mr. J. C. Hyslop, of Goderich, one of the plaintiffs, who was present throughout the whole trial, which began Feb. 18th, has returned to town.

Dr. M. Nicholson, the West-end dentist, makes the preservation of the natural teeth a specialty. Gas administered from 9 a. m. for the painless extraction of teeth.

SPECIAL SERMON.—By request next Sunday evening, in his church, Victoria-st., Rev. B. L. Hutton will preach a sermon to working people. Theme—"The Labor Problem Solved."

Knox church Band of Hope will meet on Saturday, May 3rd, at three o'clock sharp. All are invited to be present, to practise for the closing entertainment, which will be held at an early date.

MEETING OF LICENSE COMMISSIONERS.—At an adjourned meeting of the license commissioners of West Huron held at Byth on Friday last the following licenses were granted:—J. L. Knight, Jas. Scott, R. H. Miles, John Mason, Blyth; Wm. Babb, Goderich; Frank Hermann, Clinton. A license was not granted to Alex. Stewart, Belgrave.

TEMPERANCE.—The Young Women's Christian Temperance Union will hold their regular monthly meeting on Monday, May 6th, at 7:30 p. m., in the reception room of Geo. Stewart, photographer, over Chas. A. Nairn's store. All are invited. Committees are requested to meet at seven o'clock. The meeting will close at 9 p. m. sharp.

THE ODDFELLOWS.—The members of Huron Lodge, No. 62, I. O. O. F., attended a driving party on Friday, May 3rd, at the Methodist church last Sunday morning. Several Clinton Oddfellows also were present. The pastor of the church, Rev. B. L. Hutton, preached an able sermon, which was greatly appreciated by the brethren of the Order. In the afternoon a number of the members of Huron Lodge reciprocated the visit of the Clinton brethren by accompanying them on their return to Clinton, where a discourse was delivered to them by Rev. W. McDonagh, of London.

HOW TO TELL A COUNTERFEIT BILL.—Take a United States bill of any denomination and hold it to the light and you will see two lines running entirely across its lengthwise. Upon examination you will find these to consist of silk threads, a red one and a blue one. Every genuine bill has this mark of genuineness. Without these marks a bill may be put down as counterfeit, no matter how good the engraving on it. No paper mill dare to make this sort of paper, and this is the Government's only protection on its currency.—Whiteseid (Ill.) Herald.

A HINT TO GODERICH COURTS.—At Philadelphia the other day a young woman in court neglected to kiss the Bible in taking the oath. When part of her evidence had been given counsel on the other side objected on the ground of this omission. Judge Arnold out the matter short by ordering the witness to be sworn by the uplifted hand. "I am not surprised," said the judge, "that this is the first time you have been in court, and you will see that I am not doing it either—a dirty book like that. This custom is a relic of idolatry, and the sooner it is abolished the better it will be. I don't think this witness objects to kissing the book because she intends to lie, but because it is a dirty book. I respect her regard for her person and her health."

DOCTOR AND DRUGGIST.—TORONTO, April 26.—Judge Rose in Queen's Bench Division gave judgment in the case of Stratton vs. Holmes. Judgment in action tried with a jury at Goderich on Oct. 25th, 1889. The defendant, Thomas G. Holmes, a physician, and the defendant, George A. Deadman, a druggist. The defendant Holmes prescribed for the plaintiff, who was ill. One of the ingredients of the prescription was hydrochloric acid. The plaintiff sent the prescription to the defendant Deadman's drug store. On it was written "Chg. to D. G. H." by which was meant that the druggist should charge the mixture to the doctor, which was done. The doctor charged his fee and was paid by the plaintiff's husband. This fee included the charge for the mixture. In compounding it the druggist's clerk by mistake put in hydrocyanic (prussic) acid instead of hydrochloric acid; and this was administered to the plaintiff, who suffered somewhat severely from the effects of the poison. The statement of claim charged that the defendants did not exercise reasonable and proper care, and were guilty of gross negligence and want of professional care and skill. The jury found that the plaintiff suffered injury, but that the effect was merely temporary, and they assessed the damages at $100. The learned Judge now gives judgment holding that the defendant Holmes was guilty of no negligence, that his prescription was properly prepared and every act of his was done with due care; that he was no more guilty of negligence than it he had gone to the drug store and purchased for the plaintiff a bottle of any prepared mixture which to all appearances was properly prepared. He holds, however, that the defendant Deadman is liable, pointing out that the person for whom the mixture was required was known to the prescription had written on its face "Mrs. John Stratton." Judgment against the defendant, Deadman, for $100, and dismissing the action against the defendant, Holmes. The learned Judge is further of opinion that the plaintiff should not have full costs; and, acting upon a suggestion made by counsel for the defendants at the trial, he orders that there be no costs to any of the parties. A. M. Taylor and Lewis (Goderich) for the plaintiff; Garrow, Q. C., and Proudfoot (Goderich) for the defendant.

Mr. Wm. Munro left on the United Empire on Wednesday for Winnipeg.

Mrs. W. T. Yates and son, of Wingham, are visiting her parents, Mr and Mrs N. Weston.

OFFICIAL INSPECTION.—Col. Aylmer, D.A.G., of London, was in town this week making an official inspection of the arms and accoutrements of No. 1 Company, of Goderich, and expressed himself as being much pleased with the neat condition in which the volunteers' effects are kept. He also went to Daungannon to make his inspection there.

DISMISSED.—Friday before last the case of M. M. Cardiff and R. L. Taylor came up for hearing before Judge Toms, in the Court House, Goderich. The witnesses called were A. Hunter, F. S. Scott, Jas. Ross, J. Burton, senior and junior, and Wm. Spence, the evidence submitted being about the same as given at the Magistrates' Court. Lawyer Campion for defence argued that the Crown had not made out a case, as the validity of the chattel mortgage was not decided. The Judge stated that it was incumbent on the Crown to prove that the mortgage was not good. County Attorney Lewis thought it should devolve on the defence to prove that the mortgage was valid, but Judge Toms held to his position and the case was dismissed. The matter stands about like this, if the chattel mortgage was good the defendants were in the right, and if otherwise the bailiff was only doing his duty in taking and holding the animals seized.

AT THE HARBOR.

A number of interesting items picked up at the Lake Front.

Mr. William Black left on Saturday last for Sarnia to take ship there.

The tug J. H. Jones and W. H. Seibold left on Saturday for South Bay with fishermen's supplies. A number of fishing boats were in tow of the Jones.

The schr. Fanny Campbell sailed light on Saturday for Sarnia's Encampment, to load poplar for Port Huron.

On Monday the tug Orcaida left for South Bay with fishing supplies and a ton of fishing tows.

The schr. Jane McLeod sailed on Monday to load lumber at French River for Sarnia.

The schr. Mary S. Gordon sailed on Monday for Owen Sound, with a cargo of 400 barrels of salt.

On Wednesday morning the str. United Empire arrived from Sarnia with passengers and freight, and after taking on a number of passengers, and a quantity of freight, including five carloads of salt and one carload of bacon, left for Daluth.

The schr. H. N. Tidman, from Detroit for Golden Valley, ran in for shelter on Wednesday.

The forest and spar of the lost fishing boat Parisian were found on the shore about four miles below Byfield on Saturday, but no trace of the bodies of the unfortunate Matheson boys has yet been discovered.

