Why You Should Join Us!

WHY? Because the road repairing which we instigated is saving every car owner at least a Hundred Dollars a year in tire bills!

Seen the road out to Bally Haly? Its possible to drive over it this year! Been across the "Cow-Path" (Seal Cove to Holy-ood)? A boulevard where it used to be a bog! Remember how good the Topsail Road was last season and how much better it is now than it ever used to be previous to last season?
(Oh, yes, we'll admit its beginning to get a bit out of now.
That's because we've run short of funds to advance for further repairs). ALL THE ROAD REPAIRING MENTIONED ABOVE IS ENTIRELY DUE TO THE "GOOD ROADS MOVE-MENT" ORIGINALLY INSTIGATED BY THE NEWFOUND-LAND MOTOR ASSOCIATION. Seventy-five per cent. of the funds we have collected in membership fees during the past five years has been advanced to do that road work repairing and the work has been done under the personal superintendence of one of our members who has given his time and experience free.

Broad Cove, Portugal Cove and Torbay Roads are to receive our attention next season subject entirely to our membership increasingly sufficiently to advance "the needful" for further road repair work.

Did we hear you ask how you can help? Yes! Why, by joining the Association. Ten Dollars if you are a car owner; Five Dollars if you ride a motor-bike entitles you to all the privileges of membership including that of driving over good roads instead of river-beds. Simply mail the amount to the Secretary (P.O. Box 1131), leave it at The Royal Stationery, 180
Water Street, hand it to our authorized collector or drop us a postcard and we'll call for it. BUT, ABOVE ALL THINGS, DO IT NOW! Then you'll sleep peacefully at night in the calm assurance that you've done your duty. WE THANK YOU!

MOTOR ASSOCIATION

CHAPTER VIII.

"Do you want to look at any papers?" Captain Glynn asks, carelessly, as they pass the bookstall in the station, quite expecting a timid, "no, thank you," and a fond, reproachful glance.

"Oh, yes, please!" Yolande says, eagerly. "There is a new story in Temple Bar; I am longing to go on with."

Dallas looks sternly at her, with brows drawn together and lips compressed.

"Are it is, then; and here are the World, and Truth, and Life, and the Queen and the Lady, and a lot of other delightful things," he says, in a drawing tone. "Do you want them all?" Her cheeks burn and her heart beats fast at the sarcasm of the question.

"No, thanks, none of them!" she answers, briefly. "Temper Bar will be sufficient."

They get into a carriage in which there are three other passengers—ladies—and Yolande, settling herself in a corner, appears absorbed in the pages of Temple Bar, while Captain Glynn, settling himself in the opposite corner, stares at the cartoon of Vanity Fair and glances curiously from beneath the brim of his hat at his young wife.

"Come," he says to himself, sardonically—"there is nothing like sensible, matter-of-fact matrimony! I was fool enough to be afraid I was going to have too much of the other thing. By Jove, I needn't have been, I see!"

The white stations, with their lamps all glimmering now, the cuttings, and the bridges fly by with a roar and a rattle; but the position and aspect of the passengers within that railway carriage remain unaltered; and Captain Glynn, who at first was not quite sure whether he was most vexed or amused, begins to know for a certainty that he is vexed, and feels slighted, offended, and hotly angered. His anger cools, however, as it intensifies and grows more serious, and by the time Chatham is reached he is in a mood of frigid, haughty indignation.

"Very well, young lady," he says to himself: "two can play at that game! I'll give you full opportunity to sulk to your heart's content." Yolande lays her magazine down on her lap as soon as it grows too dark to read, and leaning back, covers her eyes with her hand and pretends to sleep. So he thinks; but in reality falls asleep, worn out with excitement and emotion, and also from the effects of the dose of cognac, which has acted as a powerful sedative on the tired body and mind.

"Captain Glynn can just see the sensitive, girlish lips below her hand—very pale, pure, gentle lips they are now; and there is a languor and helplessness about the slim, girlish figure in repose which touches him into softer vexation.

"What a curious girl she is," he says, mentally—"so shy and strange and naive! Poor child! Heaven help us both! We are chained to each other for life. It is the foolishness of folly for us to try to make each other miserable. Poor little girl, I must try to cheer her up!"

The other ladies get out at Chatham; the guard inspects the tickets; the newsboys call the evening papers; the doors bang, and the whistle shrieks; and Yolande sleeps through it all.

"Poor little soul!" Dallas says, with a slight smile, as he leaves his seat and sits down softly by her side. "It isn't exactly the most complimentary thing a bride could do, vis-a-vis to her bridegroom; but I suppose she never slept a wink last night in the wonderful excitement that she was to be married in the morning, and from anxiety about her angry."

He peers up under the shading hand, and sees the thick dark lashes resting peacefully on the pale cheeks, and his heart throbs with a new, tender feeling of protecting fondness.

"My own little wife!" he whispers, putting his arms softly about her, intending to lift her onto his knee, and let her sleep with her head resting against his breast.

But, as soon as the encircling arms touch her, Yolande leaps up with a violent start and wild, frightened eyes.

"Where am I? Where am I? Don't please!"—and Captain Glynn has his caressing arms thrust away—struck away, indeed; and Yolande throws herself into the opposite corner, and gazes out into the gathering darkness.

"What is the matter with you, Yolande?" her husband demands, sharply. "Did I startle you? I wasn't aware you were so nervous!"

He moves into the corner seat his wife has just vacated, and, tilting his hat over his brows, watches her averted face with gleaming eyes.

"We are getting the sting before the honey in this pleasing instance!" he mutters to himself, a sensation of mingled anger, disappointment and keen mortification thrilling him through and through. He could not have believed that he should feel so at any coldness or caprice of the girl he has married for her money.

"I was asleep. You—you frightened me!" Yolande answers, huskily, with her head still averted.

Her poor little foolish, womanly heart is in anguish at this moment because of her hasty wrath and repulse of her husband. She did not hear his words; but she saw a blessed glimpse of pitying fondness in his soft, half-hidden smile, and felt the wooing tenderness of his strong arms unfolding her.

"It looked as if you were, certainly," Captain Glynn retorts, dryly and contemptuously. "You almost frightened me, bouncing up in that Jack-in-the-box fashion! I was going to tell you," he goes on, deliberately, "that if you don't mind, I shall get into the smoking carriage at the next station and remain in it until we come to Canterbury. I want a cigar horribly. If you mind being left, I will send your maid to you."

"No, I don't mind at all," Yolande says, in a stifled voice, pressing her face against the glass.

"That's all right, then," he returns shortly, setting himself comfortably; and when they arrived at Faversham, he is as good as his word, and, gathering up his traveling rug, he steps out.

"You will be all right now to Canterbury," he says, coldly, pausing at the door. "We shall be off in a couple of minutes, and there is no one to get in."

"Oh, yes, thanks, I shall be all right!" Yolande agrees, barely glancing up from the page of her magazine; and Captain Glynn shuts the carriage door and marches off.

She keeps her eyes fixed on the page until the train starts, and then she flings the magazine across the carriage—not that it matters in the least, for she has not read intelligibly one line of the fascinating story, and, indeed, has been diligently perusing it upside down for the past ten minutes—and, with a bitter cry, throws herself face downward on the cushion.

