Nearly Six Hundred Nationalists Present —A Great Demonstration—The Recep-tacle of the Address.

DUBLIN, Dec. 11.—The banquet given in the Rotunda, at which a national tribute was presented to Parnell, was attended by persons from all parts of Ireland and Great Britain. Five hundred and eighty tickets to the banquet had been sold, Great precautions were taken to prevent any but members of the national league from entering. Lord Mayor Dawson presided.

The address accompanying the tribute presented to Parnell to-night was enclosed in an imperial quarto album with richly carved bog oak covers, studded in silver, wrought bog oak tracery, and other appropriate ornaments. The illuminations of the album include pictures of Avondale mansion, Parnell's family arms, family miniatures, painted, and the borders of the illuminated pages are inscribed in a style ministures, painted, and the borders of the illuminated pages are inscribed in a style of the best Irish manuscript. The album is enclosed in a richly wrought oxydized silver easket of elaborate workmanship. The device and designs are the work of Henry O'Shea of Limerick, and the expense incurred therefor was £100.

The banquet room was crowded. Among those present were Messrs. Sullivan, Sexton, O'Brien, McCarthy, Biggar, Gray, Healy, O'Connor and other members of parliament. Mr, Davitt in the course of his response to the toast of 'Ireland, a Sullivan, Dearly, O'Connor and other members of his response to the toast of 'Ireland, a Nation,' said that led by Parnell they might believe themselves on the threshold of heralding in the Irish nation. Lord Mayor Dawson then read an address to Parnell. Parnell on rising to reply was cheered. He referred to the formation of he land league, and said: "Never was ainst such a such as the said of the land league, and said: "Never was ainst such as the said of the reciprocity treaty with Canada.

For now nearly a year Toronto has been the sewer order. It is of a kind that be lieves in dishing up social filth and scar dal, of collecting all the personal garbage that can be found in the city or that can be manufactured—either will do so long as the stench is strong-and run through a daily sewer otherwise called a newspaper.

When society is attacked by such a pest when its existence in our midst is an offenhigh time that efforts were made to stamp it out and to bring home the responsibility therefor to those who have introduced it. to those who keep it up.

The persons, then, who are primarily responsible are the owners of the Toronto Mail. More than two years ago they started a one-cent afternoon paper called the Evening News, not out of any desire to benefit the public but to enrich themselves They were not content with the patronage they received as publishers of the Mai they thought the advertising public was bound to give them two prices for each advertisement: that is, they took a man's money for putting an advertisement in their morning paper, and then they sent a second man to the advertiser soliciting the be induced to give it the type was lifted from the Mail and inserted in the News. did not patronize the reprint. He was to run it as he liked, but he was to make it sell. Accordingly he thought the way to make it sell was to turn the paper into a scandal sewer and to this end the Sneak-a-boo column was started, the Clara Bell letters were published, and everything odorous that could be collected from the four quarters of the earth was dumped in. The young men of the town were libelled in "Our-Bachelors," and the thing got so rank that items written in irregular houses by the

A reformer occupied the chair and a conservative acted as secretary. A suggestion that was not made was the employment of experts to determine the precise value of the grain, how much it is below the value of grain in good order, and if it could be put through any process by which its lost properties might be in a measure restored. These are things that are submitted to the farmers for their consideration.

An organization was formed called "The Farmers Protective and Co-operative Union," with a constitution declaring the objects of the society to be objects of the society to be to concentrate the efforts of the agriculturists and farmers of the Northwest in securing a repeal of the laws that militate against their interests; the removal, by agitation and other lawful means, of railway and other monopolies that provent the securing of a free market for the products of the soil, and the securing of the cheapest freights possible to the markets of the world; the removal of the unjust restrictions placed upon trades and generally to guard the interests of the people against unjust aggressions from any quarter whatsoever.