The str. Company will be the second boat of the Battery line to begin its season's work, and is expected here on Saturday.

Mr. John Bain has been re-appointed by Jas. Clark as storekeeper of the fishing colony at South Bay. This is the third consecutive season John has filled this position.

The new tug, Sea Gull, built by Wm. Mariton, made a successful trial trip on Wednesday, its speed exceeding all expectations of its owners.

The tug Myrtle is having a new boiler put in, and will be ready to depart for the fishing grounds in a few days.

The repairs on the schr. Ontario have been completed, and she will sail on Saturday for Blind River with a cargo of hay and timber.

John Morrison launched his new fishing boat on Wednesday. He will leave with it shortly for Port Coldwell.

The scow Pinafore, owned by Jas. Williams, which has been undergoing repairs on the island, will be taken off the stocks on Saturday.

GREY.

From our own correspondent.

Seeding is well advanced in this section. The majority will finish this week.

S. Kreiser, mason, has gone to the "500," where he will work as his trade all summer.

Robt. Fyne is here on a visit. He has been in the Parry Sound district for over three years.

Jno. Brown has leased for a term of years the farm recently owned by V. Seimon.

On Friday evening of last week an elocutionary contest took place in Shine's school house between the pupils for a Demorest silver medal. At an early hour the school house was packed to the doors, so great was the interest taken in the affair by the people of the section. There were six competitors, viz:—Lizzie Calder, C. Pepper, A. McKay, Jane Mitchell, Eddy Hill and Tessie Switzer. All did remarkably well. At the close the medal was awarded to Tessie Switzer. The piece recited by her was entitled "A voice from the poor house." The judges were O. Fowler, J. McLaughlin, teachers, and W. H. Kerr, of the Brussels Post. S. Anderson, dentist, Brussels, occupied the chair.

THE EDITOR'S TABLE.

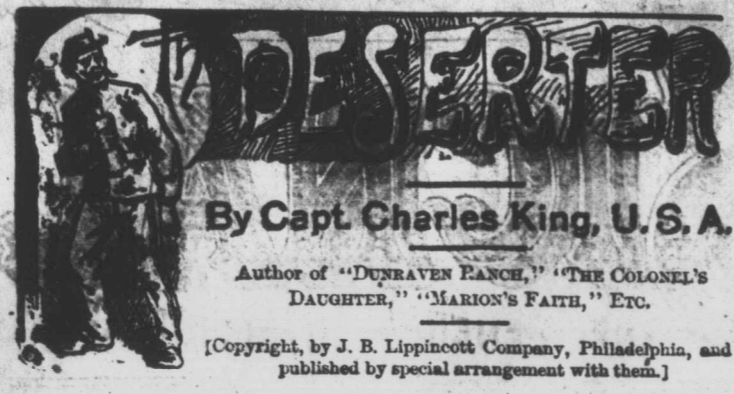

A word or two about New Publications That Have Come to Hand.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE FOR MAY.

In Harper's Magazine for May L. E. Chittenden, Register of the United States Treasury under President Lincoln, relates for the first time in full detail how he accomplished the feat of signing twelve thousand five hundred bonds between twelve o'clock on a certain Friday in 1862 and 4 o'clock a.m. on the following Monday. Theodore Child opens the number with "Some Modern French Painters," with fifteen illustrations (including frontispiece) from paintings by leading artists and drawings by Paul Renouard and L. O. Meissonier. Prof. S. H. Butcher, LL.D., of Edinburgh University, contributes an article on "The Evolution of Humor." In twenty-six drawings Howard Pyle makes visible the life of the olden time, described by John Austin Stevens in "Old New York Taverns." Wm. N. Shaw contributes an article, entitled "Through Bush and Fern" (illustrated), on Australian fauna and flora. Louise Imogen Guiney revives the memories of those "charming old poets" who wrote "English Lyrics under the First Charles." Mary E. Wilkins and Aubrey De Vere contribute poems; and there are short stories by Edward Everett Hale, S. B. Elliott and E. H. Lockwood. W. D. Howells concludes his dramatic analysis of a remarkable compilation in "The Shadow of a Dream." The editorial departments are characterized by the same novelty as the body of the magazine.

WIDE AWAKE FOR MAY.

The May Wide Awake opens with a portrait of Miss Charlotte M. Yonge, author of "The Heir of Redclyffe" and "The Daisy Chain" as frontispiece; farther on, Oscar Fay Adams describes his visits with her at Otterbourne. Other articles are:

By Capt. Charles King, U.S.A.

Author of "DEBRAVEN RANCH," "THE COLONEL'S DAUGHTER," "MARION'S FAITH," ETC.

(Copyright, by J. B. Lippincott Company, Philadelphia, and published by special arrangement with them.)

Buxton could hardly wait until morning to see Rayner. When he passed the latter's quarters half an hour later all was darkness, though, had he known it, Rayner was not asleep. He was at the house before guard mounting and had a confidential and evidently exciting talk with the captain; and when he went, just as the trumpets were sounding, these words were heard at the front door: "She never left until after daylight, when the same rig drove her back to town. There was a stranger with her then."

That morning both Rayner and Buxton looked hard at Mr. Hayne when he came in to the matinee; but he was just as calm and quiet as ever, and having said the commanding officer took a seat by Capt. Gregg and was soon occupied in conversation with him. Not a word was said by the officer of the day about the mysterious visitor to the garrison the previous night. With Capt. Rayner, however, he was again in conversation much of the day, and to him, not to his successor as officer of the day, did he communicate all the details of the previous night's adventure and his theories thereat.

Late that night, having occasion to step to his front door, convinced that he heard stealthy footsteps on his piazza, Mr. Hayne could see nobody in the darkness, but found his front gate open. He walked around his little house, but not a man was visible. His heart was full of a new and strange excitement that night, and, as before, he threw on his overcoat and furs and took a rapid walk around the garrison, gazing up into the starry heavens and drinking in great draughts of the pure, bracing air. Returning, he came down along the front of officers' row, and as he approached Rayner's quarters his eyes rested longingly upon the window he knew to be hers now; but all was darkness. As he rapidly neared the house, however, he became aware of two bulky figures at the gate, and, as he walked briskly past, recognized the overcoats of those officers. One man was doubtless Rayner, the other he could not tell; for both, the instant they recognized his step, seemed to avert their heads. Once home again, he soon sought his room and pillow; but, long before he could sleep, again and again a sweet vision seemed to come to him; he could not shut out the thought of Nellie Travers—of how she looked and what she said that very afternoon.

He had gone to call at Mrs. Waldron's room after dark. He was at the piano, playing for her, when he became conscious that another lady had entered the room, and, turning, saw Nellie Travers. He rose and bowed to her, extending his hand as he did so, and knowing that his heart was thumping and his color rising as he felt the soft, warm touch of her slender fingers in his grasp. She, too, had flushed—any one could see it, though the lamps were not turned high, nor was the frelight strong.

"Miss Travers has come to take tea very quietly with me, Mr. Hayne—she is so soon to return to the east—and now I want you to stay and join us. No one will be here but the major; and we will have a lovely time with our music. You will, won't you?"