"Heaven pity me! Heaven pity me!" the poor girl sobs forlornly.

"How can I live with him like this? I couldn't—I couldn't! It would kill me when, oh, my darling, I love you so!"

When the train reaches Canterbury, Captain Glynn, in the worst possible temper, returns to the carriage where he left his bride, and, barely vouchsafing her a glance in her distant corner, pulls his traveling cap over his eyes, and wraps his "Maud" around his shoulders, for the night has grown bitterly cold, with a piercing east wind blowing; and so, lugubriously comfortable, they pursue their journey in silence until Dover lights come into view.

In the smoking carriage he was unlucky enough to encounter a city "friend" of his cousin, Lyulph Glynn—a keen, shrewd, dashing speculator, a Parisian-American—and an army man, an acquaintance of his own; and they both congratulated him on his "approaching" marriage.

"Though I was under the impression that the awful deed was done," flapped the beardless cavalry lieutenant. "Ormond told me ever so long ago that he was to be the 'best man.'"

President Harding is Dead.

Hard Curzons Speech Indicates Grave Situation in Europe—No Prospect of Settlement of Rühr Disagreement.

PRESIDENT HARDING DIED SUD-DELY LAST NIGHT. (FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 2.)—President Harding died suddenly and without warning tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Death came while he was conversing with members of his family, and according to a statement issued by physicians was apparently due to some developments, probably an ap-

PROBABLE HEAD STIRS CURZON TO VEHEMENCE OVER RÜHR QUESTION.

LONDON, Aug. 2. (LONDON, Aug. 2.)—The British Government declared in a statement this afternoon that the Rühr was "telling upon every industry in this country, right to interfere, and that right to interfere rests not only upon our share of the reparations, but also upon the rights which we possess in respect to payment of inter-Allied debts which is a matter of supreme importance and which cannot be set on one side as if it did not exist, we see Germany rotting in ruin, lapsing into irreparable decay, carrying with it all prospects of economic recovery not merely for Germany but for Europe. When we looked at our own position at home we saw that which was passing in the Rühr was telling upon almost every industry in this country. If we do not see it now we shall see it in the course of the winter. The effect of the Rühr occupation will be felt in almost every cottage in this country and because we noted this circumstance, because we felt it our duty to suppress interests to take action, to intervene, we have been taunted by Lord Birkenhead with having reversed our policy." Lord Curzon said that if anyone asked the Government what it was going to do next week or next month, his answer was that "he did not know" and, he added "it was unfair to ask such a question before papers had been laid before the country and the Government had the advantage of the assistance of public opinion which would come from such publication." Speaking in the Lords this morning after the Foreign Secretary had made his first statement, Lord Birkenhead, former Lord Chancellor, declared the whole French nation was behind its Government in relation to the Rühr. He said the policy of Great Britain was not to address recommendations to the French nation which Great Britain has no means of enforcing, and which the French had not the slightest intention of accepting at the British hands. Great Britain he said, ought to withdraw her army of occupation and her representative on the Reparations Commission. In that way she would avoid all responsibility for what was going on.

SEES NO PROSPECT OF A SETTLEMENT.

LONDON, Aug. 2. Marquis Curzon, Foreign Secretary informed the House of Lords to-day that Italy had not sent a written reply to the recent British Reparations note, but had nevertheless expressed herself as approving in general Great Britain's views and proposals. Lord Curzon stated that the French and Belgian reply to the British note appeared to hold no prospect of early settlement of the situation in the Rühr nor commencement of a discussion on reparations.

If the Council adopts the resolution the total reward offered will be three thousand five hundred dollars.

LIBERTY DENIED POLITICAL PRISONERS.

DUBLIN, Aug. 2. (DUBLIN, Aug. 2.)—Dail Eirean last evening passed the Public Safety Bill under which the Government may continue to hold prisoners who are charged with having actively opposed the Free State Govt. The measure was presented to the Dail Eirean, for urgent action owing to the fact that the Court of Appeals in a decision yesterday in Habeas Corpus proceedings declared that a state of war did not exist and granted a writ returnable to-morrow. If the bill as passed receives the assent of the Governor General, it is believed it will prevent the release under Habeas Corpus proceedings of thousands of prisoners men and women now in prison.

NEWARK, N.J., Aug. 2. The first day of the strike of six thousand trolley men on the lines of the Public Service Railway Co., serving one hundred and forty seven communities in North Jersey ended last night with the transportation of more than one million five hundred thousand daily travellers handled with comparatively little confusion. Not a trolley wheel turned in the seven counties affected.

TORONTO, Aug. 2. Percy Barrett of the Uplands Golf Club, Toronto, won the professional golf championship of Canada when he led a field of professionals from all parts of the dominion in the thirty-six hole medal match over the course of the Summit Club here yesterday. MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR SALE EVERYWHERE.

Sh-H-H-Bavu Monday.

WALLACE BEERY, ESTELLE TAYLOR AND FORREST STANLEY ARE THREE OF NOTED ARTISTS.

There are many film fans who would rather have thrills in their screen entertainment than any other quality. And it certainly is true that thrills take the monotony out of life. Personal thrills are not so good either, because they involve a risk in ninety-nine out of a hundred cases. There have not been so many motion pictures that were really thrilling. There must be a great deal of mystery and suspense to create a genuine thrill.

"Bavu," a Universal-Jewel picture which will be shown at the Star Theatre beginning Monday is said to be the most thrillingly mysterious picture of recent years. Its atmosphere is foreign and its people strange. The famous players in the cast include Wallace Beery, Estelle Taylor, Sylvia Breamer, Forrest Stanley, Martha Mattox, Nikolai de Ruiz, Josef Swickard, Jack Rollens and Harry Carter. Stuart Paton directed the filming.

"Bavu" tells the story of two men, one refined, educated and straight-forward, the other a brute, a peasant with no education nor heart, both fighting over the same woman, an aristocratic princess of high strung nature. The action takes place during a time of human upheaval, when human nature is not reliable and a woman knows not to which man she may safely turn for protection. One of the most interesting scenes is a marriage ceremony which takes place in the weird attic of the peasant, Bavu. Under the first revolutionary regime in Russia, no priests nor witnesses were necessary to a marriage ceremony. The mere signing of the names of the man and woman sufficed.

The wedding scene where the untutored animal like peasant, Bavu, a leader of the red revolutionists, stands ready to marry a beautiful and cultured princess is a situation vividly bringing home the full tragedy of the Russian revolution.

The Case of Two Rich Men.

Recently John D. Rockefeller had a birthday. He was eighty-four on July eighth. The eighth fell on a Sunday, and no doubt many of the many thousands who motored that day stopped somewhere along the route, took aboard a cargo of gasoline or oil, one or both, and in paying for the same remarked: "There goes another quarter for John D." This is probably as far as the average mortal went toward congratulating Mr. Rockefeller upon his natal day.

Wherein lies the difference between two very rich men. John D. Rockefeller on the one hand and Henry Ford on the other? One popular enough to be thought of seriously as a presidential candidate; the other so unpopular that he probably could not be elected to the position of pound keeper in his old home town.