mons, was the principal speaker. He said what they were aiming at was the best means of removing any undue restrictions that had been placed upon the farmer. The them, that they would not submit to be ground down by any such monopoly. Most of them had come from a part of the dominion where these restrictions did not exist, and they had been placed upon them since they came here. Should they tamely submit to such things? He said "No." (Cries of "Never!") The central government must be given to understand in the most gentlemanly manner, and in the most gentlemanly manner, and in the most lawfully-framed resolutions that it was possible to frame, but at the same time in the most emphatic manner, that they would not submit to this monopoly. A continuance of the existing state them, that they would not submit to be would not submit to this monopoly. A continuance of the existing state of things merely meant that they would have to leave the institutions under which they lived; institutions upon which they prided themselves; institutions they were proud to live under, and institutions which they would be sorry to leave. It merely meant that they would have to go back to their old homes below, and he did not see any bright prospect in that. It was not see any bright prospect in that. It was true that in Ontario their wheat was not not see any oright prospect in that. It was not true that in Ontario their wheat was not substance enough in it for the frost to attack. (Laughter.) They did not have 40 bushels to the acre of frozen wheat, but they had two or three bushels of chickenfeed to the acre. (Laughter.) No, they could not well go back; and they did not like the idea of going across the line, because they loved the institutions under which they now lived, institutions which were not surpassed by those of any country in the world. He then proceeded to condemn the Ogilvie monopoly, and said that the men who were purchasing wheat were not judges, and had even declared some of last year's wheat to have been frozen of September 7. Men who declared that wheat, which was only the least bit shrivelled, was not worth more declared that wheat, which was only the least bit shrivelled, was not worth more than forty cents per bushel, did not know anything about it. Mr. Ogilvie had spread exaggerated reports in the east as to the damage done to the wheat, and he believed that since the night of September 7 this constraint had been seeking to make lieved that since the night of September 7 this company had been seeking to make fortunes for themselves out of the farmers' misfortunes. [Cheers.] He pointed out further the alleged injustice worked out of the frozen wheat purchases, and said that farmers who left home with No. 1 hard found when they got to the market with it and offered for sale that it had suddenly become "frozen." In his section there with it and offered for sale that it had suddenly become "frozen." In his section there was a good deal of No.1 frozen grain which he believed to be worth from five to ten cents per bushel less than No. 1 hard. And he believed it would make just as good flour, only a little less of it, if they had the mills for that purpose. He advised the farmers themselves to adopt some means of ascertaining the proper to the Ontario market, and he belie they would get a proper price for it. He knew that many farmers expecting a yield of 40 or 50 bushels to the acre, had contracted heavy engagements and now found themselves in the lurch, and he advised them to live economically until they were freed from their present difficulty. If they accomplished the little relief they talked off now, and if the movement led to the removal of other grievances, it might be a good thing after all that Jack Frost

The only reference in was by an eccentric old farmer, whose declaration that if redress could not be had at Ottawa they would look to Washington was received with loud laughter. WA resolution was moved of thanks to the C. P. R. for reducing the rate of frozen wheat, but it was objected to. The Winnipeg Sun has sent out a special commissioner to inquire into the real grievances of the farmers. He will write a series of letters on the subject.

At a meeting near Gretua, on the Mennonite reserve, a resolution was adopted denouncing the Ogilvie monopoly. The offer of a Chicago buyer of 65 cents per bushel for 3000 bushels of No, 1 frozen wheat was accepted. This is some of the wheat for which Ogilvie only offered 40c. and 45c.

COAL IN THE NORTHWEST.

Discovery Made About Eighty Miles From Brandon.