"So soon to return to the east!" How harsh and unwelcome the words sounded! How they seemed to oppress him and prevent his reply! He stood a moment dazed and vaguely worried; he could not explain it. He looked from Mrs. Waldron's kind face to the sweet, flushed, lovely features there so near him, and something told him that he could never let them go and find even hope or content in life again. How, why had she so strangely come into his lonely life, radiant, beautiful, bewildering, and so suddenly blazing star in the darkest corner of the heavens? Whence had come this strange power that enthralled him? He gazed into her sweet face, with its downcast, troubled eyes, and then, in bewilderment, turned to Mrs. Waldron:

"I—I had no idea Miss Travers was going east again just now. It seems only a few days since she came."

"It is over a month; but all the same this is a sudden decision. I knew nothing of it until yesterday. You said Mrs. Rayner was better today, Nellie?"

"I don't know," said Rayner, "but I must tell her and avert disaster." And with this barefaced statement on her lips and conscience, where it rested with equal lightness, that exemplary lady quitted the room. In the sanctity of the conjugal chamber that evening, some hours later, she thus explained her action to her silent spouse:

"Right or wrong, I meant that those two young people should have a chance to know each other. I have been convinced for three weeks that she is being forced into this New York match, and for the last week that she is wretchedly unhappy. You say you believe him a wronged and injured man, only you can't prove it, and you have said that nothing could be too good for him in this life as a reward for all his bravery and fortitude under fearful trials. Then Nellie Travers isn't too good for him, sweet as she is, and I don't care who calls me a matchmaker."

But with Mrs. Waldron away the two appeared to have made but halting progress towards friendship. With all her outspoken pluck at school and at home, Miss Travers was strangely ill at ease and embarrassed now. Mr. Hayne was the first to gain self control and to endeavor to bring the conversation back to a natural channel. It was a struggle; but he had grown accustomed to struggles. He could not imagine that the girl whom he had met only once or twice should have for him anything more than the vaguest and most casual interest. He well knew by this time how deep and vehement was the interest she had aroused in his heart; but it would never do to betray himself so soon. He strove to interest her in reference to the music she would hear, and to learn from her where they were going. This she answered. They would go no further east than St. Louis or Chicago. They might go south as far as Nashville until mid-May. As for the summer it would depend on the captain and his leave of absence. It was all vague and unsettled. Mrs. Rayner was so wretched that her husband was convinced that she ought to leave for the states as soon as possible, and of course "she" must go with her. All the gladdens, brightness, vivacity he had seen and heard of as her marked characteristics seemed gone; and yet she wanted to speak with him—wanted to be with him. What could be wrong? he asked himself. It was not until Mrs. Waldron's step was heard returning that she nervously herself to sudden, almost desperate effort. She started him with her vehemence:

"Mr. Hayne, there is something I must tell you before I go. If no opportunity occurs, I'll write it."

And those were the words that had been haunting him all the evening, for they were not again alone, and he had no chance to ask a question. What could she mean? For years he had been living a life of steady denial, but long before his promotion the last penny of the obligation that, justly or otherwise, had been laid upon his shoulders was paid with interest. He was a man free and self-respecting, strong, resolute, and possessed of an independence that never would have been his had his life run on in the same easy, trusting, happy-go-lucky style in which he had spent the first two years of his army career. But in his isolation he had allowed himself to der orders for several days to proceed on this particular date to a large town a day's journey eastward by rail. A court martial composed mainly of field officers was ordered there to assemble for the trial of an old captain of cavalry whose propensity it was not so much to get drunk as never to get drunk without a concomitant publicity and discovery. It was a rare thing for the old war dog to take so much as a glass of wine; he went for months without it; but the instant he began to drink he was moved to do so something disreputable, and that was the trouble now. He was an unlucky old trooper, who had risen from the lowest grades, fought with credit, and even, at times, commanded his regiment during the war, but was recorded as not being in his mind when he wouldn't stay himself, and he had to go. The court was ordered, and the result was a foregone conclusion. The colonel, his adjutant and Maj. Stannard were to drive to town during the afternoon and take the east bound train, leaving Maj. Waldron in command of the post; but before guard mounting a telegram was received, which was sent from department headquarters the evening before, announcing that one of the officers detailed for the court was seriously ill and directing Maj. Waldron to take his place. So it resulted in the post being left to the command of the senior captain present for duty, and that man was Capt. Buxton. He had never had so big a command before in all his life.

Maj. Waldron of course had to go home and make his preparations. Mr. Hayne, therefore, had brief opportunity to speak with him. It was seen, however, that they had a short talk together on the major's piazza, and that when they parted the major shook him warmly and cordially by the hand. Rayner, Buxton, Ross and some juniors happened to be coming down along the walk at the moment, and, seeing them, as though with pointed meaning the major called out, so that all could hear:

"By the way, Hayne, I wish you would drop in occasionally while I'm gone and take Mrs. Waldron out for a walk or drive; my horses are always at your service. And—a—I'll write you about that matter the moment I've had a chance to talk with the colonel—to-morrow, probably." And Hayne touched his cap in parting salute, and went blithely off with brightened eye and rising color.

Buxton glowered after him a moment, and conversation suddenly ceased in their party. Finally he burst out:

"Strikes me your major might do a good deal better by himself and his regiment by standing up for its morale and discipline than by openly flouting his favoritism for convicts in our faces. If I were in your regiment I'd cut him."

ODDS AND ENDS.

A Little Nonsense, Now and Then, is Refreshed by the Sweet of Men.

It's a poor mule that doesn't work both ways.

Stubborn children readily take Dr. Low's Worm Syrup. It pleases the child and destroys the worms.

Women, if healthy, too out; most men too in a hilt, at least with the right foot. Notice yourselves and see.

As an aid to internal remedies for skin diseases, Dr. Low's Sulphur Soap proves very valuable.

Boiling water will remove tea-stains, and many fruit-stains. Pour the water through the stain, and thus prevent its spreading over the fabric.

The red color of the blood is caused by the iron it contains. Supply the iron when lacking by using Miburn's Beef, Iron and Wine.

One ounce each of cloves, cedar and rhubarb, pulverised together, makes a good perfume for closets and drawers, and the mixture helps to prevent moths.

"Many men, many minds," but all men and all minds agree as to the merits of Burdock Pills, small and sugar-coated.

Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes once said that easy crying widows take new husbands soonest. There is nothing like wet weather, he says, for transplanting.

Ladies who are troubled with roughness of the skin or cracked, should keep a bottle of Parisian Balm in the house. It is delightfully perfumed and softens, heals and beautifies the skin.

"Isn't it heavenly?" ejaculated Miss Gush, in reference to Miss Pedal's performances on the piano. "Yes," replied Foggy, "it is indeed heavenly. It sounds like thunder."

The value of a remedy should be estimated by its curative properties. According to this standard, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best and most economical blood medicine in the market, because it is so pure and concentrated. Price $1. Worth $5 a bottle.

To bathe the eyes properly, take a large basin of cold water, bend the head close over it, and with both hands throw the water with some force on the gently-closed lids. This has something of the same effect as a shower-bath, and has a toning-up influence.

The strength of this article is extraordinary. After being cemented most articles will break in another place rather than where cemented. Price 15 cents from druggists.

A Fever. A lady who had been teaching her little four-year-old the elements of arithmetic was astounded by his running and propounding the following problem: "Mamma, if you had three butterflies, and each butterfly had a bug in his ear, how many butterflies would you have?" The mother is still at work on the problem.

Cough No More. Your cough may lead to disease of the lungs, therefore do not neglect it. Wilson's Wild Cherry will cure it quickly and effectually. For colds, croup, whooping cough, bronchitis, loss of voice, etc., no medicine equals Wilson's Wild Cherry, as thousands testify. Sold by all druggists.