What has Henry Ford done for humanity? He established a great industry. He employs thousands of hands at good pay, and he has accumulated millions for himself.

What has John D. Rockefeller done? He established a great industry, employing thousands of hands at good pay, and he has accumulated millions. But it is just here that the parallel ceases.

So far as known Henry Ford has kept his riches for himself. At least he has never given largely to any great philanthropic movement. Aside from aiding men to earn good wages Henry Ford has done nothing for humanity.

On the other hand John D. Rockefeller, through the Rockefeller Foundation, and by other means has expended millions upon millions to aid his fellow man in the most practical and enduring ways. It is said that he has spent half a billion dollars in this manner, more money than has ever been expended by one man in one lifetime in good works. He has advanced the cause of education by endowing colleges. He has given scholarships galore. It was his purse that aided in the fight to eradicate the hook worm and do away with yellow fever, and so on through a large field of endeavor.

By all the rules of the game John D. Rockefeller should be a popular citizen of the United States, and again by all the rules of the game Henry Ford should be most unpopular, but the reverse is the case. It may be alleged that Henry Ford has thousands of agents boosting for him, but the organization founded by Mr. Rockefeller is far larger and many times more powerful than the Ford contingent. So the case cannot rest here on secure ground.

As before stated when a man buys a gallon of gasoline for his car his mind wanders instinctively to the question as to how much of the sum paid is going to John D. Do the same thoughts occur to the many buyers of the Ford car? I doubt it. And still there is greater reason, for while the Ford Company is a one man concern, the Standard Oil corporations are largely owned by the public, by the stock holders, big and small, with John D. Rockefeller a side show so to speak.

Admittedly the whole question of human likes and dislikes is a perplexing puzzle, an enigma in psychology, and the most interesting case extant is that of Rockefeller vs. Ford.

Laid to Rest.

All that was mortal of the young lad Griffiths who died from injuries received in a motor-car accident on Tuesday last, was laid to rest at the Mount Carmel Cemetery yesterday. The funeral was attended by a large concourse of mourners, among whom were Mr. Jesse Whiteway and his sons. The corpse of Messrs. John Anderson, where the boy's father is employed, and Jesse Whiteway's closed at noon to enable the employees to attend the obsequies.

Object to Sunday Golf on Civic Links.

Toronto is trying to establish a civic golf course, but it is getting its bumps owing to opposition of the Lord's Day Alliance officials who object to Sunday golf. Why the Alliance through its secretary, the Rev. Mr. Rochester should object to Sunday golf, in view of the fact that it is played throughout the civilized world on Sunday is not clear. Golf is about the only game that can be legally played in Canada on Sunday, and the old English laws upon which our present Sunday laws rest their case are responsible for this oversight, as golf was not known in England back in the days when these laws were put on the statute books, and thus escaped the fate common to outdoor sports.

Prohibiting golf on a civic links on Sunday while private clubs may play ad lib, is petty tyranny as well as nonsense. In the natural course of events a civic course is played over by those whose circumstances are such that they cannot afford to belong to one of the more expensive private clubs. It may therefore be taken for granted that the men and women who would benefit by the civic course are those who are employed at least five and one half days per week. Eliminate Sunday play and this gives them but one afternoon, Saturday, upon which any great number could participate.

In respect to the opposition of the Lord's Day Alliance it has no legal status when it comes to golf, and this should be clearly understood.

TRUCKS FOR NUMBER—Some 50 railway trucks and fittings arrived by S.S. Rosalind for the Armstrong-Whitworth Co. and are now being landed at the Dock premises. The trucks will be put together before being sent over the line.

The Hoggish Mr. Dempsey.

The attempt of the little town of Shelby, Montana, to place itself permanently on the map via the pugilistic route was not what could be called a howling success. In fact it is very doubtful if the presence of Mr. Dempsey was worth a tenth of the money which the citizens of that town were obliged to extract from their own pockets in order to see

WHO FIRST FELT "LIKE A FIGHTING COCK"?

COCK-FIGHTING was born with the cocks.

But it is only 80 years ago that the first man felt "like a fighting cock!"

Now he has brothers, sisters, nephews, nieces, all over the world—all feeling "like a fighting cock!"

It happens this way: A person half sick with bad stomach, dull and heavy headache, takes Beecham's Pills just before going to bed. Immediately the Pills begin to harmonize the digestive and eliminative organs.

Consequently, this person has a good night's sleep and arises in the morning with clear head, bright eyes, keen appetite, and full of energy for work and play.

It is now just 80 years since Beecham's Pills first began correcting disordered stomachs and stirring sluggish livers and bowels to natural activity—and feeling "like a fighting cock" is associated as inseparably with Beecham's Pills, as the pills are with good health.

At All Druggists

Messrs. Dempsey and Gibbons perform. Dempsey, it will be remembered, was the gentleman who found it inconvenient to fight in the trenches for $1 per day, but who now demands something like $300,000 for performing a few minutes in the ring. Dempsey and his manager Kearns are trusting mortals. They showed it when they insisted upon being paid down to the last cent before staging their fight. Then followed a scene of sordid haggling. Dempsey finally agreeing to take a mortgage on the town or some such thing for the unpaid balance. Perhaps Shelby needed the advertising badly enough to justify the waste of money, but we doubt it. Mister Dempsey is headed for an eclipse, and the sooner it reaches him the better. He may be a good fighter, but he is a poor sport.

Anglo in New Offices.

The Anglo-American Telegraph Co. has now transferred its headquarters and office to McDougall building corner of Arre & Sons Cove, in the premises formerly occupied by the Royal Bank of Canada. The operating room and general office are all on the one floor, and extensive alterations are still going on and will not be completed for a month.

The Passing of the Twelve Hour Day.

At the recent conference between the officials of the United Mine Workers of America and the Pennsylvania anthracite coal operators many references have been made to the "twelve hour day." Many no doubt have been led to believe that miners do work twelve hours per day, when as a matter of fact the greater number work less than half of this period. The only men around the anthracite mines who work twelve hours per day are those in charge of pumps and fans and perhaps one or two other surface jobs that require supervision rather than manual labor. However, the operators have agreed to work out a plan whereby the twelve hour men, of whom there are three thousand distributed among some two hundred and fifty thousand other employees, shall have their hours cut to eight per day. This merely means that three shifts be employed every twenty-four hours in place of two as at present. If all grievances between master and man could be so easily adjusted as this one this would indeed be a happy world.

SPORTOGRAPHS

CHAMPION ACHIEVES NEW HONORS.
Mr. A. C. N. Godfree, the Newfoundland self champion, broke all local records on Monday when he rounded the Links in 65, thus lowering Chaney's (the pro's record) of 68 made three weeks ago.

ATTENTION, SWEEP HOLDERS!
All yesterday's papers gave the results of the Tradesmen's Race at 10.15. This should be 10.15 4/5. Holders of tickets in the C. L. B. Boat should give their "scraps of paper" for this race another once over.