From the Winnipeg Sun. Mr. T. H. Aikman, inspector of teads for the dominion government, has liseovered a valuable deposit of coal in the Furtle mountain district, 78 miles south of Brandon, and 180 miles south of the Souris coal fields. The discovery was first made coal fields. The discovery was first made two months ago by a farmer who was sinking a well. He struck a dark, slaty substance, which he showed to Inspector Aikman. Mr. Aikman, thinking it might be coal, had it tested, and discovered that it was indeed coal of very excellent quality. Mr. Aikman took a couple of experts to the place, and did some prospecting. Nine pits were sunk at intervals over an area of 100 square feet, and coal struck in every instance. The seam was penetrated to a depth of seven feet, and the lead tended downwards in a sloping direction into the ravine. A foot or over of good soil was first displaced, then a strata of a yellow substance resembling limestone was penetrated, after which the coal was reached. Another test was made at a distance Another test was made at a distance of over a mile on the opposite side of the ravine, when the coal bed was again the Saskatchewan coal. The test was very satisfactory, the coal igniting readily and burning with a brilliant glow. It leaves no clinkers. Mr. Aikman has secured the mining right to a large tract of land in the vicinity. He intends forming a company of a limited number of capitalists with a view to developing the mines next season.

I think that the law society could do something in this matter. Let them require every candidate for admission, whether graduate matriculant or junior, to pass a stiff preliminary examination before examiners to be appointed by the society. Let them admit the ten who pass the best examination only and no others. Let them treble the amount of the admission and other fees. In this way forty only at the most could be added to the ranks each year other fees. In this way forty only at the most could be added to the ranks each year and they would be forty good men and this number would be amply sufficient to keep the profession supplied with new blood. It would be a kindness to the others to stop them at the very threshold of a career for which they would soon find they were not adapted. AN OLD LAW STUDENT.

TESTING ITS MERITS.

So much has been said regarding the wonderful cures made through the aid of the spirometer, the invention of Dr. M. Souvielle of Paris ex-aide surgeon of the French army, that many eminent physicians have been induced to myestigate the instrument and also the scientific standing of the International Throat and Lung Institute. All who have so investigated express themselves satisfied that the physicians comprising the staff of the institute are thoroughly qualified medical men, that patients receive the latest and most scientific treatment, and that the spirometer is really a valuable addition to medical science. One very prominent physician said: "If there is anything in inhalation it can be got out of the spirometer. I am surprised at the powerful effects produced." Any one suffering from Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness, Consumption in its first stages or Laryngits should consult the physicians of the institute personally and be examined; if not, write for a list of questions and copy of "International News," published monthly. EDWARD M'KEOWN'S POPULAR DRY GOODS HOUSE, 182 YONGE STREET

TO THE MAN WHO THINKS.

Suppose a wealthy man of your acquaintance, one whose word and whose ability to carry out his promises you placed full confidence in, proposed to sell you a valuable farm, worth at this time, say $10,000, and would sell it to you as being an exceptionally healthy man, on a credit running through ten years, with a certain equal amount payable each year of the ten, and that it was in your power to apply that sum each year to the payment required. Suppose further, that this friend said: You can make these yearly payments for any number of the ten years that you please, and if you see fit, for any cause, to stop these payments at the end of any of the years short of the ten, (after two years have been paid for) I will make you a deed of the land in the proportion you have paid for; and, further, I agree to give you, at the end of each year, while you are making these payments, the annual profits, earnings, or dividends on that farm, and, each year, deduct from your annual payment such earnings, profits, or dividends as the farm may earn that year; and he assures you that these earnings or dividends will probably increase each year, and materially reduce the amount of your annual payment, and that the farm in that ten years shall not be liable for your debts, and he further guarantees that at the end of the ten years the farm SHALL be worth exactly $10,000. He then says: Take this offer and I will further bind myself and guarantee to you that if you will keep up your annual payments, and die ANY TIME within those ten years, and before all the payments are made, that in such case, I will deliver or pay over to your wife or to any person, you may will or devise it to, THE ENTIRE FARM, or $10,000 IN GOLD COIN, and require no further payments on the same.
WOLD YOU NOT BUY A FARM UNDER SUCH CIRCUMSTANCES?