The Worthy Peer. "Say, mister," said a soiled-looking boy on the wharf, "do you ever give a piece of watermelon to a poor boy whose father 'n mother's dead, 'n who goes to Sunday-school, 'n who's got a sore heel?" The man was deeply touched, and gave him a large slice of a partially decayed one.

Easily Ascertained. It is easy to find out from anyone who has used it, the virtues of Hagar's Yellow Oil for all painful and inflammatory troubles, rheumatism, neuralgia, lumbago, frost bites, burns, bruises, sprains, contracted cords, stiff joints, aches, pains and soreness of any kind, it has no superior.

She Knew It All. A young woman who had never learned the art of cookery, being desirous of impressing her husband with her knowledge and diligence, managed to leave the kitchen door ajar on the day after their return from the bridal trip, and just as her lord came in from the office exclaimed loudly, "Harry up, Elizabeth! Haven't you washed the lettuce yet? Here, give it to me; where is the soap?"

High Time to Begin. After a long winter the system needs a thorough cleansing, toning and regulating to remove impurities and prepare for summer. Thousands of testimonials show that Burdock Blood Bitters is the best spring medicine ever discovered, producing a feeling of buoyancy and strength. It removes that tired, worn out feeling, and restores lost appetite. 2

An Ounce Only. An old Highlander rather fond of his toddy was ordered by his physician, during a temporary illness, not to exceed one ounce of spirits daily. The old gentleman was dubious about the amount, and asked his son, a schoolboy, how much an ounce was. "Sixteen drams," was the reply. "Sixteen drams!" an excellent doctor," replied the delighted Highlander. "Run and tell Donald McTavish and Big John to come down the hill!"

The Best and the Cheapest. 100 doses for 100 cents, Burdock Blood Bitters.

Does your head ache? Take Burdock Blood Bitters.

Is your blood impure? Take Burdock Blood Bitters.

Are you constive? Take Burdock Blood Bitters.

Are you bilious? Take Burdock Blood Bitters.

Are you dyspeptic? Take Burdock Blood Bitters.

I cent a dose, I cent a dose, Burdock Blood Bitters.

A Seasonable Hint. During the breaking up of winter, damp, chilly weather prevails, and rheumatism, neuralgia, lumbago, sore throat, croup, quinsy and other painful effects of sudden cold are common. Hagar's Yellow Oil is a truly valuable household remedy for all such complaints. 2

A Lake Industry.

The Toledo Blade claims that it is possible to introduce a new industry on the line of the great lake which will be most profitable, namely, the breeding of seals. A justification of this claim our contemporary reminds the people that a few years ago some men in California determined to go into the ostrich business. People all over the United States thought they were visionaries, but nevertheless they expended a good deal of money in sending to Africa for ostriches and bringing them to California. Several of them died while being transported, but there was a sufficient number of them left to give the industry a fair trial. Even after the birds began to lay eggs people in California said the projector of the enterprise had thrown their money away. But incubation went on satisfactorily, and the young ostriches came out in a healthy condition, and it was not long until all admitted that it was a success. More ostriches were brought from Africa, and the industry flourished to such a degree that the authorities issued an order preventing the taking of any more ostriches out of the country. There are plenty of these birds in California now, and large and fine as the best specimens found in Africa. It is claimed that the seal industry promises as good results as ostrich farming, and that they may be raised in any of the great lakes, Lake Erie especially. The small islands and rocky promontories of the lake would be just the place for them to come out and bask in the sun, for seals like to get out on a rock and warm themselves in this way. All small lakes, however, are, it is claimed, suitable. Rocky promontories might be made as basking places, and the industry would flourish from the start. They would soon learn to go regularly to a given place for their food. It would be an immensely profitable business. Some people have an idea that a seal will not thrive excepting in a very cold climate. This, however, our contemporary claims, is a mistake. They will thrive in any fresh lake. In the Pacific ocean, off the coast of California, there is a prominence, and there are many seals there. They are protected by law. It must be remembered that it is warm there. During the winter months fa- cheap house for protection could be built on the edge of the lake, to which the seals could come for air, as they must have this. The house, however, is necessary when the lake was frozen over. A seal can stay under the water from 15 to 20 minutes, when it must come to the surface for air. Summing up, the Blade concludes that one need not live many years to see the lady residents of lake cities wearing seal skin escaques made from seals. For persons of delicate and feeble constitution, whether young or old, this medicine is remarkably beneficial. Be sure you get Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

General Debility. A few weeks since, we began to give her Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Her health has greatly improved. — Mrs. Harriet H. Battles, South Chelmsford, Mass.

"About a year ago I began using Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for debility and neuralgia resulting from malarial exposure in the army. I was in a very bad condition, but six bottles of the Sarsaparilla, with occasional doses of Ayer's Pills, have greatly improved my health. I am now able to work, and feel that I cannot say too much for your excellent remedies." — F. A. Pinkham, South Molunness, Me.

"My daughter, sixteen years old, is using Ayer's Sarsaparilla with good effect." — Rev. S. J. Graham, United Brethren Church, Buckingham, W. Va.

I suffered from Nervous Prostration, with lame back and headache, and have been much benefited by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I am now 80 years of age, and am satisfied that my present health and prolonged life are due to the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. — Lucy Moffitt, Killingly, Conn.

Mrs. Ann H. Farnsworth, a lady 79 years old, So. Woodstock, Vt., writes: "After several weeks' suffering from nervous prostration, I procured a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken half of it my usual health returned."

HURON SIGNAL

FRIDAY, APRIL 25, 1890.

THE WEST HURON CANDIDATURE.

What Our Exchanges Have to Say on the Subject.

From the Mitchell Recorder. It was announced by the Globe on Wednesday that the Provincial Treasurer, Hon. A. M. Ross, will not offer for re-election in West Huron at the coming election.

From the Waterloo Chronicle. The announcement was made yesterday that the Hon. A. M. Ross will not be a candidate for West Huron at the approaching general election.

From the Brussels Post. It is stated, with a large degree of certainty, that Hon. A. M. Ross, Provincial Treasurer, will retire from the political arena and that a Convention will be held early in May in West Huron to select a candidate for that Riding.

From the Toronto Telegram. The Hon. A. M. Ross has informed his friends in West Huron that he will not be a candidate at the forthcoming elections. A Liberal convention will be held on the 5th prox. to nominate his successor.

From the Catholic Record, London. For the West Riding of Huron the name of Mr. McGILLICUDDY, of Goderich, has been prominently mentioned as the coming man for nomination by the Reform party.

The Star endeavored to be facetious last week at the expense of THE SIGNAL, and alluded to this journal as the former organ of Hon. A. M. Ross. The Star knows perfectly well, and the people know perfectly well, and Mr. Ross knows perfectly well that THE SIGNAL is the pocket organ of no man or clique.

Mr. John L. Little has purchased the farm of Mr. A. McIntyre, Colross, 117 acres. He now has about 270 acres of the finest farming land in Ontario.

Mrs. B. Holmes, Wingham, left last week for Waterloo, to wait upon her sister-in-law, Mrs. Gray, who is dangerously ill. She is the daughter of B. Holmes, sr., of Turnberry.

THE CONVENTION.