CONCLUSION OF REGATTA.
By the courtesy of the Importers' Association the stores were closed yesterday at 3 p.m. to enable citizens to attend the conclusion of the Regatta. With the fine weather prevailing the result was a record attendance as the "town and his wife" were present. A fair estimate would be about 12,000 persons lining the bank.

LABORERS.
The first race was the Laborers, which started sharp at 2.30 p.m. Three boats entered, a scrap crew going out in the Mary, and entering on the way, in order to make the race more interesting. St. Joseph's crew in the Cadet was the favorite and took the lead from the stakes. Going to the buoys the Cadet had a couple of lengths on the Guard, and coming home this was increased at every stroke, and she crossed the line an easy winner with about six lengths in the good; Guard 2nd and Mary 3rd. Time 10.21.
Cadet (St. Joseph's)—P. Brown (cox), H. Burt (stroke), F. Burt, E. Tinsley, W. Earles, H. Strange, T. Ealey.

FACTORIES.
Two crews entered in this race, Brehm's in the Nellie R. and Horwood's in the Cadet. Tom Kearsey stroked the Nellie R. and from the water Brehm's were picked as the winner. It was a good race to the buoys, and the boats turned with the Nellie R. having a slight lead. Up to English's boathouse it was close, but from that point to the stakes the Nellie R. pulled away from the Guard and won by a couple of lengths. Time, 10.25.
Nellie R. (Brehm Mfg. Co.)—E. Stimpington (cox), T. Kearsey (stroke), P. Furlong, J. Johnston, H. Barnes, S. Cahill, J. Hallahan.

FOOTBALL (Senior).
This race created much interest, being amongst the most popular events on the programme. Four crews entered. Nellie R. (Star), Mary (C.L.B.), Cadet (Cadets) and Guard (C.E.I.). The latter were favorites, but Noseworthy, their stroke, had his hand injured Monday night and he was still feeling the effects of it yesterday. The boats got away nicely, the Cadet nosing ahead at the Committee tent and rowing well, had a couple of lengths at the buoys, with Guard second and Nellie R. close astern. Straightening out the Cadet increased her lead, but coming home the Guard gained somewhat but was unable to overtake the Cadet, which crossed the winning post with three lengths to spare. Guard 2nd, Nellie R. 3rd, Mary 4th. Time 10.50 1/5.

Cadet (C. C. C.)—L. Rogers (cox), W. Caul (stroke), E. Kavanagh, J. Reardon, J. Canning, M. Flynn, R. Walsh.

INTERMEDIATE FISHERMEN.
Two boats only entered in this race which was the best of the whole programme, and up to the last second it was difficult to say which would win. Portugal Cove (Guard) and Outer Cove (Cadet) were the contesting crews. Phil Brown steered the former and John Nugent the latter. It was a grueling race all through. The Guard got a slight lead going down, but both turned together and coming home it was neck and neck. At the Band Stand Portugal Cove spurred and gained a few inches, and their plucky opponents also exerted their last pound, but the Guard nosed them out at the stakes, both crews stopping rowing at the same time. Time 10.54.
Guard (Portugal Cove)—P. Brown (cox), E. Allan (stroke), A. Mitchell, A. King, R. Mitchell, Geo. Churchill, Jas. Harding.

CHAMPIONSHIP.
Three boats entered in the Championship race, the Cadet with the Outer Cove fishermen who made the best time on Wednesday, the Nellie R. with Kearsey's truck crew, and a mixed crew of Amateurs and Intermediates in the Mary. The Outer Cove men rowed a splendid race, taking the lead from the start and turning the buoys with a couple of lengths on the Nellie R. while the Mary was well astern. Up the pond the fishermen kept gaining, and their splendid swinging stroke was greatly admired. They had an easy win, beating the Nellie R. by about four lengths, and their time was 9.49 2/5, the quickest for the day though 2 1/2 seconds behind their winning time on Wednesday. Besides winning the Championship medals they also won the Governor's cup for the quickest time.

PRESENTATION OF PRIZES.
This completed the programme after which the presentation of prizes to the victorious crews took place at the Grand Stand, the presentation being made by Lady Allardice. Before the ceremony President Hiscock took the opportunity of thanking His Excellency and Lady Allardice for their attendance and the great interest they have taken in our Annual Regatta. He especially thanked His Excellency for his generosity in presenting a cup for the crew making the quickest time. President Hiscock also thanked the public for their attendance and their generous response to the collectors which made the successful carrying out of the Regatta possible. President Higgins then called upon the winning crews to come forward to receive their well merited prizes. His Excellency the Governor personally congratulated the Outer Cove crew upon winning the trophy which he presented for the quickest time, and he announced that he would make a similar presentation for next year's Regatta. The cup has been ordered in England and will arrive by the Sachem, due to-morrow, when it will be presented to the crew.

After the presentation Vice-President W. J. Higgins in moving a vote of thanks to Lady Allardice for so graciously presenting the prizes, referred to the democratic spirit in which their Excellencies had entered into the Regatta, and the interest they had shown in all matters pertaining to sport since their advent among us. Mr. Higgins also thanked the public for their attendance, the crews, boat clubs, and the Importers' Association, the Press and all who assisted in making the Annual Regatta such a magnificent success.

His Excellency said it gave himself and Lady Allardice great pleasure to be present and despite the inclement weather Wednesday they had enjoyed every minute. Cheers were then given for His Excellency and Lady Allardice and the Committee which completed the proceedings. President Hiscock and his Committee are to be complimented on the manner in which the Regatta was carried out, all arrangements being perfect and the Regatta of 1923 was as good as the best.

TO-NIGHT'S GAME.
The B.I.S. and C.L.B. will be the contestants in tonight's game. The latter clated by their victory over the C.E.I. enter the lists to-night feeling confident that they can lay the Irishmen low. It will undoubtedly be a clash well worth witnessing. Mr. C. Quick will referee.

A GOOD FORECAST.
We must congratulate our esteemed correspondent "F.T." on the splendid forecast he gave of the Regatta. Of the 12 races on the program he was correct in 10. His Mercantile and St. Football boats got second place but it will be remembered that in both he made reservations owing to Marshall's being in the Amateur class and race—a first instance and an injury to Noseworthy's hand who was stroking the C.E.I. Those of our readers who followed his lead therefore, had their betting well covered. We do not know whether we are to be favoured with another for St. Joseph's Regatta on Wednesday, but if we do it will undoubtedly be of interest to those on the bank.

GOLF CLUB NOTES.
The first of the fortnightly club dances will be held to-night at 8.30. Music will be furnished by the Prince's Orchestra. The preliminary round for the championship will commence to-morrow at 2.30.

ANSWERS.
In reply to "Other Side" we have to be frank and state that we are reliably informed by officials of the C. L. B. Boat Club that between the time the "Guard" was taken into the Boat-house on Tuesday evening to the time when she was placed on the Lake again on Wednesday the tiller ropes had been meddled with. As you point out this would certainly make a difference in her turning at the buoy. As we understand, however, that the matter is now the subject of a strict investigation by the Boat Club we refrain from further comment.