The Reform Convention for the West Riding of Huron will meet at the Temperance Hall, North-st., Goderich, on Monday, May 5th, at 1 o'clock sharp, to select a candidate to contest the Riding at the ensuing election.

Three delegates are allowed as the representation for each polling sub-division in the Riding, and it is important that every polling sub-division should be fully represented.

We would also warn the electors that a brazen attempt to interfere with the freedom of Monday's selection has been made in at least one quarter by the sending out of circulars and by personal canvass by one of the aspirants, and we hope that such ungentlemanly conduct will be promptly frowned down by every delegate who attends the meeting.

The Reformers of West Huron want no packed Convention, and any candidate who would resort to such a gutter-snipe policy deserves the back of the hand from the Reformers of West Huron.

The tests for candidature should be character first; then past service and political knowledge; and then fluency of platform utterance. The faculty of pulling wires and playing cutthroat should not be esteemed a necessary qualification. The "heeler" is only a "heeler" after all, and should never be at the front.

Gentlemen of the Convention, remain unpugged until you come to the Convention, and then be governed by the interest of the Riding, and not by the "gali" of the man who endeavored to warp your judgment by soliciting your vote.

TORONTO'S BIG BOOM.

That Toronto has "increased and multiplied" during the past twenty years is an indubitable fact. True, we in the country towns claim that the Queen City has progressed to our detriment, but, be that as it may, the phenomenal increase has been something to arrest the attention of everybody.

The men are now before our readers and can be judged on their merits. Don't let any delegate pledge himself, however, until the candidates come before the convention.

At the regular meeting of Court Woodbine, No. 100, Canadian Order of Foresters, at Cranbrook, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term:—Adam McKay, C.R.; Dan Robertson, V.C.R.; Anthony Kayman, R.S.; Jim McIntosh, P.S.; Albert Dames, Treas.; Geo. Bothwell, Chap.; Dan Zimmer, S.W.; Harry Smaldon, J.W.; Jas. Huston, S.B.; Jas. Cusic, J.B.

HAMILTON, FEB. 14th, 1890. This is to certify that the piano used for my concert in Hamilton, Ont., on Feb. 13th, 1890 (a Chickering Grand) was put in order by Mr. E. Hodgkins, of Hamilton, and was in perfect condition, the tuning being good and exactly as I desired it. I cheerfully recommend him to those wishing good tuning.

latter, with the natural copper color of the metal cornice work, effectively removes the monotony and sameness of the deep brown-stone. The corner is accentuated by a graceful tower, which seems to articulate the principal masses of the composition, and with the emphasized extreme angles breaks the facade into three unequal though symmetrical parts.

ALL ELECTROCUTIONS INDEFINITELY POSTPONED.

If Judge Wallace Had Been Strict Kemmler Would Now Be Dead—Attorney Sherman Declines to Tell Who Pays Him—What He Says About the Law.

AUBURN, April 30.—Judge Wallace, who granted the writ of habeas corpus and thereby disappointed the scientists and delayed Kemmler's doom, explains his action as follows:

"Yesterday a reputable lawyer came before me and said that he was acting for Kemmler's Buffalo counsel in appearing for a writ of habeas corpus for William Kemmler, condemned to suffer the extreme penalty of the law by electricity, in violation of the clause in the constitution prohibiting any punishment of a cruel and inhuman nature. The application was made for a United States court, as bearing upon a United States constitutional provision."

"The petition was incomplete in one of its details," continued Judge Wallace: "it did not bear Kemmler's signature. However, here was a man condemned to die—perhaps a hundred times over—and I have never seen a man who has been executed. It seemed peculiar to me also that such application had not been made earlier. The parties could have done so two months ago instead of waiting till the last moment—perhaps even until a time when a writ of habeas corpus would be of no benefit to the party in whose interest application was made."

"I could grant a writ of two natures, one returnable to me immediately outside of the court, and another returnable at the next term of the Circuit Court to be held in June at Canandaigua. I refused, despite the irregular nature of the petition, to grant the writ returnable at the regular term of the court, and signed the same, but did not affix the judicial seal."

"This writ, in its incomplete form, I sent to the Clerk of the United States Circuit Court of the Northern District of New York at Utica, with a letter of instruction to him to proceed to Auburn and satisfy himself that the petition for the application of the writ was regular and in due form, and if so, to secure Kemmler's signature to the petition and to attach the judicial seal to the writ, making the instrument operative."

"This, I presume, has been done, but I am not personally aware of the fact and I desire that nothing of this matter which is of a private nature has been received that all instructions have been complied with."

Judge Wallace did not give the name of the lawyer who has been instrumental in securing the respite for Kemmler, but he spoke slowly and impressively as a man who is saying all he feels can be said.

The petition for the writ of habeas corpus, made under sections 731 to 736 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, is as follows: To the Judges of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Northern District of New York: The petition of William Kemmler respectfully shows:

First—That he is a citizen of the United States and is deprived of his liberty by Charles F. Durston, agent and warden of Auburn Prison at Auburn, in the said county of Otsego, New York, who threatens and is about to put him, said Kemmler, to death by causing to pass through the body of him, said Kemmler, a current of electricity of sufficient intensity in the opinion of said Durston to cause death, and that he, said Kemmler, is held in custody and is deprived of his liberty against his will and in direct violation of the constitution of the United States.

Second—That the facts concerning the detention of him, said Kemmler, and the claim of authority by virtue of which he is so detained, are as follows: He was convicted in the County of Otsego and Territory of the county of Erie in the State of New York, of the crime of murder in the first degree, committed March 29, 1888, and a warrant has been issued upon the judgment of said court, directing that he, said Kemmler, be confined in the State Prison at Auburn, in the said county of Otsego, New York, until he shall have paid the fine and costs of said conviction, and that he, said Kemmler, be kept in the said prison until he shall have paid the same.

Third—That he is a citizen of the United States and is deprived of his liberty by Charles F. Durston, agent and warden of Auburn Prison at Auburn, in the said county of Otsego, New York, who threatens and is about to put him, said Kemmler, to death by causing to pass through the body of him, said Kemmler, a current of electricity of sufficient intensity to cause death, and that he, said Kemmler, is held in custody and is deprived of his liberty against his will and in direct violation of the constitution of the United States.

Fourth—That the facts concerning the detention of him, said Kemmler, and the claim of authority by virtue of which he is so detained, are as follows: He was convicted in the County of Otsego and Territory of the county of Erie in the State of New York, of the crime of murder in the first degree, committed March 29, 1888, and a warrant has been issued upon the judgment of said court, directing that he, said Kemmler, be confined in the State Prison at Auburn, in the said county of Otsego, New York, until he shall have paid the fine and costs of said conviction, and that he, said Kemmler, be kept in the said prison until he shall have paid the same.

Fifth—That the facts concerning the detention of him, said Kemmler, and the claim of authority by virtue of which he is so detained, are as follows: He was convicted in the County of Otsego and Territory of the county of Erie in the State of New York, of the crime of murder in the first degree, committed March 29, 1888, and a warrant has been issued upon the judgment of said court, directing that he, said Kemmler, be confined in the State Prison at Auburn, in the said county of Otsego, New York, until he shall have paid the fine and costs of said conviction, and that he, said Kemmler, be kept in the said prison until he shall have paid the same.

Sixth—That the facts concerning the detention of him, said Kemmler, and the claim of authority by virtue of which he is so detained, are as follows: He was convicted in the County of Otsego and Territory of the county of Erie in the State of New York, of the crime of murder in the first degree, committed March 29, 1888, and a warrant has been issued upon the judgment of said court, directing that he, said Kemmler, be confined in the State Prison at Auburn, in the said county of Otsego, New York, until he shall have paid the fine and costs of said conviction, and that he, said Kemmler, be kept in the said prison until he shall have paid the same.

Seventh—That the facts concerning the detention of him, said Kemmler, and the claim of authority by virtue of which he is so detained, are as follows: He was convicted in the County of Otsego and Territory of the county of Erie in the State of New York, of the crime of murder in the first degree, committed March 29, 1888, and a warrant has been issued upon the judgment of said court, directing that he, said Kemmler, be confined in the State Prison at Auburn, in the said county of Otsego, New York, until he shall have paid the fine and costs of said conviction, and that he, said Kemmler, be kept in the said prison until he shall have paid the same.

Eighth—That the facts concerning the detention of him, said Kemmler, and the claim of authority by virtue of which he is so detained, are as follows: He was convicted in the County of Otsego and Territory of the county of Erie in the State of New York, of the crime of murder in the first degree, committed March 29, 1888, and a warrant has been issued upon the judgment of said court, directing that he, said Kemmler, be confined in the State Prison at Auburn, in the said county of Otsego, New York, until he shall have paid the fine and costs of said conviction, and that he, said Kemmler, be kept in the said prison until he shall have paid the same.

Ninth—That the facts concerning the detention of him, said Kemmler, and the claim of authority by virtue of which he is so detained, are as follows: He was convicted in the County of Otsego and Territory of the county of Erie in the State of New York, of the crime of murder in the first degree, committed March 29, 1888, and a warrant has been issued upon the judgment of said court, directing that he, said Kemmler, be confined in the State Prison at Auburn, in the said county of Otsego, New York, until he shall have paid the fine and costs of said conviction, and that he, said Kemmler, be kept in the said prison until he shall have paid the same.

Tenth—That the facts concerning the detention of him, said Kemmler, and the claim of authority by virtue of which he is so detained, are as follows: He was convicted in the County of Otsego and Territory of the county of Erie in the State of New York, of the crime of murder in the first degree, committed March 29, 1888, and a warrant has been issued upon the judgment of said court, directing that he, said Kemmler, be confined in the State Prison at Auburn, in the said county of Otsego, New York, until he shall have paid the fine and costs of said conviction, and that he, said Kemmler, be kept in the said prison until he shall have paid the same.

Eleventh—That the facts concerning the detention of him, said Kemmler, and the claim of authority by virtue of which he is so detained, are as follows: He was convicted in the County of Otsego and Territory of the county of Erie in the State of New York, of the crime of murder in the first degree, committed March 29, 1888, and a warrant has been issued upon the judgment of said court, directing that he, said Kemmler, be confined in the State Prison at Auburn, in the said county of Otsego, New York, until he shall have paid the fine and costs of said conviction, and that he, said Kemmler, be kept in the said prison until he shall have paid the same.

Twelfth—That the facts concerning the detention of him, said Kemmler, and the claim of authority by virtue of which he is so detained, are as follows: He was convicted in the County of Otsego and Territory of the county of Erie in the State of New York, of the crime of murder in the first degree, committed March 29, 1888, and a warrant has been issued upon the judgment of said court, directing that he, said Kemmler, be confined in the State Prison at Auburn, in the said county of Otsego, New York, until he shall have paid the fine and costs of said conviction, and that he, said Kemmler, be kept in the said prison until he shall have paid the same.

Twentieth—That the facts concerning the detention of him, said Kemmler, and the claim of authority by virtue of which he is so detained, are as follows: He was convicted in the County of Otsego and Territory of the county of Erie in the State of New York, of the crime of murder in the first degree, committed March 29, 1888, and a warrant has been issued upon the judgment of said court, directing that he, said Kemmler, be confined in the State Prison at Auburn, in the said county of Otsego, New York, until he shall have paid the fine and costs of said conviction, and that he, said Kemmler, be kept in the said prison until he shall have paid the same.

and the same is true to the best of my knowledge, information and belief. WILLIAM KEMMLER. Sworn to before me this 28th day of April, 1890. D. B. McNEIL, notary public, Cayuga county.

I interviewed Attorney Roger M. Sherman who, as the whole world knows in spite of Judge Wallace's reticence as to the name of the lawyer securing the respite, is nominally acting for Kemmler but is paid by some unknown client.

"Who is your client in this case, Mr. Sherman?" I asked.

"Kemmler," he replied.

"But who has employed you?"

"That I am not at liberty to state. It was not the Westinghouse Company; they had nothing to do with the case at all."

"Are you doing it for glory?"

"No, I am not. You must remember that there are several prisoners in Sing Sing and Clinton awaiting sentence for murder and if I can get Kemmler free—and a favorable decision would do this—they would go free under the same ruling."

"The writ was granted on the question of the constitutionality of the law. At first blush it looks as if the question raised was the same as the Court of Appeals had already passed upon, but there is a natural difference. The Court of Appeals says in its decision that the only question it decides is the constitutionality of the law of 1888 providing for electrical execution under the State law. The court held that the question whether the law imposed a cruel and unusual punishment is a legislative and not a judicial question of facts on the evidence taken to a voluminous extent on that subject. The writ of habeas corpus is not intended to waive the question under the State constitution. The federal courts have no jurisdiction over that question. Its object is to determine whether the law violates the eighth and fourteenth amendments to the federal constitution. The eighth amendment contains the same provisions forbidding cruel and inhuman punishment for crime as that contained in the state constitution."

"The fourteenth amendment provides that no state shall pass or enforce any law abridging the privileges and immunities of citizens of the United States, and it also provides: 'Nor shall any person be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of the law.' These provisions of the federal constitution, and the acts of Congress passed to enforce them, empower the Circuit Court of the United States to inquire whether a state law is a violation of these provisions, as an independent and original question."

Mr. Sherman further said: "Notwithstanding that the Court of Appeals has declined to pass judicially upon the question whether the evidence taken proves that this punishment is cruel the federal courts are bound to determine the question. It has not yet been judicially decided that electrocution is or is not in fact cruel. It is my expectation that the federal courts will consider such evidence as may be adduced on that point, and if they differ from the Legislature and determine that it is a cruel as well as unusual punishment they will declare the law unconstitutional and discharge him under the writ."

"What will be the result if the law is pronounced unconstitutional?"

"Kemmler will go free. Precisely that same question has been decided by the Court of Appeals. If the electrical execution law is not sustained Kemmler can walk forth from Auburn prison and no one say him nay."

If the writ had not been issued yesterday Kemmler would have been beyond the reach of legal process. Warden Durston had decided to have the killing occur between 9 p.m. Tuesday and 6 a.m. Wednesday. The final test of the apparatus had been made. The warden took a sprightly calf of about 500 pounds to the death chamber, and without the preliminaries of putting on the face covering gave him a shock from the dynamo. The animal went away as if he was a log. Not a sound, not a tremor. He was like one frozen. Even the eyes gave no signs of pain, but simply stood still.

The general consensus of opinion among the lawyers here is that Kemmler stands very little show of getting off. His stay at the best is simply a temporary suspension of sentence and in the end the highest court of the land will decide in favor of electricity.