GUARD'S SPORTS.
The very active committee in charge of the Guard's Sports to be held at the Ayre Athletic Grounds on Wednesday afternoon announce that everything is in readiness for a most successful day. It will be under the distinguished patronage of His Excellency the Governor and Lady Allardice. The following will be the events:—
100 Yards Dash.
Putting the Shot—Hammer Throw.
1/4 Mile—1/2 Mile—200 Yards.
Tug-of-War—(Inter-Comrades).
"Whip-it" Race—"2-in-1" Race.
Field Regatta—(Mercantile).
Hop-Step-& Jump.
Throw the Needle Race (Boy Scouts and Girl Guides).
Relay Race—(Married Men, Band and Comrades).
Football Fives.

HIGHLAND GAMES.
Competitors should be in practice now for the heavy events at the Highland Games. Mr. Chas. Henderson, Cross Roads, will train any competitors who wish to take part in Putting the Shot, Throwing the Hammer, or Tossing the Caber, any night at his residence.

Hawaii Will Fight for Rights as U.S. Territory.
HONOLULU.—A concerted campaign to obtain recognition of Hawaii's status as a territory and its rights to the benefits and privileges enjoyed by states, as set forth in the measure adopted by the recent legislature, which is known as "Hawaii's Bill of Rights," is being waged by Governor Wallace R. Farrington and other territorial officials.
The territorial gov. is mailing to the governors of all of the states and to each member of Congress a copy of the "Bill of Rights," which was approved April 28. A letter requesting aid in obtaining the recognition sought accompanies each copy.
The bill, containing 16 printed pages, reviews the history of the islands from 1853, when annexation to the United States was considered for the first time, until the present day.
"This declaration and its method of promulgation are extraordinary, unique in the history of legislation," the document says. "The reason for this procedure is that an extraordinary and critical situation faces Hawaii—one unique in history."
"For a quarter of a century Hawaii has occupied the legal status of full and complete political union with the United States as an 'integral part' thereof, but a misunderstanding appears to exist in the congress and in some of the executive departments of the federal government as to the status, which has at times resulted in the classification or treatment of Hawaii as if it were an 'insular possession' in a derogatory manner to the dignity of this territory."
The document declares that "Hawaii is in no sense the 'property' of the United States, inasmuch as Hawaii became a part of the union by voluntary agreement as an independent nation, having sovereign powers co-equal with those of the United States."
By the manner of its entrance "Hawaii acquired certain malleable rights, contractual, equitable and moral, to the maintenance of which the good faith of the United States is pledged," the measure asserts.

Peace When There is No Peace

To-day is the Anniversary of the declaration of War by Germany against France in 1914. To-day all the world is waiting to hear what is contained in the reply from France and Belgium to the note drafted by Britain regarding German reparations and submitted to them for approval.

The Entente Cordiale which will ever be associated with the name of Edward the Peacemaker was an understanding between the powers which meant much to Britain but which was of far greater importance to France.

Nine years ago to-day in spite of England to prevent it, Europe was plunged into the holocaust of war. Again Germany was the aggressor and France the intended victim.

It is undoubtedly the case that France was the chief sufferer. The greater part of the fighting occurred in and around her great industrial districts, with the result that they were practically destroyed, and her coal fields rendered incapable of producing their normal output for years to come.

After peace had been signed, conference after conference was held by the Allied nations but no definite arrangements could be arrived at. At last in despair of their ever finding a solution of the difficulty, Belgium and France determined upon a line of action which they hoped would accomplish the purpose so far at least as they were concerned.

Thus was opened the first breach in the Entente which since 1904 had been the predominating influence in European politics. For a time it was hoped that this action on the part of France and Belgium would prove more effective than the numerous notes which the Allied statesmen had sent to Germany, but to which she had paid but little heed.

The situation is pregnant with possibilities, and it will require on the part of those who are in authority level heads and wise counsel if peace in Europe is to be maintained.

In Passing.

The 1922 Regatta passes with the many other incidents which will make history for the year.

Like every public movement there is always an opportunity to profit by experiences of the past.

The difficulty that follows a postponement of the regatta owing to adverse weather conditions is one that some provision should be considered and the best possible solution is, that instead of a whole holiday on a Wednesday that two successive half holidays be employed.

This suggestion offers many advantages that are not otherwise enjoyed as it is clearly evidenced by the happenings this year.

First it gives an opportunity to all concerned to postpone the Derby should weather conditions be unfavorable and the two half holidays could be officially announced for the two following days.

If the committee decided upon the first Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons in August the stores would close at noon on the days mentioned should Tuesday prove unfavourable the stores would remain open and the events postponed until Wednesday and Thursday afternoons.

Trade and business would in no way suffer and the spirit that manifests itself by reason of the unbounded enthusiasm displayed by the people yesterday would in no way be dismayed or interrupted.

The death of Warren Gamaliel Harding, President of the United States automatically elect, Calvin Coolidge, Vice-President to the chief position in the gift of the republic which position he will retain until the next general election which will take place next year.

The new president who was with President Harding elected Nov. 2nd, 1920, was born July 4th, 1872. He was Governor of Massachusetts 1919-20 and by virtue of his position as Vice-President was President of the Senate.

According to the constitution the Vice-President on the death of the President becomes ex-officio President for the remainder of the term. In case of the removal or death of both the President and Vice-President, a statute provides for the succession of the Secretary of State, Secretary of the Treasury and so on down the list of the Cabinet to the Secretary of the Interior so that the nation can never be without a head or ruler.

The last death of a President of the United States whilst in office occurred in 1901 when President McKinley was assassinated by an anarchist named Colgoles. President McKinley was attending the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo on September 14th, when he suffered the same fate as President Lincoln and Garfield assassinated by Anarchists.

Coolidge, who admitted his guilt was electrocuted on October 29th, of the same year.

The death of McKinley brought forth one of the greatest Presidents in this history of the great republic in the person of Theodore Roosevelt who was Vice-President at the time of the historic tragedy.

The death of President Harding and the elevation of Coolidge will mean new interest in the next Presidential election which was occupying the attention of the States at the present time the boosting of Henry Ford who is a possible candidate caused a great deal of unrest amongst the opposing factions who feared the increasing sentiment which was daily growing in favour of the famous auto manufacturer.

The House meets at 3.15 p.m. to-day when it is likely the Budget will be discussed. The remaining business of the Legislature for this session will be proceeded with without further unnecessary adjournments or postponements.

The answers to the questions asked by Mr. P. J. Cahin should determine the Government's policy re the railway which service is now advertised in the Canadian newspapers under the title of Newfoundland Government Railway Commission.

The Copy of a Message

Sent to the Prime Minister by Hon. Dr. A. Campbell.

I would ask you to do me the kindness to hold a full inquiry into relief expenditure during the past two and a half years on my return from my holidays. You would recall that all relief expenditure in the different districts was conducted by me working in conjunction with the various members from the various districts. This includes both Government and Opposition members. It was only on the members' advice that various relief works were undertaken in the different districts and in many cases the allocations were in their hands and return sheets were not furnished to the Department of Agriculture and Mines and the Public Works Department under which departments relief was conducted.