Kemmler did not know that an attempt to suspend his case was to be made. The petition that effect was taken to him by Warden Durston, who simply told him to sign his name to it.

SHOT IN A POLICE COURT. A Memphis Woman Kills Her Husband as He Stands in the Dock. MEMPHIS, April 30.—Jako Ackerman, a notorious thief, highwayman, and train robber, was arrested Monday night charged with wife beating. This morning when the case was called in police court the prisoner and his wife were standing side by side. Ackerman spoke to her and handed her a written request for clean clothes. The woman bent her head for an instant to hear what he had to say and then without warning drew a revolver from beneath her dress and presenting it within a few inches of Ackerman's abdomen, pulled the trigger. Before anyone could interfere she fired two more shots at Ackerman who had fallen to the floor and was writhing in agony. An hour later he was dead. Ackerman had served in penitentiaries in four states. His crimes were very numerous. He was wanted at Omaha for the robbery of Morgan's silk store. Mrs. Ackerman comes from a respectable family of Camden, Mo. She has been for years an inmate of various hospitals throughout the country but always a staunch friend of her husband, notwithstanding his cruel treatment. She killed him, she says, because she feared he would murder her if he got out.

Billy Myers Knocks Out Hopper. ALEXANDRIA, Va., April 30.—It took Billy Myers, the Illinois Cyclone, 25 minutes to knock out Jack Hopper, the local sports hero, but the longer reach and search made the latter prouder, though his blows lacked punishing power. There were several hundred persons present. The fight was for 10 rounds, Quabtree rules, the winner to take 75 and the loser 25 per cent of the net receipts. Myers was called for the sixth round. Myers' body shot of many red marks. He set a good stiff pace from the opening and began to rush his man hard. He banged away at Hopper and suddenly shot his right out hard, landing square on the point of Hopper's chin, and the New Yorker went down.

McGill's Convocation. MONTREAL, April 30.—Two thousand persons filled Windsor Hall this afternoon at the convocation of McGill University, the faculties of law, science and art uniting for the first time in the history of the institution. Lord Stanley received the degree of D.C.L.

Division Court was held here on Saturday, 29th ult., when a large attendance of interested parties, as well as those of the class called spectators, was present. Owing to want of time a number of cases was traversed to next meeting of Court. His Honor Judge Doyle presided. Two of the legal fraternity of Lucknow, were present, as also two from Goderich. We presume that people bringing such frivolous cases into court would evince some common sense by settling misunderstandings between themselves and be more profited in the end.

The funeral of the late Miss Janet Rutherford, daughter of Mr. John Rutherford, West Wawanosh, near St. Helena, took place on Tuesday, 29th ult. Her remains, escorted by a very large cortege of sorrowing relatives, friends and acquaintances, were interred in Duncannon cemetery. Rev. Mr. Anderson, pastor of St. Helena Presby- terian church, conducted the obsequies in a very impressive manner. The bereaved parents, sisters and brothers have the sincere sympathy of the community in their sad affliction.

As previously announced, Rev. W. F. Campbell delivered the lecture on "Trides," on Friday last week in the Methodist church. The reverend gentle- man advanced some practical, useful and intelligent ideas on the subject, which were very attractive, and if acted upon more generally would result in creating a higher standard of moral and religious life in society. On the whole the lecture gave general satisfaction to all present. There was a fair audience taking into consideration the busy time of year. The pastor, Rev. A. Potter, presided over the meeting, at the close of which a unanimous and hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the lecturer.

This is to certify that Mr. E. Hodgkiss lowered, to the entire satisfaction of all us performers, the pitch of the piano in this township, preparing the ground for it with every care and cultivation, and at the time he goes will observe the grain in full wave on the prairie and may then see which is the best system—his or the American—of growing wheat. Already our sick committee is getting a medicine chest ready for the travellers, not forgetting a bottle or so of our far-famed tonic, so that they can put to flight any ailment that may beset them on their tour.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Points for Spring Cleaning. The season is now at hand, when the busy housewife is beginning to concern herself with thoughts and plans for her annual spring house cleaning...

Picture frames usually need a little renovating now and again, and as I have a bleached oak or other hard wood I generally rub over with the flannel rag and linseed oil...

Ham Salad.—Take the lean part of two pounds of cold boiled ham, chop fine, cut three bunches of celery in small pieces; mix one cup of olive oil, half a pint of vinegar, the yolks of four hard-boiled eggs, a tablespoonful of made mustard, a teaspoonful each of salt and white sugar, with a little black pepper; have very cold and pour over the ham and celery.

Chocolate Pudding.—Boil one pint of milk, add half a teaspoon of butter, a teaspoon of sugar and three ounces of grated chocolate. Put on to boil, let cool, and add the beaten yolks of three eggs. Pour in a pudding-dish lined with slices of stale cake. Bake; cover with meringue made of the whites of the eggs stiffly beaten with a teaspoon of sugar and a teaspoonful of vanilla. Set in the stove until slightly browned.

A Milk Test. A polished knitting needle dipped into a vessel of milk and immediately withdrawn in an upright position will tell you whether your milkman is honest or not. If the milk is pure, a drop of the fluid will hang to the needle, but the addition of even a small portion of water will prevent the adhesion of the drop.

Timely Encouragement. In the struggles of life the need of encouragement and assistance comes to all. A timely word or an outstretched hand has often helped an earnest worker overcome a slough of discouragement in which he would have sunk irrevocably without it.

THE POET'S CORNER.

The Belligerent Subscriber.

Worn and weary, sooty and sad, an editor sat him down, Mid work and rubbish, paper and dust, with many a wrinkled frown.

"What do people fancy," he said, "an editor lives upon? Air and water, glory and debt, till his toll-some life is done?"

"I'll stop their papers, every one till their honest debts they pay, And mark their names off the mailing-book for ever and for aye!"

"Take this copy, double lead, and mark with a pencil blue, And send to all who are in arrears, from ten years down to two."

"To send my paper right along, and forget the debt I owed, For I've took your paper for twenty year, and so far as I knowed, I never owed you man a cent till about four year ago."

"And times hasn't never been the same to little Liz and me— For we are all that's left behind—and since my eyes can't see, She always reads the paper, and it's been our only cheer."

"I'm getting old and feeble now, and down with the rheumatism, And there's the paper left to me; just that and little Liz. We couldn't bear to lose it now, it's been with us so long."

"Till its very name is music, like an old-time happy song. This twenty-dollar piece of gold will pay for all I owe, And what is over and above, just keep, and let it go."

"Toward paying for the paper till a brighter, better day; And send to Liz, she'll need it then, when I am called away."

Glad and thankful the editor was, as he knew that there was one Who loved and could appreciate the work that he had done. He felt that life was not in vain, and smiled through happy tears; And then on the mailing book he wrote, "Paid up for twenty years."

—Margaret Andrews Oldham.

If a husband's salary is small the wife should count the pennies when she is making a purchase. There should be an adjustment, and a fine adjustment, on both sides.

There are marriages that are unhappy from the beginning because there always was a lack of adaptability between the two, or because there were natural defects in character that could not be remedied.

But these are small in comparison with the estrangements that grow out of mis-education. Women when they marry are apt to overlook the responsibilities of married life.

To meet marriage is a haven of rest, where they will be free from worry and care. But there are two cares in matrimony where there is one in single life.

If the wife accepts these gracefully and cheerfully she is a stimulus to her husband. If she complains and worries the husband will become discouraged.