Associated with this investigation I would ask you to investigate the various efforts at organized disturbances attempted in the Colony for political purposes during the past three years. The check-mating of those efforts was under my control and some expenditure occurred in my endeavours to control such disturbances. You would do me a favor if you would arrange for such a complete investigation covering the full period of relief work and expending to the final expenditure of allocations made to various districts. I am sending a copy of this message to the St. John's press.

The Passing of President Harding.

The United States to-day mourns the loss of her President, who in the prime of his life and while discharging the affairs of that great nation was suddenly summoned to the Great Beyond yesterday.

The public messages up to the last moment gave promising reports of his progress towards complete recovery from his illness, but without any warning death overtook him while he was conversing with his family at 7.30 last evening.

Warren Gamaliel Harding was born in Corveta Morrow Co., Ohio, on November 2nd 1865. Educated at Ohio Central College, he entered in the newspaper business, and later became President of the Harding Publishing Company. In 1900 he was chosen to represent his state in the Ohio Senate, and from 1904 to 1906 he filled the office of Lieutenant Governor of the State. At the time of his election to the Presidency of the Republic he was a member of the United States Senate.

Since his occupation of the White House several enactments have come into effect in America, chief among which are the Fordney Tariff and the Volstead Acts. The former was intended to promote and protect home manufactures, and the latter to enforce the prohibition regulations.

President Harding had gained the respect and admiration of his people by his steady adherence to the principles which he considered served the best interests of his country, and his early demise will be universally deplored.

Bound to Western Canada to work in the harvest fields, two former employees of the General Post Office, Messrs. Arthur Bugden and Gordon Daniels left by Tuesday's outgoing express for North Sydney. Both these young men had the experience of being derailed, but like the rest of the passengers they escaped without injury. (The express was derailed at Howley's.) Before leaving here the co-workers of Messrs Bugden and Daniels presented them with substantial purses.

Mattress on Fire.

Shortly after 8 o'clock this morning the Central and West End Fire Companies were called to the boarding house on Water Street West, conducted by Mr. Wm. Mercer. The building was filled with smoke and it was thought that a big fire was in progress. On investigating, it was found that a mattress in one of the bedrooms on the top flat was on fire, a few dashes from the fire extinguisher quenched the blaze without doing any damage. The fire was caused by one of the boarders dropping a lighted cigarette in his bed.

Unightly Weeds.

An unsightly lot of grass and weeds has grown up by the side of the steps leading to the Court House and apparently it is nobody's business to clean the place up. Recently, the police during their spare hours, cleared up quite a lot of loose stones from this vicinity which had been left there ever since the Court House was built. The Councils employees should give this place some attention.

A Plea for the Unemployed.

We are in receipt of a communication signed 'one of the unemployed,' which outlines the serious conditions in many of the homes of our world in order to stave off the demon of hunger which threatens his family.

His appeal is one of many and unless some means can be devised by the Government or by the Municipal Council or by both combined, the situation will be serious as winter approaches. Hunger is the breeder of discontent and the case of the man who would work but cannot because no employment offers, is deserving of sympathy and support.

Before the summer is over a determined effort might be made to improve the condition of some of our streets which are badly in need of attention. Better by far to expend the revenue on some public utility than to dole it out later on in relief work which brings in no return.

Our Montreal Letter.

(From our Own Correspondent.)
THE CROPS ARE PROMISING.

July 18th.—According to the reports to the Bureau of Statistics at Quebec, and by the Office of the Agriculturalists of the Government, the crops are promising in spite of several drawbacks. In the lower St. Lawrence frost and drought delayed the seeding by nearly one month. The rain at the end of June accelerated the growth of the cereals, but the pastures are generally poor. Potatoes, although late, have a fairly good appearance. The fruit trees promise a good crop. The cattle were put to pasture about the 1st of June. The butter and cheese factories show a marked decrease in the amount of milk received.

In the district of Quebec seeding was delayed by frost and drought for nearly three weeks more than last year, nevertheless the cereals, whose growth was rather slow for the same reason, now have a good appearance since the rain at the end of June. The pastures and fields have suffered from drought and are only middling. The root plants and potatoes promise well. Although the fruit trees have had a tardy blossoming, they promise a fairly good yield. The frosts in the month of June have caused much damage to garden plants, and promise only a middling yield. Corn for husking and fodder corn have a fine appearance.

In the district of Montreal the seeding was delayed for more than eight days, and vegetation was delayed by frost and drought, but the rain at the end of June accelerated the growth of cereals and root plants. The frost has caused but little harm to the plants. On the whole the vegetation has a fairly good appearance. The pastures are good and the new meadows promise a good crop, while the old ones promise a middling crop. The blossoming of the fruit trees was abundant although late, and a good crop of fruit is expected. The production of small fruit will probably be very good.

In the northern part of the Province the present condition of vegetation for cereals, pastures and meadows is good. The root plants and potatoes promise a fairly good crop. The garden plants have suffered from frost. The vegetation in general has been delayed nearly a month.

In the eastern townships the cereals, although delayed, have a fairly good appearance; the meadows and pastures are good. The root plants promise a fairly good crop and it is the same with the potatoes. The corn for husking and fodder corn, which were delayed by frost and drought, now have a better appearance. The fruit trees will give a fairly good yield.

The hay crop around the Province will be a very large one, and while some have their crop cut and stored, others are actively engaged at the work. A heavy hay crop was particularly noticeable at the Trappist farm.

THE EXODUS FROM QUEBEC ALARMING.

For the past four months or more the exodus of people from the farming districts of Quebec is alarming. The Government is at its wits' end to try and stop it. The farmers see better prospects in the States and nothing will stop them from going. They claim that the prices paid for their crops are too low, that the goods imported and exported by them costs enormously, and that the rates on the local railways for shipping produce are over 50 per cent. too high. So, the "Patrons of Industry" find it better to bundle up and go South.

A CALAMITY FOR THE UNITED STATES.

Stoppage of pulp wood export from Canada to the United States, which the Canadian Cabinet has just been empowered by Act of Parliament to do at its discretion, would be a calamity for the American paper industry, declared Dr. Hugh P. Baker, executive secretary of the American Paper and Pulp Association, 18 West 41st Street, N.Y. In a notice distributed to members, Dr. Baker advised "immediate and aggressive action."

"For many years the pulp and paper mills of northern New York, New England and the northern lake states have purchased from 25 to 100 per cent. of their annual pulp wood requirements from freehold lands of Canada," he said. "Since the passage of the act authorizing the Governor-in-Council to embargo pulp wood exports, the leading newspapers of eastern Canada have commended the action very highly and urged its early application."

"Should the Dominion act as it is now empowered to do, a number of mills in northern New York and elsewhere would be forced to close, meaning the loss of important industries to the State and throwing out of employment large numbers of wage-earners."

Calling such action a "calamity," he continued:—"It is unnecessary to discuss the effect of such an embargo upon the paper industry of the United States. The prices of wood and pulp would respond immediately, and it prices of wood and pulp advance the public will immediately feel the effect in the increased cost of all paper."

A FARMER KILLED BY A TRAIN.

A farmer who attempted to cross the tracks at Iberville was instantly killed by the Montreal express. The farmer was driving in a buggy, and seeing a freight train standing on the siding, thought the way was clear. The engine hit the buggy between the shafts and the wheels, throwing the farmer quite a distance. His head struck a stone and death was instantaneous. Strange to say, the horse was uninjured, and the wagon, outside of the shafts, was not damaged.

MONEY DOES NOT BRING HAPPINESS.

Dr. Henry M. Warren, President of the Save-a-Life League, has published statistics concerning the number of suicides in the United States during 1922. In proportion to the total number of the class represented, the millionaires head the list among the suicides, there being a total of seventy-one who found life unendurable and terminated by their own hands their earthly career during the past year. This would indicate that millionaires as a class are not to be envied, and adds another proof to the mountains of evidence already accumulated that money does not bring happiness. In Canada the record is just the reverse in cases of suicides. Generally speaking, it's the man who has not the money and finding no way of getting employment to earn a living, that takes his own life.

A RECORD RUN BY A C. P. R. TRAIN.

A record run was made by a special C. P. R. train between Winnipeg and Quebec City. The regular time, according to the schedule between these points, is 53 hours, and the record run was made in 36 hours and 12 minutes, a distance of nearly 1600 miles, an average of nearly 44 miles an hour. The run was made in order to allow connection with the S. S. Empress of Scotland. The Montreal Herald says editorially:—

"This certainly is a notable feat of which the C. P. R. has a right to be proud, but it is a record that could easily be broken any day if instead of the C. P. R. tracks being used the run were made over the National Transcontinental line. The distance between Winnipeg and Quebec by the C. P. R. is 1578 miles, while the distance between these two cities over the National Transcontinental line is only 1350 miles. Therefore if a train were run at the same speed over the National Transcontinental line as was maintained over the C. P. R., the run from Winnipeg to Quebec could be made in less than 31 hours. As a matter of fact train could be run faster over the National Transcontinental line because of the very slight curves on that line and because of the fact that there are practically no grades. When the proposed plan for the amalgamation of the C. P. R. and the Canadian National lines was put forward some years ago, those responsible doubtless had in mind the economies which would be effected by the reorganization of runs in order to secure the shortest and easiest routes between the different points. Perhaps the time may come when an arrangement may be made with the C. P. R. whereby it would have running rights over certain of the Canadian National lines, to the benefit of all concerned."

DOGGER.

In Punktown's streets the seppies blow the printed doggers to and fro, they clutter up the thoroughfare, and now and then they scold a mare, and cause a hideous runnaway; they are a nuisance day by day. I park my car by Bilhad's store; when I return, my errand o'er, I find it full of foolish bills announcing bargain sales of pills; I clear the doggers from my bus, and as I clear them out I curse. My car is painted pink and green; I strive to keep it neat and clean; I daily manure the seats, and brush the floor and wash the cleats, and scour the brass with limesed meal, and kalsomine the steering wheel. I watch for every sign of rust, I will not have a speck of dust; I'd have my wagon look as grand as when it left the tinsmith's hand. And so it is so large nowadays that half the world doesn't know where the other half lives.

We know some men who have just about as much right to their pay checks as they have to rob a bank.

Said the City Hall light after the last man had staggered up the stairs and forgotten about it, "It doesn't seem like I'm going out to-night."

Correct this sentence: "The man stepped out on the street in a new Palm Beach suit and did not feel at all conspicuous."

A magazine editor says that seventy five per cent of the short stories we read were written "to keep the wolf from the door." And many of them warrant a hurry call to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Unique Local Film at the Nickel To-Night.

MAJOR COTTON'S AERIAL SURVEY OF FROZEN NORTH.

A unique local attraction of unusual interest is Major Cotton's Aerial Survey of the Frozen North, the Labrador Gold Fields and the Timber Areas. These views are genuine moving pictures (not lantern slides) which were photographed in April last.

A search for buried treasure in the orchard at midnight, a shadowy form that prowls about the halls at midnight, and a huge black cat that is thought to be the ghost of the departed Uncle Ebenezer, are but a few of the thrilling features of "At the Sign of the Jack O'Lantern," the big feature attraction at this theatre to-night.

On Monday next Miss Eleanor

Mews, the city's mezzo-soprano, has been heard in selected vocal solos. Miss Mews has won fame as a singer recently in Canada and has been very highly of by the Canadian public. Since arriving home this summer she has given two recitals which have secured the endorsement of the managing public.

THE BRIGADE IN CAMP.

Avalon Battalion yesterday spent their first day of the 1923 Camp. At 7.30 a.m. the Royal Stores truck was despatched, followed a few minutes after by the big five ton truck of the Colonial Cordage Co. and the truck of Job Stores, Ltd. These were loaded up in the morning by Lieut. M. J. Taylor, Sergt. Major Best and thirty lads. All other ranks paraded at 9.30. At 9.45 to 10 a.m. eighteen motor cars of the C.L.B. transport service had reported for duty. Old Comrade Andrew G. Carnell's car being in the rear. The officers acknowledge with gratitude this great help from the following car owners:—Sir Michael Cahlin, 2 cars, Sir Richard Squires, His Honor Mayor Cook, Dr. McLaughlin, Wm. R. Neal, Chas. E. Hunt, J. T. Meaney, E. J. Roper, E. D. & W. Spurrell, Eric Robertson, Capt. J. J. Miller, S. W. Corrick, H. Carter, J. F. Lynch and Ken Ruby. This feature of giving the lads a joy ride to Toppall was a wonderful improvement over the old heroic method of marching the lads with arms over the 13 miles of dusty roads—it enabled all ranks to arrive fresh and able to enjoy their first day all the better. The lads "detained" at the foot of Toppall Hill and headed by the Bugle Band, marched to the "Old Camp Ground." Following officers on duty: Lt. Col. Walter Rendell, C.B.E., Major Tait, Camp Commandant, Captain Snow, Adjutant, Capt. A. S. Lewis, Canteen Officer; Lieut. R. G. Ash, Transport Officer, Lieut. M. J. Taylor, The Quartermaster Lieut. Motty, Lieuts. Fred Reid and Reeves, with fifteen pioneers were already on duty at Toppall. On arrival the Battalion erected eighteen tents in two hours—quite a record. At 1.30 the bugler sounded "Come to the Cookhouse Door," and all ranks enjoyed a good hot meal in the new Mess Hut, completed a few days ago and fitted up like the saloon of a first-class ocean liner. Electric light has been installed in the grounds, Mess Hut, Canteen, Cookhouse and lads Mess Hut. A Telephone Pay Station is also in use in the Officers Mess Hut. Cooks Roberts and Butler are on duty with R.Q.M.S. Shears and Sergt. Stone in the Food Controller's Department. Capt. Lewis and Sergt. Weaver are doing a rushing business from "phis to anchors."