A husband is generally what his wife makes him, and there is nothing that so unfits a man for his business life as a discontented wife at home.

Wives should bear this in mind. It costs little to be cheerful and the gains to be received are far in excess of the actual outlay.

Bear in mind the words of Jesus the son of Sirach: "As the sun when it ariseth in high heaven, so is the beauty of a good wife in the ordering of her house."

Trials of the latest express compound locomotive in England, with a special train of eighteen carriages, developed the unparalleled speed of about ninety miles an hour.

The highest speed, as measured by a stop-watch, was just over ten seconds per quarter mile run.

A National Divorce Law.

A startling statement on the divorce question was made at the recent meeting of the National Reform Association in Philadelphia by Judge Thayer, of Pennsylvania.

He said: "I have granted many decrees of divorce that I did not think should be granted, simply because by my official oath I am bound to administer the laws as they are upon the statute books."

In many and many a case I have felt that this thing was being done by agreement, and that people who were bound together by the laws of God were sundering themselves by a trick.

I am bound, and every judge is bound, hand and foot in this matter. No judge can say no, nor has he any opportunity to protest against it."

If this evil flourishes in Pennsylvania, which has by no means the worst record among the States in the matter of divorce, how much greater must it be in those states where the laws are more lax!

Other evils also proceed from the diversity of the laws. These are now so generally recognized that congress would now have the approval of a majority of the people if it undertook to legislate on the subject for the whole country.

To THE EDITOR.—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured.

I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their Express and P. O. address.

Respectfully, DR. T. A. SLOCUM, 144 W. Adelaide st., Toronto, Ont.

Cough medicines, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is in greater demand than ever. No preparation for Throat and Lung Troubles is so prompt in its effects, so agreeable to the taste, and so widely known, as this.

"I have suffered for years from a bronchial trouble that, whenever I take cold or am exposed to inclement weather, shows itself by a very annoying tickling sensation in the throat and by difficulty in breathing."

"I have tried a great many remedies, but none does so well as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral which always gives prompt relief in return for my old complaint."

"I consider Ayer's Cherry Pectoral a most important remedy For Home Use."

I have tested its curative power, in my family, many times during the past thirty years, and have never known it to fail. It will relieve the most serious affections of the throat and lungs, whether in children or adults."

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists. Price 25c; six bottles, $1.50.

On Thursday of last week the Hargreaves family removed from Brussels to Paisley. They resided at Brussels for the past four years, and have been very worthy citizens.

Jno. Hargreaves was in Brussels last week assisting in the packing and removing of Mrs Hargreaves' household effects to Paisley. He has lost none of his old time popularity in Brussels.

THE MORRISON TRAGEDY.

What the Unhappy Man Said in Reply to Dr. Norton.

SHELBURNE, Ont., April 27.—Never since January 21, 1882, the date of the Smith murder case, has our little town been thrown into such a state of excitement as it is in just now over the triple drowning case.

Fancy a father in the possession of all his faculties a few hours before the occurrence drowning his three innocent children in a water barrel, then attempting suicide, and after a few hours regaining consciousness, and you have the whole case in a nutshell.

All this was done without any conceivable cause. The murderer—cannot be called by any choicer name—was in his right mind on Saturday and said he wished to make his will. This was said to his medical attendant, Dr. Norton.

"What about the three little children?" said the doctor. He said: "They are dead; did you not show them to me?"

Your reporter was present to-day when Dr. Norton tried to get Morrison to tell something about his case. He was very weak, but perfectly conscious of all that takes place around him.

When asked if it could have been done by any one else he replied, no, he thought not. He states that he remembers nothing about Mr. Lindsey being in his place on Wednesday evening. On being asked if he had ever occurred to him that the three youngest children would be a bar to his wife's case, his death, he replied that he had thought so.

"Did it ever occur to you," said the doctor, "that it would be much better for the little ones if they were out of the way?" "Yes," he answered; he had thought of that.

ST. GEORGE RAILWAY TRIAL. A Rev. Gentleman Whose Conduct was not Characterized by Prudence.

TORONTO, April 27.—The jury returned a verdict in the case of the St. George railway on Thursday last. Some 41 questions were submitted by the judge and on the answers returned counsel will argue as to whose the verdict should be.

The general opinion is that the verdict of the jury leans rather against the Grand Trunk, in that it definitely states that the tire on the engine was too thin, that the speed of the train was too great, and that the brakes were not applied soon enough.

The Methodist ecclesiastical court which examined the Rev. Dr. Stone returned the following finding:—"In the case of Rev. James Smith against Rev. Dr. Stone, charging him with imprudent conduct intending immorality, the committee, after careful investigation, find that the charges of conduct intended immorality is not sustained. But in the judgement of this committee Dr. Stone's conduct in this matter was not characterized by the prudence and wisdom that should mark the deportment of a Christian minister."

We regret to announce the death of a very old resident of Bluevale, in the person of Mr. McEwen, who passed quietly away on Friday evening, 18th ult. About three years ago he received a paralytic stroke which confined him to his bed ever since.

The Dominick Reynolds farms on the 5th con. of Hullett have just been sold. Mr Owen Flynn buys the 100 acres with the stone house, bank barn, &c., for which he pays $5,000, and Mr John Reynolds buys the hundred with bank barn, at $2,600.

On Saturday, 19th ult., Alex. Harold Callie, infant son of Robert Wilson, 15 used, died, aged one year, nine months and twenty-eight days. The little fellow had been ill for about seven weeks with gastric fever, followed by enlargement of the liver.

Miss Jessie Ross, who has been in the employ of A. Good, Brussels, for about three years, has accepted a position in McLaran's book and shoe store in Guelph. She will leave in the course of a week or so. Miss Ross will no doubt be an acquisition to the Royal city. We expected she would become a permanent resident in Brussels, but he may go after her to Guelph.

Mrs Geo. Haycraft and daughter, Miss Lizzie Ross and Mrs J. A. McNaughton, Brussels, have gone to Winfield, Kansas, for a visit. The former goes with the hope of the change of air proving beneficial to her health. Mrs. McNaughton's father is ill and her visit is largely on his account. They left Brussels on the morning train on Wednesday, 23rd ult.

LEEUBURN. From our own correspondent. Mr and Mrs Harris, of Goderich, were the guests of their brother-in-law, J. G. Clutton, this week.

Mrs Wm. Clutton has gone to Galt to see one of her sisters there, who is seriously ill.

Miss Carruthers, of the 4th con., Goderich township, is visiting relatives here this week.

The I.O.G.T., No. 213, have made only two changes in their officers for the new term, commencing May 1st.—S B Williams, W.C.T., and H. A. Horton, W.S., the other officers being the same as before. During the past quarter the lodge formed a new lodge at Port Albert, which is working fairly well, holding its meetings at Port Albert and known as the Albert lodge, No. 299, I.O.G.T.

The lodge here also had a successful entertainment in April last, and at the present time a number of the members are contending for several prizes in a writing contest by writing a number of opinions in books got for the purpose. During the month the books will be given in to be judged. Tonight's meeting will decide about having the annual picnic, generally held about the end of this month.

From now till after the voting day each worker in the coming election will be studying daily the voters' list in his subdivision.

Mr J. Reilly and family have removed from here after a residence of some months to Garbrud. The house he left here has been rented by D. Thurlow from its owner Mr J. Strachan.