Bay Roberts detachment arrived at noon Thursday with Lieut. Norman in command of nineteen lads, and were given a hearty reception. The officer returned, however, the same evening to Bay Roberts. Many Bay Roberts folk are coming to Camp on Sunday as this will be the only Sunday the lads will be in Toppall. Some hundreds are going also from St. John's by the 2.30 p.m. train and the passenger department has informed us that every available car will be in service. Grand Falls Company, under Capt. Short, with thirteen lads—lucky number—arrived at midnight and were soon tucked away under the blankets. Doctor Burden is in charge of the camp health and has pronounced the Camp in perfect sanitary condition. Last night Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Reid visited the Camp and were shown through the various departments. The Chaplain, Rev. A. Pittman, Rector of Toppall, read prayers at 9.30 and soon all was still, excepting for the snoring of a certain Canteen N.C.O. who will soon be cured by the Red Cross Section Commander. C. S. Best is Camp Sergt. Major. Everybody is happy at Toppall.

CIRCUMSTANCES ATTENDING PRESIDENT'S DEATH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.

Warren G. Harding, President of United States died instantly and without warning to-night at seven thirty o'clock, a victim to a stroke of apoplexy which struck him down in his weak condition after his illness of but one week. The chief executive of nation and by virtue his office one of the worlds leading figures passed away at the time when his family and people thought that medical skill, hope and prayer had won the battle against disease. With the passing of Harding office of President devolves on Calvin Coolidge, Vice-President United States, who was notified of his death at his home in Plymouth Vermont. The suddenness of the end is shown by the fact that only Mrs. Harding and two nurses were in the room at the time. Mrs. Harding and two nurses were in the room at the time. Mrs. Harding was reading to the President when suddenly a slight shudder shook the frame of the patient and he collapsed and died.

Mrs. Harding ran to the door and called for Commander Boone and others of the President's medical staff. Only Brigadier General Sawyer and Boone were able to reach the President's side before life was extinct. They were powerless. Brave in the face of her husband's illness, Mrs. Harding faced his death with the same fortitude, continuing to be the bravest member of the group about his bedside. Her first words on realizing the President had died were "I am not going to break down." Death came to the President after a day described by his physicians as the most satisfactory since he was stricken a week ago with ptomaine poisoning after eating tinned fruit on an Alaskan trip.

THE RUBE QUESTION DARKENS POLITICAL HORIZON.

LONDON, Aug. 4.

Seldom has parliament separated for a long vacation under such an ominous cloud of difficult relations with an allied power as it did to-day, after grave statements by Premier Stanley Baldwin in Commons and Secretary for Foreign Affairs Marquis Curzon in House of Lords revealing apparently unsharably divergent views between Great Britain and France as to how to deal with reparations question. Ministerial statements revealed much more than had been expected of the details of negotiations with France and Belgium, showing for instance that Great Britain in her draft note to Germany plainly advised German government to withdraw her degress abetting passive resistance in Ruhr, yet statements still left country in ignorance of British government's next step, and judging from Lord Curzon's speech, the ministers themselves are not definitely decided on this point. The British government clearly hopes it may be possible to bring pressure to bear on French government through an appeal by laying the case before new tribunal namely the civilized world.

GENERAL REGRET AT PRESIDENT'S DEATH.

OTTAWA, Aug. 3.

Expressions of regret at the loss of President Harding were forwarded to the United States by the Canadian Government officials. In the absence of Premier King, Acting Premier Fielding expressed deep sympathy of the people of Canada with the American public in their loss. Conservative leader Hon. Arthur Meighan being out of town, Sir Henry Drayton joined with Acting Premier Fielding in conveying regrets to the people of the United States.

His Majesty King George commands that the Court shall wear mourning for one week for the late Hon. Warren G. Harding, President of the United States, mourning to commence from this date. Calvin Coolidge took oath as President of the United States at Plymouth, Vermont to-day at 2.47 a.m. The burial of President Harding will be made at Marion, Ohio a small Ohio city where Mr. Harding According to a message received this forenoon by the Furness Withy Co., the S. S. Sachem is due here from Liverpool between five and six o'clock this afternoon. She will probably sail for Halifax and Boston on Monday. The Sachem has a large number of passengers and a good freight. She was due in port at 2 a.m. and would have made the run in less than seven days but for being delayed by fog.

MATHESON-GARLAND.
 A light and pretty wedding was held at the Congregational church on Sunday morning at 8 o'clock on the immediate relatives of the bride and groom being present, when Gertrude M. Matheson, daughter of Mr. John Matheson, and Leonard G. M. Garland, son of Mr. S. E. Garland, were united in holy matrimony by the pastor, Rev. B. T. Holden, B.A. The bride was becomingly attired in a gown of grey and rose and carried a magnificent bouquet of white carnations with ferns as bridesmaid, and Miss Jean as bridesmaid, and Miss Gerald, another of the bride's bridesmaids. After the nuptial ceremony had been tied the wedding feast was held at the residence of the bride's parents, 100 Westport Road, where a pleasant and sumptuous repast and the bride and groom were the guests of honor. The party accompanied the bride and groom to the Waterford Bridge station where they were met by the express train. The bride and groom will be absent from St. John's for some time.

Activity in the Pacific.
 The curious and obscure international situations that have arisen in the past two months relating to the Pacific, and the countries like Japan, the United States, Britain, the Netherlands, Holland and France, are of great importance to the people of these waters. Before and during the war the Allies left the Pacific largely to the Japanese, which had a treaty of alliance with Great Britain that proved unworkable. Japan is also a member of the Four Powers Naval Conference at Washington last year, which also embraces Great Britain and the United States; which provides for mutual respect of each other's interests in the Pacific. For reasons which have not been clear, Holland, which has a large colonial empire in those waters, did not participate in the conference. So far as we can collect no statement was made as to whether the Dutch were to participate, but the Four Powers did the just and proper thing and made an official declaration of Holland's interests in the Pacific would be respected. Recent events indicate that, so far as the Pacific is concerned, there is a prevailing confidence in the sense provided by that treaty. With the explanation of the British cabinet has announced its purpose of expending a large sum in the Pacific to build a naval base at Singapore, the scheme has been attacked in certain American newspapers, especially the one in the Philippines. It is said to be the assistant of the Washington administration. American naval critics who recall how the British naval friendship with the United States during the Spanish phase of the Spanish-American war, are not likely to raise objections to the strengthening of the naval power in the Pacific. Holland, despite the declaration above alluded to, seems to have been not at the Singapore conference but at the situation generally. She has in hand a Naval bill which is said to meet with popular approval, providing for greatly increased expenditures to provide protection for Java and other valuable possessions in the Pacific. The Commission appointed by the Dutch Parliament to consider the Powers Treaty in its factum said that there was still a possibility of a conflict in the Pacific.

It is only possible to guess at the European powers which have the largest interests in the ocean to these precautionary steps, but unquestionably mean a strengthening of the white man's hold in the parts of the world. The population in all the colonies held by the white nations in the Pacific has been based on fears of Japanese encroachments. This feeling is common not only to Australia and Zealand, but to the Pacific Coast with the United States and Canada. In most English speaking dominions that are accessible by sea to these enterprises and immigration settlement is openly hostile. In the Columbia and Australia, the Powers Treaty is by no means popular because Japan is a signatory. The naval policies of both Japan and Holland are probably the cause of the feeling that the Treaty is not last, because of the popular opinion in Japan.
